TARGET CENTER RENOVATIONS

Construction of the nearly $100 million renovation of the Target Center is planned to begin in 2015.

The renovation will dramatically enhance the fan experience, with additional clubs and gathering spaces, as well as significantly improved traffic flow. It will also include an entirely new locker room and player facilities in the arena.

The exterior will also get a refresh, with the main entrance moving to the corner of 1st Ave. and 6th St. The new entrance will feature a glass atrium to provide more transparency into the building, and all throughout the building will be additional windows to provide more natural light inside the arena.

Target Center is conveniently located in the heart of downtown Minneapolis, within blocks of hundreds of restaurants, bars and clubs, and one block away from the light rail. With its great location and hundreds of events, Target Center is a significant contributor to the thriving entertainment district in downtown Minneapolis.

Target Center was the 21st busiest venue in the United States and the 51st busiest venue worldwide in 2012 (Pollstar report).

GLEN TAYLOR

On March 23, 1995, Glen Taylor closed the deal that made him majority owner of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He added the title of NBA owner to a list that already included international businessman, state senator, entrepreneur, philanthropist and executive of the year.

Glen Taylor is chairman and CEO of the multinational Taylor Corporation, based in Mankato, Minn. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Minnesota State University, Mankato. During this period, he worked part time at Carlson Wedding Service, a print shop specializing in formal invitations. Taylor purchased the company in 1975, assembled a passionate leadership team and dramatically expanded the firm's capabilities, growing it into one of the largest privately held companies in the United States. Today Taylor Corporation, based in North Mankato, includes more than 70 subsidiaries providing business and personal communications products, technologies and marketing services. Other enterprises owned by Glen are the Minneapolis Star Tribune newspaper and businesses in securities, agricultural, and medical fields.

In October 2001, Taylor was inducted into the Minnesota State University, Mankato Hall of Distinction.

Taylor's business savvy has been recognized by Corporate Report magazine, which honored him as its Executive of the Year (1987), and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Minneapolis/St. Paul, who awarded him with their Sales Executive of the Year Award (1999). He was also inducted into the Minnesota Hall of Fame (2002) by Twin Cities Monthly Magazine.

Taylor was elected to the Minnesota Senate in 1980, where he served until 1990. He became assistant Senate minority leader in 1982. From 1984 to 1986, he served as Senate minority leader. From 1998 to 2004 Moor managed Target Center building operations as well as both the Timberwolves and Lynx franchises, and is currently working closely with the city of Minneapolis to remodel the arena to be a modern state-of-the-art NBA and WNBA arena.

PHILIP "FLIP" SAUNDERS

Phil "Flip" Saunders was named head coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves on June 6, 2014 after returning to the organization on May 3, 2013 as the team's President of Basketball Operations. Saunders was originally with the Wolves from 1995-2005 and guided the team during its most successful years, highlighted by a trip to the 2004 Western Conference Finals. Saunders remains as President of Basketball Operations and Timberwolves minority owner.

Prior to re-joining the Timberwolves, Saunders worked for ESPN as a basketball analyst for two seasons. He was named the Washington Wizards head coach on April 22, 2009 and remained with the Wizards into the 2011-12 season.

In two decades of coaching at the professional level, including 15-plus seasons in the NBA, Saunders has cemented his reputation as one of the finest coaches in the game of basketball. With a record of 638-526, he ranks 20th on the NBA all-time coaching wins chart, and his .548 winning percentage is 11th among all NBA coaches who have coached more than 1,110 games. Saunders has seven 50-win seasons to his credit as an NBA head coach, with four Conference Finals appearances in 11 postseason appearances.

Saunders joined the Wizards after leading the Detroit Pistons to a 176-70 (.715) record from 2005-08, the highest winning percentage of any coach in their franchise history. In 2007-08, the third of Saunders' three seasons with the Pistons, he guided Detroit to their third consecutive Central Division crown with a 59-23 regular season record (the second-best record in the Eastern Conference). Saunders recorded his 500th win as an NBA head coach during the 2006-07 campaign, becoming just the 26th coach in NBA history at the time to reach that mark. Saunders' first season in Detroit in 2005- 06 included a record of 24-3 after 27 games, making him just the second coach in NBA history to start a season 24-3 in his first year as head coach of a new team (Bill Sharman led the Lakers to a 39-3 start in 1971-72). He became the only coach in NBA history to win Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors for three consecutive months (November '05, December '05, January '06), and he helmed the Eastern Conference All-Star team in Houston in 2006 (as one of only six coaches in NBA history to be named head coach of the All-Star team in both the Eastern and Western Conferences). During that season, Detroit tied a franchise record for most home victories (37), and set a franchise record for road wins (27). In three seasons in Detroit, Saunders' Pistons finished with the best record in the Eastern Conference twice (2005-06, 2006-07), and ranked in the top three of the NBA in points per game allowed each season (including a first place finish in 2007-08), showing that Saunders is equally adept at defensive scheming as he is on the offensive end.

Prior to joining Detroit, Saunders spent nine-plus years with the Minnesota Timberwolves (1995- 2005), where he guided the club to eight consecutive playoff appearances and a Western Conference-best and franchise-best 58-24 record in 2003-04 -- a season that culminated in a berth in the Western Conference Finals. During his tenure in Minnesota, he won NBA Western Conference Coach of the Month honors four times (April '04, February '03, January '01, January '00) and coached the Western Conference during the 2004 NBA All-Star Game in Los Angeles. Saunders' time with Timberwolves represented the best years in the franchise's history, and placed him as the organization's all-time winningest coach. He posted a winning record in six of his nine full seasons as head coach, compiling an overall record of 411-326 (.558).

Saunders' impressive coaching resume also includes seven consecutive seasons of 30 or more victories in the CBA, two CBA Championships ('90, '92), a pair of CBA Coach of the Year honors ('90, '92) and 23 CBA-to-NBA player promotions. He ranks third all-time in the CBA with 253 career victories (253-137, .649) during stops with the Rapid City Thrillers (1988-89), La Crosse Catbirds (1989-94) and Sioux Falls Skyforce (1994-95). In September 2001, Saunders guided the United States men's basketball team to a perfect 5-0 record and a gold medal at the Goodwill Games in Brisbane, Australia.

The Cleveland, Ohio, native began his successful coaching career at Golden Valley Lutheran College, where he compiled a 92-13 record (including a perfect 56-0 mark at home) in four seasons. In 1981, he joined the coaching staff at his alma matter, the University of Minnesota, as an assistant coach where he helped the Golden Gophers to the 1982 Big Ten Championship. After five seasons at Minnesota, Saunders moved to an assistant coach position at the University of Tulsa, where he worked for two seasons before heading to the pro ranks.

Saunders, 58, was an All-America basketball player at Cuyahoga Heights High School in Cleveland. During his senior season in 1973, he was named Ohio's Class A High School Basketball Player of the Year after averaging a state-high 32.0 points per game. He continued his basketball career at Minnesota, where he teamed with Kevin McHale and started in 101 of his 103 career games.

Saunders was born February 23, 1955, in Cleveland, Ohio. He and his wife, Debbie, have four children: Ryan, Mindy and twins, Rachel and Kimberly.

In addition to his on-court work, Saunders helped players with their academic and social development off the court.

Before moving to the sidelines, Saunders played four seasons at Minnesota, where he was a two-time team captain, four-time scholar athlete award winner and 2006 Big Ten All-Academic selection. He earned his bachelor's degree in sport management and is currently pursuing his master's degree in applied kinesiology.

As well as his coaching experience, Saunders brings an analytical background to the Wolves coaching staff. He is the co-founder of an in-game analytical program, Gametime Concepts, which focuses on in-game analysis and statistical probabilities. The Washington, D.C., native and former NBA point guard has spent eight years as a head coach and 11 years as an assistant coach in the NBA and NCAA.

Lowe's ties with Minnesota originally began in 1989-90 as a player with the organization in its inaugural season, appearing in a career-high 80 games and averaging 21.8 minutes per game. He retired after the season, remaining with the organization and spending the 1990-91 season as the team's television color analyst. The next season he became an assistant coach under then-head-coach Jimmy Rodgers, eventually being promoted to head coach midway through the 1992-93 season and remaining in the position through the 1993-94 season.

Prior to re-joining Saunders' staff, Lowe served three seasons (2011-14) as an assistant with the Utah Jazz after previously serving as the head coach at North Carolina State University (2006-11). In his first season on the sidelines, he became just the third NC State coach to win 20 games and defeat the other three North Carolina institutions in the ACC (Duke, North Carolina and Wake Forest). He is one of only four NC State coaches to have coached in the ACC Championship game in his first year.

Following five seasons as an assistant with Cleveland (1994-99) and one season with Minnesota (1999-2000), Lowe was named head coach of the Vancouver Grizzlies in June of 2000, eventually moving with the team to Memphis before stepping down shortly into the 2002-03 campaign.

As a player, Lowe was originally selected by the Chicago Bulls with the first pick of the second round (25th overall) in the 1983 NBA Draft, whom immediately traded his rights to Indiana, where he spent the 1983-84 season. In 1984-85, Lowe spent time with both the Pistons and Atlanta Hawks. Over the next three years, Lowe was a point guard in the Continental Basketball Association, leading his teams to three consecutive CBA titles. MARV WOLFENSON

Marv Wolfenson, who partnered with Harvey Ratner to bring the NBA back to Minnesota, died Dec. 21, 2013. He was 87.

Wolfenson and Ratner were granted an NBA franchise in 1987 and owned the Timberwolves until 1994.

Wolfenson was born and raised in Minneapolis, where he was a star athlete at North High School. “Marv and Harv” worked together for more than 50 years while managing their collection of apartment complexes and health and fitness facilities.

Even after selling the team to Glen Taylor, Wolfenson showed his love and support of the Wolves by attending games and going on road trips. In his later years, he was rarely seen without a Wolves hat on his head and team press credentials around his neck.

Wolfenson is survived by his wife of 60 years, Sandy, three children, four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

RETIRED NUMBERS

Malik Sealy was tragically killed in an automobile accident on May 20, 2000, cutting short the life of a young man beloved in the Twin Cities and across the country for far more than his on-court skills.

A true professional in every sense of the word, Sealy was actively involved in a wide variety of charitable organizations, including serving on the boards of Wheelchair Charities, Inc., and the Bronx Police Athletic League. He was a regular visitor to the Ronald McDonald House in Minneapolis and took on an active role in various school programs. He also ran basketball clinics in conjunction with the Refugee Project at the Camp Hill Summer Program in North Carolina.

A self-described “Renaissance Man,” Sealy was much more than a basketball player. He started a men’s accessories company, Malik Sealy XXI, Inc., designing and selling neckties. He also opened Baseline Recording Studios in Manhattan in the Spring of 2000 and enjoyed acting, having a significant role in the movie “Eddie” as well as making guest appearances on television’s “The Sentinel” and “Diagnosis Murder.”

A member of the Minnesota Timberwolves during the 1998-99 and 1999-00 seasons, Sealy’s last season with the Wolves was perhaps the finest of his eight-year NBA career. He played in all 82 games, the last 60 as a starter, averaging 11.3 points per game and helping the Timberwolves to their first 50-win season. The photo of Sealy lying on his back after hitting a three at the buzzer to beat Indiana on Jan. 17, 2000 remains one of the most iconic images in Timberwolves history.

Prior to the Wolves home opener vs. Sacramento on Nov. 4, 2000, the Timberwolves raised Sealy’s No. 2 jersey to the rafters in memory of a great person, player and teammate. It remains the only retired jersey in Timberwolves history.

TEAM NAME & LOGO HISTORY

HOW MINNESOTA'S TEAM BECAME THE TIMBERWOLVES...

Minnesota's expansion team was officially dubbed the "Timberwolves" in December of 1986, nearly three years before the first game would be played on Nov. 3, 1989, and four months before the NBA officially granted Minnesota a team. After original owners Harvey Ratner and Marv Wolfenson submitted a formal expansion proposal to the NBA Board of Governors in October of 1986, they held a "Name the Team" contest that drew 6,076 entries from across the state featuring 1,284 different proposed nicknames. The two most common submissions, Timberwolves and Polars, were deemed finalists and the 842 city councils in Minnesota were asked to submit their vote for the winner. "Timberwolves" was selected by a 2-to-1 margin. Timberwolves was a fitting name for Minnesota's new team, as the state is home to the largest wolf population in the U.S. and the International Wolf Center, a comprehensive wolf research facility, is located in Ely, Minnesota.

1989-90 THROUGH 1995-96 SEASONS

Similar to the naming contest, the Timberwolves held a public contest to select the team's first logo. After receiving over 2,600 submissions, some coming from as far away as Alaska and Norway, the team settled on a design submitted by Mark Thompson of Austin, Minn. Original Team President Bob Stein described the winning submission as "aggressive, but not sinister." The logo was first unveiled to the public on an oversized $20,000 check that the team donated to the United Way on Sept. 17, 1987.

1996-97 THROUGH 2007-08 SEASONS

Amid a display of lasers and smoke at the Mall of America's main rotunda, the Wolves turned the page on the franchise's expansion days by unveiling this new look on May 18, 1996. Owner Glen Taylor described the new logo, designed by L.A.-based Mednick Design Group, as "a step towards being more competitive, more aggressive." The new design featured a metallic color scheme and a more ferocious, intimidating wolf.

THE NEW LOOK

In honor of the Timberwolves' 20th season of play, the team's logo underwent a facelift to usher in a new era of Wolves basketball. Designed with assistance from adidas, the new version features a white accent on the face of the wolf along with a sleeker look for the tree line and text. Beginning with the 2008-09 season, the Wolves also feature a new secondary logo depicting a wolf howling at the moon with a basketball in the background. The inclusion of the basketball pays homage to the original Wolves logo, which also featured a basketball background.

COMMUNITY

MINNESOTA TIMBERWOLVES FASTBREAK Foundation

presented by

Roger & Nancy McCABE FOUNDATION

A spirit of giving and community involvement has helped define the Timberwolves organization since its inception 25 years ago. The Minnesota Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation has remained a steady community partner by contributing millions of dollars and hundreds of player appearances to help charitable causes throughout the state of Minnesota.

The mission of the FastBreak Foundation is to provide and support hands-on programs that positively impact Minnesota youth. Through giving, education, and basketball opportunities, the Foundation enables young people to make responsible decisions, contribute to their future and experience life-long memories.

The FastBreak Foundation's signature programs are its monthly themes during the Timberwolves season, in which the Foundation focuses its outreach on a particular area of giving. Each month, the Foundation works to make an impact through feature events throughout the community, in-game elements and a grant to an organization that best fits the monthly theme and fulfills the mission of the Foundation. The FastBreak Foundation is proud to be supported by the Roger and Nancy McCabe Foundation.

OCTOBER

October reflects the excitement and opportunity a new NBA season brings not only to basketball enthusiasts, but to the community in which we play. It means highlighting those who work hard to create new opportunities for Minnesota's youth; creating renewed spaces, energy and attitudes for learning and community development.

This year's events feature a Book Mobile with the goal of creating new spaces for children to read, learn and play.

NEW SEASON NEW BEGINNINGS

NOVEMBER

Operation Minnesota Heroes Month serves to honor and recognize Minnesota troops and their families. The FastBreak Foundation works to ensure that those servicemen and women from Minnesota who dutifully serve their country have an opportunity to be recognized by the Timberwolves and their fans.

Highlights of Operation Minnesota Heroes Month include the Timberwolves' annual "Wolves Give Thanks" event, where the entire team gathers to serve a Thanksgiving meal to troops and veterans, and in-game recognition of Purple Heart recipients.

OPERATION: MINNESOTA HEROES

DECEMBER
The Season of Giving Month focuses on organizations and events that work to make the holidays a happier time for those in need. In addition to hands-on events that directly impact Minnesotans in need during this special time of year, the FastBreak Foundation also works to recognize those in the community who embody the spirit of the season through their work to assist others.

Highlights of Season of Giving include the Timberwolves' annual "Holiday Shopping for Kids" event, where the entire team hosts 15 up for adoption children at Target for a surprise spending spree for the holiday season.

SEASON OF GIVING

JANUARY
WolvesCare Month turns the FastBreak Foundation's attention to some of the Timberwolves smallest fans, but those with the biggest hearts: children suffering with terminal or long-term illnesses. Through events at Target Center and around the community, the Foundation works to support and encourage these courageous children and their families, as well as raise awareness for some of the illnesses that impact their lives.

WOLVES CARE

FEBRUARY
WolvesFit Month is a new initiative for the FastBreak Foundation and features activities and organizations that focus on health and fitness for youth. Being active and staying fit is vital for people of all ages, and the FastBreak Foundation, through WolvesFit Month, encourages youth to get on the path to being fit at an early age.

WOLVES FIT

MARCH

Education and fostering a love of reading are an integral part of the FastBreak Foundation's efforts in the community, and March is the month when this endeavor takes center stage. During Read to Achieve Month, the Timberwolves work hard to put books in the hands of Minnesota children and offer incentives to keep reading.

A highlight of the Foundation's Read to Achieve Month is a staff-wide effort on the part of all Timberwolves employees to read to children during the month. With each staff member visiting elementary classrooms in local schools, the Timberwolves annually spend more than 100 hours in the classroom and reach over 3,000 students during the month.

READ TO ACHIEVE

APRIL

Think Green Month focuses on raising awareness for environmental causes and highlighting eco-friendly efforts in the community. Events include honoring Heroes in the Making on-court at each April home game and hosting an eco-friendly sudent activity.

THINK GREEN

Taste of the Timberwolves

Now in its 20th year, Taste of the Timberwolves is the signature fundraising gala of the Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation. Offering an elegant evening of food and fun, fans are invited to join Wolves players and staff in sampling the cuisine from some of the Twin Cities finest restaurants and bidding on unique memorabilia and once-in-a-lifetime experiences, all while benefiting the FastBreak Foundation and its programming. Over the past 19 years, the Taste of the Timberwolves has raised more than $3.5 million for the Foundation.

TIMBERWOLVES SUMMER CARAVAN

The FastBreak Foundation hits the road each summer, partnering with U.S. Bank to visit communities around the region spreading the excitement of Timberwolves basketball. Highlighting free youth basketball clinics, the Timberwolves Summer Caravan has made 100 stops throughout the Upper Midwest since the program began 24 years ago.

READ TO ACHIEVE STARTING 5

While the FastBreak Foundation spotlights reading as part of its monthly theme for March, the Timberwolves' commitment to helping young people develop a life-long love of reading never stops. From the beginning of the season through January, the Foundation invites elementary students to pledge to read at least 500 pages over an eight-week period. All students who complete the program receive free tickets to a Timberwolves game, with the top readers being recognized in a special on-court ceremony.

Now in it's 12th season, the Timberwolves Read to Achieve Starting 5 program has reached more than 500 schools around the state, with students logging more than 9 million pages in that time.

TICKETS FOR KIDS

Each season, the Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation works with players, donors and other private organizations to purchase tickets for children who might not otherwise have the opportunity to experience a Timberwolves game in person. Working with more than 300 organizations across the state that provide services for economically or socially disadvantaged children.
