Volume 32 CONTENTS FOR SEPTEMBER, 1938 Number 3

Cover Design ......................................................... M. Brundage
Illustrating "As 'Twas Told to Me"

Israel ................................................................. opposite this page
Pictorial interpretation of Edgar Allan Poe's poem, "Israel," by Virgil Finlay

As 'Twas Told to Me ................................................. Seabury Quinn 258
A gripping weird tale of a beautiful witch in Puritan New England

The Magic Mirror ................................................... Algernon Blackwood 282
A stranger from Tibet devises a fantastic and practical way to win at Monte Carlo

The Wreck ............................................................... Alfred I. Tooke 288
Verse

The White Rat ....................................................... Earl Peirce, Jr., and Bruce Bryan 289
An eerie tale of a monsterity created by a daring surgeon who sought to modify nature's laws

A Thunder of Trumpets ............................................ Robert E. Howard and Frank T. Torbett 303
A strange tale of India—a story of marvelous occult power

The Mandarin's Canaries ........................................... Robert Bloch 316
A grim and fascinating tale of a torture-mad Chinese ruler who fed strange food to his song-birds

The Wood ............................................................... H. P. Lovecraft 324
Verse

The Fire Princess (part 2) ........................................... Edmond Hamilton 325
An intriguing story of tremendous doom threatening the world from central Asia

The Prophet Speaks .................................................... Clark Ashton Smith 348
Verse

The Witch in the Fog ............................................... Alexander Faust 349
A brief tale of thuggery—and a beautiful English girl

The Cavern ............................................................. Manly Wade Wellman and Gertrude Gordon 354
A short tale about a doomed man who seemed to bear a charmed life

The Eyes of Ustad Isa ............................................... Charles Henry Mackintosh 359
An eerie tale of the Taj Mahal

Weird Story Reprint:
A Witch's Curse ...................................................... Paul Ernst 363
This story is reprinted by request from an early number of WEIRD TALES

The Jolly Hangman .................................................. Edgar Daniel Kramer 377
Verse

The Eyrie .............................................................. 378
A department in which our readers air their opinions
The Wood

By H. P. LOVECRAFT

They cut it down, and where the pitch-black aisles
   Of forest night had hid eternal things,
They scaled the sky with towers and marble piles
   To make a city for their revellings.

White and amazing to the lands around
   That wondrous wealth of domes and turrets rose;
Crystal and ivory, sublimely crown'd
   With pinnacles that bore unmelting snows.

And through its halls the pipe and sistrum rang,
   While wine and riot brought their scarlet stains;
Never a voice of elder marvels sang,
   Nor any eye called up the hills and plains.

Thus down the years, till on one purple night
   A drunken minstrel in his careless verse
Spoke the vile words that should not see the light,
   And stirr'd the shadows of an ancient curse.

Forests may fall, but not the dust they shield;
   So on the spot where that proud city stood,
The shuddering dawn no single stone reveal'd,
   But fled the blackness of a primal wood.