GAME 2 - QUICK HITTERS

- After a spirited effort to open the season at Nashville SC, Riverhounds SC (0-0-1) returns to Pittsburgh for its home opener against Penn FC (0-1-0). The first of three legs in the Keystone Derby Cup, the Hounds will defend the trophy for the second time in its three years of existence.
- Posting their first clean sheet to open the season since 2013, the Hounds also have another shutout streak to consider heading into Saturday's action. Dating back to last year, the Hounds have blanked their in-state rival three consecutive times - the longest active shutout streak against any opponent in the USL.
- Also of note, a shutout on Saturday would be the first-time in the current era of the USL - since 2011 - the Hounds have posted back-to-back clean sheets to open the season.
- Home openers have been a mixed bag for the Hounds since 2011. The Black and Gold is 3-3-1 with three of those matches coming against Penn FC - then the Harrisburg City Islanders - holding a 2-1 edge in results.
- Fireworks might be expected come Saturday though, as only two of those seven matches have featured one goal or less. In fact, three of the past four home openers have seen the Hounds post three or more goals.
- One player to watch this Saturday is the ever-reliable veteran midfielder Kevin Kerr. Sporting the captain's armband last weekend, Kerr provided a spark in Nashville, finishing second on the team with two shots.
- Entering his sixth season in the USL, Kerr's familiarity with Penn FC has and could continue to be fruitful, as he has tallied six goals against the club since 2015.
- In addition, Kerr is on the cusp of climbing the club's all-time leaders charts in a couple statistical categories. With an appearance on Saturday, Kerr will tie Mike Green for third-most in appearances at 133 and he also sits at No. 7 all-time in goals scored in league play (22) - one tally away from tying Phil Karn and José Angulo for No. 5 all-time in team history.
- On the defensive side, playing a major role in keeper Dan Lynd's shutout effort was defender Joe Greenspan. Reprising his role at center back, Greenspan posted 14 of the club's 25 clearances overall.
- The gaudy total is more of the same for the 6-foot-6-inch monolith, as he averaged 8.5 clearances per game with the Hounds on loan last season - the best of any defender on the club with 10 or more appearances.
