Dear Commissioner Ahmed,

I became acquainted with Thumbs Up when my daughter (who had cancer) and her husband and two children were invited for a weekend retreat sponsored by Thumbs Up. She and her family said it was a wonderful experience to have fun together and to interact with other families who were going through the same trials her family was. There was no cost to the family. Since 2020 my family has actively supported this charitable organization with our time (serving with other host families and volunteers) and with our donations. If you could see the happy faces on the parents and children who are at the retreats, I believe you would fully support Thumbs Up in any way you could.

Sincerely,

Bobbie Girardeau
