REACHING OUT TO HELP OTHERS

The Cincinnati Bengals have a strong commitment to making a difference in the community, generating more than $1.8 million each year for community groups. This includes direct Bengals corporate contributions, NFL Foundation Grants and other efforts with business partners.

The Bengals believe there are many great organizations, foundations and charities in the Greater Cincinnati area and choose to cast a broad net to support these groups. With more than 100 organizations supported each year, it would be hard for fans to not have their lives touched by an organization supported by the Bengals. Every level of the organization — from players to owners to coaches to staff — is involved in the effort. Below are just a few of the many initiatives and programs in which the Bengals are involved.

COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS

The Bengals, along with players and coaches, donated more than $630,000 to help provide COVID-19 relief locally. The donations were used to provide meals to people in need, assist healthcare workers and support local youth programs. Organizations that received donations included United Way of Greater Cincinnati and eight foodbanks serving Central and Southern Ohio, Southeast Indiana and Kentucky.

“The Bengals organization and players have been long time champions of the Freestore Foodbank’s work in the tristate area,” said Freestore Foodbank President & CEO Kurt Reiber. “We are grateful for their commitment to us and our surrounding Feeding America Food Bank partners during this critical time to feed kids and families affected by the COVID-19 crisis.”

INSPIRING CHANGE

The Bengals are committed to supporting programs and initiatives that reduce barriers to opportunity in our community. In 2020, the Bengals organization pledged $250,000 to support social justice initiatives, with a priority on supporting improvements in education and economic advancement and community and police relations.

As part of this ongoing effort, the Bengals also support the Dive Right Youth Flag Football program with the Cincinnati Police Department and the Cincinnati Recreation Commission, City Gospel Mission’s Careers Plus High School program, Activities Beyond the Classroom’s AAA Pathway Mentoring and Test Prep Program for high school student athletes, and Life Learning Center’s high school outreach program.

YOUTH FOOTBALL AND CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT

Play 60: The NFL Play 60 mission is to make the next generation of youth the most active and healthy by encouraging fans to be active for at least 60 minutes a day. Since the launch of the campaign, the NFL has committed more than $350 million to youth health and fitness through programming, grants, and media time for PSAs; the NFL and its clubs have supported programs in over 73,000 schools nationwide, giving more than 38 million children the chance to boost physical activity levels and build a foundation for a healthy lifestyle.

Play Football: Play Football is a year-round initiative celebrating youth & high school football. The initiative aims to shape football experiences for flag and tackle participants, highlight coaches and connect the community to the values and principles promoted through football participation. Each year the Bengals contribute over $275,000 to support local youth and high school football programs.

Paul Brown Excellence in Coaching Award: The award has been given annually by the Bengals since 2002. It honors outstanding high school football coaches in the region and includes a $7500 Bengals donation to the athletic department of the chosen coach. In 2020 the Bengals honored Aaron Hancock from Wyoming High School.

High School Coach of the Week & Year: The NFL High School Football Coach of the Week program is designed to recognize local high school coaches who continuously demonstrate hard work and dedication to their community, their football programs and the health and safety of their players. Each year the Bengals nominate and recognize 10 local coaches as the Bengals High School Coach of the Week. The recognition also provides each of the coach’s high schools a $1000 grant to help maintain and upgrade their football programs.

Football Field Refurbishment: The Bengals and the National Football League Foundation teamed up to contribute $250,000 to Harrison High School to install a synthetic turf field. The grant was the latest in an ongoing program in which the Bengals and the NFL have coordinated to distribute $2.3 million to local schools for new fields. Other schools include Bishop Brossart High School, South Avondale Elementary, Clinton-Massie High School, Covington Catholic High School, Deer Park Jr./Sr. High School, La Salle High School, Lockland High School, Oak Hills High School, Taylor High School, Withrow University High School and Midway Elementary School.

Recess in the Stadium: For over 10 years now, the Bengals have partnered with Cincinnati Children’s Heart Institute and the American Heart Association to host the annual Recess in the Stadium event to promote heart healthy lifestyles to children and their families.

United Way Character Playbook: Character Playbook, a digital character education program for middle school aged students, has helped over 400,000 students, in nearly 4,500 schools nationwide, learn how to cultivate and maintain healthy relationships since the programs launch in 2016.

InsideOut Initiative: The NFL, the Bengals and the InsideOut Initiative are working with the Ohio High School Athletic Association to transform the current ‘win-at-all-costs’ sports culture into one that defines and promotes sports as a human growth experience. Visit InsideOutInitiative.org to learn more.

Special Olympics Hamilton County: Through grant and equipment donations, since 2017, the Bengals have supported the launch of the Special Olympics Hamilton County flag football program, both in schools, and the evening adult program.

PLAYER FOUNDATIONS & CAUSES

There are substantial efforts undertaken by players, coaches and alumni to give back to the community. Examples include:

- The Ken Anderson Alliance provides a quality of life that enables adults with developmental disabilities to develop and sustain lifelong relationships, independence and self-esteem while contributing to the larger community.

- The Bernard Family Foundation, launched by Giovani Bernard, provides children of Haiti with an opportunity for a quality education. In addition to supporting education, the foundation offers youth football camps, free of charge, to children who may not have had the opportunity to attend otherwise.

- Joe Burrow partnered with the Athens County Food Pantry to launch the Joe Burrow Hunger Relief Fund, dedicated to providing supplemental and emergency food aid to residents of Athens County, Ohio. The Fund was made possible with $350,000 from the many thousands of gifts inspired by Burrow’s 2019 Heisman Trophy acceptance speech. Each gift invested in the Fund was matched dollar-for-dollar by the Foundation for Appalachian Ohio, bringing the initial investment in the Fund to $700,000.

- The Carlos Dunlap Foundation provides children with engaging and enriching activities to help them learn and grow, including working with underprivileged high school students to provide college readiness tools and throwing birthday parties for homeless kids who have never had one. One of Dunlap’s core initiatives is an anti-bullying campaign that encourages kids to read a book and have an open discussion about bullying.

- The Boomer Esiason Foundation is a dynamic partnership of leaders in the medical and business communities joining with a committed core of volunteers to heighten awareness, education and quality of life for those affected by cystic fibrosis, while providing financial support to research aimed at finding a cure.

- Kevin & Mindi Huber’s Foundation for Underserved Rescues aims to provide resources and support to underserved Cincinnati area animal rescues. They are dedicated to addressing the needs of the city’s rescues and shelters who perform the thankless work of saving animals from potential negative outcomes.

- The John Ross Foundation aims to help young people and their communities by offering an array of support, guidance and developmental programs and facilities. From providing educational opportunities to career resources to extracurricular fun, the foundation expands the horizons of not only these young people, but their entire community as well.

- The mission of the Anthony Muñoz Foundation is to impact the lives of Greater Cincinnati area youth mentally, physically and spiritually through their seven Impact Programs.

ZAC TAYLOR HEAD COACH

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Cincinnati Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. He enters his second season looking to maintain the momentum of a late-season turnaround, and will get the added support of seven-time Pro Bowl WR A.J. Green and second-year OT Jonah Williams, who both missed 2019 due to injuries, as well as the addition of QB Joe Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in April's draft.

Taylor's first season as head coach ended with a 2-14 record, however the team showed promise late in the year. On offense, Taylor helped key an improved rushing attack that saw its yards-per-game rushing average jump 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1). The team's average yards per rushing attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) the final eight games, and the offense allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19).

Among the most improved Bengals last year was HB Joe Mixon, who ranked second in the NFL in rushing yards (817) over the final eight weeks. Also, each of the Bengals' top four WRs — Tyler Boyd, Alex Erickson, Auden Tate and John Ross III — posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards.

Cincinnati also saw sweeping improvement on defense throughout last season. The defense notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game (57.5 fewer rushing yards, 26.6 fewer passing yards). Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category — completions (364), attempts (561), passing yards (4688), passing TDs (32), completion percentage (64.9), yards per attempt (8.36) and passer rating (101.1). Goff ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards and eighth in passer rating. The Rams' QB play was a key component to their offense, which finished the regular season ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (421.1 per game), fifth in net passing yards (281.7), second in scoring (32.9), first in first downs (401) and fifth in third-down percentage (45.0). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor helped oversee an emerging Rams passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in pass yards per game (239.4). Taylor directed the Rams' young receiving corps, headed by rookie Cooper Kupp, who finished the season with 62 catches, a team-high 869 receiving yards and five TDs.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. Taylor served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes.

During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012:

- Tannehill's 15,460 passing yards in his first four seasons were the third-most among all quarterbacks in NFL history in their first four seasons, behind only Peyton Manning (1998-2001; 16,418) and Hall of Famer Dan Marino (1983-86; 16,177).

- In 2015, the year in which Taylor spent the last five games of the season calling Miami's offensive plays, Tannehill completed 363 of 586 passes for a career-high 4208 yards, 24 touchdowns and a passer rating of 88.7.

- In 2014, Tannehill tossed a career-high 27 TD passes, the sixth-most in Dolphins history and the most since Marino threw 30 in 1994. Tannehill also set career highs in completion percentage (66.4) and passer rating (92.8), and his 392 completions were a franchise record, surpassing Marino's 385 in 1994.

- In 2013, Tannehill threw for 3912 yards. His 7207 passing yards through his first two seasons were the fifth-most by any quarterback over the course of their first two seasons in NFL history.

- And in 2012, Taylor's first season as an NFL coach, Tannehill set team rookie records for total passing yards (3294), attempts (484) and completions (282), and he became the first rookie quarterback in Dolphins history to start all of the team's games.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies shared the Big 12 South Championship in 2010 and played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his collegiate career at Wake Forest (2002-03), before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for a combined 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his senior season of 2006, Taylor was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and is currently passing game coordinator/quarterbacks coach for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Taylor was born on May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla., where he was raised and attended Norman High School. He earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Playing and coaching history: 2002-03—Played QB at Wake Forest University. 2004—Played QB at Butler County (Kan.) LOU ANARUMO
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Lou Anarumo is entering his ninth season as an NFL coach, and second with Cincinnati, after joining the Bengals in 2019 as defensive coordinator.

Last season, Anarumo led a Bengals defense that saw sweeping improvement as the season progressed. Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game. Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games. Additionally, Anarumo's defense was among the NFL's best in the red zone, allowing TDs on just 49 percent of opponents' trip inside the 20-yard line (ranked No. 5 in the NFL).

Anarumo spent the 2018 season as defensive backs coach of the N.Y. Giants, where he helped the defense rank seventh in the NFL in interceptions (16) and 10th in opponents' passer rating (89.8). Under his guidance in 2018, S Landon Collins led the Giants in tackles (96) and earned a Pro Bowl nod.

Prior to his time with the Giants, Anarumo served as defensive backs coach for the Miami Dolphins from 2012-17. He also served as interim defensive coordinator for the Dolphins' final 12 games of 2015, after the team made mid-season coaching staff changes.

In 2017, Dolphins S Reshad Jones led the Dolphins with 122 tackles and was selected as a starter on the AFC Pro Bowl team. Anarumo's secondary helped the 2016 Dolphins to a 10-win season, including victories in nine of their final 11 games, along with a playoff berth. The defense finished the season with 21 forced turnovers, which tied for fourth in the league.

Anarumo entered the 2015 season as Dolphins secondary coach, but was named interim defensive coordinator on Oct. 8 after the team made changes to the coaching staff. Under Anarumo, Jones and CB Brent Grimes were both selected to the Pro Bowl, the first time since the 2003 season that Miami had two members of their secondary participate in the Pro Bowl in the same season.

In 2014, Anarumo led a Dolphins secondary that allowed just 222.3 passing yards per game, sixth-best in the NFL. Grimes recorded a team-high five INTs en route to his second straight Pro Bowl, and Jones was one of three players in the NFL to record 70 or more tackles, one sack and three INTs.

Anarumo's first two seasons in Miami were marked by improved play in the secondary. The team's 35 TD passes allowed between 2012-13 were the second-fewest in the NFL over that span. The secondary in 2013 held opponents to the fifth-lowest passer rating in the NFL (77.3), and Grimes' four INTs and 17 PDs earned him the first of his three Pro Bowl nods during Anarumo's tenure.

Prior to his time with the Dolphins, Anarumo spent 23 seasons in the college coaching ranks. From 2004-11, he served as defensive backs coach at Purdue University, where he oversaw the development of multiple future pros, including CB Ricardo Allen and S Bernard Pollard.

From 2001-03, Anarumo was defensive backs coach at Marshall University. He also served as the team's special teams coordinator in 2003. Anarumo helped the Thundering Herd rank 10th in the nation in passing defense in 2003, allowing 177.4 yards per game. Marshall compiled a 30-8 record over Anarumo's three seasons, and won the GMAC Bowl in 2001 and '02.

Anarumo was assistant head coach at Harvard University from 1995-2000, working with the defensive backs and coordinating the special teams. From 1992-94, he was defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

From 1990-91, Anarumo was a graduate assistant at Syracuse University. From January to June 1990, he was a part-time running backs coach at Wagner College. He served in that same role at the United States Merchant Marine Academy from September 1989 to January 1990.

Born August 18, 1966, Anarumo is a native of Staten Island, N.Y., and earned his bachelor's degree in special education from Wagner in 1990. He and his wife, Fran, have three children — Madison, Louis and Christopher. His last name is pronounced "ann-ah-ROO-mo."

COLT ANDERSON
ASSISTANT SPECIAL TEAMS

Anderson joins the Bengals' staff for his first year as a coach, after a nine-year (2009-17) playing career in which he was considered among the NFL's top special teams players. Now on the coaching side, he will work alongside the Bengals' assistant head coach/special teams coordinator Darrin Simmons. Now in his 18th season leading Cincinnati's special teams units, Simmons is considered one of the NFL's top special teams coaches.

Anderson will help guide a special teams unit that last year ranked among the top 10 teams leaguewide in five major categories, including third in average starting field position (26.4) and fourth in opponents' average starting field position (23.9).

"He has the experiences of playing in the league, and that means something," Simmons said of Anderson. "We hired him because of his personality and what he brings. It means something to him. It's important to him. During his playing days, he worked his way into becoming a prominent player in our league with hard work and effort. And I expect no different from him as a coach. He's done the things that it takes for him to be successful."

As a player, Anderson was a rotational safety whose impact was felt most on special teams. Over his nine seasons as an NFL player, he spent time with the Minnesota Vikings, Philadelphia Eagles, Indianapolis Colts and Buffalo Bills. He played in 84 career games (seven starts), and recorded 109 tackles, one interception and two forced fumbles on defense, along with 58 tackles on special teams.

Anderson's final NFL stop as a player was in Buffalo, where he spent the 2016-17 seasons. Injuries limited him to just seven games over two seasons with the Bills, but he still managed five special teams tackles and when healthy was considered a core special teams player.

Prior to his time with Buffalo, Anderson spent two seasons (2014-15) with Indianapolis, where he totaled 16 special teams tackles and a forced fumble. His first NFL game action came as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles, with whom he spent four seasons (2010-13) and racked up 37 special teams tackles.

He entered the NFL as a college free agent signee of the Vikings in 2009, but spent nearly all of his first two seasons on Minnesota's practice squad before being signed to the Eagles' active roster in Nov. 2010.

Anderson played collegiately at the University of Montana, in Missoula, Mont. He originally joined the Grizzlies' program as a walk-on safety, and went on to become a three-time All-Big Sky performer. As a senior in 2008, he set a school record with 129 tackles.

After his NFL playing career, Anderson spent one season (2019) as a volunteer coach at his alma mater, Butte High School, where he focused mainly on defense and special teams. He and his brother, Beau, own a restaurant in Montana called the Missoula Club, and he and his other brother, Luke, own a clothing company called Uptop. He and his wife, Keelie, also founded the Colt Anderson Dream Big Foundation, a non-profit that is focused on implementing "programs and experiences that will involve our youth, getting them excited about investing in their future."

Anderson was born Oct. 25, 1985, in Butte, Mont., and went on to star as a running back and safety in high school. He holds a degree from Montana in business information systems, and he also earned a teaching certificate in secondary education. He and his wife, Keelie, have three sons — Cage, Krew and Coye.

BOB BICKNELL
WIDE RECEIVERS

Bob Bicknell enters his 13th NFL season in 2020, and his third with Cincinnati. Bicknell will lead a talented group of Bengals receivers, including seven-time Pro Bowler A.J. Green, Tyler Boyd, John Ross III, and 2020 second-round pick Tee Higgins.

Last season, Bicknell guided the Bengals' receiving corps through an entire year without their leader and best player, A.J. Green, who was lost for the season due to an injury in training camp. Bicknell, though, helped each of Cincinnati's top four WRs fill in admirably, as each set new career-highs in both catches and receiving yards — Tyler Boyd (90 catches-1046 yards), Alex Erickson (43-529), Auden Tate (40-575) and John Ross (28-506).

In 2018, Bicknell helped guide Boyd to 76 catches, 1028 receiving yards and seven TDs. It was the first of Boyd's now two 1000-yard seasons, and the first such season by a Bengals WR other than Green since 2009 (Chad Johnson). Green was limited by injury to just nine games in his first season under Bicknell, but he still managed 46 catches for 694 yards and six TDs. And after an injury shortened season as a rookie, Ross in 2018 went on to tie Boyd for the team high in receiving TDs (seven).

Bicknell spent 2017 as the wide receivers coach at Baylor University, where he helped sophomore Denzel Mims to career-highs in catches (61), receiving yards (1087) and TDs (eight).

In 2018, Bicknell was wide receivers coach for the San Francisco 49ers under head coach Chip Kelly. Under Bicknell's direction, WR Jeremy Kerley logged career highs in receptions (64) and TDs (three).

Prior to his stint in San Francisco, Bicknell spent three seasons (2013-15) as wide receivers coach in Philadelphia under Kelly. During his tenure, the Eagles' offense set franchise records in points, TDs, passing yards, completions and completion percentage.

In 2015, Bicknell helped WR Jordan Matthews to 85 receptions (fourth-most in Eagles history), 997 receiving yards and eight TDs. In 2014, Bicknell guided WR Jeremy Maclin to career highs in receptions (85), receiving yards (1318) and receiving TDs (10) en route to his first Pro Bowl selection. And in 2013, Bicknell helped WR DeSean Jackson set career-highs in receptions (82) and receiving yards (1332) en route to his third Pro Bowl selection.

From 2010-12, Bicknell was on the Buffalo Bills' coaching staff, serving as tight ends coach from '10-11 and wide receivers coach in '12. In 2012, Bicknell helped WR Stevie Johnson to his third consecutive 1000-yard season.

Bicknell broke into the NFL coaching ranks in 2007 with the Kansas City Chiefs, where he initially served as assistant offensive line coach before being promoted to offensive line coach ('08) and then moving to coach tight ends coach ('09). In 2008, Bicknell helped the Chiefs' offensive line support a powerful running attack that tied for the AFC lead in rushing, at 4.8 yards per carry.

Before joining NFL coaching, Bicknell served as the offensive line coach at Temple University in 2006. Prior to his time at Temple, he spent eight years in NFL Europe (1998-2005), including stints as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the Cologne Centurions ('04-05) and Berlin Thunder ('01-03). During his time in Europe, Bicknell won three consecutive World Bowls as part of the coaching staff of the Thunder (2000-01) and Frankfurt Galaxy (1999).

Bicknell began his coaching career at Boston University, where he coached safeties (1993), running backs ('94) and linebackers ('95-97).

A native of Holliston, Mass., Bicknell was a three-year letterman as a tight end at Boston College (1989-91). He comes from a football family, as his father, Jack, was the head coach at BC from 1981-90 and spent 13 seasons as a head coach in NFL Europe before retiring in 2007. His brother, Jack, Jr., is currently the offensive line coach at Auburn. Jack Jr. has previously served as an NFL assistant with the Dolphins, Giants, Chiefs and Steelers.

Bicknell and his wife, Stacey, have two children — Gabriella and Grace. His last name is pronounced "bick-NELL."

JOEY BOESE
STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Boese is in his second Bengals and NFL season in 2020, and will again lead the team's strength and conditioning program.

Offensively, the Bengals averaged 70.6 more rushing yards per game in the second half of the season (130.1) than the first (59.5). The team's average rushing yards per attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) over the final eight

Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks the second half of the year, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game (57.5 fewer rushing, 26.6 fewer passing yards). Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Boese spent three years (2016-18) as the head football strength and conditioning coach at the University of Illinois, where he helped the Illini develop one of the most powerful rushing offenses in the Big Ten Conference. In 2018, the team's 244.2 yards per game on the ground ranked second in the Big Ten, and RB Reggie Corbin led the conference in yards per attempt (8.5) en route to third-team All-Big Ten honors.

Prior to his time at Illinois, Boese was head strength and conditioning coach at Fresno State University from 2012-15. In his first two seasons at Fresno State, Boese helped the Bulldogs to back-to-back conference titles, a first for the program since 1992-93. Boese also helped develop 14 All-Mountain West first-team performers and six NFL draft picks, including Oakland Raiders QB Derek Carr. Fresno State's most success came in 2013, Boese's second year with the program, when the Bulldogs tied the school record for wins (11) and reached as high as No. 13 in the USA Today Coaches Poll.

Boese broke into the coaching ranks as assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Texas A&M football team from 2008-11. During his time with the Aggies, Boese coached seven future first-round NFL draft picks, including Denver Broncos all-pro LB Von Miller. He also worked alongside several members of the current Bengals coaching staff, including head coach Zac Taylor, offensive line coach Jim Turner and assistant offensive line coach Ben Martin.

Between August 2009 and July 2011, Boese worked as the head strength and conditioning coach for Texas A&M's baseball team, and helped the Aggies reach the 2011 College World Series.

Boese attended the University of Wisconsin, where he played defensive back on the football team from 1998-2001. He was a four-year letter winner, two-year starter at defensive back, three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection, and helped the Badgers to back-to-back Rose Bowl victories (1998 and '99) and a Sun Bowl victory (2000). After college, he played four seasons (2003-06) in the Canadian Football League for the Calgary Stampeders. After his playing days, Boese served as a defensive video intern with the Nebraska football team in 2007.

Boese was born in Chicago, Ill., but was raised in Southern California. He earned a bachelor's degree in communication arts from Wisconsin in 2002, and finished his master's of science in health, physical education and recreation at Emporia State University in '08. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS), and a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) and Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA).

BRIAN CALLAHAN
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Brian Callahan in 2020 enters his 11th NFL season, and his second in Cincinnati. He joined the Bengals as offensive coordinator prior to the 2019 season.

Callahan helped steer the offense to significant improvement throughout his first Bengals season, despite the absence of star WR A.J. Green and LOT Jonah Williams, the team's first-round draft pick, who both missed the entire season due to injuries. The most significant offensive improvement came on the ground, as Cincinnati's yards-per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1). The team's average rushing yards per attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) over the final eight games.

In the passing game, each of the Bengals' top four WRs — Tyler Boyd, Alex Erickson, Auden Tate and John Ross III — posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards.

Prior to his arrival in Cincinnati, Callahan was quarterbacks coach for the Oakland Raiders in 2018. In Oakland, he helped QB Derek Carr to a career-high 4049 passing yards and a 93.9 passer rating. Carr also led the AFC in completion percentage (68.9), and ranked fourth in total completions (381).

Prior to his season in Oakland, Callahan was quarterbacks coach with the Detroit Lions from 2016-17. Over the course of his two years in Detroit, Lions QB Matthew Stafford ranked in the top-10 among NFL passers in TD passes (53), passing yards (8773), completions (759), completion percentage (65.5) and INT percentage (1.7).

In 2017, Stafford ranked third in the NFL in passing yards (4446) and fourth in passing TDs (29), while throwing a career-low 10 INTs. In 2016, Callahan's first in Detroit, he helped Stafford to an NFL-best eight fourth-quarter game-winning drives, the most by a signal caller in a single season since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger.

Callahan entered the NFL as a coach with the Denver Broncos, spending six years with the club in a multitude of offensive roles. He entered in 2010 as a coaching assistant, then moved to offensive quality control from '11-12, offensive assistant from '13-14, and offensive assistant/quarterbacks coach in '15.

During his run with the Broncos, Callahan helped mold one of the NFL's most potent offenses, which led the Broncos to five consecutive AFC West titles from 2011-15, including a Super Bowl 50 victory in 2015.

Callahan also helped the Broncos' offense to four consecutive seasons (2012-15) of 4000 passing yards. Denver's QB during Callahan's tenure was future Hall-of-Famer Peyton Manning, who during his time as a Bronco won the NFL MVP award (2013), two AFC titles ('13 and '15) and a Super Bowl title ('15). Callahan in 2013 helped the Broncos' offense to one of the top offensive seasons in league history, including an NFL-record 55 TD passes from Manning, an NFL-record 606 points, and league-best 457.3 yards per game (second-most in NFL history).

Callahan served as a coaching assistant with the Broncos in 2010, his first season as an NFL coach, but he was thrust into a more extensive role with the team's running backs after mid-season coaching staff changes.

Prior to joining the NFL coaching ranks, Callahan spent two years (2008-09) at Junipero Serra High School in nearby San Mateo, Calif., as the team's offensive coordinator and QBs coach. He broke into the coaching ranks from 2006-07, as a graduate assistant at UCLA — he served in football operations in '06, and then worked with the WRs in '07.

Callahan played collegiately at UCLA, where as a former walk-on QB he appeared in 13 games as a holder on PATs. He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from UCLA in 2006, and a masters in education in '08.

The son of former Raiders head coach (2002-03) Bill Callahan, Brian Callahan was born in Champaign, Ill., but attended high school in California in the Bay Area. He was a two-year letter-winner at QB at De La Salle High School in Concord, Calif., where he was a part of the school's national-record 151-game winning streak and led the team to a No. 1 national ranking. Callahan and his wife, Allyson, have a son, Ronan, and daughter, Norah.

James Casey enters his second season in Cincinnati, and second as an NFL coach. He joined the Bengals prior to the 2019 season.

In his first season in Cincinnati, Casey helped Bengals' tight ends account for a third of the team's receiving TDs (six of 18), despite losing rookie second-round pick Drew Sample to a season-ending injury midway through the year. The tight ends also helped the offense to significant improvement over the team's final eight games. The Bengals allowed 10 fewer sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first, and the team's per-game rushing average increased by 70.6 yards.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Casey spent three years (2016-18) on the coaching staff at the University of Houston. In 2018, he served as special teams coordinator/tight ends coach, and helped the Cougars' offense rank fourth nationally in scoring (46.4 points per game) and sixth in total offense (528.6 yards per game). Houston scored at least 30 points in all 12 regular-season games, and hit the 40-point mark in 10 of 12 games.

Under Casey's direction, Houston's tight ends helped the team rank 14th in the country in passing offense (300.9 yards per game) and 20th in rushing (227.7). Houston was one of only two schools (the other was Oklahoma) in 2018 to rank in the top 20 nationally in both passing and rushing offense.

In 2017, Casey played a key role in the emergence of Houston TE Romello Brooker, who finished the season with 29 receptions for 364 yards and six TDs (led the American Athletic Conference). Brooker entered 2018 with just nine career catches.

In 2016, Casey's first as a coach after his playing career, he served as offensive football analyst for Houston and helped the Cougars to a No. 15 national ranking in passing offense (310.9 yards per game). Houston also ranked 21st in scoring offense (38.0 points per game), and topped the 30-point park in 11 of 12 regular-season games.

Prior to his coaching career, Casey had a seven-year (2009-15) playing career in the NFL as a tight end/fullback. He was originally a fifth-round draft pick of the Texans in 2009, and played four seasons (2009-12) with Houston before later stints with the Philadelphia Eagles ('13-14) and Denver Broncos ('15).

Casey played collegiately at Rice University in Houston, where he had a record-setting career as a tight end in just two seasons (2007-08). Casey left the program with school records for receptions in a season, receiving yards in a season and receiving yards in a game. He earned Freshman All-America honors in 2007, and first-team All-Conference USA and CoSIDA Academic All-American honors in 2008. He was also named the 2008 recipient of Rice's James W. Glanville Award, presented annually to the player who has achieved excellence in athletics, academics and integrity.

Prior to his time at Rice, Casey was drafted by the Chicago White Sox in the seventh round of the 2003 Major League Baseball Draft. He spent three seasons with the White Sox organization as a pitcher, before enrolling at Rice and pursuing football.

Casey was born on Sept. 22, 1984, in Fort Worth, Texas, but was raised in nearby Azle, Texas. He attended Azle High School, where he was a standout quarterback on the football team and pitcher on the baseball team.

SENIOR DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

A Bengals assistant from 1997-2002, Mark Duffner returned to Cincinnati's coaching staff in '19 as senior defensive assistant. He now is in his 24th season as an NFL coach, and eighth with the Bengals' staff. Prior to his time in the NFL, Duffner coached 22 years in the college ranks, including 11 as a head coach.

Last season, Duffner helped guide the defense to one of the most significant late-season turnarounds in team history. Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game, including 57.5 fewer rushing yards and 26.6 fewer passing yards. Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Duffner spent 2016-18 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as linebackers coach, and served the last 11 games of 2018 as the Bucs' interim defensive coordinator after mid-season coaching staff changes. Over those 11 contests, Duffner's defense improved its yards allowed per game from 439.8 to 357.7, despite losing several defenders to injuries.

Under Duffner's guidance in 2017, Alexander earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl, and LB Lavonte David led the team in tackles and had five forced fumbles (second-most in the NFL) and a league-high five fumble recoveries.

From 2014-15, Duffner served as linebackers coach for the Miami Dolphins. There, he worked alongside several current Bengals coaches, including head coach Zac Taylor and defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo.

Prior to his time with Miami, Duffner spent eight seasons (2006-13) as linebackers coach with the Jacksonville Jaguars. Under Duffner in 2013, LB Paul Posluszny became the Jags' first LB to earn a Pro Bowl nod in 14 seasons.

Duffner was named in 2014 as the top Jacksonville assistant coach by the Florida Times-Union on the All-20th Anniversary Jaguars Team. He also twice was voted by fans as Buccaneers Coach of the Year (in both 2017 and '18) as part of Tampa Bay's local PewterCast Awards.

From 2003-05, Duffner was linebackers coach for the Green Bay Packers, where he was instrumental in developing first-round draft pick Nick Barnett, who led the team in tackles in each of his three years under Duffner.

Duffner broke into the NFL coaching ranks with the Bengals from 1997-2002. He spent his first four seasons (1997-2000) as LBs coach, before moving to defensive coordinator for two seasons ('01-02). In 2001, the Bengals' defense allowed the fewest points (309) by a Cincinnati defense since 1989, and the fewest yards per game (302.0) since 1983. In addition, the 2001 defense set a single-season team record for sacks (48) that stood for 11 seasons.

At the college level, Duffner compiled an 80-40-1 record as a head coach for both the University of Maryland (1992-96) and The College of the Holy Cross (1986-91). With the Terrapins, Duffner helped the program return to the national rankings in 1995 for the first time in nine seasons. As head coach at Holy Cross, the Crusaders won five Patriot League championships, four Lambert Cups and four ECAC Team of the Year awards. Duffner's team also earned the No. 1 ranking in the final 1987 NCAA Division I-AA poll. He was named Patriot League Coach of the Year four times, while also earning National Coach of the Year honors in 1987 and '91. Duffner's .917 winning percentage (60-5-1) was the best in school and Patriot League history when he left the program. He was inducted into The College of Holy Cross Hall of Fame in 2008.

Duffner began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Ohio State under Woody Hayes from 1975-76 while he earned a master's degree. He then served as defensive coordinator at the University of Cincinnati from 1977-80.

Duffner was born July 19, 1953, in Annandale, Va.. He played college football at William & Mary from '72-74 (inducted into school's hall of fame in '90). He and his wife, Kathy, have two daughters, Christina and Carolyn, and one son, John, as well as three granddaughters (Camilla, Ava and Aria) and one grandson (Jackson).

NICK EASON DEFENSIVE LINE

Nick Eason in 2019 enters his sixth season as an NFL coach, and his second in Cincinnati. He will again serve as the Bengals' defensive line coach, a position he knows well from his 10 seasons (2003-12) as an NFL nose tackle.

Last season, Eason helped the Bengals' defensive line improve significantly as the season progressed. Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games. The defense also allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game the second half of the season, including 57.5 fewer rushing yards.

Additionally, under Eason's guidance, DT Geno Atkins earned his eighth Pro Bowl nomination.

Eason spent 2014-17 with the Tennessee Titans, serving his first two seasons as assistant defensive line coach before moving up to the defensive line coach role for his final two years.

In his two seasons (2016-17) as Tennessee's defensive line coach, Eason's units played a central role on Titans defenses that ranked among the best in the NFL against the run. Tennessee's defensive line was led by star DT Jurrell Casey, who in his two seasons under Eason totaled 11 sacks, 37 QB hits and earned two Pro Bowl nominations.

In 2017, Tennessee's defensive line ranked fourth in the NFL against the run, allowing an average of just 88.8 yards per game. In 2016, Eason's first as defensive line coach, the Titans allowed just 88.3 rushing yards per game, and their No. 2 league rank against the run was the team's highest in 14 seasons.

In 2015, Eason helped guide Casey to a team-high seven sacks, 28 QB pressures and his first-career Pro Bowl invite. Eason also aided in the development of DE DaQuan Jones and NT Al Woods, who both emerged as quality starters and matched or bettered their career-best numbers in all categories.

In 2014, Eason's first as a full-time NFL coach, he helped oversee Tennessee's defensive transition from a 4-3 to a 3-4 front. He also helped Casey continue his ascent into one of the NFL's best interior defensive linemen, as he posted 86 tackles, including 13 for losses, and 27 QB pressures. Eason also guided NT Sammie Hill to career-highs in tackles (47), sacks (3.0), tackles for losses (seven) and QB pressures (8).

Eason's first coaching assignment after his playing days came in 2013, when he was an intern coach with the Cleveland Browns.

As a player, Eason saw action in 117 games over 10 seasons (2003-12) with the Browns, Pittsburgh Steelers and Arizona Cardinals. He finished his playing career with the Cardinals, where he spent two seasons (2011-12), appeared in 32 games and registered two sacks. Prior to his time with Arizona, Eason spent four seasons (2007-10) with the Steelers and helped the team to two Super Bowl appearances, including a victory in Super Bowl XLIII in the '08 season.

Eason was originally a fourth-round selection by the Denver Broncos in the 2003 NFL Draft, but he spent his rookie season on Reserve/Injured after suffering an Achilles injury during training camp. The following season, Eason reemerged on the Broncos' active roster before being waived and signed by the Browns, with whom he played for three seasons (2004-06).

Eason was born May 29, 1980, in Lyons, Ga. He went on to play college football at Clemson University, where he starred on the defensive line and became the first football player in school history to graduate with two years of eligibility remaining, earning his degree in sociology in August 2001. In 2008, he earned his master's degree in human resources. Eason played in 47 games with 35 starts for the Tigers, and recorded 15 sacks and 30 tackles for losses. He earned first-team All-ACC honors as a senior defensive tackle.

Playing and coaching history: 1998-2002—Played defensive lineman at Clemson. 2003-04—Played defensive tackle with Denver Broncos. 2004-06—Played defensive tackle with Cleveland Browns. 2007-10—Played defensive tackle with Pittsburgh Steelers. 2011-12—Played defensive tackle with Arizona Cardinals. 2013—Intern coach, Cleveland Browns. 2014-17—Assistant coach (AC), Tennessee Titans. 2019-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

AL GOLDEN LINEBACKERS

Golden is in his first season as a Bengals coach, and brings with him 27 years of coaching experience, including 23 in the college ranks and four in the NFL. Ten of his seasons coaching in college came as a head coach, leading the University of Miami (Fla.) and Temple University. And while he played tight end at Penn State, much of his coaching background and success has come on the defensive side of the ball, specifically with linebackers.

Golden spent the last four seasons (2016-19) as an assistant with the Detroit Lions. He was tight ends coach his first two seasons in Detroit, before moving to linebackers coach for his final two seasons. As the Lions' linebackers coach, Golden helped continue the development of 2017 first-round pick Jarrad Davis, who in his first season under Golden set career-highs in tackles (100), sacks (six), tackles for losses (10) and passes defended (five). Davis and the rest of the Lions' linebackers helped key a massive defensive turnaround that saw the team rank 10th in the NFL in total defense, a 17-spot improvement over 2017, and 10th in rush defense, up eight spots from '17. During his time as tight ends coach, he aided in the development of Eric Ebron, who topped 50 receptions and 500 receiving yards in both of his seasons under Golden.

Prior to his time in Detroit, Golden coached in the college ranks for 23 seasons, including 10 as a head coach — Temple University from 2006-10, and Miami (Fla.) from '11-15. He won numerous awards during his time as a head coach, including 2009 MAC Coach of the Year while at Temple, and the 2013 Lombardi Award for Excellence in Coaching while at Miami.

While at Miami, Golden led his teams to bowl games in each of his five seasons. In 2012, Golden's second season at Miami, the Hurricanes won the ACC's Coastal Division championship, despite the program undergoing an NCAA investigation for violations that occurred prior to his arrival.

Golden's first head coaching assignment came at Temple, where he sparked one of the greatest turnarounds in college football history. Golden led the Owls to winning records in each of his last two seasons, after the school had achieved just two total winning seasons over its previous 26 years. His 2009 Temple squad finished 9-4 and tied for the MAC East Division title (7-1 record), earning a spot in the EagleBank Bowl, which was Temple's first bowl game since 1979 and only the third in the program's 112 years of existence. The team's nine wins in 2009 were also the second most in school history (program started in 1894).

From 2001-05, Golden served as defensive coordinator at the University of Virginia, under head coach Al Groh. At the time he was hired in 2001, Golden was the youngest defensive coordinator in FBS (formerly Division I-A). He worked closely with the Cavaliers' inside linebackers from 2001-04, and the defensive backfield in '05.

Prior to his tenure at Virginia, Golden was the linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator at his alma mater, Penn State, in 2000. He spent the previous three seasons (1997-99) as the linebackers coach at Boston College, after beginning his college coaching career as a graduate assistant at Virginia from '94-96.

Golden launched his coaching career in 1993, as offensive coordinator at his alma mater, Red Bank (N.J.) Catholic High School.

Prior to his coaching career, Golden was a three-year letter winner and two-year starter at tight end at Penn State. He was the 1991 recipient of Penn State's Ridge Riley Award, given annually to a football player who displays excellence in scholarship, sportsmanship, friendship and leadership. He also served as team captain of former head coach Joe Paterno's 1992 Nittany Lion squad that won the Fiesta Bowl. After graduating, he spent one year in the NFL with the New England Patriots, before turning his attention to coaching.

Golden was born July 4, 1969, in Colts Neck, N.J. He went on to star at Red Bank (N.J.) Catholic High, and was inducted into the Jersey Shore Sports Hall of Fame in 2004. He earned his undergraduate degree in pre-law from Penn State in 1991, and then received his master's in sports psychology from Virginia in '96. Golden and his wife, Kelly, have three children — son A.J., and daughters Addison and Grace.

Playing and coaching history: 1988-91—Played tight end at Penn State. 1992—Played tight end with New England Patriots. 1993—Assistant coach (AC) in New Jersey high school ranks. 1994-96—Graduate assistant, Virginia. 1997-99—AC, Boston College. 2000—AC, Penn State. 2001-05—Defensive coordinator, Virginia. 2006-10—Head coach, Temple. 2011-15—Head coach, Miami (Fla.). 2016-19—AC, Detroit Lions. 2020—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

TODD HUNT

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Todd Hunt enters his second season as a Bengals and NFL coach, after joining Cincinnati in 2019 as assistant strength and conditioning coach.

Last season, Hunt helped power a Bengals strength and conditioning program that guided Cincinnati to a late-season surge, with vast improvements on both offense and defense the second half of the year. Offensively, the Bengals averaged 70.6 more rushing yards per game in the second half of the season (130.1) compared to the first (59.5). The team's average rushing yards per attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) over the final eight games, and it allowed 10 fewer sacks. Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks the second half of the year, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game (57.5 fewer rushing, 26.6 fewer passing yards). Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Hunt joined the Bengals after spending the 2018 season at the University of Illinois, where he served as assistant strength coach for the football team. At Illinois, Hunt worked under Bengals head strength and conditioning coach Joey Boese and alongside fellow Bengals strength and conditioning assistant Garrett Swanson.

In 2018, Hunt and the Illini strength and conditioning staff helped mold one of the Big Ten Conference's most dominant rushing attacks. The team averaged 244.2 yards per game on the ground (second in the Big Ten), and RB Reggie Corbin led the conference in yards per attempt (8.5) en route to third-team All-Big Ten honors.

Prior to his time at Illinois, Hunt served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Fresno State University, from 2016-17 and worked with the Bulldogs' defensive linemen.

Prior to coaching, Hunt was a standout defensive end at Fresno State from 2012-15 (redshirted in '11). He played in 47 career games for the Bulldogs, with 27 starts, and recorded 136 tackles, including 17 for losses and 7.5 sacks. He served as a team captain as a senior in 2015, and he also was the recipient of the team's outstanding lineman of the year award for defense. Over his playing career, Hunt helped lead the Bulldogs to two Mountain West Conference championships (2012 and '13) and a MWC West Division title in 2014.

Hunt was born on Feb. 11, 1992, in Stamford, Conn. As a high school senior, he moved to Southern California and attended Mater Dei High School (Santa Ana, Calif.), where he was an Orange County All-Star at defensive end. Hunt holds a degree in criminology from Fresno State, which he earned in 2015.

Playing and coaching history: 2012-15—Played defensive end at Fresno State. 2016-17—Graduate assistant coach, Fresno State. 2018—Assistant coach (AC), Illinois. 2019-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

STEVE JACKSON

SECONDARY/CORNERBACKS

Steve Jackson enters his first season as an assistant with the Bengals, and will help lead the team's secondary. He will have a specific focus on the cornerbacks. This will be Jackson's 17th season as an NFL coach, after spending nine previous seasons as a player in the league.

Jackson spent the last two seasons (2018-19) with the N.Y. Jets, where he served as the team's assistant defensive backs coach. During his two seasons with the Jets DBs, he helped guide S Jamal Adams to consecutive Pro Bowl appearances and first-team AP

All-Pro nods. Adams also led the Jets in tackles in both seasons, and was voted by his teammates both years as the Curtis Martin Team Most Valuable Player.

Prior to his time with the Jets, Jackson spent two seasons (2016-17) with the Tennessee Titans as the team's assistant secondary coach. In 2017, he helped guide S Kevin Byard, a third-round selection in '16, to a standout season that included eight INTs (tied for NFL lead), a Pro Bowl nod and first-team All-Pro honors. Additionally, Jackson aided in the development of CB Adoree' Jackson, Tennessee's first-round selection in 2017, who was thrust into immediate action as a full-time starter and ended his rookie season with a team-high 17 passes defended and three FFs (tied for team lead).

Jackson served as assistant secondary coach for one season (2013) with the Detroit Lions, after spending eight years ('04-11) with the Washington Redskins as safeties coach (also added the title of defensive passing game coordinator from '06-09). His time in Washington was perhaps best known for his work as the position coach for the late Sean Taylor, a 2004 Redskins first-round pick who became one of the NFL's top defensive players before dying tragically in '07. Jackson was safeties coach for all four of Taylor's NFL seasons, overseeing a rapid development that earned Taylor first-team AP All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors before his untimely death at age 24.

Jackson began his NFL coaching career from 2001-03 with the Buffalo Bills, where he served as safeties coach, with an added focus on the team's third-down defense.

Prior to his coaching career, Jackson played safety in the NFL for nine seasons (1991-99), all of which were with the Houston Oilers/Tennessee Titans. He entered the league as a third-round draft choice of the Oilers in 1991, and went on to post 14 career INTs and nine sacks. In his final season, he helped the Titans to an AFC Championship and concluded his career in Super Bowl XXXIV.

Before the NFL, Jackson was a four-year starter at Purdue University. As a senior, he earned All-American honors and was named semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back.

Jackson was born April 8, 1969, in Houston, Texas, and went on to attend Klein Forest High School in Houston. He has a daughter, Dominique, and a son, Stephen.

Playing and coaching history: 1987-90—Played safety at Purdue. 1991-99—Played safety with Houston Oilers/Tennessee Titans. 2001-03—Assistant coach (AC), Buffalo Bills. 2004-11—AC, Washington Redskins. 2013—AC, Detroit Lions. 2016-17—AC, Tennessee Titans. 2018-19—AC, N.Y. Jets. 2020—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

JORDAN KOVACS
DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

A former NFL safety who was in the league as recently as 2016, Jordan Kovacs now enters his second season as a Bengals and NFL coach. He will again serve as a defensive quality control coach, with a specific focus on the linebackers.

Last season, Kovacs and the defensive staff keyed one of the most substantial defensive turnarounds in team history. Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game, including 57.5 fewer rushing yards and 26.6 fewer passing yards.

Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Kovacs joined the Bengals in 2019, after spending two seasons working for the football program at his alma mater, the University of Michigan. In 2018, Kovacs was a defensive graduate assistant with a focus on the defensive line, and he helped the Wolverines finish second in the nation in both total defense (275.2 yards per game) and pass defense (147.8). Kovacs' work with Michigan's defensive line helped guide DEs Rashan Gary and Chase Winovich to first-team All-Big Ten honors. Winovich also won Michigan's Bo Schembechler Most Valuable Player award.

In 2017, Kovacs was a coaching intern at Michigan with the defense and special teams. His work with the defense helped the Wolverines lead the nation in both passing defense and third-down conversion percentage allowed. Michigan was the only team in the country in 2017 to hold five opponents to fewer than 200 yards of total offense, something only three other schools accomplished as many as four times that season. No other Big Ten school had accomplished that feat in the previous 20 years. Eleven of 13 opponents were held under 200 yards passing as well.

Prior to his coaching career, Kovacs played safety for the Miami Dolphins for parts of three seasons (2013-15), after originally signing with the team as a college free agent in '13. He played in 28 career games for the Dolphins, and totaled 10 tackles and a sack. Kovacs also spent time briefly on the Philadelphia Eagles' practice squad in 2014, and with the Kansas City Chiefs and L.A. Rams during the 2016 preseason.

In college, Kovacs had a standout career as a safety at Michigan from 2009-12, after originally joining the program as a walk-on in '08. He was a four-year letter winner and four-year starter for the Wolverines, appearing in 50 total games with 46 starts. Kovacs became just the 15th player in school history to record 300 career tackles, and left the program ranked 12th all-time in that category (331).

As a senior in 2012, Kovacs earned Michigan's Bo Schembechler Most Valuable Player Award, as well as second-team All-Big Ten honors. He was also a finalist for the Burlsworth Trophy, presented annually to the top FBS college football player who began their career as a walk-on. Kovacs was named All-Big Ten honorable mention in 2010 and '11, and was an Academic All-Big Ten selection in '11 and '12.

Kovacs was born June 12, 1990, in Curtice, Ohio, outside of Toledo. He graduated from Michigan in 2012 with a degree in kinesiology. He and his wife, Kat, live in Cincinnati.

Playing and coaching history: 2009-12—Played safety, Michigan. 2013-15—Played safety, Miami Dolphins. 2017—Coaching intern, Michigan. 2018—Graduate assistant coach, Michigan. 2019-present—Assistant coach, Cincinnati Bengals.

BRAD KRAGTHORPE
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Brad Kragthorpe in 2020 enters his second Bengals and NFL season, and will again serve as offensive assistant, primarily assisting with the quarterbacks.

This year, Kragthorpe will help usher Joe Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in April's draft, into the starting quarterback role. Kragthorpe brings unique perspective as the only coach on the Bengals' staff to have previously worked with Burrow. The two were together at LSU in 2018, when Kragthorpe was an offensive analyst and Burrow was in his first season with the Tigers after transferring from Ohio State. Kragthorpe helped Burrow, who could not practice with the LSU team until July, with his fast-tracked transition into the Tigers' offense. Burrow then went on to be named team captain in preseason camp, start all 13 games and lead the Tigers to a 10-3 record. He tossed 16 TDs to just five INTs (fewest by a starting QB in the SEC) in 2018, paving the way for a plus-12 turnover differential, the seventh-best in the country.

Last season, Kragthorpe and the Bengals' offensive staff helped key a massive offensive turnaround over the final eight games of the season. The Bengals averaged 70.6 more rushing yards per game in the second half of the season (130.1) than the first (59.5), and their average rushing yards per attempt jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) over the the same span. Cincinnati's pass-blocking effort also showed substantial improvement, allowing 10 fewer sacks over the final eight games compared to the first eight.

Prior to his time at LSU, Kragthorpe spent two seasons as an offensive graduate assistant coach at Utah State University from 2016-17. He worked with the Aggies' wide receivers and assisted with scouting reports.

Before entering the coaching ranks, Kragthorpe was a college quarterback. He opened his collegiate career at Idaho State in 2011 (did not play), and then transferred to Louisiana State for his final three years of eligibility. After sitting out the 2012 season at LSU due to NCAA transfer rules, he served as a reserve QB for the Tigers from 2013-15 and appeared in 25 career games. Kragthorpe served as the Tigers' primary holder on placekicks for his final two seasons, and in 2015 was part of one of college football's signature plays when, on a fake FG attempt against rival Florida, he threw a backward pass to K Trent Dominigue, who then raced 16 yards for what proved to be the game-winning score in a 28-21 LSU win.

Kragthorpe was born March 2, 1992, in Flagstaff, Ariz. He attended Holland High School in Tulsa, Okla., where he was a standout in both football and baseball. His grandfather, Dave Kragthorpe, was a college head coach at South Dakota State (1969), Idaho State ('80-82) and Oregon State ('85-90). At Idaho State in 1981, Dave Kragthorpe was head coach during former Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis' first season as a football coach (Lewis coached the team's linebackers), and the pair helped lead ISU to a 12-1 finish and Division I-AA National Title.

Playing and coaching history: 2011—Played quarterback, Idaho State. 2012-15—Played quarterback, Louisiana State. 2016-17—Graduate assistant coach, Utah State. 2018—Assistant coach (AC), Louisiana State. 2019-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

ROBERT LIVINGSTON SECONDARY/SAFETIES

Robert Livingston, a former Bengals scout, is in his sixth season on the coaching staff in 2020. This will be Livingston's fifth season with the title of secondary coach, and his third with a specific focus on the Bengals' safeties.

Last season, Livingston and the secondary helped the defense to a significant turnaround over the final eight games. The secondary held opposing QBs to just a 59.3 completion percentage the second half of the season, down from 64.3 percent the first eight games. The defense also yielded 84.1 fewer yards per game the final eight games, and the coverage helped the pass rush notch 11 more sacks.

In 2018, Livingston helped spur the development of rookie S Jessie Bates III, who started all 16 games, recorded three interceptions (including one pick-six), and became only the sixth rookie ever to lead the Bengals in tackles (111). Livingston also guided veteran S Shawn Williams to his most productive season as a pro. Williams started all 16 games, finished second on the team in tackles (108) and had a team-high five INTs, including a 58-yard pick-six.

In 2017, the Bengals' secondary played a key role in the defense ranking eighth in the NFL against the pass (211.2 yards per game) and sixth in fewest yards per play (5.0). It also played a significant role in helping the Bengals rank sixth in the NFL in red-zone defense, allowing TDs on only 46.4 percent of trips inside the 20-yard line.

Livingston helped the 2016 Bengals' secondary finish just one short of the NFL interceptions lead, with 17, and DBs had 13 of the team's 17 picks. The defense also held opponents to the fifth-lowest passer rating in the NFL (83.1), and Cincinnati yielded just 17.4 points per game (second in the NFL).

In 2015, Livingston did on-field work with the defensive secondary, while working in defensive quality control and also as a special teams assistant. His defensive efforts helped the Bengals to a No. 2 NFL rank in fewest points allowed, at 17.4 per game. It was the highest NFL scoring-defense ranking in franchise history.

The 2015 Bengals also had 21 INTs (third in the NFL), including 17 by defensive backs, and allowed the second-fewest TD passes in the NFL (18). Two Bengals DBs — S Reggie Nelson and CB Adam Jones — were selections for the 2015 season's Pro Bowl.

From 2012-14, Livingston worked as a Bengals scout, covering the southeast — primarily the Southeastern and Atlantic Coast conferences — and had a role in evaluating defensive backs from across the nation.

Livingston came to the Bengals from Vanderbilt University, where he served in 2011 as defensive quality control coach. He was on the Furman University football staff in 2010.

At Vanderbilt, Livingston coached two defensive backs who made the NFL (CB Casey Hayward and S Sean Richardson). At Furman, Livingston's primary coaching duties were with safeties.

A native of Hendersonville, N.C., Livingston was a two-time Athlete of the Year at Hendersonville High School. He played free safety at the College of William & Mary from 2007-09, contributing to one of the top defensive units in the NCAA's FCS ranks. He graduated from William & Mary with a degree in kinesiology.

Livingston and his wife, Tricia, have a son, Luke, and two daughters, Emma and Savannah.

Playing and coaching/scouting history: 2007-09—Played safety, William & Mary. 2010—Assistant coach (AC), Furman. 2011—AC, Vanderbilt. 2012-14—Scout, Cincinnati Bengals. 2015-present—AC, Bengals.

BEN MARTIN ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE

Ben Martin in 2020 enters his second season with the Bengals, and fourth as an NFL coach, and he will again serve as assistant offensive line coach.

Last season, Martin helped steer the offensive line through significant injuries and absences. Rookie first-round pick Jonah Williams, who had been slated to start at LOT, missed the entire due to a shoulder injury in June, and then his backup, OT Cordy Glenn, did not play until November due to injury and a suspension.

But despite being forced to use eight different starting line combinations throughout the season, Martin and offensive line coach Jim Turner found production and consistency late in the year. The line allowed 10 fewer sacks the second half of the season, compared to the first, and helped the team's rushing averages jump by 59.5 yards per game and 1.26 yards per attempt over the same span.

Prior to his time with the Bengals, Martin spent three seasons (2016-18) coaching in the college ranks. In 2018, he served as offensive line coach at Bryant University, and helped the Bulldogs to an average of 157 rush yards per game and 32.5 points per game.

From 2016-17, Martin served as offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator at Division III Union (N.Y.) College. Martin oversaw an offense that improved its rushing average from 107 yards per game his first season to 196.8 his second season, an improvement of 142 spots nationally in rushing offense.

From 2014-15, Martin served as offensive assistant with the Miami Dolphins, where he worked alongside Bengals head coach Zac Taylor, who was Miami's quarterbacks coach. Martin worked primarily with the offensive line, and helped C Mike Pouncey to Pro Bowl nominations in both of his years with the team.

In 2015, Martin helped guide a Dolphins offensive line whose blocking effort helped QB Ryan Tannehill to 4208 passing yards (ninth in the NFL), and RB Lamar Miller to eight rushing TDs.

In 2014, Martin assisted with an offensive line that helped produce 361 first downs, tied for the second-most in Dolphins history. The line opened up holes for Miller, who surpassed the 1000-yard rushing mark (1099) for the first time in his career, and helped protect QB Ryan Tannehill on his way to passing for 4045 yards, the most for a Dolphins QB since Dan Marino's 4453 in 1994. It was the first time in franchise history that the team had a 1000-yard rusher and 4000-yard passer in the same season. Additionally, in Week 17 vs. the N.Y. Jets, the offensive line sprung Miller for a 97-yard touchdown run, a new franchise record and the third-longest run in NFL history.

Martin spent the 2013 season as offensive line/run game coordinator at Wagner College, and the '12 season as running backs coach at Princeton University. At Princeton, Martin oversaw a Tigers ground attack that topped 100 rushing yards in nine of the team's 10 games.

From 2010-11, Martin served as offensive quality control coach at Texas A&M, where he worked alongside both Taylor and Turner, and helped guide the Aggies to a Big 12 South Division title in '10.

Prior to his time at Texas A&M, Martin served as run game/recruiting coordinator at Merrimack (Mass.) College from 2008-09. He helped guide the 2009 Warriors offense to top-five Division II rankings in total yards per game (482.6) and rushing yards per game (251.6), while allowing conference-low 11 sacks in 10 contests.

Martin began his coaching career in 2007 as offensive line/tight ends coach at Curry (Mass.) College, where he helped the offense to averages of 36.5 points, 206.4 rushing yards and 416.9 total yards per game.

As a player, Martin was a standout offensive lineman at Trinity College in Connecticut, where he helped the Bantams compile a 31-1 record while winning three conference titles prior to his 2005 graduation.

Martin was born May 3, 1983, in Boston, Mass., and later attended St. John's Preparatory School in nearby Danvers, Mass. He and his wife, Joanna, have one son, MacGregor, and one daughter, Harriette.

DAN PITCHER
QUARTERBACKS

Dan Pitcher, who is in his ninth season overall in the NFL and his fifth as an assistant coach with the Bengals, is considered by many to be one of the top young offensive minds on Cincinnati's staff. He has earned promotions in each of the last two seasons, and this year will serve as quarterbacks coach.

This season, Pitcher will be charged with one of the most important and highly anticipated projects in team history — the development of No. 1 overall pick Joe Burrow. The Heisman-winner, national champion and owner of numerous NCAA records now returns to his native Ohio as the Bengals' starting QB, and brings with high expectations after a brilliant college career. Pitcher will be charged with fast-tracking Burrow's transition into Cincinnati's offense, which will also feature receiving targets A.J. Green, Tyler Boyd, John Ross II, Tee Higgins, Drew Sample and C.J. Uzomah.

Last year, Pitcher held the title of assistant quarterbacks coach, and was also charged with leading the team's game clock management efforts. He spent the 2018 season as an offensive assistant with a focus on QBs, after spending '16-17 as an offensive assistant with a focus on WRs.

In each of the last two seasons — 2018-19 — Pitcher has helped guide Bengals QBs through a transition into new offensive schemes. In addition to Andy Dalton, the team's regular starter at QB over that span, Pitcher helped Jeff Driskel and Ryan Finley as they both so their first NFL action and were thrust into the starting role.

Last season, Cincinnati's late-season QB play keyed an offensive turnaround and helped the team's top four healthy WRs — Tyler Boyd, Alex Erickson, John Ross III and Auden Tate — post career high in both receptions and receiving yards.

In 2018, Pitcher guided Dalton to 21 TDs and an 89.6 passer rating through 11 games, before a thumb injury ended his season. The team then transitioned to Driskel, who tossed six TDs to just two INTs and posted an 82.2 rating, despite playing much or all of his time without WRs A.J. Green and Tyler Boyd and TEs Tyler Eifert and Tyler Kroft.

In 2017, while working with the Bengals' receivers, Pitcher helped guide Green to 1078 receiving yards and a Pro Bowl nod. He also aided in the development of Cincinnati's young receiving corps, with Boyd, Erickson and Ross.

In 2016, Pitcher's first year in Cincinnati, the Bengals looked to fill the void created by the departures of WRs Marvin Jones and Mohamed Sanu, who left in free agency prior to the season. Boyd, a rookie, and veteran free agent Brandon LaFell stepped in, combining for 118 catches for 1465 yards and seven TDs, outpacing the total of 98 catches and 1210 yards produced by Jones and Sanu in 2015, in what was considered their best combined year.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Pitcher spent four seasons in player personnel with the Indianapolis Colts. He served in 2014-15 as a pro scout, promoted to that position after working as a scouting assistant from '12-13.

With the Colts, Pitcher was part of a football operation that compiled a 41-23 regular-season record (.641), with three playoff berths, including two AFC South championships, and one trip to the AFC Championship Game. Pitcher was responsible for advance scouting reports on opponents, evaluation of free agents, monitoring rosters and evaluating players on other teams.

Pitcher began his post-playing career in 2012, coaching wide receivers at his alma mater, Cortland State, a part of New York's state university system. He spent 2009-11 as Cortland State's starting QB, and as a senior he was named a finalist for the prestigious Gagliardi Trophy, presented annually to the most outstanding Division III football player.

Pitcher was born in Cortland, N.Y. on Jan. 13, 1987, and lives in Cincinnati with his wife, Marissa. He graduated from Cortland State with a bachelor's degree in psychology in 2010, and he earned a master's degree in sport management in '11.

Playing, scouting and coaching history: 2008-11—Played QB at SUNY Cortland. 2012—Assistant coach (AC), Cortland State. 2012-13—Scouting assistant, Indianapolis Colts. 2014-15—Pro scout, Indianapolis Colts. 2016-present—AC, Bengals.

DARRIN SIMMONS
ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/
SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

A valuable and proven veteran on the Bengals' coaching staff, Simmons is now in his 18th season with the team and stands as the longest-tenured coach on staff. Simmons has spent his entire Bengals term leading the special teams units, and for the last eight years has held the title of special teams coordinator. This season, he has added the role of assistant head coach.

Over his Bengals career, Simmons' work with the special teams units has helped re-write the team's record book. Simmons has guided P Kevin Huber to the top spot in every career punting category, including attempts (843), yards (38,012), gross average (45.09), net average (40.00) and inside-20s (296). Under Simmons' direction, Huber has notched the top five seasons in team history for net average and inside-20s, and the top four seasons for gross average. Snapping to Huber for a majority of his career has been another Simmons protégé, LS Clark Harris, who entering 2020 has 1559 career snaps without an unplayable delivery.

Simmons' special teams units have also excelled in the return game. He's coached three of the Bengals' top four leaders in career punt return average and four of the team's top six leaders in career kickoff return average.

Last season, Simmons guided yet another exemplary season by the special teams units, which notched top-10 rankings in five major special teams categories. S Brandon Wilson, who was limited by injury to just eight games, finished with an NFL-best 31.3-yard average on kickoff returns (min. 20 attempts); his average, though, fell just .009 shy of the team record set by Jones in 2014. Simmons' coverage units last year again ranked among the best in the league, finishing third in average starting field position (26.4) and fourth in opponents' average starting field position (23.9).

His 2019 campaign followed an impressive '18, when the Bengals ranked seventh in punt return coverage (10.7), fifth in kickoff return average (24.9) and ninth in punt coverage (7.3 yards/return).

In 2017, Simmons helped Harris to his first-career Pro Bowl, after recording 143 snaps (89 punts, 54 placekicks) without an unplayable delivery. That followed a 2016 campaign in which Simmons guided Alex Erickson's unexpected rise from college free agent to the AFC kickoff return title (27.9 average).

In 2015, HB Cedric Peerman made the Pro Bowl as a kick coverage and return-unit performer. Peerman's 17 tackles tied for the Bengals' highest total since 2008, and helped Cincinnati to a No. 3 NFL ranking in opponents' average drive start on kickoffs (20.2 yard line).

Simmons guided Huber to the Pro Bowl in 2014, after he posted franchise records for gross (46.8) and net (42.1) average, re-setting club marks he already held. Also in '14, Simmons helped Jones to the NFL lead in kickoff return average, with a team-record mark of 31.26, along with a second-place finish in punt return average (12.0).

Simmons' Bengals special teams have shown a nose for the ball, forcing 27 fumbles in his 17 completed seasons. The 1.6 average comfortably outpaces the 1.0 norm for the nine seasons prior to his tenure.

Simmons entered the NFL in 1998 with the Baltimore Ravens, where he served as assistant special teams coach and assistant strength and conditioning coach. He then joined the Carolina Panthers, where he served in the same role from 1999-2002, before joining the Bengals in '03.

Simmons began his coaching career at the University of Kansas in 1996. He punted for Kansas from 1993-95, earning All-Big Eight honors his final year and helping the Jayhawks to a top-10 national ranking. Also as a senior, he won honors as an academic All-American.

Prior to playing for Kansas, Simmons was a punter and QB for Dodge City (Kan.) Community College, where in 1992 he led the nation's junior colleges in punting and was a first-team JUCO All-American.

Simmons earned a degree in sports management from Kansas in 1996. Born April 9, 1973, in Elkhart, Kan., he graduated from Elkhart High School. He and his wife, Rhonda, have a daughter and two sons.

Playing and coaching history: 1991-92—Played quarterback and punter, Dodge City (Kan.) Community College. 1993-95—Played punter, Kansas. 1996—Graduate assistant coach, Kansas. 1997—Assistant coach (AC), University of Minnesota. 1998—AC, Baltimore Ravens. 1999-2002—AC, Carolina Panthers. 2003-12—AC, Cincinnati Bengals. 2013-present—Special teams coordinator, Bengals.

JEMAL SINGLETON RUNNING BACKS

Jemal Singleton in 2020 enters his second season with the Bengals, and fifth as an NFL coach. He will again serve as the Bengals' running backs coach, where he heads a room led by HB Joe Mixon, a two-time 1000-yard rusher.

Last season, Singleton helped Mixon to his second straight 1000-yard campaign. Mixon's 2020 campaign, though, will be remembered most for his massive turnaround — the third-year pro was the league's second-leading rusher (817 yards) over the final eight weeks, after totaling just 320 rushing yards over the first eight weeks. The Bengals' ground game was a major part of the offense's second-half resurgence last season, as it averaged 70.6 more rushing yards per game in the second half of the season (130.1) than the first (59.5).

Prior to his time in Cincinnati, Singleton spent the 2018 season as running backs coach for the Oakland Raiders. Under his guidance, Raiders RB Jalen Richard stepped into an increased offensive role and tallied a career-high 68 catches, which tied for the team lead and were the fourth-most in a single season by a running back in team history.

From 2016-17, Singleton served as running backs coach for the Indianapolis Colts, where he guided RB Frank Gore to the first 1000-yard season by a Colts rusher in nine years. Gore in 2016 also became just the fourth running back in NFL history — and the first since John Riggins in 1984 — to top 1000 rushing yards at age 33 or older.

Singleton spent the 2015 season as special teams coordinator/running backs coach at the University of Arkansas, where he helped guide Razorbacks RB Alex Collins to career highs in every major rushing category, including rushing yards (1577) and TDs (20). Collins was named second-team All-SEC, a semifinalist for the Doak Walker Award (given annually to the nation's top running back), and was drafted in the fifth round by Seattle.

From 2011-14, Singleton served as running backs coach at Oklahoma State University. In his first two seasons in Stillwater, Singleton helped Cowboys RB Joseph Randle earn back-to-back first-team All-Big 12 honors. Joseph scored 24 TDs in 2011 while helping the Cowboys to a Big 12 title, and in '12 he led the conference with 1417 rushing yards. In 2013, Singleton helped guide OSU's running backs to 35 rushing TDs, and in '14 his running backs combined for more than 500 touches without committing a single turnover.

Prior to his time at Oklahoma State, Singleton spent nine years (2000, '03-10) on Air Force's coaching staff. He served as a run game coordinator/running backs coach (2007-10), running backs coach ('06), varsity assistant coach ('03-05) and a prep assistant ('00). In his tenure as running backs coach, Singleton led the Falcons to a conference rushing title and a top-10 national ranking in rush offense each year, highlighted by a 2010 season that featured the nation's No. 2 rushing attack (306.5 yards per game) and 41 total touchdowns (tied a Mountain West Conference record).

In 2001, Singleton was stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base in Jacksonville, Ark. He served as the Chief of Media Relations, as part of his military service commitment. In 2003, he returned to the Air Force Academy as the junior varsity defensive coordinator and varsity assistant coach. He began his coaching career in 2000 as a prep assistant, specifically as the team's assistant head coach/offensive coordinator.

As a player, Singleton was a three-year (1996-98) letter-winner at running back for the Air Force Academy, and was one of just six players in program history to be elected a two-time captain. He totaled 941 career rushing yards on 175 carries, with four TDs, and was an All-WAC honorable mention selection. He helped the Falcons win 10 games in back-to-back seasons for the first time in school history, including their first outright conference title in 1998.

Born Dec. 7, 1975 in Incirlik, Turkey, Singleton was the son of an Air Force Sergeant. He holds a bachelor's degree in social sciences from Air Force. He and his wife, Jennifer, have two daughters, Morgan and Mallory.

Playing and coaching history: 1996-99—Played halfback, Air Force. 2000, '03-10—Assistant coach (AC), Air Force. 2011-14—AC, Oklahoma State. 2015—AC, Arkansas. 2016-17—AC, Indianapolis Colts. 2018—AC, Oakland Raiders. 2019-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

GARRETT SWANSON

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Garrett Swanson in 2020 enters his second Bengals and NFL season, and will again serve as assistant strength and conditioning coach.

Last season, Swanson helped power a Bengals strength and conditioning program that guided Cincinnati to a late-season surge, with vast improvements on both offense and defense the second half of the year. Offensively, the Bengals averaged 70.6 more rushing yards per game in the second half of the season (130.1) compared to the first (59.5). The team's average rushing yards per attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) over the final eight games, and the team allowed 10 fewer sacks. Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks the second half of the year, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game (57.5 fewer rushing, 26.6 fewer passing yards). Opposing QBs completed just 59.3 percent of their passes against the Bengals the second half of the season, compared to 64.3 percent over the first eight games.

Swanson came to Cincinnati from the University of Illinois, where he served as assistant strength coach under Boese from 2017-18. During his tenure, Swanson helped Boese develop the Illini into one of the most powerful rushing offenses in the Big Ten Conference. In 2018, the team's 244.2 yards rushing per game ranked second in the Big Ten, and RB Reggie Corbin led the conference in yards per attempt (8.5) en route to third-team All-Big Ten honors.

As a player, Swanson spent four seasons (2012-15) as a punter at Fresno State University. He finished his career with 201 punts for 8411 yards (41.8 average) and 58 inside-20s. In addition to his punting duties, he served as the Bulldogs' kickoff specialist and holder on placekicks. He also was a four-time Mountain West All-Academic team selection.

Swanson played all four seasons at Fresno State alongside fellow Bengals strength and conditioning coach Todd Hunt, who was a defensive end for the Bulldogs. All four of his seasons also came under the tutelage of Boese, who was the football team's head strength and conditioning coach at the time. Swanson, Hunt and Boese helped the Bulldogs to back-to-back conference titles in 2012 and '13, a first for the program since 1992-93.

In 2016, Swanson signed as a college free agent with the Arizona Cardinals. He played in three preseason games for the Cardinals and punted six times for 254 yards (42.3), with two inside-20s, before being released.

Swanson was born June 24, 1994, in Riverside, Calif. (metro Los Angeles). He attended Martin Luther King High School in Riverside, where he was a team captain and all-state performer as a punter, and was named team MVP as a senior. He also handled his team's placekicking duties, and converted a league-record 60-yard field goal.

Swanson graduated from Fresno State with a degree in kinesiology-exercise science, and he also holds a master's degree in kinesiology from California Baptist University. He also is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist by NSCA.

Playing and coaching history: 2012-15—Played punter, Fresno State. 2017-18—Assistant coach (AC), Illinois. 2019-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

JIM TURNER OFFENSIVE LINE

Jim Turner in 2020 enters his 26th season overall as a coach, including his fourth in the NFL and his second with the Bengals. He again will serve as Cincinnati's offensive line coach.

Last season, Turner helped steer the offensive line through significant injuries and absences. Rookie first-round pick Jonah Williams, who had been slated to start at LOT, missed the entire due to a shoulder injury in June, and then his backup, OT Cordy Glenn, did not play until November due to injury and a suspension.

But despite being forced to use eight different starting line combinations throughout the season, Turner found production and consistency late in the year. The line allowed 10 fewer sacks the second half of the season, compared to the first, and helped the team's rushing averages jump by 59.5 yards per game and 1.26 yards per attempt over the same span.

Turner came to Cincinnati after serving as offensive line coach at Texas A&M from 2016-18, where he worked under head coaches Kevin Sumlin (2016-17) and Jimbo Fisher ('18). Turner was also Texas A&M's offensive line coach from 2008-11 under head coach Mike Sherman.

In 2018, Turner's offensive line helped Aggies RB and 2019 Bengals sixth-round draft selection Trayveon Williams to SEC-bests in rushing yards (1760), rushing TDs (18) and total TDs (19). From 2016-17, the Aggies' line led offenses that gained more than 2000 rushing yards while also passing for 3000-plus yards, an infrequent occurrence in the the FBS.

From 2012-13, Turner served as offensive line coach for the Miami Dolphins, where he worked alongside Bengals head coach Zac Taylor, who was Miami's quarterbacks coach at the time. In 2012, Turner guided an offensive line that helped Miami finish eighth in the AFC in rushing yards per game (112.6).

In his first stint at Texas A&M, Turner served as offensive line coach alongside Taylor, then an offensive assistant, and helped the Aggies develop one of the top offenses in the SEC. In 2011, the Aggies allowed just nine sacks on 537 pass attempts, and ranked in the top 25 nationally in total offense (seventh), scoring offense (11th), passing offense (18th) and rushing offense (24th). From 2009-11, the Aggies ranked among the nation's top 25 teams in total offense, averaging more than 440 yards per game each season. The 2009 unit ranked No. 5 nationally at 465.8 yards per game, and the '11 squad ranked seventh at 490.2. During his first stint with the Aggies, Turner helped develop several offensive linemen who would go on to play in the NFL, including first-round picks Luke Joeckel, Jake Matthews and Cedric Ogbuehi.

Turner spent the 2007 season coaching the offensive line at his alma mater, Boston College. Before serving in Chestnut Hill, Turner was offensive line coach for two seasons (2005-06) at the University of Delaware. In 2006, Turner also was assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator for the Fightin' Blue Hens.

Turner's background includes stops at Temple in 2003-04 as the offensive line coach, as well as three years ('00-02) as the offensive line and run game coordinator for Harvard.

Turner spent one season as the offensive line coach for Louisiana Tech in 1999. From 1994-98, he served on the staff at Northeastern University, where he coached the offensive line and tight ends ('94-95), running backs and special teams ('96), and defensive line and special teams ('97-98).

Turner was born Jan. 15, 1965, in Boston, Mass. He attended Boston College and was a four-year letterman at fullback under head coach Jack Bicknell, the father of Bengals wide receivers coach Bob Bicknell. Turner played in three bowl games during his time at BC — Cotton, Hall of Fame and Liberty — and served as a team captain as a senior.

After earning his degree in sociology from BC in 1988, Turner began his coaching career at his alma mater, Braintree High School. He then spent the 1989 season in London, England, as the offensive coordinator of the Kent Rams — a British American football team — before serving in the United States Marine Corps as an infantry officer in Europe, the Middle East and Japan from 1990-94.

Turner and his wife, Patricia, have one son, Michael, who is a standout youth hockey player.

TROY WALTERS ASSISTANT WIDE RECEIVERS

An accomplished offensive coordinator on the college level, Walters joined the Bengals this offseason and enters his first season on an NFL staff. He will serve in Cincinnati as assistant wide receivers coach, where he will work with WRs coach Bob Bicknell in guiding a young and talented Bengals receiver group.

Walters spent the last two seasons (2018-19) as offensive coordinator at the University of Nebraska, under head coach Scott Frost. He helped the Huskers' 2018 offense average 456.2 yards/game (second in Big 10), good for a 71.2-yard improvement over the '17 team (385.0), which was the fifth-best year-to-year improvement in college football. The 2018 Huskers offense ranked 25th in FBS, their first top-25 offensive ranking in a decade and a 62-spot improvement over the '17 team.

From 2016-17, Walters was offensive coordinator at the University of Central Florida and helped guide the offensive-powered Knights to the greatest two-year turnaround in NCAA history. He inherited the FBS' 127th-ranked offense (268.4 yards/game) and 125th-ranked scoring offense (13.9 points/game) from 2015, but by '17 had the Knights ranked fifth in yards/game (530.5) and first in scoring (48.2). UCF finished the 2017 season with a perfect 13-0 record that included an upset over the heavily favored Auburn Tigers in the Peach Bowl. The Knights' success in 2017 helped make Walters one of just five finalists for the prestigious Broyles Award, given annually to the nation's top assistant coach.

From 2013-15, Walters served as receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Colorado, where he coached arguably the most productive receiving corps in school history. When he left in 2016, Colorado's top three single-season receptions totals and top two receiving yardage totals were all set by receivers during Walters' three-year tenure. One of his protégés, Nelson Spruce, left Colorado with 41 school records, including career receptions, receiving yards and receiving TDs. Walters also coached future second-round draft pick Paul Richardson to a then-school record 1343 receiving yards in 2014, helping him become the first CU receiver to earn all-conference honors in nearly two decades.

Walters spent 2012 as receivers coach at North Carolina State, where he helped the Wolfpack rank 18th nationally in receiving yards per game, and helped two receivers break the 50-catch mark.

From 2010-11, Walters served as wide receivers coach at Texas A&M, where he worked alongside current Bengals head coach Zac Taylor, who at the time was the Aggies' tight ends coach. In his first season at A&M, Walters helped Aggie WRs Ryan Swope and Jeff Fuller each to a school-record 72 catches, and Fisher to a school-record 1065 yards. Swope then easily topped both records in his second season under Walters (89 catches, 1207 yards).

Walters broke into coaching at Indiana State University in 2009, where he served as offensive coordinator while also coaching quarterbacks and receivers.

Walters' coaching career followed a long and record-setting playing career. In college, he played four seasons (1996-99) at Stanford University and ended his career as the Pac 12 conference's all-time leading receiver (4047 receiving yards). He also set Stanford career records for receptions (244) and 100-yard receiving games (19), single-season records for catches (86 in 1997) and receiving yards (1456 in '99), and a single-game record for receiving yards (278 vs. UCLA in '99). He ended his college career in 1999 by winning the Biletnikoff Award, given annually to the nation's top receiver.

Following Stanford, Walters was selected in the fifth round of the 2000 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings. He went on to also play for the Colts, Cardinals and Lions, and over eight NFL seasons totaled 98 catches, 1135 yards, nine TDs and more than 3800 return yards.

Born Dec. 15, 1976, in Bloomington, Ind., Walters later moved and attended Consolidated High School in College Station, Texas. He holds two degrees from Stanford — a bachelor's degree in communications (1999), and masters degree in sociology (2000). He and his wife, Josephine, have one son, Tate, and two daughters, Faith and Landri.

A rookie sixth-round pick of the Bengals, Adeniji has been touted by coaches and scouts for his athleticism, intelligence and dependability ... Started all 48 possible games over his four seasons (2016-20) at Kansas; switched between RT and LT early in his career, before settling at LT for his final two seasons ... Played G at the Senior Bowl (North team; coached by Detroit Lions' staff), and could see time at G in the NFL as well ... Considered among the most athletic linemen in the draft, his vertical leap (34 inches) and broad jump (115 inches) each tied for third among all OL at the combine ... Also an accomplished student at KU, and was a regular on the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll ... Gained notoriety for his unique recruiting backstory, in which his commitment to the Air Force Academy was quashed the summer before his freshman year due to a severe cashew allergy.

Career transactions: Selected by Cincinnati in sixth round of 2020 NFL Draft (180th overall) ... Signed with Bengals on 7-21-20.

Offensive coordinator Brian Callahan says: "He's extremely athletic. He's physical — kind of a pure offensive lineman in that regard. He has flexibility to play guard — he was supposed to play tackle (at the Senior Bowl), but they moved him to guard because of numbers. He didn't say a word and did it well. He looked good. He's got some quickness to the second level, and you can tell he is intelligent. There's a lot to like about him."

Switched between RT and LT early in his career, before settling at LT for his final two seasons. 2019—Started all 12 games at LT ... Twice earned KU's Offensive Player of the Week honors (at Oklahoma, vs. Ohio).

High school: Attended Garland High School in Garland, Texas (outside Dallas) ... Played DE and OT, and earned all-district honors as both a junior and senior ... Also lettered in basketball and track and field (shot put and discus).

Personal: Hometown is Garland, Texas (outside Dallas) ... Originally committed to play football at the Air Force Academy, but denied entry the summer before his freshman year due to a severe cashew allergy; his high school head coach, Jeff Jordan, had just taken a job in Kansas' athletic department and helped secure a spot at KU for Adeniji ... His brother, Moshood, was an offensive lineman at Air Force from 2010-13 ... Graduated from Kansas in May 2019 with degree in management and leadership.

An Ohio native (Hilliard) and rookie seventh-round pick, Bailey spent five seasons (2015-20) at Purdue and proved to be one of the most productive defenders in the Big Ten when healthy ... Considered by some draft analysts to have second- to third-round ability on film, however he slipped to the seventh round due to two serious knee injuries in college ... Tore ACL in left knee as a true freshman in 2015, and then tore ACL in right knee in second game of senior season ... Played in 43 career games at Purdue, and totaled 327 tackles, including 28 for losses and 13.5 sacks ... In three full seasons at Purdue, he led team in tackles twice and finished second once ... Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo says: "He's had obviously a little bit of an injury history, but we feel good about it. And we feel good about his ability. He's done it all — he's played out in space as a displaced linebacker out covering receivers, he's covered tight ends, he's blitzed. He really showed up (on film). He's a football junkie. He's one of those guys that's a gym rat — he's always in there. I know those coaches well there (at Purdue), and they've got to kick the kid out of the building. He can do all three (linebacker) positions. He brings flexibility and has a passion for the game."

Will become just the third Heisman Trophy winner ever to suit up for the Bengals (Archie Griffin, Carson Palmer) ... Native of Athens in southeast Ohio, he began college career at Ohio State, graduated in three years and then transferred to LSU for his final two seasons of eligibility ... Team captain in both of his seasons at LSU ... Left LSU with 25-3 career record as a starter, and in just two seasons climbed to No. 2 in school history in career completions (621), No. 4 in attempts (906), No. 1 in completion percentage (68.5), No. 2 in passing yards (8565), No. 1 in passing TDs (76), No. 1 in 300-yard passing games (15), No. 1 in 400-yard passing games (four), and No. 7 in rushing yards by a QB (767) ... Head coach Zac Taylor says: "He gets the most out of those around him. He has the respect of coaches, teammates and everyone he's played with. You talk to anyone at LSU or OSU, and they all love the guy. We're excited to add him to the building; that's the type of character we're trying to add as we grow this thing. He understands the platform he has being the No. 1 pick playing in his home state. He understands the attention that brings and how to handle himself. ... (On the field), he's a proven winner. He throws with anticipation. He has a great football IQ. He can diagnose defenses as well as anyone we've studied. He can create off-schedule plays as well. He does a great job keeping his eyes up in the pocket and eluding defenders. They have great coaches and players at LSU, but there are some times where a defense gets you. He still had the ability to create and extend plays."

In talking with their staff (at Clemson), the consistency is there every single day with him — not just from game to game, but from practice to practice. He's going to score points down the field. If the ball is in the air, it's his. And he's got that mentality where if he catches a ball on that short to intermediate stuff, he doesn't think he's going down — he's going to score. That's a trait that's hard to coach."

He played on the other team there, but he certainly stood out and impressed us, and we got to know him. We followed him over the next four months, and really just felt like he was a great fit for all the things we've been talking about in this building. 2019 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Seattle Seahawks 21, Cincinnati Bengals 20 Sunday, Sept. 8, 2019 at CenturyLink Field

Cincinnati outgained Seattle by 196 net yards (395-161), recorded 10 more first downs (22-12) and held more than a 10-minute advantage in time of possession (35:50-24:10), but the Bengals ultimately were inefficient in converting yards into points and lost their first game under new head coach Zac Taylor. The Bengals scored just one FG in three trips inside the Seahawks' red zone in the game. And in the third quarter alone, three times Cincinnati reached Seattle's 36-yard line or farther (36, 27 and 12) and came away with no points (the drives ended on a fumble, a missed FG and a turnover on downs). Seattle, however, scored TDs on three of their four drives into Cincinnati territory overall, including two TDs on their only two trips inside the Bengals' red-zone. QB Andy Dalton had career highs in yards (418) and completions (35) in 51 attempts, tossed two long TDs to WR John Ross III, and had a 106.5 passer rating. Ross had career highs in catches (seven) and receiving yards (158), and his TDs came on passes of 55 and 33 yards. The Bengals' defense enjoyed a solid game overall, recording four sacks and holding the Seahawks, who led the NFL in rushing in 2018, to just 72 yards on the ground. Seahawks QB Russell Wilson, however, stung the Bengals with a 44-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Lockett on the first play of the fourth quarter for what ultimately were the game's winning points.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

San Francisco 49ers 41, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Sept. 15, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The game started poorly right away for Cincinnati — a penalty erased a kickoff return, followed by a sack, then by a fumble on QB-RB exchange for no gain, then a failed third-down conversion attempt, and then a punt that barely made it to midfield. And, largely, the game was all downhill from there for the Bengals. The 49ers scored TDs on three of their first four drives to jump out to a 21-7 first-half lead and never looked back. San Francisco beat the Cincinnati soundly on both sides of the ball, outgaining the Bengals in total net yards 572-316, including 259-25 rushing. There were some individual positives for Cincinnati, as WR Tyler Boyd had 10 catches for 122 yards, and WR John Ross III had four catches for 112 yards and a TD. The 49ers improved to 2-0. The Bengals fell to 0-2.

Buffalo Bills 21, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday, Sept. 22, 2019 at New Era Field

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Arizona Cardinals 26, Cincinnati Bengals 23 Sunday, Oct. 6, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

Behind 23-9 midway through the fourth quarter, the Bengals rallied to tie the game on a 42-yard TD pass from QB Andy Dalton to WR Tyler Boyd with 1:41 remaining. But Cardinals rookie QB and No. 1 overall draft pick Kyle Murray led Arizona on a six-play, 62-yard drive that ended with a Zane Gonzalez FG as time expired, and Arizona escaped Paul Brown Stadium with a 26-23 win. Despite allowing 514 total yards, including 266 rushing yards and a 7.0-yard rushing average, the Bengals' defense was stout in the red zone, keeping the game close by allowing the Cardinals just one TD on six trips inside the 20. Despite not having two of his top three receivers — John Ross III and A.J. Green, both out due to injury — Dalton completed 71.1 percent of his passes (27 of 38) and leaned heavily on Boyd, who totaled 10 receptions for 123 yards and a TD. The Bengals fell to 0-5, while Arizona improved to 1-3-1.

WEEK 6, GAME 6

Baltimore Ravens 23, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Oct. 13, 2019 at M&T Bank Stadium

Cincinnati raced to literally the fastest start in team history when S Brandon Wilson took the opening kickoff 92 yards for a score, becoming the first Bengal ever to begin a game returning a kickoff for a TD. But the Ravens answered, scoring on their first three possessions to take a 17-7 lead, and they never looked back. Baltimore, which amassed 497 total yards, leaned heavily on a ground attack that gained 269 yards on 43 rushes and earned a 19-minute edge in time of possession (39:42 to 20:18). The Ravens were led by QB Lamar Jackson, whose 152 rushing yards were the third-most ever in a game by a QB. Cincinnati's rushing offense, on the other hand, struggled to find traction and totaled just 33 yards on 14 attempts. But the game was kept close, and the visiting Bengals pulled to within six with 1:28 remaining when QB Andy Dalton capped a 12-play, 48-yard drive with his 21st career TD (a Bengals QB record). Wilson recovered the ensuing onside kick attempt, but it was ruled that the kick did not travel the required 10 yards, and the Ravens were able to run out the clock. Cincinnati fell to 0-6, while Baltimore improved to 4-2.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Jacksonville Jaguars 27, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Oct. 20, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati led 7-6 at halftime and 10-9 after three quarters, but the visiting Jaguars scored 18 fourth-quarter points to depart Paul Brown Stadium with a win, leaving the Bengals still in search of their first victory. The Jaguars gained 460 net yards, including 216 rushing, but Cincinnati's defense proved stout in the red zone and held Jacksonville to just one TD on six trips inside the 20. Bengals QB Andy Dalton threw three fourth-quarter INTs, including one in the red zone and another that was returned for a TD. The Bengals' offense struggled to find traction in the ground game, as HBs Giovanni Bernard and Joe Mixon were held to a combined two yards on 14 carries, and the Jaguars had nearly a 17-minute advantage in time of possession (38:17 to 21:43). Jacksonville improved to 3-4, while Cincinnati fell to 0-7.

WEEK 8, GAME 8

Los Angeles Rams 24, Cincinnati Bengals 10 Sunday, Oct. 27, 2019 at Wembley Stadium (London, England)

The Bengals traveled to London, England, as part of the NFL's International Series, and took on head coach Zac Taylor's former team, the L.A. Rams. The two teams traded scores for much of the first half, before Rams WR Cooper Kupp caught a 65-yard TD on a double-reverse pass that gave L.A. a one-score edge at the break. But while the Bengals' defense managed to hold the Rams to just seven second-half points, the offense struggled after halftime and was held scoreless in the final two periods en route to the defeat. Cincinnati couldn't find an answer for Kupp, whose 220 receiving yards tied for the third-most ever in a game by a Bengals opponent. Bengals QB Andy Dalton tossed his 197th career TD, tying former QB Ken Anderson for most in team history. Then, with :08 remaining and the game out of reach, Dalton connected with WR Auden Tate for what would've been the record-setter, but a replay review overturned the ruling on the field of a catch and nullified the score. Los Angeles improved to 5-3, while Cincinnati fell to 0-8. On Tuesday following the game, Taylor announced that rookie Ryan Finley would take over as the team's starting QB in the Bengals' next game after the bye.

WEEK 10, GAME 9

Baltimore Ravens 49, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Sunday, Nov. 10, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Ravens scored TDs on five of their first six possessions and cruised to an easy 49-13 win at Paul Brown Stadium. Rookie QB Ryan Finley made his first career start, replacing longtime starter Andy Dalton, who was assigned to a reserve role the previous week during the team's bye. Finley played mostly well, passing for 167 yards and a TD against a stout Ravens defense, however he made two costly mistakes — an INT that was returned 89 yards for a TD, and a fumble that was returned 33 yards for a TD. The Ravens were led by second-year QB Lamar Jackson, who became just the third player ever to post a perfect 158.3 passer rating in a game (minimum 15 attempts) against the Bengals (also Oilers QB Chris Chandler in 1995, and Rams QB Kurt Warner in '99). Jackson also impressed with his feet, stunning fans with a 47-yard TD run that featured a highlight-reel spin move. The Bengals fell to 0-9, while the Ravens improved to 7-2.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Oakland Raiders 17, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Nov. 17, 2019 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum

With the Raiders moving from Oakland to Las Vegas after the 2019 season, the Bengals made perhaps their final trip to the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. A TD by Bay-area native Joe Mixon gave the Bengals a 7-0 lead after one quarter, but Oakland outscored Cincinnati 17-3 in the final three periods to earn the win. The Bengals did have two potential game-tying drives late in the fourth quarter, but they turned the ball over on downs and then threw what amounted to a game-sealing INT. Bengals QB Ryan Finley struggled in his first career road start and completed just 41.9 percent of his passes, along with an INT, lost fumble and five sacks. The Bengals fell to 0-10, matching their 1993 season for the worst start in team history. The loss was also their 12th straight dating back to 2018, the longest losing streak in team history. The Raiders improved to 6-4.

WEEK 12, GAME 11

Pittsburgh Steelers 16, Cincinnati Bengals 10 Sunday, Nov. 24, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

In the first Bengals-Steelers matchup in 16 years that featured neither Andy Dalton or Ben Roethlisberger, the 32nd-ranked Bengals defense played stout and helped Cincinnati to a 7-3 lead at halftime. In the third quarter, Pittsburgh benched starting QB Mason Rudolph in favor of rookie college free agent Devlin Hodges, who tossed a 79-yard TD to WR James Washington on his third pass attempt. The Bengals and starting QB Ryan Finley couldn't muster an answer, and were held to just three points in the second half. Cincinnati's best scoring opportunity came on a 72-yard drive in the fourth quarter, but that ended when WR Tyler Boyd, who had a game-high 101 receiving yards, lost a fumble on the Steelers' six-yard line. Finley struggled in his third start, completing just 12 of his 26 passes (46 percent) for 192 yards and a TD, while also losing a fumble. On Monday after the game, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced that QB Andy Dalton would return to the starting role, after serving as a reserve for three games. Pittsburgh improved to 6-5, while Cincinnati fell to 0-11, the worst start in team history.

After starting the season 0-11, the Bengals put together a dominant performance for their first win of the year, and the first career win for Zac Taylor as head coach. The visiting Jets, who had scored exactly 34 points in each of the three previous weeks (all wins), were held to just two FGs by a Bengals defense that entered the contest ranked 27th in points allowed. The Bengals applied constant pressure to Jets QB Sam Darnold and sacked him four times, including three by DE Carlos Dunlap, while holding the Jets' offense out of the red zone altogether. Bengals QB Andy Dalton returned to the starting lineup, after serving in a reserve role behind rookie Ryan Finley the previous three weeks, and passed former QB Ken Anderson for first place all-time in both career completions and TD passes by a Bengal (Anderson had 197 TD passes, and 2654 completions). Miami Dolphins 38, Cincinnati Bengals 35 (OT) Sunday, Dec. 22, 2019 at Hard Rock Stadium

The host Dolphins held a comfortable lead for much of the game and were ahead by as many as 23 points midway through the fourth quarter, but a furious Bengals comeback sent the game into OT. Cincinnati became the first team in NFL history to score 16 points in the game's final 29 seconds, thanks to a pair of Andy Dalton TD passes (and two-point conversions) and a successful onside kick by K Randy Bullock, who earlier in the contest booted a Bengals-record 57-yard FG. But Cincinnati's momentum stalled in OT, and Miami kicked at 37-yard FG as time expired to escape with a 38-35 win. Cincinnati fell to 1-14 and clinched the No. 1 pick in the 2020 NFL Draft, while Miami improved to 4-11.

WEEK 17, GAME 16

Cincinnati Bengals 33, Cleveland Browns 23 Sunday, Dec. 29, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals finished their 2019 regular season with a win over the visiting Browns thanks to an offense that benefited from a noteworthy effort by HB Joe Mixon, who rushed for a career-high 162 yards and two TDs. The defense sacked Browns QB Baker Mayfield six times, 2.5 of which came from DE Carlos Dunlap, who was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance (Dunlap had five total tackles, as well as one pass defended and one forced fumble). The unit also intercepted Mayfield three times, including two picks by CB Darius Phillips, a reserve who was thrust into a starting role due to injuries at the position. Mayfield was held to just 44.4 percent passing (12 of 27), while Cleveland's RB Nick Chubb, who entered the game ranked first in the NFL in individual rushing yards, was limited to just 41 yards on 13 carries. The Bengals improved to 2-14, while the Browns fell to 6-10.

[BENGALS HEAD COACH, 1984-91]

TEAM HISTORY

PRE-1966

Paul Brown had left the Cleveland Browns following the 1962 season, with an NFL coaching record of 115-49-6 and three league championships. He had also won four titles with the Browns in the All-America Football Conference, before they joined the NFL. But Brown was ousted from Cleveland by Art Modell, who had bought the Browns franchise in 1961. Despite Brown's founder's status with the Cleveland club, he had never been majority owner, and Modell showed Brown the door while telling the already legendary coach, "This can never be my team as long as you are here." It was a compliment, in a fashion, but it was a bitter blow to pro football's legendary innovator. Brown sought to return to the game, with operational control of a franchise, and in 1965 his son Mike completed a study on pro football expansion. The study recommended Cincinnati as a potential site. Later that year, Paul Brown met with Ohio Governor James Rhodes, who agreed to support a push for a second team for the state.

Faced with serious concerns from the Reds baseball team regarding Crosley Field, as well as with growing civic support to push for pro football, Cincinnati's city council approved the construction of a dual-purpose downtown riverfront stadium, with seating capacity of more than 50,000.

1967

Cincinnati was awarded an American Football League expansion franchise on May 24, and on Sept. 26, the league's ownership decision came down in favor of the group led by Paul Brown. The franchise was to begin play in 1968, but it acquired its first player late in '67, trading two draft picks to the Miami Dolphins for QB John Stofa. And what would the team's nickname be? A Cincinnati newspaper poll showed much sentiment among Queen City fans for the name "Buckeyes," but Brown nixed that idea. Brown said that the name "belonged to Ohio State," and he added that the Buckeyes weren't all that popular in Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia, which he considered part of a regional fan base for his team. Ownership instead chose the nickname "Bengals," with Brown making the announcement at an Oct. 26 news conference. The tiger theme was familiar to Brown, who had enjoyed great success with the Massillon (Ohio) High School Tigers early in his coaching career. Also, "Bengals" had been the nickname of a Cincinnati pro football franchise of the late 1930s and early '40s, and Brown had three members of that original Bengals team at his news conference. Brown cited a "precedence for reviving old team nicknames," noting that the Baltimore Colts and Buffalo Bills carried the same nicknames as previous unrelated pro teams in their towns. As for how the original 1930s team came to be known as Bengals, one school of thought associated the name with a hugely popular mid-'30s movie called "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." The movie dealt not with tigers, but with the exploits of British soldiers in colonial India. That concept was clearly in Paul Brown's mind some 32 years after the movie's 1935 nomination for Best Picture, because Brown said at the nickname news conference, "We mean the tigers, not the lancers." But whatever connection may have been made between the original team and the movie, it seems to have been more a case of coincidence than design. The original Bengals indisputably used tiger images in promoting the team. And Hal Pennington, who coached and managed the team after his 1934 graduation from Xavier University as a multi-sport star, said in a '67 interview that he named the team to represent a tiger theme. Pennington said he was sitting in his mother's kitchen when he was struck by a product or advertisement — he couldn't remember exactly what — whose trademark included the name "Bengal" and a tiger-head image. "The (tiger) picture was so animated, it inspired me," Pennington recalled. "I just figured 'Bengals' would be a good name for the team."

1968

The Bengals fielded their first team, with an agreement to play two seasons at Nippert Stadium, on the University of Cincinnati campus, during construction of the as-yet-unnamed downtown stadium. The Bengals were placed as the fifth team the AFL's Western Division, bringing league membership to 10. They were awarded 40 veteran players in the AFL allocation draft, but the draft was not generous to Cincinnati, allowing existing teams wide latitude to protect the best talent. Of the 40 selections, only 16 ever played for Cincinnati, and only three would play as many as four seasons. G Pat Matson of Oregon, obtained from the Denver Broncos, would play the most Bengals seasons (seven) of any of the expansion draft signees. In the college draft, the Bengals selected Tennessee center Bob Johnson as their first pick. Johnson would go on to play 12 Bengals seasons, with an AFL All-Star game selection. The Bengals played their first preseason game on Aug. 3 at Nippert, losing 38-14 to Kansas City before a crowd of 21,682. Jon Stofa was the starting QB against the Chiefs. In the regular season, the Bengals lost their opener at San Diego, with rookie Dewey Warren as starting QB, but Cincinnati won its next two, posting double-digit margins at home over Denver and Buffalo. The team would win only once more, however, finishing 3-11. Though Warren, a sixth-round draft choice from Tennessee, took the first regular-season snap at QB, Stofa and future Bengals head coach Sam Wyche also saw significant time at QB during the season. Regular-season home attendance averaged 25,766. Rookie RB Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing with 1023 yards and was named AFL Rookie of the Year.

The team selected QB Greg Cook of the University of Cincinnati with its first draft pick (fifth overall), and Cook was an immediate sensation. He led the second-year club to a 3-0 start, including victories over AFL powerhouses Oakland and Kansas City. "If (Cook) stays with it, I've got myself another Otto Graham," Paul Brown said. But Cook suffered a shoulder injury in Cincinnati's Game 3 win over Kansas City, and though he returned to play later in the season, winning the AFL passing title and league Offensive Rookie of the Year honors, he never fully recovered from the injury. The Chillicothe, Ohio native would play in only one more game after '69, and likely more than any other Bengals player, he has inspired thoughts of "what might have been." Cook's average-yards-per-pass-attempt in '69 was 9.41, still a team record through 2019 and the oldest surviving mark in the franchise record book. Although the team faltered after Cook's injury, finishing 4-9-1, Brown was named AFL Coach of the Year, and LB Bill Bergey, the team's second-round draft pick, was named AFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Local support for the Bengals grew steadily, and on Oct. 7, the club announced that the remainder of the home season at Nippert Stadium was sold out. On Nov. 9, the Bengals played the franchise's first game on an artificial surface, tying Houston 31-31 at the Astrodome. The club experienced a tragedy on the morning of Sept. 15, day of the season opener, when LB Frank Buncom of Southern California, a 29-year-old about to enter his eighth NFL season, was found dead at the team hotel, due to a blood clot that had reached a lung.

The year was a highly significant one for the Bengals, in both a football and a civic sense. On the football side, the Bengals moved into the NFL as part of the league's merger with the AFL. Paul Brown's quest in returning to pro football, following his ouster from Cleveland by Art Modell in 1962, had always been about re-joining the NFL. So when the Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968, it was key for Brown to know that the '70 NFL-AFL merger was already approved. There was much debate and controversy over exactly how the leagues would combine. The Bengals pushed strongly for a full merger, with the 26 clubs divided into two 13-team conferences. Other interests sought to keep the 16 NFL teams and 10 AFL teams in separate conferences of unequal size. But the full-merger view prevailed, with the NFL's Baltimore Colts, Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers agreeing to join the 10 AFL teams in the new American Football Conference (AFC). The remaining 13 NFL teams formed the National Conference. The Bengals were part of a four-team AFC Central Division, joined by Cleveland, Pittsburgh and the AFL Houston Oilers. Thus was born the twice-annual "Battle of Ohio" between the Bengals and Browns. The Bengals started horribly on the field, losing six of their first seven games, but they roared to life in winning their last seven and claimed the first AFC Central title at 8-6, by a game over Cleveland. The Bengals became, at that time, the youngest franchise (third year of existence) to reach the NFL playoffs. Baltimore squelched the Bengals 17-0 in the first round of the playoffs, but that Colts club would go on to win Super Bowl V, and Brown won the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year award. On the civic side, 1970 was the debut season for Cincinnati's dual-sport downtown stadium, which would be the Bengals' home through 1999. It was announced on Jan. 9 that the facility was officially named "Cincinnati Riverfront Stadium," but in popular usage the name soon became just "Riverfront Stadium." Though seating capacity for football varied, due to whether the Reds' home baseball season was still on, the new stadium roughly doubled the capacity of Nippert Stadium. The Bengals first played at Riverfront on Aug. 8, defeating Washington in a preseason game. The first regular-season game was on Sept. 20, a 31-21 win over Oakland, with QB and future Bengals head coach

Sam Wyche scoring the new facility's first regular-season football points, on a five-yard TD run in the first quarter. The club averaged 58,251 home attendance in the regular season. The baseball Reds had begun their tenure at Riverfront with a game vs. Atlanta on June 30.

The Bengals went 5-0-1 in preseason and opened the regular season with high hopes of defending their AFC Central Division title. They started off with a 37-14 rout of Philadelphia at home, but they lost the next seven and finished at 4-10. The puzzling outfit stumbled despite outgaining foes by more than 25 yards per game and posting a plus-16 turnover differential. Six of their losses came by four points or less. QB Sam Wyche, who would become Bengals head coach in 1984, was traded in May to Washington, and Virgil Carter was the starting QB for most of the season. But Carter missed some time with injuries, allowing for the debut of third-round draft pick Ken Anderson, who immediately attracted notice as a prospect of great promise. Anderson could not turn the '71 season around, but it was the start of a 16-year career (longest in Bengals history through 2019) that would end with him holding all the team's major passing records at that time. The first of Anderson's career 197 Bengals TD passes was a five-yarder to WR Eric Crabtree in the fourth quarter of a 20-17 loss on Oct. 3 at Green Bay. On Nov. 28, the Bengals posted the first shutout in franchise history, 31-0 at home over San Diego. Regular-season home attendance was strong in Riverfront Stadium's second year, as the average of 59,266 would not be topped until the 2003 season at Paul Brown Stadium. Cincinnati's Dave Lewis won his second consecutive NFL punting title, averaging 44.8 yards.

1972

The team rallied from the disappointment of 1971 to finish 8-6 for the second time in three seasons. It wasn't enough for a second playoff berth in three years, but Coach Paul Brown said at season's end that the Bengals had met his goal of becoming a "fully competitive" NFL franchise by Year Five. (The Bengals would back up those words by going 38-18 over the next four seasons.) Besides the drama of a playoff bid that ended with a loss to Cleveland in Game 13, the season's major storyline was the battle between veteran Virgil Carter and second-year Ken Anderson for the No. 1 QB spot. Anderson got Brown's nod in preseason, but Carter took the job back for Game 9 vs. Oakland, after Anderson had struggled in a 40-17 loss to Pittsburgh. Carter was injured in the Oakland game, however, and Anderson started Game 10, a 20-19 upset loss to a Baltimore team that had won only twice. Carter started in a Game 11 win at Chicago, but passed for only 120 yards with two INTs, and Anderson was re-installed at No. 1 for a Game 12 win vs. the Giants. Anderson started the crucial Game 13 vs. Cleveland, but he was sidelined with an injury, and the Browns sealed a 27-24 win when Carter suffered an INT by LB Billy Andrews on a short pass to Cleveland's goal line with 0:36 to play. Anderson came back to start the play-for-pride season finale, directing a 61-17 romp at Houston, and Anderson would not again be seriously challenged until 1984, when at age 35 he was bothered by injuries and began to give way to Boomer Esiason. DT Mike Reid, Cincinnati's top pick from the 1970 draft, was the only Bengal named to the Pro Football Writers' first-team All-Pro squad, but rookie S Tommy Casanova also made a big impression and was voted by his teammates as the club's MVP. The 61 points scored at Houston stands through 2019 as a club record. It has been matched once since, in a 61-7 win vs. the same Houston franchise in 1989.

The Bengals claimed their second AFC Central title in the division's four-year existence, winning their last six games after a 4-4 start and claiming the crown over 10-4 Pittsburgh via conference-record tiebreaker. The Bengals' rivalry with the Steelers heated up in '73, with Pittsburgh QB Terry Bradshaw saying, "I'd really rather beat Cincinnati than anybody." The Bengals and Steelers split their two season meetings. In postseason, the Bengals lost 34-16 at Miami, which would go on to win Super Bowl VIII. It marked the second time in two playoff appearances that the Bengals were eliminated by the team that would go on to win it all. Though the schedule at this time remained at just 14 games, the Bengals missed by just 15 total yards having two 1000-yard rushers. Veteran Essex Johnson had 997 yards, and bruising 12th-round draft choice Boobie Clark had 988. Clark was named AFC Rookie of the Year. Through 2019, only seven teams in NFL history have had two 1000-yard rushers in a season (Bengals not among them), and four of those instances came in 16-game seasons. The '73 offense was further improved by WR Isaac Curtis, a first-round draft pick who would go on to play 12 excellent seasons for Cincinnati. The NFL's rules on home television blackouts were changed for 1973, with blackouts lifted on games sold out 72 hours in advance, and the Sept. 24 game vs. Houston — a 24-10 Bengals victory — became the first Bengals home contest with live local TV. Paul Brown turned 65 on Sept. 7, but retirement was not on his mind. He would go on to serve through 1975 as head coach, and he would remain the Bengals' chief executive until his death in 1991 at age 82.

A break-even (7-7) season for Cincinnati included the individual highlight of QB Ken Anderson winning the first of his four NFL passing titles. He posted a league-best 95.7 rating, with 213 completions in 328 attempts (64.9 percent) for 2667 yards, with 18 TDs and 10 INTs. In a Nov. 10 win vs. Pittsburgh, Anderson set a Bengals record (still standing through 2019) for completion percentage, ringing up a 90.9 by connecting on 20-of-22. Through 2019, that's sixth-best in NFL history (minimum 20 attempts). CB Lemar Parrish led the NFL in punt returns, with an 18.8-yard average that remains through '19 as the franchise record. The Bengals were 7-4 through 11 games, but were still a game and a half behind first-place Pittsburgh, and Cincinnati lost its last three contests. The Bengals swept the "Battle of Ohio" series vs. Cleveland for the first time, winning 33-7 at home in the season opener and 34-24 at Cleveland in Game 5. The campaign was preceded by a tumultuous offseason. Labor unrest roiled the league scene well into the preseason. The NFL Players Association called a strike, but not all players were on board, and most teams welcomed willing veterans into training camps. The Bengals were at the top in terms of veterans reporting to camp. Early preseason games were played with large numbers of rookies and other new personnel, however, and the Bengals offered fans refunds to those games. Most fans kept their tickets. The strike effort dwindled as preseason neared its end, and the regular season opened normally. Prior to preseason, the Bengals were in the thick of an NFL battle against player raids by the new World Football League, as they disputed the WFL Philadelphia franchise's signing of star LB Bill Bergey to a contract to begin in 1976, even though Bergey still was obligated to the Bengals through 1975. The Bengals lost that battle in court, but the decision wound up being moot. Bergey's offers from the unstable new league eventually fell through, and on July 10 of '74, Cincinnati traded Bergey to Philadelphia's NFL team, the Eagles, for first-round draft choices in 1976 and '77, plus a second-rounder in '77.

1975

In their final season with Paul Brown as head coach, the Bengals opened with six straight wins and went on to post an 11-3 record. Their .786 winning percentage stands through 2019 as the best in franchise history, and their plus-differential in yards per game (81.2, on 361.4 offensively vs. 280.2 defensively) also stands through '19 as a franchise record. The team also set a franchise record for fumble recoveries per game (1.57, on 22 total). But two of Cincinnati's losses were to AFC Central Division rival Pittsburgh, and the Steelers took the division title at 12-2, setting up their drive to the Super Bowl X championship. The Bengals qualified as the AFC Wild Card team for the playoffs, but had to play on the road at Oakland, which also had finished 11-3, and the Raiders prevailed, 31-28, withstanding a Bengals rally from a 31-14 deficit. QB Ken Anderson won the second of his four NFL passing championships, with a 93.9 rating, and he was also named Dodge NFL Man of the Year, an award reflecting both athletic and civic achievement. Attempts to revive the injury-plagued career of iconic QB Greg Cook ended on July 9, when the Bengals allowed Kansas City to claim Cook on waivers. Cook played in preseason for the Chiefs but did not reach the regular season with the club. The Bengals opened the preseason in the Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio, playing Washington on Aug. 2 on a day when the on-field temperature was estimated at 105, believed to be the hottest conditions ever (through 2019) for any Bengals game. Labor unrest forced the preseason to unfold under another strike threat, but it was averted just before the regular season began. The Bengals defense was strong despite the pre-training camp loss of Pro Bowl DT Mike Reid, who retired at age 26 to pursue a career in music. The last player still with the Bengals from the 1968 expansion draft, G Pat Matson, was traded to Green Bay on Sept. 10. Prior to the season, Paul Brown hired Kim Wood as the first "strength coach" in franchise history, citing the need for a more comprehensive year-round conditioning program for players. Wood would serve in the job through 2002.

1976

On Jan. 1, Paul Brown announced his retirement as head coach, while remaining general manager and overall chief executive. Brown had coached 41 seasons at various levels of football, with a career including dominance at the high school level, a national championship at Ohio State, and an AAFC and NFL dynasty with the Cleveland Browns. Brown also led the expansion Bengals into the playoffs in their third season (1970), making them the "youngest franchise" in league history at that time to reach postseason. His overall coaching record was 342-126-15, for a winning percentage of .724. Brown named Bill "Tiger" Johnson, Bengals offensive line coach since the franchise's inception, as his successor as head coach. Johnson led the team to a 10-4 record, tied with Pittsburgh atop the AFC Central, but the Steelers won a tiebreaker (head-to-head sweep) for the division title, and the Bengals lost out to 11-3 New England for what was then a lone AFC Wild Card spot in the playoffs. The Bengals' .714 winning percentage is the highest (through 2019) of any Cincinnati team not to make the playoffs. The Bengals entered the final regular-season weekend tied with Pittsburgh at 9-4, but the Steelers clinched the playoff spot with a Saturday win against Houston. The Bengals were playing only for pride the following day when they swamped the N.Y. Jets 42-3 in what was to be the last Jets appearance by Hall of Fame QB Joe Namath. The Bengals acquired defensive end Coy Bacon in a March 31 trade with San Diego for WR Charlie Joiner, and Bacon contributed 22.0 sacks, still the Bengals record through 2019, and by a margin of 9.0. The team had 46 sacks, and its average of 3.29 per game is still the franchise record through 2019. Also still a record through '19 is the club's average yield of only 15.0 points per game. CB Ken Riley led the AFC with nine INTs. In the first round of the draft, Cincinnati selected HB Archie Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner from Ohio State, and Griffin went on to play for the Bengals through 1983.

1977

Head coach Bill Johnson posted a second straight winning record (8-6), but the team missed the playoffs, one game behind AFC Central champion Pittsburgh. The Bengals logged a huge win in Game 15, beating Pittsburgh 17-10 in a Saturday afternoon contest at frigid Riverfront Stadium (temperatures hovering between five and 10 degrees). The game left the teams tied for the division lead, and the Bengals were assured of winning a season-end tiebreaker, based on better point differential in their 1-1 season split with the Steelers. But on the final weekend, Pittsburgh won 10-9 over San Diego, and the Bengals fell 21-16 at Houston. The Oilers tied the Bengals' 8-6 record and officially took second place in a tiebreaker, but Houston also missed the postseason. The Bengals rallied into contention after a 2-3 start that included a season-opening loss to underdog Cleveland, the first time the Bengals had lost in a season opener played at home, following six straight wins in that situation. On Nov. 13 at Minnesota, QB Ken Anderson and WR Billy Brooks teamed up for a 94-yard TD pass, which stands through 2019 as the longest pass play in franchise history. The season ended the NFL's 17-year run (1961-77) of playing a 14-game regular-season schedule.

1978

The Bengals and the NFL played the first year with a 16-game schedule, and it was a long 16 for Cincinnati. QB Ken Anderson missed the first four games with a broken bone in his right hand, and Bill Johnson resigned as head coach following an 0-5 start. Among the first four games, Cincinnati's losing margins included one point (vs. Kansas City), three points (in overtime at Cleveland) and two points (vs. New Orleans). Johnson was replaced as head coach by Homer Rice, who had joined the staff for '78 as quarterbacks coach. The team dropped to a 1-12 mark before rallying to win the last three games. The Bengals closed the year with a 48-16 rout of Cleveland, a 32-point winning margin that stood until 2015 as Cincinnati's largest in the Battle of Ohio series. Prior to the season, CB Lemar Parrish and DE Coy Bacon were traded to Washington for the Redskins' first-round draft pick in 1979 (used to select RB Charles Alexander). Two Pro Bowlers, TE Bob Trumpy and S Tommy Casanova, retired prior to the season. On July 26, Paul Brown's eldest son, Robin, died of cancer at age 46, and Paul Brown had to cancel plans to be the presenter for Weeb Ewbank at Ewbank's Pro Football Hall of Fame induction. The Ben-Gals cheerleaders were in the news in '78. They attracted considerable new attention, going away from their "malt shop" look to a more revealing uniform, described at the time as "chic, smart and sexy, but not vulgar."

1979

Fullback Pete Johnson powered his way to 15 TDs, a club record at the time. But the team finished 4-12 in its only full season under head coach Homer Rice, who was released the day after the Dec. 16 season finale. The team struggled despite a plus-15 mark in turnover differential (44 takeaways, 29 giveaways). On Dec. 28, Rice was replaced by former Cleveland Browns head coach Forrest Gregg, who resigned as head coach of the CFL Toronto Argonauts to take the job. During the season, controversy flared over the publication of "PB: The Paul Brown Story," an autobiography written by Brown in collaboration with sportswriter Jack Clary. The book included lengthy and explicit criticism of Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell, who had fired Brown as Cleveland head coach after the 1962 season. Modell made a formal complaint to the league office, charging Brown with violating league policy on public criticism of other teams' management. Brown eventually was fined $10,000 by Pete Rozelle, whose appointment as NFL Commissioner in 1960 had been spearheaded by Brown. After paying his fine, Brown told reporters, "I have sent (Rozelle) his check, but I stand by the book as written. His (Rozelle's) action is not based on any judgment on the facts I have presented." Prior to the season, on Jan. 17, the Bengals created the coaching staff's first full-time position in charge of special teams, hiring Frank Ganz. On Nov. 14, after an injury to C Blair Bush, C Bob Johnson was coaxed out of retirement and played the remainder of the season. Johnson was the team's original No. 1 draft pick in 1968, and when he hung up his cleats for good after the '79 season, it marked the final departure of the last player who had been on the inaugural '68 club. On Sept. 23 vs. Houston, Bengal Chris Bahr kicked a 55-yard FG, which would stand alone as longest in franchise history for 33 years, until Mike Nugent tied it in 2012.

Forrest Gregg managed only a 6-10 record in his first season as head coach, but he was laying the groundwork for a trip to the Super Bowl the following year. The first building block in that plan was the drafting of Southern California OT Anthony Munoz with the No. 3 overall selection. Munoz, who 18 years later would be a first-ballot Hall-of-Fame inductee, having played his entire career with Cincinnati, was enthusiastically endorsed by Gregg as Cincinnati's top choice. Gregg's deciding moment came when he was accidentally knocked to the ground by an errant Munoz forearm while working Munoz out in a supposedly "light-contact" drill on a scouting trip. Gregg himself was a Hall of Fame OT, inducted in 1977. After drafting Munoz, the Bengals endured a high-profile and acrimonious contract negotiation with Munoz agent Mike Trope. But Munoz was signed just before training camp, hyped as "the NFL's first million-dollar offensive tackle," and he started all season at LOT. Gregg instituted notably tougher discipline policies on Bengals players and became the first Cincinnati head coach to insist players wear sport coats and ties on road trips. But on the field, QB Ken Anderson was injury-plagued and wound up splitting time with Jack Thompson on an offense whose 244 total points ranked last in the AFC. Gregg notched two of his wins against defending league champion Pittsburgh, but his club lost twice to eventual AFC Central champ Cleveland, which had fired him as head coach after the 1977 campaign.

The Bengals began the year with a dramatically redesigned uniform, highlighted by their now-signature striped helmets, and they ended the season in the Super Bowl, losing a heartbreaking 26-21 decision to San Francisco. The Bengals were favored in Super Bowl XVI at Pontiac, Mich., but they finished minus-three in turnover differential and fell short in trying to erase a 20-0 halftime deficit. Still, it was a foundational year for Bengals-mania in the Tri-State. Coach Forrest Gregg's second Bengals edition won the AFC Central Division title by four games, with a 12-4 record, and they won home playoff games over Buffalo and San Diego. Cincinnati's 27-7 "Freezer Bowl" AFC Championship win over the Chargers was played in conditions of minus-59 wind chill, still the lowest in NFL history through 2019. (The recorded temperature was minus-nine, second lowest in league history). Attendance at the Freezer Bowl was 46,302, more than creditable considering the weather, and attendance at the game is such a point of pride among longtime fans, it's said jokingly that more than 10 times that number of 46,302 now claim to have been in the stands. QB Ken Anderson earned NFL Most Valuable Player honors with a league-best and career-high passer rating of 98.4. With 29 TD passes and just 10 INTs, Anderson posted a 2.9-to-1 ratio, best in franchise history until 2015. TE Dan Ross and rookie WR Cris Collinsworth had big receiving years. Ross' 71 receptions was a club record to that point. FB Pete Johnson rumbled for a then club-record 1077 rushing yards, with 12 TDs. Future Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz played his second season and earned his first of what would be a Bengals-record 11 Pro Bowl berths. Defensively, the front line trio of DEs Ross Browner and Eddie Edwards and DT Wilson Whitley were in the fourth of their five seasons starting together. An outstanding veteran LB corps of Jim LeClair, Reggie Williams, Glenn Cameron and Bo Harris finished 1-4 in tackles. CB Ken Riley, by far the franchise's all-time INT leader, was in the 13th of his 15-season Bengals career. For QB Anderson, getting to his eventual season accolades was no easy journey. The year began with Anderson trade rumors (nothing materialized), and Anderson went through preseason in an open competition with Jack Thompson, the franchise's No. 1 draft pick from 1979. Anderson became sure of the season-opening job only when Thompson became unavailable, due to an injury in the final preseason contest. Anderson fared poorly in the season opener vs. Seattle and was benched in favor of Turk Schonert. But although Schonert was a hero that day, leading a wild come-from-behind win, Anderson was re-installed by Gregg the following week and went on to his memorable season. Cincinnati swooned over rookie WR Collinsworth, who produced the franchise's first 1000-yard receiving season (1009) and displayed a magnetic personality that by year's end infected fans far beyond the Queen City. In December, Collinsworth became the first Bengals player featured on a Sports Illustrated cover. The offense had four Pro Bowlers (Anderson, Collinsworth, Johnson and Munoz), and the special teams had one (P Pat McNally), but the defense had none. Paul Brown was named NFL Executive of the Year by The Sporting News. Tickets for Super Bowl XVI were only $40 face value. It was also an historic year for technology in the Bengals organization. On Sept. 25, it was confirmed to media that the club had bought and installed its first office-wide computer system, with "several terminals available for the ticket office and other business needs." As noted above, the new uniforms for 1981 featured tiger-striped helmets, and they made quite a splash. The design was chosen by Paul Brown, who said he wanted the helmet to be "instantly recognizable even from a distance." The bold look sparked debate among fans, and the Cincinnati Enquirer quoted a source from NFL Properties as saying "the design was not our first choice" among several presented to the Bengals. "But," the Enquirer source continued, "these helmets will definitely get recognized." Indeed, they have become an institution, still distinctive among NFL headgear after 36 years.

The Bengals finished a strike-shortened season at 7-2, tied for the second-best record in the AFC. QB Ken Anderson was at the height of his Cincinnati prowess, winning his fourth NFL passing title (95.3 rating). Anderson stands through 2019 as the only Bengal to win more than two major NFL season titles of any variety. Anderson's 70.55 completion percentage was an NFL season record at the time, and through '19 it still stands as sixth-best in league history. Anderson also set a standing Bengals season record for passing yards per game, at 277.2 Isaac Curtis and Cris Collinsworth were in their second year as a Cadillac duo at wide receiver, helping Anderson to his high marks. But a players' strike began after Week 2 and lasted 57 days, until Nov. 17. Games scheduled in Weeks 3-9 wound up being canceled, and Week 10 games were rescheduled for Jan. 2, a week after the regular season had been scheduled to end. They were the first NFL regular-season games not played in the calendar year of the season. The defending AFC champion Bengals split their first two games, and when play resumed after the strike, they established themselves as again one of the top clubs in the conference, winning four straight to stand at 5-1. Cincinnati was 6-1 in its seven post-strike games, the only loss being a memorable 50-34 Monday night shootout at San Diego. In that game, Anderson set a Bengals record for completions (40) that still stands through 2019, but the Chargers' 661 yards net offense stands as the most ever allowed by the Bengals, and Chargers WR Wes Chandler set a still-standing Cincinnati opponents' record with 260 receiving yards. Buoyed by the previous season's AFC championship and the strong regular-season finish, Bengals fans had high hopes of a second straight Super Bowl appearance as the playoffs began. But in one of the most stunning losses in Bengals history, Cincinnati opened an expanded playoff format by falling 44-17 to the underdog N.Y. Jets at Riverfront Stadium. The Jets' point total stands through 2019 as the most ever in the playoffs against the Bengals, and Freeman McNeil's 202 rushing yards also still stand as a Bengals opponent playoff record. Four Bengals went to the Pro Bowl — Anderson, WR Cris Collinsworth, OT Anthony Munoz and TE Dan Ross. The nine regular-season games played were the fewest in the NFL since 1934, the year before the league adopted standard number of games for all teams. Bengals players were among the first to vote as a team to end the strike, doing so Nov. 11 in a meeting at the club's Spinney Field practice facility.

It was a tumultuous year from start to finish as the Bengals posted a 7-9 record, dropping from the postseason picture after going 19-6 over the previous two regular seasons. In January, the new United States Football League announced that it would begin play in the spring of 1984, and the USFL roiled the '83 offseason by pursuing contracts with NFL players and coaches, including a number of Bengals. G Dave Lapham and TE Dan Ross signed "future contracts" with the new league for 1984, and they would indeed go there, but they played out their Bengals contracts for Cincinnati in '83. The biggest stunner to Cincinnati fans came June 27, when star WR Cris Collinsworth signed a future contract to begin in 1985 with the USFL Tampa Bay Bandits. But over an extended period of angst in Bengals Nation, extending into February 1985, Collinsworth and Bandits owner John Bassett never fully consummated their deal. Collinsworth wound up playing his full pro football career (through 1988) with the Bengals. In July, offensive coordinator Lindy Infante signed a future deal as head coach of the USFL Jacksonville Bulls, and rather than let him coach in Cincinnati under his '83 contract, the Bengals fired him for breach of contract. On June 2, once highly-touted QB Jack Thompson was traded to the Tampa Bay Bucs for a 1984 first-round draft choice. On July 26, Bengals DE Ross Browner and FB Pete Johnson were among the first four NFL players ever suspended by the NFL for illegal drug activity. They missed all of training camp and Games 1-4 of the regular season. The team lost six of its first seven games, and in Game 6, a Monday night Riverfront Stadium visit by Pittsburgh, Steelers DE Keith Gary inflicted a severe neck sprain on QB Ken Anderson, bringing him down with a visually sickening twist of the face mask. Though Gary would in the end be only fined by the NFL (not suspended), the play proved to be key in raising NFL awareness that QBs were often in vulnerable positions and needed more rules protection. "It's fortunate (the play) was on national television," said Paul Brown. "Maybe now it won't be repeated." Anderson missed the next three games. On Nov. 20 vs. Houston, an obscure rookie drafted in the 10th round made his first NFL start, as an injury replacement. The player was Tim Krumrie, who would take over as full-time starter the next season and become one of the best defensive linemen and most admired players in franchise history. The Bengals rallied to finish 6-3 over their last nine games, and coach Forrest Gregg was under contract through 1984. But on Dec. 24, Gregg resigned with the team's blessing to take the head coaching job in Green Bay, where he had played his way into the Hall of Fame as an offensive tackle. On Dec. 29, the Bengals replaced Gregg with Indiana University head coach Sam Wyche, a former Bengals QB who five years later would join Gregg as the only other Bengal coach to take the team to the Super Bowl. Despite their disappointing season, the Bengals led the NFL in total defense under Gregg and coordinator Hank Bullough, allowing only 270.4 yards per game. The performance stands through 2019 as the club's only No. 1 defensive ranking.

Rookie head coach Sam Wyche took the Bengals on a wild ride that ended just short of a playoff berth. The team rose from an 0-5 start to finish 8-8, winning its last four. After routing Buffalo 52-21 in a 1 p.m. ET season finale, the Bengals needed the 11-4 L.A. Raiders to win at home over 8-7 Pittsburgh in a 4 p.m. game. That result would have produced a Bengals-Steelers tie for the AFC Central title, and the Bengals would have been declared champions via tiebreaker. But the Steelers dashed Cincinnati's hopes in a 13-7 win over the Raiders, as Wyche and a number of invited media members watched on television at the coach's home. Wyche juggled his quarterbacks all season, due to injuries and/or coaching decisions. Ken Anderson began and finished the year as No. 1, starting nine games, but rookie Boomer Esiason started four and veteran Turk Schonert started three. Esiason made the first of his eventual 123 Bengals starts on Oct. 7 vs. Houston, in a battle of 0-5 teams. Esiason didn't dazzle, passing for 159 yards with no TDs and two INTs, but the Bengals won 13-3, and Esiason would finish 3-1 in his four starts on the year. Prior to the season, it was a big year for Cincinnati in the trade department. The Bengals entered April holding the No. 1 overall pick in the draft, via their 1983 trade of QB Jack Thompson to Tampa Bay. But with the top prospect, Brigham Young QB Steve Young, having signed with the USFL Los Angeles Express, the Bengals traded the pick on April 5 to New England, gaining the Nos. 16 and 28 spots in round one. The Bengals selected DE Pete Koch of Maryland at No. 16 and G Brian Blados of North Carolina at No. 28. The Patriots used the No. 1 pick on Nebraska WR Irving Fryar. On May 29, the Bengals made arguably the best straight player-for-player trade in franchise history, sending FB Pete Johnson to San Diego for RB James Brooks. Johnson would prove to be on the downside of his career, while Brooks would have a stellar Bengals tenure through 1991. The year 1984 was, and remains through 2019, the second time in club history for the Bengals to have three first-round draft picks (first year was 1977). With their own first-round '84 selection, the Bengals chose LB Ricky Hunley of Arizona, but Hunley became (and remains through 2019) the only Bengals first-rounder never to sign with Cincinnati. Hunley's stalemated contract negotiations set a Bengals record for length, and on Oct. 9, he was traded to Denver for three future selections, two of which brought Cincinnati productive WR Tim McGee (first round 1986) and Pro Bowl S David Fulcher (third round 1986).

The 7-9 Bengals scored 441 points in Sam Wyche's second season as head coach, a club record at the time. But their 437 points allowed also was a record to that point. Rookie WR Eddie Brown, who had surprisingly been available with the No. 13 pick in the '85 draft, missed the first 18 days of training camp due to contract talks, but he wound up as Associated Press NFL Rookie of the Year after catching 53 passes for 942 yards and eight TDs. Bengals icon Ken Anderson opened the season as the starting QB, but the 15th-year vet was supplanted in Game 3 by second-year pro Boomer Esiason, who went on to pass for 27 TDs and just 12 INTs while posting a 93.2 passer rating. The team rebounded from an 0-3 start to stand 7-7 after a rousing 50-24 win over Dallas, and a playoff berth was clearly within range in an AFC Central Division race in which no team was able to dominate. But in Game 15, the Bengals lost 27-24 at Washington after leading 24-7, and their only hope for the playoffs entering the final weekend was via tiebreaker in a possible three-way deadlock with Pittsburgh and Cleveland. The day before their season finale at New England, they were eliminated — and Cleveland became division champion — when Pittsburgh lost a Saturday game to the N.Y. Giants. Prior to and during the season, the team had a number of high-profile personnel issues. Star WR Cris Collinsworth, who had stunned Cincinnati fans in 1983 by signing a “future contract” with the United States Football League’s Tampa Bay Bandits, was to join the Bandits for their 1985 spring season. But after a soap-opera series of “will he go or will he stay?” events, Collinsworth re-signed with Cincinnati on Feb. 27. WR Isaac Curtis, a premier Bengal for 12 years, was released in July and shortly thereafter announced his retirement from pro football. DE Ross Browner went to Houston of the USFL in the spring, but he re-signed with Cincinnati in late August. TE Dan Ross, another ex-Bengal who had gone to the USFL, was re-acquired by Cincinnati in late August but was traded to Seattle in October.

The '86 team was the second Bengals club, and the last one through 2019, to win 10 or more games and not make the playoffs. They lost their chance for a division title when they were bombed 34-3 by eventual champ Cleveland in Game 15 at Riverfront Stadium, but they stayed alive for a Wild Card berth to the very end. After swamping the N.Y. Jets 52-21 on the season’s final Sunday, they were set to qualify with a Miami win over visiting New England on Monday night. But as many Bengals players gathered to watch at a popular Cincinnati night spot, the Patriots won 34-27, taking the AFC East title by a game over the Jets and eliminating Cincinnati from postseason. The 10-6 Jets and 10-6 Chiefs took the Wild Card spots over the Bengals via tiebreaker, with better records against AFC foes. In his first full season as Bengals starting QB, Boomer Esiason passed for a then-club-record 3959 yards, and RB James Brooks posted a club record that still stands through 2019 for yards from scrimmage (1773, on 1087 rushing and 686 receiving). LB Reggie Williams won the prestigious NFL Man of the Year award, for his combined football and community efforts. In late July, the NFL completed successful defense of a multi-million-dollar antitrust suit filed by the United States Football League. The courts ruled technically in favor of the USFL, but awarded only a token $1 in damages. “(The suit) could have been catastrophic to the NFL,” Bengals assistant GM Mike Brown told reporters. “We are glad to see it end in what we consider a complete victory.” In '86, the NFL began the regular use of instant replay officiating and stepped up its drug-testing program, two measures that were supported by the Bengals. After a year of instant replay, however, the Bengals would join a minority of teams that unsuccessfully opposed its continuation.

The Bengals entered the season with big plans, after finishing 10-6 in 1986, but their aspirations were to be dashed. They started 1-1, but the loss was an exceedingly painful one, as Cincinnati lost to San Francisco despite having a lead and the ball with :06 to play. After that loss, the NFL players’ union went on strike. Games scheduled for Week 3 were canceled, and the next three games were played primarily by replacement players. Cincinnati went 1-2 in the three “replacement games.” The replacement-player strategy led to picketing by Bengals veterans outside the team’s practice facility, but replacement ball was effective in breaking the strike. A total of 85 NFL veterans crossed picket lines to play in the first replacement games, and though the Bengals were a stronger union team than many, LB Reggie Williams was among the 85. The flow increased after the first replacement weekend, though the Bengals had only one additional defection from the strike ranks, DE Eddie Edwards. But veterans agreed leaguewide to return for Game 6 and beyond, without a settlement to their labor issues. The “real Bengals,” however, could not get it back together again, posting a 2-8 record after their return, for a 4-11 overall team finish. The season ended with widespread speculation that fourth-year head coach Sam Wyche would be replaced, but Bengals general manager Paul Brown announced

Dec. 30 that the club would honor the final year of Wyche’s five-year contract. Brown termed the 1987 season “an aberration” for which Wyche should not take the brunt of blame, and looking ahead to 1988, Brown told media, “We have a team with talent, and yours truly does not consider this to be a rebuilding year.” Brown and Wyche, of course, were to be vindicated as the Bengals would go on to win the 1988 AFC Championship. One bright spot from '87 was the first Pro Bowl berth for NT Tim Krumrie, the 10th-round '83 draft choice who had already earned status as a key player and fan favorite. Prior to the '87 campaign, Bengals Nation saw the end of an era, as QB Ken Anderson announced his retirement on June 2. The 1986 season had been Anderson’s 16th as a Bengal, a term that stands through 2019 as the longest in franchise history. Anderson had participated in the team’s spring minicamp, but he changed his mind about a 17th season following a late May exam that showed reduced strength in his right (throwing) shoulder. “The doc told me, ‘You’re starting to wear out a little bit,’ ” Anderson said, “and there is life after football. I want to make sure that I can continue to play golf and otherwise enjoy that life.”

Snubbed on the NFL’s prime-time TV schedule after a 4-11 season, the Bengals staged one of the biggest turnarounds in NFL history, posting a 12-4 record. They clinched the AFC home field advantage for the playoffs, and they won games at Riverfront Stadium over Seattle and Buffalo before losing a dramatic Super Bowl XXIII by 20-16 to San Francisco at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami. In the Super Bowl, the Bengals took a 16-13 lead on a 40-yard Jim Breech FG with 3:20 remaining, but the 49ers drove 92 yards in 11 plays to seize victory with 0:34 to play, on a 10-yard pass from Joe Montana to John Taylor. The Bengals suffered two dramatic player losses for the Super Bowl, as troubled FB Stanley Wilson missed the Sunday game due to a Saturday night drug relapse, and Pro Bowl NT Tim Krumrie suffered a broken leg early in the first quarter, with TV cameras catching the fracture in grim detail. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle called Super Bowl XXIII the most exciting to that point in history of the game, which had recently suffered from very lopsided results. (The five previous winners had an average victory margin of 27.6 points). Nine Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl, a club record that still stands through 2019. FB Ickey Woods did not make the Pro Bowl, but in his only full season of a career later derailed by injuries, he rushed for 1066 yards and a club-record 15 rushing TDs. His “Ickey Shuffle” dance became an iconic TD celebration nationally and would bring him widespread notice for many years, despite the brevity of his playing career. Sam Wyche, whose continued status as head coach was questioned by many entering the season, was named NFL Coach of the Year by the Pro Football Writers Association. But the more prestigious coaching award, from Associated Press, went to Mike Ditka of Chicago, whose team lost 28-3 in the NFC Championship game. Cincinnati’s two playoff wins were fraught with high-level controversy over Wyche’s hurry-up “no huddle” offense. In the Divisional game, Seattle players transparently feigned injuries to buy time for situational defensive substitutions, and that flap, raised to a higher level by comments from Buffalo coach Marv Levy, led the NFL to ban the no-huddle for the AFC Championship game against the Bills. But the Bengals dispatched Buffalo 21-10 without their full bag of tricks, and the NFL later admitted its ban was a mistake. The Bengals were allowed to use the no-huddle in the Super Bowl. In developments prior to the season, the Ben-Gals cheerleading squad was reinstated after a year’s absence — “We heard from the fans that they wanted them back,” said assistant general manager Mike Brown — and LB Reggie Williams on June 16 became the first (and still only) Bengal to serve on Cincinnati City Council, appointed by the Charter Party to a seat from which Charterite Arn Bortz had retired. In January of '88, Williams had received the “Sportsman of the Year” award from Sports Illustrated, and he was presented the award by President Reagan in a ceremony at the White House.

The defending AFC champions showed the ability to be among the NFL’s most powerful teams, winning games by scores of 41-10, 56-23, 42-7 and 61-7. But injuries and inconsistencies defined the season, and Cincinnati finished 8-8 and out of the playoffs despite outscoring foes by 404-285. The plus-119 point differential stands through 2019 as the biggest plus in NFL history by a team without a winning record. The Bengals had a chance to claim a Wild Card berth in the final game of the league’s regular season, a Monday night (Christmas night) match in Minnesota. But the Vikings, needing a win to clinch the NFL Central title, prevailed by 29-21. The Bengals started 4-1 but lost four of their next five. Colorful and controversial head coach Sam Wyche helped keep fans’ emotions high as he sparred throughout the season with division rivals Cleveland and Houston. Wyche took repeated issue with rowdy crowd behavior in Cleveland Stadium's "Dawg Pound," and when Bengals fans threw snowballs on the field during a Dec. 10 home game vs. Seattle, Wyche grabbed a public address microphone and scolded the crowd, saying "You don't live in Cleveland, you live in Cincinnati." The next week, in the highest-drama moment of Wyche's long feud with Houston coach Jerry Glanville, Wyche eschewed running out the clock in the final minute despite holding a 58-7 lead over the Oilers. He called for a FG and got a 61-7 conquest, then blasted Glanville as a "phony" in his post-game news conference. Prior to the season, iconic Bengals WR Cris Collinsworth was released in final cuts. On Sept. 17 vs. Pittsburgh, 1988 rookie sensation Ickey Woods suffered a knee injury that would play a big part in short-circuiting his career. Woods would play only two more partial seasons (1990 and '91). On May 11, the long-troubled saga of Bengals FB Stanley Wilson ended when Wilson was permanently barred from the NFL by Commissioner Pete Rozelle. NFL fans had been shocked in March when Rozelle announced his impending retirement. Rozelle, noted often as the most successful sports commissioner in United States history, had been boosted into the job in 1960 as an unknown compromise candidate supported by the Bengals' Paul Brown. Rozelle was replaced by Paul Tagliabue on Oct. 26. The '89 draft stands through 2019 as the only one in which Cincinnati did not exercise a first-round choice. Slated originally to have the next-to-last selection in round one, the Bengals traded down with Atlanta and made RB Eric Ball their first selection, with the seventh pick of Round 2. LB Reggie Williams retired with the end of the season, his 14th as a Bengal. In November, Williams was elected to Cincinnati City Council, after having already served five months as an appointed replacement to fill a Charter Party vacancy.

The Bengals weathered a season with the only five-game road trip in franchise history, finishing 9-7 and claiming the AFC Central title out of a three-way tie with Houston and Pittsburgh. Cincinnati finished first based on best head-to-head record against the other two teams (3-1). Houston earned a Wild Card berth, and Pittsburgh missed postseason, based on the Oilers topping the Steelers in the tiebreaker of record against all AFC opponents. The Bengals had no assurance of making the playoffs entering the season's final day, but they earned the division title by beating Cleveland in an afternoon game, combined with a Houston victory over Pittsburgh that night. The Bengals had stayed in the race in Week 15 by pounding Houston 40-20 at Riverfront Stadium, and they pounded the Oilers again at home in the Wild Card round of the playoffs, prevailing 41-14. Cincinnati was eliminated the next week in the Divisional round at Los Angeles, falling 20-10 to the Raiders. In the L.A. game, Raiders RB Bo Jackson, the dual-sport superstar, suffered a hip injury in the third quarter when tackled by Bengals LB Kevin Walker. Though the tackle looked routine and the injury was not initially considered serious, it proved to be a hip dislocation that ended Jackson's pro football career. He never would play in another NFL game, and in baseball, he would not again appear in as many as 100 games in a season. The Bengals had to play five straight regular-season games on the road because their scheduled Oct. 14 home game against Houston was moved to Houston, due to a stadium conflict with Reds postseason baseball play. The Reds in fact did not wind up playing at home on Oct. 14, but the schedule change had to be made in advance — on the basis of the baseball game being possible — because Riverfront Stadium's baseball/football conversion process was too cumbersome to allow a late decision. The Bengals schedule had called for two road games prior to Oct. 14 and two road games after Oct. 14. The Bengals finished 2-3 on the trip, and their scheduled Dec. 23 game at Houston was moved to Cincinnati. In the second of the five straight road games, a 34-31 overtime win against the L.A. Rams at Anaheim Stadium, Boomer Esiason passed for 490 yards, a team record that still stands through 2019. Esiason passed for only 412 yards before the overtime, however, leaving Ken Anderson's 447 in 1975 vs. Buffalo as the highest club total in regulation time. Prior to the season, offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet left the Bengals to become head coach of the N.Y. Jets, and in the Sept. 9 regular-season opener, at Riverfront, the Bengals beat the Jets 25-20.

Paul Brown, the Bengals' founder and first head coach, and a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, died on Aug. 5 at age 82, at his Cincinnati home. The cause of his death was complications from pneumonia. His funeral was held Aug. 7 in his hometown of Massillon, Ohio. Among those in attendance were NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, former commissioner Pete Rozelle, numerous team owners and eight Hall of Famers. Pall bearers included former Bengals Ken Anderson, Reggie Williams and Dave Lapham. As directed by Brown during his final days, the current coaches and players remained at work in training camp at Wilmington, Ohio during the days after Brown's death. But head coach Sam Wyche, a private pilot, flew his own plane from Wilmington to Massillon during a short break in his camp schedule. At the funeral, Pete Rozelle said: "Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in the game of football has been affected by Paul Brown. His wealth of ideas changed the game." Brown's son Mike, a key figure in both bringing the Bengals to Cincinnati and in operating the club, took over as chief executive. The season, a major disappointment at 3-13, would be the eighth and final one for Wyche as Bengals coach. Following a Dec. 24 end-of-season meeting between Wyche and Mike Brown, the team announced that Wyche had unexpectedly resigned. Wyche interpreted events as his being fired, but there was no disagreement that his tenure had ended. On Dec. 27, the Bengals announced that WRs coach Dave Shula was promoted to replace Wyche. Shula, the son of legendary coach Don Shula, became at age 32 the second-youngest head coach in NFL history. (Harland Svare took over the L.A. Rams in 1962 at age 31). Mike Brown and Wyche went on to maintain cordial relations, and a disagreement over compensation for Wyche from his 1992 contract was later settled amicably. Wyche would go on to join the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as head coach from 1992-95. Prior to the season, the NFL announced new guidelines for media locker room access, action that had been sparked in large part by Wyche repeatedly expressing concern over the propriety of having female reporters in the locker room. Though the NFL maintained full access for all reporters, teams were instructed to screen shower areas from view, provide robes or extra-large towels to all players, and provide separate post-game interview areas for head coaches and key players.

In the franchise's 25th anniversary season, the team started 2-0 under new head coach Dave Shula, with wins at Seattle and vs. the L.A. Raiders. And they seemed a lock to go 3-0 the next week against an 0-2 Green Bay team under rookie head coach Mike Holmgren, leading almost all the way. But a little-known Packers QB, Brett Favre, made the first splash of what would become one of the NFL's greatest careers. Favre directed a 21-point fourth quarter for a 24-23 win. A second-year pro at the time, playing in only his fourth game, Favre had come off the bench to replace injured starter Don Majkowski in the first quarter. Favre's two TD passes, including a 35-yarder to unheralded WR Kittrick Taylor with 0:13 to play, were the first two of a total that would rise to an NFL-record 508. The Green Bay game was the start of a five-game losing streak for Cincinnati, and the team finished 5-11. The year was marked by news involving many of the franchise's biggest names. All-Pro OT Anthony Munoz, with 11 Pro Bowl selections on his resume, was limited to eight games by injuries and announced his retirement prior to playing in the season finale. Another Bengals icon, QB Boomer Esiason, was benched in favor of '92 top draft pick David Klingler after the team fell to 4-7. Esiason asked to be traded as the season ended, and the club said it would try to accommodate him. Early '92 was the end of the line for Ickey Woods, Cincinnati's 1988 rookie RB sensation. Woods had seen some action in '90 and '91, after suffering a season-ending '89 left knee injury, but his '91 year included a significant right knee injury, and he was waived after failing to show well in the '92 spring minicamp. WR Eddie Brown, a standout performer from 1985-91, saw his NFL career essentially ended by a ruptured disc in his neck discovered early in training camp. Brown underwent surgery and missed the season. He gained free agency after the season, but found the market slow and wound up re-signing with the Bengals. He was released in final 1993 preseason cuts and did not play again in the NFL. Through 1991, Brown ranked third in Bengals history in receiving yards (6134) and held club records for receiving yards in a game (216) and a season (1273). Bright spots in '92 included WR Carl Pickens, named Associated Press NFL Rookie of the Year, and RB Harold Green, whose 1170 rushing yards were second-most in club history to that point. After the season finale, the Bengals hired team QB legend Ken Anderson as QBs coach. In the Game 3 loss at Green Bay, Bengals rookie Pickens turned in a 95-yard punt return for a TD, the longest punt return through 2019 in Bengals history.

The difficult road toward the eventual 2000 completion of Paul Brown Stadium began in earnest in November of '93. At that time, Bengals president Mike Brown, with support from NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, sounded the call that Riverfront Stadium had become economically obsolete in the changing world of pro football. Brown warned that absent real progress on improving the Bengals' stadium situation, the club might be forced to consider moving. The first step toward a solution came in December, when the club agreed to stay at least through 1998, in exchange for a deal to partially renovate Riverfront and amend the team's lease. It was also stated that civic leaders would explore construction of a new stadium by the "early 2000s." The Bengals played their first season since 1984 without QB Boomer Esiason, who was traded to the N.Y. Jets in March for a third-round 1993 draft pick. David Klingler, Cincinnati's first-round 1992 selection, had taken over at QB at the end of 1992. Klingler directed late-season victories in '93 over the Rams and Falcons, but the bottom line was a 3-13 finish. Klingler had missed three games at midseason, due to back problems, but veteran backup Jay Schroeder had been unable to right the ship. The '93 season was the most defense-dominated in Bengals history (through 2019), as Cincinnati and its foes averaged total combined points of only 31.6 per game. Preseason cuts had seen the Bengals release longtime kicker Jim Breech in favor of rookie Doug Pelfrey of Kentucky, a Greater Cincinnati native (Fort Thomas, Ky.) who would play for the team through 1999. Breech through 2019 is still Cincinnati's all-time leading scorer (1151). Breech started his Bengals career in 1980, after one season with Oakland, and through '19 he ranks fourth in NFL history in consecutive games played scoring at least one point (186). Changing public attitudes on smoking impacted Bengals fans in April, as Cincinnati City Council enacted a ban on smoking in seating areas at Riverfront Stadium, to take effect in 1994.

A shot of "Blake-mania" livened a 3-13 overall season. Due to injuries to QBs David Klingler and Donald Hollas, late-August waiver pickup Jeff Blake got a chance to start on Oct. 30 against Dallas, the two-time defending Super Bowl champions. Blake couldn't engineer the season's first win, but he threw for two TDs and had the Bengals up 20-17 until late in the third quarter of an eventual 23-20 loss. Blake went on to lead wins the next two weeks, at Seattle and vs. Houston. He remained the starter despite Klingler's return to health, and finished the year as a huge fan favorite, leading the NFL in pass completions of 50 or more yards (eight). In a nationally televised Oct. 2 Sunday night game at Riverfront, Miami's Don Shula and Cincinnati's Dave Shula became the first father and son to oppose one another as head coaches in North American major pro sports. The Dolphins won, 23-7. The Bengals closed the season with a unique comeback, beating Philadelphia 33-30 when Doug Pelfrey kicked two FGs in the last :03 of the fourth quarter. He connected from 22 yards at :03 to tie the score, then kicked a 54-yarder at :01, after the Bengals kickoff team recovered an Eagles muff at the Philadelphia 37. Though there is no official NFL record for multiple FGs in the waning seconds of a game, the Elias Sports Bureau confirms that from 1970 through 2019, no other player has kicked two in the last :03. On May 5, the Bengals signed Ohio State DT Dan Wilkinson, the first overall pick in the '94 draft. Wilkinson was the first player ever drafted No. 1 overall by the Bengals (later to be joined in 1995 by RB Ki-Jana Carter and in 2003 by QB Carson Palmer). In December, fan favorite Tim Krumrie, a two-time Pro Bowler, announced his retirement, effective at season's end. Krumrie was honored by the team at the regular-season finale, and shortly after the season he was hired to the coaching staff. He served as a defensive assistant in 1995 and was promoted to defensive line coach in 1996. The two-point conversion was added to NFL rules prior to the '94 season, with the Bengals among 23 teams voting in favor, and in the first preseason game, when Cincinnati played against Tampa Bay and former head coach Sam Wyche, a Buccaneers two-point conversion was the deciding play in a 17-16 Tampa Bay win. Much debate and some controversy continued through the year as the Bengals and baseball's Reds negotiated with Cincinnati leaders about the need for a new stadium, or even two. As co-tenants with the Bengals at Riverfront, the Reds balked at parts of an agreement the Bengals had reached in 1993 for interim improvements at Riverfront, and in an attempt to resolve issues, a city/county Stadium Task Force was formed, led by Cincinnati mayor Roxanne Qualls and Hamilton County Commission president Guy Guckenberger. The Bengals meanwhile agreed to share the cost of major improvements to Spinney Field, the team's city-owned practice facility.

The Bengals were alive in the playoff race through Game 14, but were eliminated in a 26-10 loss at Cleveland in Game 15. The Dec. 17 Browns game was the last home game for Cleveland prior to the franchise's controversial move to Baltimore. The Bengals' 7-9 finish included a 2-0 start and wins in four of the last seven games, but Cincinnati lost six of seven in a midseason stretch, including a 26-23 home loss to Miami in "Shula Bowl II," as Bengals head coach

Dave Shula opposed his father, Don, for the second straight year. The Bengals closed the season by erasing a 21-point deficit in a 27-24 win vs. Minnesota, tying the largest comeback to win in club history. Jeff Blake held serve on the No. 1 QB job he had gained in 1994, keeping David Klingler in a backup role, and both Blake and WR Carl Pickens earned Pro Bowl berths. Pickens set a franchise record for TDs (17, all receiving) that stands through 2019. (In receiving TDs only, no other Bengals player through '19 has had more than 12.) The Bengals had retained Pickens for 1995 by matching a free agency offer he received from Arizona. The Bengals suffered a severe blow in preseason game three on Aug. 17 at Detroit, as RB Ki-Jana Carter of Penn State, the top overall pick in the '95 draft, was lost for the season to a severe knee injury. Carter, who had missed the first two preseason games with an ankle sprain, was lost at Detroit on his third Cincinnati carry. The Bengals had traded with Carolina to gain Carter as an offensive centerpiece, moving up in the first round for the first time in franchise history. Carter would come back to play seven NFL seasons, four of those for Cincinnati, but he never matched his college form at the pro level and closed with only 1144 career rushing yards. The year of 1995 was filled with issues regarding the Bengals' need for a new stadium. A lack of progress on the local front led club president Mike Brown to explore the possibility of a move to Baltimore, pressed by a deadline on Baltimore's end. But Brown repeatedly professed he had no desire to move the team unless forced to by an untenable local situation. On June 28, just minutes before a Bengals-set deadline, Cincinnati City Council voted 5-4 to approve a Hamilton County plan from Commissioner Bob Bedinghaus to raise the county sales tax by one percent to fund two new stadiums. In the end that proposal was scaled down to a one-half percent hike, funding stadiums and also providing homeowners with property tax relief. But after the County Commission voted to implement the tax, forces opposed to the increase successfully petitioned to make approval subject to a public referendum to be held in March of 1996. In October, Mike Brown announced that the Bengals for 1996 would move most of their front-office operation from Riverfront Stadium to the team's new practice facility building at Spinney Field.

Progress continued to be forged on the Bengals' efforts to secure their future in Cincinnati with a new stadium. The biggest step came on March 19, when Hamilton County voters approved by 61-to-39 percent a measure to fund new Bengals and Reds stadiums with a half-cent sales tax increase. The vote came after vigorous public debate, and the Cincinnati Post termed it a "landslide victory" for backers of the issue. On Sept. 10, the Bengals reached preliminary agreement with Hamilton County on a 30-year lease, for an as-yet unnamed and un-sited stadium. The Bengals pushed vigorously for a riverfront site, opposing proposals to build in the Broadway Commons area just northeast of downtown. Both public polls and experts' recommendations indicated a preference for a riverfront site, but the question remained undecided as the year ended. The new stadium's name also remained undecided, but early public response showed strong support for naming it after Bengals founder Paul Brown. On Sept. 9, Riverfront Stadium was re-named Cinergy Field, as the energy utility Cinergy reached a $6 million naming rights deal with Hamilton County to cover the stadium's remaining years of use. On the field, the team lost six of its first seven games, but Cincinnati's fortunes took a U-turn after offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet was promoted to head coach on Oct. 21, replacing the released Dave Shula. Coslet directed the team to a 7-2 finish, including a 5-0 mark at Cinergy Field. The Bengals stayed alive for the playoffs until the next-to-last week of the season, when despite defeating Houston they were eliminated due to results elsewhere. Coslet, signed only through '96 when he took over as head coach, was extended on Dec. 14 through 2000. A signature win for Coslet came Nov. 3 at Baltimore, when the Bengals rallied from a 21-3 deficit to win 24-21. The 18-point deficit stands through 2019 as largest ever overcome by the Bengals in a road win. WR Carl Pickens, who in 1995 had become the first Bengal to lead the AFC in receptions, led the conference again with 100, the first Bengal to hit the century mark. The defense had 34 INTs, a club record that stands through 2019. CB Ashley Ambrose, a veteran free agent in his first Bengals season, led the team with eight INTs and went to the Pro Bowl along with Pickens.

1997

On Feb. 13, the Bengals and Hamilton County reached tentative agreement on a western riverfront site for a new football stadium. The Bengals yielded to County wishes for a site one block farther west than the club's preferred spot, supporting the goal of opening central riverfront space for development of other attractions and neighborhoods between a football and a baseball stadium

(though the baseball site had yet to be agreed upon.) A drawback for the development of the more western football site was that some of the needed land was not owned by the county, and that would lead to future delays, as well as higher costs than the Bengals' preferred site. On May 29, the 30-year Bengals lease was completed and signed. It was announced on May 29 that the facility would be named Paul Brown Stadium, with the Bengals agreeing to cover $5 million for the loss of potential corporate naming rights. On April 29, the Bengals received a favorable ruling in a tax case that had threatened the viability of the franchise. In United States Tax Court in Chicago, Judge John O. Colvin ruled that the heirs of the late Paul Brown were not liable for $40 million sought by the Internal Revenue Service, due to a dispute over Paul Brown's acquisition of team shares held formerly by John Sawyer. The Cincinnati Enquirer editorial page opined that the Bengals had been spared an unfair "ambush by the IRS." The football team opened training camp in a state-of-the-art new facility at Georgetown (Ky.) College, after 29 seasons of training at Wilmington (Ohio) College. On April 5, the Bengals had re-signed QB Boomer Esiason as a veteran No. 2 to back up Jeff Blake. Esiason had gone on to play for the Jets and Cardinals since playing for the Bengals from 1984-92. The team was struggling with a 2-7 record on Nov. 9 at Indianapolis when Blake was sidelined with a concussion, and the 36-year-old Esiason entered the game in the third quarter and led a comeback victory. The Bengals lost the next week at Pittsburgh with Blake as the starter, and Esiason was named starter for the final five games. The Bengals were 4-1 in his starts, and they scored 42 points in the start he lost. Esiason did not have enough pass attempts to qualify for a Bengals-record season passer rating, or for the NFL passing title, but he finished the season with a 106.9 rating. The team finished the season 7-9. It was the last Bengals hurrah for Esiason, who retired after the season to take a broadcasting job with ABC's Monday Night Football. The '97 season saw the debut of HB Corey Dillon, a second-round draft choice who stands through 2019 as the club's all-time leading rusher (8061 yards). On Dec. 4 vs. Tennessee at Cinergy Field, Dillon rushed for 246 yards and four TDs, breaking Jim Brown's NFL record for rushing yards in a game by a rookie (237) and tying the Bengals record for TDs and points in a game. Dillon's four TDs and 24 points remain tied for the Bengals record through 2019.

On Jan. 24, Bengals OT Anthony Munoz (1980-92) was voted to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Munoz was part of a five-member induction class, and he and Chicago Bears LB Mike Singletary became the 47th and 48th players among the then-194 members to be elected in their first year of eligibility. The official induction ceremony took place Aug. 1, at the Hall in Canton, Ohio. NFL labor events had led to Munoz gaining free agent status after announcing his retirement following the 1992 season, and he had signed with Tampa Bay (and his former Bengals head coach, Sam Wyche) as a free agent in '93. But Munoz gave up the comeback bid after suffering a shoulder injury in training camp, and because he was not with the Bucs in the regular season, he is recognized in the Hall as having played only for the Bengals. Plans for the Bengals' new stadium hit a serious snag in January of '98, due to a dispute between Hamilton County and the city over the county acquiring 12.5 acres of city land that it needed to build at its preferred western riverfront site. As the stalemate dragged on, the Bengals announced that if no agreement was reached by Jan. 31, the club would no longer be bound by the lease it had signed in spring of 1997. Tension continued to build until, at 1:15 a.m. on Feb. 1, City Council forged a past-the-11th-hour agreement to accept a county proposal. On April 25, officials from the county, city and the Bengals joined in a public groundbreaking for Paul Brown Stadium construction, with plans for the facility to be ready for the 2000 season. The news on the field was not so encouraging, as the team dipped to 3-13 in its second full season under head coach Bruce Coslet. QB Boomer Esiason, who had a sensational late-season return to the starting job in 1997, after four seasons playing elsewhere, announced prior to the season that he was retiring to join ABC's Monday Night Football as a broadcaster. The Bengals signed former Steeler Neil O'Donnell to compete with Jeff Blake for the starting QB job. O'Donnell won the job in training camp, but the team lost nine straight after beating Pittsburgh in Game 5. Blake started Games 14 and 15 before being injured, and the season ended with no clear starter in sight for 1999. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1130 yards, becoming the first Bengal (and still through 2019 the only Bengal) to top 1000 in each of his first two Cincinnati seasons. In the season opener vs. Tennessee, injury-plagued HB Ki-Jana Carter, top overall pick in the 1995 draft, suffered a season-ending wrist fracture. DT Dan Wilkinson, drafted No. 1 overall by the Bengals in 1994, saw a rather stormy Cincinnati career end prior to the season, when he was traded to Washington for picks in the first and third rounds of the '98 draft. The Bengals used the picks to obtain LB Brian Simmons (first round) and G Mike Goff (third round).

For the first year since the idea's original proposal in 1993, plans for the Bengals' new stadium proceeded with only minor issues. The rise of the seating bowl of Paul Brown Stadium was watched by citizens throughout the year. However, past issues — particularly a delay in Hamilton County's acquisition of needed land from the city — put construction on a very tight schedule to meet the goal of an August, 2000, inaugural game. On the field in '99, veteran Jeff Blake and rookie first-round draft choice Akili Smith would end up sharing QB duties during a 4-12 season. Blake was benched after an 0-4 start, and Smith started and won his NFL debut, 18-17 on Oct. 10 at Cleveland. The game marked the renewal of the "Battle of Ohio" series, as the Browns returned to play as an expansion team. Cleveland had spent three years without NFL football after the Browns moved to Baltimore for the 1996 season. The Bengals did not win again until Game 12, however, and Smith suffered a season-ending ankle injury in Game 9 vs. Jacksonville. Blake engineered three straight wins in Games 12-14, but the team lost the final two. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1200 yards and went to the Pro Bowl along with KOR Tremain Mack, whose 27.1-yard average was the team record until Adam Jones surpassed it in 2014.

2000

The Paul Brown Stadium era began on Aug. 19, as the Bengals christened Cincinnati's new football showplace with a 24-20 preseason win over the Chicago Bears. WR Peter Warrick scored the first Bengals preseason points in PBS on a 14-yard end-around run in the first quarter. In the stadium's Grand Opening regular-season game Sept. 10 vs. Cleveland, before a Cincinnati sports record crowd of 64,006 (since surpassed by the Bengals). The Browns won, 24-7. Rookie WR Ron Dugans scored the first Bengals regular-season points in PBS on a four-yard TD pass from Akili Smith. The '00 Bengals drew four other crowds which exceeded the pre-PBS record for a sports crowd in Cincinnati, but the Browns game stood as the new record at year's end. On Sept. 25, following an 0-3 start to the season, Bruce Coslet resigned as head coach and was replaced by assistant head coach/defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau, who was named interim head coach. The team finished 4-9 under LeBeau, including 4-6 in the final 10 games and a 2-2 mark in the final four. On Dec. 20, LeBeau signed a multi-year contract to begin in 2001. LeBeau's first victory, on Oct. 22 vs. Denver, featured a then NFL-record 278 rushing yards by Corey Dillon, who went on to set a Bengals record (since broken) of 1435 yards for the season, earning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl. Against Denver, Dillon broke a 1977 record of 275 yards set by Chicago's Walter Payton. It was an all-or-nothing day for Dillon, as he was stopped on 10 of his 22 carries for one or fewer yards, but he had five runs of 30-plus, including TD runs of 65 and 41 yards. "It seemed like a high school game," Dillon said of his numbers. Dillon's 278 stood as the NFL record until Sept. 14, 2003, when Baltimore's Jamal Lewis had a 295-yard game vs. Cleveland, and Dillon's total ranks fourth in league history through 2019. The Denver game was Cincinnati's first regular-season win at Paul Brown Stadium. Akili Smith opened the year as starting QB, but the offense stalled, and he was replaced after a Nov. 5 loss at Dallas by veteran 2000 free agent signee Scott Mitchell. Prior to the season, on June 1, the Bengals released HB Ki-Jana Carter, their injury-plagued 1995 top draft pick. On July 20, Cincinnati released talented but malcontent WR Carl Pickens. Pickens' departure had left Darnay Scott set to take over as the No. 1 wideout, but Scott suffered a broken leg in training camp on Aug. 1 and missed the season.

The Bengals got off to a 4-3 start in Dick LeBeau's first full season as head coach, but they did not win again until the final two games, finishing 6-10. The defense finished No. 9 in the NFL, but the offense ranked 23rd. The early season was played amidst the tragedy of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington D.C. All of the NFL's Week 2 games, scheduled for Sept. 16-17, were postponed until the first weekend in January, the weekend after the regular season had been scheduled to end. The Bengals resumed play on Sept. 23, moving to 2-0 with a win over Baltimore at Paul Brown Stadium, and by that time stadium security procedures had been strengthened, including a ban on "coolers, backpacks and oversized purses." Also, the Federal Aviation Administration moved to ban aircraft from operating within three miles of outdoor venues with events in progress. Free agent signee Jon Kitna took over as the starting QB, winning a training camp battle with Scott Mitchell and Akili Smith. The '01 season featured the Bengals' first visit to Pittsburgh's new Heinz Field, on Oct. 7. On Oct. 28 at Detroit, a 31-27 Bengals win featured a 96-yard TD run by HB Corey Dillon, which stands through 2019 as the longest scrimmage play in Bengals history. The '01 season was the first for flamboyant WR Chad Johnson, who through 2019 is Cincinnati's all-time leader in receptions (751) and receiving yards (10,783). Johnson, a second-round draft pick from Oregon State, put up only modest rookie numbers, missing four games with a collarbone fracture, but he publicly pleaded with coaches and medical staff to let him come back sooner from the injury, and he promised, "I'm going to make a lot of noise here early." On Oct. 14, the Bengals re-set their own record for the largest crowd ever at a Cincinnati sports event, as 64,217 fans watched a 24-14 win over Cleveland.

The Bengals began the season in a new division, the AFC North, as the NFL realigned into eight four-team divisions. The Bengals were successful in efforts to keep longtime rivals Cleveland and Pittsburgh as division foes, and the Baltimore Ravens completed the four-team lineup. The Bengals entered the season after an encouraging 2001 finish. But despite some noteworthy individual performances, the team sunk to the worst record (2-14) in franchise history. The team was hit hard by injuries, losing the league's second-highest number of games by starters. The offense got off to a very slow start with free agent signee Gus Frerotte at QB. The offense perked up noticeably after the 2001 starter, Jon Kitna, returned to the No. 1 QB role. For the first time since 1989, Cincinnati had a 3000-yard passer (Kitna), a 1000-yard rusher (Corey Dillon) and a 1000-yard receiver (Chad Johnson). On Nov. 10 at Baltimore, Johnson had the first of his 31 games of 100 receiving yards, second-most in team history (seven catches, 110 yards). On Oct. 27 vs. Tennessee, Dillon raised his Bengals career rushing total to 6542 yards, passing James Brooks (6447) into the all-time franchise lead that he still holds through 2019 with 8061 yards. The Bengals set a team record for pass completions with 350 (since surpassed). But the team was 0-7 before getting a win at expansion Houston. The defense was inconsistent, and with nine TDs allowed on special teams or by the offense, the Bengals as a team allowed the second-most points (456) in club history. On Dec. 30, it was announced that head coach Dick LeBeau would not be retained for 2003.

2003

The Bengals launched a new era on Jan. 14, when Marvin Lewis was hired as the ninth head coach in franchise history. "We've turned over a new leaf," said Bengals president Mike Brown. Lewis went on to coach a franchise-record 16 seasons with the Bengals and became the team's all-time leader in wins (131). At the time of his hiring, Lewis was the eighth African-American to be named an NFL head coach. Architect of the Baltimore Ravens' record-setting Super Bowl defense in 2000, Lewis received a broad mandate from Bengals ownership to implement his program, and the team finished 8-8, six games better than the 2-14 Bengals of 2002. Though the Bengals missed the playoffs — eliminated on the final weekend of the season — their six-game improvement was the biggest of any NFL team from '02 to '03. It was also the second-biggest one-year improvement in Bengals history. Lewis finished second to Bill Belichick, coach of the World Champion New England Patriots, in Associated Press voting for NFL Coach of the Year. The season included the four largest pro sports crowds in Cincinnati history (to that time), topped by 65,362 on Dec. 28 vs. Cleveland, and the highlight game was a 24-19 win on Nov. 16 over an unbeaten (9-0) Kansas City team. The Chiefs game started what would be a Bengals-record streak of 57 consecutive home sellouts in regular season and postseason. WR Chad Johnson, who led the AFC with 1355 receiving yards, signed a five-year contract extension in November. Prior to the season, the Bengals had the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft for the third time in team history, and the club chose Southern California QB Carson Palmer. Palmer was signed on April 24, just before the actual draft, as the Bengals took the option to execute an early signing. Palmer did not play as a rookie, as veteran Jon Kitna was the only NFL QB to play every offensive snap for his team, but Palmer would go on to set numerous Bengals passing records, beginning his playing career in 2004. QB Akili Smith, an unsuccessful first-round QB choice in 1999, was released on June 2. In an ironic twist for longtime Bengals followers, the club prior to the season hired Ricky Hunley as LBs coach. Hunley was a Bengals first-round draft choice as a player (LB) in 1984, but he never signed with Cincinnati, staging the longest holdout in franchise history before being traded to Denver on Oct. 9, 1984.

2004

In their second season under head coach Marvin Lewis, the Bengals continued their rebuilding process, posting a second straight 8-8 record. All eight regular-season games at Paul Brown Stadium were sellouts — the first sold-out regular season since 1992 at Riverfront Stadium — and the total regular-season attendance of 524,248 put the team over the half-million mark for the first time. The team's break-even finish was a creditable performance, given that injuries were severe (18 players were placed on season-ending medical reserve lists) and that second-year QB Carson Palmer was seeing his first NFL playing time. Palmer, the 2003 first overall NFL draft pick, had not played as a rookie while backing up Jon Kitna. Palmer started the first 13 games before missing the final three with a knee strain. HB Rudi Johnson rushed for a club-record 1454 yards (a mark he later broke), and the team had four players named to the Pro Bowl, its highest total since 1990. The Pro Bowl quartet was Rudi Johnson, WR Chad Johnson, OT Willie Anderson and CB Tory James. K Shayne Graham set a club record with 122 points (since surpassed by Mike Nugent). Home games were played on a new, synthetic FieldTurf surface, on which installation was complete in early July. PBS had grass fields from 2000-03, but durability and maintenance issues dictated a switch. The team also made its first significant uniform change since 1981. The signature striped helmet was not changed, but the jersey design was modernized, black pants were added as a regular option to white pants, and a special-occasion orange jersey was added for up to two games per year. The team wore orange jerseys for the first time in franchise history in a 26-3 win vs. Dallas on Nov. 7. On Nov. 28, the Bengals played in what remains through 2019 as the second-highest scoring game in NFL history, a 58-48 home win over Cleveland (106 total points). The game stands through '19 as the only one in which the Bengals have scored in double figures in all four quarters (14-13-14-17). Prior to the season, HB Corey Dillon, the club's all-time rushing yards leader, was traded to New England for a second-round 2005 draft choice (Bengals chose S Madiou Williams).

In head coach Marvin Lewis' third season, the Bengals returned to the playoffs, winning the AFC North Division title with an 11-5 record. But Cincinnati lost 31-17 to Pittsburgh in a Wild Card round playoff game, the first postseason game at Paul Brown Stadium, and QB Carson Palmer's postseason was regrettably short. Palmer, who posted a 101.1 regular-season passer rating, a Bengals record at the time, was lost to a serious knee injury on the club's second offensive snap in the playoff game, downed by former Bengal Kimo von Oelhoffen. On the play, Palmer had launched a 66-yard completion to WR Chris Henry. In the regular season, the team won its first four games, including an 88-29 point margin in the first three. The Bengals clinched the division title in Game 14, with a 41-17 victory at Detroit. A number of club individual single-season records were set, including two that still stand through 2019 — 1458 rushing yards by HB Rudi Johnson and 10 INTs by CB Deltha O'Neal. Five Bengals were voted to the Pro Bowl, the largest Cincinnati contingent since the 1989 team placed six. The five were Palmer, O'Neal, OT Willie Anderson, K Shayne Graham and WR Chad Johnson. The season's home crowds included the top four attendance figures in franchise history to that time, headed by 66,104 for the Bengals-Steelers game on Oct. 23. Two notable Bengals "voices" passed away in '05. Phil Samp, the team's radio play-by-play man from 1968-90, died on March 10, and Tom Kinder Sr., the stadium public address announcer from 1968-2004, died on April 10.

For the first time since 1992, the Bengals sold out all games before the season began, and a waiting list was established for new season ticket buyers. The regular-season attendance mark was 527,870, for an average of 65,984, and both the total and the averages stand through 2019 as club records. Also prior to the season, it was also announced that head coach Marvin Lewis had signed a contract extension through 2010. Lewis completed his fourth season by joining Paul Brown as the only Bengals head coaches to go four straight seasons without a losing record, but though the team remained in contention until the final weekend, it missed the '06 playoffs with an 8-8 mark. The Bengals lost their last three games after standing 8-5. A win in either of the two final games could have secured a playoff berth, but Cincinnati lost 24-23 in Game 15 at Denver when an errant PAT snap foiled a chance to force overtime, and the Bengals lost the season finale in overtime vs. Pittsburgh, after record-setting K Shayne Graham missed a 39-yard FG try on the final play of regulation. QB Carson Palmer, sidelined with a major knee injury in the 2005 postseason, made good on his bid to play the full 2006 regular season, starting every game. He set a club record to that point with 4035 passing yards, and he boldfaced his status as the cornerstone of the roster by winning the Most Valuable Player Award in the Pro Bowl on Feb. 10, 2007. He stands through 2019 as the only Bengal to win the award. The season was a particularly notable one for flamboyant WR Chad Johnson. In March, NFL owners voted to clamp down on player end-zone celebrations, an art that Johnson had been increasingly expanding in production value. In April, Johnson was signed to a contract extension through 2011. He was featured on a Sports Illustrated cover in October, and for the season he became the only Bengal (through 2019) to lead the NFL in receiving yards, with 1369. Johnson set a still-standing Bengals record for receiving yards in a game, with 260 on Nov. 12 vs. San Diego, and with 190 the next week at New Orleans, he set an NFL record at the time for receiving yards in consecutive games (450). Also in '06, Johnson became the first player to lead the AFC or NFC in receiving yards for a fourth consecutive season. In February, federal judge S. Arthur Spiegel dismissed a Hamilton County lawsuit against the Bengals regarding the Paul Brown Stadium lease, ending two years of legal disputes. In March, the Bengals and Buffalo Bills were the only NFL teams to vote against a new Collective Bargaining Agreement with the players, deeming it unsound, and as time would pass, numerous owners and analysts would in hindsight praise the Cincinnati-Buffalo stance. The 2006 agreement, in some views, ultimately led to the conditions that caused a lockout of players from March through July of 2011. The Bengals in '06 were among a number of teams responding to concerns about rowdy fan behavior at NFL games. The club installed and staffed a "Jerk Line" that fans could call during games to report problems. LB David Pollack, Cincinnati's top draft choice in 2005, suffered what would prove to be a career-ending neck fracture in the home opener vs. Cleveland. Pollack was never paralyzed and made a full recovery, but after some consideration of a comeback, he ultimately decided against it and moved into a successful career as a sports broadcaster.

In a Harris Interactive survey released in February, Paul Brown Stadium was the only football stadium to make a list of "America's Favorite 150 Buildings and Structures." PBS ranked 101st on the list, whose range included all manner of major structures, including skyscrapers, museums, churches, hotels and even bridges. (The Empire State Building ranked first). Among all sports venues, only Wrigley Field (31) and the old Yankee Stadium (84) ranked higher than PBS. For the second straight season, the Bengals sold out all games before the season began. The team entered the season with high expectations, with its first two home games selected for ESPN Monday Night Football. But the season's first half ended with a disappointing 2-6 record, and a second-half rally lifted the club only to 7-9, the first losing season for head coach Marvin Lewis. WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh tied for the league receptions title (112), setting a club record that still stands through 2019 and becoming the only Bengal ever to gain a share of the league lead. WR Chad Johnson broke his own team receiving yards record with 1440, a season mark that stands through 2019, and K Shayne Graham set two marks that stand through '19 — season field-goal percentage (91.2 on 31-of-34) and FGs in a game (seven). Graham was seven-for-seven on Nov. 11 at Baltimore, scoring all of Cincinnati's points in a 21-7 win. On Sept. 16 at Cleveland, QB Carson Palmer set a Bengals game record (still standing through 2019) with six TD passes, but the Bengals lost in a 51-45 shootout to the underdog Browns, starting a four-game losing streak that followed a season opening Monday night win vs. Baltimore. On Oct. 28 vs. Pittsburgh, the team established a franchise record for single-game attendance, recording a figure of 66,188. That number stands through 2019 as the largest crowd ever to attend a sports event in Cincinnati, and other Bengals crowds at Paul Brown Stadium more than fill out the other spots on the all-time Cincinnati top 10.

With a club-record 23 players sent to the Reserve/Injured list, the Bengals struggled to a 4-11-1 finish. And that list of 23 did not include the biggest missing name, QB Carson Palmer, who stayed on the roster all season but played in only four games due to an elbow injury. Ryan Fitzpatrick replaced Palmer at QB. The team partly salvaged the season, going 4-3-1 in the campaign's second half, but that was after an 0-8 start. Though the offense was near record lows in many statistical categories, the defense was promising under new coordinator Mike Zimmer, rising to a No. 12 NFL yardage ranking, the team's best since 2001. For the third straight year, all home games were declared sold out before the season began. The Bengals' 13-13 tie on Nov. 16 vs. Philadelphia was the NFL's first deadlock since 2002, and some players on both teams would admit that they had been expecting the contest to continue when the 15-minute overtime ended scoreless, not realizing that NFL games still could end in ties. It was the first overtime tie in Bengals history. The Bengals had played one other tie, at Houston in 1969, but that game went just the regulation four quarters, as overtime was not yet in the rules. On Aug. 29, star WR Chad Johnson legally changed his name to Chad Ochocinco, a Spanish reference to his uniform number (85). But he was not permitted to have the new name on his jersey until 2009, after he had fulfilled contractual obligations regarding the purchase of existing licensed "Johnson" merchandise. In 2012, while with the Miami Dolphins, Ochocinco would change his name back to Johnson, and the league subsequently determined that in all future references in league material, the player would be known as Johnson, regardless of the year involved. The 2008 preseason ended with dramatic final cuts, as those released included three Bengals with six Pro Bowls among them — OT Willie Anderson, HB Rudi Johnson and CB Delta O'Neal. On May 19, the Bengals waived talented but troubled LB Odell Thurman, who had been a rookie sensation in 2005. Thurman had not played in 2006 or '07, suspended by the NFL for various behavior issues, and on May 19 Bengals coach Marvin Lewis said the team "had not seen the right steps taken" by Thurman to justify another chance to play for Cincinnati. Thurman would not play again anywhere in the NFL.

Rebounding from the disappointment of injury-plagued 2008, the Bengals won their second division championship under coach Marvin Lewis, finishing with a 10-6 record. Their march to the AFC North title included a 6-0 mark in division games, marking the only time in franchise history (through 2019) for Cincinnati to sweep its division opponents. The Bengals were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs, however, losing 24-14 to the visiting N.Y. Jets, who went on to reach the AFC Championship Game. The Bengals weathered tragedy en route to the title. On Oct. 8, Vikki Zimmer, wife for 27 years to Bengals defensive coordinator Mike Zimmer, died unexpectedly in Cincinnati. And on Dec. 17, WR Chris Henry died in North Carolina from injuries suffered in a Dec. 16 fall from a moving pickup truck. Henry was not with the team at the time, recuperating from a forearm fracture suffered Nov. 8 vs. Baltimore. The Bengals chartered a plane for the entire team to attend Henry's funeral in New Orleans on Dec. 22, and NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell also attended. On the field in '09, the Bengals were led by their defense, which continued rapid improvement under coordinator Zimmer. The Bengals finished fourth in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (301.4 per game). The team suffered a stunning home loss to Denver in the season opener, on a wildly improbable late play, but Cincinnati rebounded to win its next four. The Bengals led Denver 7-6 with less than a minute to play, but the Broncos won 12-7 on an 87-yard TD pass that was deflected by the Bengals defense to Denver's Brandon Stokley, who was not the intended receiver. The play stands through 2019 as the NFL's longest game-winning TD play from scrimmage in the final minute of the fourth quarter. On Oct. 4, Shayne Graham's 31-yard FG beat the Browns 23-20 in the longest Bengals game not to end in a tie. Graham's winning kick came with :04 remaining in overtime. On Oct. 25 vs. Chicago, Bengals HB Cedric Benson vaulted into the NFL rushing lead with a 189-yard game against Chicago, the team with which he had debuted unsuccessfully as a high first-round draft choice. The Bengals won 45-10 in a game nicknamed the "Benson Bowl," and NFL Network reported that Benson's rushing total was the most by a player against his former team in league history, with research going back to 1950. Long known for his mischievous on-field antics, WR Chad Johnson logged his last significant zany move as a Bengal on Nov. 8 vs. Baltimore, when he playfully offered a dollar bill to the officiating crew as they were discussing a ruling. The NFL was not amused, and Johnson was fined $20,000. In Games 10-12, for the only time in franchise history (through 2019), the Bengals got 100-yard rushing games from three different players in a span of three games (Bernard Scott at Oakland, Larry Johnson vs. Cleveland and Cedric Benson vs. Detroit). It was the first such instance in the NFL since 1993. Benson set a Bengals individual record for 100-yard rushing games in a season (six), and the club set a mark with eight individual 100-yard rushers. Both marks stand through 2019.

Following a 2009 division championship, the team never jelled despite having veteran talent, including that of high-profile free agent WR Terrell Owens. After a 2-1 start, the Bengals tied a dubious team one-season record by losing 10 in a row. Wins in two of the last three games did little to ease the dissatisfaction. Head coach Marvin Lewis ended the season with an expired contract, but two days after the season finale, it was announced that Lewis had signed to return for a franchise-record ninth season in 2011, a wise move given that the next five Bengals teams would make the playoffs. In '10, Owens and WR Chad Johnson combined for 139 receptions for 1814 yards and 13 TDs, and Cedric Benson rushed for 1111 yards while Carson Palmer passed for 3970. But the team could not deliver in the clutch. Opponents scored eight TDs on returns

(INTs, fumbles, kicks), and the Bengals were minus-eight in turnover differential. Injuries played a part, as the Bengals were forced to place 17 players on the Reserve/Injured list, and nine were veteran defensive players who would have started or seen significant action if healthy. The season was the last one in stripes for Chad Johnson, who completed the year with franchise career record records (still standing through 2019) for receptions (751), receiving yards (10,783) and receiving TDs (66). The club recorded a franchise-record 57th consecutive sellout (regular and postseason) for a Monday night game on Nov. 8 vs. Pittsburgh, but the streak ended when the Nov. 21 Buffalo game failed to sell out. The Bengals played five preseason games, their most since 1988, as the club was selected to open the NFL preseason against Dallas in the Pro Football Hall of Fame Game on Aug. 8 at Canton, Ohio. On Aug. 7, former Bengals assistant coach and head coach Dick LeBeau was inducted into the Hall of Fame. LeBeau, who spent 18 years on the Cincinnati coaching staff, also had a stellar playing career as a DB with the Detroit Lions, and after leaving Cincinnati he became a successful defensive coordinator with Pittsburgh.

Shortly after re-signing for a Bengals-record ninth season as head coach, Marvin Lewis had a message for Bengals fans upset over the 2010 team's 4-12 record. "I will fix us," Lewis pledged, and the record would bear him out. Lewis led a young team — the AFC's youngest as of Week 1 — to a 9-7 record and a Wild Card playoff berth. Cincinnati lost at Houston in the Wild Card game. The young Bengals squad was not able to work with the coaching staff until late July, due to a player lockout over labor issues that had begun in March. The lockout ended just as training camps were due to open, with the announcement of a new NFL Collective Bargaining Agreement. But Cincinnati's players had staged numerous workouts on their own during the lockout, and two veteran leaders — DT Domata Peko and OT Andrew Whitworth — were accorded great credit for helping the team hang together in preparation for its surprise season. The Bengals defied widespread last-place predictions from preseason analysts by putting new offensive pieces together quickly. Working in the scheme of new offensive coordinator Jay Gruden, the club's top two draft picks — WR A.J. Green and QB Andy Dalton — became the first rookie QB-WR duo in NFL history to make the Pro Bowl. K Mike Nugent, from nearby Centerville, Ohio, set club records (still standing through 2019) for points (132) and FGs (33) in a season. The defense, in its fourth season under coordinator Mike Zimmer, ranked seventh in the NFL. DT Geno Atkins, a fourth-round 2010 draft pick, began emerging as one of the best draft steals in franchise history, tying for the NFL lead in sacks (7.5) among interior linemen and earning his first Pro Bowl berth. Dalton's success at QB led to the Bengals trading holdout veteran QB Carson Palmer to Oakland on Oct. 18, and Cincinnati received Oakland's first-round 2012 draft choice and second-round '13 draft choice. The picks were used on CB Dre Kirkpatrick (2012) and HB Giovani Bernard (2013). On July 29, the Bengals traded talented but problematic Chad Johnson, their all-time leader in receptions (751) and receiving yards (10,783), to New England for a fifth-round and a sixth-round draft choice. Cincinnati used the picks to draft WRs Marvin Jones (2012) and Cobi Hamilton (2013). Johnson would make only 15 more NFL catches, released by New England in June of 2012 and released by Miami the following August. Lewis closed the year with 69 career victories, passing Sam Wyche (64) for most by a Bengals head coach. Through 2010, Lewis had been tied with Wyche and Paul Brown for most seasons as Bengals head coach (eight).

The Bengals brought training camp to downtown Cincinnati, holding camp at the club's home facility for the first time. The team had trained for 29 seasons at Wilmington (Ohio) College and for the next 15 at Georgetown (Ky.) College. Changes in the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement helped drive the change, as the Bengals joined a majority of NFL teams which had switched to their home bases. With the new CBA reducing the amount of time players could be on the practice field, it was thought that their increased non-field time could be much better used at Paul Brown Stadium, where medical and classroom facilities were far superior to any remote camp site. Plans for a second straight playoff season seemed to have gone awry when the team lost four straight after a 3-1 start, standing 3-5 at the season's halfway point. But the Bengals stormed back to go 7-1 in the second half and clinched a Wild Card postseason berth with a 10-6 record. The only loss in the final eight games came by one point, 20-19 to Dallas, on a Cowboys FG at the final gun. Of 131 NFL teams to post 3-5 starts between 1990-2012, the Bengals were one of only nine to reach the playoffs, and the 7-1 finish tied the 1981 Cincinnati Super Bowl team for best second-half record in a 16-game season. Cincinnati lost at Houston in the first round of the playoffs for the second straight year, but it was the first time for the Bengals to reach postseason two years in a row since 1981-82. The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 13-10 win at Pittsburgh in Game 15, at the same time eliminating the rival Steelers from contention. CB Leon Hall got the only Bengals TD against the Steelers, on a 17-yard INT return. The defense ranked sixth in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (319.7 per game), and it collected a team-record 51 sacks (though the 1976 team, in a 14-game season, had a higher average of sacks per game). All-Pro DT Geno Atkins led the sack parade with 12.5, third-most in club history and most on the season by a margin of 4.5 among NFL interior linemen. WR A.J. Green scored at least one TD in nine straight games (Games 2-10), a Bengals record for within one season. He became only the second NFL player in a 48-year span to have at least one receiving TD in nine straight games in a season, joining Hall of Famer Jerry Rice. P Kevin Huber posted averages of 46.6 gross and 42.0 net, club records that he reset in 2014. New technology lessened the need of the 2012 team for notebooks and attention to bulletin boards, as the Bengals became one of the first NFL clubs to issue players tablets, for easy distribution of schedules, video and other key information. Shortly after the end of the season, Bengals RBs coach Jim Anderson announced his retirement. Anderson had joined the Bengals staff in 1984, and his 29 seasons stand through 2019 as a franchise record for most total seasons on the Cincinnati coaching staff. During his last six seasons, Anderson had the most consecutive years with his team of any position coach in the NFL.

Coach Marvin Lewis led the Bengals to their third straight playoff appearance — a franchise first. Cincinnati won its third AFC North Division title under Lewis, posting an 11-5 record and clinching the crown with a 42-14 rout of Minnesota in Game 15. The Bengals went 8-0 at home for the second time in club history (also 1988), and they were among only five NFL clubs to reach the postseason each year from 2011-13. They were in the postseason for the fourth time in five years, among only six teams to qualify four or more times in that span. For the third straight season, however, the playoffs ended all too soon for Cincinnati, as San Diego prevailed 27-10 in a first round game at Paul Brown Stadium. The 2013 team played three overtime games, most in a season in franchise history. They won the first OT contest, but lost in OT in consecutive weeks in Games 9 and 10. It was the first time in franchise history for the team to play two straight OT games. The consecutive losses dropped the team's record to 6-4, but Lewis' club closed the season with five wins in the last six games. QB Andy Dalton set franchise records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes in a season (33), and he became one of only five QBs in NFL history to pilot a playoff club in his first three seasons in the league. WR A.J. Green was named to the Pro Bowl for the third time in his three-year career, and he set club records for most 100-yard receiving games in a season (six) and most consecutive 100-yard receiving games (five). Second-year WR Marvin Jones also posted a club mark, becoming the first Bengal with four TD receptions in a game (Oct. 27 vs. N.Y. Jets). Jones accomplished his feat in the franchise's 700th regular-season game. Green (11) and Jones (10) became the first Bengals duo to each hit double figures in TD receptions in a season. Marvin Lewis earned a "coaching-tree" compliment after the season when, in an NFL rarity, each of his coordinators signed as NFL head coaches. Offensive coordinator Jay Gruden went to Washington, and defensive boss Mike Zimmer went to Minnesota. Also in the TV realm, the Bengals in 2013 agreed for the second time in five years to be featured during preseason on the all-access HBO series, "Hard Knocks." The club allowed virtually unfettered access to team activities to crews from NFL Films. Though many NFL clubs have shied from invitations to be a Hard Knocks team, the Bengals won the AFC North title for the second straight time after doing the show, as they also won after doing Hard Knocks in 2009.

Head coach Marvin Lewis led the Bengals to a 10-5-1 record and a Wild Card playoff berth, and to new heights in terms of consistent success for the franchise. Lewis had the team in postseason for the fourth straight year, extending the club-record of three set in 2013 — and the team established a new club mark with a third straight season of double-digit wins. The season ended when an injury-depleted team lost 26-10 at Indianapolis in a Wild Card playoff game, but the Bengals stood as one of only four NFL teams to have made the playoffs four straight years. Lewis' club record for head coaching victories was extended to 100 in the season's final win, a Monday night playoff clincher in Week 16 vs. Denver. The Bengals tied a franchise record with four regular-season games in prime time on national TV. WR A.J. Green was voted to a fourth straight Pro Bowl, joining WR Isaac Curtis as the only Bengals selected in each of their first four seasons, and CB Adam Jones became the first Bengal to win an NFL kickoff return title, averaging a franchise-record 31.3 yards. In the year's biggest off-field story, DT Devon Still touched hearts across the nation with his openness regarding his daughter Leah being diagnosed with cancer. The Bengals worked to have sales of Still's No. 75 jersey benefit pediatric cancer research, and nearly 15,000 jerseys were sold to buyers near and far. At the Nov. 6 home game vs. Cleveland, Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center was presented with a check for $1.3 million. During training camp, the team signed QB Andy Dalton to a six-year contract extension, running through 2020. On April 17, the club continued its leading role in development of the Cincinnati downtown riverfront, announcing an agreement with Hamilton County that helped pave the way for General Electric to bring a major office facility to the emerging Banks neighborhood between Paul Brown Stadium and the Reds' Great American Ball Park. Fans at home games in 2014 enjoyed the benefits of the first state-of-the-art WiFi system throughout PBS.

The Bengals extended their franchise record for consecutive playoff seasons to five and stood as one of only four NFL teams to qualify those five consecutive years. But it was one of the more bittersweet seasons in club history. The team got off to an 8-0 start, setting a franchise record for most consecutive wins within a season and tying the mark for most wins regardless of seasons. The 12-4 finish tied Cincinnati records for most wins in a season and best winning percentage in a 16-game season. QB Andy Dalton was a huge key to it all, winning the AFC passing title with a Bengals-record 106.3 rating. But Dalton suffered a thumb injury in Game 13 vs. Pittsburgh and missed the remainder of the campaign, including a dramatic 18-16 loss to Pittsburgh in the first round of the playoffs. Backup QB AJ McCarron, who went 2-1 as a starter in the last three regular season games, rallied the Bengals in the playoff game from a 15-0 deficit after three quarters to a 16-15 lead with 1:50 to play. But the Steelers came back for a winning FG after recovering a fumble by Bengals HB Jeremy Hill deep in Pittsburgh territory. The Bengals' 2015 accomplishments also included a No. 2 NFL finish in scoring defense (17.4), the highest in club history. The club's most singular game accomplishment came Oct. 11 vs. Seattle, when the Bengals overcame a 17-point fourth-quarter deficit (24-7) to win 27-24 in overtime. The last time any NFL team had won a regular season or postseason game after trailing by 17 in the fourth quarter had been Week 15 of 2010, and Cincinnati's win ended a streak of 427 consecutive games in which teams trailing by 17-plus in the fourth quarter had lost. By the end of the postseason, the game stood as the only win for such a trailing team in the previous 536 instances.

2016

For the first time in six seasons, the Bengals missed the playoffs, and their 6-9-1 record came with plenty of reason to think what else might have been. Cincinnati's last five losses came by a total of 16 points, and a general lack of production in the fourth quarter was highlighted by the team suffering from crucial missed place kicks as no Bengals team had suffered in recent years. Injuries also were a worse-than-usual factor, but head coach Marvin Lewis said simply, "Your record is what you earn. We have to do a better job in so many ways (in 2017)." The most notable injury was a hamstring strain that cost WR A.J. Green all but two snaps of the last seven games. Through nine games, Green's totals of 66 receptions and 964 yards had him on pace to set club season records in both categories by wide margins. DE Carlos Dunlap had a remarkable 15 passes defensed, leading the team by five in becoming the first DL to lead the team in the category, and Dunlap led all NFL defensive linemen by seven. DE Geno Atkins led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine), claiming at least a piece of that crown for the fourth time in his seven seasons. Green, Dunlap and Atkins were among five Bengals in the Pro Bowl, joined also by QB Andy Dalton and OT Andrew Whitworth. The Bengals took part for the first time in the NFL's International Series, playing Washington to a 27-all tie on Oct. 30 at London's Wembley Stadium. The Bengals officially were named the home team in the game, as the team played only seven games at Paul Brown Stadium, but it was the first regular-season game in franchise history played at a neutral site. The tie against Washington was notable because it was Cincinnati's third tie in nine seasons (2008-16). Only eight other NFL teams played even one tie in that span, with the remaining 23 playing none. A notable statistic for the season was rookie WR Alex Erickson, a college free agent signee from Wisconsin, leading the AFC with a 27.9-yard kickoff return average, second-highest in team history.

The Bengals in 2017 celebrated their 50th season by creating a commemorative 50th logo for team uniforms and apparel, introducing special signage throughout the stadium and the city, and honoring Bengals legends at halftime of each home game. On the field, the Bengals finished the season in third place of the AFC North Division at 7-9 and missed the playoffs for the second consecutive year. The offense failed to score a TD in the team's first two games, which included a 20-0 shutout at home in the opener vs. Baltimore and 13-9 loss to Houston on national TV on Thursday Night Football. Offensive coordinator Ken Zampese was fired on Sept. 15, and QBs coach Bill Lazor was named as his replacement. Despite the adjustment, the Bengals ended the season ranked last in the NFL in total offense, averaging just 280.5 yards per game. The team allowed 40 sacks and produced just a 3.6-yard average per rush. The Bengals' defense was on the field for 184 more plays than the offense (1146 to 962), the equivalent of nearly three extra games of action. That perhaps contributed to additional injuries to defensive players, as the Bengals relied heavily upon backups as the season progressed. The defense, which ranked No. 2 in the NFL through Week 6, fell to No. 18 by the end of the season. After a 33-7 loss vs. Chicago in Week 14 and a 34-7 loss at Minnesota in Week 15 dropped their record to 5-9, the Bengals rebounded to win their final two games of the season and knock both of their opponents — Detroit and Baltimore — out of playoff contention. The Bengals' win in the season finale came in dramatic fashion, as the team stunned the Ravens at Baltimore with a knockout TD in the final minute to eliminate the Ravens from the playoffs. QB Andy Dalton hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 49-yard score on fourth down with 44 seconds left to give the Bengals the win. The win helped elevate Buffalo to the playoffs for the first time since 1999, and Bills fans showed their appreciation of Dalton's last-minute heroics by donating heavily to his charity. Bills backers made a large number of $17 contributions ($1 for each of the 17 consecutive non-playoff seasons for the Bills), and in the end, more than $450,000 in donations were made to the Andy and Jordan Dalton Foundation. LB Carl Lawson led all NFL rookies in sacks (8.5) in 2017, and DT Geno Atkins led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine). Bengals co-founder Pete Brown, 74, died on Dec. 12. Brown, who was senior vice president of player personnel, had worked in the mid-1960s with his father, Paul, and brother, Mike, to bring pro football to Cincinnati. Two days after the season ended, Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis signed a two-year extension through 2019. Offensive line coach Paul Alexander, the second-longest tenured assistant in Bengals history at 24 seasons, departed for the Dallas Cowboys after his contract was not renewed by Cincinnati.

2018

The Bengals raced to a 4-1 start and stood 5-3 at the mid-way point of the season, but a 1-7 finish left them with a 6-10 final record and last-place finish in the AFC North. The season was marred by a wave of injuries that crippled the team. Of the 53 players on the roster for the regular-season opener at Indianapolis, 22 missed at least two games due to injury. Fourteen of those 22 players ended the season on Reserve/Injured, including starters QB Andy Dalton, WR A.J. Green, WR Tyler Boyd and TE Tyler Eifert, as well as other major contributors, including DE Carl Lawson and TE Tyler Kroft. Cincinnati's defense struggled from the outset, and through nine games was allowing a league-worst 454.6 net yards per game, which at the time was on pace to set an NFL record for yards allowed in a season. The Bengals fired first-year defensive coordinator Teryl Austin on Nov. 12, the day after a 51-14 home loss to New Orleans, and head coach Marvin Lewis assumed defensive coordinator duties for the season's final seven games. The Bengals' defense showed improvement under Lewis, but still finished last in the NFL at 413.6 net yards allowed per game. Second-year HB Joe Mixon rushed for 1168 yards and became the first Bengal ever to lead the AFC in rushing in a season (though RB Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing in 1968). Boyd enjoyed a breakout season, and his 1028 receiving yards made him the first Bengal other than Green to hit the century mark in 10 seasons (Chad Johnson, 2009). On Oct. 7 vs. Miami, Green's 112 receiving yards gave him his 32nd 100-yard game, passing WR Chad Johnson (31) for most in team history. Rookie S Jessie Bates III totaled a team-best 111 tackles on defense, making him only the sixth Bengals rookie ever to lead the team in tackles. On Dec. 31, the day after the season finale, the Bengals and head coach Marvin Lewis mutually decided to part ways after 16 seasons. Lewis ended his career with a 131-122-3 regular season record (131-129-3 including postseason). His total of 131 career victories is the most in team history and at the time ranked tied for 24th in NFL history.

On Feb. 4, the Bengals hired L.A. Rams quarterbacks coach Zac Taylor as the Cincinnati's 10th head coach. His first season was marked by injuries to key players and early-season team struggles which led to a franchise-worst 0-11 start. The Bengals finished the year at 2-14, which (through 2019) matched the worst record in team history (the 2002 club also finished 2-14). Cincinnati's hopes for success took three significant hits before the end of the first preseason game. Rookie OT Jonah Williams, the Bengals' first-round pick who had been slated to start at LOT, was lost for the season in June OTAs due to a shoulder injury (he returned to practice late in the year, but did not see game action). Then on July 27, in the team's first training camp practice, which was held at Welcome Stadium in Dayton as part of the NFL's 100th season celebration, perennial All-Pro WR A.J. Green went down with an ankle injury that ended up costing him the entire season. Making matters worse, OT Cordy Glenn, who was to replace Williams at LOT, suffered a concussion in the preseason opener at Kansas City and did not return to game action until late November. After the team had progressed to an 0-8 start, Taylor announced during the team's bye week that he would be benching longtime starting QB Andy Dalton in favor of rookie Ryan Finley. The experiment turned out to be short-lived, as Cincinnati's offense managed just 33 points over the next three games (all losses). Dalton returned to the starting role on Dec. 1 vs. the N.Y. Jets and led the Bengals to their first win of the season. During that game, Dalton passed Ken Anderson for most career completions and TD passes in team history (Anderson had 2654 completions and 197 TD passes). Cincinnati secured the No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 NFL Draft with a Dec. 22 loss at Miami, but the game will perhaps be remembered most for the Bengals' dramatic 23-point fourth-quarter comeback that featured 16 points in the final 29 seconds to force OT. The game also included a 57-yard FG from K Randy Bullock, the longest in team history. Cincinnati wrapped up its season with a convincing 33-23 win over Cleveland at Paul Brown Stadium. After that contest, fans lined the stands surrounding the Bengals' tunnel and chanted Dalton's name as he exited the field from what was believed to be his final game with the team.

PLAYER HISTORY

ALL-TIME ROSTER

To be eligible for the all-time roster, a player must have been in uniform for at least one regular-season or postseason game, or spent a minimum of four games on the roster (including inactive status). A player who qualifies at any point under these guidelines also will be credited for seasons in which he was on a reserve list but did not play or dress for a game. Players who spend time on a reserve list but have never played or dressed for a game do not qualify for the all-time roster. The Practice Squad does not qualify.

PLAYER HISTORY — UNIFORM NUMBERS

This all-time uniform numbers list is organized in chronological order for each number.

Generally, this list credits a player for having ownership of a uniform number for an entire season, even if he was with the team for only part of that season. However, game-by-game breakdowns within seasons are provided if (1) a player changed his uniform number during a season, or (2) more than one player was assigned the same number in the same season.

Numbers in parentheses behind players' names denote other uniform numbers assigned to those players during their careers with the Bengals.

* NOTE: Time of possession was not recorded until 1977.

 NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* STATISTICS NOTES:

- TDs noted in the TD-FR column were TDs scored on defense or special teams on recoveries of opponents' fumbles.
- The two-point conversion existed in the AFL when Cincinnati was an AFL team from 1968-69, but it was not instituted in the NFL until 1994. Thus, all Bengals PATs scored from 1970-1993 were worth one point, regardless of whether they were scored by kick, run or pass.

 PLAYER POINT TOTAL NOTES:

- Barney Bussey scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone vs. Detroit in 1989 (Bussey was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- DeDe Dorsey scored a TD on a 19-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Arizona in 2007 (Dorsey also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Tony Dye scored a TD on a 24-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Cleveland in 2013 (Dye was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Bob Maddox scored a TD on a 3-year blocked punt recovery return vs. Kansas City in 1974 (Maddox also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Melvin Morgan scored a TD on a 32-yard fumble recovery return at Houston in 1976 after receiving a lateral from Coy Bacon, who recovered the fumble and returned it 48 yards himself (Morgan was not credited with the recovery itself but he received 32 fumble recovery return yards and the score, while Bacon received the recovery and 48 return yards).
- Terence Newman scored a TD on a 58-yard fumble recovery return vs. Green Bay in 2013. On the play, Reggie Nelson recovered a Packers fumble and returned it six yards before fumbling himself, then Newman recovered Nelson's fumble and returned it for the score. Nelson was credited for the opponent's fumble recovery and a six-yard return on the defensive statistics, while Newman did not receive credit defensively for the fumble recovery or the return yardage.
- Scott Perry scored a TD on a 25-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Kansas City in 1978 (Perry also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Willie Shelby scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone vs. Houston in 1977 (Shelby was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Brian Simmons received a lateral from CB Robert Bean, who recovered a fumble on a Steelers FG attempt, and returned it 56 yards for a TD vs. Pittsburgh in 2001 (Bean had returned the fumble recovery 10 yards before lateralling the ball to Simmons).
- Reggie Williams scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone at Pittsburgh in 1977 (Williams was not credited with the blocked punt itself).

ANTHONY MUNOZ

The Bengals' Anthony Munoz, who defined the art of playing offensive tackle in the National Football League, was inducted on Aug. 1, 1998 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. It was the first year of Hall eligibility for Munoz, whose final NFL season was 1992 with the Bengals. There currently are 346 Hall of Famers, and Munoz is one of only 87 players selected in their first year of eligibility.

Munoz was a consensus All-American at the University of Southern California, and the Bengals claimed him with the third overall pick in the 1980 draft, despite the fact some teams considered him damaged goods due to past knee surgery. The move turned out as one of the best draft gambles in franchise history, as Munoz went on to play 13 Bengals seasons (1980-92), including 11 ('81-'91) in which he was chosen for the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game. At the time of his retirement (1992), that was the most selections of any player in NFL history. He also earned All-Pro honors (full NFL, not just the AFC) every season from 1981 through '91.

"Anthony's induction was very gratifying to our organization and to all of our fans," said Mike Brown, Bengals president. "It was particularly so because the selectors recognized Anthony as a truly special player and person who deserved election on his first try. During his playing days, no one in the NFL was better. It's justifiable to consider him as the best offensive lineman ever, and he has conducted his personal and family life in a way that is a great credit to the Bengals and the NFL."

Munoz's off-field efforts earned him the NFL's prestigious Man of the Year Award in 1991.

Munoz played for the Bengals in both of their Super Bowl appearances, as a second-year player in Super Bowl XVI at Pontiac, Mich., and as a ninth-year vet in Super Bowl XXIII at Miami.

In 1994, he was one of three offensive tackles named to the NFL's official 75th Anniversary Team. He joined his fellow tackles from that 75th Anniversary Team — Forrest Gregg and Roosevelt Brown — in the Hall of Fame.

Munoz's exceptional agility and athleticism is reflected by his entry line in the Bengals' all-time pass receiving statistics. He caught seven passes in his career, playing as a tackle-eligible, and four of those receptions were for touchdowns.

In six of his 13 Bengals seasons, Munoz earned at least one major award as

NFL Offensive Lineman of the Year. One award citation, issued by NFL Alumni, reads: "The NFL has three levels of offensive linemen. The bottom rung is for players aspiring to make the Pro Bowl. The next step is for those who have earned all-star status. Then there's Anthony Munoz. He's alone at the top, a sure Hall of Famer."

Though there are other Hall of Fame members with some Hispanic ancestry, Munoz is considered the first player of primarily Hispanic background to enter the Hall. Munoz was born in Ontario, Calif. His parents also are native Californians, and his grandparents were born in Chihuahua, Mexico.

OTHER PLAYER/COACH CONNECTIONS

Munoz is the only player who performed primarily for the Bengals to gain entry to the Hall. Two other Hall of Fame players — wide receivers Charlie Joiner and Terrell Owens — are former Bengals, but both played the majority of their careers with other teams. Joiner, who was with the Bengals from 1972-75, played the majority of his career with San Diego. He was inducted in 1996. Owens, who was a Bengal in 2010, also was with San Francisco, Philadelphia, Dallas and Buffalo. He was inducted as a member of the 2018 class.

Paul Brown, founder and first head coach of the Bengals and the Browns, is in the Hall, but he was inducted in 1967, before the Bengals' first season.

Three other Hall of Famers also spent time as Bengals coaches. Bill Walsh, inducted for his success as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, was a Bengals assistant under Paul Brown from 1968-75. He was inducted in 1993. Forrest Gregg, Bengals head coach from 1980-83, was inducted in '77, based on his playing career as an offensive tackle, primarily with Green Bay. And Dick LeBeau, a Bengals coach for 19 seasons, was inducted in 2010 for his exploits as a cornerback for the Detroit Lions. LeBeau was Bengals head coach for the last 13 games of 2000, as well as '01-'02. LeBeau was a Cincinnati assistant coach from 1980-91 and from '97 through the first three games of 2000.

More on Paul Brown: Brown was not only the founder and first coach of both the Bengals and the Browns, but he was one of the great innovators in pro football history.

"Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in football has been affected by Paul Brown," former NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said in 1991. "His wealth of ideas changed the game."

Elected in 1967 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Brown also was founder and first coach of the Cleveland Browns, whom he guided to seven league championships in their first 12 seasons. He posted a .665 winning percentage over 25 years of pro coaching (222-112-9, including playoffs). Earlier in his career, he created an Ohio dynasty at Massillon High School and coached Ohio State University to a national championship (1942).

Brown pioneered coaching as a year-round profession, invented the draw play, introduced the use of face masks on helmets, initiated film study and classroom instruction of players, and was the first coach to call plays from the sidelines. He also broke the color barrier in modern American pro sports, as his Cleveland team featured black stars Marion Motley and Bill Willis in 1946, a year before Jackie Robinson's debut in Major League Baseball.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, and reared in Massillon, Ohio, Brown was Bengals coach and general manager from 1968-75. He stepped down as coach following an 11-3 season in 1975, and continued in the GM's role until his death at age 82 on Aug. 5, 1991.

BENGALS ITEMS IN THE HALL

The Hall of Fame houses many pieces of Bengals history, including:

- Full uniform including jersey, pants, and helmet of OT Anthony Munoz during the last season of his Hall of Fame career.
- Coach Paul Brown's "signature" hat he wore on the sidelines.
- QB Boomer Esiason's jersey from his MVP season in 1988.
- RB Corey Dillon's jersey from Dec. 4, 1997 when he established a rookie single-game rushing record vs. Tennessee.
 - The jersey, pants, and shoes worn by Dillon on Oct. 22, 2000 when he set the then-NFL record of 278 rushing yards in Bengals' 31-21 win vs. Denver.
 - The football used on the opening kickoff of the Bengals' inaugural regular-season home game on Sept. 14, 1968. Cincinnati defeated Denver, 24-10.
- QB Andy Dalton's jersey from Nov. 1, 2015 when he defeated Pittsburgh for his 23rd road win, tying Dan Marino, Ben Roethlisberger, and Matt Ryan for most road wins in their first five NFL seasons.
 - Jerseys worn by RB Archie Griffin and CB Ken Riley.
 - Back rest of seat from Cinergy Field, formerly Riverfront Stadium.
 - Shovel used for the groundbreaking of Paul Brown Stadium, which took place on Cincinnati's riverfront on April 25, 1998.
 - Autographed metal bucket from the groundbreaking ceremony of PBS, signed by Bengals president Mike Brown, Hamilton County Commissioners Bob Bedinghaus and Tom Neyer, Cincinnati Mayor Roxanne Qualls and others.
 - Framed water color drawing of WR Isaac Curtis.
 - Draft cards. The cards were written on by a team representative and turned into NFL officials to identify each draft pick.

STADIUM HISTORY

PAUL BROWN STADIUM — 2000-PRESENT

Paul Brown Stadium, home of the Bengals on Cincinnati's downtown riverfront, plays host to its 21st NFL season in 2020. PBS, as it's known for short, opened in 2000. The first game was an Aug. 19 preseason contest vs. Chicago, a 24-20 Bengals win. The first regular-season game was a 24-7 loss to Cleveland on Sept. 10.

Named for the NFL legend who was Bengals founder, chief executive and first head coach, the stadium has won numerous honors and has helped keep Cincinnati in the national sports spotlight. Over the last 15 seasons (2004-18), PBS has hosted 23 nationally televised Bengals games, and one nationally televised game is scheduled at PBS for 2020.

From 2003-10 at PBS, the Bengals sold out a franchise-record 57 consecutive home games (regular and postseason).

The stadium features a sleek design and blends seamlessly with the city, open to views of downtown to the north and the Ohio River to the south.

National recognition for PBS has come in various modes. In 2007, PBS was the only football stadium to make a Harris Interactive list of "America's favorite 150 buildings and structures." PBS ranked 101st on a list whose range included all manner of major structures — skyscrapers, museums, churches, hotels, bridges, national memorials and more. No other football stadium was voted among the top 150, and among all sports venues, only two historic baseball parks — Wrigley Field and the old Yankee Stadium — ranked higher than PBS.

In 2002, in an industry rarity, the stadium was singled out by both of the nation's premier architecture magazines, Architectural Record and Architecture. The two stories came on the heels of PBS receiving the 2001 Merit Award from the American Institute of Architects (California Council). It marked the first time an NFL stadium received the award from the prestigious AIA.

The acclaim began well before the stadium's 2000 opening. In May of 1998, studies of PBS' design led to it being among 15 winners from a field of more than 300 projects for an American Architecture Award.

In closer-to-home reaction, the stadium also debuted to rave reviews.

After a tour of PBS in June of 2000, some two months before the first game, Cincinnati Enquirer columnist Paul Daugherty wrote:

"The place is gorgeous. If the Bengals were trying to butter me up by giving me the tour, it worked. Every seat is good."

At roughly the same time, Cincinnati Post columnist Bill Koch wrote:

"The views come at you from every angle. Unlike Cinergy Field (formerly Riverfront Stadium), which cut you off from the city once you were inside, this stadium celebrates its setting.

"From the west side, you gaze into Price Hill, with Union Terminal off in the distance. From the east, you walk through the club lounge, where you can see the river, the Roebling Suspension Bridge and the downtown skyline. You are not in Anytown, USA. You are unmistakably in Cincinnati."

Mike Brown, a son of Paul Brown and the club's chief executive since 1991, puts it this way:

"In the best stadiums, the experience of just walking in wakes you up. It's exciting just to be there. From day one, we made this a goal for our stadium. We want it to be the best setting for pro football in the country, and we think our fans will agree that it is."

Though proud of PBS' much-hailed outer design, the Bengals are prouder still that the stadium has fulfilled a primary goal of serving as a premier venue for watching football. Almost 70 percent of the seats are along the sidelines, positioned for the best possible sight lines to the action.

PBS also serves as a link to the past. In an era when many sports facilities carry corporate names, Cincinnati's stadium bears only the name of Paul Brown.

"We like the fact that our stadium name honors the tradition of the NFL," says Mike Brown. "Many names now don't have anything to do with the game."

The stadium includes 132 suites and 7600 club seats.

Additional facts and figures on PBS:

SEATING CAPACITY: 65,515.

DIMENSIONS: The stadium site covers approximately 22 acres, and Paul Brown Stadium itself reaches a height of 157 feet.

PLAYING SURFACE: Twenty-Four/Seven synthetic turf system by Shaw Sports Turf (installed by The Motz Group in 2018).

RIVERFRONT STADIUM/CINERGY FIELD — 1970-99

(Was called Riverfront Stadium from 1970-95, and renamed Cinergy Field in '96.)

Like Paul Brown Stadium, Riverfront Stadium was located in downtown Cincinnati on the bank of the Ohio River. Its site was about a quarter-mile east of the PBS site. It was renamed Cinergy Field in 1996.

Housing the Bengals and baseball's Cincinnati Reds, Riverfront/Cinergy was one of a number of circular, dual-sport facilities built in the U.S. in the 1960s and early '70s. Seating capacity for Bengals games was 60,389 in the stadium's full football configuration and 56,759 during shared periods with baseball.

Riverfront hosted the most celebrated victory in Bengals history, the 1981 season AFC Championship game known as the "Freezer Bowl." The Bengals defeated San Diego 27-7 on a day with the lowest wind chill (minus-59 degrees) and second-coldest temperature reading (minus-9) in NFL history. The Bengals won their second AFC title at Riverfront in 1988, defeating Buffalo 21-10.

The longest Bengals sellout streak at Riverfront was 43 games, from the 1988 season opener through the '92 home finale.

The Reds continued playing in Cinergy Field for three seasons (2000-02) after the Bengals departed for PBS, and Cinergy was imploded in December of '02 to make room for new riverfront development.

NIPPERT STADIUM — 1968-69

The Bengals played their first two seasons in Nippert Stadium on the campus of the University of Cincinnati. When the Bengals played at Nippert, its seating capacity was listed as 31,301.

The Nippert Stadium site began hosting UC games in 1902. It remains the home of the Bearcats today, and still stands is the third-oldest NCAA FBS stadium. Nippert has been expanded and upgraded many times over the years. Its current seating capacity is approximately 40,000, and its most recent major renovation took place from 2014 through early '15 (the Bearcats played their 2014 home games at Paul Brown Stadium, but returned to Nippert for the '15 season).

The stadium began in 1902 as Carson Field, named after Arch Carson, who played a significant role in starting football on the UC campus in 1885. In 1901, as physical director of the university, Carson guided the construction of the first field, which was later named for him (to this day, Nippert's playing surface still is called Carson Field). Fans watched from wooden bleachers constructed on the hillside adjacent to the field.

Construction began in 1916 on a permanent brick-and-mortar stadium, and the structure was completed in '24. The new stadium was named after Jimmy Nippert, a UC player who sustained a spike wound injury during the 1923 season finale and died a month later from blood poisoning. His grandfather, James N. Gamble of Procter & Gamble, provided the funds necessary to complete construction, and Nippert Stadium was dedicated the following November.

PRO FOOTBALL HISTORY IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati was home to two other teams in the National Football League prior to the present-day Bengals.

One of the teams, known as the Cincinnati Celts, was a member of the NFL — then known as the American Professional Football Association — in the league's second season in 1921. That team finished with a 1-3-0 record in its only season.

In 1933, the NFL granted the city another franchise, this time called the Cincinnati Reds. They competed in the league for two seasons before folding. The Reds finished with a 3-6-1 record and fourth place in the league's Western Division in 1933. In 1934, they lost their first eight games before suspending operations. The St. Louis Gunners, an independent team, joined the NFL by buying the Cincinnati franchise and went 1-2 the last three weeks of the season.

It was a third team, however — one which was not a member of the NFL — that eventually proved to be the closest link to today's modern-era team.

In 1937, a team called the Cincinnati Bengals was formed as a member of the rival American Football League. It was that team's nickname which was later adopted by today's NFL franchise.

The 1937 Bengals finished with a 2-4-2 record in their first year, but the AFL folded after the season. The Bengals continued as an independent team in 1938, playing three NFL teams that year. They beat the Chicago Bears 17-13, and the Pittsburgh Pirates 38-0, and tied the Chicago Cardinals 7-7.

In 1939, the Bengals joined a new AFL, finishing in second place with a 6-2 record. But again, the league folded after the season.

Once again, in 1940, another new AFL emerged, and again the Bengals joined. They recorded 1-7-0 and 1-5-2 marks in 1940 and '41, respectively. That AFL suffered the fate of the two AFLs before it, folding after the 1941 season as the United States entered World War II. Only this time, the Bengals folded along with it.

Pro football returned to Cincinnati 26 years later in 1967, when Paul Brown headed an ownership group which landed an expansion franchise in the modern-era American Football League. Brown, a Pro Football Hall of Famer who founded and coached the Cleveland Browns from 1946-62, picked the name Bengals for the new team "to give it a link with past professional football in Cincinnati."

Hundreds of names were suggested by fans in an effort to name the new Cincinnati team, the most popular being Buckeyes. It was rejected to avoid confusion with the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968. The AFL merged with the NFL in 1970.

- FIRST DRAFT CHOICE: Center Bob Johnson, from the University of Tennessee, was the Bengals' No. 1 draft choice in their 1968 inaugural season.

- FIRST REGULAR-SEASON GAME: On Friday night, Sept. 6, 1968, in San Diego, the Bengals began play in the American Football League. They lost to the Chargers, 29-13.
- FIRST BENGALS REGULAR-SEASON SCORING PLAY: On the Bengals' first possession of their first regular-season game — Sept. 6, 1968 at San Diego — RB Paul Robinson scored a touchdown on a two-yard run. Dale Livingston kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Cincinnati lead. The Chargers came back to win, 29-13.
- FIRST REGULAR-SEASON VICTORY: On Sunday, Sept. 15, 1968, the Bengals won their home opener, defeating the Denver Broncos, 24-10. A crowd of 25,049 watched at Nippert Stadium.
- FIRST PLAYOFF GAME: On Saturday, Dec. 26, 1970, the Bengals lost to the Baltimore Colts, 17-0, at Memorial Stadium in Baltimore in an AFC Divisional Playoff. The Bengals reached the playoffs in just the franchise's third season by winning the AFC Central Division with an 8-6 regular-season record.
- FIRST PLAYOFF VICTORY: On Jan. 3, 1982, the Bengals beat the Buffalo Bills, 28-21, at Riverfront Stadium in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game. A week later, the Bengals won the AFC title to earn a trip to Super Bowl XVI.

In the beginning: The Bengals' inaugural season was 1968, when they played in the American Football League (which merged with the NFL in '70). That first Bengals team had a seven-person coaching staff (in contrast to the 23-person staff heading into the 2020 season). Head coach Paul Brown was joined by Bill Johnson (offensive line coach), Rick Forzano (offensive backfield), Jack Donaldson (defensive line), Tom Bass (defensive backfield), Bill Walsh (offensive ends) and Frank Smouse (linebackers).

Munoz made Pro Bowl history: Former Bengals OT Anthony Munoz was selected to play in 11 AFC-NFC Pro Bowl games, the most by any Cincinnati player by a margin of three. DT Geno Atkins is second with eight, and WR A.J. Green is third with seven.

At the time of his retirement after the 1992 season, Munoz's total of 11 selections was the most of any player in NFL history. To this day, Munoz still is tied for 13th in most Pro Bowl selections all time. The leaders (each with 14) are New England QB Tom Brady, Kansas City/Atlanta TE Tony Gonzalez, Indianapolis/Denver QB Peyton Manning and Houston Oilers/Tennessee OL Bruce Matthews.

Hold that line: Over Games 5-12 of the 2009 season, the Bengals set a franchise record by holding eight straight opponents under the 100-yard mark in rushing. Prior to 2009, the franchise record for consecutive games in this category was six, and that spanned two seasons (1981-82). The previous record for one season was five straight games, set in 1983.

Sellout streaks: The Bengals sold out 57 consecutive home games (regular and postseason) from Nov. 16, 2003 through Nov. 8, 2010. That Paul Brown Stadium run stands as the longest in club history, topping a 43-game streak accomplished at Riverfront Stadium between 1988 and '92.

Bengals hold winning mark in overtime: The Bengals are 17-16-3 in regular-season overtime games, for a winning percentage of .514.

Overtime was put in place for regular-season games in 1974. The Bengals have not played an overtime game in postseason.

In 2013, Cincinnati played three overtime games in the same season, the only such instance in franchise history. In all other regular seasons in which overtime existed (1974-2012 and '14-19), the Bengals played in two OT games just six times ('90, '92, '95, '01, '08 and '15).

Playing until the very end: The Bengals have played four 75-minute games (60 minutes of regulation time, plus one full 15-minute overtime period) in team history. Of those four contests, only one resulted in a definitive outcome, while the other three resulted in ties.

The definitive outcome was a 38-35 Bengals loss to the Miami Dolphins on Dec. 22, 2019 at Hard Rock Stadium. The Dolphins earned the win when K Jason Sanders converted a 37-yard field goal as the overtime period expired.

The three ties were a 13-13 tie with Philadelphia on Nov. 16, 2008, a 37-37 tie with Carolina on Oct. 12, 2014, and a 27-27 tie with Washington on Oct. 30, 2016. The only other tie in team history — a 31-31 deadlock in 1969 at Houston — took place before overtime was instituted in the regular season.

The Bengals' 23-20 win at Cleveland Oct. 4, 2009 was the longest game the Bengals ever won. Four seconds remained in overtime when K Shayne Graham booted a 31-yard FG to break a 20-all tie.

Passing fancy: The Bengals' individual career record for most games passing for 300 or more yards is 28, held by QB Andy Dalton (2011-19).

Boomer Esiason (1984-92, '97) ranks second in 300-yard passing games with 23, followed by Ken Anderson ('71-86) with 19.

Bengals double-digit club: Entering 2020, 32 players shared the distinction of having played 10 or more campaigns for the Bengals:

NOTE: Asterisks note players who still were active Bengals as of July 21, 2020.

The name game: The most common last name among players on the Bengals' all-time roster is Johnson. Twenty-seven players named Johnson are on the all-time roster, including Chad Johnson, who changed his last name to Ochocinco in 2008 (then back to Johnson in '11, after his Bengals career).

Smith is second with 18, and Williams is third with 16 (not including Nick Luchey, who changed his name from Williams in 2002).

The Bengals' all-time roster has more last names start with the letter B than any other letter — a total of 106. The letter S is second with 99 names.

The only letter without a player on the team's all-time roster is X.

A rare runner: The only Bengals quarterback ever to rush for 100 yards in a game was Virgil Carter, who gained 110 on nine carries against Cleveland on Nov. 15, 1970 (it was Cincinnati's first-ever win over its Ohio rival).

Coldest NFL games on record:

- Minus-13 degrees (-48 degrees wind chill) — Dec. 31, 1967, Lambeau Field, Green Bay, Wis., NFL Championship — Green Bay 21, Dallas 17
- Minus-9 degrees (-59 degrees wind chill) — Jan. 10, 1982, Riverfront Stadium, Cincinnati, Ohio, AFC Championship — Cincinnati 27, San Diego 7.
- Minus-6 degrees (-25 degree wind chill) — Jan. 10, 2016, TCF Bank Stadium, Minneapolis, Minn., NFC Wild Card — Seattle 10, Minnesota 9.

10 wins, no playoffs: The best Bengals team to miss out on postseason play was coach Bill Johnson's 1976 club, which went 10-4 but lost a tiebreaker to Pittsburgh for the AFC Central Division title.

Only one Wild Card team made the playoffs from each conference at that time, and it went to 11-3 New England, which lost an AFC East tiebreaker.

One other Bengals team — the 1986 club — won 10 games (10-6) and failed to make the playoffs.

Long distance leaders: Former Bengals Chris Bahr and Doug Pelfrey are the only kickers in team history to convert two field goals of 50 or more yards in the same game.

Bahr booted field goals of 55 and 52 yards vs. Houston on September 23, 1979. Pelfrey connected on attempts from 53 and 50 yards at Houston on October 24, 1993.

Talent isn't everything: The 1989 Bengals were a talented team, but never could put it all together on a weekly basis. They outscored opponents 404-285, but finished only 8-8.

Not since the 1950 Philadelphia Eagles had a break-even team outscored its foes by such a large point margin (7.4) per game.

All-time biggest crowds: Here are the Bengals' 10 largest home crowds in franchise history:

ATTENDANCE	DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT
1. 66,188	10-28-07	Pittsburgh	L, 13-24
2. 66,113	10-1-07	New England	L, 13-34
3. 66,107	12-22-14	Denver	W, 37-28

8. 66,035	10-1-06	New England	L, 13-38
9. 66,023	12-23-07	Cleveland	W, 19-14
10. 65,995	11-20-05	Indianapolis	L, 37-45

100 x 3 = team first: The Bengals' 27-10 win over Oakland on Dec. 10, 2006 at Paul Brown Stadium was the team's only game ever with a 100-yard rusher (Rudi Johnson, 117 yards) and two 100-yard receivers (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, 118; Chad Johnson, 101).

Fond farewell: The Bengals played their final game at Cinergy Field (previously known as Riverfront Stadium) on Dec. 12, 1999, and they made the facility's finale a memorable one.

Before a sellout crowd of 59,972, the Bengals defeated Cleveland, 44-28, as the Cincinnati defense set a team record by allowing only 11 net rushing yards (11 carries). The Browns' longest rush of the day was three yards. The previous low by a Bengals opponent had been 22 yards by Houston on Dec. 23, 1990.

Offensively, that game saw the Bengals roll for 279 rushing yards (on 53 carries) — the second-most rushing yards in team history at the time and most ever in a home game (now fourth-best in history and third-highest at home).

KEY

- # Also led/tied NFL
- * Tied for lead
- ^ Also a Bengals record
-  American Football League

Get the point? Only three times in the Bengals' 49 seasons has a non-kicker led the team in scoring.

In 1979, FB Pete Johnson was the team's leading scorer with 90 points (15 TDs). FB Ickey Woods led the 1988 Bengals with 90 points (15 TDs). And in 2001, HB Corey Dillon scored a team-high 78 points (13 TDs).

A special explosion: The Bengals' record for most points scored in a game by special teams units is 31, in a 43-14 win at Buffalo on Nov. 8, 1970.

CB Lemar Parrish scored two special teams TDs, one on a 95-yard kickoff return and another on an 83-yard return of a blocked field goal attempt. K Horst Muhlmann added 15 points on five field goals, and four PATs by Muhlmann completed the special teams onslaught.

The offense scored only one TD, on a one-yard run by RB Jess Phillips. The defense scored a TD on an eight-yard fumble return by DE Royce Berry.

Perfection at home: The Bengals have gone undefeated (and untied) at home during the regular season four times in team history:

- 8-0 in the Super Bowl season of 1988
- 8-0 in the 2013 playoff season
- 7-0 in the 1973 playoff season
- 4-0 in the strike-shortened 1982 playoff campaign

Bengals QB MVPs: Two Bengals, both quarterbacks from the club's Super Bowl teams, have been named by nationwide panels of media as winners of the Associated Press NFL Most Valuable Player Award.

Ken Anderson was the winner in 1981, leading the NFL with a 98.4 passer rating. He completed 300 of 479 passes (62.6 percent) for 3754 yards, with a then-club record 29 TD passes against 10 INTs.

Boomer Esiason was the 1988 winner, leading the league with a 97.4 rating and tying for the AFC lead in TDs with 28. He completed 223 of 388 passes (57.5 percent) for 3572 yards, with 14 INTs.

Both QBs led their teams to 12-4 records in the regular season.

This record holds the record: The oldest individual season record in Bengals history — and the only one still standing from Nippert Stadium — is QB Greg Cook's average of 9.41 yards gained per passing attempt in 1969.

Parrish hits paydirt: The only Bengals player ever to score two touchdowns in a game on returns and/or recoveries is Lemar Parrish — and he did it three times.

Parrish, a Bengals cornerback and kick returner from 1970-77, scored two TDs on Nov. 8, 1970 at Buffalo (95-yard kickoff return and 83-yard return of a blocked FG attempt); on Dec. 17, 1972 at Houston (25-yard interception return and 33-yard interception return); and on Oct. 6, 1974 vs. Washington (90-yard punt return and 47-yard fumble return).

Double whammy: Twice in Bengals history, two Cincinnati players have broken the 100-yard rushing mark in the same game.

On Oct. 29, 1972, in a 30-7 win vs. Houston, RB Doug Dressler gained 110 yards and HB Essex Johnson ran for 103 yards. On Dec. 7, 1986, in a 31-7 victory at New England, HB James Brooks rushed for 163 yards and FB Stanley Wilson gained 120 yards.

The longest shots: The latest-drafted player ever to make the Bengals' all-time roster was K-P Dave Green of Ohio University.

Green was the 418th selection in the 1972 draft, taken in the 17th round. He didn't make the roster in 1972, and had a brief stint (no games played) with Houston in '73 before being re-acquired by Cincinnati. Green played for the Bengals from 1974-75, scoring 70 points and averaging 40.1 yards on 134 punts. He was acquired by Tampa Bay in 1976, and stayed in the NFL through '79.

The latest-drafted player ever to make the Bengals roster in the same season of his selection was LB Larry Ely of Iowa. Ely was the 397th selection in 1970, a 16th-round pick. He played for Cincinnati in 1970 and '71.

Riley reigns supreme: In the Bengals record book, the most dominant lead in a major career category belongs to CB Ken Riley. His 65 interceptions nearly double the total (33) of second-place CB Louis Breeden.

Bengals tap the Buckeye pipeline: Ohio State is by far the top supplier of college talent to the Bengals, with 34 former Buckeyes having qualified for the team's official all-time roster.

Notable former Buckeye Bengals include Pro Bowl FB Pete Johnson (1977-83), the No. 4 rusher in Bengals history, as well as RB Archie Griffin ('76-83), CB Ray Griffin ('78-84), OT Rufus Mayes ('70-78), K Mike Nugent (2010-16) and DT Dan Wilkinson ('94-97).

The school with the next highest number of alumni is Florida, with 19. Four schools — Arizona State, Michigan, Penn State and West Virginia — are tied for third with 18 Bengals alumni each.

Record crowd: The official attendance figure of 91,653 for Cincinnati's 28-14 loss at Dallas on Oct. 9, 2016 at AT&T Stadium was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game.

The previous record was 87,786 at Cincinnati's 17-10 win on Nov. 14, 2004 at FedExField in Washington.

The record for all Bengals games remains 92,045, recorded at the Los Angeles Coliseum for the 1990 season Divisional Playoff game against the L.A. Raiders on Jan. 13, 1991.

Go long ... real long: The Bengals' record book lists two pass plays of 90 or more yards:

- QB Ken Anderson hooked up with WR Billy Brooks for a team-record 94-yarder for a touchdown Nov. 13, 1977 at Minnesota.
- QB Virgil Carter connected with WR Speedy Thomas for a 90-yard TD strike on Sept. 19, 1971 vs. Philadelphia at Riverfront Stadium.

Worst to first: Four times in their history, the Bengals have finished first in their division (in 1970, '81, '88 and '90) after finishing in last place the season before.

DL TDs to remember: On Oct. 7, 2018, Bengals DEs Michael Johnson and Sam Hubbard both scored TDs in the fourth quarter, leading Cincinnati to a comeback win over the Miami Dolphins at Paul Brown Stadium.

Johnson struck first and knotted the game at 17 when he picked off a Ryan Tannehill pass and returned it 22 yards for a TD. Later in the quarter, Hubbard recovered a Tannehill fumble (forced by DE Carlos Dunlap) and returned it 19 yards for a score, putting the Bengals ahead by the final 27-17 margin.

It marked the first time in Bengals history, and just the second time since the 1970 AFL/NFL merger, that two defensive linemen scored TDs in the same quarter. The only other instance came on Dec. 10, 1989, when Minnesota's Keith Millard and Tim Newton both scored in a Vikings win vs. Atlanta.

1000-yard duos ... and a trio: Sixteen times in the Bengals' 52 years (1968-2019), the team has had both a 1000-yard rusher and a 1000-yard receiver in the same season.

In 2006, the Bengals had a 1000-yard rusher and two 1000-yard receivers.

No TDs; no problem: Five times in their history, the Bengals have won without scoring a touchdown:

- On Sept. 24, 1972, K Horst Muhlmann's five FGs (41, 32, 20, 32, 34) fueled a 15-10 victory over Pittsburgh at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field).
- On Oct. 21, 1984, K Jim Breech kicked four FGs (24, 23, 25, 33) for all the Bengals' points in a 12-9 victory over Cleveland at Riverfront.
- On Nov. 6, 1994, K Doug Pelfrey booted six FGs (36, 44, 36, 47, 28, 26) and LB-DE Alfred Williams scored on a safety as the Bengals posted a 20-17 overtime victory at Seattle.
- On Nov. 11, 2007, K Shayne Graham kicked a team-record seven FGs (34, 19, 22, 35, 35, 21, 33) for all of Cincinnati's points in a 21-7 win at Baltimore.
- On Sept. 19, 2010, K Mike Nugent kicked five FGs (36, 30, 46, 38, 25) for all the Bengals' points in a 15-10 win over Baltimore at Paul Brown Stadium.

Doubling up: Twice in Bengals history, a Cincinnati player has managed 100-plus yards both rushing and receiving on the same day.

HB Essex Johnson was the first, rushing for 121 yards on 21 carries and getting 116 yards on two receptions on Sept. 30, 1973 at San Diego. He stood alone in the category until Dec. 7, 1986, when HB James Brooks burned the Patriots at New England for 163 yards on 18 rushes and 101 yards on six receptions. Cincinnati won both games.

Bengals opponents have managed double 100-yard performances twice, and Cincinnati lost both of those games.

On Nov. 23, 1975, Cleveland HB Greg Pruitt had 121 yards on 17 rushes and 106 yards on seven receptions in a 35-23 Browns win at Cleveland Stadium. On Sept. 22, 1985, San Diego RB Lionel James became the one player to record dual 100s at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field) in the Chargers' 44-41 win. James had 127 yards on 12 rushes and 118 yards on five catches.

Kirkpatrick's 2017 INT a historical oddity: In the first quarter of the Bengals' win at Denver on Nov. 19, 2017, with the Broncos facing a third-and-three at the Cincinnati four-yard line, CB Dre Kirkpatrick picked off a pass from QB Brock Osweiler in the end zone and sprinted down the field toward what would've been his third career pick-six.

However, with about 15 yards to go before reaching the end zone, Kirkpatrick fumbled the ball without any disruption by a Bronco. He did manage to recover his own fumble at the Denver one-yard line, but before the Bengals punched it into the end zone three plays later on a TD pass, the blooper had already spread around the internet like wildfire.

At the time, Kirkpatrick's 101-yard return, which he shared a laugh about after the game, was the longest INT return in NFL history to not result in a TD (it now is the second-longest; N.Y. Jets S Marcus Maye had a 104-yard INT in 2018 without scoring).

CBS-TV reported shortly after Kirkpatrick's play that the visibly fatigued cornerback became sick upon returning to the sideline, a victim of exhaustion and the Denver altitude (he did not miss any game time).

After the game, Kirkpatrick was the target of good-natured ribbing by teammates and fans. And he was not above a little self-deprecation. As the team boarded its flight back to Cincinnati, Kirkpatrick posted a photo to one of his social media accounts of a gift someone had left on his seat — an oxygen tank, with a note attached that read, "Who Dey. Great game."

Call it the 'Breezer Bowl': Though it was no match for the famous "Freezer Bowl" in Bengals lore, the Tennessee Titans' 2008 visit to Cincinnati perhaps should be remembered — with due seriousness — as the "Breezer Bowl."

The wind speed at kickoff of the Titans' 24-7 win at Paul Brown Stadium on Sept. 14, 2008 was 21 mph. However, it drastically changed very soon after the game started. The remnants of Hurricane Ike combined with another strong weather system to produce a powerful windstorm by the end of the first quarter. The final three quarters of the game were played in sustained winds of over 70 mph, which nearly qualified as a Category 1 hurricane (defined as sustained winds of 74-95 mph). The Bengals and Titans managed only 127 and 118 passing yards, respectively.

Though the game was played without incident or other weather conditions such as rain, the windstorm was extremely damaging to areas outside the stadium. It left more than a million people without power in the Greater Cincinnati area, some for more than a month. It was the worst disaster in the region in 2008, with damage estimates nearing $1 billion.

P.B. and the hall of fame: Paul Brown, founder of the Cincinnati Bengals, was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967, and numerous other Hall of Fame members played and/or coached under Brown.

The most recent addition to P.B.'s disciples in the Hall of Fame was former Bengals assistant coach and head coach Dick LeBeau, a 2010 inductee. LeBeau's assistant coaching tenure with the Bengals began in '80, when Brown was the team's general manager. He was an assistant coach (defensive backfield and defensive coordinator) with the Bengals from 1980-91 and '97-2000 (three games in '00), and he was the team's head coach from the fourth game of '00 through '02. LeBeau, who also spent many seasons as an assistant coach with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is widely considered to be one of the best defensive coaches in league history. And though he did not play under Brown, LeBeau recorded 62 career interceptions, which ranked third all-time at the time of his retirement as a player.

Other former assistant coaches under Paul Brown who are in the Hall of Fame are Weeb Ewbank and Bill Walsh. Also in the Hall of Fame is Forrest Gregg, hired by Brown as Bengals head coach in 1980.

The most recent player disciple of Brown's to be inducted was tackle Anthony Munoz, considered by many to be the greatest offensive lineman in NFL history. Munoz, a 1998 inductee, played his entire 13-year pro career ('80-92) with the Bengals. Some analysts thought he was too risky a prospect for an early first-round draft selection because he had experienced knee injuries in college. But Brown, as Bengals general manager in 1980, selected Munoz No. 3 overall.

The 1997 Hall of Fame class included Don Shula, winningest coach in NFL history, who played defensive back in the NFL and was a rookie on Brown's defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns in '51.

WR Charlie Joiner, who played for the Bengals under Brown from 1972-75, was elected to the Hall of Fame in the '96 class of inductees. Also, 15 other players Brown coached for the Cleveland Browns are in the Hall of Fame. These players, and the years Brown coached them in Cleveland, are: DE Doug Atkins (1953-54), FB Jim Brown ('57-62), DE Willie Davis ('58-59), QB Len Dawson ('60-61), WR Len Ford ('50-57), C Frank Gatski ('46-56), QB Otto Graham ('46-55), T/PPK Lou Groza ('46-59 and '61-62), G Gene Hickerson ('58-60 and '62), DT Henry Jordan ('57-58), WR Dante Lavelli ('46-56), T Mike McCormack ('54-62), RB/WR Bobby Mitchell ('58-61), FB/LB Marion Motley ('46-53) and G Bill Willis ('46-53).

Dunlap's PD frenzy: In the first 40 seasons in which Bengals defensive statistics were recorded (1976-2015), no defensive lineman ever led the team in passes defended for a season. Really, none were even close. But it happened in 2016, and it wasn't close.

DE Carlos Dunlap had five more PDs — 15 — than anyone else on the team in '16. And he had seven more PDs than any other NFL defensive lineman that year. The players ahead of Dunlap in the NFL were all cornerbacks, and the next-highest total by an NFL defensive lineman was eight. The next-highest total by a Bengals player in 2016 was 10, by CB Dre Kirkpatrick.

"Passes defended" include interceptions as well as passes broken up. When a player makes an INT, he also is credited with a PD. What makes this stat even more noteworthy is the fact that Dunlap had no INTs in '16. And in the category of PDs without counting INTs, only four NFL players — all CBs — were ahead of Dunlap.

* NOTE: It is not possible to accurately list all-time postseason possession averages because time of possession was not recorded until 1977. Postseason possession averages after 1977 are listed in the year-by-year breakdowns on the following pages.

 NOTE: The Bengals' and their opponents' two-point conversion totals listed here were recorded in 2005 and thereafter. Prior to that season, all of the Bengals' playoff appearances had occurred in years in which the two-point conversion did not exist. The two-point conversion, which existed in the AFL when the Bengals were members in 1968 and '69, was not instituted in the NFL until '94.

 NOTE: It is not possible to accurately list all-time postseason defensive statistics because the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — were combined through 1987, but separated in '88 and thereafter. Defensive statistics are, however, listed in each of the year-by-year breakdowns on the following pages. All defensive statistics on the following pages are press box statistics produced at the games.

POSTSEASON GAME SUMMARIES

1970 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Baltimore Colts 17, Cincinnati Bengals 0 Saturday, Dec. 26, 1970 at Memorial Stadium

In their first season in the NFL after two in the American Football League, the Bengals made a furious run to reach the playoffs, winning their last seven games after a 1-6 start and claiming the first AFC Central Division title. But the powerful Colts, who would go on to defeat Dallas in Super Bowl V, were too much for Cincinnati. Legendary Baltimore QB Johnny Unitas threw TD passes to WRs Roy Jefferson and Ed Hinton in the first and fourth quarters, and the Baltimore defense came through on a cold, windy day, limiting Cincinnati to 63 yards rushing and 76 passing. Colts rookie RB Norm Bulaich rushed for 116 yards on 25 carries. Jim O'Brien, the Colts kicker from the University of Cincinnati, kicked a 44-yard FG. O'Brien would wind up making the game-winning FG as time expired in Super Bowl V. Cincinnati's lone scoring attempt, a 50-yard FG try by K Horst Muhlmann, was blocked by LB Ray May.

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Miami Dolphins 34, Cincinnati Bengals 16 Sunday, Dec. 23, 1973 at the Orange Bowl

As was the case in their first postseason appearance three years earlier, the Bengals lost in the opening playoff round to the team that would go on to win the Super Bowl. The Bengals had tied Pittsburgh at 10-4 atop the AFC Central Division and won the title by virtue of a better AFC record. Miami took the first step toward a Super Bowl VIII win over Minnesota by outgaining Cincinnati 400-194 in net yards and posting 27 first downs to Cincinnati's 11. Cincinnati trailed only 21-16 at halftime after being down 21-3 midway through the second quarter, but the Dolphins shut out Cincinnati in the second half while getting a seven-yard TD pass from QB Bob Griese to TE Jim Mandich and a pair of FGs from K Garo Yepremian. Miami RB Mercury Morris rushed for 106 yards on 20 carries and FB Larry Csonka had 71 yards on 20 carries. The Bengals did not score an offensive TD, getting their only TD on a 45-yard INT return by S Neal Craig. Horst Muhlmann kicked three FGs for Cincinnati.

Oakland Raiders 31, Cincinnati Bengals 28
Sunday, Dec. 28, 1975 at Oakland Coliseum

The 1975 Bengals posted the best regular-season winning percentage in franchise history (.786), and they led the NFL in passing yards. But their 11-3 record earned them only a Wild Card spot behind 12-2 Pittsburgh in the AFC Central Division, and they drew a road game at 12-2 Oakland in the first playoff round. QB Ken Stabler, who went on to lead the Raiders to the AFC Championship game for the third straight year, passed for three TDs against Cincinnati. The Bengals closed a 31-14 fourth-quarter deficit to 31-28 with QB Ken Anderson's TD passes of 25 and 14 yards to WRs Charlie Joiner and Isaac Curtis, and Cincinnati had a chance to win after DT Ron Carpenter recovered a Raiders fumble on the Oakland 38 with 4:19 left. But a sack by future Hall-of-Fame LB Ted Hendricks helped the Raiders hold the Bengals without a first down, and after failing on a fourth-down try, the Bengals never regained possession. Stabler completed 17 of 23 attempts for 199 yards, three TDs and just one INT, while the Raiders totaled for 173 yards rushing. Anderson completed 17 of 27 passes for 201 yards, two TDs and no INTs, but was sacked five times.

1981 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 28, Buffalo Bills 21
Sunday, Jan. 3, 1982 at Riverfront Stadium

It took four tries, but the AFC Central Division Champion Bengals finally won a playoff game — their first-ever postseason home contest — when they held off a rallying Bills Wild Card team, taking the first step toward Super Bowl XVI. Cincinnati, which failed to produce a postseason win in its first three playoff appearances — in 1970, '73 and '75 — lost leads of 14-0 and 21-14 before eventually winning with what was a solid performance by the entire team. The offense didn't yield a turnover while the defense intercepted two Buffalo passes, and the special teams played soundly the entire game. QB Ken Anderson, who was the NFL's top-rated quarterback and its consensus MVP in the regular season, connected on a 16-yard TD pass to rookie WR Cris Collinsworth with 10:39 remaining in the fourth quarter to break a tie and take a 28-21 lead. The Bills were again poised to tie the game and set up an overtime period after driving 50 yards to the Bengals' 20 with just over three minutes left. But a costly delay-of-game penalty on fourth down led to giving the ball back to Cincinnati, and Buffalo was unable to mount another serious threat. Anderson completed 14 of 21 passes for 192 yards and directed a 305-yard attack, and TE Dan Ross recorded a game-high six receptions for 71 yards. The Bills held Bengals FB Pete Johnson, who had a career-high 1077 rushing yards in the regular season, to just 45 yards on 17 carries. But HB Charles Alexander — Johnson's blocker for the majority of the regular season — responded for Cincinnati with a season-high 72 yards, with two TD runs.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

"The Freezer Bowl"

Cincinnati Bengals 27, San Diego Chargers 7
Sunday, Jan. 10, 1982 at Riverfront Stadium

This game not only brought the Bengals their first AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XVI, it was played in conditions that made the 46,302 fans on hand feel like champions themselves. With a frigid temperature of minus-9 degrees, winds gusting from 20 to 35 miles per hour and an incredible wind-chill factor of minus-59, this famous game became known as the "Freezer Bowl." To this day, no NFL game has been played with a wind chill so cold. More than 13,000 ticket holders stayed home, but those who came saw the Bengals dominate their opponents from sunny San Diego. The Bengals first attacked them mentally, as every Cincinnati offensive and defensive lineman — along with FB Pete Johnson — took the psychological initiative to tough the cold and play in short sleeves. The teams were relatively even in yards gained with Cincinnati leading 318-301, but the Bengals won the turnover battle 4-0 with two INTs and two FRs. Chargers QB Dan Fouts struggled more in the arctic atmosphere than Bengals QB Ken Anderson, who completed 14 of 22 passes for 161 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Only one player suffered a weather-related injury in the game — Bengals DE Eddie Edwards with a frostbitten right ear.

SUPER BOWL XVI

San Francisco 49ers 26, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Jan. 24, 1982 at Pontiac Silverdome (Pontiac, Mich.)

Cincinnati outgained San Francisco by 81 yards (356-275), marking the first time in Super Bowl history the losing team led in scrimmage yardage. Bengals QB Ken Anderson set Super Bowl records (since surpassed) for completions (25) and completion percentage (73.5), and his 300 passing yards nearly doubled the 157 by 49ers QB Joe Montana, the game's MVP. But Cincinnati suffered four turnovers to San Francisco's one, and three of those giveaways led to 17 first-half points for the 49ers, who led 20-0 at intermission. Leading 20-7, San Francisco staged a memorable goal-line stand late in the third quarter, stopping Cincinnati for no gain on three straight plays from the one-yard line. The Bengals still closed the gap to 20-14 with a four-yard TD pass from Anderson to TE Dan Ross with 10:06 left, but the 49ers added FGs of 40 and 23 yards by K Ray Wersching to pull away. Cincinnati crept to within 26-21 with 16 seconds left on a second Anderson-to-Ross TD pass, but San Francisco recovered the Bengals' ensuing onside kick to seal the victory. Wersching's four FGs tied a Super Bowl record (still tied) and Ross' 11 receptions set a Super Bowl record (since broken).

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

Cincinnati Bengals 21, Buffalo Bills 10
Sunday, Jan. 8, 1989 at Riverfront Stadium

The week before the AFC Championship game was filled with controversy, as Bills head coach Marv Levy convinced the NFL office that Bengals head coach Sam Wyche's no-huddle offense was illegal. Cincinnati had developed and employed the no-huddle attack all season, but shortly before kickoff, the league informed the team that game officials would severely restrict its use. Wyche eventually would prevail in this rule book battle. Nevertheless, his offense, forced to abandon its no-huddle tactics for this contest, returned to basics and led the charge in beating Buffalo for a berth in Super Bowl XXIII. It was Cincinnati's third victory of the year over Buffalo, the Bengals having also downed the Bills in the preseason and regular season. Cincinnati won with a punishing rushing game, running the ball on 50 of 73 offensive plays and gaining 175 of its 249 total yards on the ground. Cincinnati's defense recorded a solid performance, holding the Bills to 181 total yards, including just 53 in the second half. Cincinnati made eight of 16 combined third-down and fourth-down conversions while allowing the Bills a debilitating none of 11. Bengals rookie FB Ickey Woods had his second 100-yard rushing game of the postseason, gaining 102 on 29 carries. The Bengals advanced to the Super Bowl from what was, at the time, the worst previous-season finish (4-11) of any Super Bowl qualifier. Even to the present time, only the 1999 St. Louis Rams (4-12 in '98) have gone farther.

SUPER BOWL XXIII

San Francisco 49ers 20, Cincinnati Bengals 16
Sunday, Jan. 22, 1989 at Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, Fla.)

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle termed it the most exciting of the first 23 games in Super Bowl history, and the result regained some respect for the AFC, which had lost the last four contests by an average of more than 27 points. But the dominant emotion of the day still was heartbreak for head coach Sam Wyche's underdog Bengals, who took a 16-13 lead with 3:20 to play on Jim Breech's 40-yard FG before succumbing to a 92-yard, 11-play TD drive led by San Francisco QB Joe Montana. WR John Taylor's game-winning 10-yard TD catch from Montana came with just 34 seconds remaining. Never before had a Super Bowl been won on a TD so late in the game. Cincinnati played without FB Stanley Wilson, who was suspended for a substance abuse violation that occurred the night before the game. In addition, the Bengals played almost the entire contest without All-Pro NT Tim Krumrie, who suffered a severely broken leg early in the first quarter. The teams were tied 3-3 at halftime, tied again at 6-6 late in the first quarter, and then swapped TDs in quick succession. A 93-yard kickoff return by Cincinnati HB Stanford Jennings was countered by a four-play San Francisco TD drive. The third of Breech's three FGs gave Cincinnati its third lead of the day before Montana's final heroics saved the day for the 49ers. San Francisco WR Jerry Rice tied a Super Bowl record with 11 receptions (still tied; originally set by Bengals TE Dan Ross in Super Bowl XVI) for 215 yards and one TD, earning the game's MVP award. Montana completed 23 of 36 passes for 357 yards, two TDs and no INTs. The victory made San Francisco the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls.

1990 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 41, Houston Oilers 14
Sunday, Jan. 6, 1991 at Riverfront Stadium

Having been involved in a feisty regular-season rivalry with Houston for several years, Cincinnati got the chance to tangle with the Oilers in the postseason and responded with the most lopsided playoff win in team history. The Bengals outgained the Oilers by 123 yards (349-226) and set team postseason records for points (still stands) and victory margin (still stands), using a well-balanced offensive attack. Cincinnati's rushing game outgained Houston 187-67, yet no Bengals rusher totaled more than 57 yards. Cincinnati's passing game added another 162 net yards, yet no Bengals receiver had more than two catches. Houston, however, failed to mount a serious threat the entire game. The Bengals led 34-0 before the Oilers scored their first point late in the third quarter. Ironically, it was the Oilers who helped put the Bengals in the playoffs the previous week. Houston beat Pittsburgh 34-14 in its Sunday night regular-season finale, allowing Cincinnati to win the AFC Central Division tiebreaker (the Bengals, Oilers and Steelers all had finished 9-7).

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

L.A. Raiders 20, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Jan. 13, 1991 at Los Angeles Coliseum

Los Angeles QB Jay Schroeder, who would join the Bengals as a free agent in 1993, threw two TD passes to help the Raiders defeat Cincinnati and advance to the AFC Championship game. Cincinnati scored first on Jim Breech's 27-yard FG in the second quarter, but Schroeder hit WR Mervyn Fernandez with a 13-yard scoring strike to give Los Angeles a 7-3 halftime lead. The Raiders increased their lead to 10-3 on K Jeff Jaeger's 49-yard FG in the third quarter, and put the game away with 10 unanswered fourth-quarter points on a 41-yard Schroeder pass to TE Ethan Horton and a 25-yard Jaeger FG. The Raiders rushed for 235 yards, including 140 on 21 carries by RB Marcus Allen. DE Greg Townsend had three of the Raiders' four sacks. Raiders RB Bo Jackson, a popular two-sport professional athlete who also played Major League Baseball, rushed for 77 yards on six carries. This game, however, is best remembered by many as the contest that ended Jackson's NFL career. He suffered a hip injury on a tackle by Cincinnati LB Kevin Walker in the third quarter and, though the injury was not considered particularly severe at the time, Jackson never fully recovered to play in the NFL again.

2005 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Pittsburgh Steelers 31, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Jan. 8, 2006 at Paul Brown Stadium

The atmosphere was super-charged at Paul Brown Stadium as the AFC North Champion Bengals made their first postseason appearance in 15 years. But Cincinnati was dealt a devastating blow on its second offensive play, as QB Carson Palmer was lost to a serious knee injury while completing his first NFL postseason pass — a club postseason-record 66 yards to WR Chris Henry. Backup QB Jon Kitna took over for Palmer and helped Cincinnati earn a 17-14 halftime lead, but Pittsburgh owned the second half. The Bengals' offense had just six first downs and 105 net yards in the final two periods and failed to score another point. The Steelers used a botched snap on a Bengals FG attempt and two INTs thrown by Kitna to control the second half and claim the first-ever postseason meeting between the divisional rivals. Pittsburgh, which finished second to the Bengals in the AFC North and entered the playoffs as No. 6-seeded Wild Card, went on to win Super Bowl XL.

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

N.Y. Jets 24, Cincinnati Bengals 14 Saturday, Jan. 9, 2010 at Paul Brown Stadium

In a Wild Card Playoff that was relatively even in most statistical categories, the AFC North Champion Bengals were minus-two in turnover differential and could not hold an early lead against the visiting Jets. Cincinnati led 7-0 after the first quarter, on an 11-yard TD pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Laveranues Coles, but New York gained a 14-7 halftime lead with two scores in a span of less than six minutes in the second quarter. Possession for the go-ahead TD drive was gained by the Jets on an INT by Pro Bowl CB Darrelle Revis. The Bengals' second-half comeback efforts were crippled by missed FG attempts of 35 and 28 yards by K Shayne Graham. Bengals HB Cedric Benson scored on a 47-yard run in the fourth quarter, and his 169 rushing yards for the game set a Bengals postseason record. The Jets defeated the San Diego Chargers in their Divisional Playoff the following week to advance to the AFC Championship game, where they lost to the Indianapolis Colts.

Saturday, Jan. 7, 2012 at Reliant Stadium

The visiting Bengals set the tone early with a one-yard Cedric Benson TD, a Mike Nugent FG and a strong defensive first half. But big plays would prove to be the difference in the game, and Houston had plenty. With 52 seconds left in the first half, Texans DE J.J. AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

San Diego Chargers 27, Cincinnati Bengals 10 Sunday, Jan. 5, 2014 at Paul Brown Stadium

The AFC North Division champion Bengals piled up a 439-318 yardage edge in their Wild Card playoff vs. San Diego, but the Chargers won with relative ease while posting a plus-four edge in turnover differential (four takeaways, no giveaways). The Bengals held a 10-7 halftime lead, but San Diego went ahead on an 80-yard TD drive on its first possession of the third quarter. The Chargers added a third-quarter FG after Bengals QB Andy Dalton lost a fumble, and the Chargers tacked on a fourth-quarter TD following an INT. The Bengals' lone TD came on a four-yard second-quarter pass from Dalton to TE Jermaine Gresham. WR Marvin Jones set a Bengals postseason record with 130 receiving yards, topping a former mark of 120 by Cris Collinsworth, and Dalton's 334 passing yards were second-most in Bengals postseason annals. The Chargers, a Wild Card playoff entry, advanced to a Divisional round game at New England.

2014 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Indianapolis Colts 26, Cincinnati Bengals 10 Sunday, Jan. 4, 2015 at Lucas Oil Stadium

Significantly depleted in their receiving corps, the Bengals were no match for the AFC South champion Colts. Indianapolis QB Andrew Luck passed for 376 yards, re-setting a Bengals opponent playoff record previously held by QB Joe Montana from Super Bowl XXIII (357). The Colts totaled 482 yards to Cincinnati's 254. The Bengals moved the ball well on their first two possessions and were tied 7-7 late in the first quarter, after a 74-yard TD drive. At halftime, Cincinnati trailed by only 13-10, thanks to a 57-yard Mike Nugent FG near the end of the second quarter. The 57-yarder was a Bengals postseason record by 10 yards and topped by two yards the team regular-season record of 55 that Nugent shared with K Chris Bahr. But the Bengals managed only 98 net yards and no points in the second half, while the Colts struck for a Luck 36-yard TD pass and two FGs by K Adam Vinatieri. The Bengals played without their top two leaders in receptions - WR A.J. Green (concussion) and TE Jermaine Gresham (back strain).

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Pittsburgh Steelers 18, Cincinnati Bengals 16
Saturday, Jan. 9, 2016 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals rallied from a 15-0 deficit to take a 16-15 lead with 1:50 to play, and Cincinnati had a first down at the Steelers' 26-yard line with 1:36 left. But Pittsburgh recovered a fumble by HB Jeremy Hill on the next Bengals play, and the Steelers drove for a game-winning 37-yard FG at the 0:14 mark, aided by two personal foul penalties against Cincinnati. The Bengals had rallied to take the lead with three fourth-quarter scores — a one-yard TD run by Hill, a 36-yard Mike Nugent FG and a 25-yard TD pass from QB AJ McCarron to WR A.J. Green. McCarron, as he had in the last three regular-season games, was subbing for injured No. 1 QB Andy Dalton. The Bengals had the home field after winning the AFC North Division with a 12-4 record, but the 10-6 Steelers earned a Wild Card berth and advanced to the Divisional playoff round with the win.
