Gillette Stadium

Since its opening in 2002, Gillette Stadium has quickly become New England's premier sports and entertainment venue and is the world-class home of the New England Patriots. Gillette Stadium provides the region with a level of comfort and convenience that makes it the most fan-friendly venue in New England and also hosts the New England Revolution, major concerts, trade shows and various other functions year-round.

Patriots fans from throughout the six-state region can enjoy a stadium designed with their satisfaction in mind. Gathering areas throughout the stadium offer fans spacious areas to enjoy the action from every angle, including end-zone plazas where fans can gather to socialize before, during and after games. Gillette Stadium offers unobstructed views from the entire length of each of its wide concourses, ensuring a great view of the field from practically anywhere inside the turnstiles. Once at their seats, guests can relax in their theaterstyle chairs, each one coming complete with a drink holder. For the ultimate in creature comforts, the Fidelity Investments Clubhouse offers 6,000 club members access to 120,000 square feet of space to enjoy not just on game days, but year-round as well. In addition to the Clubhouse areas, the stadium's 80 luxury suites offer luxurious furnishings as well as private bars and restrooms.

Gillette Stadium celebrates New England's heritage with a unique display of local flavor. A stylized light-house and bridge greet fans entering from the Fleet Gate and create the stadium's recognizable signature view. Fans gathering in the Fleet Plaza can enjoy a granite map of New England made of stone from each of the six states. The coastal heritage of the region is represented in a seascape scene that compliments the bridge and lighthouse and flanks the players' entrance to the field. Guests can experience a unique view of the action from atop the bridge, which connects the east and west concourses at the base of the lighthouse.

"My objective in buying the Patriots is to help bring a championship to New England." — Robert Kraft, Jan. 21, 1994

On Feb. 3, 2002, just eight years after Robert Kraft pledged to bring a championship to New England, he stood atop a platform on the field of the Superdome, raising New England's first Lombardi Trophy. The Patriots had just claimed a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams on a last-second field goal in Super Bowl XXXVI, staking claim to one of the greatest games in Super Bowl history. While red, white and blue confettis showered the field, Kraft eloquently delivered a celebratory speech that concluded, "We are all Patriots ... and tonight, the Patriots are world champions!"

It was a memorable ending to an unforgettable season, capping one of the most dramatic playoff runs in NFL history. With the victory, Patriots fans celebrated their first championship title in 42 years.

While the 2001 season will always be remembered for its exciting conclusion, Kraft and the entire Patriots organization have since turned their focus and energy to ensure that Super Bowl XXXVI is remembered as the franchise's commencement, an event that launched a new championship era in Foxborough.

For the Patriots and their fans, there couldn't have been a more appropriate time to move from Foxboro Stadium to the first-class facilities of Gillette Stadium. It was the first time in NFL history that the defending World Champions christened a new facility the following year.

In just his eighth season of ownership, Kraft not only brought New England its first Super Bowl title, but more importantly, he also brought long-needed stability to the franchise. As a 31-year season ticket holder and a 14-year stadium operator, Kraft was uniquely qualified to help make the privately-financed Gillettte Stadium the most fan-friendly, state-of-theart football facility of its kind. His $325 million private investment was the largest ever made by a sports owner. As a result of Kraft's commitment, future generations of Patriots fans will enjoy the comforts of Gillette Stadium knowing that the Patriots finally have a permanent home.

Kraft, who is now in his 10th season as owner of the Patriots, has become one of the NFL's most influential and respected owners. It took just four seasons before Kraft was appointed the chairman of the league's finance committee in 1998. He also played a leading role as a member of the television and broadcast committee that negotiated the most lucrative broadcast contract in the history of sports. Most recently, he was instrumental in putting together a deal that made New England headquartered Reebok International, Ltd. the official and exclusive apparel manufacturer for the NFL, helping to create a new model for the sports license apparel industry. In addition to the broadcast and finance committees, he also serves on the NFL business ventures committee.

In 2002, he received the "Sports Executive of the Year" honors from the Sports Business Journal and shared the Sports Industrialists of the Year honors from the Sports Business Daily with his son, Jonathan. The awards are the highest honors presented by the sports trade publications.

While Kraft's goals for bringing a championship to New England were realized in his eighth season as owner of the team, his pursuit toward that goal really began in 1988 when he purchased Foxboro Stadium out of bankruptcy court. With a binding lease through 2001, the acquisition proved to be an invaluable asset.

In January of 1994, Kraft faced a difficult business decision. He could commit nearly $200 million of family resources to purchase the Patriots, or accept a $75 million buyout offer to void the final years of the team's stadium lease, which would enable the team to move out of New England.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Kraft passed on the buyout offer, choosing instead to make an 11th-hour bid to buy the team by offering the highest purchase price in the history of the NFL. The sale met league approval on Feb. 25, 1994. The following day, season tickets for the 1994 season went on sale and Patriots fans showed their support of Kraft's decision in record numbers. By the end of that first business day, amidst a winter nor'easter, 5,958 season ticket orders had been made, shattering the previous single-day sales record of 979. That show of support validated Kraft's decision to buy the team and gave him the confidence to focus on another long-term project: the construction of a state-of-the-art football facility.

Kraft first became a fan of the Boston Patriots in their AFL days during the early 1960s. He attended games at each of the team's Boston venues, which included Boston University Field, Fenway Park, B.C. Alumni Stadium and Harvard Stadium. When the team moved to Foxborough, he invested in season tickets for his family. It is the memories and experiences shared with other Patriots fans over those first 42 years that gives Kraft such satisfaction in building a new stadium that the players and fans can be proud to call home.

In 1994, Kraft inherited a team whose payroll in 1993 was the lowest in the NFL. Upon taking ownership, Kraft immediately provided the financial resources needed to build a championship-contending team. As a result, the Patriots fielded four playoff teams in Kraft's first five seasons of ownership and won two division titles and a conference title. His personal investment in the team restored the faith of Patriots fans and rejuvenated interest throughout New England. In 1994, season ticket sales soared to new heights, eclipsing 40,000 for the first time in franchise history. By the start of his first season, every game was sold out, a feat that had not been accomplished in the franchise's previous 34 seasons. That meant that the local broadcast blackouts would be lifted and every Patriots game, home and away, would be televised throughout New England for the first time in team history.

In his first year of ownership, Patriots fans were rewarded with a dramatic playoff race when the team put together a season-ending, seven-game win streak that propelled them into the playoffs for the first time in eight years. In just one year, the Patriots had taken a quantum leap.

In 1996, the Patriots won their first division title in 10 years and hosted just their second playoff game in franchise history, scoring a resounding 28-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. The following week, the Patriots hosted the franchise's first conference championship game and advanced to Super Bowl XXXI with a 20-6 victory over Jacksonville.

In 1997, the Patriots repeated as division champions for the first time in franchise history and hosted Miami in the first round of the playoffs. The Patriots improved to 3-0 in home playoff games during Kraft's ownership with a 17-3 victory. A one-point loss in the divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh the following week kept the Patriots from hosting their second consecutive AFC Championship Game and from defending their conference title. In 1998, the Patriots returned to the playoffs for a third consecutive year, another franchise first.

After missing the playoffs in 1999, Kraft sought a new direction for his franchise and identified Bill Belichick as the person who was best qualified to rebuild the Patriots into a championship-contending team. Kraft met the Jets' asking price of a first-round draft choice in exchange and it proved to be one of the best investments in franchise history. Belichick, who had earned a reputation as one of the premier defensive coaches in football, quickly established himself as one of the best overall strategists in the game. After leading the Patriots to not only a division title, but to systematically defeat three heavily favored playoff opponents en route to the franchise's first Super Bowl title, Belichick earned worldwide adulation for completing one of the greatest coaching efforts of all-time.

Since winning the Super Bowl, Kraft has seen the popularity and support for the Patriots grow to unprecedented levels, both locally and nationally. Once again, every Patriots game sold out prior to the start of the season. By the end of the 2003 regular season, the Patriots will have extended their consecutive sellout streak to 102 games, including preseason and postseason games. For purposes of comparison, consider that the Patriots have approximately 50,000 fans on their season ticket waiting list, nearly twice the number of season ticket holders (28,954) in 1993, the year before Kraft bought the team.

A native of Brookline, Mass., Kraft attended local public schools before entering Columbia University on an academic scholarship. Upon graduation, he received a fellowship to attend the Harvard School of Business, where he earned a master's degree in business administration.

Kraft began his business career with the Rand-Whitney Group, Inc. of Worcester, Mass., a company he later acquired. In 1972, he founded International Forest Products, a trader of paper commodities that now does business in over 80 countries around the world. Together, Rand-Whitney and International Forest Products comprise one of the largest private-

A NEW ERA

Prior to 1994, the Patriots qualified for the playoffs just five times during their first 24 years in the NFL (1970-93). ly-owned paper and packaging companies in the United States. In 1998, he founded the Kraft Group to serve as the holding company for the family's varied business interests, whose holdings include the Rand-Whitney Group, Rand-Whitney Containerboard, International Forest Products, the New England Revolution and a portfolio of more than 30 private equity investments.

Over the past three decades, the Krafts have been among Boston's most philanthropic families, donating millions of dollars in support of local charities and civic affairs. Robert serves on the executive committee of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and established the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center. He also served on the board of overseers of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is a trustee of his alma mater at Columbia University and serves on the board of directors of many other philanthropic institutions.

SPORTS INDUSTRIALISTS OF THE YEAR

For Robert Kraft and his son Jonathan, 2002 was a year they will never forget. In January, they celebrated the closing of Foxboro Stadium with the most memorable game in franchise history, as the Patriots knocked off the Oakland Raiders in a dramatic. come-from-behind victory in overtime. In February, they celebrated New England's first Super Bowl Championship with a game-winning field goal as time expired to give the Patriots a stunning 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams. In May, they received the Environmental Merit Award from the II.S. Environmental Protection Agency for their outstanding efforts in preserving New England's environment during the construction of Gillette Stadium, that included the daylighting and restoration of the Neponset River. Later that month, they celebrated a New England Revolution 2-0 victory over the Dallas Burn in the first official event at their new, privately-financed $325 million stadium. Also in May, the Krafts received another high honor when Rand Whitney Containerboard received the 2002 U.S. Postal Service Quality Supplier Award. In August, they announced a new naming rights deal, partnering with the Boston-based Gillette Company. In October, the Krafts witnessed the rise of the Revolution, as the team advanced through the playoffs and into the MLS Cup. The championship game was hosted at Gillette Stadium and played before a record-shattering soccer crowd of 61,316 fans. In December, their year-long accomplishments were recognized by two of the sports industry's top trade publications. Both the Sports Business Journal and the Sports Business Daily selected the Krafts for their highest honors. The Sports Business Journal named Robert Kraft their Sports Executive of the Year, while the Sports Business Daily presented their Sports Industrialists of the Year award to both Robert and Jonathan Kraft. Past award winners include commissioners Paul Tagliabue (2000) and David Stern (1995), as well as television executives George Bodenheimer (2001) and David Hill (1997).

Jonathan A. Kraft celebrates his 10th season with the New England Patriots this season. As vice chairman, he oversees the overall development of each department within the organization and assists in their strategic planning. He also works closely with his father to represent the Patriots in all league matters. In addition to the Patriots, he is also the investor/operator of the New England Revolution, a team that won the Eastern Conference title in 2002. His success in operating the Patriots, the Revolution and Gillette Stadium earned him and his father, Robert, the 2002 Sports Industrialists of the Year award. The award is the highest honor presented annually by the Sports Business Daily.

In recent years, Kraft has led the organization's efforts in the planning, development, construction and eventual opening of Gillette Stadium. He worked closely with stadium designers throughout the project in an effort to create a world-class sports and entertainment facility that would also feature designs indigenous to New England. Together, they created a fan-friendly facility that is unique to New England and will serve as a model for future stadium projects worldwide. The 68,436-seat stadium is the proud home of both the New England Patriots and the New England Revolution and will be one of the premier sports and entertainment facilities in the world for years to come.

In addition to many of the stadium's design elements, Kraft is also credited with developing a creative financing plan that allowed the stadium to be built without the need for personal seat licenses to finance the project. With the use of the stadium's Fidelity Investments Clubhouse, which offers over 120,000 square feet of function space, Gillette Stadium also operates as a year-round convention center, offering club members access to the facility for private or corporate functions 365 days per year.

The construction project also drew praise for its innovative environmental practices, including the "daylighting" and restoration of the Neponset River, a new wastewater treatment facility, the recycling of water use and the recycling of on-site resources and materials during construction. In June of 2001, the Environmental Business Council presented the Kraft Group with the Environmental Award for Corporate Leadership. Then, in May of 2002, they received New England's Environmental Merit Award from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for the development and construction of Gillette Stadium.

In 1994, Kraft played an integral role in the negotiations that led to the family's purchase of the Patriots, saving the team from an inevitable move out of New England. Since then, he has worked tirelessly to fortify the franchise's foundation in New England and led the team's efforts to build a new, privately-financed $325 million stadium. It is safe to say that throughout the entire process, no one has contributed more time or energy exploring long-term stadium solutions for the Patriots than Jonathan Kraft. And, in 2002, Patriots fans finally were able to enjoy games in the comfort of a state-of-the-art facility, something fans had not experienced in the previous 42 seasons.

Also to the benefit of Patriots fans locally, nationally and internationally. Kraft initiated multi-media outlets designed to give Patriots fans unprecedented access to follow their favorite team from locations worldwide. In March of 1995, the team made history by becoming the first professional sports team to launch a Web site; www.patriots.com. In 1997, the site launched the first nightly streaming video and continues to be among the most innovative in the industry. Patriots Video News airs nightly and are catalogued for viewing throughout the season. In addition, fans can tune in to watch Patriots Live!. featuring live feeds of every major press conference. In April of 1995, the team began publishing the franchise's first full-color team newspaper, Patriots Football Weekly. It was the first full-color weekly publication offered by a professional sports team. It appears on newsstands throughout New England and is distributed to Patriots fans internationally.

In addition to his role with the Patriots, Kraft also plays a leading role in each of the family's other business pursuits as the president and chief operating officer of the Kraft Group. The Kraft Group is the holding company of Rand-Whitney Containerboard, the Rand-Whitney Group, International Forest Products, the New England Revolution and a portfolio of more than 30 private-equity investments.

Prior to building Gillette Stadium, the Kraft family owned and operated Foxboro Stadium. During that time, Kraft helped bring world class events to Foxboro, including international soccer events and numerous major concerts, including The Rolling Stones, Aerosmith, Elton John, Billy Joel, Pink Floyd and The Dave Matthews Band. For his efforts, the Greater Boston Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc. presented Kraft with the "Spirit of Tourism" award for promoting tourism and economic activity in the Commonwealth.

A Williams College graduate, Kraft received his MBA from the Harvard School of Business. He is on the board of directors for several organizations, including the U.S. Soccer Federation, Children's Hospital Trust and the Massachusetts Sports Partnership. He is also on the board of trustees for the Belmont Hill School and Park School.

Jonathan and his wife, Patti, have three children.

Andy Wasynczuk, now in his 10th season with the New England Patriots, has been instrumental in building a championship atmosphere for the organization, both on and off the field. As senior vice president and COO, he oversees the daily business operations of each department in the organization and is also responsible for managing the team's salary cap.

He is actively involved in all stages of the organization's decision making. With his guidance, the organization has evolved into a more efficient and productive operation, improving its stature both publicly and privately. The scope of his responsibilities extends from the very visible marketing, media and community relations strategies to the behind-the-scenes efforts of stadium and football operations.

In recent years, Wasynczuk played a critical role in the organization's supervision of every stage of the planning and construction of Gillette Stadium. He worked with stadium designers to ensure that the majestic, state-of-the-art stadium would feature unique fan amenities. As the organization's primary representative, he also worked with public officials to ensure that all concerns and requirements were addressed appropriately throughout the planning and construction process. Under his constant supervision, the privately-financed, $325 million project was completed on time and under budget. Since joining the Patriots in 1994, Wasynczuk has been committed to making the Patriots organization one of the most effective operations in all of sports and in 2002, the organization celebrated the grand opening of Gillette Stadium with their fans by raising the Super Bowl Championship banner.

Since the 1993 Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) was approved, salary cap management has become critical to a team's success. Wasynczuk's negotiating expertise, understanding of the CBA and financial prowess helped the Patriots maneuver into position to not only win a Super Bowl Championship, but also to compete for future titles. He works closely with Head Coach Bill Belichick and Vice President of Player Personnel Scott Pioli to ensure the team's stability and competitiveness. With the assistance of Jack Mula and Richard Miller, Wasynczuk also continues to oversee all contract negotiations.

Prior to joining the Krafts' organization, Wasynczuk was a consultant at Bain & Company in Boston, an internationally recognized consulting firm. At Bain, he developed market strategies and business plans for international corporations in the packaging and financial service industries. In January 1989, he joined Foxboro Stadium Associates as the chief operating officer. For the next 14 years, his responsibilities in that capacity included the overall management of the stadium and the long-term development of the stadium complex. During that time, Foxboro Stadium was among the busiest outdoor stadium entertainment venues in the world. As home to the New England Patriots and New England Revolution, the stadium hosted hundreds of sporting events, as well as some of the largest touring concerts in the nation. In 1994. Wasynczuk played an important role in attracting the World Cup to Foxborough, a site that has since become a constant for World Cup matches.

Wasynczuk earned a bachelor's and a master's degree in electrical engineering from Case Western Reserve University. In 1983, he added a second master's degree in business administration from the Harvard Business School.

He is active in a variety of community activities, including the board of directors for the Marketplace Network. He is a frequent guest speaker at local community service organizations and various academic institutions.

Andy and his wife, Rebecca, have three children and reside in Westwood, Mass.

Rena Clark joined the Kraft Group and the New England Patriots on May 1, 2003, as vice president of community affairs and corporate philanthropy. In her role, Clark is responsible for all team-related community initiatives and outreach programs. She also oversees all the charitable giving efforts for the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation and similar activities for the Kraft Group.

Clark has more than 15 years of corporate managerial experience ranging a wide variety of environments in both the for-profit and not-for-profit sectors. She spent four years at General Electric and a year at Bain & Company in Boston before returning to Harvard University's Graduate School of Business as the director of MBA program administration and chief operating officer in 1991. Prior to joining the Patriots, Clark most recently acquired, built, operated and divested her interests in two middle-marketsized manufacturing companies.

She actively participates with a range of community organizations and currently serves on the board of overseers for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and the New England Aquarium. She is a community volunteer with the United Way Massachusetts Bay and serves on the board of directors for the Center for Women's Business Research in Washington, D.C.

Clark graduated from Lamar University with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and holds a master's degree in business administration from Harvard University's Graduate School of Business.

Jim Hausmann originally joined the Patriots on May 17, 1992 when he was named the team's vice president and chief financial officer. The following year, he was named the executive vice president of business operations. For the past 10 seasons, he has served as the vice president of finance, where his primary responsibilities have included overseeing all financial activities involving the organization's football and stadium operations. In 1996, his role was expanded to include the financial operations for Major League Soccer's New England Revolution. Hausmann reports directly to both Robert and Jonathan Kraft on all matters involving the financial aspects of the Patriots, the Revolution and Gillette Stadium.

Before joining the Patriots, Hausmann was employed as a senior audit manager with the international accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells (now Deloitte & Touche). He worked in their St. Louis, Mo. office from 1970-84 and again from 1990-92. He took a brief hiatus from the accounting firm from 1985-89 as the chief financial officer of a regional stock brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Hausmann graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting. In 1973, he earned his CPA certificate while working at Deloitte.

Jim and his wife, Terri, have three children and reside in Foxborough, Mass.

Lou Imbriano is the vice president and chief marketing officer of the New England Patriots and Gillette Stadium. He also serves as the chief operating officer of the New England Revolution.

A graduate of Boston College, Imbriano is the chief negotiator for team and stadium related corporate sponsorships. He also oversees all sales initiatives, marketing programs, advertising, promotions, event planning, premium services, trade shows and game entertainment. He has created and developed many on-going endeavors for the organization, including Patriots.com radio programming. Experience, the Patriots Charitable Foundation Golf Tournament and Kickoff Gala, the Revolution's Soccer Celebration, the Revolution Center Circle season ticket program, Revolution Presidents Club and Netside Terrace hospitality programs and Revolutionsoccer.net radio. Imbriano also designed the blueprint to achieve the largest single game attendance in MLS history for the 2002 MLS Cup.

Imbriano was originally hired as the marketing director of the New England Patriots in 1997, but he quickly expanded his role to include all sports marketing efforts for the Kraft family businesses, including the Revolution and all stadium-related sponsorships. In six seasons, he has developed one of the premier marketing departments in all of sports and has vastly broadened the scope of the organization's marketing programs and business initiatives. His staff operates all sales initiatives, including Club Membership sales, advertising, promotions and event planning for the New England Patriots, New England Revolution and Gillette Stadium. Under his quidance, he has made the Kraft family's sports and entertainment ventures among the highest revenuegenerating programs in the world.

In 2003, the Boston Jaycees recognized Imbriano's many professional accomplishments and honored him as one of Boston's "Ten Outstanding Young Leaders." Since 1948, the Jaycees have been honoring Boston's brightest young leaders judged by their involvement in three area: community development.

professional accomplishments and personal achievements. Past winners of the award include John F. Kennedy, Leonard P. Zakim, Tom Reilly and Ron Burton, Jr., son of the first Patriot ever drafted.

Prior to joining the Kraft organization, Imbriano served as the marketing director for Sports Radio WEEI in Boston, where he oversaw the marketing and programming for the station. Imbriano graduated from Boston College in 1987 and began working as a sports producer for WHDH radio in Boston. He produced all of the station's sports talk shows and sports specials, including the broadcasting of the New England Patriots football games. After four years at WHDH, he joined WEEI as the executive producer for Boston's only all-sports radio station. In 1994, he was promoted to station management and was responsible for the station's marketing and programming.

Over the last 15 years, Imbriano has created, formatted, produced and developed numerous successful events, programs and business entities. He created and produced Sports Jam, a sports interactive fan festival that incorporated aspects of all of the major professional sports teams in New England. Imbriano also co-created and formatted "The Phantom Gourmet," a food and dining television program. He has also negotiated placement on television and radio programs regionally and nationally.

Imbriano has played an important role in creating and/or producing numerous events and broadcast programs, including the WEEI Celebrity Golf Tournament, the Hot Dog Safari, the Dee Brown Slam Dunk Tour, An Evening with Boston Super Stars, WEEI Madness, Jambalaya Crusade, Tuesday Night Football, Team 850 Racing, Ciao-Chow Bambino and various other charitable events that have cumulatively raised over $5 million for deserving charities and foundations. He serves on a number of boards and charitable committees. He also frequently lectures at Boston College and other New England universities

Lou and his wife, Patricia, have two children, Victoria and Antonio.

Scott Pioli joined the New England Patriots on Feb. 10, 2000 and quickly implemented a common football philosophy, shared with Coach Bill Belichick. The model had proven to be successful in rebuilding teams in both Cleveland and New York with the Jets and took just two seasons to bring New England its first Super Bowl Championship in 42 seasons. Since arriving in New England, Pioli has concentrated his efforts to fortify the team's foundation through the integration of veteran leadership, complemented by the drafting of young talent. His responsibilities include overseeing the college draft and free agency, as well as negotiating many of the Patriots free agent contracts.

Pioli has shown a propensity for finding veteran free agents who can contribute and play important roles in building playoff-contending teams. Since 2000, the Patriots have signed dozens of veteran free agents, including 21 who helped form the nucleus of that Patriots Super Bowl team in 2001. In 2001 alone, the team's class of 17 veteran free agents produced two team captains, seven full-time starters, three special teams specialists and two veteran nickel backs. The veteran leadership was critical to the Patriots' success that year, as the team completed its worst-to-first turnaround and set a franchise record with nine consecutive victories to close out the season as Super Bowl Champions.

His successes have earned him league-wide recognition as one of the best young personnel evaluators in the game. In 2001, the Dallas Morning News named Pioli the NFL Executive of the Year.

Pioli began his NFL career when Belichick hired him as the pro personnel assistant of the Cleveland Browns in 1992. In Cleveland, he was responsible for the evaluation of both college prospects and veteran free agents and negotiated various player contracts. He also coordinated all player tryouts. He was promoted to director of pro personnel after the Cleveland franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996. He spent one season with the Baltimore Ravens, where he oversaw all aspects of pro personnel and negotiated the contracts of free agents and several draft choices.

In 1997, while serving as head coach of the Jets, Belichick hired Pioli as the director of pro personnel. Piloi's responsibilities included the department's coordination of free agency and he was credited with the signing of a number of veteran free agents who played critical roles in the Jets' rebuilding process. In just two seasons, the Jets completed a worst-to-first turnaround, rebounding from 1-15 in 1996 to 12-4 in 1998. The 12 wins were the most in franchise history, claiming their first division title since 1968 and propelling the Jets into the playoffs for the first time in eight years.

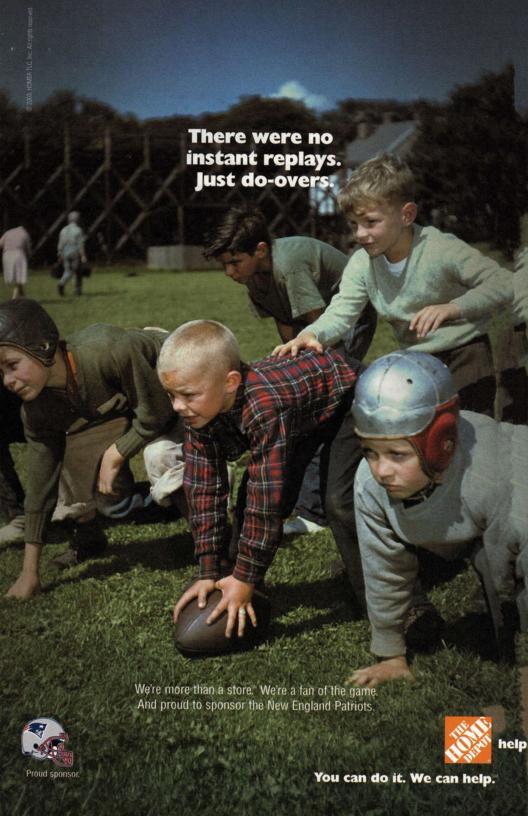

Pioli played defensive tackle at Central Connecticut State (1983-87), where he was a three-time Division II All-New England selection. After graduating with a degree in communications, he accepted a two-year graduate assistant position at Syracuse University beginning in 1988.

He accepted a full-time coaching opportunity at Murray State, where he spent one season as the offensive line coach (1990) and one season as the defensive line coach (1991). He left the coaching ranks to join the Browns personnel department in 1992.

Scott Pioli was born on March 31, 1965 in Washingtonville, N.Y. He is an avid baseball fan. Pioli currently serves on the board of directors for various non-profit foundations and was actively involved with the Bowery Mission, located in the lower east side of Manhattan, while with the Jets. He remains actively involved fund raising for several organizations in his hometown (Washingtonville, N.Y.), and recently established the Rose Pioli Scholarship in the name of his grandmother to benefit children of educators, professional firefighters, police and other emergency medical service providers. Scott and his wife, Dallas, celebrated the birth of their first child, Mia Costa Pioli on July 1, 2003.

29th COACHING SEASON 29th NFL SEASON 5th PATRIOTS SEASON 9th HEAD COACHING SEASON

Coaching

On Jan. 27, 2000, Bill Belichick was named the head 14th head coach of the New England Patriots. On Feb. 3, 2002, just two years later, he stood beside Patriots owner Robert Kraft to accept the Lombardi Trophy on behalf of the entire team after the Patriots defeated the St. Louis Rams 20-17 in Super Bowl XXXVI in New Orleans. The victory gave New England its first Super Bowl Championship and the Patriots their first league title, AFL or NFL, in their 42-year history. The game was described by many as the greatest Super Bowl in NFL history and was the first to be won on the game's final play.

The Super Bowl victory was the third of Belichick's distinguished coaching career and his first as a head coach. With the win, he became the 21st head coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl, but only the seventh to do so within two seasons of being named the head coach of that team. He also became just the second person to win a Super Bowl, both as a defensive coordinator and as a head coach, ioinina George Seifert.

For Belichick, a coaching veteran of 12 playoff teams, eight division champions, four conference champions and three Super Bowl champions, the victory over the Rams firmly established his place among the league's most successful coaches over the past two decades. Entering just his fourth season as the Patriots head coach, he already ranks fifth in the franchise's history with 28 victories and needs just seven more wins to move ahead of Bill Parcells into fourth place. He enters the 2003 season ranked 10th among the league's active head coaches with 65 career wins, including a 4-1 record in the playoffs.

When the Patriots announced Belichick's hiring, many regarded him as one of the premier defensive strategists in the game. That reputation was earned over a 25-year NFL coaching career that included Super Bowl titles as the defensive architect of the New York Giants in 1986 and 1990 and a conference championship as the assistant head coach and defensive assistant for the Patriots in 1996. When he returned to the Patriots in 2000, he followed a sound architectural plan, fortifying the foundation of the roster with team-oriented free agents who would support his overall team philosophy. After directing the Patriots from a worst-to-first turnaround in 2001 and claiming a Super Bowl title in just his second year as head coach of the Patriots, many now regard him as one of the premier head coaches in the game.

In 2002, the Patriots valiantly defended their title and remained in playoff contention until after their final game of the season was played. A dramatic come-from-behind victory over the Miami Dolphins in the 2002 season finale gave the Patriots their ninth win of the season and a chance to qualify for the playoffs. Unfortunately, just three hours later, the Patriots were eliminated from the playoffs when the New York Jets upset the Green Bay Packers to claim the final playoff position.

After an unspectacular 1-3 start in 2001, the Patriots rebounded to win 10 of their last 12 games to claim the division title for the first time in four years. Belichick's team-themed philosophy proved to bond a team that was forced to overcome adversity early in the season. The evidence came with each season-ending victory, as the Patriots won each of their last six regular season games to propel them into the playoffs. Nowhere was their formula for success more obvious than in the playoffs, where offense, defense and special teams each played critical roles, enabling the Patriots to systematically defeat three favored opponents with victories over the Oakland Raiders, Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Rams. They ended the season with a nine-game win streak, the longest in franchise history, and claimed New England's first Lombardi Trophy. It was New England's first football title since the Providence Steam Roller finished 8-1-2 in 1928.

EXTRA POINTS

- ★ In 2003, Bill celebrates his 29th consecutive season as an NFL coach. Of all current NFL head coaches, only Dan Reeves of the Falcons owns a longer streak of consecutive seasons coaching in the league.
- ★ Bill's defensive game plan from the Giants' Super Bowl XXV win over the Buffalo Bills is permanently on display at the Pro Football Hall of Fame.
- ★ Bill played football and lacrosse attending while Weslevan University in Middletown, Conn. He received the school's prestigious Baldwin Medal in 2002.

That's Suner

When the Patriots won Super Bowl XXXVI Bill Belichick became just the second coach to win a Super Bowl as a defensive coordinator and a head coach, joining George Seifert.

In 2001, the Patriots averaged 23.2 points per game, which was the team's best point production. since 1996. Defensively, the team surrendered an average of just 17 points per game, the third lowest average in franchise history and the lowest since the 1977 squad set the franchise record by limiting their opponents to just 15.5 points per game.

During the 2000 season. Belichick started the rebuilding process with the acquisition of 30 new players. That year, the Patriots set a team record by having 13 of their 16 games played decided by eight points or less. Never had so many Patriots games been decided by such a small margin during the course of a season, but the Patriots were only 4-9 in those games. One marked area of improvement was the team's overall reduction in turnovers, dropping from 33 in 1999 to just 25 in 2000 (fourth-best in franchise history)

He returned to the Patriots as head coach after three seasons with the New York Jets, where his defenses were credited for New York's intra-division success against the high-octane offenses of the Patriots, Dolphins, Bills and Colts, He was also credited for successfully defusing the Indianapolis Colts' offensive arsenal limiting the conference's most prolific offense to an average of just 14.5 points in their two matchups. That year, the Colts averaged over 28 points per game in their other 14 games.

In 1998, the Jets surrendered just 266 points, one point shy of Miami's league-leading 265. The 16.6 points allowed per game was the third lowest season average in Jets history and propelled the team to their first division title with a franchise-best 12-4 overall record. The Jets advanced to the AFC Championship game, but were defeated by the defending Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos, who went on to repeat as champions

Following the season. Belichick filled in for Bill Parcells as the head coach of the AFC's squad in the 1999 Pro Bowl. The AFC won the game, a game in which Tv Law was named co-MVP.

Belichick was named head coach of the New York Jets on Feb. 3, 1997, an interimposition he held until Parcells was formally announced as head coach a week later. During that week, Belichick hired Scott Pioli as his director of pro personnel After Parcells was named head coach. Belichick became the assistant head coach/secondary coach responsible for calling the team's defensive signals. In his first season with the Jets, his defense surrendered just 287 points, an average of 17.9 points per game. That marked a significant 10.5-point improvement per game from 1996. The 287 points allowed ranked second in the AFC and sixth overall, and was an essential factor in the Jets rise from 1-15 in 1996 to 9-7 in 1997. In three seasons in New York, his defenses were credited with 90 takeaways, improving each season from 25 in 1997 to 30 in 1998 to 35 in 1999.

Patriots fans witnessed his impact on a team firsthand in 1996 when Belichick joined the Patriots after five seasons as the head coach of the Cleveland Browns That year the Patriots claimed their first division title in 10 years with an 11-5 record and won their first two playoff games at Foxboro Stadium en route to Super Bowl XXXI Characteristically Belichick's defensive influence was credited for the team's overall success down the stretch and through the playoffs. That year the Patriots defense was among the stinglest units in the league, allowing just 19.6 points per game, and forcing 34 turnovers second in the AFC. The defense was at its best in the "red zone," finishing second in the AFC by allowing touchdowns just 42.3 percent of the time. In two playoff games, the defense allowed just nine combined points, propelling the Patriots to victories over Pittsburgh (28-3) and Jacksonville (20-6). Their victory over Jacksonville gave the Patriots their second AFC Championship and a return to New Orleans for Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bav.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he spent five seasons (1991-95) rebuilding the Cleveland Browns, whose 3-13 finish in 1990 was the worst in the history of the franchise. By 1994, the Browns were again one of the elite teams in the NFL, boasting the second-best record in the AFC. That head coaching opportunity came following the 1990 season, after Belichick's defensive efforts with the New York Giants helped claim a second Super Bowl title in five years. Cleveland wasted no time in hiring the talented young defensive coordinator, naming him the franchise's 10th head coach on Feb. 5, 1991. At the age of 38, he became the NFL's youngest head coach. In his first season, he began the rebuilding process by restoring the foundation of the aging squad he inherited. In 1991, the Browns improved to 6-10 and played in 11 games that were decided by a touchdown or less. The most dramatic improvement came in the category of turnovers. In 1990, the Browns surrendered 46 turnovers. In Belichick's first season as head coach, the team established a franchise record by turning the ball over just 18 times - four shy of the NFL record set by the Super Bowl Champion New York Giants the previous season. The Browns led the AFC with a plus-15 turnover ratio, a remarkable 39-turnover improvement from their NFL-low negative-24 ratio the year before.

Following back-to-back 7-9 campaigns in 1992 and 1993, the Browns improved to 11-5 in 1994. Only Pittsburgh, who won the division with a 12-4 record, had a better record that season. In their return to the playoffs, the Browns eliminated Parcells' Patriots, 20-13, in a first-round wild-card game on New Year's Day 1995. The Browns advanced to the divisional playoff round before being bumped by the Steelers. The 1994 squad was defined by its defense, which allowed a league-low 204 points (12.8 ppg) and just 301.6 yards per game, second in the AFC.

The 1995 season was disrupted by the mid-season announcement that the franchise would be moved to Baltimore at the conclusion of the season. The announcement caused an undeniable mid-season distraction resulting in a 5-11 finish. Belichick did not accompany the franchise's move to Baltimore after the 1995 season, completing his five-year tenure with the Browns with a 37-45 record, including a 1-1 record in the playoffs.

Belichick originally began his coaching career after graduating from Wesleyan University. His first coaching opportunity came with the Baltimore Colts in 1975. At the age of 23, he was named special assistant to Colts head coach Ted Marchibroda.

In 1976, he joined Rick Forzano's staff with the Detroit Lions as an assistant special teams coach. The following year, he was given his first positional coaching assignment as the Lions' tight ends and receivers coach. In 1978, he was hired by Red Miller of the Denver Broncos as the assistant special teams coach and assistant to defensive coordinator Joe Collier

In 1979, he joined Ray Perkins' staff with the New York Giants as a defensive assistant and special teams coach, launching a 12-year tenure with the Giants. After the 1980 campaign, he drew the added responsibility of coaching the Giants linebackers. In 1983, he began coordinating the defense on Bill Parcells' staff and continued coaching a linebacking unit that would become known as one of the most dominant units of all-time. He was officially appointed defensive coordinator in 1985, a position he held for the next six seasons. During his time as the defensive signal caller, his units were never ranked lower than 11th in the NFL and finished as high as second in the league three times, including the Super Bowl seasons of 1986 and 1990. His Giants contributions throughout the 1980s brought him national recognition as one of the best young assistant coaches in the NFL. His reward came just nine days after Super Bowl XXV when the Cleveland Browns hired him as their head coach.

THEY SAID IT

"They came out as a team and now all of America knows that ... I thought that was a pretty good signal to America that teamwork is important; that the individual matters to the team, but the team is bigger than the individual."

— President George W. Bush (4/2/02)

"Choosing to be introduced before the game as a team, not as individuals, the Patriots set the tone for their victory. Coach Bill Belichick stressed teamwork, saying that only by working together could the Patriots overcome their opponent, the best team in the NFL's regular season, the St. Louis Rams."

— Senator Edward M. Kennedy, (staff press release, 2/4/02)

"I remember watching all the experts talk about the Super Bowl; no one thought they'd win. They learned what I learned – that in politics and sports, the experts are often wrong."

— President George W. Bush (4/2/02)

"Let me say this about the Patriots: They are the most well-coached football team I have come up against since I've been coaching in this league. All three areas of the game: offense, defense, special teams."

— Mike Martz, St. Louis Rams Head Coach (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

"You can say they made more plays and, from a physical standpoint, that's true, but they beat us mentally, too, and that's a tribute to their head coach."

— Kurt Warner, St. Louis Rams quarterback (Len Pasquarelli, ESPN.com, 2/3/02)

"The best coaching job I have seen in 29 years – period ... This was no fluke. As far as designing defenses, Bill Belichick is the best in the game today, and maybe the best eyer."

— Ron Jaworski, ESPN Analyst and former NFL quarterback (Gerry Callahan, Boston Herald, 2/8/02)

"In the first game (Nov. 18, 2001), the Patriots sent five or more guys after (Kurt) Warner 38 times – or 56 percent of the plays. You know how many times they went after Warner in the Super Bowl? Four. They went into what I call cautious coverage, and you know what they did instead of presuring Warner? They pressured (Marshall) Faulk. I've never seen anything like it."

— Ron Jaworski (Gerry Callahan, Boston Herald, 2/8/02)

"Belichick did his defensive magic."

- Don Shula, retired head coach and veteran of six Super Bowl teams (Edwin Pope, Miami Herald, 2/4/02)
- ",.. the MVP for us was Belichick, because we all knew he'd come up with something to stump them. When you've seen him do it time and time again, like we have, you come to believe in the man. A lot of people have the 'genius' label in this league, but he's one of the guys who really deserves it. We were all confident we could stop them."
  - Lawyer Milloy, Patriots defensive captain (Len Pasquarelli, ESPN.com, 2/3/02)

"If you think about the history of the Super Bowl, this would have to rank right up there as the best coaching job ever. No. 1. They won the Super Bowl with a waiver wire team. No one has ever done anything like that before."

- Ron Wolf, retired general manager of the Green Bay Packers (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

34th COACHING SEASON 23rd NFL SEASON 7th PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching

Romeo Crennel is recognized as one of the top assistants in the NFL. Now in his 23rd year in the league, he returned to the New England Patriots when he was named as the defensive coordinator on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 1, 2001. The hire reunited the two coaches, who began coaching together as assistants on Ray Perkins' staff for the New York Giants in 1981. This year will be their 17th season together, during which time they have earned three Super Bowl titles, four conference titles and six division titles. Crennel's responsibilities also include the defensive line, a position he has coached for 12 of the past 13 seasons.

In 2002, the Patriots defense produced three Pro Bowl starters; safety Lawyer Milloy, cornerback Ty Law and defensive tackle Richard Seymour. It was the most by a Patriots defense since the team sent four representatives in 1985.

In 2001, the Patriots defense played an integral role in propelling the Patriots to a season-ending nine-game win streak to claim their first Super Bowl title. The team surrendered just 272 points (17.0 ppg), which ranked sixth in the league in 2001 and was the third fewest points allowed by the Patriots in franchise history. By the end of the season, the defense was in a zone, especially in the "Red Zone." In their last five regular season games, the defense surrendered just two touchdowns and limited their opponents to just 10 drives inside the 20-yard line, which resulted in seven field goals, one touchdown and two turnovers. The Patriots won all five of those games and qualified for the playoffs for the first time in three years.

The Patriots defense created a lot more opportunities for the offense in 2001 by recording 22 interceptions (second in the AFC, sixth in the NFL), 12 more than they had in 2000. Five of those interceptions were returned for touchdowns, setting a singleseason franchise record. In the playoffs, Ty Law added another interception, which he returned 47 yards for a touchdown in the 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in the Super Bowl.

Crennel, who was the defensive line coach for the Patriots from 1993 to 1996, returned to the Patriots sidelines in 2001 after three seasons with the New York Jets (1997-99) and a season as the defensive coordinator with the Cleveland Browns (2000). In his season in Cleveland, the Browns recorded 42 sacks, a 17-sack improvement from the 1999 season.

In his three seasons with the New York Jets, the defense was among the stinglest in the NFL, never allowing more than 20 points per game for a season. In 1997, he successfully incorporated a rotation of six new defensive linemen on a unit that allowed just 287 total points (17.9 points per game), second in the AFC and sixth overall. The following season, he added four new linemen to his rotation, a rotation that included Anthony Pleasant and Bobby Hamilton. The formula contributed to a 21-point improvement from the year before, as the defense allowed just 266 points all season (16.6 ppg.), finishing second to Miami's 265 points allowed. In 1999, the Jets defense forced 35 turnovers and held opponents to just 19.3 points per game.

His first tenure in New England was a four-year assignment as Bill Parcells' defensive line coach beginning in 1993 and ending with an AFC Championship and Super Bowl XXXI appearance in January of 1997. In 1993, the Patriots won their final four games of the regular season, including a 38-0 shutout vs. Indianapolis. It was the first Patriots shutout in seven seasons. In 1994, the Patriots qualified for the playoffs for the first time in eight seasons after winning their last seven games of the regular season. The defense allowed just 13.3 points per game during that seven-game stretch. In 1996, the Patriots defense allowed just 12.8 points per game in the final five contests of the regular season to propel the team into the playoffs. The Patriots scored 28-3 and 20-6 victories, respectively, in two playoffs games to claim their second conference title in franchise history and earn another trip to New Orleans for Super Bowl XXXI.

Crennel began his professional coaching career in 1981 as a special assignments/special teams/defensive assistant coach with the New York Giants. He became the special teams coach in 1983 and was assigned the defensive line position in 1990, a position he has since coached for 12 seasons. In 12 seasons in New York (1981-92), the Giants qualified for the playoffs six times, won three division titles and two Super Bowl championships. In his first season in New York, the Giants qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with a 9-7 record. It was their first winning record in nine seasons.

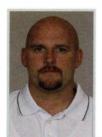

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Western Kentucky, in 1970. He was named defensive line coach the following season in 1971. In 1975, he started a three-vear tenure at Texas Tech as a defensive assistant on Parcells' defensive staff. In 1978, he was named the defensive ends coach at Mississippi. After two seasons at Ole Miss, he accepted a position at Georgia Tech in 1980, his final season in the collegiate ranks before being hired by the Giants in 1981.

Plaving

Crennel was a four-year starter (1966-69) as a defensive lineman at Western Kentucky. After three seasons as one of the Hilltoppers top tacklers, he was elected team captain as a senior. When the Western Kentucky offense struggled early in the season. Crennel willingly gave up what would have been a sure shot at all-conference honors as a defensive lineman to fill in at offensive tackle. The move helped solidify the offensive line and earned Crennel team MVP honors

Romeo Crennel is a native of Lynchburg, Va. He was a high school standout at both Fort Knox (Kv.) High and Central High (Amherst, Va.). He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Western Kentucky, then earned his master's degree while serving as a graduate assistant for the school in 1970. ## Coaching Brian Daboll is now in his fourth NFL season, his second as a position coach on Bill Belichick's staff. He originally joined the New England Patriots in February of 2000 when he was named a defensive coaching assistant.

In 2002, wide receivers Troy Brown, David Patten and Deion Branch finished the season ranked 1-2-3 respectively among the team's leading receivers. It was the first time three wide receivers held the top three positions since 1999 and just the second time in 13 seasons. The 201 receptions shared by that trio accounted for 54 percent of the team's total.

Brown led the team for the third consecutive season with 97 receptions, despite missing two games due to injury. His 6.9 receptions per game set a franchise record. Patten set career highs with 61 receptions for 824 vards and led the team with a 13.5-vard average per reception. Branch finished his rookie campaign with 43 receptions for 489 yards and scored the longest offensive touchdown of the year with a 49-yard reception in a victory over the New York Jets.

Prior to serving as the team's receivers coach. Daboll was primarily responsible for preparing film breakdowns for each upcoming opponent, including comprehensive opponent scouting charts for Head Coach Bill Belichick and the defensive coaches. The preparation and study of opponent offensive game tendencies during his first two seasons with the Patriots provided unique training for his first positional responsibilities in 2002.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he worked as a graduate assistant for Nick Saban at Michigan State. He started as an administrative graduate assistant in 1998, but spent the entire 1999 season assisting the defensive coaches, working primarily with the defensive backs. He began his coaching career as a restricted earnings coach, assisting the defensive coaches at William & Mary in 1997.

JEFF DAVIDSON

Coaching

Jeff Davidson is in his 13th season in the NFL, including his ninth as an NFL assistant coach. He is currently enjoying his seventh season on the sidelines of the New England Patriots, where he has contributed to three playoff performances, including two division titles, one conference title and one Super Bowl title.

He originally joined the Patriots as the tight ends coach in 1997. That year, tight end Ben Coates led the team with 66 receptions. In 1998, he accepted the responsibilities as an assistant offensive line coach, a position he played professionally for four seasons before pursuing his coaching profession. He was retained in that role when he joined Bill Belichick's coaching staff in 2000. Prior to the 2002 season, he resumed the tight end responsibilities, a position that produced 58 receptions in 2002, more than three times their production in 2001. Christian Fauria led the team with 7 touchdowns, the most by a Patriots tight end since Coates had 8 in 1997.

Davidson began his NFL coaching career in 1995 with the New Orleans Saints as a volunteer assistant. He gained valuable coaching experience under the guidance of offensive line coach Jon Matsko on Jim Mora's staff. In 1996, he was named offensive assistant, responsible for a multitude of functions, including the breakdown of game tapes, opponent scouting and self-scouting. He also maintained a number of on-field coaching responsibilities.

Plaving

Davidson earned All-Big Ten honors as a senior and was a four-year letterman as an offensive lineman at Ohio State. He was drafted in the fifth round of the 1990 NFL draft by the Denver Broncos and moved into the starting lineup in just his second season. He started 16 games, including both playoff games, at left tackle. In 1992, he started every game at left guard. He was released by the Broncos in 1993 and signed by the New Orleans Saints as a free agent in 1994. He was on the active roster for the first seven games of the season, but suffered a shoulder injury that sidelined him for the remainder of the year and ultimately brought an end to his playing career.

IVAN FEARS

Coaching

Ivan Fears, a 27-year coaching veteran, is now enjoying his 13th season in the NFL and his seventh with the New England Patriots. In the past six seasons with the Patriots, he has enjoyed three playoff appearances, two division titles, a conference title and a Super Bowl title. He returns for his second season as running backs coach, a position that produced 1,508 yards rushing last season, which is the second highest total by the Patriots in the last seven years. The Patriots averaged 3.8 yards per carry, tying 2001's average as the highest since 1995.

As receivers coach in 2001, both Troy Brown and David Patten produced career years. Brown established a franchise record with 101 receptions for a career-high 1,199 yards and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. It was Brown's first 1,000-yard season of his eight-year career. Patten, who entered the season with just 71 career receptions in four seasons, claimed the starting role opposite Brown and was credited with 51 receptions for 749 vards and four touchdowns. He also provided touchdowns in both the AFC Championship Game victory over Pittsburgh (24-17) and the Super Bowl triumph over the Rams (20-17), scoring two of the Patriots' three offensive touchdowns during the playoffs. Patten's 51 receptions was the highest total by a player in his first year with the Patriots since Terry Glenn's 90 receptions in

Fears originally joined the professional coaching ranks as the receivers coach on Dick MacPherson's staff with the Patriots in 1991. After two seasons in New England, he accepted a position with the Bears in Chicago, where he coached the receivers for six seasons (1993-98) before returning to New England in 1999

In 1991, his receiving corps featured Irving Fryar, Greg McMurtry and Michael Timpson. That year, Fryar turned in his first 1,000-yard season of his eight-year career, finishing with 1,014 yards on 68 receptions (14.9).

In 1993, he joined the Chicago Bears and inherited the team's first-round selection, Curtis Conway. In 1994, the Bears added Jeff Graham, a reserve receiver from the Steelers, and Fears helped develop the two into one of the premier receiving tandems in the league over a two-year span. In his first year with the Bears, Graham started 15 games and led the team with 68 receptions for 944 yards. In 1995, he led the team with 1,301 yards on 82 receptions while

Conway produced 62 receptions for 1,037 yards and 12 touchdowns. The pair became the first receiving tandem in franchise history to each record over 1,000 yards receiving in a single season. Graham was lost to free agency in 1996, but Conway filled the void with a career-high 81 receptions for 1,049 yards and became the first Bear in franchise history to record back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Injuries in 1997 limited Conway's production. In 1998, Bobby Engram emerged as the team leader, nearly eclipsing the 1,000-yard plateau with 987 yards on 64 receptions

Fears began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at William & Mary in 1976. In 1977, he drew his first positional responsibilities coaching receivers. His next two seasons (1978-79), he coached quarterbacks before accepting the role as receivers coach at Syracuse in 1980, a position he held for the next 12 seasons.

Plaving

A three-year letterman as a running back at William & Mary (1973-75), his playing career was cut short after undergoing three knee operations during his collegiate career.

Coaching

John Hufnagel was named the New England Patriots quarterbacks coach on Jan. 28, 2003. He is now enjoying his 30th season in professional football, including his fifth as an NFL quarterbacks coach. During his football career, he has coached in the NFL, CFL (Canadian Football League) and AFL (Arena Football League). He also played quarterback for 15 seasons in the NFL and CFL after starring for Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions at Penn State in the early 1970s. In the past two seasons, he has worked with two of the NFL's most prolific passers, Jacksonville's Mark Brunell and Indianapolis' Peyton Manning.

Last year, Hufnagel served in the same capacity on Tom Coughlin's staff in Jacksonville. For the year. Brunell threw just 7 interceptions, tving his careerlow for a season, and posted a passer rating of 85.7. his highest total in four seasons. In 2001, Hufnagel tutored Peyton Manning, who completed 62.7 percent of his passes for 4.131 yards. Prior to that, he spent two seasons developing Cleveland's Tim Couch, whom the Browns selected first overall in the 1999 NFL draft.

Hufnagel began his coaching career in the CFL as a player-coach for the Saskatchewan Roughriders in 1987. In 1990, the Calgary Stampeders named him offensive coordinator, where he coached for seven seasons (1990-96), helping both Doug Flutie and Jeff Garcia to All-CFL seasons. In 1997, Hufnagel was named the head coach and general manager of the New Jersey Red Dogs of the AFL. In two seasons, he posted a 17-11 record.

Plaving

Hufnagel was drafted by the Denver Broncos in the 14th round of the 1973 NFL draft after completing a spectacular career at Penn State. ## PEPPER JOHNSON INSIDE LINEBACKERS

Coaching

Pepper Johnson is enjoying his 17th season in the NFL, including his fourth as the Patriots inside line-backers coach. After earning two Super Bowl Championships during his illustrious 13-year playing career, it took Johnson just two seasons on the Patriots sidelines to earn a third. All three of his championship rings have been earned while teamed with Bill Belichick.

He originally joined Bill Belichick's coaching staff with the New England Patriots as part of the NFL's minority coaching fellowship in the summer of 2000. He spent the season with the Patriots as a defensive assistant, working primarily with Rob Ryan and the team's linebacking corps. On Feb. 1, 2001, he joined the staff as the inside linebackers coach, a position he excelled at for 13 seasons in the NFL. After injuries sidelined Ted Johnson and Bryan Cox. Tedy Bruschi made the transition from outside to inside linebacker and helped fuel the Patriots defense through a season-ending win streak that culminated with a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI. The 2001 squad was the stingiest Patriots unit since 1977, allowing just 17 points per game (sixth in the NFL). In 2002, linebackers Roman Phifer and Ted Johnson finished first and second in tackles with 109 and 96 tackles respectively. It was the first time two linebackers led the Patriots in tackles since 1994

Plaving

Johnson started 158 of 193 regular season games and played for four different teams during his 13year NFL career. The two-time Pro Bowl performer won two Super Bowl titles as a member of the New York Giants in 1986 and again in 1990. His presence helped form one of the most dominant defensive units in the history of the game. In 13 seasons, he totaled over 1,200 tackles, including 25.5 sacks. He also forced 12 fumbles, recovering eight, and intercepted 14 passes, including two that he returned for touchdowns. In a game against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1991, he set a franchise record with 4.5 sacks. He played seven seasons with the Giants (1986-92) before joining the Cleveland Browns in 1993. In 1994, he recorded a career-high with 207 tackles for the Browns. He signed with the Detroit Lions for one season in 1996 before being re-united with Bill Belichick in New York when he signed with the Jets in 1997. He played two seasons with the Jets before retiring in 1999. In his first season with the Jets, he was voted team captain before the start of the regular season. An injury vs. New England (10/19/97) mid-season sidelined him for the remainder of the season, but he returned as team captain and started every game for the Jets in 1998.

A two-time co-captain and defensive MVP at Ohio State, Johnson was drafted by the New York Giants in the second round of the 1986 NFL draft after an All-American campaign as a senior in 1985.

ERIC MANGINI

Coaching

Eric Mangini, a coaching veteran of 11 seasons, including nine in the NFL, joined the Patriots as the defensive backs coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 1, 2000. In his first three seasons with the Patriots, he has tutored a secondary that has fostered two perennial Pro Bowl performers. Following each of the last two seasons, both safety Lawyer Milloy and cornerback Ty Law have been selected to the Pro Bowl.

In 2002, the secondary produced three of the team's top five tacklers, with Lawyer Milloy (91 tackles), Victor Green (84) and Ty Law (77). Collectively, the defense forced 29 turnovers, including 18 interceptions. Nineteen of those 29 turnovers were credited to the secondary. The defense also held opponents to just 198.7 yards passing per game, an average of 20 yards less per game than in 2001.

In 2001, the Patriots defense was among the stingiest in franchise history and one of the most opportunistic in the NFL. As a unit, the defense allowed just 17 points per game, the lowest by a Patriots defense since 1977. Many potential opponent scoring drives ended in turnovers, as the Patriots recorded 35 takeaways, including 22 interceptions (12 more than in 2000). Five of those 22 interceptions were returned for touchdowns, which led the NFL, and defensive backs scored all five touchdowns. Law added another interception in the Super Bowl that he returned 47 yards for a touchdown to help secure the 20-17 victory and give New England its first Super Bowl Championship. Following the Super Bowl, both Law and Millov earned Pro Bowl honors. It was the second time that both players earned Pro Bowl honors in the same season, repeating a feat the first accomplished in Mangini joined the Patriots after three seasons (1997-99) as the defensive assistant/quality control coach for the New York Jets. During that time, he worked closely with Belichick, who was the Jets defensive backs coach. Mangini was also responsible for advance opponent film breakdowns and analysis. In 1999, the Jets defense ranked third in the AFC with 24 interceptions, the team's highest total since 1969 (29). The defensive backs recorded 18 of those 24 interceptions. In 1998, the Jets defense surrendered just 266 points, one point shy of Miami's league-leading 265 points allowed. The 16.6 points per game ranked third in franchise history and helped the Jets to a 12-4 overall record and their first division title

Mangini's first coaching opportunity came in 1995 as an assistant on Belichick's staff in Cleveland. He was retained by Ted Marchibroda when the franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996, working as a quality control/offensive assistant. The Ravens averaged 357.7 yards per game during the 1996 season – third in the NFI

Plaving

Mangini played nose tackle and earned four letters (1989-90, 92-93) at Wesleyan University in Connecticut. He set a school record with 36.5 sacks, including 22 during his final two seasons. When he graduated in 1993, he ranked second in school history in total tackles. He was voted a first-team all-star by NESCAC and ECAC-New England Division III. He also earned third-team All-American honors and All-East Coast in 1992-93. He graduated from Wesleyan in 1994 with a degree in political science.

Woicik gave Paul his first coaching opportunity at the NFL level while on Mike Ditka's staff with the Saints in 1998. For two seasons, he assisted Woicik in the implementation of the Saints conditioning program. His responsibilities included the monitoring of each player's workout routines throughout the year.

ROB_RYAN

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS

Coaching

Rob Ryan is a 17-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his sixth season in the NFL. He joined the Patriots as the linebackers coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 18, 2000. For the past two years, he has worked primarily with the outside linebackers, a position that includes defensive leaders Roman Phifer and Mike Vrabel and was bolstered by the 2003 free agent acquisition of Rosevelt Colvin.

In 2002, Phifer led all Patriots defenders with 109 total tackles, which was his highest total since recording 170 tackles (coaching grades) for the St. Louis Rams in 1996. In 2001, he contributed to one of the best scoring defenses in franchise history, as the Patriots allowed just 17 points per game. It was the lowest point production allowed by the Patriots in 24 years when the 1977 squad held their opponents to just 15.5 points per game. The defense was one of the league's most opportunistic as well, forcing 35 turnovers and capitalizing on five interceptions that were returned for touchdowns. Phifer. Vrabel and Tedy Bruschi all had stellar seasons and were critical to the team's Super Bowl success in 2001. Vrabel had a career year, totaling more tackles with the Patriots (60) than he had in four seasons with Pittsburgh.

Ryan received his first NFL coaching experience in 1994 and 1995 as the defensive backs coach of the Arizona Cardinals. In 1994, Cardinals cornerback Aeneas Williams recorded a career-high nine interceptions and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. Williams returned to the Pro Bowl in 1995. In two seasons, he contributed 15 of the secondary's 32 interceptions. The Cardinals' 32 interceptions and 42 total takeaways led the NFL in 1995.

Ryan joined the Patriots following a three-year assignment (1997-99) as the defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State. During his tenure, the Cowboys defense was continually ranked among the best in the nation. In 1999, they were ranked 10th in the nation in total defense and ninth in passing yards allowed. In 1998, they were second in the nation with 41 sacks. In his first season at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys defense finished among the nation's top 20 in turnover margin, rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense, allowing just 302.7 yards per game. It was an improvement of more than 10 yards per game from the year before (407.2 ypg). In turn, the team improved from 5-6 in 1996 to 8-4.

earning an invitation to play in the Alamo Bowl. It was Oklahoma State's first bowl appearance since 1988.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987. He moved on to Ohio State in 1988, where he coached outside linebackers. Ryan then spent five seasons at Tennessee State, where he coached running backs (1989-91), linebackers (1992) and the defensive line (1993) before entering the NFL ranks with Arizona in 1994. In 1996, he accepted a position as the defensive coordinator at Hutchinson Community College. That year, they led the nation in total defense (228 yards per game) and in quarterback sacks (56). His defense also set a national record by forcing 49 turnovers, which generated eight touchdowns in 10 games. They also led the Jayhawk conference in total defense, run defense and pass defense.

Playing

Ryan played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwestern Oklahoma State.

34th COACHING SEASON 22nd NFI SFASON 20th PATRIOTS SEASON

ANTE SCARNECCH OFFENSIVE LINE

Coaching

Dante Scarnecchia is a 34-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his 22nd season as an NFL assistant. He originally joined the Patriots in 1982. Since then. he has spent all but two seasons (1989-90) on the Patriots sidelines. Those 20 seasons of service are more than any coach in franchise history and earns him the distinction of being the only coach in franchise history to be a member of all three Super Bowl appearances, beginning with Super Bowl XX in 1985. Super Bowl XXXI in 1996 and Super Bowl XXXVI in 2001

Bill Belichick named Scarnecchia the Patriots assistant head coach/offensive line coach on Feb. 1. 2000. In 2001, he worked with a unit that featured three new starters, including two young offensive tackles, but still produced a powerful rushing attack and a balanced passing attack. Running back Antowain Smith rushed for 1,157 yards, the most by a Patriot back in four years, and powered the Patriots to a franchise record 14 wins, including the region's first Super Bowl championship.

For the fifth consecutive season, Scarnecchia's primary responsibility will be the offensive line, a position he has coached for 18 of his 34 seasons in the profession. He made the transition to offensive line from special teams coach in 1999 and assisted in the development of first-round pick Damien Woody, who started all 16 games. Woody became just the third Patriot offensive lineman (Pat Harlow, 1991; Bruce Armstrong, 1987) to start every game as a rookie since John Hannah in 1973.

Prior to coaching the offensive line. Scarnecchia handled the Patriots special team units for two seasons (1997-98). In 1998, Adam Vinatieri scored a career-high 127 points, sixth in franchise history and the most by a Patriot since Tony Franklin's 140 points in 1986. Troy Brown averaged 13.2 yards per punt return, the fifth-best single season average in team history. Punter Tom Tupa averaged 44.5 yards per punt, which ranked third among the Patriots alltime leaders.

In 1997, Scarnecchia's special teams units produced the league's second-best punter (Tupa), fifthbest kick returner (David Meggett) and the AFC's special teams Pro Bowl representative (Larry Whigham). Tupa set a franchise record and led the AFC with a 45.8-yard average (gross) per punt. It was the first time in franchise history that a Patriots punter led the conference in punting. Meggett averaged 24.7 yards per return, tied for fifth in the league and third in the AFC, and Whigham, who consistently drew double coverage, was recognized as the AFC's best among special teams performers.

Scarnecchia originally joined the Patriots and made his NFL coaching debut in 1982 as a member of Ron Mever's staff. He coached the tight ends and special teams for the Patriots for seven seasons (1982-88) before moving on to Indianapolis with Meyer in 1989. He rejoined the Patriots in 1991 after spending two seasons (1989-90) as the Colts offensive line coach. From 1991 to 1992, he coached the tight ends and special teams on Dick MacPherson's staff. On Nov. 4, 1992, MacPherson fell ill and appointed Scarnecchia to serve as the team's spokesman in his absence. Scarnecchia fulfilled the obligation for seven of the Patriots' final eight games and held the responsibilities of the head coach for both of the Patriots victories that season.

In 1993, he was the only Patriots assistant retained from the previous staff. He was assigned special assistant from 1993-94, which was redefined as defensive assistant from 1995-96. During that time, he assisted defensive coordinator Al Groh with the development of the team's linebacking corps.

His coaching career began in 1970 as the offensive line coach at California Western University. He moved to Iowa State in 1973, where he served as the

In 1979, Scarnecchia coached at Northern Arizona and then accepted an opportunity to return to Meyer's staff at SMU as the offensive line coach in 1980 and 1981. In 1982, Meyer was hired as the head coach of the New England Patriots and Scarnecchia was among a number of the SMU assistants who joined Meyer's staff in New England.

26th COACHING SEASON 15th NFL SEASON 5th Patriots Season

BRAD SEELY

Coaching

Brad Seely is a 26-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his 15th season in the NFL, including his fifth with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots as the special teams coach on Jan. 27, 1999 and celebrated his first Super Bowl Championship as a member of Coach Bill Belichick's staff in 2001.

Last year, the Patriots special teams units were among the best in the league and sent two representatives to the Pro Bowl, kicker Adam Vinatieri and special teamer Larry Izzo. It was the first time the Patriots had two special teams players in the Pro Bowl since 1986 when Tony Franklin and Mosi Tatupu earned the honors. Izzo led the team's coverage units, which ranked among the top 10 in the league in kickoff returns (6th), punt returns (9th), punt average (6th) and net punt average (5th). Vinatieri led the Patriots in scoring with 117 points and converted 27 of 30 field goal attempts (.900) and all 36 extra points. The 90 percent conversion was the highest in Vinatieri's career and set a new franchise record. As a team, the Patriots led the league in both field goal percentage categories, converting 90 percent while holding their opponents to just 58.8 percent (20-of-34). The Patriots also boasted one of the league's best kick return units. Kevin Faulk led the AFC and ranked second in the league in kick returns with a 27.9-vard average and was one of only three players in 2002 to return two kickoffs for touchdowns.

Seely earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors in 1996 as an assistant with the Carolina Panthers, but may have had his most complete season in 2001, based on the rankings and performances of each of his special teams units. The Patriots coverage units ranked first in punt returns (allowing just 4.8 yards per return), first in gross punt average (allowing just 39.5 yards per punt) and first in net punt average (limiting opponents to 31.6 net yards per punt). Troy Brown led the league with a 14.2-yard average per punt return (second in franchise history) and was the only player to return two punts for touchdowns in 2001. He returned his third punt for a touchdown at Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship Game to give the Patriots a 7-0 lead and helped secure the victory when he scooped up a blocked field goal attempt, lateraled it to Antwan Harris who returned it for another touchdown in a 24-17 victory. Five Patriots games were decided by three points or less during the 2001 season and the Patriots were undefeated in those games. The five game-winning kicks included two playoff performances (Oakland and St. Louis), thanks to the kicking accuracy of Adam Vinatieri and the consistent play of the field goal units.

In 2000, Brown finished fifth in the AFC with an average of 12.9 yards per punt return and returned a punt for a touchdown, the first of his career and the first by a Patriot since 1996. Brown's 12.9-yard average per return was the highest average for a season since Irving Fryar's 14.1-yard average in 1985. In addition, Vinatieri recorded a three-year high converting 81.8 percent of his field goal attempts (27 of 33). It was the second-highest conversion rate of his career, pushing his career field goal percentage over 80 percent, a franchise record. In 1999, the team's return units ranked among the league's best. Only St. Louis had a better kickoff return average (25.1 yards per return) than the Patriots (24.2), while their punt return average ranked ninth in the league (10.3). Brown led the team and finished fifth in the AFC with a 10.7-vard punt return average.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Seely spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, where he helped groom an expansion team into a team that competed for the NFC Championship. In 1996 and 1997, Panthers kickoff returner Michael Bates became the first player in 35 years to lead the league in kick return average in consecutive seasons. He also earned two consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl for his efforts

In 1996, not only did Seely help produce the NFL's best kick return specialist, but he also had the league's best kicker, as John Kasav set an NFL single-season record with 37 field goals. His 145 total points were the third highest total in the history of the league. In addition to the success of Bates and Kasay, Carolina also boasted one of the league's top coverage units, ranking first or second in nearly every statistical category. Special teams played a big part in the team's overall success, as Carolina claimed their first division title in just their second season with a 12-4 overall record. That year, Panther punter Rohn Stark, who spent the majority of his career with Seely in Indianapolis, became the NFL's all-time leading punter with 48,658 career punting vards.

Seely began his coaching career in 1978 at South Dakota State, the alma mater of Patriots placekicker Adam Vinatieri. The following year, he accepted a graduate assistant position at Colorado State, where he was later hired as the offensive line coach in 1980. In 1981, he was named the assistant offensive line coach (assisting Dante Scarnecchia) on Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist. He helped coach a line that opened holes for SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. The next year, he coached at North Carolina State before coaching at Pacific in 1983. In 1984, he started a five-year stint as the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, which helped produce the likes of Thurman Thomas and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

He made the transition to the professional ranks in 1989 when he was named the special teams and tight ends coach of the Indianapolis Colts. During that five-year tenure, he assisted in the development of Stark and return specialist Clarence Verdin. Both players became Pro Bowl performers for the Colts. In addition, his special teams units were annually ranked among the top coverage units in football. In 1993, they led the league by allowing just 14.9 yards per kick return. In 1994, he accepted the special teams assignment with the Jets. He left the Jets in 1995 when he was named the special teams coach of the expansion Carolina Panthers.

CHARLIE WEIS

Charlie Weis, a 25-year coaching veteran, including 14 seasons in the NFL, is enjoying his eighth season with the New England Patriots and his fourth as the team's offensive coordinator. In 14 NFL seasons, his coaching contributions have helped produce two Super Bowl Championships, three conference titles and four division titles. In recent years, Weis has gained widespread respect as one of the league's most creative offensive coordinators.

In 2001 and 2002, Weis drew additional responsibilities as quarterbacks coach, a role he accepted after suffering the personal loss of quarterbacks coach Dick Rehbein, one of his closest friends and coaching confidants, who died in August of 2001. That season. Drew Bledsoe started the first two games of the season before being sidelined with a serious chest injury. By the third week of the season, Weis was preparing second-year quarterback Tom Brady for his first NFL start. Under Weis' tutelage, the former sixth-round draft choice blossomed into a Pro Bowl performer and eventual Super Bowl MVP in his first year as an NFL starter. Brady's success should have come as no surprise to Patriots fans. In Weis' previous four-year stint (1993-96) with the Patriots, he earned a reputation for developing individual offensive star performances. He coached three different positions in three consecutive years and helped develop some of the franchise's best individual single-season performances from Ben Coates, Curtis Martin and Terry Glenn, respectively.

Offensively, the Patriots scored 371 total points in 2001, sixth in the NFL and the highest point production by the Patriots since 1996. His offense also produced the franchise's first 100-reception individual performance, earning Troy Brown a trip to the Pro Bowl. The team also adopted a power rushing attack, as Antowain Smith rushed for 1,157 yards, the most since 1997, and 12 rushing touchdowns, the most since 1996.

In 2002, Brady continued to develop into one of the league's most prolific passers. He completed 373 of 601 attempts for 3,764 yards and led the NFL with 28 touchdowns. In two seasons as a starter in Weis' offense, Brady has completed 62.7 percent of his passes, which already places him as the most accurate passer in franchise history.

Weis began his professional coaching career with the New York Giants in 1990. After working in the Giants pro personnel department in 1989, Weis was named defensive assistant and assistant special teams coach. In his first season on the Giants coaching staff, the Giants claimed the Super Bowl title with a 16-3 overall record. In 1991, Ray Handley took over as coach of the Giants and named Weis his running backs coach.

He originally joined the Patriots in 1993, beginning a very successful stint. During his first four seasons in New England (1993-96), he coached three different positions - tight ends, running backs and wide receivers - and was a key contributor in the development of Coates, Martin and Glenn. In 1993 and 1994, he served as the team's tight ends coach. In 1993. Coates led the team with 53 receptions. including 8 touchdowns. In 1994, Coates set an NFL record for receptions by a tight end with 96 and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl as a first-team All-Pro. In 1995, Weis was re-assigned to coach the Patriots' running backs and was credited with developing Martin, a third-round '95 draft pick, into one of the premier running backs in the NFL. That year, Martin won Rookie of the Year honors and set franchise rushing records with 1.487 vards and 14 touchdowns. He was the only rookie representative in the 1996 Pro Bowl and his 1,487 yards rushing was the fourth-best rookie performance in NFL history. His 14 rushing touchdowns also ranked third all-time among rookie rushers. In 1996. Weis was again assigned a new position, drawing the duty of coaching the team's receivers. Under his tutelage, Glenn led the team and set an NFL rookie reception record with 90 catches for 1,132 yards and six touchdowns. He finished second to fellow Ohio State alum Eddie George in the Associated Press balloting for Offensive Rookie of the Year.

From 1997 to 1999. Weis called the offensive plays for the New York Jets. In his first season with the Jets, New York improved from 1-15 in 1996 to 9-7 in 1997. The eight-game improvement was the best in franchise history. In addition to his own playcalling. Weis employed a triumvirate of receivers who were largely responsible for the success of the Jets offense. Keyshawn Johnson, Wayne Chrebet and Jeff Graham combined for 170 receptions for 2,304 yards and 10 touchdowns. In 1998, the Jets improved to 12-4 to claim their first division title in franchise history. That year, Weis was named the offensive coordinator/wide receivers coach after a year of handling the dual responsibilities. By season's end, his offense ranked among the greatest in franchise history and led the team to their first 12-win season. The team scored 416 points, the second highest total in franchise history (419 points in 1968) and averaged 357.2 yards per game. It was the second-best season average in Jets history (368.5 ypg in 1985). In addition, they also controlled the ball for an average of 32:17 per game, second in the AFC and third in the NFL. Both of Weis' starting receivers, Johnson (1,131) and Chrebet (1,083), eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving plateau for the first time in their respective careers. It also marked the first time since 1986 that two Jets receivers reached that milestone in one season. At the conclusion of the 1998 season, three of his offensive stars — Johnson, Curtis Martin and Vinny Testaverde — were voted to represent the AFC in the Pro Bowl.

In 1999, Weis' offense produced the league's second-leading rusher and the AFC's fourth ranked receiver. Martin rushed for 1,464 yards, falling just 90 yards shy of the rushing title. Keyshawn Johnson led the team and established career-highs with 89 receptions for 1,170 yards. He was elected to his second consecutive Pro Bowl at the end of the season

Weis has enjoyed tremendous coaching success at all levels, including high school, college and in the pros. The Trenton native began his coaching career in 1979 at a high school in New Jersey. In 1985, he was hired as an assistant at the University of South Carolina, where he coached for four seasons before returning to New Jersey as the head coach at Franklin Township High in 1989. That year, he directed them to the New Jersey State Championship. In 1990, he launched his professional coaching career with the New York Giants and celebrated his first Super Bowl championship.

Mike Woicik was named the Patriots strength and conditioning coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 16, 2000. The 26-year coaching veteran is now in his 14th season in the NFL and has initiated strength and conditioning programs that have contributed to the success of four Super Bowl Championship teams, three with the Dallas Cowboys and one with the Patriots. Woicik's year-round conditioning program proved to be a significant factor in the Patriots success in 2001, as the team closed out the season with a nine-game win streak, the longest in franchise history.

He entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Dallas Cowboys in 1990 and was voted the NFL's "Strength Coach of the Year" in 1992. During his seven seasons (1990-96) with the Cowboys, the team totaled an 89-38 record, including 12 playoff victories and three Super Bowl championships. Conditioning played a big part in the Cowboys' overall success. In his final six seasons with Dallas, they had a cumulative 35-11 (.761) record from Thanksgiving until the end of the playoffs.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he spent three seasons with the New Orleans Saints (1997-99).

Woicik began his strength and conditioning training at Springfield College in 1978. He served as the track coach and weight room coordinator from 1978-80. In 1980, he was hired by Syracuse University, where he developed the strength and conditioning programs for the university for the next decade (1980-89).

The coaches listed above are the all-time, full-time position coaches only.

Thomas Dimitroff Jr., who is now in his 14th season in player personnel, joined the Patriots in 2002 as the team's national scout and was named the director of college scouting on June 11, 2003. He will oversee a staff of area scouts who are responsible for evaluating all of the nation's eligible college prospects. As the team's national scout, he gathered reports on each of the nation's top college prospects and tracked the development and availability of recently drafted players.

He joined the Patriots after serving the previous nine seasons in the scouting departments of three different NFL teams. His first NFL personnel opportunity came in 1993 as an area scout for the Kansas City Chiefs. In 1994, he was given an opportunity to serve as an area scout for the Detroit Lions, a position he held through 1997. Prior to joining the Patriots, he gained four seasons of experience working in the scouting department of the Cleveland Browns (1998-01).

Dimitroff spent three years scouting two other pro football leagues before his first NFL opportunity. He spent the 1990 and 1991 seasons in the Canadian Football League, followed by a season in the World League was spent scouting all NFL, CFL and World League rosters and tracking player transactions. His two seasons in the CFL prior to that were served as the Canadian scouting coordinator for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Thomas Dimitroff Jr. was born in Barberton, Ohio. He played football throughout college and captained his University of Guelph (Canada) football team from 1987-89. His father, Tom, was a long-time personnel scout for the Cleveland Browns.

Lionel Vital is now in his 14th season as a personnel evaluator, including his fourth with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots personnel department on May 18, 2000 when he was named the team's national college scout. A year later, he was promoted to assistant director of college scouting. In that position, he assists Thomas Dimitroff in overseeing all college scouting and will share in the responsibilities for the evaluations of the nation's top college prospects. His contributions since joining the Patriots have been important to rebuilding them into a championship-caliber team.

In joining the Patriots, Vital was reunited with head coach Bill Belichick and vice president of player personnel Scott Pioli, a working relationship that began in Cleveland in 1992. Prior to joining the Patriots, Vital spent three seasons with the New York Jets as a talent scout in the college scouting department. In New York, his responsibilities included the highly coveted Southeast region.

Belichick first hired Vital as a talent scout for the Cleveland Browns in 1991, after two seasons as the director of player personnel for the Montreal Machine of the World League of American Football (1990-91). Vital remained with the team through the 1995 season and accompanied the franchise's move to Baltimore in 1996. In 1997, he rejoined Belichick with the Jets in New York.

Vital exhausted his professional playing career options in football and baseball before pursuing a career in scouting. After establishing a school rushing record at Nichols State, Vital was drafted by the Washington Redskins in the seventh round of the 1985 NFL draft. He missed his rookie season due to an injury and was waived in 1986. In 1987, he resigned with Washington and appeared in three games, rushing for 346 yards and 2 touchdowns on just 80 carries (4.3 avg.). Following the season, he signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox as an outfielder, but soon returned to the NFL to pursue his football career. He enjoyed short stints at Buffalo and Detroit before completing his playing career with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the CFL from 1989-90

Lionel Vital was born July 15, 1963 in New Iberia, La. He attended Loreauville (La.) High and earned alldistrict honors in football and all-state honors in baseball. He attended Nichols State, where he majored in criminal justice

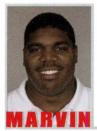

Larry Cook is enjoying his 41st year in football, including his 23rd as a member of the Patriots personnel department. He was named regional scout on June 11, 2003 after serving six years as the director of college scouting. As a regional scout, he will now concentrate more of his time on the gathering of information on the top college prospects in a specific region.

In 23 years with the Patriots, he has celebrated each of the Patriots three Super Bowl appearances and has been an important contributor to the team's scouting department for over two decades.

Cook originally joined the Patriots scouting department as a personnel scout on Dick Steinberg's staff on Feb. 1, 1985, after a 16-year coaching career. He began his coaching career in 1963 at Fountain Valley High School in California. In 1975, he joined the collegiate ranks when he accepted an assistant coaching position at Cal State Fullerton. After three years at Fullerton, he accepted his first professional assignment as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams scouting department. He spent six seasons (1979-84) with the Rams before joining the Patriots scouting department in 1985.

Cook was born Feb. 12, 1939 in Irvine, Calif. He and his wife, Nadine, have a daughter, Jacquelyn, and two sons. Michael and Steven.

Marvin Allen is enjoying his 11th season with the New England Patriots, including his seventh season in the player personnel department. He returned to the Patriots organization on June 19, 1997 when he was hired as a regional college scout. Allen was originally drafted by the Patriots in the 11th round (294th overall) of the 1988 NFL draft after averaging 5.1

yards per carry (73 rushes) as a senior at Tulane. In four seasons with the Patriots (1988-91), he rushed for 378 yards and 2 touchdowns on 94 carries (4.0 avg.). He also returned 43 kicks for 844 yards (19.6 avg). Allen was born Nov. 23, 1965 in Wichita Falls, Texas. He is single and resides in Wichita Falls.

Nick Caserio joined the Patriots in June of 2001 as a personnel assistant. He became a coaching assistant on Bill Belichick's staff in February of 2002, and returns to player personnel in 2003 as an area scout. The Westlake, Ohio native attended John Carroll University, where he was a standout quarterback. He started at quarterback in each of his four seasons and was a two-time captain for the Blue Streaks. Caserio began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Saginaw Valley State University in 1999. The Cardinals finished the 2000 season 9-2 and qualified for the Division II playoffs. Following a brief stint with Central Michigan, he joined the Patriots scouting department.

Jake Hallum joined the Patriots scouting department as a college scout on May 31, 2000. For more than three decades, Hallum has been evaluating college talent. Prior to joining the Patriots, he provided five seasons of expertise as a college scout for the Philadelphia Eagles. His experience at the college level began as the head coach at Morehead State in 1968. After four seasons (1968-71), Hallum moved on to the University of Maryland, where he coached the offensive line from 1972 to 1981. In 1982, he began an eight-year assignment as an assistant at Kentucky. In 1990, he accepted the position as offensive line and tight ends coach at Arizona State. Following the 1991 season, he left the coaching ranks, completing a 24-year coaching career. In 1992, he began his scouting career as a regional scout for National Football Scouting, a position he held for three seasons prior to joining the Eagles. During his three-year tenure, he scouted Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi. Hallum was born Nov. 2, 1938 in Liberty, S.C. He played line-backer and guard at Newberry College (1957-60) and later earned his master's degree from Murray State in 1965. He coached high school football at his alma mater, Pickens (S.C.) High (1960-62), before making stops at Hopkinsville (Ky.) High (1962-66) and Paul Blazer High in Ashland, Ky. (1966-67). Jack and his wife, Mable, reside in Cypress, Texas. They have two sons, Todd and Bart.

Jay Muraco is enjoying his eighth season in the NFL, including his fourth season with the New England Patriots. He joined the Patriots personnel department in 2000 as the college scouting coordinator after four seasons in the scouting department of the Philadelphia Eagles. While attending Kent State, he interned with the San Diego Chargers personnel department during their 1992 training camp and then volunteered to work for the Cleveland Browns personnel department while finishing school from 1992-95.

Jim Nagy joined the Patriots in 2002 as a college scout. He is responsible for the collection of data on all the prospects in his assigned region. UCKO KILROY

Francis "Bucko" Kilroy is celebrating his 61st season in the NFL and has been a member of each of the Patriots' three Super Bowl teams. During his career, he has held nearly every position imaginable. He has been a player, coach, personnel director, general manager, vice president and now serves as a consultant in the Patriots scouting department.

Kilroy was originally hired by the Patriots in 1971

as their player personnel director and was responsible for selecting the team's first two Pro Football Hall of Fame inductees, guard John Hannah (1973) and cornerback Mike Haynes (1976). He is credited with building some of the best teams in franchise history with the drafting of such players as Julius Adams, Hannah, Sam Cunningham, Steve Nelson, Russ Francis and Steve Grogan during his first five years as personnel director (1971-75). During the next three years, the Patriots compiled a 31-13 record (.705), including two playoff appearances.

Following the team's success, Kilroy was promoted to general manager in 1979 and was responsible for directing the Patriots day-to-day business operations, as well as handling all contract negotiations. On Feb. 16, 1983, he was promoted to vice president, a position he held until he retired following the 1993 season. Since then, he has offered his assistance as a scouting consultant to the personnel department.

Kilroy is revered in scouting circles, having started many of the scouting services that are now used by the entire league. He was one of the originators of the National Scouting Combine, now in its 21st year. He also has developed and trained numerous personnel people who later became NFL scouting directors.

He began his playing career with the war-time "Steagles" in 1943 (the union of the Steelers and the Eagles during World War II). He played 13 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, serving as a two-way guard and tackle. He played in 134 games during his playing career and showed his versatility by being selected as an All-Pro as both an offensive guard (1947-49) and a defensive middle guard (1952-54). He was also named to the NFL's all-decade team for the 1940's and is listed as one of the league's 300 greatest players. In 1948 and 1949, his Eagles team became the only team to ever post back-to-back shutouts in championship games.

Following his playing career with the Eagles, he moved from the field to the sidelines as a coach and scout for the Eagles (1956-61). He was named director of player personnel for the Washington Redskins in 1962 and then moved to the Dallas Cowboys in 1966. While with the Cowboys (1966-70) he worked with Gil Brandt and Tom Landry. His father, Roy, retired after 39 seasons as the head coach at Eastern Kentucky University and was inducted into the conference's hall of fame in 2003. His 315-123-8 career record (.715) ranks as the sixth all-time winningest coach in Division I or I-AA football history. Pro Football Hall of Famer Mike Haynes is the only other Patriots defender to appear in five consecutive Pro Bowls.

In 1985, Tippett led the conference with 16.5 sacks and helped power the Patriots to their first AFC Championship and Super Bowl appearance. He was a consensus first-team All-Pro selection and earned Defensive Player of the Year honors from UPI and the New York Daily News. He was also voted the Tums Neutralizer of the Year (selected by NFL Films for the hardest hits of the season). In 1987, he led the conference in sacks again, with 12.5, and the honors continued to roll in. He was voted the Linebacker of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association and the NFL Players Association and was again voted first-team All-Pro by numerous news outlets, including AP and PFWA. In the 1993 season finale, he recorded 1.5 sacks against the Miami Dolphins giving him 100 for his career. At the time, he was just the seventh player in NFL history to reach that plateau.

Tippett was born on Dec. 27, 1959 in Birmingham, Ala. He was a three-sport star in football, track and wrestling at Barringer High in Newark, N.J. He was then recruited to the University of lowa, where he earned All-American honors, capping his collegiate career as the Big Ten Champions, earning lowa their first Rose Bowl appearance since 1959. ## KENYATTA JONES

Career Transactions

Kenyatta Jones was drafted by the New England Patriots in the fourth round (96th overall) of the 2001 NFL draft ... Signed with the Patriots (7/18/01).

Seasonal Reviews

2002 (13/11): Started 11 of 13 games at right tackle and was part of a Patriots offensive line that did not allow a sack in four different games in 2002, the first time the Patriots have accomplished that feat since 1995 ... Offensive line yielded just 31 sacks, the least since 1997 (30). Pittsburgh (9/9): Started his first professional game at right tackle in the Patriots 30-14 win over the Steelers on Monday Night Football. N.Y. Jets (9/15): Started at right tackle in New England's 44-7 win over the Jets and was part of an offensive line that allowed no sacks on 35 passing attempts and paved the way for a season-best 163 yards rushing. San Diego (9/29): Started at right tackle as part of an offensive line that did not allow a sack for the second time in three weeks.

Green Bay (10/13): Started at right tackle ... Helped open holes for the team to average 5.6 yards per carry and gain a total of 123 rushing yards. Detroit (11/28): Started at right tackle in the Patriots 20-12 win over the Lions on Thanksgiving Day and did not allow a sack on 30 pass plays ... Helped the Patriots march forward on a 17-play, 74-yard drive that chewed up the final 9:46 and helped New England preserve the win. Buffalo (12/8): Started at right tackle as part of an offensive line that did not allow a sack for the second straight week and the fourth time in 2002, as the Patriots beat the Bills, 27-17.

2001 (5/0): Participated as a reserve offensive lineman and on special teams in five regular season games. Cincinnati (9/9): Made NFL debut in action on the offensive line. Miami (10/7): Participated at right guard when starter Joe Andruzzi was forced to leave the game due to injury.

College

Jones was a four-year letterman (1997-2000) at South Florida, starting 40 of 43 career games ... One of the strongest players in the collegiate ranks, boasting a 490-pound bench press ... Showed his athleticism by also briefly playing on the school's basketball team in 1999-2000 when injuries depleted the squad's depth. 2000 (Senior): All-Independent first-team selection by The NFL Draft Report ... Manned the demanding left tackle position and provided outstanding pass protection as the Bulls averaged 203.2 aerial yards per game in their first season of NCAA Division 1-A competition ... Led offensive line unit that allowed only 24 quarterback sacks ... Registered 91 knockdowns, while appearing in virtually every offensive snap (726 plays) ... Delivered touchdown-resulting blocks on two scores as the Bulls exploded for 513 yards vs. Jacksonville State ... # 2003 PRO BOWL

The Patriots had six players selected to the AFC's 43-man 2003 Pro Bowl roster: Special teamer Larry Izzo (second selection), cornerback Ty Law (third selection), safety Lawyer Milloy (fourth selection), defensive tackle Richard Seymour (first selection), kicker Adam Vinatieri (first selection) and center Damien Woody (first selection) were the Patriots representatives in the Pro Bowl in Hawaii on Feb. 2. Last season marked the fourth time in franchise history that six or more players were named to the Pro Bowl and it was the first time since 1996 that six players received the honor.

HISTORICAL CAPSULE

rofessional football arrived in New England on Nov. 16, 1959, when a group of local businessmen, led by former public relations executive William H. "Billy" Sullivan Jr. was awarded the eighth and final franchise in the new American Football League. One week later, Northwestern University running back Ron Burton was selected as the franchise's first draft choice and Syracuse running back Gerhardt Schwedes was selected as the team's first territorial choice.

Three key personnel decisions were made in the winter of 1960. First, former Boston College head coach Mike Holovak was named director of player personnel. Ed McKeever was hired as the team's first general manager and he selected Lou Saban as the team's first head coach.

One of the first orders of business of the management group was giving the franchise a name and that was accomplished through a public contest. Thousands of entries were submitted to name the team and 74 fans suggested the winning name, the Boston Patriots. Shortly after the franchise name was chosen, Boston Globe artist Phil Bissell drew a cartoon of a Minuteman preparing to snap a football and owner Sullivan liked the drawing so much that he selected "Pat Patriot" as the team logo. On April 1, 1960, Boston University Field - the former home of the Boston Braves - was selected as the first home of the Boston Patriots.

The organization's first training camp opened on July 4, 1960 at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Approximately 350 players reported to the opening of camp, including a large contingent from Boston College. This group would be trimmed to 35 for the start of the regular season. The team's first preseason game was held on July 30 and the Patriots defeated the Buffalo Bills 28-7 at War Memorial Stadium in Buffalo. Patriots defensive end Bob Dee recovered a fumble during the game and scored the AFL's first touchdown. The first "home" game was held two weeks later before 11,000 fans at Harvard Stadium and the Pats lost 24-14 to the Dallas Texans. The team's regular season home opener came on Sept. 9 and 21,597 fans at Boston University field watched the team lose to the Denver Broncos 13-10

The 1963 season saw the Patriots move to Fenway Park for home games, where they claimed their first division crown with a 7-6-1 record. The team lost the AFL title game, 51-10, to the San Diego Chargers. A number of Patriots players emerged as stars in the AFL during the 1960s, including wide receiver and kicker Gino Cappelletti, running back Jim Nance, quarterback Babe Parilli, linebacker Nick Buoniconti, defensive linemen Houston Antwine, Bob Dee, Larry Eisenhauer and Jim Lee Hunt and center Jon Morris.

In 1970, after a decade of playing at four different sites, including Boston University Field, Harvard Stadium, Fenway Park and Boston College Alumni Stadium, the Patriots selected Foxborough as the new home of the team. In March 1971, the team was renamed the New England Patriots. On Aug. 15, 1971, the Patriots played their first game at Schaefer Stadium in Foxborough, defeating the New York Giants 20-14 before a crowd of 60,423 in a preseason contest.

In 1976, the Patriots earned a wild-card playoff berth, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Oakland Raiders, 24-21. In 1978, the Patriots won their first outright division title in franchise history, but lost to the Houston Oilers on Dec. 31, 31-14, in the franchise's first home playoff game. During the 1970s, several Patriots were regarded to be among the most outstanding players in the league at their positions, including offensive tackle John Hannah, cornerback Mike Haynes and tight end Russ Francis.

In 1982, Schaefer Stadium was renamed Sullivan Stadium. In 1985, the Patriots gained a wild-card berth in the playoffs and went on to defeat the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders and the Miami Dolphins on the road to win their first AFC Championship and a trip to Super Bowl XX. Unfortunately, the Patriots faced one of the dominant teams of the '80s as the Chicago Bears shuffled to a 46-10 Super Bowl victory. Following that season, Patriot greats John Hannah and Julius Adams retired.

On July 28, 1988, Remington Products, Inc. CEO Victor Kiam purchased the Patriots from the Sullivan family and retained the team for four years. On Nov. 23, 1988, Robert Kraft purchased Sullivan Stadium out of bankruptcy court.

In 1990, Sullivan Stadium was renamed Foxboro Stadium and the following season natural grass was installed in the stadium for the first time. On July 27 1991, Hannah became the first Patriot to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

In 1992, St. Louis businessman James B. Orthwein purchased controlling interest of the Patriots and made some dramatic changes, both on and off the field. In 1993, he hired former New York Giants head coach Bill Parcells and a new coaching staff. In addition, he also made some cosmetic changes that spring with the unveiling of a new Patriots logo and the change of primary color from red to blue.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Robert K. Kraft became the franchise's fourth owner when he purchased the team from Orthwein, saving the franchise from an impending move. On May 12, 1994, linebacker Andre Tippett moved from the field to the front office when he announced his retirement. That season, the Patriots closed out the season with a seven-game winning streak to qualify for their first playoff berth since 1985. The Patriots lost to the Cleveland Browns 20-13 in the wild-card playoff game. In 1995, the Patriots became the first professional sports team to launch their own Web site - www.patriots.com.

The Patriots continued their rise during a memorable 1996 season, winning the AFC Championship and returning to the Super Bowl for the second time in team history. The Patriots finished 11-5 and scored two home playoff wins, 28-3 vs. Pittsburgh and 20-6 vs. Jacksonville, winning the AFC Championship in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium crowd. The Patriots were defeated by the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXI, 35-21. The game was the fourth most-watched program in television history, attracting some 128,900,000 viewers.

In 1997, the Patriots defended their AFC East division title with a 7-1 record in the division and a 10-6 overall record. It was the Patriots first back-to-back division titles in franchise history. The Patriots hosted and defeated the Miami Dolphins 17-3 in the playoffs, extending their playoff home winning streak to three games.

On Sept. 7, 1998, the Patriots became the first professional sports team to produce their own live postgame show to be broadcast on the Internet. "Patriots Live!" debuted following their season-opening game at Denver.

The Patriots finished 9-7 in 1998 and qualified for the playoffs, marking the third consecutive season they qualified for the postseason - a team record.

A new era began in Patriots history in 2000 when the team unveiled designs for their new stadium. The new 68,436-seat facility opened in May, 2002 and celebrated its Grand Opening on Sept. 9, 2002.

The Patriots also began a new era on the playing field when they hired Bill Belichick as the 14th head coach in team history. Belichick was hired by the Patriots on Jan. 27, 2000.

When Kraft purchased the Patriots, he promised the fans of New England that he would bring home a championship. And following the 2001 season, Belichick and the Patriots made good on that promise.

In one of the most dramatic turnarounds in NFL history, the Patriots capped off an 11-5 regular season with three playoff wins for the ages. In the divisional round of the playoffs, the Patriots defeated the Oakland Raiders 16-13 in overtime. The game was a thrilling, snowy sendoff for Foxboro Stadium. Adam Vinatieri kicked a 45-yard field goal to tie the game late in the fourth quarter and then added a 23-yard kick in overtime to win the game, 16-13. The following week in Pittsburgh, the Patriots improved their record to 3-0 in AFC Championship games, defeating the favored Steelers 24-17 to advance to their third Super Bowl.

In Super Bowl XXXVI at the Superdome in New Orleans on Feb. 3, 2002, the Patriots defeated the St. Louis Rams, 20-17, in one of the most dramatic Super Bowl finishes in history. After the Patriots took a 17-3 lead into the fourth quarter, St. Louis rallied to tie the game at 17. But quarterback Tom Brady marched the Patriots into Vinatieri's field goal range and his 48-yard kick sailed through the uprights just before the final whistle to give New England its first NFL Championship. The Patriots were welcomed home with a rally in Boston attended by nearly 1.5 million people and took the Lombardi Trophy to rallies in all of the New England states.

In 2002, the Patriots celebrated the opening of their world-class new home, Gillette Stadium. In the Grand Opening on Sept. 9, the Patriots Super Bowl XXXVI banner was unveiled as the Patriots defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 30-14, before a national audience on Monday Night Football. In the season finale, the team scored a dramatic, 27-24 come-from-behind overtime win against the Dolphins. Three hours later, New England was eliminated from playoff contention due to a tiebreaker scenario after finishing the 2002 season with a 9-7 record.

PLAYOFF TIE BREAKERS

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs. Note: Tie games count as one-half win and one-half loss for both clubs.

TO BREAK A TIE WITHIN A DIVISION

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined:

TWO CLUBS

- Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs.)
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played witin the division.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
- 5. Strength of victory.
- 6. Strength of schedule.
- Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
- 9. Best net points in common games.
- Best net points in all games.
- 11. Best net touchdowns in all games
- 12. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, tie-breaker reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format.)

- Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs.)
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
- 5. Strength of victory.
- Strength of schedule.
- Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best net points in common games.
- 10. Best net points in all games.
- 11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
- 12. Coin toss.

TO BREAK A TIE FOR THE WILD-CARD TEAM

- If it is necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:
- If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tie-breaker.
- B. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps:

TWO CLUBS

- Head-to-head, if applicable.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in the games played within the conference.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
- Strenath of victory.
- Strength of schedule.

- Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best net points in conference games.
- 9. Best net points in all games.
- 10. Best net touchdowns in all games.
- 11. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

- Apply division tie-breaker to eliminate all but highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2. The original seeding within a division upon application of the division tie-breaker remains the same for all subsequent applications of the procedure that are necessary to identify the Wild Card participants.
- Head-to-head sweep (apply only if one club has defeated each of the others or one club has lost to each of the others.)
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
- Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
- 5. Strength of victory.
- 6. Strength of schedule.
- Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
- Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
- 9. Best net points in conference games.
- Best net points in all games.
- 11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
- 12. Coin toss.

When the first Wild Card team has been identified, the procedure is repeated to name the second Wild Card (i.e., eliminate all but the highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2.) In situations where three teams from the same division are involved in the procedure, the original seeding of the teams remains the same for subsequent applications of the tie-breaker if the topranked team in that division qualifies for a Wild Card berth.

OTHER TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

- 1. Only one club advances to the playoffs in any tie-breaking step. Remaining tied clubs revert to the first step of the applicable division or Wild Card tie-breakers. As an example, if two clubs remain tied in any tie-breaker step after all other clubs have been eliminated, the procedure reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format to determine the winner. When one club wins the tie-breaker, all other clubs revert to Step 1 of the applicable two-club or three-club format.
- In comparing records against common opponents among tied teams, the best won-lost-tied percentage is the deciding factor since teams may have played an unequal number of games.
- To determine home-field priority among divisiontitlists, apply Wild Card tie-breakers.
- To determine home-field priority for Wild Card qualifiers, apply division tie-breakers (if teams are from the same division) or Wild Card tie-breakers (if teams are from different divisions).

- The Patriots claimed their third AFC Championship in their third trip to the championship game (1985, 1996, 2001).
- Wide receiver Troy Brown was involved in the Patriots two special teams touchdowns, scoring the first on a 55-yard punt return and then scooping up a blocked field goal and lateraling the ball to Antwan Harris, who ran the ball in for another touchdown.
- Ouarterback Drew Bledsoe replaced an injured Tom Brady in the second quarter and, in his first game action in five months, threw a touchdown pass to David Patten to put New England firmly in command of the game.
