OUR HISTORY

On December 11, 1973, then general manager Denny Veitch announced that Vancouver would make a return to the old North American Soccer League (NASL) for the 1974 season. Thus, Vancouver Whitecaps FC were born.

Veitch's announcement, which was made on the top floor of a Davie Street hotel in downtown Vancouver, saw the return of professional soccer to the city after a two-year spell in late 1960's. In 1967, former Scotland manager Ian McColl was in charge of the Vancouver Royal Canadians in the United Soccer Association before the re-named Vancouver Royals took part in the NASL's inaugural season in 1968 after the United Soccer Association had merged with the National Professional Soccer League. The Royals were led that year by two legends of the game in former Hungary and Real Madrid star Ferenc Puskas and former England manager Sir Bobby Robson.

With the team name symbolizing the snow-capped mountains and the white crests of the waves along Vancouver's shoreline, Whitecaps FC started life in the NASL by playing in colours of red and white. As one of four clubs to play in the Western Division, Whitecaps FC played their first-ever match on May 5, 1974, when they fell to a 2-1 home defeat to San Jose Earthquakes. Though an Empire Stadium crowd of 17,343 saw Jim Easton's side lose that day, defender Neil Ellett wrote his name in the history books by scoring Whitecaps FC's first-ever goal in the league.

Having missed the playoffs in 1974 and 1975, German coach Eckhard Krautzun replaced Easton for the 1976 campaign. In a side that included three-time 'World Superstars' champion Brian Budd, Whitecaps FC finished third in the Western Division of the NASL's Pacific Conference and made the postseason for the first time in club history. Their playoff appearance ended as soon as it began, as Vancouver lost 1-0 at Seattle Sounders on August 18, 1976. Seattle would repeat that playoff result the following year, with Whitecaps FC experiencing two coaching changes in 1977. Krautzun was replaced by defender and future Canadian national team head coach Holger Osieck before Englishman Tony Waiters took charge of the side before the season's end.

Come the 1978 season, Whitecaps FC had grown to become the city's top sports franchise, with Waiters leading the club to a first-place finish in the Western Division after a 13-match winning streak to end the regular season schedule. Their first-ever NASL playoff win came on August 9, 1978, with a 4-0 victory over Canadian rivals Toronto Metros-Croatia, while defender Bob Lenarduzzi was named North American Player of the Year. Though they lost their National Conference semifinal series to Portland Timbers, Vancouver soccer fans would be rewarded with success the following season.

1979 brought a change to the Whitecaps FC logo and colours, as the team dawned Blue and White for the first time that season. They also became Vancouver's first professional sports team to win a major North American championship when they won the NASL Soccer Bowl title with a 2-1 victory over Tampa Bay Rowdies at Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey, on September 8, 1979. A squad that included the likes of Alan Ball, John Craven, Kevin Hector, Willie Johnston, Phil Parkes, and Trevor Whymark, Whitecaps FC finished top of the Western Division standings before embarking on a memorable playoff run to the league title. After defeating Dallas Tornado in the National Conference quarterfinals, Waiters' side faced Los Angeles Aztecs in the conference semifinals. A goal from Hector in the decisive mini-game at Empire Stadium took Whitecaps FC to the conference championship and a thrilling series versus a star-studded New York Cosmos side. After winning the first match in Vancouver 2-0, the return game saw the Cosmos win 3-2 at Giants Stadium to force a mini-game and an eventual shoot-out. Much to the disbelief of 44,109 Cosmos fans, Derek Possee scored the winning goal in the shoot-out to send Whitecaps FC to the final.

Led to the championship by Whymark's two goals in the final versus Tampa Bay, Whitecaps FC returned home to the largest reception in British Columbia history. As many as 100,000 people lined Vancouver's Robson Street to salute their heroes during a championship parade on September 9, 1979, with Carl Valentine famously announcing to supporters - "You are the number one fans, and we are the number one team!"

Whitecaps FC were unable to defend their title in 1980, however, with Walters returning to the role of head coach after initially making way for fellow Englishman Bob McNab. Their first-round playoff defeat to Seattle was unfortunately repeated in the 1981 season, as Tampa Bay eliminated a Whitecaps FC side that were led by former Leeds United and Republic of Ireland star Johnny Giles. It was a disappointing outcome, considering Vancouver's first-place finish in the Northwest Division standings that year. In 1982, San Diego Sockers ended the Whitecaps FC season after winning two of three matches in their first-round playoff series.

Hopes were high for a second NASL title in 1983, as Vancouver played host to the Soccer Bowl championship match at the newly-built BC Place stadium. In fact, Whitecaps FC's 2-1 victory over Seattle on June 20, 1983, was the first sporting event to be played in BC Place. A sold-out crowd of 60,342 saw a young Peter Beardsley score Vancouver's two goals that day. Though Whitecaps FC finished top of the Western Division standings, another first-round playoff exit followed - this time to Toronto Blizzard. In fact, Vancouver's Canadian rivals reached the Soccer Bowl final at BC Place, but it was Tulsa Roughnecks that won the last-ever single-match NASL championship with a 2-0 victory on October 1, 1983.

The 1984 season proved to be the last year of existence for the NASL, with Whitecaps FC one of nine remaining clubs in the league that year. Former Whitecaps player Alan Hinton replaced Giles as head coach and led the team to a second-place finish in the Western Division. Vancouver's season, and even their existence as an NASL club, ended after a playoff semifinal series exit to eventual champions Chicago Sting. Their last home match was a 3-1 defeat to the Sting at BC Place on September 23, 1984. The club's final NASL game came five days later, as Whitecaps FC lost 4-3 in Chicago. Instability throughout the NASL meant the league had to suspend operations by the end of the season, and as a result, Whitecaps FC folded that same year.

Despite the NASL's demise, Canada's men's national team achieved great success when they qualified for the 1986 FIFA World Cup in Mexico. In an effort to build on that achievement, professional soccer was resurrected in Canada with the formation of the Canadian Soccer League (CSL). The dawn of the CSL also brought about the rebirth of the professional game in Vancouver, as the 86ers were launched after the West Coast Soccer Society was granted a CSL franchise on July 26, 1986. Named after the year of Vancouver's incorporation as a city (1886) and the year of the club's founding (1986), the 86ers took to the field for the CSL's first-ever season in 1987. Led by player/head coach Bob Lenarduzzi and his assistant Alan Errington, the 86ers were triumphant in their inaugural CSL match, as they defeated Edmonton Brick Men 4-2 in front of 7,646 fans at Swangard Stadium in Burnaby, BC, on June 7, 1987. The 86ers went on to finish second in the Western Division standings that year before bowing out to inaugural league champions Calgary Kickers in the playoff semifinals.

A year later, under new owner Milan Ilich, the 86ers established themselves as a CSL powerhouse when they won the first of four-straight league championship titles. On September 25, 1988, Lenarduzzi formally hung up his boots as a player after leading his side to a 4-1 victory over Hamilton Steelers in front of a Swangard crowd of 6,443.

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

Hamilton were the 86ers opponents again in the CSL Mita Cup final on October 1, 1989, with Lenarduzzi's squad delighting a huge Swangard crowd of 7,942 with a 3-2 victory over the Steelers. The club also set a North American professional sports record by playing 46 consecutive matches without defeat (37 wins and nine draws) between June 5, 1988, and August 8, 1989. Those efforts were honoured in 2004, as the 86ers squad of 1989 were inducted into the BC Sports Hall of Fame and Museum.

1990 brought North American success to the 86ers. As CSL champions, Vancouver took on American Professional Soccer League (APSL) champions Maryland Bays for the 'Pepsi Cup' North American Club Championship match at Swangard on September 26, 1990. The 86ers won the title after a 3-2 extra-time victory, with the club's all-time leading goalscorer Domenic Mobilio scoring the match winner in the 117th minute. The 86ers then made it three CSL championship wins at home versus Hamilton on October 8, 1990, with Vancouver hammering the Steelers 6-1 in front of 6,348 fans at Swangard. Vancouver's fourth and final Mita Cup championship came on October 6, 1991, when the 86ers defeated Toronto Blizzard 5-3 at Swangard.

The CSL's last season of existence came in 1992, and unfortunately for 86ers fans, a fifth-straight title would elude their side. Despite finishing top of the regular season standings, Winnipeg Fury upset Vancouver in the two-game final series to win the final CSL championship before the league folded later that year. The 86ers also came up short in the first round of the 1992 'Professional Cup' North American Club Championship. Facing APSL champions Colorado Foxes over two legs, Vancouver suffered a heartbreaking 3-2 defeat in the first leg in Colorado on August 3, 1992, before the Foxes advanced to the final, as a 2-1 second-leg win at Swangard on August 11, 1992, secured a 5-3 aggregate victory for Colorado.

With the CSL at an end, the 86ers entered a new era when they became members of the APSL for the 1993 season. Fellow CSL club Toronto Blizzard and the newly formed Montreal Impact also joined the league that same year. With a new look, logo, and colours (red, black, and white), the 86ers finished top of the APSL regular season standings before their season was abruptly ended in the playoff semifinals, as Los Angeles Salsa won 3-2 in a shootout at Swangard. The match was also Lenarduzzi's last as 86ers head coach, as he turned his sole focus to his other role as head coach of the Canadian men's national team after being appointed to that position in the spring of 1992.

Former Whitecaps FC, 86ers, and Canadian international Carl Valentine succeeded Lenarduzzi as head coach. After missing the playoffs in his first season in charge in 1994, Valentine led the 86ers to the postseason in 1995, where they lost to Seattle Sounders in the semifinals. Midfielder Giuliano Oliviero earned APSL Rookie of the Year honours that season. The 86ers missed the playoffs again in 1996, but their fortunes changed in 1997 after the APSL was re-named the A-League and was expanded from seven clubs to 24. There was also a change in ownership when Milan Ilich handed over the club to BC Lions owner David Braley. Though they finished fourth in the Western Conference, Pacific Division standings, Valentine's side reached the playoff semifinals before losing to eventual champions Milwaukee Rampage. The fall of 1997 also saw the return of Lenarduzzi to the club as general manager after his spell as Canadian national team head coach had come to an end.

Valentine's final two years in charge ended in similar fashion, as the 86ers saw both their 1998 and 1999 A-League seasons end with first-round playoff exits. One notable bright spot in 1999 was Niall Thompson's two league honours after he scored 20 goals and recorded 47 points that season.

The turn of the millennium saw former Whitecaps FC, 86ers, and Canadian national team striker Dale Mitchell named as the club's third head coach. He led the 86ers to the Western Conference playoff semifinals before falling 4-3 on aggregate to Minnesota Thunder. The year 2000 was significant for events off the pitch as well, with Braley selling the club to local businessman David Stadnyk in August of that year. Then on October 26, 2000, after widespread public support, the 86ers formally changed their name back to the Whitecaps after Stadnyk purchased the naming rights from former NASL Whitecaps director John Laxton.

With a new logo and new-look Blue and White jerseys that were designed as a tribute to the 1979 NASL championship side, Mitchell earned A-League Coach of the Year honours in 2001 after leading Whitecaps FC to a first-place finish in the Western Conference standings. Unfortunately, their season ended when Hershey Wildcats defeated Vancouver in the playoff semifinals.

2001 also saw the birth of the club's new entry on the local soccer scene, as the Vancouver Breakers women's team were formed following a merger of the Vancouver Angels and Vancouver Lady 86ers teams. Playing in the top division of the W-League (W1), the Breakers finished top of the Western Conference before suffering heartbreak in the championship final when they lost 5-1 to Boston Renegades.

2002 proved to be an eventful year for the club. Former Portuguese international Tony Fonseca became Whitecaps FC head coach on February 13, 2002, after Mitchell moved on to become head coach of Canada's U-20 men's national team. Fonseca led Whitecaps FC to the Western Conference playoff final before losing to eventual champions Milwaukee. It was also in 2002 that the Breakers women hosted the W-League championship tournament, with Vancouver finishing third after defeating Denver Lady Cougars in the third-place match.

Of more concern to Vancouver soccer fans was Stadnyk's decision to step down from his ownership of the club midway through the 2002 campaign. He handed over the club's rights to the league, who in turn, appointed Lenarduzzi as head of a search committee to find a new owner. Their search led to local businessman Greg Kerfoot taking ownership of Whitecaps FC on November 13, 2002. On February 24, 2003, the Whitecaps men and Breakers women were brought under a new club structure called Whitecaps Football Club (FC), with the set-up to include an extensive youth development program. 2003 also saw both Whitecaps FC teams' seasons come to an end in the first round of the playoffs, as the Seattle Sounders men's and women's teams triumphed over their Pacific Northwest rivals.

Yet, it would not take long for success to bloom under the ownership and vision of Kerfoot. After announcing plans to build the Whitecaps Training Centre on the campus of Simon Fraser University on April 14, 2004, the Whitecaps FC women - who were led by head coach Chris Bennett - won their first W-League North American championship title with a penalty shootout victory over New Jersey Wildcats in Ottawa, Ontario. Fonseca's men, meanwhile, reached the Western Conference playoff final that season before falling 2-1 on aggregate to Seattle. Whitecaps Youth, however, sent five teams to the Super Y-League North American finals in 2004, with the U-13 Boys winning the championship title.

2005 brought more change. The A-League was re-named the United Soccer Leagues First Division (USL-1), while Whitecaps FC replaced Fonseca with American Bob Lilley as men's team head coach. The former Hershey Wildcats and Montreal Impact tactician led Vancouver to a third-place finish in the USL-1 standings before Richmond Kickers eliminated Whitecaps FC on penalties in the first round of the playoffs. The men's season did include a notable friendly result, as Whitecaps FC defeated English Premier League club Sunderland 3-0 at Swangard on July 16, 2005. Striker Jason Jordan also had a season to remember, as he was named the league's Most Valuable Player after leading USL-1 in goals (17) and points (37). The Whitecaps FC women, meanwhile, took third place at the W-League championship tournament after a 3-1 win over Central Florida Krush. On October 13, 2005, the club announced plans for a proposed soccer-specific stadium to be built on downtown Vancouver's central waterfront and rail lands.

A memorable year ensued for Whitecaps FC fans in 2006, as both the men's and women's teams claimed an unprecedented double of USL titles. Despite a fourth-place finish in the USL-1 standings, Lilley's side defeated Miami FC and Canadian rivals Montreal Impact to reach the championship final away to Rochester Raging Rhinos. On September 30, 2006,

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

Whitecaps FC won their first league title since the 1991 CSL championship with a 3-0 victory in Upstate New York. Earlier in the summer, the men's side defeated English League Championship club Cardiff City on penalties to win the inaugural Whitecaps Nations Cup tournament. Meanwhile, under the guidance of head coach Bob Birarda, the undefeated Whitecaps FC women claimed their second W-League championship title in three seasons with a 3-0 win over Ottawa Fury in the final at Swangard on August 6, 2006.

2007 saw Swangard play host to seven matches in the FIFA U-20 World Cup, with sell-out crowds of 10,000 taking in each of those games during the month of July. The Whitecaps FC seasons, however, proved not as eventful. The women missed the W-League playoffs for the first time in their history, while Lilley's tenure as men's team head coach ended following a disappointing campaign that saw Whitecaps FC finish seventh in the USL-1 standings and fall 3-1 on aggregate to Pacific Northwest rivals Portland Timbers in the playoff quarterfinals.

On a more positive note, it was in September 2007 that the Whitecaps FC Residency program formally began under the guidance of managing director Thomas Niendorf. As North America's only full-time professional development set-up, the inaugural 18-player squad included several top Canadian youngsters, as well as Jamaican youth international Dever Orgill. The club's exposure was raised again on November 7, 2007, as Whitecaps FC played David Beckham and Major League Soccer (MLS) club Los Angeles Galaxy to a 0-0 draw in front of 48,172 fans at BC Place.

On December 11, 2007, Icelandic coach Teitur Thordarson became the 13th men's team head coach since the club's first season in the NASL back in 1974. Though 2008 was his first season in North America, the former Iceland international striker had a memorable campaign, as he led Whitecaps FC to their second USL-1 championship title in three seasons. Earlier in the season, Whitecaps FC surprised many with their 2-1 friendly win over David Beckham and MLS club Los Angeles Galaxy at Edmonton's Commonwealth Stadium on May 13, 2008. The men's team built on that friendly result to finish a point behind regular season champions Puerto Rico Islanders before embarking on another memorable playoff run. They defeated Minnesota and Montreal on route to the club's first championship final at Swangard since the 1992 CSL season. In what was the first-ever USL-1 championship match to involve two clubs from outside of the United States, Whitecaps FC defeated Puerto Rico 2-1 in front of 5,822 fans on October 12, 2008.

2008 was also an important year in Canadian club soccer, as Whitecaps FC faced Montreal and MLS side Toronto FC in the inaugural edition of the Nutrilite Canadian Championship. Though back-to-back 2-0 defeats to the Impact hurt their chances of winning the Voyageurs Cup that year, Thordarson's side famously handed Toronto FC their first home defeat of the season with a 1-0 victory at BMO Field on Canada Day (July 1, 2008). Eight days later, Whitecaps FC completed their campaign with a late 2-2 draw versus TFC at Swangard. Montreal went on to win the inaugural tournament and represent Canada in the inaugural edition of the CONCACAF Champions League.

Whitecaps FC women, meanwhile, returned to the postseason after a year's absence, but ended up losing the Western Conference playoff final 1-0 to Seattle at Swangard on July 26, 2008. The match was also Birarda's last in charge of the women's team, as he parted company with the club on October 9, 2008. It was also in 2008 that the Whitecaps FC Residency squad reached the Premier Development League (PDL) semifinals in their inaugural season in the league before losing 2-1 to eventual champions Thunder Bay Chill. On November 25, 2008, Whitecaps FC and BC Soccer affiliate club Mountain WFC celebrated a Super Y-League North American championship when their U-16 Boys defeated New Jersey's TSF Academy 2-0 in the final in Tampa, Florida.

On October 15, 2008, Whitecaps FC submitted a bid to secure one of two MLS expansion teams for the 2011 season, having initially announced their bidding plans at a press conference in Vancouver on July 25, 2008. On March 18, 2009, MLS commissioner Don Garber announced that Vancouver would be the home of the 17th team in MLS - led by an ownership team of Kerfoot, Steve Luczo, Jeff Mallett, and NBA basketball star Steve Nash. As an MLS expansion club, Whitecaps FC will play most their inaugural season at the Pacific National Exhibition's temporary 'Empire Field' stadium (formerly Empire Stadium) before moving to a renovated BC Place stadium in early October 2011.

With spirits high in the club following the MLS announcement, the 2009 season went down as one of the most eventful campaigns in club history. Thordarson re-shaped his squad by making several changes to his men's team roster, which included the departure of long-time servants Jeff Clarke, Jason Jordan, Steve Kindel, and Alfredo Valente. The side also began its preparations for their USL-1 championship title defence early, with training camp starting on January 21, 2009. In early March, Whitecaps FC embarked on their first-ever visit to the continent of Africa, as they took part in a three-match preseason trip to the United Republic of Tanzania.

Thordarson's young squad endured a challenging season in USL-1, with the side claiming the final playoff berth in the league standings after a seventh-place finish. Yet, true to their folklore as a successful playoff side, Whitecaps FC upset the formbook by defeating second-seeded Carolina RailHawks in the first round, then USL-1 regular season champions Portland Timbers in the semifinals. Their title defence, however, ended in disappointment after Canadian arch-rivals Montreal Impact won both legs of the USL-1 Championship Series in October 2009. Defeat to the Impact followed similar disappointment in the second edition of the Nutrilite Canadian Championship. Despite finishing level on points with Major League Soccer club Toronto FC in the three-club competition, TFC won the title and Canada's lone spot in 2009-10 CONCACAF Champions League on goal difference - much in thanks to a stunning 6-1 victory at Montreal in the tournament's final match on June 18, 2009. At the end of the season, defender Geordie Lyall announced his retirement from professional soccer after 11 straight seasons with the club, while Todd Wawrousek moved on after three years as men's team assistant coach before taking up a similar role at Crystal Palace Baltimore.

Though many unique experiences took place during the year, the men's team's season included several bright moments. Marcus Haber was the first Whitecaps FC player to be named USL-1 Rookie of the Year since Giuliano Oliviero back in 1995, while fellow striker Charles Gbeke finished as the league's top scorer with 12 goals. Another rookie in Wes Knight shared the league lead in assists with eight, while Jay Nolly became the first Whitecaps FC goalkeeper since Arnie Mausser in 1977 to appear in every minute of action in a single season, having played in all 40 matches for a total of 3,600 minutes. Other notable moments include Dever Orgill becoming the first player from the club's Residency program to score a men's team goal on May 16, 2009, and the club setting a new record of 13 sold-out matches at Swangard Stadium. The total surpassed the previous mark of 10 sold-out games back in the 1987 season.

The Whitecaps FC women were under new guidance, as Alan Koch became the fifth women's team head coach on April 20, 2009. The South African-born tactician then endured a tough first year in charge, as Vancouver missed the playoffs for only the second time in club history after a fifth-place finish in the W-League Western Conference standings. The Residency team also experienced a tough second season in the PDL, as they too missed the postseason after a sixth-place finish in an improved Western Conference, Northwest Division. Yet, 2009 turned out to be a fine year for the Whitecaps Prospects Women's team. After finishing second in the Pacific Coast Soccer League (PCSL) Premier Division, Jesse Symons' side won the PCSL's Dave Fryatt Challenge Cup with a 4-2 win over regular season champions Fraser Valley Action in Kelowna, BC, on July 26, 2009. Then as 'Team BC', the Prospects Women claimed British Columbia's fourth gold medal in women's soccer at the 2009 Canada Games in Prince Edward Island. In November 2009, two Whitecaps FC and BC Soccer 'Professional Development Partner' teams claimed Super Y-League North American championship titles. The U-16 Girls and U-16 Boys teams of Coastal WFC earned the club's first-ever North American titles with penalty shootout victories in Tampa, Florida.

On November 10, 2009, Whitecaps FC brought an end to their time in USL-1 after 16 seasons in the league. As a member of the Team Owners Association (TOA), Whitecaps FC joined former USL-1 clubs Atlanta Silverbacks, Carolina RailHawks, Miami FC, Minnesota Thunder, and Montreal Impact, as well as former USL Second Division outfit Crystal Palace Baltimore, and expansion sides Athletic Club of St. Louis and FC Tampa Bay Rowdies in forming a new second-tier professional soccer league in the United States and Canada. As a tribute to the original NASL that existed between 1968 to 1984, the new league was formally named 'North American Soccer League' on November 23, 2009. Seven days later, former USL-1 club Rochester Rhinos also became a member of the new NASL, while Canada earned a fourth professional team on February 9, 2010, when FC Edmonton announced they would join the NASL in 2011.

There was also change with the women's team, as former Jamaican international goalkeeper Hubert Busby Jr. succeeded Koch as the club's sixth head coach on December 14, 2009. As part of the club's long-term plan for women's player development, Busby and assistant coach Symons not only took charge of the Whitecaps FC W-League side, but also the club's U-18 Prospects Girls team from the 2010 season.

Meanwhile, the NASL's efforts to earn sanctioning as a Division II professional league in the U.S. - and therefore Canada - for the 2010 season, suffered a setback on December 30, 2009, as the United States Soccer Federation (USSF) voted unanimously to reject the applications of both the NASL and USL. The decision resulted in both the NASL and USL joining the USSF in forming and operating a 'Division 2' professional soccer league called 'United States Soccer Federation Division-2 Professional League (USSF D-2)' for the 2010 season on January 7. The one-year agreement saw the USSF oversee all league matters during the 2010 campaign, with American soccer's governing body working with the USL and NASL on day-to-day league activities.

It was also in 2010 that Whitecaps FC laid down their foundations for Vancouver MLS 2011. On January 19, 2010, former D.C. United head coach Tom Soehn joined the club as director of soccer operations, while former Canadian men's national team captain Colin Miller succeeded Todd Wawrousek as men's team assistant coach on February 11, 2010. On March 1, former Tottenham Hotspur executive director Paul Barber took charge as Whitecaps FC chief executive officer after being announced to the role on November 24, 2009.

In what was their final season at the North American second division level, Whitecaps FC finished second in the USSF D-2's NASL Conference standings, despite making several changes to their squad during the 2010 summer transfer window. Their solid defensive display saw Vancouver set a league low 22 goals conceded during the regular season. As the fifth seed in the USSF D-2 playoffs, Thordarson's squad defeated MLS expansion cousins Portland Timbers 2-1 on aggregate in the first round before their season ended abruptly in the semifinals to eventual league champions Puerto Rico Islanders, as Whitecaps FC fell 2-0 on aggregate. Two goals in extra time of the second leg from former Whitecaps FC striker Nicholas Addler ended the club's era at Swangard Stadium after 24 consecutive seasons on October 17, 2010. Whitecaps FC were also left frustrated in the 2010 Nutrilite Canadian Championship, as four consecutive draws saw Vancouver finish second behind defending champions Toronto FC in the three-club competition. Then on October 28, 2010, captain Martin Nash ended his player career to become a member of the Whitecaps FC coaching staff.

The women's team enjoyed a successful 2010 W-League campaign under first-year coach Busby, who earned Coach of the Year honours after leading Whitecaps FC to a first-place finish in the W-League Western Conference standings with an undefeated record of 6W-0L-4D. On July 24, 2010, Busby led his side to the W-League Western Conference title with a 2-1 home win over two-time defending W-League champions Pali Blues, with Vancouver reaching the W-League 'Final Four' Championship Tournament in Santa Clarita, California, as a result. Though they defeated top-seeded Hudson Valley Quickstrike Lady Blues 3-1 in the semifinals on July 29, 2010, Whitecaps FC missed out on a third W-League championship title when they lost 3-1 to Buffalo Flash on July 31, 2010. On January 5, 2011, one of the club's most popular women's team players, Kara Lang, brought her illustrious career to an end through injury.

2010 saw Whitecaps FC Residency endured a challenging third season in the PDL, with Craig Dalrymple taking interim charge of the side on May 7, 2010, following the departure of Thomas Niendorf back on February 25, 2010. Leading a young and inexperienced Residency side, Dalrymple's squad finished sixth in the highly competitive Western Conference, Northwest Division standings. Meanwhile, the Whitecaps FC Prospects Women enjoyed a perfect 16W-0L-0D PCSL regular season campaign, but were upset in the league's Dave Fryatt Challenge Cup tournament semifinals by hosts Coquitlam Metro-Ford Xtreme on July 24, 2010. Later in the year, Whitecaps FC and BC Soccer 'Professional Development Partner' side Coquitlam Metro-Ford U-15 Boys won a Super Y-League North American championship title.

Of course, 2010 was notable for many exciting events off the pitch, as Whitecaps FC built towards their inaugural MLS season in 2011. In the build-up to the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa, the 'Whitecaps FC week of soccer' saw the club unveil their new brand and logo for MLS on June 8, 2010. Two days later, the club's new adidas MLS kit and Premier Founding Partner in Bell Canada were unveiled. This was followed by further partnership announcements in BMO Bank of Montreal (October 27, 2010), EA SPORTS (November 29, 2010), Budweiser (January 26, 2011), Kia (March 2, 2011)

On July 28, 2010, an important piece to the building of the Whitecaps FC MLS squad took place, as Vancouver won a coin toss over MLS expansion cousins Portland Timbers, which allowed the club to choose which player acquisition mechanism they wish to have first pick in during the MLS Expansion Priority Draft on August 23, 2010. Whitecaps FC opted for the first overall selection in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft and top ranking for allocation and USSF D-2 Priority. Further MLS pieces were put in place on September 2, 2010, when Thordarson was confirmed as Whitecaps FC head coach for their inaugural MLS season. That was followed by the appointment of Dutchman Richard Grootscholten as the club's new technical director and head coach of the club's Residency program on November 3, 2010.

Whitecaps FC's first MLS signing was then confirmed on November 18, 2010, as USA World Cup star Jay DeMerit arrived in Vancouver after a successful spell in England. Five further players in Joe Cannon, Atiba Harris, Jonathan Leathers, Shea Salinas, and John Thornington were added to Thordarson's squad during the MLS Expansion Draft on November 24, 2010, while Philippe Davies, Wes Knight, and Jay Nolly all earned MLS contracts with the club after being key performers for Whitecaps FC at the North American second division level. In particular, the signing of Davies on November 26, 2010, made him Vancouver's first-ever Canadian signing and homegrown player in MLS.

On January 8, 2011, former Chicago Fire head coach Denis Hamlett joined Thordarson's coaching staff as one of his assistants. The following week, Whitecaps FC used their first overall pick in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft to select USA U-20 international striker and Generation adidas signing Omar Salgado on January 13, 2011. NCAA Division I products Michael Nanchoff (eighth overall), Jeb Brovsky (19th overall), and Bilal Duckett (37th overall) also became part of the club's inaugural SuperDraft class.

On January 24, 2011, Whitecaps FC players and staff took to the pitch at their Empire Field home for the start of a two-month preseason campaign and preparations towards their first season as an MLS club, which begins at home to Canadian arch-rivals Toronto FC on Saturday, March 19.

EXECUTIVE BIOGRAPHIES

Paul Barber Chief Executive Officer

Paul Barber joined Whitecaps FC in March 2010 from Tottenham Hotspur Football Club of the English Premier League. As Vancouver Whitecaps FC chief executive officer, Barber joins president Bob Lenarduzzi and chief operating officer Rachel Lewis in heading up the Whitecaps FC executive team, as the club enters their inaugural season in Major League Soccer (MLS). Barber is the primary representative within the club for the Vancouver Whitecaps FC ownership group.

Barber brings world-class experience and leadership to Whitecaps FC business and soccer operations, having spent five years as executive director of Tottenham Hotspur FC. Reporting to executive chairman Daniel Levy, Barber was responsible for all of the club's key operational divisions, including commercial areas, ticketing and hospitality, international tours and friendly matches, and the club's soccer development area, which included domestic and international coaching programs and soccer camps.

A former commercial and marketing director of The Football Association in England, Barber was responsible for developing programs for marketing, communications, and commercial affairs, including broadcast rights of the England national team and The FA Cup - the largest domestic knock-out cup competition in world soccer. He also extensively supported the development of women's, youth, and grassroots soccer in England, securing long-term and innovative sponsorship agreements with some of the world's leading consumer brands.

Barber's international soccer experience includes being a member of the England national team's official party that travelled to Japan and Korea for the 2002 FIFA World Cup, and to the 2000 UEFA European Championship in Belgium and Holland. With Tottenham Hotspur, he enjoyed the club's three successive years of UEFA European club football competition between 2006 and 2008, as well as Spurs' two consecutive appearances at the new Wembley Stadium in London for the English League Cup final in 2008 (versus Chelsea FC) and 2009 (versus Manchester United FC).

A lifelong Tottenham Hotspur fan and native of North London, Barber is a Football Association qualified coach and former amateur player. Though he and his family have relocated to Vancouver, Barber continues to sit on the board of Rose Bowl plc - parent company of Hampshire County Cricket Club - where he is a non-executive director.

Bob Lenarduzzi President

Bob Lenarduzzi has been involved with Whitecaps FC for over three decades, excelling as a player, coach, general manager, director of soccer operations, and now president. Playing with his hometown Whitecaps FC (1974-1984), Lenarduzzi was the North American Soccer League's all-time leader in games played with 312. He was the only Canadian to win the North American Player of Year, and in 1979, he was a key member of Whitecaps FC's championship-winning team. He represented Canada 47 times as a player, helping them qualify for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics and the 1986 FIFA World Cup in Mexico. For his efforts, Lenarduzzi was named among CONCACAF's top 30 players of the past century. As a player/coach, he won four straight Canadian Soccer League championships and was twice named CSL Coach of the Year. He went on to coach Canada's men's national team from 1992 to 1997.

Lenarduzzi served as the general manager and director of soccer operations of Vancouver 86ers and Whitecaps FC from 1988 to 1993, and 1998 to 2007. In 2000, he received the USL First Division Executive of the Year award, while he was also a member of the FIFA U-20 World Cup Canada 2007 Steering Committee.

Lenarduzzi has been inducted into the North American Soccer Hall of Fame, the Canadian Soccer Hall of Fame, the British Columbia Sports Hall of Fame, and the United Soccer Leagues Hall of Fame. In 2005, he received the Order of British Columbia – the highest form of recognition that the province can extend to its citizens – for his contribution to the sport of soccer.

Rachel Lewis

Chief Operating Officer

Rachel Lewis has been in the field of sport and event management for nearly a decade, joining Vancouver Whitecaps FC in 2003 as director of event management and stadium development. In 2007, she assumed the role of chief operating officer.

Prior to joining Whitecaps FC, Lewis spent three years with Vancouver's PGA Tour Stop, the Air Canada Championship. As tournament director, she was responsible for overseeing all day-to-day operations. Lewis also represented BMO Financial Group as project manager for their sponsorship of the BMO Financial Group Canadian Women's Open. She holds a BA (honours) from the University of Victoria and an MBA from the University of British Columbia.

Lewis has a strong passion for community. She currently sits on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of Kidsport Canada, is a board member of the Gastown Business Improvement Society, is a former Director of Sport BC, and is a former Trustee with the BC Sports Hall of Fame and Museum. She also volunteered as a member of the FIFA U-20 World Cup Canada 2007 Steering Committee. In 2008, Lewis was recognized as a recipient of the Business in Vancouver "40 Under 40" awards, while in 2011, she was named one of "BC's 100 Women of Influence" by The Vancouver Sun.

Greg Anderson

Director of Professional Teams

Greg Anderson joined the Whitecaps FC front office in 2004, and was initially engaged with the proposed Whitecaps Waterfront Stadium and National Training Centre projects. Anderson is now responsible for the management of the men's first team. Anderson also sits on the Canadian Soccer Association board of directors.

Prior to joining the club, Anderson worked in pulmonary research at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver. In order to make a career change and explore his passions for sport and development, Anderson completed an MBA at the Thunderbird School of Global Management, during which time, he was invited to join the United Nations Graduate Study Program, where he had the opportunity to study and work abroad in France and Costa Rica. Anderson also holds a BSc in Biology from the University of Western Ontario.

Tommy Soehn

Director of Soccer Operations

Having been part of Major League Soccer since its inception in 1996, Tom Soehn brings a vast wealth of experience to his role as Whitecaps FC director of soccer operations. A native of Chicago, Illinois, Soehn joined the club on January 19, 2010.

With nine years' experience as a coach in MLS, including the last three of those seasons as head coach of D.C. United, Soehn's role will be to develop and oversee the creation and operation of the club's player scouting, identification, and recruitment system, as well as collaborate with the technical staff to formulate the roster for their inaugural MLS season in 2011.

Soehn comes to Whitecaps FC after six seasons on the coaching staff at D.C. United. From 2004 to 2006, he served as assistant coach to Peter Nowak at the Washington, D.C. outfit. During that time, United won both the 2004 MLS Cup title and the 2006 MLS Supporters' Shield as regular season champions. On December 21, 2006, Soehn succeeded Nowak as head coach and enjoyed a successful first season with United, with the club defending their MLS Supporters' Shield title in 2007. His second season in charge saw United win the 2008 Lamar Hunt US Open Cup title before he led the club into the group stages of the inaugural (2008-09) CONCACAF Champions League. As Lamar Hunt US Open Cup winners, United returned to the CONCACAF Champions League for the 2009-10 season and reached the group stages for a second straight year. As United head coach from 2007 to 2009, Soehn registered a 55W-48L-31D record in all competitions, including an overall MLS record of 36W-31L-25D.

Prior to joining D.C. United, Soehn served as assistant coach with hometown club Chicago Fire. He first assisted current United States national team head coach Bob Bradley during both the 2001 and 2002 seasons before serving in the same role for then Fire head coach Dave Sarachan in 2003.

Soehn's time in professional soccer also included a distinguished 13-year playing career as a defender/midfielder in both the indoor and outdoor game in North America. This included four seasons in MLS with Dallas Burn (now known as FC Dallas) and Chicago. After being selected in the second round (13th overall) of the MLS Inaugural Player Draft in February 1996, Soehn missed out on the league's first season of existence through injury before returning to action the next year, as Dallas won the 1997 Lamar Hunt US Open Cup title. In 1998, Soehn returned home to join expansion club Chicago following a mid-season trade from Dallas. He then helped the Illinois-based outfit to a memorable first year of existence, as the Fire won both the MLS Cup and Lamar Hunt US Open Cup titles that year. That was followed by another Lamar Hunt US Open Cup title with Chicago in 2000.

Soehn's playing career also included a spell in the old Canadian Soccer League with Ottawa Intrepid and Hamilton Steelers in 1989 and 1990. He then played a further three seasons in the old American Professional Soccer League (APSL) with Colorado Foxes from 1992 to 1994. During his time with Colorado, the defender/midfielder won two APSL championship titles in 1992 and 1993. He also claimed the 1992 'Professional Cup' North American Club Championship with Colorado, with the Foxes defeating Whitecaps FC (known then as Vancouver 86ers) 5-3 on aggregate in the first round of the competition. Soehn also spent part of his career playing professional indoor soccer. This included spells with Wichita Wings in the Major Indoor Soccer League/Major Soccer League (1988 to 1992) and National Professional Soccer League (NPSL - 1993 to 1996), Denver Thunder (NPSL - 1992-93 season), and Las Vegas Dustdevils (Continental Indoor Soccer League - 1995 season).

Soehn and his wife Jean have four children named TJ, Payton, Sydney, and Addison.

Dan Lenarduzzi Director of Soccer Development

Lenarduzzi has been involved in the game both as a player and executive. He was born and raised in Vancouver and followed his two older brothers, Bob and Sam, into professional soccer with Vancouver Whitecaps FC at the age of 18. This made the Lenarduzzi's the first three brothers in North America to play on the same professional sports team. Lenarduzzi played his way up through the British Columbia youth soccer system with Vancouver's Grandview Legion and the BC provincial team program. In 1979, he led the Canadian U-20 national team to qualification for the FIFA U-20 World Cup, having been named a tournament all-star at the qualifying tournament in Honduras. Other accomplishments include his role as captain of the Canadian side at the U-20 World Cup in Japan and professional player with the Whitecaps from 1978 to 1982. Lenarduzzi has a Business Degree in Marketing and Communications from the British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT), and 10 years in the marketing industry, including his own company. In his current role with Whitecaps FC, Lenarduzzi oversees the clubs Residency and Women teams in addition to other player development programs and community camps and clinics.

Roberto Cabrone

Director of Sales

Roberto Cabrone has been a sales leader in the professional sports industry for more than 13 years. Andrea Wilkinson

Director of Partnerships

As the director of partnerships, Wilkinson leads an integrated corporate sponsorship sales and service team, which also drives the club's strategic philanthropic initiatives.

Wilkinson has 15 years of experience in business development, fundraising, and communications, having worked with organizations or advised clients in the financial services, government, healthcare, education, environment, natural resources, and trade sectors.

Educated at Simon Fraser University and Carleton University, Wilkinson holds a BA (Political Science/History) and is currently on track to graduate with her MBA from the Sauder School of Business (UBC) in June 2011.

Carly Thorson Jokic

Director of Media Relations & Broadcast Communications

Carly Thorson Jokic holds more than 15 years of communications and marketing experience in both public and private sectors in organizations ranging from 20 to 1,500 people with revenues up to $800 million.

Thorson Jokic joins Vancouver Whitecaps FC from the Vancouver Organizing Committee for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games (VANOC). A key part of the communications senior management team, Thorson Jokic acted as communications liaison for all 65 corporate sponsors for day-to-day and long-term issues management and strategic communications planning. A primary link to the CEO office, she also managed a broad variety of crucial programs - such as the launch of the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic medals, the infamous Red Mittens campaign, and the launch of the Canadian team uniform.

Prior to VANOC, Carly managed communications for the Vancouver Convention Centre in preparation for major facility expansion, and also held a wide range of roles at leading high technology corporations, including Sophos Inc., Xantrex Technology Inc., Absolute Software, and Dynapro Systems Inc.

Thorson Jokic majored in English at Simon Fraser University and holds a Management Certificate in Marketing Communications (with honours) from BCIT. She is a member of CPRS and IABC, a frequent guest speaker at BCIT marketing and PR classes, and a long-time volunteer for the Canadian Cancer Society's Camp Goodtimes.

Kim Jackman

Director of Marketing

Kim Jackman brings over 12 years of marketing experience to the club. Prior to joining Vancouver Whitecaps FC, Jackman practiced client services and strategy at RMG Connect and Ogilvy & Mather, where she worked with a wide range of local and Fortune 500 clients including LifeScan - a Johnson & Johnson Company, Telus Communications, Intrawest, BC Hydro, Mountain Equipment Co-op, and VanCity Savings. Jackman holds a BA (honours) from McGill University.

Jackman is thrilled at the opportunity to combine her professional skill set with her love of sport and is actively involved in ice hockey, skiing, and running.

Hillary Campbell

Director of Event Management

Hillary Campbell has been in the field of sport and event management for seven years. She joined Whitecaps FC organization in 2005 as manager, operations. By 2008, she assumed the role of director of event operations. In this capacity, Campbell is responsible for all match-day operations and building relationships with ancillary event venues. She holds a BRM from Acadia University and a DEC in Recreation and Community Leadership from Dawson College. Campbell has a strong passion for sport and recreation, which is demonstrated through her volunteer work with the Boys and Girls Clubs, and volunteering as the operations chair for the FIFA U-20 World Cup Canada 2007.

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

Don Ford Director of Finance

Don Ford joined Whitecaps FC in January 2011, and is responsible for the financial management of the club including financial planning, reporting, and accounting. He also manages the financial relationships with Major League Soccer and the external financial community.

Prior to joining the Whitecaps FC front office, Ford was the director of revenue finance for the Vancouver Organizing Committee for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games (VANOC), where he oversaw the implementation of all aspects of VANOC's revenue streams. Ford has also worked as a senior manager in the audit and assurance practice for the Vancouver office of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, serving the forestry, technology, and retail sectors.

Born in Alberta and raised in Ontario, Ford is an active recreational hockey player and golfer. He holds a Bachelor of Commerce (Hons.) from Queen's University and is a Chartered Accountant and Certified Public Accountant (Illinois).

Sandy Hancock Director of Foundation

Sandy Hancock joined Whitecaps FC as director of the Whitecaps Foundation in January 2011. She did her BA at UBC after which she attended UBC Law School, graduating with her LLB in 1984. She travelled extensively in Asia, Australia, and New Zealand before commencing Articles at Richards Buell Sutton LLP and thereafter was called to the BC Bar in 1986.

Hancock began practicing in civil litigation and had a varied civil practice for a number of years, eventually developing a preferred focus in Personal Injury; she practiced with Richards Buell Sutton LLP between 1985 and 2010. She has taught and lectured for Continuing Legal Education and Trial Lawyers of BC in such varied areas as Collections and Enforcement of Judgments, Production of Documents, and Use of Private Health Facilities in Personal Injury cases. During her years working as a lawyer, Hancock was involved in a number of charitable events and organizations including "The Spring Charity Ball", the Vancouver Crisis Centre, and the Endeavour Society, as well as a number of community groups and Irish Dance initiatives.

Hancock has managed soccer teams on the North Shore from U-7 to U-16 and is currently the co-manager of a U-15 Metro Girls side; she is also active in the volleyball community and coaches with the North Shore Stars volleyball club, as well as Handsworth Secondary School, where she is chair of the Parent Advisory Council. Hancock enjoys travelling and takes part in multiple sports; she is active in Irish dance and loves spending time with her two teenaged daughters Alexis and Mariah, as well as her husband Bruce. She is a member of the Association of Professional Fundraisers.

SOCCER DEVELOPMENT

Vancouver Whitecaps FC is modeled after a European-style football club with a development path and programming from grassroots to professional.

The Whitecaps Community Soccer System forms the foundation of the model, helping to grow the game and reaching over 21,000 youths through a combination of free community, school, and pre-game clinics.

The Whitecaps Player Development Program is the next step for many of the Community Soccer System youth. Local and regional camps, academies, and showcase events offer aspiring players of all levels the opportunity to further develop their skills under the guidance of professional Whitecaps FC coaches. These programs reach over 7,000 youths and provide a scouting network for player selection to Whitecaps FC Prospect teams.

Whitecaps FC area of Professional Development begins with the Whitecaps FC Prospects and continues to evolve out of a commitment to identify and develop players for future professional athletic pursuits within our club and abroad. Whitecaps FC Prospects provide an environment for prospective elite players to develop and the training ground for the next step: senior women's team and Residency program.

The Whitecaps FC women's team is the pinnacle program for young female athletes to compete in the United Soccer Leagues (USL) W-League. Players are mixed with internationals to represent Whitecaps FC in elite competition in the W-League Western Conference.

Whitecaps FC Residency approaches the top of the model, where the best youth players from across Canada and the world are groomed for professional teams' placement through the integration of professional training and education. This includes participation in the USL Premier Development League during the summer. Residency players can be called into or signed with the men's first team during the season, as well as play in the MLS Reserve Division.

Exceeding Whitecaps FC Soccer Development is the First Team Operations. Whitecaps FC men's team are the top of the club model, with entry into Major League Soccer in 2011.

WHITECAPS FOUNDATION

Founded in 2003, the Whitecaps Foundation is a registered Canadian charity that aims to help create the fittest generation of BC youth by 2020. Through community and school clinics, camps and elite youth training, the Foundation inspires children to get active and eat healthily. In 2010 alone, Whitecaps Foundation programs reached almost 30,000 young people.

The Whitecaps Foundation supports all aspects of Vancouver Whitecaps FC's development programs. Whitecaps FC players take an active role in supporting Foundation initiatives, inspiring children to healthy, active living with school and community clinics, supporting the development of talented youth players, and acting as community ambassadors with appearances for local charities. Vancouver Whitecaps FC aims to be a significant community asset, the Whitecaps Foundation, supported by Whitecaps FC players, is the vehicle to make this happen.

In addition to youth programs, the Whitecaps Foundation actively supports the Whitecaps FC women's team, a group of highly talented, committed amateur athletes. Blazing trails at the highest levels, the 'Caps women side have significant representation on the Canadian national team heading to this year's FIFA World Cup. Through program support, travel bursaries and other financial assistance, the Whitecaps Foundation is helping to develop a new generation of role models for girl soccer players across the province.

STADIUMS AND FACILITIES

PNE EMPIRE FIELD TEMPORARY STADIUM

3311 East Hastings Street
Vancouver, BC V5K 5J3
Capacity: 21,000
Field Size: 115 x 72 yards

With renovations to BC Place Stadium scheduled for completion in September 2011, Vancouver will begin their inaugural season in Major League Soccer by playing in a soccer configuration of 21,000-seat temporary stadium at the Pacific National Exhibition's Empire Fields. The temporary stadium is located on the site of the old Empire Stadium, which from 1974 to 1983 served as the original home of the Whitecaps when they played in the old North American Soccer League (NASL).

The Empire Fields temporary stadium was constructed in just 111 days by Nussli Special Events (Canada) using a modular design developed in Switzerland and officially opened on June 15, 2010. Its artificial playing surface is FIFA-approved 2-Star FieldTurf.

The BC Lions Football Club played their entire 2010 Canadian Football League (CFL) home season at the stadium, with the first sporting event there being a June 20, 2010 preseason game against the Edmonton Eskimos which finished in a 32-36 loss in front of 24,763. The Lions then established the stadium attendance record of 27,528 in their league home opener on July 10, 2010 in an 18-37 loss to the Saskatchewan Roughriders. The Lions then lost three more games at the new stadium, before finally giving the facility its first win on September 11, 2010 in a 37-16 triumph over the Toronto Argonauts in front of 22,703.

Whitecaps FC will play 14 Major League Soccer (MLS) games and at least one Nutrilite Canadian Championship game at Empire Field before moving to BC Place Stadium in October. The final sporting event held at the stadium will be the 'Caps September 24, 2011, home game against Seattle Sounders FC.

The temporary stadium will be taken down following the completion of BC Place Stadium, however the playing surface and the four main lighting towers will remain as a legacy for community use.

BC PLACE STADIUM

777 Pacific Boulevard
Vancouver, BC V6B 4Y8
Capacity: 21,000
Field Size: 115 x 75 yards

Whitecaps FC will move to a renovated BC Place Stadium following the completion of the second phase of upgrades in 2011. The 'Caps first game will October 2, 2011, against Portland Timbers. The Whitecaps have a proud history with BC Place. In what was the first sporting event to be played in the stadium, a sold-out crowd of 60,342 saw the Whitecaps defeat Seattle Sounders 2-1 on June 20, 1983.

Phase one was completed for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. The $65 million renovation for phase one included improved access for persons with disabilities, and the redevelopment of all common spaces, concessions, washrooms, exterior plazas, media facilities, dressing rooms, and general public areas. Phase one also included a comprehensive refurbishment of all suites, and the establishment of a club seat area.

Phase two of the renovation plans are currently underway and scheduled to be completed in September 2011. The first sporting event at the stadium will be on September 30, 2011, when the BC Lions will play the Edmonton Eskimos in a CFL regular season game. The $458 million renovation for phase two includes the installation of a state-of-the-art retractable roof, as well as a centrally hung electronic scoreboard. Additional planned soccer-specific renovations - designed to increase the intimacy of the venue - include modular floor-level hospitality areas, floor-level seats (bringing fans closer to the pitch), and an upper deck draping that will effectively limit the capacity of the stadium to approximately 21,000 seats (from 59,000). The building plans also include a new synthetic FIFA-approved 2-Star FieldTurf.

TRAINING FACILITY

From the start of their inaugural season in Major League Soccer, Whitecaps FC will train at Empire Field for the foreseeable future. Training sessions at home will run from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., with media availability to follow each session.

National Soccer Development Centre

Whitecaps FC are committed to building a world-class training facility for not only players, but also for coaches and referees, on a 30 to 40-acre footprint in the Metro Vancouver region.

The National Soccer Development Centre (NSDC) will provide access to nation-leading sport science programs and new development opportunities for soccer clubs throughout the province of British Columbia.

The $31.5-million capital project, which includes a commitment of $17.5 million from the BC provincial government, will serve as the training base for the Whitecaps FC men's and women's teams, the club's full-time Residency program, youth sides, and visiting teams.

Plans for the NSDC also include a clubhouse for national and professional teams, a training facility, and several fields.

NUTRILITE CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIP

Formed as a competition in 2008, the Nutrilite Canadian Championship was developed by the Canadian Soccer Association and Canada's three professional clubs - Montreal Impact, Toronto FC, and Vancouver Whitecaps FC. Currently in its third year of existence, the winner of the annual tournament not only claims the Voyageurs Cup as Canadian champions, they also earn Canada's lone spot in the CONCACAF Champions League. A 24-club competition that involves the top sides from North America, Central America, and the Caribbean, the CONCACAF Champions League qualifies the confederation's representative for the annual FIFA Club World Cup.

The first Nutrilite Canadian Championship tournament took place in 2008, with Montreal surprising many by claiming the inaugural title ahead of the more-fancied Toronto FC. The Whitecaps campaign that year did not go according to plan, as a pair of defeats to the Impact left Vancouver with an uphill battle to win the Voyageurs Cup. To their credit, the 'Caps did play an important role in the eventual outcome of the 2008 tournament after claiming a famous away win over Toronto FC before drawing with the Major League Soccer (MLS) club at Swangard Stadium. Montreal went on to have an impressive campaign in the inaugural CONCACAF Champions League, as they reached the quarterfinals.

The 2009 competition started disappointingly for the Whitecaps following a tournament-opening defeat at Toronto FC. Vancouver would bounce back to challenge the MLS club for the title after back-to-back wins over Montreal, and a famous 2-0 victory over TFC at Swangard. Despite those efforts, the 'Caps missed out on winning the Voyageurs Cup on goal difference, as Toronto FC recorded a remarkable 6-1 win over the Impact in Montreal in the competition's final match. TFC went on to the preliminary round of the 2009-10 CONCACAF Champions League as Canadian champions, where they failed to reach the competition's group stages after losing 1-0 on aggregate to Puerto Rico Islanders.

The 2010 Nutrilite Canadian Championship saw the Whitecaps go undefeated in four tournament matches, but again come up short to Toronto FC for the national crown. The 'Caps began the tournament with two home matches, a 1-1 draw with Montreal and a 0-0 result against TFC. Vancouver looked to be on their way to a crucial away win at Montreal in their third match, but the Impact came back for a 1-1 draw that ended the 'Caps title hopes and handed TFC the Voyageurs Cup for the second straight season. The blue and white finished with a 0-0 result in Toronto, giving them four draws in four matches. TFC improved their performance in the regional tournament, making the group stage of the 2010-11 CONCACAF Champions League, but failed to make it to the knockout round.

This year, the annual tournament takes on a new format as NASL club FC Edmonton enter the fold for the first time. The old round-robin format of the competition has been replaced by a home-and-away semifinal stage, followed by a home-and-away championship final series. Vancouver Whitecaps FC, playing in the tournament for the first time as an MLS club, will face the Montreal Impact in one semifinal, while defending champions Toronto FC match up against newcomers FC Edmonton in the other semifinal. The 'Caps play the first leg at Montreal's Stade Saputo on Wednesday, April 27, before hosting the Quebec-based club at Empire Field on Wednesday, May 4. The two-leg championship final series will be played on Wednesday, May 18, and Wednesday, May 25.

FIRST TEAM COACHES

TEITUR THORDARSON

PROFILE

With nearly four decades of experience in European soccer, Teitur Thordarson became Vancouver Whitecaps FC men team's head coach on December 11, 2007. Now entering his fourth season with the club, the former Iceland international was announced as Whitecaps FC's inaugural head coach for Major League Soccer (MLS) on September 2, 2010. Thordarson holds a Union of European Football Associations (UEFA) Pro Coaching License.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

After signing a one-year contract extension on November 30, 2009, Thordarson led Whitecaps FC into their final season as a North American second division club in 2010. Playing in the United States Soccer Federation Division-2 Professional League (USSF D-2), Thordarson led the club to a second-place finish in the NASL Conference standings with a record of 10W-5L-15D, despite making several changes to his squad during the summer transfer window. This included a league low 22 goals conceded during the regular season. As the fifth seed in the USSF D-2 playoffs, Thordarson's squad defeated MLS expansion cousins Portland Timbers 2-1 on aggregate in the first round before seeing their campaign end abruptly in the semifinals versus Puerto Rico Islanders, as Vancouver fell 2-0 on aggregate. Thordarson was also left frustrated in the 2010 Nutrilite Canadian Championship, as four consecutive draws saw Whitecaps FC finish second behind defending champions Toronto FC in the three-club competition.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

His first year in North American professional soccer could not have gone much better. In a season that included victories over Major League Soccer clubs Los Angeles Galaxy (international friendly) and Toronto FC (Nutrilite Canadian Championship), Thordarson led the Whitecaps to a second-place finish in the USL First Division standings with a record of 15 wins, seven defeats, and eight draws. Under his guidance, the 'Caps then defeated Minnesota Thunder and Montreal Impact in two playoff series contests before claiming the club's second USL-1 championship title in three seasons with a 2-1 victory over Puerto Rico Islanders at Swangard Stadium on October 12, 2008.

Thordarson's second season in charge proved to be more of a challenge. After making several changes to the squad in the off-season, the Whitecaps endured a more difficult USL-1 regular season campaign, as they claimed the seventh and final playoff spot in the league standings. Though the odds were against the Blue and White making a postseason run, Thordarson's side upset second-seeded Carolina RailHawks and regular season champions Portland Timbers to reach the 2009 USL-1 Championship Series, where the club's championship title defence came to a disappointing end versus Canadian rivals Montreal Impact. It was also in Thordarson's second year in charge that the 'Caps suffered heartbreak in the 2009 Nutrilite Canadian Championship. Major League Soccer club Toronto FC edged Vancouver to Canada's lone spot in the 2009-10 CONCACAF Champions League on goal difference, despite both sides finishing the three-club competition with a 3W-1L-0D record. TFC's stunning 6-1 victory at Montreal on June 18, 2009, saw the MLS club claim their first-ever piece of silverware.

ICELAND

Before joining Whitecaps FC, Thordarson returned to his native Iceland to coach Knattspymúfélag Reykjavíkur (KR Reykjavik or Reykjavik Football Club) to a second-place finish in Iceland's top-flight Landsbankadeild, as well as a spot in the 2006 Icelandic Cup final.

INTERNATIONAL

With Estonia's national side, Thordarson helped the Baltic nation move up from 145th (January 1996) to 68th (November 1999) in the FIFA World Rankings. Though he was Estonia's first foreign coach since the country's independence in 1991, Thordarson's efforts in developing Estonian soccer earned him a medal from the President of Estonia in February 2000.

The turn of the millennium saw Thordarson return to the Norwegian game for a second spell with Brann. He led the club to a second-place finish in the 2000 Tippeligaen season, and spent two more seasons with the Bergen outfit before making a return to another former club in Lyn Oslo in 2003. His final two years in Norway saw him coach second division club U11/Kisa in 2004 and 2005.

SCANDINAVIA

Thordarson's extensive coaching resume spans over two decades. He started his career in 1987 with the last club he played for in Swedish outfit Skövde AIK. The following year, he landed his first head-coaching role in Norway's top-flight Tippeligaen when he joined SK Brann. He led the Bergen club to the 1988 Norwegian Football Cup final and spent the following two seasons at Brann before ending his first spell by moving to Lyn Oslo for two seasons in 1991. After a season with Norwegian second division club Grei Oslo, Thordarson took charge of Lillestrøm SK and led them to second and fourth-place Tippeligaen finishes in 1994 and 1995 respectively.

ESTONIA

In 1996, Thordarson moved to Estonia to become head coach of their national team and Estonian club FC Flora Tallinn. Under his direction, Flora were crowned champions of the Estonian Meistriliiga in the 1997-98 and 1998 seasons. He also led the club to Estonian Cup and Estonian Super Cup titles in 1998.

PLAYING CAREER

Before embarking on his extensive career in coaching, Thordarson enjoyed a successful playing career as a striker for nearly two decades. He signed his first professional contract when he joined hometown club Íróttabandalag Akraness in 1969. He went on to score 51 goals in 99 appearances for ÍA, with the striker claiming four Icelandic championship titles with the club between 1969 and 1976.

After a season with Swedish second division club Jönköpings Södra IF in 1977, Thordarson helped Östers IF to three league championships in Sweden's top-flight Allsvenskan between 1978 and 1981. He then made an influential move to French soccer when he joined Racing Club de Lens in 1981. It was at the northern French club that Thordarson scored 19 goals during the 1981-82 Ligue 1 season, with the striker finishing fourth in the French top-flight's goalscoring charts. It was also at Lens that Thordarson played for former Liverpool, Lyon, and France manager Gerard Houllier before he experienced the tutelage of another top coach in Arsene Wenger at Association Sportive de Cannes. In the early 1980's, the current manager of English Premier League giants Arsenal was an assistant coach at AS Cannes. Thordarson then had a spell in Switzerland with Yverdon-Sport FC before returning to Sweden in 1985 to complete his playing career with Östers IF and Skövde AIK.

A former Iceland national team captain, Thordarson also had an impressive international career, as he scored nine goals in 41 appearances for his country between 1972 and 1985.

COLIN MILLER

PROFILE

Inducted into the Canadian Soccer Hall of Fame and Museum in 2005, Colin Miller brings decades of experience as a player and coach to the role of Whitecaps men's team assistant coach. The former Canadian men's national team captain was appointed to Teitur Thordarson's coaching staff on February 11, 2010. In the spring of 2010, Miller briefly served as interim head coach of the Whitecaps FC Residency program. Miller's credentials include a Canadian Soccer Association 'A' License, as well as 'A' and 'B' Coaching Licenses from the Union of European Football Associations (UEFA).

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

In what was Whitecaps FC's final season as a North American second division club, Miller helped the Blue and White to a second-place finish in the NASL Conference of the United States Soccer Federation Division-2 Professional League (USSF D-2) and a semifinal berth in the playoffs. Working primarily on defensive matters, Miller's efforts resulted in a league low 22 goals conceded in USSF D-2 and a single-season club record of 18 shutouts.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

Most recently, Miller served as head coach of the University of the Fraser Valley Cascades women's team, as well as head coach of the expansion Victoria Highlanders FC in the United Soccer Leagues Premier Development League (PDL). In what was their inaugural PDL season in 2009, Miller led the Vancouver Island outfit to a fifth-place finish in the league's Western Conference, Northwest Division standings with a record of 6W-6L-4D. Miller also worked recently with both the boys program at Langley United Youth Soccer Association and the girls program at Langley FC in the Fraser Valley.

His other significant coaching role was with the Abbotsford Soccer Association, where he served as head coach between 2000 and 2010. Miller played a key role in the development of the Fraser Valley club's elite players during the past decade, with his 'School of Excellence' considered to be one of the best player development programs in Canada. His efforts saw more than 40 players earn university scholarships across North America, while five of the club's youth teams qualified for Canadian Club Championship tournaments, with two of those sides winning their respective age-group titles. Miller also coached Abbotsford Soccer's PDL team (then known as Abbotsford Rangers) to a first-place finish in the league's Western Conference, Northwest Division standings in 2006.

INTERNATIONAL

With over a decade of experience as a professional coach, Miller's first coaching role came in Scotland with Hamilton Academical, where he served as player-manager between July 1998 and August 1999. His coaching resume includes a short spell as first-team coach at Derby County FC during the 2007-08 English Premier League season, as well as stints as an assistant to both the Canadian men's and women's national teams. Miller also served as interim head coach of the Canadian men's national team during three friendly matches versus Finland (October 11, 2003), Czech Republic (November 15, 2003), and Republic of Ireland (November 18, 2003).

PAYING CAREER

Before embarking on a career in coaching, Miller enjoyed a long and distinguished playing career that spanned two decades in Canada, England, and Scotland. He made 61 senior international appearances for Canada between 1983 and 1997, with his debut coming as an 18-year-old in a 2-0 friendly defeat to his birth nation Scotland on June 19, 1983. Not only did Miller serve as national team captain, he was also a member of the Canadian team that appeared at the 1986 FIFA World Cup in Mexico. The midfielder's appearances also included Canada's qualifying campaigns for the 1990, 1994, and 1998 FIFA World Cup tournaments. Miller also captained Canada at the 1982 CONCACAF U-20 Championship in Guatemala.

At club level, Miller started his career in the old North American Soccer League (NASL) with Toronto Blizzard, where he played three seasons between 1982 and 1984. Following the demise of the NASL, Miller moved back to Scotland and joined Rangers FC. With the Old Firm club, he won the 1985 Glasgow Cup after a 5-0 win over Queen's Park in the final, as well as the Scottish Premier Reserve League title during the 1985-86 season. The midfielder then headed south to England for a spell with Doncaster Rovers, where he appeared in both the 1986-87 and 1987-88 English Division Three (now League One) seasons with the South Yorkshire club before returning to Canada for his first spell with Hamilton Steelers of the old Canadian Soccer League (CSL) in 1988. Miller also played for the Southern Ontario outfit during the 1990 CSL campaign. The midfielder's longest club stint was in Scotland with Hamilton Academical, as Miller made close to 200 total appearances during his first spell with the club between September 1988 and March 1994. He remained in Scotland and played for St. Johnstone and Heart of Midlothian before winning the Scottish First Division title with Dumfermline Athletic during the 1995-96 season. Miller then had a spell with Ayr United before returning to Hamilton Academical as player-manager.

PERSONAL

Born in Law, Scotland, Miller grew up in Allanton, Scotland, before moving to East Vancouver when he was 10 years old. He currently resides in Abbotsford, BC, with his wife Maria and their two teenage children Ryan and Sarah.

DENIS HAMLETT

PROFILE

With over a decade's coaching experience in Major League Soccer, Denis Hamlett joined Whitecaps FC as an assistant coach on January 8, 2011. A former MLS player, Hamlett spent 12 years on the coaching staff at Chicago Fire, with his last two years in the role of head coach of the Illinois-based outfit. Hamlett holds a United States Soccer Federation 'A' Coaching License.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

Following a spell as community relations' liaison with the Fire, Hamlett's coaching career started in 1998 when he became Chicago's second assistant coach for their inaugural MLS season. Serving under current United States national team head coach Bob Bradley, Hamlett helped the Fire claim a memorable double of MLS Cup and Lamar Hunt US Open Cup titles in the club's first year of existence. Chicago would also claim a second Lamar Hunt US Open Cup title and be runners-up for the MLS Cup in 2000. It was also in his role as Fire second assistant coach that Hamlett coached current Whitecaps FC director of soccer operations Tom Soehn.

In 2001, Hamlett became Chicago's first assistant coach, with Soehn joining the Fire coaching staff following his retirement from playing. Chicago made the playoffs in the 2001 and 2002 seasons before Dave Sarachan succeeded Bradley as Fire head coach in 2003. Hamlett then assisted the Fire to a third Lamar Hunt US Open Cup title and a runners-up spot for the MLS Cup that year. As first assistant coach, the Fire were also runners-up for the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup in 2004 before Chicago claimed the title for a fourth time in 2006.

Hamlett served a tenth season as Fire assistant coach in 2007 before succeeding Juan Carlos Osorio as Chicago's fourth head coach on January 11, 2008. In his two seasons as Fire head coach, Hamlett led Chicago to the MLS Eastern Conference Championship Final in both the 2008 and 2009 seasons, as well as the 2009 North American SuperLiga final. Following his departure from Chicago on November 24, 2009, Hamlett coached the men's soccer team at Chicago's Illinois Institute of Technology in the autumn of 2010.

MLS player, Hamlett spent 12 years on the coaching staff at Chicago Fire, with his last two years in the role of head coach of the Illinois-based outfit. Hamlett holds a United States Soccer Federation 'A' Coaching License.

PLAYING CAREER

As a player, Hamlett enjoyed a fine NCAA Division I career with George Mason University. After playing his freshman year at the University of North Carolina Wilmington, Hamlett became a three-year starter for the Patriots between 1989 and 1991, with the former defender earning an induction into George Mason's Men's Soccer Hall of Fame in May 2006. In

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

1992, Hamlett embarked on a professional career with Fort Lauderdale Strikers of the old American Professional Soccer League. It was also in 1992 that the former defender started a professional indoor soccer career with Harrisburg Heat of the old National Professional Soccer League. He played two seasons with Harrisburg before joining Anaheim Splash of the Continental Indoor Soccer League in 1994.

After two seasons with Anaheim, Hamlett played in the inaugural MLS season of 1996 after being selected 12th overall in the league's Inaugural Player Draft by Colorado Rapids. His efforts for Colorado that season earned him the BIC Tough Defender of the Year Award. Hamlett's playing career was unfortunately cut short by injury in 1997.

PERSONAL

Born in Puerto Limón, Costa Rica, Hamlett was 10 years old when he moved to the United States with his family. They settled in Silver Spring, Maryland - close to Washington, DC - where he attended and played soccer for Albert Einstein High School in Kensington, Maryland. Hamlett and his wife Jackie currently reside in Chicago, Illinois and Vancouver, BC.

MIKE SALMON

PROFILE

With two decades of experience as a professional goalkeeper in England, Mike Salmon enters his third year as Vancouver Whitecaps FC men's team and Residency program goalkeeping coach. A highly qualified goalkeeping coach, Salmon holds an English Football Association Goalkeeping 'A' License and a Union of European Football Associations (UEFA) 'A' Coaching License.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

Salmon's work during the 2010 season involved working with USSF D-2 Goalkeeper of the Year Nolly, as well as Thomas, and Dan Pelc from the men's team. He helped the Blue and White to a second-place finish in the NASL Conference of the United States Soccer Federation Division-2 Professional League (USFF D-2) and a semifinal berth in the playoffs. Salmon's work with the 'keepers resulted in a league low 22 goals conceded in USSF D-2 and a single-season club record of 18 shutouts. Salmon also worked with Callum Irving and Sean Melvin in the Residency squad.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

In 2008, Salmon worked closely with goalkeepers Jay Nolly and Tyler Baldock during the men's team's successful USL-1 championship campaign, while he also assisted in the development of Residency keeper Simon Thomas and Karm Shergill.

During the 2009 season, the Englishman worked with Nolly, Thomas, and Brazilian shot-stopper Diego, while he also prepared Residency youngster Julien Latendresse-Lévesque for his loan move to German Bundesliga club FC Energie Cottbus.

ENGLAND

Prior to immigrating to Canada, Salmon served as the academy goalkeeper coach at English Premier League giants Arsenal FC. Between 2002 and 2007, Salmon's role at Arsenal involved coaching the club's young goalkeepers, with a particular focus on the U-18 keepers at the North London outfit. He was instrumental in the decision to bring the current young Arsenal first-team goalkeeper, Wojciech Szczesny, to The Gunners and played a large part in his development for two seasons prior to immigrating to Vancouver. Before joining Arsenal's youth development staff, Salmon also served as first-team goalkeeping coach at Gillingham FC between 2002 and 2004.

PLAYING CAREER

Salmon's long and well-traveled playing career began in 1980 when he signed as a youth trainee with Blackburn Rovers. After a loan spell with Chester City in 1982, Salmon made over 100 appearances for Stockport County between 1983 and 1986. Spells at Bolton Wanderers and Wrexham ensued before he embarked on a notable 10-year spell with Charlton Athletic in 1989. He made close to 150 appearances for The Addicks before joining his last club in Ipswich Town in 1999. He remained with the East Anglian outfit until his retirement in 2002. He made over 500 first team appearances during his 22 year playing career.

PERSONAL

Born in Leyland, Lancashire, England, Salmon came to the attention of Whitecaps FC after moving with his family to Vancouver in October 2007. Salmon and his wife Katy live in North Vancouver, BC, with their two children Becky and Jack. Salmon interests include a variety of sports like golf, skiing, and snowboarding, as well as playing musical instruments like the guitar and piano.

MOULOUD
AKLOUL
CENTRE BACK

Citizenship: France / Algeria
Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USSF D-2)
Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

An experienced centre back, the native of Lorient, France, made the switch to North American professional soccer when he first signed with the club on Apr. 8, 2010 after spells in France, Algeria, and the United Arab Emirates.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Aklou made his Whitecaps FC debut versus Athletic Club of St. Louis on Apr. 24. Unfortunately, after scoring the match-winning goal, the centre back was stretchered off midway through the first half of the 1-0 home win with a fracture to his left ankle. As a result, the centre back was sidelined for more than five months with the injury. The defender was then able to return in Vancouver's regular season finale, as he replaced fellow centre back Luca Bellisomo during a 2-2 home draw versus Portland Timbers on Oct. 2. Despite being sidelined for much of his first season with the club, Aklou received the Whitecaps FC Blue & White Award for his tireless efforts in giving back to the community. The centre back volunteered and participated in club and community initiatives beyond the regular call of duty during the year.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES FOOTBALL LEAGUE DIVISION ONE

2008-09: Prior to his move to Vancouver, Aklou spent a season in the Middle East when he joined Al-Ittihad

Kalba of the second-tier United Arab Emirates (UAE) Football League Division 1. The defender started all but four of his 27 league appearances for the club, scoring two goals in the process. He also scored one goal in Al-Ittihad's two matches in the UAE President's Cup that season.

ALGERIAN CHAMPIONNAT NATIONAL

2007-08: The centre back was named Defender of the Year in Algeria's second-tier Championnat National Division Two after a fine campaign with Mouloudia Olympique de Béjaïa (MOB). With MOB, Aklou started all but three of his 34 league appearances, while he scored one goal in five Coupe Nationale d'Algerie matches for the club. 2006-07: After playing in the lower divisions of French soccer, Aklou moved to North Africa when he signed for Jeunesse Sportive de Kabylie (JSK) in Algeria's top-flight Championnat National Division One. The centre back scored seven goals for JSK that season, as they finished two points short of winning their 14th Division One title. He also started in all five of JSK's matches in the Coupe Nationale d'Algerie (Algerian Cup).

FRANCE

2005-06: Playing in France's Championnat National (third division), the defender scored two goals during his final season at Vannes OC, with the Brittany-based outfit finishing 12th in the league standings. He also started the club's four matches in the Coupe de France that year. 2004-05: After three seasons of reserve team soccer, Akloul moved to nearby Vannes Olympique Club (Vannes OC) in the fourth-tier Championnat de France Amateur (CFA). The defender started all but one of his club's 34 league appearances, as Vannes OC won promotion to the French third division. He also started all four of the club's matches in the Coupe de France (French Cup). For his efforts, the centre back won Vannes OC's Player of the Year honour. 2003-04: Akloul started all but four of his 32 appearances during his final season with FC Lorient reserves. 2002-03: The centre back scored three times during his second season with FC Lorient reserves. 2001-02: After coming through the club's youth system, Akloul played his first season with the reserve team of FC Lorient Bretagne Sud. The defender started all but four of his 32 appearances for his hometown club that year.

INTERNATIONAL

U-17: In 1999 and 2000, Akloul was a member of the French U-17 national team.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Akloul began his soccer career with hometown club Lorient-Sports before joining the youth academy at FC Lorient Bretagne Sud as a 13-year-old. As a student, the defender attended Collège Saint-Joseph, Lycées Notre Dame de la Paix, and École René-Guy Cadou in his hometown of Lorient, France.

PERSONAL

Akloul was born and raised in the seaport commune of Lorient, which is based in the region of Brittany in northwest France. Through his family, the centre back is a dual citizen of both France and Algeria. His parents are Fawzia and Salah Akloul. He has two sisters named Amel and Naïma, and two brothers named Ahcene and Hocine.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his professional soccer career, Akloul enjoys playing badminton and swimming, while he is also an avid reader. His favourite music includes rhythm & blues, and the recordings of French hip hop artist 'Soprano'. Akloul is a fan of Spanish giants Barcelona and French Ligue 1 club Olympique de Marseille. His favourite player is former Juventus, Real Madrid, and France star Zinedine Zidane.

MICHAEL BOXALL
CENTRE BACK

Citizenship: New Zealand
Last Team: U. California, Santa Barbara
Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A centre back that has represented his native New Zealand at both youth and senior international level, Michael Boxall joined Whitecaps FC after being taken as the first overall pick in the 2011 MLS Supplemental Draft on Jan. 18, 2011. The native of Auckland, New Zealand, enjoyed a stellar NCAA Division I career at University of California, Santa Barbara (UCSB).

NEW ZEALAND

As a teenager, Boxall played for several clubs in his hometown of Auckland, New Zealand. They included Ellerslie AFC and Three Kings United FC, who play in the Northern Region Football League (NRFL). As a member of Central United FC, the defender was named the club's Young Player of the Year in 2006 before leading the Auckland-based club to the NRFL Premier League title in 2007. It was also in the 2006-07 season that Boxall helped Auckland City FC to the New Zealand Football Championship title, with the centre back being named the club's Young Player of the Year at season's end.

COLLEGE

2010: As a senior, Boxall started all 21 of his appearances that season. He earned National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) and College Soccer News Third Team All-American honours, and was named Big West Conference Defender of the Year. He also made the All-Big West

Conference First Team for a second time and the All-Far West Region First Team after helping UCSB post 10 shutouts and a goals-against average of 0.77. He assisted on David Opoku's goal in a 2-0 home win over University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) on Sept. 24, 2009: As a junior, the centre back was named to the All-Big West Conference First Team after being one of only four players to start all 24 matches for the Gauchos, with Boxall setting a UCSB record for minutes played in a season at 2,185. He also helped the team set UCSB records for consecutive shutouts (six) and single season shutouts (16). He was also named to both the TopDrawerSoccer.com Team of the Week and College Soccer News National Team of the Week after leading UCSB to a pair of clean sheets versus Big West Conference rivals California State University, Northridge on Oct. 28 and University of California, Irvine on Oct. 31. Boxall's lone UCSB goal was a match-winning header in a 1-0 victory over California State University, Northridge in the Big West Conference Championship semifinals on Nov. 11. He also recorded two assists that season, including David Walker's match winner in a 1-0 victory over Wofford College during the first round of the NCAA Championship on Nov. 19, 2008: Boxall appeared in all but one of his 21 appearances for UCSB, with the defender recording two assists in the process. His first assist set up Chris Pontius' equalizer in a 4-2 home win over University of Evansville on Sept. 18. He also recorded an assist on Nick Perera's equalizing goal during a 2-1 victory at University of California, Irvine on Oct. 4. His efforts that season earned him an All-Big West Conference Honourable Mention. 2007: Following in the tradition of previous New Zealanders to have played NCAA Division I men's soccer at UCSB, Boxall saw his freshman year cut short by a knee injury after the centre back started all but two of his 12 appearances for the Gauchos. During those 12 appearances, the defender helped UCSB concede only eight goals and register a 0.80 goals-against average.

INTERNATIONAL

Boxall has represented his native New Zealand at both the youth and senior international level. U-20: As a member of the Junior All-Whites, the centre back made 14 appearances for New Zealand's U-20 squad, including starts in all three of his country's Group C matches at the 2007 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Canada. They included defeats to Portugal (July 2, 2007) and Gambia (July 5, 2007) at BMO Field in Toronto, Ontario, and to Mexico (July 8, 2007) at Commonwealth Stadium in Edmonton, Alberta. U-23: In 2008, the defender helped the Oly-Whites qualify for their first-ever Men's Olympic Football Tournament in Beijing, China. His 12 appearances for New Zealand's U-23 Olympic squad included all three of his country's matches in Group C at the Beijing Olympics. After appearing as a substitute in the 1-1 draw with hosts China on Aug. 7, 2008, Boxall started New Zealand's 5-0 defeat to Brazil on Aug. 10, 2008, and 1-0 defeat to Belgium on Aug. 13, 2008. Senior: The defender made two appearances for New Zealand 'A' at the 2006 Agribank Cup tournament in Hanoi, Vietnam. Boxall appeared as a substitute in the 1-0 defeat to Thailand on Oct. 27, 2006, and the 1-0 victory over Bahrain's U-23 Olympic squad on Oct. 29, 2006. New Zealand 'A' finished third in the tournament.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Boxall played centre back and right fullback at Mount Albert Grammar School (MAGS) in his hometown of Auckland, New Zealand. As Lions team captain during his senior year in 2006, the defender led MAGS to a second Knockout Cup title in three years, the Auckland Secondary School Soccer Association Championship title, and a second-place finish at the New Zealand Secondary School Soccer Championship. During his time at MAGS, Boxall helped the Lions to league titles in 2004 and 2005, as well as a national championship title in 2005.

PERSONAL

Boxall was born and raised in Auckland, New Zealand. As a senior at Mount Albert Grammar School, Boxall won the Head Perfect Award for academics. As a student at University of California, Santa Barbara, the defender has been majoring in Business Economics. His parents are Aggie and Murray Boxall. He has an older sister named Casey and a younger brother named Nikko.

INTERESTING FACTS

Boxall's brother, Nikko, will be playing for Northwestern University in NCAA Division I, starting in the autumn of 2011. When not concentrating on his soccer career, the centre back is usually eating, sleeping, listening to music, or hanging out with friends. He is a fan of English Premier League giants Arsenal FC and NBA basketball's Phoenix Suns. Boxall is an admirer of boxing legend Muhammad Ali, as well as former Arsenal and England centre back Tony Adams. His favourite movie is 'Any Given Sunday', while he enjoys the written works of American author Dan Brown.

 SuperDraft on January 13, 2011

Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A midfielder, who can also play as a withdrawn striker, John 'Jeb' Brovsky joined Whitecaps FC after being selected as the first pick in the second round (19th overall) of the 2011 MLS SuperDraft on Jan. 13, 2011. The native of Lakewood, Colorado, arrives in Major League Soccer after a stellar NCAA Division I career at the University of Notre Dame.

COLLEGE

2010: Brovsky was named to the All-BIG EAST Conference First Team, and became a four-time BIG EAST Academic All-Star, during his senior year with the Fighting Irish. With four goals and an assist in 20 appearances, the midfielder/striker led Notre Dame to the BIG EAST Championship semifinals before the Fighting Irish fell 1-0 to University of Louisville on Nov. 12. His efforts earned him selection to the All-BIG EAST Conference Championship Team for a third straight time. His Notre Dame career ended in the second round of the NCAA Championship, as they fell 2-1 in overtime at home to Dartmouth College on Nov. 21. Brovsky's achievements as a student-athlete also earned him National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Scholar All-American honours, while he was named one of 10 finalists for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award in the men's soccer division. 2009: As a junior, Brovsky made the All-BIG EAST Conference Third Team for a second time, and was named a three-time BIG EAST

Academic All-Star, after finishing third in goals (four) and points (12) with the Fighting Irish. This included a goal and an assist in a 4-0 home win over University of Louisville on Sept. 25. He was again selected to the All-BIG EAST Conference Championship Team after Notre Dame reached the championship final before falling on penalties to St. John's University on Nov. 15. Brovsky then netted the match winner in a 2-1 home win over University of Wisconsin - Green Bay in the first round of the NCAA Championship on Nov. 19. 2008: As a sophomore, Brovsky was named to the All-BIG EAST Conference Third Team, while earning another BIG EAST Academic All-Star honour, after scoring five goals and registering a team-best six assists in 21 appearances. This included both goals in an important 2-1 home victory over Georgetown University on Oct. 29, with the win earning Notre Dame a share of the BIG EAST Conference Blue Division title. The midfielder/striker's effort earned him the BIG EAST Offensive Player of the Week award and a selection to the 'Top Drawer Soccer' National Team of the Week. He also made the All-BIG EAST Conference Championship Team that season, with the Fighting Irish reaching the semifinals before falling to University of South Florida. 2007: Though he started just four of his 24 appearances for the Fighting Irish, Brovsky scored two goals and added one assist in his freshman year at Notre Dame. On his NCAA debut, the midfielder/striker assisted on Alex Yoshinaga's match winner in 2-1 overtime victory

Whitecaps FC:

PROFILE

A goalkeeper with over a decade's worth of experience in Major League Soccer, Joe Cannon joined Whitecaps FC after being selected in the eighth round (16th overall) of the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. A two-time MLS Goalkeeper of the Year, the former San Jose Earthquakes shot-stopper played for the previous edition of the Earthquakes (now Houston Dynamo), Colorado Rapids, and Los Angeles Galaxy. This included an MLS Cup title with San Jose in 2001.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: Cannon's third season with the Earthquakes saw him record an impressive six shutouts in 12 appearances. However, injury cut short his campaign in San Jose, as he suffered a broken left ankle in training on Aug. 17. He was unable to appear for the Earthquakes' first appearance in the MLS Cup Playoffs since their return to the league back in 2008, with San Jose reaching the Eastern Conference Championship before losing 1-0 at Cannon's former club and eventual MLS Cup champions Colorado Rapids on Nov. 13. On Nov. 24, Whitecaps FC acquired the goalkeeper during the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. 2009: The 'keeper recorded three shutouts in 28 appearances with San Jose that season. In earning his third clean sheet of the season with the Earthquakes, Cannon passed Richard Mulrooney as the club's all-time leader in career starts (156) and minutes (14,211) following a 1-0 home win over New York Red Bulls on Oct. 3. 2008: Cannon returned home to the Bay Area when the re-born San Jose Earthquakes acquired the keeper from Los Angeles Galaxy in exchange for allocation money on Jan. 10. He led MLS in saves with 124 and had nine shutouts in 30 regular season appearances. He was also one of only six players to appear in every minute of regular season action for his club (2,700). His service to the Bay Area community was awarded again with a second US Soccer Foundation Humanitarian of the Year award. 2007: In his lone season with Los Angeles Galaxy, Cannon registered five clean sheets in 29 appearances for the Southern California outfit. In what was David Beckham's first season with the Galaxy, the shot-stopper made his LA debut in a goalless draw at Houston Dynamo on Apr. 8. He then made his 200th MLS career appearance and earned his 55th career shutout in a 0-0 draw at expansion club Toronto FC on Aug. 5. Cannon finished his ninth season in MLS by sitting fourth all-time in league history in saves (902) and shutouts (56), while he sat fifth all-time among MLS keepers for wins (84) and save percentage (73.6). Cannon also started all five of the Galaxy's games in their march to the North American SuperLiga final that season. This included a clean sheet in the 2-0 semifinal win over D.C. United on Aug. 15. He then played the first half of the 0-0 draw between the Galaxy and then United Soccer Leagues First Division (USL-1) side Whitecaps FC at BC Place in Vancouver, BC, on Nov. 7. 2006: With seven shutouts in 28 appearances, Cannon enjoyed a productive fourth and final season with Colorado, as he helped the Rapids back to the Western Conference Championship before they fell to eventual MLS Cup champions Houston Dynamo on Nov. 5. He was a finalist for the MLS Goalkeeper of the Year award and earned a third selection to the MLS All-Star Game, where he played the second half for the MLS All-Stars in a 1-0 victory over English Premier League giants Chelsea FC in Bridgeview, Illinois, on Aug. 5. Cannon was MLS Player of the Week in Week 25. On Dec. 1, the Rapids traded Cannon and the 23rd overall pick in the 2007 MLS SuperDraft to Los Angeles Galaxy for striker Herculez Gomez, defender Ugo Ihemelu, and the 18th overall pick in the 2007 SuperDraft. 2005: The goalkeeper was Colorado's Most Valuable Player for a second straight year after registering eight clean sheets in 27 appearances for the Rapids. He was an additional selection for the MLS All-Star Game between the MLS All-Stars and English Premier League side Fulham FC in Columbus, Ohio, on July 30. Cannon also started Colorado's 4-1 defeat at former USL-1 side Minnesota Thunder in the fourth round of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on Aug. 3. He also appeared the Rapids' three MLS Cup Playoff matches, as Colorado reached the Western Conference Championship before falling to eventual MLS Cup champions Los Angeles Galaxy on Nov. 5. 2004: Named MLS Goalkeeper of the Year for the second time in his career, Cannon was also a finalist for the league's Most Valuable Player award after posting a career-high and team record 10 clean sheets in 30 regular season appearances. His efforts earned him a spot on the MLS Best XI, while the Rapids named him their Most Valuable Player and Defender of the Year. He also started both legs of their Western Conference Semifinals defeat to Los Angeles Galaxy on Oct. 22 and 30, while he made a late substitute appearance in Colorado's 3-0 defeat at MLS rivals Dallas Burn (now FC Dallas) in the fourth round of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on July 20. 2003: After spending half a season in France's Ligue 1 with Racing Club de Lens, Cannon returned to MLS in August when he joined Colorado Rapids, who had acquired the goalkeeper's league rights in a trade with San Jose for three draft picks. He made one substitute appearance in the regular season for Colorado before starting both legs of their Western Conference Semifinals defeat to Kansas City Wizards (now Sporting Kansas City) on Nov. 4 and 8. 2002: After training with French Ligue 1 outfit FC Metz in January, Cannon was named MLS Goalkeeper of the Year after setting a club record for shutouts in a single season with eight in 26 appearances. He also earned his second selection to the MLS All-Star Game, as he played the second half for MLS All-Stars in a 3-2 win over the United States national team in Washington, DC, on Aug. 3. Cannon also started both matches of San Jose's Playoff Quarterfinal series defeat to Columbus Crew on Sept. 25 and 28. Cannon also made three starts for the Earthquakes in the CONCACAF Champions' Cup (now CONCACAF Champions League). They included both legs of their Round of 16 clash versus Honduras' Club Deportivo Olimpia on Mar. 13 and 16, as well as the quarterfinal, first leg, defeat away to Mexico's Pachuca Club de Fútbol on Apr. 17. 2001: His third season with the Earthquakes was a highly successful one for Cannon, as he led San Jose to their first-ever MLS Cup title. He was a finalist for the MLS Goalkeeper of the Year award after setting a club-record goals-against average of 1.09 in 25 regular season appearances. He also tied the San Jose record for clean sheets with seven that year. Cannon also earned his first selection to the MLS All-Star Game, playing the first half for the West All-Stars at Spartan Stadium in San Jose, California, on July 28. In the MLS Cup Playoffs, Cannon posted a 5W-1L-0D record and a goals-against average of 0.49 in leading the Earthquakes to their first league championship title. 2000: With the club re-named as the Earthquakes, Cannon continued his progress towards becoming one of elite shot-stoppers in the league, with the keeper named the club's Defensive Player of the Year. He had the fourth-best goals-against average in MLS (1.49) after 26 appearances for San Jose that season. He set new single-season records for saves (137) and catches/punches (106) with the club, as well as Earthquakes records for shutouts (seven) and starts by a goalkeeper (26). His efforts also earned him MLS Player of the Week honours in Weeks Three and 17. Cannon also made one start for San Jose during their run to the quarterfinals of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. He also earned the club's US Soccer Foundation Humanitarian of the Year award for his service to the community that year. 1999: Following a fine 1998 season with former A-League club San Diego Flash, Cannon arrived in MLS when he joined hometown club San Jose Clash. After starting the season as the club's back-up goalkeeper, Cannon assumed the starting position in June following a shoulder injury to number one David Kramer. He recorded four clean sheets and a goals-against average of 1.33 in 24 appearances for the Clash that season.

FRENCH LIGUE 1

2002-03: After a fine 2002 MLS season with San Jose Earthquakes, Cannon headed to Europe and joined Racing Club de Lens in France's Ligue 1 on a six-month contract. Though he appeared as a substitute for the Northern French club, he was unable to make a first-team appearance, with Cannon leaving at the end of the season.

A-LEAGUE

1998: In his first season as a professional, Cannon made the All A-League Second Team after registering 12 clean sheets and a goals-against average of 0.80 as a member of former A-League club San Diego Flash. Compiling 21 wins and seven defeats, the keeper was named the club's Most Valuable Player that season after leading the Southern California outfit to top spot in the A-League's Western Conference, Pacific Division standings. San Diego eliminated Whitecaps FC (known then as Vancouver 86ers) in the playoff quarterfinals before the Flash fell to Minnesota Thunder in the Western Conference Final.

COLLEGE

Cannon started his NCAA Division I career at University of California, Santa Barbara, where he played his freshman year for the Gauchos before transferring to Santa Clara University for his sophomore year in 1995. The keeper was a three-time All-West Coast Conference and two-time All-Far West Region selection before earning All-America honours as a senior for the Broncos in 1997. He finished his college career with a 0.94 GAA and 15 shutouts.

INTERNATIONAL

Senior: Cannon has made two appearances at the senior international level for the United States. His USA debut came in a 2-1 friendly win over New Zealand in Richmond, Virginia, on June 8, with the keeper replacing Marcus Hahnemann in the second half and earning a clean sheet. His second and last appearance for his country came on Mar. 19, 2005, when he started the 1-0 friendly win over Honduras in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Cannon started his soccer career with Mountain View Los Altos Soccer Club in Bay Area of Northern California. In 1993, he helped Mountain View Los Altos Shooting Stars to a US Youth Soccer National Championship title. The keeper then became a standout for the boys soccer team at St. Francis High School in Mountain View, California.

PERSONAL

Born in Sun Valley, Idaho, Cannon grew up in Bay Area community of Los Altos, California, near the city of San Jose. His parents are Barbara and Joe Cannon, while the 'keeper has four brothers including his twin Jon. As a student at Santa Clara University, Cannon majored in political science.

INTERESTING FACTS

Fluent in English and Spanish, Cannon enjoys playing golf and beach volleyball when not concentrating on his soccer career. His commitment to the community has seen him work with autistic children at the Independent Peer Socialization Training Program (IPSTP) in Santa Clara, California. In Dec. 1999, 2000, and 2001, the keeper also took part in the Oakland Ballet's 'Celebrity Nutcracker', while he was co-Grand Marshall at the San Jose Holiday Parade on Dec. 2, 2001. A member of a sporting family, his twin brother Jon played minor league baseball in the San Francisco Giants organization, while his younger brother Colt has been on the professional skateboarding circuit. Younger brother Cody, meanwhile, played on the United States junior national water polo team. As a youngster, Cannon and his twin brother Jon were competitive ski racers. The keeper was also founder of Cannon Soccer Training and Camps in the Bay Area.

DAVIDE CHIUMIENTO MIDFIELDER/FORWARD

Position: Midfielder/Forward
 Height: 5-08
 Weight: 150
 DOB: November 22, 1984
 Birthplace: Heiden, Switzerland
 Hometown: Heiden, Switzerland

Citizenship: Switzerland
 Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USSF D-2)
 Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A skillful playmaker, who can play on either flank or as an attacking midfielder, Davide Chiumiento joined Whitecaps FC on Aug. 17, 2010, after spending three seasons in his native Switzerland with FC Luzern. Known for his skill, and playmaking abilities, Chiumiento has also played in the top-flight leagues of Italy and France.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Chiumiento made his Whitecaps FC debut as a second-half substitute, as he replaced Philippe Davies on the right-hand side of midfield during the 1-0 home defeat to Canadian arch-rivals Montreal Impact on Sept. 24. The playmaker then made his first Whitecaps FC start in the club's regular season finale, as they drew 2-2 at home to Portland Timbers on Oct. 2.

SWISS SUPER LEAGUE

2009-10: The midfielder had his best season as a professional after scoring 11 goals in 24 appearances, as he helped FC Luzern to a fourth-place finish in the Swiss Super League standings and qualification for the 2010-11 UEFA Europa League. This included three two-goal performances versus FC Aarau (Dec. 6, 2009 & May 2, 2010) and AC Bellinzona (Feb. 21, 2010). He also made three appearances during the club's run to the quarterfinals of the Schweizer Cup that season. 2008-09: The midfielder scored four goals in 30 league appearances during his second season with FC Luzern, while he also made two appearances during the club's run to the semifinals of the Schweizer Cup (Swiss Cup). However, the Lucerne club's ninth-place finish meant they had to face runners-up FC Lugano from Switzerland's second-tier Challenge League in a two-leg promotion/relegation playoff. On June 13, 2009, the playmaker scored a penalty in a 5-0 second-leg win at home, as FC Luzern retained their Swiss Super League status following a 5-1 aggregate result. 2007-08: After impressing in the Swiss Super League with BSC Young Boys, Chiumiento joined FC Luzern from Juventus, with the playmaker signing a three-year contract. He appeared in all but one of the Lucerne-based club's league matches that season, with his debut coming in a 1-1 home draw versus Neuchâtel Xamax on July 21, 2007. He then scored FC Luzern's second goal in a 2-2 home draw versus former club BSC Young Boys on July 29, 2007, before striking from the penalty spot in a 1-1 home draw versus FC Sion on Mar. 8, 2008. 2006-07: Chiumiento spent a third season on loan from Juventus, as he returned to his native Switzerland to join Berner Sport Club (BSC) Young Boys. The midfielder's debut came in a 2-1 defeat at former club FC St. Gallen on Sept. 24, 2006. Chiumiento's lone goal for BSC Young Boys came in the reverse league match versus FC St. Gallen, as he scored the match winner in a 3-0 home win on Dec. 9, 2006.

FRENCH LIGUE 1

2005-06: After a season on loan with AC Siena, Chiumiento went out on another season-long loan from parent club Juventus, as he joined Le Mans Football Club in France's top-flight Ligue 1. The playmaker made his debut as a second-half substitute during a 3-0 away defeat to AS Saint-Étienne on Oct. 1, 2005. He started half of his 18 appearances for the club from northwest France, with the midfielder scoring the first goal in Le Mans' 3-0 home win over Olympique de Marseille on Nov. 5, 2005.

ITALIAN SERIE A

2004-05: In a bid to get more Serie A experience, Chiumiento joined AC Siena on a season-long loan, with the midfielder making his debut as a second-half substitute during a 1-0 away defeat to US Palermo on Sept. 12, 2004. He started six of his 14 appearances for the Tuscan-based club, with his only goal coming on Feb. 13, 2005, when he struck a late equalizer in a 2-2 home draw with ACR Messina. 2003-04: After spending three years in the youth set-up of Italian giants Juventus, a 19-year-old Chiumiento made his Serie A debut for the Turin-based club as when he came on as a second-half substitute for childhood hero Alessandro Del Piero during a 3-0 home win over AC Ancona on Feb. 29, 2004. The playmaker also appeared as a second-half substitute for Juventus in the UEFA Champions League on Mar. 9, 2004. He replaced Italian international Mauro Camoranesi during a 1-0 second-leg defeat at home to Deportivo La Coruna, with the Spanish club reaching the quarterfinals after a 2-0 aggregate win.

INTERNATIONAL

Senior: Chiumiento made his senior debut for Switzerland in a 3-1 home defeat to Uruguay on Mar. 3, 2010. The midfielder was a second-half substitute during the friendly match in St. Gallen. U-21: Chiumiento scored two goals in 13 appearances with Switzerland's U-21 squad. Along with Whitecaps FC teammate Alain Rochat, the playmaker appeared for his country at the 2004 UEFA European U-21 Championship in Germany. Switzerland finished bottom of Group B behind Sweden, Portugal, and hosts Germany.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

Chiumiento started his playing career with hometown club FC Heiden in Switzerland before moving to FC St. Gallen in 1995, where he eventually played for the club's U-18 side. In 2000, the playmaker joined the youth set-up at Italian giants Juventus, with Chiumiento appearing in the Turin club's 'Primavera' squad with other young Juventus prospects.

PERSONAL

Born and raised in the northeastern Swiss town of Heiden, Chiumiento is a dual citizen of both Italy and Switzerland through parentage. His parents are Manuela and Gerardo Chiumiento, while he has an older brother named Claudio. As a student, the playmaker attended Heiden primary school in his hometown before attending Scuola privata Athenaeum in Turin, Italy.

INTERESTING FACTS

The playmaker has been a long-time admirer of Juventus legend and former Italian international striker Alessandro Del Piero, and Argentine great Diego Maradona. He enjoyed watching Napoli when Maradona was a player at the Italian Serie A club in the 1980's, while he currently enjoys watching Spanish and European giants Barcelona and the Spanish national team. When not concentrating on his soccer career, Chiumiento enjoys spending time with family and friends, listening to Brazilian and Latin music, and surfing the Internet.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2009: The midfielder recorded assists on Kenold Versailles' winning goals during the Residency's PDL home wins over Yakima Reds (July 4) and Cascade Surge (July 5). 2008: Davies played a pivotal role in helping the Residency team reach the PDL semifinals in their first-ever season in the league. His three goals during the regular season came against Spokane Spiders (June 13), Cascade Surge (July 5), and Yakima Reds (July 11). The midfielder also started all three playoff matches against San Fernando Valley Quakes (July 26), Tacoma Tide (July 27), and Thunder Bay Chill (August 2).

VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC RESIDENCY

2009-10: Davies served again as team captain during the Residency's appearance at Dallas Cup XXXI. Drawn in Bracket D of the U-19 Super Group, the midfielder played all three group matches versus Germany's Eintracht Frankfurt (Mar. 28), United States national team (9/1/92 - Mar. 29), and Mexico national team (9/1/92 - Mar. 31). Davies also appeared as a substitute during a 1-1 friendly draw with Germany's TSG 1899 Hoffenheim on Apr. 3. 2008-09: Davies started the Residency team's first four matches of their successful 12-day tour of Japan in Dec. 2008. He appeared in friendly wins over Vissel Kobe U-19's (Dec. 7), Takigawa Kobe U-19's (Dec. 8), Kyoto Sanga

U-19's (Dec. 10), and Gamba Osaka U-19's (Dec. 11) before leaving the tour to join Canada's U-20 national team in Florida later that month. In Apr. 2009, Davies served as Residency team captain and led the squad to the U-19 Super Group final at Dallas Cup XXX. He scored two penalties in their Bracket C matches versus Mexico's Club Futbol Monterrey on Apr. 5 and Argentina's Club Atletico River Plate on Apr. 6. In May 2009, Davies started all four friendly matches during the Residency team's two-week trip to Germany. This included starts against the U-19 Junior Bundesliga sides of FC Energie Cottbus (May 23), Hansa Rostock (May 26), and Hertha Berlin (May 27). The midfielder also appeared in the 2009 INSEL-CUP junior international tournament in Germany. 2007-08: As part of the inaugural Residency squad that began training in the first week of Sept. 2007, Davies appeared in all six of the team's friendly matches on their first trip to Germany in Oct. 2007. This included starts against Bayern Munich U-19's (Oct. 22) and 1860 Munich U-19's (Oct. 23), as well as a substitute appearance versus VfB Stuttgart U-19's (Oct. 27). He played in all three matches in Bracket C of the U-19 Super Group at Dallas Cup XXIX, with Davies scoring a penalty in the 3-3 draw with Germany's Eintracht Frankfurt on Mar. 19, 2008. He also appeared as a substitute in the 2-1 friendly win over England's Leicester City U-19's on Mar. 26. Four days later in Victoria, BC, Davies scored in a 3-0 win over the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds to win the 2008 Keg Spring Cup. Later that spring, he appeared in wins over SV Stuttgarter Kickers U-19's (Apr. 30) and VfL Neckarau U-19's (May 8). He also helped the Residency team to a third-place finish at the INSEL-CUP junior international tournament.

FRENCH LIGUE 2

In 2006, Davies played for the U-16 and reserve sides of French Ligue 2 club Dijon Football Côte-d'Or.

INTERNATIONAL

U-23: In Jan. 2010, Davies earned a call-up to the Canadian U-23 Olympic team for a one-week training camp in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The camp began preparations towards Canada's qualification campaign for the 2012 Men's Olympic Football Tournament in London, England. On Jan. 16, 2010, Davies started for the U-23 squad in a behind-closed-doors friendly versus the Honduran men's national team in Sunrise, Florida. Honduras won the friendly 3-1. Davies then trained with Canada's U-23 squad during a Nov. 2010 camp in Sunrise, Florida, a Jan. 2011 camp in Phoenix, Arizona, and a Feb. 2011 camp in Los Angeles, California. U-20: Davies took part in two Florida-based training camps with Canada's U-20 national team in Dec. 2008 and Jan./Feb. 2009. This included a goal in a 3-0 friendly win over Haiti on Dec. 18 and starting in the 1-0 defeat to the United States on Dec. 22. In Mar. 2009, Davies was one of seven Whitecaps FC players to be named in Canada's 20-player squad for the 2009 CONCACAF U-20 Championship in Trinidad & Tobago. Playing in Group B, the midfielder started all three of Canada's matches. They include the 1-0 defeat to hosts Trinidad & Tobago (Mar. 7, 2009), the 2-0 win over Mexico (Mar. 9, 2009), and the 2-1 defeat to eventual champions Costa Rica (Mar. 11, 2009). Those results meant Canada missed out on qualification for the 2009 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Egypt. In the autumn of 2009, Davies captained Canada's U-20 squad at the VI Francophone Games in Beirut, Lebanon. The midfielder started all four matches in the men's soccer competition, as Canada finished in fourth place. This included assists on both of Canada's goals during the 2-2 extra-time draw with Congo in the semifinals on Oct. 3, 2009. Congo won the semifinal 2-1 on penalties. U-17: Davies earned 13 international caps at the U-17 level for Canada between April 2006 and May 2007. A predominate member of the Canada's U-15 Development squad in 2005, the midfielder made his international debut in a 1-0 friendly win versus Northern Ireland on Apr. 21, 2006. He scored four goals during his appearances for Canada U-17's, including the winner versus Scotland in their first match at the Ballymena International Tournament in Northern Ireland on Apr. 24, 2006. Later that year, Davies also scored in a 10-0 win over Bermuda before striking the winner in a 2-1 victory over El Salvador at the Caribbean Football Union Youth Cup in Bacolet, Tobago. He also found the back of the net in a 2-2 draw versus Panama at the same tournament. In the spring of 2007, Davies started in the final three Group B matches of the CONCACAF U-17 Championship in Kingston, Jamaica.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

From 2003 to 2005, Davies played in the Ligue de soccer élite du Québec (LSEQ) at the U-15 and U-16 levels for FC Select South Shore AAA. This included trips to various youth tournaments in France during that time. Following his year in France in 2006, the midfielder joined the Select South Shore AAA U-18 side in 2007. In July 2004, Davies won a gold medal for Quebec at the Canadian U-14 All-Star Championship in Surrey, BC.

PERSONAL

Before joining Whitecaps FC Residency, Davies was a student at College Francais in his hometown of Longueuil, Quebec. His parents are Randolph Davies and Chantal Boutin.

INTERESTING FACTS

Davies comes from a sporting family, as his father was a baseball player. He grew up playing both hockey and soccer, and is fluent in both English and French. His favourite soccer team is English Premier League giants Chelsea FC, while his favourite player is Chelsea and England midfielder Frank Lampard. He is also a fan of the NHL's Montréal Canadiens. When not concentrating on his soccer career, Davies enjoys listening to music.

PROFILE

A United States international that played in every match of his country's campaign at the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa, Jay DeMerit became Whitecaps FC's first Major League Soccer signing on Nov. 18, 2010. The native of Green Bay, Wisconsin, comes to Vancouver after six seasons with England's Watford FC, where he served as club captain.

ENGLAND

2009-10: The centre back made over 25 appearances in his sixth and final season with Watford, with the Hertfordshire club finishing 16th in the League Championship standings. He also appeared in Watford's 5-0 defeat at Chelsea FC in the third round of the English FA Cup on Jan. 3, 2010. DeMerit's time in English soccer ended after his Watford contract expired at the end of the season. 2008-09: DeMerit made over 30 appearances in his fifth season with Watford, as The Hornets finished 13th in the League Championship standings. He was part of the club's run to the English League Cup quarterfinals, while his only goal that season coming in the fourth round of the English FA Cup, as Watford defeated Crystal Palace FC 4-3 on Jan. 24, 2009. 2007-08: The centre back helped Watford back to the League Championship playoffs after a sixth-place finish in the standings. Though DeMerit served the second half of the season as club captain, Watford's hopes of an English Premier League return were ended in the playoff semifinals when they lost 6-1 on aggregate to Hull City FC. His only goal that season came on Boxing Day (Dec. 26, 2007) in a 2-2 home draw versus Cardiff City FC. 2006-07: Playing in the top flight of English soccer, DeMerit and Watford endured a difficult season, as The Hornets finished bottom of the English Premier League standings and were subsequently relegated back to the League Championship. The defender, however, helped Watford reach the semifinals of the English FA Cup before losing to Manchester United FC. He had two goals in the Premier League that season versus Portsmouth FC (Nov. 18, 2006) and Blackburn Rovers FC (Jan. 23, 2007). 2005-06: Under the stewardship of manager Adrian Boothroyd, who replaced Lewington in Mar. 2005, DeMerit helped Watford earn promotion to the English Premier League as winners of the League Championship playoffs after a third-place finish in the standings. His three goals that season included the match-winner in the promotion playoff final at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff, Wales, on May 21, 2006. The Hornets defeated Leeds United FC 3-0, with DeMerit earning the 'Man of the Match' award. 2004-05: The centre back made the move to English league soccer when he signed a one-year contract with second-tier League Championship side Watford FC following a two-week trial. DeMerit's move to The Hornets came after he impressed then Watford manager, and former Vancouver Whitecaps FC midfielder, Ray Lewington during a preseason friendly in July 2004. The defender played against Watford as a trialist with semi-professional outfit Northwood FC of the seventh-tier Isthmian League Premier Division. DeMerit made his Watford debut in the first round of the English League Cup, as The Hornets defeated Cambridge United 1-0 at home on Aug. 24, 2004. The centre back made over 30 appearances in league and cup play during his first season with Watford, helping the Hertfordshire club to the English League Cup semifinals, where they eventually fell to Liverpool FC. He scored three goals in the League Championship that season. Those goals came against Crewe Alexandra FC (Jan. 15, 2005), Ipswich Town FC (Feb. 22, 2005), and Leicester City FC (Mar. 15, 2005). 2003-04: DeMerit's start in English soccer came in the ninth tier with Southall FC of the Combined Counties Football League. Southall are based in the London borough of Ealing.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2001: The defender appeared in Chicago Fire Premier's inaugural season in the PDL. Known then as Chicago Fire Reserves, DeMerit led the Illinois-based outfit to a first-place finish in the Great Lakes Division of the PDL's Central Conference. The fire reached the Central Conference playoff final before losing 1-0 to Sioux Falls Spitfire.

COLLEGE

DeMerit enjoyed a stellar four-year NCAA Division I career with the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC). 2001: With the MCC renamed the Horizon League, DeMerit had another fine season for the Flames in his senior year. He was again named to the NSCAA All-Midwest Region First Team and the All-Horizon League First Team after appearing in every match for UIC that year. His four goals include strikes in three straight matches versus University of Detroit Mercy (Oct. 26), University of Wisconsin Milwaukee (Nov. 3), and Loyola University Chicago (Nov. 10). 2000: The defender was named to the NSCAA All-Midwest Region First Team, and for a second time, the All-MCC First Team after a fine junior year with the Flames. For a second straight season, DeMerit made the MCC All-Tournament Team after leading UIC to a second MCC men's soccer title. The Flames also reached the 'Sweet 16' of the NCAA Tournament before losing 6-0 to Stanford University on Nov. 25. 1999: The centre back's sophomore season with the Flames earned him a spot in the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-Midwest Region Second Team and the All-Midwestern Collegiate Conference (MCC) First Team. DeMerit made the MCC All-Tournament Team after leading the Flames to their first MCC men's soccer title and the NCAA Tournament. This included the match-winner in the MCC Tournament quarterfinal win over Cleveland State University. He also earned a spot on the MCC's Academic All-Conference Team. 1998: As a freshman, DeMerit appeared in all 17 matches for the Flames, with 10 of those appearances coming in the defensive backline. His only goal that season was the match-winner in a 2-1 overtime victory at local rivals Loyola University Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL

Though not selected to appear for his country at youth international level, DeMerit's rise as a defender in England led to his establishment as a senior international with his native United States. Senior: The centre back made his USA debut during a goalless draw versus Guatemala in Frisco, Texas, on Mar. 28, 2007. The defender then appeared in Group B victories over Guatemala (June 7, 2007) and Trinidad & Tobago (June 9, 2007), as the USA went on to claim the 2007 CONCACAF Gold Cup title. Later that summer, DeMerit was also a member of the USA squad that appeared at the 2007 Copa America in Venezuela. He made two appearances in Group C, including a start in the 4-1 defeat to South American giants Argentina on June 28, 2007. He was then involved in 2010 FIFA World Cup qualifying in 2008 before appearing for his country at the 2009 FIFA Confederations Cup. DeMerit helped the Americans to the final of the competition in South Africa, with the centre back appearing in all three Group B matches versus Italy (June 15, 2009), Brazil (June 18, 2009), and Egypt (June 21, 2009). He then started the USA's historical 2-0 victory over reigning European champions Spain in the semifinals on June 24, 2009. DeMerit was then selected to the USA's 23-player squad for the 2010 FIFA World Cup and started all four of his country's matches in South Africa. He appeared in the draws versus England (June 12, 2010) and Slovenia (June 18, 2010) before taking part in the famous 1-0 victory over Algeria (June 23, 2010) that clinched top spot for the Americans in Group C. DeMerit's World Cup campaign ended in the Round of 16 when the USA lost 2-1 in extra time to Ghana on June 26, 2010.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

DeMerit had a stellar soccer career with Bay Port High School in his hometown of Green Bay, Wisconsin. As a junior and senior, he led the Pirates in goals, assists, and points. As a senior, he was named Metro Player of the Year by the Green Bay Press Gazette newspaper, while he also earned All-Bay Conference First Team, all-state, and all-metro honours as a junior and senior. DeMerit was also a top athlete for the Pirates in track & field and basketball.

PERSONAL

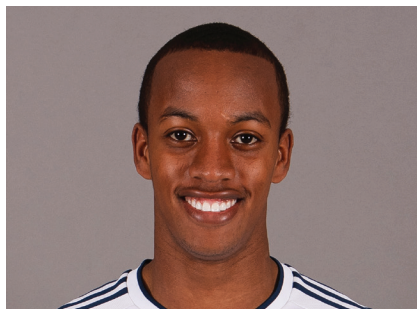

Born and raised in Green Bay, Wisconsin, DeMerit attended Hillcrest Elementary School in nearby Oneida, Wisconsin, before studying at Bay Port High School. In 2002, the centre back completed a degree in industrial design at the University of Illinois at Chicago. His parents are Karen and John DeMerit.

INTERESTING FACTS

A man of many interests, DeMerit enjoys painting and playing bass guitar when not concentrating on his soccer career. He is also an owner/partner of an interactive digital media company called 'Songwhale', which is based in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The defender is also a big fan of NFL's Green Bay Packers.

Citizenship: United States
Last Team: University of Notre Dame (NCAA DI)
Acquired: Selected 37th overall in MLS SuperDraft on January 13, 2011
Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A defender, who served as the starting right fullback in his junior and senior years at the University of Notre Dame, Kevin Bilal Duckett joined Whitecaps FC after being the first pick in the third round (37th overall) of the 2011 MLS SuperDraft on Jan. 13, 2011. The native of Macon, Georgia, is considered a very good athlete with two good feet, tremendous speed, and fine leaping ability in the air.

COLLEGE

2010: As a senior, Duckett started all 20 of his appearances at right fullback for Notre Dame and registered one assist. The defender was also named a BIG EAST Academic All-Star for a second straight year. 2009: After two frustrating years of no action with the Fighting Irish, Duckett became Notre Dame's starting right fullback in his junior year, with the defender starting all but two of his 22 appearances that year. On Oct. 21, Duckett scored the 'Golden Goal' winner in a 2-1 victory at Georgetown University. The right fullback was also named a BIG EAST Conference Academic All-Star that season. 2008: The defender also saw no action during his sophomore year at Notre Dame. 2007: Duckett saw no action for the Fighting Irish during his freshman year after suffering a leg injury.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2009: As a member of Central Conference, Great Lakes Division club Indiana Invaders, Duckett scored the match winner and recorded two assists during a 3-2 victory at Cleveland Internationals on July 12. Cleveland's starting XI that day included fellow Whitecaps FC MLS SuperDraft pick Michael Nanchhoff. 2008: The defender made three PDL appearances for Atlanta Silverbacks U-23's in the Southern Conference, Southeast Division that season.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

As captain of the McIntosh High School boys soccer team in his hometown of Peachtree City, Georgia, Duckett was a two-time Region 4 AAAA Player of the Year. As a senior, the defender was Fayette County Player of the Year and the team's Most Valuable Player after leading the Chiefs to their first undefeated season and a fourth Georgia state high school title. He also earned all-state honours and was a high school All-America nominee in his senior year. As a junior, Duckett was an All-Fayette County First Team and an All-Region 4 AAAA First Team selection. His youth career saw Duckett play for Cobb Futbol Club in Marietta, Georgia and AFC Lightning in Fayetteville, Georgia. As a member of Cobb FC '89 Premier, they were Region III Premier League and Georgia state champions in 2005, as well as state championship runners-up in 2006 and 2007. Duckett was also a six-year member of the Georgia '89 Olympic Development Program state team, where he helped the side to the 2004 Region III championship and a bronze medal at the 2005 US Youth Soccer National Championship.

PERSONAL

Duckett was born in Macon, Georgia, and raised in Peachtree City, Georgia, which is located near the city of Atlanta. His parents are Kim and Fred Duckett, and he an older brother, Tahir Duckett. The defender plans to graduate with a major in IT Management from the University of Notre Dame's Mendoza College of Business in May 2011.

7 TERRY DUNFIELD MIDFIELDER

Citizenship: Canada
Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USSF D-2)
Acquired: Signed to a MLS contract by Whitecaps FC on December 10, 2010
Whitecaps FC 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A veteran midfielder that has represented Canada at both youth and senior international level, Terry Dunfield joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural Major League Soccer roster on Dec. 10, 2010, after a successful second half of the season with his hometown club in the USSF D-2 Pro League. Prior to his return to Vancouver, Dunfield spent the majority of his career in England.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Dunfield made his Whitecaps FC debut as a second-half substitute when he came on for midfielder Luca Bellisomo during a 1-0 victory at NSC Minnesota Stars on Aug. 14. He then made his first start for the 'Caps during the 1-1 away draw versus FC Tampa Bay on Aug. 19 before striking his first-ever Whitecaps FC goal in a 3-0 victory at Crystal Palace Baltimore on Sept. 11. He then scored his first 'Caps goal at home on Oct. 2, as Whitecaps FC drew 2-2 with Portland Timbers.

ENGLAND

2009-10: Despite suffering another dislocated shoulder injury in Aug. 2009, the midfielder claimed the Shrewsbury Town players' Player of the Year award after scoring two goals in 30 appearances before leaving the club at the end of the season.
2008-09: After scoring one goal in 20 appearances with Macclesfield Town, Dunfield moved to fellow English League Two club Shrewsbury Town FC for an undisclosed fee on Jan. 26, 2009. The midfielder made 17 appearances with the Shropshire-based club that season. 2007-08: After spending two seasons away from the game due to injury and rehabilitation, Dunfield resumed his career with Macclesfield Town FC when he signed with the English League Two club on July 27, 2007. He scored one goal in 41 appearances during his first season with the Cheshire-based club, and was named the Macclesfield Town supporters' Player of the Year for his efforts. 2004-05: In his final season with Bury, Dunfield scored one goal in 15 appearances before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Jan. 2005. 2003-04: Much like his first season with the club, the midfielder scored two goals in 30 appearances during his second season with Bury. 2002-03: After failing to make any first-team appearances during Manchester City's run to the 2001-02 English League Championship title, Dunfield joined English League Two club Bury FC on an initial one-month loan on Aug. 16, 2002. Playing in the fourth tier of English soccer, the midfielder impressed The Shakers and had his loan extended for a further two months before a dislocated shoulder ended his loan spell in early Nov. 2002. However, the midfielder made enough of an impression to complete a free transfer to Bury on Dec. 13, 2002, with the midfielder signing a two-and-a-half year contract with the Gigg Lane outfit. He scored two goals in 29 appearances with The Shakers that season. 2000-01: Having spent four seasons with Manchester City's reserves and being named the club's Youth Player of the Year, Dunfield made his lone first-team appearance on the final day of the English Premier League season. The midfielder was a late first-half substitute in a 2-1 home defeat to Chelsea FC on May 19, 2001. Manchester City were relegated from the EPL at the end of the season. 1996-99: After joining the youth set-up at Manchester City FC and captaining the club's U-15 squad, a 15-year-old Dunfield signed a four-year contract with the English Premier League (EPL) side in 1997.

INTERNATIONAL

Despite playing in friendlies with the England U-16, U-17, and U-20 squads, Dunfield opted to represent his native Canada, with the midfielder making appearances at the U-20, U-23 Olympic, and senior international levels. Senior: After playing against Scottish Premier League club Heart of Midlothian and England's Millwall FC with Canada's senior squad at Swangard Stadium in July 2004, Dunfield had to wait until May 29, 2010, to make his full international debut with Canada in a 1-1 friendly draw in Venezuela. The midfielder then started Canada's 2-1 friendly win over Honduras in Montreal, Quebec, on Sept. 7, 2010. U-23: Dunfield played the entire 90 minutes in both of his appearances for Canada's U-23 Olympic squad. As a 20-year-old, the midfielder helped Canada to a 5-4 penalty shootout win over El Salvador during the second round of CONCACAF Olympic qualifying in Kelowna, BC, on Nov. 19, 2003. Canada won the second leg 1-0 over the Central Americans for a 1-1 aggregate result before winning the two-leg tie on penalties. U-20: Dunfield made five appearances with the Canada's U-20 squad, making his debut in a 3-0 friendly defeat to Australia in Santiago, Chile, on June 6, 2001. The midfielder then appeared in all three of Canada's matches in Group B at the 2001 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Argentina. He started and played the entire 90 minutes in defeats to Iraq, Germany, and Brazil in Cordoba in June 2001.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Dunfield started his playing career as a five-year-old with Vancouver's Point Grey Soccer Club before moving to England to join Manchester City as a 14-year-old in 1996. As a student, Dunfield attended Queen Mary Elementary School and Lord Byng Secondary School in Vancouver, BC.

PERSONAL

Dunfield was born and raised in Vancouver, BC. His parents, Sharon and Kim, have been Whitecaps FC season ticket holders for nearly a decade. Dunfield's long-term girlfriend, Stephanie, hails from Manchester, England. The midfielder also has a younger brother named Ryan.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his youth soccer career, Dunfield enjoys coaching youth soccer, fly-fishing, tennis, and golf. He also supports former club Manchester City.

 Weight: 185
 DOB: January 9, 1985
 Birthplace: Basseterre, St. Kitts and Nevis
 Hometown: Los Angeles, CA

Citizenship: St. Kitts and Nevis / United States
 Last Team: FC Dallas
 Acquired: Expansion Draft on November 24, 2010
 Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A member of the 2010 MLS Cup finalists FC Dallas, Atiba Harris joined Whitecaps FC after being selected in the second round (fourth overall) of the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. A Saint Kitts and Nevis international that enjoyed spells in England and Spain, the tall midfielder/striker has had previous Major League Soccer spells with Real Salt Lake and Chivas USA.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: Harris played a key role in leading FC Dallas to the MLS Cup final that season, with the midfielder/striker starting all but one of his 29 regular season appearances. His four goals came against Texas rivals Houston Dynamo (Mar. 27), New England Revolution (May 1), Real Salt Lake (July 17), and in the regular season finale at Los Angeles Galaxy (Oct. 24). Harris also started the qualification semifinal defeat at D.C. United in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on Apr. 28. In the MLS Cup Playoffs, Harris appeared in the first leg of the Western Conference Semifinals on Oct. 30, as FC Dallas won 2-1 at home to Real Salt Lake. He then started the 3-0 victory at MLS Supporters' Shield winners Los Angeles Galaxy in the Western Conference Final on Nov. 14 before starting the MLS Cup final versus Eastern Conference champions Colorado Rapids at BMO Field in Toronto, Ontario, on Nov. 21. FC Dallas fell 2-1 to Colorado in extra time. On Nov. 24, Whitecaps FC acquired the midfielder/striker during the 2010 MLS Expansion

Draft. 2009: Harris scored twice during his second season with Chivas USA, with both goals coming in a 2-1 home win over Columbus Crew on Apr. 5 and in a 2-0 victory at home to FC Dallas on Apr. 25. He also scored the equalizer in a 1-1 home draw versus Mexico's San Luis in Group A of the North American SuperLiga on June 27 before appearing in the club's third-round US Open Cup defeat at former USL-1 club Charleston Battery on June 30. On July 19, the midfielder/striker was traded to FC Dallas in exchange for midfielder Marcelo Saragosa. Harris started all 12 of his regular season appearances for the Texas outfit, with his first FC Dallas goal coming in a remarkable 6-3 victory at Los Angeles Galaxy on Sept. 12, where he also recorded two assists in the match. He also struck in the regular season finale on Oct. 24, as FC Dallas fell 2-1 at Seattle Sounders FC. 2008: In Dec. 2007, Real Salt Lake traded Harris to Chivas USA for a third-round pick in the 2008 MLS SuperDraft. His first season with Southern California outfit saw him feature regularly, both in midfield and as a striker. In 28 regular season appearances, Harris scored goals against former club Real Salt Lake (Apr. 5), SuperClasico rivals Los Angeles Galaxy (Aug. 14), and Toronto FC (Aug. 30). In the MLS Cup Playoffs, the midfielder/striker appeared in the first-leg defeat at RSL in the Western Conference Semifinals on Nov. 1. Harris also started Chivas USA's third-round defeat at United Soccer Leagues First Division (USL-1) side Seattle Sounders in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on July 1, as well as all three matches in Group B of the North American SuperLiga that summer. Harris also started both legs of the Preliminary Round series versus Panama's Tauro FC in the inaugural edition (2008-09) of the CONCACAF Champions League, with Chivas USA falling 3-1 on aggregate. 2007: His second season with RSL proved more of a challenge, as Harris recorded just one assist in 21 appearances, with the Utah club missing out on the MLS Cup Playoffs for a third-straight season. Harris also started one of RSL's qualification matches in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup that year. 2006: Harris became the first player from Saint Kitts and Nevis to sign for MLS when he joined Real Salt Lake for the 2006 season. Harris scored four goals and added one assist in 22 regular season appearances for the Utah-based club. He also made a substitute appearance for RSL in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup that season.

SAINT KITTS AND NEVIS PREMIER LEAGUE

After spells in England and Spain, Harris spent portions of the 2004-05 and 2005-06 Saint Kitts and Nevis Premier League seasons with St. Peters FC in his hometown of Basseterre.

SPAIN

2003-04: Following his time in England with Newcastle United FC, Harris moved to the Spanish Segunda División (Second Division) when he joined Cádiz Club de Fútbol. It was during that season with Cádiz CF that the midfielder/striker spent time on loan at Club Deportivo Linares, who were in Spain's third-tier Segunda División B.

ENGLISH PREMIER LEAGUE

At the age of 17, Harris joined Newcastle United FC as a youth trainee in 2002. The midfielder/striker remained with the English Premier League side before moving to Spain with Cádiz Club de Fútbol.

INTERNATIONAL

Harris has represented his native Saint Kitts and Nevis at youth and senior international level. The midfielder/striker represented his country at the U-13, U-15, U-17, U-20, and U-23 Olympic levels. Senior: As a 15-year-old, Harris made his senior international debut for Saint Kitts and Nevis in 2000. With seven goals in 22 appearances for the Caribbean nation, Harris played in the semifinal round of CONCACAF qualifying for the 2006 FIFA World Cup in Germany, as The Sugar Boyz finished bottom of Group Three. On Feb. 6, 2008, the midfielder/striker appeared for Saint Kitts and Nevis in the first leg of their Stage One qualifying playoff versus Belize in Guatemala City, Guatemala. Belize won the two-leg playoff 4-2 on aggregate and advanced to the next stage of qualifying for the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa.

PERSONAL

Hailing from Basseterre on the island of St. Kitts, Harris is one of four children to be raised in the capital of Saint Kitts and Nevis. Now a resident of Los Angeles, California, the midfielder/striker has a wife named Rachael and a daughter named Laila.

INTERESTING FACTS

Harris has a cousin in Manchester City and England defender Micah Richards. An avid music listener, the midfielder/striker's favourite music genres are gospel and reggae. He is a fan of English Premier League giants Chelsea FC. Harris' favourite soccer memory was debuting for his town's U-18 team as a 12-year-old and scoring two goals.

Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A centre back with experience of Major League Soccer, the USSF D-2 Pro League, and the USL Second Division, Greg Janicki joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural MLS roster on Dec. 10, 2010, after a fine season with Vancouver at the North American soccer division level. The New Baltimore, Michigan, native originally join Whitecaps FC on Dec. 23, 2009, having previously played in MLS as a member of D.C. United.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2009: After signing an MLS senior contract with United in Dec. 2008, Janicki started all but two of his seven appearances during the regular season, with the defender also making five starts in United's run to the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup final and a further two starts for the club in the 2009-10 CONCACAF Champions League. He also started in United's high-profile friendly versus Real Madrid on Aug. 9, with the Spanish giants winning the contest 3-0. Janicki was released by United on Nov. 30. 2008: After completing the USL-2 season with Pittsburgh Riverhounds, Janicki made the jump to MLS when he joined D.C. United on loan for the remainder of the season, having signed a developmental contract on Sept. 12. The defender made three regular season appearances for the Washington, D.C., outfit, with his league debut coming in the goalless away draw versus Houston Dynamo on Oct. 12. Janicki also started three matches in Group A of the 2008-09

CONCACAF Champions League, with his United debut taking place during a 1-0 home defeat to Mexican club Cruz Azul on Oct. 1. His only goal for the club came in the competition, as United lost 4-2 at home to Honduras' Club Deportivo Marathon on Oct. 29.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Janicki was named USSF D-2 Pro League Defensive Player of the Year and to the league's Best XI, alongside teammates Jay Nolly and Martin Nash, after helping Whitecaps FC surrender a league low 22 goals during the regular season. He made his competitive debut for Whitecaps FC when he started the season opener on Apr. 11, as Vancouver won 2-0 at home to NSC Minnesota Stars. The centre back then scored his first-ever Whitecaps FC goal during a 2-0 home win over Rochester Rhinos on May 22. Janicki then scored the equalizer in a 2-1 victory away to Canadian rivals Montreal Impact on June 30. Less than a month later, Janicki struck the winner against the Impact in Montreal on July 28, as the Whitecaps won 1-0 at Stade Saputo. His fourth goal of the season on Sept. 11 became the third-straight goal that the centre back scored away from home, as he headed Vancouver's winner in a 3-0 victory at Crystal Palace Baltimore.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES SECOND DIVISION

2008: Janicki started his professional career when he signed for USL-2 club Pittsburgh Riverhounds. The defender appeared in all but six of the Pennsylvania outfit's regular season matches that year, with the Riverhounds missing out on the USL-2 playoffs after finishing eighth in the league standings. His only point came when he assisted on striker Jean Jerome's match-winning goal during Pittsburgh's 2-0 home win over Western Mass Pioneers on July 5. The defender also appeared in both of Pittsburgh's matches in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup that year. He was a substitute in the 4-0 first-round win over Chicago-based amateur side AAC Eagles on June 10 before starting the 3-0 second-round defeat to former USL-1 club Rochester Rhinos on June 24.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2007: Janicki moved to West Michigan Edge and appeared in all but one of the club's 16 matches in the PDL's Central Conference, Great Lakes Division. His only PDL goal came during a 4-1 victory at Cleveland Internationals on May 27. 2006: During his time at Michigan State University, Janicki played in the USL Premier Development League (PDL), starting with a brief spell at Michigan Bucks. Janicki made just five league appearances for the club, as the Bucks went on to win the PDL championship that season. On July 12, the defender also appeared as a second-half substitute in the 4-1 defeat to MLS club Columbus Crew during the third round of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup.

COLLEGE

Janicki enjoyed a productive four-year NCAA Division I career with Michigan State University. 2006: Janicki was named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/adidas All-Great Lakes Region Second Team and the All-Big Ten First Team after scoring two goals and recording one assist as a senior. The defender scored in a 2-0 win over Valparaiso University on Oct. 18 before striking the double overtime winner on Oct. 22, as the Spartans defeated Northwestern University 2-1. 2005: Janicki started all of his 19 appearances as a junior, with the defender recording two assists that season. His first assist came on striker Zac Scaffidi's goal during a 2-1 victory over the University of Massachusetts on Sept. 4. He then assisted on Steve Doster's goal during a 3-1 win over Bowling Green State University on Sept. 29. 2004: Janicki started all 20 matches for the Spartans during his sophomore year, with the defender recording an assist on striker John Minagawa-Webster's goal during a 2-0 home win over Loyola University Chicago on Oct. 6. He was also named to the All-Big Ten Conference Academic Team. 2003: The defender made four substitute appearances during his freshman year with the Spartans.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

A soccer standout at Anchor Bay High School in his hometown of New Baltimore, Michigan, Janicki set a school record after scoring 74 goals and recording 32 assists over three seasons at Anchor Bay. As a senior, the defender placed third in voting for Michigan's Mr. Soccer Award, while he earned a spot in the Michigan High School Soccer Coaches Association's Dream Team in Nov. 2002. Janicki also earned All-State Second Team honours as a junior, while he also claimed league and district Most Valuable Player honours at Anchor Bay. Janicki also attended Ashley Elementary and Lighthouse Elementary schools in New Baltimore, Michigan. The defender also played youth soccer in Michigan for Fraser Turbos and USL (United Soccer League) Team United.

PERSONAL

Born in Rochester, Michigan, Janicki was raised in the Macomb County city of New Baltimore, Michigan, which is based on the shores of Lake St. Clair. A talented athlete, the defender also excelled in basketball and track & field at Anchor Bay High School before earning Bachelor of Science degree in Packaging at Michigan State University. The defender is engaged to his fiancée Jaime, while his parents are Chris and David Janicki. He also has a brother named Andy.

INTERESTING FACTS

Janicki is an admirer of English Premier League side Liverpool and their captain Steven Gerrard. Having

Citizenship: Tanzania
 Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USSF D-2)
 Acquired: Signed to a MLS contract by Whitecaps FC on February 9, 2011
 Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A talented midfielder who can play in the middle or on the right-hand side, Nizar Khalfan Khalfan joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural Major League Soccer roster on Feb. 9, 2011, becoming one of the first players to be signed to an international roster spot by the club. The native of Mtwara, Tanzania, moves up to MLS with Vancouver after a one-and-a-half year spell with the club at the North American second division level. Khalfan first signed with the club on August 13, 2009.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Khalfan recorded his first Whitecaps FC point when he assisted on Marlon James' goal during the club's season-opener on Apr. 11, as Vancouver won 2-0 at home to NSC Minnesota Stars. His first start of the season came in the goalless draw at Major League Soccer club Toronto FC in the Nutrilite Canadian Championship on June 2. Then after appearing in a friendly against Brazil with his native Tanzania, Khalfan came off the substitutes' bench to score the winning goal in a 2-1 away victory over Austin Aztex on June 12. It was the midfielder's first-ever goal for the club. On July 14, Khalfan assisted on Blake Wagner's first-ever goal for the 'Caps during a 3-1 home win over Miami FC. He struck his second Whitecaps FC goal in a 2-1 home defeat to Portland Timbers on July 22.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

2009: After being discovered by the 'Caps during Vancouver's 0-0 friendly draw with the Tanzanian national team on Mar. 14, Khalfan arrived midway through the USL First Division season and started all but one of his nine regular season appearances for the club that year. The midfielder then went on to appear in five matches during the Whitecaps playoff run to the USL-1 Championship Series. This included a start in the 3-2 home defeat to Canadian rivals Montreal Impact in the first leg of the USL-1 Championship Series.

TANZANIAN PREMIER LEAGUE

Khalfan began his professional career in his native Tanzania with Mtwara Sugar FC. During the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons, the midfielder scored 16 goals in 57 appearances for the club that hail from the Tanzanian city of Turiani. Then after spending a season in the Middle East, Khalfan returned to the Tanzanian Premier League when he signed with Moro United for the 2007-08 campaign. He scored five goals in 16 appearances for the club based in the Tanzanian city of Morogoro.

KUWAITI PREMIER LEAGUE

2007-08: Khalfan spent a season in the Middle East when he joined Al Tadamon, who are based in the Kuwait City suburb of Al Farwaniya. The midfielder made 18 appearances during his lone season with Al Tadamon, with his only goal coming in cup competition against Al Arabi.

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

INTERNATIONAL

Senior: Khalfan has appeared at the senior international level for his native Tanzania, having made his debut for the East African nation back in 2006. He scored the match winner during Tanzania's 4-1 away victory to Mauritius in the second round of African qualifying for the 2010 FIFA World Cup on Sept. 6, 2008. Though Khalfan appeared in five games during the second round of qualifying, Tanzania missed out on the third and final round of qualifying for South Africa 2010 after finishing third in Group One. On Sept. 2, 2006, Khalfan scored a second-half winner in an historic 2-1 home victory over Burkina Faso at the Tanzania National Main Stadium in Dar es Salaam. Despite their best efforts, the team known as the 'Taifa Stars' missed out on qualification for the 2008 Africa Cup of Nations in Ghana, as they finished third in qualifying Group Seven. The midfielder also appeared in a 1-0 friendly defeat to Côte d'Ivoire on Jan. 4, 2010. Khalfan played the first half in Dar es Salaam, with Chelsea striker Didier Drogba scoring the match winner for Côte d'Ivoire at a sold-out Tanzania National Main Stadium. Khalfan then appeared in Tanzania's 5-1 friendly defeat versus world powerhouse Brazil in Dar es Salaam on June 7, 2010, where he was named 'Man of the Match'. His latest appearances came in 2012 Africa Cup of Nations qualifying, with Tanzania drawing 1-1 away to Algeria on Sept. 3, 2010, and falling 1-0 at home to Morocco on Oct. 9, 2010.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

The midfielder started playing soccer in his hometown of Mtwara, Tanzania, with a youth team called Score FC. As a student, Khalfan attended Ligula Primary School and Ocean Secondary School in Mtwara, Tanzania.

PROFILE

A right fullback that flourished during his five years at College of Charleston, Wes Knight joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural Major League Soccer roster on Nov. 26, 2010, after two highly successful seasons at the North American second division level with the club. The native of Easley, South Carolina, was first spotted by Vancouver at both the United Soccer Leagues Men's Player Showcase in Dec. 2008 and the MLS Player Combine in Jan. 2009 and first signed with the club on Feb. 11, 2009.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Knight was awarded the Whitecaps FC 'Fan Favourite' award following a productive second season with the club, where he started in all but five of the club's matches that season. The defender assisted on Greg Janicki's late winning goal during a 1-0 victory at Canadian arch-rivals Montreal Impact on July 28.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

2009: Knight was a finalist for the USL-1 Rookie of the Year award after a highly successful first season with the Whitecaps. He finished the regular season as the USL-1's joint-assist leader alongside Minnesota Thunder midfielder Ricardo Sanchez, having tallied eight assists during his rookie campaign. The defender/midfielder made his USL-1 debut during the 2-1 away defeat to Puerto Rico Islanders on Apr. 18, with the defender replacing Vicente Arze in the second half of the match in the Caribbean. Three days later, Knight made his first league start and earned his first USL-1 point when he assisted on Marco Reda's goal during Vancouver's 1-1 draw at Austin Aztex. On May 10, Knight earned a spot in the USL-1 Team of the Week for Week Five after assisting on Charles Gbeke's winning goal, as the Whitecaps claimed a 1-0 victory at home to Puerto Rico Islanders. He then made the USL-1 Team of the Week for Week 10 after assisting on both of Gbeke's goals during a 3-2 home win over Miami FC Blues on June 12. Knight earned a spot in the USL-1 Team of the Week for Week 22 after setting up Marcus Haber's goal during the 1-1 draw at Minnesota Thunder on Sept. 4. In the first leg of the USL-1 Championship Series, Knight set up Marlon James' headed goal during the 3-2 home defeat to Canadian rivals Montreal Impact on Oct. 10.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2008: In his second season with Bradenton, the defender scored the final goal in a 5-2 victory at Atlanta Silverbacks U-23's on June 27. The Academics finished second in the Southeast Division and reached the PDL playoffs before they were knocked out in the Southern Conference semifinals, as Bradenton fell 2-1 to Austin Aztex on

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

July 25. Knight also faced USL-1 opposition in the first round of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. After qualifying from their PDL division, Knight started in the club's 4-2 away defeat to Miami FC Blues on June 10. 2007: Prior to his senior year with College of Charleston, Knight made several appearances with the Florida-based Bradenton Academics. He made his PDL debut in a 1-0 victory at Nashville Metros on June 12 before scoring his first-ever league goal on July 6 when he struck the equalizer in a 1-1 draw at Central Florida Kraze. Bradenton finished fourth in the Southeast Division of the PDL's Southern Conference that season. The defender also took part in qualifying for the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup with the Academics.

COLLEGE

Knight enjoyed a successful NCAA Division I career with College of Charleston, in South Carolina. 2008: The defender made the All-Southern Conference First Team and a second straight appearance on the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-South Region Second Team after leading the Cougars to The Southern Conference championship match in his senior year. Unfortunately for Knight and College of Charleston, the Cougars lost 2-1 in the final to University of North Carolina-Greensboro on Nov. 16. 2007: Knight was named to the All-Southern Conference Second Team and to the NSCAA All-South Region Second Team after finishing tied for fourth in assists in The Southern Conference. His only goal that season came in a 2-0 win over Liberty University on Sept. 14. 2006: Knight started every match for the Cougars during his sophomore year, scoring his first-ever NCAA goal when he struck a first-half equalizer during a 1-1 draw at University of North Carolina-Charlotte on Aug. 28. 2005: After red-shirting his freshman year with College of Charleston in 2004, Knight began his NCAA Division I career by starting every match for the Cougars the following season. He recorded an assist on Matt Morris' second goal in a 3-1 victory over University of Pennsylvania on Sept. 18.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

A student at Wren High School in nearby Piedmont, South Carolina, the defender was a three-time All-

Region selection, as well as a two-time All-State and All-Area selection as a member of the Hurricanes. In his senior year, Knight was named Conference and All-Area Most Valuable Player at Wren High and was selected to play in the North/South game. He also claimed the Anderson Independent Mail Soccer Player of the Year award as a member of the Hurricanes. At the youth level, Knight was a member of Greenville Futbol Club (now Carolina Elite Soccer Academy) from the U-12 to the U-19 levels. With Greenville FC, the defender claimed seven South Carolina state championship titles with the club's '85 Black side. He also played in the USL Super Y-League for Greenville Lions in 2000 and 2001. Before attending Wren High, Knight was a student at Wren Elementary School in Piedmont, South Carolina.

PERSONAL

Knight is nearing a degree in Physical Education from College of Charleston. His parents are Anne and Barry Knight, and he has a younger brother named Graham.

INTERESTING FACTS

The defender is a fan of English Premier League clubs Fulham and Manchester United. His favourite soccer players are Real Madrid and Portugal star Cristiano Ronaldo, Fulham and USA midfielder Clint Dempsey, and Real Madrid and Spain defender Sergio Ramos. He also supports baseball's Atlanta Braves, NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers, NFL's Dallas Cowboys, and NHL's Vancouver Canucks. Knight was a former 200 and 400-meter sprinter in track and field. The right fullback has a pre-match ritual of placing his shinguards on the correct legs and taping his wrists. His favourite foods are pasta and Caesar salad, while he also enjoys listening to country, hip hop, and rhythm & blues music. When not concentrating on his soccer career, Knight enjoys cycling, hiking, and wakeboarding. His most desired holiday destination is Colorado Springs, Colorado, during the Holiday season.

Birthplace: Athens, Georgia
Hometown: Athens, Georgia

Citizenship: United States
Last Club: Kansas City Wizards
Acquired: Expansion Draft on November 24, 2010
Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A defender that spent the past three Major League Soccer seasons with Kansas City Wizards (now Sporting Kansas City), Jonathan Leathers joined Whitecaps FC after being selected in the ninth round (18th overall) of the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. The native of Athens, Georgia, has appeared for the United States U-23 Olympic team during his career.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: Leathers started three of eight appearances in his third season with Kansas City, having earned his first MLS point in the Wizards' regular season finale, as he assisted on the first of Birahim Diop's three goals during a 4-1 home win over San Jose Earthquakes on Oct. 23. The defender also appeared in Kansas City's 2-1 qualification semifinal defeat at home to MLS rivals Colorado Rapids in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on Apr. 13. On Nov. 24, Whitecaps FC acquired the defender during the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. 2009: The defender started 10 of his 11 appearances during his second season with Kansas City, with the Wizards missing out on a spot in the MLS Cup Playoffs that season. Leathers also made two appearances for Kansas City in Group B of the North American SuperLiga competition that year, as well as appearances in the third round and quarterfinals of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. 2008: Selected in the second round (25th overall) of the 2008 MLS SuperDraft, Leathers started 12 of his 15 appearances during his rookie season with Kansas City, having become a fixture at right fullback during the latter part of the season. Leathers also appeared in both legs of the MLS Eastern Conference playoff semifinals on Nov. 1 and 8, as the Wizards fell 3-1 on aggregate to Columbus Crew. The defender also started in all three of Kansas City's Lamar Hunt US Open Cup matches, as the Wizards reached the quarterfinals before falling to then United Soccer Leagues First Division club Seattle Sounders.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER RESERVE DIVISION

2008: During his rookie season with Kansas City, Leathers made five appearances for the Wizards reserve team, with the defender scoring a match-winning goal that year.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2007: Leathers was named to the PDL's All-Southern Conference Team after making 13 appearances for Atlanta Silverbacks U-23's that season. The defender also recorded an assist in a 1-0 victory at Nashville Metros on July 14. 2006: With Augusta, Leathers appeared in all but one of the Fireball's 16 regular season matches in the PDL's Southern Conference, South Atlantic Division. The defender also started the Southern Conference playoff semifinal defeat at Laredo Heat on July 28. 2005: Playing the first of three seasons in the PDL, Leathers made 11 appearances for Eastern Conference, Mid Atlantic Division side Augusta Fireball United.

COLLEGE

Leathers enjoyed a highly productive NCAA Division I career with Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina, having served as team captain of the Paladins. 2007: The defender's senior year saw Leathers named Furman Male Athlete of the Year for a second straight time, while he also earned NSCAA All-American Second Team honours and a spot on the All-Southern Conference First Team for a third straight year. 2006: As a junior, Leathers was named Furman's Male Athlete of the Year, the team's Most Valuable Player, and Southern Conference Player of the Year after leading the Paladins' backline to a conference-best 10 shutouts and a 0.77 goals-against average. He made the NSCAA All-South Region First Team, while he also earned a spot in the All-Southern Conference First Team for a second straight year. 2005: As a sophomore, Leathers started all 20 of Furman's matches that season, with the defender being named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-South Region Third Team and the All-Southern Conference First Team. 2004: As a freshman, the defender was one of only four players to play in and start every match for the Paladins that season. Leathers' efforts earned him a spot on the All-Southern Conference Second Team.

INTERNATIONAL

U-23: In May 2008, Leathers made two appearances for the United States U-23 Olympic team at the Toulon International Tournament in Toulon, France, after being selected in a 22-player squad by then head coach Peter Nowak, who is now in charge at MLS club Philadelphia Union. Playing in Group B, the defender started the 3-2 defeat to Turkey on May 21, 2008, before starting the 2-0 defeat to Italy on May 25, 2008. The Americans finished bottom of Group B after three straight defeats in the tournament.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Leathers had a successful youth career with Concorde Fire Soccer Club in Atlanta, Georgia. He guided the Fire to three Georgia state championship titles, three regional championships, and a 2002 United States Youth Soccer National Championship title, where he scored the match-winning goal in the championship game. Leathers was a member of the Georgia state and US Youth Soccer Region III Olympic Development Program teams.

PERSONAL

Leathers was born and raised in Athens, Georgia. His parents are Vera and Lee Leathers. After attending Prince Avenue Christian School in Athens, Georgia, the defender majored in business administration at Furman University.

INTERESTING FACTS

A devote Christian, Leathers made the Southern Conference's academic honour roll as a student at Furman University. A natural leader, he also served time as a member of the National Beta Club in the United States. He also ran track & field, as well as cross-country, with distinction at Prince Avenue Christian School. Leathers' many off-the-pitch pursuits include reading, rock climbing/repelling, following the stock market, snowboarding, watching movies, tinkering with his iPhone, and playing Battleship on the computer.

 DOB: August 31, 1987
 Birthplace: Douala, Cameroon
 Hometown: Paris, France

Citizenship: Cameroon
 Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USFF D-2)
 Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A central midfielder that has represented his native Cameroon at youth international level, Alexandre Morfaw joined Whitecaps FC on Aug. 10, 2010, following a spell in Sweden with Bodens BK. The playmaker also has experience of playing in France and England.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Morfaw made his Whitecaps FC debut, and in the North American game, when he came on for fellow debutant Gershon Koffie during the second half of the 0-0 home draw versus Puerto Rico Islanders on Sept. 5.

SWEDEN

2009: After spending a season in England, Morfaw joined Bodens BK - who are based in the town of Boden in northern Sweden - in Feb. 2009. The midfielder scored eight goals in 22 appearances during his first season with the Norrbotten County-based club, as he helped them to promotion from the fourth tier of Swedish soccer as champions of Division 2 Norrland. 2010: Playing in the third-tier of Swedish soccer (Division 1 Norra), Morfaw started all but one of his eight appearances during his second season with Bodens BK.

ENGLISH FOOTBALL LEAGUE

2007-08: Despite agreeing to a contract with English

League Championship side Leicester City FC in the summer of 2007, a change in manager resulted in Morfaw being released by the East Midlands outfit. The midfielder then proceeded to have a successful trial with fellow Championship club Scunthorpe United FC, where he then signed a one-year contract - plus a one-year option - with the North Lincolnshire outfit on Aug. 16, 2007. However, Morfaw's time with The Iron proved to be frustrating, as a preseason ankle injury restricted him to just six appearances with Scunthorpe's reserve side. He then had a brief spell with Lincoln City after initially joining the English League Two club on a month's loan on Feb. 27, 2008. Following an unsuccessful trial with English League One club AFC Bournemouth in Apr. 2008, Morfaw was released by Scunthorpe on May 9, 2008.

FRENCH LIGUE 1

Morfaw spent seven years with FC Nantes, where he was part of the Brittany-based club's renowned youth academy and reserves teams between the 2000-01 and 2006-07 seasons. 2005-06: The playmaker scored four goals in 17 appearances for FC Nantes reserves, as they finished 11th in Group C of the fourth-tier Championnat de France Amateur (CFA). 2006-07: The midfielder scored one goal in 23 appearances with FC Nantes reserves, as they finished 14th in CFA Group C.

INTERNATIONAL

Morfaw has represented his native Cameroon at youth international level. U-17: The midfielder made 11 appearances for Cameroon's U-17 squad. U-20: His seven appearances for Cameroon's U-20 side included his country's campaign at the 2007 African Youth Championship in the Republic of the Congo. Cameroon failed to qualify for the 2007 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Canada after finishing bottom of Group B behind Zambia, Nigeria, and Egypt in Pointe Noire, Congo. U-23: Morfaw made nine appearances with Cameroon's U-23 squad, as the playmaker helped his country qualify for the 2008 Men's Olympic Football Tournament as winners of African qualifying zone Group C. Though the U-23 Indomitable Lions made their way to Beijing, China, an injury in the build-up to the Olympic tournament meant Morfaw was unable to play in the Far East.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Before joining FC Nantes' youth academy in 2000, Morfaw was part of the youth set-up at French Ligue 1 side FC Girondins de Bordeaux in 1999.

PERSONAL

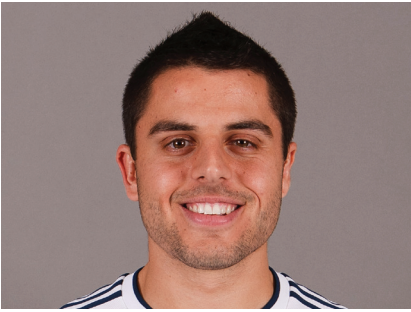

Born in Douala, Cameroon, Morfaw's current hometown is Paris, France. As a member of the FC Nantes youth academy, the midfielder was a student at the Centre Educatif Nantais pour Sportifs in Nantes, France. Prior to his move to Brittany, Morfaw attended College Paul Bert in Paris, France. His parents are Elena and Prosper Nkouan Tchoua, while he has an older brother named Nana Remy.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his soccer career, Morfaw enjoys performing and producing hip hop and rhythm & blues music. Fluent in English, French, German, and Russian, the midfielder also enjoys playing basketball and billiards, watching movies, and surfing the internet. His is an admirer of French legend Zinedine Zidane, former Portuguese star Luis Figo, Brazilian attacker Ronaldinho, and AC Milan and Italy midfielder Andrea Pirlo. Morfaw also follows the fortunes of French giants Olympique de Marseille.

PROFILE

An attack-minded Generation adidas midfielder that helped the University of Akron to the 2010 NCAA College Cup title, Michael Nanchoff joined Whitecaps FC after being selected eighth overall in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft in Baltimore, Maryland. A native of North Royalton, Ohio, Nanchoff was one of five Akron players to be selected among the first eight picks by MLS clubs in the 2011 SuperDraft.

COLLEGE

Nanchoff enjoyed a fine NCAA Division I career at the University of Akron, where he played three years for the Zips. 2010: In his final season with the Zips, Nanchoff led Akron to the NCAA College Cup title - the first Division I national championship to be won in any sport by a University of Akron varsity team. As a Redshirt Junior, the midfielder made the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-Great Lakes Region Second Team, the All-MAC First Team, and the NCAA College Cup All-Tournament Team after appearing in all 25 matches for the Zips that season. This included a career-high 10 goals for Akron, including three match winners versus Penn State University (Oct. 13), State University of New York at Buffalo (Oct. 16), and Hartwick College (Nov. 6). More significantly, Nanchoff assisted on Akron's match-winning goal in the NCAA College Cup semifinal win over University of Michigan on Dec. 10. 2009: Nanchoff made the All-MAC First Team after amassing five goals and 11 assists with the Zips. As a Redshirt Sophomore, the midfielder was named Soccer America National Player of the Week on Sept. 26 after tying an Akron record with four assists in one match, as the Zips claimed a 6-0 home win over Bowling Green State University. He also made the College Soccer News National Team of the Week on Oct. 5, and scored match-winning goals versus Indiana University (Sept. 18) and Northern Illinois University (Nov. 13). Unfortunately for Nanchoff, a leg injury in a 2-0 win over University of South Florida in the second round of the NCAA championship tournament on Nov. 22 forced the midfielder to miss Akron's last four matches of the season, with the Zips reaching the NCAA College Cup final before losing on penalties to University of Virginia in Cary, North Carolina, on Dec. 13. 2008: Redshirted his sophomore year. 2007: As a freshman, the midfielder made 17 appearances for Akron, with Nanchoff recording assists in a 1-0 victory over the University of Alabama at Birmingham on Sept. 2 and a 4-0 win over St. Francis University on Sept. 16. His first career goal for the Zips came in the first round of the Mid-American Conference (MAC) Tournament, as Akron edged Northern Illinois University in overtime on Nov. 16. The Zips won the MAC championship title that season before falling in the second round of the NCAA championship tournament to the University of South Florida on Nov. 28.

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2009: Nanchoff recorded four assists in his final PDL season with Cleveland, with the midfielder assisting on former University of Akron teammate and Portland Timbers' SuperDraft pick Darlington Nagbe's two goals in a 3-2 home defeat to Indiana Invaders on July 12. 2008: Nanchoff made the PDL's All-Central Conference Team after a fine third season with Cleveland. Amassing a total of 17 points, Nanchoff's six goals and five assists included a goal and two assists in a 5-1 home win over Ohio rivals Cincinnati Kings on June 27. After finishing second in the Great Lakes Division, the Internationals reached the Central Conference playoff semifinals before losing 2-0 to eventual PDL champions Thunder Bay Chill on July 26. 2007: The midfielder made seven appearances in his second PDL season with Cleveland. He recorded assists in a 2-1 home defeat to Chicago Fire Premier on June 1 and in a 2-1 victory at home to Michigan Bucks on July 7. 2006: The midfielder played the first of four PDL seasons for his father, George Nanchoff, and Cleveland Internationals. Though he made just six appearances that season, Nanchoff scored Cleveland's lone goal in a 5-1 defeat at St. Louis Lions on July 9 before recording an assist in a 1-1 home draw versus Fort Wayne Fever on July 12.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

As a student at Walsh Jesuit High School in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, Nanchoff earned an NSCAA All-America honour and was named Cleveland Plain Dealer Player of the Year as a member of the Warriors. As a senior in 2006, the midfielder made the All-Ohio First Team after leading Walsh Jesuit to the Ohio Division II state championship title with a record of 21 wins and two defeats. In the state final victory over Kettering, Ohio's Archbishop Alter High School, Nanchoff assisted on the match-winning goal before scoring the second goal in a 2-0 win. During his youth soccer career, the midfielder claimed five Ohio state championship titles with Cleveland Internationals.

PERSONAL

Nanchoff was born and raised in the Cuyahoga County city of North Royalton, which is based just south of Cleveland, Ohio. As a student at the University of Akron, the midfielder has been majoring in sport and exercise science. His parents are Marian and George Nanchoff, while he has a brother named Georgie and a sister named Nicole.

INTERESTING FACTS

The product of a soccer family, Nanchoff's father (George) and uncle (Louie) were four-year letter winners and two-time All-Americans at the University of Akron in the 1970's before the pair became professionals in the old North American Soccer League and the now-defunct Major Indoor Soccer League. Though born in the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, George and Louie each made 10 international appearances and scored a goal for the United States. In 1980, the pair were due to appear for the USA at the Moscow Olympics before the Americans boycotted the games after the Soviet Union invaded Afghanistan. These days, George and Louie are co-owners and directors of coaching at Cleveland Internationals Soccer Club. The midfielder's brother Georgie also played college soccer at the University of Dayton, while his sister Nicole plays collegiately for Duquesne University.

GOALKEEPER

Position: Goalkeeper
Height: 6-03
Weight: 205
DOB: January 2, 1982
Birthplace: Orlando, FL
Hometown: Littleton, CO

Citizenship: United States
Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USSF D-2)
Acquired: Signed to a MLS contract by Whitecaps FC on November 26, 2010
Whitecaps FC: 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A goalkeeper with an accomplished record at the NCAA collegiate level, Jay Nolly joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural Major League Soccer roster on Nov. 26, 2010, after three highly successful seasons at the North American second division level with the club. The native of Littleton, Colorado, first signed with the club on Jan. 24, 2008 and has previous MLS experience with Real Salt Lake and D.C. United.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2007: On Dec. 11, 2006, Nolly was traded to D.C. United in a deal that saw American soccer star Freddy Adu and goalkeeper Nick Rimando head in the other direction to RSL. After trials with Scottish Premier League giants Celtic and Romanian club Dinamo Bucharest, Nolly signed on with United for the 2007 MLS campaign on Feb. 16. His lone first-team appearance for D.C. was against his former club RSL on June 23. Despite making seven saves, Nolly and United lost 2-1 in Utah. His other start that year was also a losing effort, as United crashed out of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup following a 1-0 away defeat to USL Second Division club Harrisburg City Islanders on July 11. With Troy Perkins firmly established as D.C.'s first-choice keeper, Nolly saw more action in the club's reserve team. His 11 starts saw him record an impressive 0.99 goals-against-average and two clean sheets. 2006: As an understudy to RSL number one Scott Garlick, Nolly saw limited first-team action in his second MLS season. In a June 9 defeat away to Colorado Rapids, Nolly earned a clean sheet in the second half of the game after replacing Garlick at halftime. His only start of the campaign came in a 6-0 away defeat to New York Red Bulls on Aug. 26, where he made seven saves for the club. The goalkeeper also started RSL's two matches in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup, as he faced former USL-1 club Virginia Beach Mariners in the third round on July 11 and MLS rivals Colorado in fourth round on Aug. 2. With RSL reserves, Nolly recorded four wins and two clean sheets in his nine appearances that season. 2005: Nolly was selected by expansion club Real Salt Lake (RSL) in the second round (22nd overall) of the 2005 MLS SuperDraft on Jan. 14. In his first start for RSL on May 14, Nolly recorded nine saves to earn the Utah-based club a 2-1 home victory over Los Angeles Galaxy. The keeper made a total of five first-team appearances in his rookie campaign, which included a career-high 11 saves during a 5-1 away defeat to future club D.C. United on Aug. 31. Nolly also made five saves in a 2-2 draw at San Jose Earthquakes on Oct. 8. The keeper also started RSL's Lamar Hunt US Open Cup third-round extra-time defeat at former USL-1 club Minnesota Thunder on July 13. He complemented his first season with RSL by claiming three wins in eight reserve-team starts for the club.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Named USSF D-2 Pro League Goalkeeper of the Year and to the league's Best XI, Nolly was also named Whitecaps FC Most Valuable Player for a second straight season after starting all 38 of the club's USSF D-2 and Nutrilite Canadian Championship matches and registering an impressive goals-against average of 0.71. By starting the playoff semifinal, second leg, match at home Puerto Rico Islanders on Oct. 17, Nolly broke the Whitecaps FC ironman record of 78 consecutive matches that was previously held by former 'Caps striker Joey Gjertsen. With 18 clean sheets, Nolly helped set a new Whitecaps FC record for shutouts in a single season. He also moved into second place in the Whitecaps FC career shutout list after claiming his 27th clean sheet with Vancouver during a goalless home draw versus Crystal Palace Baltimore on May 8. The shutout moved Nolly ahead of the legendary Phil Parkes in the club's all-time shutout list. Nolly then became only the second goalkeeper in Whitecaps FC history to pass the 100-appearance mark when he played in a 2-2 home draw versus Austin Aztex on Aug. 29. He then brought a remarkable extended run in the 'Caps goal to an end on Sept. 11, as youngster Simon Thomas replaced him in the late stages of a 3-0 victory at Crystal Palace Baltimore. Spanning three seasons, Nolly's run saw him play 6,472 consecutive minutes in the Whitecaps FC goal.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

2009: Nolly was named the Whitecaps Most Valuable Player after playing in every minute (3,600) of the club's 40 USL-1 and Nutrilite Canadian Championship matches that year. He was the first Whitecaps goalkeeper to play every minute in a single season since fellow American Arnie Mausser achieved the feat during the 1977 North American Soccer League campaign. Nolly posted three clean sheets and a goals-against average of 0.25 during the club's Nutrilite Canadian Championship campaign before captaining the Whitecaps in their final USL-1 regular season match, as they defeated Cleveland City Stars 2-1 at home on Sept. 18. Nolly then helped the club to the USL-1 playoff semifinals after making an important penalty save from Daniel Paladini in the second leg of Vancouver's first round playoff series versus Carolina RailHawks on Sept. 27. The penalty save allowed the Whitecaps to earn a 0-0 away draw and win the series 1-0 on aggregate. 2008: Nolly was named Whitecaps Defender of the Year after recording 11 clean sheets in all competitions during his first season with the club. After not conceding a goal in the second half of Vancouver's 2-1 international friendly win over MLS side Los Angeles Galaxy in Edmonton, Alberta, on May 13, Nolly made his league debut in a 1-0 away win over Portland Timbers on May 24. He replaced Srdjan Djekanic, who had started the club's first six USL-1 matches in goal that year. The result was also the first of three straight shutouts that Nolly recorded in May, as he kept both Charleston Battery and Minnesota Thunder off the scoresheet on May 28 and 31 respectively. Nolly, who earned USL-1 Team of the Week honours in Weeks Seven and 19, played a key role in the club's run to the USL-1 championship title, having earned a clean sheet in the playoff quarterfinal, first leg win over Minnesota on Sept. 26. Despite his controversial red card in the semifinal, first leg defeat at Canadian rivals Montreal Impact on Oct. 3, Nolly started in Vancouver's win over Puerto Rico Islanders in the USL-1 Championship Final on Oct. 12. The keeper also played in all four Nutrilite Canadian Championship matches that season, with Nolly performing heroically to earn the shoutout in a 1-0 victory at MLS side Toronto FC on July 1.

COLLEGE

Nolly had a stellar four-year career at Indiana University, where he became only the second Hoosiers goalkeeper to earn All-America honours. He will be most remembered for helping Indiana win back-to-back NCAA Division I championship titles in 2003 and 2004. 2004: Nolly capped his college career in fine style by claiming a second-straight NCAA Division I title. His two saves in a penalty shootout against University of California-Santa Barbara helped the Hoosiers win the College Cup final in Carson, California, on Dec. 11. His efforts saw him claim the tournament's Defensive MVP award for a second-straight year and selection to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA)

2011 VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC

All-America Third Team. He also claimed a third-straight All-Big Ten First Team honour after posting a Conference-high 11 shutouts, while his goals-against-average of 0.63 ranked him number one in the Big Ten for a third-straight year, as well as sixth overall in NCAA Division I. His career at Indiana saw him finish with the fourth-best record in career wins (51) and shutouts (30) at the school. 2003: The keeper played every minute for the Hoosiers, as they went on to win Big Ten and NCAA College Cup championship titles. He was named the College Cup's Defensive Most Valuable Player after making 10 saves in the championship final win over St John's University. His Conference-high 11 shutouts earned him a second All-Big Ten First Team honour, and his 0.64 goals-against-average not only ranked him number one in the Big Ten, but 10th in NCAA Division I. 2002: In his first season as a starter, Nolly posted eight shutouts and a goals-against-average of 0.78 with the Hoosiers. His GAA ranked him number one in the Big Ten Conference and 17th in NCAA Division I that year. He also earned the first of three All-Big Ten First Team honours in 2002. 2001: After red-shirting his freshman year, Nolly made five appearances for Indiana and did not concede a goal in 133 minutes of play. Though he saw limited action, the Hoosiers had an excellent season in 2001. They won the Big Ten Conference title with a win over Michigan State University and reached the NCAA College Cup final before losing to University of North Carolina on Dec. 16.

INTERNATIONAL

U-17: As a 16-year-old, Nolly was a member of the United States U-17 national team program, where he attended three different training camps in California and Florida in 1996. At the time, the squad included Los Angeles Galaxy and USA international striker Landon Donovan.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Nolly attended Chatfield High School in Littleton, Colorado, where he was a three-time All-Conference selection. In his senior year, the keeper was named Athlete of the Year at Chatfield and Jefferson County soccer MVP. In 1999, Nolly earned second team All-Conference honours as a kicker for the Chatfield High School football team. His amateur soccer career included being part of the US Youth Soccer Region IV Olympic Development Program (ODP) in 1996. With the Region IV ODP team, Nolly participated on soccer trips to Costa Rica in 1997 and Germany in 1998. The keeper started playing organized soccer as a four-year-old with Club Columbine, who later merged with Lakewood United Soccer Club to form Colorado Rush Soccer Club in Littleton. He played as a midfielder/forward until the age of 13, when he changed his position to goalkeeper.

PERSONAL

Nolly majored in Education at Indiana University before marrying his fiancée Alicia in her native Utah on Dec. 6, 2008. His parents are Diane and Joe Nolly and he has two older brothers named Eric and Alex. The keeper also has an uncle who had a tour of duty in Afghanistan with the US Armed Forces. Though born in Florida, and raised in Maryland and Colorado, Nolly currently resides in Salt Lake City, Utah.

INTERESTING FACTS

An avid fly-fisherman, Nolly was a member of the Indiana University Bass Fishing Club, where in 2001, the team claimed the Big Ten Conference bass fishing championship. The keeper has donated his time to worthy causes like Kicks for Kids, Read Across America, the Boys and Girls Clubs, Make a Wish Foundation, and the Salvation Army. He enjoys both punk and country music, as well as many outdoor pursuits when not playing soccer. His favourite TV show is The Simpsons, while his favourite foods are sushi, Greek and Italian. He admires former Manchester United and Denmark goalkeeper Peter Schmeichel and is a big fan of both the English Premier League and National Hockey League's Colorado Avalanche. Before the start of each half in a match, Nolly touches the left post, then the right post for luck.

Acquired: Signed to a MLS contract by Whitecaps FC on January 21, 2011
Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

A centre back with playing experience in the UEFA Champions League, Canadian-born Alain Rochat joined Whitecaps FC's Major League Soccer roster from Swiss club FC Zürich on Jan. 21, 2011. The native of Yverdon-les-Bains, Switzerland, initially signed with Vancouver in Aug. 2010 before spending the remainder of the year on loan at FC Zürich.

SWITZERLAND

2010-11: After signing with Whitecaps FC on Aug. 17, 2010, Rochat remained on loan with FC Zürich for the first half of their season. The defender started all 14 appearances during his loan spell with FC Zürich. This included three starts in the first three rounds of the Schweizer Cup that season. 2009-10: As Swiss champions, Rochat appeared with FC Zürich in the UEFA Champions League. He started both legs of the club's third qualifying round success over Slovenia's NK Maribor before helping FC Zürich to the group stage after a two-leg playoff win over Latvia's FK Ventpsils in Aug. 2009. Playing in Group C, the centre back started all six matches, as FC Zürich finished bottom of a group that consisted of Spanish giants Real Madrid, Italian Serie A powerhouse AC Milan, and French club Olympique de Marseille. He also scored two goals in 32 appearances domestically, as FC Zürich finished a disappointing seventh in the Swiss Super League standings. Those goals came in a 3-2 home defeat to Young Boys on July 14, 2009, and in a 4-1 home win over AC Bellinzona on July 25, 2009. Rochat also started FC Zürich's second and third-round matches in the Schweizer Cup that season. 2008-09: Scoring four goals in 29 appearances during his third season with FC Zürich, the defender claimed his second Swiss Super League championship title with the club. His four league goals included match winners versus FC Luzern (July 23, 2008), Liechtenstein-based outfit FC Vaduz (Dec. 14, 2008) and strikes in both league contests versus arch-rivals Grasshopper Club Zürich (Aug. 10, 2008 & May 29, 2009). Rochat also started both games in FC Zürich's run to the Schweizer Cup quarterfinals that season, as well as the first leg of the club's UEFA Cup second qualifying round match-up versus Austria's SK Sturm Graz on Aug. 14, 2008. 2007-08: After making his move to FC Zürich permanent, the defender scored his first goal for the club, as they defeated FC Luzern 4-1 on July 26, 2007. Rochat went on to make 28 appearances in his second season with FC Zürich, as they finished third in the Swiss Super League. He also recorded an assist in FC Zürich's quarterfinal defeat to FC Thun in the Schweizer Cup (Swiss Cup) on Dec. 15, 2007. Rochat also appeared in European club competition that season, starting with both legs in the third qualifying round of the UEFA Champions League, as FC Zürich fell 3-1 on aggregate to Turkish club Beşiktaş J.K. in Aug. 2007. After failing to reach the UEFA Champions League group stages, FC Zürich took part in the UEFA Cup, with Rochat making eight appearances for the Swiss outfit, as they reached the Round of 32 before falling 3-1 on aggregate to German giants Hamburger SV. The defender scored FC Zürich's only goal during a 3-1 first-leg defeat at home to Hamburg on Feb. 14, 2008. 2006-07: After an unsuccessful spell in France with Stade Rennais Football Club, Rochat returned to his native Switzerland when he joined FC Zürich on a season-long loan. The defender started 11 of his 17 appearances that season, as Rochat won the first of two Swiss Super League championship titles with the club. He also recorded an assist on Blerim Dzemaili's goal during a 2-0 win at FC Thun on Dec. 2, 2006. 2004-05: The centre back scored two goals in 33 appearances for Young Boys, who finished fourth in the Swiss Super League that year. One of those goals came in a 3-1 victory at FC Aarau on Aug. 21, 2004. 2003-04: With Nationalliga A changing its name to the Swiss Super League, and the elimination of the playoffs to determine the league champion, Rochat helped Young Boys to a runners-up finish after making 35 appearances for the club that season. 2002-03: Rochat scored two goals in 34 appearances for Young Boys, as the Bern outfit finished seventh in the regular season standings and fourth in the championship playoffs. 2001-02: Rochat split his time between Yverdon-Sport and Berner Sport Club (BSC) Young Boys during his third season. Rochat scored five goals in 21 appearances for Yverdon-Sport, as they finished just outside the promotion playoff places in Nationalliga B. The centre back then returned to Nationalliga A when he joined BSC Young Boys in Jan. 2002. He scored one goal in 13 appearances with the Bern-based club, as Young Boys finished seventh in the championship playoffs. 2000-01: The teenage Rochat made a more telling contribution in his second season at Yverdon-Sport, as the centre back scored two goals in 28 appearances. Unfortunately, Yverdon-Sport's tenth-place finish in Nationalliga A resulted in relegation to Switzerland's second-tier Nationalliga B. 1999-2000: Rochat made his professional debut with Yverdon-Sport FC in Switzerland's top-flight Nationalliga A. The defender made three appearances in his first season with the club, as Yverdon-Sport finished fifth in the regular season standings and bottom in the championship playoff standings.

FRENCH LIGUE

2006-07: Rochat started one match for Stade Rennais reserves in Group D of the fourth-tier Championnat de France Amateur (CFA) before returning to his native Switzerland when he joined FC Zürich on a season-long loan. 2005-06: Rochat made his first venture abroad in June 2005 when he joined Stade Rennais Football Club in France's top-flight Ligue 1. The defender started four of his nine appearances for the Brittany-based outfit, as Stade Rennais finished seventh in Ligue 1 that season. He also started one match in France's Coupe de la Ligue (League Cup) and made another start for the club in their final UEFA Cup Group G match, as Stade Rennais fell 5-1 away to Greek club PAOK Thessaloniki on Dec. 14, 2005.

INTERNATIONAL

Though born in Canada, Rochat has represented Switzerland at youth and senior international level. Senior: Rochat made his senior international debut on June 4, 2005, as Switzerland claimed a 3-1 away victory over Faroe Islands in Group Four of European qualifying for the 2006 FIFA World Cup in Germany. U-21: After making several appearances for Switzerland's U-16, U-18, and U-19 national teams, the defender became the youngest member of Switzerland's U-21 squad that hosted the UEFA European U-21 Championship tournament in 2002. Led by head coach Bernard Challandes, the Swiss finished runners-up in Group A before losing 2-0 to France in the semifinals on May 25, 2002. Two years later, Rochat played alongside Whitecaps FC teammate Davide Chiumiento during his country's appearance at the 2004 UEFA European U-21 Championship in Germany. Switzerland finished bottom of Group B behind Sweden, Portugal, and hosts Germany.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

The centre back played youth soccer for FC Grandson-Tuilleries in his native Switzerland before moving to Yverdon-Sport FC in 1995.

PERSONAL

A dual citizen of both Canada and Switzerland, Rochat was born in Saint-Jean-sur-Richelieu, Quebec, and lived in nearby Sainte-Sabine, Quebec, before moving with his family to Switzerland when he was just two years of age. As a student, Rochat attended Centre professionnel du Nord Vaudois in Yverdon-les-Bains, Switzerland, as well as Écoles Primaire and Secondaire Grandson in nearby Grandson, Switzerland. His parents are Sylvie and Yvan Rochat, and he has two older sisters and one younger brother. The defender married his wife Emilie in July 2006 and has two children named Malicia and Nathéo. U-17, U-20, and U-23 Olympic levels. Senior: As a 15-year-old, Harris made his senior international debut for Saint Kitts and Nevis in 2000. With seven goals in 22 appearances for the Caribbean nation, Harris played in the semifinal round of CONCACAF qualifying for the 2006 FIFA World Cup in Germany, as The Sugar Boyz finished bottom of Group Three. On Feb. 6, 2008, the midfielder/striker appeared for Saint Kitts and Nevis in the first leg of their Stage One qualifying playoff versus Belize in Guatemala City, Guatemala. Belize won the two-leg playoff 4-2 on aggregate and advanced to the next stage of qualifying for the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his soccer career, Rochat enjoys reading, playing tennis and video games, and watching ice hockey. In fact, the defender is a big fan of the NHL's Montreal Canadiens. As a youngster, Rochat was a fan of Italian giants AC Milan, while he also enjoys watching the English Premier League. The defender is also an admirer of Bayern Munich and Germany striker Miroslav Klose, as well as Barcelona and Spain stars Xavi and Andres Iniesta.

Acquired: Selected first overall in MLS SuperDraft on January 13, 2011
Whitecaps FC 2011

PROFILE

A dangerous striker who scored on his debut with the United States U-20 national team as a 16-year-old, Generation adidas signing Omar Eduardo Salgado joined Whitecaps FC after being selected first overall in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft in Baltimore, Maryland. A tall forward with great potential, the native of El Paso, Texas, had previously trained with Vancouver's USSF D-2 Pro League squad in Aug. 2010.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: After leaving Mexican giants Club Deportivo Guadalajara in order to accept a call-up with the USA U-20 squad, Salgado opted to sign with MLS as a member of the 'Generation adidas' player development program on July 26. On Nov. 8, the striker trained with D.C. United. 2011: Salgado was selected first overall in the MLS SuperDraft by Whitecaps FC on Jan. 13.

ENGLISH PREMIER LEAGUE

2010: From Sept. 27 to Oct. 8, Salgado trained with English Premier League side Everton FC.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Though he initially joined Whitecaps FC on a three-month loan from MLS on Aug. 10, Salgado was unable to complete his loan deal with Vancouver after MLS was unable to complete his registration in time. After training for five days with Whitecaps FC, Salgado returned to the United States. Later that month, Salgado had a short training spell with Vancouver's 2011 MLS expansion cousins Portland Timbers.

MEXICAN PRIMERA DIVISIÓN

2009-10: As a 15-year-old, Salgado left his hometown of El Paso, Texas, to join Mexican giants Club Deportivo Guadalajara - better known as Chivas (Goats) - in Jan. 2009. As a member of the Chivas reserves, the striker scored seven goals in 10 appearances. He also spent time with the club's U-17 squad, where in Jan. 2010, Salgado was named Player of the Tournament in South America's U-17 Copa Libertadores competition. In June 2010, the striker then ended his time with Chivas after accepting a call-up to the USA U-20 national team. The striker's decision to play for the United States put him at odds with Chivas' policy of using players that are only eligible to represent Mexico.

INTERNATIONAL

U-20: After training and travelling with the Mexican U-20 side in March and April of 2010, Salgado opted to represent the USA U-20 men's national team at the 2010 Milk Cup international youth tournament in Northern Ireland. As a 16-year-old, Salgado appeared in all three of the USA's matches, as the American U-20 squad claimed the Elite tournament championship title. On Jul. 26, 2010, Salgado scored his first international goal in his USA U-20 debut, as they defeated China 1-0 in their tournament opener.

U-17: In the fall of 2008, Salgado spent four months with USA U-17 Residency Program in Bradenton, Florida.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

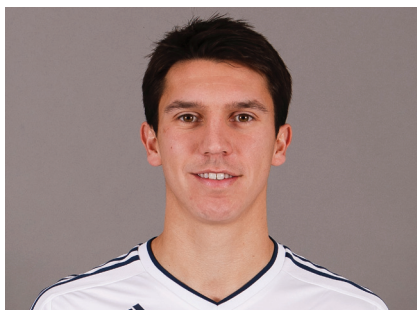

From 2004 to 2008, Salgado was a member of the Texas Fire Soccer Club in his hometown of El Paso, Texas. As a student, Salgado attended St. Joseph School in El Paso, Texas, before attending El Paso's Cathedral High School from August to September 2008. In the fall of 2008, Salgado moved to Bradenton Preparatory Academy in Bradenton, Florida, as a member of the USA U-17 Residency Program.

PERSONAL

Born and raised in El Paso, Texas, Salgado is a dual American and Mexican citizen. The striker was born to an American mother named Annalu and a Mexican father with Spanish heritage named Eduardo. He has two younger siblings named Natalia and Dante.

INTERESTING FACTS

Salgado is a fan of Spanish and European giants Real Madrid, while his favourite player is Barcelona and Argentina striker Lionel Messi. When not concentrating on his soccer career, Salgado enjoys watching movies.

PROFILE

A speedy and skilful winger, Robert O'Shea (Shea) Salinas joined Whitecaps FC after being selected in the fourth round (eighth overall) of the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. The native of Lubbock, Texas, has previous Major League Soccer experience with expansion clubs San Jose Earthquakes and Philadelphia Union.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: As a member of Philadelphia Union, Salinas started seven of his 17 regular season appearances for the expansion outfit. His only goal for the Pennsylvania club came in a 3-2 victory at Houston Dynamo on May 29. On Nov. 24, Whitecaps FC acquired the winger during the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. 2009: The winger was second in assists with five at San Jose, having started 13 of his 23 MLS regular season appearances that year. He also appeared in the Earthquakes' 2-1 home defeat to New York Red Bulls in the qualification semifinals for the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on Apr. 29. On Nov. 25, Salinas was the eighth pick by expansion club Philadelphia Union in the 2009 MLS Expansion Draft. 2008: Selected as the top pick in the second round (15th overall) of the 2008 MLS SuperDraft, Salinas became a member of the re-born San Jose Earthquakes when they returned to MLS as an expansion club that season. The winger was only the third rookie since 2001 to start a season opener for the Earthquakes, as he played 57 minutes as a striker in a 2-0 defeat at Los Angeles Galaxy on Apr. 3. Though he made just two starts during his 23 appearances that year, Salinas registered two goals for the California-based outfit in their final two games of the regular season. The first goal of his MLS career came in a 3-2 defeat at Kansas City Wizards (now Sporting Kansas City) on Oct. 18. He then scored from the penalty spot in a 2-0 home win over Toronto FC on Oct. 25. The midfielder also started San Jose's 4-0 away defeat to Real Salt Lake in the first round of qualifying for the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on Apr. 30.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER RESERVE DIVISION

2008: In his rookie season in MLS, Salinas had a goal and two assists for San Jose Earthquakes reserves. He scored versus Real Salt Lake on Sept. 28 and recorded assists at Houston Dynamo (Oct. 15) and Chivas USA (Oct. 21).

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES SECOND DIVISION

2010: One of three Philadelphia Union players to be loaned to USL-2 club Harrisburg City Islanders, Salinas appeared in the club's season opener on Apr. 17, as Harrisburg drew 2-2 at Richmond Kickers.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES FIRST DIVISION

2008: During his first MLS season with San Jose Earthquakes, Salinas made one appearance on loan with then USL-1 club Charleston Battery, as he started the 1-1 away draw versus Portland Timbers on Aug. 9.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES PREMIER DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

2007: As a member of Carolina Dynamo, Salinas was the club's Most Valuable Player and named to the PDL's All-Southern Conference Team after scoring seven goals and recording five assists in 13 appearances that year. In two Southern Conference, Southeast Division match-ups, the winger scored two goals and recorded one assist. The first time was on June 23 in an 8-0 home win over Cocoa Expos, while the second time was on July 14 in a 4-0 win at home to Central Florida Kraze. The Dynamo reached the Southern Conference playoff final before falling to eventual PDL champions Laredo Heat on July 28. 2006: In his second season with the Tornados, Salinas assisted on Robert Luevano's winning goal in a 2-1 home victory over Laredo Heat on June 23 before scoring in a 3-2 home win over Austin Lightning two days later. 2005: The winger played the first of three PDL seasons with Dallas-Fort Worth Tornados. In nine appearances in the PDL's Southern Conference, Mid South Division, Salinas scored goals in a 4-3 defeat at Austin Lightning on June 18 and in a 3-1 defeat at Nashville Metros on July 8.

COLLEGE

Salinas enjoyed a productive NCAA Division I career with Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina. 2007: As a senior, Salinas was named to the NSCAA All-American Third Team, NSCAA Scholar All-American First Team, and NSCAA All-South Region First Team after registering a career-high five goals and nine assists for the Paladins that season. The winger's efforts also earned him a place on the All-Southern Conference First Team. 2006: The winger was named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-South Region Third Team and the All-Southern Conference First Team after registering three goals and seven assists during his junior year. 2005: As a sophomore, Salinas registered four goals and four assists in 18 appearances for the Paladins that season. 2004: As a freshman, the winger scored two goals and added one assist for the Paladins, with his first NCAA career goal versus Gardner-Webb University on Sept. 19.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Salinas had a fine high school career at Grapevine High School in Grapevine, Texas. As a member of the Mustangs, the winger led Grapevine to three bi-district championship titles in four seasons. As a senior, Salinas captained the Mustangs and earned district Most Valuable Player honours after leading the team in goals and assists. At youth level, the midfielder spent five years with Dallas Texans before spending three years with Club Dallas (Pumas). His last year of youth soccer was spent with Solar Soccer Club in Dallas, Texas, where led the team in goals with 17, as Solar '86 claimed Classic League Grand Championship and Texas state cup championship titles.

PERSONAL

Born and raised in Lubbock, Texas, the winger's parents are Mickey and Jerry Salinas. As a student at Furman University, Salinas was a health and exercise science major.

INTERESTING FACTS

An avid runner, Salinas was a high school district champion in the mile and the five-kilometre run as a track & field/cross country athlete. The winger's favourite food is Mexican.

PROFILE

A big, imposing goalkeeper that has represented the United States at U-17 and U-20 international levels, Brian Sylvestre joined Whitecaps FC's inaugural Major League Soccer roster as a homegrown player. The native of Hollywood, Florida, is a product of Whitecaps FC Residency, having joined the full-time program back on Feb. 12, 2010.

VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC RESIDENCY

2009-10: Sylvestre made his Residency team debut during the team's U-19 Super Group campaign at Dallas Cup XXXI in Mar. 2010. The keeper started all three of Vancouver's matches, which included a 3-0 defeat to Germany's Eintracht Frankfurt (Mar. 28), a 1-0 defeat to the United States national team (91/92) (Mar. 29), and a 1-0 loss to the Mexican national team (91/92) (Mar. 31). In May 2010, Sylvestre travelled with the Residency squad to Germany to compete in the Sternwede International U-19 Youth Tournament. Sylvestre started three of Vancouver's four matches during the tournament, including a 1-1 draw versus England's Portsmouth FC Academy (May 21), a 2-2 draw with Denmark's Aalborg BK (May 22), and a penalty shootout defeat to Germany's VfL Osnabrück (May 23). He then picked up his first win as a member of the 'Caps when they defeated JFV Jung-Elstern U-19's 3-2 in a friendly on May 26.

INTERNATIONAL

U-20: The keeper earned a call-up to the United States U-20 squad for a Jan. 2011 camp in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. U-17: Sylvestre was a member of the United States U-17 Residency Program in Bradenton, Florida. As part of the program, the keeper took part in the 2007 Development League Fall Showcase and the 2009 Development League Winter Showcase. On Oct. 8, 2007, Sylvestre recorded a clean sheet in the USA U-17's 7-0 victory over United Soccer Leagues Second Division club Richmond Kickers at The Home Depot Center in Carson, California.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

During the 2008-09 season, Sylvestre was a member of the Schultz Academy U-16 squad, which at one point, was ranked second behind Major League Soccer (MLS) club FC Dallas in the U.S. Soccer Development Academy rankings. Schultz Academy went unbeaten in their first 14 matches, only allowing three goals against in the process. The following season, Weston FC replaced Schultz Academy as the second South Florida team in the Development League, with Sylvestre making the switch as well. The 'keeper was undefeated in his first four matches with Weston FC's U-17/U-18 side, however, the team finished seventh in the U.S. Soccer Development Academy South Conference, Southeast Division. Sylvestre also played youth soccer with the Florida

Weight: 150
Born: October 17, 1979
Birthplace: Johannesburg, South Africa
Hometown: Los Angeles, CA

Citizenship: South Africa / United States
Last Team: Chicago Fire (MLS)
Acquired: Expansion Draft on November 24, 2010
Whitecaps FC: 2011

PROFILE

An experienced midfielder that enjoyed spells in England and Germany, John Thorrington joined Whitecaps FC after being selected in the tenth round (20th overall) of the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. Born in Johannesburg, South Africa, and raised in Palos Verdes Peninsula, California, Thorrington spent time with European clubs Manchester United FC and Bayer Leverkusen before embarking on a six-year career with Major League Soccer club Chicago Fire.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2010: Injury problems restricted the midfielder to just five starts in his final season with Chicago, with his only goal coming from the penalty spot in a 2-1 defeat at Seattle Sounders FC on Aug. 28. On Nov. 24, Whitecaps FC acquired the midfielder during the 2010 MLS Expansion Draft. 2009: Thorrington started all 19 of his appearances for Chicago that season, with the midfielder recording an assist in a 2-1 defeat at D.C. United on June 13. He also started one match in Group A of the North American SuperLiga competition, with the Fire reaching the final before losing to Mexican club Tigres de la Universidad de Nuevo León (UANL). On Nov. 7, the midfielder scored in the second leg of the Eastern Conference Semifinals against New England Revolution, with the Fire winning the series 3-2 on aggregate. 2008: Fully recovered from his leg injury, Thorrington started all but two of his 23 regular season appearances for the

Fire that season. His five goals included a two-goal performance in a 2-1 home win over Colorado Rapids on Apr. 26, and a goal and an assist in a 3-0 win at New England Revolution on May 3. The midfielder also scored the winning goals in a 2-1 victory over Toronto FC on July 12 and a 1-0 win at Los Angeles Galaxy on Aug. 21. His efforts earned him the MLS Player of the Week award for Week 16. Thorrington also started both legs of the Eastern Conference Semifinals versus New England Revolution on Oct. 30 and Nov. 6, as well as the Eastern Conference Championship defeat at Columbus Crew on Nov. 13. He also played in the 2-1 extra-time defeat at D.C. United in the quarterfinals of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup on July 8. 2007: The midfielder spent much of the 2007 season recovering from his right leg injury, with Thorrington re-signing with Chicago on Sept. 14 after being waived by the Fire on Mar. 5. On Oct. 21, he came off the substitutes' bench to score the match winner over Los Angeles Galaxy in second-half time added on. He also briefly appeared in the first leg of Eastern Conference Semifinals versus D.C. United, as the Fire won 1-0 at home on Oct. 25. Chicago won the series 3-2 on aggregate. 2006: The midfielder endured a tough second season with the Fire, as a broken right leg and knee sprain sustained in training on June 8 had him sidelined for 10 weeks and restricted him to just two regular season appearances. 2005: After eight years playing in Europe, Thorrington returned home to the United States and Major League Soccer by joining Chicago

Fire. The midfielder started half of his eight regular season appearances for the Illinois outfit, with his MLS debut coming in a 3-0 defeat versus New York/New Jersey MetroStars (now New York Red Bulls) on May 14. His first MLS goal proved to be the match winner in a 1-0 victory over Los Angeles Galaxy on Aug. 13. Thorrrington also helped the Fire reach the semifinals of the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup after starting two of Chicago's four matches in the competition. This included a role in the Fire's equalizer at former United Soccer Leagues First Division side Rochester Rhinos in the quarterfinals on Aug. 24. After a 1-1 extra-time draw, Chicago won 5-4 on penalties in Upstate New York.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER RESERVE DIVISION

2008: The midfielder made one start for the Fire reserves. 2007: Thorrrington registered four goals and an assist in four reserve appearances for Chicago that year. 2006: The midfielder made two appearances during his second season with the Fire reserves. 2005: In the inaugural season of the MLS Reserve Division, Thorrrington made three starts for Chicago Fire reserves, with his first appearance for the club coming in the Fire reserves' 1-0 defeat at New England Revolution on May 8.

ENGLAND

2003-04: Thorrrington made just five league appearances in Division Three for Huddersfield that season. His last goal for The Terriers came in the first round of the English League Cup, as Huddersfield knocked off Division One side Derby County FC 2-1 at home on Aug. 12, 2003. On transfer deadline day (Mar. 11, 2004), the midfielder returned to Division Two when he joined Grimsby Town FC. Thorrrington made three appearances for The Mariners, with his Grimsby debut coming on Mar. 13, 2004, in a 1-1 home draw with AFC Bournemouth. The midfielder was unable to help keep Grimsby in Division Two, as they were relegated at season's end. 2002-03: Thorrrington endured a more challenging second season with Huddersfield, as The Terriers suffered relegation to the fourth-tier Football League Division Three (now English League Two) at the end of the campaign. He 31 appearances, with his only league goal that year coming in a 2-1 defeat at Plymouth

Argyle FC on Aug. 13, 2002. The midfielder started the first-round defeat at Wrexham FC in English League Trophy on Oct. 22, 2002. He also made a substitute appearance in the English League Cup and the English FA Cup first-round defeat at Swindon Town FC on Nov. 16, 2002. 2001-02: After not making a first-team appearance at Manchester United FC and Bayer Leverkusen, Thorrrington joined Huddersfield Town FC on a free transfer in the summer of 2001. Playing in England's third-tier Football League Division Two (now English League One), the midfielder made his Terriers debut on opening day, as Huddersfield defeated AFC Bournemouth 1-0 at home on Aug. 11, 2001. His first goal for the West Yorkshire outfit came on Sept. 2, 2001, in a 2-1 home win over Wycombe Wanderers FC. He also appeared in the 1-0 home defeat to Division Three side Rochdale FC in the first round of the English League Cup on Aug. 21, 2001, and scored in the penalty shootout win at home to Division Three club Halifax Town FC in the first round (northern section) of the English Football League Trophy on Oct. 16, 2001. With a sixth-place finish in the Division Two standings, Huddersfield reached the end-of-season promotion playoffs, with Thorrrington appearing in both legs of the playoff semifinal defeat to Brentford FC on Apr. 28 and May 1, 2002. 2000-01: Following his spell in Germany, Thorrrington had a short trial with Bolton Wanderers FC of the second-tier English Football League Division One (now English League Championship). 1997-99: Thorrrington became the youngest American player to sign for an English Premier League club when he joined Manchester United FC as a 17-year-old. The midfielder spent three years with the English giants, having appeared with United's reserve side before departing to Germany and Bayer Leverkusen in 1999.

GERMAN BUNDESLIGA

After spending time at English Premier League giants Manchester United FC, Thorrrington moved to Germany and joined Bundesliga powerhouse Bayer Leverkusen in 1999. He played alongside fellow American and MLS campaigner Landon Donovan in Bayer's reserve side before returning to England during the 2000-01 season.

INTERNATIONAL

Though born in South Africa, Thorrington chose to represent the United States after securing his American citizenship in January 1999. Senior: The midfielder has made four appearances at the senior international level for the USA, with his debut coming as a substitute in a 1-1 friendly draw with Ecuador in Columbus, Ohio, on June 7, 2001. The midfielder also appeared in two CONCACAF qualifying matches for the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa. They included the 1-0 away win over Barbados in the first leg of the Stage Two qualifying playoff on June 22, 2008, and the 2-0 home win over Guatemala in semifinal stage Group One in Commerce City, Colorado, on Nov. 19. His last appearance for the Americans came on Jan. 24, 2009, as the USA defeated Sweden 3-2 in a friendly in Carson, California. U-23: Thorrington made four appearances for the USA U-23 Olympic team, helping Clive Charles' squad reach the final of the 2000 CONCACAF Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Hershey, Pennsylvania. The midfielder scored in a 3-0 final-round victory over Honduras on Apr. 20, 2000. Though the Americans secured their spot in the 2000 Men's Olympic Football Tournament in Sydney, Australia, Thorrington missed the Sydney Olympics after suffering a hamstring injury in the build-up. U-20: The midfielder made his USA debut with the U-20 squad in a 1-0 friendly win over Denmark on Jan. 24, 1999, before scoring his first international goal during a 1-1 friendly draw with Morocco on Mar. 10. Led by current Seattle Sounders FC head coach Sigi Schmid, Thorrington was a member of the USA squad that reached Round of 16 at the 1999 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Nigeria. The midfielder started three of the Americans' four matches at Nigeria 1999.

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Before making his move to England and Manchester United FC, Thorrington was named California Interscholastic Federation Southern Section Division V Player of the Year as a member of Chadwick School Dolphins boys soccer team in 1996 and 1997.

PERSONAL

Born in Johannesburg, South Africa, the midfielder moved to the United States with his family and settled in Palos Verdes Peninsula, California, which is located just south of the city of Los Angeles. As a student, he attended Chadwick School in Palos Verdes Peninsula, California, before moving to England in 1997. In January 1999, the midfielder acquired United States citizenship. His parents are Monique and Peter Thorrington.

INTERESTING FACTS

The midfielder lists Manchester United legend Eric Cantona as his favourite all-time player. When not concentrating on his soccer career, Thorrington enjoys cooking, reading, surfing, and travelling. His favourite movies include 'The Usual Suspects', 'Anchorman', and 'Braveheart'. The midfielder also donates his time and service to a handful of community and charitable organizations. They have included The Joshua Center, Opportunity International, and Gospel for Asia.

BLAKE WAGNER
DEFENDER/MIDFIELDER

Position: Defender / Midfielder
 Height: 5-10
 Weight: 165
 DOB: January 29, 1988
 Birthplace: Atlanta, GA
 Hometown: Tampa, FL

Citizenship: United States
 Last Team: Whitecaps FC (USFF D-2)
 Whitecaps FC: 2010, 2011

PROFILE

A left-sided player who can play in defence or in midfield, Blake Wagner first joined Whitecaps FC on Feb. 2, 2010, after spending four seasons in Major League Soccer with FC Dallas.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Following an extended period on the sidelines with a foot injury, Wagner made his Whitecaps FC debut as a second-half substitute in the 2-1 victory away to Canadian rivals Montreal Impact on June 30 after replacing striker Randy Edwini-Bonsu at halftime. His first Whitecaps start came in the next match on July 3, as the winger played 78 minutes of a 0-0 away draw with Pacific Northwest rivals Portland Timbers. Wagner then claimed his first Whitecaps FC point when he assisted on Randy Edwini-Bonsu's equalizer during a 1-1 home draw with Athletic Club of St. Louis on July 8. He then registered a hat-trick, and subsequently his first three goals, for the Whitecaps in a 3-1 home win over Miami FC on July 14. Wagner then scored a highlight goal from distance during a 1-1 away draw versus FC Tampa Bay on Aug. 19.

MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

2009: Wagner started around half of his 15 appearances during his final season with FC Dallas. His final appearance for the club came as a late second-half substitute, as Wagner replaced Dutch midfielder Dave van den Bergh during a 2-1 victory at San Jose Earthquakes on Oct. 7, 2008: His third season with FC Dallas proved to be his most productive MLS campaign, as Wagner started all but one of his 24 appearances as a left-sided player, with two-thirds of those starts coming at left fullback. He also recorded an assist in three reserve team matches and started both of FC Dallas' games in the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup. This included all 90 minutes of their 2-1 victory over former United Soccer Leagues First Division (USL-1) club Miami FC in the third round on July 1 and the majority of the 3-1 home defeat to former USL-1 club Charleston Battery in the quarterfinals on July 8. Wagner also appeared in four of FC Dallas' six international friendly matches that season. 2007: Wagner was on FC Dallas' substitutes' bench on a dozen occasions during his second season with the club before making his MLS debut on Sept. 30 when he started at left fullback during a 3-0 home defeat to Texas arch-rivals Houston Dynamo. He also started 11 of 12 reserve team matches for the club that year. 2006: Wagner was selected in the second round (18th overall) of the 2006 MLS SuperDraft after initially signing on with the league as a Generation adidas player. He made his debut for the Texas-based club on July 19 during a 2-0 win over Mexican outfit Club Deportivo Universidad Autonoma de Nuevo Leon (Tigres UANL) in the first leg of the two-match Rio Grande Plate friendly series. The defender/midfielder's first start for FC Dallas came a week later in the second leg in Monterrey, Mexico, as the MLS side won the friendly competition 5-4 on penalties after losing the second leg 2-0 for a 2-2 aggregate draw. He also started all but one of his eight appearances for FC Dallas reserves that season, playing primarily at left fullback, but also seeing action at centre back, as well as in central and left midfield.

INTERNATIONAL

U-17: From 2003 to 2005, Wagner was a member of the United States U-17 national team Residency Program in Bradenton, Florida. As a member of the USA U-17 squad, the defender/midfielder made 20 appearances, scoring his first-ever international goal in a 4-3 friendly defeat to Uruguay U-17's in Porte Alegre, Brazil, on July 15, 2005. Wagner also appeared in all four of the USA's matches at the 2005 FIFA U-17 World Cup in Peru. Those matches included all three contests in Group C versus North Korea (Sept. 17), Italy (Sept. 20), and Côte d'Ivoire (Sept. 23), as well as the 2-0 quarterfinal defeat to the Netherlands on Sept. 26. U-20: Wagner was involved with the USA U-20 squad throughout much of 2006. He attended a camp in Argentina in April of that year, where he earned a start in the 4-0 friendly defeat to Argentina U-20's on Apr. 26. He then attended a training camp in Canada in July 2006 before participating in the 2006 Milk Cup tournament in Northern Ireland and the Busan International U-20 Four Nations Tournament in South Korea. His last U-20 appearance came as a late substitute at FC Dallas' Pizza Hut Park, as the American U-20's defeated Haiti's senior national team 2-1 on Mar. 28, 2007. U-23: With the USA U-23 Olympic squad, Wagner started all three Group B matches at the 2008 Toulon International Tournament in Toulon, France. Those matches included the 3-2 defeat to Turkey (May 21), the 1-0 defeat to Côte d'Ivoire (May 23), and the 2-0 defeat to Italy (May 25).

HIGH SCHOOL/AMATEUR

Wagner attended and played soccer for Paul R. Wharton High School in Tampa, Florida, during his freshman year before moving to the USA U-17 Residency Program in 2003. It was with the Residency Program that the defender/midfielder finished high school a year early at the Edison Academic Center in Bradenton, Florida. Wagner was also a student at Hunter's Green Elementary School in Tampa, Florida. As a youth player, Wagner won three Florida state championships with Tampa's Black Watch Soccer Club. He also played one year with Hillsborough County United Soccer Club (HC United) in Tampa, Florida. Wagner initially committed to playing NCAA Division I soccer with the University of Maryland before opting to sign a Generation adidas contract with MLS in 2006.

PERSONAL

Born in Atlanta, Georgia, Wagner moved with his family to San Diego, California, when he was just 10 months old. By the time the defender/midfielder was four years old, Wagner moved again with his family to his current hometown of Tampa, Florida. His parents are Carol and Bo Wagner. He has two older brothers named Brandon and Brett, and a younger sister named Allegra.

INTERESTING FACTS

Wagner is a fan of Dutch giants Ajax Amsterdam and the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers. When not concentrating on his professional soccer career, the defender/midfielder enjoys spending time at the beach and surfing, while he also enjoys winter sports like skiing and snowboarding.

PROFILE

Born in the disputed Balkan region of Kosovo, midfielder Bedri Gashi joined Whitecaps FC on Sept. 8, 2010, after spending four years in the youth set-up at Swiss club FC Lausanne-Sport. The native of Lausanne, Switzerland, can play on either the left or right side of midfield.

SWITZERLAND

After starting his soccer career with Lausanne's FC La Sallaz, a 14-year-old Gashi joined the youth set-up at FC Lausanne-Sport, who currently play in Switzerland's second-tier Challenge League. From 2006 to 2010, the midfielder played for the club's U-15 and U-16 squads (known as Team Lausanne-Vaud) and Lausanne-Sport's U-18 and U-21 sides (known as Team Vaud). During the 2005-06 season, Gashi led Team Lausanne-Vaud U-15's to a Swiss Junior League championship title, as well as the 2006 Winterthur tournament title in Winterthur, Switzerland. As a member of Team Vaud U-18's, the midfielder won the 2010 U-19 Yokohama Cup tournament title in Ostrach, Germany. At the Yokohama Cup, Gashi faced U-19 sides from Germany's VfL Bochum, Denmark's FC Copenhagen, Austria's SK Rapid Vienna, and Czech Republic outfit FC Viktoria Pilsen.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

Gashi started his soccer career as a six-year-old when he joined FC La Sallaz shortly following his move to Lausanne, Switzerland, in 1999. The midfielder spent seven years with La Sallaz before moving to the youth set-up at FC Lausanne-Sport in 2006.

PERSONAL

Born in Pristina, Kosovo, Gashi and his family moved to Zürich, Switzerland, in 1998 following political tension in the Balkan region. A year later, the midfielder and his family settled in Lausanne, Switzerland. A Swiss citizen of Albanian origin, Gashi was a student at l'Ecole professionnelle commerciale de Lausanne and Collège de Béthusy in his hometown. His parents are Lutfiye and Vehbi Gashi, while he has two brothers named Arsim and Arben.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his soccer career, Gashi enjoys listening to music, swimming, playing video games, and watching comedy films. He enjoys watching Spanish giants FC Barcelona and England's Arsenal FC play, as well as the Argentine national team. The midfielder is an admirer of Barcelona and Argentina star Lionel Messi, Real Madrid and Portugal icon Cristiano Ronaldo, and French legend Zinedine Zidane.

PROFILE

A midfielder/striker that has represented his native Saint Vincent and the Grenadines at youth and senior international level, Cornelius Stewart initially joined the Whitecaps as a member of the club's Residency program for the 2009-2010 year.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION DIVISION-2 PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

2010: Stewart was named Whitecaps FC Newcomer of the Year after a solid first season with the club as a striker and an attacking winger. He made his Whitecaps FC debut during the goalless home draw versus Canadian arch-rivals Montreal Impact on May 15, and then scored his first Whitecaps FC goal in only his third start for the club, as Stewart struck the match winner in a 2-0 home win over Rochester Rhinos on May 22. His first league assist came on June 16 when he set up Ansu Toure's goal during a 1-1 away draw with Puerto Rico Islanders. On July 14, Stewart set up Blake Wagner's second goal for the club during a 3-1 home win over Miami FC before assisting on Martin Nash's equalizer during a 1-1 draw at home to NSC Minnesota Stars on July 25. He earned another Nash assist, and against Minnesota, when he set up the Vancouver captain's winning goal during a 1-0 away victory over the Stars on Aug. 14. Stewart then registered a goal and an assist during a 2-2 home draw versus Austin Aztex on Aug. 29.

2010: Stewart made his PDL debut on May 8, as Whitecaps Residency fell 3-2 in their season opener at local rivals Victoria Highlanders FC.

INTERNATIONAL

Senior: The midfielder/striker made his senior international debut with Saint Vincent and the Grenadines during the second match of their two-leg qualifying series versus Canada for the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa. Stewart played 79 minutes of his country's 4-1 defeat to the Canadians at Stade Saputo in Montreal, Quebec, on June 20, 2008. Then serving as captain, Stewart made three starts for Vincy Heat in the first round of the 2010 Caribbean Cup, as Saint Vincent and the Grenadines hosted Group B. This included a goal in a 7-0 victory over Montserrat on Oct. 6, 2010. Saint Vincent and the Grenadines finished second in Group B and qualified for the second-round group stage, where they faced Guyana, Haiti, and hosts Trinidad & Tobago in early November. Stewart started all three Group F matches and scored in a 6-2 defeat to Trinidad & Tobago on Nov. 2, 2010. Saint Vincent and the Grenadines were eliminated from the 2010 Caribbean Cup after finishing bottom of Group F. U-20: Stewart has scored 13 goals in eight appearances for the Saint Vincent and the Grenadines U-20 national team. Eight of those goals came in the first round of

Caribbean qualifying towards the 2009 CONCACAF U-20 Championship. He scored both goals in their opening Group D match in St. George's, Grenada, as the Vincy Heat U-20's defeated Guyana 2-1 on May 14, 2008. Two days later, Stewart struck five goals in his country's 23-1 demolition of British Virgin Islands. Then on May 18, 2008, the midfielder/striker scored the match winner in a 1-0 win over hosts Grenada. In the second round of Caribbean qualifying, Stewart scored the match winner in a 1-0 victory over St. Kitts & Nevis in Group G on Oct. 13, 2008. He then captained the squad in a goalless draw with second-round hosts Netherlands Antilles two days later. In the final round of Caribbean qualifying in Kingstown, Saint Vincent, the midfielder/striker scored in a 1-0 win over Haiti on Jan. 11, 2009, as they finished second behind group winners Jamaica. This led Vincy Heat U-20's to a one-match qualification playoff for the 2009 CONCACAF U-20 Championship in Trinidad & Tobago. On Mar. 2, 2009, captain Stewart scored his country's only goal from the penalty spot before Honduras rallied to win the playoff 3-1. The result ended Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' hopes of competing towards qualification for the 2009 FIFA

U-20 World Cup in Egypt.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

Stewart played his youth soccer with System 3 FC on the island of Saint Vincent from 2001 to 2007. He then moved to Hope International Football Club of the Saint Vincent and the Grenadines National League Championship for the 2007-08 season.

PERSONAL

Though born in Kingstown on the island of Saint Vincent, Stewart grew up in the nearby suburb of Questelles. The midfielder/striker was a student at Intermediate High School in Kingstown from 2003 to 2009. Beforehand, Stewart studied at Kingstown Anglican Primary School.

INTERESTING FACTS

When not concentrating on his soccer career, Stewart enjoys the sports of cricket and track & field, as well as spending time with friends.

2-1 home defeat to Seattle Wolves on June 5. Teibert also recorded two assists during the Residency team's 6-0 home win over Spokane Spiders on June 13. Teibert started all of his 14 appearances in his rookie season in the PDL.

VANCOUVER WHITECAPS FC RESIDENCY

2009-10: Teibert started all five friendly matches of the Residency team's two-week trip to Spain in Nov. 2009, scoring a goal in each of the first three games in the Spanish capital. Those strikes came against Club Atlético de Madrid (Nov. 4), Getafe Club de Fútbol (Nov. 5), and Torrelodones Club de Fútbol (Nov. 8). In the spring of 2010, Teibert started all three Bracket D matches in the U-19 Super Group at Dallas Cup XXXI. Those starts came against Germany's Eintracht Frankfurt (Mar. 28), United States national team (91/92 - Mar. 29), and Mexico national team (91/92 - Mar. 31). He also played the second half of the 1-1 friendly draw with Germany's TSG 1899 Hoffenheim on Apr. 3. 2008-09: Teibert appeared in all five of the Residency's friendly matches during their successful 12-day tour of Japan in Dec. 2008. He scored in the team's 4-1 victory over Takigawa Kobe U-19's on Dec. 8. In Apr. 2009, the midfielder started the last four U-19 Super Group matches at Dallas Cup XXX. Those starts included victories over Argentina's Club Atletico River Plate and Germany's Eintracht Frankfurt, as well as the final versus Sao Paulo FC of Brazil. In May 2009, Teibert appeared in all four friendly matches during the Residency team's two-week trip to Germany. This included games against the U-19 Junior Bundesliga sides of FC Energie Cottbus (May 23), Hansa Rostock (May 26), and Hertha Berlin (May 27). The midfielder also appeared in the 2009 INSEL-CUP junior international tournament during the trip.

TORONTO FC ACADEMY

2008: The midfielder had a brief spell with Toronto FC Academy, where he appeared for their U-16 side in the Reserve Division of the eastern-based Canadian Soccer League that summer. In July, the midfielder/forward also made three starts and one substitute appearance at the Soccer United Marketing (SUM) U-17 Cup tournament in Colorado. Teibert helped TFC Academy U-16's finish top of Group B with three straight victories before losing 2-0 in the semifinals to eventual tournament champions Real Salt Lake.

INTERNATIONAL

U-23: In Feb. 2011, Teibert earned a call-up to the Canadian U-23 Olympic team for a two-week training camp in Oxnard and Los Angeles, California. The camp began preparations towards Canada's qualification campaign for the 2012 Men's Olympic Football Tournament in London, England. U-20: In May 2010, the midfielder was one of four Whitecaps players to earn a call-up to Canada's U-20 national team for a 12-day camp in Alkmaar, Netherlands. This included a start in a 0-0 friendly draw versus Japan in Heemskerk, Netherlands, on May 18. Teibert then joined Canada's U-20 squad for an Aug. 2010 training camp and tournament in Valencia, Spain. This included three appearances in Group A at the XXVII Torneo COTIF in Alcúdia, Spain, as Teibert faced the youth sides of Brazil's Santos Futebol Clube and Spanish giants Valencia Club de Fútbol before meeting Equatorial Guinea's U-20 squad. He then joined Canada's U-20 squad for a camp in Feb. 2011. U-17: In Nov. 2008, Teibert received a first-ever call-up to a Canadian national team when he joined Sean Fleming's U-17 squad for a camp in Mexico. The camp included five friendly matches against some of the top clubs in Mexico. He then started and scored in Canada's 5-2 friendly win over arch-rivals USA in St. Petersburg, Florida, on Feb. 11, 2009, as well as the 3-2 friendly defeat to Costa Rica on Apr. 4, 2009. Teibert was then selected in Canada's 20-player squad for the 2009 CONCACAF U-17 Championship. Serving as captain, the midfielder started all three of Canada's matches in Group A in Tijuana, Mexico. This included a goal from the penalty spot in their 1-1 draw with Honduras on Apr. 21, 2009. Subsequent defeats to the United States and Cuba meant Canada failed to qualify for the 2009 FIFA U-17 World Cup in Nigeria.

YOUTH/AMATEUR

Between 1997 and 2001, the midfielder/forward played in the Niagara Soccer Association before a spell in the South Region Soccer League between 2002 and 2005. In 2006, Teibert played in the Ontario Youth Soccer League for Saltfleet U-15's before joining Clarkson Comets U-15's of the OYSL in 2007. From 2004 to 2008, Teibert was also a member of the Ontario provincial team program from the U-13 to U-16 age group levels.

PERSONAL

Before joining Whitecaps Residency, Teibert was a student at Saint Paul High School between 2006 and 2008, and Saint Mary Elementary School between 1996 and 2006 in Niagara Falls, Ontario.

INTERESTING FACTS

Between 1998 and 2006, Teibert played AAA minor hockey for the Niagara Falls Thunder.

2011 MLS PLAYER RULES AND REGULATIONS

I. MLS ROSTER COMPOSITION

A Major League Soccer club's first team roster is comprised of up to 30 players. All 30 players are eligible for selection to each 18-player game-day squad during the regular season and playoffs.

Salary & Budget:

- Players occupying roster spots 1-20 count against the club's 2011 salary budget of $2,675,000, and are referred to collectively as the club's Salary Budget Players.

- o Roster spots 19 and 20 are not required to be filled, and teams may spread their salary budget across only 18 Salary Budget Players. A minimum salary budget charge will be imputed against a team's salary budget for each unfilled senior roster slot below 18.

- o The maximum budget charge for a single player is $335,000.*

- o A Designated Player counts $335,000 against the club's salary budget, unless the player joins his club in the middle of the season, in which case his budget charge will be $167,500.

* See section entitled Allocation Money below, under Player Acquisition Mechanisms, for details on buying down a player's budget charge.

- Players occupying roster spots 21-30 do not count against the club's salary budget, and are referred to collectively as the club's Off-Budget Players (maximum of 10 per team).

- o All Generation adidas players are Off-Budget players.

- Players occupying roster spots 1-24 will earn at least $42,000 in 2011.

- Players occupying roster spots 25-30 will earn at least $32,600 in 2011.

- o Clubs may elect to leave up to two of these roster spots (25-30) vacant and use $35,000 for each empty spot as allocation money.

- o Clubs may sign up to two Home Grown Players to Generation adidas contracts.

Age Designations:

- Any player making $32,600 must be under the age 25 (does not turn 25 or older in 2011).

Domestic/International:

- In 2011, a total of 144 international slots are divided among the 18 clubs. Each club began with eight international slots, which are tradable. There is no limit on the number of international slots on each club's roster.

- o The remaining roster slots must belong to domestic players. For clubs based in the United States, a domestic player is either a U.S. citizen, a permanent resident (green card holder) or the holder of other special status (e.g., refugee or asylum status).

- The two MLS clubs based in Canada – Toronto FC and Vancouver Whitecaps FC – began with eight international slots, but their domestic slots may be filled with either Canadian or U.S. domestic players.

- o MLS clubs based in Canada are required to have a minimum of three Canadian domestic players on their rosters.

- o Players with the legal right to work in Canada are considered Canadian domestic players (i.e., Canadian citizen, permanent resident, part of a protected class).

NOTE: The terms Home Grown and Generation adidas are used to describe mechanisms by which players are acquired. They are not roster designations. All players' roster slots are determined by their compensation and/or age as outlined above.

II. PLAYER ACQUISITION MECHANISMS

MLS teams may acquire players and add them to their rosters via the following mechanisms:

(A) ALLOCATION RANKING

The allocation ranking is the mechanism used to determine which MLS club has first priority to acquire a U.S. National Team player who signs with MLS after playing abroad, or a former MLS player who returns to the League after having gone to a club abroad for a transfer fee. The allocation rankings may also be used in the event two or more clubs file a request for the same player on the same day. The allocations will be ranked in reverse order of finish for the 2010 season, taking playoff performance into account.

Once the club uses its allocation ranking to acquire a player, it drops to the bottom of the list. A ranking can be traded, provided that part of the compensation received in return is another club's ranking. At all times, each club is assigned one ranking. The rankings reset at the end of each MLS League season.

Allocation Money

Allocation money is a resource available to clubs in addition to their respective salary budgets.

A club may receive allocation money for:

- (1) failure to qualify for the MLS Cup Playoffs;
- (2) the transfer of a player to a club outside of MLS for value;
- (3) expansion status;
- (4) qualification for the CONCACAF Champions League;

Each year the MLS Competition Committee determines the allocation amount to be made available to each club. Allocation money can be traded by clubs. Allocation money does not count against a club's salary budget and can be used:

- To sign players new to MLS (that is, a player who did not play in MLS during the previous season).
- To re-sign an existing MLS player, subject to League approval.

- To "buy-down" a player's salary budget charge below the League maximum of $335,000.
- In connection with the exercise of an option to purchase a player's rights or the extension of a player's contract for the second year provided the player was new to MLS in the immediately prior year.

NOTE: To protect the interests of MLS and its clubs during discussions with prospective players or clubs in other leagues, amounts of allocation money held by each club will not be shared publicly. (Similarly, most clubs in other countries do not announce the amount of money they plan to spend during a given transfer window.)

(B) DESIGNATED PLAYER

The Designated Player Rule allows clubs to acquire up to three players whose salaries exceed their budget charges, with the club bearing financial responsibility for the amount of compensation above each player's budget charge. Designated Player slots may be used to acquire players new to MLS or to retain current MLS players, subject to League approval.

In 2011, a Designated Player's salary budget charge will be $335,000, unless the player joins his club in the middle of the season, in which case his budget charge will be $167,500.

Each club has two Designated Player slots, and clubs are allowed to "purchase" a third Designated Player slot for a one-time fee of $250,000 that will be dispersed in the form of allocation money to all clubs that do not have three Designated Players.

Designated Player slots are not tradable.

Clubs have the option of "buying down" the budget charge of a Designated Player with allocation money. The reduced charge may not be less than $150,000.

(C) SUPERDRAFT

The 2011 MLS SuperDraft, held Jan. 13 in Baltimore, Md., consisted of three rounds of 18 picks for a total of 54 player selections. A supplemental draft was held Jan. 18 via teleconference and consisted of three rounds.

The majority of draft prospects are NCAA college seniors who have exhausted their college eligibility. Generation adidas players and non-collegiate international players are also eligible for selection in the SuperDraft and supplemental draft. Clubs may nominate players for the League's draft-eligible list, and only players from that list may be selected.

Generation adidas is a joint program between MLS and adidas that is dedicated to developing exceptional domestic talent in a professional environment. Each year, a handful of top domestic underclassmen and youth national team players are signed to the league and placed in the SuperDraft through this program. Generation adidas players also receive an educational stipend.

Draft Order: Through the Expansion Priority Draft, Vancouver Whitecaps FC earned the first selection in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft while the Portland Timbers selected second. The next six selections went to clubs that did not qualify for the 2010 MLS Cup Playoffs beginning with the club with fewest regular season points (3 points per win, one point per tie). The remaining eight positions were ranked by fewest regular season points among the teams that were eliminated in the same round of the MLS Cup Playoffs.

Unless claimed on waivers, a player who was drafted by a particular team through the SuperDraft or supplemental draft and did not sign with the League, is placed on that team's "College Protected List" until the second December 31 following the draft in question, after which the team loses the rights to the player.

(D) TRADES

Players, SuperDraft and supplemental draft picks, allocation money, allocation rankings, and international player slots may all be exchanged in trades approved by the MLS League Office, provided all of the necessary rules regarding roster and salary budget compliance are met and the trade is completed during a valid trading period. No trades may occur after the Roster Freeze Deadline of September 15, 2011 at 5 p.m. ET.

(E) DISCOVERY SIGNINGS

Clubs may make discovery claims on players not yet under MLS contract who are not subject to the allocation ranking or lottery mechanisms.

Each club has the opportunity to make six discovery signings per season (expansion teams may make 10 discovery signings in their inaugural season). A club may have up to 10 discovery claims on unsigned players at any time and may remove or add players at any time. The last day for discovery player signings is September 15, 2011 – coinciding with the roster freeze date and trade deadline.

The six discovery signings can be used to fill senior roster spots only. If multiple clubs claim the same player using a discovery, the club that filed the claim first will have first rights to the player. Discovery claims expire following each season. If the League and player are unable to reach an agreement during the season, the club that first filed the discovery retains the right of first refusal in the event the player is later signed by the League.

Note: To protect interests of MLS clubs in scouting and negotiations with prospective players, the League office will not publicize the names of players on club discovery lists, nor specify if a discovery claim has been filed on a particular player.

(F) HOME GROWN PLAYER SIGNINGS

A club may sign a player to his first professional contract without subjecting him to the MLS SuperDraft if the player has trained for at least one year in the club's youth development program and has met League criteria. Players joining MLS through this mechanism are known as Home Grown Players.

There is no limit to the number of Home Grown Players a club may sign in a given year.

(G) RE-ENTRY PROCESS

The 2011 Re-Entry Process will commence after MLS Cup. The priority order for the Re-Entry Draft is reverse order of finish in 2011, taking into account playoff performance.

2011 MLS PLAYER RULES AND REGULATIONS

Available to all teams in Stage 1 of the Re-Entry draft will be:

1. Players who are at least 23 years old and have a minimum of three years experience in MLS whose options were not exercised by their clubs (available at option salary for 2012).
2. Players who are at least 25 years old with a minimum of four years of MLS experience who are out of contract and whose club does not wish to re-sign them at their previous salary (available for at least their 2011 salary).
3. Players who are at least 30 years old with a minimum of eight years of MLS experience who are out of contract and whose club does not wish to re-sign them (available for at least 105% of their 2011 salary).

Players who are not selected in Stage 1 of the Re-Entry Draft will be made available in Stage 2. Clubs selecting players in Stage 2 will negotiate a new salary with the player.

Players who remain unselected after Stage 2 will be available to any MLS club on a first come, first serve basis.

(H) WAIVERS

A team may place a player on waivers at any time during the regular season at which point he is made available to all other teams. The waiver claiming period shall commence on the first business day after the League delivers notice to teams and shall expire at 5 p.m. EST on the second business day after the Waiver Period Commencement Date. The claiming period is 48 hours.

The Waiver Draft order is determined via points per game once all teams have played at least three MLS League games. If the waiver takes place prior to all teams playing in at least three League games, priority shall be granted based upon the prior year's performance, taking playoff performance first, with teams eliminated from playoff contention at the same stage separated according to their point totals through the end of the regular season. New expansion teams shall be at the bottom of the waiver order.

Once a team selects a player off waivers, that club is automatically moved to the bottom of the priority list for subsequent waiver selections in a given season, regardless of its points-per-game total. Players who may be placed on the MLS waiver wire are as follows:

- (i) A player waived by an MLS team in the current season;
- (ii) A player who completed his college eligibility within the past season, who was not made available in the SuperDraft or supplemental draft;
- (iii) A player who has remaining college eligibility (and was not made available in the SuperDraft or supplemental draft), but the League at its discretion and after taking into account exceptional circumstances determines the player may be offered an MLS contract;
- (iv) A player who has played in MLS previously where his last MLS team does not wish to exercise their right of first refusal, except in the case of returning U.S. National Team players as stated above.
- (v) A player who was drafted in the SuperDraft or supplemental draft, and who after a trial with the club is not offered a contract by the first Monday of June.

(I) LOTTERY

Some players shall be assigned to MLS teams via the weighted Lottery process. Any team assigned a player through the lottery in any particular season shall not be assigned another lottery player that season unless and until all teams have received a lottery player or have agreed to waive their option to participate in a Lottery. The players made available through lotteries include:

- (i) Generation adidas players signed after the MLS SuperDraft;
- (ii) Draft eligible players to whom an MLS contract was offered but who failed to sign with the League prior to the Draft.

The weighted lottery takes into consideration each team's performance over its last 30 regular season games and the most recent postseason. The team with the worst record over its last 30 regular season games (dating back to previous season if necessary and taking playoff performance into account) will have the greatest probability of winning the lottery. Teams are not required to participate in a lottery. Players are assigned via the lottery system in order to prevent a player from potentially influencing his destination club with a strategic holdout.

(J) EXTREME HARDSHIP CALL-UPS

Teams may add players to their roster in cases of "extreme hardship" as follows: (1) a club with three goalkeepers on its 30-man roster, but has less than two available goalkeepers or (2) a team has less than 15 available players. Extreme hardship call-ups are made on a game-by-game basis.

(K) SEASON-ENDING INJURY REPLACEMENTS

A team with a player lost to a season-ending injury can replace that player on its roster, while remaining responsible for the full amount of the injured player's salary. A player can be placed on the season-ending injury list once another player has been signed as a replacement (provided the team has budget space). International player limits still apply at the time a season-ending replacement is made (with the player being replaced not counting against those limits).

(L) SHORT-TERM INJURY REPLACEMENTS

A team with a player who has a short-term injury can replace that player on its roster, while remaining responsible for the full amount of the injured player's salary. A player can be placed on the short-term injured reserve list once another player has been signed as a replacement (provided the team has budget space). Note that the injured player will have to sit out a minimum of six MLS League matches before he can rejoin the team's roster. International player limits still apply at the time a short-term replacement is made (with the player being replaced not counting against those limits).

NOTE: No changes may be made to a team's active full roster during the period beginning on September 16, 2011 (day after Roster Freeze Date) through the day after MLS Cup. Nevertheless, a team may obtain players in accordance with the extreme hardship rules and procedures to replace players who are injured or otherwise legitimately unavailable after the Roster Freeze Date. Any other replacements after the Roster Freeze Date may only be made in exceptional circumstances in the League's sole and absolute discretion.

(III.) METHODS OF RELEASING PLAYERS

(A) WAIVERS

Teams may waive players based on performance at any time during the MLS season. Players with guaranteed contracts will continue to have their salary budget charge applied to the team salary budget, subject to any settlement. Players on semi-guaranteed contracts can be waived prior to July 1 of any year and free up the corresponding budget space. If a player on a semi-guaranteed contract is waived after July 1, his salary budget charge will count against the team's salary budget and the team waiving the player will not receive a replacement except under the normal player acquisition mechanisms. Any settlement amount will be charged to the team's salary budget.

(B) TRANSFERS AND LOANS

An MLS player may be transferred or loaned at any time to a team outside the League (subject to that team's Federation's transfer window), subject to the consent of the player.

The registration windows – the dates between which MLS may request the transfer certificate of a player under contract in another country – are as follows:

January 21 – April 15 (Primary Window)

July 15 – August 14 (Secondary Window)

(C) CONTRACT EXPIRATION

When a player's contract expires, the player does not count against the roster or budget of the team in question. Subject to the Re-Entry Draft rules, a team retains the rights to the player indefinitely following the expiration of a contract only if attempts were made to re-sign the player.

(D) BUYOUT OF GUARANTEED CONTRACT

Teams may have the ability to buyout one guaranteed player as follows:

- A Team may buy out one (1) guaranteed player (including a DP's) contract during the off-season and free up the corresponding budget space. Such a buyout is at the particular MLS Team's own expense.
- A Team may not free up budget space with a buyout of a player's salary budget charge during the season. Such a buyout will be conducted by the League and count on a Club's budget in a manner consistent with current MLS guidelines.

(IV.) RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL

Right of first refusal grants one MLS club the first opportunity to add a player to its roster in the event that the player signs with MLS. Holding a right of first refusal applies only within MLS and does not indicate holding of the player's International Transfer Certificate.

OUT OF CONTRACT PLAYERS / OPTIONS NOT PICKED UP: Subject to the Re-Entry Draft rules, a team retains the right of first refusal to the player indefinitely only if attempts were made to re-sign the player.

DRAFTED BUT NOT SIGNED: A player who was drafted by a particular team through the SuperDraft or supplemental draft and did not sign, or who as of the first Monday in June is not offered a contract after a trial and clears waivers, is placed on that team's "College Protected List" until the second December 31 immediately following the draft in question, after which the team loses the rights to sign the player.

PLAYER TRANSFERRED OUTSIDE MLS: If a team receives allocation money as a result of a player's transfer, the team does not retain a right of first refusal.
