Ahead of the 2005-06 campaign, Smith joined Watford serving as reserve team manager and U18 manager. The next season, he worked as a scout for the English Premier League side Arsenal.

STADIUM

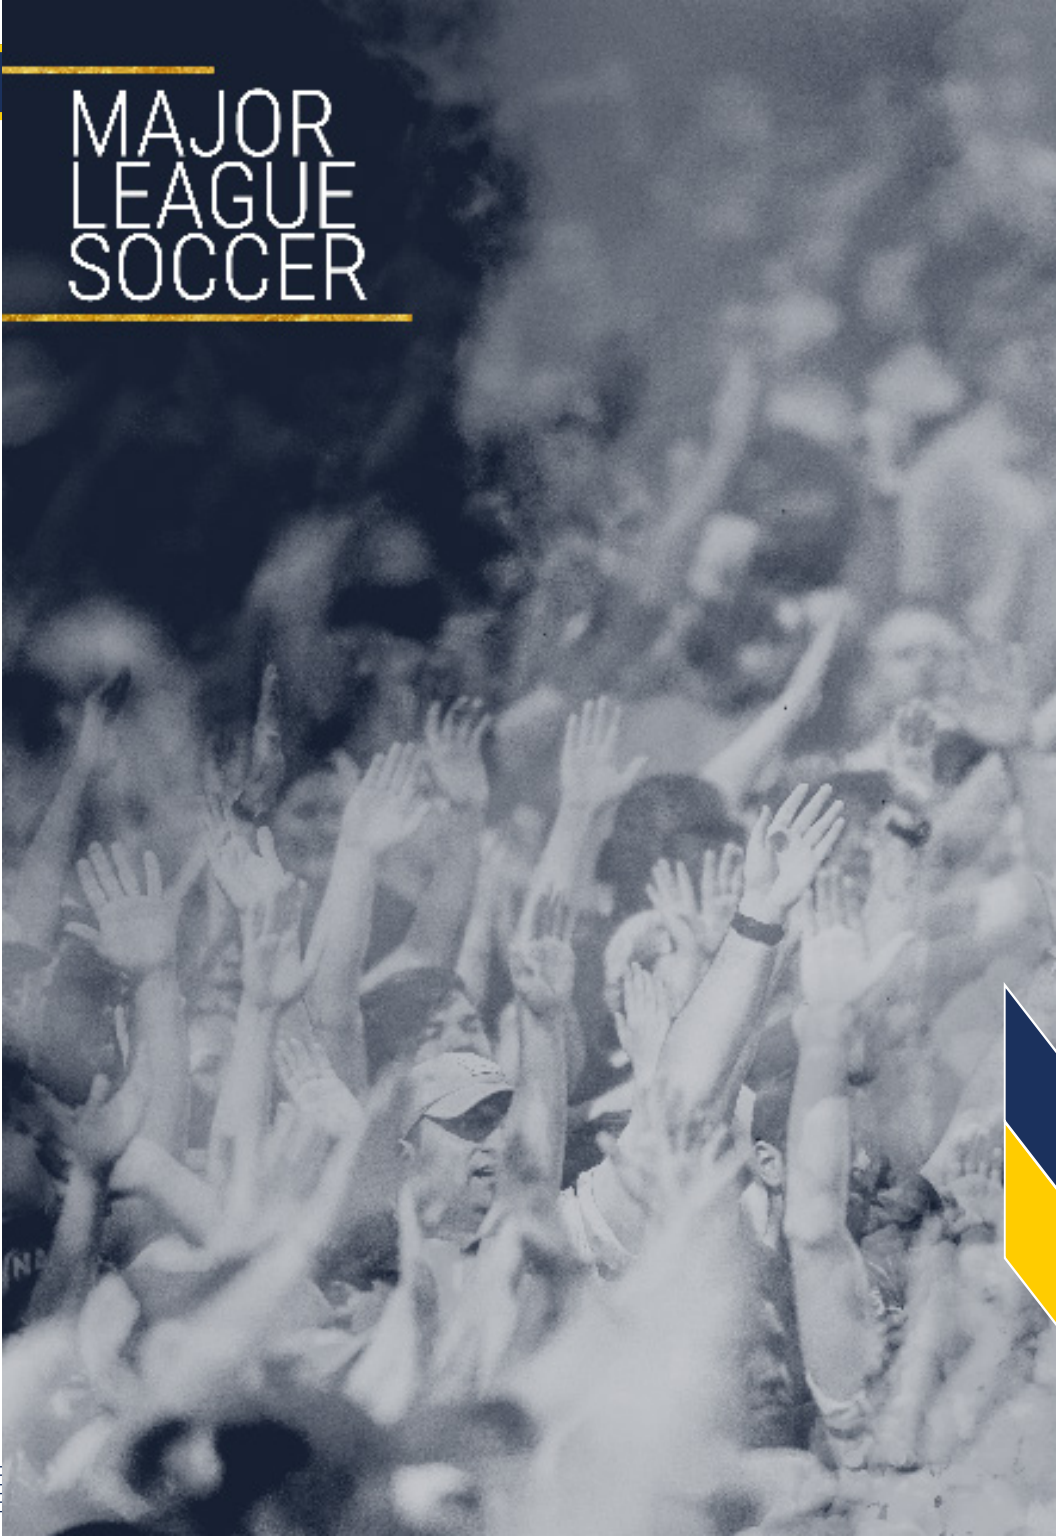

First Tennessee Park

First Tennessee Park is a 10,000-seat stadium in the Germantown neighborhood of Nashville that opened April 17, 2015. The stadium was originally built as the home of the Triple-A Nashville Sounds, replacing the Sounds' former home, Herschel Greer Stadium. The park was built on the site of the former minor league ballpark, Sulphur Dell, that was used from 1870 to 1963. Nashville SC began play at First Tennessee Park in its inaugural 2018 season.

The stadium's design incorporates elements of Nashville's musical heritage. Its most distinctive feature is its guitar-shaped scoreboard, a successor to the original guitar scoreboard at Greer Stadium. The stadium's wide concourse wraps entirely around the stadium, providing views of the field from every location. The Nashville skyline can be seen from the stadium to the south.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

Nashville Soccer Club will move to Major League Soccer (MLS) starting in the 2020 season.

Nashville became the league's 24th MLS franchise in December 2017 when Commissioner Don Garber announced that the group led by local businessman John Ingram had won a bid. In September 2018, the Nashville Metro Council gave final approval for a 27,500-seat soccer-specific stadium at the Nashville Fairgrounds that will become the home for Nashville SC in 2021.

Nashville SC will play its inaugural MLS season in 2020 at Nissan Stadium before moving to the new Fairgrounds stadium in 2021. On February 20, 2019, Nashville SC unveiled its MLS branding and identity featuring a brand-new "Acoustic Gold" and "Electric Blue" crest.

"We wanted a name and an identity that was authentic in the sport. It says exactly who we represent and who we are, Nashville Soccer Club," said Nashville MLS CEO Ian Ayre. "Our announcement is another step forward, and we have many others to take, but it is important to start that with a clear identity of who we are. Gold is our primary club color, and we need to own that color in the sport. As we grow as a team we want to be recognizable by our color, our name and our values as a club. Throughout 2019, we will be doing our best to bring everyone along on our journey as we #BandTogether Nashville and soccer on our march to MLS."
