ARTHUR EHLERS

This book is respectfully dedicated to the late Arthur Ehlers, the American League Orioles' first general manager (1954), who passed away at the age of 80 on February 7.

After stepping down as general manager, he had served the club as a full time scout until his retirement in 1974, and since then as a scouting consultant.

Mr. Ehlers was a talented, widely respected baseball professional, but he will be remembered best as a true gentleman whose quiet courage knew no limit.

BIRDS' FIRST GAME IN BALTIMORE IN '54

The modern American League Orioles made their Baltimore debut in Memorial Stadium on April 15, 1954 before a crowd of 46,354 including Vice President Richard M. Nixon who threw out the first ball. Behind the seven hit pitching of Bob Turley who fanned nine, the Orioles of Jimmy Dykes defeated Paul Richards' White Sox, 3-1, in Baltimore's first American League game in 52 years. Chico Carrasquel, the Chicago shortstop, was the first to bat in the new stadium and singled off Turley.

Clint Courtney won the distinction of hitting the first home run in the brand new stadium (built on the site of the previous municipally owned ballpark used by the International League O's). It was a bases empty blast off Virgil Trucks who also yielded a solo homer to Vern Stephens in the fourth and was the losing pitcher.

The Birds' starting lineup in that game was: Bobby Young, 2b; Eddie Waitkus, 1b; Gil Coan, cf; Vic Wertz, rf; Sam Mele, lf; Stephens, 3b; Billy Hunter, ss; Courtney, c and Turley, p.

1976 ATTENDANCE NOTES: The largest home crowd for a regular season game in the Orioles' 23-year history attended the Crown Central Petroleum Jersey Night game vs. the Royals on May 8—51,195—exceeding the previous record of 48,042, set the previous year on Crown Jacket Night . . . An Orioles' opening day record was also set when 46,425 paid to see the O's and Red Sox on April 9. Another huge crowd of 47,153 witnessed the August 28 Jacket Night game against Texas, co-sponsored by WJZ-TV.

Total home attendance of 1,058,609 was the highest at Memorial Stadium since 1969. It was the tenth time the O's have gone over one million at home since 1954.

On the road, the Birds went over one million for the 11th straight time and the 13th time overall, with a draw of 1,307,920, third highest in club history and less than 4,000 admissions below the existing record set in 1970.

See table of Orioles' Attendance vs. Each Opponent in 1976, home and away, on page 93.

MINIMUM MAJOR LEAGUE SALARY

The minimum salary for a major league player in 1977 is $19,000.

RULES OF INTEREST

MAJOR LEAGUE TRADING REGULATIONS

A.L. waivers are not necessary to assign a player contract from one club to another within the league from midnight on the last day of the season thru midnight, June 15 (Pacific time).

A.L. waivers are necessary to assign a player contract from one club to another within the league from 12:01 A.M., June 16 thru midnight, the last day of the season (Pacific time).

A.L. waivers are necessary before a player contract may be assigned from the American League to the National League except during inter-league trading periods. Both A.L. and N.L. waivers are necessary between 12:01 A.M., June 16 and midnight, the last day of the season.

Inter League Trading Periods

From 12:01 A.M. on fifth day after completion of world series thru midnight preceding the last scheduled day of the winter meetings, and

From 12:01 A.M., Feb. 15 thru midnight, March 15.

SUSPENDED GAME RULE: A game terminated by curfew or by a pre-arranged time limit is a suspended game only if it has progressed far enough to be an official game (i.e. 4½ to 5 innings).

A game terminated by light failure is a suspended game anytime after it begins.

Suspended games shall be resumed at the exact point of suspension immediately preceding the next scheduled single game between the two clubs on the same ground . . . If this is not possible, other provisions for resumption are specified in American League Regulation 3.8.

A game called at the END of a completed inning AFTER NINE INNINGS for any reason shall be a SUSPENDED game. This rule became effective in 1969. Formerly, the game would have been declared a tie and replayed in its entirety at a later date.

BALTIMORE CURFEW: Night Games—see A.L. Regulation 3.4 (13)—Saturday night—play must be called at 11:59 P.M. regardless of the game situation . . . All other nights—no inning may be started after 11:59 P.M., but any inning which begins before that time may be completed.

In other American League cities not governed by local curfews, no inning may start after 1:00 A.M., but any inning beginning prior to 1:00 A.M. may be played to completion.

BATTING/PITCHING (ERA) CHAMPION QUALIFICATION: 502 or more plate appearances/162 or more innings.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (opening day thru Aug. 31) excluding time in military service.

SAVE RULE (10:20): Credit a pitcher with a save when he is the finishing but not the winning pitcher, and when he qualifies under one of the following conditions—(1) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or (2) he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base or at bat, or on deck; or (3) he pitches effectively for at least three innings regardless of his team's lead.

DEFINITION OF NIGHT GAME: Any game scheduled to start after 6:00 P.M. (i.e. 6:01 P.M. or later) will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 6:00 P.M. and is delayed by rain or for any other reason, it will be considered a day game.

However, both games of a two-night doubleheader shall be considered night games. When afternoon and night games are played on the same date and separate admissions are charged, they will be counted as one day and one night game, and will not be included in doubleheader statistics.

BALTIMORE BASEBALL CLUB OFFICERS

JEROLD C. HOFFBERGER has been chairman of the board since October, 1965. In that span of eleven seasons, the Orioles have won two world championships, four pennants and five eastern titles.

He was president of the National Brewing Company for 28 years (1947 to 1975) until October, 1975 when he became board chairman, president and chief executive officer of Carling National Breweries, Inc., formed by the joining together of The Carling Brewing Co., U. S. and the National Brewing Company. (National's participation involved only its brewing assets and did not include its stock in the Baltimore Orioles.)

In addition to his interest in the Carling National Breweries and the Baltimore Orioles, Mr. Hoffberger is a Director and Chairman of the Executive Committee of Fairchild Industries, a Director of the Maryland National Bank, the Motor Freight Express, and a number of other corporations. He is also a Director of the United States Brewers Association, and a member of its Executive Committee.

In November, 1975, Hoffberger was elected president of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds of North America. He is an officer and director of numerous other organizations including the boards of Johns Hopkins and Sinai Hospitals.

He was named "Man of the Year" in 1966 by the Advertising Club of Baltimore and "Outstanding Man of Industry" in 1971 by the Baltimore Jaycees.

Baltimore native . . . Educated at the University of Virginia . . . Served with the U.S. Army in World War II and achieved rank of captain . . . He and wife, Alice, have three boys and one girl . . . Ardent horseman and longtime breeder of thoroughbred horses.

ZANVYL KRIEGER, Treasurer and Chairman of the Executive Committee, was one of the principal figures in bringing the St. Louis Browns franchise to Baltimore in late 1953, and also played a primary role in re-establishing a professional football franchise in Baltimore earlier that year. He has been on the Orioles' board from the beginning and became treasurer in 1957. He has also served as a vice-president and director of the Baltimore Colts, and was board chairman of the Baltimore Clippers (America Hockey League) from their founding in 1962 to 1974.

Krieger, counsel to the law firm of Weinberg and Green, is a director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the John F. Kennedy Institute for Rehabilitation of Retarded Children, the National Jewish Hospital, the Greater Baltimore Committee and the Baltimore Promotion Council. He is also a trustee of Associated Jewish Charities and a member of the Baltimore City College Hall of Fame.

Krieger received an "Award of Merit" from Baltimore City in 1970 and was selected "Man of the Year" in 1968 by the National Jewish Hospital.

He is a Baltimore native and a graduate of Baltimore City College (1924), Johns Hopkins (1928) and Harvard Law School (1931) . . . He served four years in U.S. Army Air Force during World War II and was discharged with the rank of major . . . Prior to the war, he was assistant attorney general of Maryland for three years, during the tenure of Attorney General William C. Walsh . . . Krieger and his wife, Isabelle, are the parents of two daughters.

HENRY J. PETERS, a veteran of 30 years in professional baseball, officially replaced Frank Cashen as the Orioles' executive vice-president/general manager on November 3, 1975. Peters, 52, had been president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues for the past four years.

Before accepting the presidency of the National Association (the governing body of minor league baseball), in December, 1971, Peters had spent five years with the Cleveland Indians as vice-president and director of player personnel. Prior to that assignment, he had logged ten years with the Kansas City A's, and had also worked with the St. Louis Browns and Cincinnati Reds. In 1965, he had the distinction of being the last general manager ever appointed by A's owner Charlie Finley.

A St. Louis native, Peters broke into baseball in 1946, following three years with the U.S. Army in World War II during which he spent most of his duty in England, Germany, and Czechoslovakia. He started with the hometown Browns in the minor league department under Farm Director Jim McLaughlin (now the Orioles' coordinator of scouting and player development) and General Manager Bill DeWitt. When that franchise was sold and moved to Baltimore in October, 1953, Peters took a job as general manager of the independent Burlington, Iowa club in the Class B Three-I League.

After the 1954 season, he joined the new Kansas City A's organization as farm director and remained in that position through 1960. In early 1961, Peters left the A's, following a disagreement with Finley, and spent the balance of the year working, again for DeWitt, as farm director of the Cincinnati Reds (who won the N.L. pennant that season).

He returned to the A's in December, 1961, as assistant general manager and farm director and was appointed general manager in 1965. During his tenure in Kansas City such future stars as Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Bert Campaneris, Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Joe Rudi, Rick Monday, Gene Tenace, and Rollie Fingers were developed in the A's farm system.

Peters moved to Cleveland in 1966 and remained there until he was elected to succeed retiring National Association President Phil Pilon. At that time, National Association headquarters were located in Columbus, Ohio, but in September, 1973, Peters relocated the office in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Hank and his wife, Dorothy, whom he met while both were working for the Browns, have been married for 26 years. They have two children: Sharon (21) and Steve (24), who is business manager of the Ft. Lauderdale Yankees in the Florida State League.

J. FRANK CASHEN accepted the position of senior vice-president, marketing services of Carling National Breweries, Inc. in November, 1975. He had been executive vice-president of the Orioles since October, 1966 and general manager since October, 1971. Cashen remains as a vice-president of the ball club and a member of its board of directors.

JACK DUNN, Vice-President for Business Affairs, supervises stadium operations and concessions. A Baltimore native, he has been directly associated with professional baseball since his early youth. He is the grandson of the late Jack Dunn who owned and managed the International League Orioles to seven straight pennants from 1919 through 1925.

Dunn was president, general manager, part-time manager and a player for the pennant winning Centerville Orioles in the Eastern Shore League in 1946 . . . He served at various times as owner, president, general manager and manager of the International League Orioles before the Browns franchise was transferred to Baltimore in October, 1953.

Since then he has been traveling secretary, assistant to the general manager, public relations director, and play-by-play announcer, and became a vice president in 1965. He is the third largest Orioles stockholder.

A graduate of Boys Latin School and Princeton University, Dunn was a fighter pilot during World War II. He and his wife, Mary Rose, have two children: Jack IV and Barbara.

JOSEPH P. HAMPER, JR., Secretary and Vice-President for Financial Affairs, joined the Orioles in February, 1954, became controller in 1958, and was named a vice-president in 1966. He served as executive vice-president of the Baltimore Bays of the North American Soccer League, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Orioles, from 1967 through 1969.

A certified public accountant, Hamper has attended Johns Hopkins University. During World War II he served in the U.S. Infantry and spent three months as a prisoner of war in Germany. He is a bachelor.

FARM SYSTEM—1976

In 1976, for the 15th consecutive season,* the Orioles' farm system compiled a composite winning record. The Birds' five-club minor league network posted a 315-245 record (.563), while producing a total of 15 all-star team selections. Four of the teams captured at least a share of first place in their respective leagues:

—Rochester (Class AAA) won its fourth International League pennant in six years before losing to Richmond in the playoffs.

—Charlotte (Class AA) took the first half of the Southern League's eastern division race, finished third in the second half, then dropped a one-game playoff to Orlando for the division title.

—Miami (Class A) edged Ft. Lauderdale to win the southern division of the Florida State League by half a game, then lost to Lakeland in the semi-finals of post-season playoffs. It was 7th first place finish for Miami in last nine seasons.

—In the Appalachian League (Rookie), where there is no playoff action, the Bluefield Orioles won the northern division title. The Pulaski franchise, co-sponsored by the Orioles and Phillies in the same league, was the only entry in the system to finish out of the "money" and with a losing record.

*During this 15 year period (beginning 1962) Orioles farm teams have compiled a percentage of .538 (5571-4785), highest among the major league farm systems.

The Orioles have been chosen as the Topps "Baseball Organization of the Year" three times: 1966, 1971 and 1972. The winner of that annual award is determined by a formula that emphasizes the quality of individual prospects in a baseball system rather than team won-lost records.

ROCHESTER

The Red Wings (88-50) were only 12-18 and in seventh place on May 25; but, from that point on, went 76-32 (.704), put together winning streaks of 16 and 14 games, took over first place permanently June 30, and wound up with a 6½-game lead over Syracuse (Yankees).

Plagued by 20 rainouts (14 of them at home), the Wings were forced to play the staggering total of 22 doubleheaders, but prospered under the pressure, sweeping 12, splitting nine and losing only one while putting together an overall won-lost record of 33-11 in twin bills.

Three Rochester players were named to the International League all-star team including second baseman Rich Dauer, the batting champion (.336), and pitchers Dennis Martinez and Scott McGregor, voted the top righthander and top lefthander respectively.

Martinez, who later became the first Nicaraguan ever to play in the majors when he joined the Orioles in September, topped the I.L. in wins (14-8), era (2.50), strikeouts (140), and complete games (16) over 180 innings. McGregor, 12-6, started the season with Syracuse, but was sent to Rochester as part of the 10-player June 15 deal between Baltimore and New York. He was tops in the circuit in shutouts (6) and was second to Martinez in complete games (14).

Dauer, who won the batting championship on his final time at bat, also paced the I.L. in hits (176), drove in 78 runs, and finished in a three-way tie with Syracuse shortstop Mickey Klutts and Toledo first baseman Joe Lis for "most valuable player" honors.

Kiko Garcia did not win an all-star berth, but turned in his best pro season since signing with the Orioles in 1971. He batted .276, led the league with 10 triples, and was first among International League shortstops in chances accepted and double plays.

Manager Joe Altobelli, who will pilot the San Francisco Giants next year, was honored as the International League's "manager of the year" for the third time. His teams won four pennants during his six-year tenure at Rochester and barely missed a fifth in 1975.

CHARLOTTE

Charlotte (74-66 composite; 37-28 first half and 37-38 second half), managed by Jim Schaffer, contributed righthander Dave Ford, first baseman Eddie Murray, second baseman Blake Doyle, and third baseman Marty Parrill to the Southern League all-star squad.

Ford, the O's top draft choice in June, 1975, was voted the league's outstanding pitcher. He led in wins (17), complete games (19), innings (212), strikeouts (121), and tied in shutouts (4). Murray batted .298 with 12 home runs and 46 rbi prior to his July promotion to Rochester where he hit .274 and added 11 home runs and 40 rbi.

Doyle, brother of Red Sox' second baseman Denny, was also selected as the Southern League's "top hustler." His 529 at bats and 158 hits were league highs, and his .299 average placed him fourth among leading qualifiers. Parrill was the league's best defensive third baseman with a .951 fielding percentage. He batted .274 with 16 home runs and his 66 rbi were high for the club.

Among other Charlotte standouts were outfielder Rafael Liranzo, who tied for the league lead in triples (10), and righthanded relief pitcher Randy Miller, the loop's top fireman with 19 saves. Tony Chevez, a Nicaraguan like Dennis Martinez, was 7-3 for Charlotte after going 9-2 at Miami, giving him a 16-5 record overall and making him the second biggest winner (behind Ford) in the Baltimore farm system.

MIAMI

Miami (79-63), under the direction of manager Len Johnston, logged its seventh first place finish in the last nine years after being on top nearly all season. The Miami pitching staff, which fashioned a composite 2.79 era and logged 63 complete games, offset the club's general lack of power as indicated by the Miami Orioles' total of 13 home runs in 142 games.

Three Miami players received league all-star recognition: first baseman Tom Chism, from Chester, Pa., who hit .287 and was among the leaders in rbi (62) and walks (69); outfielder Marshall Edwards, the loop's third ranking hitter at .296 and the top base stealer in both the FSL and the Orioles' organization with 57; and righthander Rick Mayo, the winningest pitcher (15-7). Designated hitter Bobby Glenn Smith won the batting crown (.324), but was not named to the all-star team.

BLUEFIELD AND PULASKI

At Bluefield (42-28), managed by Ben Hines, Appalachian League "player of the year" Mark Corey hit an even .400 to become the fourth player in that league (since 1937) to reach that lofty figure (Tony Oliva was the last to do it in 1961). The rookie from Central Arizona Junior College set league records for most hits (114) and most total bases (191) and led in four other offensive categories: runs (62), triples (8), home runs (17), and rbi (59).

Four other "Baby Orioles" also made the all-star squad from Bluefield: outfielder Vernon Thomas (.317), who led the league in doubles (19); first baseman Jim Skaalen (.278); shortstop Jim Smith (.290); and righthander Clint Thomas (11-4), who led the league in wins and complete games (8).

Lefthander Pete Torrez (9-2) paced all pitchers in starts (15), innings (11), and strikeouts (102).

Manager Art Mazmanian's Pulaski club was shut out of all-star mention, but outfielder Jose Perez Torres batted .354 in 51 games and hit 14 doubles.

FARM SYSTEM MANAGERS—1977

KEN BOYER, former National League "most valuable player" (1964) who batted .287 and hit 282 home runs in 15 major league seasons, will manage the Rochester Red Wings in 1977.

Boyer, manager of the Tulsa Oilers, the St. Louis Cardinals' affiliate in the AAA American Association the past three seasons, replaces Joe Altobelli who left Rochester after six years as manager to pilot the San Francisco Giants in 1977.

One of five brothers who played professional baseball (including two others who also played in the majors—Clete and Cloyd), Boyer spent 11 full seasons with the Cardinals, from 1955 thru 1965, after working his way up through their farm system. Later he played for the Mets, White Sox and Dodgers.

Upon his retirement following the 1969 season at Los Angeles, Boyer returned to the St. Louis organization. He managed their Texas League farm club (Little Rock) in 1970, coached for the Cardinals in 1971 and 1972, then resumed his managing career in 1973 at Sarasota in the Gulf Coast League.

In 1974, his first year as manager at Tulsa, he won a division title, then captured the league championship in post-season playoffs. Under his direction, Tulsa finished second and third respectively in 1975 and 1976.

The 45-year-old Liberty, Missouri native, who now lives in Hermann, Missouri (near St. Louis), was a prime candidate to succeed Red Schoendienst whose 12-year tenure as Cardinals' manager ended in October. However, that job eventually was awarded to Vern Rapp.

Boyer compiled a yearly average of 91 rbi and 23 homers in the majors. In total he enjoyed five ".300" seasons, and drove in 90 or more runs while hitting 20 or more homers eight times.

His "mvp" season, 1964, was to be his last big year. In addition to a career high 119 rbi, he hit 24 homers, scored 100 runs and batted .295, then hit a grand slam home run during the Cardinals' seven-game conquest of the Yankees in the world series.

After the 1965 season, he was traded to the Mets for infielder Charlie Smith and pitcher Al Jackson. Less than two full years later, during the 1967 campaign, he was dealt to the White Sox with infielder Sandy Alomar in a deal that sent catcher J. C. Martin and a minor league infielder to the Mets. The White Sox released him in May, 1968, but he signed on a few days later with the Dodgers and played out his career in Los Angeles.

Boyer, a five-time "gold glove" third baseman, was named to The Sporting News Major League All Star Team once (1958), and was selected to the TSN's National League All Star Team four times (1961-62-63-64). He played in a total of 10 All Star Games and had a lifetime average of .348 (8-for-23).

He was originally signed as a pitcher, in 1949, by Hall of Famer George Sisler, but, because of his bat, became a full-time third baseman-outfielder during his second season. Though the Red Wings were one of two Cardinals' AAA clubs during Boyer's climb to the majors, he never played with Rochester, having skipped directly from AA (Houston, Texas League) to the majors in 1955.

In addition to Cletis and Cloyd, brothers Ron and Len also played professionally, but did not reach the majors. Clete, best known for his outstanding defensive ability as third baseman for the Yankees (1959 thru 1966), completed his playing career last year, at the age of 38, with the Taiyo Whales in Japan's Central League. Cloyd, 49, pitched for the Cardinals and A's for part of five seasons between 1949 and 1955. He is currently the Yankees' pitching coach.

JIMMIE SCHAFFER, 40 (4/5/36), returns for his sixth season as a manager in the Orioles' farm system, and his third year in the Southern League.

A veteran of 16 years as an outstanding defensive catcher in pro ball, Jimmie retired after playing at Rochester in 1970 and began his managing career in 1971 by winning a pennant in Bluefield and "manager of the year" award (Appalachian "Rookie" League).

For the next three years (1972-73-74), he managed the Lodi Orioles in the California League. In 1973, he won another "manager of the year" trophy after winning the California League championship in an unusual way. Lodi won the first half championship, but then dropped to seventh in the second half before rallying to defeat the Bakersfield Dodgers, who had finished first in the second half, in post-season play-offs, two games to none.

He moved to the Southern League in 1975 at Asheville where he finished third. Last year he accompanied the franchise to Charlotte and guided the club to a first half title, then wound up third in the second half, and lost a one game playoff to Orlando for the division championship.

During his playing career he saw service in 304 major league games with six different clubs from 1961 thru 1968. He broke into the majors with the Cardinals and later played for the Cubs, White Sox, Mets, Phillies and Reds, and also served a tour of duty in the Dodgers' organization. In his first pro season at Decatur, in 1955, he once played all nine positions in a single game.

Jim makes his home in Coopersburg, N. Y. with his wife, Jeannine, and five children: Jimmie Mark, Steven, Thomas, Eric and Traci.

LEN JOHNSTON (Miami) was a newcomer to the Orioles' organization last year, but not to professional baseball or to Hank Peters for whom Johnston worked in the Cleveland farm system.

The 48-year-old Western Michigan University alumnus played 16 seasons in the minors, 12 of them at the Triple-A level and also managed for eight years. A lefthanded hitting outfielder, Johnston was known for his speed and consistency rather than for his power. In 1,718 games, from 1952 to 1967, he batted .286; hit over .300 four times; once stole 64 bases in a season and amassed 71 lifetime triples, nearly three times his home run total (24).

Johnston, who played in the White Sox, Yankees, Phillies, and Reds systems, spent the last seven years of his career at Indianapolis in three different Triple-A leagues.

In 1967, he joined the Washington organization as playing manager at Burlington in the Class A Carolina League, and spent two seasons there, followed by a year as a coach at Buffalo in the International League.

He was hired by Peters, then the Indians' player personnel director, in 1970, as manager of the Sumter Club in the Western Carolinas League, and remained with the Cleveland organization as a scout and spring camp coordinator as well as a manager through 1973. In 1974, he managed a co-op team at Peninsula in the Carolina League, then stayed out of baseball in 1975 except for a front office assignment with the Indianapolis, Indians.

BEN HINES, 39, a one time Orioles' farmhand and more recently a highly successful baseball coach at LaVerne College (LaVerne, California), will again manage the Bluefield Orioles in the Appalachian Rookie League. Last season his Baby Birds won the Northern Division title.

It was at Bluefield, 17 years ago (1960), that Hines made his minor league debut as a catcher-infielder by hitting a grand slam home run in his first professional plate appearance. He later played at Leesburg (Florida State) and Stockton (California League) before drawing his release in 1961.

A three-sport star (baseball, football, and basketball) as an undergraduate at LaVerne, Hines returned there in 1960 as head baseball coach, a position he held for 15 years (through 1974). In that period, he experienced only one losing season, in his first year, and went on to compile a won-lost percentage of .662 (392-202).

Under Hines' leadership LaVerne won the NAIA national championship following a 33-8 season in 1972. During his tenure there, Hines, who holds both a B.A. and an M.A. degree from the college, also served as an assistant football coach (defensive coordinator).

In addition to coaching at the college level, Hines spent several summers managing in top amateur leagues and in 1974 managed in the minors at Ogden, Utah in the Pioneer League.

In 1975 he piloted the Boulder Collegians (Big Five College League) to the championship in the prestigious National Baseball Congress Tournament in Wichita, Kansas.

Hines has conducted countless coaching clinics and has written numerous articles on baseball fundamentals.

FARM SYSTEM COACHES—1977

RAY MILLER, a 31-year old former relief pitcher, is in his fourth season as the Orioles' minor league pitching instructor. After serving at Rochester in 1973 as a pitcher-coach under Joe Altobelli, he moved into his present assignment when his predecessor, Herman Starrette, joined the Atlanta Braves as their major league pitching coach (Starrette is now pitching coach for the San Francisco Giants under Altobelli).

Ray joined the Baltimore organization during the 1971 season from the Cleveland farm system and in three years at Rochester appeared in 106 games, won 11, lost 8 and saved 18. He has been in organized baseball since 1964 when he broke in at Lexington in the Western Carolinas League. He pitched at the Triple-A level during his last six seasons as an active player.

A Tacoma Park, Md. native and a graduate of Suitland (Md.) High School, Ray lives with his wife, Judith, and son, Raymond, in New Athens, Ohio.

RALPH ROWE, 53 (7/14/24), joins the Orioles this year as minor league batting instructor after 18 years with the Twins-Senators. During his tenure in the Calvin Griffith organization he played the outfield, managed for 12 years, coached third base for the big league club for four seasons (1972-73-74-75), and last year served as special assignment scout and hitting instructor in the Minnesota farm system.

Rowe, who was born and still lives in Newberry, S.C., is highly regarded as a teacher of hitting. During his minor league playing career, the 5'6" outfielder batted over .300 six times in 15 seasons spanning 20 years from 1942 to 1961 with time out for military service.

He signed originally with the Cleveland Indians then later played as well in the Chicago Cubs and Minnesota Twins systems (played as high as AAA in 1949 with Los Angeles).

As a manager, Ralph had three straight first place finishes—in 1967 and 1968 at Orlando in the Florida State League, and 1969 at Charlotte in the Southern. He also had four second place clubs. He last managed in 1971 at Portland in the Pacific Coast League.

GRAND SLAM NOTES: The Orioles hit six grand slams in 1976, two below the club record set in 1970 . . . Reggie Jackson hit three of them while Doug DeCinces, Lee May and Ken Singleton added the others . . . Four of the six were hit in Memorial Stadium . . . Bobby Darwin (Bos.) and Chris Chambliss (N.Y.) hit the only two slams vs. the O's, both off Rudy May, in Baltimore and New York respectively.

Jim Gentile set an American league record and tied a major league mark in '61 when he hit five home runs with the bases full. The major league record had been established by Ernie Banks in '55 . . . Gentile also set a major league standard by hitting consecutive bases loaded home runs at Metropolitan Stadium (Minnesota) on 5/9/61 in the 1st inning off Pete Ramos and the 3rd off Paul Giel . . . In addition, Gentile also had a run producing single in that game to set a club record for rbi in a game (nine).

Frank Robinson became the second player in history to hit consecutive grand slams on 6/26/70 at R.F.K. Stadium in Washington, in the 5th off Joe Coleman and 6th off Joe Grzenda. Since then, Jim Northrup (then with Detroit) duplicated that feat. Four other players (Lazzeri, Tabor, York and Cloninger) have hit two grand slams in a game, but they were not on consecutive plate appearances.

Brooks Robinson once blasted bases loaded homers in successive games—at Dodger Stadium off Angels' Ken McBride on 5/6/62 and at Memorial Stadium off the K.C. A's Ed Rakow on 5/9/62.

One of Dave McNally's two grand slams was hit in the '70 World Series, off the Reds' Wayne Granger (3rd game) . . . Dave's was the 12th grand slam in series history, but the only one ever hit by a pitcher . . . Mike Cuellar hit his grand slam in the '70 ALCS off the Twins' Jim Perry in Met Stadium . . . Mike remains the only player ever to hit a bases loaded home run in championship series competition in either league.

Four opponents have hit two grand slams in Memorial Stadium: Roy Sievers (Wash.), Bill Skowron (N.Y.), Mike Epstein (Wash.) and Rico Petrocelli (Bos.) . . . In all, opponents have hit 50 grand slams off Baltimore pitching including 25 in Memorial Stadium . . . Neither Harmon Killebrew nor Mickey Mantle has ever hit a grand slam against the O's although Killebrew has hit more home runs vs. O's than any other opponent as well as more in Memorial Stadium—67 (30) and Mantle ranks second with 54 (25).

LONG HOME RUNS/MEMORIAL STADIUM: The longest "measured" home run ever hit in Memorial Stadium was a 471' drive by Harmon Killebrew on May 24, 1964 off Milt Pappas over the hedge in left-center field . . . This exceeded by two feet the only other blast that has ever cleared the hedge . . . That was one by Boog Powell 469' to the same area off Boston's Don Schwall on June 22, 1962. Aside from these there have been three balls hit into the hedge (approximately 450'), by Mickey Mantle in 1954, by Powell in 1965 and by Frank Robinson in 1967.

Frank Robinson is the only player to have hit a ball completely out of Memorial Stadium. In the second game of a doubleheader with Cleveland on May 8, 1966, Frank hit a Luis Tiant offering over the left field stands and into the parking lot beyond, a drive that measured 451' on the fly and rolled to a stop 540' away from home plate.

NO-HITTERS BY OPPONENTS

Two no-hitters have been pitched against the Orioles in the 23 years they have been back in the American League, both by the Angels. Bo Belinsky was the first, on May 5, '62 at Dodger Stadium, winning 2-0 over Steve Barber . . . In 1975 Nolan Ryan no-hit the Orioles on June 1 at Anaheim Stadium, defeating Ross Grimsley, 1-0.

Notes On 20-Game Winners

During the nine years that George Bamberger has been the Orioles' pitching coach (starting in '68), the Birds' staff has produced 17 20-game winning performances. In the club's first 14 years of operation only one pitcher was able to reach that plateau—Steve Barber in 1963.

In this period Jim Palmer has been a 20-game winner six times while Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally have reached that level four times each, and Pat Dobson, Mike Torrez and Wayne Garland once each.

In 1971 four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win level. The only other foursome in the entire history of major league baseball to have achieved that feat were four hurlers from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21 and Ed Cicotte-21. Despite that achievement, incidentally, the White Sox that year finished second, two games back of Cleveland.

The four Orioles pitchers all reached the 20-win plateau within six days: McNally was first on 9/21, then in the same weekend series in Cleveland, the other three joined him: Cuellar (9/24—1st game—clinched pennant), Dobson (9/24—2nd game), Palmer (9/26).

—FRANK ROBINSON'S NUMBER "20" RETIRED—

After Frank Robinson was traded to the Dodgers following the '71 season, his uniform number "20" was retired as an expression of respect and gratitude for his many achievements during six Baltimore seasons that produced four American League pennants and two world championships. Frank was the first Orioles player to be so honored.

TRIPLE PLAYS

The Orioles have executed only five during their 23 seasons in the American League while having been victimized with the same weapon ten times. Strangely enough, the last three triple plays pulled off by the Orioles have all been of the rare around-the-horn, ground ball variety, and all have been started by Brooks Robinson:

9/29/73—at Detroit . . . Frank Howard "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, B. Grich, T. Crowley).

7/ 7/73—vs. Oak. at Balto. . . Gene Tenace "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, B. Grich, E. Cabell).

8/ 6/69—vs. K.C. at Balto. . . Eliseo Rodriguez "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, D. Johnson, B. Powell).

4/ 9/59—at Wash. . . Ed Fitzgerald line drive . . . 3-6-3 (B. Boyd, C. Carrasquel, B. Boyd).

8/ 3/55—vs. K.C. at Balto. . . Art Ceccarelli "gidp" then runner was thrown out at home . . . 3-6-2 (G. Triandos, W. Miranda, H. Smith).

Elrod Hendricks was the last Oriole to hit into a triple play, in Boston on 5/25/72. Duane Josephson (1b) caught his line drive, stepped on first then threw to Luis Aparicio at second for the third out. . . . On four of the 10 occasions that Birds' opponents have executed triple plays, Brooks Robinson has been the batter. Brooks grounded into one, lined into another and two were "gidp's" with a runner then being thrown out between third and home.

ORIOLES SET A.L. RECORDS FOR CONSECUTIVE SHUTOUTS (5) AND CONSECUTIVE SCORELESS INNINGS (54) IN 1974

The Orioles pitching staff set two A.L. records in early September, 1974 by putting together a string of five straight shutouts and by blanking their opponents over a stretch of 54 consecutive innings. The scoreless streak actually started in the 9th inning of a game in Kansas City on September 1. Dave McNally gave up his only run in the 8th and then pitched a scoreless 9th while beating the Royals, 7-1. The streak ended six games later in the 9th inning on September 7 when Ross Grimsley working on a 3-0 lead gave up a two-run home run to Cleveland's Charlie Spikes. Grimsley who was the winner anyway by a 3-2 score was relieved at that point by Bob Reynolds. That also ended another string, of six straight complete games, but extended the Birds' winning streak to 10.

Date	Opponent	H/A	Score	Innings	Consec. Scoreless Innings	Pitcher	Hits Allowed
Sept. 1	Kansas City	A	7-1	1 (9th)		Dave McNally-cg	4
Sept. 2	Boston	H	1-0	9		Ross Grimsley-cg	3
Sept. 2	Boston	H	1-0	9		Mike Cuellar-cg	2
Sept. 4	Boston	H	6-0	9		Jim Palmer-cg	3
Sept. 6	Cleveland	A	2-0	9		Dave McNally-cg	3
Sept. 6	Cleveland	A	1-0	9		Mike Cuellar-cg	5
Sept. 7	Cleveland	A	3-2	8 (1st-8th)		Ross Grimsley	4

During the 54 inning skein the O's out-scored their opponents, 14-0, and out-hit them 37-20 . . . Mike Cuellar won two of the five straight shutouts, both by 1-0.

The major league records of six straight shutouts and 56 consecutive innings which the O's came very close to at least tying were set by the 1903 Pirates (June 1 thru 9). The previous A.L. record of 47 consecutive innings was held by the 1948 Cleveland Indians and the mark of four consecutive shutouts had been accomplished four times, most recently by the Orioles' foursome of Hal Brown, Billy Loes, Connie Johnson, and Ray Moore between June 24 and 28, 1957.

O'S ARE BIGGEST WINNERS IN MAJORS FOR LAST 20 YEARS

It was in 1957 that the Orioles first began to jell as a team. That year they finished at .500 (76-76) for the first time after having gone 180-282 in their first three Baltimore seasons, 1954-55-56. During the 20 seasons that have elapsed from 1957 thru 1976, the Orioles have won more games than any other major league club. Listed below are the standings of the 16 clubs that have played during that entire period:

1. Orioles	1790-1397 (.562)	10. White Sox	1636-1560 (.512)
2. Reds	1773-1417 (.556)	11. Twins, nee
3. Yankees	1759-1432 (.551)	Senators	1614-1578 (.506)
4. Dodgers	1759-1437 (.550)	12. Red Sox	1608-1588 (.503)
5. Pirates	1706-1485 (.535)	13. Indians	1541-1650 (.483)
6. Giants	1693-1501 (.530)	14. A's	1536-1658 (.481)
7. Cardinals	1676-1515 (.525)	15. Phillies	1506-1685 (.472)
8. Tigers	1657-1540 (.5182)	16. Cubs	1488-1703 (.466)
9. Braves	1653-1539 (.5178)

Notes: The "Gold Glove" awards have been presented annually since 1957 by The Sporting News in cooperation with the Rawlings Sporting Goods Company to those players adjudged to be the best at their respective defensive positions by vote of league managers and coaches, TSN correspondents in each league city plus one play-by-play announcer from each league city. Selection is based not only on consistency (i.e. fielding percentage), but on overall ability and effectiveness.

Last year the Orioles won three Gold Gloves. It was the 8th time in the last nine seasons that the Orioles had copped at least three such awards. The Birds have won four Gold Gloves five different times. Only three other clubs have won as many as four in a season, none as often as the Orioles. Other four award winners—Cincinnati (three times: 1974-1975-1976), and the Chicago White Sox (1960) and St. Louis Cardinals (1963) once each.

The Orioles have now won 40 Gold Gloves (including 28 in the last eight years), more than any other major league club. The Reds rank second with 32 and the Cardinals third with 31.

In 1976 Brooks Robinson's string of 16 straight Gold Gloves ended when he was supplanted by the Tigers' Aurelio Rodriguez. Paul Blair who had won seven in a row (and eight in nine years) just missed adding another. Mark Belanger won his sixth in eight years and Bobby Grich picked up his fourth in a row.

Jim Palmer won his first Gold Glove as the A.L.'s top fielding pitcher succeeding Jim Kaat who had won 13 in a row thru 1975, then went over to the Phillies and won another in his first National League season.

ALL STAR GAME NOTES

Elected Starters: Selection of the starting team (excepting pitchers) was returned to the fans in 1970 under the sponsorship of the Gillette Co. in cooperation with Major League Baseball. Following the ballot box "stuffing" incident in Cincinnati in 1957, selection of the starting teams had been entrusted to major league players for 12 years ('58 thru '69).

Last year Bobby Grich who had started the 1972 game by appointment was elected to the A.L. starting team at second base for the first time in 1976. He polled 2,043,904 votes (nearly one half million more than received by runner-up Willie Randolph) and finished fourth overall in the balloting following: Fred Lynn, Thurman Munson and Carlton Fisk. Grich went 0-for-2.

Mark Belanger was second in the 1976 voting at shortstop behind Toby Harrah (and ahead of Fred Patek). He made his first all star game appearance ever when he played the middle three innings and went 0-for-1.

Other Orioles who have been elected to starting positions by fan vote: Boog Powell ('70, '71), Brooks Robinson ('71, '72, '73, '74) and Frank Robinson ('71).

In 1976 a record 8,370,145 computerized ballots were cast in the All Star election.

Orioles MVPs: Three Orioles have won "mvp" honors in all star competition: Billy O'Dell (1958), Brooks Robinson (1966) and Frank Robinson (1971). O'Dell, the former Orioles lefthander who also pitched for the Giants, Braves and Pirates, hurled the last three innings of the only all star game ever played in Baltimore, and retired all nine batters he faced to protect a one-run lead, thus giving the A.L. a 4-3 win. . . . Brooks won the '66 Arch Ward Memorial Trophy on the strength of a 3-for-4 effort at bat (including a triple) and an 8-for-8 performance afield. He was the first player from a losing team to be so honored. . . . Frank's fourth inning home run at Detroit in '71 put the American League on top to stay and earned him "mvp" honors. It was the A.L.'s first all star victory since 1962.

NOTES: The Orioles are 12-9 in 21 world series games . . . They are 8-3 at home and 4-6 on the road . . . The average attendance for all the games is 52,259 while the 11 games in Baltimore have averaged 50,749 . . . The Orioles have won the first game of every post-season event in which they have been involved—five ALCS and four World Series. In addition to winning the first 10 ALCS games they played, the Birds also won their first five world series games.

Orioles' World Series Pool Shares (year by year): Since 1960 the Orioles have finished in the first division 15 times in 17 seasons thereby qualifying in all but two years (1962 and 1967) for a share of the world series (combined since 1969 with championship series) pool. Here are the individual shares that Baltimore players have received in this period.

MAJOR ORIOLES WORLD SERIES RECORDS

Individual

Jim Palmer ranks as the youngest player ever to pitch a world series (ws) shutout. He was 20 yrs., 11 mos. and 21 days old when he blanked Sandy Koufax, 6-0, in 2nd game, 1966. Jim also holds record for receiving most bases loaded walks in one game (2, 2nd gm., 1971).

Brooks Robinson holds record for most total bases, 5-game series (17 in 1970) while he and Paul Blair, plus 6 others, are tied for most hits, 5-game series (9 in 1970). Brooks (1966) and Don Buford (1969) are two of 13 who have homered on their first ws at bat. Brooks is also one of five to have reached safely five times in a 9-inning game, batting 1.000 (3 hits, 2 walks, 2nd gm., 1971) and is one of 35 to have had four hits in one game (4th gm., 1970). No one has ever had more.

Dave McNally is the only pitcher ever to hit a ws grand slam (gm. 3, 1970) and one of only 12 players to have hit a slam in ws play. He is tied with Bob Gibson for most homers, total series (2, 1969 & 1970).

Moe Drabowsky set two records in the 1966 opener—most strikeouts by a relief pitcher (11 in 6.2 innings) and most consecutive strikeouts in a game (6).

Merv Rettenmund is among 16 to have hit safely twice in one inning (2nd gm., 1971) and is one of nine to have played three positions in a series (1971). Boog Powell (and Lee May) scored six runs in 1970 to tie the mark for most runs in a 5-game series.

Club

Orioles pitchers hold the ws record for most consecutive shutout innings, one series (33 in 1966) and most consecutive shutout innings, total series (39, 1966 & 1969) . . . They are tied for most consecutive shutouts pitched, one series (3, 1966) and for fewest players used in a 4-game series (13 in 1966).

The Birds hold the record for most homers (10), most total bases (87) and highest slugging pct. (.509), all for a 5-game series (1970). They also hold records for lowest batting average (.146) and fewest hits (23) in a 5-game series (both 1969) and for lowest batting average by a ws winner, 4-game series (.200 in 1966).

The O's were also responsible for several marks in a 4-game series set by the Dodgers in 1966. Among these are fewest hits (17), fewest runs (2), fewest total bases (23) and lowest batting average (.142).

The club has a share of the record for most batters hit by pitch in one game (3, gm. 4, 1971) and most consecutive homers, inning (2, 1st inn., 1st gm., 1966, by Frank and Brooks Robinson). This is a feat that has been performed seven times in ws history.

Fielding

The Orioles hold the record for highest fielding average in a 4-game series (1.000, 1966) as does Dave Johnson at second base for having accepted 24 chances in 1966 without error. Frank Robinson is tied for most putouts by a right fielder in one game (7, gm. 5, 1971) while Mark Belanger holds a share of the mark for most assists by a shortstop, inning (3, gm. 6, 1971) and Brooks Robinson for most double plays in a 5-game series by a third baseman (2, 1970).

ORIOLES WINNING STREAKS: The longest regular season win streak in club history is 14 set in 1973 from Aug. 12 thru 27 . . . When it started the O's were second, 1½ games behind. When it ended they led the division by five games.

In three of Baltimore's division winning seasons, the Birds staged long win streaks at the very end of the season: in 1970 they won their last 11 then extended the string to 17 in post-season by sweeping the Twins in the ALCS and winning the first three games of the World Series vs. Cincinnati . . . in 1971 they again won the last 11 regular games, won three in a row from the A's in the ALCS and the first two WS encounters vs. Pittsburgh before the Pirates stopped the string at 16 . . . in 1974 the O's took their last nine in a row and then made it 10 straight with a win over the A's in the ALCS opener.

The Orioles, in addition to the nine game end of season string in 1974, also won 10 straight from Aug. 29 thru Sept. 7. During the final six weeks of that campaign, flanked by these two long streaks, the Birds enjoyed their longest sustained success in club history. On Aug. 28, they were 63-65, in second place, eight games behind Boston. From that point on, they won 28 (15 by one-run), lost only six and won the division title by two games over the Yankees (who won 27 of their last 38). The Red Sox in the meantime had dropped to third, seven games back.

100 RBI MEN: The Orioles did not produce a 100 rbi hitter during their first seven Baltimore seasons ('54 thru '60). In 1961 Jim Gentile broke the barrier with gusto while accumulating 141 rbi, still a club record. Since then four Orioles have accounted for eight 100 rbi performances—Boog Powell (three times), Brooks and Frank Robinson (twice each) and Lee May (once)—1964-Brooks, 118 . . . 1966-Frank, 122; Boog, 109 and Brooks, 100 . . . 1969-Boog, 121 and Frank, 100 . . . 1970-Boog, 114 . . . 1976-Lee May, 109.

THE ORIOLES 1976 REVIEW

LATE SURGE FALLS SHORT

The Orioles played the Yankees even (in games) after the all-star break with a 48-32 record (.600) compared to New York's 47-31 (.603). Unfortunately, the Birds started their second half surge with a 10 1/2-game handicap.

The only major league club with a better record over the second half than the Yankees and Orioles was Cincinnati (49-27, .645). The Royals were 39-41 and the Phillies 45-36.

It was the fourth straight year the Orioles had started slowly and then made a rush in the latter stages. It was the second year in a row that the second half spurt fell short of its goal. The Birds were eliminated from the race on Saturday, September 25, some eight days and seven games from the end of the season. It was Baltimore's earliest elimination since 1968 (Sept. 17—with 12 days and nine games to play).

Ironically, the closest the Orioles came to the Yankees during the second half was seven games on September 24, the day before elimination. Five days earlier, on September 19, the Birds had been 12 games back, following a Sunday doubleheader loss in Cleveland. However, the O's won their next five, including four straight from the Yankees (which prevented New York from clinching its title at home at the Birds' expense), while the Yanks were losing six of seven in this period (including six in a row before they downed Detroit in the second game of a Friday, September 24, twin bill). The Birds had not been as close as seven games from the top since June 23.

INCONSISTENCY

If there was a consistency about the Orioles on the field in 1976, it was their inconsistency. In June they lost nine games in a row, then turned around immediately and won seven straight. They had a total of ten winning streaks of from four to seven games, yet could not pass thru the .500 barrier permanently until August 5 (53-52). The Birds won 25 of 35 games from August 25 thru September 28 (to jump 18 games over .500 for the only time all year), but then suddenly went flat and lost their last four games of the season.

TURNING POINTS

The Orioles reached low ebb after losing nine straight games from June 6 thru 13. The last four of those losses were at the hands of the Royals who out-scored the Birds in that series 26-10.

At that point the Orioles were 24-31 in fifth place and eight games out, but an immediate turnaround in which they reeled off seven straight wins averted annihilation and pulled the Birds back up to .500 at 31-31 on June 21.

The Birds had won 10 of 13 a week later when they went to Boston for a three-game series (34-34, .500). All three games were close but the O's dropped all of them, falling again into 5th place, a full 10 games off the pace.

Again in late July, after having won 10 of 12, the future looked bright with the Brewers (against whom the O's have enjoyed great success thru the years) moving into town for a four-game series. Milwaukee, however, swept that set and when it ended, on July 25, the Birds at 46-48 were 14 1/2 games behind. That was to be their biggest deficit of the year.

CHANGE AND TRANSITION

For the Orioles, 1976 was also a year of change and transition. The status quo began to fade with the appointment of Hank Peters as executive vice-president and general manager (November) and then crumbled with the completion of two "blockbuster" deals.

Late in spring training (April 2) the Orioles acquired the flamboyant Reggie Jackson and lefthander Ken Holtzman from the Oakland A's (plus minor league pitcher Bill Van Bommel) while parting with Don Baylor and pitchers Mike Torrez and Paul Mitchell. Jackson did not report to the club for a month, a full three weeks into the regular season, accounting in part for a 6-9 April.

The season was still young when it became apparent that the Orioles and Holtzman were not meant for each other. Subsequently, on June 15, he was traded to the Yankees with three long-time Orioles—Ellie Hendricks, Grant Jackson, and Doyle Alexander—and minor league hurler Jimmy Freeman in exchange for pitchers Rudy May, Tippy Martinez, Dave Pagan, and Scott McGregor (assigned from Syracuse to Rochester) plus catcher Rick Dempsey.

1976 was also the year that the great Brooks Robinson, a Baltimore tradition almost from the start of his 22 years with the Orioles and a man who has played in more American League games than anyone save Ty Cobb, finally relinquished his role as a regular. Two other principals in the Orioles' often glorious past, gold glove centerfielder Paul Blair and four-time 20-game winner Mike Cuellar, were also relegated to supporting roles.

INDIVIDUAL HIGHLIGHTS

The Orioles who had not produced a home run king or rbi champion since Frank Robinson won the triple crown in 1966 suddenly came up with two contenders for both titles in Lee May and Reggie Jackson. May, the "most valuable Oriole" of 1976, did lead the league in rbi with 109 and Jackson with 27 homers, two more than May, tied for second for the league leadership with Oakland's Sal Bando behind New York's Graig Nettles who hit 32.

Jim Palmer, despite a slow start, became a 20-game winner for the sixth time in seven years, while tying Randy Jones of San Diego for the major league lead in victories (22), and later Wayne Garland, who jumped from the bullpen to a regular starting role in June, became the 17th 20-game winner the Orioles have produced since 1968.

The Orioles' keystone partners, Mark Belanger and Bobby Grich, were brilliant as usual defensively, and Belanger enjoyed his best year at the plate since 1969.

Ken Singleton, the club's most valuable player and leading hitter in 1975, overcame a disastrous start (he was batting only .185 on June 2) to once again top the club in batting, with a .278 average; and speedy Al Bumbry stole 42 bases, more than any Oriole ever except for Luis Aparicio who swiped 57 in 1964.

1976 MISCELLANEOUS

Orioles' Record by Month: April 6-9 . . . May 16-12 . . . June 12-16 17-12 . . . August 17-12 . . . September 20-10 . . . October 0-3.

Days in Each Position: 1st (2, first 2 days of season), 2nd (102), 3rd (23), 4th (14), 5th (25), 6th (12).

Winning Streaks of from four to seven games were commonplace during the Orioles' hot spells . . . They put together two 7-game strings, one 6, four 5's, and three of 4 games duration . . . On the losing side, apart from the nine-game nosedive, there were only two others of four in a row (including the last four games of the season).

Fielding: The Orioles led the A.L. in fielding for the third straight year (.982). The Birds have now finished first ('63, '64, '66, '69, '74, '75, '76) or second ('60, '61, '68, '70, '71, '72, '73) in each of the last nine years and 14 times in the last 17 seasons. The Birds made 118 errors, lowest total in the league. (See Gold Gloves on page 22.)

Hitting: The Orioles were 11th in hitting (.243) ahead of the Angels (.235). The Twins led at .274. Despite the low batting average, the O's ranked substantially higher in runs scored (619, 6th) and homers (see below) . . . Orioles' designated hitters batted .253 collectively, 7th best in the A.L.

Home Runs: The Orioles hit 119 home runs to finish a surprising third in the league behind Boston (134) and New York (120). This, despite a decline, albeit small, from last year's total of 124 which ranked no higher than 6th. The home run total in the A.L. this year dropped sharply from 1,465 to 1,122.

With closer fences to shoot at in the power alleys, home run production at Memorial Stadium increased, but not dramatically. . . . The O's jumped from 46 homers here a year ago to 58 this year, but opponents' collective totals slipped from 45 to 38. So the overall gain in homers at Memorial Stadium was from 91 to 96.

The Birds hit six grand slams in 1976. Reggie Jackson hit three, while Lee May, Doug DeCinces, and Ken Singleton each hit one. No club record though. The Birds hit eight in 1970 and seven in 1960.

Pitching: The Birds' pitching staff, which had led the league in era in six of the past seven years thru 1975, finished fourth last year (3.32) behind New York (3.19), Kansas City (3.21), and Oakland (3.26).

1976 HIGHLIGHTS ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

BOSTON: The O's were 7-11 vs. the Red Sox, winning five of nine at home but only two of nine in Fenway Park.

Top Draw: An Opening Day record crowd of 46,425 at Memorial Stadium watched the O's start the season with a 1-0 victory over the Red Sox . . . Jim Palmer and Dyar Miller combined efforts for the shutout.

One-Hitter: Rick Wise blanked the Orioles on one hit June 29 at Fenway Park, a 6th inning single by Paul Blair.

Strike Ends: The Red Sox snapped a seven-game winning streak for the O's June 22, 6-5, at Memorial Stadium, in a 15-inning marathon that consumed 4 hours and 41 minutes . . . Both clubs scored four runs in the first frame, Boston's coming on Bob Darwin's grand-slam homer.

Lynn's Hitting: Young Red Sox star Fred Lynn hit O's pitching at a .365 clip (19-for-52) to raise his career average to .346 (41-for-118) in little more than two full seasons against Baltimore.

Career First: Wayne Garland, who eventually became a 20-game winner, pitched his first major league career complete game and shutout when he stopped the Red Sox 2-0 June 21 . . . He had a no-hitter for 7.2 innings, before giving up a single to Rico Petrocelli . . . Garland recorded three of the O's seven wins against Boston.

Inside Job: Rookie Butch Hobson, former Alabama football player, hit an inside-the-park homer against the O's at Fenway Park June 28.

Final: In the last game of the season, October 2 at Fenway Park, the two clubs battled for 15 innings before the Red Sox won, 3-2.

CALIFORNIA: The Orioles won eight of 12 against the Angels, posting identical 4-2 records in Baltimore and Anaheim.

Lone Homer: The Angels hit just one home run off O's pitching all year . . . Tony Solaita, a mid-season acquisition from Kansas City, hit it off Dyar Miller July 18 at Memorial Stadium.

Hassle: Players came running from all directions to take part in a typical ball game tussle (no blows thrown) April 19 at Anaheim Stadium . . . It all started when Andy Etchebarren was hit by a Wayne Garland pitch immediately after Dave Chalk had hit a three-run triple in the 7th inning . . . In the O's 8th inning, lead-off batter Mark Belanger was low-bridged by a Frank Tanana fastball, which brought players from both sides onto the field . . . Belanger claimed the pitch hit him, umpire Russ Goetz said it did not, Earl Weaver was thrown out and Belanger eventually struck out.

Stunning Debut: Righthander Fred Holdsworth, who had been with the club two weeks but had seen no service, made his Orioles debut a memorable one against the Angels July 17 . . . He came on in relief in the 5th inning and was perfect the rest of the way, retiring 14 batters in succession.

Left-handed Apology: Before the O's-Angels game in Anaheim July 9, umpire Ron Luciano called a press conference to apologize to O's skipper Earl Weaver for comments attributed to him (Luciano) in a Chicago paper . . . The press reports quoted Luciano as saying he "doesn't care who wins, as long as it's not Earl Weaver." . . . That night Weaver was ejected from the game in the 5th inning, by Bill Haller not Luciano . . . The following day Weaver was tossed out of the game in the third inning by Haller.

CHICAGO: The Orioles were 8-4 vs. Chicago, winning four of six in Baltimore and Chicago.

Brawl & Late Finish: Reggie Jackson and Clay Carroll were the principal combatants in a brawl in the second game of a two-nighter August 14 in Baltimore . . . In the 7th inning, after Jackson had hit a grand-slam homer in his previous at-bat, a pitch from Carroll sent the O's slugger sprawling in the dirt . . . On the next pitch, Jackson swung and missed but let the bat fly in Carroll's direction . . . Players from both teams poured on the field and both Jackson and Carroll were ejected. The second game did not end until 1:16 A.M.

May Slam: In the first game of that two-nighter, Lee May highlighted a six-run O's inning in the second with a grand-slam homer . . . Jackson had hit a two run homer in the first inning.

1976 HIGHLIGHTS ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

Streak Stopped: The Orioles put the brakes on a nine-game losing streak—their longest in 18 years—when they beat the White Sox, 4-0, in Chicago June 15.

Top Output: The Orioles boomed out 22 hits in a game August 21 in Chicago, their best production of the year, but it was to no avail as the O's lost, 11-10, in 12 innings to the White Sox . . . The hit total tied a club record for the Orioles.

Timely Blast: Reggie Jackson, ever the one for dramatics, pulled off a one-man trick against the White Sox in the first game of a double-header in Chicago August 22 . . . Jackson was not in the line-up on this day because he fouled a ball off his right ankle the night before . . . However, with the score tied 2-2 he entered the game as a pinchhitter in the ninth inning and belted a grand-slam homer to give the O's a 6-2 victory.

CLEVELAND: For the first time since 1972, the Orioles lost the season series to Cleveland . . . The Indians won the series, 11-7 . . . The Tribe won five of nine in Baltimore and six of nine in Cleveland.

Little Larvell: One of the smallest players in the American League, Larvell Blanks, fired a big salvo to send the O's down to a double defeat May 31 . . . Blanks had four hits in the first game to key a 4-1 triumph and hit a two-run homer in the second game that aided the Tribe to a 4-3 victory.

20 Again: Jim Palmer became a 20-game winner for the sixth time in seven years when he beat the Tribe, 3-1, September 8 . . . At the same time he became the first 20-game winner of the year in the American League.

Dobber: Pat Dobson, who pitched for the Orioles in 1971-72 and won 38 games, had five wins in six decisions for the Indians against his former mates last year.

Win Skein Halted: The Orioles, in a belated September drive to overtake the Yankees, had a seven-game winning streak ended by the Indians in the first game of a twin-bill September 18.

DETROIT: The Orioles won twice as many (12-6) against Detroit as they lost . . . The O's were 6-3 against the Tigers in both Baltimore and Detroit.

Beat the Bird: Mark Fydrich, the rage of the American League, was only 1-2 against the Orioles . . . Fydrich beat the O's, 4-0, before 51,000 in Detroit July 3; lost by a 1-0 score to Rudy May before 44,000 in Detroit July 29 and lost to Wayne Garland in Detroit September 7, 5-3. "The Bird's" era vs. Baltimore was an impressive 0.67 (2 earned runs in 27 innings).

Grand-Slams: The Orioles used the bases-loaded homer as their chief weapon to inflict defeats on the Tigers in successive games . . . Doug DeCinces smashed a grand-slam homer against the Tigers to help beat them, 8-5, in Baltimore May 21 . . . The next day Ken Singleton hit one out with the bases loaded in the 9th inning to give the O's an 8-4 victory.

Comeback: The O's staged one of their best comebacks of the year when they beat the Bengals, 9-7, in Baltimore September 14 . . . The Orioles were down, 6-0, after two and a half innings but scored five in the 3rd and four in the 7th to gain the win . . . The victory went to Dennis Martinez, a young righthander making his major league debut . . . He pitched 5.2 innings of scoreless ball in relief to pick up the triumph.

Mora and Rain: The Orioles beat the Tigers, 1-0, in Baltimore September 15 in a game decided by two factors: A home run by Andres Mora in the third inning and a downpour that stopped the game after the 6th inning.

KANSAS CITY: The Orioles and the Royals split their 12 decisions . . . The Royals won six of the first seven, but the O's won the last five in a row.

1976 HIGHLIGHTS ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

All-Time Gate: The largest crowd in regular-season history for the Orioles, 51,195, attended Jersey Night, co-sponsored by Crown Central Petroleum, at Memorial Stadium May 8 and saw John Mayberry drive in five runs to lead the Royals to a 6-3 win.

Hero Al: A home run by Al Bumbry with two outs in the last of the 9th inning gave the O's a 4-3 victory over the Royals May 7 in Baltimore.

Many Happenings: A lot happened in the O's June 12 nationally televised 7-6 loss to K.C. . . . The loss for the O's was their 8th in a row . . . Reggie Jackson hammered a three-run homer in the 9th with two outs to put the O's within one run of a tie but the Orioles could not pull it off . . . Lee May got nailed in the head by a Marty Pattin pitch following Jackson's homer . . . May was back in the line-up the next day and had two hits.

Holtzman Trade: Pitcher Ken Holtzman, unsatisfied with the Orioles, was traded to another American League club while the O's were in Kansas City June 10-13 . . . The deal was contingent upon Holtzman reaching a contract agreement with his new club . . . He could not agree to terms with that club and two days later (June 15) was dealt to New York as part of a 10-player trade.

Homer Outburst: The O's belted four home runs while smashing the Royals, 10-3, in Kansas City July 20 . . . Lee May hit two of the circuit clouts and Bob Grich and Reggie Jackson each had one . . . Jackson and May homered back-to-back off Larry Gura in the 5th inning, each drive going an estimated 450 feet.

MILWAUKEE: The Orioles were 11-7 against the Brewers, winning the first five in succession, losing six in a row and then winning six of the final seven . . . The O's are 83-40 (.675) against the Brewers since the club was established in Seattle in 1969 . . . Since the Brewers moved to Milwaukee in 1970, the Orioles have posted a 41-16 record (.719) at County Stadium.

RJ's First: Reggie Jackson hit his first home run with the O's May 12 at County Stadium and it was a big one—with the bases loaded off Jerry Augustine . . . It was also the first of three grand-slams Jackson was to hit during the season, all off lefthanders . . . He hit only one in his eight-year career with the A's.

One and Only: Hank Aaron, the game's greatest home run hitter, smashed the only homer of his career at Memorial Stadium May 19.

Skein Stopped: When the O's dropped a 13-inning, 4-3 decision to Milwaukee July 23, it was their first loss to the Brewers after 10 straight victories over two seasons.

Muser Connects: Tony Muser, never known for his home-run prowess, hit his first round-tripper in two years September 13 in Milwaukee . . . Muser had appeared in 312 games and batted 626 times between homers.

Thanks, Robby: The final game of the year at Memorial Stadium, September 29, was billed as "Thanks to Brooks Robinson Night," in recognition of his long and illustrious career with the O's . . . Robinson received several standing ovations during the evening, the biggest when he singled to center in the 8th inning and then left the game.

MINNESOTA: The O's lost the season series, 8-4, to the Twins . . . Minnesota won four of six in Baltimore and at Metropolitan Stadium.

Hisle's Heroics: Larry Hisle has made a career of terrorizing O's pitchers . . . In 1976 he hit .391 against the Orioles with 18-for-46, second highest among all opponents (25 or more at bats) . . . The year before he was the leading hitter in the league against the O's with a .444 average (12-for-27) . . . In four seasons he has batted .363 (58-for-160) against Baltimore.

An example of his effectiveness against the O's in 1976: He hit for the cycle in front of 35,000 fans on Cap Night at Memorial Stadium June 4, with his two-run homer giving the Twins an 8-6 victory in 10 innings . . . The O's led at one point, 6-0.

One-Hitter: Jim Palmer hurled the fourth one-hitter of his career when he beat the Twins August 10 at Memorial Stadium . . . The lone safety off him was a second-inning single by Mike Cubbage.

1976 HIGHLIGHTS ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

Big Time: Lee May had one of his most productive games of the year August 17 in Minnesota when he had a single, triple and homer and drove in five runs.

No. 1,000: The Orioles scored their 1,000th win at Memorial Stadium June 5, a 5-1 triumph over the Twins . . . Major league baseball returned to Baltimore in 1954.

More Hitters: Both Steve Brye and Mike Cabbage hit .455 vs. the O's (10-for-22) though both were used sparingly.

NEW YORK: Even though the Orioles finished 10½ games behind New York in the AL East standings, the O's had little trouble beating the Yankees in head-to-head competition . . . The Orioles won 13 of 18 from the Yanks, taking five of nine at Memorial Stadium and winning eight of nine at Yankee Stadium . . . The Orioles are two games under .500 (99-101) from an all-time standpoint at Yankee Stadium.

Starting in 1964, the Orioles have played .633 ball against the Yankees with a 145-84 record.

Ross' Mark: Lefthander Ross Grimsley won only eight games for the O's in 1976, but specialized in beating the Yankees and Catfish Hunter . . . He was 4-1 against the American League champs and each time Hunter was the opposing pitcher of record.

Five Defeats: Catfish Hunter had a particularly tough year against the Orioles, losing five of six decisions.

No Celebration: The Orioles prevented the Yankees from clinching the Eastern Division title at Yankee Stadium by sweeping a four-game set in New York September 21-23 . . . The "magic number" for the Yankees was three at the start of the series and remained there.

Jackson Decked: Slugger Reggie Jackson was struck in the face by a pitch from Dock Ellis at Memorial Stadium July 27 . . . The incident happened in the 8th inning and in the following frame Jim Palmer hit Mickey Rivers in the back with a pitch.

Jackson suffered no broken bones, but missed several games . . . He homered on his first at-bat upon returning to the line-up July 31 against Detroit.

Doyle Downed: Doyle Alexander, sent by the O's to the Yankees in a 10-player deal June 15, lost two starts against the Orioles, including one July 28 when he had a no-hitter into the 6th inning.

OAKLAND: The O's were 4-8 against the A's, posting 2-4 records in both Baltimore and Oakland.

Jackson Debut: Reggie Jackson, obtained April 2 from Oakland, made his debut with the Orioles in the second game of a May 2 double-header against the A's at Memorial Stadium . . . He received a standing ovation from the crowd of 24,800 when he came to the plate in the first inning.

Big Finish: The A's scored seven runs in the 9th inning on the way to an 11-1 victory over the O's April 30.

Dead-Eye Rick: The A's ran their way into the American League record book with 341 stolen bases in 1976, but that didn't faze the O's Rick Dempsey in the July 5 game in Oakland . . . He nailed three would-be thieves in a row, Bert Campaneris twice and Don Baylor once.

Quick Lead: Veteran Tommy Harper started the April 18 game against the A's with a home run off Vida Blue . . . The O's could score no more and ended up losing, 2-1, in 12 innings.

TEXAS: The O's were 8-4 against the Rangers, winning all the games in succession . . . The Rangers won the first three and the final one in the season series . . . The O's were 6-0 at Arlington Stadium.

First Relief: Mike Cuellar made the first relief appearance in his eight years with the O's when he was called out of the bullpen June 7 against the Rangers . . . Cuellar had made 275 regular season starts in succession for the Orioles.

Huge Throng: A Jacket Night crowd of 47,153 at Memorial Stadium August 28 saw the Orioles defeat the Rangers, 6-4 . . . It was the largest crowd ever to see the Rangers anywhere.

BIGGEST LIFETIME WINNERS-LOSERS

vs. ORIOLES

Whitey Ford, the Yankee Hall of Famer, still holds the distinction of having beaten the Orioles more often than any other pitcher, active or retired. Ford who was 30-16 lifetime against the Orioles is followed by: Mickey Lolich (25-19), "Catfish" Hunter (24-21), Billy Pierce (23-11), Early Wynn and Frank Sullivan (both 21-8), Jim Kaat (21-20), Jim Perry (20-22), Earl Wilson (20-9) and Camilo Pascual (20-23).

Pascual is the all time biggest loser to the Orioles with 23 defeats. Others oft-beaten by the Birds are: Jim Perry (22), Hunter (21), Fritz Peterson (14-21), Lolich (19) and Sam McDowell (9-19).

Lefthander Bud Daley enjoyed the most productive year ever against the Orioles when he compiled a 6-1 record against them for the K.C. A's in 1959. Ford had back-to-back 5-2 seasons vs. Baltimore in 1959 and 1960 while Bob Lemon (Cle.) was 5-0 against the O's in 1956 and Mike Garcia (Cle.) was 5-1 in 1954. Joe Coleman, Det. (1973) and Pat Dobson, Cle. (1976) are the only two pitchers to have beaten the Orioles five times in a season since expansion (starting 1961).

Four pitchers have lost five times to the Orioles in a single season. Three were 0-5: Ned Garver (K.C. A's), 1957; Dick Stigman (Min.), 1963 and Stan Williams (Cle.), 1969, while "Catfish" Hunter was 1-5 in 1976.

Luis Tiant of the Red Sox compiled a 2-2 mark to bring his lifetime record to 17-18. Though still under .500, the ace righthander has gone 16-9 since losing nine of his first 10 career decisions (thru 1968) to the Orioles while still with Cleveland.

Hunter, the biggest winner vs. the Orioles in 1975 with a 4-2 record, was the biggest loser last year at 1-5.

ORIOLES EXPANSION DRAFT LOSSES

December 1960—

Los Angeles Angels—Pitchers Dean Chance and Ron Moeller and infielder Don Ross, each for $75,000 . . . Outfielder Albie Pearson selected from Rochester roster for $25,000.

Washington Senators—Catcher Gene Green, infielder Billy Klaus and outfielders Chuck Hinton and Gene Woodling, each for $75,000 . . . Infielder Leo Burke selected from Rochester roster for $25,000.

October 1968—

Kansas City Royals—Pitcher Roger Nelson (first player chosen in draft), pitchers Wally Bunker and Moe Drabowsky, and first baseman Mike Fiore, each for $175,000.

Seattle Pilots—Catcher Larry Haney and pitcher John Morris, each for $175,000.

November 1976—

Toronto Blue Jays—Infielder Bob Bailor (first player selected by Toronto, second player chosen in draft—Ruppert Jones from K.C.—was first pick—by Seattle), pitcher Mike Darr and pitcher Mike Willis, each for $175,000.

Seattle Pilots—Pitcher Dave Pagan and pitcher Bob Galasso, each for $175,000.

ORIOLES 1976 FINANCIAL STATEMENT: The Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. sustained a net loss of $102,531 for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1976. The company experienced a loss of $3,192 in fiscal year 1975.

General Manager Hank Peters attributed the loss primarily to an increase of $308,000 in major league playing expense over the 1975 level. That figure included increases of $183,000 in player payroll, $85,000 in the Orioles' contribution to the player pension fund, and $26,000 in transportation from city to city.

Since major league baseball instituted divisional play in 1969, the Orioles have won five division championships, and in each of those years the company has earned a profit. However, in the three years that it did not finish first in its division (1972, 1975 and 1976), the ballclub has suffered a loss.

The Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. is one of the few publicly held companies in professional sports, and, consequently, its financial statements are a matter of public record. The corporation's common stock is traded over-the-counter.

MANAGER AND COACHES

EARL WEAVER

Born: Aug. 14, '30; 5'8"; 165; Batted, R; Threw, R.

Born in St. Louis, Mo. but now makes home in Baltimore . . . Has managed Orioles to three American League pennants, five eastern division titles and one world championship in eight full years on the job.

The Orioles have compiled 812-551 record since he was named manager July 11, 1968 succeeding Hank Bauer. His major league won-lost percentage of .596 ranks third in baseball history behind Joe McCarthy (.617, 2126-1335) and Cincinnati's Sparky Anderson (.607, 683-443) among managers with five or more years service.

His club's total of 318 wins during the 1969-70-71 seasons established an A.L. record for most victories in three consecutive seasons, surpassing the previous mark (313) set by the 1929-30-31 Philadelphia A's . . . Named "manager of the year" by A.P. in 1973.

His clubs have compiled 12-6 record in five American League championship series and were 10-0 until A's won second game of '73 ALCS . . . Managed A.L. all star team in 1970, 1971 and 1972 and was named honorary manager for the 1974 classic.

Served as first base coach for Orioles in first half of 1968 season, after spending 11 years honing skills as manager in Orioles farm system . . . Compiled an excellent record as his clubs won three pennants and finished second five times . . . Flag winners were at Appleton (1960) in the Three-I League, Elmira (1964) in the Eastern League and Rochester (1966) in the International League.

Since his first full season as a manager in 1957, Earl has finished in the first division 23 times in 25 tries (including five winter league teams) . . . From 1960 to the present, he has skippered 23 teams and finished either first or second with 21 of them.

Started pro career in 1948 as an infielder in the Cardinals' chain . . . Signed to first contract by Walter Shannon, former scouting director for the Orioles . . . Never played in the majors but went to spring training with the Cardinals in 1952 . . . Primarily a second baseman . . . Played on pennant winning teams in each of his first four years . . . Led leagues in fielding in all but two seasons during playing career . . . Had lifetime pro batting average of .267.

Most valuable player in three different leagues: West Frankfort, Illinois State League (1948), St. Joseph, Western Association (1949) and Omaha, Western League (1951) . . . Named to all star teams five times during playing career . . . Got start as manager with Knoxville (Sally League) in 1956 when he ran club for last several weeks of season . . . Managed Santurce in Puerto Rican League during winters of 1966-67 and 1967-68 . . . Won post season playoffs the first year and pennant the second year.

Graduate of Beaumont High School in St. Louis . . . Golfing and gardening enthusiast . . . He and his wife, Marianna, live in the Perry Hall section of Baltimore County.

The major league draft is held annually at baseball's winter meetings, and is followed with a separate selection by National Association clubs from class aaa to a levels . . . Until 1958 major league clubs could draft players within a range between $15,000 (for aaa players) and $2,000 (for class d players) . . . In 1958 the price for big league drafts rose to $25,000.

However, in 1959, a first year player draft at the big league level was set up to discourage the payment of inordinately large bonus payments to free agents. The new rule provided that first year players could be selected at the major league level (if not protected on a major league team's 40 man roster) for $12,000. In 1961 an even lower draft price was set up for more recent first year players. That figure was $8,000.

That year, incidentally, the Baltimore organization set a record of sorts by being relieved of 19 eligible first year players (seven during the big league selections and 11 more during the minor league draft). In 1965 the first year player draft began to lose its significance and then disappeared in 1970.

Born and raised on Staten Island, but has made his off-season home in Baltimore since 1970 . . . Has logged six years, 37 days in the majors . . . Signed a one-year contract thru 1977 season.

1976 Season: Wore four different uniforms last year—Reds, Braves, Red Wings and Orioles . . . Went to spring training with Cincinnati . . . Was traded to Atlanta on April 6 for pitcher Mike Thompson . . . Released by Braves on May 6 . . . Signed by Rochester, May 25 . . . Contract purchased by the Orioles on June 27.

Was used strictly as pinch-hitter or designated hitter until the last game of the year when he played entire game at first base . . . Batted .250 (4-for-16) as a pinch-hitter and .244 (10-for-41) as a dh . . . Went 6-for-13 in last five games.

Reds ('74-'75): Was Reds' principal pinch-hitter for two years . . . Batted .265 (13-for-49) in that capacity in 1975 and .208 (11-for-53) in 1974 . . . Both years he appeared in 58 games as a pinch-swing . . . Played eight games defensively in 1975 (outfield and first base) and 29 games in 1974.

Orioles: Spent eight years in Baltimore organization including three full and two partial seasons with the Orioles before his contract was sold to Texas in December, 1973.

Was called up to majors for the first time on Sept. 2, 1969 . . . Became O's number one pinch-hitter in 1970, batting .291 (9-for-31) in that role with five walks . . . Was only rookie to start 1970 season with the Birds.

After a poor spring training performance in 1971, was sent back to Rochester . . . Recalled May 26 as replacement for Tom Shopay who had injured his ankle, but returned to Rochester, July 6, and did not rejoin the Birds until mid-September.

Enjoyed his most productive year in 1972 . . . Hit 11 homers including a grand slam off K.C.'s Roger Nelson (July 23) at Municipal Stadium, K.C., and drove in 29 runs.

In 1973, the first year of the dh rule, he sometimes platooned with Tommy Davis, appeared in 23 games and batted .238 (19-for-80) in that role . . . That year he also played first base and both right and left fields . . . Hit a home run in his final at bat as an Oriole on September 29 off Cleveland's Tom Timmerman.

Made professional debut with Miami O's late in 1966 and led the Florida State League in doubles (24), in 1967, his first full pro season.

Named to International League All-Star team in 1969 after hitting 28 homers, driving in 83 runs and leading the league in total bases (246) at Rochester.

LCS/WS: Was eligible for both 1970 and 1973 ALCS as an Oriole, but appeared only in the latter . . . Went 0-for-1 in the NLCS vs. Pittsburgh in 1975.

Made two pinch-hitting appearances for the Reds in the 1975 WS . . . Luis Tiant struck him out in game four, but Terry was credited with a single off Tiant in game six when he hit a bouncer to Rick Burleson who started to throw to second, but had to wait for Denny Doyle to cover, then couldn't make a play anywhere, and held the ball.

Went 0-for-1 as a pinch-hitter for the O's vs. Reds in 1970 WS (game four) . . . Was not eligible for either 1969 (vs. Mets) or 1971 (vs. Pirates) WS.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Scouted and signed for Orioles by Frank McGowan, Walter Shannon and the late Joe Torre, Sr. . . . Had an outstanding baseball career at Curtis High School on Staten Island and later played baseball at Long Island University where he hit .402 as a sophomore.

Is one of several first basemen who made it to the majors from New York City (among them: Lou Gehrig, Frank and Joe Torre, Joe Pepitone, Mike Fiore and Ed Kranepool).

Terry and his wife, the former Janet Boyle, have four children: Karlene (1/19/64), Terry, Jr. (1/2/68), Jimmy (10/16/69) and Karen (8/29/76).

*Signed as free agent on June 20, 1974 (Asheville contract). Selected in '74 summer draft, regular phase (1st round).

Born in San Bernardino, Cal. . . . Now lives in nearby Colton (just east of Los Angeles) . . . Has 25 days service in the major leagues.

1976 Season: Won International League batting title on last at bat of last game of the season with an average of .336 (.33588), just .00010 ahead of Charleston's Miguel Dilone (de-lun-a) who also hit .336 (.33578) . . . After going hitless in first three at bats in that final game at Syracuse, Dauer needed two hits to win title and got them to finish the night 2-for-5 . . . Dilone, meanwhile, was rained out of a double-header which was not made up.

Was co-mvp in the I.L. with shortstop Mickey Klutts of Syracuse and Toledo first baseman Joe Lis by vote of International League baseball writers . . . Was also selected to league's all-star team by vote of fellow I.L. players.

Led I.L. in hits (176), and at bats (524), and topped Rochester in runs (84), doubles (26), rbi (78) and total bases (241) . . . Hit two homers and batted .375 (6-for-16) in four-game semi-final playoff loss to Richmond . . . Fanned only 38 times all year at Rochester . . . Teamed with shortstop Kiko Garcia to provide Red Wings with excellent keystone combination . . . Rich led I.L. second basemen in fielding pct. (.975).

Joined Orioles in September after Wings were eliminated from playoffs . . . Made big league debut Sept. 11 (2nd game) at Milwaukee and singled first time up off Jim Colborn . . . Started a total of eight games at second base for the O's and handled 44 chances without error.

Played at LaGuaira in the Venezuelan League last winter, and hit .331 (57-for-172) in 42 games.

Pro Career: Signed by Ray Poitevint after O's picked him first in June '74 draft . . . Had been selected twice previously by Oakland and once by Cleveland while attending San Bernardino Valley College (prior to U.S.C.), but was never drafted at high school level.

Went directly to the Double-A Southern League upon signing in late June 1974 and hit .328 while playing third base . . . Broke a bone in ankle in July and the injury limited him to 53 games that season.

Started 1975 at Rochester, but was sent back to Asheville in early May after batting only .170 in 18 games.

Amateur Background: Played baseball, basketball and football at Colton High School . . . Batted .503 in second season at San Bernardino Valley College before transferring to the University of Southern California where he played on two national championship teams (1973 and 1974) while batting .361 and .387 respectively. They were the fourth and fifth straight national titles for Coach Rod Dedeaux' Trojans.

In senior year, Dauer was a first team All-American . . . That season he set NCAA one-season records in hits (108), rbi (92) and total bases (181) . . . Also established U.S.C. standards for home runs (15), doubles (24), runs (70) and at bats (279), and played in all of the club's 70 games . . . His new rbi mark also shattered the school standard of 67 set by Ron Fairly . . . Struck out only 16 times.

Selected to the 1974 College World Series All-Tournament team . . . Once drove in eight runs in a game, sparking Trojans to 12-1 win over Pepperdine for District 1 title in 1974.

Was teammate of Fred Lynn in 1973 and of fellow Oriole Creighton Tevlin in 1973 and 1974 . . . Born in Topeka, Kansas, grew up in Memphis and now makes home in Cincinnati . . . Has five years, 121 days tenure in the majors . . . Signed for both 1976 and 1977 last September . . . Pitches: fastball, change, curve, slider.

1976 Season: Half of his victories were against the Yankees . . . Had 4-1 record vs. the eastern division champs and all of his decisions were against Catfish Hunter. Lost to the Yankees, April 12, then beat them four straight: May 14, July 26, August 8 and September 5.

ROSS GRIMSLEY, III

Dropped four of his first five decisions, but was 7-3 over the balance of the season, starting June 27 . . . Lost his best pitched game of the year when the Red Sox beat him, 1-0, in his final appearance, on Sept. 25 . . . Yielded only four hits, but one was a home run to Dwight Evans.

Pitched fewer innings than in any previous season in the majors . . . Was the most effective pitcher in the league against lefthanded batters . . . Held them to a composite .150 batting average . . . Held hitters to a .196 average in late-inning pressure situations (7th inning on with club no more than two runs behind or two runs ahead) . . . Gave up only eight home run balls compared to 29 in 1975, and 26 in 1974.

Career: His best career won-lost record in the A.L. is against the Yankees, 7-4.

1975: Lost eight of first nine decisions during first two months of season, then went 9-5 from June 14 on . . . Had 39 chances without error to lead A.L. pitchers in fielding.

1974: Was 5-7 until mid-June, then went 13-6 thereafter . . . Worked 14 innings against the Yankees, Sept. 11, but was not a pitcher of record . . . Earlier, pitched a 12-inning 1-0 shutout against Cleveland (May 22) . . . Allowed 21 home runs in first half, but only five after the all-star break.

Started the Orioles' record string of five consecutive shutouts on Sept. 2 with a three-hitter against Boston, winning 1-0 . . . Came within one inning of extending the string to six on Sept. 7 . . . Had a 3-0 lead going into the 9th, but Charlie Spikes then hit a two-run homer to break that streak as well as a skein of 54 consecutive scoreless innings by the Orioles' staff.

LCS/WS: Some of his best work for Reds was in post-season play . . . Pitched two-hitter against Pittsburgh in fourth game of 1972 NLCS . . . Had 2-1 record while appearing in four games in 1972 WS against Oakland . . . Lost one game in 1973 NLCS vs. Mets.

Worked twice in relief for O's against Oakland in 1974 ALCS . . . Hurlled 4.1 innings in fourth and final game, allowing just one hit and one run . . . The hit was a double by Reggie Jackson, representing the A's only hit in the game which Oakland won 2-1 to clinch the pennant.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Was Cincinnati's first choice in secondary phase of February, 1969, free agent draft . . . Pitched for Memphis American Legion team that won the national title in 1968 . . . His father, Ross, Sr., pitched briefly for the Chicago White Sox in 1951.

Ross and his wife, the former Brenda Worrell, were married February 12, 1972, and are the parents of a son, Patrick Neil (4).

*Acquired from Detroit organization in deal for pitcher Bob Reynolds on May 29, 1975 . . . Assigned immediately from Evansville (Amer. Assn.) to Rochester (Int. League) . . . Contract purchased from Rochester by Baltimore on July 2, 1976.

Born in Detroit, Mich., now lives in Ypsilanti, Mich. . . . Has one year, 36 days in the majors . . . Pitches: fastball, curve, slider . . . Signed two year contract thru 1978.

1976 Season: Was extremely effective after joining the Orioles from Rochester following Mike Flanagan's assignment to the Red Wings . . . Reported to the O's on July 2, but didn't make his first appearance until July 17, when he pitched 4.2 perfect innings in relief vs. California.

He went on to retire the first 25 hitters he faced (equivalent to 8.1 perfect innings) over four appearances before issuing a walk to Milwaukee's Charlie Moore on July 24 (during his 4th game) . . . Gave up only one run and six hits in his first nine relief efforts spanning 18.2 innings (thru Aug. 14).

His loss to Boston in his final effort of the season, October 1, spoiled an otherwise perfect record . . . Registered two wins and one save against Texas . . . Also defeated Detroit and Milwaukee and saved a game against Chicago . . . Had best era on O's staff.

Held batters to a .179 average overall (24-for-134).

Career: Had relieved only 13 times in 167 appearances during his professional career until coming up with the Orioles.

Was celebrating 23rd birthday at time of 1975 deal that brought him to Baltimore organization for Bob Reynolds . . . Dyar Miller, who was called up to O's to replace Reynolds the same day, was enjoying his 29th birthday.

Was 0-5 with Tigers during parts of three seasons (1972-73-74) . . . Had 59-50 record in minors.

Turned down University of Michigan scholarship to sign pro contract in 1970, but has since attended Michigan during off-seasons . . . Tigers chose him on 21st round of June, 1970, free agent draft.

Led Appalachian (Rookie) League in era (1.31) in 1970 . . . Was starting pitcher in American Association All-Star Game in 1974 . . . Led American Association in both innings (214) and hits (194) in 1973.

Personal: Fred and his wife, the former Laura Lee Gulder, were married Jan. 27, 1973.

Born and raised in East Orange, N.J. . . . Lived in New York City last winter. Has exactly seven years tenure in the majors.

1975-1976 Seasons: Injured right knee at Shea Stadium on June 13, 1975, while hitting .307, and did not play rest of season . . . Underwent knee surgery in September that year . . . Was on disabled list in 1976 from opening day until June 22 . . . Played in six games, then went back on the list July 1 . . . Came off again Sept. 2 and played in 13 more during September.

Appeared in three games during ALCS vs. Royals (#1, #3, and #4) as rightfielder and went 2-for-9 with a double and an rbi . . . Also appeared in games one and two of the world series and went 1-for-5 with a triple and a walk.

Submitted to a second knee operation November, 1976, this one performed by Dr. Hughston in Columbus, Ga.

Career: Has batted .290 in the A.L. since July 30, 1972 (284-for-979) after a slow start with the bat during the first 2½ years of his big league career during which he batted .231 (169-for-733).

Recognized as an outstanding defensive outfielder . . . In addition to all three outfield positions, he has played second, third and short in the majors . . . Has .360 (32-for-89) lifetime average vs. the Rangers.

Yanks—1974: The Yankees purchased his contract from Texas, March 23, 1974 . . . He so impressed Manager Bill Virdon that on May 26 that year Elliott supplanted Bobby Murcer in center (Murcer moved to right) . . . He wound up the season with 18 assists, second highest total by an outfielder in the league (ironically, Murcer was first with 21).

Other Injuries: While with Texas in 1972, he broke his right hand diving back to first base in a game at Yankee Stadium (8/29) and was out for the last month of the season . . . In 1974 a game injury in the next to last game of the year required a post-season hernia operation.

Tigers-Rangers: Broke into majors in 1970 with Detroit after batting .303 in just two minor league seasons . . . Was voted Tigers "Rookie of the Year" . . . Hit only .248 that year, but was versatile and effective on defense . . . Played the outfield (37 games), third base (40 games), shortstop (19 games) and second base (1 game).

That winter he went to Washington in the "McLain" deal: Elliott, Dennis McLain, third baseman Don Wert and pitcher Norm McRae went to the Senators for shortstop Ed Brinkman, third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez and pitchers Joe Coleman and Jim Hannan (10/9/70). Spent a total of three years in that organization including last two years ('72 and '73) in Texas.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Drafted originally by Houston while attending Union High School in East Orange, but decided to attend the Univ. of Michigan instead of signing.

Was Tigers first pick in secondary phase of June, 1968, free agent draft after he had won the Big Ten batting title (.467), and he signed soon after . . . Graduated from Michigan's pre-law program and hopes to attend law school in the future . . . Single.

Career: Has started only twice in 72 major league mound appearances, and lost both, with the Yankees in 1975 (to Boston, July 27, and to California, Aug. 24). Has been primarily a relief pitcher throughout his professional career, but in 1975 went to Syracuse to gain experience as a starter. After compiling an 8-2 record in 14 starts, he was recalled to Yankees on July 16.

Joined Yankees for the first time in August, 1974 . . . Almost made the club at the start of 1975, but an injury to Dick Tidrow (rhp) necessitated adding another righthander to the staff instead of the lefthanded Martinez . . . Won James P. Dawson Award as the top rookie in the Yankees' spring camp, 1975.

Originally signed by the Yankees (Sam Suplizio) as an undrafted free agent off the Colorado State University campus in 1972 . . . One year later he led the Carolina League in saves (15) while compiling a 13-8 record in 53 appearances, all but two of them in relief . . . Fanned 160 in 105 innings and had a 2.66 era.

Personal: Is of Spanish-Mexican descent, but speaks little Spanish . . . Married the former Carol Sario on Jan. 3, 1970 . . . They have one son: Jacen.

Born in Birmingham, Ala., now makes his home in Cincinnati, Ohio . . . Signed two-year contract at the end of last season extending thru 1978 . . . Has 10 years, 89 days tenure in majors.

1976 Season: Led A.L. in rbi with 109, four more than Thurman Munson, and finished in a fourth place tie with Boston's Jim Rice in homers (25) . . . Was first Oriole since Frank Robinson in 1966 to lead the league in rbi and the first since Boog Powell in 1970 to reach 100.

Was landslide winner in "Most Valuable Oriole" vote (by Baltimore baseball writers and broadcasters) . . . Received 11 first and a second among the 12 votes cast.

Hitting Miscellaneous: Batted .346 (85-for-246) with men on base and only .183 (52-for-284) with bases empty . . . Led A.L. in rbi frequency (1 per every 4.86 at bats) and slugging percentage with men on (.581) . . . Hit .343 (57-for-166) with runners in scoring position and drove in 36% of total runners in scoring position, 7th highest percentage in A.L.

Had 12 homers and 50 rbi at home and 13 homers plus 59 rbi on the road . . . Batted .395 (17-for-43) against Royals with five homers and 16 rbi . . . Batted just .191 (9-for-47) against Chicago, but hit four homers and drove in 15 runs off White Sox pitching.

LEE ANDREW MAY

Drove in 44 runs in 41 games from August 14 thru September 22 . . . Experienced 15-game slump from June 20 thru July 6, during which he went 4-for-52 (.077), while his average dropped to .216 . . . Thereafter, in his last 81 games, Lee batted .293 (86-for-294) to raise his average 42 points to a final .258.

Injuries: A muscle pull in right thigh sidelined him for a 13-day, seven game span from April 12 thru 23 except for one at bat April 17 . . . Was hit on the head by Royals' Marty Pattin in 9th inning, June 12, immediately following a three-run homer by Reggie Jackson, but came back the next day.

Ejections: Was ejected twice in 1976; the first time on June 4 by Ron Luciano after charging Twins' pitcher Dave Goltz on the mound . . . Goltz, who had hit him in the wrist and forced him out of the lineup for five games in 1975, had thrown two straight tight pitches when Lee charged him . . . Was also tossed out on a balls and strikes dispute by Dale Ford on July 25.

Home Runs/RBI ('76 & Lifetime): Has averaged 29 homers and 98 rbi over last nine seasons beginning in 1968, and has hit at least 20 home runs in each of those years.

Hit three of his '76 homers off Angels' ace Frank Tanana . . . Now has 208 rbi and 45 homers in two A.L. seasons . . . Top home run year was 1971, his last year with Reds, when he hit 39.

HR Race '76: Was tied for league home run lead with Sal Bando (Oak.) and Graig Nettles (N.Y.) as late as Sept. 5, with 24, but hit only one more the rest of the year . . . Hit no homers in last 18 games (after Sept. 11).

Multi-homer Games: Hit two homers in a game twice in 1976, both times vs. K.C., on May 8 off Dennis Leonard at Baltimore and July 20 off Larry Gura and Tom Hall at K.C. . . . No other Oriole connected more than once in a game last year.

Hit three homers in a game at San Diego on June 21, 1972, while with Houston . . . Has hit two in a game 27 times, including four times in the A.L.

Belted two home runs in one inning at the Astrodome vs. Cubs on Apr. 29, 1974.

Grand Slams: Belted his 7th lifetime grand slam and first in the A.L. off Chicago's Terry Forster in Baltimore on Aug. 14, 1st game . . . Jackson hit a slam off Ken Brett in the second game of that doubleheader . . . See list of May's bases loaded homers on page 15.

HRs by Parks: Has homered in 26 different big league parks, 15 as a National Leaguer and 11 since joining the American League . . . Has not yet hit a home run in Yankee Stadium, or, of course, in Toronto and Seattle . . . The record is 32 held by Frank Robinson.

Brother Combos: Lee and his younger brother, Carlos, of the Yankees, rank fourth in career homers by brother combinations in major league history-361 (Lee-273, Carlos-88) behind: Aarons-768 (Hank-755, Tommy-13), DiMaggios-573 (Joe-361, Vince-125, Dom-87) and Boyers-444 (Ken-282, Cleto-162).

Career-A.L.: Has .300+ averages against three A.L. clubs in two seasons .312 (39-for-125) vs. Milwaukee306 (26-for-85) vs. K.C. and .305 (25-for-82) vs. Texas.

Stroked three-run homer in first A.L. batting appearance, connecting against Detroit's Joe Coleman opening day, 1975 (April 10) at Tiger Stadium . . . Slammed two homers and drove in seven runs in his first game ever at Fenway Park on Apr. 18, 1975.

Batted .416 (42-for-101) during July, 1975, with 27 rbi in 27 games plus eight doubles, three triples and five homers . . . Raised average that month from .224 to .272 . . . In one eight-game period at home (July 17 thru 22), he hit .615 (16-for-26) with five homers and 11 rbi . . . Hit only three of his 20 1975 homers after July 19.

Career-N.L.: Named N.L. "Rookie of the Year" in 1967 by The Sporting News (Brother Carlos won the same award in A.L. in 1969) . . . Picked to TSN N.L. All-Star team in 1971.

Traded by Reds to Houston, Nov. 29, 1971, with Tommy Helms (2b), Denis Menke (ss-3b), Jack Billingham (p), Cesar Geronimo (of) and Ed Armbrister (of).

Set Houston club record with 21-game hitting streak in 1973 . . . Has played in three all-star games for N.L. (1969, 1971 and 1972) and is 1-for-6 with one rbi . . . Led N.L. first basemen in total chances (1,400) and double plays (133) in 1972.

LCS/WS: Did outstanding job for Reds against Orioles in 1970 World Series . . . Batted .389 (7-for-18) with two homers and eight rbi . . . Hit two-run homer off Jim Palmer in first game . . . Accounted for Reds' only win of series in fourth game with three-run homer off Eddie Watt in 8th inning that gave Cincinnati 6-5 victory . . . Denied two other hits on great fielding plays by Brooks . . . Gave Robinson nickname "Hoover" . . . Batted .167 (2-for-12) for Reds in 1970 NLCS vs. Pittsburgh . . . Drove in two of Cincinnati's runs in first game, 3-0 victory.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Originally signed by Reds on June 1, 1961 . . . Attended Miles College in Birmingham . . . He and his wife, Terrye, are the parents of three children: Yelandra Maurice (8/18/62), Lisa Yvonne (8/11/63) and Lee, Jr. (5/30/68).

*Acquired from Yankees on June 15, 1976, along with catcher Rick Dempsey and pitchers Tippy Martinez, Dave Pagan and Scott McGregor (assigned from Syracuse to Rochester) in deal for catcher Ellie Hendricks, and pitchers Ken Holtzman, Doyle Alexander, Grant Jackson and Jimmy Freeman (assigned from Rochester to Syracuse).

Born in Coffeyville, Kan., but grew up in Oakland, Cal., and now makes home in Torrance, Cal. . . . Has nine years service in the majors . . . Pitches: fastball, curve and change.

1976 Season: Set a career high with 15 victories . . . Posted 11-7 record for Orioles and won nine of his last 12 decisions . . . Streak started July 29 when he defeated Detroit's Mark Fidrych on a route-going six-hitter, 1-0 . . . Finished campaign with three straight wins.

Compiled 4-0 record for O's against division champs, New York and Kansas City . . . Was 3-0 vs. Yankees with 2.16 earned run average . . . Had four-hit shutout vs. Yanks for 8.1 innings on August 7 at Yankee Stadium, then gave up two more hits and a grand slam to Chris Chambliss . . . He won the game, however, 7-4, with help from Tippy Martinez.

Struck out nine, his season high, while beating Milwaukee in final appearance of year (Sept. 28) . . . Worked three times in relief for the Orioles.

Defeated Texas in his debut for Birds on June 18, working 8.1 innings.

Had 4-3 record with Yankees before the trade . . . Had an eight-inning no-hitter for Yanks against Royals (at K.C.), May 2, but Amos Otis spoiled it with lead-off double in 9th inning . . . Royals tied game that inning and Rudy was relieved by Sparky Lyle . . . Yanks won in 11.

1975 Season: Best previous year of career in several respects . . . Set personal highs with 13 complete games and 212 innings and his 3.06 era was among best in A.L.

Career: Has 14-7 lifetime record against Cleveland and is 12-7 vs. Minnesota . . . Last 13 of 16 to Orioles while with Angels and Yankees . . . Has pitched five 2-hitters (no no-hitters or 1-hitters).

Originally signed by Minnesota in 1963, but selected by White Sox following winter in first-year player draft . . . Traded by White Sox to Phillies on Oct. 15, 1964, for catcher Bill Heath and a player to be named later (pitcher Joel Gibson).

Traded by Phillies to Angels on Dec. 3, 1964, with infielder Costen Schockley for pitcher Bo Belinsky . . . Contract sold to Yankees by Angels, June 15, 1974.

RUDOLPH (RUDY) MAY, JR.

Angels: Spent 1965 season with Angels, but developed shoulder problems in September . . . Struggled in minors for next three seasons before shoulder healed. Rejoined Angels in 1969 . . . At the time his contract was sold to Yankees, 5½ years later, he was tops on the Angels in point of continuous service.

Had a no-hitter for 7.1 innings against Detroit in first major league start on April 18, 1965 . . . Left game after nine innings with score tied, 1-1 . . . Had allowed only one hit (a single by Jake Woods) and fanned 10.

Finished 1972 season with five straight complete-game victories . . . Struck out a career high 16 vs. Minnesota, Aug. 10, 1972.

Started 1973 season with four shutouts in first six starts, then developed back problems and wound up with a 7-17 record.

*Contract purchased from Saltillo of Mexican League (AAA) by Rochester on 8/11/75. Baltimore in turn purchased his contract from Rochester on 10/24/75.

Born in Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico, and still lives there in off-season . . . Has 162 days tenure in the majors . . . Signed a one-year contract thru 1977.

1976 Season: Though he batted only .192 (5-for-26) against "A" team opposition in spring training, he impressed Orioles sufficiently to add him to 25-man squad. Made major league debut as a dh April 13 against Yankees and picked up his first hit that night, a single off Dock Ellis.

Hit first home run in his second game (April 17), a pinch-hit homer off Oakland's Paul Lindblad with one on that broke a string of 91 consecutive homerless innings by the A's lefty reliever . . . Homer supplied cushion to a 6-1 Jim Palmer victory.

Had five home runs and was batting .271 with 14 rbi in 32 games thru June 27 . . . Then went into slump during which he hit no homers and batted only .123 (8-for-65) in next 23 games until optioned to Rochester on August 11 . . . His average dipped to .215 during that spell.

Recalled September 1 after hitting .328 (22-for-67) with six homers and 15 rbi in 18 games with Red Wings . . . Played in 18 more games for Birds, hit .229 (11-for-48) while adding one more homer and seven rbi.

Batted .364 (8-for-22) vs. Rangers . . . Played in Mexican Winter League during off-season for Los Mochis . . . Was 3rd in league in home runs (8), second in rbi (40).

Career: Had played in only eight regular season games in U.S. (at West Palm Beach, a Montreal farm club in Florida State League in 1973) before joining the Orioles.

Montreal returned Mora's contract to Saltillo after 1973 season . . . Played for O's Instructional League club at Clearwater, Fla., in 1974, on recommendation of former Oriole, Chico Fernandez.

In 1974, he batted .307, led the Mexican League (AAA) in homers (35), rbi (109), and total bases (288), and won a Silver Glove for handling 163 chances in the outfield without an error while playing for his hometown team, the Saltillo Saraperos.

Also led Mexican Pacific League in homers the following winter with 18 in 40 games at Los Mochis . . . Single.

*Signed with Baltimore affiliate on 7/1/73 . . . was Baltimore's third selection in 1973 summer free agent draft.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, Cal., and still lives there . . . Plays first base and outfield.

1976 Season: Enjoyed best pro season . . . His combined figures at Charlotte and Rochester were: .289 (135-for-467), 81 runs, 21 doubles, 4 triples, 23 homers, 86 rbi, 14 steals, 77 walks and 68 strikeouts . . . Led the O's minor league system in homers.

A natural righthanded hitter, Eddie became a switch-hitter in 1976 after experimenting in spring training . . . Was promoted from Charlotte to Rochester, July 14, after Jim Fuller sustained a broken thumb when hit by a pitch . . . Four days later he hit a three-run homer and drove in five runs in a game against Memphis.

Despite a partial season at Charlotte, he was named to the Southern League All-Star Team . . . At the time he was called by the Red Wings, he led Charlotte in batting, hits, runs, homers, rbi and stolen bases . . . Hit a grand slam July 11.

Hit .313 (51-for-163) with eight homers and 33 rbi at Caguas in Puerto Rican League during winter . . . Caguas won Puerto Rican playoffs and represented league in Caribbean series . . . Dennis Martinez was a teammate at Caguas.

Career: Led Bluefield in homers (11) in 1973, tied for club leadership with Willie Royster at Miami (12) in 1974 and was tops at Asheville in 1975 (17, which also tied him for leadership in the system with Jim Fuller and Craig Ryan).

Named to all-star teams in Appalachian League ('73) and Florida State ('74).

Signed originally by Ray Poitevint and Willie Moore.

Personal: Has two older brothers who played pro ball: Charles who had 37 homers and 119 rbi in California League in 1964 and wound up as high as AAA in Houston organization, and Leon who played at the A level in San Francisco system.

Standout athlete at Locke High School in Los Angeles . . . Attended California State University at Los Angeles . . . Single.

BIRDS' BIGGEST DEAL

In November-December 1954 the Orioles and Yankees engineered a 17 player deal, one of the biggest in baseball history. General Manager Paul Richards sent the following players to New York: pitchers Mike Blyzka, Don Larsen and Bob Turley; catcher Darrell Johnson, first baseman Dick Kryhoski, shortstop Billy Hunter, and outfielders Ted del Guericco and Jim Fridley . . . The Birds in turn acquired the contracts of: pitchers Harry Byrd, Jim McDonald and Bill Miller; catchers Hal Smith and Gus Triandos; second baseman Don Leppert, third baseman Kal Segrist, shortstop Willie Miranda and outfielder Gene Woodling.

Born in New York City, raised in Los Angeles and Scottsdale, Ariz., and now makes home in Phoenix, Md., north of Baltimore . . . Pitches: fastball, slider, curve, change . . . Signed three-year contract in April, 1976, extending thru 1978 season . . . Had 10 years, 132 days tenure in major leagues thru 1976 season (40 days shy of 11 full years).

1976 Season: Was a 20-game winner for the sixth time in last seven years and won third Cy Young Award in last four years ('73, '75, '76) . . . Tied for major league lead with San Diego's Randy Jones (N.L. Cy Young winner) in wins-22, starts-40 and innings-315.

His six shutouts tied him with four others for second in major leagues (with Blue, Blyleven, Matlack and Montefusco) behind Nolan Ryan (7) . . . He and Frank Tanana were tied for third in majors in complete games with 23 behind Randy Jones (25) and Mark Fidrych (24) . . . Led the O's also in strikeouts (159) and era (2.51, fifth best in A.L.).

Started slowly, was only 6-7 with a 3.33 era thru June 10 and had walked 49 batters in 116.1 innings (nearly 4 per nine innings) . . . Thereafter, he was 16-6 with a 1.86 era and issued only 35 more base on balls in his last 198.2 innings (just over 1 1/2 per nine innings).

Won eight of nine between June 15 and July 27, and won six of his last eight . . . Defeated every team in the league at least once . . . Was 13-7 vs. west and 9-6 vs. east.

Hurled one-hitter against Minnesota, August 10 (4th of career) . . . A second inning single by Mike Cubbage spoiled the no-hit bid . . . Also pitched one 2-hitter, three 3-hitters and two 4-hitters . . . Turned in eight complete games in which he held opponents to five hits or less.

Among his six shutout victims were: Chicago (twice), California, Minnesota, Texas and New York . . . Twice pitched 11 innings without getting a decision (June 2 vs. Cle. and July 23 vs. Mil.) . . . Went 10 innings to beat Boston, June 23 (3-2 on Grich's home run here) . . . Pitched eight shutout innings vs. Boston opening day and won 1-0 with 9th-inning help from Dyar Miller.

Struck out 11 (his season high) while beating Texas, June 19, and fanned 10 Rangers in August 27 triumph . . . Pitched 60 more innings than he allowed hits (in '75 he had 70 more innings than hits allowed) . . . O's were 25-15 in games started by Palmer.

Was first A.L. pitcher to win 20 (on Sept. 8 vs. Cle. in Bal.) . . . Other 20-game winners in A.L. were Wayne Garland (20) and Luis Tiant (21) . . . Extended own club shutout record to 42 and became club's all-time leader in complete games (146) and strikeouts (1529) . . . His 174 victories moved him to within seven of Dave McNally's standard of 181.

JAMES (JIM) ALVIN PALMER

Did not pitch after blanking Yankees on Sept. 22 . . . That effort made Jim a 20-game winner lifetime against the Bombers (20-11) . . . Only Tiant with 21 victories has beaten New York more among active A.L. pitchers.

Had 4-0 record vs. Sox, boosting career mark to 19-7 . . . Has now beaten Chi Sox eight straight times since losing to them June 16, 1974.

'76 Honors: TSN A.L. Pitcher of the Year (3rd time in 4 years) . . . Righthanded pitcher on A.P. major league all-star team (Jim, Joe Morgan and Randy Jones were only repeaters on that team) . . . U.P.I.'s A.L. all-star team . . . Joe Cronin Award for Significant Achievement (winning 20 six times)—joined three previous winners: Nolan Ryan, Al Kaline and Rod Carew . . . Gold Glove Award (TSN and Rawlings Sporting Goods) as top fielding pitcher in A.L. (replaced Jim Kaat who had won in A.L. for 13 straight years, and won again in '76, but in N.L. with Phillies).

In capturing Cy Young Award, Jim polled 108 votes (5-3-1 point system) including 19 first, four seconds and a third to finish well ahead of Fidyich who had remaining five first-place votes and a point total of 51 . . . Jim was only pitcher to be named on all 24 ballots (two per league city) for the second straight year. Became third to win three Cy Youngs in 20-year history of that award (started '56), joining Sandy Koufax and Tom Seaver . . . Is also only third to have won two in a row . . . Seaver and Denny McLain, who shared his second with Mike Cuellar in 1969, were the others.

Career: Has 151-78 record (.659) over last eight years starting 1969 . . . His career won-lost percentage (.652, 174-93) is highest in majors today . . . Has lowest era (2.61) of any A.L. pitcher in last 50 years (2,000 or more innings) . . . Not since Walter Johnson retired after 1927 season with a figure of 2.17 has anyone fashioned a lower era . . . Among active major leaguers, however, he ranks second to Tom Seaver (2.47) . . . During his six 20-win seasons, he has finished first in A.L. in era twice ('73, '75), second twice, third once, fourth once and fifth once.

With six 20-win seasons, Jim ranks second in majors to Fergie Jenkins (7) . . . Catfish Hunter is third with five . . . Has winning record against every opponent lifetime . . . Has four career complete game 1-0 wins—three in '75 and one in '71.

Was 6th among active A.L. pitchers in career major league wins at end of last season behind: Gaylord Perry (231), Jenkins (203), Hunter (201), Mike Cuellar (185) and Tiant (179) . . . Ranked ninth in majors (Kaat-247, Seaver-182 and Don Sutton-176).

Strikeouts/Walks: Has fanned 10 or more batters 11 times including a career high of 13 strikeouts at Cleveland on July 1, 1971 . . . Has struck out 11 Twins three different times, all at Memorial Stadium ('70-1, '72-2) . . . Has twice walked eight batters in a game, both times in first appearance of year (1966 and 1970).

1975: Led majors with 2.09 era and 10 shutouts and tied Hunter for most wins . . . Set club records in innings (323), complete games (25) and shutouts . . . Was highest total of shutouts in A.L. since Dean Chance's 11 for Angels in 1964 . . . Was first in majors to reach 20-win level . . . Six of his 11 losses were by one or two runs . . . The O's were 28-11 in games in which he appeared . . . Led A.L. pitchers in total fielding chances (88).

Injuries: In 1974, his only losing season in majors (7-12), Jim had sore elbow that put him on disabled list for six weeks (6/20 to 8/13) . . . Prior to that he had lost seven in a row (4/30 thru 6/7) . . . Had never lost more than three straight before and hasn't since.

Back and shoulder miseries nearly ruined career in 1967-1968 . . . Pitched in only two games for O's between June 8, 1967, and start of 1969 season . . . Pitched in Rochester, Elmira and Miami during those two years trying to shake the ailments, but it wasn't until a stint in the Puerto Rican League, after the 1968 season, that he began to shake his physical problems.

Made dramatic comeback in 1969 and was 9-2 when he tore shoulder muscle (6/29/69) and went back on disabled list for 42 days . . . Pitched his no-hitter only four days after coming off the list (his 2nd start) and wound up with 16-4 record.

'70-'71-'72-'73: Was one of three 20-game winners on O's staff in 1970 (with Cuellar and McNally) and one of four in '71 (add Dobson), but was only Oriole to reach that level in both 1972 and 1973.

Winning Streaks: Won 10 straight in 1973 (7/14 thru 8/26) and in 1972 captured eight in a row (5/15 thru 6/25) and 13 of 14 (5/15 thru 8/6) . . . Lost seven straight in 1974.

No & Low-Hitters/Shutouts: Has only one regular season lifetime shutout vs. Oakland, but that was a no-hitter on Aug. 13, 1969 (8-0 over Chuck Dobson in Bal.), only four days after coming back from six weeks on disabled list . . . Experienced two near-misses in 1973, both in Baltimore: Had perfect game with one out in 9th vs. Texas on June 16 (had retired first 25 batters) when Ken Suarez singled . . . Jim ultimately won a 9-1 two-hitter . . . On July 27, a leadoff single in 8th by Cleveland's George Hendrick was only hit allowed.

Hurled no-hitter for Aberdeen in Northern League in 1973, his first pro season.

Has pitched four 1-hitters: 5/12/67 vs. N.Y., 7/27/73 vs. Cle., 6/8/75 vs. K.C. and 8/10/76 vs. Min. . . . Has also hurled seven 2-hitters, 13 3-hitters and 18 4-hitters.

In accumulating 42 career shutouts (plus one vs. Dodgers in '66 WS and one vs. A's in '73 CS), he has pitched at least one vs. every opponent: N.Y. and Cle.-6 each; Bos.-5; Cal., K.C., and Mil.-4 each; Chi., Det., Min., and Tex.-3 each; Oak.-1.

In Relief: Relieved 21 times in 1965, his rookie year, and three times in 1969 . . . However, since June 28, 1969, he has relieved only twice in 267 regular season appearances and picked up saves in both: July 3, 1973 vs. Mil. (for Grant Jackson) and July 19, 1975 vs. Oak. (for Ross Grimsley) . . . Also relieved Doyle Alexander in fifth game of 1973 ALCS.

Previous Honors/Awards: Has won TSN American League Pitcher of the Year Award three times ('73, '75, '76) . . . Twice chosen "Most Valuable Oriole" (1972 and 1973) and has finished second last two years to Ken Singleton in 1975 and to Lee May in 1976 . . . Was second to Reggie Jackson in A.L. "MVP" balloting in 1973 and was fifth in 1975 . . . Won "Comeback Player of Year" citations in 1975 by both TSN and U.P.I.

All-Star Games: Member of American League all-star teams in 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1975 . . . Has performed very well in all-star competition, allowing no runs and three hits in eight innings . . . Started 1970 game at Cincinnati and 1972 game at Atlanta . . . Pitched three innings of one-hit ball in 1972 game . . . Did not play in 1975 contest . . . Has eight strikeouts and two walks in all-star play.

Cy Young, '73 & '75: Was named on 20 of 24 ballots in 1973 . . . Had 14 firsts and six seconds (88 points) to beat out Nolan Ryan (52 points) . . . In 1975, Jim was named on all 24 ballots (15-7-2) and totaled 108 points to win over Catfish Hunter (74 points) . . . Ironically, he has not pitched in the all-star game in any of the years he has won "Cy" . . . He was not selected to the team in 1973 and 1976 (was 9-6 and 10-8 respectively at time managers made picks) and was chosen, but did not pitch in 1975 game because of tender elbow.

Miscellaneous: Made major league debut on April 17, 1965, at Boston in relief (no decision) . . . Picked up first big league win on May 16, 1965, also in relief vs. Yankees' Pete Mikkelsen . . . Was leading winner on 1966 World Championship team (15, McNally was second with 13) . . . Won 100th game on Sept. 24, 1972, at Milwaukee . . . Has three lifetime home runs (vs. Jim Bouton, N.Y., here in '65; Dave Morehead at Bos. in '66; and Rich Hand, Cle., in '70 here) . . . Has gone 12 innings four times during his career, but has not had a decision in any of those games . . . Has gone beyond 9 innings in 14 games and has a 4-2-8 record in those.

Personal: Signed to bonus contract with O's by Jim Russo and Jim Wilson . . . Outstanding three-sport athlete at Scottsdale High School, earning all-Arizona honors in baseball, basketball and football . . . Excellent golfer . . . Has participated in Superstars competition in Florida in 1975 and 1976 . . . Has actively served as national sports chairman for Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation last 6 years . . . Excellent after-dinner speaker . . . He and his wife, Susan, were married February 25, 1964, and are the parents of two daughters: Jamie Michelle (11/16/66) and Kelly Christina (6/5/69).

Born in Little Rock, Ark., now makes home in Lutherville, Md., north of Baltimore . . . Signed 1977 contract as player-coach . . . Has 19 years, 107 days total tenure in majors . . . Will become a 20-year man officially on June 10, '77.

1976 Season: Played in fewer games (71) last year than in any of his previous 21 pro seasons . . . Started 27 of the first 28 games thru May 16 . . . Was hitting .165 (16-for-97) at that time when replaced as starter by Doug DeCinces.

Average had dropped to .148 (16-for-108) when he returned to the starting lineup on June 19 . . . Thereafter, Brooks batted .273 (30-for-110) . . . He hit safely in eight straight starting June 19 and from that date thru July 6, started 14 of the O's 18 games . . . After that he started 15 times over the last 85 games of the season (including eight times in one game of a doubleheader).

Reached high of .217, July 16, after a 3-for-4 effort vs. California, a performance that included 3-for-3 against Nolan Ryan plus a two-run homer off the Angels' strikeout artist . . . Earlier, on April 27, Brooks had broken up a Ryan no-hitter with a 7th-inning rbi triple . . . Hit earlier homers off Steve Busby (K.C.) on May 7 and Steve Barr (Tex.) on June 19.

Was informally honored by fans in last home game (Sept. 29 vs. Milwaukee). Responded with a base hit last time up off Bill Castro and received long ovation after coming out for pinch-runner . . . Many felt that would be Brooks' last game in Baltimore in an Orioles' uniform . . . It was, however, Hank Aaron's final appearance at Memorial Stadium as a player (he doubled in four trips) . . . Brooks went 2-for-6 in last game of year, at Boston, on Oct. 3.

Made only six errors in 191 chances for pct. of .969.

Career: On opening day, he will have spent all or part of last 23 seasons in an Orioles' uniform.

BROOKS CALBERT ROBINSON, JR.

Games: Has played in 2,872 Orioles' games . . . Only Ty Cobb with 3,033 has played more in the history of the American League . . . On the all-time major league list he ranks fifth behind: (1) Henry Aaron-3,298 . . . (2) Cobb-3,033 . . . (3) Stan Musial-3,026 and (4) Willie Mays-2,992 . . . Has played more games with one club than any other player in A.L. records.

Durability: Played in 97% of all Orioles' games from July 9, 1959 (the day he returned from the minors for the last time) thru May 16, 1976 (a period of 16½ years plus) . . . Games played last two years have been lowest since 1965, when he missed 18 games as a result of broken thumb (hit by a Hank Aguirre pitch) and a shoulder injury.

Brooks' durability is even more notable when considered that he has been "beamed" seven times: Earl Wilson ('55), Ned Garver ('57), John Buzhardt ('63), Phil Niekro ('67), Steve Blass ('68), Mike Nagy ('70), and Woodie Fryman ('72).

In Orioles' 23-year history, only four other players have played 100 or more games at third base: George Kell (195), Doug DeCinces (152), Bob Kennedy (127), and Vern Stephens (116).

Opening Days: Went 0-for-3 in 1976 opener but still has .316 average (25-for-79) for 20 consecutive opening days starting 1957 with six homers and 17 rbi.

Home Runs/RBI: Led A.L. in rbi (118) in 1964 and also achieved career high of 28 home runs . . . Hit 17 or more homers nine times, 11 or more 11 times . . . Has not broken double figures in home runs since 1971, when he hit 20 . . . Holds A.L. record for career homers by a third baseman (266) and also holds mark for most lifetime home runs in Memorial Stadium (138).

Has six career grand slams, four in Baltimore . . . Hit last two in 1971 . . . See page 15 for complete list . . . Hit bases-loaded homers in two consecutive games in 1962—May 6 at Dodger Stadium and May 9 in Baltimore.

Hitting: Has lifetime average of .293 (267-for-910) vs. Texas (nee Washington) and .291 (90-for-309) vs. the K.C. Royals . . . Has twice put together strings of eight straight hits: July 10 thru 15, 1960, and August 21 thru 23, 1963.

Holds major league record for most hits by a third baseman (2,841) and ranks 25th on all-time hit list . . . Needs only 44 hits to jump into 20th place ahead of Jesse Burkett (2,872), Babe Ruth (2,873), Mel Ott (2,876), Frank Frisch (2,880), and Zach Wheat (2,884).

Holds club career records for games, at bats, runs, hits, doubles, triples, total bases, rbi and extra base hits . . . Has one season marks for games (163, '61 & '64), at bats (668, '61), hits (194, '64), and doubles (38, '61).

Fielding: Has committed only 263 errors in a total of 9,131 chances at third base for a lifetime percentage of .971.

Major League Lifetime Records, 3B: Highest fielding percentage (1,000 or more games) (.971) . . . Most seasons (22) . . . Most games (2,855) . . . Most chances accepted, excluding errors (8,868) . . . Most putouts (2,691) . . . Most assists (6,177) . . . Most double plays (616) . . . Most seasons leading league in games (8) . . . Most seasons leading league in assists (8).

American League Lifetime Records, 3B: Most seasons leading league in fielding (11) . . . Most seasons leading league in chances accepted, excluding errors (8)-tie . . . Most home runs (266) . . . Most games season (163, '61 & '64).

Triple Plays: Has started three of the five triple plays executed by the Orioles in their 23-year history . . . All three were of "around the horn" ground ball variety.

Gold Gloves: Won 16 straight "Gold Gloves" from 1960 thru 1975 as the top defensive third baseman in A.L. . . . Lost out in 1976 to Detroit's Aurelio Rodriguez.

Believe-It-Or-Not: Committed three errors in one inning against the A's in Baltimore on July 28, 1971 (6th inning) . . . O's won game, however, when Frank Robinson hit a three-run homer in the 9th to overcome an 0-2 deficit.

All-Star Play: Played in 18 consecutive all-star games from 1960 thru 1974 (including two per year in 1960-61-62) . . . Has not been picked to team last two years . . . Has lifetime average of .289 (13-for-45).

Selected "MVP" in 1966 at St. Louis when he had three hits, including a home run while handling eight chances in the field . . . Also homered in 1967 game . . . Was also a serious contender for the award in 1964 (at Shea Stadium) and 1970 (at Cincinnati) when he went 2-for-3, hit a triple, scored a run and drove in two others.

Has total of three triples . . . Has handled 43 chances afield without error.

Has been elected to starting lineup by Gillette-sponsored fan vote four times (1971-72-73-74) since selection was returned to fans in 1970 . . . Led A.L. players in votes in 1971 (1,110,469) . . . Has started a total of 11 games.

Had last hit in 1971 game in Detroit . . . Has since gone 0-for-7.

ALCS/WS: Has played in all 39 post-season games in which the Orioles have been involved and has combined average of .303 (44-for-145)—.348 in 18 ALCS games and .263 in 21 world series games.

WS: Homered in first WS at bat in first inning against Dodgers in '66 immediately following Frank Robinson's homer (both were off Don Drysdale).

Was landslide "MVP" in '70 vs. Reds . . . Hit .429 (9-for-21) and was brilliant on defense . . . His nine hits tied record for most hits in five-game series and he also contributed six rbi, two doubles and two homers . . . Erred on first fielding chance then handled 23 more flawlessly, many of them brilliantly . . . Stole at least two hits each from Johnny Bench and Lee May.

Was among leading hitters in 1971 series vs. Pirates—.318 (7-for-18) with five rbi . . . Has made only three errors in 75 fielding chances.

CS: Had .486 average (18-for-37) after first three championship series . . . Had only one hit in O's last CS, in '74, but it was a first-game homer off "Catfish" Hunter.

Major Awards/Honors: Most Valuable Player, A.L.—1964 (finished second in "mvp" voting by BBWAA in 1966 and third in both 1960 and 1965) . . . Most Valuable Player, All-Star Game—1966 . . . Most Valuable Player, World Series—1970.

—Most Valuable Oriole—1960, 1962, 1964 and 1971 (shared with Frank Robinson).

—The Sporting News American League All-Star Team—nine times: 1961-62-64-65-66-67-68-71-72.

—American League All-Star Squad—15 straight years from 1960 thru 1974.

—Gold Gloves—16 straight from 1960 thru 1975 as top third baseman in A.L.

—Commissioner's Trophy (now known as Roberto Clemente Award) in 1972 as player best exemplifying game of baseball.

—Hickok Belt, January, 1971 . . . "Man of the Decade" Award by Baltimore Advertising Club, January, 1972 . . . "Most Memorable Personality" in Orioles' history by vote of fans in 1975.

Firsts: First hit and game . . . September 17, 1955 . . . off left-hander Chuck Stobbs of Washington Senators in second big league at bat, at Memorial Stadium . . . Brooks started at third base as a last minute replacement for another rookie, Kal Segrist, who was scratched because of illness . . . After his 2-for-4 debut, Brooks went 0-for-18 the rest of the year.

First Home Run: September 29, 1956 . . . off Evilio Hernandez of Washington Senators at Griffith Stadium.

First Grand Slam Home Run: July 31, 1960, off Gary Bell of Cleveland at Memorial Stadium.

First All-Star Game Hit: July 31, 1961, off Sandy Koufax of Dodgers at Fenway Park, Boston (2nd game).

*Contract selected for $25,000 in major league draft from Syracuse roster (New York Yankees) on 12/1/69.

Born in Bristol, Conn., but now makes his home in Towson, Md. . . Has three years, 142 days service in the majors . . . Needs just 30 days to become a four-year man thus qualifying for the major league player pension.

1976 Season: Trained with Orioles in Miami, but was assigned to Rochester just before opening day . . . However, he actually remained with the Orioles and was added to the Birds' active list April 15 . . . Tommy appeared in two games before being optioned to Rochester, May 2.

Hampered by a severe leg muscle pull, Tommy appeared in only 55 games for the Red Wings, but hit .347 . . . Returned to the O's in September and played in 12 games as pinch-runner, pinch-hitter, left, center and right fielder and then caught all 15 innings of the final game in Boston (had eight putouts, one assist, and one passed ball) . . . Tommy has now caught two games in the majors, both on the last day of the season (1975 and 1976).

Career: Has bounced back and forth between Triple-A and the majors for the last 10 years (starting in 1967) . . . Spent all of 1971 and 1972 seasons with the O's and most of 1974.

Made five pinch-hitting appearances in 1971 World Series against Pittsburgh, and went 0-for-4 with a sacrifice.

Made his major league debut with the Yankees late in 1967 season and hit two home runs in eight at bats (off Minnesota's Dave Boswell and lefty Tony Pierce of Kansas City A's) . . . Has not hit a homer in majors since . . . Also played briefly with Yankees in 1969.

Missed half of 1970 season at Rochester because of a broken right ankle, and was on disabled list with Orioles for six weeks, in 1971, after spraining same ankle . . . Led Rochester in hitting (.313) in 1974 and finished second in International League . . . Has .303 average (408-for-1346) in parts of four seasons at Rochester . . . Has .279 lifetime pro average (916-for-3289).

Miscellaneous/Personal: One of O's most popular after-dinner speakers during the winter . . . Graduate of Dean Jr. College in Massachusetts, and has attended the University of Bridgeport . . . Toured Japan with the Orioles in fall of 1971 and returned to the Orient with several other major leaguers (including Doug DeCinces) in November, 1975 . . . Single.

*Acquired from Montreal Expos along with pitcher Mike Torrez in deal for pitchers Dave McNally and Bill Kirkpatrick (assigned to Memphis) and outfielder Rich Coggins on 12/4/74.

Born in New York City, now makes home in Hile-Bizard, Quebec, Canada . . . Has six years, 100 days seniority in the majors.

1976 Season: Overcame nearly impossible odds (very slow start) to lead the club in hitting for the second straight year, beating out Reggie Jackson in the final game of the season, .278 to .277 . . . Also led O's in games (154), at bats (544) and hits (151) and was second in walks (79) . . . Batted .297 lefthanded and .224 righthanded . . . Hit .279 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium to lead club (no other regular hit higher than .255 at home) . . . Had .365 on base pct., second to Grich's .369 . . . Drove in 19 more runs in '76 than in '75.

Slow Start/Fast Finish: Was hitting only .185 (28-for-151) on June 2 thru his first 42 games, but hit .312 (123-for-393) thereafter . . . Month-by-month average: April-.143 (8-for-56), May-.217 (20-for-92), June-.303 (27-for-89), July-.300 (27-for-90), August-.311 (33-for-106), September-.313 (31-for-99), and October-.417 (5-for-12).

Hitting Streaks: Had longest hitting streak of the year by an Oriole, 14 games, and also put together strings of 12, 11, 10, 9, and 8 . . . Hit safely in 31 of 34 between July 23 and August 25, and 21 of last 22 (including seven in a row at the end) . . . Had 23 hitless games in his first 42, then had at least one hit in all but 21 of his final 112 games.

Home Runs: Tied Bobby Grich for third on the club (13) . . . Until he hit his second career grand slam (first in A.L.) on May 22 off Detroit's Jim Crawford at Memorial Stadium (a two-out, 9th-inning game winner), all 16 of his Orioles' homers had been hit with bases empty (including 15 in 1975).

In 1976 five of his 13 came with at least one aboard . . . Hit three-run homer off Tom Burgmeier at Minny on Aug. 16 and another with two on off Pat Dobson (Cle.) at home, September 9.

Odds & Ends: Batted .297 (19-for-64) in 19 games as a designated hitter and drew 15 walks . . . Played leftfield when Reggie Jackson was in lineup as rightfielder, but continued to see a lot of action in right . . . Had nine assists, same number as 1975 . . . Batted .342 (13-for-38) vs. the Twins.

1975 Season: Voted "Most Valuable Oriole" by slim margin over Jim Palmer . . . Was O's leading hitter (.300) and set club records for walks (118, just one shy of league leader John Mayberry) . . . Led league in plate appearances (714) . . . In addition to batting and walks, led O's in runs (88), hits (176), doubles (37), games (155) and at bats (586) . . . Finished third in A.L. with .413 on base percentage behind Rod Carew and Mayberry.

Had two 12-game hitting streaks . . . Batted .308 lefthanded, .274 righthanded . . . Hit .325 on the road and .271 at home . . . Experienced only ejection of career when tossed out of August 27 game vs. K.C. by Russ Goetz . . . Committed only three errors in 296 chances in right field . . . Primarily batted in lead-off spot.

Career A.L.: Has .300+ career averages against: Cleveland-.359 (42-for-117 with 6 homers), K.C.-.388 (33-for-85) and Texas-.333 (34-for-102) . . . Has two-year A.L. average of .302 on the road and .275 at Memorial Stadium.

Career N.L.: Best season in majors was 1973, when he set several Montreal club records (100 runs, 103 rbi, and 123 walks) and was only player in N.L. with 100 runs, 100 walks and .300 average . . . Led all major league outfielders that season with 20 assists.

Was Mets' first selection in January, 1967, free agent draft . . . Joined Mets in June, 1970, while leading International League in hitting with .383 average at Tidewater.

Traded by Mets to Expos with Mike Jorgensen and Tim Foli for Rusty Staub, April 6, 1972.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Physical problems in 1972 traced to allergy to Expos' wool uniforms . . . Solved problem by switching to double knit fabric . . . Baseball and basketball standout at Mt. Vernon High School in New York . . . Attended Hofstra University and played baseball there . . . Ken and his wife, the former Colette Saint-Jacques, were married Jan. 5, 1974 . . . Their first child, a son, Matthew Kenneth, was born on November 24, 1976.

O'S 23 YEAR RECORD IS 4th BEST IN MAJORS

Since the St. Louis Browns franchise was transferred to Baltimore prior to the 1954 season, the Orioles have compiled the fourth best record in the majors and second best in the American League. This, despite the fact that the Birds were 180-282 during their first three years of operation in Baltimore (1954-55-56). Here is a list of the records of the 16 clubs that have been in existence during all of the 23 seasons that the O's have been in the A.L.:

1. Yankees	2055-1598 (.563)	10. Tigers	1886-1773 (.515)
2. Dodgers	2042-1615 (.558)	11. Red Sox	1845-1813 (.504)
3. Reds	2013-1639 (.551)	12. Indians	1833-1820 (.502)
4. Orioles	1970-1679 (.540)	13. Twins, nee
5. Giants	1937-1719 (.530)	Senators	1792-1862 (.490)
6. Braves	1919-1735 (.525)	14. Phillies	1729-1924 (.473)
7. White Sox	1906-1752 (.521)	15. A's	1702-1954 (.466)
8. Cardinals	1892-1761 (.518)	16. Cubs	1684-1968 (.461)

SPRING TRAINING NOTES

This is the 19th straight spring the Orioles have trained in Miami. Over the past 18 years, some 780,000 have watched the Birds in exhibition games at Miami Stadium (including 29,123 for an abbreviated eight game slate last year).

The permanent seating capacity at Miami Stadium is 9,548, but the Orioles and Yankees drew a standing room crowd of 12,464 for a Sunday afternoon game on March 14, 1965.

Last year the Orioles because of on-going negotiations between players and owners did not begin training until March 18. The first exhibition game was not played until March 23 (ten days after the scheduled opener) forcing cancellation of the first 10 games.

The Orioles were 4-11 in 1976 spring exhibitions. Al Bumbry (.375, 9-for-24) was the club's leading hitter while Bob Grich (.333, 15-for-45), Don Baylor (.321, 9-for-28), Doug DeCinces (.313, 5-for-16) and Ken Singleton (.300, 12-for-40) also hit over .300 among the regulars . . . Paul Blair led the club in rbi (8) and he and Grich were tops in homers with two each.

Orioles spring training records, '54 thru '75: Hitting—Don Lenhardt (.462, 24-for-52) in '54 and Baylor (.438, 32-for-73) in '75 . . . Home Runs—8, by Baylor in '75, Tito Francona in '56 and Frank Robinson in '66 . . . RBI—25, by Francona in '56 and Gus Triandos in '59.
