LAST MATCH RECAP

Playing just their third home match in their first 11 matches this season, Portland suffered just its second loss of 2019 as Reign FC registered a 1-0 win on July 5 at Providence Park. Since 2016, Thorns FC have been held scoreless at home in regular-season play just three times. The loss also snapped a five-game unbeaten run for Portland. It also marked Thorns FC's first loss at home in the regular season since May 30, 2018.

RETURN FROM THE WORLD CUP

Five players returned to Portland and made their Providence Park debuts after their return from the Women's World Cup. Ellie Carpenter and Andressinha helped Thorns FC earn a 2-1 win on the road against Houston on June 29. Caitlin Foord, Hayley Raso and Christine Sinclair all made their first appearance since returning from the World Cup against Reign FC on July 5. Carpenter, Foord and Sinclair started the match, while Andressinha and Raso both made substitute appearances. Carpenter and Sinclair played all 90 minutes.

MATCH PREVIEW

Thorns FC remain at home as they play host to the Orlando Pride. Sunday's meeting is third of the season between the two sides, with the sides squaring off twice in Orlando.

Portland and Orlando split a pair of matches at Providence Park in 2018. Thorns FC posted a 2-1 win in their 2018 home opener on April 15, while the Pride earned a 2-1 win on May 12 in the second meeting. Thorns FC have earned at least one point in four of their last five matches. The Pride have two wins in each of their last three matches.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Playing their home matches at downtown Portland's iconic Providence Park, Thorns FC have led the league in attendance in each of their first six NWSL seasons. Globally, Thorns FC have the highest attendance of any women's professional team in the world, averaging 16,959 fans in their sixth season in the league in 2018. On Sept. 22, 2018, Thorns FC recorded their sixth sellout in club history for the 2018 NWSL Championship game between Portland and the North Carolina Courage - the largest crowd for a U.S. women's professional soccer championship match.

HEAD COACH MARK PARSONS

A finalist for 2018 Best FIFA Women's Coach of the Year, head coach Mark Parsons is currently in his fourth season with Thorns FC. Since joining the club ahead of the 2016 season, Parsons has helped lead Portland to an NWSL Championship (2017) and NWSL Shield (2016) and back-to-back NWSL Championship appearances (2017, 2018), while compiling a mark of 43-16-20 (.671) and 12 or more wins in each of his first three seasons with the club. On May 25, 2018, Parsons became the third coach in league history to register 50 career wins.

During his tenure, Thorns FC have finished in the top two in the NWSL regular-season standings in three consecutive seasons, winning the club's first NWSL Shield in 2016, and the second NWSL Championship in club history in 2017, while helping Portland secure a home playoff match in in 2016, 2017 and 2018. Under Parsons, Thorns FC have secured one of the top home-field advantages in the league, registering just five losses at Providence Park since his arrival (25-5-5) while also becoming the first team in league history in 2017 to record 10 home victories.

In just his second season with the club, Parsons helped Portland lift the NWSL Championship trophy behind one of the most dominant defensive performances in league history. Thorns FC tied the single-season record for the top defense in NWSL history, posting a 0.83 goals-against average, while also equaling the mark for the most home shutouts (7) in a single season. In addition, Thorns FC finished the 2017 regular-season campaign ranked first in fewest goals conceded (20), fewest goals conceded at home (8) and fewest goals conceded on the road (12).

The 2016 NWSL Coach of the Year in his first season with Thorns FC, Parsons led Portland to the NWSL Shield. With Parsons at the helm, Thorns FC finished the season with a 12-3-5 record as they hosted the club's first-ever home playoff game. In addition, Portland registered the best home record (8-1-1) and best road record (4-2-4) in the league, while beginning the season with the second-longest unbeaten streak in league history (12 games). Parsons oversaw a defensive unit that became just the third team in league history to allow less than a goal per game over the course of an entire season (19 goals in 20 games, 0.95 goals-against average) and offensively the team ranked second in the league in goals (35) and tied for second in assists (23).

Prior to joining Thorns FC, Parsons served as the head coach and general manager of the Washington Spirit of the NWSL, helping guide the Spirit to consecutive playoff appearances during the 2014 and 2015 seasons. Assuming the role of head coach in July 2013 and general manager in September 2013, Parsons helped engineer one of the most successful turnarounds in league history as the Spirit went on to a 10-win season and secured a berth in the league playoffs in 2014 after winning just three games the previous season.

In addition, the Spirit Reserves won the W-League Championship, the U20s were national finalists and five Super Y Academy teams were also national finalists with Parsons at the helm as general manager. As the head coach of the Spirit Reserves in 2013, Parsons led the team to a third-place finish at the National Championships, while also helping launch the club's academy programs. In 2012, Parsons helped guide the D.C. United Women U20s to the National Championship match, earning a runner-up finish.

From 2014-10, Parsons worked with Chelsea FC girls and boys academies, while also serving as the head coach for the Chelsea Ladies Reserves from 2008-10 and as an assistant coach with the U16 Girls Academy.

The Cranleigh, Surrey, native holds UEFA A and B Licenses, a US Youth Soccer National Youth License and US Soccer B License.

Mark, his wife, Hannah, and their daughter Edie (5) reside in Portland.
