WHY CHOOSING PLANION ANIMATION?

Artistic Eyes

The use of animated characters creates deep first impression toward audience, which is why Planion Animation exists: to create characters that stands for visual-motion quality. After all, animation is more than just knowing the tools.

Full pipeline

With talents to cover all the production stages, and able to work across stages, we are able to pull out the complete production pipeline from making concept, R&D, to execution. This is to guarantee your project is the least likely to be disclosed, instant internal communication, unified workflow and data sharing.

Endurant workforce

For more than five years working as individuals and two years working under the same roof, we are a strong team to tackle technical difficulties and motivate each other. Plus, we can pat ourselves on the back when things get worse.

In-house render farm

This feature will help you reduce the cost to its bottom.
