

- Generally bike-accessible area (lower traffic speeds, shared-use paths)
- Bike-hostile area (low-comfort roads, high speed car traffic)
- Preferred bike routes within city limits

This is not an official bike map of Harrisonburg. This is simply one commuter cyclist's opinion of the routes that are safer and quieter than the arterial roads. There are routes some cyclists take that do not appear on this map. Many of the high-speed "low comfort" roads with unprotected bike lanes have been removed here. Any proposed shared-use paths or road reconfigurations that have not been implemented as of June 2023 are not reflected in this map.
