

LOUISVILLE COMMUNITY LEARNING HUBS

Evolve502 is seeking community organizations to support learning hubs in Louisville. Hubs are individually operated but will be eligible to receive supports and grants from Evolve502 and other partners to successfully operate. Hubs are community spaces where small groups of students can complete NTI work, receiving varying supports in a facility operating under Covid-19 safety restrictions.

Potential hubs must have:

A developed Covid-19 safety plan

Staff/volunteers to staff center

Background checks for all employees & volunteers

Physical space for students to learn

Louisville's hubs can receive these supports:

PPE to safely support staff and students

NTI training specific to community based organizations

Healthy meals and snacks for students

In-person or virtual tutoring support for students through JCPS substitute teachers, local college students and/or community volunteers

Connections for students to internet access and digital learning devices

Every learning hub will look different. Additional supports hubs may offer include:

Family support resources

Outdoor activities

Health and wellness support

Enrichment options
