VIEW OF THE FLAMINGO

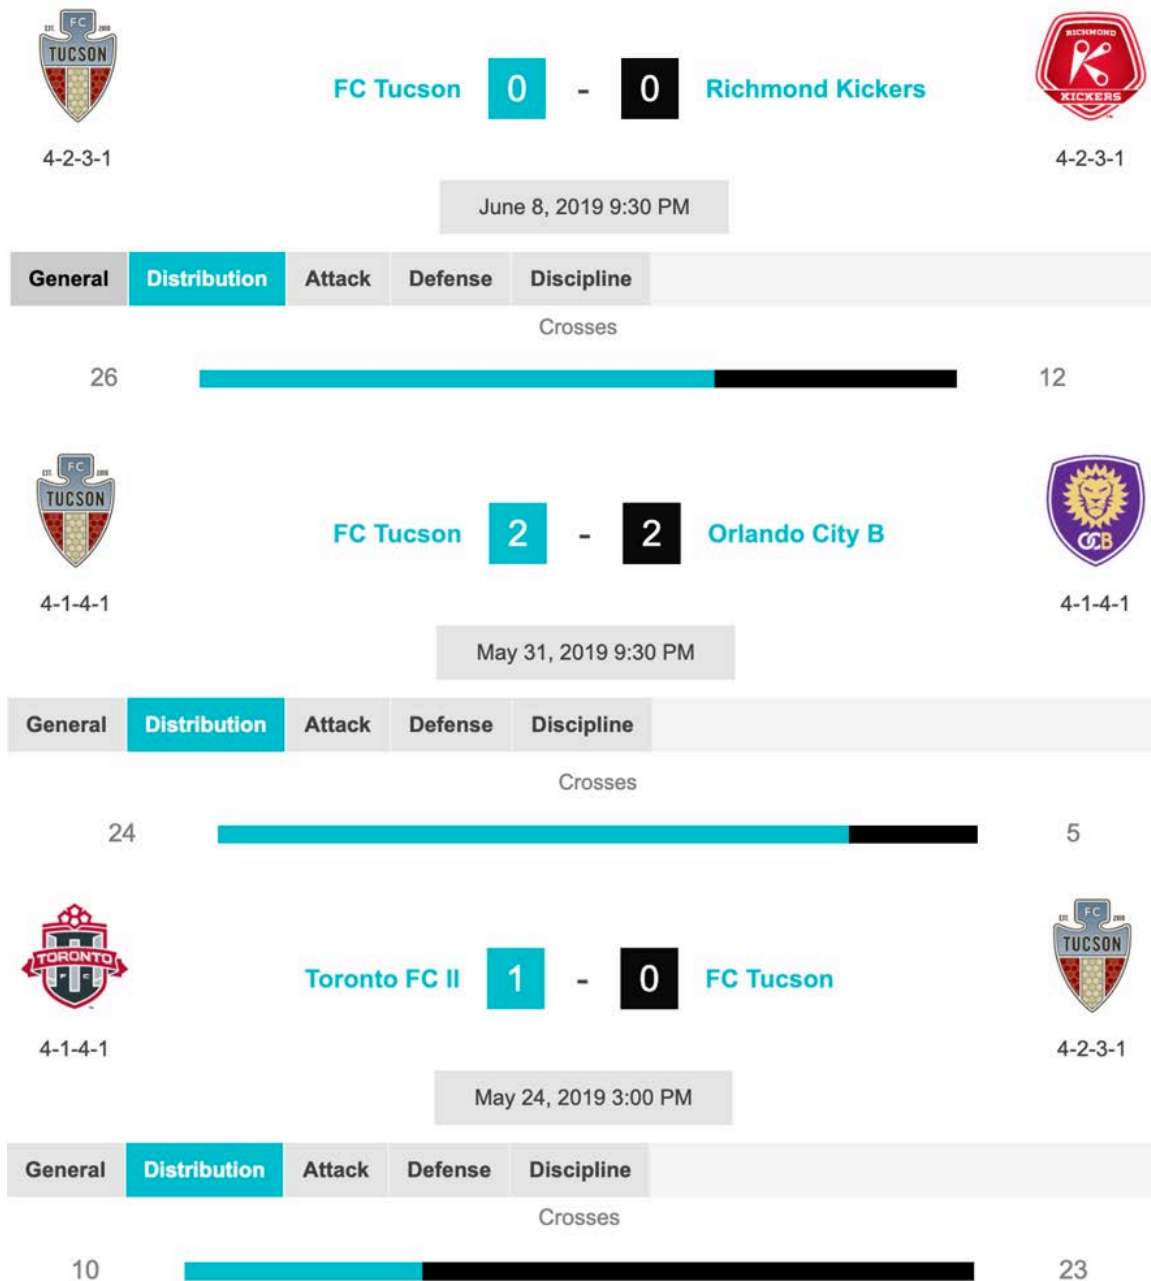

FC TUCSON

Forward Madison FC is stuck at the bottom of the USL League One table, but the Flamingos have a huge opportunity to move up when they take on FC Tucson this Saturday (7 p.m. at Breese Stevens Field). FMFC will have had eight days of rest in between games and no midweek match for the first time since April. Meanwhile, Tucson has to contend with a Wednesday game in Orlando.

To prepare, we've taken a look through the USL League One Match Center from FC Tucson's last game, a 0-0 draw against Richmond Kickers, to find three things you can watch for.

1. TUCSON REALLY, REALLY LIKES TO CROSS THE BALL

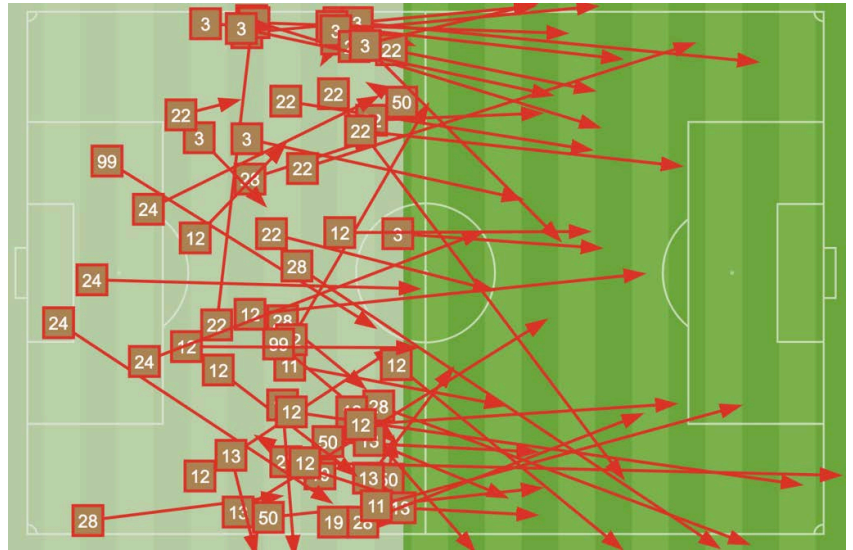

FC Tucson's plan of attack hasn't changed much over its past three games. In that time, FCT has depended heavily on crossing the ball, having out-crossed opponents 73-27.

Tucson will likely stick to the same plan against the Flamingos, getting down the wings and hoofing balls into the 18-yard box. In particular, FCT relies on its fullbacks to do much of the work; right back Luke Hauswirth created three chances last week against Richmond.

2. WATCH OUT FOR THE LONG BALL

This map of FC Tucson's unsuccessful passes from inside its own half during last week's game shows another aspect of how FMFC's opponent will attack on Saturday. Tucson plays in a direct style, attempting lots of long balls forward instead of making short passes up the pitch. As this chart shows, many of those attempts come to nothing. Ones that work, though, can cut out the entire midfield.

3. PLAYER TO WATCH: JAMAEAL COX

If there's anyone who can make FC Tucson tick against Forward Madison, it's going to be Jamael Cox. The veteran midfielder often assumes a playmaking role, providing creativity when Tucson takes possession. He often takes risks to set up teammates, but it's paid off so far; Cox has created 11 chances this season, the most of anyone on his team.

Forward Madison FC announced that Daryl Shore would be the team's first head coach and technical director.

Shore, 48, has spent 25 years coaching throughout his career. He served as an assistant coach in Major League Soccer for the Chicago Fire and Real Salt Lake, as well as head coach positions in three lower division teams.

Shore coached teams have qualified for the playoffs in 17 of his 23 professional seasons, including nine of his ten seasons in Chicago. In Chicago, Shore and Wilt worked together with Wilt serving as the MLS team's President and General Manager. With the Fire, Shore earned three US Open Cup Championships, the 2003 MLS Supporters Shield and twice was an MLS Cup finalist.

After leaving RSL, Shore served this past season as an assistant coach of the 2018 NPSL Champion Miami FC 2. He has a long history and deep passion for the game. Attending college at Birmingham-Southern, Shore started on the men's soccer team from 1989-1993 as the goalkeeper. As a two-time NAIA All-American Shore was inducted into the Birmingham-Southern Athletic Hall of Fame. Following his collegiate career, Shore became an assistant at his alma mater for two years before signing on to play professionally with the Birmingham Grasshoppers. In 1994, he earned recognition for his play by being awarded Goalkeeper of the Year in the USISL.

Following his stint with the Grasshoppers, Shore signed with the New Orleans Riverboat Gamblers where he served as an assistant coach as well as goalkeeper in 1995. By 1998, he became head coach of New Orleans. Shore led both New Orleans and expansion Lehigh Valley Steam to USL playoff runs. He joined Bob Bradley's staff in Chicago as its goalkeeper coach in 2000. Just one year later Shore was promoted to assistant coach. By 2002, Shore had made a name for himself within the Fire organization and Wilt named him Director of Youth Development and Assistant Coaching Director of the Chicago Fire Juniors in addition to his first team coaching duties.
