

Make a difference.

Do it differently.

Make progress on even your most daunting challenges with an online platform designed to drive real, meaningful change.

Solving today's biggest and most important challenges requires the coordination of diverse perspectives within an environment that encourages experimentation and flexibility.

That's where Actioneer comes in.

Powered by the experience and expertise of the Kansas Leadership Center, Actioneer is a unique online platform designed to bring people together, empower them to take action and coordinate their efforts toward realizing a common goal.

Actioneer helps organizations activate their community and facilitate work on important challenges by:

- Providing their community with a place for online learning and the development of action plans
- Keeping individual members engaged and accountable
- Tracking what is currently being done/what has been done in the past
- Identifying what has worked
- Observing the real-time impact of their partnership with the Kansas Leadership Center

Actioneer helps individuals take action and exercise leadership on a cause that matters to them by providing:

- Resources, training and prompts to help design an action project
- A system to track and share outcomes
- A centralized location to see and learn from the actions others

How it works

Anytime an organization finds itself facing an especially complex or difficult challenge, Actioneer and the Kansas Leadership Center are on call to help put it on a path toward success.

To get started, just:

1. Contact the Kansas Leadership Center and let us know the specifics of your challenge and our team will get to work to develop a custom campaign just for you.
2. Once built, we'll provide you with a link you can use to invite others to participate.

From there, participants:

- Convene teams
- Develop action projects
- Put their projects to work
- Track their progress

Throughout the process, organizations and participants alike get to see what is being done in real time, make adjustments, share their findings and track progress.

It's a systematic, organized and constructive approach to creating measurable, long-lasting change.

Want to learn more?

To discuss how Actioneer can help your organization tackle its toughest challenges and to schedule a free, live demo, contact Shaun Rojas at srojas@kansasleadershipcenter.org or call 316.712.4952.

