Memo to The Press

Greetings to our friends of the media who will be covering National Football League games in 1973. We trust that you will find most of the data pertinent to the 1973 Denver Broncos in this brochure. Should you require any additional material, please contact Bob Peck or Dick Maxwell for prompt service.

A special welcome to those of you making your first trip to Mile High Stadium in 1973. Our facility is comfortable, but not spacious. Because of rather limited space we must restrict access to accredited members of the media covering the game. Admittance is only by credentials issued by the Denver Broncos and through the press gate at Mile High Stadium. Photogs may work from either sideline but will not be allowed to shoot or pass in front of either play-er bench.

All the usual press box statistical services will be provided. Either of your hosts will be happy to help you arrange for transportation to and from the stadium, and any reasonable special requests should be made as far in advance of the game as possible.

ON THE COVER

The 1973 press guide cover of the Broncos depicts Denver's team attitude toward the upcoming National Football League campaign. The picture was taken during the Broncos' 1972 finale against New England, in which John Ralston's crew won handily, 45-21. The victory, along with the Broncos' fast finish last year, is what the 1973 season is being built upon and Denver hopes to pick up where it left off in 1972 . . . winning football games.

A Quick Glance

Whether it be the eternal optimism of Denver Bronco fans, the strong finish by the 1972 Bronco squad, the prevalence of the John Ralston positive attitude, or a combination of all three . . . there is genuine enthusiasm in the Mile High City as the 1973 pro football season approaches.

The old cry of "wait'll next year" has become "this just might be the year we've been waiting for" among the Denver faithful, as "sophomore" Head Coach and General Manager John Ralston fields his second squad in the NFL.

Last season, Denver scored 38 touchdowns, an improvement of 20 from the previous year, and the pass offense finished second only to Joe Namath and the Jets in the American Conference. For the first time in more years than most fans can remember, the Broncos will go to camp knowing who the starting quarterback will be. Veteran Charley Johnson, acquired in a pre-season trade in 1972, became the most accurate passer in Bronco history, and is being counted upon as THE Denver quarterback.

Defensively, there will probably be a few changes in order. Although this unit was plagued by injury and change in 1972, the defenders still finished second in the AFC against the rush. Ralston received superior play from Paul Smith and Lyle Alzado up front, with Smith being a Pro Bowl selection. Although the other two spots were manned by several people due to injury, Denver still led the AFC in quarterback sacks with 41. Ralston indicated there would be a departure from the basic "bump and run" pass defense to more of a zone look.

The Ralston regime has established a solid base, and a projection of the improvement shown in 1972 would indicate that winning ways are due in Denver.

Coach Ralston Says:

"We feel we are definitely on the right track, and will continue to have a positive approach in everything we do. We feel we have established a strong base, one on which we can build a winning football team in Denver.

"Our goal remains unchanged: winning the Super Bowl. As we stated in coming to Denver, there's no question that we'll make it, the only thing we don't know is how long it will take.

"All the signs are optimistic. We finished strong in 1972 winning our final two games, and we should resume that improvement when we open camp this year. We are probably still shy in a couple of spots, but the total personnel picture was upgraded, and the coaching staff is much further along this year having operated at the professional level for a full year now. We worked very hard at establishing a more balanced offense last year, and our offensive coaches did a great job. We more than doubled our touchdown production from the previous year, and became a much less predictable team. Our pass offense really jelled the last half of the season, and although we can never become complacent, we certainly feel we're on the right track in that phase of the game. The defense will undergo the most change this year in all probability. We want to utilize much more zone coverages in our defensive plans.

"The player attitude is an area in which we place a great deal of emphasis. We feel we made progress in this department, but the change to a completely positive attitude is not finished.

"We are also very aware of the fact that nearly one-third of our squad as it stood at the end of the season was not with us in camp at Pomona last summer. We should be able to get away to a much faster start this year, and hope to get all of the experimenting out of the way early so when the league season opens, the Denver Broncos will be a team with which to be reckoned."

Gerald H. Phipps

Chairman of the Board

With nearly 27 years of participation in the Denver sports scene, Gerald H. Phipps has seen the Rocky Mountain area receive major league sports status.

In 1947, he became part of the organization that brought the Denver Bears here as members of the old Western League. The Bears, during the years that immediately followed that move, set minor league baseball attendance records that stood unchallenged for many years.

In 1961, one year after big league professional football had arrived in the form of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League, Phipps became a major owner and assumed duties as board chairman.

Four years later, he and his brother, Allan, became virtually the sole owners of the club.

Phipps, 58, is a member of the Denver Country Club, the Denver Athletic Club, Denver Club, Cherry Hills Country Club, Rolling Hills Country Club, Broadmoor Golf Club of Colorado Springs, and the Williams Club of New York.

He was born March 4, 1915, in Denver to Lawrence C. and Margaret Rogers Phipps and received his bachelor's degree from Williams College in 1936.

He was employed by the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad from then until he entered the Navy as an Ensign in May, 1942.

Following his separation from the service in 1945, he was employed by a general contracting firm in Denver until 1952, when he formed his present company, Gerald H. Phipps, Inc. In 1958, he was elected vice-president and treasurer of California Electric Power Co. and when that company merged with Southern California Edison Company late in 1963, he was named a director of the latter. He is a past president of the Associated Building Contractors of Colorado, Inc., a director and member of the Executive Committee of The First National Bank of Denver and a director of The First National Bancorporation, Western Federal Savings and Loan Association, Rio Grande Industries, and the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad. He is also a trustee of Colorado College.

Phipps was married in New York City on September 24, 1937, to the former Janet Alice Smith. They have three daughters.

Allan R. Phipps

President

Allan R. Phipps, President of the Broncos, has been an active member of the Denver sports and cultural community for a number of years.

At Williams College, where he received his bachelor's degree, he was a member of the tennis and swimming teams.

Phipps, 60, is also a partner in the law firm of Hughes & Dorsey; active in key non-candidate roles in the Republican party, including a stint as chairman of the GOP State Finance Committee, and serves on the governing boards of numerous organizations.

His posts include those of President of the Denver Museum of Natural History and Acting Director, and Trustee of the University of Denver, of the Denver Museum of Natural History, of the Denver Symphony Society and of the Graland Country Day School.

Phipps was Alumni Trustee of Williams College and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Winter Park Recreational Association and of the Board of Managers of St. Luke's Hospital in Denver.

In addition to his bachelor's degree from Williams in 1934, he received a degree in Jurisprudence from Oxford University in 1936 and a law degree from the University of Denver in 1937.

Phipps is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He served in World War II as a Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve, in the Pacific Theater.

He is a director of Cherry Creek National Bank, South Denver National Bank, Belcaro Realty Investment Company, Highlander Hotel Corporation, and Van Schaack Corporation.

Phipps was admitted to the Colorado bar in 1938 and joined Hughes & Dorsey in 1946.

He is married to the former Clara Mitchell Van Schaack, and has two sons and a daughter.

John Ralston

General Manager-
Head Coach

When John Ralston transferred his coaching responsibilities from Stanford to the Denver Broncos in 1972, a positive approach accompanied him.

And that positive approach helped Denver to make progress last season. The Broncos were a team that got better with each week and finished strongly by winning the final two games of the season—a feat never before accomplished by a Denver team.

A 5-9 record is not that impressive, and Ralston already has plans to turn that mark around this year, but the performance was good enough for the Broncos to escape a fourth place finish in the AFC Western Division for the first time since 1962.

Ralston came to the Broncos January 5, 1972 from Stanford fresh from his second consecutive Rose Bowl victory over nationally ranked Big Ten representatives, Ohio State and Michigan, respectively.

The 1972 conclusion climaxed an illustrious coaching career at Stanford that began on January 18, 1963 when Ralston was named to take over that head coaching job. In nine seasons at the Stanford helm, Ralston captured two Pacific Eight titles, compiled an impressive 54-36-3 record, and reeled off eight straight winning campaigns.

But the winning tradition was nothing unusual for Ralston, who went to Stanford from Utah State University. At Utah State, John recorded a four-year mark of 31-11-1, as the Aggies were co-champions of the Skyline Conference in two of those years and played in the Sun and Gotham Bowls.

Ralston also was head coach of the West team in the 1965, 1966 and 1969 Shrine games. But his outside activities did not stop there. He has coached at the Hula Bowl, served on the Peace Corps' 21-man Athletic Committee, officiated at several clinics, and fills his off-season calendar with countless speaking engagements.

After first gaining coaching experience as a student assistant in spring practice at California in 1951, Ralston served as an assistant at Mount Diablo High School in Concord, Calif. from 1951 to 1952. John then was appointed head coach at San Lorenzo High School in 1953 and remained there for two years. In 1956 he returned to California and served through 1958 as an assistant coach in various areas.

Born in Oakland, Calif., April 26, 1927, Ralston attended elementary and high schools in Norway, Mich. John served two and one-half years with the U.S. Marine Corps during and after World War II, before entering the University of California at Berkeley, where he graduated in 1951. Ralston played linebacker on two of Cal's Rose Bowl teams.

Ralston and his wife, Patty, were married in 1951, and they are the parents of three children.

Joe Collier

Defensive
Coordinator

In his first move in putting together an assistant coaching staff, John Ralston hired Joe Collier as the Broncos' defensive coordinator. He also handles the cornerbacks and safeties.

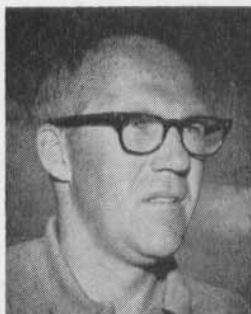

Collier, 41, is the lone holdover from the Lou Saban staff. Joe joined the Broncos in January of 1969, after serving two-plus seasons as head coach of the Buffalo Bills.

Born in Rock Island, Ill., Collier was graduated from Rock Island High. He attended Northwestern University and lettered three years as an end. In 1953, he captained the Wildcats and was named all-Big Ten. He played in the post-season Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games.

Joe was drafted by the New York Giants but elected to bypass pro football as a player. He served in the Army from 1954-56 prior to joining the coaching staff at Western Illinois as a graduate assistant in 1957.

A year later he became a full-time member of the staff, serving under Lou Saban. He moved with Saban to Boston in 1960 and on to Buffalo two years later. Joe was named head coach of the Bills in 1966.

He and his wife, Shirley, have three children; Julie, 15; Lisa, 13; and Joel, 9.

Max Coley

Offensive
Coordinator

To guide the important area of the Bronco's offense, John Ralston named Max Coley offensive coordinator in 1972.

In his first year, Coley's offensive unit upped the TD production from 18 (in 1971) to 38.

Max came from the Pittsburgh Steelers where he was offensive backfield coach for three years. Coley also handles the offensive backfield for Denver.

Max, 45, is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and he split his college career between Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and San Jose State, where he graduated from in 1950.

After coaching stints in the California high school system, and at his alma mater, Coley spent ten years as offensive backfield coach at the University of Oregon before joining the Steelers in 1969.

At Oregon, Max helped develop one of the nation's most productive college offensive units, and during his tenure with the Ducks, they averaged better than 300 yards and three TDs per game.

Coley and his wife, Ann, have four children: Max Lynn, Rick, Debra Ann and Melinda Jane.

Bob Gambold

Linebacker Coach

Bob Gambold, 43, a Ralston aide at Stanford for nine years, is Denver's linebacker coach.

Gambold served as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Stanford, after completing a two-year stint with Tommy Prothro at Oregon State. Bob also has had coaching assignments at Washington State for five years and at Everett (Wash.) Junior College.

A native of Longview, Wash., Gambold is a 1951 graduate of Washington State, where he was a standout quarterback and a varsity basketball player. Following graduation, he served his alma mater as freshman football coach and basketball coach.

Gambold then served two years as a quarterback in the pros with Philadelphia in '53 and Chicago's Cardinals in '54.

Gambold and his wife, Dawn, have four children: Valerie, 21; Robin, 20; Barry, 16; and Victoria, 15.

Richard 'Doc' Urich

Defensive
Line Coach

Guiding the Broncos' defensive line in 1973 is Richard "Doc" Urich. Doc's first year in Denver (1972) saw the Broncos again lead the AFC in QB sackings.

Urich, 44, coached the defensive line in 1971 for the Buffalo Bills, after spending 1969 and 1970 as head football coach at Northern Illinois University. He also is the former head coach at the University of Buffalo.

A 1951 graduate of Miami (O.) University where he was a standout end, Doc counted such grid names as Paul Dietzel, Carmen Cozza, Ara Parseghian and Bo Schembechler among his teammates, and was coached by Sid Gillman and Woody Hayes.

Following graduation, Urich launched his coaching career at Massillon (Ohio) High School before returning to his alma mater. He then joined Parseghian's staff at Northwestern for eight years before the entire staff made the transition to Notre Dame in 1964.

Urich and his wife, Pat, have two children; Cynthia, 21, and Danny, 18.

Jerry Frei

Offensive
Line Coach

After serving five years as head coach at Oregon, Jerry Frei joined the Denver staff as offensive line coach in 1972.

A 1948 graduate of Wisconsin, Jerry joined the Oregon staff and spent 12 years under Len Casanova before being named head coach in 1967. His Duck teams made steady improvements and in 1970 Oregon took second place in the Pacific Eight Conference. He was named UPI "Coach of the Week" twice during 1970 after beating Southern California and Air Force.

After college graduation, Frei, 49, moved to coaching at the high school level in Oregon. In 1952 he entered the college ranks as line coach at Willamette University until 1955 when he joined the Oregon staff.

At Wisconsin, Jerry lettered three years as a lineman, where he played beside such greats as Pat Harder, Dave Schreiner and Elroy Hirsch.

Jerry and his wife, Marion, have five children: David, 25; Judy, 22; Terry, 18; Susan, 14; and Nancy, 11.

Dick Coury

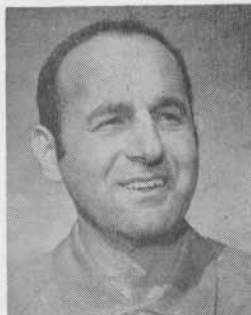

Wide Receiver
Coach

Former Cal State-Fullerton head coach, Dick Coury, 43, will handle the Broncos wide receivers in 1973. Coury came from Cal State-Fullerton after completing three years as its head coach. At Cal State-Fullerton, Coury became the school's first head coach and in 1971 the team recorded a 7-4 record including a victory over Fresno State in the Mercy Bowl.

A 1951 graduate of Notre Dame, Coury launched his coaching career at the high school level in 1953 in Santa Ana, Calif., and in 1965 joined the staff at Southern California where he served three seasons as John McKay's chief defensive aide. During that time, Southern Cal went to three straight Rose Bowl games, and were National Champions in 1967.

After serving a short time with the Pittsburgh Steelers, Coury returned to California to become head coach at Cal State-Fullerton, when the school added football at the intercollegiate level.

Coury and his wife, Bonnie, have seven children: Mike, 18; Richard, 17; Steve, 16; Robert, 15; Cathy, 13; Linda, 11, and Tim, 10.

Myrel Moore

Special Teams
Coach

Myrel Moore, former assistant at the University of California at Berkeley, will coach the Broncos' special teams again in 1973.

Myrel will also assist Jerry Frei in the handling of the offensive line.

Moore, 38, was a member of Ray Willsey's staff at California since 1964. He served Willsey as offensive and defensive coordinator, at different times during his California stay.

He went to Cal-Berkeley from Santa Ana Junior College where he served as head coach in 1963. He was at Santa Ana J.C. since 1959 as an assistant coach.

The youngest member of the Broncos coaching staff is a former All-Conference end and Small-College All-American at Cal-Davis, where he graduated in 1958. He played for the Washington Redskins as a defensive back in 1958.

Myrel and his wife, Jackie, have two children: Michelle Rene, 13, and Michale Damon, 9.

Fred Gehrke

Assistant General Manager
Player Personnel Director

Fred Gehrke, 55, a workhorse for the Bronco organization since January of 1965, has added the title of assistant general manager to his player personnel duties.

A former star football player at Utah, Gehrke concluded his active playing career in 1950 with the L.A. Rams, after being an all-pro with the world-champion Cleveland Rams in 1945.

He started his pro career with the Rams in 1940 and then played with the Los Angeles Bulldogs in the wartime Pacific Coast League from 1941 through 1944.

During that time he also worked in the Engineering Design Division of the Northrup Aircraft Co. A technical artist, he is responsible for the helmet design presently worn by the Los Angeles Rams. He received the first Dan Reeves award from the Hall of Fame in 1972 for his helmet design idea. Previously he was an outstanding scholar-athlete at Utah in 1937, 1938 and 1939. Also, he held the record in the javelin and was the conference diving champion for 3 years.

Gehrke remained close to the game after his retirement and did color commentary with Tom Harmon on radio and television football broadcasts for 13 years. Gehrke has five children — four daughters and a son. Fred and his wife, Jean, live in Arvada.

Carroll Hardy

Director of Scouting

Carroll Hardy, 40, assumed the duties of Director of Scouting in June of 1970. He is responsible for assessing the talent of hundreds of college athletes that become eligible for the pros each year, and deciding which of them can play football professionally.

Hardy has long been considered one of the greatest athletes produced by Colorado since winning a modern record of 10 letters at the University of Colorado (four each in football and baseball and two in track.)

After his graduation from the U. of Colorado in 1955 with a degree in education, Carroll signed a baseball contract with the Cleveland Indians and was drafted in the third round by football's San Francisco 49ers, and played that year as a wide receiver and a running back.

The '56 and '57 seasons were spent in the Army, but he returned to Cleveland in 1958 and was used as an outfielder until 1960 when he was traded to the Red Sox. In 1961 Carroll became the only man ever to pinch hit for Ted Williams.

The year 1963 found Hardy with the expansion Houston Colt 45's, where he remained until 1965 when he was traded to Minnesota. During the fall of '65 he became associated with the Broncos as a scout.

In 1969 Carroll became assistant ticket manager for the Broncos and held the position until being named to his new post. Hardy and his wife, Janice, were married in 1956 and have three children—Jay, 16; Jill, 15, and Lisa, 12. They reside in Boulder.

Allen Hurst

Trainer

The duties of trainer fall on the shoulders of Allen Hurst, a man who has been in the business since he was 15.

Hurst, 32, was born in Houston, Texas, and took up training in his freshman year in high school. After his graduation in 1959, he accepted a four-year scholarship to train at Texas Christian University.

During his stint as student trainer at TCU, he commuted to Houston where he was on the staff of the Oilers. While with the Oilers training staff, Houston played in the AFL Championship Games of 1960, 1961, and 1962.

He was graduated from TCU in 1963 with a degree in physical education and a minor in biology. He then joined the Broncos and has been in the post of head trainer since.

Allen and his wife, Patsy, were married in 1963 and live in Lakewood. They are parents of sons Gregory, 2, and Justin, 1.

Hurst is assisted by Dave Kendall, 30, former trainer at the University of Pacific.

Larry Elliott

Equipment Manager

Responsible for handling the large amount of equipment needed by a professional football team is Larry Elliott, 36.

Larry began his career in athletics at the age of 13 when his parents moved the family to Colorado. At St. Mary's High School in Colorado Springs, he won a total of 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. A number of scholarship offers in both football and baseball followed his graduation in 1955, but Larry opted for the Air Force.

During his four years in the service at such spots as Hawaii, Guam, The Philippines, Japan and Tripoli, athletics were not forgotten. While stationed at Tripoli's Wheelus Air Force Base he won All-European honors as a third baseman.

Following his discharge from the service, Elliott worked as an assistant manager of a finance company, bookkeeper and as assistant athletic equipment manager for the Air Force Academy. He was recommended for the Bronco position in 1965 by Air Force Academy equipment manager Artus Smith; a position he has held since.

Elliott and his wife, Margaret, who reside in Lakewood, were married in 1959 and have five children—Timothy, 13; Troy, 11; Thomas, 9; Herry, 6, and Tammie, 4.

He is helped by Ronnie Bill, 34, assistant to Elliott since 1969.

Position-By-Position

GENERAL

While gaining a reputation as a cautious trader and one not prone to making wholesale changes, Head Coach and General Manager John Ralston, in a subtle manner, instituted more roster changes in his rookie season than most fans realize. In fact, for the 1972 finale, the Bronco roster of 40 players included 12 who had not been with the team when training camp opened. Ralston has indicated that this upgrading of personnel will continue, although at an obviously slower pace. The offense was revitalized behind the quarterbacking of veteran Charley Johnson, and now the defense will get the lion's share of attention as Ralston's staff much more confident with one year behind it, will work on shoring up the defense which allowed far too many touchdowns in 1972 to enable Denver to be a contender.

There is a good blend of veteran players and youth on the '73 squad, and the 1973 draft appears to have brought more bona fide pro candidates into camp than in the past several years.

THE OFFENSE

Although Ralston and his offensive aides will never be satisfied short of perfection, the Bronco offense came through as advertised . . . diverse, balanced, unpredictable and potent. The 38 touchdowns, 17 rushing, 19 passing, and two on returns, prove the point after a total TD production of 18 in 1971. The offensive line played solidly through the last half of the season, new receivers Rod Sherman and Haven Moses excelled, and Floyd Little was again superb, but then Bronco fans will quickly add he is always superb. The addition of number one draft choice Otis Armstrong should even boost an already solid running game.

QUARTERBACKS

What a difference a year makes! For the first time in the memories of most Bronco fans, Denver has a starting quarterback going into the season. CHARLEY JOHNSON, heading into his 13th pro season, set a Denver single season accuracy record in passing after taking over as the starter in the sixth game. In fact, that sixth game was against Oakland, the then-leading pass defense team in the NFL. Charley hit 20 of 28 for 361 yards in a magnificent debut won by Denver. Charley claims that this will be the first year in recent history he hasn't been recovering from surgery and is looking forward to a banner season. STEVE RAMSEY, who started five games is still very much a factor and has a bright future. MIKE ERNST, who spent his rookie season on the taxi squad, has an exceptionally strong arm and could make his presence felt. JOHN HUFNAGEL, a 14th round draft choice from Penn State, will be the prime rookie candidate.

RUNNING BACKS

The incomparable FLOYD LITTLE returns for his 7th season, although he is coming off knee surgery for the first time in his pro career. Playing the final two games of 1972 with torn knee cartilage, and not playing the part of the workhorse as in the past, Floyd still rushed for 859 yards last season. The big improvement in Floyd's statistics showed in the touchdown department as he set a Bronco single season record with 13, 9 rushing and 4 as a receiver. In fact, he caught 28 passes for 366 yards, both figures being personal season highs. BOBBY ANDERSON is also coming off knee surgery, but was replaced very adequately last season by JOE DAWKINS, who gained 243 yards on 56 carries as a late season starter. Dawkins also averaged over 13 yards per catch on 18 receptions and just may not yield his starting status. Veteran FRAN LYNCH enjoyed another fine season, averaging just under 5 yards a carry in a reserve role. OTIS ARMSTRONG, holder of most Purdue and Big Ten rushing records, and the Broncos' first round draft choice, wears the "can't miss" label, and gives Ralston several combinations of backs he can use. Armstrong, with a 4.4 speed will be the team's fleetest player and will also see kickoff and punt return duty. ED WHITE (13b) and OLIVER ROSS (16a) are other draftee running backs.

WIDE RECEIVERS

A position that went from being a problem area early last year to a very adequately manned position by the end of the '72 season . . . and, in fact, maybe a plus. Ralston dealt for veterans ROD SHERMAN and HAVEN MOSES in 1972, with Sherman responding by leading the team in receiving with 38 catches for 661 yards. Moses, who became a late season starter when JERRY SIMMONS injured a shoulder, responded with five touchdown catches in the last three games. Moses has the size to play the bump-and-run and has good outside speed. Simmons was enjoying his best year as a pro when he was injured, and should battle Sherman and Moses for a starting job. Returning squadmen include JIM KRIEG, TONY HARRIS, and MATT MASLOWSKI. They will battle with rookie AL MARSHALL, a 10th round choice from Boise State. Rookie free agent MARVIN FRAZIER from Cheyney (Pa.) St. was impressive in the March camp. Punter-wide receiver BILL VAN HEUSEN, a five-year veteran, can't be overlooked.

TIGHT ENDS

Although small in numbers, this is probably one of the best fortified positions on the team. Veteran BILLY MASTERS and 2nd year man RILEY ODOMS alternated as "messengers" last season. Odoms was Denver's first-round draft choice last year and was rated about even with Masters with the latter owning a distinct advantage in experience. Both played well with Masters being the team's third leading receiver with 25 catches for 393 yards. Odoms caught 21 for a fine 15.2-yard average. KEN MORGAN, drafted in the 17th round will vie for a spot on the roster.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Another area that showed great improvement throughout the 1972 season, despite injury. The tackle spots will be manned by veterans MIKE CURRENT (who has started 70 consecutive games at right tackle) and MARV MONTGOMERY, a 3rd year man whom many consider one of the brightest prospects in the NFL. At guards, veterans LARRON JACKSON, TOMMY LYONS, MIKE SCHNITKER and GEORGE GOEDDEKE can play in almost any combination. Goeddeke is coming off knee surgery which sidelined him for 12 games a year ago. Goeddeke is also the most versatile of the linemen, being able to step in at guard, center or tackle. Veterans LARRY KAMINSKI and BOBBY MAPLES are proven centers, with Maples being a fine long snapper. Veterans RICK SHARP and BILL COTTRELL also return and will duel draftees PAUL HOWARD (3a), MIKE ASKEA (7a), for guard and tackle slots while KEN MUHLBEIER (16b) is the only drafted center. If everyone stays healthy the Denver offensive line could become one of the better units in the AFC, although continued improvement in pass protection will be in order. Also, Ralston will need full recuperation by Goeddeke, Lyons, Schnitker, and Jackson, all of whom have had knee surgery in the last year.

DEFENSE

Long the trump card in the Denver deck, the defense will probably undergo some change this season. Gone are long-time pillars Rich Jackson and Dave Costa, but there is still a fine nucleus around which to build. The defense did allow too many touchdowns according to the coach's as-essment, but the front four again led the AFC in quarter-back sacks, and Denver ranked 2nd in the conference in defending the rush.

DEFENSIVE LINE

There are definitely two All-pro candidates playing in the defensive line. Tackle and co-captain PAUL SMITH was a pro bowl performer last year, and end LYLE ALZADO wasn't far off the pace. The two started every game for the Broncos and teamed with PETE DURANKO, TOM DOMRES and JOHN HOFFMAN in getting to the enemy quarterbacks 41 times, tops in the AFC. All are back, although Domres had knee surgery, as did veterans JERRY INMAN and WALT BARNES who should be ready to go. Denver's 2nd round draft choice BARNEY CHAVOUS rates a good chance at cracking the lineup as does JOHN WOOD (3b). JOHN GRANT (7b), ELTON BROWN (11), and ED SMITH (13a) are all big strong candidates who, along with returning squadman FEST COTTON, should drum up some fierce competition in training camp.

LINEBACKERS

Unquestionably somewhat of a problem area, although a position that showed promise at times in the last half of the 1972 season. Rookie TOM GRAHAM came on to win the middle backer job midway through the year and was responsible for many resounding collisions, a pair of interceptions and good hustle which offset the usual first year errors. Many feel Graham will be a great one. Veterans CHIP MYRTLE, FRED FORSBERG, BOB GEDDES, KEN CRITER and MIKE SIMONE also return to lend considerable experience to the group and the expected return of DON PARISH will be a big boost. Vet CARL WINFREY, obtained via trade from Pittsburgh in May, is also in the picture. TOM JACKSON, 4th round draftee, is considered a fine prospect, and joins JIM O'MALLEY (12) as the drafted candidates.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

A good, veteran group provides an excellent nucleus around which Ralston hopes to reshape his defense. With more emphasis on zone defense, some minor shuffling of positions within the group could occur. BILL THOMPSON, LEROY MITCHELL and CHARLES GREER are all exceptional tacklers and Ralston feels all can make the transition easily. Many feel that Thompson is ready to establish himself as one of the premier defenders in the NFL. Returnees RANDY MONTGOMERY, STEVE PREECE and DENNIS PETE also figure into the plans, and there is a good influx of young players including draftees CHARLES McTERRY (5th), LYLE BLACKWOOD (9th) and CALVIN JONES (15).

PLACE KICKING

JIM TURNER . . . 8th leading career scorer in NFL history. It doesn't take many adjectives to convince anyone that Bronco kicking is in great hands. Jim booted 97 points last season to boost his career total to 887, passing Don Hutson and Bobby Walston along the way from 10th to 8th. He also has the longest consecutive string of PATs of any active player with 171 straight. Perhaps the most consistent kicker in the game, Jim has connected 198 times in 323 field goal attempts for a 61.3 completion percentage. Also handles kickoffs, with PAUL SMITH his backup. Turner had surgery on his big toe on kicking foot during off-season.

PUNTING

Veteran BILL VAN HEUSEN is the Bronco punter, and through six seasons, no one has taken the job away from him. Although he went through his seventh knee operation a year ago, Bill still averaged 40.1 yards on 60 punts. That's a good mark, but lowered his career average to 42.5 on 336 punts.

PRO: What a difference Charley Johnson made with the Bronco offense last season. The team, for instance, went from only 18 TDs in 1971 to 38 (mostly under Charley's guidance) in 1972. Biggest game in 1972 had to be against Oakland on the West Coast when Charley completed 20 of 28 passes for 361 yards and two TDs in Broncos 30-23 victory. Took over part way through preceding week's game vs. Minnesota to start Denver comeback against Vikings which fell just short of win. Set Bronco single season percent-

FLOYD LITTLE Running Back

Birthdate—July 4, 1942
Birthplace—New Haven, Conn.
Residence—Denver, Colo.
How Acquired—
Draft Choice #1, 1967
College—Syracuse
Height—5-10
Weight—196
Year with Broncos—7th

PRO: Despite a knee injury sustained last year which required post season surgery, Floyd added 859 yards rushing to his career plus another 366 in the reception dept., but the main accomplishment of Little in 1972 was setting a new TD season mark for Denver with 13. It broke Lionel Taylor's long-standing mark of 12. Floyd in 1971 lead the NFL in rushing with 1,133 yards and captured his second straight AFC rushing crown. Voted the outstanding back in professional football by the Pro Football Writers' Association that year. Participated in the Pro Bowl in 1971 and 1972. The first number one draft choice ever signed by the Broncos (1967). He has done it all for Denver . . . rushing, receiving, returning punts and kickoffs. Has now played in 42 consecutive games after being plagued with injuries during his first five seasons. Holds numerous Bronco records, most notable being most rushing plays in career (1143 in 6 seasons), most rushing yards in career (4587), best average gain per rush in one season (4.9 in '69), most rushing yards in one season (1,133, in '71), and most rushing yards in one game (166 vs. Cincinnati, Oct. 19, 1969). Was leading rusher in the AFL in '69 until sidelined with knee injury. Finished fifth in the league that year although he missed six full games. In '68, he was only player in the AFL to rank in the top ten in three major departments . . . rushing, punt and kickoff returns. Floyd Little Day was held Oct. 29, 1972, at Mile High Stadium.

COLLEGE: College football's first bona fide three-time All-America since Doak Walker . . . Followed in the footsteps of Jim Brown and the late Ernie Davis as Syracuse's left half-back, and shattered most of the records established by the two former Orange greats . . . In three seasons at Syracuse, Floyd moved the ball almost 5,000 yards via the various modes of attack. He rushed for 2,704 yards, returned punts for 845 yards, brought back kickoffs 797 yards and passed for 19 yards—for a grand total of 4,947 yards . . . Little scored in 22 of the 30 regular season games he played in at Syracuse. His top effort was five TDs in a game (Kansas) as a sophomore. His multiple scoring feats also included two four-touchdown games and four three-TD games . . . The bandy-legged back rushed for 100 or more yards 13 times during his college career . . . As a senior, he led the Orangemen to a Gator Bowl berth . . . Floyd teamed with Boston Patriots star Jim Nance in the Orange backfield as a soph in 1964, and the twosome sparked Syracuse to a spot in the Sugar Bowl . . . Floyd ran the 100 in 9.7 in both high school (Hillhouse High in New Haven) and prep school (Bordentown, N. J. Military Academy) . . . Rushed for 216 yards from scrimmage in the Gator Bowl game . . . Played in both the Coaches Assn. All-America game in Atlanta and the College All-Star game in Chicago.

PERSONAL: Married (Joyce). History and public relations major. Toured Vietnam early in 1970 with pro football group. Participant in NFL Drug Abuse program. Member of 1,000-Yard Club. Works closely with several Denver youth groups. Opened custom-tailoring store in Denver during past off-season with Raiders' Nemiah Wilson.
