BALTIMORE ORIOLES

PETER ANGELOS

MANAGING PARTNER

Peter Angelos, the Principal Owner and Managing Partner of the Baltimore Orioles, has brought dynamic leadership to the ballclub and to the community since he and his fellow investors restored the team to local ownership in August, 1993.

Under his 25-year stewardship, the Orioles have reached the American League Championship Series three times and the playoffs five times, led the league in attendance five times – the first times in franchise history – and hosted such historic occasions as the first games between a Major League Baseball team and Cuba in nearly 40 years and Cal Ripken’s 2,131st consecutive game.

Mr. Angelos is an industry leader in professional baseball who has helped strengthen the national pastime. He was the only owner to serve on the committee that negotiated the historic 2002 labor agreement between Major League Baseball and the MLB Players Association – the first such agreement without a strike in the 30-plus years of labor negotiations between the groups.

The Orioles owner has also utilized baseball as a bridge among people. In 1999, he led the effort to have the Orioles and a team of Cuba’s best players engage in a historic two-game series in the two countries, a match-up viewed as a way to transcend politics and bring about closer cultural and social ties between the people of the United States and Cuba. He also helped to develop the first baseball team to represent Greece in Olympic baseball competition at the 2004 Olympics in Athens and thereafter to establish baseball on a permanent basis for Greek youth.

At Oriole Park at Camden Yards, Mr. Angelos has taken constructive steps off the field to cultivate an affordable, family-friendly entertainment experience. The club also embraces one of the most fan-friendly food policies in all of professional sports, allowing outside food and beverages to be brought into the ballpark.

Mr. Angelos grew up in the industrial neighborhood of Highlandtown in East Baltimore. He graduated from Patterson Park High School and from the University of Baltimore, where he was valedictorian of his class at the School of Law. An attorney since 1961, he has built the Law Offices of Peter G. Angelos, P.C., into one of the nation’s leading personal injury law firms representing the victims of harmful products. Throughout his legal career, Mr. Angelos has served as a champion for ordinary citizens and has taken on some of the most powerful corporations in the country, including asbestos manufacturers, the tobacco companies, and the pharmaceutical industry.

Mr. Angelos and his wife, Georgia, have two sons, John and Louis, both of whom have been intensely involved in the business operations of the Orioles since the first year this ownership group purchased the team.

OWNERSHIP OF THE ORIOLES

On October 4, 1993, American League owners unanimously approved the sale of ownership of the Orioles from then-principal shareholder Eli S. Jacobs to a group of investors led by Baltimorean Peter Angelos. The sale placed the Orioles in local hands for the first time since 1979, when Jerold C. Hoffberger, representing his family, which owned a controlling interest in both the Orioles and the National Brewing Company, sold the franchise to prominent Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams.

From October 29, 1953, when the transfer of the St. Louis Browns franchise became official until Williams purchased the club late in 1979, the Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. was publicly held and was operated by a group of Baltimore investors which owned a majority share of the BBCL. Among those who played key roles in the operation of the franchise during that 26-year period were: Former chief executives Clarence Miles, who organized the group that secured the St. Louis Browns for Baltimore and who served as the club’s first president; James Keely, Jr.; Joseph A. W. Iglehart; Jerry Hoffberger, and Zanyvl Krieger.

JOHN P. ANGELOS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Now in his 25th season with the Orioles, John Angelos is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of the club. Angelos joined the organization in January 1994 as Special Assistant to the Chairman and oversaw the reorganization of the Sales, Ticketing, Ballpark Operations, and Customer Service departments of the franchise to provide more personal service to fans.

In January 1999, he was named to the position of Executive Vice President, when his responsibilities expanded to include all marketing and promotion, sales, broadcasting, operations, and general and administrative areas, and all business operations of the franchise. In 2001, as part of his broadcasting development role, Angelos participated in the institution and development of Orioles Television, the in-house television production, sales, and distribution arm of the Orioles franchise that would later evolve into the full-time regional sports television network MASN in 2005. Today, he oversees operations for the Mid-Atlantic Sports Network.

After graduating from the Gilman School in Baltimore, Angelos received a bachelor's degree in political science from Duke University and earned a law degree (J.D.) from the University of Baltimore Law School.

LOUIS ANGELOS

OWNERSHIP REPRESENTATIVE

Louis Angelos serves in the capacity of ownership representative for the Baltimore Orioles and has had an active role in all aspects of operations as well as a variety of strategic, business, and goodwill projects on behalf of the team since the club was acquired by the present ownership group in 1993.

In 1998, Angelos was a member of the Orioles delegation that traveled to Havana, Cuba to discuss a historic people-to-people exchange between the United States and Cuba where the Orioles would play the Cuban National team in international competition. Later, Angelos led the project to build bridges between Greece and the United States and to expand baseball internationally through the development of a team that could represent Greece in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece.

Since 2012, Angelos has been more involved in the business operations of the Orioles. That season, he had the privilege of representing the club in the unveiling of the series of bronze sculptures commissioned and dedicated to the six Orioles who are members of the National Baseball Hall of Fame as part of the Orioles Legends Celebration Series, by delivering the six ceremonial addresses on behalf of the club.

Angelos is an attorney at the Law Offices of Peter Angelos, PC, and has practiced law for 16 years after graduating from the Johns Hopkins University in 1992 and the Saint Thomas University Law School in 1995. He is a member of the Maryland State Bar Association and the Maryland Association for Justice and is admitted to practice in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland and the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

LOU KOUSOURIS

VICE PRESIDENT/SPECIAL LIAISON TO THE CHAIRMAN

Now in his 25th season with the team, Lou Kousouris joined the Orioles in February of 1994 and was promoted to Vice President prior to the 1999 season. Kousouris has worked for Peter Angelos since 1981 in the real estate and hospitality industries.

After attending the Boys Latin School, Kousouris received a bachelor's degree in Sociology from C.W. Post College in Greenvale, N.Y., where he played football and lacrosse. After graduation, he coached both of these sports on the high school and college levels. In addition, Kousouris coached youth lacrosse in Baltimore for more than 10 years.

Kousouris is very active in the community. He purchased Camp Puh'tok, a 501(c)(3) summer camp for children ages 6-16, in Monkton, Md. DAN DUQUETTE

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

A veteran of nearly three decades in baseball operations at the Major League level, including 16 seasons as General Manager or Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations with the Montreal Expos, Boston Red Sox, and Orioles, Dan Duquette has a proven track record of utilizing strong scouting and player development to construct contending franchises.

Since he joined the Orioles six seasons ago in November of 2011, the club has won more home games than any team in the American League, posted five straight .500-or-better seasons (2012-16), and advanced to the postseason three times. Since 2012, the Orioles lead the majors with 1,339 home runs and have also committed the fewest number of errors. Throughout that time, Duquette has improved the club's player development operations and directed additional resources into analytics and video assets in an effort to maintain a consistently competitive team at the Major League level.

After finishing 81-81 (.500) in 2015, the 2016 Orioles completed the regular season with a record of 89-73 (.549) and finished tied with the Toronto Blue Jays for second place in the American League East division. The Wild Card Game against Toronto marked the Orioles second postseason appearance in three years. The 2016 season also marked the fourth consecutive season that the Major League leader in home runs was an Oriole (Chris Davis in 2013, Nelson Cruz in 2014, Chris Davis in 2015, and Mark Trumbo in 2016).

In 2014, the Orioles posted the club's third consecutive winning season under Duquette's leadership, including the second-best record in the Major Leagues at 96-66, and won the American League East division title for the first time since 1997. After sweeping the Detroit Tigers in the American League Division Series, 3-0, the Orioles advanced to the American League Championship Series for the first time since 1997 where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games. Following the 2014 season, Duquette became the first Oriole to be recognized with Baseball America's Executive of the Year honor, as the Orioles became the third organization to be awarded both Baseball America's Executive of the Year and Manager of the Year accolades after Buck Showalter was named the latter just days later. Following the 2014 season, he was also named MLB Executive of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He had previously won the award in 1995. He also joined Harry Dalton, Roland Hemond, and Hank Peters as the fourth Orioles executive to be recognized as MLB Executive of the Year by The Sporting News.

In 2013, the Orioles went 85-77 and remained in postseason contention until the season's final week. The year included Duquette's 1,000th career victory in a general manager role with a Major League team. In 2012, the Orioles made their first playoff appearance since 1997, winning 93 games and the American League Wild Card, and pushing the AL Division Series to five games.

Duquette's eight seasons as Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Red Sox from 1994 through 2001 included three playoff teams (1995, 1998, and 1999), and his acquisitions helped lay the groundwork for the club's 93 wins in 2002 and their first World Series championship in 86 years in 2004. The club made the postseason in back-to-back years in 1998 and 1999, the first time in 80 seasons the franchise had accomplished the feat. Numerous key contributors on the 2004 team were acquired during Duquette's tenure. Under his leadership, Boston compiled a .544 winning percentage (695-582).

Duquette also showed a commitment to expanding Boston's reach in the international market, finishing the 2001 season with 12 of the players on the club's 40-man roster born outside the United States. At Boston's 2002 Spring Training camp, players from 10 different countries were represented.

The Red Sox minor league system was shaped into a feeder system for the Major League club under Duquette's watch, with homegrown players including Nomar Garciaparra, Shea Hillenbrand, Casey Fossum, and Trot Nixon making contributions to the team. Future Major League players Kevin Youkilis, David Eckstein, Hanley Ramirez, and Freddy Sanchez were also drafted or signed during Duquette's tenure. The talent in the Red Sox minor league system also enabled Duquette to trade for Pedro Martinez, and for Boston to later acquire Curt Schilling and Josh Beckett. Red Sox minor league affiliates finished with an overall record over .500 in five of Duquette's last six seasons with the organization.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Duquette spent six seasons with the Montreal Expos, joining the club as Director of Player Development in October of 1987 and being promoted to Assistant General Manager in 1990, followed by a two-year stint as Vice President and General Manager from 1992-93. At the time of his promotion, he was the youngest general manager in the Major Leagues. During his six years with Montreal, Duquette was instrumental in assembling Expos teams that contended from 1992-94, and acquiring Ken Hill, Mel Rojas, Larry Walker, John Wetteland, Marquis Grissom, Jeff Shaw, and Pedro Martinez. He also signed stars Vladimir Guerrero, Jose Vidro, and Javier Vazquez, and named Felipe Alou the first manager from the Dominican Republic in Major League history in 1992.

Despite one of the lowest payrolls in baseball, Montreal compiled a 255-183 record (.582 winning percentage) from 1992-94, the best record in baseball over the span. The Expos had baseball's best record in the strike-shortened 1994 season (74-40), a team Duquette constructed. In 1992, Duquette was named The Sporting News Major League Executive of the Year and the UPI National League Executive of the Year, and the Expos were honored as the Topps Major League Organization of the Year in 1993.

Duquette began his career in baseball with the Milwaukee Brewers in 1981, working in the scouting department under former Orioles general manager Harry Dalton. He spent a total of seven years in scouting and player development with the Brewers from 1981-87, the last two as Scouting Coordinator.

In 2003, Duquette founded and built the Dan Duquette Sports Academy, a Massachusetts-based baseball, softball, and soccer camp and tournament facility for youth. In 2004, he purchased the Pittsfield Dukes of the New England Collegiate Baseball League and in 2007, Duquette became a founding member and Director of Player Development of the Israel Baseball League.

A native of Dalton, Mass., Duquette, 59, earned a bachelor's degree in English from Amherst College and played on the school's baseball and football teams. He was named All-New England in football as a linebacker at Amherst. Duquette resides with his wife, Amy, daughters, Kylie and Katie, and sons, Brodie and Colt. His son, Daniel, and his wife, Erin, live in Simsbury, Conn. and Daniel works as a producer for ESPN. His daughter, Denise, resides in Pinole, Calif. His son, Dana, is entering his fourth year as an area scout for the Orioles.

BRADY ANDERSON

VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Brady Anderson was named Vice President of Baseball Operations in February of 2013. In his role, he collaborates with Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations Dan Duquette and manager Buck Showalter on player development and roster management while overseeing strength and conditioning training and nutrition for the club. He began consulting with the Orioles on hitting instruction and strength and conditioning training in 2010 before joining the team as Special Assistant to the Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations in 2012.

A veteran of 15 Major League seasons, 14 with Baltimore, Anderson holds the Orioles' all-time stolen bases record (307) and ranks among the top 10 in Orioles career batting leaders in 12 categories. He is one of two players in Major League history with both a 50 home run season (50, 1996) and a 50 stolen base season (53, 1992). Anderson's six career postseason home runs are tied for second in club history (with Eddie Murray and Boog Powell), trailing only Frank Robinson's nine postseason homers. He was inducted into the Orioles Hall of Fame in 2004 and the Maryland State Athletic Hall of Fame in 2016.

Acquired by the Orioles along with Curt Schilling during the 1988 season from Boston in exchange for Mike Boddicker, Anderson was named to the American League All-Star team three times, in 1992, 1996, and 1997, starting the last two seasons.

Anderson resides in Los Angeles in the offseason with his daughter, Brianna.

LEE THOMAS

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Lee Thomas joined the Orioles in December of 2011, bringing over five decades of experience in professional baseball to his role, highlighted by Executive of the Year honors in 1993 after leading the Philadelphia Phillies to the World Series as general manager.

Thomas served as general manager of the Phillies from June 1988-97 but spent the majority of his career with the St. Louis Cardinals. He worked for the Cardinals in several capacities over 18 years from 1970-88, ending with eight years as Director of Player Development. Over that span, the Cardinals went to the World Series three times – in 1982, 1985, and 1987.

Thomas played eight seasons in Major League Baseball from 1961-68 with the New York Yankees, California Angels (currently the Los Angeles Angels), Boston Red Sox, Atlanta Braves, Chicago Cubs, and Houston Astros. An outfielder and first baseman, Thomas was named to the American League All-Star team in 1962.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Thomas worked as a professional scout for the Milwaukee Brewers from 2004-06. Previously, he worked for six seasons as Special Assistant to the General Manager and Assistant General Manager for the Red Sox, working closely with Dan Duquette the majority of those years.

ORIOLES REACH

The Baltimore Orioles have prioritized community involvement through a variety of programs and initiatives throughout Birdland for more than 60 years. With the goal of enriching the lives of fans in the community, the Orioles have supported many civic and charitable organizations in the Mid-Atlantic region, Sarasota, Fla., and abroad. Since the ownership group led by Peter Angelos purchased the team, the Orioles have donated more than $12 million to support various organizations in the Orioles community.

Launched in 2007 under Mr. Angelos' direction, OriolesREACH centralized the club's community relations initiatives in an effort to better reach those who are most in need.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

LUNGEVITY FOUNDATION

For the fourth consecutive year, the Orioles hosted the LUNgevity Foundation's Breathe Deep Baltimore, a 5K walk to raise funds and awareness for lung cancer in memory of late Orioles Public Relations Director Monica Pence Barlow, who passed away in 2014 after a courageous fight with lung cancer. This year's event raised more than $113,000 for the foundation.

BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF METROPOLITAN BALTIMORE

During the 2017 season, The Orioles Charitable Foundation and center fielder Adam Jones, along with his wife, Audie, made a $75,000 donation to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Baltimore to help renovate the gymnasium and fund the Youth of the Year Scholarship Awards. The Jones' also participated in the panel to select the scholarship recipients.

KIDSPeACE

The Orioles joined manager Buck Showalter and his wife, Angela, and KidsPeace to host the annual Trick-or-Trot 5K/1-Mile Walk, a Halloween-themed race at Oriole Park to benefit children in foster care. The race drew 1,300 participants and raised $119,000 for KidsPeace, a nonprofit organization that provides mental and behavioral health care for disadvantaged, challenged, and vulnerable youth in Maryland.

CHRIS DAVIS PARTNERS WITH UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Prior to the 2017 season, Chris Davis and his wife, Jill, formed a new partnership with University of Maryland Children's Hospital (UMCH), to help raise awareness for childhood illnesses as ambassadors for the hospital. In July, the Davis family hosted "Crush's Homers for Hearts," a charity Home Run Derby at the ballpark. The event raised nearly $100,000 to benefit the Pediatric Heart Program of UMCH and the University of Maryland School of Medicine Center. Chris Davis personally donated $1,000 for each of his home runs during the 2017 season, totaling $26,000.

SHANNON'S FUND

Each season, the Orioles and OriolesREACH host a fundraising event at Oriole Park to benefit Shannon's Fund, an endowment at the University of Maryland Medical Center to provide financial support to hospital patients and their families named in memory of former Orioles community relations director, Shannon Obaker. Through fundraising efforts, the Orioles helped raise more than $22,000 last season.

BARCS

In 2017, the Orioles produced the ninth annual Orioles Pet Calendar, sponsored by Pet+E.R., with proceeds benefiting BARCS, a nonprofit shelter that accepts and cares for all animals in need. The 16-month calendar features photos of Orioles with their pets as well as various BARCS animals at locations around Oriole Park. More than $64,500 was raised for BARCS through sales of the 2017-18 pet calendar (as of December 2017).

Kevin Gausman and his wife, Taylor, also joined members of the Orioles on Deck Employee Volunteer Program presented by Bank of America to launch "Tails with Tales," a new collaboration between the Orioles and BARCS. The project paired adoptable animals with school children in an effort to provide companionship to animals while promoting reading comprehension and vocabulary development among youth. Books were supplied by the Gausmans.

ORIOLES REACH FOOD & FUNDS DRIVE

Each year, the Orioles, along with the Orioles Wives, Oriole Advocates, Von Paris Moving and Storage, and the Maryland Food Bank, host the annual OriolesREACH Food & Funds Drive, presented by MASN, Pompeian Brands, and WJZ-TV, at Oriole Park. Representatives from these groups help collect non-perishable food items and monetary donations from fans at every entrance of the ballpark. The 2017 Food & Funds Drive raised more than $32,000 and collected nearly 4,000 pounds of food for Maryland families. United Concordia Dental also presented a check for $10,000 to the Maryland Food Bank during a pregame ceremony in September. These monetary donations supported the Maryland Food Bank's Pack to Give Back event, a state-wide initiative focused on providing meals to families in need for the holidays.

MLB INITIATIVES

The Orioles partner with Major League Baseball to support worthy causes each year, in conjunction with Jackie Robinson Day, Mother's Day, Memorial Day, Play Ball Weekend, Father's Day, Independence Day, and Roberto Clemente Day. The Orioles also recognized certain months during the season to bring awareness to important causes such as Autism Awareness (April), and Childhood Cancer Awareness Month and Hispanic Awareness Month (both September).

GAME-USED MEMORABILIA AND ONLINE AUCTIONS

Through various online auctions of special anniversary jerseys and other game-used items, the Orioles raised more than $327,000 last season for the Orioles Charitable Foundation and other nonprofits.

SERVICE

ORIOLES ON DECK EMPLOYEE VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Each year, members of the Orioles front office staff volunteer with local organizations in the area to help improve the community through the Orioles On Deck Employee Volunteer Program presented by Bank of America. In 2017, Orioles employees volunteered at the Maryland Food Bank, the Franciscan Center Inc., the Boys & Girls Club of Metropolitan Baltimore, BARCS, The Ronald McDonald House and more.

USO OF METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON-BALTIMORE

Darren and Elizabeth O'Day, along with the Orioles Charitable Foundation, continued their partnership with USO of Metropolitan Washington-Baltimore, presenting a check for more than $35,000 from various fundraising efforts throughout the season, to support USO programs for deployed troops, military families, wounded, ill, and injured troops and their caregivers, and families of the fallen.

Orioles players also visited the Joint Base Myer-Henderson Hall USO Honor Guard Lounge in Arlington, Va. in May, to meet service members from honor guard units, sign autographs, and take photos.

BIRDLAND COMMUNITY HEROES

In its second year, the Birdland Community Heroes program honored 41 different heroes at every weekend home game and three Sunday Spring Training games at Ed Smith Stadium. The community heroes were recognized for their selfless contributions in fields that care for, serve, teach, protect, and improve the lives of those in need, both locally and globally. For a complete list of the 2017 heroes, or to nominate someone who inspires others, visit orioles.com/heroes.

CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES' "25,000 MEAL CHALLENGE"

The Orioles and CRS Helping Hands continued their partnership in the fight against hunger by exceeding their goal of 25,000 meals, and sending 30,000 meals to the hungry women, men, and children of Burkina Faso, West Africa. Through the program, for every 50 cents raised, CRS Helping Hands provided one meal to under-fed global neighbors and funded projects to help families support themselves. Orioles Hall of Famer and MASN broadcaster Mike Bordick emceed the event, and Orioles outfielder Trey Mancini visited the event to thank volunteers.

YOUTH BASEBALL

PLAY BALL WEEKEND

In support of Play Ball Weekend in June, the Orioles hosted a variety of clinics, events, and ceremonies at Oriole Park and in the community to encourage youth to be active and Play Ball.

YOUTH CLINICS

Each season, the Orioles and OriolesREACH host and participate in numerous youth baseball and softball clinics throughout the Maryland region. Last season, Brad Brach and Darren O'Day taught baseball fundamentals such as baserunning, fielding, hitting, and throwing to children of servicemen and women at the Fort George G. Meade U.S. Army base. The Orioles also partnered with Baltimore City's Department of Recreation & Parks to conduct their annual Baltimore City clinic, with center fielder Adam Jones and coaches Wayne Kirby and Jett Ruiz on hand to teach baseball and softball fundamentals to more than 300 Baltimore City youths.

The Orioles Advocates Challenger Baseball program held their annual Fantasy Camp Clinic for Challenger Athletes when over 60 athletes with physical and developmental challenges had the opportunity to learn baseball skills from Brad Brach and former Orioles players Al Bumbry and Bill Swaggerty.

"HAVE A CATCH" CAMPAIGN

Expanding upon Major League Baseball's successful Play Ball campaign, the Orioles launched the 'Have A Catch' campaign, a new youth baseball program designed to encourage fans of all ages to go outside and enjoy a game of catch. The Orioles hosted a week-long series of events with Orioles players, alumni, the Oriole bird, and Orioles staff and personnel having a catch with children from local youth organizations at events across Baltimore.

RBI BASEBALL

A mainstay since its inception in 1989, Baltimore Orioles RBI (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) created a partnership with Baltimore City Recreation and Parks to help Baltimore youth develop baseball and softball skills in a fun and safe environment. In 2017, the program supported 42 teams and over 600 youth participants. Aspects of RBI baseball and softball included a clinic for all team coaches, a regional tournament to compete against other RBI programs, and the Adam Jones O'mazing Orioles RBI Player Awards for those that go above and beyond both on and off the field.

BALLPARK & COMMUNITY EVENTS

KIDS RUN THE BASES

Following Sunday home games at Oriole Park, all fans ages 4-14 can run the bases like their favorite Orioles as part of Kids Run the Bases, presented by Weis Markets.

COMMUNITY BOOTH

During each home game, the Orioles provide a community booth for local, nonprofit organizations to distribute information, sell raffle tickets, register participants, and raise awareness for Orioles fans. Nearly 60 different organizations participated in the Community Booth Program in 2017.

MILITARY APPRECIATION PROGRAM

As part of the Orioles Military Appreciation Program, presented by GEICO, the Orioles and OriolesREACH donated a catered private suite at each Sunday home game at Oriole Park to servicemen and women. Last season, the Orioles invited members of Wounded Warrior Project, 742nd Military Battalion, Operation Homefront, Fort Meade Alliance, Luke's Wings, Catch a Lift, Got Your 6, Field of Dreams, USO of Metropolitan Washington-Baltimore, Mission Continues, Yellow Ribbon Fund, National Military Family Association, and Team Red, White and Blue to Oriole Park as part of the program.

YOUTH BASEBALL DAYS AT THE BALLPARK

Nearly 23,000 youth baseball and softball players attended two Youth Baseball Days at Oriole Park in 2017 presented by Ripken Baseball. Teams participated in a pregame parade around the warning track and were greeted by Orioles players as they walked by the dugout.

The park also hosted the Brooks Robinson High School All-Star game, MLB's Pitch, Hit & Run Team championship, and honored the Baltimore City High School baseball and softball champions.

ORIOLES REACH GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE PROGRAM

Each season, the Orioles host more than 10,000 underprivileged youth as a part of the OriolesREACH Gameday Experience Program, in which participants receive a game ticket, concessions, an Orioles T-shirt and cap, as well as transportation to and from the game. More than 150,000 children have participated since the program's inception.

SARASOTA 365

Through Sarasota 365 and OriolesREACH, the Orioles demonstrate the ballclub's year-round engagement with the Greater Sarasota community. Sarasota 365 activities include: youth baseball clinics; the Birdland Golf Classic to benefit the Miracle League of Manasota; Mayors' Feed the Hungry Program Food Drive and Sorting Day; The Orioles Health and Fitness Challenge; All Faiths Food Drive; and much more. To develop a fun and safe community, the Orioles hosted events such as Howl-O-Ween Spooktacular, "Nashville's Music Row Comes to the Ballpark," and Sarasota Springfest.

NASHVILLE'S MUSIC ROW COMES TO THE BALLPARK

For the third consecutive year, the Orioles hosted "Nashville's Music Row Comes to the Ballpark" in partnership with the Greater Sarasota Area Chamber of Commerce, MASN, the Arts and Cultural Alliance of Sarasota County, and Visit Sarasota.

The exclusive performance at Ed Smith Stadium showcased a cross-section of Nashville's vast songwriting community, hosted by Dreamlined Entertainment songwriter Margaret Valentine. Performers included singer/songwriters Lee Thomas Miller, The Warren Brothers, Tina Parol, and Jenae Cherry Brach, wife of Orioles pitcher Brad Brach. Contributions from the event benefited Girls, Inc. and the Music Health Alliance. The weekend also featured programs on music education, girls mentoring, and kids and family wellness.

ORIOLES HEALTH & FITNESS CHALLENGE

The Orioles and Sarasota County Schools continued the Orioles Health & Fitness Challenge, a comprehensive program to encourage healthy lifestyles among middle school-aged children in Sarasota County. Developed in 2016 in partnership with HealthFit Powered by Sarasota Memorial and Students Working Against Tobacco Sarasota County (SWATSC), the initiative teaches students about the importance of physical fitness, healthy eating, and tobacco-free living. Approximately 4,000 students participated in the challenge during 2017. Over 12,500 students have participated since the program began.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

A three-time Manager of the Year (1994, 2004, and 2014), Buck Showalter enters his ninth season with the Orioles. Showalter currently ranks third among active Major League managers and 23rd all-time with 1,504 career victories. In his managerial career, Showalter is 1,504-1,402 in 19 seasons as manager of the New York Yankees (313-268; 1992-1995), Arizona Diamondbacks (250-236; 1998-2000), Texas Rangers (319-329; 2003-06), and Orioles (622-569; 2010-present). He recorded his 1,000th career win on May 1, 2012 at New York-AL. Five years later, on September 5, 2017, Showalter notched the 1,500th victory of his managerial career as the Orioles defeated the Yankees in walk-off fashion.

Over the last six seasons, the Orioles have won the third-most games among all American League clubs (519), finishing with a record of .500 or better in five of the six years. The Orioles have also committed the fewest amount of errors (498) and slugged the most home runs (1,339) in Major League Baseball since the beginning of the 2012 season. In that span, the Orioles have posted the best home record in the AL, going 286-197 (.592) at Oriole Park.

On August 2, 2016, Showalter passed former Orioles manager Paul Richards for sole possession of second place on the Orioles all-time managerial wins list with 518 victories. Showalter trails only Baseball Hall of Famer and Orioles Legend Earl Weaver, who won 1,480 games as manager of the Orioles from 1969-1982 and 1985-1986, as well as four American League pennants and the 1970 World Series. Showalter was named as one of three finalists for the 2016 Baseball Writers' Association of America (BBWAA) Manager of the Year award after he led the Orioles to a Wild Card Game appearance against the Toronto Blue Jays.

Under Showalter's guidance, the 2014 Orioles went 96-66 and won the American League East division title for the first time since 1997, 12.0 games ahead of the New York Yankees. After sweeping the Detroit Tigers in the American League Division Series, 3-0, the Orioles made their first trip to the American League Championship Series since 1997 where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games. Following the season, Showalter earned his third BBWAA American League Manager of the Year award as well as his second Manager of the Year honor from Baseball America (also 2012).

In 2012, Showalter led the Orioles to a 24-game improvement (69 wins in 2011 to 93 in 2012) and the American League Division Series, where they fell to the New York Yankees, 3-2. The Orioles and Rangers reached the postseason in 2012 as the two Wild Card teams and met in a one-game playoff in Arlington to determine the Wild Card team for the Division Series round. The Orioles advanced with a 5-1 win. Following the season, Showalter was named The Sporting News' 2012 AL Manager of the Year and was awarded the C.I. Taylor Legacy Award by the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum as the top AL manager.

Showalter was hired as the 19th manager in Orioles history on July 29, 2010, and took the helm on August 2, directing the club to a 34-23 finish, the second-best record in the American League over the last 57 games behind Minnesota's 35-22 finish. Showalter became the first manager since 1900 to take over a team on August 1 or later and win more games the rest of the way (34) than the club won before he took over (32). He is also the first manager in Major League history to win seven of his first eight games after taking over a team mid-season that was 20 or more games under .500.

Showalter spent the first 19 years of his professional baseball career in the New York Yankees organization, culminating in a four-year stint as the manager from 1992-95. In 1994, Showalter earned AL Manager of the Year honors, guiding New York to a 70-43 record before the strike ended the season prematurely. The next season, he led the Yankees to their first playoff berth in 14 years and managed the American League All-Star team. He was the youngest manager in the Major Leagues in each of his four seasons in New York.

In November 1995, Showalter joined the Arizona Diamondbacks, 28 months before the expansion franchise began play, and helped shape the new team's Major League operations. In 1999, he guided the Diamondbacks to a 100-win season and the NL West division title, an improvement of 35 victories over the previous season, the most in Major League history.

Showalter joined the Texas Rangers prior to the 2003 season and, in 2004, led the club to an 18-win improvement over the previous year, earning his second AL Manager of the Year honor from the BBWAA.

Showalter's managerial career began in 1985 with the Oneonta Yankees. He managed for five seasons in the Yankees minor league system, earning Eastern League Manager of the Year honors in 1989, prior to joining the Major League coaching staff in 1990.

MAKING THE LAST ONE COUNT

Ted Williams wasn't the only Major Leaguer to hit a home run in his last Major League at-bat when he went deep off the Orioles' Jack Fisher on September 28, 1960 at Fenway Park. Two former O's are among 37 players who have homered in their farewell plate appearance. On September 30, 1956, Joe Frazier (who later managed the New York Mets) homered at Washington off Senators pitcher Ted Abernathy in his final big league plate appearance. On August 2, 1994, Jeff Tackett went deep at Minnesota off Twins hurler Mike Trombley in his last at-bat.

ORIOLES DESIGNATED HITTERS

The Baltimore Orioles Designated Hitters were established in the fall of 1979 as a volunteer sales force and designed primarily to keep baseball in Baltimore by increasing season ticket sales. The Designated Hitters (DHs) became an instrumental part of the Orioles' organizational drive to put fans in the stands. Today, DHs work within the regional corporate community as well as small businesses, nonprofit organizations, schools, local government, and individual customers to sell them on the Orioles. The DH staff members participate out of passion for their hometown team and represent the Orioles as a strong volunteer sales support staff dedicated to the continuing success of the Orioles organization. For more information about the DHs, call 410-547-6071 or email dh@orioles.com.

ORIOLE ADVOCATES

The Oriole Advocates, Inc. is a unique nonprofit organization, dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. Founded in July of 1960, the Advocates are in their 55th year of "Promoting and Stimulating Interest in Baseball." Membership comprises some 75 men and women, drawn from a broad cross-section of the Baltimore area.

Through the years, the Advocates have made substantial financial donations to worthy causes, primarily to baseball-oriented youth organizations; have played a key role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace at 216 Emory Street and its conversion into the Babe Ruth/Orioles Museum; and established the Orioles Hall of Fame in 1977.

The organization has also served as an essential right arm to the Orioles Public Relations and Community Relations Departments. In that connection, the Advocates initiated the popular Junior Orioles program (now the Dugout Club) back in 1963 and administered it for 25 years. Membership rose from 75 youngsters the first year to a record 20,000 in 1977. The Oriole Advocates don't get paid for anything they do, instead serving as volunteers that constantly demonstrate the importance of competence and dedication whenever there is a job to be done.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

MINOR LEAGUE PLAYERS OF THE YEAR

After a pair of breakout campaigns, the Orioles selected OF Austin Hays and LHP Alex Wells as the club's top minor league player and pitcher for the 2017 season.

Hays, the Brooks Robinson Minor League Player of the Year, led all Orioles minor leaguers with a .329 average in 128 games between Class A-Advanced Frederick and Double-A Bowie. The 22-year-old outfielder began the season with the Frederick Keys and appeared in 64 games, batting .328 with 16 home runs and 41 RBI. He was promoted to the Bowie Baysox on June 22, where he produced almost identical numbers, slashing .330/.367/.594 with 16 homers and 54 RBI in 64 games. Hays earned his first career All-Star selection with Frederick, and was named Carolina League Player of the Week three times last year. He also earned Orioles Minor League Player of the Month honors in June after batting .373 with eight doubles, 22 RBI, and 15 runs scored in 26 games between Frederick and Bowie. His 32 total home runs were the most in the Orioles organization and ranked tied for second-most among all minor league players last season. Hays joined the Major League club on September 5 and made his MLB debut two days later. He batted .217 with one home run and eight RBI in 20 games with the Orioles.

Wells, the Jim Palmer Minor League Pitcher of the Year, spent the entire season with Class-A Delmarva. The 20-year-old left-hander posted a record of 11-5 with a 2.38 ERA (37 ER/140.0 IP) in 25 starts for the Shorebirds, striking out a career-high 113 batters against just 10 walks. Wells led the South Atlantic League in ERA and WHIP (0.91), while ranking second in wins, and seventh in innings pitched (140.0). He also ranked among organizational leaders in ERA (1st), wins (T-1st) and strikeouts (T-3rd). Wells was named both the South Atlantic Player of the Month and Orioles Minor League Pitcher of the Month in July after working 31.0 scoreless innings across five starts. In that span, he limited opponents to a .124 average (13 hits) with 26 strikeouts and zero walks. Wells did not issue a walk in any of his final 11 starts and finished the year with the fewest walks in all of minor league baseball (minimum 110.0 innings). He went an undefeated 7-0 in 11 starts at home, posting a 1.75 ERA (13 ER/67.0 IP) at Perdue Stadium.

NOTES ON 20-GAME WINNERS: Although the Orioles have not had one in the past 33 seasons, Baltimore pitchers have produced 24 20-win seasons including 23 in the past 49 years (starting in '68), more than any other Major League club...The A's (17), Yankees (16), Cardinals (13), Red Sox (13), White Sox (12), Braves (12), Dodgers (12), Tigers (11), and Astros (10), Cubs (10), and Twins (10) are the only other teams with 10 or more since 1968.

In 1971, four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win plateau...The only other foursome in the history of Major League Baseball to have achieved the feat was a quartet from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21, and Ed Cicotte-21...Despite that achievement, the White Sox finished second that year, two games behind Cleveland.

Steve Stone was the earliest 20-game winner in club history, winning his 20th game on August 19 en route to a team-record 25 victories in 1980...Three other Orioles hurlers have recorded their 20th wins in August: McNally (August 25) and Cuellar (August 27) in 1971, and Palmer (August 20) in 1975.

The first Oriole to win 20, and the only one in the club's first 14 seasons in Baltimore (1954 through 1967), was left-hander Steve Barber in 1963.

| 2017 | August 3 | vs. Detroit Tigers | 5-4-3 | Second time turning two triple plays in the same season |

The Orioles have executed 14 triple plays and have hit into 18 in 64 seasons.

The Orioles turned two triple plays in 2017, the second time in club history turning two in the same season (1973). The first came on May 2 in Boston when the Orioles turned a 6-4-3 triple play. Boston CF Jackie Bradley, Jr. hit a pop fly to short left field that fell between LF Trey Mancini and SS J.J. Hardy. The runner at second base, Mitch Moreland, and the runner at first base, Dustin Pedroia, both did not run thinking the ball was going to be caught, and Bradley, Jr. retreated to the dugout thinking the same thing. Hardy then picked up the ball and threw to 2B Jonathan Schoop who tagged Moreland for the first out and stepped on second forcing out Pedroia for out number two, before throwing to 1B Chris Davis for the third and final out which forced out Bradley, Jr. who had already went to the dugout.

The second triple play of 2017, and the most recent turned by the Orioles, occurred on August 3 at Oriole Park when Detroit's James McCann grounded into a 5-4-3 triple play. With Victor Martinez at second base and Mikie Mahtook at first base, 3B Manny Machado fielded McCann's grounder, stepped on third to force out Martinez, then threw to 2B Jonathan Schoop to force out Mahtook, who then threw to 1B Chris Davis to force out McCann and complete the triple play.

A similar triple play to the one in Boston in 2017, took place on September 1, 2000, at Cleveland. In the second inning, with Sandy Alomar, Jr. at the plate, Travis Fryman at second base, and Wil Cordero at first base, SS Melvin Mora allowed Alomar's short fly to left to bounce in front of him. The Cleveland runners, thinking the infield fly rule had been called, did not run and Alomar headed to the dugout. Mora picked up the ball and threw to 2B Jerry Hairston, who tagged Fryman and stepped on second to force Cordero. After realizing Alomar had not reached first base, Sidney Ponson flipped the ball to Jeff Conine at first to retire Alomar. After some discussion by the umpires and the ejection of Cleveland manager Charlie Manuel, the play stood and the inning ended.

The Orioles have hit into two triple plays at Oriole Park. The most recent was April 3, 1996, against Kansas City, when DH Bobby Bonilla grounded into a 5-4-3-2 triple play. With Roberto Alomar at third base and Rafael Palmeiro at first, 3B Joe Randa gloved Bonilla's grounder and threw to 2B Bip Roberts to force Palmeiro. As Roberts threw to first to double up Bonilla, Alomar streaked toward the plate and was thrown out by 1B Bob Hamelin, who threw to C Sal Fasano.

On April 12, 2013, at New York-AL, Manny Machado hit into a 4-6-5-6-5-3-4 triple play, the most recent triple play turned against the Orioles.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

ALL-STAR NOTES

BIRDS OF A FEATHER: The Orioles have had 21 All-Stars over the last six seasons (since 2012)...According to STATS, LLC., the 21 Orioles All-Stars since 2012 are tied for the American League lead and are tied for the second-most in the majors behind St. Louis (26)... The Orioles are one of eight Major League teams with at least 20 All-Stars over the last six seasons.

FIVE STARS: Five Orioles were named American League All-Stars in 2016, including RHP Brad Brach, LHP Zach Britton, 3B Manny Machado, OF Mark Trumbo, and C Matt Wieters...Brach made the first All-Star Game appearance of his career...Britton and Trumbo made their second All-Star Game appearances...Machado was an All-Star for the third time (also 2013, 2015) and Wieters made his fourth All-Star Game appearance (also 2011, 2012, 2014)...Machado was voted by fans as the starting third baseman for the American League team in the Midsummer Classic...Britton earned the save for the American League squad, allowing one hit over a scoreless ninth inning.

GAME WINNER: In 2009, in his first All-Star Game, CF Adam Jones went 0-1 with a sacrifice fly and the game-winning RBI...At 23 years old, he was the third-youngest player with a game-winning RBI in the eighth inning or later of an All-Star Game, behind Ted Williams (1941) and Hank Blalock (2003), each of whom did it at age 22...Jones was the youngest Oriole to make the AL squad since Mike Mussina (also 23) in 1992 and the youngest O's position player to make the squad since Cal Ripken, Jr. (22) in 1983.

MULTIFACETED: LHP George Sherrill, who had spent all or parts of five years in independent baseball, was named to the 2008 All-Star team and pitched 2.1 scoreless innings in the game, which was held in old Yankee Stadium...After having 28 saves at the break, Sherrill became the first pitcher since 1987 to work more than 2.0 innings in an All-Star Game.

DOUBLE-PLAY DUOS: In 2005, 2B Brian Roberts and SS Miguel Tejada became the first Orioles teammates to start in the All-Star Game since 2B Roberto Alomar and 3B Cal Ripken, Jr. each started in 1998...They were the third 2B-SS tandem from the same team to start for the AL since fan balloting returned in 1970, joining New York's Willie Randolph and Bucky Dent in 1981 along with Alomar and Ripken in 1996.

CAL'S FINALE: 3B Cal Ripken, Jr., playing in his final All-Star Game, homered on the first pitch he saw in the third inning and went on to win his second All-Star MVP Award in the 2001 All-Star Game at Seattle's Safeco Field...Ripken, the lone Oriole selected to play in the game, led off the inning and turned on the first pitch from Los Angeles' Chan Ho Park to give the American League a 1-0 lead it would not relinquish...It was the 19th time Ripken was either elected or selected to the AL All-Star squad, breaking Brooks Robinson's AL mark; he technically started at shortstop after Texas' Alex Rodriguez 'pushed' him to the position and played third base himself in the first inning... Ripken also won MVP honors in the 1991 game, homering at Toronto...With the 2001 home run, he became the oldest player (40) to homer in an All-Star Game and the only Oriole to homer twice in All-Star play.

ALL-STAR STARTS/APPEARANCES: Cal Ripken, Jr. was elected to start 18 years, 17 of those by fan vote...He was unable to play because of injury in 2000...Other Orioles elected to starting berths are Brooks Robinson (four times); Roberto Alomar and Adam Jones (three times); Boog Powell and Frank Robinson (two each); and Manny Machado, Nelson Cruz, J.J. Hardy, Chris Davis, Bobby Grich, Ken Singleton, Eddie Murray, Terry Kennedy, Brady Anderson, Brian Roberts, and Miguel Tejada (one each).

HOME RUN DERBY: OF Mark Trumbo competed in the 2016 T-Mobile Home Run Derby...Trumbo, the No. 1 seed, defeated Corey Seager in the opening round of the bracket-style format, 16-15, before falling to No. 5 seed and eventual Home Run Derby champion Giancarlo Stanton of the Miami Marlins in the semifinals, 17-14...A No. 5 seed in the 2015 Home Run Derby, Manny Machado was defeated by the Dodgers' Joc Pederson (No. 4 seed) in the first round of the bracket format, 13-12...In 2014, Adam Jones was selected by captain Jose Bautista to represent the AL at Target Field (Minneapolis)...After blasting four in the first round, Jones was ousted by Yoenis Cespedes in the second round, finishing with seven home runs total...After leading the majors in homers at the break, Chris Davis took part in the 2013 Home Run Derby at Citi Field in New York...He finished fourth...A last-minute replacement to the 2004 Home Run Derby at Minute Maid Park in Houston, Miguel Tejada set records at the time for home runs in one round (15) and overall (27) to win the contest...He was the second Oriole to win the derby, joining Cal Ripken, Jr., who hit 12 homers at Toronto's SkyDome in 1991...Tejada also took part in the 2006 Home Run Derby in Detroit after declining to participate in the 2005 contest, instead bowing to David Ortiz to represent the Dominican Republic in the revised United States vs. the World format.

ORIOLES ALL-STAR HOMERS: Miguel Tejada's home run in the 2005 game at Detroit was the seventh overall by an Oriole in an All-Star Game...Cal Ripken, Jr. also hit two home runs in All-Star Games, in 1991 (July 9 at Toronto off Dennis Martinez, two on) and 2001 (July 10 at Seattle off Chan Ho Park, solo)...The others were by Brooks Robinson (July 11, 1967 at Anaheim off Fergie Jenkins, solo); Frank Robinson (July 13, 1971 at Detroit off Dock Ellis, one on); Ken Singleton (August 9, 1981 at Cleveland off Tom Seaver, solo); and Roberto Alomar (July 7, 1998 at Colorado off Trevor Hoffman, solo).

BALTIMORE AS ALL-STAR HOST: The Orioles have played host to two All-Star Games...The 25th Midsummer Classic was held at Memorial Stadium in 1958, and the 64th All-Star Game was held at Oriole Park in 1993...On July 8, 1958, Orioles pitcher Billy O'Dell retired the final nine batters as the AL posted a 4-3 win before 48,829 fans at Memorial Stadium...Baltimore's Gus Triandos was the starting catcher, and 11 future Hall of Famers saw action in the game...In its second year of existence, Oriole Park at Camden Yards played host to baseball's first-ever All-Star Week, including the AL's 9-3 win on July 13, 1993...The game drew 48,147 fans...Cal Ripken was the only Oriole to appear in the game, going 0-for-3...Pitcher Mike Mussina was selected to the team but did not get into the game...FanFest, the baseball theme park that is now a part of All-Star Week, drew 111,883 visitors during the five-day celebration...Perhaps the most lasting memories from All-Star Week '93 came on Monday, July 12, at the annual Gatorade All-Star Workout...Juan Gonzalez crushed a ball off the facing of the upper deck in left field, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse during the Home Run Derby.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

1966

The Orioles went 97-63 and claimed their first American League pennant, but faced the defending World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers and a couple of pitchers named Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale in the World Series.

The underdog Orioles swept the four-game series, beating Drysdale in Games 1 and 4. At the age of 20, Jim Palmer beat Koufax in Game 2 to become the youngest pitcher to ever throw a shutout in the World Series.

Frank Robinson, who also won the Triple Crown in 1966, was named the World Series Most Valuable Player after homering twice, but it was the pitching that led the way as the Orioles allowed just two runs on 17 hits in the entire series, blanking the Dodgers over the final three games.

Following the season, Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, and Boog Powell finished 1-2-3 in American League MVP voting.

After the first two games were decided by a run in extra innings in Baltimore, including a two-out RBI bunt single by Paul Blair in the 12th inning in Game 1, the Orioles broke out for 11 runs on 18 hits in Game 3 in Minnesota to make a winner out of Jim Palmer and advance to their second World Series.

Squaring off in the World Series against the New York Mets, the Orioles claimed Game 1 by a score of 4-1. The Orioles' bats went silent the rest of the series as they managed just five runs on 17 hits over the next four games as the "Miracle" Mets won four straight for their first World Championship.

A year after winning 109 games, the 1970 Orioles went 108-54 and steamrolled into the postseason, again facing the Twins in the ALCS. The Birds brought their bats, scoring 27 runs on 36 hits in the three-game sweep. Earl Weaver's crew battered the Twins for six home runs in the three games, including a Game 1 grand slam by starting pitcher Mike Cuellar.

In the World Series, the Orioles faced the mighty Cincinnati Reds, led by Johnny Bench, Tony Perez, and Pete Rose. The Reds had recorded a 102-win season of their own and swept the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League Championship Series.

The Orioles clubbed 10 home runs in the series and outscored the Reds 33-20 in the five-game set to claim their second World Series crown. Series MVP Brooks Robinson made himself a household name with several sterling defensive plays in the series, which led Lee May to nickname him "Hoover" — like the vacuum cleaner.

The Orioles recorded their franchise record third consecutive 100-win season, going 101-57. On the strength of starting pitchers Dave McNally, Cuellar, and Palmer, the Oakland Athletics proved no match for the mighty Orioles in the ALCS as the Birds swept the Athletics in three games, limiting them to seven runs in the series.

Waiting for the Orioles in the World Series were the Pirates, with superstars Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell. The Orioles took a 2-0 lead in the series, as McNally and Palmer recorded wins at home. The Pirates rebounded to take all three games in Pittsburgh, pushing the Orioles to the brink of elimination in Game 6. With the game tied through nine innings, Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the 10th frame scored Frank Robinson, setting up Game 7. Clemente homered and Steve Blass went the distance to knock off the Orioles for the Pirates' fourth World Series title.

The 1973 Orioles went 97-65 to claim their fourth AL East crown in a five-year span, and again squared off with the Athletics in the ALCS.

Despite a Game 1 shutout by Palmer, the Athletics won Games 2 and 3 to take a 2-1 lead in the series. After the Orioles claimed Game 4, they faced Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter in Game 5 at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. Hunter went the distance for his second win of the series, eliminating the Orioles.

The 1974 Orioles won the AL East with a 91-71 record and were rewarded with yet another ALCS matchup with the Oakland Athletics.

Cuellar started the series opener for the Birds and won, 6-3, on the strength of homers by Paul Blair, Bobby Grich, and Brooks Robinson. That game would be their only win of the 1974 postseason as Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue, and Catfish Hunter held the Orioles to one run on 12 hits over the next three games.

Many Orioles fans will tell you the 1979 playoff run began on June 22, when Doug DeCinces' two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning capped a monumental comeback against Detroit, giving birth to "Orioles Magic." The Orioles finished 102-57, winning the division by eight games.

The Orioles played the California Angels in the ALCS and won the series opener in dramatic fashion on a pinch-hit, three-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning by John Lowenstein. The Birds continued their offensive attack in Game 2, jumping out to a 9-1 lead after three innings. The Angels stormed back, but the Birds held on for a 9-8 win and 2-0 series advantage. The Angels claimed Game 3 in Anaheim, but Scott McGregor went the distance in a six-hit shutout in Game 4 to seal the American League crown.

Facing the "We Are Family" Pirates in the World Series, the Orioles jumped out to a 3-1 series lead, but the Pirates battled back on the strength of their pitching staff as they allowed one run in Games 5 and 6 combined to force a Game 7 in Baltimore. The Birds took an early lead on a home run to start the third inning by Rich Dauer. But Stargell, the Series MVP, answered with a two-run shot in the sixth inning off McGregor to lift the Pirates to a 4-1 win and World Championship.

The Orioles were in fourth place in the East on August 12, but went 36-15 to finish the season and won the division by six games. The Birds squared off with the Chicago White Sox in the ALCS and dropped a heartbreaker at home in the series opener. Rookie Mike Boddicker, making his first postseason start in Game 2, tossed a five-hit shutout, striking out 14, to even the series for the Orioles. Eddie Murray's three-run homer in the first inning set the tone in Game 3 as the Orioles rolled to an 11-1 win. Storm Davis and Tippy Martinez combined to blank the White Sox for 10 innings in Game 4, and Tito Landrum's homer in the 10th helped the Birds to a 3-1 series win and their sixth World Series appearance.

After losing the series opener at home in a game where solo homers accounted for all three runs, the Birds bounced back behind Boddicker's second win of the postseason as he allowed just one unearned run in a 4-1 win. With a relief win in Game 3, Palmer put the Orioles up two games to one, and became the only pitcher to win World Series games in three different decades. Scott McGregor took the hill in Game 5 on the brink of a World Championship, delivering a shutout and the Orioles' third World Championship.

The 1996 Orioles claimed the Wild Card spot in the postseason after setting a Major League-record with 10 different players hitting at least 10 home runs. They continued their power prowess by homering nine times in the four-game ALDS against Cleveland, winning the series, 3-1.

Home runs would be a factor again in the ALCS against the New York Yankees as the Birds had a 4-3 lead entering the bottom of the eighth inning in Game 1. Derek Jeter's fly ball to right was caught by a 12-year-old fan named Jeffrey Maier, who reached over the wall into the field of play just before O's right fielder Tony Tarasco could make a play on the ball. The umpires ruled it a home run, tying the game before series MVP Bernie Williams won it with a walk-off homer in the 11th inning.

The Orioles left New York with a split of the first two games of the series, but the Yankees swept all three games in Baltimore to advance to the World Series. The clubs combined for 19 home runs in the series (the Orioles hit nine), accounting for 29 of the 46 runs scored.

The Orioles led the AL East from start to finish and entered the postseason with an ALDS matchup against Seattle. These "Wire to Wire" Birds roughed up Mariners starter Randy Johnson in Game 1 en route to a 9-3 win, and captured Game 2 at the Kingdome by an identical score. After the Mariners won Game 3 in Baltimore, the Orioles were set to face off with Johnson once again. The Birds beat the Big Unit once more, 3-1, on the strength of homers by Jeff Reboulet and Geronimo Berroa.

The Orioles opened the ALCS at home against the Cleveland Indians, with Scott Erickson dazzling for 8.0 scoreless innings in Game 1 as the Orioles won, 3-0. The next three games would be decided by one run, all going in favor of the Tribe. The Orioles bounced back in Game 5, winning 4-2. Game 6 was a pitcher's duel for the ages, as Mike Mussina worked 8.0 scoreless innings for the Orioles, but Cleveland's Charles Nagy and a cast of relievers were equally as tough, leading to a scoreless game through 10 innings. Tony Fernandez hit a two-out home run off Armando Benitez in the 11th inning to win the game to eliminate the Orioles.

After a 14-year hiatus, the Orioles returned to the postseason in 2012, meeting the Texas Rangers in the first-ever American League Wild Card Game. The Orioles won, 5-1, behind starter Joe Saunders, some strong relief pitching, and a pair of RBI from leadoff hitter Nate McLouth.

The Orioles and Yankees squared off in the ALDS with the first two games before raucous crowds at Oriole Park. Game 1 was tied through eight innings before the Yankees tagged closer Jim Johnson for five runs in the ninth inning. Wei-Yin Chen worked into the seventh inning allowing just two runs in Game 2 to help even the series with a 3-2 win. In Game 3 in the Bronx, Ryan Flaherty and Manny Machado became the first Orioles rookies to homer in the postseason, but the Birds fell 3-2 in extra innings. Game 4 was another nail biter as the teams were tied through 12 innings. J.J. Hardy doubled home Manny Machado in the 13th to even the series at two wins apiece. CC Sabathia proved to be too much for the Orioles in the fifth and deciding game as he allowed just one run in a complete game effort.

After pulling into a tie for the division lead on July 3, the Orioles would not relinquish their first-place standing, eventually finishing with the second-best record in Major League Baseball at 96-66 and their first American League East division title since 1997. The Birds would draw the American League Central division champion Detroit Tigers in the ALDS, and faced the AL's last three Cy Young Award winners at the time in Max Scherzer, Justin Verlander, and David Price. After the Tigers pulled within one run in the top of the eighth inning in Game 1, the Orioles erupted for eight runs in the bottom half of the frame en route to a 12-3 rout. In Game 2, Detroit would climb out of an early hole with a five-run fourth inning, but the Birds would battle back, taking the lead in the bottom of the eighth after a bases-clearing, three-run double off the bat of pinch-hitter Delmon Young. The Orioles would complete the sweep at Comerica Park in Game 3 behind 6.1 scoreless frames from starter Bud Norris and Nelson Cruz's two-run home run in the sixth inning, winning 2-1 to set up an ALCS showdown with the Wild Card champion Kansas City Royals.

In the first American League Championship Series game at Oriole Park since 1997, the Orioles would rally to send Game 1 against Kansas City into extra innings. After going a Major League-best 14-6 in extra-inning games during the regular season, a pair of home runs in the top of the 10th by Alex Gordon and Mike Moustakas would sink the Orioles, 8-6. In Game 2, the Birds and Royals would remain locked in a 4-4 draw before Kansas City pushed two runs across in the top of the ninth for a 6-4 victory and a 2-0 lead in the series. The Orioles jumped out to a 1-0 lead early in Game 3, but the Royals tied the game in the fourth and took a one-run lead in the sixth. The Kansas City bullpen posted four straight hitless innings to win 2-1. With Games 1-3 decided by a total of five runs, Game 4 proved to be yet another thriller as the Royals scored twice in the first inning to take a 2-0 lead. After a solo home run from Ryan Flaherty cut Kansas City's lead in half, the Royals' bullpen once again stifled the Orioles lineup, tossing 3.2 scoreless innings in relief of starter Jason Vargas to complete the sweep.

For the third time in five seasons, the Orioles advanced to postseason play, clinching a berth in the American League Wild Card Game in the final game of the regular season with a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Baltimore traveled to Toronto to take on the Blue Jays at Rogers Centre for the one-game playoff on October 4.

The Blue Jays jumped out to a 1-0 lead after Toronto's José Bautista slugged a second-inning solo home run off Orioles starter Chris Tillman. The Orioles battled back and claimed a one-run lead in the fourth inning when Major League Baseball's regular season home run leader, Mark Trumbo, belted a two-run shot off Blue Jays starter Marcus Stroman to put Baltimore on top. Toronto would knot the game at two runs apiece in the bottom of the fifth inning, a score that would eventually send the game into extra innings. After two consecutive one-out singles by the Blue Jays off Ubaldo Jiménez, appearing in relief in the bottom of the 11th inning, Toronto's Edwin Encarnación ended the game with a three-run, walk-off home run.

BASEBALL IN BALTIMORE

1872 – The Lord Baltimores, the city's first professional team, began play in the National Association. In their inaugural game on April 18 in Washington, they beat the Olympics, 16-0. In their home opener on April 22, before 3,500 fans at Newington Park (on Pennsylvania Avenue below Baker Street), they beat the New York Mutuals, 14-9. The team folded in its third season as a rival franchise, the Maryland Base Ball Club, turned from amateur to professional and took its place in the league through 1874. By 1875 the National Association itself had folded.

1882 – A newly formed Lord Baltimores team made its debut in the American Association, a new rival to the National League. A year later, the franchise moved to newly built Oriole Park (on the southwest corner of what is now Greenmount Avenue and 25th Street) and adopted the name "Orioles," the first time that Maryland's state bird was used as a nickname in association with Baltimore's professional baseball team.

1884 – Two more Baltimore teams were formed. One, also named the Orioles, played in the new Union Association; by mid-season they were transferred to Lancaster, Pa., and the league folded after one season. The other, the Monumentals, became a charter member of the Eastern Association, which would become today's International League, but the team broke up after a mere 13 games.

1892 – Baltimore joined the National League. Games were played at Union Park, a 12,000-seat stadium at the northeast corner of Barclay and 25th Street.

1894-1896 – With innovative Ned Hanlon as manager, the scrappy Orioles won three straight National League pennants, led by future Hall of Famers John McGraw, Dan Brouthers, Joe Kelley, Willie Keeler, and Hughie Jennings.

1899 – With most of their star players having been sold to Brooklyn, the Orioles finished their eighth season before folding. There would be no professional team in Baltimore as the new century dawned.

1901 – A new Baltimore Orioles team joined the upstart American League, with John McGraw as manager and an overflow crowd of 10,371 at Opening Day. The Orioles played two seasons in Baltimore before relocating to New York as the Highlanders – eventually to become the New York Yankees.

1903 – A minor league team using the name Baltimore Orioles joined the Eastern League. They were in existence for nine seasons, playing at American League Park, at York Road and 29th Street. The team won the league pennant in 1908 under second-year manager Jack Dunn.

1912 – The minor league Orioles joined the International League. They were a part of the league for the next 42 seasons until Major League Baseball returned.

1914 – A second Baltimore team, the Terrapins (named for an edible type of turtle common to the state of Maryland), entered the newly formed Federal League. The league folded after just two seasons. The team played at Terrapin Park, built on the west side of Greenmount Avenue between 29th and 30th street; two years later, Jack Dunn bought the ballpark and renamed it Oriole Park.

1914 – Jack Dunn, owner, general manager, and manager of the International League Orioles, signed 19-year-old George Herman Ruth out of a Baltimore orphanage. Oriole players kid Dunn about his "babe," and a nickname was born. By July, Babe Ruth was sold to the Boston Red Sox.

1919-1925 – The Orioles, led by Dunn, won a record seven straight International League titles. For five of those years (1920-24), future Hall of Famer Lefty Grove lead the pitching staff, going 108-36.

1920s-40s – The city fielded two teams in the Negro Leagues - the Elite Giants and the Black Sox. Second baseman James "Junior" Gilliam and Hall of Fame catcher Roy Campanella each played two different stints for the Elite Giants on their way to Major League careers with the Brooklyn Dodgers' "Boys of Summer."

1944 – After winning the International League title, the Orioles beat Louisville of the American Association to win the Junior World Series. It wasn't easy, however; a fire in the early morning hours of July 4 destroyed Oriole Park, led the team to use Municipal Stadium, a football facility on 33rd Street. One game of the Junior World Series drew 52,833 paid fans, outdrawing each of the World Series games in St. Louis between the Browns and Cardinals and attracted interest from teams in the Major Leagues and professional football.

1953 – The Orioles, owned by Jack Dunn III, played their final season in the International League. After two votes failed, on September 29, American League owners approved the sale of the financially struggling St. Louis Browns franchise to a Baltimore-based consortium led by attorney Clarence W. Miles and brewery owner Jerold C. Hoffberger.

BACK IN THE MAJORS

1954 – Playing in renovated Municipal Stadium (later called Memorial Stadium), Baltimore returned to the Major Leagues and the Orioles returned to the American League after 52 years. After splitting two games in Detroit to begin the season, the Orioles returned to Baltimore by train – arriving, ironically, at Camden Station, just a few yards from the current ballpark – and a lengthy parade through the streets prior to their home opener on April 15. They beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, but went on to a 54-100 season.

NOVEMBER 18, 1954 – In a trade that took two weeks to complete, the Orioles and Yankees swapped 18 players as new manager/general manager Paul Richards laid the groundwork for the coming years. The Orioles received 11 players, including catcher Gus Triandos, outfielder Gene Woodling, and Willie Miranda, first in a long line of outstanding defensive shortstops.

1955 – Brooks Robinson was signed; he made his Major League debut on September 17 but did not establish himself as the regular third baseman and future Hall of Famer until 1958.

JULY 8, 1958 – Memorial Stadium hosted its first and only All-Star Game. The Orioles' Billy O'Dell retired the last nine batters to preserve a 4-3 win for the American League.

SEPTEMBER 20, 1958 – Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm hurled the first no-hitter in Orioles history, beating the Yankees 1-0 at Memorial Stadium. Two years later, manager Paul Richards introduced the "big mitt" designed to help catchers cut down on passed balls and wild pitches from Wilhelm's knuckleball.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1963 – Steve Barber became the first 20-game winner in club history, beating the Angels, 3-1, in California.

JUNE 1965 – Jerry Hoffberger, whose family was among the original group of owners of the Orioles when it moved to Baltimore, took control of the ballclub as majority owner. He led the club for 14 years, during which the Orioles went to the postseason six times.

DECEMBER 9, 1965 – The Orioles made arguably the greatest trade in franchise history, acquiring former All-Star outfielder Frank Robinson from the Cincinnati Reds for Milt Pappas and two players acquired earlier in the week, Jack Baldschun and Dick Simpson. New GM Harry Dalton completed the trade, which had begun a month earlier by his predecessor, Lee MacPhail, Jr.

MAY 8, 1966 – Frank Robinson hit the only fair ball ever to leave Memorial Stadium, a shot over the left field bleachers measured at 465 ft. The Orioles later commemorated the event with a flag at the top of the bleachers where the ball left the park, simply saying "HERE."

SEPTEMBER 22, 1966 – Twenty-year-old Jim Palmer pitched a complete game as the Orioles clinch their first American League pennant with a 6-1 win at Kansas City. Palmer won 268 games and three Cy Young Awards in a 19-year career with the Orioles on his way to the Hall of Fame.

1966 – "Would You Believe 4 Straight?" The Orioles stunned the baseball world by sweeping the favored Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series. Frank Robinson won the American League triple crown (.316-49-122). Frank, Brooks Robinson, and Boog Powell finished 1-2-3 in the American League MVP voting.

1968 – Longtime minor league manager Earl Weaver was added to the coaching staff at the beginning of the season and, on July 11, was named manager of the Orioles. He went on to post a 1,480-1,060 record in 17 seasons before being elected to the Hall of Fame.

1969-71 – Pitching, three-run homers, and defense stamp Weaver's Orioles, as they captured three straight American League East titles, a trio of AL pennants, and the 1970 World Series. Brooks Robinson earned the nickname "Hoover" from future teammate Lee May after showing off his defensive skills in the 1970 series triumph over the Reds.

1973-74 – The Orioles won back-to-back AL East titles, giving them five division titles in six years. However, they were beaten by Oakland in the American League Championship Series both years.

JUNE 15, 1976 – Hank Peters, in his first year as Orioles general manager, began to remake the club with a 10-player trade with New York. Future Orioles Hall of Fame members Scott McGregor, Tippy Martinez, and Rick Dempsey came from the Yankees; catcher Elrod Hendricks, who later will be traded and return twice more, was among those sent to New York.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1977 – Memorial Stadium was filled with 51,798 fans on “Thanks, Brooks Day,” celebrating the end of the third baseman’s 23-year career, all with the Orioles.

JUNE 22, 1979 – Doug DeCinces’ two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning capped a monumental comeback against Detroit and gave birth to “Orioles Magic.”

1979 – The Orioles won the American League pennant for the fifth time and took a 3-1 lead over Pittsburgh in the World Series. But the Pirates’ “fam-i-lee” came back to win the last three games and the World Championship.

NOVEMBER 1, 1979 – American League owners approved the August sale of the Orioles to Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams. The purchase ended both local and public ownership of the club.

AUGUST 10, 1981 – Cal Ripken, Jr. made his Major League debut, scoring the winning run as a 12th-inning pinch-runner vs. Kansas City at Memorial Stadium.

1981 – The Orioles’ 59-46 record was the best in the American League, but not good enough for the playoffs. Following a mid-year strike, baseball decided to play the season in two halves and the Orioles finished second to New York and Milwaukee in the two halves.

OCTOBER 1-3, 1982 – The Orioles, three games behind Milwaukee with four games to play heading into a final weekend series with the Brewers, took the first three games at Memorial Stadium to force a tie for first. The Brewers spoiled the comeback with a 10-2 win in the season finale. Earl Weaver, who two months earlier had announced retirement at the end of the season, was saluted by 51,462 fans in an emotional celebration and farewell following the game.

1983 – The Orioles lost the first game of the American League Championship Series before coming back to beat the Chicago White Sox in three straight games. They lost the World Series opener to the Philadelphia Phillies before coming back to win four straight for their third World Championship. Cal Ripken, Jr. was named AL MVP (.318-27-102) in a close race over teammate Eddie Murray (.306-33-111).

1988 – The Orioles lost a Major League-record 21 consecutive games to start the season.

MAY 2, 1988 – Returning home to Memorial Stadium with a 1-23 record, the Orioles played before 50,402 fans on a Monday night. In a dramatic pre-game announcement, Governor William Donald Schaefer announced that Orioles owner Edward Bennett Williams and the Maryland Stadium Authority agreed on a 15-year lease for a new ballpark to be constructed at Camden Yards for the 1992 season.

DECEMBER 1988 – Investor Eli S. Jacobs bought the Orioles from the estate of Edward Bennett Williams, who passed away in August.

1989 – “Why Not?” is the rallying cry of the young Orioles, who improbably led the AL East into September. They eventually lost at Toronto on the next-to-last day of the season, giving the Blue Jays the division crown.

OCTOBER 6, 1991 – After 38 years, the Memorial Stadium era ended as the Orioles played their last game on 33rd Street. Cal Ripken, Jr. – who added his second MVP Award to the All-Star Game MVP trophy he won mid-season – hit into a game-ending double play, but the 7-1 loss to Detroit did not diminish an emotional “Field of Dreams” celebration afterward as more than 100 former Orioles returned in uniform to take their old positions one last time before 50,700 fans.

APRIL 6, 1992 – Oriole Park at Camden Yards ushered in a new era of “retro ballparks” and the Orioles beat the Indians, 2-0, on Rick Sutcliffe’s complete game. The ballpark, on the western edge of downtown, helped revitalize the neighborhood and earned wide acclaim for its architectural design and fan-friendly features.

JULY 13, 1993 – Oriole Park hosted the city’s second All-Star Game, following a week-long “All-Star Fan Fest,” the first of its kind.

AUGUST 2, 1993 – Baltimore attorney Peter Angelos led a group of investors – most of whom were Baltimoreans – in buying the Orioles at an auction from Eli S. Jacobs. American League owners approved the sale on October 4.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1995 – The Iron Man topped the Iron Horse: Cal Ripken, Jr. surpassed a record once thought unbeatable, playing in his 2,131st consecutive game to pass Lou Gehrig's all-time record. Ripken's homer in the game helped beat the Angels, 4-2.

1995 – The Orioles drew 3,098,475 fans in the strike-shortened season to lead the American League in attendance for the first time in their history. They went on to lead the league in attendance for four straight years.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1996 – Future Hall of Famer Eddie Murray, who returned to the club in a mid-season trade with Cleveland, hit his 500th career home run into the right field seats at Camden Yards.

1996 – A Major League-record 10 different Orioles hit at least 10 home runs during the season as the Orioles broke New York's (AL) 35-year-old mark for home runs by a team. The Orioles advanced to the playoffs as the "Wild Card" team, finishing second in the AL East. They beat Cleveland in the American League Division Series before the Yankees ended the Orioles postseason hopes in the ALCS.

1997 – The Orioles went wire-to-wire to win the AL East. They beat Seattle in the Division Series before falling in six games to Cleveland in the ALCS.

SEPTEMBER 20, 1998 – Cal Ripken, Jr. ended his consecutive game streak at 2,632, sitting out the Orioles' final home game of the season at Camden Yards vs. the New York Yankees. Ryan Minor started in his place at third base.

APRIL 15, 2000 – Cal Ripken, Jr. singled at Minnesota's Metrodome off Hector Carrasco for his 3,000th career hit, the first Oriole and 24th player to reach that milestone.

OCTOBER 6, 2001 – Having announced in May his plans to retire at season's end, Cal Ripken, Jr. played his last game as an Oriole before 48,807 fans at Camden Yards. His 21-year career resulted in a first-ballot election to the Hall of Fame.

JULY 31, 2006 – The Mid-Atlantic Sports Network, a regional television channel owned primarily by the Orioles, began 24-hour programming. The network is the rightsholder for both Orioles and Washington Nationals games.

NOVEMBER 12, 2008 – The Orioles unveiled their new road uniform with a script "Baltimore" across the chest. The Orioles' road uniform had featured a script "Orioles" across the chest since 1973.

OCTOBER 5, 2012 – The Orioles and Rangers met in the first American League Wild Card "play-in" game in Arlington. The Orioles won 5-1 to advance to the ALDS, where they fell in five games to the Yankees.

2013 – Chris Davis homered for the 51st time on September 17 at Boston, breaking Brady Anderson's club record set in 1996. Davis added two more before season's end, finishing with 53. The Orioles finished with a .991 fielding percentage, the best in Major League history.

SEPTEMBER 16, 2014 – With an 8-2 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays, the Orioles secured their ninth AL East Division title in team history, marking the third time the club had clinched in Baltimore, the first time since 1979, and the first division clinch with a win in Baltimore since 1969.

OCTOBER 5, 2014 – The Orioles swept the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory in Game 3 of the American League Division Series to advance to the ALCS for the first time since 1997, where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games.

APRIL 29, 2015 – Citing the need for local resources to be better utilized during a period of unrest in Baltimore, the Orioles played an unprecedented game without fans against the Chicago White Sox after closing the contest to the public. The Orioles went on to win, 8-2.

JUNE 16, 2015 – Seven different Orioles combined to slug a club-record eight home runs against the Philadelphia Phillies, surpassing the previous club mark of seven. Chris Davis' fourth inning blast was his seventh career home run to land on Eutaw Street, the most such home runs in Oriole Park history by an individual player. He hit his eighth career Eutaw Street home run on August 14, 2015 vs. Oakland, and has 10 career Eutaw Street home runs.

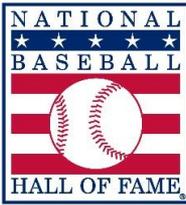

JUNE 28, 2015 – In the second game of a doubleheader against Cleveland, the Orioles recorded their 5,000th regular season victory in club history.

AUGUST 1, 2015 – Outfielder Gerardo Parra became the 1,000th player to appear in a game for the Orioles since the team moved to Baltimore in 1954.

OCTOBER 4, 2016 – The Orioles advanced to postseason play for the third time in five seasons, and met the Toronto Blue Jays in the American League Wild Card Game. The Blue Jays defeated the Orioles, 5-2, in 11 innings at Rogers Centre.

AUGUST 5, 2017 – The Orioles reached 10,000 regular season home runs in Orioles history (since 1954) against Detroit, when Tim Beckham connected for a solo home run in the eighth inning off of Edward Mujica.

THE ORIOLES HALL OF FAME

The Orioles Hall of Fame was conceived in 1977 by the Oriole Advocates at the suggestion of two former presidents, Allen Barrett and Jack Buckley, both of whom have since passed away. The Advocates continue to administer the annual elections under the direction of their Hall of Fame Committee.

Candidates may be elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame through two channels: the regular vote by a panel of some 80 people, comprising sportswriters, broadcasters, Oriole Advocates, and Orioles personnel; or by a vote of the veterans committee, a group of 25 senior representatives from the sports media, Oriole Advocates, and the Orioles front office.

Procedures for election to the Orioles Hall of Fame are based on those used by the National Baseball Hall of Fame, requiring mention on 75 percent of ballots cast. All candidates must have served a minimum of three full seasons with the Orioles. To be eligible for regular election, a player, manager or coach must have been active in that capacity within the last 15 years, but ceased serving in the position for which he was nominated for at least one year. For consideration by the veterans committee, formed in 1989, a candidate must have ceased serving in the capacity of consideration for at least 15 years.

Last inducted into the Orioles Hall of Fame was former Oriole third baseman Melvin Mora in 2015. Mora played nine and a half seasons with the Orioles from 2000-2009, compiling a .280 batting average and 158 home runs. His 808 games played at third base are second only to Brooks Robinson on the club's all-time list. In 2004, Mora set the Orioles' single-season record with a .340 batting average, while also posting career-highs in home runs (27) and RBI (104). A two-time All-Star, Mora also won a Silver Slugger Award and was twice named AL Player of the Month.

Additionally, the former left field platoon duo of John Lowenstein and Gary Roenicke were enshrined as selections of the Veteran's Committee in 2015. The left-handed hitting Lowenstein and right-handed hitting Roenicke split playing time in left field for the Orioles from 1979-1985 under the direction of manager Earl Weaver. The duo combined to hit 171 home runs and registered 574 RBI in the seven seasons they played together for the Orioles. In their first season platooning in left, they combined for 36 home runs and 98 RBI, helping the Orioles win the 1979 American League pennant.

The Orioles Hall of Fame currently has 55 former players, coaches, and managers.

HERB ARMSTRONG AWARD WINNER

In 1995, the Oriole Advocates established the Herb Armstrong Award to honor non-uniformed personnel who have represented the Orioles for at least five years and made a significant contribution to the ballclub, the community, or the sport of baseball. The award is named after the beloved former educator, professional baseball player, manager, and longtime official for both the Orioles' International League and American League clubs who dedicated nearly 70 years of his life to the people of Baltimore, his adopted hometown. Winners are selected by the Orioles Hall of Fame Veterans Committee and honored during the Orioles Hall of Fame Weekend ceremonies.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

"WILD BILL" HAGY AWARD

On August 20, 2007, the Orioles lost one of their most passionate fans with the passing of William G. "Wild Bill" Hagy. Leading cheers from "The Roar from 34" at Memorial Stadium, "Wild Bill" became a Baltimore institution, contorting his body to spell out "O-R-I-O-L-E-S" from the upper deck – and sometimes coming down to lead the crowd in cheers from atop the dugout.

Upon his passing, the Orioles and the Oriole Advocates announced the creation of an award to honor the team's top fans, to be named The Wild Bill Hagy Award. The award will expand the Orioles Hall of Fame categories to include fans who have demonstrated an exceptional commitment in support of the team in the tradition of Wild Bill, who rooted for the club year in and year out.

Appropriately, Hagy was named the first recipient of the award.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLE

Infielder Jonathan Schoop was voted the winner of the 2017 Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award by members of the local media. Schoop finished the season batting .293/.338/.503 (182-for-622) with 35 doubles, 32 home runs, 105 RBI, and 92 runs scored, having set career-highs in hits, home runs, runs, and RBI. Schoop was named AL Player of the Week for the week of July 17-23, hitting .433/.438/.800 (13-for-30) with two doubles, three home runs, eight runs, and 16 RBI over seven games; his 16 RBI led the Majors and his three home runs were tied for the most in the AL during the week. He posted a career-high 26-game on-base streak from April 12-May 12 when he hit .344/.385/.613 (32-for-93) with 10 doubles, five home runs, 14 runs, 17 RBI, four walks, and four hit by pitches. Schoop was selected to the 2017 All-Star Game, his first career All-Star selection, going 1-for-1 with a double and run scored. He established an O's record for RBI by a second baseman and his 32 homers were also a team record for a second baseman, breaking his own record of 25 in 2016.

The MVO Award was initiated when the Orioles returned to the Majors in 1954. A decade ago it was renamed in memory of Hatter, the distinguished and lovable "dean" of Baltimore baseball writers who covered the Orioles for The Baltimore Sun for 27 years. The award winner is selected through a vote of writers and broadcasters who cover the Orioles on a regular basis. There have been four ties, and no award was given in 1994. Thirteen players - Eddie Murray (seven), Cal Ripken, Jr. (four), Brooks Robinson (four), Rafael Palmeiro (three), Frank Robinson (three), Ken Singleton (three), and Chris Davis, Adam Jones, Stu Miller, Jim Palmer, Boog Powell, Brian Roberts, and Miguel Tejada (two) - have won the award more than once.

EARL WEAVER—4

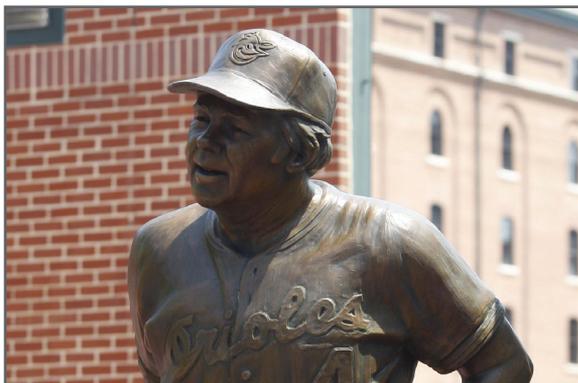

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown in August 1996, Earl Weaver currently ranks 26th in victories and his .583 winning percentage (1,480-1,060) over 17 seasons—all in Baltimore—ranks eighth on the all-time list of those who managed 10-or-more seasons in the Majors.

Weaver was a minor league second baseman for 13 years, mostly in his hometown St. Louis Cardinals organization. He began his managing career in the minors in 1956 and joined the Orioles organization a year later. He came up to the Orioles as a first base coach in 1968 and was named manager on July 11 of that year. From 1969 through 1982, he won six AL East titles, four AL pennants, and one World Series, beating the Cincinnati Reds in 1970. Weaver's Orioles won 100 games or more five times, and he earned Manager of the Year honors three times.

He retired following the 1982 season, which ended one game shy of another AL East title when the Orioles lost to the Milwaukee Brewers on the final day of the season. He came back to manage in mid-1985 for 1½ years before retiring for good. The only time in his 17 seasons as a manager that he posted a losing record was his last, in 1986.

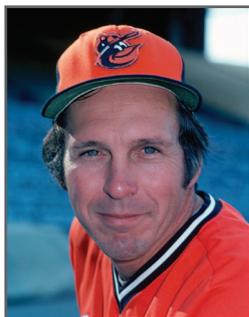

Weaver passed away on January 19, 2013, at age 82. His widow, Marianna, lives in Pembroke Pines, Fla.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS BROOKS ROBINSON—5

"Mr. Oriole" spent 23 seasons with the Orioles and started 20 consecutive Opening Day games. He won the American League Most Valuable Player Award in 1964 and holds the record for most Gold Gloves by a position player with 16. His election to Baseball's Hall of Fame (in his first year of eligibility in 1983) was cemented with his performance against the Cincinnati Reds in the 1970 World Series, when he was named MVP and earned the nickname "Hoover" (as in vacuum cleaners) for his play in the field.

Robinson played in 18 All-Star games. He trails only Cal Ripken, Jr. among the Orioles' all-time leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, RBI, runs, total bases, and extra-base hits. In addition to his American League MVP Award in 1964 and his World Series MVP Award in 1970, he was the All-Star Game MVP in 1966 and was voted the Most Valuable Oriole in 1960, 1962, 1964, and co-winner in 1971 with Frank Robinson. He also earned the Commissioner's Trophy (now the Roberto Clemente Award) for exemplifying the game of baseball in 1972 and the Joe Cronin Award for significant achievement by an American League player in 1977. In 2016, Robinson was honored at the annual Rawlings Gold Glove Award ceremony with a Lifetime Achievement Award.

Robinson holds six Major League fielding records and seven American League records for third basemen, including 2,697 putouts. He is 14th on the all-time list of games played (fourth in the AL) and fourth in games played with one team.

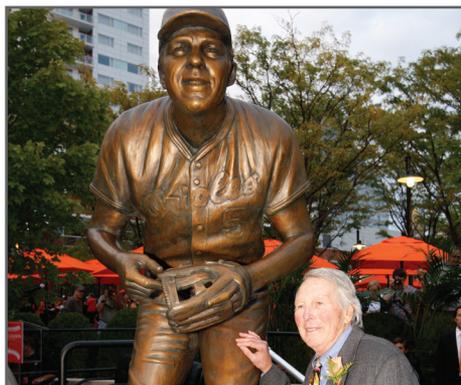

A native of Little Rock, Ark., Robinson and his wife, Connie, have four children. They split their time living in the northern Baltimore suburbs and in Southern California.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS CAL RIPKEN, JR.—8

Baseball's all-time Iron Man, Cal Ripken, Jr. spent his entire 21-year career with the Orioles and was inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 2007 in his first year of eligibility. He is one of only 10 players in history with both 400 HR and 3,000 hits, along with Hank Aaron, Adrián Beltré, Willie Mays, Eddie Murray, Stan Musial, Rafael Palmeiro, Alex Rodriguez, Dave Winfield, and Carl Yastrzemski. In 2001, his final season, he was elected to his 19th All-Star Game, breaking the AL record for most times as an All-Star – a record previously held by Brooks Robinson. He earned two All-Star Game MVP Awards (1991 and 2001), two American League MVP Awards (1983 and 1991), American League Rookie of the Year honors (1982), two Gold Gloves, and eight Silver Slugger awards, all at shortstop. Ripken was named Most Valuable Oriole four times, twice sharing the award with Eddie Murray.

Ripken will be most remembered for topping the said-to-be-unbreakable record for consecutive games played set by Lou Gehrig, passing Gehrig's mark of 2,130 games on September 6, 1995. Ripken went on to play in 2,632 consecutive games before sitting on September 20, 1998.

Following the 1999 season, he was named as one of two shortstops (with Ernie Banks) on Major League Baseball's All-Century Team, selected by fans and an expert panel. Extremely active in community endeavors, he won the Roberto Clemente Award (1992) and the initial Bart Giamatti Caring Award (1990), among many other honors.

Since his playing career ended in 2001, Ripken has focused his attention on growing the game at the grassroots level. Through his business, Ripken Baseball, and his family's nonprofit organization, the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation, he is bringing the game to kids across the country. Ripken Baseball operates three Ripken Experience complexes in his hometown of Aberdeen, Md., Myrtle Beach, S.C., and Pigeon Forge, Tenn. The Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation has built over 75 Youth Development Parks, multi-purpose turf fields, in areas of need across the country. In 2015, Ripken was named Major League Baseball Special Advisor on Youth Programs and Outreach by Commissioner Robert D. Manfred.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS FRANK ROBINSON—20

Frank Robinson's achievements during his 21 seasons as a player rank him among the top players of all-time in 10 categories. He hit 586 home runs, 10th on the all-time list. He spent 19 seasons with the Orioles as a player (1966-71), coach (1979-80 and 85-87), manager (1988-91), and assistant general manager (1991-95).

The trade that brought Robinson from Cincinnati to Baltimore turned the Orioles from contenders to World Champions in 1966. He won the Triple Crown (.316 average, 49 homers, 122 RBI) and was both the American League and World Series MVP in his first season with the Orioles. In all, the Orioles went to the World Series four times in his six seasons as a player with them. When he was traded to the Dodgers after the 1971 season, he became the first to have his number retired by the Orioles.

Robinson was the National League Rookie of the Year with the Reds in 1956 and is the only player to win MVP honors in both leagues (1961 NL, 1966 AL). He played in 11 All-Star Games and was MVP of the 1971 Midsummer Classic. While still an active player, he became the first black manager in Major League history with the Cleveland Indians in 1975. In addition to the Indians (1975-77), he managed the San Francisco Giants (1981-84), the Orioles (1988-89), and the Montreal Expos-Washington Nationals (2002-06).

Robinson was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 1982. He lives with his wife, Barbara, in Los Angeles. They have two children.

On February 2, 2015, Robinson was named by Baseball Commissioner Robert D. Manfred, Jr. as Senior Advisor and the new Honorary President of the American League.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS JIM PALMER—22

The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Jim Palmer won 268 games in a 19-year career, all of it with Baltimore. He won three Cy Young Awards in a four-year span (1973, '75, '76) and his 2.86 ERA is fourth on the all-time list among pitchers with 3,000 or more innings pitched in the Play Index Era (1913-2017).

Palmer won 20 games in a season eight times, one of only six pitchers who pitched exclusively in the 20th century to accomplish the feat. He put that string together in a nine-year stretch, 1970-78, during which he went 176-97 with a 2.54 ERA.

In 1966, at age 20, he became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a World Series shutout, and in 1983 he became the only hurler to have won a World Series game in each of three decades. He was the winning pitcher in the Orioles' first four pennant-clinching games and was 8-3 in 17 postseason appearances. He was a six-time All-Star and was the American League's starting pitcher four times.

Palmer was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot in January 1990. He is in his 26th season as an analyst on Orioles televised games, and has also worked for ABC-TV and ESPN. On January 12, 2012, Palmer was awarded the Player Lifetime Achievement Award by the Professional Baseball Scouts Foundation.

Palmer and his wife, Susan, live in Palm Beach, Fla. and Corona del Mar, Calif. with their son, Spencer. His oldest daughter, Jamie, lives in Cotuit, Mass., with her husband, Paul. Palmer's younger daughter, Kelly, lives in Trophy Club, Texas, with her husband, David, and 10-year-old twins, 11 on May 1, Maxine and Henri.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS EDDIE MURRAY—33

Eddie played 12½ of his 21 seasons with the Orioles and was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 2003. He spent his first 12 years with the Orioles and rejoined the team in 1996, becoming the 15th player to reach the 500-home run plateau. Murray, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Rafael Palmeiro, and Alex Rodriguez are the only players with 500 homers and 3,000 hits.

A model of consistency, he drove in at least 75 runs in each of his first 20 Major League seasons, a feat unmatched. He has more RBI than any switch-hitter in history and ranks ninth all-time in RBI. Murray was named to eight All-Star teams, seven as an Oriole, and batted .300 or better seven times, including five times as an Oriole. He won the Orioles' "triple crown" five times, leading the club in average, homers, and RBI. He played at least 150 games in 16 seasons, the second most in history behind Pete Rose. He also appeared in 2,413 games as a first baseman, the most by a first baseman in Major League history.

Murray broke in as the American League Rookie of the Year in 1977. He was named Most Valuable Oriole seven times (twice sharing the award with Ripken).

Like Frank Robinson before him, Murray's Oriole number was retired when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also played for the New York Mets, Cleveland Indians, and Los Angeles Angels, and was an Orioles coach for four seasons, 1998-2001. He also served as the hitting coach for the Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Dodgers. A three-time Gold Glove winner, he holds the Major League record for games played and career assists by a first baseman. Murray has two daughters, Jordan and Jessica, and lives in his hometown of Los Angeles.

ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS

THE BALLPARK THAT FOREVER CHANGED BASEBALL™

ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS

When Oriole Park opened on April 6, 1992, a new era of Major League Baseball began. The park was brand new, but still old-fashioned. State-of-the-art, yet quaint. At less than a day old, it was already a classic.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards inspired a generation of ballpark construction. No longer would communities across America build multipurpose stadiums devoid of character, surrounded by vast parking lots. Ballparks would now be created to nestle neatly into existing and historic neighborhoods and play key roles in the revitalization of urban America. In the 26 years that followed, nearly 70 million fans have attended games at the ballpark.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards captured the nation's attention from day one and in the seasons that followed, has served as the standard by which all new ballparks are measured. Citizens of Baltimore and throughout Maryland, as well as Orioles fans everywhere, should take great pride in the fact that their team makes its home in The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™.

THE HISTORY

Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the beautiful baseball-only facility in downtown Baltimore, became the official home of the Orioles on April 6, 1992. The construction of the park was completed in essentially 33 months from the time razing previous structures on the 85-acre parcel began on June 28, 1989, in the area known as Camden Yards.

The one-time railroad center is 12 minutes west by foot from the city's Inner Harbor and only two blocks from the birthplace of baseball's most legendary slugger, George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Ruth's father operated Ruth's Cafe on the ground floor of the family residence located at Conway Street and Little Paca, now center field at Oriole Park. The ballpark originally seated 48,041 (and now seats 45,971), and the project cost was approximately $110 million. It was designed by the Kansas City architectural firm of Helmuth, Obata + Kassabaum (HOK) with direction and input from the Orioles and the State of Maryland, which owns and operates the facility through its agency, the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA).

Working under contract to HOK were the urban design firm of RTKL, the landscape architecture firm of Wallace, Roberts and Todd, and the engineering firms of Bliss and Nyitray; Rummel, Klepper and Kahl; and Kidde Consultants, Inc. Working under contract to the Orioles were the interior design firm of Forte Design and the graphic design firm of David Ashton and Associates.

Oriole Park is state-of-the-art, yet unique, traditional, and intimate in design. It blends with the urban context of downtown Baltimore while taking its image from baseball parks built in the early 20th century. Steel, rather than concrete trusses, an arched brick facade, a sun roof over the gentle slope of the Upper Deck, an asymmetrical playing field, and natural grass turf are just some of the features that tie it to those magnificent big league ballparks built in the early 1900s. Ebbets Field (Brooklyn), Shibe Park (Philadelphia), Fenway Park (Boston), Crosley Field (Cincinnati), Forbes Field (Pittsburgh), Wrigley Field (Chicago), and The Polo Grounds (New York) were among the ballparks that served as powerful influences in the design of Oriole Park.

RECORDS & HISTORY

ORIOLE PARK

MEDIA

BALTIMORE'S ORIOLE

America's early colonists noticed a bird whose male bore the black and orange colors of Lord Baltimore, Maryland's founder. It was called a Baltimore oriole until the 1960s, when it was observed to interbreed with a bird called Bullock's oriole. The American Ornithologists' Union declared both would be considered a single species: Northern oriole. But later studies showed that, while the two birds interbreed, the offspring rarely pass along their genes. In 1994, the Baltimore oriole recovered its status as a species.

ACCESSIBILITY/PARKING

Oriole Park is easily reached via rail, bus, and subway lines, as well as four major highways (I-95, I-83, I-70, and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway). The MARC train and light rail trains both have stops directly on site. Approximately 4,000 parking spaces are located south of the park and numerous spaces are located in areas within walking distance of the ballpark.

THE PLAYING FIELD

DIMENSIONS: For Oriole Park's first nine seasons, outfield dimensions were 333 feet to left field, 364 feet to left center, 400 feet to center, 373 feet to right center and 318 feet to right field. Prior to the 2001 season, in conjunction with extensive renovations to the ballpark's playing surface and drainage system, the Orioles reconfigured the ballpark with outfield dimensions that were up to seven feet larger than those used since Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened in 1992. However, it was found that the new dimensions did not significantly improve sight lines for fans and adversely affected the viewing angle of the batter's eye wall.

As a result, the ballpark was returned to its original dimensions before the 2002 season. The changes included moving home plate approximately seven feet closer to the outfield, to its original spot 59 feet from the backstop. In addition, the entire field was shifted several degrees to the first base side and both the left field and right field foul poles were repositioned to their original locations. The foul line measurements decreased from 320 feet to 318 feet in right field and from 337 to 333 feet in left field. The center field distance decreased from 406 to 400 feet and the deepest part of the ballpark, in left-center field, decreased from 417 to 410 feet. The shorter dimension in the right field corner is off-set by a 21-foot high wall, which extends 100 feet from the right field line toward center. The fence in the rest of the park is only seven feet high.

FOUL POLES: When the Orioles moved to Oriole Park at Camden Yards for the 1992 season, the right field foul pole that had been used for 37 seasons at Memorial Stadium was brought with. The foul pole was affixed atop the tall wall in right field in the Flag Court. Prior to the 2001 season, the Orioles replaced the original Oriole Park left field foul pole with the left field pole that had been used throughout their stay at Memorial Stadium. At 70 feet high, the new/old foul pole is 20 feet shorter than the previously used pole and requires a more modest support structure, which allows more fans in seats in the Lower, Club, and Upper Deck levels to have an unobstructed view of the field. The foul poles were returned to their original positions when the ballpark was reconfigured to its original dimensions after the 2001 season.

THE FIELD: The vibrant green field is made from 100% Kentucky bluegrass with a rubberized warning track perimeter of a natural surface composed of crushed stone, matching the brick color of the Warehouse. The field is 16 feet below street level and is comprised of a sophisticated irrigation and drainage system below natural grass turf. It is designed to reduce the frequency of rainouts by shortening the length of baseball's most exasperating feature, the rain delay. The field's system makes it possible to get the field ready for play within a half an hour after the end of a heavy rainstorm. The drainage system automatically removes as much as 75,000 gallons of rainwater from the field in an hour.

THE WAREHOUSE

Located beyond right field, the B&O Warehouse is 439 feet from home plate. Built between 1898-1905, the Warehouse is the longest building on the East Coast at 1,016 feet (but only 51 feet wide). It has been preserved and now provides unique office space for the Orioles as well as home for the banquet facilities, the ballpark's central kitchen, and space for ballpark operations. The Orioles' main ticket office operates out of the north end of the Warehouse. Dempsey's Brew Pub and Restaurant is located on the first floor of the Warehouse and is open year-round for lunch and dinner. Eutaw Street Market, a convenience store on the first floor of the Warehouse featuring grab-and-go sandwiches, drinks, and snacks is also open year-round.

The ballpark and Warehouse are separated by a 60-foot wide promenade, an extension of Eutaw Street. Open daily, Eutaw Street is home to plaques dedicated to members of the Orioles Hall of Fame, the Mid-Atlantic Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame, and the Maryland State Athletic Hall of Fame, and features markers of home runs to hit Eutaw Street. The Orioles Official Team Store is also located on the ground floor of the Warehouse on Eutaw Street.

SEATING

Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened with a seating capacity of 48,290 and over the years with renovations and installations of wider seats, the seating capacity decreased to 45,971. More than 400 seats are available to fans with disabilities in the equal access areas (EA) of the ballpark. Every aisle seat in the park includes an extra feature: a reproduction of the 125-year-old logo used by the Baltimore Orioles of the 1890s, a National League team that won consecutive pennants in 1894-96.

The Lower Deck is comprised of 18,000 box seats between the foul poles. Behind the box seats are 6,400 terrace box and lower reserved seats. The Upper Deck contains 25 rows of seats (the first 12 are boxes, the last 13 are reserved seats) and has a gentle slope of 31 degrees (Memorial Stadium, like many parks, was 33 degrees). A roof covers half of the Upper Deck seating area.

The Mezzanine, or Club Level, stretches from the right field foul pole to left-center field and is accessible by escalators, elevators, stairs, and ramps. Waiter service is available at the seats, and behind the seating area on the Club Level concourse is a climate-controlled lounge with private dining and bar areas. Also on the Club Level are 65 luxury suites, with the ability to accommodate a variety of groups, from smaller gatherings with 14-18 guests to larger parties with 30-40 guests. While some of the suites are leased on a full or partial season basis, a number are available for individual game rentals. Three large party suites, named to honor Orioles legends – Brooks Robinson, Frank Robinson, and Jim Palmer – can accommodate groups of up to 75 people.

The 1,887 Eutaw Street Bleacher seats, among the most popular in the park, are located in right-center field. There are also Standing Room Only (SRO) tickets that go on sale in advance of sold out games. The SRO areas are found on the right field Flag Court and just above the visitor's bullpen in left field.

20TH ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENTS AND UPGRADES

As part of a continued commitment to honor the proud history of the franchise, and in conjunction with efforts to improve the design aesthetic and functionality of the ballpark, in 2012 the Orioles enhanced the fan experience at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The improvements and additions, highlighted by a newly renovated area to honor the greatest Orioles of all time inside the gates of the ballpark, were done to celebrate the 20th anniversary of Oriole Park.

Larger than life sculptures of the six Orioles who have their numbers retired and are National Baseball Hall of Fame members – Frank Robinson, Earl Weaver, Jim Palmer, Eddie Murray, Cal Ripken, Jr., and Brooks Robinson – were unveiled during the 2012 season. The bronze sculptures created by renowned Maryland sculptor Antonio Tobias “Toby” Mendez, are located in Orioles Legends Park. As with the Orioles Hall of Fame plaques on Eutaw Street, this area was renovated to allow fans access during non-gameday hours.

Along with the installation of the sculptures, the Orioles also completed additional upgrades to the Upper Deck, Main Concourse, Eutaw Street, Flag Court, and bullpen picnic grove at Oriole Park for the 2012 season.

The Orioles also added the Roof Deck, a new outfield overlook on top of the batter's eye wall in center field, featuring casual seating, a bar, and seating. This area was previously inaccessible to fans. Additionally, as a part of MSA's restoration of the B&O Warehouse brick work, a replica of the original canopy was added to the Warehouse to shelter portable concessions and additional seating, as well as fans on Eutaw Street searching for shade or to escape inclement weather

The out-of-town scoreboard on the right field wall was also modified to reduce the height of the wall and thus improve views of the game from the Flag Court and Eutaw Street.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO ORIOLE PARK

Since Oriole Park opened in 1992, many exciting improvements have been made to help enhance the “Oriole Park Experience”...

SECURITY & SAFETY:

- Prior to the 2018 season, protective netting was extended to expand from Section 16 through Section 58.
- Prior to the 2015 season, Major League Baseball implemented mandatory metal detection screening of all fans prior to entry at each MLB ballpark, which included walk-through magnetometers or hand-held metal detectors at each entrance.
- Smoking was banned entirely at Oriole Park prior to the 2013 season.
- Smoking was banned in the seating bowl in 1993.

THE FIELD:

- Prior to the 2017 season, approximately 105,000 square feet of sand-based sod playing surface was replaced with 100 percent Kentucky bluegrass from Tuckahoe Turf Farms in Hammonton, N.J.
- Prior to the 2013 season, the Orioles replaced the original rubberized warning track from 1992 with a natural surface composed of crushed stone, matching the color of the brick that appears throughout the ballpark and on the Warehouse.
- In 2008, the sod was replaced with a sand-based blend of Kentucky bluegrass that is genetically darker in color and more durable than the version previously used at the ballpark.
- Prior to the 2006 season, all new irrigation heads were installed on the field.
- Following the 2000 season, the ballpark's infield and outfield were rebuilt, replacing the dirt, sand mix, sod and drainage.
- In 1999, the warning track surrounding the playing field was painted a shade of brown to more closely match the color of the infield dirt and to complement the colors of the B&O Warehouse.

AROUND THE BALLPARK:

- In May 2016, the Orioles, the MSA, and the National Wildlife Federation and its Maryland affiliate, the National Aquarium, opened The Oriole Garden, a native plant garden near the Eutaw Street entrance that attracts orioles, birds, and butterflies.
- The escalator near Gate B was completely replaced prior to the 2012 season.
- Before the 2012 season, the Orioles and MSA improved the Main Concourse with new flooring and wall coverings.
- Additionally prior to the 2012 season, the Club Level and Suites were refurbished, and alcoves and lounges were named and decorated in themes making it easier for fans to meet friends at areas such as the "All-Star Lounge," "Hall of Fame Lounge," and "MVPs Lounge." New displays were also constructed on the Club Level with memorabilia, awards, and trophies to commemorate each Orioles team beginning in 1954.
- In 2011, the Orioles and their concessionaire, Delaware North Sportservice, overhauled the Main Concourse concessions.
- The Home Plate Plaza Lobby, Home Plate Lounge, and Press Levels were renovated in the 2009 offseason.
- Prior to the 2004 season, the concrete wall behind home plate was replaced with brick, in keeping with OPACY aesthetic.
- Two 7.5-foot rotational signs were also added to the wall behind home plate before the 2004 season.
- In May of 2003, the memorial wall at the south end of the Eutaw Street Warehouse was opened and dedicated to honor Maryland residents who lost their lives in all of our nation's wars.
- Prior to and during the early part of the 2000 season, the entrance area to the Home Plate Plaza Lobby was redesigned to provide a new floor covering, new wall finishes, and redesigned elevators.
- In 2000, the first floor lobby of the Warehouse (333 W. Camden Street) was redesigned to provide improved traffic flow and accentuate the original structural and architectural elements of the Warehouse.
- Prior to the 2000 season, the fourth floor lobby of the Warehouse was refurbished and improved to create a fresher, more enjoyable experience for those using party facilities and for Club Level ticket holders who use this entrance to the ballpark.
- Beginning in 1999, the Orioles offices in the B&O Warehouse underwent major renovations to give the offices a warmer look. In addition to redesigned offices, new artwork and artifacts were displayed in the lobby and in the glass entry doors.
- Prior to the 1999 season, an Upper Deck Fan Assistance Center was constructed in the Home Plate Elevator Lobby.
- Work began prior to the 2000 season to repaint the entire steel "superstructure" of the ballpark (completed that season).

SEATING:

- Prior to the 2011 season, drink rails were installed in portions of the Club Level down the left field line, as well as bistro tables facing the field on the left field Club Level and the Miller Lite Flite Deck in the corner of the right field Club Level.
- In 2011 at the request of the Orioles, the Club Level and Upper Deck at Camden Yards were furnished with wider seats that are more comfortable for fans. The seating capacity was thus reduced from 48,290 to 45,971.
- Concrete and seats throughout the ballpark were replaced following the 2009 and 2010 seasons as part of the Maryland Stadium Authority's deferred maintenance program. Cushions were also added to the lower level seats between the bases.
- Prior to 2010, all rows in the ballpark were switched from letters to numbers, to more clearly designate the number of rows from the field or the front of the Club and Upper Deck Levels.
- 6,200 seats in sections 16-58 were replaced prior to 2004 featuring chairs with higher backs, padding, and cupholders.
- Two rows of seats (72 total seats) were added at field level behind home plate prior to the 2004 season, while 10 seats were added to section 16 and 14 seats were added to section 58 at that time.

TECHNOLOGY:

- Prior to the 2017 season, LED lighting fixtures were installed at Oriole Park.
- Prior to the 2009 season, technological upgrades were made throughout the ballpark, by enhancing the control room, installing high-definition televisions throughout the ballpark, and improving the sound system in all areas of the ballpark.
- Prior to the 2008 season, the Orioles and MSA purchased a new video system, installing an LED video board, scoreboard, out-of-town scoreboard, and "ribbon" boards along the Club Level and Upper Deck fascia.
- Included in the improvements made during the 1999 season, the ticket reader system used at the turnstiles was upgraded. The ticket entrances were enlarged and the reader system itself was expanded to allow more types of tickets to be fed through the turnstile readers, providing fans a smoother, quicker entry to the ballpark.

BALLPARK TOURS

Oriole Park at Camden Yards tours continue to be a popular attraction for thousands of visitors to Baltimore. In 2017, more than 32,000 people toured the ballpark facility. Since 1992, more than one million fans have taken a tour of Oriole Park. Fans touring the facility visit the Legends Park, Suite Level, media levels, and dugout. Private tours, reserved in advance, are available year-round. Public tours are available between March and November. For tickets and schedule information, visit www.orioles.com or call 410-547-6234 or 888-848-BIRD (2473).

DISPLAYS THROUGHOUT THE BALLPARK HONOR VARIOUS ATHLETIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Orioles Hall of Fame: Located at the north end of the Warehouse on the wall at the base of the scoreboard, plaques honor the members inducted annually and are similar in appearance to those enshrined in Cooperstown, N.Y. at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. They feature the Oriole Hall of Famer's likeness and a brief description of their accomplishments.

Orioles Retired Numbers: Four-foot monuments, located at the north end of the Warehouse, honor the uniform numbers worn by Earl Weaver (4), Brooks Robinson (5), Cal Ripken, Jr. (8), Frank Robinson (20), Jim Palmer (22), and Eddie Murray (33).

Mid-Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame: A tribute to baseball scouts over the years, plaques are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

Maryland State Athletic Hall of Fame: The names of Marylanders who left their mark in athletic endeavors and have been inducted into the state's Athletic Hall of Fame are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

Cal Ripken, Jr. Seat: To honor Ripken's 278th career homer, hit on July 15, 1993, which surpassed Ernie Banks' MLB record for home runs by a shortstop, the Orioles marked the spot where the ball landed (Section 86, Row 4, Seat 10) with an orange seat.

Eddie Murray Seat: To honor Murray's 500th career home run, hit on September 6, 1996, off Detroit's Felipe Lira, the Orioles installed an orange seat in the right field bleachers where the ball landed (Section 96, Row 7, Seat 23).

Eutaw Street Home Runs: Brass baseball plates are embedded into the Eutaw Street sidewalk marking the locations where home runs cleared the right field gate. These plates contain the home run hitter's name, team logo, distance the ball traveled, and date the home run was hit.

Plaques at Oriole Park: In ceremonies prior to Cal Ripken, Jr.'s final game on October 6, 2001, the Orioles unveiled a plaque in the first base dugout dedicated to Cal Ripken, Sr. It is inscribed: "Cal Ripken, Sr. Dedicated to a lifelong Oriole of thirty-six years, and one of the game's greatest teachers. Coach, manager, and devoted mentor to countless young Orioles, "Senior" dedicated his life to baseball and passed on his respect of the game to everyone he coached. He preached "perfect practice, makes perfect" and stressed the importance of being prepared, learning the "right way" and playing to the best of one's ability every inning of every game. We will always remember his devotion to the Orioles, his love of the game, and his many lessons..."

In honor of Earl Weaver's induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame, a silver "4" and plaque identifying Weaver's years as manager was added to the Orioles' dugout wall in July 1996, near where the manager traditionally stands.

Relief pitcher Jesse Orosco made his 1,072nd career appearance on August 17, 1999, passing Dennis Eckersley for the Major League record for most games pitched. In honor of his accomplishment, the Orioles installed a plaque with Orosco's uniform number, 47, above the bench in the bullpen.

Plaques in the Oriole Park press box have been erected honoring the late Rex Barney, Orioles public address announcer for more than 25 years, and the late Monica Pence Barlow, the Orioles' public relations director and a member of the organization for 14 years. Additionally, a plaque in the first base camera well honors longtime team photographer Jerry Wachter.

ATTENDANCE INFORMATION

ATTENDANCE MILESTONES: The Orioles celebrated two attendance milestones in 2008. The first came on August 19, 2008, as the O's welcomed their 50 millionth fan at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Opened in 1992, Oriole Park was the quickest ballpark to achieve the 50-million fan milestone in the history of baseball, a record that stood until the San Francisco Giants broke the mark at AT&T Park during the 2015 season. In its first 17 seasons, Oriole Park at Camden Yards hosted the third-most fans in baseball, trailing only Dodger Stadium and Yankee Stadium.

Less than a week later, on August 23, 2008, the 100 millionth fan in franchise history entered the gates at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. In 64 seasons and 4,771 regular season dates between Memorial Stadium and Camden Yards, 119,177,655 fans have watched the Orioles play in Baltimore.

The Orioles have drawn a total of 69,332,067 fans in 2,055 dates in 26 seasons at Oriole Park, surpassing the total attendance from 1954 through 1991 at Memorial Stadium. In 38 seasons at the old ballpark on 33rd Street, the club drew 49,845,588 in 2,716 dates, an average of 18,353 fans per game. The Birds have averaged 33,738 fans per game in 2,055 dates at Oriole Park.

2017: The Orioles drew 2,028,424 fans to Camden Yards in 81 home dates, an average of 25,042 fans per game. The Orioles cracked the two-million mark for the 28th time in franchise history and the 22nd time since moving into Oriole Park. Baltimore had two home sellouts in 2017 and has now drawn 40,000 or more fans on 847 of 2,055 dates at Oriole Park.

LARGEST 3-DATE CROWD: The August 10-12, 2007, series against the Boston Red Sox shattered the attendance record for a three-date series at Oriole Park at Camden Yards by more than 2,000 fans. A total of 146,786 fans attended the three games, topping the previous mark of 144,784 set August 21-23, 1998, vs. Cleveland.

"QUICKEST TO" MILESTONES

- 3 million—66 home dates ('93, '97 & '98)
- 2 million—43 home dates ('94)
- 1 million—22 home dates ('94)

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS: The Orioles had never led the AL in total or average attendance until 1995, then did so for four consecutive years. The team has drawn three million or more fans in nine of the 24 non-strike shortened seasons at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

SMALLEST CROWDS: The smallest crowd for a game at Oriole Park at Camden Yards was 9,129 on April 12, 2010, against the Tampa Bay Rays. The smallest crowd ever for an Orioles home game was on August 17, 1972, when only 655 fans attended an afternoon make-up game against the Chicago White Sox at Memorial Stadium.

ZERO FANS: On April 29, 2015, the Orioles played a game against the Chicago White Sox at Oriole Park, which was closed to the public. The game was not considered in tallying the total season attendance and the date was not included in the average per game attendance.

50 MILLIONTH & 100 MILLIONTH FANS

The Orioles reached two major attendance milestones during the 2008 season. On August 19, the team welcomed Kevin Gracie, a law school student from Ellicott City, Md., as the designated 50 millionth person to attend a game at Oriole Park. Oriole Park became the quickest ballpark to achieve the 50-million fan milestone in the history of baseball, a record that stood until the San Francisco Giants broke the mark at AT&T Park in 2015.

Four days later, on August 23, the 100 millionth person to attend an Orioles home game in franchise history was welcomed at Oriole Park. Velma Greene, a middle school teacher from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., was designated as the milestone fan.

Since it ushered in a new era of ballpark design in 1992, Oriole Park at Camden Yards has been the standard-bearer for sports facilities in the United States, welcoming individuals from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. The city of Baltimore and the entire state of Maryland have derived significant economic impact totaling in the billions of dollars from the more than 69 million fans who have attended Orioles games over the last 26 seasons, as well as from the millions more who have participated in festivals, meetings, tours, and community events that have been held at the ballpark.

Veteran broadcaster Joe Angel returns as the “Voice of the Orioles” on radio for his 19th season.

Angel, 69, was born in Bogotá, Colombia and did not speak English until the age of nine. He has broadcast Major League Baseball games for 42 years, including 18 seasons with the Orioles from 1988-90, 1992, and 2004-present. In addition to being the Voice of the Orioles, Angel has done play-by-play for the San Francisco Giants (1976-78, 2002-03), Oakland Athletics (1979-80), Minnesota Twins (1984-86), New York Yankees (1991), and the Florida Marlins (1993-2000). Angel also broadcasted games on ESPN during the 2001 season.

Angel’s family immigrated to Chicago at age seven before moving to San Francisco when he was 15. He attended Galileo High School in San Francisco, where he played baseball and was a football teammate of O.J. Simpson.

He began his career in the Bay Area, calling Stanford University football and University of San Francisco basketball before breaking into MLB with the Giants in 1976.

While with the Giants on KSFO radio, Angel worked alongside Hall of Fame broadcasters Al Michaels and Lon Simmons. He then spent two years as the television play-by-play announcer for the Athletics before joining WCCO radio doing Twins broadcasts in 1984. Angel began his Orioles career in 1988 and spent four of the next five years in Baltimore, excluding a one-year stint with the Yankees in 1991. In 1993, he left to become the first voice of the Marlins, where he called games for eight years, including the Marlins’ 1997 championship season. He then did play-by-play for ESPN regional telecasts before returning to call Giants games for two seasons.

In his four decades of radio work with MLB, Angel has broadcast two World Series, 44 postseason games, and seven no-hitters. His signature calls of “In the WIN column,” “Wave it bye, bye” and “Hasta la vista pelota” are well-known to Orioles fans.

Angel and his wife, Antoinette, make their home in El Dorado Hills, Calif. They have three adult children: Tony, Natalie, and Jonathan; one granddaughter, Carsyn Angelina; and two grandsons, Jacob and Thomas.

MLB shortstops with at least 1,000 games played.

Bordick’s 14-year Major League career also included time with the Athletics (1990-96), Mets (2000), and Blue Jays (2003).

"SARASOTA'S CROWN JEWEL"

Since 2010, the Orioles have held Major League Spring Training operations in Sarasota, Fla. at Ed Smith Stadium, Sarasota's Crown Jewel. The facility was fully renovated in 2011, complete with four practice fields, one practice half-field, a clubhouse, indoor batting cages, pitching mounds, stadium field lights, an electronic scoreboard, concession facilities, locker rooms for umpires, tournament office hub, press box, expansive concourse areas, and ample parking. Its modern amenities, mixed with historical Florida architecture, have helped Ed Smith Stadium truly become "Birdland South."

The Orioles' longtime minor league facility, the Buck O'Neil Baseball Complex at Twin Lakes Park, is as much a hub of Spring Training activity as Ed Smith Stadium. The facility hosts Orioles' Dream Week in January and remains astir with baseball activity throughout the year. Youth baseball tournaments are held at the complex year-round as part of the Orioles' effort to drive economic impact within the Sarasota community.

Along with Major League Spring Training and Gulf Coast League Orioles games, the Ed Smith Stadium complex and Buck O'Neil Baseball Complex at Twin Lakes Park host amateur tournaments and other baseball-related events, along with special events and OriolesREACH initiatives through the Sarasota 365 program, demonstrating that the club's commitment to its southern home goes far beyond baseball.
