JIM BEATTIE—EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Jim Beattie has combined the on-field experience he gained in nine years as a big league pitcher with an Ivy League background, an MBA degree and 12 previous years in major league front offices to bring knowledge, experience and an understated manner to his position as the Orioles' Executive Vice President for Baseball Operations.

Jim was named on December 4, 2002 to team with Mike Flanagan in overseeing all aspects of the Orioles' major league, scouting and player development areas. Beattie brings experience in each area to the Orioles front office.

Beattie, 50, served as vice president and general manager of the Montreal Expos for six seasons, from 1995 through 2001. In that role, he supervised the team's baseball operations, including the major league, player development and scouting departments. Prior to joining the Expos, he served as director of player development with the Seattle Mariners for six years beginning in 1989, where he was in charge of the minor league system and played a role in major league player acquisitions, contracts and scouting.

Beattie was drafted and signed with the New York Yankees in 1975 and went on to pitch nine seasons in the majors with the Yankees (1978-79) and Mariners (1980-86). In 203 games, he compiled a 52-87 record with a 4.17 ERA. As a rookie in 1978, he beat the Kansas City Royals in the American League Championship Series and pitched a complete game victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series. He also yielded Carl Yastrzemski's 3,000th career hit in 1979. Beattie ranks among Seattle's all-time leaders in wins (19th, 43), innings pitched (7th, 944.2), complete games (4th, 30), shutouts (5th, 6), strikeouts (9th, 563) and starts (6th, 147).

As a player, he served on the MLB Players' Association Executive Board from 1983 through 1986.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, Beattie earned a Master's in Business Administration from the University of Washington in 1989 before rejoining the Mariners in the front office. Among the players drafted and developed in the Mariners farm system during his tenure there were Alex Rodriguez, Shawn Estes, Jason Varitek and Derek Lowe.

Beattie was named the Expos' general manager on October 27, 1995, and over the next six seasons guided an organization that had the lowest revenues and payroll in major league baseball. Under Beattie, the Expos developed and brought to the majors such players as Vladimir Guerrero, Jose Vidro, Javier Vazquez and Michael Barrett. He had the second longest tenure among Montreal's 10 general managers, after original GM Jim Fanning. Beattie resigned following the 2001 season, but returned to the Expos in 2002 as a special assistant to then-Expos GM Omar Minaya, serving primarily in a scouting capacity.

Beattie was born in Hampton, VA, but grew up in South Portland, ME, graduating from South Portland High School. He and his wife, Martha, have three teenage children, son Sam and daughters Neil and Sarah. They live in the Roland Park section of Baltimore.

MIKE FLANAGAN—VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

After pouring a quarter-century into the Baltimore Orioles as a player, coach, instructor and broadcaster, Mike Flanagan took on a new role two years ago when he was named Vice President of Baseball Operations for the organization. Professionals in the game have long been impressed with his insight and skills as an evaluator of talent and of people, and his move into the front office was as smooth as his pitching delivery.

The Orioles Hall of Famer became the first former Cy Young Award winner ever to assume a general manager-level position in baseball when he was named to his post on December 4, 2002. He has been involved with the Orioles for most of the last 13 years since he retired as a player in 1992. In addition to his coaching and broadcasting roles, he also served in an advisory capacity to Orioles' Chairman and CEO Peter Angelos after stepping down as pitching coach for the second time in 1998.

"Flanny" compiled a 167-143 record and 3.90 ERA in 18 major league seasons with the Orioles and Blue Jays, including a 141-116 mark over 15 seasons with the Orioles. He won the American League Cy Young Award in 1979, when he went 23-9 with a 3.08 ERA. He was a member of two American League championship teams with the Orioles, in 1979 and 1983, as well their 1983 World Championship team.

Flanagan was drafted and signed by former Orioles scout John Stokoe in 1973 and made his major league debut in 1975. In 1979, he led the league with 23 wins and 5 shutouts and was the AL Cy Young Award winner as the Orioles won the AL title and advanced to the World Series before losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates. In 1983, when the Orioles won their last World Championship, Flanagan went 12-4 during the regular season despite missing nearly three months with ligament damage in his left knee. From 1977 through 1983, he made more starts (223) than any other pitcher in the American League and was third in wins (109) over that time.

In 1987, he was traded to Toronto and pitched for the Blue Jays for 3 1/2 years, helping them win the American League East in 1989. A starter his entire career, he returned to the Orioles in 1991, this time as a reliever and made 63 appearances out of the bullpen. On October 6, 1991, in the last game played at Memorial Stadium, Flanagan entered in relief with one out in the 9th inning and to the overwhelming delight of 50,700 sentimental fans, struck out Detroit's Dave Bergman and Travis Fryman to become the last Oriole to throw a pitch on 33rd Street. He finished his career with the Orioles in 1992 when they moved to Camden Yards.

Flanagan was elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame in 1994, his first year of eligibility. He ranks 3rd in club history in games pitched (450), innings pitched (2,317.2) and starts (328), 4th in strikeouts (1,297) and complete games (98), 5th in victories (141) and 7th in shutouts (17).

Mike served as Orioles pitching coach in 1995, then spent two years as an analyst on Orioles television broadcasts. He returned to the field in 1998 as pitching coach before returning again to the broadcast booth, where he spent the past four seasons. In addition to his broadcasting duties, he served as an instructor during the Orioles winter workouts at Camden Yards and during spring training in Fort Lauderdale, FL.

Flanagan, a native of Manchester, NH, is a third-generation pro baseball player. Both his grandfather and father, Ed Sr. and Ed Jr., played in the Boston Red Sox organization. Mike attended the University of Massachusetts, where he played baseball and freshman basketball. While at UMass, he faced Julius Erving and Rick Pitino in a frosh-varsity basketball game.

Mike and his wife, Alex, reside in Sparks, MD. He has three daughters, Kerry, Kathryn and Kendall.

EDWARD P. KENNEY—DIRECTOR, BASEBALL ADMINISTRATION

Ed Kenney is in his fifth season in the Orioles front office. In February 2002, he was named Director of Baseball Administration, assisting in the day-to-day business of the baseball operations department.

Kenney, 48, joined the Orioles in October 2000 as Special Assistant to the Vice President for Baseball Operations after 17 years working in the front office of the Boston Red Sox, where he followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather.

Following his graduation from Boston College in 1978, Ed spent five years working in the Red Sox minor league system, beginning in October 1978 as business manager for AA Bristol in the Eastern League. In 1982, he was named general manager at Bristol and continued in that capacity when the franchise moved to New Britain in 1983.

In November 1983, he joined the Boston Red Sox as administrative assistant for minor league operations. Four years later, he was named director of minor league operations and continued overseeing the Red Sox farm system until August 1999, when he was named Assistant General Manager.

Ed's father, Edward F. Kenney, retired as Vice President for Player Development in 1992 after 46 years with the Red Sox. Ed's grandfather, Tom Kenney, also worked for the Red Sox for many years, beginning in the late 1930s.

Ed and his wife, Debbie, have two sons, Patrick, 16, and Matthew, 14. They live in Ellicott City, MD.

DAVID STOCKSTILL—DIRECTOR, MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS

David Stockstill, a member of the Orioles' minor league staff for the past 11 years, was named as the club's Director of Minor League Operations on November 3, 2004.

Stockstill, 47, served as a roving hitting instructor, manager, field coordinator and hitting coordinator for the Orioles' minor league department since 1994 before being elevated to the top farm system post. For the last two years, he held the dual role as the organization's Minor League Field and Hitting Coordinator, overseeing on-field instruction throughout the Orioles' farm system.

Stockstill played professionally for 16 years after signing with the Chicago Cubs as a free agent in 1978. He played eight seasons between the Cubs, Rangers, Giants and Expos farm systems, including three seasons at AAA Oklahoma City, before moving to the Mexican League in 1986. He hit .283 with 27 homers and a league-leading 101 RBI with Class A Geneva in 1979, capturing Midwest League MVP honors. He finished his career by playing eight seasons in Mexico, including the last 1 1/2 years as a player-manager for Union Laguna, and finished with a .342 career batting average, third on the Mexican League's all-time list.

In 1994, he joined the Orioles' organization as a roving hitting instructor, a position he held through 2001. The next year, he was named Minor League Field Coordinator before taking over as manager at AA Bowie for the second half of the 2002 season and leading the Baysox to a 26-26 record.

A native of Springfield, MO, Stockstill resides in Crane, MO. He was an all-state baseball and basketball player at Hurlay (MO) H.S. He is a graduate of John Brown University in Arkansas, where he was a two-time NAIA All-America and played for former major league outfielder and former O's minor league hitting coordinator Wally Moon.

JOE JORDAN—DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Joe Jordan was named Director of Scouting on November 16, 2004, joining the Orioles after eight seasons with the Montreal Expos and Florida Marlins.

Jordan, 43, spent the last two years as National Crosschecker for the Marlins. He began his scouting career in 1997 as an area scout for the Expos before being named Midwest Supervisor in 2001. He moved into the same capacity with Florida when most of Montreal's front office staff moved to the Florida organization in 2002, and was named National Crosschecker a year later.

Jordan was drafted as a catcher in the 19th round of the 1985 draft by San Francisco. He batted .213 in 33 games for Everett, the Giants' Class A team in the short-season Northwest League in 1985, but was injured the following spring and was released at the end of spring training. He returned to his alma mater, the University of Oklahoma, received his degree in 1987 and spent three years as an assistant baseball coach for the Sooners, 1988-90.

Jordan spent seven years in the financial investment business before returning to baseball as a scout for the Expos in 1997.

Jordan and his wife of 20 years, Kim, live in Blanchard, OK, with their daughter, Alexandra, 11.

ORIOLES IN THE COMMUNITY: BEYOND THE YARD

The Orioles recognize the value of support from the community and believe it is important for the organization to give back by being involved in local programs and initiatives. In addition to partnering with existing charities and organizations, the Orioles have also created several initiatives of their own under the current ownership group. Below is a brief summary of some of those efforts undertaken in the past year.

BAITMORE ORIOLES CHARITABLE FOUNDATION & BALTIMORE ORIOLES, INC.

The Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Baltimore Orioles, Inc. support many civic and charitable organizations with the goal of enriching the lives of fans in the community. Since the ownership group headed by Peter Angelos purchased the team, the Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Baltimore Orioles, Inc. have donated $7.5 million to support various organizations in the Orioles community.

ORIOLES FOOD DRIVE

A record-setting amount of non-perishable food and personal items and monetary donations were collected for the Maryland Food Bank during the Orioles' 17th annual food drive, held last July at Camden Yards. The Orioles, Orioles Wives, WJZ-TV employees and Oriole Advocates collected 11,050 pounds of food and $12,300 in cash from fans attending games during the three days, more than doubling any previous year's total in both categories. The food was then distributed to soup kitchens, food pantries and shelters throughout Maryland. Cash donations were used to purchase turkeys for Thanksgiving.

ORIOLES/AMERICAN RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVES

The Orioles teamed with the University of Maryland Medical Center and the American Red Cross to hold two blood drives at Camden Yards in September in remembrance of the September 11, 2001 tragedy. Participants received a pair of tickets to that weekend's Orioles-Yankees game. A total of 135 units of blood were collected, making it the Orioles' most successful blood drive ever. Second baseman Brian Roberts promoted the event by appearing in a Public Service Announcement encouraging people to donate blood, visiting the blood drive to sign autographs for donors and participating in an on-field ceremony with the American Red Cross.

KID'S CHRISTMAS PARTY AT ESPN ZONE

In December, the Orioles hosted 90 children from Samuel Coleridge Taylor Elementary School for their annual Children's Christmas Party. Held at ESPN Zone in the Inner Harbor, students enjoyed lunch and played games in the restaurant's Sports Arena. Orioles players B.J. Surhoff, Larry Bigbie, Matt Riley and Aaron Rakers signed autographs for and ate lunch with the children. Bullpen Coach Elrod Hendricks dressed as Santa Claus and delivered gifts from the organization to each student.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

The Orioles Summer Reading Program presented by Bank of America provided incentives to each of the 166 libraries in 23 Maryland counties that sponsor summer reading for children. Each child received a bookmark featuring Larry Bigbie, and 2,500 game tickets were distributed among the participants. In total, over 127,000 children in Maryland participated in summer reading programs. Orioles outfielders B.J. Surhoff and Jay Gibbons made appearances at local libraries to read to children as part of the program. In August, the top reader from each participating county was recognized in an on-field ceremony.

DAY AT THE BALLPARK

The Orioles hosted over 42,000 youth through their annual Safety Patrol Day (10,000), Day Camper Day (8,000), and Little League Days (24,000) last season. Little Leaguers had the opportunity to participate in a pre-game parade around the field at Camden Yards.

PLAYER AND BIRD APPEARANCES

Orioles players made nearly 50 appearances in the region and the Orioles Bird "flew" to over 200 destinations in the community in 2004. Orioles fans had the opportunity to meet their favorite players at locations including the Babe Ruth Museum, ESPN Zone, Baltimore Visitor's Center and local malls. The team also held their annual Winter FanFest in Baltimore in February and their Summer FanFest in Washington, DC in August.

HIGH FIVE FUNDRAISING PROGRAM

The Orioles High Five Fundraising program gives organizations the opportunity to sell Orioles tickets to generate funds for special programs such as school clubs or civic organizations. It allows groups to not only raise money for themselves, but also provides an opportunity for the group to participate in an activity together. The organization receives $5 for every ticket sold, and a variety of price categories and seat locations are available to fit any budget. In 2004, the Orioles helped raise almost $200,000 for hundreds of non-profit organizations.

"ORIOLES REACH"

Over 6,000 children from disadvantaged areas in the region were able to attend an Orioles game for free last season thanks to "Orioles Reach," a program that provided a game ticket, transportation to and from the game, a hot dog and soda, and an Orioles hat to underprivileged children.

DUGOUT CLUB

The Junior Orioles Dugout Club offers an affordable way for kids and their families to attend Orioles games and receive special rewards available only to members. The Club is essentially a mini-season ticket package for kids 6-14 years old. In 2004, in partnership with Staples office supply company, the Orioles donated $5 for every kit sold at local Staples stores to area Boys & Girls Clubs. Over $40,000 was raised for the organization. This season, Chick-Fil-A has partnered with the Orioles as presenting sponsor of the Dugout Club. A $3.00 donation per membership will be made to the University of Maryland Medical Hospital for Children.

ORIOLES 50th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION: "TURN BACK THE CLOCK" ONLINE JERSEY AUCTIONS

The Orioles held four separate online auctions of throwback player jerseys as part of the team's commemoration of their 50th anniversary. Replica jerseys from the 1950s, 1960s, 1970s and 1980s were worn by the Orioles and opposing teams during the season to celebrate each decade of Orioles baseball. The auctions raised thousands of dollars for The Orioles Charitable Foundation.

CARDBOARD TO LEATHER EQUIPMENT COLLECTION

The Oriole Advocates' Cardboard to Leather baseball equipment collection provides new and gently used baseball gloves, bats and other items collected from Orioles fans for children in developing countries in the Caribbean. An equipment collection held in August at Oriole Park netted hundreds of items for donation.

REVIVING BASEBALL IN THE INNER CITY (RBI) PROGRAM

The Reviving Baseball in the Inner City program encourages young adults ages 13-18 to stay in school and helps them to develop self-esteem while learning the skills and enjoyment of baseball. The program is a national Major League Baseball initiative administered and co-sponsored locally by the Orioles and Coca-Cola. Approximately 150 teenagers in Baltimore participated in the league last year.

K'S FOR KIDS

Each time an Orioles pitcher recorded a strikeout last season, CareFirst BlueCross BlueShield donated $25 to the American Cancer Society's "Healthy Kids" program. A total of $25,000 was raised for the program.

SAVES FOR SHOCK TRAUMA

Every time an Orioles pitcher recorded a save last season, MBNA made a donation to the University of Maryland Medical System's Shock Trauma center. A total of $24,000 was raised for the center.

SPORTS LEGENDS AT CAMDEN YARDS

In May 2005, the Babe Ruth Museum will open its expansion project, Sports Legends at Camden Yards, in the historic Camden Station building located at the north end of the warehouse. Covering 22,000 square feet and showcasing more than 10,000 artifacts, Sports Legends is an interactive, innovative tour of Maryland's sports heritage. The space will include exhibits on the Orioles, Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas, along with an in-depth look at the history of the Negro Leagues in Baltimore. Other exhibits include Maryland college sports, the Baltimore Ravens, and the Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame.

Opened in 1856, Camden Station had been unused since the 1980's prior to the renovations. In its heyday, the station was the grand passenger terminus of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the country's first commercial railroad. In 1954, the brand-new Baltimore Orioles franchise arrived at Camden Station from a season-opening series in Detroit for their first home game at Memorial Stadium.

Abraham Lincoln passed through the station on several occasions, once en route to his inauguration in 1861, and also on his way to deliver the Gettysburg Address. Lincoln's funeral car also stopped there on its way to Springfield, Illinois, for his burial. As part of the renovations, the Gentlemen's Waiting Room will be restored to its Civil War splendor and will interpret Lincoln's passages through Camden Station, the Civil War, and Camden Station's role in America's transportation history.

ORIOLE ADVOCATES

The Oriole Advocates, Inc. is a unique non-profit organization, dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. Founded in July 1960, the Advocates will celebrate their 45th anniversary this summer. Membership comprises some 75 men and women, drawn from a broad cross-section in the Baltimore area.

Through the years, the Advocates have made substantial financial donations to worthy causes, primarily to baseball-oriented youth organizations; have played a key role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace at 216 Emory Street and its conversion into the Babe Ruth/Orioles Museum; and in '77 established the Orioles Hall of Fame.

The organization has also served as an essential right arm to the Orioles Public Relations, Community Relations and Marketing Departments. In that connection, the Advocates initiated the popular Junior Orioles program (now the Dugout Club) back in '83, then administered it for 25 years. Membership in that program rose from 75 youngsters the first year to a record 20,000 in '77.

The Oriole Advocates don't get paid for anything they do. They are volunteers, constantly demonstrating the importance of competence and dedication whenever there is a job to be done.

ORIOLES DESIGNATED HITTERS

Now in their 26th year, the Orioles Designated Hitters are a group of volunteers from throughout the community that help the Orioles increase their season ticket sales base. Through their efforts, the Orioles were able to raise their season ticket sales from 1,600 in 1979 to more than 27,500 in 1992 when Camden Yards opened. The current role of the Orioles DHs includes helping the ballclub with ticket sales to businesses and organizations throughout the Orioles region.

Members of the 2005 Designated Hitters Advisory Committee include Glenn Batcock, Harry Baumohl, John Church, Hal Hackerman, Jack Hughes, Bill Jones, Bill Michael, Jody Parnassio, Reginald Warren, and Scott Zimmerman.

THE BABE RUTH BIRTHPLACE & MUSEUM

On February 6, 1895, George Herman "Babe" Ruth was born at 216 Emory Street in a Baltimore rowhouse located "just a long fly ball" from Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The Birthplace is one of the top baseball museums in the country, featuring an extensive collection of Ruthian artifacts and mementos, as well as serving as the official museum of the Baltimore Orioles and the archives of the Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas.

The Museum showcases different aspects of baseball in exhibits throughout the year. The Museum also hosts appearances by past, present and future Orioles and other Major League stars, as well as nationally known authors of sports publications for lectures and book signings.

Striving to exhibit its growing collection, the Museum plans to open Sports Legends at Camden Yards this May in Camden Station, which is adjacent to Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Orioles owner Peter Angelos has donated $1,000,000 to make the Camden Station project a reality. The historic train station will feature many displays on the Orioles and Ruth, a full-size theatre, virtual reality exhibits and hands-on children's learning areas, including a discovery room, classrooms and much more. The Museum will continue to maintain the current Babe Ruth Birthplace on Emory Street, with shuttle bus service between both sites. See page 17 for more information about the Sports Legends at Camden Yards.

For Museum hours, upcoming exhibits and other information, call the Babe Ruth Birthplace and Museum at 410-727-1539, or visit the Museum's web site at www.baberuthmuseum.com

COMING BACK

On May 26, 1999, in his 3rd major league season, left-hander Tony Saunders broke the humerus bone in his pitching arm while throwing a pitch for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays against the Texas Rangers at Tropicana Field. Following extensive physical therapy and a rehabilitation program over the next 15 months, Saunders took the mound for several minor league pitching assignments on his road back to the majors. On August 24, 2000, pitching for the Class A St. Petersburg Devil Rays, Saunders suffered a fracture of the same left humerus bone. Two days later, he announced his retirement. He was 26.

In the last 15 years, there are several other noted incidents of a major league pitcher suffering a broken arm while throwing:

- John Smiley, Cleveland Indians—Sept. 20, 1997...warming up in preparation for his start against the Royals at Kansas City...suffered a broken left humerus bone.
- Tom Browning, Cincinnati Reds—May 10, 1994...broken left arm while pitching vs. San Diego.
- Dave Dravecky, San Francisco Giants—Aug. 15, 1989...pitching at Montreal in the 6th inning...suffered broken left humerus bone.

Saunders reached the majors in 1997 with the Florida Marlins, appearing in the World Series that year. After the season, Tampa Bay made him the first overall selection in the Expansion Draft. He was in his 2nd year pitching for the Devil Rays when he suffered the broken arm.

Saunders joined Tampa Bay's front office as Assistant to Player Development and Scouting on October 31, 2000. After two years, he left to go into private business. After helping coach a Tampa AAU team during the summer of 2004, and discussing with doctors the condition of his arm, Saunders was convinced to attempt a comeback.

Orioles scout Ty Brown, who originally signed Saunders as an undrafted free agent for Florida in 1992, contacted him and the Orioles signed him to a minor league contract on January 19, inviting him to spring training.

- He is a 7-time National League All-Star (1995, 1998-2002, 2004) and a 6-time Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger Award winner (1995, 1998-2002).
- He won the 1998 National League Most Valuable Player Award and was runner-up in 2001.
- He has won NL Player of the Month honors 5 times (most recently in August 2001) and NL Player of the Week honors 11 times (most recently the week ending April 20, 2003).
- He is the only player in big league annals to have three 60-homer campaigns and is one of just 3 players (along with Babe Ruth and Mark McGwire) with four 50-homer seasons.
- He set the Major League single-month home run record by going deep 20 times in June 1998 and has had 21 double-digit homer months, most recently in July 2004.

189

- Since Opening Day 1998, he has hit 367 home runs (an average of 52 per season) while batting .296 with 790 runs scored, 555 extra-base hits and a .621 slugging percentage.
- He has homered in 40 different ballparks off 346 pitchers...Among ballparks in use in 2005, he has never homered at Camden Yards, Jacobs Field in Cleveland, or RFK Stadium in Washington.

THE 500 CLUB

Sosa became the 18th member of the prestigious 500-homer club on April 4, 2003 when he homered off Cincinnati's Scott Sullivan at Great American Ball Park.

- The homer came in his 7,036th big league at-bat...Only three players – Mark McGwire (5,487), Babe Ruth (5,801) and Harmon Killebrew (6,671) – reached the 500 level in fewer at-bats.
- At 34 years, 143 days of age, he became the third-youngest player to reach the 500 mark, behind only Jimmie Foxx (32 years, 337 days) and Willie Mays (34 years, 130 days).
- Sosa and Rafael Palmeiro (10th all-time with 551 home runs) are the first teammates with more than 500 home runs each. Their combined total of 1,125 homers entering the season is the most ever by teammates; the Yankees' Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig finished the 1934 season with 1,056...Ironically, Palmeiro hit his first career home run with the Cubs and his 500th with the Rangers; Sosa hit his first with the Rangers and his 500th with the Cubs.
- Sosa, from the Dominican Republic, and Palmeiro, born in Cuba, are the first and second foreign-born players to join the 500-homer club. Sosa hit his 500th homer on April 4, 2003, and Palmeiro did it five weeks later, on May 11, 2003.
- The Orioles will become the first team to have had 5 members of the 500 home run club play for them at some time in their career...Sosa joins Frank Robinson, Reggie Jackson, Eddie Murray and Rafael Palmeiro as current or former Orioles who hit 500 homers in their career...The Giants (Barry Bonds, Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Mel Ott) and Cubs (Sosa, Palmeiro, Jimmie Foxx and Ernie Banks) are the only other franchises that have had 4 of the 500-club members play for them.

2004 YEAR IN REVIEW

YEAR IN REVIEW—THE ORIOLES IN 2004

The Orioles went 78-84 in 2004, finishing with their best record since 1999. They ended the year in 3rd place in the American League East Division, snapping a string of six consecutive 4th place finishes.

STREAKY: The Orioles had 3 winning streaks of 5 or more games last season and 3 losing streaks of at least 7 games. They won 5 straight games in April but also had a pair of 7-game losing streaks in the first half. Their 8-game winning streak, August 3-10, was their longest since 1999. One week later, they suffered a 12-game losing streak, which was their longest since dropping the final 12 games of the 2002 season. Immediately after the 12-game skid, the O's won 6 games in a row.

LATE SURGE: Following their 12-game losing streak, the Orioles won 21 of their final 34 games of the year. They tied for the 2nd best record in the American League in September (15-10) and their 18 wins were the most in a month since winning 20 in September, 1999. The Orioles went 41-36 after the All-Star break, their first winning record in the second half since 1999.

HIGHS AND LOWS: The Orioles were a season-high 5 games over .500 and in first place in the American League East with a record of 10-5 on April 23. They stayed above the break-even mark for the first 39 games of the year until May 22. After falling to as many as 11 games under, the Birds rallied to a 57-59 mark before their 12-game losing streak dropped them to a season-high 14 games under .500 (57-71) on August 28.

ROAD WARRIORS: The Orioles went 40-41 on the road last season, which was the 5th best record in the American League. They were tied for 11th in the league with a 38-43 record at home. The Birds have not had a winning record at home over the last four seasons and their 142-180 mark is 2nd worst in the league over that time. The Orioles are 22-53 at home against New York and Boston (and 7 games under .500 versus all other opponents at Camden Yards) over the last four years.

LUMBER NUMBERS: The Orioles reached double figures in hits 86 times in 2004. They scored a season-high 14 runs on September 10 vs. New York and scored 13 runs on 3 occasions. They had a season-high 20 hits on August 10 at Anaheim. The O's had two 8-run innings: September 10 vs. New York (3rd inning) and August 15 at Toronto (8th). They scored at least 6 runs in an inning on consecutive nights, 6 in the 9th inning on May 30 at Detroit and 7 in the 6th inning on May 31 at Boston, and scored 5 runs in consecutive innings on September 17 at Minnesota. The Orioles banged out 11 extra base hits on July 20 at Kansas City (6 doubles, 5 homers), the 4th time in club history they've accomplished the feat.

BREAKING RECORDS: The Orioles broke several club offensive records in 2004. They were 3rd in the American League with a .281 batting average, topping the previous record of .279 set in 1999. The Birds also established club marks with 1,614 hits and 319 doubles.

REVERSAL OF FORTUNE: In the first half of the season, the Orioles were 13th in the American League with a .265 batting average with runners in scoring position. After the All-Star break, the Birds batted .301 with runners in scoring position, which was 2nd in the AL.

FEELING LEFT OUT: The Orioles led the American League with a .293 batting average against right-handed pitchers, but were next to last in the league with a .253 average against left-handers. The Orioles went 22-29 in games started by lefties last season. They are 68-114 against left-handers since 2001, the 2nd worst record in the AL over that time.

STUCK IN NEUTRAL: The Orioles were 5th in the AL with 101 steals and 6th with a 71.1% (101-142) success rate. They led the league with 60 stolen bases and an 80.0% success rate through the first 56 games of the season. They had just 41 stolen bases over their final 106 games, however, and were successful on just 61.1% (41-67) of their attempts.

RABBIT REDUX: On June 26, the Orioles named Ray Miller pitching coach for the remainder of the season, replacing Mark Wiley. Before Miller took over, Orioles pitchers were last in the American League with a 5.34 ERA in 69 games. In the 93 games under Miller, they posted a 4.24 ERA (829.2IP, 389ER), which was 2nd in the AL starting on June 26.

OFF TO A GOOD START: After Miller's arrival, O's starters allowed 2 earned runs or less in 45 of 93 games, posting a 4.44 ERA. Starters' ERA dropped from 5.94 to 5.05 over that time. Over the last 32 games of the year, Orioles starters went 14-7 with a 3.38 ERA. They did not allow more than one earned run in 14 of the 32 games.

DYNAMIC DUO: Sidney Ponson and Rodrigo Lopez (8-3 each) combined to go 16-6 with a 3.79 ERA in the second half. The Orioles were one of 5 American League teams to have a pair of teammates combine for 16 or more wins after the All-Star break.

BULLPEN BULLETINS: Orioles relievers were 7th in the American League with a 4.11 ERA. They were 2nd in the league with 482 strikeouts and a .245 opponents average. The O's bullpen was 2nd in the AL with a 2.93 ERA in 36 games through May 19, when the team had a 20-16 record. Starting May 20, when Rodrigo Lopez was moved from the bullpen to the starting rotation, Orioles relievers posted a 4.53 ERA.

SHUTTING THEM DOWN: On 8 occasions last year, Orioles relievers combined to pitch at least 5.0 innings without allowing an earned run. On July 2 at Philadelphia, they pitched 15.0 innings without allowing an earned run, allowing just 5 hits while walking 15 and striking out 18. The Birds set a Major League record by using 10 pitchers (9 relievers) in a 9-inning game on September 12 vs. New York.

AND THE WHIFF: The Orioles struck out 1,090 batters, the second-highest total in club history. They were 5th in the American League in strikeouts, with reliever B.J. Ryan leading the team with 122 strikeouts. He became the first pitcher to lead his team in strikeouts without starting a game since Toronto's Duane Ward accomplished the feat with 132 whiffs in 1991.

WALK THIS WAY: O's pitchers led the American League with 687 walks allowed on the season, and were one short of the club record of 688 bases on balls set in 1954. However, after walking 4.66 batters/9IP through their first 69 games, the Orioles walked only 3.94/9IP (829.2IP, 363BB) following Miller's arrival.

POWER OUTAGE: The Orioles allowed 159 home runs in 2004, tied with Boston for the fewest in the American League.

UNDER A DARK CLOUD: The Orioles suffered 9 rainouts last season, including 7 in the first half. It was the most games postponed by rain since 1996. The Birds played 7 doubleheaders, sweeping three, splitting three and getting swept in one.

AGAINST THE SENIOR CIRCUIT: The Orioles went 5-13 in interleague play last season against Arizona (1-2), San Francisco (1-2), Atlanta (1-2), Los Angeles (0-3), Colorado (1-2) and Philadelphia (1-2). It was the worst mark in the American League and the second straight year they went 5-13 against the National League. The Orioles are 56-83 in interleague play since it began in 1997, the worst record in the majors.

VS. THE AMERICAN LEAGUE: The Orioles went 73-71 against American League opponents in 2004. They went 37-39 against the AL East, their best mark versus divisional opponents since 2000. The Birds posted a winning record against every team in the division except New York, including their first season series win against Boston since 1996.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLE: Miguel Tejada was voted the winner of the 2004 Louis M. Hacker Most Valuable Oriole Award, presented annually by the Sports Boosters of Maryland. He set a club record with 150 RBI and was the 5th Oriole to lead the American League in RBI and the first ever to lead the Major Leagues in that category. Tejada played every game of the season (and 756 consecutive games, 11th longest streak in Major League history) and ranked among the league leaders in hits (4th, 203), doubles (9th, 40) and home runs (8th, 34). He also became only the 4th Oriole to top the 200-hit mark and led Cal Ripken for most home runs in a season by an Orioles shortstop.

ATTENDANCE JUMPS: The Orioles drew 2,747,529 fans to Camden Yards for 80 home dates in 2004, an average of 34,344 fans per game. Oriole Park total and average attendance was 5th in the American League and 12th in the majors. It was the largest home total in three seasons, and the 11.9 percent increase in attendance over 2003 was the 4th largest increase among AL teams, and 9th in the majors. Four of the National League clubs with larger increases had the impetus of new stadiums (Philadelphia, San Diego), hosting the All-Star Game (Houston) or were coming off a World Championship season (Florida), and the Orioles outdraw each of the other MLB teams with larger percentage attendance increases over '03 (Detroit, Tampa Bay, Texas and Milwaukee).

SINGLE GAME RECORD SET: The Orioles drew a Camden Yards record crowd of 49,696 fans for their June 22 game vs. the New York Yankees. The crowd eclipsed the previous paid attendance record of 49,549 set on June 28, 2003 for an Orioles-Phillies game, and is one of 10 games – five regular season and five post-season – ever to draw more than 49,000 fans at Camden Yards. The Tuesday night game also marked one of only six non-weekend dates among the 45 regular season games in Oriole Park's 13-year history to draw more than 48,000 fans. The June 24 game (a Thursday) vs. New York drew 48,442, making it the only non-weekend series to draw more than 48,000 fans for more than one game. The previous Camden Yards record for a weekday game prior to 2004 was 48,269 fans vs. the Yankees on June 17, 1998, a Wednesday.

YANKS PACK 'EM IN: The Orioles' 9 home dates vs. New York drew an average of 45,580 fans, but Camden Yards isn't the only place that sees attendance swell when the Yankees come to town: New York drew a major league-record 3,308,666 fans on the road this season, an average of nearly 41,000 fans a game away from Yankee Stadium.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS: The Orioles went 10-9 against the World Champion Red Sox last year, the first time they have won a season series against Boston since 1996. The two clubs split a 4-game series in Baltimore to begin the season. The Orioles won before a national audience on Opening Night as Javy Lopez homered in his first at-bat as an Oriole and later added a two-run double. The following week, a pair of games were rained out in Boston and the Birds won the only game of the series with five runs in the 11th inning. The Orioles returned to the Hub for a make-up game on Memorial Day and won, 13-4. The O's then won two of three games on their next trip to Fenway Park, July 21-22. In the series opener, David Newhan hit the first inside-the-park home run by an Oriole in 14 years. The clubs split a rain-shortened two-game series at Camden Yards in late July. The Orioles won the finale as Javy Lopez hit a pair of home runs and Dave Borkowski allowed 3 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings to defeat Curt Schilling. Lopez batted .382 with 9 home runs and 17 RBI against Boston last year. The Birds split their 4th and final trip of the year to Fenway Park in September. The Red Sox won the middle two games of the series in dramatic fashion, with a 2-run single by Mark Belhorne in the bottom of the 9th inning and a solo home run by Orlando Cabrera in the 12th inning the following night. The Sox won three of four games at Camden Yards to end the season, including a day-night doubleheader on October 2.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS: The Orioles went 5-2 against Texas last season... They won all four games in their first meeting at Camden Yards, August 6-9, their first 4-game sweep over the Rangers in Baltimore since 1991... The series extended the Orioles' winning streak at home against the Rangers to 9 games... The Birds outscored Texas 30-10 in the series and posted a 2.02 ERA over the four games... They drew 9 walks in the opener and jumped to an 8-0 lead after 4.0 innings... The next day, Rodrigo Lopez pitched 6.2 shutout innings to defeat former Oriole Scott Erickson, 3-1... The O's used a 5-run 5th inning on their way to an 11-5 win on August 8... They completed the sweep the next day as Melvin Mora hit his 19th and 20th home runs of the season to set a new career high... Mora batted .500 (12-24) with 3 home runs and 12 RBI against Texas last year... The series sweep against the Rangers completed only the second 7-0 homestand in club history... The Rangers won two of three in their next meeting in Arlington three weeks later... The Orioles dropped the first two games of the series to extend their losing streak to a season-high 12 games... They snapped the streak with a 7-6 win in the finale as Mora added 3 hits and 4 RBI.

ALL-TIME SERIES NOTES: The Orioles lost the season series to the Rangers in 2001 and 2002, the only time in the teams' history the Birds have lost the season series in consecutive years... Since the opening of Ameriquest Field in 1994, the Orioles have allowed 312 runs in 50 games, an average of 6.2 runs per game... The Birds have allowed seven or more runs in a game 19 times in Arlington... On 5/23/99, the Orioles scored a club record 10 runs in the first inning en route to a 15-6 win over the Rangers... Rafael Palmeiro became the first player to hit two home runs onto Euzav Stewell in the same game when he accomplished the feat against the Rangers on 4/11/97... The Rangers scored 26 runs against the Orioles on 4/19/96, including 16 runs in the eighth inning, which set an O's record for most runs allowed in a game and inning... On 6/7/96, the Orioles and Rangers played to a 1-1 tie when rain forced play to stop in the sixth inning... The two teams set an AL record on 8/6/86 when the Orioles' Jim Dwyer and Larry Sheets and the Rangers' Toby Harrah combined to hit three grand slams in a single game... Despite hitting both of their grand slams in the same inning, the Orioles blew a five-run lead and lost, 13-11... The loss plummeted the Birds from 2 1/2 games out of first to a string in which they lost 42 of their final 56 games and finished in last place for the first time in club history... Cal Ripken hit for the cycle against the Rangers on 5/6/84, making him only the second Oriole to do so (Brooks Robinson was the other, 7/15/60 vs. Chicago)... Texas and Baltimore combined for 41 hits (Rangers - 22, Orioles - 19) in 11 innings on 5/14/83.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD, PRESENTED BY JOHN HANCOCK

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award, sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball Club. These local winners are announced in September during Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre-game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Edgar Martinez, Jamie Moyer, Jim Thome, Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

John Hancock Financial Services, a company that has long recognized its obligation to the community, is a proud sponsor of Major League Baseball and the Roberto Clemente Award.

Jim Dwyer and Larry Sheets hit 4th inning grand slams for the Orioles, only the 5th time in history one club has hit 2 grand slams in an evening. Today Hamik hit Texas grand slam. Houston and the Chicago Cubs tied the record on June 3, 1987. TWO IN ONE GAME: Only 10 major leaguers have hit 2 grand slams in the same game and three times it has been done by an Oriole. Chris Holmes hit a pair of grand slams on Aug. 14, 1988 at Cleveland, connecting in the 3rd and 6th innings. Jim Gentile and Frank Robinson previously did it for the O's, and are among 4 players who have done it in consecutive at bats. Gentile hit slams in the 1st and 2nd innings at Minnesota on May 9, 1961. Robinson did it in the 5th and 6th innings at Washington on June 26, 1970. GENTILE HIT 5 IN 6: Gentile set an American League record and led the major league record then held by the Cubs' Ernie Banks when he hit 5 bases loaded home runs in '61. The Yankees' Don Mattingly broke the mark with 6 grand slams in '87. POST-SEASON SLAMMING PITCHERS: Mike Cuellar tossed home runs in '61. ## INSIDE THE PARK HOME RUNS

On August 22, '93, Texas Rangers (and former Orioles) outfielder Butch Davis cirded the bases on an inside-the-park home run, off Arthur Rhodes at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. It was the first ever hit in the new park and the first by a visiting player in Baltimore since 1960 when Washington's Lenny Green hit one off Jack Fisher on August 17.

On July 21, 2004, David Newhan hit an inside-the-park home run off Boston's Pedro Martinez at Fenway Park. It was the first by an Oriole since Phil Bradley accomplished the feat on June 8, 1960 at Memorial Stadium against the New York Yankees.

When Bradley cirded the bases, it was the Orioles' first inside-the-park home run since Al Bumbry did it against the Chicago White Sox on August 21, 1976 at Comiskey Park.

The Orioles allowed two inside-the-park home runs in 2003. Detroit's Shane Hater performed the feat on May 5 at Camden Yards off Pat Hentgen. Hentgen was victimized again on September 13 at Toronto, giving up an inside-the-park homer to Blue Jays catcher Greg Myers.

NOTES ON 20-GAME WINNERS

Although they have not had one in the past 20 seasons, Oriole pitchers have produced 24 20-win seasons in the past 36 years (starting in '68), more than any other major league club. The A's (17), Yankees (14), White Sox (12), Braves (12), Red Sox (11), and Dodgers (10) are the only other teams with more than nine in that time.

From '68 thru '80, a span of 13 years, at least one Oriole pitcher accumulated 20 or more victories to set a major league record. The old standard was 12 by the New York Giants from '03 to '14, a mark single-handedly assured by Christy Mathewson, who won 20+ in each of those years.

In 1971, four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win plateau. The only other foursome in the entire history of major league baseball to have achieved the feat was a quartet from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-25, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21, and Ed Cicotte-21. Despite that achievement, the White Sox finished second that year, two games behind Cleveland.

The four Orioles all won their 20th games within 5 days: Dave McNally was the first on 9/21, then in a series in Cleveland, the other three joined him: Mike Cuellar (9/24 -first game- clinched division title), Pat Dobson (9/24 -2nd game), and Jim Palmer (9/26).

Steve Stone was the earliest 20-game winner in club history, winning his 20th game on August 19 en route to a team record 25 victories in '80. Three other Orioles hurlers have recorded their 20th wins in August: McNally (8/25) and Cuellar (8/27) in '71 and Palmer (8/20) in '75.

The first Oriole to win 20, and the only one in the club's first 14 seasons in Baltimore (54 thru '67), was left-hander Steve Barber in '63.

TRIPLE PLAYS

The Orioles have executed 12 triple plays and hit into 16 in 51 seasons.

The Orioles pulled off their first triple play in eight seasons on September 1, 2000 at Cleveland. With Indians runners on first and second and none out in the 2nd inning, O's SS Melvin Mora allowed a short fly to left by Sandy Alomar to drop in front of him. The Cleveland runners - Travis Fryman at first and Wally Cordeiro at second - apparently thought the infield fly rule had been called; it wasn't. So Mora quickly picked up the ball and threw to 2B Jerry Hairston, who stepped on second base to force Cordeiro and tagged Fryman for the second out. Pitcher Sidney Ponson then took the ball from Hairston and, after a slight delay, tipped the ball to 1st baseman Jeff Conine for the third out on Alomar, who had begun to retreat to the dugout when the ball was hit into the air. After some discussion among the umpires and the ejection of Indians manager Charlie Manuel, the play stood and the inning ended.

The Orioles' previous triple play, and their last one at home, came August 25, 1962 at Oriole Park at Camden Yards against California. With Tim Salmon on 3rd and Chad Curtis on 1st, Gary Gaetti lined out to O's 3B Leo Gomez, who stepped on the bag to catch Salmon and threw to 1B Randy Milligan to triple up Curtis. That is the only triple play turned in by the Orioles at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

On the other hand, the O's have hit into 2 triple plays at Camden Yards. The most recent triple play involving the Orioles came April 3, '96, against Kansas City at Oriole Park at Camden Yards, when O's DH Bobby Bonilla grounded into a 5-4-3-2 triple play. With Roberto Alomar at 3rd and Rafael Palmeiro at 1st, Bonilla grounded to Royals 3B Joe Randa, who threw to 2B Bip Roberts for the force on Palmeiro. Roberts threw to 1B Bob Hamelin to get Bonilla, at which point Alomar tried to score from 3rd. Hamelin's throw to CA Sal Fasano was in time to nail Alomar to end the inning.

NOTES: The Gold Glove Awards were initiated in 1957 by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co. in cooperation with The Sporting News to acknowledge individual defensive excellence by a vote of managers and coaches in each league. Selection is based on a player's overall defensive ability, not simply on fielding percentage.

The Orioles have won a total of 58 Gold Gloves, more than any American League team since the awards were created.

Totals for each team: Cardinals 71; Orioles 58; Yankees 54; Reds 46; Pirates 43; Braves 42; Phillies 36; Red Sox 34; Tigers 36; Giants 35; Twins 34; White Sox, Cubs 32; Dodgers 33; Mariners 32; Rangers & Angels 30; Indians 28; Expos 21; Astros & Blue Jays 19; Royals, A's 18; Padres 17; Mets 14; Brewers 5; Rockies 9; Marlins 6; Diamondbacks 2.

Multiple Winners: A total of 12 Orioles have won multiple Gold Gloves. Leading the list is Brooks Robinson, whose 16 awards are matched only by pitcher Jim Kaat for the most won by an individual (Chicago's Greg Maddux leads all active players with 14 Gold Gloves). Other Oriole multiple winners: Paul Blair & Mark Belanger (8 each); Jim Palmer, Bobby Grich & Mike Mussina (4 each); Davey Johnson & Eddie Murray (3 each); Roberto Alomar, Luis Aparicio, Rafael Palmeiro & Cal Ripken (2 each, although Aparicio won a total of 6 in his ML career and Alomar has won 10).

ALL-STAR NOTES

FINAL CAL: 3B Cal Ripken, playing in his final All-Star Game, homered on the first pitch he saw in the 3rd inning and went on to win his second All-Star MVP Award in the 2001 All-Star Game at Seattle's Safeco Field. Ripken, the lone Oriole selected to play in the game, led off the inning and turned on the first pitch from Los Angeles' Chan Ho Park to give the American League a 1-0 lead it would not relinquish...It was the 19th time Ripken was either elected or selected to the AL All-Star squad, breaking Brooks Robinson's AL mark; he technically started at shortstop after Texas' Alex Rodriguez "pushed" him to the position and played third base himself in the first inning...Cal also won MVP honors in the 1991 game, homering at Toronto...With the 2001 home run, he became the oldest player to homer in an All-Star Game and the only Oriole to homer twice in All-Star play.

ALL-STAR STARTS/APPEARANCES: Ten different Orioles have been elected starters since fan voting was reinstituted in 1969...Cal Ripken was elected to start 18 years, 17 of those by fan vote...He was unable to play because of injury in 2000...Other Orioles elected to starting berths are Brooks Robinson (4 times), Roberto Alomar (3 times), Boog Powell & Frank Robinson (2 each), and Bobby Grich, Ken Singleton, Eddie Murray, Terry Kennedy and Brady Anderson (1 each).

ORIOLES ALL-STAR MVPs: The Orioles have had five different players who have earned All-Star MVP honors...In 2001, Cal Ripken became only the 4th player and the first American League player to win two All-Star Game MVP Awards when he took the honors in Seattle...Joined Willie Mays, Steve Garvey and Gary Carter as the only 2-time winners...Cal also won the MVP Award in 1991 at Toronto's SkyDome, going 2-for-3 with a 3-run homer off former teammate Dennis Martinez and a single off Cy Young-winner Tom Glavine to lead the AL to a 4-2 win...Cal became only the 3rd shortstop to hit an All-Star Game homer, joining Lou Boudreau (42) and Dick McCall (65)...In the home run hitting contest the day before the All-Star Game, Cal hit an incredible 12 homers in 22 swings to help the AL to a 20-7 pasting of the NL...Frank Robinson's 4th-inning homer at Detroit in the 1971 game put the AL ahead to stay and earned him MVP honors...It was the AL's first All-Star victory since 1962 and its last until 1983...Roberto Alomar earned the 1998 All-Star MVP award at Denver's Coors Field with a 3-for-4 performance including a HR and a stolen base in the American League's 13-8 win...Alomar, Ripken and Rafael Palmeiro combined for 6 hits, the most by teammates since seven Reds had 7 hits in 1976...Brooks Robinson won the trophy in St. Louis in 1966, going 3-for-4 with a triple at the plate and 8-for-8 fielding...He was the first player from a losing team to be so honored...Billy O'Dell hurled 3 perfect innings to save the AL's 4-3 win in Baltimore in 1958.

HOME RUN DERBY: A last-minute replacement to the 2004 Home Run Derby at Minute Maid Park in Houston, Miguel Tejada set records for home runs in one round (15) and overall (27) to win the contest...He was the second Oriole to win the derby, joining Cal Ripken, who hit 12 homers at Toronto's SkyDome in 1991.

ORIOLES ALL-STAR HOMERS: Cal Ripken's home run in 2001 was the 2nd of his career in an All-Star game and the 6th overall by an Oriole...The others were by Roberto Alomar (7/7/98 at Colorado off Trevor Hoffman, none on); Brooks Robinson (7/11/67 at Anaheim off Fergie Jenkins, none on); Frank Robinson (7/13/71 at Detroit off Dock Ellis, one on); and Ken Singleton (6/9/81 at Cleveland off Tom Seaver, none on).

BALTIMORE AS ALL-STAR HOST: The Orioles have played host to two All-Star Games...The 25th mid-season classic was held at Memorial Stadium in 1958, and the 64th All-Star Game was held at Camden Yards in 1993...On July 8, 1958, Orioles pitcher Billy O'Dell retired the final 9 batters as the AL posted a 4-3 win before 48,829 fans at Memorial Stadium...The Orioles' Gus Triandos was the starting catcher, and 11 future Hall of Famers saw action in the game...In its 2nd year of existence, Oriole Park at Camden Yards played host to baseball's first-ever All-Star Week, including the AL's 9-3 win on July 13, 1993...The game drew 48,147 fans...Cal Ripken was the only Oriole to appear in the game, going 0-for-3...Pitcher Mike Mussina was selected to the team but did not get into the game...FairFest, the baseball theme park that is now a part of All-Star Week, drew 111,883 visitors during the five-day celebration...Perhaps the most lasting memories from All-Star Week '93 came on Monday, July 12, at the annual Gatorade All-Star Workout...Juan Gonzalez crushed a ball off the facing of the upper deck in left field, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse during the home run hitting contest.

THE HISTORY OF THE ORIOLES

What do Black Sox, Elite Giants, Marylands, Monumentals, Orioles and Terrapins all have in common? They're all nicknames for professional baseball teams that have played in the city of Baltimore, dating back to the game's 19th century roots.

Baltimore first experienced professional baseball in 1872, when the Lord Baltimore's played their inaugural games in the old National Association. Ten years later, another incarnation of the Lord Baltimore's made its debut in the American Association; one year after that, the franchise adopted the name "Orioles," honoring Maryland's state bird. It was the first time the nickname would become affiliated with Baltimore's professional baseball team.

In 1884, the Orioles encountered some intra-city competition when the Baltimore Monumentals became one of the charter franchises in the new Union Association. By mid-season, the Monumentals had transferred to Lancaster, and by the end of one year, the new league was done.

Although both the American and National Associations have come to be regarded as major league by baseball historians, Baltimore stepped up a notch further when it joined the National League in 1892. Spearheaded by the skilled batting of Dan Brouthers, Joe Kelley and Willie Keeler, and the scrappy play of Hughie Jennings and John McGraw, the Orioles of the 1890s played an aggressive, fire-breathing kind of baseball never seen before. Under the direction of the innovative Ned Hanlon, the Orioles won three consecutive National League pennants from 1894 to 1896.

Despite their success, Baltimore's National League franchise lasted for only eight seasons, folding after the 1899 campaign. Within two years, Baltimore baseball found a new home—in the upstart American League. Once again adopting the nickname Orioles, the franchise played for two seasons before relocating to New York. First playing as the Highlanders, the former Baltimore club eventually became the New York Yankees.

The transfer of the franchise to New York left Baltimore without a major league team until 1914. The Baltimore Terrapins, named for the varieties of edible turtles common to the state of Maryland, entered the newly formed Federal League that season. Alas, the league, and its franchises, lasted just the one year. Baltimore would not enjoy major league baseball for another four decades. Yet, professional baseball did not completely abandon Baltimore. Minor league entities, still playing under the popular name of Orioles, thrived in the Eastern League (1903-11) and the International League (1912-53). During the early years of Baltimore's existence in the International League, a young left-handed pitcher named Babe Ruth starred for the team. Rulit split the 1914 season between Baltimore and Providence, winning a combined 22 games and losing only nine.

From the 1920s through the 1940s, area baseball fans also enjoyed the exploits of the city's two Negro League teams, the Black Sox and Elite Giants. Second baseman James "Junior" Gilliam and Hall of Fame catcher Roy Campanella played two different stints for the Elite Giants on their way to major league careers with the Brooklyn Dodgers "Boys of Summer."

In September of 1953, Bill Veeck's financial problems helped Baltimore land another major league team. Veeck sold his American League franchise, the St. Louis Browns, to a Baltimore-based syndicate headed by Mayor Tommy D'Alesandro and attorney Clarence Miles. Playing in the renovated Memorial Stadium, the new Orioles made their return to the American League in 1954.

In the late 1950s, the Orioles' farm system began to produce a bevy of talent, led by future Hall of Famer Brooks Robinson. With a young nucleus in place, the Orioles sought veteran assistance to complete their championship puzzle. After the 1966 season, the Orioles made arguably the greatest trade in franchise history, acquiring former All-Star outfielder Frank Robinson from the Cincinnati Reds. Led by Robinson's Triple Crown season, the slugging of young first baseman Boog Powell, and the terrific bullpen combination of Moe Drabowsky, Eddie Fisher and Stu Miller, the 1966 Orioles won the first World Series in the franchise's history.

The Orioles returned to American League dominance three years later, with Hall of Fame manager Earl Weaver now leading the charge. Pitching, three-run homers, and outstanding defensive play stamped Weaver's Orioles as winners. From 1969 to 1971, the O's captured three American League East titles, a trio of AL pennants, and the 1970 World Series, where Brooks Robinson compiled a highlight reel's worth of defensive brilliance. After some lean years in the middle of the decade, the Orioles returned to glory in 1979, when they extended the Pittsburgh Pirates to seven games before losing the World Series. Four years later, with a new generation of stars headed up by Eddie Murray and Cal Ripken, Jr., the Orioles won their third world championship four games to one against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The endurance and excellence of Ripken served as a hallmark for much of the 1980s and 90s, culminating in the breaking of a baseball legend's record. On the night of September 6, 1995, Ripken played in his 2,131st consecutive game, eclipsing the mark of Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig. The 1990s also saw the Orioles move into a new era, as they departed Memorial Stadium for a ballpark considered a state-of-the-art model for all new stadium projects - Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

MODERN ORIOLES IN BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

In 2003, Eddie Murray became the 11th modern Oriole to be elected to the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown. He is one of five players whose official plaque shows him wearing an Orioles hat, joining two of his teammates, Jim Palmer and Brooks Robinson, and two of his former managers, Earl Weaver and Frank Robinson. (See "Orioles Retired Numbers" for biographies and statistics.)

Jim Palmer garnered 92.6% of the total vote (411 of 444 ballots cast) among the Baseball Writers Association of America members eligible to be elected in his first year of eligibility. In addition to Palmer and Murray, other former Orioles elected in their first year of eligibility were Brooks and Frank Robinson and Reggie Jackson.

The 11 modern Orioles in the Hall of Fame include nine players, a manager and an executive:

OLD ORIOLES IN BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

In addition to the 11 modern-day Orioles electees, 16 others who played and/or managed for the Orioles during the early days of Baltimore's rich baseball heritage also are enshrined at Cooperstown, including six members of the 1890s juggernaut:

3 More: There are 3 additional Hall of Famers who have represented the Orioles, though not as players: George Weiss, who immortalized himself as a general manager of the Yankees, served part of his apprenticeship as an International League Orioles GM; Luke Appling, a legendary hitler/shortstop for the White Sox, who coached one year for the Orioles, in 1963; and Burleigh Grimes, the famed spitball pitcher who won 270 games in the majors, who scouted for the Orioles from 1960 thru 1971.

Media Members, Too: The Hall of Fame has also honored two members of the media with longtime ties to Baltimore. In 1993, beloved Orioles broadcaster Chuck Thompson received the Ford C. Frick Award, presented by the Hall of Fame to a broadcaster for major contributions to the game of baseball. And in 1998, Sam Lacy, longtime sports editor of the Baltimore Afro-American newspaper, became the first local writer selected for the J.G. Taylor Spink Award, honoring sportswriters "for meritorious contributions to baseball writing."

Native Marylanders in the Hall: In addition to Home Run Baker (Trappe), Lefty Grove (Lonaconing) and Babe Ruth (Sudlersville), four other native Marylanders who never played for the Orioles are enshrined in Cooperstown: Jimmie Foxe (Sudlersville), Judy Johnson (Snow Hill), Al Kaline (Baltimore) and Vic Willis (Elkton).

A Look Ahead: Cal Ripken becomes eligible for the Hall of Fame in 2007.

THE ORIOLES HALL OF FAME

The Orioles Hall of Fame was conceived in 1977 by the Oriole Advocates at the suggestion of two former presidents, Allen Barrett and Jack Buckley, both of whom have since passed away. The Advocates continue to administer the annual elections under the direction of their Hall of Fame Committee.

Candidates may be elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame through two channels: the regular vote by a panel of some 80 people, comprising sportswriters, broadcasters, Oriole Advocates and Orioles personnel; or by a vote of the veterans committee, a group of 25 senior representatives from the sports media, Oriole Advocates and the Orioles front office.

Procedures for election to the Orioles Hall of Fame are based on those used by the National Baseball Hall of Fame, requiring mention on 75% of ballots cast. All candidates must have served a minimum of three full seasons with the Orioles and must have been active in that capacity within the last 15 years. To be eligible for regular election, a player, manager or coach must have ceased serving in the position for which he was nominated for at least one year. For consideration by the veterans committee, formed in 1989, a candidate must have ceased serving in the capacity of consideration for at least 15 years.

HERB ARMSTRONG AWARD WINNER

In 1995, the Oriole Advocates established the Herb Armstrong Award to honor non-uniformed personnel who have represented the Orioles for at least five years and made a significant contribution to the ballclub, the community or the sport of baseball. The award is named after the beloved former educator, professional baseball player, manager and longtime official for both the Orioles' International League and American League clubs who dedicated nearly 70 years of his life to the people of Baltimore, his adopted hometown. Winners are selected by the Orioles Hall of Fame Veterans Committee and honored during Orioles Hall of Fame Weekend ceremonies.

In 2004, the Herb Armstrong Award was presented to Ernie Tyler, the Orioles' longtime umpires' attendant and "ballboy." Ernie has not missed a game since taking his position on a stool behind home plate on Opening Day at Memorial Stadium in 1960, entering the 2005 season with a string of 3,561 straight regular season home games. He is a well-known ambassador of baseball and is revered not only by Orioles fans but by the umpires whom he has served for more than 40 years.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLES

The Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award is presented annually by the Sports Boosters of Maryland, Inc. In 2004, Miguel Tejada captured the honors after batting .311 and posting a team-leading 34 home runs and Major League-leading 150 RBI. Tejada became the 33rd different player to win the award in the club's 51 seasons. Eddie Murray (7), Brooks Robinson (4), Cal Ripken (4), Frank Robinson (3), Ken Singleton (3), Rafael Palmeiro (3) and Boog Powell (2) are the only players to win the award more than once.

The Sports Boosters initiated the MVO award when the Orioles returned to the majors in 1954. Several years ago, they renamed the award in memory of Hatter, the distinguished and lovable "dean" of Baltimore baseball writers who covered the Orioles for The Sun for 27 years.

The award winner is selected through a vote of writers and broadcasters who cover the O's on a regular basis. There have been four ties, and no award was given in 1994.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS

EARL WEAVER—4

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown in August 1966, Earl ranks 19th in victories among 20th century managers. His .583 winning percentage (1,480-1,060) over 17 seasons—all in Baltimore—ranks 5th on the all-time list of those who managed 10 or more seasons exclusively in the 20th century.

Earl was a minor league 2nd baseman for 13 years, mostly in his hometown St. Louis Cardinals organization. He began his managing career in the minors in 1956 and joined the Orioles organization a year later. He came up to the Orioles as first base coach in 1968 and was named manager on July 11 of that year. From 1969 through 1982, he won 6 AL East titles, 4 AL pennants and one World Series, beating the Cincinnati Reds in 1970. Earl's Orioles won 100 games or more 5 times, and he earned Manager of the Year honors 3 times.

He retired following the 1982 season, which ended one game shy of another AL East title when the Orioles lost to the Milwaukee Brewers on the final day of the season. He came back to manage in mid-1985 for 1 1/2 years before retiring for good. The only time in his 17 seasons as manager that he posted a losing record was his last, in 1986.

Earl and his wife, Marianna, live in Pembroke Pines, FL. He has a son and 2 daughters from a previous marriage as well as a stepdaughter.

BROOKS ROBINSON—5

"Mr. Oriole" spent 23 seasons with the Orioles and started 20 consecutive opening day games. He won the AL Most Valuable Player Award in 1964 and shares the record (with former pitcher Jim Kaat) for most Gold Gloves with 16. His election to baseball's Hall of Fame (in his first year of eligibility in 1983) was cemented with his performance against the Cincinnati Reds in the 1970 World Series, when he was named MVP and earned the nickname "Hoover" (as in vacuum cleaners) for his play in the field.

Brooks played in 18 All-Star games. He trails only Cal Ripken among the Orioles' all-time leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, RBI, runs, total bases and extra-base hits. In addition to his AL MVP Award in '64 and his World Series MVP Award in '70, he was the All-Star Game MVP in 1966 and was voted the Most Valuable Oriole in '60, '62, '64 and co-winner in '71 with Frank Robinson. He also earned the Commissioner's Trophy (now the Roberto Clemente Award) for exemplifying the game of baseball in 1972 and the Joe Cronin Award for significant achievement by an AL player in 1977.

Brooks holds 10 major league fielding records and 3 American League records for third basemen, including highest lifetime fielding percentage (.971). He is 12th on the all-time list of games played, 4th in the AL and 5th in games played with one franchise.

A native of Little Rock, AR, Brooks and his wife, Connie, have four children. They split their time living in the northern Baltimore suburbs and in Southern California.

FRANK ROBINSON—20

Frank's achievements during his 21 seasons as a player rank him among the top players of all-time in 10 categories. He hit 586 home runs, 5th on the all-time list.

The trade that brought Frank from Cincinnati to Baltimore turned the Orioles from contenders to World Champions in 1966. He won the Triple Crown (.316 average, 49 homers, 122 RBI) and was both the AL and World Series MVP in his first season with the Orioles. In all, the Orioles went to the World Series 4 times in his 6 seasons as a player with them. When he was traded to the Dodgers after the '71 season, he became the first to have his number retired by the Orioles.

Frank was NL Rookie of the Year with the Reds in 1956 and is the only player to win MVP honors in both leagues ('61 NL, '66 AL). He played in 11 All-Star games and was MVP of the 1971 classic. While still an active player, he became the first black manager in major league history with the Cleveland Indians in 1975. He later managed the San Francisco Giants and the Orioles. He spent 19 seasons with the Orioles as a player, coach ('79-'80 and '85-'87), manager ('88-'91) and assistant general manager ('91-'95).

Elected to baseball's Hall of Fame the first year he was eligible in 1982, Frank managed the Montreal Expos the last three seasons and will manage the Washington Nationals in 2005. He lives with his wife, Barbara, in Bel Air, CA. They have two children.

JIM PALMER—22

The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Jim won 268 games in a 19-year career, all of it with Baltimore. He won three Cy Young Awards in a 4-year span ('73, '75, '76) and his 2.86 ERA is 4th on the all-time list among pitchers with 3,000 or more innings pitched.

Jim won 20 games in a season eight times, one of only six who pitched exclusively in the 20th century to accomplish the feat. He put that string together in a 9-year stretch, 1970-78, during which he went 176-97 with a 2.54 ERA.

In 1966, at age 20, he became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a World Series shutout, and in 1983 he became the only hurler to have won a World Series game in each of three decades. He was the winning pitcher in the Orioles' first four pennant-clinching games and was 8-3 in 17 post-season appearances. He was a six-time All-Star and was the AL's starting pitcher four times.

Jim was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame on the first ballot in January 1990. He is in his 12th season as an analyst on Orioles televised games, and has also worked for ABC-TV and ESPN.

Jim lives in Baltimore and Palm Beach, FL. He has two daughters, Jamie Michelle and Kelly Christina.

EDDIE MURRAY—33

Eddie played 12 1/2 of his 21 seasons with the Orioles and was elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 2003. He spent his first 12 years with the Orioles and rejoined the team in 1996, becoming the 15th player to reach the 500-home run plateau. Eddie, Hank Aaron and Willie Mays are the only players with 500 homers and 3,000 hits.

A model of consistency, he drove in at least 75 runs in each of his first 20 major league seasons, a feat unmatched. He has more RBI than any switch-hitter in history and ranks 7th all-time in RBI. Eddie was named to 8 All-Star teams, 7 as an Oriole, and batted .300 or better 7 times, including 5 times as an Oriole. He won the Orioles' "Triple Crown" 5 times, leading the club in average, homers and RBI. He played at least 150 games in 16 seasons, tied with Cal Ripken for second most in history behind Pete Rose.

Eddie broke in as the AL Rookie of the Year in 1977. He was named Most Valuable Oriole 7 times (twice sharing the award with Cal). A 3-time Gold Glove winner, he holds the major league record for games played and career assists by a first baseman.

Like Frank Robinson before him, Eddie's Oriole number was retired when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also played for the Mets, Indians and Angels, and was an Orioles coach for four seasons before joining the Indians staff in 2002 as batting coach. He lives with his wife, Janice, and their daughters, Jordan and Jessica, in his hometown of Los Angeles.

CAL RIPKEN JR.—8

Baseball's all-time Iron Man, Cal spent his entire 21-year career with the Orioles and retired as one of only seven players in history with both 400 HR and 3,000 hits, joining Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Eddie Murray, Stan Musial, Dave Winfield & Carl Yastrzemski. In 2001, his final season, he was elected to his 19th All-Star berth, breaking the AL record for most times as an All-Star—a record previously held by Brooks Robinson. He earned two All-Star Game MVP Awards (1991 and 2001), an MVP (1983) and AL Rookie of the Year (1982) honors, two Gold Gloves and eight Silver Slugger awards, all at shortstop. And he still owns five Major League or American League fielding records for shortstops. Cal was named Most Valuable Oriole four times, twice sharing the award with Eddie Murray.

Ripken will be most remembered for topping the said-to-be-unbreakable record for consecutive games played set by Lou Gehrig, passing Gehrig's mark of 2,130 games on September 6, 1995. Cal went on to play in 2,632 consecutive games before sitting on September 20, 1998.

Following the 1999 season, he was named as one of two shortstops (with Ernie Banks) on Major League Baseball's All-Century Team, selected by fans and an expert panel. Extremely active in community endeavors, he won the Roberto Clemente Award and the initial Bart Giamatti Caring Award among many other honors.

Cal and his wife, Kelly, live in Reisterstown, MD with their children, Rachel and Ryan. He is active in youth baseball projects and is co-owner of the Aberdeen IronBirds, an Orioles minor league affiliate, in addition to raising funds for the Cal Ripken Sr. Foundation to benefit youth programs.

THE HISTORY

Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the beautiful baseball-only facility in downtown Baltimore, became the official home of the Orioles on April 6, 1992. The construction of the park was completed in essentially 33 months from the time razing previous structures on the 85-acre parcel began June 28, 1989 in the area known as Camden Yards.

The one-time railroad center is 12 minutes west by foot from the City's Inner Harbor and only 2 blocks from the birthplace of baseball's most legendary hero, George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Ruth's father operated Ruth's Cafe on the ground floor of the family residence located at Conway Street & Little Poca, now center field at Oriole Park. The ballpark seats 48,290 and the project cost was approximately $110 million. It was designed by the Kansas City architectural firm of Helmut, Obata & Kassabaum (HOK) with direction and input from the Orioles and the State of Maryland, which owns and operates the facility through its agency, the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA).

Working under contract to HOK were the urban design firm of RTKL, the landscape architecture firm of Wallace, Roberts and Todd, and the engineering firms of Bliss and Nyitrai; Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, and Klode Consultants, Inc. Working under contract to the Orioles were the interior design firm of Forte Design and the graphic design firm of David Ashton and Associates.

Oriole Park is state-of-the-art, yet unique, traditional and intimate in design. It blends with the urban context of downtown Baltimore while taking its image from baseball parks built in the early 20th century. Steel, rather than concrete trusses, an arched brick facade, a sun roof over the gentle slope of the upper deck, an asymmetrical playing field, and natural grass turf are just some of the features that tie it to those magnificent big league ballparks built in the early 1900's. Ebbets Field (Brooklyn), Shibe Park (Philadelphia), Fenway Park (Boston), Crosley Field (Cincinnati), Forbes Field (Pittsburgh), Wrigley Field (Chicago), and The Polo Grounds (New York) were among the ballparks that served as powerful influences in the design of Oriole Park.

THE PLAYING FIELD

The field is 16' below street level and is made up of Prescription Athletic Turf (PAT), a sophisticated irrigation and drainage system below a natural grass turf. It is designed to reduce the frequency of rainouts while shortening the length of baseball's most exasperating feature, the rain delay. The PAT system makes it possible to get the field ready for play within half an hour after the end of a heavy rainstorm. It automatically removes as many as 75,000 gallons of rainwater from the field in an hour. Following the 2000 season, the ballpark's infield and outfield were completely rebuilt, with about 5 tons of turf, sand and dirt removed from the playing surface. The drainage system was replaced with a more modern method that utilizes an inlaid piping system topped by meshing and rocks to better protect both the pipes themselves and the playing surface.

DIMENSIONS

For Camden Yards' first nine seasons, outfield dimensions were 333 feet to left field, 364 feet to left center, 400 feet to center, 373 feet to right center and 316 feet to right. Prior to the 2001 season, in conjunction with extensive renovations to the ballpark's playing surface and drainage system, the Orioles reconfigured the ballpark with outfield dimensions that were up to 7 feet longer than those used since Camden Yards opened in 1992. However, it was found that the new dimensions did not significantly improve sight lines for fans, as had been anticipated, and adversely affected the viewing angle of the batter's eye wall.

As a result, the ballpark was returned to its original dimensions before the 2002 season. The changes included moving home plate approximately seven feet closer to the outfield, to its original spot 59 feet from the backstop. In addition, the entire field was shifted several degrees to the first base side and both the left field and right field foul poles were repositioned to their original locations. The foul line measurements decreased from 320 feet to 318 feet in right field and from 337 to 333 feet in left field. The center field distance decreased from 406 to 400 feet and the deepest part of the ballpark, in left center field, decreased from 417 to 410 feet.

The shorter distance to the right field corner than down the left field line is compensated by a 25' high wall, which extends 100' from the right field line toward center. The fence in the rest of the park is only 7' high.

THE WAREHOUSE

Located beyond right field, the B&O Warehouse is 439 feet from home plate. Built between 1898-1905, the warehouse is the longest building on the East Coast at 1016' (but only 51' wide). It has been preserved and now provides unique office space for the Orioles as well as home for the banquet facilities, the ballpark's central kitchen and space for ballpark operations. The Orioles' main ticket office operates out of the north end of the Warehouse.

Three public facilities - a souvenir shop (The Orioles Official Team Store, open daily), a cafeteria (Pastimes), and a bar/lounge (Babe's Irish Pub) - are located on the ground floor of the warehouse, and on the 8th floor is the exclusive members-only Camden Club. The ballpark and warehouse are separated by a 60' wide promenade, an extension of Eutaw Street.

Open daily, Eutaw St. is home to plaques dedicated to members of the Orioles Hall of Fame, and the Mid-Atlantic Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame, as well as monuments to the players whose numbers have been retired by the Orioles. Ballpark tours depart regularly from the Baseball Store on Eutaw Street.

SCOREBOARDS

There are two major electronic information centers in the ballpark to enhance enjoyment of the game. Two big boards are located on the main scoreboard in center field: The Sony JumboTRON video board (22'9" by 31'4") and an incandescent lamp matrix game in progress board (24' 1/2" by 78' 1/2") built by Daktronics, Inc. (Brookings, SD), which is located on top of the JumboTRON.

Mounted on top of the two boards is a large double-faced clock built in Maryland by Triangle Signs that can be read from both inside the ballpark and in downtown Baltimore. That main scoreboard system also supports two weather-vane Oriole birds to show players and fans alike the direction of wind flow.

Embedded in the tall right field wall is another electronic board (also built by Daktronics) that provides a good-ole-days feature missing from many current major league ballparks - continuously posted out-of-town scores. It accommodates 16 games at one time, posting up-to-the-minute scores via a direct connection with SportsTicker, the computerized service that tracks all big league games inning-by-inning. Above the out-of-town board are flag poles which sport the pennants of each American League team in order of their daily standings in each division. There are additionally three auxiliary boards for the convenience of those who do not face the two big boards in center field.

MEMORIAL WALL

On Veteran's Day 2002, ground was broken at the south end of the Eutaw Street warehouse for a memorial wall to honor residents of Maryland who were killed in all of our nation's wars. Designed by Baltimore-based CS&D Architects, the memorial was created to replace the one razed at Memorial Stadium earlier in the year. The 11-foot-tall, curving black granite wall features the well-known phrase from the Memorial Stadium facade, spelled out in the original stainless steel lettering: "Time Will Not Dim the Glory of Their Deeds." In other links to the old stadium, an urn from East 33rd Street containing soil from all foreign American military cemeteries is displayed under glass, and a plaque explains the significance of Memorial Stadium in Baltimore history. A bench allows visitors the opportunity to rest and reflect at any time during the day or evening, and the memorial is illuminated at night.

CAMDEN STATION

See page 17 for information about Sports Legends at Camden Yards, a Maryland sports heritage museum opening in May 2005 in Camden Station.

FOUL POLES

When the Orioles moved to Camden Yards for the 1992 season, they brought with them the right field foul pole that had been used for 37 seasons at Memorial Stadium. The foul pole was affixed atop the tall wall in right field in the Flag Court. Prior to the 2001 season, the Orioles replaced the original Camden Yards left field foul pole with the left field pole that had been used throughout their stay at Memorial Stadium. At 70 feet high, the new/old foul pole is 20 feet shorter than the previously used pole and requires a more modest support structure, which allows more fans in seats in the lower, club and upper deck levels to have an unobstructed view of the field. The foul poles were returned to their original positions when the ballpark was reconfigured to its original dimensions after the 2001 season.

SEATING

Every aisle seat in the park bears an extra feature: a reproduction of the 100-year old logo used by the Baltimore Orioles of the 1890's, a National League team that won consecutive pennants in 1894-95-96.

The lower deck comprises some 15,000 box seats between the foul poles. Behind the lower boxes there are some 6,800 terrace box seats. Prior to the 2004 season, 72 field level seats were installed behind home plate. Seats in the lower stand are generally closer to the field. From the front row of seats to first and third bases, for example, the distance is 45'. From home plate to the screen measures 47'.

The Mezzanine, or Club Level, stretches from the right field foul pole ground to left-center field and is accessible by escalators, elevators, stairs, and ramps. There is waiter service available at the seats and behind the seating area on the club level concourse is a climate-controlled lounge with private dining and bar areas.

Also on the Club Level are 72 luxury suites, each containing 10 to 14 seats. These suites are leased on a yearly basis. There are a number of suites that are available for rent on an individual game basis, several of which hold 10-15 people, and three larger party suites that can accommodate groups of up to 60 people.

The Upper Deck contains 25 rows of seats (the first 12 are boxes, the last 13 reserved seats) and has a gentle slope of 31 degrees (Memorial Stadium, like many parks, was 33 degrees). A sun roof was constructed to cover half of the upper deck seating area.

Some 1,850 Eutaw Street Reserve seats, among the most popular in the park, are located in right-center field. There are also standing room only tickets that go on sale two hours before game time. The SRO areas are found on the right field flag court and just above the visitor's bullpen in left field.

Total seating in the ballpark is 48,290. More than 400 seats are available to fans with disabilities in the equal access areas (EA), which are located throughout the ballpark.

ACCESSIBILITY/PARKING

Camden Yards is easily reached via rail, bus and subway lines as well as 4 major highways (I-95, I-83, I-70 and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway). The MARC train and light rail trains both have stops directly on site. About 4,000 parking spaces are located south of the park on-site and numerous spaces are located in garages and lots within walking distance of the ballpark.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO ORIOLE PARK

Since Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened in 1992, a number of exciting improvements have been made to help enhance the "Oriole Park Experience"...

- Seats in sections 16-58 were replaced prior to 2004 with chairs with higher backs and padding. Cupholders were also installed to the 6,200 new seats.
- Two rows of seats were added at field level behind home plate prior to the 2004 season, a total of 72 seats. Also, ten seats were added to section 16 and 14 seats were added to section 58 at that time.
- Also prior to the 2004 season, the concrete wall behind home plate was replaced with brick, in keeping with the Camden Yards aesthetic. Two 7.5 rotational signs were also added to the wall.
- Prior to and during the early part of the 2000 season, the entrance area to the Homeplate Elevator Lobby was redesigned to provide a new floor covering, new wall finishes and redesigned elevators.
- The first floor lobby of the Warehouse at 333 W. Camden Street was redesigned from floor to ceiling to provide improved traffic flow and to accentuate the original structural and architectural elements of the Warehouse.
- The fourth floor lobby of the Warehouse also was refinished and improved to create a fresher, more enjoyable experience for those using party facilities and club level ticket holders who use this entrance to the ballpark.
- Expanding on improvements made during the 1999 season, the ticket reader system used at the turnstiles was upgraded. The ticket entrances were enlarged and the reader system itself was expanded to allow more types of tickets to be fed through the turnstile readers, providing fans a smoother, quicker entry to the ballpark.
- In an on-going project that began in early 1999, the Orioles offices located in the B & O Warehouse have undergone major renovations in order to give the offices a warmer look. In addition to redesigned office space, new artwork and artifacts are displayed in the lobby and in the glass entry doors.
- Prior to the 1999 season, an Upper Deck Fan Assistance Center was constructed in the Homeplate Elevator Lobby.
- Homestead Gardens, based in Davidsonville, MD, entered into a partnership with the Orioles starting in 1998 to help beautify Oriole Park and its surrounding grounds with flowers and plants.
- Prior to the 1999 season, the warning track surrounding the playing field was painted a shade of brown to more closely match the color of the infield dirt and to complement the colors of the B&O Warehouse.
- Work was completed on repainting the entire steel "superstructure" of the ballpark. The work was begun prior to the 2000 season and completed during the year.
- The Club Level and Suites have undergone a complete refurbishing, including new furniture, wallpaper and carpeting. The alcove lounges on the Club Level have been named and decorated in themes, providing greater ambience for fans and making it easier to meet friends at a designated area, such as the "All-Star Lounge," "Hall of Fame Lounge" and "MVPs Lounge." Photos and records of each Oriole team beginning in 1954 adorn the corridors. Orioles Hall of Fame banners have been hung outside the party suites in the left field area of the Club Level.
- Smoking was banned from the seating bowl in 1993.

Plaques and other displays around the ballpark honor various athletic accomplishments...

- Orioles Hall of Fame: Located at the north end of the warehouse on the wall at the base of the scoreboard, plaques honor the members inducted annually and are similar in appearance to those enshrined in Cooperstown. They feature the Oriole Hall of Famer's likeness and a brief description of his accomplishments.
- Orioles' Retired Numbers: 4-foot monuments, located at the north end of the warehouse in front of the Orioles ticket windows, honor the uniform numbers worn by Earl Weaver (4), Brooks Robinson (5), Cal Ripken Jr. (8), Frank Robinson (20), Jim Palmer (22) and Eddie Murray (33).
- Mid-Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame: As a tribute to baseball scouts over the years, the plaques are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.
- Cal Ripken Seat: To honor Cal's 278th career homer, surpassing Ernie Banks' major league record for home runs by a shortstop, the Orioles marked the spot where the ball landed (Section 86, Row FF, Seat 10) with a red seat. The homer came on July 15, 1993 off Scott Erickson, then with Minnesota.
- Eddie Murray Seat: To honor Eddie's 500th career home run, hit on September 6, 1996 off Detroit's Felipe Lira, the Orioles installed an orange seat in the right field bleachers where the ball landed (Section 96, Row D, Seat 23).
- Eutaw Street Home Runs: Brass baseball plates are embedded into the Eutaw Street sidewalk marking the spots where home runs cleared the right field fence wall. These plates contain the home run hitter's name, his team's logo, the distance the ball traveled, and the date the home run was hit.
- Plaques in the Oriole Park press box have been erected honoring three individuals: the late Rex Barney, Orioles public address announcer for more than 25 years; the late Vernon Joiner, longtime head of the club's famed press box attendants crew; and Bob Brown, the Orioles' public relations director for more than 25 years.
- In ceremonies prior to Cal Ripken, Jr.'s final game on October 6, 2001, the Orioles unveiled a plaque in the first base dugout dedicated to Cal Ripken, Sr. It is inscribed: "Cal Ripken Sr. Dedicated to a lifelong Orioles of thirty-six years, and one of the game's greatest teachers. Coach, manager and devoted mentor to countless young Orioles. 'Senior' dedicated his life to baseball and passed on his respect of the game to everyone he coached. He preached 'perfect practice, makes perfect' and stressed the importance of being prepared, learning the 'Right way' and playing to the best of one's ability every inning of every game. We will always remember his devotion to the Orioles, his love of the game, and his many lessons..."

- Relief pitcher Jesse Orosco made his 1,072nd career appearance on August 17, 1999 to pass Dennis Eckersley for the Major League record for most games pitched. In honor of his accomplishment, the Orioles installed a plaque with Orosco's uniform number, 47, above the bench in their bullpen.
- In honor of Earl Weaver's induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame, a silver "4" and plaque identifying Weaver's years as manager was added to the Orioles' dugout wall in July 1996, near where the manager traditionally stands.

BAITMORE'S ORIOLE

America's early colonies noticed a bird whose male bore the black and orange colors of Lord Baltimore, Maryland's founder. It was called a Baltimore Oriole until the 1960s, when it was observed to interbreed with a bird called Bullock's Oriole. The American Ornithologists Union declared both should be considered a single species: Northern Oriole. But later studies showed that, while the two birds sometimes interbreed, the offspring rarely pass along their genes. In 1964, the Baltimore Oriole recovered its status as a species.

2004: The Orioles drew 2,747,529 fans to Camden Yards for 80 home dates in 2004, an average of 34,344 fans per game. Oriole Park total and average attendance was 5th in the American League and 12th in the majors. It was the largest home total in three seasons, and the 11.9 percent increase in attendance over 2003 was the 4th largest among AL teams, and 9th in the majors. [Four of the National League clubs with larger increases had the impetus of new stadiums (Philadelphia, San Diego), hosting the All-Star Game (Houston) or were coming off a World Championship season (Florida), and the Orioles outdrew each of the other MLB teams with larger percentage attendance increases over '03 (Detroit, Tampa Bay, Texas and Milwaukee).]

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS: The Orioles had never led the AL in total or average attendance until 1995, then did it for five consecutive years. Last season, the Orioles failed to draw at least 3 million fans for the second time in Camden Yards history (excluding the strike-shortened 1994 season), but still finished 5th in the American League and 12th in the majors in total and average attendance.

MORE THAN 41 MILLION SERVED: The Orioles have drawn 41,606,577 fans in 13 seasons at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. They have drawn an average of 41,113 fans for 1,012 home dates. It took until their 35th season and more than twice as many home dates (2,446) for the Orioles to draw as many fans to their former home, Memorial Stadium, reaching 41 million on July 14, 1988. Total attendance in 36 seasons (2,716 dates) at Memorial Stadium was 49,845,588.

LARGEST CROWDS, LARGEST SERIES: The Orioles had nine sellouts in 2004, including the largest crowd in Camden Yards history. The Orioles drew 49,606 fans for their game on June 22 vs. the New York Yankees, topping the mark of 49,549 fans for their game a year earlier vs. Philadelphia. It was one of 10 games—five regular season and five post-season—ever to draw more than 49,000 fans at Camden Yards. The Orioles did not top 49,000 for a regular season game until July 15, 2000 vs. Atlanta.

The June 22 sellout vs. the Yankees came on a Tuesday night, making it one of only six non-weekend dates among the 45 regular season games in Oriole Park's 13-year history to draw more than 48,000 fans. The Orioles-Yankees game on June 24 (a Thursday) drew 48,443, making it the only non-weekend series to draw more than 48,000 fans for more than one game. The previous Camden Yards record for a weeknight game was 48,269 fans vs. the Yankees on June 17, 1998, a Wednesday.

It was not until 1999 that the Orioles drew more than 48,500 for a regular season game, a feat they have now accomplished on 18 occasions, including three times in 2004 and four times in 2003.

In 1998, the Orioles drew both the largest three-date and four-date series in Camden Yards history. The Aug. 21-23, 1998 series vs. Cleveland drew the largest three-date total in park history, 144,784. The top four-date series was 192,494 for the July 9-12, 1999 set with Boston.

The Orioles have drawn 40,000 or more fans on 703 of 1,012 regular season dates at Oriole Park (69.5%). They have drawn 47,000 or more for 237 dates, including 10 in 2004.

SMALLEST CROWDS: The smallest crowd for a game at Oriole Park at Camden Yards was 17,267 on May 5, 2003 vs. Detroit. The 2003 season marked the first time the Orioles drew under 20,000 for a game. The previous smallest crowd to see a game at Oriole Park was 20,279, on September 16, 2002 vs. Toronto.

MEDIA

Chuck Thompson
1921-2005

His was the Voice of Summer. Across five decades of Baltimore Orioles baseball, those familiar tones arrived in bedrooms and barnrooms, in kitchens and in cars strung along dark lonesome roads. The athletes came and went with the years, as athletes do, but Chuck Thompson held things together. He brought us the ballgames of summer, and these helped turn us into a community.

—Michael Olesker, The Sun

If you grew up around here, Thompson was the sound of your childhood, the narrator of your dreams.

Broadcasting baseball for half a century and football for three decades, he connected you to the Orioles and Colts, the teams you loved, the teams that turned you into sports fans.

—John Eisenberg, The Sun

That voice conjured up images of the best Baltimore had to offer. Thompson's voice...was often the savior on a trip through a dark rural dead zone. When you picked it up, you breathed a sigh of relief that a little piece of home was waiting toward you.

—David Steele, The Sun

He was, simply, the voice of Baltimore, and it was a voice that resonated so deeply that the next time you walk down the street in Hampden on one of those cool nights in June, you'll swear you still hear it seeping out of every rowhouse.

—Peter Schrumm, The Sun

ORIOLES TELEVISION & RADIO

TELEVISION

Announcers: Jim Hunter, Fred Manfra, Buck Martinez and Jim Palmer

Comcast SportsNet, the Orioles Television Network, ESPN and Fox Sports will combine to telecast 150 regular season and 3 spring training games during the 2005 season.

The Orioles Television Network was established in 2002 as a separate media company to produce, sell and market games to television stations through the region, from southern Pennsylvania to North Carolina, from West Virginia to Delaware and throughout Maryland and Washington, DC. WJZ (Channel 13) and WNUV (Channel 54) will serve as the network's flagship stations this season. Orioles Television will produce 63 regular season games for over-air telecast. In addition to the stations in Baltimore, five affiliate stations in Maryland, southern Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina also will air Orioles Television Network games this season.

Comcast SportsNet will produce 87 regular season and 3 spring training games this year. Comcast has televised Orioles games on cable since 1984, originally under the Home Team Sports (HTS) logo. Comcast SportsNet serves more than 4.5 million households through its cable system and satellite services in the Capital Region, which includes all of Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and Washington, DC and part of West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

In addition to game broadcasts, Comcast SportsNet will produce a weekly, half-hour program on Orioles baseball featuring highlights and interviews.

Buck Martinez and Jim Palmer return to call the action for both the Orioles Television Network and Comcast SportsNet, while Jim Hunter and Fred Manfra will continue to split their time between radio and television broadcasts this season, with each doing play-by-play work on approximately half of the team's televised games.

In total, 150 of the Orioles' regular season games will be televised on local, regional or national television this season, with Fox Television carrying four Saturday games.

RADIO

Announcers: Joe Angel, Jim Hunter and Fred Manfra

WBAL (1090 AM) is in its 18th consecutive season as the flagship station for the Orioles radio network. The 2005 season also marks the 40th time since Baltimore returned to the major leagues 51 seasons ago that WBAL has originated Orioles broadcasts. The station first carried Orioles games in 1957, the club's fourth season.

This is the 5th year of the Orioles' partnership with Clear Channel Communication to broadcast all Orioles games in the Washington, D.C. and Northern Virginia metropolitan area. The majority of the games will air on WTEM (980 AM). In all, there are 12 stations on the Orioles Radio Network, covering three states and the District of Columbia. In addition, members of the military stationed overseas have the opportunity to listen to Orioles games on the American Forces Radio Network.

JOE ANGEL

Veteran baseball broadcaster Joe Angel returns to the WBAL microphone this season to do play-by-play for all Orioles games on radio. He will work exclusively on radio, teaming with Jim Hunter and Fred Manfra, who will split their time between the Orioles' radio and television broadcasts.

A native of Colombia, South America, Joe has broadcast major league baseball for 25 years, including five seasons with the Orioles, 1988-90, 1992 and 2004. He also has worked for the San Francisco Giants, Oakland A's, Minnesota Twins and New York Yankees and was the original voice of the Florida Marlins. Joe also broadcast games on ESPN national telecasts during the 2001 season.

Joe, 57, was born in Bogota, Colombia. His family immigrated to Chicago 10 years later before moving to San Francisco when Joe was 15. He attended Galileo High School in San Francisco, where he played baseball and football and was the quarterback of a team that featured O.J. Simpson as running back. Joe later attended City College of San Francisco.

He worked in television and radio for many years in the Bay Area, including five years of Stanford University football and four years of University of San Francisco basketball.

Angel got his start in major league baseball in 1976, when he spent three years doing Giants games on KSFO radio. He also did two years as the television play-by-play voice for the Oakland A's. He spent three seasons with the Minnesota Twins on WCOO radio, 1984-86 and joined the Orioles radio team for three years in 1988. He spent one year doing New York Yankees broadcasts in 1991 before returning to the Orioles, then left again to become the first voice of the Florida Marlins. He did play-by-play on Marlins broadcasts for eight years, 1993-2000, including their 1997 championship season. #### JIM HUNTER

Veteran broadcaster Jim Hunter is in his 9th year as a member of the Orioles and WBAL Radio broadcast team and his 2nd season on Comcast Sports Net and Orioles Television. He will split his time equally between television and radio, teaming with Buck Martinez or Jim Palmer to do TV broadcasts and with Joe Angel on WBAL Radio. Hunter was originally named as the Orioles' radio announcer on February 5, 1997 and brings to the booth 27 years of diversified broadcasting experience that ranges from Major League Baseball to the NFL to the Olympic Games.

Hunter, 46, came to Baltimore from CBS Radio Sports, where he had been since 1982. He had been a member of the network's "Game of the Week" announcing team since 1986. He broadcast the American League Championship Series, teaming with Johnny Bench from 1990-92, and with the Orioles' first radio voice, Ernie Harwell, in 1993. In 1995, he called the National League Division Series and the NLCS, teaming with Jerry Coleman. In 1996, he called the National League Division Series in which the Atlanta Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals in a thrilling 7-game series. In addition, Hunter hosted "Inside Pitch," the CBS Radio Sunday Night Baseball pre-game show.

During the off-season, Jim hosts the weekly Orioles "Hot Stove" show on WBAL, live from the Orioles Grille in the Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel. He also makes numerous appearances in the community on behalf of the ballclub and supports various charities. He is actively involved with the Annie's Playground Foundation in Harford County, an organization that is building a playground in memory of a 6-year old child who was hit and killed by a drunk driver.

When Jim began his career at CBS in '82, he served as the Saturday evening anchor of Sports Central USA. He was later assigned to host Sportsbreak, a daily feature heard on CBS Radio from 1984-87. It was in 1987 that Jim was named full week-end anchor of Sports Central USA.

Jim's experience is varied and all-inclusive. In 1992 from Albertville, France and again in 1994 from Lillehammer, Norway, Hunter served as a studio anchor for CBS Radio's network coverage of the Winter Olympic Games. Jim resides in Fallston, MD with his wife, Bonnie. They have three children: Jimmy (20), Jeffrey (18), and Allie (14) and a faithful dog named Garth.

FRED MANFRA

It appeared inevitable that Fred Manfra's career plans would lead him to broadcasting Orioles games on the radio. One of his athletic highlights is hitting a double off the left field wall at Memorial Stadium in an American Legion game, and under his photo in the Patterson High School (class of '64) yearbook it says, "Fred's...future plans are in...Radio-T.V. work."

The Baltimore native returns for his 13th season as radio voice of the Orioles and will continue to work as a television play-by-play announcer this year. Manfra will split his time equally between television and radio, teaming with Buck Martinez or Jim Palmer for TV broadcasts and with Joe Angel on WBAL Radio.

The award-winning sportscaster came back to Charm City and WBAL Radio in 1993 after doing 22 sports shows every weekend since 1981 on more than 500 stations for the ABC Radio Information Network. Manfra worked for ABC Radio for 15 years, hosting weekend sports programs, along with a number of other assignments for the network.

When he moved into the Orioles broadcast booth in '93, it wasn't the first time he'd been heard doing O's games. In 1991, he did a series at Memorial Stadium and before that, in the late '70s, he periodically filled in on games for WBAL radio. His baseball experience also included a stint with the Detroit Tigers on cable television in 1980.

Baseball is only one of many sports Manfra has announced. His resume includes some of the most prestigious events in the business, including NBA Finals and NBA All-Star Games (1985-91), 1984 Olympic men's and women's basketball and 1988 Olympic ice hockey, NHL Stanley Cup Finals and All-Star Game (1991), the Breeder's Cup (2000-2002) and Eclipse Award-winning broadcasts of horse racing's Triple Crown races (Kentucky Derby, Preakness at Pimlico and the Belmont Stakes) from 1982 to the present.

His Olympic assignments have been varied and have taken him around the globe, including Sarajevo, Yugoslavia and Los Angeles (in 1984), Calgary and Seoul, South Korea (in 1988), Albertville, France and Barcelona, Spain (1992) and Lillehammer, Norway in February, 1994. His assignments have included men's and women's basketball in 1984 and ice hockey in 1988, as well as anchoring the Opening and Closing Ceremonies, other play-by-play and hourly updates.

Fred began his radio career in the early '70s at KREL in Corona, CA. He moved eastward with stops in Ventura, CA (KB9Q-FM/KBBY-FM), Davenport, IA (KSTT-AM), Milwaukee (WRIT-AM) and Detroit (WWJ-AM) in addition to AP Radio Network Sports in Washington, D.C., before settling in the New York area with ABC Network Radio.

He has done college football and basketball for the University of Iowa (1975) and the University of Michigan (1979-80), as well as USFL and Arena football, New York Knicks basketball, boxing and wrestling. He also had done voice work for Madison Square Garden and for professional football team highlights films and the Sports Year in Review for ABC Radio Network (1983-1988). Along the way, he has received numerous awards for his live action and studio reports. In 1996, Fred was inducted into the Patterson High School Hall of Fame, the same year Orioles owner Peter Angelos was also honored by the school.

Fred and his wife, Marlene, live in Fallston, MD and are active in local charity work with the Kidney Foundation of Maryland, the Salvation Army and the Albert Close Foundation. They have two daughters - Michelle, a graduate of Towson University who works in Beverly Hills, CA and is studying at UCLA, and Stephanie, a University of Florida graduate who works in advertising in Washington, DC.

BUCK MARTINEZ

Buck Martinez returns for his third season as an Orioles television analyst, bringing a wealth of baseball experience to the broadcast booth. He will team with Jim Hunter or Fred Manfra to provide color commentary for Orioles games. In addition to his Orioles duties, beginning this season, Martinez will join Mark Patrick and Larry Bowa to co-host "MLB This Morning," a news-magazine style baseball show that airs weekday mornings on XM Satellite Radio.

Martinez' extensive resume includes over 30 years as a player and manager in the American League and over 20 years of experience in baseball broadcasting on television and radio. Beginning in 1967 when he was signed by the Philadelphia Phillies, Martinez spent 23 years as a catcher in professional baseball with the Kansas City Royals, Milwaukee Brewers and Toronto Blue Jays organizations. He appeared in the postseason with Kansas City in 1976, batting .333 in the 5-game ALCS against the New York Yankees and wrote two books about his experiences with the Blue Jays, "From Worst to First" (1985) and "The Last Out" (1986).

Martinez, 56, also served as manager for Toronto in 2001 and part of the 2002 season, compiling a 100-115 record.

His first experience with broadcasting came in 1982, when he covered the American League Championship Series, the World Series and the All-Star Game for the Telemedia Radio Network. Martinez' television broadcast career began in 1987 as a color commentator for the Toronto Blue Jays on The Sports Network. He began working with ESPN radio and television in 1992, a position he held through the 2002 season. In 1995, Martinez was awarded a Sports EMMY Award for his work on ESPN's coverage of Cal Ripken's 2,131st consecutive game.

A California native, Martinez attended Sacramento City College, Sacramento State University, and Central Missouri State University. He and his wife, Arlene, reside in Clearwater, FL. They have one son, Casey, a 47th round pick by Toronto in the 2000 First Year Player Draft who currently works in the front office of the New York Mets.
