Gillette STADIUM™

Gillette Stadium, home to the three-time Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots and Major League Soccer's New England Revolution, is New England's premier sports and entertainment venue.

New England fans have embraced Gillette Stadium with unprecedented fervor, using the most fan-friendly venue in the region to express their passion for the Patriots and participate in other activities year-round. More than two million people visit Gillette Stadium annually. Fans have sold-out Gillette Stadium for every Patriots home game since the venue opened and flock to the stadium to see the New England Revolution, attend world-class concerts and participate in special events.

Fan satisfaction is at the forefront of Gillette Stadium's design, with unobstructed views from the entire length of each of its wide concourses ensuring a great view of the field from practically anywhere inside the turnstiles. Additional gathering areas, such as the end-zone plazas, offer alternative viewing where fans can also gather to socialize before, during and after games. Once at their seats, guests relax in theater-style chairs, each one complete with a drink holder. For the ultimate in creature comforts, the Fidelity Investments Clubhouse offers more than 6,000 club members access to 120,000 square feet of space to enjoy not just on game days, but year-round. In addition to the Clubhouse areas, the stadium's 87 luxury suites are the largest in the NFL, ranging from 800 to 2,700 square feet. Each suite features luxurious furnishings as well as private bars and restrooms.

Gillette Stadium celebrates New England's heritage with a unique display of local flavor. A stylized lighthouse and bridge greet fans entering from the Bank of America Gate and create the stadium's signature view. Fans gathering in the Bank of America Plaza can enjoy a granite map of New England constructed with stone from each of the six states. The coastal heritage of the region is represented in a seascape scene that complements the bridge and lighthouse and flanks the players' entrance to the field. Guests can experience a unique view of the action from atop the bridge, which connects the east and west concourses at the base of the lighthouse.

In addition to football games and soccer matches, the stadium is host to hundreds of corporate and private events each year. Among the various locations on the stadium's grounds, including the Dana-Farber Field House and the Fidelity Investments Clubhouse, tens of thousands of square feet host events of all sizes. With Gillette Stadium's proximity to Boston and Providence, as well as ample parking, event planners are making Gillette Stadium an event hub. Tradeshows, corporate events, outdoor sporting events, galas and other functions keep the stadium busy year-round.

HOME SWEET HOME

The Patriots have enjoyed one of the NFL's greatest home-field advantages at Gillette Stadium, having amassed an overall record of 30-6 since the stadium's grand opening on Sept. 9, 2002, including preseason, regular season and postseason games. New England won a franchise-record 21 consecutive home games between 2002 and 2005, and achieved perfect 8-0 regular season home records in 2003 and 2004.

THREE'S COMPANY

After the unveiling of the 2004 Super Bowl banner at the 2005 season opener, three Super Bowl championship banners hang in Gillette Stadium, each introduced at a season-opening ceremony at the stadium. The 2001 Super Bowl banner was unveiled at the Patriots' first regular season home game at Gillette Stadium in 2002.

"MY OBJECTIVE IN BUYING THE PATRIOTS IS TO HELP BRING A CHAMPIONSHIP TO NEW ENGLAND." – ROBERT KRAFT, JAN. 21, 1994

Robert Kraft announced his intentions to bring New England a championship the day he bought the New England Patriots in 1994. In the 12 years since, he has made good on that pledge several times over. Since Kraft purchased the team, he has helped bring New England three Super Bowl championships, four conference championships and six division championships. Now the Patriots are often referred to as a model franchise, and Forbes magazine named the Patriots "The Best Team in Sports" in 2005.

The transformation of the Patriots under Kraft's leadership constitutes one of the greatest long-term, worst-to-first stories in sports history. In the four seasons immediately preceding Kraft's purchase (1990-93), the Patriots compiled an NFL-worst 14-50 (.219) record and finished in last or next-to-last place in their division each season. Dating back to the franchise's founding in 1960, the Patriots were never able to sustain long-term success. But Kraft's Midas touch was immediately evident as the team qualified for the playoffs in four of his first five seasons as owner. Since Kraft's 1994 purchase of the Patriots, the team has won three Super Bowl championships and twice as many conference championships (4) than any other NFL team. Since 1994, the Patriots have recorded 130 victories, which ranks third in the NFL. In 2005, the Patriots claimed their third consecutive division title and their sixth since 1994. Only Pittsburgh has won more division titles in the past 12 seasons (7).

Few owners in the history of professional sports have experienced the level of success enjoyed by the Kraft family over the last five seasons. In that time, the Patriots have won three Super Bowls, three conference championships and four division titles, including a franchise-record three in a row. In 2003 and 2004, the Patriots compiled back-to-back 17-2 seasons that were highlighted by consecutive Super Bowl championships. The 34 total victories in a two-year span set an 85-year NFL record. The Patriots also claimed three pro football records for consecutive wins with 21 consecutive wins (including postseason), 18 consecutive regular season wins and 10 consecutive postseason wins. Along the way, the Patriots also won 21 consecutive games at Gillette Stadium, the longest home win streak in franchise history.

Kraft is recognized by his peers as one of the most influential and respected NFL owners. He currently resides on the league's most prominent committees, nine in all, including the eight-owner committee to select a new commissioner. As a member of the broadcast committee, he played a leading role in negotiating the two most lucrative broadcasting contracts in the history of sports. He was also instrumental in putting together a deal that made New England-headquartered Reebok International, Ltd. the official and exclusive apparel manufacturer for the NFL, helping to create a new model for the sports license apparel industry.

In 2005, the Patriots set a franchise record when they claimed their third consecutive divisional championship. In 2004, the Patriots became just the second team in NFL history to win three Super Bowls in a four-year span and the seventh club to win consecutive Super Bowl championships. That season, New England tied the best regular season record by a defending Super Bowl champion with a 14-2 mark. The remarkable run was capped off in Jacksonville, where New England defeated the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXIX, 24-21.

In 2003, the Kraft family enjoyed a historic 10th anniversary season that culminated with a second championship celebration just two seasons after winning the first title in team history. After suffering a season-opening loss, the Patriots rebounded to win 17 of their next 18 games, including a 15-game season-ending win streak, a single-season streak surpassed only by the undefeated 1972 Miami Dolphins. For the first time in franchise history, the Patriots went undefeated at home, including preseason, regular season and postseason games (12-0). The team hosted the AFC Championship Game for the second time in franchise history and defeated the Colts, 24-14, to claim the third conference title of the Kraft era. The final coronation of the anniversary season came just two weeks later, when the Patriots scored another dramatic, last-second victory in Super Bowl XXXVIII, a 32-29 triumph over the Carolina Panthers.

In 2002, the Kraft family enjoyed the then most memorable season-opener in franchise history when they celebrated the grand opening of Gillette Stadium with the unveiling of New England's first Super Bowl championship banner on Monday Night Football. That night the Patriots defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 30-14, before the then largest home crowd in franchise history. Since its opening, the Patriots are 30-6 at Gillette Stadium and have won 26 of their last 29 regular season and postseason home games. Kraft has been a Patriots fan since the early days of the franchise, and as an owner has remained true to his roots. As a 31-year season ticket holder and a 14-year stadium operator, Kraft was uniquely qualified to make Gillette Stadium a fan-friendly, state-of-the-art football facility. His $325 million private investment made Gillette Stadium the highest-priced privately-financed sports venue of its kind. The commitment from Kraft has given the franchise a solid foundation on which to build for the first time in its nomadic history. Finally, fans have a venue that they are proud to call home. After opening Gillette Stadium, Kraft was recognized as the Sports Executive of the Year and Sports Industrialist of the Year by two national publications.

In 2001, the Patriots made their final season in Foxboro Stadium a memorable one. After a 1-3 start, the Patriots won 10 of their last 11 regular season games to claim their first division title in four years. In the final game at the 31-year-old stadium, the Patriots hosted the Oakland Raiders in a divisional playoff game under a heavy snowfall that created a heavenly ambience. The Patriots' 16-13 overtime victory over the Raiders is described by many as one of the most memorable games in NFL history. The victory propelled the Patriots through one of the greatest playoff runs in NFL history, as they advanced to score dramatic victories over two heavily favored opponents in championship games, including a 24-17 victory over the Steelers in the AFC Championship Game in Pittsburgh and a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams on the final play of Super Bowl XXXVI.

THE BEST TEAM IN SPORTS

In September, 2005, Forbes Magazine recognized the New England Patriots as the best team in sports. The accompanying article recognized how Robert Kraft has built the Patriots organization into a winner on and off the field.

Throughout Kraft's professional career, many of his biggest risks have returned the greatest rewards. In 1988, he took a tremendous risk when he outbid his competition to purchase Foxboro Stadium. It was a calculated first step in his pursuit to acquire the team. When that opportunity came in 1994, he paid the highest price for a sports franchise in history for one of the lowest valued franchises in the NFL. In 2000, his controversial decision to surrender a first-round draft choice to acquire the services of Head Coach Bill Belichick was heavily criticized. Just six years later, Belichick has become the first head coach in NFL history to direct a team to three Super Bowl victories in a four-year span.

Kraft's journey toward his goal of bringing a championship to New England began in 1985 when he first purchased an option on the land surrounding the stadium. In 1988, he took another step by purchasing the stadium out of bankruptcy court. With a binding lease through 2001, the acquisition proved to be an invaluable asset in his quest.

In January of 1994, Kraft faced a difficult business dilemma, forced to decide between committing nearly $200 million of family resources to purchase the Patriots or accepting a $75 million buyout offer to void the final years of the team's stadium lease, which would have enabled the team to move out of New England.

A NEW ERA

Prior to 1994, the Patriots qualified for the playoffs just six times during their first 34 seasons (1960-93). In the 12 seasons since Robert Kraft has taken ownership, the Patriots have qualified for the playoffs eight times, six times as division champions, and have won four conference titles and three Super Bowl championships.

SUCCESS STORY

Since Robert Kraft bought the team in 1994, the Patriots have been among the NFL's elite. The Patriots have won more Super Bowl titles than any other team since then and have won twice as many conference titles as any other team over that span. Additionally, the Patriots' 13 playoff wins since 1994 leads the NFL.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Kraft passed on the buyout offer, choosing instead to make an 11th-hour bid to buy the team. On February 26, 1994, a day after Kraft earned league approval, season tickets for the 1994 season went on sale and Patriots fans showed their support of Kraft's decision in record numbers. By the end of the first business day, amidst a winter nor'easter, 5,958 season ticket orders had shattered the previous single-day sales record of 979. The show of support validated Kraft's decision to buy the team and gave him the confidence to focus on another long-term project: the construction of a state-of-the-art football facility.

Kraft first became a fan of the Boston Patriots in their AFL days during the early 1960s. He attended games at each of the team's Boston venues: Boston University Field, Fenway Park, Boston College Alumni Stadium and Harvard Stadium. When the team moved to Foxborough in 1971, he invested in season tickets for his family. Kraft credits the memories and experiences shared with other Patriots fans at Foxboro Stadium for his drive to build a new stadium that the fans can be proud to call home.

In 1994, Kraft inherited a team whose payroll in 1993 was the lowest in the NFL. Upon taking ownership, Kraft immediately provided the financial resources needed to build a championship-contending team. As a result, the Patriots fielded four playoff teams in Kraft's first five seasons of ownership and won two division titles and a conference title. His personal investment in the team restored the faith of Patriots fans and rejuvenated interest throughout New England. In 1994, season ticket sales soared to new heights, eclipsing 40,000 for the first time in franchise history. By the start of his first season, every game was sold out, a feat that had not been accomplished in the franchise's previous 34 seasons. The achievement ensured that local broadcast blackouts would be lifted and every Patriots game, home and away, would be televised throughout New England for the first time in team history.

In 1996, the Patriots won their first division title in 10 years and hosted just their second playoff game in franchise history, scoring a resounding 28-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. The following week, the Patriots hosted the franchise's first conference championship game and advanced to the Super Bowl with a 20-6 victory over Jacksonville. Five years before winning the franchise's first Super Bowl at the same venue, they fell to Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXI at the New Orleans Superdome.

In 1997, the Patriots repeated as division champions for the first time in franchise history and hosted Miami in the first round of the playoffs. The Patriots improved to 3-0 in home playoff games during Kraft's ownership with a 17-3 victory. A one-point loss in the divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh the following week kept the Patriots from hosting their second consecutive AFC Championship Game and from defending their conference title. In 1998, the Patriots returned to the playoffs for a third consecutive year, which was another franchise first.

A native of Brookline, Mass., Kraft attended local public schools before entering Columbia University on an academic scholarship. Upon graduation, he received a fellowship to attend the Harvard Business School, where he earned a master's degree in business administration.

Kraft began his business career with the Rand-Whitney Group, Inc. of Worcester, Mass., a company he later acquired. In 1972, he founded International Forest Products, a trader of paper commodities that now does business in 82 countries around the world. Together, Rand-Whitney and International Forest Products comprise one of the largest privately owned paper and packaging companies in the United States. In 1998, he founded the Kraft Group to serve as the holding company for the family's varied business interests, whose holdings include the Rand-Whitney Group, Rand-Whitney Containerboard, International Forest Products, the New England Revolution and a portfolio of more than 30 private equity investments.

Over the past three decades, the Kraft family has been one of New England's most philanthropic families, donating millions of dollars in support of local charities and civic affairs. In 2004, the family received the Lifetime Achievement Award during an annual sports legends event in Boston. They were also recognized as Boston's most powerful family by Boston magazine. Kraft serves on the board of directors for Viacom and is on the executive committee of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, where he established the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center. He is a trustee emeritus of his alma mater at Columbia University and is a trustee of Boston College. He has served on the board of directors of numerous institutions, including the Federal Reserve of Boston (New England), the board of overseers of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and has received honorary degrees from a variety of New England universities. In 2005, Kraft was awarded the NCAA's highest honor when he received the 2006 Theodore Roosevelt Award for his accomplishments both as student-athlete at Columbia and in his distinguished career.

JONATHAN KRAFT

PRESIDENT

DIVISION TITLES: 96 97 01 03 04 05

CONFERENCE TITLES: 96 01 03 04

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Jonathan A. Kraft is the president and chief operating officer for The Kraft Group, the holding company of the Kraft family's varied business interests, which include the three-time Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots. As president of the Patriots, Kraft oversees the management and strategic planning of each department within the organization. He also works closely with his father to represent the Patriots in all league matters and serves on two NFL owner committees.

In March 2006, Kraft designed a revenue sharing plan that led to the ratification of the league's collective bargaining agreement between the owners and the NFL Players Association. His plan provided an outline that led to a final proposal that was ultimately agreed to and ended a month-long stalemate in the negotiations.

Since his family purchased the team in 1994, Kraft has helped rebuild the franchise, bringing long-overdue stability to the once wayward organization. It has been a remarkable transformation, as the Patriots have evolved from worst to first in many categories, both on and off the field.

Once tenants in the league's poorest venue, the Patriots now play in the NFL's premier stadium. Once last in the league in revenues, the Patriots now rank among the league's elite. Once a cellar dweller, the Patriots are now a perennial power. They own the pro football record for consecutive victories including postseason games (21), consecutive regular season victories (18) and consecutive playoff victories (10) and are just the second team in league history to win three Super Bowls in four seasons. Since the Kraft family's purchase of the team in 1994, he has successfully implemented many initiatives that have helped accelerate each of those transitions.

Of all the team's recent achievements, arguably the most significant contribution to the organization's future success was securing financial approval for the construction of a new world-class stadium, the first of its kind in the franchise's 42-year history. Kraft developed the creative private financing strategy for the $325 million construction of Gillette Stadium. Many financial experts dismissed the viability of his plan, which relied on year-round club memberships for new clientele rather than the more conventional sale of private seat licenses to existing season ticket holders. Kraft's unprecedented plan was considered a financial risk, but proved to be universally successful.

Throughout the stadium initiative, no one was more involved in each phase of the project, including the planning, construction, opening and on-going operation and development of Gillette Stadium. Kraft worked closely with stadium designers to create a world-class sports and entertainment facility that would highlight features indigenous to New England. His team not only delivered on the promise of a fan-friendly facility, but did so on time and under budget.

Kraft and the project team also drew praise for innovative environmental practices. In June of 2001, the Environmental Business Council presented the Kraft Group with the Environmental Award for Corporate Leadership. In May of 2002, the Kraft Group received New England's Environmental Merit Award from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for the development and construction of Gillette Stadium.

In 2002, Jonathan and Robert Kraft received the Sports Industrialists of the Year award, presented annually by Sports Business Daily. The Krafts opened the year celebrating New England's first Super Bowl Championship. They christened their new stadium just a few months later, earning various awards and acclaim for the project. They negotiated a new naming rights partnership with Gillette and celebrated a spectacular grand opening by hosting the 2002 season premiere of Monday Night Football as Super Bowl champions, presenting both the stadium and their 2001 Super Bowl banner to the fans of New England. One month later, the Krafts' Major League Soccer franchise, the New England Revolution, won the eastern conference to qualify for the MLS Cup, which drew over 61,000 fans to Gillette Stadium, the largest single-game crowd in MLS history.

Prior to the Kraft family's ownership, the Patriots fan base was limited in range and scope. As a lifelong Patriots fan, Kraft was committed to expanding the Patriots fan base through an innovative multi-media outreach. Under his directive, the Patriots in March of 1995 became the first professional sports team to launch an official website. Just two years later, the team debuted the first use of streaming video, offering a nightly video update. Since then, streaming video has been a constant feature on the team's website. The technology is also used to broadcast "Patriots Live!" featuring live feeds of every Patriots press conference. The Patriots' other Internet initiatives include a highly successful e-commerce division, providing Patriots fans around the world easy access to Patriots merchandise and apparel. In 2004, the team showed their commitment to globalizing the Patriots brand when they launched the NFL's first Chinese-language version of their website.

In April of 1995, the Patriots began publishing Patriots Football Weekly, the first and only full-color weekly publication offered by a sports team. It appears on newsstands throughout New England and is distributed to Patriots fans throughout the world.

Following the Super Bowl XXXVI championship, Kraft commissioned the production of a DVD entitled "3 Games to Glory," providing fans an opportunity to re-live three of the most memorable games in franchise history. Since then, he has overseen the production of its sequels, "3 Games to Glory II" and "3 Games to Glory III," each featuring over five hours of behind-the-scenes content on a two-disc DVD set. The Patriots remain the only team to produce and sell such extensive commemorative DVDs.

Since Robert Kraft's purchase of Foxboro Stadium in 1988, Kraft has helped bring many world-class events to Foxborough, including international soccer matches and concerts. Past performers include The Rolling Stones, Aerosmith, Elton John, Billy Joel, Pink Floyd and The Dave Matthews Band. For his efforts, the Greater Boston Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc. presented him with the "Spirit of Tourism" award for promoting tourism and economic activity in the Commonwealth.

A Williams College graduate, Kraft also earned an MBA from Harvard Business School. He is on the board of directors for several organizations, including the U.S. Soccer Federation, Citizen's Bank of Massachusetts and Children's Hospital Trust. He is also on the board of trustees at Williams College, the Belmont Hill School and Park School.

Kraft is active in youth athletics, coaching Pop Warner football, youth soccer and Little League baseball in the greater Boston area. In 2006, he was the recipient of the Warner Award, named after Glenn S. "Pop" Warner. The award is presented annually and is considered Pop Warner's highest honor.

Kraft and his wife, Patti, have three children.

VICE PRESIDENT - PLAYER PERSONNEL

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Scott Pioli is in his seventh season with the Patriots and has worked in concert with Head Coach Bill Belichick to build a consistent championship contender in New England. Their shared football philosophy has produced three Super Bowl championships, three conference titles and four division crowns since 2001.

Once Pioli and Belichick arrived in New England in 2000, it took the pair just two seasons to rebuild the foundation of the team. Since orchestrating the franchise's first Super Bowl victory following the 2001 season, Pioli and Belichick have executed a plan to produce continued success, becoming the only personnel director/head coach tandem in NFL history to win three Super Bowls in a four-year span (2001-04). The Patriots are the only NFL team to win at least one playoff game in each of the last three seasons (2003-05) and are the only team in the league to win nine or more games in each of the last five seasons (2001-05).

In recognition of his achievements, Pioli was awarded The Sporting News' George Young NFL Executive of the Year award (voted on by NFL executives) following the 2003 and 2004 seasons. He is one of just three NFL executives, along with Bill Polian and Bobby Beathard, to win the award in consecutive years. Pioli is the youngest executive to win the award.

The primary objective of Pioli's personnel philosophy is to build a team, not to simply collect individual talent. As a result, the Patriots have been able to prosper despite the NFL realities of injuries and the salary cap, which have proven in the past to be impediments to long-term success in pro football. In each of the last three seasons, the depth and versatility of New England's roster helped overcome key injuries to win three straight AFC East titles. In 2005, the Patriots utilized 45 different starters, setting a post-merger NFL record for a division champion. In 2003, the Patriots won Super Bowl XXXVIII despite using 42 different starters, the most in league history by a Super Bowl champion. In 2004, the Patriots employed 40 different starters as they won their second consecutive Super Bowl. Of the 53 players on the Patriots' final 2005 roster, 39 were acquired after the team's first championship in 2001. In an era of NFL parity and economic balance, the Patriots' personnel philosophy has helped to consistently build championship teams that have been greater than the sum of their parts.

The Patriots have used an effective combination of free agent signings, trades and draft picks to acquire championship-caliber players. Players drafted by Belichick and Pioli have earned a total of three Super Bowl MVP awards and seven Pro Bowl berths, while Tom Brady (a sixth round pick in 2000) and Richard Seymour (a first-rounder in 2001) are widely considered to be among the NFL's elite players. Veteran free agents signed by Belichick and Pioli include defensive co-captain Rodney Harrison, outside linebackers Mike Vrabel and Rosevelt Colvin and three-time Pro Bowl special teams captain Larry Izzo among dozens of other contributors to New England's championship squads. New England's trades have netted improvement in drafting position that led to the ability to exchange draft picks for key veterans such as Corey Dillon, who set the Patriots' single-season rushing record in 2004, and Ted Washington, an important contributor to the 2003 title team.

Pioli was honored with Executive of the Year honors from national media outlets following the 2001, 2003 and 2004 seasons. Following the Patriots' first Super Bowl victory, the Dallas Morning News picked him as the league's top executive. Two seasons later, following Super Bowl XXXVIII, he earned Executive of the Year honors from Pro Football Weekly (voted on by the media), The Sporting News (voted on by NFL executives) and Sports Illustrated. In 2004, Pioli's accolades included the NFLPA's Award for Executive Achievement and NFL Executive of the Year awards from The Sporting News, USA Today, the San Francisco Chronicle and SI.com.

As vice president of player personnel, Pioli's responsibilities include overseeing the college draft and free agency, as well as serving as the Patriots' primary contract negotiator. Since he arrived in New England, he has shown a propensity for finding veteran free agents who can contribute and play important roles in building playoff-contending teams.

In 2001, the team's class of 17 veteran free agents produced two team captains, seven full-time starters, three special teams specialists and two veteran nickel backs. The veteran leadership was critical to the Patriots' success that year, as the team completed a divisional worst-to-first turnaround and closed out the season as Super Bowl Champions. His successes that season earned him league-wide recognition as one of the best young personnel evaluators in the game.

In 2003, the Patriots signed a dozen veteran free agents and traded a fourth-round draft choice for Washington to help fortify a defense that led the league and set a franchise record by allowing just 14.9 points per game (238 total) and posted three shutouts to establish another team record. In addition, the team drafted seven players who made first-year contributions, including two who became season-long starters.

Pioli's personnel blueprint was again successful in 2004. The Dillon trade resulted in one of the most prolific rushing seasons in team history, and the signing of veteran free agents such as Keith Traylor and Josh Miller helped to shore up positions of need. Additionally, rookies Vince Wilfork and Randall Gay were both among the team's 11 defensive starters in Super Bowl XXXIX.

In 2005, three draft choices became immediate contributors. First-round selection Logan Mankins was one of just three NFL rookies to start every game and was named to Pro Football Weekly's All-Rookie Team. Rookies Ellis Hobbs and Nick Kaczur both became regular starters during the season, while Hobbs joined Mankins on Pro Football Weekly's All-Rookie Team.

Pioli began his NFL career when Belichick hired him as a pro personnel assistant for the Cleveland Browns in 1992. In Cleveland, he was responsible for the evaluation of both college prospects and veteran free agents as well as negotiating various player contracts. He also coordinated all player tryouts. He was promoted to director of pro personnel after the Cleveland franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996. He spent one season with the Baltimore Ravens, where he oversaw all aspects of pro personnel and negotiated the contracts of free agents and several draft choices.

In 1997, while serving as head coach of the Jets, Belichick hired Pioli as the director of pro personnel. He was credited with the signing of a number of veteran free agents who played critical roles in the Jets' rebuilding process. In just two seasons, the Jets completed a worst-to-first turnaround, rebounding from 1-15 in 1996 to 12-4 in 1998. The 12 wins were the most in franchise history and gave the Jets their first division title since 1968.

Pioli played defensive tackle at Central Connecticut State (1983-87), where he was a three-time Division II All-New England selection. In 1988, after graduating with a degree in communications, he accepted a two-year graduate assistant position at Syracuse University, where he also earned a master's degree from the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications.

He accepted a full-time coaching opportunity at Murray State, where he spent one season as the offensive line coach (1990) and one season as the defensive line coach (1991). He left the coaching ranks to join the Browns personnel department in 1992.

Scott was born on March 31, 1965 in Washingtonville, N.Y. He is an avid baseball fan. Pioli currently serves on the board of directors for various non-profit foundations and was recently named to the board of directors for the Foundation for Excellent Schools, a national non-profit organization that partners with public schools in high-need communities to raise student aspirations and performance. He remains actively involved in fund raising for several organizations in his hometown (Washingtonville, N.Y.), and participates in Eric Mangini's annual Football Fundamentals Mini-Camp in Hartford, Conn. He established the Rose Pioli Scholarship in the name of his grandmother to benefit children of educators, professional firefighters, police and other emergency medical service providers. He was enshrined in the Central Connecticut State Hall of Fame in 2005. Scott and his wife, Dallas, have a daughter, Mia Costa Pioli.

RAY SULLIVAN

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Ray Sullivan joined the New England Patriots and Gillette Stadium in August 2005. As Chief Operating Officer he oversees the daily business operations of each department in the organization to ensure the efficient achievement of operational and financial objectives. With its active calendar of concerts, trade shows and private events within the Fidelity Investments Clubhouse, the stadium complex is a year-round convention center in addition to being a premier sports and entertainment venue.

With the growth and success of the organization, Sullivan is responsible for developing the infrastructure to provide organizational stability and facilitate continued growth. He works closely with the Krafts to maintain operational excellence and maximize new business opportunities.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Sullivan was a senior partner in the Boston office of Ernst & Young LLP where he led the retail, consumer and industrial products practice for New England. For 19 years, Sullivan served large public, multi-location companies with global operations in a broad spectrum of industries. He was a member of the Ernst & Young Global Multi-National Partner Group, a global knowledge-sharing network of partners serving multinational clients with best practices in business and governance. In that role, he gained significant experience with acquisitions and the operational issues related to their integration.

Sullivan was responsible for coordinating all of Ernst & Young's services to The Kraft Group, including the Patriots, Gillette Stadium, the Revolution and its paper and packaging companies. He assisted the Kraft organization in a number of key strategic transactions, including the acquisition of the Patriots franchise, the start-up of the New England Revolution, the acquisition of real estate surrounding Gillette Stadium and the financing of the new stadium. Sullivan also advised on a variety of operational initiatives during the organization's transition from Foxboro Stadium to Gillette Stadium.

Sullivan led Ernst & Young's efforts in providing assurance services on NFL-related matters to the Patriots and other NFL franchises, including salary cap reporting and interpretation as well as coordination of communication with the NFL Management Council and the NFL Players Association. In addition, he assisted a variety of NFL-related constituencies in navigating the economic and legal implications arising from the NFL's innovative stadium financing programs.

In addition to his client-serving responsibilities, Sullivan led a variety of innovative human resource initiatives for Ernst & Young, coordinated the firm's quality initiatives for the New England area and worked with federal regulators on national issues. He developed a talent management model to maximize the effectiveness of personnel, including leading Ernst & Young's external sourcing, workforce planning and deployment, succession planning and performance management efforts. Sullivan was a member of Ernst & Young's New England Area Diversity Task Force and Strategic Resource Development Program and was widely recognized as a leader in the firm's gender equity efforts. He attended Ernst & Young's Executive Program at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Business.

In college, Sullivan was an accomplished distance runner for the legendary Art Gulden as a member of the Bucknell University cross country and track and field teams. He placed in the top 10 in the United States Junior National Cross Country Championships and contributed to teams that produced 10 (out of 12) conference titles in cross country and track and field. Sullivan was elected captain by his teammates as a senior. To honor Gulden for his role in shaping lives and his deep-rooted commitment to the concept of team and family, Sullivan helped to endow a scholarship in Gulden's name to enable others to attend Bucknell and continue the Gulden legacy. Sullivan currently serves as the Treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Distance Team and coordinates the team's annual participation in such races as the Hood to Coast Relay in Oregon and Reach the Beach Relay in New Hampshire, which raise money for a variety of charities.

A member of the Massachusetts Society of CPAs and AICPA, he is a frequent guest speaker on a variety of business matters. Sullivan was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. and grew up on Long Island where he attended public school. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Bucknell University. Ray and his wife, Megan, have three daughters, Meredith, Audrey and Charlotte.

RENA CLARK

VICE PRESIDENT - COMMUNITY AFFAIRS AND CORPORATE PHILANTHROPY

SUPER BOWLS: 03 04

Rena Clark joined the Kraft Group and the New England Patriots on May 1, 2003 as vice president of community affairs and corporate philanthropy. In her first three seasons with the organization, she has enjoyed the most successful years in franchise history with three consecutive division titles, including back-to-back 17-win seasons and two Super Bowl championships. The on-field success has brought new demands to the team's charitable initiatives.

In her role, Clark is responsible for all team-related community affairs and outreach programs. She also oversees all the charitable giving efforts for the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation (NEPCF) and similar activities for the Kraft Group. In her first three years, the foundation contributed more than $3 million in grants, scholarships and in-kind donations to non-profit organizations throughout New England. Under Clark's direction, the foundation also sponsors the team's community initiatives, youth football programs and player development programs.

Prior to joining the Kraft Group, Clark gained more than 17 years of corporate managerial experience in both the for-profit and not-for-profit sectors. She spent four years at General Electric and a year at Bain & Company in Boston before returning to Harvard University's Graduate School of Business in 1991. While there she served as managing director of MBA program administration and chief operating officer. Prior to joining the Patriots, Clark also acquired, built and operated two middle-market manufacturing companies.

Clark participates in a variety of community organizations and currently serves on the board of overseers for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, the Boston Symphony Orchestra and on the board of directors for Junior Achievement of Northern New England. She is a community volunteer with the United Way Massachusetts Bay and serves on the Community Impact Committee.

Clark graduated from Lamar University with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and earned her master's degree in business administration from Harvard University.

JENNIFER FERRON

VICE PRESIDENT - MARKETING OPERATIONS

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Jennifer Ferron was named the vice president of marketing operations for the New England Patriots and Gillette Stadium in March 2006. She originally joined the organization as the special events and promotions manager for the New England Revolution on July 7, 1997. In her first nine seasons with the Patriots, Ferron has enjoyed six trips to the playoffs, including five as division champions, and celebrated three Super Bowl titles.

As vice president, Ferron oversees the operations and functions of the marketing department for the Patriots, New England Revolution and Gillette Stadium, one of the most successful marketing teams in professional sports. She is responsible for the strategic direction and execution of all team advertising and collateral, as well as the execution of all sponsor promotions, premium member services and client fulfillment. In addition, she coordinates and plans all special events and oversees brand awareness and recognition through the organization's grassroots marketing campaigns as well as a number of other special projects.

In nine years with the Kraft Sports Group, Ferron has managed special projects and new business initiatives including advance team planning for the Patriots' Super Bowl XXXVI, XXXVIII and XXXIX appearances, fan development for Patriots training camp at Gillette Stadium, media planning for the FIFA Women's World Cup and CONCACAF Gold Cup, and strategic marketing and publicity campaigns during the construction of Gillette Stadium.

Prior to joining the organization, Ferron worked as an account executive at Arnold Public Relations, a division of Arnold Worldwide. Her client base at Arnold included McDonald's, PUMA, Fleet Bank and Stop & Shop.

Ferron was recently selected as a recipient of the Boston Business Journal's 40 under 40 recognizing Boston's young business and civic leaders. Ferron also served as the New England Patriots representative at the 2004 National Football League Workshop for Senior Managers held at Stanford University.

Ferron earned a bachelor of arts degree in communications from Boston College. She resides in Littleton, Mass. with her husband Brian.

Jim Hausmann originally joined the Patriots on May 17, 1992 as vice president and chief financial officer. The following year, he was appointed executive vice president of business operations. Since 1994, he has served as the vice president of finance, where his primary responsibilities have included overseeing all financial activities involving the organization's football and stadium operations. In 1996, his role was expanded to include the financial operations for Major League Soccer's New England Revolution. In his 14 seasons with the Patriots, Hasumann has celebrated six division titles, four conference titles and three Super Bowl championships.

Before joining the Patriots, Hausmann was a senior audit manager in the St. Louis, Mo. office of the international accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells (now Deloitte & Touche) from 1970-84 and from 1990-92. He took a hiatus from 1985-89, serving as the chief financial officer of a regional stock brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Hausmann graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting. In 1973, he earned his CPA certificate while working at Deloitte.

PLAYOFF PERFORMERS

The Patriots are the only team in the NFL to have won at least one playoff game in each of the last three seasons. New England has won three straight AFC East titles, tying the Indianapolis Colts (AFC South) for the NFL's longest streak of consecutive division titles. The Patriots' streak of three straight division titles and three straight seasons with playoff victories have both set franchise records.

JACK MULA

GENERAL COUNSEL - PLAYER PERSONNEL

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Jack Mula joined the Patriots during the 1999 season and enters his eighth season as a major contributor to the most prosperous period in the organization's history. In the last five years, the franchise has celebrated three Super Bowl championships and has become universally recognized as a model professional sports organization. During that time, Mula has served as the primary negotiator for the player contracts of each of the team's draft choices and has worked in concert with Vice President of Player Personnel Scott Pioli on veteran and free agent contracts. In addition, Mula is the club's legal and business liaison to the NFL Management Council and league office.

Mula serves as legal and administrative counsel to the player personnel department and assists in legal matters throughout the organization. His responsibilities involve him in the negotiations and reviews of business contracts for the Patriots, Gillette Stadium and the New England Revolution, including sponsorships, promotions, hospitality, naming rights, stadium operations, real estate acquisition, concerts and special events. He was instrumental in the planning and development of Gillette Stadium, working directly with local and state government and the business and residential communities in planning for site access and game day operations.

Prior to joining the Kraft organization, Mula was a successful sports attorney and player agent whose clients included marquee National Football League players. He resurrected the professional career of Doug Flutie, bringing the former Heisman winner back from the Canadian Football League to the NFL, where Flutie flourished and earned Pro Bowl honors with the Buffalo Bills, playing seven NFL seasons in Buffalo and San Diego before returning home when he signed with the Patriots in 2005. Mula's client list also included Boston College Hall of Famer and five-time NFL All-Pro Fred Smerlas, NFL Rookie of the Year Troy Stradford, Outland Trophy winner and former Patriot draft choice Mike Ruth, All-American and former Super Bowl winner Steve DeOssie, the famous brother tandem of Raghib "Rocket" and Qadry "Missile" Ismail, and current NFL running back Priest Holmes. Mula also negotiated player contracts for Detroit Lions President Matt Millen and former New Orleans Saints Head Coach and current St. Louis Rams Offensive Coordinator Jim Haslett.

Mula was raised in Waltham, Mass., where he was a teammate with Smerlas on the celebrated 1975 Waltham High football team that sent 10 players into Division I college football, still a state record. He also played football and earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in 1980, where he co-founded the university's chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He later earned a Juris Doctorate from the New England School of Law.

Mula is a member of the Sports Lawyers Association and a former co-chair of the Boston Bar Association's Sports and Entertainment Law Committee. He is a former city attorney in Waltham, where he still resides. He remains active in the local sports community and is a frequent guest speaker at local community service organizations and various academic institutions. He and his wife, Pam, have three sons, Ryan, Christian and Evan.

PLAYOFF WINNING STREAK

From 2001-05, the Patriots won 10 straight playoff games, including Super Bowls XXXVI (2001 season), XXXVIII (2003 season) and XXXIX (2004 season). The Patriots own the NFL's all-time records in all of the major winning streak categories: consecutive overall wins (21 from 2003-04), consecutive regular-season wins (18 from 2003-04) and consecutive playoff wins (10 from 2001-05).

Bill Belichick is in his 32nd season as an NFL coach and is the only head coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowl championships in a four-year span. He was hired by CEO and Chairman Robert Kraft on Jan. 27, 2000 and is in his seventh season as Patriots head coach in 2006. In his first six seasons in New England, Belichick has delivered three Super Bowl championships, three conference titles, four division crowns and 10 playoff victories, while posting an overall record of 73-34.

In 2001, just his second season as Patriots head coach, Belichick guided the Patriots to their first league title with a dramatic victory in Super Bowl XXXVI. In the seasons since then, he has directed New England to sustained on-field success through an instilled philosophy of maintaining short-term focus to deliver long-term goals.

Belichick has led the Patriots to nine or more victories in each of the last five seasons, the only NFL head coach to accomplish that feat. Additionally, his teams have won the AFC East title and advanced in the playoffs in three straight seasons and have accomplished the feat in four of the last five seasons. The Patriots' three straight years of playoff advancement is the longest such streak in the NFL and their string of three straight division crowns is a team record and is tied for the longest current streak in the league.

Last season, Belichick led the Patriots to a playoff win over Jacksonville and became only the second NFL head coach to win 10 postseason games over a five-year span. Hall-of-Famer Chuck Noll won 10 playoff games with the Steelers, from 1974 to 1978 and from 1975 to 1979.

Belichick's accomplishments have placed him among the NFL's elite coaches. Including regular season and playoff games, Belichick is the winningest head coach in the NFL over the last five seasons and is also the Patriots' all-time leader in victories (73) and winning percentage (.682). Since 2001, Belichick has directed the Patriots to a 68-23 (.747) record – the most successful run in franchise history – including a 10-1 postseason mark. Belichick owns a career playoff record of 11-2, a mark that ranks second in NFL history behind only the legendary Vince Lombardi (9-1).

Over the last three seasons, Belichick's Patriots have won 80 percent of their games, compiling a 45-11 overall record. In 2005, New England won 11 games despite being forced to use 45 different starters, an NFL record for a division champion. After starting the season 4-4 and being faced with a rash of injuries, the Patriots won six of their next seven games to claim their third straight division title. The team improved on both sides of the ball as the season wound down. The defense set a franchise record in allowing a total of just 10 points over a three-game span in the month of December, while the offense averaged 30 points per game during the final quarter of the regular season. The Patriots advanced in the playoffs for a franchise-record third straight year, with a 28-3 home victory over Jacksonville serving as their NFL record-setting 10th consecutive playoff win.

- ★ In 2004, Coach Belichick was named to Time Magazine's list of the 100 Most Powerful and Influential People in the World after winning his second Super Bowl in three seasons.
- ★ Seven former assistants on Coach Belichick's staffs are head coaches in the NFL or college in 2006.

From 2003-04, Belichick directed the Patriots through the most prosperous two-year period for any team in NFL history, netting back-to-back Super Bowl victories and consecutive 17-2 campaigns. The team's 34 victories in 2003-04 marked the highest two-year win total in the NFL's 85-year history. A winning streak of 21 consecutive games – also unprecedented in NFL annals – spanned the two seasons.

The 2004 season saw the Patriots tie the best regular-season record by a defending Super Bowl champion (14-2). New England capped off the 2004 season with another memorable playoff run, culminating in a 24-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXIX that made Belichick just the fourth head coach in NFL history to win at least three Super Bowl titles. Only one coach (Pittsburgh's Chuck Noll, 4) has won more Super Bowls. Belichick's three Super Bowl titles tie Washington's Joe Gibbs and San Francisco's Bill Walsh for second place on the NFL's all-time list. Noll, Gibbs and Walsh are all enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Belichick's recent accomplishments are the latest triumphs in a career during which he has helped produce five Super Bowl titles, six conference championships and 11 division titles since entering the NFL in 1975. Now in his 32nd season in the NFL, he has more years of NFL experience than any of the other 31 head coaches. He won his first two Super Bowls as the defensive coordinator for the New York Giants in 1986 and again in 1990 before claiming three Super Bowl championships with the Patriots. George Seifert is the only other man to have won multiple Super Bowls as a head coach and as an assistant coach.

Once he became Patriots head coach, Belichick needed just one season to successfully implement his plan for success. In 2001, his second season in charge, he rebounded from a 5-11 record in 2000 to improve to 11-5, tying the franchise regular season record for wins. With a 20-17 victory over the Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI, the Patriots tied the franchise's then-record of 14 overall wins. In 2003 and 2004, the Patriots eclipsed those marks in each season, posting identical 14-2 records in the regular season and notching 17 total wins and a Super Bowl title in each year. The team's 17 wins in 2003 and 2004 are tied for the third-most in NFL history, trailing only the 1985 Chicago Bears and the 1984 San Francisco 49ers (both 18-1). New England was undefeated at home in both 2003 and 2004, and set a franchise record by winning 21 straight home games from 2002-05.

One of the hallmarks of Belichick's teams have been their ability to consistently succeed against top competition. The Patriots enter the 2006 season having recorded a record of 19-5 (.792) against playoff teams since the beginning of the 2003 season. In their 38 regular season and playoff games in 2003 and 2004, the Patriots played 23 contests against teams that finished the season with a record of .500 or better. New England recorded a remarkable 22-1 (.957) mark in those games, while the rest of the league was a cumulative 74-182 (.289) against the same squads.

COACH BELICHICK'S PLACE IN NFL HISTORY

Coach Belichick's three Super Bowl victories are tied for second on the NFL's all-time list with Joe Gibbs and Bill Walsh, trailing only Chuck Noll of the 1970s Pittsburgh Steelers. Belichick is the only head coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls in a four-year span.

POSTSEASON PROWESS

Bill Belichick is the second winningest head coach in NFL playoff history, trailing only the legendary Vince Lombardi, whose name is emblazoned on the Super Bowl trophy. Coach Belichick won 10 playoff games in a row from 2001-05, setting an NFL record and eclipsing the previous mark set by Lombardi's Packers (9 from 1961-67). Belichick is 10-1 in the postseason as head coach of the Patriots.

NOTE: Sorted by most recent championship; Super Bowls have determined NFL champion since the 1966 season.

Additionally, Belichick is the ninth head coach to win three (or more) NFL championships, including both the pre-Super Bowl Playoff Era (1933-1965) and the Super Bowl Era (1966-present)

Belichick's teams have consistently relied on the depth and resiliency of the roster to overcome injuries and setbacks. In 2001, the Patriots opened the season 0-2 before rebounding to win 14 of their next 17 games. In 2003, a 31-0 season-opening setback in Buffalo was answered triumphantly, as the team rebounded to win 17 of the next 18 games despite using 42 different starters (then an NFL record for a division champion). In 2004, injuries were overcome yet again, as the Patriots used 40 different starters, including nine different starters in the defensive secondary. In 2005, New England claimed the AFC East title by using 45 different starters, breaking the NFL record that it had set two years earlier for the most starters by a division champion.

Belichick's players have acknowleged that he has effectively prepared them for most situations that could arise in a given game. As a result, Belichick's Patriots have rarely been rattled and have been able to consistently maintain leads. Since 2001, Belichick's teams are 50-2 when leading at halftime and are 55-1 when leading after three quarters. Between 2001 and 2004, the Patriots won 38 consecutive games when leading after three quarters and 31 consecutive games when leading at halftime, with both marks setting post-merger NFL records. In addition, the Patriots have maintained their focus throughout the year, playing their best football late in the season. Since 2001, the Patriots hold a 46-9 (.836) overall record in games played after November 1.

When the Patriots announced Belichick's hiring, many regarded him as one of the premier defensive strategists in the game. That reputation was earned over a 25-year NFL coaching career that included Super Bowl titles as the defensive architect of the New York Giants in 1986 and 1990 and a conference championship as the assistant head coach and defensive assistant for the Patriots in 1996. When he returned to the Patriots in 2000, he followed a sound architectural plan, fortifying the foundation of the roster with team-oriented free agents who would support his overall team philosophy.

Belichick's team-first philosophy worked perfectly in the 2004 season, when the Patriots came together to meet the lofty expectations of a defending Super Bowl champion that had won the final 15 games of the 2003 season. New England began the 2004 campaign with six consecutive victories, running its overall winning streak to an NFL-record 21 games. In the 2004 playoffs, Belichick's Patriots compiled another impressive trio of postseason victories. In the divisional round against Indianapolis at Gillette Stadium, the Patriots' defensive dominance held the Indianapolis Colts' highly-regarded offense to just three points in a 20-3 victory. In the AFC Championship Game, the Patriots solved the league's top defense, as New England set a team playoff record by scoring 41 points against the 16-1 Pittsburgh Steelers. Then, for the third time in four seasons, the playoff run was capped by a three-point Super Bowl win, as the Patriots claimed a tense 24-21 victory over the NFC Champion Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXIX in Jacksonville, Fla.

The 2004 performance came on the heels of a 2003 season in which Belichick led the Patriots to a 17-2 mark that culminated in a victory over the Carolina Panthers in Super Bowl XXXVIII in Houston. In that season, the Patriots became the first team in 31 years and just the second club ever to win 15 consecutive games en route to the championship. Only the 1972 Miami Dolphins won more consecutive games in a single season. The year was filled with dramatic wins, as the Patriots produced seven game-winning drives and set an NFL record by winning 11 consecutive games by 14 points or fewer.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Bill Belichick is one of only four head coaches in NFL history whose father played in the NFL. The others are Joe Walton, David Shula and Mike Nolan. Belichick's father, Steve, played fullback for the Detroit Lions in 1941 and coached for 33 years at the Naval Academy.

Over the last five years, the only season in which Patriots did not win the AFC East was 2002, a season in which they missed out on the division crown and a playoff berth by virtue of a strength-of-victory tiebreaker. That season, the Patriots valiantly defended their inaugural title and remained in playoff contention through the final game of the regular season. A dramatic come-from-behind victory over the Miami Dolphins in the season finale gave the Patriots their ninth win of the season and a chance to qualify for the playoffs. Unfortunately, just three hours later, New England was eliminated from the postseason in a tiebreaker scenario when the New York Jets, who also finished the year with a 9-7 record, claimed the remaining playoff position.

After an unspectacular 1-3 start in 2001, the Patriots rebounded to win 10 of their last 12 games and claimed the division title for the first time in four years. A six-game win streak propelled the Patriots into the playoffs, where their team-first philosophy earned national acclaim. In each playoff game, the offense, defense and special teams units played critical roles, enabling the Patriots to defeat three favored opponents with wins over the Oakland Raiders, Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Rams. The victories extended their streak to a then-franchise record nine games and earned the team New England's first Lombardi Trophy.

Belichick returned to the Patriots as head coach after three seasons with the New York Jets, where his defenses were credited for New York's intra-division success against the high-octane offenses of the Patriots, Dolphins, Bills and Colts. He also earned acclaim for successfully defusing the Indianapolis Colts' offensive arsenal, limiting the conference's most prolific offense to an average of just 14.5 points in their two matchups in 1999. That year, the Colts averaged over 28 points per game in their 14 other games.

In 1998, the Jets surrendered just 266 points, one point shy of Miami's league-leading 265. The 16.6 points allowed per game was the third lowest season average in Jets history and propelled the team to their first division title with a franchise-best 12-4 overall record. The Jets advanced to the AFC Championship game, but were defeated by the defending Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos, who went on to repeat as champions. Following the season, Belichick filled in for Bill Parcells as the head coach of the AFC's squad in the 1999 Pro Bowl.

Belichick was named head coach of the New York Jets on Feb. 3, 1997, an interim position he held until Parcells was formally announced as head coach a week later. During that week, Belichick hired Scott Pioli as his director of pro personnel. After Parcells was named head coach, Belichick became the assistant head coach/secondary coach responsible for calling the team's defensive signals. In his first season with the Jets, his defense surrendered just 287 points, an average of 17.9 points per game, marking a significant 10.5-point improvement per game from 1996. The 287 points allowed ranked second in the AFC, sixth overall, and was critical to the Jets' rise from 1-15 in 1996 to 9-7 in 1997.

Patriots fans witnessed Belichick's impact on a team firsthand in 1996 when he joined the Patriots after five seasons as the head coach of the Cleveland Browns. That year, the Patriots claimed their first division title in 10 years with an 11-5 record and won their first two playoff games at Foxboro Stadium to advance to Super Bowl XXXI. Characteristically, Belichick's defensive influence was acknowledged as a catalyst for the team's overall defensive success down the stretch and through the playoffs. The 1996 Patriots defense allowed just 19.6 points per game and forced 34 turnovers, second in the AFC. In two playoff games, the defense allowed just nine points combined, propelling the Patriots to victories over Pittsburgh (28-3) and Jacksonville (20-6). The victory over the Jaguars gave the Patriots their second AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XXXI against Green Bay.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Belichick spent five seasons (1991-95) rebuilding the Cleveland Browns, whose 3-13 finish in 1990 was the worst in the history of the franchise. By 1994, the Browns were again one of the elite teams in the NFL, boasting the second-best record in the AFC. Belichick's first head coaching opportunity came following the 1990 season, when Belichick's defensive efforts with the New York Giants helped claim a second Super Bowl title in five years. Cleveland wasted no time in hiring the talented young defensive coordinator, naming him the franchise's 10th head coach on Feb. 5, 1991. At the age of 38, he became the NFL's youngest head coach. In his first season, Belichick began the rebuilding process by restoring the foundation of the aging squad he inherited. In 1991, the Browns improved to 6-10 and played in 11 games that were decided by a touchdown or less.

Following back-to-back 7-9 campaigns in 1992 and 1993, the Browns improved to 11-5 in 1994. Only Pittsburgh, who won the division with a 12-4 record, had a better record in the AFC that season. In their return to the playoffs, the Browns eliminated Parcells' Patriots, 20-13, in a first-round wild-card game on New Year's Day 1995. The Browns advanced to the divisional playoff round before being bumped by the Steelers. The 1994 squad was defined by its defense, which allowed a league-low 204 points (12.8 ppg) and just 301.6

yards per game, second in the AFC.

The 1995 season was disrupted by the mid-season announcement that the Cleveland Browns franchise would be moved to Baltimore at the conclusion of the campaign. The announcement caused an inextricable mid-season distraction resulting in a 5-11 finish. Belichick did not accompany the franchise's move to Baltimore after the 1995 season.

Belichick originally began his coaching career after graduating from Wesleyan University and accepting a staff assistant position with the Baltimore Colts in 1975. At the age of 23, he was named special assistant to Head Coach Ted Marchibroda.

In 1976, Belichick joined Rick Forzano's staff with the Detroit Lions as an assistant special teams coach. The following year, he was given his first positional coaching assignment as the Lions' tight ends and receivers coach. In 1978, Denver Broncos Head Coach Red Miller hired Belichick as the assistant special teams coach and assistant to defensive coordinator Joe Collier.

HALL OF FAMERS

From 1981-88 Coach Belichick tutored the linebackers for the New York Giants. His unit featured Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson, both of whom are enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

In 1979, Belichick joined Ray Perkins' staff with the New York Giants as a defensive assistant and special teams coach, launching a 12-year tenure with the Giants. After the 1980 campaign, he drew the added responsibility of coaching the Giants linebackers. In 1983, he began coordinating the defense on Bill Parcells' staff and continued coaching the linebackers, a unit that would become known as one of the most dominant groups of all-time. He was officially appointed defensive coordinator in 1985, a position he held for the next six seasons. During his time as the Giants' defensive signal caller, his units were never ranked lower than 11th in the NFL and finished as high as second in the league three times, including the Super Bowl seasons of 1986 and 1990. His contributions with the Giants throughout the 1980s brought him national recognition as one of the best young assistant coaches in the NFL. His reward came just nine days after Super Bowl XXV when the Cleveland Browns hired him as their head coach.

Seven former assistant coaches on Coach Belichick's staffs in Cleveland or New England have gone on to become head coaches at the NFL or collegiate level. Three current NFL head coaches worked on Belichick staffs: Miami's Nick Saban, Cleveland's Romeo Crennel and the New York Jets' Eric Mangini. Additionally, four college head coaches were hired as assistants by Belichick: Notre Dame's Charlie Weis, Iowa's Kirk Ferentz, Fresno State's Pat Hill and Virginia's Al Groh.

PLAYING

Belichick lettered in football, lacrosse and squash while attending college at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. He earned three letters in football while competing at center and tight end. As a senior, he was named captain of his lacrosse team.

THE BELICHICK LIBRARY

Coach Belichick is an avid collector of football-related books, and along with his late father, Steve, amassed a library of more than 800 volumes. The library is believed to be the third-largest collection of football books in the world, behind only the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the Library of Congress. This year, Coach Belichick is moving his entire library to the Naval Academy, where his father coached for 33 years. The books will be housed in a new display at Ricketts Hall in Annapolis for future generations of football players, coaches and fans to enjoy.

PHILANTHROPY

The Belichicks have been long-time advocates and contributors to charities. While in Cleveland, they launched a charitable foundation in their names. The foundation benefited the Zelma George Home, a shelter for homeless women and children. In 2001, they established the Bill and Debby Belichick Scholarship, an annual stipend awarded to an Annapolis High School senior for academic and athletic achievement.

Annually, Coach Belichick generously donates time and money to support charities. In 2006, he presented the first ever Steve Belichick Award in conjunction with the Annapolis Touchdown Club. The award, presented in the name of Coach Belichick's father, a longtime Naval Academy assistant coach, honors an Annapolis resident deeply involved in sports without seeking a spotlight for their achievements. Coach Belichick was a keynote speaker at the Frank McGuire Foundation's 2006 coaching seminar, addressing 600 New York-area high school coaches. In 2004, he participated in the Samsung's Four Season's of Hope annual fundraising gala, where he introduced longtime friend Jon Bon Jovi to a list of honorees that included Joe Torre, Arnold Palmer, Magic Johnson and Boomer Esiason. The star-studded affair raised over $500,000 to aid children and families in need. In 2003, he was honored by RoxComp and presented with the "Healthy Living Award." He has participated in Eric Mangini's annual Football Fundamentals Mini-Camp in Hartford, Conn. He is also a supporter of Hall of Famer Jim Brown's Amer-I-Can Foundation and has made speeches and appearances for Brown's foundation.

Since becoming Patriots head coach, Coach Belichick has participated in dozens of community events, including the March of Dimes Walk America, the Rodman Ride for Kids, the Roxbury Comprehensive (RoxComp) Community Center's Reading is the Best Medicine Program and the Mayors Cup Regatta on the Charles River to benefit AccesSportAmerica, a charity dedicated to fitness of children and adults with disabilities. He is a supporter of the Pawtucket Police Athletic League. He has also participated in several events benefiting the Lazarus House, a non-profit charity serving the homeless of Merrimack Valley.

ACADEMICS

At Wesleyan's commencement in 2002, Coach Belichick received the prestigious Baldwin Medal, awarded annually by the Wesleyan University Alumni Association. It recognizes outstanding contributions to public interest and to Wesleyan. In 2005, he received a Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Wesleyan. He is proud to remain close to his Phillips Academy roots, where he was bestowed the Distinguished Alumni Award in 1987. He was also honored at Phillips Academy when the school declared a day in his honor in 2002. Annually, he makes several offseason visits to local schools to speak to students. Recent speaking engagements included visits to Southern Connecticut State University, Boston College, Wesleyan and Brown universities, as well as Phillips Academy in Andover and a panel discussion on sports at the Fenn School's Alumni Dinner. He was a guest speaker at the 2006 NCAA Lacrosse All-American banquet held at the Final Four in Philadelphia. In 2004, he received honorary doctorates at Boston University and the New England Institute of Technology, where he also delivered the commencement address to over 900 graduates.

PERSONAL

Bill Belichick was born April 16, 1952 in Nashville, Tenn. and raised in Annapolis, Md. His father, Steve, played fullback for the Detroit Lions in 1941 and coached for 33 years at the Naval Academy. Bill was a standout prep athlete at Annapolis High, where he has since been inducted into the school's Hall of Fame. He attended Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., before enrolling at Wesleyan, where he earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 1975.

DAUNTING DEFENSES

Coach Belichick's teams have always been renowned for having among the stingiest defenses in the NFL. Since Belichick was first named a defensive coordinator in 1985, his defenses have averaged fewer than 20 points per game 17 times. Belichick's defenses have allowed the fewest points in the NFL three times and his defenses have finished in the top 10 on 13 occasions.

NFL SENIORITY

Coach Belichick began his coaching career as a special assistant with the Baltimore Colts in 1975 at the age of 23. This year, he enters his 32nd season in the NFL and owns the distinction of having the most NFL coaching experience among current head coaches. The head coaches with the most NFL experience are listed below:

Years	Name	NFL Coaching Tenures
32	Bill Belichick	1975-2006
30	Marty Schottenheimer	1975-98, 2001-06
26	Romeo Crennel	1981-2006

BELICHICK'S PATRIOTS RENAISSANCE

Once head coach Bill Belichick had the time to implement his design on the Patriots, his approach has resulted in the best record of any NFL head coach. After the team endured a 5-11 rebuilding year in his first season, the Patriots have compiled the best record in the NFL since 2001. The remarkable run includes postseason play, where Belichick and the Patriots own a 10-1 record.

18TH COACHING SEASON ★ 16TH NFL SEASON ★ 5TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Joel Collier returned to New England when he was hired onto Head Coach Bill Belichick's staff on February 23, 2005. Collier had previously spent three seasons (1991-93) in the Patriots' coaching and scouting departments before serving an 11-year tenure as an assistant coach with the Miami Dolphins.

Last season, Collier helped the secondary improve down the stretch after losing six players to season-ending injuries. In New England's last seven regular-season and playoff games, opponents averaged just 188 passing yards per game while throwing for a total of only five touchdowns. In those final seven contests, opposing teams were held to fewer than 200 total passing yards five times. The synergy that the group achieved was remarkable considering that 13 different starters were utilized during the season, including six starters at strong safety over an eight-week midseason span. Collier's tutelage helped cornerbacks Asante Samuel and Ellis Hobbs tie for the team lead with three interceptions apiece while combining to produce a total of 30 passes defensed.

Collier rejoined the Patriots in 2005 after completing a seven-year assignment as Miami's running backs coach, during which time he helped produce three 1,000-yard seasons and coached three different players who finished among the NFL's top five rookie rushers in their respective rookie seasons. Under Collier's tutelage, running back Ricky Williams recorded the top two rushing seasons in Dolphins history, notching an NFL-leading franchise-record 1,853 yards in 2002 and following that with a 1,372-yard effort in 2003. Williams earned a Pro Bowl nod in 2002, becoming the first Dolphins running back since Delvin Williams in 1978 to earn such recognition. Collier was also credited with assisting the development of former Miami fullback Rob Konrad, who became known as one of the league's top blocking fullbacks.

His experience on the defensive side of the ball includes a four-year stint as Miami's defensive staff assistant beginning in 1994. In that role, Collier helped to coach the Dolphins linebackers in addition to assisting with the overall football operation. In 1997, he was credited with assisting in the development of linebacker Derrick Rodgers, who earned Sports Illustrated's Defensive Rookie of the Year honors.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Collier spent three seasons in Foxborough as the Patriots' assistant running backs and receivers coach (1991-92) and as a pro scout (1993). He was hired as a member of Head Coach Dick MacPherson's staff in 1991, and his assignments included assisting wide receivers coach (and current Patriots running backs coach) Ivan Fears.

Collier began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant under MacPherson at Syracuse University before entering the NFL as an offensive assistant for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1990.

PLAYING

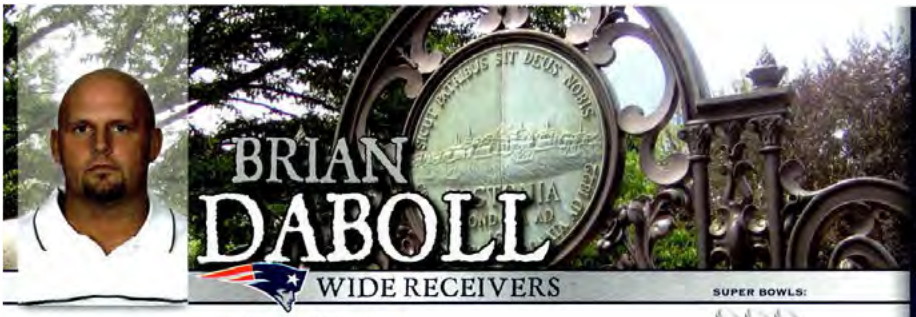

Collier was a three-year starter at inside linebacker for Northern Colorado University. He was an academic All-North Central Conference selection.

PERSONAL

Joel Collier was born on Dec. 25, 1963 in Buffalo, N.Y. He is the son of Joe Collier, who was on the Patriots' original coaching staff from 1960-61 and served as New England's defensive coordinator under Dick MacPherson from 1991-92. Joe Collier was also head coach of the Buffalo Bills and a longtime defensive coordinator for the Denver Broncos, where Joel served as a ballboy while growing up. Joel and his wife, Shirley Ann, have a son, Jeremy Grayson, and a daughter, Evelyn.

10TH COACHING SEASON ★ 7TH NFL SEASON ★ 7TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Brian Daboll is now in his seventh season with the Patriots and is serving as the wide receivers coach on Bill Belichick's staff for the fifth consecutive year. Since assuming his current responsibilities prior to the 2002 season, Daboll has successfully blended veteran talent with up-and-coming young receivers. His approach has helped to develop a reliable receiving corps with big-play ability that has given the Patriots' offense the ability to remain consistent and creative.

Last season, New England wide receivers claimed the top three places on the team's receptions list for the third time in the four seasons Daboll has coached the position. Prior to Daboll's appointment as wide receivers coach, the position had accounted for the team's top three pass catchers just once in a nine-year span. Also in 2005, the Patriots finished the season as the NFL's second-ranked passing offense (257.5 yards per game), marking the team's highest ranking in that category in 11 seasons.

Daboll's promotion to wide receivers coach in 2002 coincided with New England's selection of Deion Branch in the second round of the 2002 NFL Draft. In the last four seasons, Daboll has worked closely with Branch to help him develop and improve as a pro. Daboll has also been credited with assisting in the development of former seventh-round pick David Givens, who turned in four solid seasons with New England from 2002-05.

The 2005 season saw the Patriots' starting wide receivers each set career highs in receptions, as Branch grabbed 78 passes and Givens caught 59. Branch's 998 receiving yards also set a career high and marked the second highest receiving yardage total by a Patriot since Belichick became head coach in 2000 (Troy Brown, 1,199 yards in 2001). The receivers continued to shine in the playoffs, as Branch set a single-game franchise playoff record with 153 receiving yards in the divisional round and Givens caught touchdown passes in both postseason games. Branch and Givens were complemented by Brown, a 13th-year veteran whose 39 catches moved him into second place on the team's all-time receptions list.

New England's wide receivers played an integral role in the team's 2004 success, with the trio of Branch, Givens and David Patten combining for 135 catches, 2,128 yards and 14 touchdowns in the regular season. Branch earned Super Bowl XXXIX MVP honors in just his third professional season. Givens set career highs in catches (56) and receiving yards (874) while becoming the first Patriot since 1999 to record four 100-yard games in a season. For the second consecutive season, the receiving corps was a key to the team's postseason success. Patriots wideouts accounted for 64 percent of the team's postseason receptions and half of the team's 10 postseason touchdowns. Branch and Givens combined for 28 receptions in the three postseason games, and Branch's 11 catches in the Super Bowl tied Dan Ross and Jerry Rice for the most in Super Bowl history.

In 2003, Branch and Givens enjoyed breakout years to compliment the experience of veteran Troy Brown. In just his second year as a pro, Branch led the team with a career-high 57 receptions and 803 receiving yards, while Givens, a 2002 seventh-round draft pick, paced the club with six touchdown receptions in the regular season and tied Brown for the team and league lead with 17 postseason receptions. New England's receiving corps played a major role in the team's postseason success, as the trio of Branch, Brown and Givens combined for 49 receptions, good for 63 percent of the team's total postseason catches. In Super Bowl XXXVIII, Branch led all receivers with 10 receptions, just one shy of the Super Bowl record that he tied a year later. Branch also gained a career-high 143 receiving yards in the Super Bowl, setting a Patriots postseason record.

In 2002, Brown, David Patten and Branch finished the season ranked 1-2-3 respectively among the team's leading receivers. It was the first time three wide receivers held the top three positions since 1999 and just the second time in 13 seasons. Brown led the team for the third consecutive season with 97 receptions, and his 6.9 receptions per game set a franchise record. Patten set career highs with 61 receptions for 824 yards and led the team with a 13.5-yard average per reception.

Daboll originally joined the Patriots in February of 2000 when he was named a defensive coaching assistant. Daboll held that role for two seasons and was primarily responsible for preparing film breakdowns for each upcoming opponent, including comprehensive opponent scouting charts for Coach Belichick and the defensive coaches. The preparation and study of opponent offensive game tendencies during his first two seasons with the Patriots provided unique training for his first positional responsibilities in 2002.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he worked as a graduate assistant for head coach Nick Saban at Michigan State. He started as an administrative graduate assistant in 1998 but spent the entire 1999 season assisting the defensive coaches, working primarily with the defensive backs. He began his coaching career as a restricted earnings coach, assisting the defensive coaches at William & Mary in 1997.

PLAYING

Daboll attended the University of Rochester, where he was a two-year starter at free safety. Daboll recorded three interceptions in one game during his senior year.

PERSONAL

Brian Daboll was born in Welland, Ontario. He attended St. Francis High in Buffalo where he lettered in football. Brian has a son, Christian, and a daughter, Haven.

31ST COACHING SEASON ★ 16TH NFL SEASON ★ 10TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Ivan Fears, a 31-year coaching veteran, is now enjoying his 16th season in the NFL and his 10th with the New England Patriots. He returned to New England in 1999 and since then has enjoyed three division championships, three conference titles and three Super Bowl championships. He is in his fifth season as running backs coach, after having coached New England's wide receivers from 1999-2001 and previously from 1991-92. Patriots running backs have accounted for 33 touchdowns over the last two seasons (30 rushing, three receiving), producing more touchdowns than any other position over that span.

Last season saw healthy production from the running backs despite injuries that forced the Patriots to start four different players at the position. Six different running backs combined to rush for 1,388 yards on 395 carries in 2005. Additionally, Corey Dillon tied his career high with 12 rushing touchdowns despite missing four games due to injury.

In 2004, the Patriots enjoyed one of the finest rushing seasons in franchise history as the team averaged 4.07 yards per carry, the most since 1985 (4.13-yard average). The Patriots ran for more than 200 yards in a game on three occasions, including a 210-yard performance in the divisional playoffs. Additionally, the team's 225 rushing yards against Cleveland (12/5) were the most in any game since 1993. Dillon set the team's single-season rushing record with 1,635 yards and led the NFL with an average of 109.0 yards per game in which he appeared.

The 2003 season saw the Patriots exceed the 100-yard rushing plateau as a team in eight of 16 regular-season games, an improvement on their five games exceeding the century mark in 2002. The Patriots also passed the 100-yard mark in two of three post-season contests, including a 127-yard output in their victory in Super Bowl XXXVIII.

Fears took on running backs duties in 2002, and in his first season the position produced 1,508 yards rushing – the second highest total by the Patriots since 1996. The Patriots averaged 3.8 yards per carry, tying 2001's average as the highest since 1995.

As receivers coach in 2001, Fears helped both Troy Brown and David Patten produce career years. Brown established a franchise record with 101 receptions for a career-high 1,199 yards and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. It was Brown's first 1,000-yard season of his eight-year career. Patten, who entered the season with just 71 career receptions in four seasons, claimed the starting role opposite Brown and was credited with 51 receptions for 749 yards and four touchdowns.

Fears originally joined the professional coaching ranks as the receivers coach on Dick MacPherson's staff with the Patriots in 1991. After two seasons in New England, he accepted a position with the Bears in Chicago, where he coached the receivers for six seasons (1993-98) before returning to New England in 1999.

In 1991, his receiving corps featured Irving Fryar, Greg McMurtry and Michael Timpson. That year, Fryar turned in his first 1,000-yard season of his career, finishing with 1,014 yards on 68 receptions (14.9).

In 1993, he joined the Chicago Bears and inherited the team's first-round selection, Curtis Conway. In 1994, the Bears added Jeff Graham, a reserve receiver from the Steelers, and Fears helped develop the two into one of the premier receiving tandems in the league over a two-year span. In his first year with the Bears, Graham started 15 games and led the team with 68 receptions for 944 yards. In 1995, Conway and Graham became the first receiving tandem in franchise history to each record over 1,000 yards receiving in a single season. In 1996, Conway produced a career-high 81 receptions for 1,049 yards and became the first Bear in franchise history to record back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons.

Fears began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at William & Mary in 1976. In 1977, he drew his first positional responsibilities coaching receivers. His next two seasons (1978-79), he coached quarterbacks before accepting the role as receivers coach at Syracuse in 1980, a position he held for the next 12 seasons.

PLAYING

A three-year letterman as a running back at William & Mary (1973-75), his playing career was cut short after undergoing three knee operations during his collegiate career.

PERSONAL

Ivan Fears was born Nov. 15, 1954 in Portsmouth, Va. He grew up in Suffolk, Va., where he starred at John Yates High and was twice named the school's Outstanding Player of the Year. He also earned all-state honors as a senior. Ivan and his wife, Beverly, have three children, Joshua, Aaron and Kimberly.

7TH COACHING SEASON ★ 20TH NFL SEASON ★ 7TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Pepper Johnson is enjoying his 20th season in the NFL, including his seventh season on Bill Belichick's coaching staff. Johnson has been a part of five Super Bowl championship teams, earning a pair of rings during his illustrious 13-year playing career and also contributing to three championship teams as a Patriots assistant coach. All five of his championship rings have been earned while teamed with Coach Belichick. In 2006, Johnson enters his third season mentoring the defensive line after spending three seasons as the Patriots' inside linebackers coach.

Last season, Johnson tutored a defensive line whose performance down the stretch helped the Patriots claim four wins in December to clinch the division title. In those four December games, New England allowed a total of just 125 rushing yards, an average of only 31.3 rushing yards per game. Defensive co-captain Richard Seymour earned his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl berth and maintained the high level of production that has earned him accolades as one of the NFL's top defensive players. Former first-round draft choices Ty Warren and Vince Wilfork each started all 16 games and reached career-high tackle totals. Wilfork's 91 stops placed second on the team, while Warren's 77 tackles ranked third.

In his first season as defensive line coach in 2004, Johnson successfully integrated young talent with a solid veteran presence to form a versatile unit. The line was key in helping New England's run defense rank sixth in the NFL, and the defensive line accounted for 14.5 sacks on the season. Seymour earned his third straight Pro Bowl nod, while Warren, a second-year pro, and Wilfork, a rookie, each came into their own as top-line NFL starters.

In 2003, Johnson coached an inside linebackers unit that was a key part of a defense that held its opponents to a franchise-record and NFL-best 14.9 points per game. The inside linebacking corps was a major reason the Patriots ranked fourth in the NFL in run defense in 2003, up from 31st in the league in 2002. In addition, inside linebacker Tedy Bruschi returned two interceptions for touchdowns and credited one of Johnson's practice drills with improving his nose for the ball.

Johnson originally joined Coach Belichick's staff as part of the NFL's summer coaching fellowship in the summer of 2000. He spent the season with the Patriots as a defensive assistant, working primarily with the linebackers. In 2001, he joined the staff as the inside linebackers coach, the same position at which he excelled for 13 NFL seasons. After injuries sidelined Ted Johnson and Bryan Cox in 2001, Bruschi made the transition from outside to inside linebacker and helped fuel the Patriots defense through a season-ending win streak that culminated with a Super Bowl title. In 2002, linebackers Phifer and Ted Johnson finished first and second in tackles with 109 and 96 tackles respectively. It was the first time two linebackers led the Patriots in tackles since 1994.

PLAYING

Johnson started 158 of 193 regular season games and played for four different teams during his 13-year NFL career from 1986-98. The two-time Pro Bowl performer won Super Bowl titles as a member of the New York Giants in 1986 and again in 1990. His presence helped form one of the most dominant defensive units in the history of the game. In 13 seasons, he totaled over 1,200 tackles, including 25.5 sacks. He also forced 12 fumbles, recovering eight, and intercepted 14 passes, including two that he returned for touchdowns. In a game against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1991, he set a franchise record with 4.5 sacks. He played seven seasons with the Giants (1986-92) before joining the Cleveland Browns in 1993. In 1994, he recorded a career-high with 207 tackles for the Browns. He signed with the Detroit Lions for one season in 1996 before being reunited with Bill Belichick in New York when he signed with the Jets in 1997. He played two seasons with the Jets before retiring in 1999. In his first season with the Jets, he was voted team captain before the start of the regular season. A midseason injury vs. New England (10/19/97) sidelined him for the remainder of the season, but he returned as team captain and started every game for the Jets in 1998. Prior to his injury, he had not missed a game or a practice in 11-plus NFL seasons.

A two-time co-captain and defensive MVP at Ohio State, Johnson was drafted by the New York Giants in the second round of the 1986 NFL Draft after an All-American campaign as a senior for the Buckeyes in 1985.

PERSONAL

Thomas "Pepper" Johnson was born July 29, 1964 in Detroit, Mich. He was nicknamed "Pepper" by an aunt who observed his ritual of sprinkling pepper on his breakfast cereal as a youngster. After an all-star prep career at MacKenzie High in Detroit, Johnson became a scholar-athlete at Ohio State, where he majored in counseling and physical education. In 1999, his alma mater named him to the school's all-century team. In 2001, he was inducted into the Ohio State Hall of Fame. He formed Pepper Johnson Enterprises, a non-profit community organization that operates in Detroit to support youth and anti-crime programs. Johnson's many philanthropic endeavors have earned him honors for his work with Special Olympics, the March of Dimes, the Make-a-Wish Foundation, Children's Leukemia Foundation and Pepper Johnson's Youth Foundation. He is also a supporter of the Michael Landon Foundation, the Carol M. Baldwin Breast Cancer Research Foundation, Dylan MalaMala Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Trey Whitfield Foundation. While in New York, he sponsored a charity golf tournament on Long Island to benefit a home for babies born to drug-addicted mothers. Pepper has a son, Dionte, who is a junior at Ohio State.

27TH COACHING SEASON ★ 15TH NFL SEASON ★ 2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Pete Mangurian was named the tight ends coach on Head Coach Bill Belichick's staff on March 7, 2005. He is entering his 15th year in the NFL and his 27th year as a coach, including a successful three-year stint as the head coach at Cornell University and a tenure as the offensive coordinator for the Atlanta Falcons in 2003.

In 2005, his first season tutoring the Patriots tight ends, his group scored 12 touchdowns (the most by Patriots tight ends in 21 years) while averaging 13.2 yards per catch (the highest by Patriots tight ends in 18 years). The 12 touchdowns included three scoring grabs from linebacker Mike Vrabel, who occasionally lined up as a tight end in goal-line situations. The last time the Patriots' tight ends had seen the end zone that often was in 1984, when New England's tight ends and H-Backs also notched 12 scores. Additionally, Patriots tight ends recorded 56 receptions for 737 yards, with the average of 13.2 yards per catch, representing the highest yards-per-catch figure by a group of New England tight ends since 1988. That season Russ Francis and Lin Dawson led a unit that averaged 13.3 yards per catch.

The 2005 campaign featured a tight ends unit that was one of the NFL's most consistent big-play threats at the position. Tight ends Daniel Graham and Benjamin Watson combined to produce eight regular-season receptions of 25 yards or longer, a mark that led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL (Atlanta, 9). Additionally, the duo produced six receptions of 30 yards or longer and 14 receptions of 20 yards or longer. In addition to those regular-season marks, Watson grabbed a 63-yard touchdown pass in the first round of the playoffs that stands as the longest touchdown reception in Patriots postseason history.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Mangurian was a member of Dan Reeves' staff with the Atlanta Falcons for three seasons from 2001-03, a period during which the Falcons notably excelled in rushing and pass protection. As Atlanta's offensive coordinator in 2003, Mangurian oversaw an offensive unit that averaged 4.48 yards per carry and allowed just 35 sacks, the fewest for the Falcons since 1991. His promotion to offensive coordinator came following a 2002 season during which he served as Atlanta's offensive line coach and contributed to a season in which the Falcons set team records for yards-per-carry (4.53), rushing touchdowns (23) and most 30-point games (8).

Mangurian returned to the NFL in 2001 after spending three seasons as the head coach at Cornell. In his final two seasons (1999-2000), Cornell won a total of 10 Ivy League games under Mangurian, more than any other team in the league. His 10-4 league record over that span ties the best two-year Ivy League record in school history. Mangurian recorded an overall record of 16-14 (.533) before returning to the NFL for the 2001 season.

The California native began his NFL coaching career in 1988, when Reeves hired him as the tight ends/H-backs coach for the Denver Broncos. He went on to become the team's offensive line coach in 1991. Mangurian spent a total of five seasons with the Broncos and was on the staff of the 1989 AFC Championship team that appeared in Super Bowl XXIV. In 1993, he joined the New York Giants and spent four seasons mentoring the offensive line, helping to pave the way for Rodney Hampton to record three consecutive 1,000-yard seasons. Overall, he spent 13 seasons as an assistant to Reeves with Denver, New York and Atlanta.

Prior to entering the NFL ranks, Mangurian spent nine seasons as an assistant coach at the collegiate level. He began his coaching career in 1979, accepting a position as the assistant offensive line coach at Southern Methodist University. From there, he spent one season as the offensive line coach at New Mexico State (1981), then spent two seasons working with the offensive line at Stanford. In 1984, he began a four-season stint as the offensive line coach at his alma mater, Louisiana State, helping the Tigers earn four consecutive bowl bids and set school records for total offense on three separate occasions.

PLAYING

Mangurian was a defensive tackle at Louisiana State.

PERSONAL

Peter K. Mangurian was born on June 17, 1955 in Los Angeles, Calif. Pete and his wife, Amy, have two daughters, Lauren and Katie, and a son, Will.

7TH COACHING SEASON ★ 6TH NFL SEASON ★ 6TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Josh McDaniels enters his sixth NFL season and his sixth season in New England. He joined the Patriots on March 1, 2001 as a personnel assistant in the scouting department and assisted the defensive coaching staff for three seasons. He began serving as the Patriots' quarterbacks coach in 2004 and was named offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach on January 20, 2006.

In the two seasons since he began serving as quarterbacks coach, McDaniels has worked closely with starting signal caller Tom Brady, helping him set career highs in major passing categories. In 2005, Brady led the NFL with a career-best 4,110 passing yards, a number that exceeded his previous career high by nearly 350 yards and represents the second highest yardage total in Patriots history. In 2004, Brady set a career high by recording a 92.6 passer rating, besting his previous career mark by six points.

In his two seasons working with McDaniels, Brady has compiled the top two passer ratings of his six-year career – 92.6 (2004) and 92.3 (2005). Additionally, Brady has consistently completed longer passes in his two seasons working with McDaniels, averaging 7.77 yards per attempt, more than a yard higher than his average of 6.62 yards per attempt in his three previous seasons as a starter.

Last season under McDaniels, Patriots quarterbacks threw 28 touchdown passes, tying the fourth-highest total for the position in franchise history. The mark was also achieved in 1986, 2002 and 2004, McDaniels' first season as quarterbacks coach. Also in 2005, the Patriots finished the season as the NFL's second-ranked passing offense (257.5 yards per game), marking the team's highest ranking in that category in 11 seasons.

In addition to assisting in Brady's continued development, McDaniels has tutored Matt Cassel, a four-year backup quarterback in college and a seventh-round draft choice in 2005. In the 2005 regular-season finale, Cassel threw his first two touchdown passes since high school as he led the Patriots on a fourth-quarter comeback against Miami that fell just two points short.

In 2004, McDaniels earned his first positional coaching responsibilities and worked with Brady to help the quarterback produce the highest passer rating of his career (92.9) and the second highest single-season passer rating in team history. Brady's 28 touchdown passes ranked second in the AFC and tied his career high set in 2002.

Upon his arrival in New England prior to the 2001 season, McDaniels served as a personnel assistant and quickly expanded his role to include film breakdown and scouting preparation for the defensive coaching staff. He became a coaching assistant in February of 2002. In that role, his responsibilities included film breakdown and scouting chart preparations for the defensive staff. In 2003, he drew additional responsibilities working with the defensive backs.

McDaniels began his coaching career in 1999 as a graduate assistant at Michigan State, working under head coach Nick Saban.

PLAYING

McDaniels attended John Carroll University, where he played wide receiver for the Blue Streaks. He was a college teammate of Patriots Director of Pro Personnel Nick Caserio, who played quarterback for John Carroll from 1996-99.

PERSONAL

Josh McDaniels was born in Canton, Ohio and attended Canton McKinley High School. He was a quarterback and kicker for McKinley. His father, Thom McDaniels, was a longtime head coach at McKinley High and is currently the head coach at Warren Harding High in Warren, Ohio. Josh and his wife Laura have a son, Jack Thomas, and a daughter, Maddie.

COACHING

Harold Nash was hired as the assistant strength and conditioning coach on Head Coach Bill Belichick's staff on February 23, 2005. Nash's responsibilities with the Patriots include assisting strength and conditioning coach Mike Woicik in implementing the team's year-round conditioning program. Nash also assists in coordinating the Patriots' player development programs.

Nash is in his second season as a full-time coach following an all-star career as a defensive back in the Canadian Football League and is a veteran of 11 seasons of mentoring young athletes. Beginning in 1994 and continuing throughout his CFL tenure, Nash served as an assistant to highly-regarded speed coach Tom Shaw, assisting over 30 college defensive backs in their preparations for the NFL Draft. Starting in 2000, he also worked with the Nike Football Group to teach speed, agility and quickness to some of the nation's top college prospects.

PLAYING

Nash was a defensive back in the Canadian Football League for 11 seasons from 1994-2004. He was a three-time all-star and recorded a total of 367 tackles and 24 interceptions while playing for the Shreveport Pirates (1994-95), Montreal Alouettes (1996-99), Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1999-2003) and Edmonton Eskimos (2004). Nash is Winnpeg's all-time leader in pass knockdowns and was selected to the West all-star squad while playing with the Blue Bombers in 2000 and 2001. He also earned the nod as a CFL all-star in 2001 and earned East All-Star recognition in 1997 while playing for Montreal.

Nash attended the University of Southwestern Louisiana (now Louisiana-Lafayette), where he joined the team as a walk-on and played defensive back for four seasons. He was voted a permanent team captain by his peers in recognition of his leadership, and earned the Cajun Spring Training Award from the coaching staff in recognition of his work ethic.

Following his college career, Nash signed with the New York Giants as an undrafted free agent and was a member of the team during training camp in 1993.

PERSONAL

Harold Nash, Jr. was born on May 5, 1970 in New Orleans, La. He earned a bachelor of science degree in Humanities from the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

9TH COACHING SEASON ★ 3RD NFL SEASON ★ 3RD PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Matt Patricia enters his third season in the NFL and his first as the Patriots' linebackers coach. Last season, Patricia served as the Patriots' assistant offensive line coach, working with Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line Coach Dante Scarnecchia.

In 2005, Patricia assisted in tutoring an offensive line that allowed just 28 sacks, marking the first time in a decade the Patriots had allowed fewer than 30 sacks in two straight seasons. The offensive line achieved that mark despite using two rookies as primary starters on the left side and having two opening day starters suffer season-ending injuries. The line helped the Patriots finish the season as the NFL's seventh-ranked total offense (352.0 yards per game). New England also ended the year as the league's second-ranked passing offense (257.5 yards per game).

Patricia joined the Patriots in 2004 and spent his first season with the team as an offensive coaching assistant. His primary responsibilities in that role were breaking down opponents' film, scouting preparations and practice assistance. The former college center and guard also drew some duties in assisting Scarnecchia with the offensive line.

Patricia joined the Patriots after spending six seasons in the college ranks. Immediately preceding his move to the NFL, he was an offensive graduate assistant at Syracuse University for three seasons. Prior to joining the Orangemen, he spent two seasons (1999-2000) as the defensive line coach at Amherst College. Patricia's first coaching experience came in 1996, when he served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

PLAYING

Patricia was a standout offensive lineman at RPI, playing both center and guard. He helped his senior class to an overall record of 31-8 and the Engineers won three ECAC Championships during his collegiate career.

PERSONAL

Matt Patricia was born on Sept. 13, 1974 and was raised in Sherrill, N.Y. He attended Vernon-Verona-Sherrill Central School, where he lettered in football and wrestling. He earned his bachelor's degree in aeronautical engineering from RPI and later earned a master's degree in education from the University of Massachusetts.

DEAN PEES

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

SUPER BOWLS: 04

34TH COACHING SEASON ★ 3RD NFL SEASON ★ 3RD PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Dean Pees, a 34-year coaching veteran, was named the defensive coordinator on Bill Belichick's staff on January 17, 2006. Pees served as the Patriots' linebackers coach from 2004-05 and his coaching credentials include six seasons as a collegiate head coach and 15 seasons as a defensive coordinator at the college level. Pees joined Bill Belichick's staff prior to the 2004 season after a tenure as the head coach at Kent State.

In 2005, Pees tutored a Patriots linebackers unit that featured three of the defense's top five tacklers and accounted for 22 of the team's 33 sacks. Mike Vrabel transitioned from outside linebacker to inside linebacker during the season and paced the team with a career-high 114 tackles (80 solo), while Rosevelt Colvin's 73 tackles (49 solo) marked the second highest total of his career and placed fourth on the team. Tedy Bruschi, who missed the first six games of the season while recovering from a stroke, placed fifth on the team with 72 tackles (38 solo) despite playing in just nine games.

The contributions of the linebackers in the second half of the 2005 season were a key reason the Patriots were able to clinch the AFC East title by recording six wins in a seven-week span over the final two months of the season. During the month of December the Patriots shut down the run, allowing just 31.3 rushing yards per game. The effort helped to produce four straight December wins, including a 28-0 shutout over Tampa Bay on December 17 to claim the AFC East crown. Additionally, New England allowed just 10 total points over a three-game December span, marking the fewest points allowed over any three games in team history.

Pees marked a solid first season in the NFL in 2004, mentoring a linebackers unit that produced three of the team's top four tacklers. The Patriots defense ranked sixth in the NFL against the run, while New England linebackers recorded 27.5 quarterback sacks. Tedy Bruschi finished second on the team in tackles (128), and fellow starters Ted Johnson (112) and Vrabel (76), finished third and fourth, respectively. Outside linebacker Willie McGinest, also a starter in the Patriots' 3-4 alignment, paced the team with 9.5 sacks. Bruschi, in his ninth NFL season, earned his first Pro Bowl selection.

Pees was hired as the head coach at Kent State on December 17, 1997, faced with the challenge of rebuilding a program that had not produced a winning season in 12 years and had not won more than three games in a season for six years. Once his system was fully implemented, the Golden Flashes showed significant improvement.

In 2001, Pees led the Golden Flashes to a 6-5 record, notching the school's best mark in 14 years, and only the second winning season in 25 years. In his last three seasons at Kent State, Pees' teams won more games than the school had won in the previous decade. Pees' six-year tenure with the Golden Flashes made him the longest-serving head coach in the program's last 40 years.

Prior to securing the head job at Kent State, Pees was the defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach on Nick Saban's staff at Michigan State. The Spartans qualified for a postseason bowl game in each of Pees' three seasons in East Lansing and finished with the 13th-ranked overall defense in the nation in his final season. While with the Spartans, Pees assisted in the development of linebacker Ike Reese, now with the Atlanta Falcons, who was the only two-time captain in Michigan State history and finished his career third on the school's all-time tackles list.

Pees joined Michigan State after serving as secondary coach on Lou Holtz's staff at Notre Dame during the 1994 season. While in South Bend, Pees coached Eagles Pro Bowl cornerback Bobby Taylor during his senior season in which he was named to numerous All-American teams. He joined the Fighting Irish after four seasons as the defensive coordinator at the University of Toledo, where he was first hired by Saban in 1990. In 1992, Pees' defense allowed just 13.9 points per game as Toledo posted an 8-3 record, including two shutout victories. Pees also served a three-year stint as the secondary coach at the Naval Academy (1987-89). He began his college coaching career as the defensive coordinator/ secondary coach for the University of Findlay (1979-82) and then held the same title at Miami (Ohio) University (1983-86).

PERSONAL

Dean Pees is a native of Dunkirk, Ohio and is a graduate of Bowling Green State University. Pees and his wife Melody have six children – Laura, Meredith, Steffani, Matt, Elli and Tarrin – and a grandchild, Kade.

37TH COACHING SEASON ★ 25TH NFL SEASON ★ 23RD PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Dante Scarnecchia is a 37-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his 25th season as an NFL assistant. He owns the longest coaching tenure in Patriots history, now entering his 23rd season on the Patriots sidelines. Since joining the Patriots in 1982, he has spent all but two seasons (1989-90) in Foxborough. Scarnecchia has the distinction of being the only coach in franchise history to be a member of all five Super Bowl teams. He has been on the Patriots coaching staff during 11 of the franchise's 14 playoff appearances and has coached in 24 of the 28 playoff games in team history.

For the eighth consecutive season, Scarnecchia's primary responsibility will be the offensive line, a position he has coached for 21 of his 37 seasons in the profession. Bill Belichick named Scarnecchia the Patriots assistant head coach/ offensive line coach on Feb. 1, 2000.

The Patriots have ranked seventh in the NFL in total offense in each of the last two years, marking the first time since 1980-81 that the franchise has finished among the NFL's top 10 offenses two seasons in a row. New England's offensive line has been a significant contributor to the team's success, allowing fewer than 30 sacks in each of the last two seasons. The Patriots allowed only 28 sacks in 2005 despite seeing two opening-day starters land on injured reserve as two rookies became the primary starters on the left side of the line.

Offensive line cohesion and consistency were important factors in the team's three recent Super Bowl victories. In 2004, the line allowed just 26 sacks, the fewest in 10 years (22, 1994). Additionally, the offensive line opened holes for running back Corey Dillon to set a single-season franchise record with 1,635 rushing yards and led the NFL with 109.0 yards per game played.

In 2003, Scarnecchia guided the offensive line to a solid season despite three of the five opening day starters ending the season on injured reserve. The offensive line was a force in Super Bowl XXXVIII, holding the heralded Carolina Panthers defensive line to no sacks and opening lanes for New England to rush for 127 yards and a touchdown. In the playoffs, the offensive line did not allow a sack in any of the team's three games despite 126 pass attempts.

In 2001, he worked with a unit that featured three new starters, including two young offensive tackles, but still produced a powerful rushing attack and a balanced passing attack. Running back Antowain Smith rushed for 1,157 yards, the most by a Patriot back in six years.

Prior to coaching the offensive line, Scarnecchia handled the Patriots special team units for two seasons (1997-98). In 1998, Adam Vinatieri scored a career-high 127 points, sixth in franchise history and the most by a Patriot since Tony Franklin's 140 points in 1986.

In 1997, Scarnecchia's special teams units produced the league's second-best punter (Tupa), fifth-best kick returner (David Meggett) and the AFC's special teams Pro Bowl representative (Larry Whigham).

Tupa set a franchise record and led the AFC with a 45.8-yard average (gross) per punt. It was the first time in franchise history that a Patriots punter led the conference in punting.

Scarnecchia originally joined the Patriots and made his NFL coaching debut in 1982 as a member of Ron Meyer's staff. He coached the tight ends and special teams for the Patriots for seven seasons (1982-88) before moving on to Indianapolis with Meyer in 1989. He rejoined the Patriots in 1991 after spending two seasons (1989-90) as the Colts offensive line coach. From 1991 to 1992, he coached the tight ends and special teams on Dick MacPherson's staff. On Nov. 4, 1992, MacPherson fell ill and appointed Scarnecchia to serve as the team's spokesman in his absence. Scarnecchia fulfilled the obligation for seven of the Patriots' final eight games and held the responsibilities of the head coach for both of the Patriots victories that season.

In 1993, he was the only Patriots assistant retained from the previous staff. He was appointed special assistant from 1993-94, which was re-defined as defensive assistant from 1995-96. During that time, he assisted defensive coordinator Al Groh with the development of the team's linebacking corps.

His coaching career began in 1970 as the offensive line coach at California Western University. He moved to Iowa State in 1973, where he served as the assistant offensive line and assistant defensive backfield coach. He spent the 1975 and 1976 campaigns at Southern Methodist University, before becoming the University of Pacific's offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator from 1977 through 1978. In 1979, Scarnecchia coached at Northern Arizona and then accepted an opportunity to return to Meyer's staff at SMU as the offensive line coach in 1980 and 1981. In 1982, Meyer was hired as the head coach of the New England Patriots and Scarnecchia was among a number of the SMU assistants who joined Meyer's staff in New England.

PLAYING

Scarnecchia played offensive guard and center at California Western University from 1968-70. He began his collegiate career at Taft Junior College in 1966 before transferring to California Western.

PERSONAL

Dante Scarnecchia was born Feb. 15, 1948, in Los Angeles, Calif. He holds a master's degree in physical education from U.S. International. Dante and his wife, Susan, have a daughter, Lisa, and a son, Steve.

BRAD SEELY

SPECIAL TEAMS

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

29TH COACHING SEASON ★ 18TH NFL SEASON ★ 8TH PATRIOTS SEASON

COACHING

Brad Seely is a 29-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his 18th season in the NFL and his eighth year with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots as the special teams coach on Jan. 27, 1999 and has celebrated three Super Bowl championships as a member of Bill Belichick's staff.

Since Seely arrived in New England, the Patriots special teams have consistently contributed to the team's accomplishments, reflecting Coach Belichick's emphasis on special teams as a major factor in building a championship team. In the last five seasons, New England has earned four Pro Bowl berths from its special teams players and has won three Super Bowls by three points each.

Last season, New England averaged 44.6 yards per punt, a figure that ranked fourth in the NFL and tied the 1983 Patriots for the second best mark in franchise history. Punter Josh Miller's 45.1-yard average placed second in single-season franchise history, while his four touchbacks were the fewest among the NFL's top 10 punters.

In 2004, New England sent two special teams players to the Pro Bowl. The coverage units were represented in the NFL All-Star Game by specialist Larry Izzo, who earned his second trip to Hawaii in three years. Additionally, New England's field goal unit was the best in the league, as Adam Vinatieri went to the Pro Bowl after setting career highs with 141 points and a franchise-best 93.9 percent accuracy rate (31-33).

In 2003, New England's special teams units led the AFC in three categories. New England produced the AFC's leading kickoff returner for the second consecutive season, as rookie Bethel Johnson averaged 28.2 yards per return. New England's punt coverage unit led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL by allowing just 6.3 yards per punt return. The Patriots also led the AFC in field goal defense, forcing opponents to miss 10 kicks.

In 2002, the Patriots special teams units were among the best in the league and sent two representatives to the Pro Bowl, Vinatieri and Izzo. As a team, the Patriots led the league in both field goal percentage categories, converting 90 percent while holding their opponents to just 58.8 percent (20-of-34). Kevin Faulk led the AFC and ranked second in the league in kick returns with a 27.9-yard average.

Seely earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors in 1996 as an assistant with the Carolina Panthers, but may have had his most complete season in 2001, based on the rankings and performances of each of his special teams units. The Patriots coverage units ranked first in punt returns (allowing just 4.8 yards per return), first in gross punt average (allowing just 39.5 yards per punt) and first in net punt average (limiting opponents to 31.6 net yards per punt). Troy Brown led the league with a 14.2-yard average per punt return (second in franchise history).

Prior to joining the Patriots, Seely spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, where he helped groom an expansion team into a team that competed for the NFC Championship. In 1996 and 1997, Panthers kickoff returner Michael Bates became the first player in 35 years to lead the league in kick return average in consecutive seasons. He also earned two consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl for his efforts.

In 1996, not only did Seely help produce the NFL's best kick return specialist, but he also had the league's best kicker, as John Kasay set an NFL single-season record with 37 field goals. In addition to the success of Bates and Kasay, Carolina also boasted one of the league's top coverage units, ranking first or second in nearly every statistical category.

Seely began his coaching career in 1978 at South Dakota State. The following year, he accepted a graduate assistant position at Colorado State, where he was later hired as the offensive line coach in 1980. In 1981, he was named the assistant offensive line coach (assisting Dante Scarnecchia) on Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist. He helped coach a line that opened holes for SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. The next year, he coached at North Carolina State before coaching at Pacific in 1983. In 1984, he started a five-year stint as the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, which helped produce the likes of Thurman Thomas and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

He made the transition to the professional ranks in 1989 when he was named the special teams and tight ends coach of the Indianapolis Colts. During that five-year tenure, he assisted in the development of two Pro Bowl special teamers – punter Rohn Stark and return specialist Clarence Verdin.

PLAYING

Seely earned a degree in economics and physical education while earning all-conference honors as an offensive guard at South Dakota State.

PERSONAL

Brad Seely was born Sept. 6, 1956 in Vinton, Iowa. Brad and his wife, Patti, have three daughters, Sarah, Hannah and Brynn.

COACHING

Mike Woicik was named the Patriots strength and conditioning coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 16, 2000. The 29-year coaching veteran is now in his 17th season in the NFL and has initiated strength and conditioning programs that have contributed to the success of six Super Bowl Championship teams, three with the Patriots and three with the Dallas Cowboys. Woicik's six Super Bowl rings are more than any player or head coach in NFL history has earned. Woicik is a two-time winner of the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Society's Coach of the Year Award, earning the honor in 1992 and 2004.

Woicik's year-round conditioning program has proven to be a significant factor in the Patriots' success, as the team has remained fresh and saved its best football for the end of the season. Since 2001, New England has compiled a 46-9 (.836) record in games played after November 1, a record that exemplifies the solid conditioning approach employed by Woicik. Additionally, New England has been able to sustain lengthy winning streaks during Woicik's tenure, compiling an NFL-record 21-game winning streak from 2003-04 and also achieving a 12-game winning streak from 2001-02.

Woicik entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Dallas Cowboys in 1990 and was voted the NFL's "Strength Coach of the Year" in 1992. During his seven seasons (1990-96) with the Cowboys, the team totaled an 89-38 record, including 12 playoff victories and three Super Bowl championships.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he spent three seasons with the New Orleans Saints (1997-99) working under head coach Mike Ditka.

Woicik began his strength and conditioning training at Springfield College in 1978. He served as the track coach and weight room coordinator from 1978-80. In 1980, he was hired by Syracuse University, where he developed the strength and conditioning programs for the university for the next decade (1980-89).

Woicik is the author of the 1985 book "Total Conditioning for Football: The Syracuse Way".

PERSONAL

Mike Woicik was born in Baltimore, Md. and raised in Westwood, Mass. He graduated from Westwood (Mass.) High and starred on the track and football teams. He earned a bachelor's degree in history from Boston College and a master's degree in physical education from Springfield College. Woicik was an outstanding discus thrower at Boston College, setting a school record of 180 feet, 5 inches. He also earned All-East honors and qualified for the NCAA Championships while competing in the discus at Boston College. In addition to the discus, he also competed in the shot put and hammer throw.

THOMAS DIMITROFF

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE SCOUTING

SUPER BOWLS: 03 04

Thomas Dimitroff Jr. is in his 17th season in player personnel and his fifth year with the Patriots. After serving the 2002 season as the team's national scout, he was named the director of college scouting on June 11, 2003. He oversees a staff of area scouts responsible for evaluating all of the nation's eligible college prospects. As the team's national scout, he gathered reports on each of the nation's top college prospects and tracked the development and availability of recently drafted players.

He joined the Patriots after serving the previous nine seasons in the scouting departments of three different NFL teams. His first NFL personnel opportunity came in 1993 as a part-time scout for the Kansas City Chiefs. In 1994, he was given a full-time opportunity to serve as an area scout for the Detroit Lions, a position he held through 1997. Prior to joining the Patriots, he gained four seasons of experience working in the scouting department of the Cleveland Browns (1998-2001).

Prior to entering the NFL, Dimitroff spent three years scouting two other pro football leagues. He spent the 1990 and 1991 seasons in the Canadian Football League, followed by a sea-son in the World League in 1992. His season in the World League was spent scouting all NFL, CFL and World League rosters and tracking player transac-tions. He served two seasons in the CFL as the Ca-nadian scouting coordinator for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Thomas Dimitroff Jr. was born in Barberton, Ohio. He played football throughout college and captained his University of Guelph (Canada) football team from 1987-89. His father, Tom, was a long-time personnel scout for the Cleveland Browns and was a member of the original Boston Patriots in 1960. Thomas and his wife, Angeline, were married in 2005.

JAY MURACO

COLLEGE SCOUTING COORDINATOR

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Jay Muraco is enjoying his 11th season in the NFL, including his seventh season with the New England Patriots. He joined the Patriots personnel department in 2000 as the college scouting coordinator after four seasons in the scouting department of the Philadelphia Eagles. While attending Kent State, he interned with the San Diego Chargers personnel department during their 1992 training camp and then volunteered to work for the Cleveland Browns personnel department from 1992-95. He graduated from Kent State in 2000 with a degree in History.

BOB QUINN

REGIONAL SCOUT

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Bob Quinn enters his seventh season in the Patriots personnel department and is in his third season as a regional scout. Quinn joined the team in 2000 as a player personnel assistant and was promoted to pro scout in 2002, serving for two seasons in that position. Prior to joining the Patriots, Quinn spent two seasons as a graduate assistant within the Division of Athletics at the University of Connecticut (1998-99). Quinn earned his master's degree in sports management from the University of Connecticut in 2000. He completed his undergraduate studies at UConn in 1998. Quinn is a native of Norwood, Mass. and attended Norwood High School. Bob and his wife, Julie, were married in June, 2003. They celebrated the arrival of their son Kyle in August, 2005.

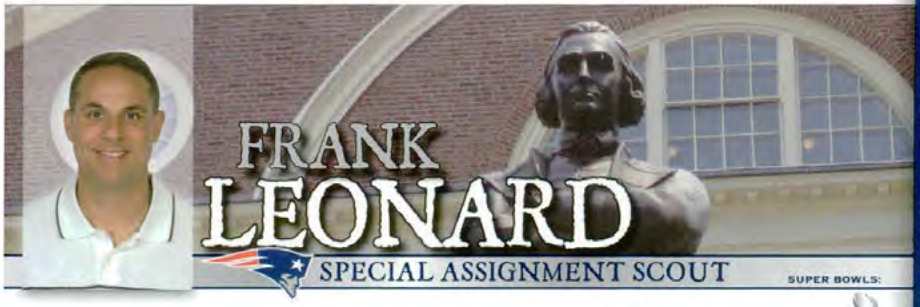

JONATHAN ROBINSON

SUPER BOWLS: 03 04

Jonathan Robinson is in his fifth season with the Patriots and is in his first year as a regional scout. He joined the organization in 2002 as an area scout after four seasons of coaching at the collegiate level, including his last three seasons at Nichols (La.) State. In 2001, he instructed the team's linebackers and held regional recruiting responsibilities for the Colonels. The Union City, Tenn. native attended high school at Union City and lettered as an offensive and defensive lineman. He attended Southeast Missouri State, where he played three seasons as a defensive lineman. Following his playing career, he earned his first coaching assignment with his alma mater in 1998, before joining the Nichols State staff in 1999. Jon and his wife, Jaimie, have a daughter, Taylor Brooke.

FRANK LEONARD

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT SCOUT

SUPER BOWLS: 04

Frank Leonard is in his third season as a special assignment scout for the Patriots. He joined the organization on Aug. 11, 2004 after gaining 23 seasons of experience in college football. Leonard spent 10 years at the University of Richmond, where he coached the offensive line (1994, 1997-2003), running backs (1995-96) and served as recruiting coordinator (2003-04). Prior to joining the Spiders, he coached at the University of Connecticut (1990-93), Western Connecticut (1982-85, 1987-90) and Central Connecticut State (1985-86).

Leonard is a graduate of Central Connecticut State, where he earned bachelor's and master's degrees and played football for three seasons. He was also a free safety for the semi-pro New England Crusaders in 1981. Leonard is a native of Wethersfield, Conn. and graduated from Wethersfield High School in 1976. Frank and his wife, Kathy, celebrated the birth of their daughter, Maria, in 2005.

BRIAN SMITH

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Brian Smith is in his first season handling special assignments for the Patriots and has served in a number of roles for the team since 2000. From 2004-05, Smith served as the Patriots' director of operations, handling the logistical coordination of the team's football operations, including team travel and training camp operations, as well as various day-to-day logistical needs of players and staff. He originally joined the Patriots in 2000, and assisted the coaching staff for four seasons from 2000 through 2003. The Marathon, Fla., native is a Providence College graduate and also attended Davidson (N.C.) College, where he played football. He is a graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., where he lettered in football.

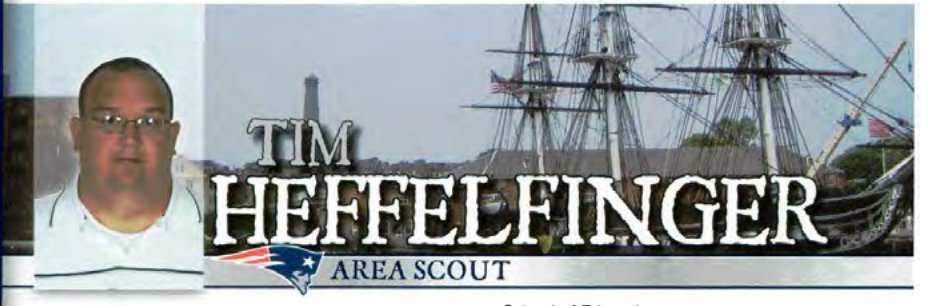

MARVIN ALLEN

AREA SCOUT

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Marvin Allen is enjoying his 14th season with the New England Patriots, including his 10th season in the player personnel department. As an area scout, he is responsible for the collection of data on all of the prospects in his assigned region. He returned to the Patriots organization on June 19, 1997 when he was hired as a regional college scout. Allen was originally drafted by the Patriots in the 11th round (294th overall) of the 1988 NFL Draft after averaging 5.1 yards per carry (73 rushes) as a senior running back at Tulane. In four seasons with the Patriots (1988-91), he rushed for 378 yards and two touchdowns on 94 carries (4.0 avg.). He also returned 43 kickoffs for 844 yards (19.6 avg). Allen was born Nov. 23, 1965 in Wichita Falls, Texas.

TIM HEFFELFINGER

AREA SCOUT

Tim Heffelfinger is enjoying his ninth season as an NFL scout and his second season as an area scout for the Patriots. He joined New England's personnel department prior to the 2005 season after a seven-year stint as an area scout for the New Orleans Saints (1998-2004). Heffelfinger entered the NFL scouting ranks in 1998 after spending two-and-a-half years as a graduate assistant coach at UCLA (1996-98), where he worked with the offensive line and the tight ends. He also earned a master's degree from the UCLA Graduate School of Education.

He was a defensive tackle at Northwestern University before his playing career was cut short by a career-ending back injury. He graduated from Northwestern in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in organizational studies and worked in the business sector as a sales representative for The Quaker Oats Company and Converse before returning to football. Tim and his wife, Amy, have two children, Kassidy and Ryan.

FRANTZY JOURDAIN

SUPER BOWLS: 03 04

Frantzy Jourdain enters his fourth season with the Patriots personnel department and his second year as an area scout. He is responsible for the collection of data on all of the prospects in his assigned region. He was originally hired by the team in 2003 as a player personnel assistant. Jourdain joined the Patriots after spending the 2002 season as the secondary coach and co-special teams coordinator at Duquense University, a season during which the Dukes led Division I-AA in interceptions, scoring defense and fewest total yards allowed per game. He attended the University of Rhode Island (1993-97), where he was a three-year starter for the Rams at running back and strong safety. He also attended North Carolina Central University, where he coached running backs and worked on a master's degree in criminology from 1998-2000.

She has been a part of each of the franchise's five Super Bowl appearances and has been with the organization for 13 of the team's 14 playoff seasons.

In her current role, Meier's responsibilities include coordinating logistics for all of the Patriots scouts, free agent signings, draft choices and tryouts. She also serves as the team's liaison to the league for all personnel communication, including the daily reporting of all transactions on the waiver wire. Nancy and her husband, Ken, have two children, Courtney and Daniel. The Meier family resides in Holbrook, Mass.

LARRY COOK

SCOUTING CONSULTANT

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Larry Cook is enjoying his 44th year in football, including his 22nd as a member of the Patriots personnel department. He is in his first season as a scouting consultant after a six-year stint as the director of college scouting followed by three seasons as a regional scout.

In two decades with the Patriots, he has been an important contributor to the team's scouting department and has celebrated each of the Patriots five Super Bowl appearances.

Cook originally joined the Patriots scouting department on Feb. 1, 1985, as a personnel scout on Dick Steinberg's staff. He began a 16-year coaching career in 1963 at Fountain Valley High School in California. In 1975, he joined the collegiate ranks when he accepted an assistant coaching position at Cal State Fullerton. After three years at Fullerton, he accepted his first professional assignment as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams scouting department. He spent six seasons (1979-84) with the Rams before joining the Patriots scouting department.

Cook was born Feb. 12, 1939 in Irvine, Calif. He and his wife, Nadine, have a daughter, Jacquelyn, and two sons, Michael and Steven.

BUCKO KILROY

SCOUTING CONSULTANT

SUPER BOWLS: 01 03 04

Francis "Bucko" Kilroy is celebrating his 64th season in the NFL and has been a member of each of the Patriots' five Super Bowl teams. During his NFL career, he has held nearly every position imaginable. He has been a player, coach, personnel director, general manager, vice president and now serves as a consultant in the Patriots scouting department.

Kilroy was originally hired by the Patriots in 1971 as their player personnel director and was responsible for selecting the team's first two Pro Football Hall of Fame inductees, guard John Hannah (1973) and cornerback Mike Haynes (1976). He is credited with building some of the best teams in franchise history with the drafting of such players as Julius Adams, Hannah, Sam Cunningham, Steve Nelson, Russ Francis and Steve Grogan during his first five years as personnel director (1971-75). During the next three years (1976-78), the Patriots compiled a 31-13 record (.705), including two playoff appearances.

Kilroy was promoted to general manager in 1979 and was responsible for directing the Patriots day-to-day business operations as well as handling all contract negotiations. On Feb. 16, 1983, he was promoted to vice president, a position he held until he retired following the 1993 season. Since then, he has provided assistance as a scouting consultant to the personnel department.

Kilroy is revered in scouting circles, having started many of the scouting services now used throughout the NFL. He was one of the originators of the National Football Scouting Combine, which has grown into one of the most important events on the NFL offseason calendar. He also developed and trained numerous personnel analysts who later became NFL scouting directors.

He began his playing career with the wartime "Steagles" in 1943 (the union of the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles during World War II). He logged 13 seasons with the Eagles, serving as a two-way guard and tackle. He played in 134 games during his playing career and showed his versatility by being selected as an All-Pro as both an offensive guard (1947-49) and a defensive middle guard (1952-54). He was also named to the NFL's all-decade team for the 1940s and is listed as one of the league's 300 greatest players. In 1948 and 1949, his Eagles team became the only squad to ever post back-to-back shutouts in championship games.

Following his playing career, he moved from the field to the sidelines as a coach and scout for the Eagles (1956-61). He was named director of player personnel for the Washington Redskins in 1962 and then moved to the Dallas Cowboys in 1966. While with the Cowboys (1966-70) he worked with Gil Brandt and Tom Landry. Together the trio helped the Cowboys win five divisional championships.

Kilroy was born May 30, 1921 in Philadelphia and resides in Foxborough, Mass.

SOLID DOWN THE STRETCH

Over the last five seasons, the Patriots have stepped things up a notch as the calendar has flipped to November. Since 2001, New England has done a remarkable job of finishing the season strong, compiling a 46-9 (.836) record after Nov. 1, including playoff games. In fact, since the 2003 season, the Patriots are 29-5 (.853) in games played in November or later, and New England has won 30 of its last 35 games post-Nov. 1. Their record in such games is the best in the NFL since 2001. Additionally, since 2001, the Patriots are 32-6 (.842) in games played after Thanksgiving Day.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Tom Brady was drafted by the New England Patriots in the sixth round (199th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Brady enters 2006 with a record of 68-21 (.764) in regular-season and playoff games. It is the best record of any NFL quarterback in the Super Bowl Era (since 1966) with at least 40 starts.
- Brady is the only quarterback in NFL history to start and win three Super Bowls before his 28th birthday, having quarterbacked the Patriots to victories in Super Bowl XXXVI when he was 24 years old, Super Bowl XXXVIII (26) and Super Bowl XXXIX (27).
- Brady is the fourth quarterback in NFL history to lead his team to three or more Super Bowl wins, joining Terry Bradshaw (4), Joe Montana (4) and Troy Aikman (3).
- Brady owns two Pete Rozelle Awards as Super Bowl MVP (XXXVI and XXXVIII). He is just the fourth player in Super Bowl history to earn multiple MVP awards, joining Joe Montana, Terry Bradshaw and Bart Starr, all three of whom are enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.
- Brady enters 2006 with a 22-3 record in games where the final margin was less than a touchdown, including a 5-0 playoff record and a 3-0 Super Bowl record in such games.
- Brady enters the 2006 season having started 89 consecutive regular-season and playoff games for the Patriots, good for the third-longest streak among active NFL quarterbacks (trailing only Brett Favre and Peyton Manning).
- Brady enters 2006 as the NFL's all-time leader in overtime wins without a defeat, recording a perfect 7-0 mark in overtime in his career. Terry Bradshaw is the only other quarterback to be undefeated in at least five overtime games, posting a 5-0 record.
- Brady enters 2006 as the Patriots' all-time leader in career completion percentage (61.9 percent) and passer rating (88.6).
- Brady has orchestrated 21 game-winning drives to break a tie or take the lead in the fourth quarter or overtime. Five of his game-winning efforts have come in the postseason, where he has played in 11 games.
- Brady has led a game-winning drive to break a tie or take the lead in the fourth quarter of each of the Patriots' three Super Bowl victories, becoming the only quarterback in NFL history to lead three such game-winning drives in the Super Bowl.
- Brady enters the 2006 season with a career record of 32-6 (.842) in games played on Thanksgiving or later in the NFL season, including a 10-1 playoff mark.
- Brady enters the 2006 season with a career record of 21-1 as a starter (.955) in games played in temperatures below 40 degrees. His only loss came in the 2005 regular-season finale against Miami, where he played only the first quarter of a 28-26 loss.
- Brady recorded seven passer ratings over 100.0 in 2005. He has recorded 33 ratings over 100.0 in his career, and the Patriots are 32-1 in those games.
- Brady tied an NFL record in 2005 by distributing his 26 touchdown passes to 12 different players. The only other NFL player to accomplish the feat was Brad Johnson in 2003.
- Brady set a career high in 2004 with a 92.6 passer rating, the second highest rating in Patriots history among players with at least 150 attempts (Tony Eason, 93.4 in 1984).
- In 2004, Brady averaged 7.79 yards per pass attempt – more than a full yard higher than his career mark of 6.62 yards per attempt heading into the 2004 season.
- Brady tied his career high and ranked second in the AFC with 28 touchdown passes in 2004.
- Brady owns the Super Bowl record for pass com-

EXTRA POINTS

★ When he was just four years old, Tom attended the 1981 NFC Championship Game with his father. He was in the stands at Candlestick Park when Joe Montana found Dwight Clark for "The Catch" that sent the 49ers to the Super Bowl.

★ In March 2006, Tom visited Israel with Patriots Chairman and CEO Robert Kraft and his wife Myra as part of a Combined Jewish Philanthropies leadership mission. While in Israel, Brady visited players from the American Football in Israel league, which plays its games at Kraft Family Stadium in Jerusalem.

★ Tom was named as one of Forbes Magazine's Top 100 Celebrities in 2006, placing 52nd on the list.

pletions in a game, connecting on 32 passes in Super Bowl XXXVIII.

- Brady won his first 10 playoff games, setting an NFL record for the most consecutive playoff wins.
- Brady was voted an offensive captain by his teammates in 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005.
- Brady completed a streak of throwing for at least one touchdown in 15 straight games, including playoffs (12/14/03 — 11/22/04), recording the longest such streak in Patriots history.
- Brady led the NFL with 28 touchdown passes in 2002 and became the first Patriot to lead the league in touchdown passes since Steve Grogan shared the lead with Cleveland's Brian Sipe (28) in 1979.
- Brady set a franchise single-game record by completing 84.6 percent of his passes (22-26) at Buffalo (11/03/02, min. 20 attempts).
- Brady threw at least two touchdown passes in each of the first five games of the 2002 season, the first Patriot to accomplish that feat and the first Patriot to throw for at least two touchdowns in five straight games in a single season since Butch Songin (10/23/60—11/18/60).
- Brady (24 years, 184 days old) was voted MVP of Super Bowl XXXVI and was the third-youngest player to earn the honor (Marcus Allen, 23 years and 301 days at Super Bowl XVIII and Lynn Swann, 23 years, 316 days at Super Bowl X).
- Brady was voted to the 2001 Pro Bowl and became just the second Patriots quarterback to receive the honor (Drew Bledsoe, 1994, 1996 and 1997). He also became just the fifth quarterback since 1970 to be voted to the Pro Bowl in his first year as a starter, joining Dan Marino (1983), Brett Favre (1992), Kurt Warner (1999) and Daunte Culpepper (2000).
- Brady threw for 53 yards on the Patriots' game-winning drive in Super Bowl XXXVI, completing five of his eight passes. Two of his pass attempts were spiked to kill the game clock. With just 1:21 remaining, he moved the Patriots into field goal position without the benefit of timeouts.
- Brady completed over 70 percent of his passes in four consecutive games during the 2001 season and joined an exclusive club of quarterbacks who accomplished the feat. He joined Joe Montana (8 games, 1989), Troy Aikman (4, 1995), Steve Young (4, 1993) and Sammy Baugh (4, 1945).
- Brady completed the first 162 passes of his career without an interception. It was the longest streak to start a career in NFL history and ranks third for most attempts without an interception in Patriots franchise history.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Deion Branch was drafted by the Patriots in the second round (65th overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft ... Signed with the Patriots (07/23/02).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Branch was awarded the Pete Rozelle Trophy as the Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XXXIX. His 11 receptions in the game tied the Super Bowl record, also achieved by Jerry Rice and Dan Ross.
- Branch has turned in his biggest performances on the greatest stage in sports, leading all receivers in Super Bowls XXXVIII and XXXIX. He recorded a combined 21 receptions in the two games and owns two of the top seven receiving performances in Super Bowl history. His career reception total in the Super Bowl ranks third all-time, trailing only Jerry Rice (33) and Andre Reed (27).
- In 2005, Branch led the Patriots with career highs in three categories: receptions (78), receiving yards (998) and receiving touchdowns (5).
- Branch's 998 receiving yards in 2005 were the most by a Patriots player since 2001, when Troy Brown recorded 1,199 receiving yards.
- Branch's 78 receptions in 2005 were the most by a Patriots player since 2002, when Troy Brown grabbed 97 passes.
- In the Patriots' 2005 divisional playoff game at Denver, Branch set a team playoff record with 153 receiving yards on eight catches. Branch also grabbed a 73-yard completion in the game, establishing the longest reception in Patriots playoff history.
- Branch was the NFL's leading receiver in the 2004 playoffs, pacing the league in receptions (16) and receiving yards (264). In addition to being named Super Bowl XXXIX MVP, he was selected as the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week following the AFC Championship Game (1/23/05), when he led all receivers with 116 yards, including a game-breaking 60-yard touchdown grab.
- Branch finished third on the team in the 2004 regular season with 35 receptions and 454 receiving yards despite playing in just nine regular-season games.
- Branch led the Patriots in 2003 with 57 receptions and 803 receiving yards, with both figures establishing career highs.
- Branch was the leading receiver in Super Bowl XXXVIII, grabbing 10 passes for 143 yards and a touchdown as the Patriots defeated the Carolina Panthers.
- Branch gained a first down on 70.2 percent of his catches in 2003 (40 first downs on 57 receptions). He was a particular threat on third down, finishing sixth in the AFC in third-down receiving (24 rec, 362 yds, 2 touchdowns).
- During his rookie season in 2002, Branch finished second among AFC rookies with 43 receptions and third with 489 yards receiving despite missing the final three games due to injury.
- Branch earned Rookie of the Month honors for September 2002 after recording 28 receptions for 309 yards and two touchdowns.
- Branch established a career high for receptions with 13 catches against the San Diego Chargers (09/29/02). It tied the second highest single-game reception total by a rookie wide receiver in NFL history. Wide receiver Don Looney established the mark of 14 catches on Dec. 1, 1940. It also tied the second-highest reception total by a Patriot, equaling the mark set by Terry Glenn on Oct. 3, 1999.
- Branch also led all AFC rookies and finished sixth among all AFC kickoff return men with a 24.0-yard average in 2002.

EXTRA POINTS

★ On the day of Super Bowl XXXIX, Deion called a dozen of his former football coaches to thank them for the support that they gave him throughout his high school, junior college and college careers. Hours after talking to his coaches, he tied the Super Bowl record with 11 receptions and was named MVP of the game.

★ Deion is one of just five wide receivers in NFL history to be named Super Bowl MVP, joining wideouts Jerry Rice, Lynn Swann, Fred Biletnikoff and Hines Ward.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Brown ranks second on the Patriots all-time receptions list with 514 career receptions and also places second on the franchise's receiving yardage list with 5,982 yards.
- Brown needs 21 more catches to pass Stanley Morgan and become the Patriots' all-time leading receiver. Morgan enters the 2006 season holding the team mark of 534 career receptions.
- On Nov. 27, 2005, Brown grabbed his 500th career reception in a game at Kansas City. Brown became just the second player in Patriots history to achieve the feat (Stanley Morgan).
- In 2004, Brown earned accolades for his play on defense, showing a level of versatility unmatched in recent NFL history. After injuries had taken a toll on the Patriots' secondary, he pitched in as the team's nickel back for the final nine games of the regular season and all three of the Patriots' postseason contests. He reprised his role on defense in the 2005 playoffs, recording four solo tackles in a wild card round victory over Jacksonville (1/7/06).
- The team's second all-time leading receiver finished second on the team with three interceptions in the 2004 regular season and matched his reception total with 17 tackles on defense.
- Brown became the only player in Patriots history to record a reception and an interception in the same game when he pulled the feat against Buffalo (11/14/04).
- Brown's 321 receptions from 2000-03 are the highest four-year total in Patriots history. Tight end Ben Coates ranks second with a four-year total of 308 (1994-97).
- Brown has been the longest-tenured Patriot since 2002 and was voted an offensive captain by his teammates in each of the past four seasons (2002-05).
- Brown is the Patriots all-time leading punt returner, topping the team's all-time lists in returns (244) and yardage (2,554), and tying for the franchise record with three punt returns for touchdowns.

EXTRA POINTS

★ The 2006 season marks Troy's 14th year with the Patriots. Only two players have achieved a longer tenure with the team: Steve Grogan (16 seasons) and Julius Adams (15 seasons). Bruce Armstrong and Steve Nelson also spent 14 seasons with the Patriots.

★ Troy is the only player in Patriots history to record a reception and an interception in the same game. He achieved the feat twice during the 2004 season.

★ Troy would like to pursue a career in coaching after his playing career. He got his feet wet by coaching his son Sir'mon's soccer team.

- Brown's 97 catches in 2002 were the second highest total in franchise history, four behind his record 101 catches in 2001.
- Brown became the first Patriot in club history to record three 80-catch seasons (97, 2002; 101, 2001; 83, 2000).
- Brown amassed a franchise-record 16 catches vs. Kansas City (9/22/02), which ranked as the most receptions in one game in the NFL in 2002. It also tied the fourth highest single game total in NFL history shared by Keenan McCardell (10/20/96), Jerry Rice (10/20/94) and Sonny Randle (11/4/62).
- Brown has amassed 13 career 100-yard receiving games during his 12-year career and is tied for second in Patriots history behind Stanley Morgan (39).
- Brown is the Patriots all-time leading return specialist with 4,416 combined return yards. He surpassed David Meggett's previous record of 3,999 yards in 2002.
- Brown became the franchise's all-time leading punt returner in 2002, surpassing Irving Fryar's career total of 2,055 yards. He also ranks eighth among the Patriots all-time leading kick returners (1,862 yards).
- Brown has played in 175 games during his 13-year Patriots career, the most of any active Patriot. He enters the 2006 season ranked seventh on the Patriots all-time games played list.
- Brown earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2001 season and became just the third Patriots wide receiver to be selected to the Pro Bowl since 1970 (Stanley Morgan, 4 and Terry Glenn, 1).
- Brown established a franchise record with 101 receptions during the 2001 season (96 - Ben Coates, 1994).

- Brown accumulated 1,199 receiving yards in 2001, the second highest total in franchise history (1,491-Stanley Morgan, 1986).
- Brown is the Patriots all-time leading receiver in the postseason with 49 catches in 17 playoff games. His 597 career receiving yards in the playoffs rank second in franchise history (Deion Branch, 629).
- Brown returned two punts for touchdowns in 2001 (85 yards vs. Cleveland, 12/9 and 68 yards at Carolina, 1/6) and was the only player to accomplish the feat in the NFL in 2001. He became just the third Patriot to have two punt returns for touchdowns in a single season (Irving Fryar and Mike Haynes).
- Brown recorded a 55-yard punt return for a score against Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship game (01/27/02). It was the first special teams return for a score in the playoffs in franchise history and was the first punt return for a score in AFC Championship game history.
- Brown's 14.2-yard punt return average in 2001 was the second-highest in franchise history, behind Mack Herron's 14.8-yard average in 1974.
- Brown caught 83 passes and accumulated 944 receiving yards during the 2000 season. His 83 receptions were the seventh-highest single-season total in franchise history.
- Brown earned the Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Year honor in 2000 after being voted the Player of the Game five times.
- Brown tied the Patriots fourth-highest single-game reception total with 12 catches against Kansas City (12/04/00).
- Brown led the team with four 100-yard receiving games during the 2000 season.
- Brown returned a punt 66 yards for a touchdown vs. Tampa Bay (09/03/00). It was his first punt return for touchdown in his career and the first punt return for a touchdown by the Patriots since Dec. 21, 1996, when David Meggett ran 60 yards for a score against the Giants.
- In 1997, Brown started six games at wide receiver for an injured Terry Glenn and finished the year ranked third on the team with 41 receptions for 607 yards. His six touchdown receptions ranked second on the team.
- Earned Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game honors at the N.Y. Jets (10/19/97) when he recorded a then career-high 125 yards and a touchdown on just five receptions (112 of those yards came on three third quarter receptions). On a 67-yard reception, he shook off three would-be tacklers and was highlighted on ESPN for the "Hardest Working Play of the Week."
- Earned Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game honors vs. Chicago (09/21/97) when he led the team with six receptions for 124 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown.
- In the 1996 season finale against the Giants (12/21/96) he made one of the most acrobatic receptions of the season when he snared a 13-yard pass from Drew Bledsoe on third-and-13, extending a drive which led to the game-winning touchdown in a 23-22 come-from-behind victory.
- Scored his first career touchdown on one of the most unusual plays of the 1995 season when he picked up a David Meggett fumble on a kick return vs. the New York Jets (12/10) and raced down the sideline for a 75-yard touchdown.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Tedy Bruschi was drafted by the Patriots in the third round (86th overall) of the 1996 NFL Draft ... The selection was obtained from Detroit along with a 1996 fourth-(Chris Sullivan) and sixth-round (Marrio Grier) selection in exchange for New England's 1996 third-round selection (76th overall, Ryan Stewart).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Bruschi has averaged 95 tackles over the last five seasons. His 2001-05 total of 475 stops are the most on the team over that span, during which the Patriots won three Super Bowls.
- Since 2002, Bruschi's nose for the ball has created seven defensive touchdowns. He scored four of those touchdowns on interception returns (two in both 2002 and 2003), forced two fumbles that were picked up and returned for scores (10/03/04 and 11/28/04), and tipped a pass that was grabbed by James Sanders and returned for a touchdown (12/11/05).
- In December, 2005, Bruschi was a key part of a run-stuffing unit that allowed an average of just 31.3 rushing yards per game during the month as the Patriots won all four contests to claim the 2005 AFC East title.
- Bruschi helped to anchor a Patriots defense that set a franchise record by allowing a total of just 10 points over a three-game span from 12/04/05 to 12/17/05.
- In his first game after suffering a stroke that sidelined him for the first six games of the 2005 season, Bruschi earned AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors following a 10-tackle performance against Buffalo (10/30/05).
- Bruschi earned his first Pro Bowl nod in 2004 after a season in which he co-captained a Patriots defense that allowed 16.25 points per game, the second fewest in the NFL and the third fewest in franchise history. As a team captain, Bruschi's relentless work ethic and on-field intensity have helped to set the tone for the entire team.
- Bruschi is the only player in NFL history to return four consecutive interceptions for touchdowns and his career total of four picks returned for scores ranks second in Patriots history. He is tied for fourth in NFL history among linebackers, and Bruschi is the only Patriots linebacker to return multiple interceptions for scores in a single season (2002 and 2003).
- Bruschi's 11 career interceptions rank fourth all-time among Patriots linebackers. Ten of his 11 regular-season picks have come in the last five seasons. Bruschi also has two postseason interceptions to his credit, including one in the fourth quarter of Super Bowl XXXIX.
- Bruschi, the NCAA's all-time sack leader, has provided 27.0 sacks in nine seasons as a Patriot. The Patriots are 22-2 in the 24 regular season games in which Bruschi has recorded at least one sack.
- In the 2004 regular season, Bruschi finished second on the team with 128 tackles (84 solo) and tied for second on the team with three interceptions. His solid play continued in the playoffs, where he finished second on the squad with 23 tackles (18 solo) and added a sack, an interception, a forced fumble and two fumble recoveries.
- Bruschi was named the AFC Defensive Player of the Week three times in 2004. He earned the honor twice in the regular season (Weeks 4 and 17) and also won it following a 20-3 win over Indianapolis in the Divisional Playoffs, when he forced a fumble and recovered two fumbles as the Patriots defense held the highly-regarded Colts offense to just three points.
- Bruschi recorded a single-game career high 16 tackles (8 solo) against the Pittsburgh Steelers (10/31/04).
- Bruschi ranked second on the team with 137 tackles (87 solo) in 2003, just three shy of Rodney Harrison's team-leading 140 stops. His 137 tackles were just one short of his career high, set in 1999.
- In 2003, Bruschi was a captain of a Patriots defense that became the first defensive unit in 65

EXTRA POINTS

★ In 2005, Tedy established "Tedy's Team," a vehicle to help battle stroke, the number one cause of disability in the United States. After Tedy suffered a stroke in February 2005, he dedicated himself to raising funds and awareness to fight stroke along with the American Stroke Association. Members of "Tedy's Team" ran in the 2006 Boston Marathon and raised $100,000 for stroke research.

★ The Sacramento Bee ranked Tedy number one on its list of the 100 best Sacramento area high school football players of all time.

★ Tedy tied Derrick Thomas' all-time NCAA Division 1-A record with 52 career quarterback sacks while leading Arizona's "Desert Swarm" defense.

years not to allow a touchdown in four consecutive home games in one season. The last team to accomplish the feat was the 1938 New York Giants.

- Bruschi was named the AFC Defensive Player of the Week twice in 2003, following his contributions to Patriots victories in Week Two at Philadelphia and in the AFC East-clinching victory over Miami in Week 14.
- Bruschi tied a career-high and ranked third on the team with 4.5 sacks in 2002.
- Bruschi started nine of 15 games in 2001 and finished third on the team with 73 tackles.
- Bruschi recorded 15 tackles (13 solo), including 1.5 sacks during the 2001 postseason.
- Bruschi started all 16 games at linebacker in 2000 and finished the season with 105 tackles (68 solos). It was his second consecutive season with more than 100 tackles (138 in 1999).
- Bruschi started 14 games in 1999 and finished second on the team with 138 total tackles, including two sacks.
- Bruschi earned the starting outside linebacker responsibilities at mid-season in 1998 and finished fourth on the team with 81 tackles.
- Bruschi recorded two sacks in Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bay, just one shy of the Super Bowl record (Reggie White, 3.0, Super Bowl XXXI).
- Bruschi scored his first career touchdown (at any level of competition) at Baltimore (10/06/96) when he picked up a loose ball after a Larry Whigham blocked punt and returned it four yards for a score.
- Bruschi recorded a single-game career high with a pair of sacks and also forced his first career fumble at Baltimore (10/06/96).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Reche Caldwell was signed by the Patriots as an unrestricted free agent on March 17, 2006 ... Originally selected by the San Diego Chargers in the second round (48th overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft ... Placed on injured reserve (10/19/04).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Caldwell has played in 47 career games with 14 starts and has caught 76 passes for 950 yards and seven touchdowns. He has recorded seven career catches of 30 yards or longer.
- In 2005 with the Chargers, Caldwell established career highs with 28 receptions and 352 yards while playing in all 16 games with two starts.
- In 2004, he started the first six games of the year and led all San Diego wide receivers with 18 receptions for 310 yards and three touchdowns over that span before suffering a season-ending injury (10/17/04).

- Caldwell had turned in the most productive game of his career against Tennessee (10/3/04), totaling 110 yards on three catches, including a career-long 58-yard touchdown reception.
- As a rookie in 2002, Caldwell played in every game and earned two starts while recording 22 receptions for 208 yards and three touchdowns, including a game-winning grab in the final minute of a game against Kansas City.
- Caldwell showcased his versatility as a rookie by also returning nine kickoffs for 220 yards, completing a 20-yard pass and recording a pair of special teams tackles.
- Caldwell's first career touchdown catch was a memorable one, as he grabbed a 14-yard scoring pass with 14 seconds left in the game to give San Diego a 35-34 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs (10/13/02).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Rosevelt Colvin was signed by the Patriots as an unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2003 ... He was originally drafted by the Chicago Bears in the fourth round (111th overall) of the 1999 NFL Draft ... Signed by the Bears (07/21/99) ... Placed on injured reserve (09/22/03).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Colvin has amassed 327 career tackles, including 40 sacks, 10 forced fumbles and six fumble recoveries while starting in 50 of 90 games.
- Colvin led the Patriots with 7.0 sacks in 2005 and ranked fourth on the squad with 73 tackles (49 solo).
- Colvin's 74 tackles in 2005 were the second highest total of his career, trailing only his 80 stops in 2001.
- Colvin was part of a Patriots defense that allowed a franchise-record 10 total points over a three game span late in the 2005 season (12/04/05 to 12/17/05).
- Colvin rebounded from injury to record 5.0 sacks in 2004 while appearing in every game for the Patriots. He capped his season by getting a starting nod in Super Bowl XXXIX and came up with a big play when he stopped Brian Westbrook for a 6-yard loss in the fourth quarter.
- Colvin led the Bears with 10.5 sacks in both 2001 and 2002 and became the first Bears player to record back-to-back double-digit sack seasons since defensive end Richard Dent accomplished the feat in 1990 (12.0) and 1991 (10.5). He also became the only linebacker in Bears history to accomplish the feat.
- Colvin was the first Bears linebacker in 16 years to record double-digit sacks in a single season (Otis Wilson, 1985) with his career-high 10.5 sacks in 2001.
- Established a Bears record with a sack in eight consecutive regular season games (12/23/01-10/07/02).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Corey Dillon was acquired by the Patriots in a trade with the Cincinnati Bengals in exchange for a 2004 second-round draft pick (56th overall – Madieu Williams) on April 19, 2004 ... Originally selected by Cincinnati in the second round (46th overall) of the 1997 NFL Draft ... Signed a contract extension with Cincinnati (05/11/01).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Dillon enters 2006 having gained a total of 10,429 yards in his first nine NFL seasons. His yardage total ranks 17th in NFL history entering the 2006 season.
- Over his nine-year career, Dillon has averaged 1,158 yards per season, a mark that ranks ninth in NFL history among players who have played in at least 100 career games.
- Dillon has scored a total of 26 touchdowns for the Patriots over the last two seasons (24 rushing, two receiving). His 26 scores are the second highest two-year total in Patriots history, trailing only Curtis Martin's 32 total touchdowns from 1995-96.
- Dillon's 13 touchdowns in 2005 tied his career high (also achieved in 2004), and are tied for third on the Patriots' all-time single season list.
- Entering 2006, Dillon had scored 26 touchdowns in 27 regular-season games with the Patriots.
- Dillon set the Patriots' all-time single-season rushing record in 2004, totaling 1,635 yards. He claimed the team's rushing crown on Dec. 26, 2004 when he eclipsed Curtis Martin's old franchise mark of 1,487 yards, set in 1995. Additionally, Dillon's nine 100-yard performances tied the franchise mark also set by Martin in 1995.
- Dillon led the NFL in 2004 with an average of 109.0 yards per game in which he appeared. Dillon's per-game average was 2.9 yards higher than the Jets' Curtis Martin, who ranked second with 106.1 yards per game. Dillon played in 15 games and gained 1,635 yards, achieving a total yardage figure that trailed Martin's NFL-leading total (1,697 yards in 16 games) by just 62 yards.
- In 2004, Dillon set career highs in rushing yards (1,635), 100-yard games (9) and rushing touchdowns (12), achieving both marks despite missing a game due to injury.
- In 2004, Dillon recorded the first 1,600-yard season in the 45-year history of the Patriots franchise, totaling 1,635 yards. Prior to 2004, no Patriot had exceeded the 1,500-yard mark, and just two times in team history had a running back broke the 1,300-yard barrier.
- From 2000-02, Dillon recorded what were then the top three rushing seasons in Bengals history, averaging over 1,350 yards per season. He recorded 1,435 yards in 2000, and then went on to chalk up 1,315 yards in 2001 and 1,311 yards in 2002. Those three seasons currently rank second, third and fourth on the Bengals rushing list.
- Dillon came to own or share 18 Bengals records in his seven-year career with Cincinnati. Of those 18 records, 16 of them still stand, including career rushing yards (8,061), rushing yards in a game (278, second in NFL history), career yards from scrimmage (9,543), longest play from scrimmage (96-yard run), most rushing touchdowns in a game (4) and most 1,000-yard seasons (6).
- Dillon has posted two of the top nine single-game rushing performances in NFL history (287 yards and 246 yards). He is one of just two NFL players to run for more than 245 yards twice in his career (O.J. Simpson).
- Dillon owns the NFL's second best single-game rushing effort, gaining 287 yards on 22 carries for Cincinnati in a game against the Denver Broncos on Oct. 22, 2000. The accomplishment stood as the NFL's rushing record for nearly three years, until Baltimore's Jamal Lewis ran for 295 yards on Sept. 14, 2003.
- Dillon has exceeded the 100-yard rushing plateau 37 times in his career, including a career-best nine times in 2004. He has run for more than 200 yards on three occasions.
- In 2002, Dillon gained 1,311 yards on 314 carries, notching his third consecutive season with over 1,300 yards rushing. He started every game for the third consecutive season and established a career high with 43 receptions for 298 yards. His 1,609 total yards from scrimmage set another career high.
- Dillon scored a career-high 13 touchdowns in 2001 (10 rushing, 3 receiving), a mark he later equaled in 2004 (12 rushing, 1 receiving).

EXTRA POINTS

★ Corey has averaged 1,158 yards per season over his first nine seasons. Entering the 2006 season, his average ranks ninth in NFL history among players who have played in at least 100 games.

★ Corey was drafted in the 34th round of the 1993 Major League Baseball free agent draft by the San Diego Padres as an outfielder.

★ Corey spent the first seven years of his career in Cincinnati and in that time came to own or share 18 different Bengals records.

- Dillon tore off a 96-yard touchdown run at Detroit (10/28/01), a play that stands as the longest play from scrimmage in Bengals history and is tied for the fifth-longest running play in NFL history.
- In 2000, Dillon started every game for the Bengals and tallied a career-high and then-Bengals franchise record 1,435 rushing yards on 315 carries (4.6 avg), averaging 104.1 yards per game in the season's final 13 games.
- Dillon finished the 1999 season with 1,490 yards from scrimmage, the most by a Bengal in 10 years. His performance earned him the first of three consecutive Pro Bowl nods.
- As a rookie, Dillon set a Bengals single-game rushing record in his fifth game as a starter when he exploded for 246 yards and four touchdowns on 39 carries (6.3-yard average) against Tennessee (12/4/97).

THE RECORD-BREAKER

Dillon's 278 rushing yards on Oct. 22, 2000 vs. Denver are the NFL's second most ever in a game. At the time, the performance surpassed Walter Payton's single-game mark of 275, which had stood for nearly 23 years (11/20/77). Dillon has two of the top nine rushing games in NFL history, as his 246-yard effort as a rookie in 1997 against Tennessee ranks ninth all-time.

(7). Miami (10/1): Topped his output for the first three games combined, rushing for 110 yards on 22 carries. Tennessee (10/8): Had an 80-yard touchdown run, tied for longest run by an AFC player in 2000 ... Recorded 95 yards on 15 carries. Denver (10/22): Set a then-NFL record with 278 rushing yards ... Amassed his total on just 22 carries, averaging 12.6 yards per carry. Broke Walter Payton's 23-year-old record of 275 yards (on 40 carries), set on Nov. 20, 1977 ... Ran for 201 yards in the second half, including touchdown runs of 65 and 41 yards in the fourth quarter ... Had seven runs of longer than 20 yards, including his two touchdown runs and also runs of 21, 26, 30, 31 and 37 yards ... Payton had 40 carries in his 275-yard game, and Dillon's number of carries stands as the fewest by any player in the top 10 rushing games in NFL history ... Scored touchdowns in the fourth quarter on runs of 65 and 41 yards ... The 41-yarder was his final carry of the day, pushing him over Payton's record yardage total. Cleveland (10/29): Followed his record-breaker vs. Denver with a 137-yard rushing effort, and his 415 rushing yards over the two games were third-most in NFL history in consecutive games. Pittsburgh (11/26): Rushed 23 times for 128 yards with two touchdowns. Arizona (12/3): Topped the 200-yard mark for the second time in 2000 and for the third time in his career with a 216-yard effort on 35 carries against the Cardinals ... Dillon's performance marked the most rushing yards ever allowed by the Cardinals in their 83-year franchise history ... Accomplished the feat with consistent running, with just one of his 35 attempts going for longer than 11 yards (57 yards on his first run of the game) ... Passed James Brooks' team record of 1,239 rushing yards in a season during third quarter. Jacksonville (12/17): Averaged 4.5 yards per carry in a 76-yard effort on 17 tries.

■ 1999 (15/15 – Cincinnati): Gained 1,200 rushing yards, good for the second-most in Bengals history to that point ... Earned his first Pro Bowl nod, becoming the first Bengals running back voted to the Pro Bowl since Harold Green in 1992 ... His 4.6 yards per attempt was the highest average among the top 10 rushers in the AFC by nearly a half-yard, with next-highest at 4.2 yards per carry ... Started in Games 1-15 and was inactive for the season finale at Jacksonville ... His 1,490 yards from scrimmage (1,200 rushing, 290 receiving) was the Bengals' most since 1989. Tennessee (9/12): Scored Bengals' first touchdown of the season on a 1-yard run in first quarter. Carolina (9/26): Notched the first of five 100-yard efforts on the season, gaining 113 yards on 20 carries (5.7 avg). Cleveland (10/10): Recorded his second-most productive ground performance of the season, gaining 168 yards on 28 carries ... His 6.0 yards-per-carry figure was his second best average of the season. Pittsburgh (11/28): Rushed for 120 yards on 23 carries (5.2 avg) and earned one of two coaches' offensive game balls. San Francisco (12/5): Had 210 scrimmage yards, rushing 25 times for 133 yards and adding career-high 77 receiving yards on five catches. Cleveland (12/12): Recorded his most productive output of the season, gaining a season-high 192 yards on 28 carries ... His 6.9-yard average set a career-high for games in which he has had more than 25 rushing attempts.

■ 1998 (15/15 – Cincinnati): Ran for 1,130 yards, exceeding by one his rookie season total ... Had four 100-yard rushing games for the second straight season, with his strongest effort coming in the form of 124 yards on 14 carries (10/18 at Tennessee) ... Started Games 1-14 and 16 ... On weekly inactive list for Game 15, Dec. 20 at Pittsburgh, due to injury. Baltimore (9/27): Recorded his first 100-yard effort of the season, gaining 116 yards on 25 carries. Tennessee (10/18): Notched a season-long run of 66 yards in the third quarter and also scored on 12-yard run in the same quarter ... Notched a season-high 124 yards on just 14 carries, good for an average of 8.9 yards per carry. Oakland (10/25): Had his first career touchdown reception, scoring on a 17-yard toss from quarterback Neil O'Donnell. Denver (11/1): Had his third 100-yard game of the season, notching 110 yards ... Ran the ball 35 times, tying a career-high. Jacksonville (11/29): Broke the 100-yard barriers for the fourth and final time on the season, gaining 107 yards on 16 carries. Tampa Bay (12/27): Had a career-long 41-yard reception from quarterback Paul Justin.

■ 1997 (16/7 – Cincinnati): Became a starter in Game 10 and had only 196 rushing yards at season's halfway point, but rushed for 933 yards in the season's final eight games ... His season total of 1,129 yards broke the Bengals rookie record of 1,066 yards, set by Ickey Woods in 1988 ... The highlight game of his rookie season came on Dec. 4 vs. Tennessee, as he rushed for 246 yards on 39 carries, breaking the NFL rookie record of 237 yards set by Cleveland's Jim Brown against the L.A. Rams in 1957. (Dillon's rookie mark was broken in 2000 when Denver rookie Mike Anderson rushed for 251 vs. New Orleans.) ... Named 1997 AFC Rookie of the Year in peer voting conducted by the NFL Players Association ... Was the only NFL rookie to top the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the season ... Led Bengals running backs in receiving yards (259) ... Finished sixth in rushing in AFC, but his per-carry average of 4.85 yards was higher than the five players who had more total yards ... Rushed for 100 or more yards three weeks in a row (Games 13-15), becoming the first Bengal to record three straight 100-yard games since Pete Johnson in the 1980 season ... Scored 10 of Cincinnati's NFL-leading 23 rushing touchdowns, the most rushing scores by one player since Ickey Woods established the team-record with 15 scores in 1988 ... Awarded an offensive game ball by coaches on two occasions; for his record-breaking performance vs. Tennessee and for his 123-yard rushing game (11/2 vs. San Diego), his first 100-yarder as a pro ... His longest touchdown run was 71 yards (11/2 vs. San Diego) ... Used as a kickoff returner early in the season, averaging 30.3 yards on six returns.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Kevin Faulk was selected by the Patriots in the second round of the 1999 NFL Draft (46th overall) ... The pick was acquired in a trade with the Tennessee Titans in exchange for the Patriots second-round pick (52nd overall – John Thornton) and fourth-round pick (117th overall – Donald Mitchell) ... Signed a five-year contract with the Patriots (7/28/99) ... Placed on injured reserve with an ankle injury (12/19/99).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Faulk enters the 2006 season as the Patriots' all-time kickoff return leader with 154 returns for 3,507 yards and two touchdowns. He became the all-time leader on Oct. 13, 2002, surpassing David Meggett's career total of 2,561 yards.
- Faulk ranks second all-time in receptions among Patriots running backs, entering the 2006 season with 233 career catches. Faulk, who has averaged 33 receptions per season since joining the Patriots in 1999, needs 29 catches in 2006 to pass Tony Collins (260) and become the Patriots' leader in receptions by a running back.
- Faulk has recorded at least 40 rushes and 25 receptions in each of the last six seasons (2000-05).
- Over his seven-year career (1999-2005), Faulk has recorded 233 career receptions, ranking second on the team over that span (Troy Brown, 413).

EXTRA POINTS

★ In September 2005, Kevin organized two trips for Patriots players to visit families displaced by Hurricane Katrina at Otis Air National Guard Base on Cape Cod. Kevin, a Louisiana native, spent several hours with the evacuees and delivered clothing items to the families.

★ Kevin returned to the city where he was born as the king of Mardi Gras in Lafayette, La. in 2004.

★ Kevin resisted the temptation of turning pro following his junior season at LSU, and stayed in school to earn his degree in Kinesiology in just three and a half years

- Faulk led the Patriots with a career high 20 punt returns in 2004, gaining a total of 133 yards.
- In the 2004 playoffs, Faulk participated in all three games and recorded 133 rushing yards on 22 carries (5.2 avg).
- Faulk registered his 200th career reception in the Patriots' 29-6 victory over Buffalo (11/14/04).
- Faulk led the Patriots with a career-high 1,078 yards from scrimmage in 2003. He finished second on the team in both carries (178) and receptions (48), gaining a career-high 638 yards on the ground and catching 440 yards worth of passes.

- Faulk finished second in the NFL in 2002 with a career-high 27.9-yard kickoff return average in 2002 (26 att. - 725 yds).
- Faulk returned two kickoffs for touchdowns in 2002 (86 yds at Oakland 11/17 and 87 yds vs. N.Y. Jets 12/22) and became just the second Patriot to return multiple kickoffs for touchdowns in one season, joining Raymond Clayborn, who returned three in 1977.
- Faulk was the first player in Patriots history and the only NFL player in 2002 to score multiple touchdowns rushing (2), receiving (3) and via kickoff return (2).
- Faulk has two 100-yard receiving games to his credit, one each in 2002 and 2003. He amassed a career-high 109 receiving yards on seven catches at Chicago (11/10/02), becoming the first Patriots running back to eclipse the 100-yard receiving mark since Tony Collins gained 109 yards on six catches at Tampa Bay (10/27/85). In 2003, Faulk came within a whisker of his career-high with an eight-catch, 108-yard effort at Houston (11/23/03).
- Completed his first career pass attempt when he took a direct snap from center and found quarterback Tom Brady for a 23-yard gain vs. Miami (12/22/01).
- Faulk set a career high with 11 catches vs. Tampa Bay (9/3/00).
- Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors after contributing in nearly every facet of the game vs. Minnesota (9/17/00), gaining 80 yards rushing, 31 yards receiving, 56 kickoff return yards and 22 punt return yards for 189 all-purpose yards.
- Set a career-high with a 95-yard kickoff return vs. N.Y. Jets (11/15/99). It was the eighth longest return – and the longest non-scoring return – in franchise history.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Rodney Harrison was signed by the New England Patriots as a veteran free agent on March 12, 2003 ... Originally drafted by the San Diego Chargers in the fifth round (145th overall) of the 1994 NFL Draft ... Signed by the Chargers (6/29/94) ... Released by the Chargers (2/27/03) ... Placed on injured reserve (9/27/05).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Harrison is the NFL's all-time leader in sacks by a defensive back, having recorded 27.5 sacks in his 12 seasons heading into 2006.
- Harrison is the only player in NFL history to record at least 25 sacks and at least 30 interceptions in his career. Harrison enters the 2006 season with 27.5 sacks and 31 interceptions in his regular-season career.
- Over the last 11 seasons (1995-2005), Harrison has recorded more solo tackles than any other defensive back in the NFL, according to press box statisticians. His 793 solo tackles over that span are 25 more than the next highest total (Robert Griffith, 768).
- Harrison has come up big on the biggest stage, with six interceptions in his last six playoff games, including two in Super Bowl XXXIX. His four picks in the 2004 playoffs tied for the third most in a single postseason since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. Additionally, his six career playoff interceptions are tied for the fourth most since the merger.
- In his first two seasons in New England, Harrison was not only the Patriots' leading tackler each year, but also led all NFL defensive backs in tackles in both seasons. He set a career high with 140 tackles in 2003, and then followed that with a 138-tackle performance in 2004.
- Harrison was voted as a defensive captain by his teammates in each of his first three seasons in New England (2003-05).
- Harrison was the Patriots' leading tackler in both the 2003 and 2004 postseasons while also recording a total of two sacks, six interceptions, seven passes defensed and two forced fumbles in the six games leading to New England's back-to-back world championships.
- Harrison recorded a career-high 20 tackles (12 solo) at Pittsburgh on Oct. 31, 2004. He posted double-digit tackle totals in a team-high seven games in 2004, including an 11-tackle performance in the divisional playoffs against Indianapolis (1/16/05).
- Harrison has shown a knack for coming up with interceptions at crucial times. In the 2004 regular season and playoffs, five of his six interceptions came inside the opponents' 20-yard line, with four of those picks coming inside the 4-yard line and two of them coming in the end zone. His only 2004 pick that did not come inside the 20-yard line was his interception in the fourth quarter of Super Bowl XXXIX, a pick that ended Philadelphia's last-gasp drive and clinched the Patriots' world title.
- As an all-around contributor, Harrison recorded 12 special teams tackles in 2004, his highest total since notching 20 special teams stops as a rookie in 1994.
- Harrison posted double-digit tackle totals in six games in 2003, including a season-high 14 tackles (11 solo) against Tennessee (10/5/03) and a 10-tackle effort (7 solo) in the AFC Championship Game against Indianapolis (1/18/04).
- In 2003, Harrison was part of a Patriots defense that led the NFL in four key categories: opponents' points per game (14.9), opponents' passer rating (56.2), interceptions (29) and passing touchdowns surrendered (11).
- Harrison was selected to the Associated Press All-Pro first team in 2003 and earned AP second-team honors in 2004.
- Harrison was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1998 and 2001.
- Harrison has eclipsed the 100-tackle mark seven times during his career, including a career-high 140 tackles (105 solo) in 2003.
- Harrison amassed a career high six sacks during the 2000 season. His six sacks led all NFL defensive backs and ranked second on the team.

EXTRA POINTS

- ★ In March 2006, Rodney's jersey was retired by his high school alma mater, Marian Catholic High School in Markham, Ill. Rodney returned to the school for the ceremony and to catch up with his former teachers.
- ★ Rodney loves to play golf in his spare time. At the 2006 Patriots Charitable Foundation Golf Tournament, he won the longest drive competition with a 302-yard shot.
- ★ Rodney participated in an officiating internship at NFL Europe's training camp in Tampa, Fla., in March, 2005. He donned the stripes to learn more about the responsibilities of an NFL referee in anticipation of a potential post-football career.

- Harrison established a career high with six interceptions in 2000 for 97 yards, including a 63-yard touchdown.
- Harrison was selected as the Chargers defensive player of the year four times, as voted by his teammates (1996-97, 2000-01).
- Harrison was chosen among the franchise's all-time greats when he was selected to the Chargers 40th Anniversary All-Time Team during the 2000 season.
- Harrison made NFL history in 1997 when he became the first player to score touchdowns on a fumble return, interception return and kickoff return in the same season.
- Harrison led the Chargers with 20 special teams tackles as a rookie in 1994.

SUSTAINING SUCCESS

The Patriots finished the 2005 regular season with a 10-6 record and are the only team in the NFL to have recorded nine or more wins in each of the last five seasons. The Patriots have won four AFC East titles in the last five seasons and in 2005 qualified for the playoffs for the third consecutive year, setting a franchise record with a third consecutive division title.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Artrell Hawkins was signed by the Patriots as a veteran free agent on Nov. 16, 2005 ... Originally selected in the second round (43rd overall) of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals ... Released by the Bengals (3/5/04) ... Signed by the Carolina Panthers (3/10/04) ... Released by the Panthers (3/1/05) ... Signed by the Washington Redskins (6/23/05) ... Released by the Redskins (8/27/05).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Hawkins has appeared in 108 career games with 80 starts and has recorded 420 tackles (373 solo), 10 interceptions for 166 yards and a touchdown, 67 passes defensed, 11 forced fumbles and six fumble recoveries.
- Hawkins was signed by the Patriots on Nov. 16, 2005, and transitioned from cornerback to safety to help a secondary that had suffered numerous injuries. He started four of the five games he appeared in and posted 16 tackles, including a season-high seven stops and a sack in a start against Tampa Bay (12/17/05). He also started both playoff games at safety.
- In 2004, Hawkins started four of 14 games for the Carolina Panthers while serving as the nickel back for most of the season.
- In six seasons with the Bengals (1998-2003), Hawkins started 72 of 89 games at cornerback and was credited with 375 tackles and nine interceptions.
- Hawkins's most productive season as a pro came in 2002 when he started 15 games and had a career-high 76 tackles with two interceptions.
- On Nov. 3, 2002, Hawkins intercepted Houston's David Carr and returned the ball 102 yards for a touchdown. The play is tied for the third longest interception return in NFL history entering the 2006 season. Hawkins earned AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors following the game.

THE GREATEST SHOW IN SNOW

The Patriots are 9-0 all-time in snowy games in Foxborough, including a 16-3 victory over the New York Jets at Gillette Stadium on Dec. 4, 2005. In addition to that game, three of the Patriots' last four home playoff games have involved frozen precipitation, with all three contests ending in memorable victories. In 2003, New England played in three games under snowy conditions, including a 24-14 victory over Indianapolis in the AFC Championship Game. Below is a list of all of the Patriots snow games in Foxborough since they moved there from Boston in 1971.

BOUNCING BACK

The Patriots enter the 2006 season having not lost back-to-back games since December, 2002. Their streak of 49 consecutive regular season games without back-to-back losses is the longest current streak in the NFL entering the season and the longest such mark in franchise history. The post-merger NFL record for consecutive games without two straight losses is 60, set by the San Francisco 49ers from 1995-99. The last time the Patriots had a losing streak heading into 2006 was when they dropped a game at Tennessee (24-7, 12/16/02), and followed that with a home loss to the N.Y. Jets (30-17, 12/22/02).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Asante Samuel was selected by the New England Patriots in the fourth round (120th overall) of the 2003 NFL Draft ... Signed with the Patriots (07/15/03).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Samuel has started 24 of 44 career regular-season games and has notched 122 tackles (106 solo), six interceptions for 104 yards and two touchdowns, 39 passes defensed and two forced fumbles.
- Samuel has shown an ability to consistently find the end zone, having returned three interceptions for touchdowns in three NFL seasons. He returned one pick for a score in both the 2003 and 2004 regular seasons and also found the end zone in the 2005 playoffs.
- In 2005, Samuel started all 15 regular-season games in which he played and tied for the team lead with a career-high three interceptions and led the team with a career-high 18 passes defensed. He also notched a career-high 53 tackles (41 solo).
- Samuel's two career playoff interceptions are tied for fourth in Patriots playoff history – only Rodney Harrison (6), Ty Law (4) and Fred Marion (3) have recorded more playoff interceptions for New England.
- Samuel played in 13 games with eight starts in 2004 and led the team with 12 passes defensed.
- Samuel started all three postseason contests for the Patriots in 2004 and finished tied for the team lead with four pass breakups.
- Samuel tallied his second career touchdown with a 34-yard interception return for a score against Cincinnati (12/12/04).
- Samuel was named NFL rookie of the week for his performance in the Patriots' victory over the Jets in New England's 2003 home opener. He returned his first career interception 55 yards for a touchdown to seal a 23-16 Patriots victory.
- Samuel spent much of his rookie season as the Patriots' fifth defensive back, and earned his first career start in place of an injured Ty Law in the Patriots' 19-13 overtime win at Miami (10/19/03).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Richard Seymour was drafted by the Patriots in the first round (sixth overall) of the 2001 NFL Draft ... Signed by the Patriots (7/24/01).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Seymour has earned a Pro Bowl berth in each of the past four seasons and is the only member of the Patriots to currently own a streak of multiple Pro Bowl seasons. His four Pro Bowl berths are the most by any Patriots defensive lineman since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger.
- Seymour is the first Patriot to earn as many as four straight Pro Bowl nods since Ben Coates was named to five straight from 1994-98.
- In 2005, Seymour was named a first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press for the third consecutive season. From the time he returned from an injury on Nov. 13, 2005, until the end of the regular season, the Patriots allowed just 14.8 points per game while recording a 6-2 record.
- Seymour helped to anchor a dominating three-game defensive effort from Dec. 4-17, 2005, when the Patriots allowed just 10 total points over the three contests, setting a franchise record for the fewest points allowed over a three-game span.
- Seymour was named a defensive captain by his teammates in 2003, 2004 and 2005.
- Seymour scored his first career touchdown on a 68-yard fumble return to ice the Patriots' victory over Buffalo on Oct. 3, 2004. The fumble return was the longest in franchise history.
- In 2004, Seymour was a co-captain on a Patriots defense that allowed 16.25 points per game, the second fewest in the NFL and the third fewest in franchise history.
- Seymour finished second on the Patriots with a career-high 8.0 sacks in 2003, while also setting career highs with 80 tackles (45 solo) and 10 pass deflections.
- Seymour earned his first Pro Bowl selection in 2002 and became the first Patriots defensive tackle ever selected and the first Patriots defensive lineman to be honored since Willie McGinest in 1996. Former Patriots defensive tackles Houston Antwine (6) and Jim Lee Hunt (4) both earned multiple trips to the AFL All-Star Game during their careers.
- Seymour collected 5.5 sacks during the 2002 season and shared the team lead with Willie McGinest.
- Seymour has blocked five field goals in his four-year career, including a block in the 2003 divisional playoffs (1/10/03). Seymour blocked two field goals during the 2002 regular season, becoming the first Patriot since Chad Eaton in 2000 to block two field goals in one season.
- Intercepted the first pass of his career vs. Buffalo (12/8/02) and returned it six yards.
- Seymour finished second among Patriots defensive lineman with 44 tackles (25 solos) during his rookie season in 2001.

EXTRA POINTS

★ Richard contributes time during the season to the Mattapan Patriots, a youth football team in Boston. In 2004, he made a donation to the team to help defray the cost of uniforms and field upkeep.

★ In his first five seasons in the NFL, Richard has been selected to four Pro Bowls, received three first-team All-Pro honors, and has helped his team to three Super Bowl championships.

★ Richard has his own website that is updated weekly during the season. It can be found at Big-Sey93.com.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS

Eugene Wilson was drafted by the New England Patriots in the second round (36th overall) of the 2003 NFL draft ... Signed by the Patriots (07/21/03).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Wilson has started 45 of 47 games over his first three NFL seasons, recording 197 tackles (144 solo), nine interceptions for 69 yards, 24 passes defensed. Three forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries.
- Wilson's nine interceptions from 2003-05 were the most on the team over that span.
- In 2004, Wilson led the Patriots with four interceptions and provided a versatile presence, logging time at both cornerback and safety. He was also selected to ESPN.com's All-Pro Team and his three forced fumbles tied for the Patriots' team lead.
- Wilson was named AFC Defensive Player of the Month for September 2004 after notching 12 tackles (9 solo), two interceptions, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery in two Patriots victories.
- All four of Wilson's interceptions in 2004 kick-started Patriots scoring drives, with the team accumulating 24 points off of his four picks.
- Wilson recorded the first multiple-interception game of his career in the Patriots' 23–12 victory over Arizona (9/19/04).
- Wilson started 15 of 16 regular-season games and all three postseason games at free safety in 2003 and tied for the lead among all NFL rookies with four interceptions.
- Wilson notched his first career interception in his NFL debut against Buffalo (9/7/03) when he picked off a Drew Bledsoe pass at the end of the second quarter.
- In 2003, Wilson was named to ESPN.com's All-Rookie Team and USA Today's All-Joe Team.

2006 PRO BOWL

The Patriots had two players selected to the AFC's 2006 Pro Bowl roster: Quarterback Tom Brady (third selection) and defensive lineman Richard Seymour (fourth selection). Seymour's career total of four Pro Bowl seasons are the most for a Patriots defensive lineman since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. Brady's third career Pro Bowl nod ties Drew Bledsoe and Babe Parilli for the most All-Star selections by a Patriots quarterback.

2005 Television Ratings

The Patriots have annually produced some of the highest television ratings among the 2.4 million homes in the Boston area, the nation's fifth largest television market. Each ratings point represents one percent of the homes in the Boston market.

Historical Capsule

Professional football arrived in New England on Nov. 16, 1959, when a group of local businessmen, led by former public relations executive William H. "Billy" Sullivan Jr. was awarded the eighth and final franchise in the new American Football League. One week later, Northwestern University running back Ron Burton was selected as the franchise's first draft choice and Syracuse running back Gerhardt Schwedes was selected as the team's first territorial choice.

Three key personnel decisions were made in the winter of 1960. First, former Boston College head coach Mike Holovak was named director of player personnel. Ed McKeever was hired as the team's first general manager and he selected Lou Saban as the team's first head coach.

One of the first orders of business of the management group was giving the franchise a name and that was accomplished through a public contest. Thousands of entries were submitted to name the team and 74 fans suggested the winning name, the Boston Patriots. Shortly after the franchise name was chosen, Boston Globe artist Phil Bissell drew a cartoon of a Minuteman preparing to snap a football and owner Sullivan liked the drawing so much that he selected "Pat Patriot" as the team logo. On April 1, 1960, Boston University Field - the former home of the Boston Braves - was selected as the first home of the Boston Patriots.

The organization's first training camp opened on July 4, 1960 at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Approximately 350 players reported to the opening of camp, including a large contingent from Boston College. This group would be trimmed to 35 for the start of the regular season. The team's first preseason game was held on July 30 and the Patriots defeated the Buffalo Bills 28-7 at War Memorial Stadium in Buffalo. Patriots defensive end Bob Dee recovered a fumble during the game and scored the AFL's first touchdown. The first "home" game was held two weeks later before 11,000 fans at Harvard Stadium and the Pats lost 24-14 to the Dallas Texans. The team's regular season home opener came on Sept. 9 and 21,597 fans at Boston University field watched the team lose to the Denver
Broncos 13-10.

The 1963 season saw the Patriots move to Fenway Park for home games, where they claimed their first division crown with a 7-6-1 record. The team lost the AFL title game, 51-10, to the San Diego Chargers. A number of Patriots players emerged as stars in the AFL during the 1960s, including wide receiver and kicker Gino Cappelletti, running back Jim Nance, quarterback Babe Parilli, linebacker Nick Buoniconti, defensive linemen Houston Antwine, Bob Dee, Larry Eisenhauer and Jim Lee Hunt and center Jon Morris.

In 1970, after a decade of playing at four different sites, including Boston University Field, Harvard Stadium, Fenway Park and Boston College Alumni Stadium, the Patriots selected Foxborough as the new home of the team. In March 1971, the team was renamed the New England Patriots. On Aug. 15, 1971, the Patriots played their first game at Schaefer Stadium in Foxborough, defeating the New York Giants 20-14 before a crowd of 60,423 in a preseason contest.

In 1976, the Patriots earned a wild-card playoff berth, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Oakland Raiders, 24-21. In 1978, the Patriots won their first outright division title in franchise history, but lost to the Houston Oilers on Dec. 31, 31-14, in the franchise's first home playoff game. During the 1970s, several Patriots were regarded to be among the most outstanding players in the league at their positions, including offensive tackle John Hannah, cornerback Mike Haynes and tight end Russ Francis.

In 1982, Schaefer Stadium was renamed Sullivan Stadium. In 1985, the Patriots gained a wild-card berth in the playoffs and went on to defeat the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders and the Miami Dolphins on the road to win their first AFC Championship and a trip to Super Bowl XX. Unfortunately, the Patriots faced one of the dominant teams of the '80s as the Chicago Bears shuffled to a 46-10 Super Bowl victory. Following that season, Patriot greats John Hannah and Julius Adams retired.

On July 28, 1988, Remington Products, Inc. CEO Victor Kiam purchased the Patriots from the Sullivan family and retained the team for four years. On Nov. 23, 1988, Robert Kraft purchased Sullivan Stadium out of bankruptcy court.

In 1990, Sullivan Stadium was renamed Foxboro Stadium and the following season natural grass was installed in the stadium for the first time. On July 27 1991, Hannah became the first Patriot to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

In 1992, St. Louis businessman James B. Orthwein purchased controlling interest of the Patriots and made some dramatic changes, both on and off the field. In 1993, he hired former New York Giants head coach Bill Parcells and a new coaching staff. In addition, he also made some cosmetic changes that spring with the unveiling of a new Patriots logo and the change of primary color from red to blue.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Robert K. Kraft became the franchise's fourth owner when he purchased the team from Orthwein, saving the team from an impending move. That season, the Patriots closed out the season with a seven-game winning streak to qualify for their first playoff berth since 1985. In 1995, the Patriots became the first professional sports team to launch their own Web site - www.patriots.com.

The Patriots continued their rise during a memorable 1996 season, winning the AFC Championship and returning to the Super Bowl for the second time in team history. The Patriots finished 11-5 and scored two home playoff wins, 28-3 vs. Pittsburgh and 20-6 vs. Jacksonville, winning the AFC Championship in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium crowd. The Patriots were defeated by the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXI, 35-21.

In 1997, the Patriots defended their AFC East division title with a 7-1 record in the division and a 10-6 overall record. It was the first time in team history that New England won back-to-back division titles.

The Patriots finished 9-7 in 1998 and qualified for the playoffs, marking the third consecutive season they qualified for the postseason, setting a team record that they would tie from 2003-05.

A new era began in Patriots history in 2000 when the team unveiled designs for their new stadium. The new 68,436-seat facility opened in May, 2002 and celebrated its Grand Opening on Sept. 9, 2002.

When Kraft purchased the Patriots, he promised the fans of New England that he would bring home a championship, and in his first 10 years of ownership, he delivered not just one, but two titles to New England.

The Patriots began the most prosperous era in team history when Kraft hired Bill Belichick as the club's 14th head coach on Jan. 27, 2000. After taking a year to implement his system, Belichick molded the Patriots into one of the NFL's elite teams. He has led the Patriots to the best record in the league over a five-year span from 2001-05 (68-23), en route to winning three Super Bowl titles.

The Patriots capped off an 11-5 regular season in 2001 with three playoff wins for the ages and the first Super Bowl title in team history. In the divisional round of the playoffs, the Patriots defeated the Oakland Raiders 16-13 in overtime in a driving snowstorm in the final game at Foxboro Stadium. Adam Vinatieri kicked a 45-yard field goal to tie the game late in regulation and then added a 23-yard kick in overtime to win, 16-13. The following week in Pittsburgh, the Patriots defeated the favored Steelers 24-17 in the AFC Championship Game to advance to their third Super Bowl.

In Super Bowl XXXVI at the Superdome in New Orleans on Feb. 3, 2002, the Patriots defeated the St. Louis Rams, 20-17, in one of the most dramatic Super Bowl finishes in history. After the Patriots took a 17-3 lead into the fourth quarter, St. Louis rallied to tie the game at 17. But quarterback Tom Brady marched the Patriots into Vinatieri's field goal range and his 48-yard kick sailed through the uprights as time expired to give New England its first NFL Championship. The Patriots were welcomed home with a rally in Boston attended by nearly 1.5 million people and took the Lombardi Trophy to rallies in all of the New England states.

In 2002, the Patriots celebrated the opening of their world-class new home, Gillette Stadium. In the Grand Opening on Sept. 9, the Super Bowl XXXVI banner was unveiled as the Patriots defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 30-14, before a national audience on Monday Night Football.

In 2003, just two seasons after winning its first Super Bowl, New England put together one of the finest seasons in pro football history, finishing with a 17-2 record and a victory in Super Bowl XXXVIII. After posting a 2-2 record in September, the Patriots became the first NFL team in 31 years to close the season with 15 consecutive wins, including three playoff victories. After fighting through a rash of injuries and finishing the regular-season with a franchise-best and league-leading 14-2 record, the Patriots produced another memorable three-game playoff run culminating in a championship.

In the divisional round of the 2003 playoffs, the Patriots defeated the Tennessee Titans 17-14 in the first playoff game at Gillette Stadium in the coldest game in team history (four degrees at kickoff). The next week, New England hosted the AFC Championship Game for the second time in team history and dispatched the Indianapolis Colts and league co-MVP Peyton Manning, 24-14, to claim their third conference title in eight years and advance to the Super Bowl for the fourth time in team history.

Two years after winning Super Bowl XXXVI in dramatic fashion, the Patriots saw fit to thrill their fans in a similar way with a 32-29 win over the Carolina Panthers in Super Bowl XXXVIII on Feb. 1, 2004 at Reliant Stadium in Houston Texas. In the game, New England jumped out to a 21-10 fourth-quarter lead, but Carolina rallied to take a 22-21 lead, then answered the Patriots' counterpunch by tying the game at 29 with just 1:08 left in the game. But Brady once again showed grace under pressure in driving the Patriots down the field and Vinatieri's clutch 41-yard boot with four seconds left gave the Patriots a 32-29 victory and their second title in three seasons.

The 2004 season saw the Patriots make history by becoming just the second team in NFL history to win three Super Bowls in a four-year span. New England remained in the spotlight throughout the year, beginning with the unveiling of the Super Bowl XXXVIII banner. The Patriots built on their 2003 season-ending 15-game winning streak with a six-game run to begin the 2004 season, setting the all-time pro football record with 21 consecutive wins, including playoff games. New England kept its focus down the stretch and continued its winning ways, finishing the regular season at 14-2 for the second consecutive year.

In their first two playoff games, the Patriots shut down the NFL's top scoring offense and solved the league's top ranked defense to return to the Super Bowl. In the divisional round, New England held Indianpolis' explosive offense to just a field goal in a 20-3 victory at Gillette Stadium, while the AFC Championship Game saw the Patriots set a team playoff record with 41 points on the road against the Pittsburgh Steelers' previously impregnable defense.

New England entered historic territory with its 24-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXIX at Alltel Stadium in Jacksonville, Fla. The Patriots joined the Dallas Cowboys as the only teams to win three Super Bowls in a four-year span and became the seventh franchise to win back-to-back Super Bowls. With their third title, the Patriots now trail only Dallas (5), San Francisco (5) and Pittsburgh (5) for the most Super Bowl victories in history. New England's performance from 2003-04 constituted the most successful two-year run in the history of the NFL, with its 34 total victories setting an all-time NFL record.

In 2005, the Patriots won their third straight AFC East championship, finishing the regular season with a 10-6 record. They advanced in the playoffs with a 28-3 victory over Jacksonville that was the Patriots' 10th consecutive playoff victory, setting the NFL's all-time record.

Patriots Overtime Games

The Patriots are 17-18 all-time in regular-season overtime games during their 45-year history. New England enters the 2005 season with an eight-game overtime winning streak (including playoffs), setting an all-time NFL record for consecutive overtime victories. The Patriots are 11-15 when the game is decided by a field goal and 5-3 when a touchdown is the deciding factor. Below is a brief description of each overtime game.

09/26/77 . at Cleveland 30, Patriots 27 L
John Smith sent the game into overtime with a 28-yard field goal with no time remaining in regulation. Cleveland's Don Cockroft capped a 10-play, 53-yard drive with a 35-yard game-winning field goal after 4:45 of overtime.

09/03/79 . Pittsburgh 16, at Patriots 13 L
Pittsburgh's Matt Bahr drilled a 41-yard field goal to give the Steelers the victory at the 5:10 mark in overtime. The clutch field goal came on Bahr's first professional attempt of his career.

11/25/79 . Buffalo 16, at Patriots 13 L
Buffalo's Nick Mike-Mayer kicked a 29-yard field goal 4:45 into overtime to give the Bills the victory.

12/08/80 . at Miami 16, Patriots 13 L
Uwe von Schamann kicked his third field goal of the day, a 23-yard game-winner, which gave Miami the three point victory, 3:20 into overtime.

09/27/81 . at Pittsburgh 27, Patriots 21 L
The Patriots scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to recover from a 21-7 deficit. Unfortunately, Terry Bradshaw hit Lynn Swann with a 24-yard touchdown pass 3:19 into overtime to thwart the Patriots hopes for victory.

11/08/81 . Miami 30, at Patriots 27 L
New England's John Smith nailed a 34-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining in regulation that sent the game into overtime. The Dolphins' Uwe von Schamann kicked a 30-yard field goal, 7:09 into the extra quarter, that gave Miami the victory.

Patriots Overtime Games

09/04/83. Balt. Colts 29, at Patriots 23 L
The Colts' Raul Allegre kicked a 33-yard field goal as time expired in the fourth quarter to send the game into overtime. On the first play of overtime, Baltimore's LB Johnnie Cooks picked up a Tony Collins fumble and rumbled 52 yards for the game-winning score.

11/24/85. at N.Y. Jets 16, Patriots 13 L
New England's Tony Franklin sent the game into overtime with a 28-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining in regulation. In the extra session, the Jets' Pat Leahy kicked a 32-yard field goal to give the Jets a 16-13 win.

11/15/87. Dallas 23, at Patriots 17 L
The Cowboys' Roger Ruzek's 20-yard field goal with 28 seconds remaining in regulation tied the game at 17-17. In overtime, Dallas running back Herschel Walker trotted 60 yards for the game-winning touchdown.

11/29/87. Philadelphia 34, at Patriots 31 ...L
The Patriots scored the final 21 points of regulation to send the game into overtime tied at 31. After 12:16 elapsed in overtime, the Eagles' Paul McFadden connected from 38 yards, on his second field goal attempt in overtime.

12/11/88. at Patriots 10, Tampa Bay 7.....W
The Patriots were victorious in overtime for the first time in franchise history, snapping their 10-game overtime losing streak. Jason Staurovsky kicked a 27-yard field goal, 3:08 into overtime, for the win.

10/29/89. Patriots 23, at Indianapolis 20 ..W
New England's Greg Davis kicked a 51-yard field goal, 9:57 into overtime, for the 23-20 victory. The Colts' Dean Biasucci sent the game into overtime when he kicked a 39-yard field goal with :51 seconds remaining in regulation.

10/20/91. at Patriots 26, Minnesota 23 .....W
With no time remaining in overtime, New England's Jason Staurovsky nailed a 42-yard field goal that gave the Patriots a 26-23 victory. The field goal attempt was Staurovsky's second of overtime.

Patriots Playoff Results

ALL-TIME PLAYOFF RESULTS

The Patriots have played in 28 playoff games during their 46-year history, compiling an overall playoff record of 17-11. The Patriots won an NFL-record 10 consecutive playoff games from the 2001 season to the 2005 season. Since Robert Kraft purchased the Patriots in 1994, the team is 13-5 in the playoffs, and its 13 victories are the most in the NFL over that span.

Playoff Tie Breakers

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs. Note: Tie games count as one-half win and one-half loss for both clubs.

TO BREAK A TIE WITHIN A DIVISION

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games
12. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, tie-breaker reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format.)

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

TO BREAK A TIE FOR THE WILD-CARD TEAM

If it is necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:

A. If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tie-breaker.

B. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in the games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Strength of victory.
5. Strength of schedule.
6. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
7. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best net points in conference games.
9. Best net points in all games.
10. Best net touchdowns in all games.
11. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

1. Apply division tie-breaker to eliminate all but highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2. The original seeding within a division upon application of the division tie-breaker remains the same for all subsequent applications of the procedure that are necessary to identify the Wild Card participants.
2. Head-to-head sweep (apply only if one club has defeated each of the others or one club has lost to each of the others.)
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in conference games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

When the first Wild Card team has been identified, the procedure is repeated to name the second Wild Card (i.e., eliminate all but the highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2.) In situations where three teams from the same division are involved in the procedure, the original seeding of the teams remains the same for subsequent applications of the tie-breaker if the top-ranked team in that division qualifies for a Wild Card berth.

OTHER TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

1. Only one club advances to the playoffs in any tie-breaking step. Remaining tied clubs revert to the first step of the applicable division or Wild Card tie-breakers. As an example, if two clubs remain tied in any tie-breaker step after all other clubs have been eliminated, the procedure reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format to determine the winner. When one club wins the tie-breaker, all other clubs revert to Step 1 of the applicable two-club or three-club format.
2. In comparing records against common opponents among tied teams, the best won-lost-tied percentage is the deciding factor since teams may have played an unequal number of games.
3. To determine home-field priority among division-titlists, apply Wild Card tie-breakers.
4. To determine home-field priority for Wild Card qualifiers, apply division tie-breakers (if teams are from the same division) or Wild Card tie-breakers (if teams are from different divisions).

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots held Buffalo to only seven yards rushing on 12 attempts (0.6 average). It ranks as the lowest rushing output by a Patriots playoff opponent.
- K Gino Cappelletti converted four of five field goal attempts against the Bills.
- The game marked the only time in team playoff history that two receivers gained over 100 yards in one playoff game for the Patriots. Larry Garron caught four passes for 120 yards and Gino Cappelletti caught four passes for 109 yards.

GAME NOTES

- This was the first of six championship games involving the Patriots. (also Super Bowls XX, XXXI, XXXVI, XXXVIII and XXXIX)
- The 610 yards yielded by the Patriots defense still ranks as the highest total ever given up by the Patriots.
- The Patriots committed only one penalty versus the Chargers. It is the lowest single game total in team playoff history (tied with Dec. 28, 1985 at N.Y. Jets).

GAME NOTES

- The game was marred by a controversial roughing the passer call on NT Ray Hamilton. The Patriots had seemingly stopped the Raiders when a Ken Stabler pass on a 3rd and 18 fell incomplete. However, penalty flags were thrown and the Raiders had a first and ten at the Patriot 13. Five plays later Stabler rolled around left end for the winning score.
- The Patriots finished the season 11-3, rebounding from a 3-11 record in 1975.

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots' victory marked their third consecutive home playoff win.
- New England held the Dolphins to only three points, the lowest total in Patriots' playoff history (tied with Jan. 5, 1997, vs. Pittsburgh). They also limited Miami's offense to 162 yards, the lowest total in team playoff history.
- New England did not turn the ball over, while forcing Miami into two interceptions and a fumble. One interecption was returned for a 40-yard touchdown by LB Todd Collins.

GAME NOTES

- In the final game at Foxboro Stadium, the Patriots rallied from behind for a memorable win on a snow-covered field to advance to the AFC Championship Game.
- K Adam Vinatieri nailed a 45-yard field goal through heavy snow to tie the game and force overtime after the Patriots had trailed 13-3 in the fourth quarter. Vinatieri later kicked a game-winning, 23-yard field goal in the extra period.
- QB Tom Brady set Patriots single-game playoff records for passing attempts (52) and pass completions (32).

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots claimed their third AFC Championship in their third trip to the championship game.
- WR Troy Brown was involved in the Patriots two special teams touchdowns, scoring the first on a 55-yard punt return and then scooping up a blocked field goal and lateraling the ball to DB Antwan Harris, who ran the ball in for another touchdown.
- QB Drew Bledsoe replaced an injured Tom Brady in the second quarter and, in his first game action in five months, threw a touchdown pass to WR David Patten to put New England firmly in command of the game.

WBCN'S ROCK RADIO NETWORK

WBCN 104.1 FM in Boston is in its 12th season as the official flagship station of the three-time Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots. As a flagship, WBCN was one of the FM broadcasting pioneers in professional sports. Since 1995, football fans in greater Boston have had the pleasure of listening to the call of every Patriots game in stereo sound without static interruption. With FM clarity and stereo surround sound, WBCN has brought fans closer to the action, delivering the many sideline sounds of each game.

In 2006, fans throughout New England can once again catch all the Patriots action by tuning into one of 35 different radio affiliates that simulcast each game on WBCN's Patriots Rock Radio Network. As the network's flagship, WBCN offers Patriots fans the most complete and comprehensive coverage on the dial. In all, they commit over eight hours of programming to each and every Patriots game, kicking off three hours before each game and wrapping up with a two-hour post-game show.

When fans tune in for each Patriots game on WBCN, they are treated to two world-class teams – the one on the field and the one in the broadcast booth. For the past 16 consecutive seasons, Gil Santos and Gino Cappelletti have teamed together to provide fans with in-depth game analysis and complete play-by-play detail of every Patriots game. This year, they will celebrate their 23rd season together.

For most Patriots fans, there has been but one "Voice of the New England Patriots" and it belongs to Gil Santos. For 30 of the last 41 seasons, Santos has articulated the sights, sounds and all the play-by-play action of over 400 games to millions of Patriots fans. Now in his 30th year as voice of the Patriots, Santos is tied with the Philadelphia Eagles' veteran play-by-play announcer, Merrill Reese, as the two most tenured radio broadcasters in the NFL. Santos began calling games for the Boston Patriots at Fenway Park in 1966. He was the voice of the Patriots for the next 14 seasons (1966-79). He returned to the booth in 1991 and has broadcast every Patriots game since then. The veteran play-by-play broadcaster is also the sports director at WBCN's sister station, WBZ news radio in Boston, where he has earned dozens of honors and awards for his reporting, sportscasting and play-by-play excellence.

If Santos is recognized as the "voice" of the New England Patriots, his long-time broadcast partner Gino Cappelletti might simply be the most recognized Patriot in franchise history. Cappelletti, who is entering his 26th season as a broadcast analyst, first joined the team as one of the original Boston Patriots in 1960. Since then, Cappelletti has been affiliated with the team for 39 of the last 46 seasons as a player (11 years), coach (3) and broadcaster (25). It would be hard to find anyone more knowledgeable on the subject of the Patriots than Cappelletti. After an 11-year all-star career (1960-70) as a wide receiver and a kicker, he retired as the AFL's all-time leading scorer with 1,130 points. He currently ranks sixth among the Patriots all-time leading receivers entering the 2006 season. Following his playing career, he spent nine seasons (1972-78) in the broadcast booth with Santos before returning to the sidelines for three seasons (1979-81) as the special teams coach on Ron Erhardt's staff. He returned to the broadcast booth in 1988 and was re-united with Santos in 1991. Together, the two have developed an on-air rapport that is unrivaled in the NFL, to the delight of Patriots fans everywhere.

Coverage on WBCN 104.1 FM begins three hours before each game and will conclude with a two-hour post-game show. Gary Tanguay will host both shows and will welcome weekly guests who will offer unique insight and analysis prior to and immediately following each game.

2006 PRESEASON TV NETWORK

For the 12th consecutive season, the Patriots preseason games will be broadcast live on WCVB Channel 5 in Boston and rebroadcast on a network of affiliate stations throughout New England. The Patriots will once again control all advertising sales for the games and Kraft Sports Productions will produce the broadcasts.

Award-winning play-by-play veteran Don Criqui returns for his 12th season with the Patriots. He has served as a play-by-play announcer for CBS Sports and NBC Sports for more than three decades. He is one of the network's most versatile broadcasters, having called hundreds of sporting events over the years.

CBS football analyst Randy Cross will return for his fourth season as Criqui's preseason broadcast partner. Cross, a three-time NFL all-pro, played 13 seasons with the San Francisco 49ers and was a part of three Super Bowl Championship teams. After his playing career, he joined CBS Sports as an NFL game analyst. He spent four years with NBC Sports before returning to CBS in 1998.

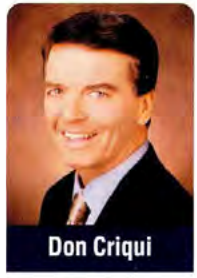

Mike Lynch, WCVB's principal sports analyst and award-winning sportscaster, returns for his 12th consecutive season as the broadcast team's sideline reporter. He will provide his on-field insights and interviews throughout each preseason game.

PATRIOTS.COM

NEWS

Patriots.com features daily updates and exclusive content from the writers of Patriots Football Weekly, offering everything from breaking news to player features and the popular "Ask PFW" postings.

VIDEO

The first professional sports team website to offer streaming video has something new for 2006: Patriots TV. Visitors can choose their channel and watch exclusive Patriots content from news to cheerleaders. Patriots Today, hosted by Patriots Cheerleader Lori Baranski, debuted last season and offers daily behind-the-scenes coverage of the Patriots from Gillette Stadium. Patriots.com also features video of every Patriots press conference, including postgame press conferences and Coach Belichick's weekday media updates.

AUDIO

Patriots Web Radio programming is available exclusively on Patriots.com beginning at noon each day from Tuesday to Friday. Kicking off the programming lineup is PFW In Progress, a daily on-line program that features candid commentary from the writers of Patriots football Weekly. Fred Kirsch, Paul Perillo, Andy Hart and Tom Casale discuss news, notes and anecdotes from their daily coverage of the team. Following PFW in Progress is Patriots Playbook, hosted by Patriots Public Address Announcer John Rooke, featuring items from around the NFL. Patriots.com also offers streaming audio of every Patriots press conference as well as archives of Patriots Web Radio shows. Patriots.com provides podcasts of all Web Radio offerings in addition to the Patriots Roster Report, available exclusively on podcast.

Each issue of Patriots Football Weekly is loaded with the latest news, game previews and reviews, feature stories, contests and full-color posters.

2006 PATRIOTS CHEERLEADERS

The New England Patriots Cheerleaders have been entertaining fans at Patriots games for years. But their work as goodwill ambassadors for the team extends far beyond the sidelines of Gillette Stadium. Collectively, the squad makes over 600 individual public appearances per year, spreading cheer to fans at a variety of events throughout New England. Their appearances range from corporate functions to parades, from in-store promotions to out-of-state performances. In addition to their charitable work, the Patriots Cheerleaders also make hundreds of personal appearances annually for local businesses. Those bookings include sales meetings, trade shows, award ceremonies, autograph sessions and Monday Night Football promotions, just to name a few.

While the Patriots Cheerleaders have become accustomed to entertaining thousands of Patriots fans from the sidelines, members of the squad have regularly traveled overseas to entertain thousands of Patriots from the front lines as featured performers at various military bases on goodwill missions. In the spring of 2006, six Patriots cheerleaders, along with cheerleader director Tracy Sormanti, traveled around the globe as a part of the Patriotic World Tour. In what was their seventh military tour, the cheerleaders visited and performed for soldiers in Germany, Turkey, Iraq, Kuwait, Japan, South Korea and Hawaii. The squad will also take part in Operation Season's Greetings 2006.

Previous overseas trips include the Citizen Patriot Tour in 2001, when members of the squad traveled with Clint Black and Al Franken, visiting troops in Germany, Kosovo, Bosnia, Macedonia and Italy. In 2002, members of the squad traveled to the North Arabian Sea to perform on the U.S.S. John F. Kennedy, as part of Operation Enduring Freedom. In 2003, their Operation Seasons Greetings tour took them to Germany, Italy, Turkey, Portugal and England. In 2004, the squad performed in two tours, including the Operation Pacific Greetings tour with visits to bases in Japan, South Korea and Hawaii, traveling with Hootie and the Blowfish, and the Operations Season's Greetings tour with Blues Traveler. Last year, four cheerleaders traveled to the Persian Gulf to perform several shows for military personnel deployed in support of the Global War on Terror, as a part of a tour sponsored by Navy Morale, Welfare and Recreation.

In addition to their goodwill military missions and regular visits throughout the six states of New England, the squad has performed and appeared at many venues including performances in Super Bowls, Pro Bowls and an American Bowl in Mexico City.

Almost 300 hopefuls competed for the opportunity to join the 2006 New England Patriots Cheerleaders. The 24 most talented young women earned that honor, including 12 returning veterans. The cheerleaders hail from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Maine, representing many different New England towns. This year's squad will continue to serve not only as day-of-game entertainers, but also as Patriots ambassadors throughout New England and around the world.

Patriots Cheerleaders and Pat Patriot mascot appearances can make functions more memorable for everyone. For more information on booking the Patriots Cheerleaders or Pat Patriot Mascot, please contact Tracy Sormanti at (508) 384-9101.

THE PATRIOTS IN THE COMMUNITY

A Winning Team

The New England Patriots Charitable Foundation is the 501(c)(3) non-profit entity created by the Kraft family to support charitable and philanthropic agencies throughout New England. This support comes in the form of direct grants, and the donation of signed memorabilia to a variety of charitable causes, and from Patriots players who offer their direct support by appearing at charity functions throughout the year.

Robert Kraft established the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation when he purchased the team in 1994 as a way for the organization to give back to the communities it calls home. The Foundation's primary goal is to support programs that aid the youth and families of New England while underscoring the Kraft family's deep commitment to philanthropic activities in the community.

Over the past 12 years, the Foundation has made donations to thousands of non-profit organizations throughout New England and has partnered with numerous community groups, including the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Boston, the United Way and a host of other New England charities. The Foundation also provides food baskets and toys to hundreds of families and children during the holiday season in partnership with Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries and the Salvation Army.

In addition, the Foundation supports numerous health care initiatives and organizations, including the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Boston Children's Hospital. In 2005, the Charitable Foundation raised and donated more than $750,000 to organizations supporting disaster relief efforts in Louisiana and around the globe. The Foundation also debuted its "Write On" scholarship program in 2005, which awarded nearly $100,000 in college scholarships to over 50 local students.

Annually, the Patriots participate in several events designed to reach out to local families and youth. For the past several years, the Kraft family has been joined by nearly a dozen Patriots players at the Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries headquarters in Boston to assist in distributing 200 holiday baskets filled with turkeys and all of the trimmings to local families in need. In addition, the Patriots have treated hundreds of children from Salvation Army centers throughout Massachusetts to a night of holiday festivities for over a decade. Patriots players annually attend the party at Gillette Stadium and participate in the Wrap-a-Pat event, a game in which the children, working in teams, race to wrap Patriots players in Christmas wrapping paper, ribbons and bows. The children are also able to get autographs from players and cheerleaders, visit with Santa Claus, and receive holiday gifts provided by the Charitable Foundation.

In recent years, the Foundation has expanded its concentration into the development of youth football programs throughout New England. Through the Foundation, the Patriots have made donations to improve football facilities at several area football fields and have conducted multiple football clinics in the New England Region. The Foundation has donated thousands of dollars to local high schools through the Coach of the Week program, hosted the regional Punt, Pass & Kick finals and partnered with National Football Foundation to host two youth and high school football Coaching Academies. The Foundation plans to continue to expand its support for youth and high school football and to promote programs that encourage good sportsmanship and leadership skills.

New England Patriots Charitable Foundation Fundraising Efforts

Annually, the Foundation holds several fundraisers, including the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation Golf Tournament and the Kickoff Gala held at Gillette Stadium in the fall. In 2005, the Patriots teamed up with the Massachusetts RMV to create a specialty license plate, an ongoing fundraiser with proceeds directly benefiting the NEPCF and eventually thousands of charitable organizations across New England.

Annual Kickoff Gala and Ron Burton Award

Each year, the New England Patriots Kickoff Gala is held in the Fidelity Investments Clubhouse at Gillette Stadium to ring in the new season and raise funds for the Patriots Charitable Foundation. Patriots players and staff members come together to mingle with their fans on the big night, which includes dinner, live and silent auctions and the presentation of the Ron Burton Community Service Award. The Burton Award honors the Patriots player who most embodies the qualities of Burton, the first player drafted by the team who was known for his commitment to the community and helping others. Previous winners include offensive lineman Joe Andruzzi (2003), wide receiver Troy Brown (2004) and offensive lineman Matt Light (2005).

Robert Kraft presents the New England Patriots Ron Burton Community Service Award to Matt Light at the 2005 Kickoff Gala.

Patriots Charitable Foundation Golf Tournament

For nearly a decade, Patriots players, coaches and alumni have gathered annually for a day of golf to benefit the Patriots Charitable Foundation. Each summer, fans are given the opportunity to play a round of golf with a Patriots player, with all of the proceeds going to support Foundation programs and activities. The day includes 18 holes of golf, appearances by the New England Patriots Cheerleaders, and a lot of friendly competition among Patriots players. In 2006, a longest drive competition was added to the event for the Patriots players to participate in. With his 302-yard drive, Rodney Harrison came away victorious, defeating Josh Miller and Rosevelt Colvin in the final round.

Patriots Specialty License Plates

In 2005, the Patriots launched a specialty Patriots license plate that benefits the Charitable Foundation through its sales. For each plate ordered from the Massachusetts RMV, a portion of the total cost goes directly to the Foundation. Upon renewal of the plates, the entire sum benefits the Foundation. In addition, the team has begun to auction off low-numbered plates and plates featuring the jersey numbers of current and alumni players on the team Web site. The license plate features the Patriots logo centered above the Roman numerals representing each of the team's three Super Bowl Championships.

THE PATRIOTS OF NEW ENGLAND

The 2006 Patriots Media Guide celebrates the historic significance of New England and the City of Boston as the home of the patriots who began the American Revolution. This year's guide contains photos of some historic sites, descriptions of which can be found below.

Seal of the City of Boston

The City of Boston was the site of the beginning of the American Revolution, as taxes levied against Bostonians became a rallying point against the British government. The city's seal shows an early view of Boston from the harbor. The Latin inscription "Sicut Patribus Sit Deus Nobis" means "God be with us as He was with our fathers." The words "Condita AD 1630" refer to the founding of the city in 1630, while the phrase "Civitatis Regimine Donata AD 1822" refers to the establishment of the current city charter in 1822.

George Washington Statue

A large statue of George Washington sitting atop a horse welcomes visitors to the Boston Public Garden. Before becoming the first president of the United States in 1789, Washington was the commander-in-chief of the Continental Army. He took command of his forces during the siege of Boston in July, 1775. Washington reorganized the army and won the battle, forcing the British to evacuate from Boston on March 17, 1776.

Samuel Adams Statue

This statue of Samuel Adams stands outside of Faneuil Hall in Boston. Adams was an instrumental figure in starting the American Revolution, and was a key organizer of the Boston Tea Party in 1773. As a member of the Massachusetts Colonial Legislature, he voiced his grievances to the British Government. He was the Massachusetts representative to the Continental Congress and signed the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Adams also helped to draft the Massachusetts state constitution and served as the state's governor from 1793-1797.

Faneuil Hall

Faneuil Hall is a meeting hall in Boston that was originally built between 1740-42. The hall, which is still used for political meetings, was the site of speeches by Samuel Adams and other patriots, which helped to build popular sentiment to fight for independence from Britain. The building is one of Boston's most visited tourist attractions, located along the Freedom Trail and adjacent to the popular Faneuil Hall Marketplace.

Old State House

The Old State House, built in 1713, is the oldest public building in Boston and once housed offices of the colonial government. The building was the site of a 1761 speech by James Otis that argued against restrictions imposed by the British government and helped to build popular support for the American Revolution. In July, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed from the balcony.

USS Constitution

The USS Constitution is the world's oldest commissioned ship still afloat. Launched in 1797, the Constitution was a force in the War of 1812, when the United States defeated the British and secured its status as an independent country. Known as "Old Ironsides" because of its seemingly impenetrable hull, the Constitution was built in Boston and remains there as one of the city's most popular historical attractions.

Give every child a chance to get in the game

Children have dreams.

To catch a pass. To run a touchdown. To hear the roar of the crowd.

Fidelity Investments is proud to work with the Patriots Foundation to get more kids in the game by donating needed equipment to Pop Warner Football.

Together we are working to inspire the next generation of Patriots fans.
