WILLIAM H. SULLIVAN, JR.

PRESIDENT

Until 1959 New England had been a graveyard for more than a half dozen professional football teams. William H. "Billy" Sullivan, Jr. changed that.

On November 18, 1959, Billy was awarded the eighth franchise in the fledgling American Football League. And, while many said he would never field a team Billy ignored such talk and spread the good word that pro football was back to stay in New England.

Billy has made an indelible impact on the nation's No. 1 sport since that great day. He did get a team on the field. From 1961 to 1964 he was President of the AFL and served on the television committee that authored a $36 million contract with NBC to guarantee survival of the young league. He was a key member of the AFL's team that hammered out the merger format with the NFL, he still serves as a director of both NFL Properties and Films.

Since starting his love affair with pro football, Billy has travelled through many valleys and over many peaks. By undaunted determination and a boundless capacity for hard work, he kept the Patriots alive until locating the team in its present 61,279-seat Schaefer Stadium home, and assumed control of the franchise on Nov. 7, 1975 when he purchased 88 per cent control of the club's voting stock.

Billy graduated from Boston College in 1937, served as Publicity Director at his alma mater from 1938-1940. In 1941 he went to Notre Dame as special assistant to the Director of Athletics. After a hitch on the staff of the U. S. Naval Academy, he joined the Boston Braves baseball team as Director of Public Relations in 1946. During his six-year tenure with the Braves he conceived the "Jimmy Fund" that has since grown to be an internationally known cancer research program studying leukemia in children.

In 1955 he joined Metropolitan Petroleum Co. that was doing $14 million worth of business. In '58 he became President and today the giant Boston oil company is up to $76 million.

Whether it's the Metropolitan oil business or the Patriots fortunes in the NFL, Billy Sullivan has the same, unwavering philosophy, "The best is yet to come."

CHUCK FAIRBANKS

GENERAL MANAGER AND HEAD COACH

Charles Leo "Chuck" Fairbanks became the sixth in a line of Patriots' head coaches when he joined the organization in the dual capacity of general manager-head coach on January 26, 1973.

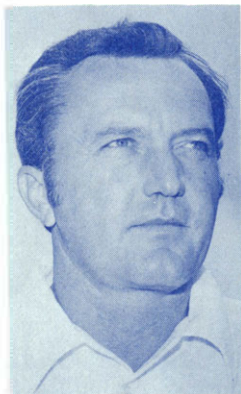

Coach Fairbanks came to the Patriots from a remarkably successful career as a college football coach during which he led Oklahoma to a fantastic 52-15-1 record over six years. Prior to his term with the Sooners, his coaching career had run the full cycle from high school ranks through collegiate assistant, and has spanned more than two decades.

At 43 years of age, he ranks as one of the youngest head coaches in the National Football League.

Since assuming control of the helm of the Patriots forces, coach Fairbanks more than lived up to the reputation that preceded him to New England — strong organizer, promotes the image of oneness among his charges, strives for solidarity and believes in esprit de corps.

In addition to his role as the on-field leader of the Patriots fortunes as head coach, Chuck has the added responsibility of directing the organization on an administrative level as he also serves in the capacity of General Manager of the franchise.

Coach Fairbanks was born in Detroit on June 10, 1933 and was educated at Charlevoix (Mich.) High School and Michigan State ('55). An all-State end in high school, he played under Biggie Munn with the Spartans' 1952 national champion team and the '53 Big Ten champs who defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl. He finished off his collegiate career under Duffy Daugherty and earned a berth in the Blue-Gray all-star classic.

He launched his coaching career in 1955 as a student assistant at Michigan State's spring drills. His first head coaching assignment was at Ishpeming (Mich) High School, 1955-57, and he moved to the collegiate ranks under Frank Kush at Arizona State where he served as defensive backfield coach from 1958-61. From 1962 to 64 he was backfield coach at Houston and in '65 he was named assistant head coach under Bill Yeoman. The following year he became defensive backfield coach at Oklahoma and took over the top post in 1967.

SCHAEFER STADIUM

Schaefer Stadium was built at the cost of $6.7 million and financed through the private sale of more than 400,000 shares of stock in Stadium Realty Trust. The official ground breaking ceremony took place on Sept. 23, 1970, and 326 days later (Aug. 15, 1971) the first game was played at the new Foxboro facility in which the Patriots posted a 20-14 victory over the New York Giants before 60,423 fans.

With space to park 16,000 automobiles surrounding the stadium, the site covers an area of 15 acres and is as long as it is wide, 700 feet. In the process of excavating the bowl shape for the stadium, 250,000 cubic yards of earth were removed from the 35-foot deep hole. The J. F. White Construction Co. then used 15,000 cubic yards of concrete and 660 tons of steel to erect the stadium.

The playing surface required 75,000 square feet of Poly-Turf weighing 600 pounds and spread over an asphalt bed and shock pad. Lighting is provided by three towers with 324 mercury lamps (1500 watts per); 200 candle power per square foot on the playing field.

Seating is constructed of aluminum with a capacity of 61,279. There are 5604 special box (chairs) seats, 48,710 seats on the sidelines, and 6965 end zone seats.

Through the 1974 season there have been 40 pre-season and regular season games played in Schaefer Stadium. A total of 2,199,261 fans (54,982 per game) have watched the Patriots games at Schaefer Stadium.

9-3 vs. NFC SINCE '72

In the five seasons since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970, the Patriots have compiled a 26-58-0 regular season record, including 17-49-0 vs. AFC teams and 9-9-0 vs. NFC clubs. Since 1972 the record vs. NFC competition is 9-3-0. The team's all-time record is 89-126-9, which includes a 63-68-9 mark in AFL play (1960-69).

PATRIOTS SCHEDULE 1977-1978

Dates and playing sites are still to be established, but the Patriots opposition has been charted through 1978.

In addition to home-and-home meetings with AFC-Eastern Division rivals Baltimore, Buffalo, Miami and New York Jets, the Patriots can look forward to the following competition:

1977:	AFC	—	Cleveland, Kansas City, San Diego.
	NFC	—	Green Bay, Philadelphia, Atlanta.
1978:	AFC	—	Cincinnati, Houston, Denver.
	NFC	—	Chicago, New York Giants, Los Angeles.

WBZ AND THE PATRIOTS

The New England Patriots and WBZ will have a total relationship during the 1976 season. As usual, all 20 Patriots games will be aired over WBZ radio and its network of more than a dozen stations scattered throughout New England with Gil Santos (play-by-play) and Gino Cappelletti (color commentary). In addition, all six Patriots pre-season games will be televised via WBZ-TV (Channel 4) which will also present a half hour Patriots Highlights show every Sunday afternoon throughout the regular season.
