PETER ANGELOS—MANAGING PARTNER

Peter Angelos, the Principal Owner and Managing Partner of the Baltimore Orioles, has brought dynamic leadership to the ballclub and to the community since he and his fellow investors restored the team to local ownership in August of 1993.

The Orioles have led the American League in average attendance in five of the last eight seasons and have reached the American League Championship series twice in the nine seasons since Mr. Angelos and his group purchased the ballclub; the team had not been to the playoffs in the previous 10 seasons. In recent years, Orioles ownership has committed to building a winner by rebuilding the farm system with young talent that is now beginning to pay dividends. The addition of veteran players via trade and free agency will provide a stabilizing influence on younger players, both on and off the field. This strategy is paving the way for a new era of Orioles baseball.

Mr. Angelos has had a dramatic effect on baseball beyond the Orioles as well. In 2002, he was the only owner to serve on the negotiating committee that worked out a historic labor agreement between Major League Baseball and the MLB Players Association. The two sides were able to reach a five-year agreement without a strike, the first settlement without a work stoppage since the rise of the players' labor movement in 1969.

At Camden Yards, Mr. Angelos also has taken constructive steps off the field. Fans who were seated in box seats down the left and right field lines had complained since the park's opening because their seats were improperly angled toward center field. More than 3,300 seats in question have been adjusted to improve their angle. In addition, many fans whose season tickets were unfairly relocated when the club moved from Memorial Stadium had these injustices rectified at the insistence of Mr. Angelos.

Beyond correcting inherited problems and building a club fans can be proud of, the Orioles, through Mr. Angelos' leadership, continue to make substantial contributions to the community, particularly for children. This past year the Orioles Charitable Foundation contributed to organizations such as The Salvation Army, the Cal Ripken Senior Foundation, the National Kidney Foundation, House with a Heart, Junior Achievement and the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society Brain Gala. For the ninth straight year, the Orioles were the sponsor of the Baltimore Symphony Gala.

During Mr. Angelos' leadership, the Orioles, through its foundation and client contributions, have donated more than $6.7 million to charitable causes. Among the recipients of the Orioles support is the John Steadman Cancer Initiative, which raises funds for cancer research and awareness in memory of the longtime Baltimore sportswriter who succumbed to the disease in 2001.

On a personal level, Mr. Angelos and his wife, Georgia, became the first ever $1 million donors to the United Way's Central Maryland chapter in December 2000. The chapter, which covers Baltimore City and Baltimore, Harford, Carroll, Anne Arundel and Howard counties, had never received an individual donation greater than $250,000 prior to Mr. and Mrs. Angelos' contribution.

Peter Angelos was raised in the industrial neighborhood of Highlandtown in East Baltimore. He graduated from Patterson Park High School and from the University of Baltimore, where he was valedictorian of his class at the School of Law. An attorney since 1961, he is the President and managing partner of the Law Offices of Peter G. Angelos, P.C. He is a member of the American Trial Lawyers Association, American Bar Association, Maryland State Bar Association, District of Columbia Bar Association, Tennessee Bar Association and the New York State Trial Lawyers Association.

Mr. Angelos, known nationally for his success as a plaintiff's attorney, is admitted to practice before the courts of Maryland, Federal Courts, District of Columbia, Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, the United States Supreme Court, and the United States Supreme Tax Court. In addition, Mr. Angelos has practiced in New York, Tennessee, and before the courts of numerous jurisdictions in the country.

Mr. Angelos has served the community as a member of the Baltimore City Council. He presently serves as a member of the Board of Trustees of Loyola College, The John Hopkins University, Western Maryland College, and the University of Baltimore, where he also serves on the Advisory Board of the University of Baltimore School of Law. He also serves on the boards of the University of Maryland Foundation, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, Saint Joseph's Hospital, the Grant-A-Wish Foundation and University of Maryland Hospital.

In addition, Mr. Angelos is on the board of the Reginald F. Lewis Museum of Maryland African-American History and Culture, as well as being a major benefactor. He is a trustee for the National Labor College George Meany Center and also serves as chairman of Baltimore's Westside Renaissance Committee.

He has received Honorary Doctorate Degrees from Mount Saint Mary's College, Loyola College and the University of Baltimore. He is a member of the American Academy of Achievement and the Breath of Life Lung Association. Mr. Angelos is the recipient of the Ellis Island Medal of Honor, the Pillar of Sports Advertising Club award, and the AFL-CIO Social Justice award. He was also named Sportsman of the Year in 1995 by the New York Daily News. In 1998, Mr. Angelos was named Marylander of the Year by the Editorial Board of the Baltimore Sun. Mr. Angelos was voted the most Influential Person in Baltimore 1999 by the readers of the Baltimore Business Journal. He also has received the Common Ground Award for Sports Diplomacy and the Urban League's Whitney M. Young, Jr. Award.

He and his wife, Georgia Kousouris Angelos, reside in Baltimore. They have two sons, John and Louis.

OWNERSHIP OF THE ORIOLES

On October 4, 1993, American League owners unanimously approved the sale of ownership of the Orioles from then-principal shareholder Eli. S. Jacobs to a group of investors led by Baltimorean Peter Angelos. The sale placed the Orioles in local hands for the first time since 1979, when Jerold C. Hoffberger, representing his family, which owned a controlling interest in both the Orioles and the National Brewing Company, sold the franchise to prominent Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams.

From October 29, 1953, when the transfer of the St. Louis Browns franchise became official until Williams purchased the club late in 1979, the Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. was publicly held and was operated by a group of Baltimore investors which owned a majority share of the BBCI. Among those who played key roles in the operation of the franchise during that 26-year period were: former chief executives Clarence Miles, who organized the group that secured the St. Louis Browns for Baltimore and who served as the club's first president; James Keelty, Jr.; Joseph A. W. Iglehart; and Jerry Hoffberger, as well as longtime club treasurer Zanvyl Krieger ('58-'79).

TOM CLANCY—VICE CHAIRMAN OF COMMUNITY PROJECTS & PUBLIC AFFAIRS

In the mid-1980's, Tom Clancy was an obscure Maryland insurance broker with a passion for naval history and only a letter to the editor and a brief article on the MX missile to his credit. Years before, he had been an English major at Baltimore's Loyola College and had always dreamed of writing a novel. His first effort, The Hunt for Red October--the story of a Russian submarine captain who defects to the United States--sold briskly as a result of rave reviews, then catapulted on to the New York Times bestseller list after President Ronald Reagan pronounced it "the perfect yarn" and "non-put-downable." Since then, Clancy has established himself as the undisputed king of the techno-thriller, a literary genre he's credited with inventing, and a master at building realistic scenarios by "turning up the volume" on current events and political reality. Other #1 bestsellers followed: Patriot Games, Cardinal of the Kremlin, Clear and Present Danger, The Sum of All Fears, Without Remorse, Debt of Honor, Executive Orders, Rainbow Six, The Bear and The Dragon and, most recently, Red Rabbit.

The walls of Clancy's office are lined with war games, books on weapons, and government produced maps, all tribute to his lifelong fascination with technology and the military. Although severe myopia limited his personal involvement as a member of the armed forces to a brief stint in Loyola's ROTC program, the success of his books has resulted in his "adoption" by the military. He is regularly welcomed aboard jets, submarines, and destroyers, and permitted to ride in tanks to his heart's content. Admirals and generals give him access, Pentagon officials debrief him, and many of his books are required reading at our nation's war colleges.

His non-fiction works include Into the Storm: A Study in Command with General Fred Franks, Jr. (Ret.), and Submarine, Armored Cav, Fighter Wing, Marine, and Airborne. He is the co-creator of the Op-Center, Power Plays, and Net Force series.

JOE FOSS—VICE CHAIRMAN/CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Now in his 10th season as the Orioles' Vice Chairman, Joe Foss oversees all of the club's day-to-day operations. These include all of the business, financial, and administrative operations, as well as working with the Baseball Operations Department on budgets and player contracts.

Foss is a trustee of the Major League Baseball Players Benefit Plan. He is a member of the MLB Scheduling Committee, the MLB Disaster Plan Committee, and the Joint Committee for International Play. On June 1, 1993, Foss joined Peter Angelos' acquisition team and then supervised the transition between ownership groups. Mr. Angelos appointed him to Vice Chairman on December 9, 1993.

Foss graduated from St. Thomas College in St. Paul, MN in 1970, where he received his BA in Business Administration. In 1972, he received his MBA in Marketing/Finance from the University of Minnesota at Mankato. His extensive educational background led to 17 successful years in the banking industry with the Norwest Corporation in Minneapolis where he held positions from Commercial Banking Officer to Senior Vice President.

Foss continued his career in banking when he relocated to the Washington metropolitan area and accepted the position of President and Chief Operating Officer of First American Bank, N.A., of Washington in December '89. In April 1991, he was elected Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer.

Community involvement is very important to Foss. He is an active board member of the Kennedy-Krieger Institute, the Maryland Special Olympics, the Babe Ruth Museum, and the Johns Hopkins Center for ALS Research. He is a former president of the Minnesota Aquatennial Association, former treasurer and trustee of The Green Door (Washington, DC), and former board member of the Children's Theatre Company of Minneapolis and the National Aquarium in Baltimore.

Joe was born December 27, 1948 in Minneapolis. He and his wife, Dawn, have three children: Katie (21), Annie (17), and Michael (15). They reside in Hunt Valley, MD.

JOHN P. ANGELOS—EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Now in his 10th season with the Orioles, John Angelos is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of the club. In January 1999, he was named to the position of Executive Vice President. In his current capacity, John oversees the Marketing, Financial Operations, Sales and Ticket Services, Concessions, Ballpark Operations and Public Relations divisions of the ballclub.

John joined the Orioles organization in January 1994 as Special Assistant to the Chairman. John oversaw the reorganization of the Sales, Ticketing, Ballpark Operations and Customer Service Departments of the company.

After graduating from the Gilman School in Baltimore, Maryland, John received a B.A. in Philosophy and Political Science from Duke University and a law degree (J.D.) from the University of Baltimore.

John resides in downtown Baltimore.

ROBERT AMES—VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Bob Ames is in his 10th year with the Orioles. He joined the Orioles in April 1994 after an eight-year stint with Waverly, Inc. in Baltimore. He was promoted to vice president in January 1999.

With the Orioles, Bob is responsible for general administration, accounting, management information systems, human resources and special projects.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Ames served as Treasurer of Waverly, Inc. While with Waverly he managed taxes, accounts receivable, credit and collections and the cash management departments.

A native Baltimorean, Ames received Bachelor of Science degrees in Microbiology and Journalism/Public Relations from the University of Maryland in 1980. In 1987, he earned his Masters Degree in Finance from the University of Baltimore. Bob is a Certified Public Accountant and is a member of the Maryland Association of CPAs and the American Institute of CPAs.

Bob resides in Churchville, MD, with his wife Linda, their three daughters Emily, Lyndsay and Kaitlin, and their son, Benjamin.

LOU KOUSOURIS—VICE PRESIDENT/SPECIAL LIAISON TO THE CHAIRMAN

Lou Kousouris joined the Orioles in February 1994. Now in his 10th season with the team, he was promoted to Vice President prior to the 1999 season. Lou has worked for Peter Angelos since 1981 in the real estate and hospitality industries.

After attending the Boys Latin School, Lou received a Bachelor's degree in Sociology from C.W. Post College in Greenvale, NY, where he played football and lacrosse. After graduation, he coached both of these sports on the high school and college levels. In addition, Lou coached youth lacrosse in Baltimore for more than 10 years.

Kousouris is very active in the community, sitting on the Board of Directors for both the Salvation Army and Camp Puh'tok. Camp Puh'tok, located in Monkton, MD, is a camp for underprivileged children. He recently completed his first year as chairman of the Advisory Board for the Baltimore Area Command of the Salvation Army. In November 1998, Lou was instrumental in coordinating the 1958 Baltimore Colts Anniversary Banquet. Proceeds from the event benefited the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease) research. He continues to assist the American Cancer Society, the Maryland Food Bank and numerous local non-profit organizations and schools in their fund-raising efforts.

A Baltimore native, Lou currently resides in Timonium, MD with his wife Pat. Kousouris has two children, Louis III, a West Point graduate and Army captain stationed at Fort Hood, and Alexandra, who graduated from the University of Georgia in May 2000 and currently attends the University of Baltimore School of Law.

A NEW LOOK FOR ORIOLES BASEBALL

On December 4, 2002, the Orioles named Jim Beattie as Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations, with Mike Flanagan taking over as Vice President of Baseball Operations.

Beattie, who served as general manager of the Montreal Expos for six seasons, will oversee and guide all of the Orioles' baseball operations, including the major league, minor league, scouting and player development areas. Flanagan, a former Cy Young Award winner and member of the Orioles Hall of Fame, will work closely and in conjunction with Beattie and supervise the day-to-day operations within the department.

Both Beattie and Flanagan are former major league pitchers who bring more than 50 combined years of professional baseball experience on and off the field to the Orioles front office.

"I am pleased that the Orioles will have the benefit of two highly respected baseball professionals to guide our destiny," said Peter Angelos, the Orioles' Chairman and CEO. "I know that Jim and Mike are eagerly looking forward to this partnership, drawing on each other's strengths and experience to better the organization. It is clear that this is a unique team with a wealth of what it takes to win."

JIM BEATTIE—EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Though he pitched for nine years in the major leagues, Jim Beattie brings far more to his new position as Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations than a tag as a "former ballplayer." With an Ivy League background, an MBA degree and 12 years of front office experience, Beattie brings knowledge, experience and an understated manner to his new post.

Jim was named on December 4, 2002 to team with Mike Flanagan in overseeing all aspects of the Orioles' major league, scouting and player development areas. He brings experience in each area to the Orioles front office.

Beattie, 48, served as vice president and general manager of the Montreal Expos for six seasons, from 1995 through 2001. In that role, he supervised the team's baseball operations, including the major league, player development and scouting departments. Prior to joining the Expos, he served as director of player development with the Seattle Mariners for six years beginning in 1989, where he was in charge of the minor league system and played a role in major league player acquisitions, contracts and scouting.

Beattie was drafted and signed with the New York Yankees in 1975 and went on to pitch nine seasons in the majors with the Yankees (1978-79) and Mariners (1980-86). In 203 games, he compiled a 52-87 record with a 4.17 ERA. As a rookie in 1978, he beat the Kansas City Royals in the American League Championship Series and pitched a complete game victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series. He also yielded Carl Yastrzemski's 3,000th career hit in 1979. Beattie ranks among Seattle's all-time leaders in wins (9th, 43), innings pitched (6th, 944.2), complete games (4th, 30), shutouts (5th, 6), strikeouts (9th, 563) and starts (5th, 147).

As a player, he served on the MLB Players' Association Executive Board with Orioles manager Mike Hargrove.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, Beattie earned a Master's in Business Administration from the University of Washington in 1989 before rejoining the Mariners in the front office. Among the players drafted and developed in the Mariners farm system during his tenure there were Alex Rodriguez, Shawn Estes, Jason Varitek and Derek Lowe.

Beattie was named the Expos' general manager on October 27, 1995, and over the next six seasons guided an organization that had the lowest revenues and payroll in major league baseball. Under Beattie, the Expos developed and brought to the majors such players as Vladimir Guerrero, Jose Vidro, Javier Vazquez and Michael Barrett. He had the second longest tenure among Montreal's 10 general managers, after original GM Jim Fanning. Beattie resigned following the 2001 season, but returned to the Expos prior to last season as a special assistant to Expos GM Omar Minaya, serving primarily in a scouting capacity.

Beattie was born in Hampton, VA, but grew up in South Portland, ME, graduating from South Portland High School. He and his wife, Martha, have three teenage children, son Sam and daughters Nell and Sarah. The family will relocate from Hanover, NH, to the Baltimore area during the 2003 season.

MIKE FLANAGAN—VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

After pouring a quarter-century into the Baltimore Orioles as a player, coach, instructor and broadcaster, Mike Flanagan took on a new role last December 4 when he was named Vice-President of Baseball Operations. Professionals in the game have long been impressed with his insight and skills as an evaluator of talent and of people.

The Orioles Hall of Famer became the first former Cy Young Award winner ever to assume a general manager-level position in baseball. He has been involved with the Orioles for most of the last 10 years since he retired as a player in 1992. In addition to his coaching and broadcasting roles, he also served in an advisory capacity to Orioles' Chairman and CEO Peter Angelos after stepping down as pitching coach for the second time in 1998.

"Flanny" compiled a 167-143 record and 3.90 ERA in 18 major league seasons with the Orioles and Blue Jays, including a 141-116 mark over 15 seasons with the Orioles. He won the American League Cy Young Award in 1979, when he went 23-9 with a 3.08 ERA. He was a member of two American League championship teams with the Orioles, in 1979 and 1983, as well their 1983 World Championship team.

Flanagan was drafted and signed by former Orioles scout John Stokoe in 1973 and made his major league debut in 1975. In 1979, he led the league with 23 wins and 5 shutouts and was the AL Cy Young Award winner as the Orioles won the AL title and advanced to the World Series before losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates. In 1983, when the Orioles won their last World Championship, Flanagan went 12-4 during the regular season despite missing nearly three months with ligament damage in his left knee. From 1977 through 1983, he made more starts (223) than any other pitcher in the American League and was third in wins (109) over that time.

In 1987, he was traded to Toronto and pitched for the Blue Jays for 3 1/2 years, helping them win the American League East in 1989. A starter his entire career, he returned to the Orioles in 1991, this time as a reliever and made 63 appearances out of the bullpen. On October 6, 1991, in the last game played at Memorial Stadium, Flanagan entered in relief with one out in the 9th inning and to the overwhelming delight of 50,700 sentimental fans, struck out Detroit's Dave Bergman and Travis Fryman to become the last Oriole to throw a pitch on 33rd Street. He finished his career with the Orioles in 1992 when they moved to Camden Yards.

Flanagan was elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame in 1994, his first year of eligibility. He ranks 3rd in club history in games pitched (450), innings pitched (2,317.2) and starts (328), 4th in strikeouts (1,297) and complete games (98), 5th in victories (141) and 7th in shutouts (17).

Mike served as Orioles pitching coach in 1995, then spent two years as an analyst on Orioles television broadcasts. He returned to the field in 1998 as pitching coach before returning again to the broadcast booth, where he spent the past four seasons. In addition to his broadcasting duties, he served as an instructor during the Orioles winter workouts at Camden Yards and during spring training in Fort Lauderdale, FL.

Flanagan, a native of Manchester, NH, is a third-generation pro baseball player. Both his grandfather and father, Ed Sr. and Ed Jr., played in the Boston Red Sox organization. Mike attended the University of Massachusetts, where he played baseball and freshman basketball. While at UMass, he faced Julius Erving and Rick Pitino in a frosh-varsity basketball game.

Mike and his wife, Alex, reside in Sparks, MD. He has three daughters, Kerry, Kathryn and Kendall.

EDWARD P. KENNEY—DIRECTOR, BASEBALL ADMINISTRATION

Ed Kenney is in his third season in the Orioles front office. In February, he was named Director of Baseball Administration, assisting in the day-to-day business of the baseball operations department.

Kenney, 46, joined the Orioles in October 2000 as Special Assistant to the Vice President for Baseball Operations after 17 years working in the front office of the Boston Red Sox, where he followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather.

Following his graduation from Boston College in 1978, Ed spent five years working in the Red Sox minor league system, beginning in October 1978 as business manager for AA Bristol in the Eastern League. In 1982, he was named general manager at Bristol and continued in that capacity when the franchise moved to New Britain in 1983.

In November 1983, he joined the Boston Red Sox as administrative assistant for minor league operations. Four years later, he was named director of minor league operations and continued overseeing the Red Sox farm system until August 1999, when he was named Assistant General Manager.

Ed's father, Edward F. Kenney, retired as Vice President for Player Development in 1992 after 46 years with the Red Sox. Ed's grandfather, Tom Kenney, also worked for the Red Sox for many years, beginning in the late 1930s.

Ed and his wife, Debbie, have two sons, Patrick, 14, and Matthew, 12. They live in Ellicott City, MD.

DARRELL "DOC" RODGERS—DIRECTOR, MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS

Doc Rodgers was named Director of Minor League Operations for the Orioles on January 14 of this year. He will oversee all aspects of the organization's farm system.

Rodgers joined the Orioles from the Cincinnati Reds, where he served the last six seasons as assistant general manager under Jim Bowden. In that role, he oversaw both player development and scouting and played a pivotal role in increasing the Reds' presence in the international scouting arena. Under his direction, the Reds established baseball academies in both the Dominican Republic and Venezuela. He also assisted the GM in all areas of the major league operations, including the day-to-day operation of the big league club, player trades and acquisitions, contract negotiations and arbitration.

Doc began his front office career in 1993 as the Reds' assistant for baseball operations, a position he held through 1995. He joined the Detroit Tigers in 1996 as director of baseball administration before returning to the Reds in 1997 as assistant to the general manager.

Before joining the Reds' front office, he spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as pitching coach for the organization's Appalachian League affiliate in Princeton, WV. That followed a six-year career as a pitcher in the minor leagues.

Rodgers was drafted three times ('81, '84, '85) before signing with the San Francisco Giants in 1985. He was traded to Cincinnati in 1988 and advanced to Class AA Chattanooga in 1989 before finishing his playing career in the Mexican League with Nuevo Laredo in 1990. He played on two Class A minor league championship teams, in 1987 with Fresno (California League) and in 1988 with Cedar Rapids (Midwest). He was named the Northwest League's Topps Player of the Month for July 1985 and was the league's Topps Player of the Year that season as well. He also was named to the Midwest League All-Star team in 1988.

In 1999, Rodgers was a member of the selection committee that put together the Team USA squad that won a silver medal at the Pan-American Games. In 2000, he was on the steering committee for the Olympic gold medal-winning Team USA squad.

Rodgers, 40, earned a degree in journalism from the University of Oklahoma in 1985. He received his master's degree in sports management from Oklahoma in 1994. While with the Reds, he served on the Board of Directors for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Cincinnati.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter, Jazmine Nicole, and a son, Kobe Matthew.

TONY DEMACIO—DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Beginning his fifth season as the Orioles' Director of Scouting, Tony DeMacio continues to leave his mark on the organization's future. Under DeMacio, the Orioles have added to their domestic and international scouting staffs to allow for better coverage areas, making a dramatic effect on the quality and number of players the Orioles have drafted and signed.

In the 1999 First Year Player Draft, DeMacio oversaw the Orioles' selection of seven of the first 50 picks, including four first round and three "sandwich" selections and was instrumental in the getting the organization's first 13 picks signed. The draft was widely hailed in baseball circles not just for the quantity of early picks, but for the quality of the selections. Three of those selections - Larry Bigbie, Mike Paradis and Brian Roberts - are currently on the Orioles' 40-man roster, and Bigbie and Roberts already have seen playing time with the major league club in the last two seasons. Another 1999 draft pick, Willie Harris (24th round), saw major league time with the Orioles, before being traded to the Chicago White Sox last season.

DeMacio has further strengthened the farm system in subsequent drafts. In 2000, the Orioles signed first-round selection Beau Hale from the University of Texas, and in the 2001 draft, DeMacio oversaw two first round picks and one "sandwich" selection. All three - Chris Smith (7th overall), Mike Fontenot (19th overall) and Bryan Bass (1st selection in "sandwich" round) signed with the Orioles. Last year, the Orioles signed 31 of their first 35 picks, even more important to a farm system that added a 7th minor league team.

DeMacio, 58, was named to his current position on December 4, 1998, after spending four seasons (1995-98) as East Coast Scouting Supervisor with the Chicago Cubs. He began his baseball career with the Atlanta Braves and was with them for seven years, from 1983-90. Tom Glavine, a two-time Cy Young Award winner, was the first player that Tony signed for the Braves. The last player he signed before leaving Atlanta was Chipper Jones.

Tony joined the Cleveland Indians organization in 1991 as the National Crosschecker and was involved in drafts that brought future major leaguers Manny Ramirez, Chad Ogea, Albie Lopez, Jon Nunnally, Paul Shuey, Pep Harris, Paul Byrd and Herbert Perry to the Indians farm system. In 1994 he served as a major league scout for Cleveland. Following the 1994 season, he joined the Cubs.

A native of McKees Rocks, PA, a suburb of Pittsburgh, DeMacio attended Parsons College in Fairfield, IA where he played four years of baseball. As captain of the team in his final season, DeMacio helped Parsons finish second nationally in NCAA Division II. The Division II winner, Grambling University, was lead by Ralph Garr, whose son Ralph Jr. is currently an Orioles scout.

Tony and his wife, Diane, reside in Virginia Beach, VA. He has a daughter, Heather, who resides in Owings Mills, MD, and a son, Robert, who is a student at West Virginia University.

ORIOLES IN THE COMMUNITY: BEYOND THE YARD

The Orioles value the support of their community and recognize the importance of being involved in local programs and initiatives. In addition to partnering with existing charities and organizations, the Orioles also have created several initiatives of their own under the current ownership group. Below is a brief summary of some of those efforts undertaken in the past year.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES CHARITABLE FOUNDATIONS & BALTIMORE ORIOLES, INC.

The Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Baltimore Orioles, Inc. support many civic and charitable organizations with the goal of enriching the lives of fans in the community. Since the ownership group headed by Peter Angelos purchased the Orioles, the Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Baltimore Orioles, Inc. have donated $6.7 million to support various organizations in the Orioles community.

This past year, the Orioles made donations to the Baltimore Baseball League, House with a Heart, the Maccabi Games, the Salvation Army and Junior Achievement, among others. In addition, the Orioles have sponsored the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra gala for the past nine years.

FIRST GRADERS LET'S GO READ

In May, the Orioles provided two books for each of the nearly 13,000 first graders in the Baltimore City and Washington, D.C. public school systems as part of the team's program to promote summer reading. Orioles players appeared at Arlington Elementary School in Baltimore City and Wilkinson Elementary School in Washington, D.C. to discuss the importance of reading and education and distribute books to the students. With assistance from a Garth Brooks Teammates for Kids Foundation grant, 26,000 Scholastic books from the cities' approved summer reading lists were distributed.

MARYLAND SURVIVORS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

During their home game on September 8, the Orioles held a silent auction of baseball memorabilia to benefit the Maryland Survivors Scholarship Fund, a college scholarship fund for children and dependents of victims of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. For their September 11, 2002 game against New York at Yankee Stadium, Orioles players and coaches wore uniforms with a 9/11 commemorative patch. After the game, each jersey was auctioned online. The Orioles also sold the 9/11 commemorative patches for the remainder of the season during home games. In total, more than $48,000 was raised for the Scholarship Fund.

ORIOLES WIVES FUNDRAISING FOR DIABETES CHARITY AND FOOD DRIVE

Each season, the Orioles Wives select a charity to benefit from their fundraising efforts. In 2002, the Wives chose the American Diabetes Association's Camp Glyndon, a camp for children with the disease. Throughout the season, the Wives sold raffle tickets for an Orioles quilt featuring the signatures of the 2002 team and the Orioles' six retired numbers. Also, proceeds from Orioles sponsors for the Orioles Charity Golf Outing were donated to the camp. In total, the Wives raised $31,000 for Camp Glyndon.

The Wives also hold a food drive each season during a weekend the team is at home, collecting non-perishable items from Orioles fans for donation to the Maryland Food Bank. In 2002, the Wives collected 6,000 pounds of food and over $7,700 in donations that was used to purchase turkeys for needy families during the Thanksgiving holiday.

BROOK FORDYCE / AMERICAN RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

Early in 2002, Orioles catcher Brook Fordyce experienced a life-threatening medical emergency and was saved by blood transfusions. As a result of his experience and in response to a critical need for blood in the country, Brook teamed with the American Red Cross and held a blood drive at Camden Yards in September. More than 90 units of blood were collected at the event. Each blood donor received a pair of tickets to an Orioles game, compliments of Fordyce, Sidney Ponson and Marty Cordova. Brook also greeted donors and signed autographs at the drive.

LA PLATA TORNADO DISASTER RELIEF

Last spring, a devastating tornado ravaged the Maryland Eastern Shore town of La Plata. To aid recovery efforts, the Orioles held a memorabilia auction during a home game in April. Over $6,000 was raised and donated to the Salvation Army. Later in the month, the Orioles sent two chartered buses to bring La Plata area Little Leaguers to Camden Yards to participate in the team's annual Little League Day Parade.

EASTER VISIT TO HOSPITALIZED CHILDREN

Last year, March 31 was not only the day before the start of the Orioles' season, but also Easter Sunday. In addition to their workout at Camden Yards that day, twelve Orioles players visited sick children at the University of Maryland Medical Center. The players delivered Easter baskets and signed autographs for those who had to spend their holiday in the hospital.

REACHING OUT IN THE COMMUNITY ORIOLES APPEARANCES

Orioles players and coaches past and present make more than 250 appearances annually throughout the Orioles region. Clinics, schools, the Babe Ruth Museum, libraries and Little League organizations benefit from these visits. The Orioles Bird mascot also "flies" to events all over the region throughout the year. He makes more than 400 appearances in communities from Virginia to Pennsylvania.

TICKET DONATIONS

Each year, Orioles players purchase tickets to give children from charitable, non-profit youth organizations the opportunity to enjoy an Orioles game. More than 18,000 children benefited from the player ticket program in 2002. Players who established or continued programs last season include Sidney Ponson (Ponson's Pack), Pat Hentgen (Hentgen's Heroes), Scott Erickson (The Erickson Zone), Marty Cordova (Cordova's Kids) and David Segui.

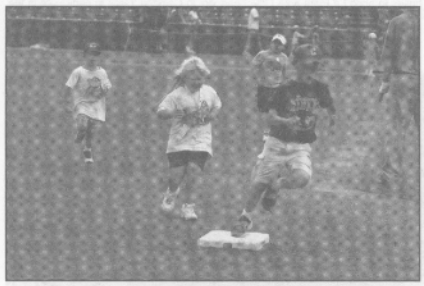
The Orioles distributed an additional 16,000 tickets to numerous non-profit groups in the region throughout the season, including 10,000 tickets for Maryland safety patrol students.

REVIVING BASEBALL IN THE INNER CITY (RBI) PROGRAM

The Reviving Baseball in the Inner City program encourages young adults ages 13-18 to stay in school and helps them to develop self-esteem while learning the skills and enjoyment of baseball. The program is a national Major League Baseball initiative administered and co-sponsored locally by the Orioles and Coca-Cola. Approximately 200 teenagers in Baltimore take part in this league each year.

BALTIMORE BASEBALL LEAGUE

Baltimore Baseball League provides over 600 fourth and fifth graders from 40 elementary schools the opportunity to play baseball for the first time. Each child must have a weekly academic score card filled out by his or her teacher in order to participate.



ORIOLES / COCA-COLA PITCH AND HIT CLINICS

The Orioles and Coca-Cola team up to provide children ages 6-12 the opportunity to learn pitching and hitting skills through regional clinics. Children can get hands-on instruction from Orioles players and coaches.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS BOOTH

During each game, the Orioles provide a community booth on the lower concourse for charitable, non-profit organizations to give out information, sell raffle tickets, register participants or do health care screenings for Orioles fans.

CARDBOARD TO LEATHER

The Oriole Advocates' Cardboard to Leather baseball equipment collection program provides new and gently used baseball gloves, bats and other items collected from Orioles fans for children in developing countries in the Caribbean.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

The Orioles Summer Reading incentive program is sponsored by the Orioles and the Baltimore Sun. The team sends bookmarks, posters and t-shirts to libraries in each of the 19 Maryland counties that participate.

IN MEMORIUM

STEVE BECHLER

1979-2003

Steve Bechler achieved his lifelong dream in September 2002 - he got to pitch in a major league game. A promising pitcher in the Orioles organization, Steve passed away on February 17, 2003, one day after collapsing during a spring training workout in Ft. Lauderdale, FL.

Steve's friendship was treasured by many for his sense of humor, his easy-going nature and his positive outlook on life. Though he had not yet begun to leave his mark as a major league pitcher, he did leave it, more importantly, as a person.

For that, he will always be remembered.

ERICKSON'S NO-HITTER

On April 27, 1994, Scott became the third Twins hurler to pitch a nine-inning no-hitter and just the second (Jack Kralick 6/26/62) to throw a scoreless nine-inning game with no hits (Dean Chance no-hit the Indians on 8/25/67 but won 2-1), when he beat Milwaukee 6-0 in Minnesota. He faced 31 batters, retiring 15 on ground balls (1 GIDP), five on fly balls, five on strikeouts and one on a lineout, including four walks and one hit batter. He threw 129 pitches, 71 for strikes. It was the second of three no-hitters during the '94 season: Kent Mercker no-hit the Dodgers on April 8 while with Atlanta and Texas' Kenny Rogers tossed a perfect game vs California on July 28. It was the first no-hitter in the 13-year history of the Metrodome and just the second time a pitcher carried a no-hitter into the ninth inning in the Metrodome (Baltimore's Eric Bell went eight innings plus a batter in the 9th on 5/5/87). It was the 11th no-hitter in a domed stadium and just the fourth indoor no-hitter in the AL (two at Seattle Kingdome and one at Toronto Skydome).

ORIOLE ADVOCATES

The Oriole Advocates, Inc is a unique non-profit organization, dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. Founded in July 1960, the Advocates will celebrate their 43rd anniversary this summer. Membership comprises some 750 men and women, drawn from a broad cross-section in the Baltimore area.

Through the years, the Advocates have made substantial financial donations to worthy causes, primarily to baseball-oriented youth organizations; have played a key role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace at 216 Emory Street and its conversion into the Babe Ruth/Orioles Museum; and in '77 established the Orioles Hall of Fame.

The organization has also served as an essential right arm to the Orioles Public Relations, Community Relations and Marketing Departments. In that connection, the Advocates initiated the popular Junior Orioles program (now the Dugout Club) back in '63, then administered it for 25 years. Membership in that program rose from 75 youngsters the first year to a record 20,000 in '77.

The Oriole Advocates don't get paid for anything they do. They are volunteers, constantly demonstrating the importance of competence and dedication whenever there is a job to be done.

Through their efforts, the Orioles were able to raise their season ticket sales from 1,600 in 1979 to more than 27,500 in 1992 when Camden Yards opened. The current role of the Orioles DHs includes helping the ballclub with ticket sales businesses and organizations throughout the Orioles region.

THE BABE RUTH BIRTHPLACE & MUSEUM

On February 6, 1895, George Herman "Babe" Ruth was born at 216 Emory Street in a Baltimore rowhouse located "just a long fly ball" from Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The Birthplace is one of the top sports museums in the country, featuring an extensive collection of Ruthian artifacts and mementos, as well as serving as the official museum of the Baltimore Orioles and the archives of the Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas.

The Museum showcases different aspects of baseball and football in exhibits throughout the year. Among this year's highlights are exhibits on: Babe Ruth; the Curse of the Bambino; the Baltimore Orioles; Baltimore's Negro Leagues; and Johnny Unitas.

The Museum's popular Second Saturdays program, held on the second Saturday of most months, this year will feature guest speakers on such topics as the Negro Leagues, sports trainers, scorekeeping, broadcasting, mascots and more. The Museum also hosts appearances by past, present and future Orioles and other Major League stars, as well as nationally known authors of sports publications for lectures and book signings.

Striving to exhibit its growing collection, the Museum plans to expand into a second facility: Camden Station, which is adjacent to Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Orioles owner Peter Angelos has donated $1,000,000 to make the Camden Station project a reality. The historic train station will feature many displays on the Orioles and Ruth, a full-size theatre, virtual reality exhibits and hands-on children learning areas, including a discovery room, classrooms and much more. The Museum will continue to maintain the current Babe Ruth Birthplace on Emory Street, with shuttle bus service between both sites.

For Museum hours, upcoming exhibits and other information, call the Babe Ruth Birthplace and Museum at 410-727-1539, or visit the Museum's web site at www.baberuthmuseum.com.

2002 YEAR IN REVIEW

2003pg218-219

YEAR IN REVIEW—THE ORIOLES IN 2002

The Orioles went 67-95 in 2002, marking their 5th straight losing season and 4th place finish in the American League East…It was only the 7th time in club history they lost 90 games in a season…The Orioles ended the year 36.5 games behind the New York Yankees, the furthest they have been out of first place since the conclusion of the 1955 season when they finished 39.0 games back.

Following an Opening Day win over the Yankees, the Orioles lost their next 6 games, scoring a total of 6 runs during that time…They failed to win their first 5 series of the year and fell to 7 games under .500 on April 18 (4-11)…In winning 2 of 3 games at Tampa Bay, April 19-21, it began a stretch in which the Birds won 4 of their next 5 series, returning to .500 on May 4…They reached a season-high one game over .500 four times, the last coming on May 10 when they were 18-17…The Orioles did not return to the break-even point until August 23, when their record stood at 63-63…After that, they lost 32 of their final 36 games of the season.

STEADY: Following their 6-game losing streak, April 3-7, the Orioles did not win or lose more than 4 straight games until August 24-September 3, when they lost 10 straight…They stayed within 4 games of .500 from May 11 until late July, when a 4-game losing streak left them 7 games under…The Birds rebounded to win 15 of 22 games to even their record at 63-63 on August 23.

THEN SHAKY: After reaching the .500 mark on August 23, the Orioles suffered losing streaks of 8, 10 and 12 games over the final 5 weeks of the season…The Birds ended the season with a 12-game losing streak…It was the 4th longest losing streak to end a season in major league history and the longest since 1899, when the Cleveland Spiders lost their final 16 games…The O's skid matched the 3rd longest losing streak in club history and was their longest since dropping the first 21 games of the 1988 season…It marked the 11th losing streak of 10 games or more in club history…2002 marked the 5th straight season they had a losing streak of at least 9 games (7 times over that stretch)…Additionally, the O's lost their last 9 home games, their longest skid ever at Camden Yards and tied for the 4th longest home losing streak in team history…The Orioles' final winning streak, August 20-23, matched their longest of the season, the 5th time they had won 4 in a row…The Birds went the final 36 games of the season without winning two in a row, their longest stretch without a winning streak since the first 40 games of the 1988 season.

THE FIRST 126: Despite finishing in 4th place in the American League East Division, the Orioles spent the majority of the season in 3rd place…The Birds moved into sole possession of 3rd place in the East on April 27 and remained there for 136 days until being swept in a doubleheader on September 10…It was the highest they had been in the standings that late in the season since August 1998…When the Orioles evened their record at 63-63 on August 23, it was the latest in the season they had been at the .500 mark since September 21, 1998…The Orioles went 14-13 in June, their first month with a winning record since April 2000…On August 23, the O's were 6th in the AL with a 4.13 ERA and 9th with a .256 batting average.

THE LAST 36: After reaching the .500 mark at 63-63 on August 23, the Orioles lost 32 of their final 36 games of the season…It was the worst 36-game stretch in club history and included losing streaks of 8, 10 and 12 games…The Orioles lost 10 of their final 11 series of the year and were swept 7 times during that span…They led in 20 of the 36 games during the skid, but won only 4 times…Despite taking early leads, they led just 4 times after the 6th inning during that time and did not have a save opportunity after August 23.

A SEPTEMBER TO NOT REMEMBER: The Orioles went 4-24 in September…It was the second most losses in a month in club history (25 in August, 1954)…Their .143 winning percentage was the second lowest in team history, trailing only .043 in April, 1988, when they went 1-22…The O's were outscored 155-82 in September…They posted a 5.31 ERA and batted .212, scoring 3 runs or less 21 times.

HITTING: The Orioles batted .246, finishing last in the American League for the second consecutive year…It marked their lowest batting average since hitting .245 in 1990…They scored 3 runs or less 80 times in 2002…The Birds set a club record with 311 doubles in 2002, the third time in the last four years they tied or broke the record…They also hit 165 home runs, an increase of 29 over the previous season…The O's had a season-high 18 hits three times, including April 11 vs. Tampa Bay, when in the 6th inning they set club records for runs (12) and hits (11) in an inning…Twice the Orioles had 7 straight hits in a single inning - in the 5th inning on May 29 vs. Oakland and in the 4th inning on July 7 at Texas…Despite finishing last in the AL with a .246 average, the Birds drew just 10 fewer walks than the World Champions Anaheim Angels, who led the league with a .282 average.

ALL OR NOTHING: In the Orioles' 67 wins last season, they batted .296 and scored 6.7 runs per game…In their 95 losses, they batted .208 and scored 2.3 runs per game…Over their final 36 games of the season, they batted .301 with 34 runs in their 4 wins and just .200 with 69 runs in their 32 losses.

OH, THOSE 000000000s: The Orioles were shut out 15 times last season, the most since they were shutout 16 times in 1976…They were blanked 8 times in the second half…The club record of 20 was set in 1955.

PITCHING: The Orioles were 7th in the American League with a 4.46 ERA in 2002…The teams in front of the Birds had the 6 best records in the league, averaging 98 wins…It was the 3rd straight year the O's improved their league ranking, after being 12th in ERA in 2000 (5.37) and 10th in 2001 (4.67)…It also marked the Orioles' lowest ERA since 1997…The Orioles had a 4.15 ERA in the first half of 2002 and a 4.80 ERA after the All-Star break…The Birds had 8 complete games last year, matching the lowest total in club history.

FOR STARTERS: Orioles starting pitchers went 42-75 with a 4.95 ERA in 2002…After the All-Star break, they combined to go 19-45 with a 5.69 ERA (448.0 IP, 523 H, 283 ER)…Minus Rodrigo Lopez, who went 7-6 with a 4.20 ERA in the 2nd half, the rest of the rotation was 12-39 with a 6.06 ERA (358.0 IP, 437 H, 241 ER) over that time…The Orioles had 46 "Quality Starts" (6.0 innings or more, 3 earned runs or less) in the first half but only 30 in the second half…They went 14 straight games without a Quality Start, August 23-September 6, during which time no starter pitched 7.0 innings and only twice allowed less than 4 runs.

WHAT A RELIEF: Orioles relievers went 25-20 and were 2nd in the American League with a 3.49 ERA…They went 24.2 scoreless innings in 8 games to start the season…Over their last 92 games after June 10, they pitched to a 2.94 ERA…The Birds also recorded 31 saves in 46 opportunities…Despite having the 3rd lowest save total in the league, the Orioles had the 2nd fewest blown saves in the AL…The O's bullpen also stranded 160 of 224 (71.4%) inherited runners on the season.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD, PRESENTED BY JOHN HANCOCK

Since 1970, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as "The Commissioner's Award") which recognizes the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and the individual's contribution to his team. The award, now sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

In 1972, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash New Years Eve, 1972, delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua.

Early in the season, each team will be asked to submit three candidates to a panel formed by John Hancock Financial Services. The panel will select a nominee from each club. A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Alan H. (Bud) Selig, will then select a winner from the list of 30 nominees. The winner of the Roberto Clemente Award will receive a $25,000 donation from John Hancock Financial Services for the local charity of his choice at an on-field ceremony during the World Series. John Hancock will also make a cash contribution to the Roberto Clemente Foundation and to each nominee's local charity.

In 2002, Jeff Conine was the Orioles' Roberto Clemente Award nominee. Past winners include Jim Thome (2002), Curt Schilling, Tony Gwynn, Sammy Sosa, Willie Mays, Lou Brock, Ozzie Smith, Cal Ripken, Jr., Kirby Puckett and others.

John Hancock is a proud sponsor of Major League Baseball and the title sponsor of the John Hancock All-Star FanFest, an interactive "Baseball Heaven on Earth" held in conjunction with MLB's All-Star Game.

TENS ARE WILD

The Orioles became only the second team to score 10 or more runs in an inning in consecutive games in 2000. They had a 10-run 4th inning on September 28 vs. Toronto and followed it up the next night, September 29, with a 10-run 2nd inning vs. the New York Yankees. The Houston Astros had an 11-run inning and a 10-run inning in a doubleheader vs. the New York Mets on July 30, 1969.

GRAND SLAM NOTES

THRU THE YEARS: The O's have out-slammed their opponents, 195-146, over the last 49 years (including post-season) ...They have a 106-66 advantage in Baltimore, 31-25 at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

ORIOLES AMONG MAJORS LEADERS SINCE 1980: The Orioles have belted 108 grand slams starting in 1980, one fewer than Boston and Seattle, who have hit the most in the majors in that time.

THREE IN ONE GAME: The Orioles and Texas combined to hit a major league-record 3 grand slams on Aug. 6, 1986 in the Rangers' 13-11 win at Memorial Stadium. Jim Dwyer and Larry Sheets hit 4th inning grand slams for the Orioles, only the 5th time in history one club has hit 2 grand slams in an inning. Toby Harrah hit Texas' grand slam. Houston and the Chicago Cubs tied the record on June 3, 1987.

TWO IN ONE GAME: Only 10 major leaguers have hit 2 grand slams in the same game and three times it has been done by an Oriole. Chris Hoiles hit a pair of grand slams on Aug. 14, 1996 at Cleveland, connecting in the 3rd and 8th innings. Jim Gentile and Frank Robinson previously did it for the O's, and are among 4 players who have done it in consecutive at bats. Gentile hit slams in the 1st and 2nd innings at Minnesota on May 9, 1961. Robinson did it in the 5th and 6th innings at Washington on June 26, 1970.

GENTILE HIT 5 IN '61: Gentile set an American League record and tied the major league record then held by the Cubs' Ernie Banks when he hit 5 bases loaded homers in '61. The Yankees' Don Mattingly broke the mark with 6 grand slams in '87.

POST-SEASON SLAMMING PITCHERS: Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally are the only 2 major league pitchers to hit grand slams in post-season play, and both did it in '70 with the Orioles. Cuellar connected in ALCS Game 1 off the Twins' Jim Perry (at Minnesota). McNally hit his in World Series Game 3 off the Reds' Wayne Granger at Memorial Stadium. Cuellar 's slam was the first in LCS history.

OPPONENTS: The 2000 Orioles allowed a club-record 9 grand slams...The 1978 and 1993 Orioles allowed grand slams in 3 consecutive games, tying the major league record set by the 1901 Reds...The '78 O's allowed slams in 3 straight games, April 7-9, at Milwaukee ...The '93 O's did it Aug. 10-12, all at Detroit ...Seattle's Edgar Martinez is the only active player with 3 grand slams against the Orioles...Ken Griffey Jr., with 2, is the only other active player with more than one...Oakland's Carlos Reyes in 1996 became the 14th opposing pitcher to give up 2 grand slams against the Orioles and the 3rd to throw them in the same season, joining Chicago 's Terry Forster (1976) and Jack Harshman (1955).

GOPHER PITCHERS: Milt Pappas gave up 6 bases loaded homers as an Oriole, most by any O's hurler. Pappas gave up 9 overall in his career, tying Jerry Reuss (1969-90) and Ned Garver (1948-61) for most career grand slams allowed ...Dave McNally and Scott McGregor are next among Oriole pitchers, allowing 4 apiece (Armando Benitez also allowed 4 grand slams, including one in post-season play) ...Among current O's hurlers, Jason Johnson has given up 3 slams as an Oriole and Sidney Ponson has allowed 2...On the other hand, Jim Palmer never allowed a slam in 558 games spanning nearly 4,000 innings.

INSIDE THE PARK HOME RUNS

On August 22, '93, Texas Rangers (and former Orioles) outfielder Butch Davis circled the bases on an inside-the-park home run, off Arthur Rhodes at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. It was the first ever hit in the new park and the first by a visiting player in Baltimore since 1960 when Washington's Lenny Green hit one off Jack Fisher on August 17.

The Orioles haven't had an inside-the-park homer to call their own since June 8, '90 when outfielder Phil Bradley did it at Memorial Stadium...He victimized the Yankees' Greg Cadaret. Bradley's homer was the 11th and final inside-the-park job at Memorial Stadium (10th by an Oriole) and the first for the O's at home since his childhood baby sitter, Al Bumbry, hit one off the Yankees' Steve Kline, April 19, '74.

Bradley's blast remains the only Oriole inside-the-park homer, home or away, since Bumbry did it against Jesse Jefferson of the White Sox at old Comiskey Park, August 21, '76.

The last time the Orioles allowed an inside the park home run was on July 17, 2002, when Toronto's Ken Huckaby circled the bases off Jason Johnson at SkyDome.

NOTES ON 20-GAME WINNERS

Although they have not had one in the past 18 seasons, Oriole pitchers have produced 24 20-win seasons in the past 35 years (starting in '68), more than any other major league club. The A's (17), Yankees (13), White Sox (11), Braves (11), and Dodgers (10) and Red Sox (10) are the only other teams with more than nine in that time.

From '68 thru '80, a span of 13 years, at least one Oriole pitcher accumulated 20 or more victories to set a major league record. The old standard was 12 by the New York Giants from '03 to '14, a mark single-handedly assured by Christy Mathewson, who won 20+ in each of those years.

In 1971, four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win plateau. The only other foursome in the entire history of major league baseball to have achieved the feat was a quartet from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21, and Ed Cicotte-21. Despite that achievement, the White Sox finished second that year, two games behind Cleveland.

The four Orioles all won their 20th games within 6 days: Dave McNally was the first on 9/21, then in a series in Cleveland, the other three joined him: Mike Cuellar (9/24 -first game-clinched division title), Pat Dobson (9/24 -2nd game), and Jim Palmer (9/26).

Steve Stone was the earliest 20-game winner in club history, winning his 20th game on August 19 en route to a team record 25 victories in '80. Three other Orioles hurlers have recorded their 20th wins in August: McNally (8/25) and Cuellar (8/27) in '71 and Palmer (8/20) in '75.

The first Oriole to win 20, and the only one in the club's first 14 seasons in Baltimore ('54 thru '67), was lefthander Steve Barber in '63.

TRIPLE PLAYS

The Orioles have executed 12 triple plays and hit into 16 in 49 seasons.

The Orioles pulled off their first triple play in eight seasons in 2000 on September 1 at Cleveland...With Indians runners on first and second and none out in the 2nd inning, O's SS Melvin Mora allowed a short fly to left by Sandy Alomar to drop in front of him. The Cleveland runners – Travis Fryman at first and Wil Cordero at second -- apparently thought the infield fly rule had been called; it wasn't. So Mora quickly picked up the ball and threw to 2B Jerry Hairston, who stepped on second base to force Cordero and tagged Fryman for the second out. Pitcher Sidney Ponson then took the ball from Hairston and, after a slight delay, flipped the ball to first baseman Jeff Conine for the third out on Alomar, who had begun to retreat to the dugout when the ball was hit into the air. After some discussion among the umpires and the ejection of Indians manager Charlie Manuel, the play stood and the inning ended.

The Orioles' previous triple play, and their last one at home, came August 25, 1992 at Oriole Park at Camden Yards against California...With Tim Salmon on 3rd and Chad Curtis on 1st, Gary Gaetti lined out to O's 3B Leo Gomez, who stepped on the bag to catch Salmon and threw to 1B Randy Milligan to triple up Curtis. That is the only triple play turned in by the Orioles at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

On the other hand, the O's have hit into 2 triple plays at Camden Yards. The most recent triple play involving the Orioles came April 3, '96, against Kansas City at Oriole Park at Camden Yards, when O's DH Bobby Bonilla grounded into a 5-4-3-2 triple play. With Roberto Alomar at 3rd and Rafael Palmeiro at 1st, Bonilla grounded to Royals 3B Joe Randa, who threw to 2B Bip Roberts for the force on Palmeiro. Roberts threw to 1B Bob Hamelin to get Bonilla, at which point Alomar tried to score from 3rd. Hamelin's throw to CA Sal Fasano was in time to nail Alomar to end the inning.

NOTES: The Gold Glove Awards were initiated in 1957 by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co. in cooperation with The Sporting News to acknowledge individual defensive excellence by a vote of managers and coaches in each league...Selection is based on a player's overall defensive ability, not simply on fielding percentage.

The Orioles have won a total of 58 Gold Gloves, more than any American League team since the awards were created.

Totals for each team: Cardinals 65 1/2, ORIOLES 58, Yankees 52, Reds 46, Pirates 44, Braves 39, Phillies 35, Red Sox, Tigers & White Sox 34, Giants 33, Cubs 31, Dodgers 30 1/2, Twins 31, Indians 28, Angels 29, Rangers 28, Expos 21, Mariners 23, Blue Jays & Astros 18, Padres & Royals 17, A's 16, Mets 13 1/2, Brewers 9, Rockies 8, Marlins 3, Diamondbacks 1.

Multiple Winners: A total of 12 Orioles have won multiple Gold Gloves...Leading the list is Brooks Robinson, whose 16 awards are matched only by pitcher Jim Kaat for the most won by an individual (Atlanta's Greg Maddux leads all active players with 13 Gold Gloves)...Other Oriole multiple winners: Paul Blair & Mark Belanger (8 each); Jim Palmer, Bobby Grich & Mike Mussina (4 each); Davey Johnson & Eddie Murray (3 each); Roberto Alomar, Luis Aparicio, Rafael Palmeiro & Cal Ripken (2 each, although Aparicio won a total of 9 in his ML career and Alomar has won 10).

ALL-STAR NOTES

FINAL CAL: 3B Cal Ripken, playing in his final All-Star Game, homered on the first pitch he saw in the 3rd inning and went on to win his second All-Star MVP Award in the 2001 All-Star Game at Seattle's Safeco Field...Ripken, the lone Oriole selected to play in the game, led off the inning and turned on the first pitch from Los Angeles' Chan Ho Park to give the American League a 1-0 lead it would not relinquish...It was the 19th time Ripken was either elected or selected to the AL All-Star squad, breaking Brooks Robinson's AL mark; he technically started at shortstop after Texas' Alex Rodriguez "pushed" him to the position and played third base himself in the first inning...Cal also won MVP honors in the 1991 game, homering at Toronto...With the 2001 home run, he became the oldest player to homer in an All Star Game and the only Oriole to homer twice in All-Star play.

ALL-STAR STARTS/APPEARANCES: Ten different Orioles have been elected starters since fan voting was reinstituted in 1969...Cal Ripken was elected to start 18 years, 17 of those by fan vote...He was unable to play because of injury in 2000...Other Orioles elected to starting berths are Brooks Robinson (4 times); Roberto Alomar (3 times); Boog Powell & Frank Robinson (2 each); and Bobby Grich, Ken Singleton, Eddie Murray, Terry Kennedy and Brady Anderson (1 each).

ORIOLES ALL-STAR MVPs: The Orioles have had five different players who have earned All-Star MVP honors...In 2001, Cal Ripken became only the 4th player and the first American Leaguer to win two All-Star Game MVP Awards when he took the honors in Seattle....Joined Willie Mays, Steve Garvey and Gary Carter as the only 2-time winners...Cal also won the MVP Award in 1991 at Toronto's SkyDome, going 2-for-3 with a 3-run homer off former teammate Dennis Martinez and a single off Cy Young-winner Tom Glavine to lead the AL to a 4-2 win...Cal became only the 3rd shortstop to hit an All-Star Game homer, joining Lou Boudreau ('42) and Dick McAuliffe ('65)...In the home run hitting contest the day before the All-Star Game, Cal hit an incredible 12 homers in 22 swings to help the AL to a 20-7 pasting of the NL...Frank Robinson's 4th-inning homer at Detroit in the 1971 game put the AL ahead to stay and earned him MVP honors...It was the AL's first All-Star victory since 1962 and its last until 1983...Roberto Alomar earned the 1998 All-Star MVP award at Denver's Coors Field with a 3-for-4 performance including a HR and a stolen base in the American League's 13-8 win...Alomar, Ripken and Rafael Palmeiro combined for 6 hits, the most by teammates since seven Reds had 7 hits in 1976... Brooks Robinson won the trophy in St. Louis in 1966, going 3-for-4 with a triple at the plate and 8-for-8 fielding...He was the first player from a losing team to be so honored...Billy O'Dell hurled 3 perfect innings to save the AL's 4-3 win in Baltimore in 1958.

ORIOLES ALL-STAR HOMERS: Cal Ripken's home run in 2001 was the 2nd of his career in an All-Star game and the 6th overall by an Oriole...The others were by Roberto Alomar (7/7/98 at Colorado off Trevor Hoffman, none on); Brooks Robinson (7/11/67 at Anaheim off Fergie Jenkins, none on); Frank Robinson (7/13/71 at Detroit off Dock Ellis, one on); and Ken Singleton (8/9/81 at Cleveland off Tom Seaver, none on).

BALTIMORE AS ALL-STAR HOST: The Orioles have played host to two All-Star Games...The 25th mid-season classic was held at Memorial Stadium in 1958, and the 64th All-Star Game was held at Camden Yards in 1993...On July 8, 1958, Orioles pitcher Billy O'Dell retired the final 9 batters as the AL posted a 4-3 win before 48,829 fans at Memorial Stadium...The Orioles' Gus Triandos was the starting catcher, and 11 future Hall of Famers saw action in the game...In its 2nd year of existence, Oriole Park at Camden Yards played host to baseball's first-ever All-Star Week, including the AL's 9-3 win on July 13, 1993...The game drew 48,147 fans...Cal Ripken was the only Oriole to appear in the game, going 0-for-3...Pitcher Mike Mussina was selected to the team but did not get into the game...FanFest, the baseball theme park that is now a part of All-Star Week, drew 111,883 visitors during the five-day celebration...Perhaps the most lasting memories from All-Star Week '93 came on Monday, July 12, at the annual Gatorade All-Star Workout...Juan Gonzalez crushed a ball off the facing of the upper deck in left field, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse during the home run hitting contest.

POSTSEASON NOTES

The Orioles last advanced to post-season play in '97, reaching for the 2nd straight season, the only time they've made back-to-back post-season appearances since 1973-74...For the 2nd straight year, the Orioles won their Division Series before losing in the American League Championship Series...In 1997 they beat the Seattle Mariners, 3-1 in the Division Series before losing to the Cleveland Indians, 4-2 in the ALCS...In 1996 they topped the Cleveland Indians, 3-1, in the Division Series and fell to the New York Yankees, 4-1, in the ALCS.

DIVISION SERIES: The Orioles have appeared in two Division Series, winning both...They are 6-2 overall (.750)....The O 's are 3-1 at home and 3-1 on the road.

ALCS: The Orioles have appeared in 9 LCS, going 5-4...They are 21-16 (.568)...The O 's are 10-9 at home and 11-6 on the road...Only the New York Yankees (32 wins) and Oakland A's (23 wins) have won more games in League Championship Series play...The Los Angeles Dodgers are third with 19 wins...The O's won the first 10 ALCS games they played (including the first 9 ever played)...They swept the Twins twice ('69- '70) and the A's ('71) in the first 3 ALCS, then won Game 1 against Oakland in '73 before losing the 2nd game that year.

WORLD SERIES: Baltimore has gone 3-3 in its 6 World Series, but has a .576 pct. in games (19-14)...The Birds are 10-7 at home and 9-7 away.

POST-SEASON TOTAL: The O's have gone to the post-season in 10 different seasons and are 46-32 (.590)....They are 23-17 at home and 23-15 on the road.

ATTENDANCE: The Orioles played 30 post-season games at Memorial Stadium, drawing a total of 1,422,209 fans (average 47,407)...In their 10 post-season games at Oriole Park at Camden Yards in '96 & '97, the Orioles drew 488,079 fans (average 48,808)...The largest crowd for a post-season game in Baltimore was 54,458 for Game 4 (the final game) vs. the Dodgers in '66...That also is the largest crowd for any Orioles home game...The largest home LCS crowd was 52,787 for Game 1 vs. the Angels in '79...The four largest crowds for any games at Camden Yards came in the 1997 post-season, topped by the 49,137 who attended Division Series Game 3 vs. Seattle on October 4.

THE HISTORY OF THE ORIOLES

What do Black Sox, Elite Giants, Marylands, Monumentals, Orioles and Terrapins all have in common? They're all nicknames for professional baseball teams that have played in the city of Baltimore, dating back to the game's 19th century roots.

Baltimore first experienced professional baseball in 1872, when the Lord Baltimores played their inaugural games in the old National Association. Ten years later, another incarnation of the Lord Baltimores made its debut in the American Association; one year after that, the franchise adopted the name "Orioles," honoring Maryland's state bird. It was the first time the nickname would become affiliated with Baltimore's professional baseball team.

In 1884, the Orioles encountered some intra-city competition when the Baltimore Monumentals became one of the charter franchises in the new Union Association. By mid-season, the Monumentals had transferred to Lancaster; and by the end of one year, the new league was done.

Although both the American and National Associations have come to be regarded as major league by baseball historians, Baltimore stepped up a notch further when it joined the National League in 1892. Spearheaded by the skilled batting of Dan Brouthers, Joe Kelley and Willie Keeler, and the scrappy play of Hughie Jennings and John McGraw, the Orioles of the 1890s played an aggressive, fire-breathing kind of baseball never seen before. Under the direction of the innovative Ned Hanlon, the Orioles won three consecutive National League pennants from 1894 to 1896.

Despite their success, Baltimore's National League franchise lasted for only eight seasons, folding after the 1899 campaign. Within two years, Baltimore baseball found a new home -in the upstart American League. Once again adopting the nickname Orioles, the franchise played for two seasons before relocating to New York. First playing as the Highlanders, the former Baltimore club eventually became the New York Yankees.

The transfer of the franchise to New York left Baltimore without a major league team until 1914. The Baltimore Terrapins, named for the varieties of edible turtles common to the state of Maryland, entered the newly formed Federal League that season. Alas, the league, and its franchises, lasted just the one year. Baltimore would not enjoy major league baseball for another four decades. Yet, professional baseball did not completely abandon Baltimore. Minor league entries, still playing under the popular name of Orioles, thrived in the Eastern League (1903-11) and the International League (1912-53). During the early years of Baltimore's existence in the International League, a young left-handed pitcher named Babe Ruth starred for the team. Ruth split the 1914 season between Baltimore and Providence, winning a combined 22 games and losing only nine.

From the 1920s through the 1940s, area baseball fans also enjoyed the exploits of the city's two Negro League teams, the Black Sox and Elite Giants. Second baseman James "Junior" Gilliam and Hall of Fame catcher Roy Campanella played two different stints for the Elite Giants on their way to major league careers with the Brooklyn Dodgers' "Boys of Summer."

In September of 1953, Bill Veeck's financial problems helped Baltimore land another major league team. Veeck sold his American League franchise, the St. Louis Browns, to a Baltimore-based syndicate headed by Mayor Tommy D'Alesandro and attorney Clarence Miles. Playing in the renovated Memorial Stadium, the new Orioles made their return to the American League in 1954.

In the late 1950s, the Orioles' farm system began to produce a bevy of talent, led by future Hall of Famer Brooks Robinson. With a young nucleus in place, the Orioles sought veteran assistance to complete their championship puzzle. After the 1965 season, the Orioles made arguably the greatest trade in franchise history, acquiring former All-Star outfielder Frank Robinson from the Cincinnati Reds. Led by Robinson's Triple Crown season, the slugging of young first baseman Boog Powell, and the terrific bullpen combination of Moe Drabowsky, Eddie Fisher and Stu Miller, the 1966 Orioles won the first World Series in the franchise's history.

The Orioles returned to American League dominance three years later, with Hall of Fame manager Earl Weaver now leading the charge. Pitching, three-run homers, and outstanding defensive play stamped Weaver's Orioles as winners. From 1969 to 1971, the O's captured three American League East titles, a trio of AL pennants, and the 1970 World Series, where Brooks Robinson compiled a highlight reel's worth of defensive brilliance. After some lean years in the middle of the decade, the Orioles returned to glory in 1979, when they extended the Pittsburgh Pirates to seven games before losing the World Series. Four years later, with a new generation of stars headed up by Eddie Murray and Cal Ripken, Jr., the Orioles won their third world championship four games to one against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The endurance and excellence of Ripken served as a hallmark for much of the 1980s and 90s, culminating in the breaking of a baseball legend's record. On the night of September 6, 1995, Ripken played in his 2,131st consecutive game, eclipsing the mark of Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig. The 1990s also saw the Orioles move into a new era, as they departed Memorial Stadium for a ballpark considered a state-of-the-art model for all new stadium projects - Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

NATIONAL BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

Eddie Murray's election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame this year was a foregone conclusion. As one of three players in history with more than 3,000 hits and 500 home runs, he was destined to join the Hall of Fame in his first year on the ballot. And, having spent 12 1/2 of his 21 big league seasons with the Orioles, it was also clear that Eddie's plaque in Cooperstown would bear an Orioles hat. His election in January by the Baseball Writers Association of America makes him the 5th person enshrined wearing an Orioles hat for his official plaque, joining two of his former teammates, Jim Palmer and Brooks Robinson, and two of his former managers, Earl Weaver and Frank Robinson. (See "Orioles Retired Numbers" for their biographies and statistics.) Former catcher Gary Carter was elected along with Murray.

Murray is the 11th modern Oriole to be elected to the Hall of Fame. Eddie garnered 85 percent of the votes of the 496 votes cast to gain entry in his first year of eligibility. He joins Palmer, the Robinsons and Reggie Jackson among Orioles selected in their first year of eligibility for the Hall. Eddie is the 38th first-ballot electee among the 256 Hall of Fame members (not including this year's Veteran's committee vote). Palmer poled 92.6% of the total vote (411 of 444 ballots cast) in 1990, the highest percentage ever by an Oriole.

The Hall of Fame honored another beloved Oriole in 1993 when veteran O's broadcaster Chuck Thompson received the Ford C. Frick Award, presented by the Hall of Fame to a broadcaster for major contributions to the game of baseball. And in 1998, Sam Lacy, long-time sports editor of the Baltimore Afro-American newspaper, became the first local writer selected for the J.G. Taylor Spink Award, honoring sportswriters "for meritorious contributions to baseball writing."

THE ORIOLES HALL OF FAME

The Orioles Hall of Fame was conceived in 1977 by the Oriole Advocates at the suggestion of two former presidents, Allen Barrett and Jack Buckley, both of whom have since passed away. The Advocates continue to administer the annual elections under the direction of their Hall of Fame Committee.

Candidates may be elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame through two channels: the regular vote by a panel of some 80 people, comprising sportswriters, broadcasters, Oriole Advocates and Orioles personnel; or by a vote of the veterans committee, a group of 25 senior representatives from the sports media, Oriole Advocates and the Orioles front office.

Procedures for election to the Orioles Hall of Fame are based on those used by the National Baseball Hall of Fame, requiring mention on 75% of ballots cast. All candidates must have served a minimum of three full seasons with the Orioles and must have been active in that capacity within the last 15 years. To be eligible for regular election, a player, manager or coach must have ceased serving in the position for which he was nominated for at least one year. For consideration by the veterans committee, formed in 1989, a candidate must have ceased serving in the capacity of consideration for at least 15 years.

RIPKEN IS UNANIMOUS 2003 ELECTEE TO O'S HALL OF FAME

Cal Ripken Jr. will become the newest member of the Orioles Hall of Fame in 2003 through a vote of the Hall committee and its 80 electors. Ripken's unanimous election followed the mandated one-year waiting period after his retirement as a player in 2001. He carved out a unique and historic niche in baseball history during his 21 seasons in an Oriole uniform. In addition to becoming baseball's all-time "Iron Man" with 2,632 consecutive games played, he redefined the shortstop position both offensively and defensively, setting major league records at the plate and in the field. He is the Orioles' all-time leader in virtually every offensive category, and his contributions off the field in the community are largely unsurpassed as well. For a full biography, see page 406.

Ripken is the 40th person elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame and joins his father, Cal Sr., as the only father-son duo honored. Cal Ripken Jr.'s first year of eligibility for the National Baseball Hall of Fame is 2007.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLES

The Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award is presented annually by the Sports Boosters of Maryland, Inc. In 2002, Rodrigo Lopez became the 2nd rookie to earn the honor as the Orioles' MVP, joining Gregg Olson who won the award in 1989. Lopez became the 31st different player to win the award in the club's 49 seasons. Eddie Murray (7), Brooks Robinson (4), Cal Ripken (4), Frank Robinson (3), Ken Singleton (3) and Rafael Palmeiro (3) are the only players to win the award more than twice.

The Sports Boosters initiated the MVO award when the Orioles returned to the majors in 1954. Several years ago, they renamed the award in memory of Hatter, the distinguished and lovable "dean" of Baltimore baseball writers who covered the Orioles for The Sun for 27 years.

The award winner is selected through a vote of writers and broadcasters who cover the O's on a regular basis. There have been four ties, and no award was given in 1994.

BOB BROWN NAMED HERB ARMSTRONG AWARD WINNER

In 1995, the Oriole Advocates established the Herb Armstrong Award to honor non-uniformed personnel who have represented the Orioles for at least five years and made a significant contribution to the ballclub, the community or the sport of baseball. The award is named after the beloved former educator, professional baseball player, manager and longtime official for both the Orioles' International League and American League clubs who dedicated nearly 70 years of his life to the people of Baltimore, his adopted hometown. Winners are selected by the Orioles Hall of Fame Veterans Committee and honored during Orioles Hall of Fame Weekend ceremonies.

In 2003, the Herb Armstrong Award will be presented Robert W. Brown, the Orioles' longtime public relations director. Bob worked for the Orioles for 35 years and was highly regarded by his peers and the media, becoming the second recipient (after the award's namesake) of the Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence in 1982. He is known as one of the innovators of the modern press guide and is credited with creating the practice of charting the batter-pitcher match-ups used by Earl Weaver in game situations and later widely adopted throughout the baseball industry.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS

EARL WEAVER—4

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown in August 1996, Earl ranks 19th in victories among 20th century managers. His .583 winning percentage (1,480-1,060) over 17 seasons—all in Baltimore—ranks 5th on the all-time list of those who managed 10 or more seasons exclusively in this century.

Earl was a minor league 2nd baseman for 13 years, mostly in his hometown St. Louis Cardinals organization. He began his managing career in the minors in 1956 and joined the Orioles organization a year later. He came up to the Orioles as first base coach in 1968 and was named manager on July 11 of that year. From 1969 through 1982, he won 6 AL East titles, 4 AL pennants and 1 World Series, beating the Cincinnati Reds in 1970. Earl's Orioles won 100 games or more 5 times, and he earned Manager of the Year honors 3 times.

He retired following the 1982 season, which ended 1-game shy of another AL East title when the Orioles lost to the Milwaukee Brewers on the final day of the season. He came back to manage in mid-1985 for 1 1/2 years before retiring for good. The only time in his 17 seasons as manager that he posted a losing record was his last, in 1986.

Earl and his wife, Marianna, live in Hialeah, FL. He has a son and 2 daughters from a previous marriage as well as a stepdaughter.

BROOKS ROBINSON—5

"Mr. Oriole" spent 23 seasons with the Orioles and started 20 consecutive opening day games. He won the AL Most Valuable Player Award in 1964 and shares the record (with former pitcher Jim Kaat) for most Gold Gloves with 16. His election to baseball's Hall of Fame (his first year of eligibility in 1983) was cemented with his performance against the Cincinnati Reds in the 1970 World Series, when he was named MVP and earned the nickname "Hoover" (as in vacuum cleaners) for his play in the field.

Brooks played in 18 All-Star games. He trails only Cal Ripken among the Orioles' all-time leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, RBI, runs, total bases and extra-base hits. In addition to his AL MVP Award in '64 and his World Series MVP Award in '70, he was the All-Star Game MVP in 1966 and was voted the Most Valuable Oriole in '60, '62, '64 and co-winner in '71 with Frank Robinson. He also earned the Commissioner's Trophy (now the Roberto Clemente Award) for exemplifying the game of baseball in 1972 and the Joe Cronin Award for significant achievement by an AL player in 1977.

Brooks holds 10 major league fielding records and 3 American League records for third basemen, including highest lifetime fielding percentage (.971). He is 12th on the all-time list of games played, 4th in the AL and 5th in games played with one franchise.

A native of Little Rock, AR, Brooks and his wife, Connie, have four children. They split their time living in the northern Baltimore suburbs and in Southern California.

FRANK ROBINSON—20

Frank's achievements during his 21 seasons as a player rank him among the top players of all-time in 10 categories. He hit 586 home runs, 5th on the all-time list.

The trade that brought Frank from Cincinnati to Baltimore turned the Orioles from contenders to World Champions in 1966. He won the Triple Crown (.316 average, 49 homers, 122 RBI) and was both the AL and World Series MVP in his first season with the Orioles. In all, the Orioles went to the World Series 4 times in his 6 seasons as a player with them. When he was traded to the Dodgers after the '71 season, he became the first to have his number retired by the Orioles.

Frank was NL Rookie of the Year with the Reds in 1956 and is the only player to win MVP honors in both leagues ('61 NL, '66 AL). He played in 11 All-Star games and was MVP of the 1971 classic. While still an active player, he became the first black manager in major league history with the Cleveland Indians in 1975. He later managed the San Francisco Giants and the Orioles. He spent 19 seasons with the Orioles as a player, coach ('79-'80 and '85-'87), manager ('88-'91) and assistant general manager ('91-'95).

Elected to baseball's Hall of Fame the first year he was eligible in 1982, Frank is in his second season as manager of the Montreal Expos. He lives with his wife, Barbara, in Bel Air, CA. They have two children.

JIM PALMER—22

The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Jim won 268 games in a 19-year career, all of it with Baltimore. He won three Cy Young Awards in a 4-year span ('73, '75, '76) and his 2.86 ERA is 4th on the all-time list among pitchers with 3,000 or more innings pitched.

Jim won 20 games in a season eight times, one of only six who pitched exclusively in the 20th century to do that. He put that string together in a 9-year stretch, 1970-78, during which he went 176-97 with a 2.54 ERA.

In 1966, at age 20, he became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a World Series shutout, and in 1983 he became the only hurler to have won a World Series game in each of 3 decades. He was the winning pitcher in the Orioles' first four pennant-clinching games and was 8-3 in 17 post-season appearances. He was a six-time All-Star and was the AL's starting pitcher four times.

Jim was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame on the first ballot in January 1990. He is in his 10th season as an analyst and play-by-play broadcaster on Orioles televised games, and has also worked for ABC-TV and ESPN.

Jim lives in Baltimore and Palm Beach, FL. He has two daughters, Jamie Michelle and Kelly Christina.

EDDIE MURRAY—33

Eddie was elected in January to Baseball's Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. He played 12 1/2 of his 21 seasons with the Orioles and ranks 2nd, 3rd or 4th in virtually every club offensive category. He spent his first 12 years with the Orioles and rejoined the team in 1996, helping lead the club to the post-season and becoming the 15th player to reach the 500-home run plateau. Eddie, Hank Aaron and Willie Mays are the only players with 500 homers and 3,000 hits. He.

A model of consistency, he drove in at least 75 runs in each of his first 20 major league seasons, a feat unmatched. He has more RBI than any switch-hitter in history and ranks 7th all-time in RBI. Eddie was named to 8 All-Star teams, 7 as an Oriole, and batted .300 or better 7 times, including 5 times as an Oriole. He won the Orioles' "triple crown" 5 times, leading the club in average, homers and RBI. He played at least 150 games in 16 seasons, tied with Cal Ripken for second most in history behind Pete Rose.

Eddie broke in as the AL Rookie of the Year in 1977. He was named Most Valuable Oriole 7 times (twice sharing the award with Cal). A 3-time Gold Glove winner, he holds the major league record for games played and career assists by a first baseman.

Like Frank Robinson before him, Eddie's Oriole number was retired when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also played for the Mets, Indians and Angels. After 4 seasons as a coach for the Orioles, he joined the Indians staff in 2002 as batting coach. He lives with his wife, Janice, and their daughters, Jordan and Jessica, in his hometown of Los Angeles.

CAL RIPKEN JR. AWARD TO HONOR "GAMERS"

During pre-game ceremonies on the night of Cal Ripken's final game, October 6, 2001, MLB Commissioner Allen H. "Bud" Selig announced the creation of a new award in honor of the baseball's Iron Man. Beginning in 2002, The Cal Ripken Jr. Award is given to each major leaguer who plays in each of his team's scheduled games. Last year six players won the award. In breaking Lou Gehrig's record for consecutive games played with 2,632, Cal also set the major league record for playing each of the Orioles' scheduled games for 15 seasons – and he did it consecutively.

1998: END OF THE STREAK: On 9/20 vs. New York, before the Orioles final home game of the year, baseball's all-time "Iron Man" asked manager Ray Miller to remove him from the starting lineup 30 minutes before game time to end his world-record consecutive games streak at 2,632 games...Ryan Minor replaced him in the starting lineup...Was first time he did not start or play since 5/29/82...Played in 501 straight games after breaking Lou Gehrig's record on 9/6/95...After sitting out 9/20, he played in each of the remaining 7 games of the season....Was batting .242 on 5/19, but hit .282 from that point on to raise his final average to .271...Set AL records for Most Seasons with 150 or more games played (15) and Most Seasons with 600 or more At-Bats (13)...Led AL third basemen with a .979 fielding percentage...Was elected as the starting third baseman on the American League All-Star team, his 16th consecutive All-Star Game and 15th straight start...Set All-Star Game record for most consecutive starts, surpassing Willie Mays' 14 starts in a row...Singled on 8/21 vs. Cleveland to pass Brooks Robinson for most hits in Orioles history with 2,849...Batted 7th in order 36 times...Hit twice in No. 7 spot, only other times since '82...On 8/5 vs. Detroit, laid down his 5th career sacrifice bunt and first since 9/10/90.

Married to the former Kelly Geer (11/13/87)...They have two children: Rachel Marie (11/22/89) and Ryan Calvin (7/26/93), born on an Orioles off day...Cal played with his brother Bill at second base for 5-1/2 seasons (7/11/87 through '92), and Bill was with the Orioles in a utility role in 1996...In '90, Cal and Bill accounted for a total of only 11 errors, the fewest in major league history by a qualifying (each playing 2/3 of their club's games at their respective positions) keystone combination...Also played parts of 12 seasons with his father Cal Sr., in an O's uniform as a coach and manager...All three were together in '87, when Cal Sr. became the first father ever to manage two sons simultaneously in major league baseball history (regular season).

CAL SR.: Cal Ripken Sr. passed away March 25, 1999 from cancer...He spent 15 years on the O's coaching staff starting in 1976, 13-1/2 as 3rd base coach...Managed for 14+ seasons in professional baseball, all in the Orioles' organization...His 13+ years as a manager in the Birds' farm system ('61-'74) represent the longest tenure of any minor league skipper in Orioles' history...During that span Cal managed at all levels except rookie league...Earned the reputation as perhaps the best teacher of young players in Orioles history...Following the '86 season he replaced Earl Weaver to become only the seventh non-interim manager in the club's history...Was replaced by Frank Robinson on 4/12/88 after the O's lost the first six games of the season (a streak that went to 21 before it ended)...Rip was a catcher in the O's organization, although he also played some third base and outfield and even pitched...In '96 he was inducted into the Orioles Hall of Fame...Following Ripken's death during spring training in 1999, the Orioles players and field staff wore a "7" on their uniform sleeve in his honor for the entire 1999 season...The number also was painted in orange in the third base coach's box at Camden Yards, where it remained throughout the '99 season as well...In ceremonies prior to Cal Jr.'s final game on October 6, 2001, the Orioles unveiled a plaque in the first base dugout dedicated to Cal Sr....It is inscribed:

Cal Ripken, Sr

CAL IN THE COMMUNITY

For 37 years, Cal Ripken Sr. was considered "the consummate baseball teacher" as a player, coach, scout and manager in the Orioles organization. Today, the Cal Ripken Sr. Foundation carries on his legacy, with a mission "to use baseball as a tool for helping young people develop positive character traits such as leadership, teamwork and good sportsmanship, as well as a healthy lifestyle."

Through the Cal Ripken Sr. Foundation, the Ripken family, led by Cal and Bill, is developing baseball-themed programs and educational lesson plans, constructing a youth baseball facility to host disadvantaged and at-risk kids, and supply equipment and other support for organizations and communities to operate youth baseball facilities, and provide training for youth coaches consistent with "the Ripken Way."

The Cal Ripken Sr. Foundation is the latest extension of Cal Jr.'s community support through the years. For many years, the Kelly and Cal Ripken, Jr. Foundation has supported community adult and family literacy, youth recreational and health-related programs in the greater Baltimore area.

THE ABERDEEN PROJECT & THE ABERDEEN IRONBIRDS

In June 2002, the first phase of the Aberdeen Project was completed when Ripken Stadium, a state-of-the-art minor league ballpark in the Ripkens' hometown, opened its doors. The Aberdeen IronBirds, the Orioles' affiliate in the short-season New York-Penn League, calls the 6,000-seat Ripken Stadium home. In its inaugural season, the IronBirds sold out all 38 home games.

This summer, the next phase of the project will be unveiled when the Ripken Youth Baseball Academy opens. The initial construction will include three youth-size diamonds, an all-purpose grass field and a Pro Green synthetic infield. The Ripken Baseball staff, led by former Oriole Bill Ripken, will provide programming in Aberdeen throughout the summer. (For more information on Ripken Baseball and its summer program, log onto www.ripkenbaseball.com.)

ALL-STAR GAMES

19-YEAR ALL-STAR: Ripken was elected as the American League's starting third baseman for the 5th time in a row and his 19th consecutive All-Star berth in his final season in 2001. He passed Brooks Robinson's AL mark of 18 games (over 15 years, 1960-74). Cal technically started the game his final game at shortstop when Alex Rodriguez pushed him to short and took third for the first inning. By switching positions, he tied Ozzie Smith with 15 All-Star Games at shortstop. Smith holds the record of 15 starts, while Cal started 14 times at shortstop. The only year Ripken did not make the team was his rookie season in 1982.

ELECTED: 17 times, 13 consecutive starting in '89. With his election in 2000, he broke the record he shared with Rod Carew for most All-Star selections with 15. Cal was also elected '84 thru '87. Alan Trammell was elected in '88 but withdrew due to injury so Cal, who finished second in the voting, started in his place. Since balloting returned to the fans in '70, ten different Orioles have been elected to start 32 times in the 31 years.

STARTER: 17 times, including 16 straight years from 1984 through 1999, including 13 as shortstop. Cal's 15th straight start in 1998 set an All-Star Game record, breaking Willie Mays' mark of 14 straight ASG starts. He was elected to start at third base in 2000 but was unable to play because of injury.

FAN BALLOTING: Led the majors in votes four times: '85 (1,398,901), '86 (1,486,806), '92 (2,699,773), and '95 (1,698,524)...Cal led the AL in balloting in 1986 (1,486,806).

MVP AWARDS: Earned his second All-Star MVP Award after homering on the first pitch he saw off Los Angeles' Chan Ho Park leading off the 3rd inning in his final All-Star appearance in 2001 at Seattle...Became oldest All-Star MVP at age 40 and broke AL record for most times as an All-Star, previously held by Brooks Robinson...Earned his first MVP in 1991 in the game at Toronto when he hit a three-run homer off former teammate Dennis Martinez and singled off the eventual Cy Young Award winner, Tom Glavine, to lead the AL to a 4-2 win at Skydome...Joined Billy O'Dell ('58), Brooks Robinson ('66), Frank Robinson ('71) and Roberto Alomar ('98) as Orioles to win All-Star MVP honors...In the home run hitting contest the day before the game at Toronto, hit an incredible 12 home runs in 22 swings to lead the AL to a 20-7 pasting of the NL.

2131: PASSING A LEGEND

Cal holds the major league record with 2,632 consecutive games played. The streak started on 5/30/82 and ended on 9/20/98. On 9/5/95 and 9/6/95 at Oriole Park at Camden Yards against the California Angels, Cal tied and broke Lou Gehrig's consecutive game record of 2,130. The following season he broke the world record of 2,215 consecutive games, previously held by Sachio Kinugasa of the Japanese Central League. After breaking Gehrig's record, Ripken played 501 more games before sitting out the final home game of the 1998 season.

3)	1,307	Everett Scott	7) 895	Stan Musial
4)	1,207	Steve Garvey	8) 829	Eddie Yost

CONSECUTIVE INNINGS STREAK, '82-'87: His streak of 8,243 straight innings (spanning 904 games, '82-'87) is believed to be the longest of its kind in major league history. The post-season innings he played in '83 are not included in these figures. Lou Gehrig, incidentally, played every inning of every game only one season ('31) during his streak.

The start: Cal's innings streak began 6/5/82; six days and five games after the start of his consecutive games string on 5/30.

The finish: The innings streak ended 9/14/87 in Toronto when Orioles manager Cal Ripken Sr. inserted Ron Washington at shortstop in the bottom of the eighth of an 18-3 Toronto walkover...That was the game in which the Blue Jays hit a major league record 10 home runs...Rip, whose innings streak covered some five seasons, was the first to have played every inning for at least two straight years since Rudy York with the Tigers in '40-'41...In addition to Cal & Freeman, only one other major leaguer has played every inning at least three years (not necessarily consecutive), Mickey Vernon in '42, '47, & '53...The only other Oriole to play every inning in one season was Eddie Murray in '84 (including 3 games as DH).

* On 8/17/33, New York Yankees first baseman Lou Gehrig played in his 1,308th straight game to surpass Everett Scott's major league record for consecutive games played. The Iron Horse went on to play in 2,130 straight games before the crippling effects of ALS (amyotrophic lateral sclerosis) ended his once-thought impossible streak. Just over two years later, ALS ended his life.
* Ripken's streak began on 5/30/82 when manager Earl Weaver started Cal as the third baseman against Toronto at Memorial Stadium. The day before, Floyd Rayford started in Cal's place at third base in the second game of a DH.
* Gehrig's longest streak at first base was 885 straight games. He played left field for one game in '30 while Babe Ruth pitched, and he played right field for one game in '31 while Ruth played first base.
* Gehrig played every inning of every game one time in his career ('31). Ripken holds what is believed to be the major league record with a streak of 8,243 straight innings, spanning 904 games from '82-'87.
* Gehrig missed just two starts during his streak, both in the first year: '25 (7/5, the 33rd game of the streak and 7/19, the 48th game). Both times, Fred Merkle, renowned for a miscue with the Cubs two decades earlier, was the Yankees' starter at first base. Gehrig started the last 2082 games of his streak.
* Twice during his streak, Gehrig was ailing and was listed as the shortstop, batting in the lead-off position. Both times, he singled and was immediately replaced by a pinch runner.

Ejected three times: The earliest Cal left were the two games from which he was ejected in the first inning: 9/25/87 by Tim Welke (vs. Yankees) and 8/7/89 by Drew Coble (vs. Minnesota). In both cases he was thrown out after arguing a strike call. He was ejected a third time on 7/20/97 in the 2nd inning by Al Clark (vs. Chicago) also for arguing a third strike call.

STAYING HEALTHY

Cal Ripken went on the Disabled List on April 20, 1999, for the first time in his career. From the start of Cal's record 2,632 consecutive games played, which began on May 30, 1982, until he went on the DL nearly 17 years later, Major League players made 5,045 trips to the DL.

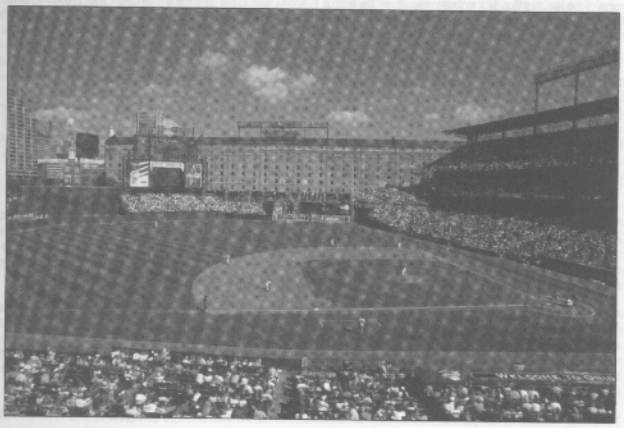
ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS



ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS

THE HISTORY

Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the beautiful baseball-only facility in downtown Baltimore, became the official home of the Orioles on April 6, 1992. The construction of the park was completed in essentially 33 months from the time razing previous structures on the 85-acre parcel began June 28, 1989 in the area known as Camden Yards.

The one-time railroad center is 12 minutes west by foot from the City's Inner Harbor and only 2 blocks from the birthplace of baseball's most legendary hero, George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Ruth's father operated Ruth's Cafe on the ground floor of the family residence located at Conway Street & Little Paca, now center field at Oriole Park. The ballpark seats 48,190 (including standing room) and the project cost was approximately $110 million. It was designed by the Kansas City architectural firm of Helmuth, Obata & Kassabaum (HOK) with direction and input from the Orioles and the State of Maryland, which owns and operates the facility through its agency, the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA).

Working under contract to HOK were the urban design firm of RTKL, the landscape architecture firm of Wallace, Roberts and Todd, and the engineering firms of Bliss and Nyitray; Rummel, Klepper and Kahl; and Kidde Consultants, Inc. Working under contract to the Orioles were the interior design firm of Forte Design and the graphic design firm of David Ashton and Associates.

Oriole Park is state-of-the-art, yet unique, traditional and intimate in design. It blends with the urban context of downtown Baltimore while taking its image from baseball parks built in the early 20th century. Steel, rather than concrete trusses, an arched brick facade, a sun roof over the gentle slope of the upper deck, an asymmetrical playing field, and natural grass turf are just some of the features that tie it to those magnificent big league ballparks built in the early 1900's. Ebbets Field (Brooklyn), Shibe Park (Philadelphia), Fenway Park (Boston), Crosley Field (Cincinnati), Forbes Field (Pittsburgh), Wrigley Field (Chicago), and The Polo Grounds (New York) were among the ballparks that served as powerful influences in the design of Oriole Park.

THE PLAYING FIELD

The field is 16' below street level and is made up of Prescription Athletic Turf (PAT), a sophisticated irrigation and drainage system below a natural grass turf. It is designed to reduce the frequency of rainouts while shortening the length of baseball's most exasperating feature, the rain delay. The PAT system makes it possible to get the field ready for play within half an hour after the end of a heavy rainstorm. It automatically removes as many as 75,000 gallons of rainwater from the field in an hour. Following the 2000 season, the ballpark's infield and outfield were completely rebuilt, with about 5 tons of turf, sand and dirt removed from the playing surface. The drainage system was replaced with a more modern method that utilizes an inlaid piping system topped by meshing and rocks to better protect both the pipes themselves and the playing surface.

DIMENSIONS

For Camden Yards' first nine seasons, outfield dimensions were 333 feet to left field, 364 feet to left center, 400 feet to center, 373 feet to right center and 318 feet to right. Prior to the 2001 season, in conjunction with extensive renovations to the ballpark's playing surface and drainage system, the Orioles reconfigured the ballpark with outfield dimensions that were up to 7 feet larger than those used since Camden Yards opened in 1992. However, it was found that the new dimensions did not significantly improve sight lines for fans, as had been anticipated, and adversely affected the viewing angle of the batter's eye wall.

As a result, the ballpark was returned to its original dimensions before the 2002 season. The changes included moving home plate approximately seven feet closer to the outfield, to its original spot 59 feet from the backstop. In addition, the entire field was shifted several degrees to the first base side and both the left field and right field foul poles were repositioned to their original locations. The foul line measurements decreased from 320 feet to 318 feet in right field and from 337 to 333 feet in left field. The center field distance decreased from 406 to 400 feet and the deepest part of the ballpark, in left center field, decreased from 417 to 410 feet.

The shorter distance to the right field corner than down the left field line is compensated by a 25' high wall, which extends 100' from the right field line toward center. The fence in the rest of the park is only 7' high.

THE WAREHOUSE

Located beyond right field, the B&O Warehouse is 439 feet from home plate. Built between 1898-1905, the warehouse is the longest building on the East Coast at 1016' (but only 51' wide). It has been preserved and now provides unique office space for the Orioles as well as home for the banquet facilities, the ballpark's central kitchen and space for ballpark operations. The Orioles' main ticket office operates out of the north end of the Warehouse.

Four public facilities - a souvenir shop (The Orioles Official Team Store, open daily), a cafeteria (Pastimes), a bar/lounge (Bambino's) and the Gallery of Sports Art at the Warehouse, a sports-themed art gallery opened in 1999 - are located on the ground floor of the warehouse and on the 8th floor is the exclusive members-only Camden Club. The ballpark and warehouse are separated by a 60' wide promenade, an extension of Eutaw Street.

Open daily, Eutaw St. is home to plaques dedicated to members of the Orioles Hall of Fame, the Mid-Atlantic Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame and the Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame, as well as monuments to the players whose numbers have been retired by the Orioles. Ballpark tours depart regularly from the Baseball Store on Eutaw Street.

SCOREBOARDS

There are two major electronic information centers in the ballpark to enhance enjoyment of the game. Two big boards are located on the main scoreboard in center field: The Sony JumboTRON video board (22'9" by 31'4") and an incandescent lamp matrix game in progress board (24' 1/2" by 78' 1/2") built by Daktronics, Inc. (Brookings, SD) which is located on top of the JumboTRON.

Mounted on top of the two boards is a large double-faced clock built in Maryland by Triangle Signs that can be read from both inside the ballpark and in downtown Baltimore. That main scoreboard system also supports two weathervane Oriole birds to show players and fans alike the direction of wind flow.

Embedded in the tall right field wall is another electronic board (also built by Daktronics) that provides a good-ole-days feature missing from many current major league ballparks - continuously posted out-of-town scores. It accommodates 16 games at one time, posting up-to-the-minute scores via a direct connection with SportsTicker, the computerized service that tracks all big league games inning-by-inning. Above the out-of-town board are flag poles which sport the pennants of each American League team in order of their daily standings in each division. There are additionally three auxiliary boards for the convenience of those who do not face the two big boards in center field.

MEMORIAL WALL

On Veteran's Day 2002, ground was broken at the south end of the Eutaw Street warehouse for a memorial wall to honor residents of Maryland who were killed in all of our nation's wars. Designed by Baltimore-based CS&D Architects, the memorial was created to replace the one razed at Memorial Stadium earlier in the year. The 11-foot-tall, curving black granite wall will feature the well-known phrase from Memorial Stadium, spelled out in the original stainless steel lettering: "Time Will Not Dim the Glory of Their Deeds." In other links to the old stadium, an urn from East 33rd Street containing soil from all foreign American military cemeteries will be displayed under glass, and a plaque will explain the significance of Memorial Stadium in Baltimore history. A bench at the memorial will allow visitors the opportunity to rest and reflect at any time during the day or evening. The memorial will be illuminated at night and is expected to be completed in the spring of 2003. A special dedication will be held on Memorial Day, 2003.

CAMDEN STATION

Repair work to the exterior of one of Baltimore's most historic landmarks began this off-season. Camden Station, the former train station located at the north end of the warehouse, will undergo extensive renovations over the next several years. The building, opened in 1856, has been unused since the 1980's. Ultimately, the basement and first floor of the station will be occupied by an expansion of the Babe Ruth Museum. The station's museum, scheduled to open during the 2005 baseball season, will feature exhibits related to the Orioles, Cal Ripken Jr., Johnny Unitas, former Baltimore Sun and News American sportswriter John Steadman and the University of Maryland athletics program.

In its heyday, the station was a central location for travel from Baltimore to the rest of the country. In 1954, the brand-new Baltimore Orioles franchise arrived at Camden Station from a season-opening series in Detroit for their first home game at Memorial Stadium.

Abraham Lincoln passed through the station twice, once en route to his inauguration, and also on his way to deliver the Gettysburg Address. Lincoln's funeral car also stopped there on its way to Springfield, Illinois for his burial.

FOUL POLES

When the Orioles moved to Camden Yards for the 1992 season, they brought with them the right field foul pole that had been used for 37 seasons at Memorial Stadium. The foul pole was affixed atop the tall wall in right field in the Flag Court. Prior to the 2001 season, the Orioles replaced the original Camden Yards left field foul pole with the left field pole that had been used throughout their stay at Memorial Stadium. At 70 feet high, the new/old foul pole is 20 feet shorter than the previously used pole and requires a more modest support structure, which allows more fans in seats in the lower, club and upper deck levels to have an unobstructed view of the field. The foul poles were returned to their original positions when the ballpark was reconfigured to its original dimensions after the 2001 season.

SEATING

Every aisle seat in the park bears an extra feature: a reproduction of the 100-year old logo used by the Baltimore Orioles of the 1890's, a National League team that won consecutive pennants in 1894-95-96.

The lower deck comprises some 18,000 box seats between the foul poles. Behind the lower boxes are some 6,800 terrace box seats. Seats in the lower stand are generally closer to the field. From the front row of seats to first and 3rd bases, for example, the distance is 45'. From home plate to the screen measures 59'.

The Mezzanine, or Club Level, stretches from the right field foul pole ground to left-center field and is accessible by escalators, elevators, stairs, and ramps. There is waiter service available at the seats and behind the seating area on the club level concourse is a climate-controlled lounge with private dining and bar areas.

Also on the Club Level are 72 luxury suites, each containing 10 to 14 seats. These suites are leased on a yearly basis from $89,000 to $285,000. There are a number of suites that are available for rent on an individual game basis, several of which hold 10-18 people, and three larger party suites which can accommodate groups of up to 60 people.

The Upper Deck contains 25 rows of seats (the first 12 are boxes, the last 13 reserved seats) and has a gentle slope of 31 degrees (Memorial Stadium, like many parks, was 33 degrees). A sun roof was constructed to cover half of the upper deck seating area.

Some 1,850 Eutaw Street Reserve seats, among the most popular in the park, are located in right-center field. There are also standing room only tickets that go on sale two hours before game time. The SRO areas are found on the right field flag court and just above the visitor's bullpen in left field.

Total seating capacity in the ballpark is 48,190. More than 400 seats are available to fans with disabilities in the equal access areas (EA), which are located throughout the ballpark.

ACCESSIBILITY/PARKING

Camden Yards is easily reached via rail, bus and subway lines as well as 4 major highways (I-95, I-83, I-70 and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway). The MARC train and light rail trains both have stops directly on site. About 4,000 parking spaces are located south of the park on-site and numerous spaces are located in garages and lots within walking distance of the ballpark.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO ORIOLE PARK

Since Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened in 1992, a number of exciting improvements have been made to help enhance the "Oriole Park Experience"...

- Prior to and during the early part of the 2000 season, the entrance area to the Homeplate Elevator Lobby was redesigned to provide a new floor covering, new wall finishes and redesigned elevators.
- The first floor lobby of the Warehouse at 333 W. Camden Street was redesigned from floor to ceiling to provide improved traffic flow and to accentuate the original structural and architectural elements of the Warehouse.
- The fourth floor lobby of the Warehouse also was refinished and improved to create a fresher, more enjoyable experience for those using party facilities and club level ticket holders who use this entrance to the ballpark.
- Expanding on improvements made during the 1999 season, the ticket reader system used at the turnstiles was upgraded. The ticket entrances were enlarged and the reader system itself was expanded to allow more types of tickets to be fed through the turnstile readers, providing fans a smoother, quicker entry to the ballpark.
- In an on-going project that began in early 1999, the Orioles offices located in the B & O Warehouse have undergone major renovations in order to give the offices a warmer look. In addition to redesigned office space, new artwork and artifacts are displayed in the lobby and in the glass entry doors.
- Prior to the 1999 season, an Upper Deck Fan Assistance Center was constructed in the Homeplate Elevator Lobby.
- Homestead Gardens, based in Davidsonville, MD, entered into a partnership with the Orioles starting in 1998 to help beautify Oriole Park and its surrounding grounds with flowers and plants.
- Prior to the 1999 season, the warning track surrounding the playing field was painted a shade of brown to more closely match the color of the infield dirt and to complement the colors of the B&O Warehouse.
- The Club Level and Suites have undergone a complete refurbishing, including new furniture, wallpaper and carpeting. The alcove lounges on the Club Level have been named and decorated in themes, providing greater ambiance for fans and making it easier to meet friends at a designated area, such as the "All-Star Lounge," "Hall of Fame Lounge" and "MVPs Lounge." Photos and records of each Oriole team beginning in 1954 adorn the corridors. Orioles Hall of Fame banners have been hung outside the party suites in the left field area of the Club Level.
- Smoking was banned from the seating bowl in 1993.

Plaques and other displays around the ballpark honor various athletic accomplishments...

- Orioles Hall of Fame: Located at the north end of the warehouse on the wall at the base of the scoreboard, plaques honor the members inducted annually and are similar in appearance to those enshrined in Cooperstown. They feature the Oriole Hall of Famer's likeness and a brief description of his accomplishments.
- Orioles' Retired Numbers: 4-foot monuments, located at the north end of the warehouse in front of the Orioles ticket windows, honor the uniform numbers worn by Earl Weaver (4), Brooks Robinson (5), Cal Ripken Jr. (8), Frank Robinson (20), Jim Palmer (22) and Eddie Murray (33).
- The Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame: Located on the wall of Sections 1-3 on Eutaw Street, these plaques honor native Marylanders representing more than 30 different sports. The selection committee is comprised of 12 Marylanders with extensive sports backgrounds.
- Mid-Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame: As a tribute to baseball scouts over the years, the plaques are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.
- Cal Ripken Seat: To honor Cal's 278th career homer, surpassing Ernie Banks' major league record for home runs by a shortstop, the Orioles marked the spot where the ball landed (Section 86, Row FF, Seat 10) with a red seat. The homer came on July 15, 1993 off Scott Erickson, then with Minnesota.
- Eddie Murray Seat: To honor Eddie's 500th career home run, hit on September 6, 1996 off Detroit's Felipe Lira, the Orioles installed an orange seat in the right field bleachers where the ball landed (Section 96, Row D, Seat 23).
- Eutaw Street Home Runs: Brass baseball plates are embedded into the Eutaw Street sidewalk marking the spots where home runs cleared the right field fence wall. These plates contain the home run hitter's name, his team's logo, the distance the ball traveled, and the date the home run was hit.
- Plaques in the Oriole Park press box have been erected honoring three individuals: the late Rex Barney, Orioles public address announcer for more than 25 years; the late Vernon Joiner, longtime head of the club's famed press box attendants crew; and Bob Brown, the Orioles' public relations director for more than 25 years.
- Work was completed on repainting the entire steel "superstructure" of the ballpark. The work was begun prior to the 2000 season and completed during the year.

BALTIMORE'S ORIOLE

America's early colonists noticed a bird whose male bore the black and orange colors of Lord Baltimore, Maryland's founder. It was called a Baltimore oriole until the 1960s, when it was observed to interbreed with a bird called Bullock's oriole. The American Ornithologists' Union declared both would be considered a single species: Northern oriole. But later studies showed that, while the two birds sometimes interbreed, the offspring rarely pass along their genes. In 1994, the Baltimore oriole recovered its status as a species.

BALLPARK TOURS

Over the past 10 years, more than a half-million fans have toured Oriole Park at Camden Yards. In 2002, 50,000 people took a tour of the ballpark. That total included 14,000 fans in May, a number comprised largely of school groups on field trips. Ballpark tours are offered for the public as well as private groups daily from February 15 through mid-December, except on days when the Orioles play an afternoon game at home. Public tickets are available only at the Orioles Box Office, located at the north end of the B&O Warehouse. For group tour information, along with the public tour schedule and prices, visit www.theorioles.com, or call 410-547-6234.

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS: The Orioles had never led the AL in total or average attendance until 1995, then did it for five consecutive years. Last year, the Orioles failed to draw at least 3 million fans for the first time in Camden Yards history (excluding the strike-ended 1994 season), but still finished third in the American League and 10th in the majors in total and average attendance.

MORE THAN 35 MILLION SOLD: In eleven seasons at Oriole Park, the O's have drawn 36,395,930 fans for 851 home dates, an average of 42,768 per game. It took until their 32nd season and 2,286 dates for the Orioles to draw as many fans to their former home, Memorial Stadium, topping the Camden Yards total on August 16, 1985. Total attendance in 38 seasons (2,716 dates) at Memorial Stadium was 49,845,588.

LARGEST CROWDS, LARGEST SERIES: The Orioles had five sellouts in 2002, including the third-largest regular-season crowd in Camden Yards history on June 28 against Philadelphia (48,937). The regular season attendance record was set on July 7, 2001 when the Orioles drew 49,072 fans for their game against the Phillies. The only other regular-season game to top 49,000 fans was played on July 15, 2000, when 49,013 fans attended a game against Atlanta. It was not until 1999 that the Orioles drew more than 48,500 for a regular season game, a feat they have now accomplished on 11 occasions, including twice in 2002: June 28 (48,937) and June 29 (48,692), both vs. Philadelphia.

In 1998, the Orioles drew both the largest three-date and four-date series in Camden Yards history. The Aug. 21-23, 1998 series vs. Cleveland drew the largest three-date total in park history, 144,784. The top four-date series was 192,494 for the July 9-12, 1998 set with Boston.

The Orioles have drawn 40,000 or more fans on 661 of 851 regular season dates at Oriole Park (78%). They have drawn 47,000 or more for 222 dates, including five in 2002.

Oriole Park's four largest crowds of all-time came during the 1997 post-season, topped by the 49,137 fans who attended Game 3 of the Division Series vs. Seattle. The three games vs. Cleveland in the 1997 American League Championship series also drew more than 49,000 fans.

SMALLEST CROWDS: A weeknight game against the Toronto Blue Jays on September 16, 2002 drew the smallest crowd ever to see a game at Oriole Park -- 20,279.

TELEVISION

Announcers: Michael Reghi, Jim Palmer

Comcast SportsNet and the Orioles Television Network will combine to telecast 144 regular season and 2 spring training games during the 2003 season.

The Orioles Television Network was established last year as a separate media company to produce, sell and market games to television stations through the region, from southern Pennsylvania to North Carolina, from West Virginia to Delaware and throughout Maryland and Washington, DC. WJZ (Channel 13) and WNUV (Channel 54) in Baltimore, along with WPXW-TV (Channel 66) in Washington, DC, will serve as the network's flagship stations this season. Orioles Television will produce 56 regular season games for over-air telecast. In addition to the stations in Baltimore and Washington, 14 affiliate stations in Maryland, southern Pennsylvania and Virginia also will air Orioles Television Network games this season.

Comcast SportsNet will produce 88 regular season and 2 spring training games this year. Comcast has televised Orioles games on cable since 1984, originally under the Home Team Sports (HTS) logo. Comcast SportsNet serves more than 4.2 million households through its cable system and satellite services in the Capital Region, which includes all of Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and Washington, DC and part of West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

In addition to game broadcasts, Comcast SportsNet will produce a weekly, half-hour program on Orioles baseball featuring highlights and interviews.

Michael Reghi and Jim Palmer return to call the action for both the Orioles Television Network and Comcast SportsNet. A third broadcast teammate, replacing Mike Flanagan (who now is the Orioles Vice President for Baseball Operations) was still to be determined as the media guide went to press.

In total, 148 of the Orioles' regular season games will be televised on local, regional or national television this season, with Fox Television carrying two Saturday games.

MICHAEL REGHI

One of the most versatile broadcasters in television sports, Michael Reghi begins his seventh season as the play-by-play voice of Orioles baseball on the Orioles Television Network and Comcast SportsNet.

Reghi is one of a select few announcers who serve as the primary play-by-play voice of all televised games for two professional sports franchises in the same year. In addition to his work with the Orioles, Reghi has served as the lead television play-by-play announcer for the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers for the past nine years. He also hosts "Cavs Fastbreak," a weekly magazine show about the team.

For the past two seasons, Reghi added play-by-play duties for the nationally ranked University of Cincinnati Bearcats basketball squad to his growing list of credentials. He also continues to call basketball games for various collegiate conferences on ESPN Plus and Fox Sports Net.

A native of Detroit, Michael also has handled play-by-play duties for the Canadian Football League and college basketball coverage on ESPN and ESPN2, as well as Big Ten football coverage on PASS Sports. He also served as play-by-by announcer for the Cleveland Browns' preseason games in their return to the NFL in 1999 and was the pre-game host of Cleveland Indians telecasts for SportsChannel-Ohio from 1992-1996.

After beginning his career in 1980 as a sports anchor for WLIO TV in Lima, Ohio, Reghi moved forward to WNWO TV in Toledo, Ohio and WEWS TV in Cleveland in 1983. He became sports director at Toledo's WTVG TV in 1986 and also hosted post-game call-in radio programs for Cleveland's all sports station, WKNR Radio, following Cleveland Indians and Cleveland Browns games from 1991-96.

When he is not at a ballgame, Michael fills his time with tennis, golf, theater and work with Baltimore's Big Brothers and Big Sisters programs. He also appeared as a baseball-playing extra in the 1978 film, "One in a Million," the story of former Detroit Tigers outfielder Ron LeFlore.

Reghi was an All-City linebacker and third baseman when he attended Detroit's Cass Tech High School. He graduated from Arizona State University in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in television and mass communications.

JIM PALMER

The winningest pitcher in Orioles history, Hall-of-Famer Jim Palmer returns for his 11th season as an analyst on Orioles television broadcasts, and will also handle some some play-by-play duties. He previously had done some play-by-play and analyst work on Oriole broadcasts on Home Team Sports and on WMAR-TV. Jim's biography and pitching record can be found on page 404.

RADIO

Announcers: Jim Hunter, Fred Manfra, Steve Stewart and Chuck Thompson

WBAL (1090 AM) is in its 16th consecutive season as the flagship station for the Orioles radio network. The 2003 season also marks the 38th time since Baltimore returned to the major leagues 49 seasons ago that WBAL has originated Orioles broadcasts. The station first carried Orioles games in 1957, the club's fourth season.

This is the third year of the Orioles' partnership with Clear Channel Communication to broadcast all Orioles games in the Washington, D.C. and Northern Virginia metropolitan area. The majority of the games will air on WTEM (980 AM). In all, there are 16 stations on the Orioles Radio Network, covering four states and the District of Columbia. In addition, members of the military stationed overseas have the opportunity to listen to Orioles games on the American Forces Radio Network.

JIM HUNTER

Veteran broadcaster Jim Hunter is in his 7th year as a member of the Orioles and WBAL Radio broadcast team. He was named to the post on February 5, 1997 and brings to the booth 25 years of diversified broadcasting experience that ranges from Major League Baseball to the NFL to the Olympic Games.

Hunter, 44, came to Baltimore from CBS Radio Sports, where he had been since 1982. He had been a member of the network's "Game of the Week" announcing team since 1986. He broadcast the American League Championship Series, teaming with Johnny Bench from 1990-92, and with the Orioles first radio voice, Ernie Harwell, in 1993. In 1995, he called the National League Division Series and the NLCS, teaming with Jerry Coleman. In 1996, he called the National League Division Series in which the Atlanta Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals in a thrilling 7-game series. In addition, Hunter hosted "Inside Pitch," the CBS Radio Sunday Night Baseball pre-game show.

During the off-season, Jim hosts the weekly Orioles "Hot Stove" show on WBAL, live from the Orioles Grille in the Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel. The past four offseasons, Jim announced college basketball for Comcast Cable Network in addition to his many appearances in the community on behalf of the ballclub as well as helping various charities.

When Jim began his career at CBS in '82, he served as the Saturday evening anchor of Sports Central USA. He was later assigned to host Sportsbreak, a daily feature heard on CBS Radio from 1984-87. It was in 1987 that Jim was named full weekend anchor of Sports Central USA.

Jim's experience is varied and all-inclusive. In 1992 from Albertville, France and again in 1994 from Lillehammer, Norway, Hunter served as a studio anchor for CBS Radio's network coverage of the Winter Olympic Games. Also, he was the host for the NFL Preview and NFL pre-game and halftime reports. Jim has covered 12 Super Bowls. He began his broadcasting career in 1978 at WJLK Radio in Asbury Park, NJ.

A 1973 graduate of St. Benedict School and a 1977 graduate of St. John Vianney High School in Holmdel, NJ, Hunter was inducted into his high school's athletic Hall of Fame in 1994. He attended Brookdale Community College and is a 1982 graduate of Seton Hall University in South Orange, NJ.

His peers have recognized Hunter for his accomplishments on several occasions. This offseason, The National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association named him the 2002 Maryland Sportscaster of the Year. He also received the prestigious Radio/TV Media Excellence Award from the New Jersey Sportswriters Association in 1998.

Jim resides in Fallston, MD with his wife, Bonnie. They have three children: Jimmy (18), Jeffrey (16), and Allie (12) and a faithful dog named Garth.

FRED MANFRA

It appeared inevitable that Fred Manfra's career plans would lead him to broadcasting Orioles games on the radio. One of his athletic highlights is hitting a double off the left field wall at Memorial Stadium in an American Legion game, and under his photo in the Patterson High School (class of '64) yearbook it says, "Fred's...future plans are in...Radio-T.V. work."

The Baltimore native returns for his 11th season as radio voice of the Orioles. The award-winning sportscaster came back to Charm City and WBAL Radio in 1993 after doing 22 sports shows every weekend since 1981 on more than 500 stations for the ABC Radio Information Network.

Manfra worked for ABC Radio for 15 years, hosting weekend sports programs, along with a number of other assignments for the network.

When he moved into the Orioles broadcast booth in '93, it wasn't the first time he'd been heard doing O's games. In 1991, he did a series at Memorial Stadium and before that, in the late '70s, he periodically filled in on games for WBAL radio. His baseball experience also included a stint with the Detroit Tigers on cable television in 1980.

Baseball is only one of many sports Manfra has announced. His resume includes some of the most prestigious events in the business, including NBA Finals and NBA All-Star Games (1985-91), 1984 Olympic men's and women's basketball and 1988 Olympic ice hockey, NHL Stanley Cup Finals and All-Star Game (1991), the Breeder's Cup (2000-2002) and horse racing's Triple Crown races (Kentucky Derby, Preakness at Pimlico and the Belmont Stakes) from 1982-2002.

His Olympic assignments have been varied and have taken him around the globe, including Sarajevo, Yugoslavia and Los Angeles (in 1984), Calgary and Seoul, South Korea (in 1988), Albertville, France and Barcelona, Spain (1992) and Lillehammer, Norway in February, 1994. His assignments have included men's and women's basketball in 1984 and ice hockey in 1988, as well as anchoring the Opening and Closing Ceremonies, other play-by-play and hourly updates.

Fred began his radio career in the early '70s at KREL in Corona, CA. He moved eastward with stops in Ventura, CA (KBBQ-FM/KBBY-FM); Davenport, IA (KSTT-AM); Milwaukee (WRIT-AM) and Detroit (WWJ-AM) in addition to AP Radio Network Sports in Washington, D.C., before settling in the New York area with ABC Network Radio.

He has done college football and basketball for the University of Iowa (1975) and the University of Michigan (1979-80), as well as USFL and Arena football, New York Knicks basketball, boxing and wrestling. He also had done voice work for Madison Square Garden and for professional football team highlights films and the Sports Year in Review for ABC Radio Network (1983-1998). Along the way, he has received numerous awards for his live action and studio reports. In 1996, Fred was inducted to the Patterson High School Hall of Fame, the same year Orioles owner Peter Angelos was also honored by the school.

Fred and his wife, Marlene, live in Fallston, MD and are active in local charity work with the Kidney Foundation of Maryland, the Mercy society and the Salvation Army. They have two daughters, Michelle, who is in business in the Towson area, and Stephanie, a former All-Harford County basketball player who is a senior at the University of Florida.

STEVE STEWART

Steve Stewart returns for his fourth year as a part-time Orioles broadcaster. Steve fills in when Fred Manfra is broadcasting horse racing's Triple Crown in the spring and he also joins Manfra and Jim Hunter during Sunday broadcasts when the Orioles are playing at home.

Stewart, 40, is the morning sports anchor on WBAL Radio's Dave Durian morning show and hosts sports talk shows and other sports programming for the station. He also does occasional work for WBAL-TV 11. This is his 12th season in baseball, having previously broadcast Triple-A minor league games in Calgary, Canada and Richmond, Virginia. He also called the action for the University of South Carolina baseball team.

Last season, in addition to his work on the Orioles network, Stewart did fill-in work on the St. Louis Cardinals radio broadcasts.

A St. Louis native, Stewart graduated from Southern Methodist University in Dallas in 1985. His first job out of school was as broadcaster and public relations director for the Dallas Sidekicks of the Major Indoor Soccer League. He also spent five years in television news and sports in Nebraska, Illinois and Missouri.

Stewart lives in Ellicott City with his wife, Cindy. They have three children: Enrique (8), Emilio (6) and John (4).

CHUCK THOMPSON

On February 9, 1993, the long-overdue word came from Cooperstown that Chuck Thompson officially belonged in the Hall of Fame, an honor Orioles fans knew years before. His place was secured when he was named the winner of the 1993 Ford C. Frick Award. With that distinction, he took residence in the broadcaster wing alongside the likes of Harry Caray, Vin Scully, Jack Buck and former Orioles announcer Ernie Harwell, among others. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame on Aug. 1, 1993.

A longtime legend in our town, Chuck was coaxed out of a 3-year retirement and returned to the radio booth in 1991 on a part-time basis. Chuck's voice has evoked memories for Baltimore sports fans for over half a century, beginning with the International League Orioles in 1949.

He was a veteran announcer before arriving in Baltimore, having started his career in 1939 at WRAW in Reading, Pa. From there, he went to Philadelphia's WIBG in '42 to call Temple University football. He served in the Army during World War II and saw action in 3 major European campaigns. After the war, he returned to Philadelphia, doing radio for the Phillies and Athletics in baseball, the Warriors in basketball, Eagles in football and Rockets in ice hockey.

The 2003 season marks Chuck's 54th year of broadcasting in Baltimore! He came to Baltimore in 1949 and became the voice of the International League Orioles and also did the All-America Conference Colts and Navy football as well as Bullets basketball. In 1955, he joined the National Brewing Company's team of announcers and during a 24-year association, did American League Orioles games in 1955-56 and again from 1962-87. In between, he was the radio voice of the Washington Senators ('57-'61).

In 1959 and 1960, Chuck was on television doing NBC-TV's Game of the Week, including the 1960 World Series call of Bill Mazeroski's famous game-winning, 9th-inning home run which won the 7th and deciding game for Pittsburgh. He later did Orioles World Series games on national television in '66, '69, '70 and '71.

Equally acclaimed as the announcer for Baltimore Colts football, Chuck called the "Greatest Game Ever Played," the classic overtime contest for the 1958 NFL title between the Colts and the New York Giants. He also worked the Colts-Packers overtime contest for the NFL's Western Division title in 1965 for CBS-TV.

He has been named the outstanding broadcaster in Maryland by the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association on numerous occasions. In 1995, he was the first non-uniformed inductee into the Orioles Hall of Fame, receiving the Herbert Armstrong Award.

In a testament to his legendary status among Baltimore sports fans, the Orioles immortalized Chuck's likeness in a bobblehead doll giveaway in August 2002. The "talking" doll featured Thompson's call of Frank Robinson's 500th career home run and two of his most well-known on-air expressions, "Go to war, Miss Agnes!" and "Ain't the beer cold?"

Chuck is a golfing and fishing enthusiast and his wife, Betty, is an outstanding cook. He has 4 children, 12 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. The Thompsons split their time between homes in Timonium, MD, and Bradenton, FL.

FORD C. FRICK WINNERS

In addition to longtime Orioles voice Chuck Thompson, three other broadcasters with connections to the Birds have won the Ford C. Frick Award: Ernie Harwell ('54-'59), Herb Carneal ('57-'61), and Bob Murphy ('60-'61) also have been enshrined at Cooperstown with Chuck.
