THE OAKLAND RAIDERS FACILITY

The Oakland Raiders permanent facility sits on approximately 13 acres in the Harbor Bay Business and Research Park in Alameda. The state-of-the-art facility is located just west of the Oakland International Airport, about one mile from the team's former training facility on Doolittle Drive in Oakland and about three miles from McAfee Coliseum.

The 100,000-square foot facility houses the team's executive and administrative offices as well as coaches offices, player meeting rooms, locker rooms, training facility, television and radio studios and media center. Three full-sized practice fields are located on the property. The Silver and Black moved football and business operations into the facility in mid-June 1996 and in 1997, major improvements and renovations were made at the facility to suit the team's present needs. In 2002, the Raiders installed FieldTurf, an all-weather, state-of-the-art synthetic turf.

McAfee COLISEUM

Oakland Raiders home games are played at McAfee Coliseum in Oakland. The Coliseum opened on Sept. 18, 1966 with the Raiders hosting the Kansas City Chiefs. The Coliseum, located three miles from Oakland International Airport, was built by the City of Oakland and the County of Alameda.

The all-time Coliseum record for football attendance is 62,748 fans on Jan. 14, 2001, when the Raiders hosted the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC Championship Game.

The Coliseum underwent a major renovation that began during the Raiders 1995 season. The remodeled Coliseum's capacity is now 63,132, including added luxury suites, club levels, two new club lounges, new locker rooms, remodeled press box, new video scoreboards and additional amenities. The playing surface is natural grass. Nearly 100 million people have passed through the turnstiles of the Coliseum, which rests on 120 acres. Originally known as the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, it was re-named Network Associates Coliseum in October, 1998, then was re-named McAfee Coliseum in time for the 2005 Raiders season.

THE GREATNESS OF THE RAIDERS

The Raiders — who began play in the American Football League in 1960, enter their 47th year of professional football competition, including the last 36 as a member of the National Football League.

In five memorable decades — the 1960s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the 2000s — the Raiders have been the most dominant team in professional football since Al Davis first pledged in 1963 to build the finest organization in pro sports.

During these Decades of Dominance, the Raiders have won an American Football League Championship, four American Football Conference Championships, three World Championships of Professional Football, participated in five Super Bowls, played in 14 Championship games, won or tied for 17 Division Championships, had 21 playoff seasons, finished 33 seasons at .500 or better and played in 40 postseason games.

Pro Football's Dynamic Organization placed first in the AFC West in 2000, 2001 and 2002 despite playing among the toughest schedules in the NFL in each of those seasons. With their appearance in Super Bowl XXXVII, the Raiders became the only NFL team to play in Super Bowls in four different decades.

The Raiders are the only team to have been in Super Bowls in the '60s, the '70s, the '80s and the 2000s and have won the most games of any original American Football League franchise.

The Silver and Black are the only American Football Conference team — and one of just three NFL teams — to play in Championship Games in each of the last five decades.

The Raiders are one of only three original American Football League teams to have won a Super Bowl since 1969 and have already done so three times. The Raiders are one of only three AFC teams to have won two Super Bowls since 1980.

In road games, the Raiders have the best record in pro football at 174-164-8 and are one of only three NFL teams to post a winning record away from home. In their five Super Bowl appearances, the Raiders have been led by four different head coaches and started four different quarterbacks.

Since 1963, when Al Davis first took over the failing Oakland franchise that had struggled to win only nine of 42 league games in the initial three seasons of the new American Football League and pledged to build the finest organization in sports, the Raiders have totally dominated professional football in terms of consistent victory. During those memorable 43 years in Oakland and Los Angeles, the Raiders have won 385 league games, tied 11 and lost only 254. The Raiders continue to stand alone atop the NFL for this period with their winning percentage of .602 since 1963.

Commitment to Excellence has never been an idle phrase to those who have proudly represented the Raider organization during the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the new millennium as shown by their domination of pro football as the most successful organization for these decades.

TOP PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL RECORDS

1963-2005

Team	Winning Percentage
1. OAKLAND RAIDERS	.602
2. Miami Dolphins (since 1966)	.599
3. Dallas Cowboys	.592

Fifteen of the great players who proudly wore the Silver and Black, as well as owner-leader Al Davis and this year legendary head coach John Madden, have been enshrined in the Professional Football Hall of Fame. The Raiders have also produced five Pro Coaches of the Year. In addition, 56 Pro Bowl players have made 164 Pro Bowl appearances representing the Silver and Black. In 1970, as the Raiders began their second decade of play, the merger between the AFL and NFL became a reality on the field. In the 1970 through 2005 period of interconference play, the Raiders have compiled a remarkable 85-48-1 record against present NFC rivals.

Another innovation came to professional football in 1970 — Monday Night Football. The Raiders total domination of this prime-time television series has seen the Silver and Black build an incredible 36-21-1 record in Monday night play. In the 36 years of this series, the Raiders are 16-4-0 in Monday Night Football games at home.

For their five decades — the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the 2000s — the Raiders have had the greatest players, the greatest coaches, the greatest plays and participated in the greatest games in the annals of professional sports.

Challengers to Raider domination of professional football will arise as they have in the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the new millennium. The Raider organization will continue to meet these challenges. The past has been glorious, but THE TRUE GREATNESS OF THE RAIDERS WILL CONTINUE IN ITS FUTURE.

RAIDERS OWNERS

AL DAVIS

An unyielding total commitment to excellence has marked the three-time World Champion Raiders monumental rise during the last 43 years to the very top of the professional sports world. During these decades of destiny, the Raiders battled their way to the best winning percentage in professional football.

In these memorable 43 years, the Raiders have had 28 winning seasons, including 16 in a row from 1965 through the 1980 World Championship season. In 33 of those seasons, the Raiders have earned a record of .500 or better.

Al Davis' six-decade professional football story, from assistant coach of the Chargers, to head coach and general manager of the Raiders, to Commissioner of the American Football League and finally to principal owner and president of the general partner of the organization with pro football's best winning percentage — The Oakland Raiders — is a standard that no one in the history of professional football can match for winning and excellence.

In April 1966, the then 36-year-old Davis, head coach and general manager of the Raiders, became Commissioner of the American Football League. This was a post he accepted reluctantly, for first and foremost, Al Davis was a football coach, and knew that assuming the Commissionership would in all probability mean an end to his coaching career.

But AFL owners, in their battle with the rival National Football League, prevailed on Davis to accept the position. He was described by AFL president and Buffalo Bills owner Ralph Wilson as "a coaching genius and astute administrator."

Just eight weeks later, when pro football's two major leagues put an end to their six-year war, Davis was acclaimed nationally as the driving force who brought the leagues to merge. In 1969, he was once again a prime force in the dramatic realignment of professional football when two, 13-team conferences — the AFC and NFC — were formed for 1970.

As a member of the NFL Management Council's Executive Committee, Davis has been a major factor in achieving collective bargaining agreements with the players.

Al Davis first came to the Raiders in January 1963, dedicated to rescuing the faltering Oakland franchise and building the finest organization in professional sports. Just 33, Davis was the youngest man in pro football to hold the demanding dual positions of head coach and general manager.

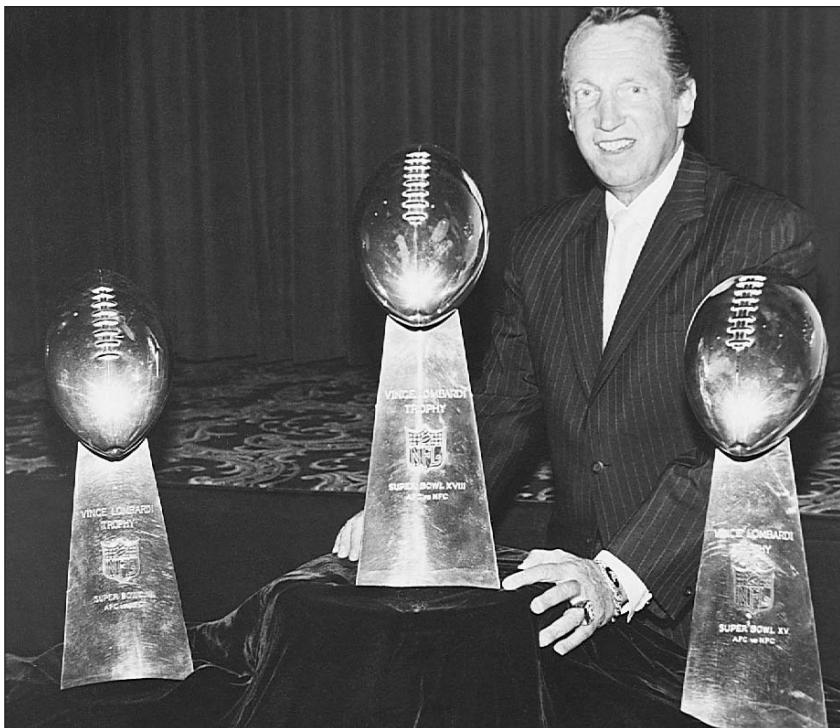

But Davis already possessed 14 years coaching experience. He had been tabbed a "young coaching genius" by Sports Illustrated and "the most inventive mind in the country" by Scholastic Coach magazine.

The Raiders — "picked to finish dead last" — thundered to a 10-4 record and just missed the Division Championship. In 1963, Davis was named Pro Football Coach of the Year.

Perhaps his most singular honor is having made a record nine presentations of inductees to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The nine great enshrinees to have selected Al Davis to make the presentation speeches on their behalf are Lance Alworth, Jim Otto, George Blanda, Willie Brown, Gene Upshaw, Fred Biletnikoff, Art Shell, Ted Hendricks and now leading television football analyst, John Madden.

Davis himself became enshrined on Aug. 1, 1992 when he was presented for induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame by Madden.

In May of 1991, Al Davis became the very first recipient of the NFL Players Association's Retired Players Award of Excellence "for his contributions to the men who played the game."

Born July 4, 1929, Al Davis was raised in Brockton, Mass. and moved at an early age to Brooklyn, N.Y. He attended Wittenberg College and Syracuse University, earning a degree in English while participating in football, basketball and baseball.

Al Davis received a Letterman of Distinction Award from Syracuse University. In March of 1998, Davis was inducted into the NFL Alumni's "Order of the Leather Helmet," presented annually to "Individuals who have made significant contributions to the game of professional football."

On Dec. 29, 1999, the Oakland Tribune and the Alameda Newspaper Group named Al Davis as the Bay Area's most significant sports figure of the 20th Century on a list that included such greats as Joe Montana, Willie Mays, Joe DiMaggio and Bill Russell. The Orange Bowl inducted Davis into its Hall of Fame in 2001.

In 1950, Davis was named line coach at Adelphi College in New York. He then went into the Army, being assigned as head football coach at Ft. Belvoir, Va. There he molded a national power service team and capped one season by defeating the University of Maryland, National Collegiate Champions, in a squad game.

Davis next served on the staff of the NFL's Baltimore Colts in 1954, at age 24, concentrating on player personnel work. During 1955-56, he was line coach and chief recruiter at The Citadel. He then spent three years at the University of Southern California as line coach.

In 1960, head coach Sid Gillman hired Davis as offensive end coach of the newly formed Los Angeles Chargers. After two Division Championships in just three years there, it was on to meet the challenges with the Raiders of Oakland in 1963.

Based on personal achievement, team achievement and contributions to the game, no one has had a more profound and lasting impact on professional football. In recognition of his status in pro football annals, NFL Films produced a film entitled, "AL DAVIS, NO. 1 FOR ALL TIME."

SUPER BOWL RINGS

The Raiders World Championship rings — awarded to players, coaches, staff and owners after the dominating victories in Super Bowl XI, Super Bowl XV and Super Bowl XVIII — are renowned as the most memorable pieces of championship team jewelry ever produced.

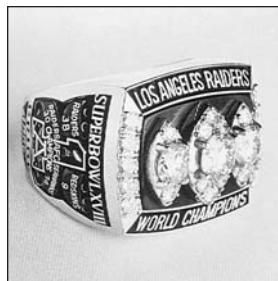

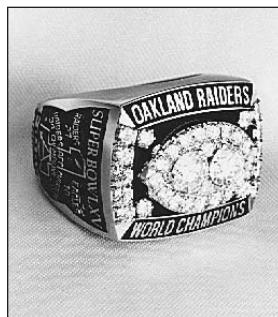

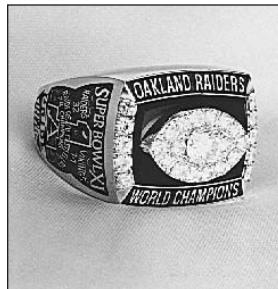

The rings were produced by Lenox Awards of St. Charles, Ill., whose staff developed creative concepts incorporating the explicit guidelines established by the Raiders — white gold, a raised football-shaped crest of diamonds on a black surface and a design based on "massive excellence" that would recognize these crowning achievements by the Raider organization.

The Super Bowl XVIII ring design features three large diamonds to represent the three World Championships won within eight years, each centered in a football-shaped crest plus an additional 20, five-point diamonds.

The ring was developed by Raider Managing General Partner Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Executive Assistant Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Marzullo.

The Super Bowl XV ring design, featuring two large center diamonds to symbolize the two World Championships won within five years and 33, five-point diamonds on the ring face, was developed by Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Brasher.

RAIDERS COACHES

ART SHELL

Head Coach

The Oakland Raiders named Art Shell as the team's head coach on Feb. 11, 2006. The 59-year-old Shell, who coached the Silver and Black to a 54-38 record from 1989-94, becomes the 15th head coach in Raiders history and is the first person to hold the post two different times.

A member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame following an illustrious career as an offensive lineman for the Raiders, Shell's .587 career winning percentage is the highest of any coach hired this offseason. His 54 career victories are more than any other new coach.

He guided The Team of the Decades to the playoffs three times, compiling a 2-3 record in postseason action and advancing to the AFC Championship Game in 1990, his first full season as head coach of the Silver and Black.

Shell first became head coach on Oct. 3, 1989, four games into the season, making him the first African-American head coach in the NFL. He took over a team that had struggled to a 1-3 start and led them to a 7-5 record in the final 12 games of the year, missing the playoffs by only one game.

In 1990, Shell's first full season as head coach, the Raiders went 12-4, capturing the AFC Western Division crown for the first time in five years. Shell was named Coach of the Year following that season, becoming the fifth Raiders head coach to be so honored. Shell coached the AFC squad to victory in the Pro Bowl following the 1990 season and in the process, became the first former Pro Bowl player to coach a Pro Bowl-winning team.

In 1991, the former great Raider offensive tackle and assistant coach led the Silver and Black to the playoffs for the 17th time in the Raiders distinguished history with a 9-7-0 record, qualifying for an AFC Wild Card berth. After the 1991 season, he coached the winning team in the Senior Bowl.

The Raiders posted a 7-9-0 record in 1992 in the highly competitive AFC West, the only time a Shell-coached squad didn't post a .500 or better record.

The underdog 1993 Raiders — picked to finish near the bottom in the preseason polls — posted an impressive 10-6-0 record and won their American Football Conference Wild Card Playoff Game. Under Shell in 1993, the Raiders advanced to the AFC Divisional Playoffs, losing by only six points on the road in frozen Buffalo to the eventual AFC Champion Bills.

Shell's 1994 Raiders went 9-7, barely missing the playoffs for only the second time in Shell's five full seasons as the Raiders field general.

Shell played in eight Pro Bowls in a 15-year career that spanned the course of three decades, the second-most by any Raider, and was an All-Pro in 1973, 1974 and 1977. He played in 207 games, the fourth-most in team history. Shell also played in 23 playoff games, including Super Bowls XI and XV.

The Raiders third round selection in 1968 was credited for a near-perfect performance in Super Bowl XI against Minnesota, preventing Jim Marshall, the Vikings star defensive end, from recording any tackles as the Raiders captured their first World Championship.

Shell was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Aug. 5, 1989, becoming the sixth Raider to be enshrined. After the conclusion of his illustrious playing career in 1982, Shell joined the Raiders coaching staff as an assistant under Tom Flores and helped coach the team to victory in Super Bowl XVIII. He was named offensive line coach in 1984 and remained in that position until his promotion to head coach in 1989.

Shell coached the offensive line for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1995-96 and for the Atlanta Falcons from 1997-00. As an assistant with Atlanta in 1998, Shell helped coach the Falcons to the National Football Conference title and a berth in Super Bowl XXXIII.

For five years before returning to the Raiders sidelines as head coach in 2006, Shell worked in the NFL office as the senior vice president for football operations and development. He has also served on the U.S.A. Football Board of Directors.

Arthur Shell Jr. was born Nov. 26, 1946 in Charleston, S.C. He attended Bonds-Wilson High School in North Charleston, where he was an all-state center and defensive tackle on the football team and an all-state center on the school's basketball team. He was named to the South Carolina Hall of Fame in 1990.

He attended Maryland State College (now Maryland Eastern-Shore) and graduated in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree in Industrial Arts. At Maryland State, he was a three-time all-conference tackle on offense and defense and an All-America selection in 1966 and 1967. He also lettered two seasons in basketball.

The Shell family includes wife Janice and sons Arthur III and Christopher.

TOM WALSH

Offensive Coordinator

Tom Walsh is in his second stint with the Raiders, having previously served as an assistant with the Silver and Black from 1982-94. Walsh had a seven-year run year as a football analyst for the Westwood One NCAA Football Game of the Week. In addition, he provided game analysis of CBS/Westwood One Radio NFL broadcasts and contributed football insight weekly as a guest on sports talk shows and web sites throughout the country. Walsh co-hosted the "SEC Insider" on the Alabama Radio Network and co-anchored the weekly "Crimson Connection" radio show. He also was an offseason consultant to college and professional football personnel in addition to providing on-field technique and fundamentals sessions. Besides regular season action, he has broadcast the 1995 SEC Championship Game (Florida vs. Arkansas); the 1996 Big-12 Championship Game (Nebraska vs. Texas); the 1997 WAC Championship Game (New Mexico vs. Colorado State); the 2000 Big-12 Championship Game (Oklahoma vs. Kansas State); the 2001 Big-12 Championship Game (Colorado vs. Texas) and the 2002 SEC Championship Game (Georgia vs. Arkansas). In addition to NFL regular and postseason games, Walsh also has provided color commentary for three Fiesta Bowls (1996 — Florida vs. Nebraska), (1997 — Penn State vs. Texas), (1998 — Kansas State vs. Syracuse); two Music City Bowls (1999 — Kentucky vs. Syracuse), (2000 — West Virginia vs. Mississippi); and the 2000 Citrus Bowl (Michigan vs. Auburn). Before becoming a radio analyst, Walsh was offensive coordinator for the Los Angeles Raiders. He spent 13 years with the Raiders, first serving as receivers and quarterbacks coach before being elevated to offensive coordinator. During his tenure with the Raiders, the Silver and Black was 124-88. The club won the AFC West four times, qualified for the playoffs in six seasons and won the World Championship of Professional Football with a victory in Super Bowl XVIII. Walsh also coached on the winning squads in the 1991 AFC-NFC Pro Bowl and in the 43rd Annual Senior Bowl in 1992. Walsh was as the head coach/director of football operations and the Coach of the Year for the Regional Football League Champion Mobile Admirals. His 1999 team in this spring professional league compiled a 10-2 mark and boasted not only the league's best record, but also the RFL MVP and 11 first team and four second team All-RFL selections. Seven of his squad members signed contracts for NFL training camps in 1999. Members of his staff included former NFL players and coaches Sam Gruneisen, Kenny Burrough, Tiger Green and James West. Before his tenure with the Raiders, Walsh was a highly successful college coach, beginning with his first position as an offensive assistant at the University of San Diego in 1972. From 1975-81, he worked under the direction of Pro Football and College Football Hall of Fame Coach Sid Gillman as director of his summer football camps in San Diego. When Gillman served as athletic director of United States International University, he hired Walsh as his head football coach before the 1979 season. USIU went 8-3 in 1979. Walsh's staff featured three future NFL coaches: John Fox (now head coach in Carolina), Mike Solari (Kansas City's offensive coordinator) and Mike Sheppard (former New Orleans offensive coordinator). Following that season, Walsh moved to Murray State University in Kentucky as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach and helped lead the Racers to a 9-2 mark. Also working on that staff was defensive coordinator Frank Beamer, now the head coach at Virginia Tech, and secondary coach Ron Zook, now head coach at Illinois. In 1981, Walsh served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati. The Bearcats had their first winning season in five years, finishing 6-5. His starting quarterback, Danny Barrett, is now the head coach of the Canadian Football League's Saskatchewan Roughriders. Walsh was also head coach at Idaho State University in 1997-98. The 1971 UC Santa Barbara graduate earned a master's degree in Education from San Diego State University in 1976. Walsh and his wife Ann have two children, Kimberly and Michael. They own and operate the Hansen Guest Ranch in Swan Valley, Idaho, where Ann also is the founder and director of Camp Magical Moments Cancer Camp for Kids which is hosted annually at the ranch. He also was a councilperson and the mayor of Swan Valley.

ROB RYAN

Defensive Coordinator

Rob Ryan is in his third year as Raiders defensive coordinator. The 2005 Raiders defense featured the NFL's leading sack artist, DE Derrick Burgess, who chalked up 16 sacks and a Pro Bowl invitation. In addition, his 2005 unit ranked third in the AFC in stopping opponents inside the 20-yard line. Under Ryan in 2005, the Raiders defense also ranked in the AFC's top-10 in rushing yards allowed (sixth), total yards yielded per play (seventh), net passing yards allowed (eighth) and fewest first downs (ninth) per game. In 2004, with Ryan operating as a defensive coordinator for the first time in the NFL, the Raiders finished sixth in the AFC and seventh in the NFL in rushing yards allowed per attempt. Before joining the Raiders, the 20-year coaching veteran spent four seasons as linebackers coach on Bill Belichick's New England Patriots coaching staff. Ryan's linebacking corps contributed to the Patriots posting victories in Super Bowls XXXVI and XXXVIII. The 43-year-old is the son of NFL defensive coaching legend Buddy Ryan. The younger Ryan has previous experience as a defensive coordinator at the college level, having served in that capacity at Oklahoma State from 1994-95 and at Hutchinson Community College in 1996. In 2003, Ryan's linebacking corps helped the Patriots defense rank first in the NFL in fewest points allowed (238) while ranking seventh overall in the NFL in total defense. Ryan's unit also contributed to one of the best scoring defenses in franchise history in 2001, as the Patriots allowed just 17 points per game. It was the lowest point production allowed by the Patriots in 24 years when the 1977 squad held their opponents to just 15.5 points per game. Ryan originally entered the NFL coaching ranks in 1994 as defensive backs coach on his father's staff at the Arizona Cardinals. He also coached Cardinals cornerbacks and safeties in 1995. With Ryan as his position coach, cornerback Aeneas Williams earned consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl in 1994 and 1995. In 1995, the Cardinals 32 interceptions and 42 total takeaways led the NFL. From 1997-99, Ryan was Oklahoma State's defensive coordinator, where the Cowboys defense was continually ranked among the nation's best. In 1999, they were ranked 10th in total defense and ninth in passing yards allowed. In 1998, they were second with 41 sacks. In his first season at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys defense finished among the nation's top-20 in turnover margin, rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense, allowing just 302.7 yards per game. It was an over 100-yard improvement per game from the year before and helped the Cowboys produce an 8-4 mark and an Alamo Bowl berth. Ryan began his coaching career as an assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987 and then coached outside linebackers at Ohio State in 1988. Ryan spent five seasons at Tennessee State, where he coached running backs (1989-91), linebackers (1992) and the defensive line (1993). He served as defensive coordinator at Hutchinson Community College (Hutchinson, Kan.) in 1996, where they led the nation in total defense (228 yards per game) and in sacks (56). His defense also set a national record by forcing 49 turnovers, which generated eight touchdowns in 10 games. Hutchinson also topped the conference in total defense, run and pass defense. Ryan played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwestern Oklahoma State. His twin brother, Rex, is defensive coordinator for the Baltimore Ravens. The Ryan family includes wife Kristin and three children — sons Joseph and Matthew and daughter Dimitra.

TED DAISHER

Special Teams

Ted Daisher is in his first season with the Raiders after spending the previous two seasons as an assistant concentrating on special teams with the Philadelphia Eagles. Daisher, 51, spent 22 seasons as an assistant coach in the college ranks, including stints at East Carolina (2001-02, outside linebackers and defensive ends), Indiana (1998-00, defensive line), Army (1995-97, defensive line), Cincinnati (1989-92, defensive line), Eastern Michigan (1985-88, defensive ends), Northern Illinois (1980-84) and Illinois (1979). Northern Illinois and Eastern Michigan won Mid-American Conference titles with Daisher on their coaching staffs. Daisher coached future NFL players Vaughn Booker and former Eagle Ronnie Dixon at Cincinnati, and Pro Bowl DE Adewale Ogunleye (Chicago) and Kemp Rasmussen (Carolina) at Indiana. In 2003, he was head coach at East Mecklenberg High School in North Carolina where he led the Eagles to a 7-4 regular season record and a playoff berth. He also served as head coach at Fenwick High School in Illinois from 1993-94. He spent the 1978 football season coaching receivers and defensive backs at Kalamazoo Christian High School in Michigan. The Taylor, Mich. native earned a degree in Physical Education at Western Michigan, where he was a standout wide receiver and defensive back from 1975-77. He and his wife Danielle have three children: Nicole, Ted and Taylor.

FRED BILETNIKOFF

Wide Receivers

Fred Biletnikoff, in his 32nd year with the Raiders, returns for his 15th season as receivers coach. He has coached receivers for the Silver and Black the last nine seasons after spending the 1995-96 seasons in charge of quality control. In 2005, Biletnikoff coached a corps that produced two pass catchers with at least 60 receptions (Jerry Porter, 76 and Randy Moss, 60) a 1,000-yard receiver (Moss, 1,005) with another barely missing that plateau (Porter, 942). Biletnikoff coached two wide receivers in 2004 who caught at least 50 passes (Porter, who led the Silver and Black with 64 and just missed the 1,000-yard receiving mark with 998, and Ronald Curry with 50). Biletnikoff has coached three receivers who caught at least 50 passes in a single year (Jerry Rice — 92, Tim Brown — 81 and Porter — 51) and a 1,000-yard receiver (Rice-1,211) in 2002. He coached two 1,000-yard receivers in Brown (1,165) and Rice (1,139) in 2001. The 63-year-old Biletnikoff initially coached Raiders wide receivers from 1989-94. The Pro Football Hall of Famer played 14 seasons for the Raiders from 1965-78. Biletnikoff coached wide receivers for Calgary of the Canadian Football League from 1987-88. He coached for two United States Football League teams: the Arizona Wranglers in 1986 and the Oakland Invaders in 1985. Biletnikoff also coached at Diablo Valley Junior College in 1984, Palomar Junior College in 1983, Orange Glen High School in 1982 and with Montreal of the CFL in 1980. He played in 190 games for the Raiders and was Most Valuable Player in Super Bowl XI. The Erie, Pa. native was the Raiders all-time leading receiver (589 catches) until 1997, when Brown broke the mark. He played in three AFL, five AFC title games and in Super Bowls II and XI. Biletnikoff played in two AFL All-Star Games and four Pro Bowls after joining the Raiders in 1965 as a second round draft choice from Florida State. His family includes wife Angela and five children.

WILLIE BROWN

Defensive Backs/Squad Development

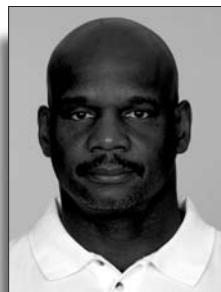

Pro Football Hall of Famer Willie Brown is in his 36th year with the Raiders and 12th season as director of squad development and defensive backs assistant. He was secondary coach for the Raiders from 1979-88, during which the team won two World Championships of Professional Football in Super Bowls XV and XVIII. He also coached the secondary in 1997 while serving as director of squad development. Brown was an assistant at Long Beach State before taking over as head coach in 1991. In 1994, he was head coach at Los Angeles Jordan High School. Brown earned his master's degree in Education at Long Beach State. He starred for the Raiders from 1967-78 after beginning his pro career as a free agent with Houston. Brown spent 1963-66 with Denver before being traded to the Raiders. He played in 205 professional football games and was chosen for three AFL All-Star Games and four NFL Pro Bowls. Brown shares the Raider career interceptions record with 39 and is one of only two players to have intercepted at least one pass in 16 straight seasons. He intercepted 54 passes in his pro career and was selected to the AFL-NFL 25-year All-Star team. The Yazoo, Miss. native starred at Grambling from 1959-62 and is a member of the Louisiana Sports, Grambling State, Southwestern Athletic Conference and Mississippi Sports Black Sports and Bay Area Sports Halls of Fame. The Brown family includes wife Yvonne, two daughters and one son.

IRV EATMAN

Co-Offensive Line

Irvin Eatman, a former NFL performer, is in his first year with the Raiders after spending the past five seasons as an assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs. Eatman played 14 professional seasons, beginning with three campaigns in the United States Football League with the Philadelphia/Birmingham Stars. He played in 149 regular season NFL contests for Kansas City (1986-90), N.Y. Jets (1991-92), L.A. Rams (1993), Atlanta Falcons (1994) and Houston Oilers (1995-96) and saw postseason duty with the Chiefs in 1990 and the Jets in 1991. The Birmingham, Ala. native began his pro coaching career as an assistant with the Green Bay Packers in 1999, then coached with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2000 before coaching for Kansas City from 2001-05. Pittsburgh's ground attack ranked fourth in the NFL in 2000, averaging 140.5 yards per game while Eatman served on the staff. While with Kansas City, Eatman's tutelage helped the Chiefs boast a trio of Pro Bowl offensive linemen in 2004: G Will Shields, T Willie Roaf and G Brian Waters. Eatman assisted in coaching a Chiefs offensive line that helped pave the way for nine individual 100-yard rushers in 2004, a mark that tied for the most in team history. Kansas City was also the first team in NFL history to have three different running backs produce a 150-yard rushing game in a season. The 45-year-old Eatman was originally drafted by Kansas City in the eighth round of the 1983 NFL Draft. Eatman eventually signed with the USFL and was a three-time All-Pro offensive tackle (1983-85) for Philadelphia/Baltimore. During his three-year run with the Stars, Eatman was part of a squad which posted a league-best 48-13-1 overall record, including a 7-1 postseason mark. The Stars appeared in all three of the league's championship games and claimed the final two USFL titles (1984-85). In addition, Eatman was named the USFL Man of the Year for his charitable efforts following the 1984 campaign. Eatman attended UCLA, where he was a two-time Lombardi Award semifinalist, three-time honorable mention All-America selection and two-time All-Pac 10 pick. As a senior in 1982, he played on the Bruins squad which claimed a 24-14 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

JEFF FISH

Strength and Conditioning

Jeff Fish is in his third season with the Raiders. Before joining the Silver and Black, Fish spent three seasons as director of strength and conditioning at the University of Missouri, where he oversaw a program that worked with nearly 500 student-athletes from all 20 Missouri sports teams. Fish, 39, was assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1999-00 after interning in that department for the Chiefs in 1998.

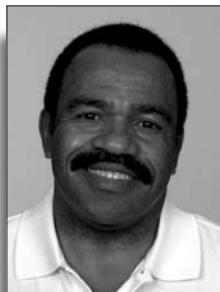

Before joining the Chiefs, the Ithaca, N.Y. native served as a strength and conditioning intern for Tampa Bay in 1997. The certified strength and conditioning specialist was director of strength and conditioning at the University of Tulsa from 1995-97 after serving in the same capacity at Kent State from 1993-95. From 1991-93, he coached strength and conditioning at Clemson. Fish began his coaching career as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach at Western Michigan in 1989. He played football as a wide receiver at Western Carolina. Fish and his wife Rachel have a daughter, Whitney.

ROBERT FORD

Quality Control, Offense

Robert Ford joins the Raiders coaching staff as quality control, offense. Ford previously served as wide receivers coach for the Arizona Cardinals (2004) and Miami Dolphins (1998-03). Ford was also an assistant coach with the Dallas Cowboys from 1991-97. The Belton, Texas native broke into the NFL as an assistant with Dallas in 1991. During his seven seasons as tight ends coach, Jay Novacek was voted to the Pro Bowl five times and recorded 280 receptions — more than any other NFL tight end during that span (1991-95). While an assistant coach under Jimmy Johnson (1991-93) and Barry Switzer (1994-97), Ford helped the Cowboys qualify for postseason play six times, play in four NFC Championship games and win three Super Bowls. Ford also spent the 1990 training camp with the Cowboys as part of the NFL's minority coaching fellowship program. While with the Dolphins, he developed wide receiver Chris Chambers, who led all NFL rookies in 2001 with 48 pass receptions. In 2003, Chambers added a team-best 64 catches for 963 yards and led the AFC with 11 touchdown receptions. Ford spent 16 seasons as an assistant at the high school and collegiate levels. He began his coaching career in 1973 at Saginaw (Mich.) High School and then became wide receivers coach at Western Illinois in 1974 for three seasons. Ford went on to coach at New Mexico (1977-79), Oregon State (1980-81) and Mississippi State (1982-83). After one season (1985) as wide receivers coach for the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League, he returned to the college level and held wide receivers coaching posts at Kansas (1986), Texas Tech (1987-88), and Texas A&M (1989-90) before going to Dallas. Ford earned a degree in Education from the University of Houston and a master's degree in Athletic Administration from Western Illinois. While at Houston, he led the Cougars in receiving, punt returns and kick off returns as a senior. Ford is the only player in NCAA history to catch two, 99-yard pass receptions. Ford and his wife Janice have two sons, Bobby and Jason.

DON MARTINDALE

Inside Linebackers

Don Martindale, an 18-year coaching veteran with experience as a college defensive coordinator and a coach on an NCAA Division 1-AA National Championship team, is in his third year as Raiders linebackers coach. In 2005, Martindale coached a linebacking unit that included Kirk Morrison, who led all rookies in tackles and ranked 17th in the NFL. Only four other NFL teams had two linebackers in the top-25 in tackles. In addition, Morrison and Danny Clark each had more than 100 tackles on the season. Under the tutelage of Martindale, Clark also finished eighth in the NFL in total stops in 2004. Martindale spent three seasons at Western Kentucky, serving as the Hilltoppers defensive coordinator in 2003. Under Martindale, Western Kentucky ranked sixth in NCAA Division I-AA in total defense and 14th in scoring defense. He also helped produce a group of linebackers that were considered among Division I-AA's best. Martindale spent the first two seasons as Western Kentucky's inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator. In 2002, his unit played a key role in helping Western Kentucky capture the NCAA Division I-AA National Championship. In 1986, Martindale entered the coaching ranks as an assistant at his alma mater, Defiance College. In 1987, he was defensive coordinator at Defiance and then spent the next six years coaching at the Ohio high school level. The Dayton, Ohio native was a defensive assistant at Notre Dame from 1994-95, helping the Irish earn a berth in the 1995 Fiesta Bowl and the 1996 Orange Bowl. Martindale then coached defensive ends at the University of Cincinnati in 1996 before spending the 1997 and 1998 seasons as the Bearcats linebackers coach and special teams coordinator. He helped Cincinnati reach the 1997 Humanitarian Bowl as the defense was in the top-five nationally both against the run and in forced turnovers. In addition, his special teams units topped the conference in at least one category during his tenure. In 1999, Martindale was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Western Illinois. His family includes wife Laura, daughter Cassie and son Ty.

GEORGE MARTINEZ

Quality Control, Defense

George Martinez is in his first year on the Raiders coaching staff. He has 29 years of coaching experience in professional, college and high school football and most recently has been involved in private business. He was an assistant for the Arizona Cardinals from 1994-95, first as quality control coach, then as running backs coach. Under Martinez, RB Garrison Hearst rushed for 1,000 yards for the first time in his career and FB Larry Centers set an NFL record for receptions by a running back that still stands while earning NFC All-Pro honors. In 1993, Martinez coached at Santa Rosa High, which captured the New Mexico state prep title. From 1989-91, he was head coach and offensive coordinator at New Mexico Highlands University and spent one season (1988) as head coach and offensive coordinator at Panhandle State in Oklahoma. Martinez coached at the high school level in California, Arizona and New Mexico for 16 years. He also coached seven seasons at Oklahoma's East Central University, handling linebackers (1981-82, 1985-87) and serving as passing game coordinator (1983-84). He was an all-state quarterback and punter at Kofa High School in Yuma, Ariz. Martinez attended the University of Arizona before transferring to Northwestern Oklahoma State, where he was a three-year starter and all-conference quarterback. The Fort Bragg, N.C. native had tryouts with the Washington Redskins and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League. Martinez has a daughter, Tara and a son, Scott.

JIM McELWAIN

Quarterbacks

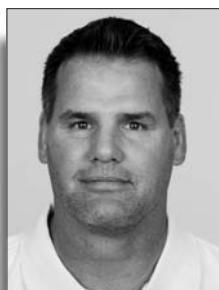

Jim McElwain is in his first season with the Raiders after three years at Michigan State as assistant head coach, wide receivers and special teams coach. In 2005, McElwain had two Spartan receivers ranked among the Big Ten leaders in receiving yards and set a school record with 24 TD receptions. In 2004, five Spartans had at least 20 catches. In 2003, his unit set Spartan single-season records for receptions and receiving yards. In 2004, McElwain coached the NCAA's leading punter, the Big Ten's No.1 scoring kicker and a player who set a school record with three blocked punts in a season. In 2003, the Spartans led the Big Ten in kickoff returns and ranked second in net punting and kickoff coverage. The 45-year-old served as Louisville's wide receiver and special teams coach from 2000-02. He coached four first team All-Conference USA selections — including Super Bowl XXXIV MVP Deion Branch. McElwain tutored three of the Cardinals all-time leading receivers. His special teams produced six return touchdowns (four punts and two kickoffs) and blocked 11 kicks, including nine punts. McElwain was offensive coordinator at Montana State from 1995-99 and also coached quarterbacks and wide receivers. In 1998, Montana State led the Big Sky Conference in scoring (31.6 points per game). McElwain spent 10 years at his alma mater, Eastern Washington (1985-94), as a football coach and assistant athletic director. During his tenure at EWU, the Eagles made two NCAA Division I-AA playoff appearances (1985 and 1992) and shared the 1992 Big Sky Championship. McElwain also coached EWU's all-time leading receiver. An all-state quarterback at Missoula (Mont.) Sentinel High School, McElwain played quarterback at Eastern Washington (1980-83) and earned a degree in education. He and his wife Karen have three children: JoHanna, Elizabeth and Jerret.

KEITH MILLARD

Defensive Line

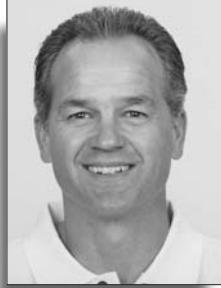

Keith Millard, an NFL first round draft choice, former All-Pro and Pro Bowler, is in his second year with the Raiders, his first as defensive line coach after serving as assistant defensive line coach in 2005. Under Millard's tutelage, DE Derrick Burgess led the NFL in sacks with 16 and went to the Pro Bowl. The Pleasanton, Calif. native was an assistant in Denver (2003-04). In 2004, the Broncos defensive line helped the Broncos finish fourth in the NFL in total defense and seventh in sacks. In 2003, Denver ranked fourth in the NFL in sacks and was the only defensive line in the league to have three players with at least 8.5 sacks. Millard, 44, was Minnesota's first round (13th overall) pick in 1984. He was a three-time All-Pro and two-time Pro Bowler as a defensive lineman from 1985-93. He began his pro career in the United States Football League, playing one season with the Jacksonville Bulls and ranked second in the league in sacks (12) behind Reggie White (12.5). Millard was voted to the All-USFL team and was named to the All-Time USFL second team. He joined the Vikings in 1985 and led the team with 11 sacks at defensive end and followed with 10.5 in 1986. Millard eventually moved to defensive tackle. In 1989, he set an NFL record for sacks by an interior lineman with 18 for his second Pro Bowl invitation and third straight All-Pro honor. In 1989, Millard was named NFL Defensive Lineman and Defensive Player of the Year. Before joining the Denver staff, Millard served as defensive line coach of the Xtreme Football League's San Francisco Demons in 2001. Millard began his coaching career in 1996 as defensive line coach at Fort Lewis College, then was defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Menlo College (1997-00). He was defensive line coach for the West team in the 2002 East-West Shrine Game. Millard also played for Seattle and Green Bay (1992) and Philadelphia (1993). He appeared in 93 career games and had 58 sacks, two interceptions and a touchdown on a fumble return. After starring at Foothill High in Pleasanton, Millard earned first team All-Pac 10 honors and won the Morris Trophy as the Pac-10's top defensive lineman at Washington State. He and his wife Paula have six children: Dustin, Johnny, Jack, Keith Jr., Mandy and Kade.

CHUCK PAGANO

Defensive Assistant

Chuck Pagano, a 22-year coaching veteran at the pro and college level, is in his second year with the Raiders. Before joining the Silver and Black, Pagano, 45, spent four years as an assistant coach with the Cleveland Browns. In 2003, his unit helped the Browns tie a franchise record for fewest passing touchdowns allowed (13). Under Pagano in 2001, the secondary had 28 of the Browns NFL-leading and team record 33 interceptions. Before Cleveland, Pagano coached the secondary and was special teams coordinator at the University of Miami (Fla.) from 1995-00. In 2000, his secondary was tabbed the nation's best by the Football News. His unit did not allow a passing touchdown over the last 27 quarters of 1999. As Miami's special teams coordinator, his squad blocked 39 kicks in 59 games, including a school single-season record 12 in 1996. The Boulder, Colo. native was a four-year letterman and two-year starter at safety at Wyoming. Pagano began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at USC (1984-85) and at Miami in 1986. He was outside linebackers coach at Boise State (1987-88), then coached defensive backs at East Carolina (1989) and Nevada-Las Vegas (1990). In 1991, Pagano was defensive coordinator at UNLV. He returned to East Carolina to coach defensive backs and outside linebackers from 1992-94. Pagano's family includes wife Tina and their three children: Tara, Taylor and Tori.

SKIP PEETE

Running Backs

Skip Peete joined the Raiders in 1998 as running backs coach after serving in the same capacity at UCLA from 1996-97. In 2005, Peete coached first-time 1,000-yard rusher LaMont Jordan. In his first season with the Raiders, Jordan carried the ball 272 times for 1,025 yards and nine rushing touchdowns. Jordan also caught 70 passes for 563 yards and two receiving touchdowns. Peete's unit helped the Raiders lead the NFL in total offense and winning the 2002 AFC Championship. Under Peete, the Raiders led the NFL in rushing in 2000 at nearly 155 yards per game. During his two seasons at UCLA, Peete coached running back Skip Hicks to consecutive 1,000-yard and 20-plus touchdown seasons. Before serving as an assistant at UCLA, Peete was wide receivers coach for Rutgers University (1995) and Michigan State (1993-94). Peete was on the University of Pittsburgh coaching staff from 1988-92. While with the Panthers, he coached the running backs from 1991-92 and tutored future New York Jets running back Curtis Martin. Peete worked with the wide receivers at Pittsburgh from 1989-90 after serving as a graduate assistant in 1988. The Phoenix native began his collegiate playing career at the University of Arizona before transferring to the University of Kansas. While at Kansas, he was an All-Big Eight wide receiver in 1985 and voted team captain as a senior in 1986. In 1987, Peete played wide receiver and was on special teams with the Jets. Peete's father Willie is a longtime college and NFL coach who retired from the Chicago Bears pro player personnel department. His brother, Rodney, is a former NFL quarterback who played for the Raiders in 2000-01 and is one of the hosts on FSN's "The Best Damn Sports Show Period." His wife's name is Rebeca.

JACKIE SLATER

Co-Offensive Line

Pro Football Hall of Fame offensive lineman Jackie Slater joined the Raiders as co-offensive line coach this past February. Although 2006 will be Slater's first season as an NFL assistant coach, he has been involved in tutoring offensive line techniques through a series of seminars for the past decade. The Jackson, Miss. native was drafted 86th overall in the third round in 1976 by the Los Angeles Rams. Slater played his entire 20-year career with the Rams, playing 19 seasons in Los Angeles (1976-94) and one in St. Louis (1995). Slater played in 259 games from 1976-94, the most ever by an offensive lineman upon his retirement. In 1992, Slater was named the Rams Most Valuable Player. His 20 seasons with one team is still an NFL record. Slater was selected to play in seven Pro Bowls, his first in 1983, and played in Super Bowl XIV. In 2001, Slater was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Slater played college football for Jackson State University from 1973-76 and was a teammate of the late Walter Payton. He was named All-American by the Pittsburgh Courier and also first team All-Black America his senior year. Slater played in the College All-Star Game as a senior and was the first recipient of Jackson State's Walter Payton Physical Fitness Award. Slater attended Wingfield High School in Jackson where he played basketball, football and ran track. Slater and his wife Annie have two sons: Matthew and David.

JOHN SHOOP

Tight Ends

John Shoop has a decade of NFL coaching experience, including three years as an offensive coordinator. He moves to coach tight ends for the Raiders after coaching quarterbacks in 2005, where he tutored a 3,000-yard, 20-touchdown passer (Kerry Collins, 3,759 and 20). The 36-year-old Shoop was quarterbacks coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2004 after serving as offensive coordinator for the Chicago Bears (2001-03). In his first season as offensive coordinator, Shoop helped Chicago win the NFC Central Division title with a 13-3 record. In addition, RB Anthony Thomas was Offensive Rookie of the Year after setting a team rookie record with 1,183 rushing yards. In 2002, the Bears offense produced a Pro Bowl wide receiver in Marty Booker, the first Chicago Pro Bowl wide receiver since 1971. Shoop was promoted to Bears offensive coordinator after spending 1999-00 as Chicago's quarterbacks coach. Before joining the Bears, Shoop spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, starting as offensive quality control assistant (1995-96) and was on the staff of the team that played in the 1996 NFC Championship Game. He was Carolina's quarterbacks coach from 1997-98. Shoop began his coaching career as a volunteer quarterbacks coach at Dartmouth in 1991 and was a graduate assistant at Vanderbilt from 1992-94, where he also earned a master's degree in Education. The Oakmont, Pa. native graduated from the University of the South, where he played quarterback for four seasons. Shoop and his wife, the Rev. Dr. Marcia Mount Shoop, have two children, son Sidney and daughter Elizabeth.

DARRYL SIMS

Assistant Defensive Line

Darryl Sims is in his first season on the Raiders coaching staff. The former NFL first round draft choice briefly served as head coach of the NFL Europe's Cologne Centurions, before joining the Raiders coaching staff. Sims spent six seasons with the NFL Europe's Amsterdam Admirals, including two as defensive coordinator. He helped the team to a victory in World Bowl XIII against the Berlin Thunder in 2005. Sims was the 21st overall player selected in the 1985 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers. After playing 32 games at defensive end and posting three sacks for the Steelers, he joined the Cleveland Browns in 1987 and retired as a player in 1991. Sims joined the Admirals staff as defensive line coach in 2000 after serving as defensive line coach at University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. He earned a promotion to defensive coordinator before the 2004 season. His wife's name is Carla.

LORENZO WARD

Assistant Defensive Backs/ Special Teams

Lorenzo Ward joins the Raiders after spending the past 15 seasons in the major college coaching ranks. Ward spent the past seven seasons as an assistant at Virginia Tech, overseeing cornerbacks and free safeties. With the Hokies, Ward coached five All-Big East players and one All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and produced a secondary that helped Virginia Tech finish among the national defensive leaders in five of the last seven seasons. In 2002, Tech led the NCAA Division I-A in interceptions (24). In 2000, Tech tied for third nationally in interceptions and in 2001, the Hokies ranked second in total defense and third in pass efficiency defense. Ward coached numerous NFL players — including Ike Charlton, Ronyell Whitaker, DeAngelo Hall and Jimmy Williams. He also coached at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga (1994-98) and at Alabama, his alma mater (1991-93). He was named defensive coordinator at UT-Chattanooga in 1998 after serving as the Mocs running backs coach in 1997. An Alabama native, Ward starred for the Crimson Tide from 1986-90. He helped lead Alabama to a 33-15 record and a Southeastern Conference Championship. He was also tabbed Special Teams Player of the Year by The Sporting News in 1990 as the Tide's unit ranked No. 1 in the nation. RAIDERS RADIO NETWORK

For the third straight year, The Oakland Raiders, The Team of the Decades, will broadcast their 2006 games on KSFO 560 AM, the Bay Area's Talk Leader.

This year, Oakland Raiders broadcasts on KSFO will include extensive pre- and postgame shows as well as Raiders-specific programming during the week.

KSFO Radio has enjoyed a very successful relationship with Oakland Raiders football. The Raiders Commitment to Excellence and commitment to winning in 2006 is the quality of professional sports that KSFO is excited about presenting on the radio.

KSFO 560 AM is the Bay Area's Talk Leader, committed to presenting "the news and views you won't hear anywhere else" along with Oakland Raiders football. KSFO Radio is the ABC-owned talk radio station broadcasting at 560 AM in San Francisco and throughout Northern California.

Greg Papa returns for his 10th season broadcasting the Silver and Black. Papa also serves the Bay Area as the radio and television voice of the San Francisco Giants after previously handling broadcast duties for the Oakland Athletics. Papa got his start in broadcasting in 1984 as the Indiana Pacers back-up announcer and in 1986, did play-by-play for the Golden State Warriors.

Papa will team up with former Raiders quarterback and head coach Tom Flores. Flores is one of only two people in NFL history to have a Super Bowl ring as a player, assistant coach and head coach. He earned his rings as a reserve quarterback with the Kansas City Chiefs in Super Bowl IV, as a Raiders assistant coach in Super Bowl XI and as a head coach of the Silver and Black in Super Bowls XV and XVIII.

Raiders Legends George Atkinson and David Humm will collaborate on the pre- and postgame shows, as will KSFO's Rich Walcoff.

RAIDERS SPANISH RADIO/TELEVISION

Raiders Spanish Radio is back and stronger than ever!

Raiders fans can listen to veteran broadcasters Armando Botello and Ramon Diaz call all of the action on KLOK 1170 AM — "Noticias, Deportes y Mas," the Official Flagship Spanish Radio Station for the Oakland Raiders 2006 season.

KLOK-AM transmits 50,000 watts of power from the San Jose tower covering the entire San Francisco Metro area. In addition, KLOK-AM provides bonus spill into neighboring Monterey/Salinas/Santa Cruz Metro to the south and the Modesto /Stockton Metro market to the east.

Botello enters his first season as the play-by-play announcer for the Raiders Spanish radio broadcasts. With more than 30 years of experience, Botello has held positions ranging from television to print to radio in Sacramento's local media scene. Most recently, he co-hosted "Voz y Voto," a weekly political television show broadcast by the Univision Network throughout California from 1999-01. He was inducted into the California Chicano News Media Association Hall of Fame in the summer of 2002.

Diaz enters his first season with the Raiders as the color analyst for the Spanish Radio broadcast. He has worked at KSTS Telemundo since 1994 and has been the sports director/anchor at the station since 1996. Diaz co-produced the Emmy-nominated show, "Telemundo Deportivo Edicion Raiders" (2005) and has anchored the "Telemundo Deportivo Edicion Raiders" show for the last three seasons.

The broadcasts open with a pregame show 15 minutes before kickoff. Botello and Diaz analyze the preceding contest, the NFL standings, the history between the two teams meeting that day and the keys to victory for the Raiders and the opponent. After the game, Botello and Diaz wrap up with a summary of each quarter, discuss that day's scores across the NFL and look ahead to next week's opponent.

RAIDERS SPANISH TELEVISION

The Raiders will again partner with Bay Area Spanish-language television station Telemundo KSTS-TV Channel 48 to produce a five-part series special that focuses on the Silver and Black's progress throughout the 2006 season. KSTS Sports Anchor and Raiders Spanish Radio Color Analyst Ramon Diaz co-hosts the show with the Raiders Patty Herrera to take periodic looks at the Raiders in 2006.

The specials, produced by the Raiders own Silver and Black Productions, will air regularly throughout the season.

RAIDERS TV

Silver and Black Productions, the Raiders in-house television production operation, will once again provide viewers with innovative, cutting-edge and behind-the-scenes content devoted solely to the Oakland Raiders.

Three dynamic television shows will air in the Bay Area as well as in additional television outlets throughout California, Nevada, Hawaii, Oregon and Idaho and will feature the personalities that make up the NFL's most dynamic organization.

In addition, Silver and Black Productions will produce three of the team's five preseason games. The other two — Aug. 6 vs. Philadelphia in the Hall of Fame game (NBC) and Aug. 14 at Minnesota (ESPN) will be televised nationally.

"The Silver and Black Show" consists of an in-depth comprehensive week-by-week analysis of the Raiders throughout the 2006 NFL season. The show also offers a retrospective look at the previous week's Raider game and a breakdown preview of the upcoming contest with a look at the matchups.

Features on players past and present are part of the new, cutting-edge program profiling the Silver and Black. Raiders radio play-by-play man Greg Papa hosts the half-hour show while Raiders Legend Jim Plunkett, MVP of Super Bowl XV, is co-host.

"Behind the Shield" provides viewers with unprecedented access for an inside look at pro football's winningest team. This unique show offers a behind-the-scenes perspective on the Raiders preparation for the upcoming week's game as experienced by the entire organization including players, coaches and team personnel.

Raiders Legend George Atkinson, who roamed the secondary for the Silver and Black from 1968-77, hosts this television show.

"The Raiders Report" is an hour-long show which combines analysis and a behind-the-scenes look at the Oakland Raiders. "The Raiders Report" is hosted by nationally syndicated sports talk show host JT the Brick. Papa, Plunkett and Atkinson also contribute to this program. "The Raiders Report" focuses on longer, in-depth pieces featuring the Team of the Decades all year long.

All three shows are produced by the Raiders own Silver and Black Productions. The shows originate from Silver and Black Productions state-of-the-art studio located within the Raiders 100,000-square foot Alameda facility.

RAIDERS.COM

The Raiders were among the first professional sports teams to launch an official web site when the team went online in 1995. Since then, the site has evolved into one of the top online destinations in all of sports.

In late 2002, the Raiders broke new ground again with the launch of Raiders en Español (www.raidersenespanol.com), the first complete Spanish-language web site in the National Football League. The site also offers original and translated content in Chinese and German.

During the spring of 2006, the Raiders launched RaiderNation.com (www.raidernation.com) — The Official Web Site for Oakland Raiders Game Tickets. Fans can manage their season ticket accounts, contact Raiders ticket sales and service representatives, view a stadium pricing map and take an interactive 3-D Virtual Tour of McAfee Coliseum which includes sightlines from every section in the stadium, pricing and more. Luxury Suites and the Eastside and Westside Clubs are also part of the virtual tour.

In 2006, Raiders.com will undergo a complete re-design and re-launch, the first such undertaking in four years. In addition to an exciting new design, the site will feature new technology and content such as expert commentary, site search, podcasts, blogs, RSS feeds and more.

Located at www.raiders.com, the site continues to provide comprehensive photography, official press releases, transactions, player biographies, profiles on current and former players and team personnel, along with features and updates on the Raiders Commitment to Community. Raiders.com also features a daily online video news program — "On the Edge" — which features in-depth interviews, press conference highlights and much more.

During games, fans can access the Raiders.com Game Center and view live updates, sideline action photography and listen to a live audio stream from the Raiders flagship radio station — KSFO 560. Comprehensive game recaps, postgame press conferences and complete game statistics are available after each game.

In addition, Raiders.com provides complete coverage of the NFL Draft, team mini-camps, training camp and the Raiderettes. Since 2004, the team has offered "live" coverage of the NFL Draft in both English and Spanish.

In 2006, the official web site of The Oakland Raiders — www.raiders.com — and its sister site Raiders en Español — www.raidersenespanol.com — will continue to use cutting edge technology to provide the Raider Nation with news, information, team history and entertainment, offering visitors an in-depth, state-of-the-art look at the Silver and Black.

THE RAIDER IMAGE

THE RAIDER IMAGE, LLC (The Image) is the official team shop of The Oakland Raiders. All stores are owned and operated by The Oakland Raiders out of the team's headquarters in Alameda. The Image began as a retail catalog while the team was in Los Angeles.

In addition, The Image currently operates 17 brick and mortar locations throughout California. The Image also plans to increase that number this season.

The Raider Image online store opened for business in September 1999 on the Raiders official web site, www.raiders.com. The Image e-commerce store provides the best selection of Raider merchandise to Raider fans around the world. In August 2000, the Raiders followed up their internet success with their first store located in Southland Mall in Hayward, Calif., giving Bay Area fans an opportunity to shop in a store dedicated to Raiders merchandise.

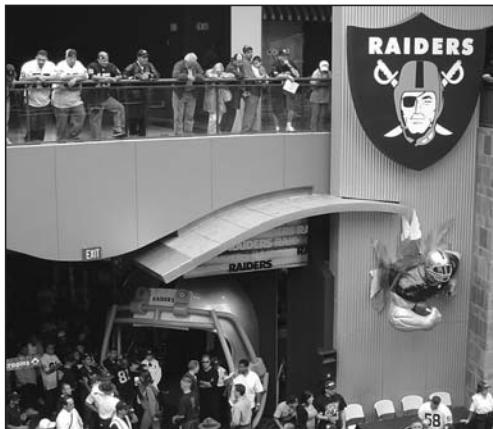

As of August 2006, there are 17 Raider Image locations throughout California to reach out to the many fans across the state. There are currently seven Bay Area locations including Hegenberger Gateway in Oakland, Sun Valley Mall in Concord, Southland Mall in Hayward, and West Gate Center in San Leandro. The Image has also expanded outside of the Bay Area with stores in Arden Fair Mall in Sacramento, Fashion Fair Mall in Fresno and Weberstown Mall in Stockton. To serve our Southern California fans, locations were opened at Lakewood Mall, Montebello Town Center, Ontario Mills and Fox Hills Mall in Culver City. In addition, The Image added a new twist with the June 2003 opening of its Signature Store at Universal City Walk in Universal City.

The successful chain of stores continues to grow with two new stores in 2005 (Hegenberger Gateway in Oakland and Oakridge Mall in San Jose) and one new store in 2006 (Moreno Valley Mall in Moreno Valley) The Raider Image will continue to expand to meet the growing needs of Raider fans around the world.
