WHAT'S AT STAKE

Still in the thick of the North American Soccer League playoff race, the Jacksonville Armada FC will try to get the road match monkey of its back at 7:30 p.m. ET this Saturday when it heads to Indianapolis to take on Indy Eleven.

The Armada, who have not yet won a match on the road in 2015 in 10 tries (two draws, eight losses), are coming off a scoreless draw with the San Antonio Scorpions last Saturday at Community First Park. Despite four shots on goal from forward Jemal Johnson and a 55-45 percent possession advantage, the Armada were not able to break through a stingy San Antonio defense. Armada goalkeeper Miguel Gallardo notched three saves and recorded his 40th career clean sheet while also being named Farah & Farah Man of the Match.

Indy Eleven is coming off losses to the Fort Lauderdale Strikers (7-1) and Minnesota United FC (1-0). The Eleven's most recent contest was on Wednesday night at United FC, which was a stalemate for much of the match until Minnesota defender Justin Davis' perfect volley in the 77th minute gave the Loons all they needed to down Indy. The outcome, however, was much more positive than Indy's game with the Strikers last Saturday in which the Eleven encountered their worst loss in club history. Indy forward Dane Richards scored the team's lone goal in the loss. Jacksonville came out on top of the previous meeting against Indy, 1-0, on May 9 in Jacksonville on a header from Bochy Hoyos in the 49th minute, with the assist from Matt Bahner. The Armada played some of their best defense of the season and held strong during 10-minute plus stretch in the first half when striker Alhassane Keita went down with a head injury and head coach Guillermo Hoyos elected to tough it out with 10 men. His patience was rewarded as Keita eventually made his return. It was the first NASL shutout win in Armada history.

With 10 games left to go in the Fall Season, both teams are still within striking distance of a playoff spot in the Combined Standings. The Armada are just four points back of the Fort Lauderdale Strikers and the Tampa Bay Rowdies, which have 27 points each. The Eleven sit five points behind both teams.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

Jacksonville: Defender Fabricio Ortiz, who was named to NASL Team of the Week on Wednesday, has been an anchor on the backline this season for the Armada with his signature sliding tackles that have put a stop to many opposing attacks. Typically set as a right center back, Ortiz has logged 1,600 minutes in 18 starts. The 25-year-old native of Casilda, Argentina, also earned a Team of the Week nod on Aug. 19 after the Armada's 1-0 over the Atlanta Silverbacks.

Indy: Midfielder Dylan Mares has led the way for the Eleven this season, being equally as dangerous a goal scorer as he has been a maestro. Mares is tied with defender Erick Norales and Richards with three goals scored and is the leading assist man with four.

NOTABLES

- In keeping with the team's philosophy of rotating its top two goalkeepers every two games, David Sierra is expected to start on Saturday in Indianapolis. Sierra has a streak of three-straight shutouts dating back to July 18 when the Armada took down the New York Cosmos 1-0 in Jacksonville. In that stretch, the Armada won all three games, and Sierra had a total of 12 saves.

- In addition to not having won on the road yet, Jacksonville has only led in an away match just once this season. The Armada took a 2-1 lead into halftime on April 25 at Tampa Bay before a strong second half surge by the Rowdies took the Armada down 2-1.

CLUB CONNECTIONS

Indy Eleven defender Judson McKinney was a teammate of Armada defender Matt Bahner at the University of Cincinnati from 2008-09 ... Indy Eleven forward Duke Lacroix played with Armada midfielder Nicolas Perea on PDL club Ocean City Nor'Easters in 2013.

BOYS IN BLUE GOING FOR GOLD ON SATURDAY

The Armada will wear their gold alternate kits again on Saturday. The Nike uniforms, which were unveiled at a press conference in June, feature gold tops and shorts with navy blue numbering and lettering along with a navy blue stripe across the chest and sleeves. The shirts feature Nike Dri-Fit technology, the most advanced materials for better performance, a lighter and stronger fabric that allows for more free body movement and fuller range of motion with additional laser cut holes for added temperature control. As on the Armada's home and away kits, Winn-Dixie is the main jersey sponsor with its logo across the chest. The Community First Credit Union logo adorns the back of the jersey, while the Key Auto logo is on the right sleeve. The alternate jerseys are available for purchase by going to WeGotSoccer.com/ArmadaFC.

SHUFFLING THE DECK

Hampered by injuries and red cards, it has been a challenge for the Armada to trot out the same starting 11 every match. In fact, Jacksonville has not had the same starting lineup in consecutive matches since May 30 against the Carolina RailHawks and June 7 against Ottawa Fury FC. Out of a 4-3-3 formation, the lineup was Miguel Gallardo (GK), Lucas Rodriguez (LB), Lucas Trejo (LCB), Fabricio Ortiz (RCB), Matt Bahner (RB), Lucas Scaglia (LM), Bochy Hoyos (CM), Jaime Castrillon (RM), Jemal Johnson (LF), Marcos Flores (CF) and Pascal Millien (RF). Last week against San Antonio, forwards Tyler Williams and Tommy Krizanovic filled in at right back, with neither playing the position previously.

LOOKING AHEAD

The Armada will hit the road again to take on the New York Cosmos at 7 p.m. ET on Sept. 12. Jacksonville leads the series, 1-1-0, and drew 3-3 with the Cosmos in the Spring Season finale in New York on June 13. The match will be broadcast live on CW17 in Jacksonville with pre-match coverage beginning at 6:30 p.m.

A NOD TO THE PAST

On Saturday, Sept. 26, the Jacksonville Armada FC will host a tribute to their North American Soccer League predecessors, the Jacksonville Tea Men, during the club's next home match against the Tampa Bay Rowdies. As part of a night of celebration in honor of the Tea Men, the Armada will don the Tea Men's distinctive red and tangerine uniforms as they take on the Rowdies. Former players, coaches and administrators, including Tea Men owner Ingo Krieg, will also be invited to take part in the celebration and will be honored on the pitch prior to kickoff. A popular fixture at the old

Gator Bowl when they moved to the First Coast in 1980, the Tea Men provided many memorable nights of professional soccer for fans as part of the original North American Soccer League, and the Armada wanted to honor the club that sparked the beginning of soccer's growth in Northeast Florida. They were also Jacksonville's first full major league-level franchise in the city.

BRIEF CLUB HISTORY

Jacksonville was awarded an NASL club on July 25, 2013, after a league meeting in Dallas. Owner Mark Frisch and general manager Dario Sala formed the Sunshine Soccer Group to bring professional soccer in Jacksonville. On Feb. 18, 2014, the club was officially branded the Jacksonville Armada FC. On June 11, 2014, the club announced Argentinian José Luis Villarreal as head coach and later announced on Jan. 26, 2015, that he would be joined at the helm with long-time friend and Lionel Messi mentor Guillermo Hoyos as co-head coach. On June 14, 2015, Hoyos was officially named the club's head coach. On Oct. 21, 2014, Orlando City SC goalkeeper Miguel Gallardo was signed as the first player in club history.

LAST TIME OUT RECAP

JACKSONVILLE – An hour after the Jacksonville Armada FC's 1-0 win over Indy Eleven, the grounds crew peeled back the two-week-old sod that covered the infield of a baseball diamond, officially signifying the end of the club's first homestand.

And you couldn't call it anything other than a resounding success.

For the second week in a row, the Armada FC played and won in front of more than 8,000 fans at Community First Park, this time thanks to a headed goal by midfielder Bochy Hoyos in the 50th minute that gave the team its first win streak and put an end to Indy's nine-game unbeaten run that stretched back to last season.

After two losses on the road, these two wins have been an immense confidence boost, and the North American Soccer League's newest team now stands in second place (3W-0D-2L, nine points).

After second-half goals spoiled results on the road in Weeks 2 and 3, the Armada FC made sure to buckle down on defense this time, finishing in uncharacteristic fashion by making three defensive subs and riding out the final minutes.

The result of that workmanlike effort was hard to argue with: their first ever shutout, and three points.

Goalkeeper Miguel Gallardo made perhaps the biggest play in the 87th minute, when he tipped the ball over the crossbar after Indy had pinged it around in the box. Defender Fabricio Ortiz cleared the ensuing header off the line, and when Gallardo latched onto a cross in stoppage time, he secured the 38th clean sheet of his career.

All in all, the Armada FC won seven corners in the first 12 minutes (they led 9-0 for the half) but couldn't convert any into goals.

After that opening assault, the game slowed when Keita took an elbow to the forehead and suffered a cut that landed him in the locker room.

Rather than sub off the reigning NASL Player of the Week, Hoyos opted to play with 10 men for more than 10 minutes. Hoyos' patience was rewarded in the 28th minute, when Keita came trotting out with a bandage on his head and an ovation from the crowd. Within five minutes, he had taken a shot and won a free kick.

Just after the half, Bahner helped break the deadlock.

He chased down a through-ball into the corner and sent a line-drive cross into the box that took a slight deflection off a defender and angled toward Bochy Hoyos, who had to lean back to get his head on it. He did just enough, popping a soft header into the back of the net.

GUILLERMO HOYOS

HEAD COACH

Lionel Messi mentor and renowned player development guru Guillermo Hoyos joined the Jacksonville Armada FC on Jan. 26, 2015, as the club's co-head coach and was officially named head coach on June 14, 2015.

Under his guidance, the Armada FC immediately made themselves a contender in the North American Soccer League, something not easy for an expansion side. The Armada FC posted a 3-3-4 (W-D-L) record in the 2015 NASL Spring Season and were still in contention for the title up until the ninth week. Jacksonville established itself as a fierce, attacking team, finishing tied for third with most goals scored (15) and second for most shots attempted (75). The Armada FC capped off their inaugural spring on June 13 by scoring more goals against Spring Season Champions New York Cosmos (3) than any other team and were the only team to set foot on the Cosmos' home turf and hand New York a result other than a win, recording a 3-3 draw.

Hoyos' coaching experience includes Spanish national youth league championships in 2003-04 and 2004-05 as head coach of FC Barcelona B from 2001-05. He has also coached in Cyprus, Greece and Argentina. Hoyos moved on to coach Aris of the Greek Super League in 2006-07 prior to moving on to Greek Super League club Atromitos in 2007-08. He also coached Greek clubs PAS Giannina, Panserraikos and Anorthosis Famagusta before making the move to Bolivia's First Division for the 2011-12 season, where he led Club Bolivar to the knockout stage of Copa Libertadores, something that had not been done in 12 years.

Hoyos moved on to Colombian First Division side Once Caldes in 2012-13 before returning to Greece for the 2013-14 season to lead Iraklis 1908 to a promotion to the Greek Super League. He was most recently technical director for Argentina Torneo A side Talleres de Cordoba.

The Córdoba, Argentina, native had a 19-year playing career that began with his debut as a 16-year-old in 1978 with Argentinian Primera Division side CA Banfield. A member of Argentina's National Team and 1980 Argentina Olympic Team, Hoyos also played in Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Spain and Venezuela. He also played at Boca Juniors in Argentina from 1986-89 and won four Gold Cups along with the Copa Iberoamericana.
