Don Baylor

June 28, 1949 - Aug. 7, 2017

Don Baylor was the franchise's first manager and there was never a doubt that the hard-nosed player who was known for his leadership on and off the field was the perfect man to oversee the day-to-day world of an expansion team.

He knew how to get players to relax, like the first day of Spring Training when he greeted the expansion roster for the first time. Well aware that many of them didn't know one another, and that they basically had come from franchises that felt they were expendable, he and Bryn Smith, a veteran pitcher, handed out name tags, which became a lighthearted point of discussion.

But he also demanded a respect for the game and the franchise. From day one, Baylor had all players standing on the top step of the dugout for the playing of the national anthem before every game.

"If we can't find three minutes out of a day to show unity, we are in trouble," he replied when a visitor asked him about it.

And players wore sport coats, ties and slacks when the team traveled, regardless of the time they were to arrive in the next city.

"We will have enough people look at us as the Bad News Bears, we don't need to act like them," he told his team. "We need to respect ourselves and the game. We need to have pride in who we are."

The pride was heightened in the franchise's third year of existence. The Rockies claimed the 1995 Wild Card spot to advance to the postseason quicker than any of the 10 previous expansion teams.

The respect for Baylor was so strong that when Clint Hurdle, who was a hitting coach for Baylor, became manager of the team, he brought Baylor back as a member of his coaching staff.

"It was a no-brainer," says Hurdle. "He was the man who opened the door for me and he was the man who showed me how to handle the job. He was so much more than a manager. He was an inspiration."

Diagnosed with multiple myeloma in 2003, Baylor passed away on Aug. 7, 2017.

Richard L. Monfort

Owner/Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

Dick Monfort enters his 21st season with the Rockies franchise in 2018 and continues in his role as Owner/Chairman and Chief Executive Officer for the club. A Colorado native, Monfort and the Colorado Rockies Ownership Group have established the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club as a leading organization in the Rocky Mountain Region in both sports and business.

Brothers Dick and Charlie Monfort have done extensive community outreach through their family-directed Monfort Family Foundation. In September 2004, the Monfort Family Foundation gifted $10 million to Children's Hospital Colorado for the construction of a new medical facility in Aurora, Colo. The oncology floor of the new hospital is named in memory of Rick Wilson, a cousin of the Monfort family. The foundation is a longtime provider of funding and endorsement for the Boys & Girls Clubs in Metro Denver and Weld County. Also active in higher education, the Monfort family supports the Monfort School of Business at the University of Northern Colorado and the Monfort Excellence Fund at Colorado State University; both impact students, faculty and the Northern Colorado community through scholarships for exceptional students and support of outstanding faculty. Other organizations that have benefited from the Monfort family's years of philanthropic work include CU Cancer Center, Craig Hospital, United Way, the Denver Art Museum and Habitat for Humanity.

Individually, Monfort was the 2008 recipient of the United Way of Weld County Humanitarian of the Year Award—an award his father, Kenny Monfort, received twenty years earlier. Monfort is currently the Chairman of the University of Northern Colorado Board of Trustees and the Chairman of the Board of Directors of University of Colorado Health.

Monfort spent 25 years in the cattle business, primarily with his family's company. He became president of Monfort of Colorado, Inc., a subsidiary of ConAgra, in 1987 and in 1991 became president and CEO of ConAgra Red Meats. After retiring from ConAgra in 1995, he helped launch the Montera Cattle Company in 1996. Currently, he owns the Hyatt Regency Indian Wells Resort & Spa in Indian Wells, Calif.

A 1976 graduate of the University of Northern Colorado, Monfort has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in business management. In May 2012, Colorado State University President Tony Frank awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters to Monfort in recognition of his significant contributions to Colorado industry and higher education. Also in May 2014, he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Business Administration in Entrepreneurship by Johnson & Wales University.

Born April 27, 1954, Monfort makes his home in Greeley, Colo., and he has three children: daughter Dr. Lyndsey Graber M.D. and sons Walker and Sterling, who both work with him at the Colorado Rockies.

COLORADO ROCKIES CHARITIES

Since the organization's inception in 1993, the Colorado Rockies have demonstrated a passionate commitment to their philanthropic mission of making an impact in the community through significant corporate investment, involvement in community projects and improvement in quality of life. Previously, the Colorado Rockies operated two charities: the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club Foundation and the Colorado Rockies Charity Fund, a McCormick Foundation fund. Since their inception in 1993, these charitable arms of the organization granted over $26 million to agencies that support their mission of assisting youth in education, child abuse prevention and health. In 2018, the Colorado Rockies will continue to focus their charitable contributions solely through the Colorado Rockies Foundation. The Foundation will continue to support agencies that benefit the youth of our community.

FINAL OVERALL RECORD: 87-75 (.537)

Third in NL West, 17.0 games behind Los Angeles
Home: 46-35 Road: 41-40

THE 2017 ROCKIES snapped a seven-year postseason drought, finishing the season in the second National League Wild Card spot, one game ahead of the Milwaukee Brewers. They lost the National League Wild Card Game at Arizona by a score of 11-8 on Oct. 4.

The 87-75 record was the third-best in franchise history, and their best since going a franchise-best 92-70 in 2009. It snapped a streak of six consecutive sub-.500 seasons. The Rockies finished third in the National League West for the second consecutive season; they spent 51 days in first place, 10 days tied for first place, 21 days in second place, eight days tied for second place and 71 days in third place.

At the All-Star break, the Rockies had an overall record of 52-39 (.571), including a record of 26-18 (.591) at home and a record of 26-21 (.553) on the road. They went 35-36 (.493) in the second half, including a 20-17 (.541) record at home, and a 15-19 (.441) record on the road. Their runs-per-game average was 5.07 prior to the All-Star break and 5.11 in the second half.

Against their NL West rivals, the Rockies went 42-34, seven more wins than they logged against divisional opponents in 2016 (35-41) and the second-most in club history behind the 2007 club (43-30). The Rockies recorded a nine-game winning streak against San Francisco, April 15-June 18, their longest winning streak against a division foe in franchise history. They also recorded a seven-game winning streak against San Diego, June 3-Sept. 16, their longest ever against the Padres.

Their longest total winning streak on the season was seven games, June 3-10 (two at San Diego, two vs. Cleveland, three at Chicago-NL), their longest since winning eight games, April 12-20, 2013.

HOME/ROAD: Colorado went 46-35 (.568) in their 81 home games at Coors Field in 2017, their most home wins since going 52-29 (.642) at home in 2010. The Rockies ranked first among all Major League teams at home in runs (488), hits (816), triples (30), batting average (.298), on-base percentage (.364) and slugging percentage (.498).

On the road, the Rockies finished with a record of 41-40 (.506), which tied for the best road record in franchise history (also 2009), and marked just the second time in franchise history that the Rockies finished the season with a road winning percentage over .500. Their road record has improved each season since 2013.

DAY/NIGHT: Colorado went 35-25 (.603) in day games, their best day record since 2010 when they went 34-22 (.607). The 35 day wins ranked second in the NL and were tied for third overall. At night, the Rockies went 52-52 (.500), their fourth time in franchise history going .500 or better at night and the first time since 2009 (61-47, .565).

DAYS OF WEEK: The Rockies went 15-12 in Sunday games, 8-7 in Monday games, 14-12 in Tuesday games, 10-14 in Wednesday games, 11-8 in Thursday games, 15-10 in Friday games and 14-12 in Saturday games. The Rockies played four games that fell on holidays, and they went 3-1 in those games.

EXTRA INNINGS: The Rockies played a total of five extra-innings games, their fewest in a full season in franchise history, and went 2-3 in those games. It was the first season in franchise history in which the Rockies did not play an extra-innings game at home.

INTERLEAGUE: The Rockies went 10-10 in Interleague Play in 2017, the ninth time in franchise history that they finished at .500 or better against the Junior Circuit and the first time since 2011.

Charlie Blackmon ranked first among National League players in Interleague hits (31) and home runs (eight). Kyle Freeland recorded four Interleague wins, which was tied for the Major League lead and tied with Jason Jennings (2003) for the most in franchise history. Freeland's 2.03 Interleague ERA was the lowest in Rockies history for a single season among pitchers with greater than 25.0 Interleague innings pitched.

PLAYERS USED/ROOKIES: The Rockies used 41 players in 2017 (21 pitchers, 20 position players), which is tied with the 1995 team for the fewest players used in a season.

Colorado used a total of 12 rookies in 2017 (six position players, six pitchers).

A total of five players made their Major League debut in 2017, down from 12 in 2016, which tied a franchise record. Shane Carle, Kyle Freeland, Ryan McMahon, Antonio Senzatela and Mike Tauchman all made their debuts in 2017, all of whom made their debuts prior to September roster expansion.

Freeland, Jeff Hoffman, German Márquez and Senzatela started a combined 93 games, with the Rockies going 53-40 in those contests. Freeland, Márquez and Senzatela each recorded at least 10 wins, the first time in franchise history that three rookie pitchers recorded 10 or more wins. The last Major League club to accomplish this was the 2006 Florida Marlins, who had four rookie pitchers with 10 or more wins.

Denver native Freeland made his Major League debut on April 7 in the Rockies' home opener against Los Angeles-NL, allowing one run over six innings of work en route to his first Major League win. He became the first starting pitcher to make his Major League debut in his hometown in his club's home opener since Chuck Dobson did so on April 19, 1966 as a member of the Kansas City Athletics.

Senzatela made his Major League debut on April 6 in Milwaukee, in the game prior to Freeland's debut. They became the first starting pitchers to make debuts in back-to-back games since Rafael Montero and Jacob deGrom debuted for New York-NL May 14-15, 2014, and the first pair to do so in Rockies history.

BATTING: The Rockies ranked first in the National League (third in MLB) with 824 runs scored, 1,510 hits (second in MLB) and a .273 batting average (second in MLB). Their .332 batting average on balls in play was the highest in franchise history. With the bases loaded, the Rockies batted .303 (33-for-109), which ranked fifth in the NL and ninth in MLB.

Nolan Arenado set new career highs in hits (187), triples (seven), batting average (.309), on-base percentage (.373) and slugging percentage (.586). He tied his previous career high with 43 doubles. The doubles tied for first in the NL, and he ranked second in RBI (130) and extra-base hits (87), third in total bases (355), tied for third in home runs (37), sixth in hits (187) and tied for seventh in runs (100).

He became just the 11th player in Major League history to record three consecutive seasons of 130 or more RBI, joining Jimmie Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Juan Gonzalez, Ken Griffey Jr., Ryan Howard, David Ortiz, Alex Rodriguez, Babe Ruth, Sammy Sosa and Vern Stephens. He became the first third baseman to reach that mark, and the only player besides Jimmie Foxx to record three or more seasons of at least 35 home runs and 130 RBI before the age of 27.

On Father's Day, June 18 vs. San Francisco, Arenado hit a walk-off home run to complete the cycle, becoming the fifth player in Major League history to do so (last: Carlos González, July 31, 2010 vs. Chicago-NL).

Charlie Blackmon captured the National League batting title with his .331 batting average, becoming the ninth player in franchise history (11th time) to win the title. It was the second consecutive season that a Rockies player captured the batting title after DJ LeMahieu won it with his .348 batting average in 2016. He was the first center fielder to win since Willie McGee in 1990.

Blackmon set a new Major League record with 103 RBI from the leadoff position, surpassing Darin Erstad's previous mark of 100 set with the Angels in 2000. Blackmon's 383 total bases in 2017 were also the most all-time by a leadoff hitter. His career-high 37 home runs were the third-most, trailing Alfonso Soriano's 38 in 2002 with the Yankees and 39 in 2006 with the Nationals. He recorded 86 extra-base hits, the third-most by a leadoff hitter in Major League history and the most by a NL leadoff hitter.

His 68 multi-hit games were a franchise record, and the most in the National League since Mark Loretta and Juan Pierre both recorded 70 multi-hit games in 2004.

PINCH-HITTING:

The Rockies batted .206 (47-for-228) in the pinch, the fifth-lowest pinch-hitting average in the NL and their second-lowest in franchise history (the Rockies batted .197 in the pinch in 1996).

Pat Valaika batted .328 (19-for-58) with 12 runs, eight doubles, four home runs, 16 RBI, two walks and 24 strikeouts in his team-leading 66 pinch-hit appearances.

Valaika's 16 pinch-hit RBI were the most by a rookie since 1958, the first season with the official rookie rule. He led MLB pinch-hitters in RBI, runs, doubles and extra-base hits while tying for first in home runs and ranking sixth in batting average. The 12 extra-base hits as a pinch-hitter were tied for the most in Rockies history (also: John Vander Wal in 1995 and Greg Norton in 2003).

STARTING PITCHING:

Rockies starters went 63-56 in 2017, which marked the second-most wins for starters in franchise history (starters in 2009 went 69-50). Their opponent batting average of .272 was the fourth-lowest in franchise history, their 721 strikeouts were fourth-most, and their 4.59 ERA (887.0 IP, 452 ER) was the fifth-lowest.

At home, starters went 34-29 with a 4.65 ERA (458.1 IP, 237 ER), 160 walks and 357 strikeouts, as compared to a road record of 29-27 with a 4.51 ERA (428.2 IP, 215 ER), 159 walks and 364 strikeouts.

The Rockies used eight starting pitchers in 2017, with German Márquez making the most starts on the club with 29. He went 11-7 with a 4.39 ERA (162.0 IP, 79 ER), 49 walks and 147 strikeouts. Márquez was tied for the Major League rookie lead in wins (along with Kyle Freeland) and led all Major League rookies with 14 quality starts, marking the second consecutive season that a Rockies pitcher led Major League rookies in the category after Jon Gray's 16 quality starts in 2016. He recorded a streak of six consecutive quality starts from July 7 to Aug. 8, which is the longest such streak in franchise history for a rookie.

Freeland made the second-most starts with 28, and went 11-11 with a 4.10 ERA (156.0 IP, 71 ER). His 4.10 ERA was the fourth-lowest by a rookie in franchise history, and the lowest since Jhoulys Chacin set the rookie franchise record with a 3.28 ERA in 2010.

On July 9, Freeland took a no-hit bid through 8.1 innings against Chicago-AL in Denver. He surrendered a single to Melky Cabrera with one out in the ninth inning to put an end to the longest no-hit bid in Denver in franchise history and the second-longest bid in any ballpark behind Ubaldo Jimenez' 2010 no-hitter in Atlanta.

RELIEF PITCHING: Colorado relievers compiled a win percentage of .558 (24-19), their seventh-highest winning percentage in franchise history and their highest since 2007 (.574, 35-26). Their 4.40 ERA was the seventh-lowest in franchise history, the lowest since 2013.

Their 8.97 strikeouts-per-nine-innings rate was the highest in franchise history, and tied for the seventh-highest in the NL.

Closer Greg Holland tied the Rockies' single-season saves record with 41 (also Jose Jimenez in 2002), which was also tied with Kenley

Jansen (Los Angeles-NL) for the most in the National League.

Holland converted his first 23 save opportunities of the season, including saves in each of his first nine appearances to tie the club record set by Darren Holmes in 1993.

FIELDING: The Rockies committed 77 errors on the season, the second-fewest in the NL and in franchise history. Their .987 fielding percentage also ranked second-highest in both categories, following their .982 fielding percentage in 2016 that ranked 27th in all of MLB.

The Rockies turned 169 double plays, the second-most in the NL and the tenth-most in franchise history.

Nolan Arenado led MLB third basemen with 311 assists, ranked second with a .979 fielding percentage, and ranked third with a .832 zone rating.

DJ LeMahieu led MLB second basemen with 470 assists, led the NL with a .989 fielding percentage, and ranked third in the NL with a .801 zone rating.

Trevor Story ranked second among NL shortstops with 408 assists and a .982 fielding percentage. His .793 zone rating ranked fifth in the NL.

BASERUNNING: The Rockies stole 59 bases, tied for the second-fewest in the NL and the fifth-fewest in MLB. They were caught stealing 34 times, giving them a stolen base percentage of 63.4%, the lowest in MLB. The stolen base total was the second-lowest in franchise history.

ALL-STARS: The Rockies were represented at the 2017 Major League Baseball All-Star Game in Miami by a franchise-record four players: Nolan Arenado (third time), Charlie Blackmon (second time), Greg Holland (third time) and DJ LeMahieu (second time).

Arenado and Blackmon were both elected as starters by the fan vote for the first time. Arenado went 2-for-2, becoming the first Rockies player to record multiple hits in an All-Star Game.

Holland, the first Rockies pitcher selected as an All-Star since Ubaldo Jiménez in 2010, pitched one scoreless inning with two strikeouts to become the first Rockies pitcher with multiple strikeouts in an All-Star Game.

IN-SEASON AWARDS: The Rockies began the season with two monthly awards, as Greg Holland was voted National League Reliever of the Month for April and Antonio Senzatela was voted National League Rookie of the Month. It was the second consecutive season that a Rockies player won Rookie of the Month for April (Trevor Story in 2016).

Holland's 11 saves in April were the most for a Rockies pitcher in April and tied the record for the most in a single month in Rockies history (also: Brian Fuentes, May of 2007; Huston Street, June of 2009).

Senzatela won three games in April, which was tied for the rookie lead for the month. His 2.81 ERA and 32.0 innings pitched both ranked first among rookies.

Charlie Blackmon won Player of the Week recognition for the week that ended May 28, after batting .400 (12-for-30) with six runs, one double, one triple, three home runs, 12 RBI and one stolen base in seven games that week.

Nolan Arenado won Player of the Week recognition for the week that ended July 23, after batting .458 with nine runs scored, one double, four home runs and 13 RBI over five games that week.

Both Arenado and Blackmon secured Player of the Month honors; Blackmon for May and Arenado for July. Blackmon batted .359 (42-for-117) with 23 runs, six doubles, five triples, six home runs and 22 RBI in May, with a .359 on-base percentage and a .650 slugging percentage. Arenado batted .389 (35-for-90) with 18 runs, six doubles, one triple, eight home runs, 30 RBI in July, with a .423 on-base percentage and a .744 slugging percentage.

END OF SEASON AWARDS: Charlie Blackmon won his first career National League batting title after batting .331 (213-for-644), the second consecutive season a Rockies player captured the title (DJ LeMahieu in 2016).

Nolan Arenado won his fifth consecutive Gold Glove in 2017, becoming the first Rockies player to ever win the award in five consecutive years. The five Gold Gloves for Arenado are tied for the most in franchise history (also: Larry Walker). Arenado is the second player in Major League history (also: Ichiro Suzuki) and the first player in National League history to win a Gold Glove in each of their first five seasons in the Major Leagues. He also became the first NL third baseman to win five consecutive Gold Gloves since Scott Rolen (2000-2004).

LeMahieu earned his second career Gold Glove, having also won in 2014.

Arenado and Blackmon were awarded Silver Sluggers at their respective positions for the second consecutive year. It was the third career and third consecutive Silver Slugger for Arenado, and the second career and second consecutive for Blackmon.

Blackmon became the eighth Rockies player to win multiple Silver Sluggers (also: Arenado, Vinny Castilla, Carlos González, Mike Hampton, Todd Helton, Matt Holliday, Troy Tulowitzki, Walker). Overall, it was the 26th and 27th time the Silver Slugger had been awarded to a Rockies player and the ninth time that multiple Rockies have won the award in the same season (1995-97, 2001, 2001 and 2010, 2015-16).

ATTENDANCE: The Rockies had a home attendance mark of 2,953,650 in 2017, their largest total attendance since 2001. The single-game average was 36,465, a 13% increase over the average attendance in 2016.

The average attendance ranked fifth in the NL, and eighth in MLB.

*Note: Rockies opened their 1999 season at Monterrey, Mexico, with an 8-2 victory over the Padres. Although it was a neutral site, it counted as a road game in the standings. Therefore the Rockies' career road record in the state of California, and at Qualcomm Stadium is actually one game less than their all-time road record against the Padres would add up to be.

HUMIDOR

The humidor was implemented at Coors Field in 2002 per MLB's approval and it remains under MLB's management/oversight. The humidor is a temperature and humidity-controlled environment with settings that mirror the distribution warehouse in the Midwest from which the baseballs are shipped to all 30 teams. The humidor keeps the baseballs within MLB specifications for weight and measurement. Chain of custody procedures for the baseballs are maintained by the MLB Authenticator: The MLB Authenticator meets the Umpire's Room Attendant at the humidor, watches him put the baseballs in the ball bag, escorts the attendant with the balls to the Umpires Room and then to the dugout; the Authenticator is positioned in the dugout during the game next to the ball bag.

UBALDO'S NO-NO

On April 17, 2010 at Turner Field, Ubaldo Jiménez pitched the first no-hitter in Rockies history.

- Jiménez's line: 9.0 IP, 0 H, 0 ER, 6 BB, 7 SO, 31 batters faced.
- Jiménez threw the first no-hitter in Colorado's 2,703rd game.
- Entering the game, four existing teams in MLB had not thrown a no-hitter: Colorado (est. 1993), Tampa Bay (est. 1998), San Diego (est. 1969) and New York-NL (est. 1962).
- Prior to this no-hitter, the deepest a Colorado pitcher had gone into a potential no-hitter was Jason Jennings, who went 6.2 innings without giving up a hit on Aug. 1, 2002 at Pittsburgh.
- Jiménez threw a career-high 128 pitches, one more than his previous high (127 pitches, June 12, 2009 vs. Seattle); he threw 72 strikes and his fastball averaged 96.8 mph.
- Jiménez faced 31 consecutive batters without allowing a hit.
- When he reached 83 pitches, Jiménez had thrown 42 balls and 41 strikes, but he did not walk any batters after the fifth inning.
- Jiménez is the sixth Dominican player to throw a no-hitter—entering the 2017 season, this is tied with Venezuela for the countries with the most no-hitters other than the U.S.

GAME 163

On Oct. 1, 2007, the Rockies vs. San Diego Padres matchup at Coors Field marked the seventh one-game playoff in Major League history. In the tiebreaker, Colorado took its first lead of the game into the sixth inning, battling back from a 5-3 deficit heading into the third inning. With the Rockies leading 6-5 with two outs in the eighth inning, Matt Holliday's miscue in left field allowed the Padres to score the tying run, pushing the game into extra innings. It stayed knotted at six until San Diego broke the tie with a Scott Hairston two-run home run off Jorge Julio in the 13th inning. With an 8-6 lead, the Padres called on Trevor Hoffman to try and seal a victory for San Diego. With their backs against the wall and the Rockies' season on the line, Kazuo Matsui led off the bottom half of the frame with a double and then scored on Troy Tulowitzki's two-bagger to bring the Rockies within a run. Holliday followed with a first-pitch triple, scoring Tulowitzki to tie the game at eight. The Padres chose to intentionally walk Todd Helton in order to face Jamey Carroll with Holliday and the winning run on third. Carroll hit the first pitch he saw from Hoffman to right field, where Brian Giles caught the ball and threw home to try and cut down Holliday. Holliday tagged from third and, diving head first into home plate, narrowly beat Giles' throw to win the game, 9-8 in 13 innings, taking them to the postseason.

LOW-RUN GAMES AT COORS

After no I-0 games over the park's first 10 years, there have now been nine I-0 contests at Coors Field since 2005. The first came on July 9, 2005, when the Rockies beat the Padres 1-0. It happened in the 847th regular season game in the facility's history; according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the 846 total contests without a I-0 game is the longest span of any park in Major League history. The previous record was 635 games, held by the Philadelphia Athletics of the American Association from 1882 to 1891. On Sept. 14, 2008 vs. Los Angeles, the Rockies defeated the Dodgers 1-0 in 10 innings; this game was scoreless through nine innings—a first in Coors Field history. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, that game was the first game ever played at either Mile High Stadium or Coors Field that was scoreless at the end of the ninth inning (previously at Coors Field: 0-0 after eight innings on June 11 vs. San Francisco). The Rockies played 1,257 previous games in Colorado in their history, the longest streak of home games without a 0-0 score through nine innings for any team since the Athletics played 1,615 straight home games in which at least one team scored before extra frames; the A's streak lasted more than 20 years (June 22, 1947 through Sept. 3, 1967), spanning the club's relocation from Philadelphia to Kansas City.

LARGEST COMEBACK VICTORIES AT COORS FIELD

Table with columns: Deficit Erased, Date, Line Score, and game statistics (I, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, R, H, E). Rows include games from 1993 to 2010, such as Florida vs Colorado (7/4/2008) and Atlanta vs Colorado (8/25/2010).

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at-bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at-bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, walks and hit by pitch by the total at-bats, bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Percentage — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

History of Baseball in Denver

Although Major League Baseball did not arrive until 1993, professional baseball in the Rocky Mountain Region can be traced back to 1886 with the advent of the Western League. The Denver Bears were crowned the first league champions and baseball in the Mile High City would go on to become an off-and-on occurrence over the next 60 years, with the game becoming a permanent fixture in 1948.

Built in 1948, Mile High Stadium was known as Bears Stadium until 1969. Denver finally became a Triple-A city in 1955, when the American League's Philadelphia A's moved to Kansas City, thus allowing the Bears' owners, the Howsam family, the opportunity to purchase the then-homeless New York Yankees' Minor League affiliate for $90,000. The Yankees tabbed an untried Ralph Houk to manage the Triple-A club and were led by the likes of Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Ralph Terry. The first Triple-A champions in Denver history was the 1960 Bears, piloted by Charlie Metro.

When the Broncos became a charter member of the American Football League in 1959, the south stands (8,100 seats) and portable east stands (9,616 seats) were added to give a capacity of 34,657 for football. The Broncos began play in 1960.

From 1963-68, the Bears were a member of the Pacific Coast League. The 1968 entry was the affiliate of the Minnesota Twins, managed by the fiery Billy Martin and led by Graig Nettles and Bob Oliver.

After Denver voters turned down a stadium bond issue to build an all-purpose metropolitan stadium in 1967, a non-profit group began a fund-raising drive with the goal of purchasing the stadium for the city. In February 1968, the group bought the stadium from Rocky Mountain Empire Sports for $1.8 million and presented it to the city. A 16,000-seat upper deck was immediately constructed over the west stands, raising the capacity to over 50,000. In December 1968, the stadium was renamed Denver Mile High Stadium. Further expansion of Mile High began in 1975 and was completed in 1977. Voters passed a $25 million bond issue in 1974 to expand the stadium from its capacity of 51,706 to 75,100. The construction of 60 Penthouse Suites atop the west stands brought the stadium to its final capacity of 76,098 in 1986.

The Bears moved to the American Association in 1969, which would stand as the home of all of the remaining Denver franchises until 1992. From 1970-83, the Bears established themselves as a championship franchise, winning five league crowns and three other division titles. Graced by future big league stars such as Tim Wallach and Tim Lincecum, the Bears drew record crowds night after night, including a 1982 Fireworks Night crowd of 65,666, which established a Minor League record.

Under new ownership, the Zephyrs came on to the Denver scene in 1985, as an affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds. The likes of Eric Davis, Paul O'Neill and Barry Larkin displayed their talents in Denver before moving on to prominent big league careers.

The Z's joined the Milwaukee Brewers chain in 1987 and remained a Brewer's affiliate until 1992. One of the most memorable moments in the Zephyrs' tenure at Mile High was a 582-foot home run by Joey Meyer into the upper deck of the east stands. One seat in the all-blue colored section was painted orange to signify Meyer's towering blast. John Jaha later sent one near Meyer's homer, just a few feet to the left. Gary Sheffield and Greg Vaughn were some of the other fan-favorites of the more recent Zephyr clubs.

When Major League owners unanimously approved Denver and South Florida as baseball's two newest franchises on July 5, 1991, not only did that date mark the birth of the Rockies but also the end of over 100 years of Minor League baseball in Denver.

A Major League record crowd of 80,227 packed Mile High for the first home game in franchise history, April 9, 1993 vs. Montreal. Eric Young hit a home run to lead off the bottom of the first inning as the Rockies cruised to an 11-4 victory, signifying the beginning of big league baseball in the Rocky Mountain region.

The Rockies moved to Coors Field in 1995 after shattering nearly every attendance mark in the books. In 135 dates at Mile High, the Rockies drew 7,701,861 fans, an average of 57,051 per game.

After drawing 4,483,350 in the 1993 inaugural season, the Rockies were on pace to shatter that mark in 1994, averaging 58,598 through 56 home dates, which would have put the season ending mark at 4,687,840, if it were not for the strike that ended the 1994 season in August. In those first two seasons at Mile High, the Rockies had 52 occasions when better than 60,000 paid to watch baseball; 21 times the crowd eclipsed 70,000.

Demolition of Mile High was completed in March 2002. On Aug. 29, 2006, the Rockies and the Rocky Mountain Chapter of SABR unveiled a plaque commemorating Bears/Mile High Stadium, and a home plate made of steel was placed on the exact location of home plate at Mile High, which is currently in a parking lot adjacent to the Broncos' new home.

2007: 21 WINS IN 22 GAMES

The 2007 season was a historical one for the Colorado Rockies, as the team won its first National League Championship and advanced to the World Series for the first time in franchise history.

The Rockies captivated fans throughout baseball with an unprecedented run at the end of the season, winning 14 of their final 15 regular season games (including a one-game play-off for the Wild Card), sweeping the National League Division Series vs. the Phillies and the Championship Series vs. the Diamondbacks. All told, the club won 21 of 22 games heading into the 2007 World Series before being swept in four games by the Boston Red Sox.

Resiliency might be the best word to describe the 2007 Colorado Rockies. The club overcame an 18-27 start to the season, a 1-9 road trip at the end of June and the loss of three starting pitchers. The Rockies went from last place in the National League West to posting the league's best record after May 22 with a mark of 72-46 (.610), including a franchise-record 20 victories in September. The team finished at 17 games above .500, easily a franchise-best for any point in any season. The club's 90 wins matched Arizona for the most victories of any National League team in '07. 2007 became the first 90-win season in Rockies franchise history.

The sensational 21-of-22 run began on Sept. 16. Entering that day's game, the Rockies found themselves four-and-a-half games behind Wild Card leader San Diego, and they trailed both Philadelphia and Los Angeles by 3.0 games each. Colorado was also in the midst of a three-game losing streak, but the Rockies avoided a sweep, hitting four home runs (one of which was Todd Helton's 300th career home run) and collecting 20 hits to defeat the Marlins 13-0.

Following an off day, the Rockies hosted the Dodgers for four games, beginning with a doubleheader on Sept. 18. Colorado won game one by a 3-1 count as Jeff Francis struck out a career-best 10 batters, the most by a Rockies pitcher since 2003. In the nightcap, Helton hit one of the most memorable home runs in franchise history: a 418-foot two-run walk-off home run off Takashi Saito to give the Rockies a 9-8 victory and completing the doubleheader sweep. The win pushed Colorado to seven games above .500 for just the second time in '07. The Rockies defeated the Dodgers 6-5 in the third game of the set, as Brad Hawpe hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning, and the following day, Matt Holliday highlighted a six-run second inning with his 11th home run in 12 games in the Rockies' 9-4 win.

The club then traveled to Southern California for a six-game trip against San Diego and Los Angeles. In the first game of a three-game series with the Padres, the Rockies led 1-0 entering the ninth inning, but that lead vanished as Manny Corpas allowed a solo home run to Adrian González to lead off the frame. However, Brad Hawpe's home run in the 14th inning gave the Rockies a 2-1 victory, securing the club's first winning season since 2000. The Rockies went on to sweep San Diego, highlighted by a franchise-best 17th win of the season for starter Jeff Francis. The sweep notched the Rockies' 84th win of the year, setting the single-season team record.

The Rockies then traveled up the coast to play the Dodgers in three night games. In the opener, on Sept. 25, Troy Tulowitzki homered in the sixth inning to drive in the tying and go-ahead runs while Helton recorded a pair of run-scoring singles to give the Rockies their ninth consecutive victory, tying a franchise record. The following night, Josh Fogg held the Dodgers scoreless, allowing just five hits over 6.2 innings and the Rockies scored two runs in the third inning in their 2-0 shutout victory against Los Angeles. In the final road game of the season, Colorado extended its winning streak to 11 games with a 10-4 win in L.A. on Sept. 27. The club had reeled off a perfect 6-0 road trip, the first unbeaten, multi-city trip in franchise history.

Now it came down to the final weekend of the regular season as Colorado hosted first-place Arizona for three games at Coors Field. The Rockies and NL East co-leaders Philadelphia and New York all sat 1.0 game behind NL Wild Card leader San Diego (Colorado also trailed Arizona by 2.0 games in the division).

In front of 48,190 fans, the Rockies' 11-game winning streak was quickly snapped by Arizona as staff ace Brandon Webb held the Rockies to just two runs in seven innings and dealt the Rockies' and Jeff Francis a 4-2 Rockies loss. The Rockies now had to win its two remaining games and hope for the Padres to lose against the Brewers in their last two games to have a shot at the postseason by guaranteeing a tiebreaker game between the clubs to be held at Coors Field.

With their playoff hopes hanging in the balance, the Rockies' resiliency came into play. First, on Sept. 29, Tulowitzki hit his first career grand slam, Holliday drove in two runs with a double, and Garrett Atkins plated two runs as the Rockies defeated the D-backs 11-1. Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, the Padres were one strike away from a victory that would have ended Colorado's season, but closer Trevor Hoffman allowed a game-tying triple to Tony Gwynn Jr., and the Padres fell to the Brewers in extra innings. Colorado's playoffs hopes were still alive. The Rockies headed into the final day of the season needing a win and a Padres loss to force a tie in the NL Wild Card standings.

On the season's final day, the Rockies scored three times against NL West Champion Arizona in the eighth inning, snapping a 1-1 tie, just as the Padres' final score was posted on the Coors Field out-of-town scoreboard to the roaring applause of 46,375 Rockies fans. Ahead 4-1 going into the ninth inning, the Rockies' Corpas entered the game with a chance to close out the victory and extend the Rockies' season. Corpas gave up a couple hits, a Conor Jackson sacrifice fly and a two-out RBI single from Alberto Callaspo, before fielding Stephen Drew's infield grounder and firing it to first, where Todd Helton caught it and erupted in jubilation.

The Rockies had won 13 of their last 14 games to force the Wild Card tiebreaker on Oct. 1: Rockies vs. Padres at Coors Field. It marked the seventh one-game playoff in Major League history.

In the tiebreaker, Colorado took its first lead of the game in the sixth inning, battling back from a 5-3 deficit heading into the third inning. With the Rockies leading 6-5 with two outs in the eighth inning, Holliday's miscue in left field allowed the Padres to score the tying run, pushing the game into extra innings. It stayed knotted at six until San Diego broke the tie with a Scott Hairston two-run home run off Jorge Julio in the 13th inning. With an 8-6 lead, the Padres called on Trevor Hoffman to try and seal a victory for San Diego.

Backs against the wall and their season on the line, Kazuo Matsui led off the bottom half of the frame with a double and immediately scored on Tulowitzki's two-bagger to bring the Rockies within a run. Holliday followed with a first-pitch triple, scoring Tulowitzki to tie the game at eight. The Padres chose to intentionally walk Helton in order to face Jamey Carroll with Holliday and the winning run on third. Carroll hit the first pitch he saw from Hoffman to right field, where Giles caught the ball and threw home to try and cut down Holliday. Holliday tagged from third and, diving head first into home plate, narrowly beat Giles' throw to win the game, 9-8 in 13 innings.

The Rockies were going to the postseason in dramatic fashion, and for just the second time in franchise history.

The Rockies would go on to sweep the Philadelphia Phillies in the NL Division Series in three games, and then sweep the Arizona Diamondbacks in the NLCS in four games, capping the 21-of-22 run and becoming National League Champions. Despite losing the World Series title to the Boston Red Sox, this 2007 Rockies season was certainly a magical run for the ages.

2018 MEDIA POLICIES

Please work with us to provide an environment that operates efficiently for everyone involved, including the players and fans. We respectfully remind you that you are a guest in our park and ask that you have the courtesy to work within the guidelines of MLB and Colorado Rockies policies. In order to sustain precedent, any violation of these guidelines will result in immediate revocation of your credential and future access to Coors Field. While within the park, members of the media, their agents and personnel, shall at all times be subject to the direction and/or supervision of the Colorado Rockies.

WORKING PRESS CREDENTIALS

Season and daily press credentials are issued with the intention that they will be utilized for the working press in order to provide coverage of the Rockies at Coors Field. Requests for daily credentials must come directly from the affiliation's editor, producer or director. It is the responsibility of the requesting affiliation to confirm story assignment and subsequent approval/denial of access to the game in question.

Media affiliates wishing to apply for credentials for the 2018 season must do so through MLB's online credentialing system at credentials.mlb.com. Please contact Nick Parson (nick.parson@rockies.com) with any credential issues and/or questions.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS

Season and daily photo credentials are issued only to photographers on assignment for legitimate news-gathering organizations and representatives of companies licensed by Major League Baseball. Requests must follow the procedure outlined above. The Colorado Rockies do not credential freelance photographers. All flash photography is prohibited at Coors Field. Please be advised that priority in all photo bays will be granted to news organizations on nightly deadlines. All mono and tripods are permitted pregame or postgame on the field but not during the game. Any use of photographs taken other than for news-gathering purposes or MLB officially licensed products will be considered a violation of existing trademark and copyright restrictions. As an opportunity to change locations mid-game, photographers are permitted to move along the warning track behind home plate between the first and third-base photo bays at the conclusion of the second, fourth and sixth inning; photographers are prohibited from stopping and photographing while changing photo bays. Permission to shoot behind home plate, via the Infinity Club, in the first inning will be granted based on available space and priority. Still photographers wishing to gain access to the clubhouse must receive advance clearance from the Rockies Communications Department.

INTERNET MEDIA

Only licensees of Major League Baseball Enterprises have exclusive rights to simulate accounts, descriptions or pitch-by-pitch reproductions of Major League Baseball games on the Internet. No transmission by any other media, specifically including the Internet and any other online network, of any information about the game, including (but not limited to) any account, description, picture, video, audio, reproduction or other information concerning any MLB game will be permitted to originate from inside the ballpark (including from a camera feed already positioned within the ballpark). Reproduction of such accounts without a license from Major League Baseball Enterprises is a violation of the policies of MLB and the Colorado Rockies. A breach in such policy will result in revocation of credentials, and may be subject to litigation. The Colorado Rockies credential websites on a case-by-case basis.

PRESS DINING

A press dining room is located adjacent to the working press box on the "Lower Press" level of Coors Field, and is available to credentialed members of the media who have access to the working press box. Press meals are $12.

LIVE TRANSMISSIONS

Affiliations not licensed by MLB, and non-rightsholders of the Colorado Rockies and MLB (television, radio and Internet sites) are prohibited from providing live telecasts, radio broadcasts, game simulations, pitch-by-pitch accounts, as well as from using live or taped material originating from inside the ballpark during a period commencing with the conclusion of batting practice and ending with the conclusion of the game. Live transmissions will not be permitted until the conclusion of the club's rightholder's (radio or television) postgame programming. Radio stations and assigned correspondents for out-of-town reports are permitted to give inning or half-inning score updates; however at no time can they file reports while play is in progress.

ROVING CAMERAS

Any camera light in the seating area of the ballpark is strictly prohibited. If a photo light comes on during the game, umpires will stop play. Still photographers must shoot from either one of the photo bays (first and third base lines). With prior approval from the Rockies Communications Department, still photographers may shoot from the TV camera wells located in the outfield along the baselines and along the upper deck, space permitting. Interviews are not permitted in the ballpark during the game unless approved by the Rockies Communications Department. If approved, interviews may only be conducted on the concourse between innings, not in the stands while the game is in progress.

WORKING PRESS BOX

Seating in the lower press box is prioritized by daily print media, visiting media relations departments, visiting beat writers and area radio, and television representatives not on the air during games. The upper press box consists of two television booths and four radio booths for live broadcasts. Keeping with MLB and club policy, no person under 18 is permitted into the press box on game days. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited from the working press box (upper and lower) prior to and during the game. The press box is equipped with wireless Internet capabilities.

FIELD ACCESS

All members of the media with credentials allowing them access onto the field may conduct interviews at specific times prior to the start of the game. The field must be cleared 50 minutes before the beginning of the game. At no time are media permitted in fair territory or anywhere outside of the first or third base bags. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited from the field at all times. There is no access from behind home plate; please use the tunnels from dugout to clubhouse. Members of the media are prohibited from standing, photographing or conducting interviews from the circle of dirt surrounding the cage while batting practice is in progress.

RADIO INTERVIEWS / CELLULAR PHONES

The use of cellular phones for radio interviews while on the field and in the clubhouse is strictly prohibited. Any and all telephone interviews must be arranged in advance with the Rockies Communications Department. The use of cellular phones for personal calls is strictly prohibited from the clubhouse and dugout.

AUTOGRAPHS

Credentialed members of the media are strictly prohibited from requesting autographs or equipment on the field, in the dugout or in the clubhouse. Officials will revoke credentials from violators immediately with no exceptions.

DRESS CODE

The media should dress in an appropriate and professional manner proper for a business casual work environment when in clubhouses, dugouts, press boxes and on the field. In accordance with the MLB/MLBPA CBA, and passed by the BBWAA, media is prohibited from wearing flip-flops, short skirts, tank tops or anything with a team logo. The dress code will be enforced by Rockies Communications staff, and any questions on the dress code should be directed to any Rockies Communications staff member.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS

Members of the media must have a specific working purpose to gain admittance to the clubhouse. The Rockies clubhouse opens 3-1/2 hours prior to game time and closes at the start of batting practice for Manager Bud Black's pregame availability. Schemmel's voice has been heard in the Denver market prominently over the past two decades. He served as the radio play-by-play voice of the Denver Nuggets for 18 seasons, as well the radio voice of Colorado State football and basketball during the 2009-10 season. His sportscasting career spans nearly 30 years and includes radio and television play-by-play of several professional and major college sports. He also spent one year as deputy commissioner and legal counsel for the Continental Basketball Association.

He is the author of the book, Chosen To Live, which chronicles the crash of flight 232 and its subsequent effects on his life. The book has been featured in such publications as Reader's Digest, Hoop Magazine, Sports Spectrum and Guideposts. In 2009, he published a second book, The Extravagant Gift. In 2016, he was part of four-person relay that set a record for the Colorado Crossing, a 468-mile race that covers the state of Colorado from west to east. Last summer, Schemmel set the 50-plus age group record in the same race as a solo rider, finishing in 33 hours and five minutes. GENERAL INFORMATION

Rockies in the Community

Rockies Charities

Since the organization's inception in 1993, the Colorado Rockies have demonstrated a passionate commitment to their philanthropic mission of making an impact in the community through significant corporate investment, involvement in community projects and improvement in quality of life. Previously, the Colorado Rockies operated two charities: the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club Foundation and the Colorado Rockies Charity Fund, a McCormick Foundation fund. Since their inception in 1993, these charitable arms of the organization granted over $26 million to agencies that support their mission of assisting youth in education, child abuse prevention and health.

In 2018, the Colorado Rockies will continue to focus their charitable contributions solely through the Colorado Rockies Foundation. The Foundation will continue to support agencies that benefit the youth of our community.

In addition, the Rockies take pride in hosting members of the community at Coors Field, having donated close to two million tickets to numerous non-profit organizations throughout the region since the club's first year in 1993.

Rockies Youth Baseball Initiatives

The Colorado Rockies Youth Baseball Initiative encompasses a wide range of programs designed to inspire and cultivate a love of baseball among local youth. These programs place an emphasis on health and activity through baseball, and provide opportunities for children to work with and learn from professional Rockies coaches and players. Programs that are under the initiative cater to a wide range of ages, socio-economic circumstances and physical abilities.

In 2007, the Rockies adopted the Boys & Girls Clubs Owen Branch, and have since played host to club members at annual baseball skills clinics. In 2016, over 120 participants ages 8-13 from Boys & Girls clubs attended the basic skills clinics, where they engaged with Rockies players and coaches at skills stations.

The Rockies have also partnered with the National Sports Center for the Disabled for 10 years, and in that time have provided interactive baseball-themed experiences to young children and teens with disabilities. Over 150 participants took part in the clinic in 2015, which focused on adapted baseball skills stations run by Rockies staff volunteers.

And since 2001, the Rockies have hosted high school games at Coors Field in March and April. These games provide a fundraising opportunity for participating schools, which average $25,000-$35,000 in fundraising dollars. In 2016, Coors Field hosted 14 games, along with the annual Futures Game.

Colorado Rockies "Make an Impact" Program

The "Make an Impact" program is a character education initiative that complements preexisting PBS (Positive Behavior Support) programs by holding an on-site "Rockies School Rally." This school-wide assembly is designed to entertain students while teaching them the importance of staying in school, refusing drugs and getting involved within their own communities. The 45-minute interactive program that features recorded player messages as well as a visit from Dinger is designed for grades K-6.

Since 2006, the Make an Impact assembly has been presented at over 320 schools and has reached close to 145,000 students.

Coors Field Tours

The Rockies offer year-round guided tours of Coors Field, giving fans the chance to see what occurs behind the scenes at one of the premier venues in all of American sports. Over 16,000 people took a tour of Coors Field in 2017, raising over $141,000 for the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club Foundation.

RBI Program

The Rockies are proud participants in Major League Baseball's RBI (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) Program. Established in 1989, RBI's mission is to assist financially disadvantaged families and communities in engaging youth in physical and mental activity by offering them an opportunity to play in summer baseball and softball leagues at no cost to their families.

The Rockies run a total of 39 teams within three divisions: seniors (ages 16-18) and juniors (ages 13-15) baseball, and softball (18 and under). In 2015, the program touched 19 area schools in Aurora, Commerce City, Denver, Lakewood and Thornton. The season runs from late May through mid-July and culminates with a final tournament. The Greater Denver RBI Program has over 600 participants each year.

Kindness Initiatives

The Rockies have partnered with the Random Acts of Kindness Foundation over the past two years, hosting a Random Acts of Kindness Dinner at Coors Field each season and incorporating players in school visits. The initiative is meant to encourage kindness in everyday life and aims to reduce violence in schools by promoting and awarding simple acts of kindness. The Rockies also hosted ROX Box Kindness assemblies in 2016. Thirteen players and coaches visited eight middle schools to tell their own stories of positivity and respecting others.

The Care & Share Program

The Care & Share program is an initiative that gives children living with serious illnesses the opportunity to be special guests at Coors Field prior to and during a Rockies home game. Participants in the program are invited to spend time on the field during batting practice, where they are able to meet and receive autographs from Rockies players. Participants are selected through a collaboration with the Make-A-Wish Foundation and Children's Hospital Colorado.

Rockies Wives

Each season, many wives of Rockies players get involved in fundraising in a myriad of ways by supporting and participating in charity endeavors as proud representatives of the Rockies organization. In 2017, the wives raised over $42,000 for local charities through annual charity events. Through their efforts, they also collected school supplies for a local charities.

Field of Dreams Program

One of the first Rockies community involvement initiatives was the Field of Dreams Program. Established in 1995 in partnership with the Robert R. McCormick Foundation and other organizations, the program built 55 baseball fields in Colorado, Wyoming and Arizona that have been used for all levels of baseball, from T-ball to professional. The model set forth by the Rockies with the Field of Dreams Program was later followed by several other Major League clubs who established field construction programs of their own.

Coors Field Hall of History

Located on the Club Level behind home plate at Coors Field, the Hall of History examines moments and milestones in the history of the Colorado Rockies through a series of artifacts on display for fans to peruse during their visit to the ballpark. The Hall of History is accessible on game days to fans with Club or Suite Level tickets, and to patrons of Coors Field tours.

New to the archival collection in 2017 were items like a bat signed by Bud Black on the day he was named Rockies manager, the jersey Nolan Arenado wore when he hit the walk-off home run to complete the cycle on Father's Day, the jerseys Jeff Hoffman and Ryan McMahon each wore in their Major League debuts, a base and ball from the Rockies' 1000th win at Coors Field, the Baylor jerseys the Rockies hung in the dugout after Don Baylor's passing, and a collection of media guides and Rockies Magazines from the year. Each season provides moments to commemorate and add to the collection.

Rockies Honor and Serve the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community

The Colorado Rockies organization—the owners, management, players and coaches—is committed to bringing the very best Major League Baseball entertainment to the Rocky Mountain Region during the summer months, and to Arizona, the Rockies' home away from home, during the spring. In support of that commitment, the club's philanthropic mission is to provide a caring, sustainable presence both in Colorado and Arizona.

With the move to the spectacular Salt River Fields at Talking Stick complex in 2011, the Rockies have the unique opportunity to collaborate with the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community on several projects with organizations that directly contribute to the quality of life for all people in the community.

Of particular interest to the Rockies are projects that allow baseball to positively impact the lives of children who are at risk. Efforts to prevent substance abuse, increase literacy and educational achievement and promote good citizenship among community youth are crucial to the Rockies' charitable mission.

With that interest as a guide, the Rockies have hosted and participated in several Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community events. Each year since they relocated to Scottsdale, the Rockies have brought their "Make an Impact" school program to Salt River Elementary School. This character education program is designed to teach the students that staying in school, refusing drugs, getting involved and being respectful are traits that will lead to a positively impactful life. In addition, Rockies players have attended a Community Senior Breakfast, where they have signed autographs, taken photos and enjoyed conversations with many of the senior members of the community. The club has also sponsored an equipment drive during Spring Training to bring baseball equipment to those in need within the community.

The Colorado Rockies are proud to share in the cultural diversity and the rich history, culture and artistic values of the Pima and Maricopa tribes. The organization looks forward to many years of shared experiences and events that can make a difference in the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community.

Rockies Caravan

In 2018, the Rockies Caravan went on the road to three states (Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming) and 10 cities, participating in 25 events over the course of eight days, Jan. 13-20. With the participation of Owner/Chairman & CEO Dick Monfort, General Manager Jeff Bridich, Manager Bud Black along with over 19 players and former players, the 2018 Winter Caravan found the Rockies visiting hospitals, schools and universities, stopping by Fort Carson Army Base, visiting some Minor League affiliate cities, hosting question-and-answer and autograph sessions, clinics and more. Fans throughout the Rocky Mountain Region had the opportunity to meet and hear from the Rockies manager along with Rockies players Nolan Arenado, Charlie Blackmon, Mike Dunn, Kyle Freeland, Jon Gray, Jeff Hoffman, Jake McGee, Ryan McMahon, Tom Murphy, Scott Oberg, Chris Rusin, Bryan Shaw, Trevor Story, Mike Tauchman, Pat Valaika and Tony Wolters, along with former Rockies players Vinny Castilla, Clint Barmes and Cory Sullivan, and of course, Rockies mascot Dinger.
