CREDENTIALS: Appropriate credentials are required for access to The Center and should be kept visible at all times. A limited number of season credentials are issued each season to outlets that plan to cover the 76ers on a game-by-game basis. A single-game credential allows the same access and privileges as a season pass. In accordance with NBA rules, all season passes must include a photo headshot of the approved individual. Media members wishing to cover a single game must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Public Relations staff by noon the day before the intended game. Passes are issued on a space-available basis for all single-game requests. Credentials will be left at the Press Entrance (located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level) and can be picked up two hours prior to tip-off on game nights.

ENTRANCE: Media members attending a 76ers game at The Center should enter the building through the Press Entrance, located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level.

PARKING: Media members wishing to cover a single game, and requiring parking, must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Public Relations staff at least 48 hours prior to game day. Media members attending 76ers games should park in Lot F, located along the 11th Street side.

STILL & VIDEO PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photo work space is limited and your cooperation is appreciated. Still and video photographers are limited to the baselines at each end of the court. In accordance with the NBA policy, no hard-back chairs are permitted courtside and all photographers must keep clear of all designated escape lanes. Rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers who are credentialed to shoot a 76ers game.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS: The locker rooms are located on the west side (Broad Street) of the Event Level. In accordance with NBA policy, the 76ers locker room will be open 90 minutes prior and close 45 minutes prior to tip-off. DELAWARE BLUE COATS

The re-branded Delaware Blue Coats will play their home games this season at the new 76ers Fieldhouse in Wilmington, Delaware.

The team's new identity was inspired by the 1st Delaware Regiment soldiers who were known for their signature blue combat uniforms and legendary courage during the American Revolution. Sporting 76ers' blue with red and white accents, the Blue Coats' primary logo depicts famed Delawarean and Founding Father Caesar Rodney on his legendary horseback ride of 1776. Rodney, Delaware's representative in the first Continental Congress, rode 80 miles from Wilmington to Philadelphia in a thunderstorm through the night in order to cast a tie-breaking vote for American Independence.

FRONT OFFICE

ELTON BRAND

General Manager

Elton Brand enters his first season as General Manager of the Philadelphia 76ers after serving last season as General Manager of the Delaware Blue Coats (NBA G League), a role in which he oversaw all personnel moves related to the 76ers' G League franchise. Brand will contribute extensively to all areas of the 76ers' basketball operations department. Brand spent the 2016-17 season with the 76ers as a Player Development Consultant, following his October retirement from playing. Prior to entering the front office, he spent parts of five seasons playing for the 76ers, appearing in 263 games and reaching the postseason twice. For his career, Brand posted averages of 15.9 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.1 assists and 1.7 blocks per game, while shooting .500 percent from the field and .736 percent from the free-throw line in 33 minutes per game. He played in 1,058 NBA contests (868 starts) over 17 seasons with Chicago, the Los Angeles Clippers, Philadelphia, Dallas and Atlanta, making two All-Star appearances (2001-02 and 2005-06). His 1,828 blocks place him 22nd all-time in NBA history.

BRETT BROWN

Head Coach

Brett Brown was named Head Coach of the Philadelphia 76ers on August 14, 2013 after spending the previous 11 seasons as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Spurs under Gregg Popovich. Brown was a member of the Spurs organization for their first four championship seasons (1999, 2003, 2005 and 2007). Brown led the 2017-18 76ers to their first 50-win season since the 2000-01 campaign and their first playoff appearance in six years. Boasting a top-five defense in the league, Brown's team also led the NBA in rebounds per game and was second in assists per contest. The 76ers' jump from 28 wins in 2016-17 to 52 in 2017-18 was the largest season-to-season improvement in franchise history and the largest in the NBA since 2013-14. In March 2018, Philadelphia tied a franchise record with 13 wins in 16 games and on March 15, began a 16-game winning streak, which is the longest single-season streak in franchise history. The 2016-17 team saw a league-best 18-win improvement from the season before and boasted a 10-5 record in January, which was among the best in the NBA. Under Brown's watch, rookie forward-center Joel Embiid and forward Dario Šarić each made major impacts on the floor and both were selected First Team All-Rookie. Brown's offensive philosophy of pace, space and pass was evident throughout the 16-17 year as the 76ers finished seventh in pace and seventh in three-point attempts. Behind Brown's team-first offensive approach, the 76ers led the league in passes per game and finished third in the NBA in assist percentage, behind the NBA champion Golden State Warriors and the Boston Celtics. Second-year point guard T.J. McConnell averaged a team-best 6.6 assists per game while finishing eighth in the league with 534 assists. On the defensive end, that season saw the 76ers jump 10 spots in defensive efficiency from 26th the year before to 16th in 16-17. Brown's active, pressure-inducing defense finished third in deflections and third in steals. In each of his first five seasons, the 76ers have ranked within the top 10 in the NBA in steals per game, only twice falling outside of the top three and leading the league in that category. From the start of his 76ers tenure, Brown placed emphasis on player development and a commitment to an elite level of conditioning as the pillars of his program in Philadelphia. The 76ers player development wing was critical to the growth of forward Robert Covington and McConnell, both undrafted players who have been molded into key NBA contributors. Brown's personal touch with player development has been evident in the growth of several 76ers, including Embiid, Šarić, and guard-forward Ben Simmons. Brown will next look to grow a pair of No. 1 overall picks in Simmons and guard Markelle Fultz, who both debuted in 2017-18. Brown originally joined the Spurs as a member of their basketball operations department in 1998-99 but left after the season to become the Head Coach of the Sydney Kings of the Australian National Basketball League (NBL). He re-joined the Spurs in July of 2002 as the team's Assistant Coach/Director of Player Development and was moved to the bench as an assistant coach prior to the 2006-07 season. A native of Maine, Brown played at South Portland High School for his father Bob Brown, who is a New England Basketball Hall of Famer. The younger Brown went on to attend Boston University where he played under Rick Pitino. Brown was named team MVP his sophomore year and served as team captain his final two seasons, helping the Terriers reach the NCAA Tournament as a senior in 1983. For his career, Brown posted an assist-to-turnover ratio of 2.19 and left ranked fourth in school history in assists (404). In 2013, Brown joined his father as an inductee into both the New England and Maine Basketball Halls of Fame. In addition to his time with the Spurs, Brown has a wealth of coaching experience in Australia, where he met and married his wife, Anna. He started as an assistant coach with the Melbourne Tigers under Lindsay Gaze, a member of both the Australian and FIBA Halls of Fame. Brown was named Head Coach of the North Melbourne Giants in 1993 and earned NBL Coach of the Year honors in 1994 after leading the Giants to the National Championship. Including his return to the NBL for three seasons with the Sydney Kings in 1999, Brown amassed 149 career coaching victories, sixth-most in league history. In March of 2009, Brown was named Head Coach of the Australian National Team. He had previously served as an assistant for eight years, including both the 1996 and 2000 Olympic Games as well as the 1998 World Championships. Brown led Australia to the FIBA Oceania Championship over rival New Zealand in 2011 to secure a bid to the 2012 Olympics. At the London games in 2012, Brown guided Australia to what many consider one of its best Olympic runs, culminating with a win over eventual bronze medalist Russia before being eliminated by Team USA in the quarterfinals. Overall, Australia compiled a 3-3 mark without the services of injured star Andrew Bogut. Brown and his wife Anna have been married for over 20 years and have two daughters, Julia and Laura, and a son, Sam.

Originally chosen with the No. 24 overall pick in the 1994 NBA Draft, Williams averaged 6.3 points, 2.8 rebounds, 1.2 assists and 16.7 minutes in 456 career games with New York, San Antonio, Denver, Orlando and Philadelphia. He was an honorable mention All-American at Notre Dame after averaging 22.4 points and 8.4 rebounds during his senior season. At the 2017 NBA Awards, he was named the recipient of the inaugural Sager Strong Award. A graduate of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana, he earned his degree from the school's College of Arts and Letters, majoring in communications and theatre. Tasked with the goal of rejuvenating the sales and branding operations for one of sports most storied franchises, Heck endeavored to fuse the legendary 76ers heritage with the spirit of the new Philadelphia fan. Under his supervision, Heck led the 76ers to a No. 1 ranking in new season ticket memberships and doubled the new season ticket member fan base, while maintaining a top-five ranking in the National Basketball Association's season ticket member customer service surveys. The 76ers, with Heck serving as lead, redefined NBA playoff campaigns when it unveiled "Phila Unite" for the 2018 NBA Playoffs. For the postseason, the team adopted a redesigned logo, which combined the bell logo, inspired by imagery from Philadelphia's 1976 bicentennial celebration, and the segmented snake, a hidden feature on the team's 2017-18 City Edition uniform that was derived from Benjamin Franklin's historically-significant political cartoon of 1754, and encouraged the city to unite as one for the 76ers playoff run. As part of the campaign, 'Phila Unite' logo decals, murals, banners and flags were spread throughout the city, garnering national media coverage. The 2017-18 City Edition uniforms, designed by Heck's staff with an off-white coloring inspired by the Declaration of Independence, were recognized near the top of ESPN's rankings, while ESPN's Zach Lowe rated the 76ers No. 1 in his annual League Pass rankings ahead of the 2018-19 season. With Heck's guidance, the 76ers sold the five largest partnerships in franchise history, increased corporate partnerships by 30 percent annually and established Patriot Partner and Training Complex founding partnerships. Further, the 76ers now have partners internationally in Europe, Australia and China as the team's brand continues to grow across the globe. Heck played a critical role in groundbreaking initiatives that solidified the 76ers' place as an innovative force in the industry today. COMMUNITY

2018-19 SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY PLATFORMS

The 76ers believe that by fostering a bold and gutsy positive attitude, and nurturing devotion and commitment to a productive goal, young people can achieve their own personal greatness. Whatever endeavor they choose to pursue can be honed, crafted and developed. We are committed to fostering positive change in the lives of young people living in Philadelphia and Camden both in the classroom and on the court.

The motto we encourage for all those involved in our programs is: "I won't let others predict my future — I will invent my future, I will create my success."

OUR VISION

The 76ers envision communities where all children have the opportunity to create, pursue and realize their dreams, and live productive lives.

OUR MISSION

To use the power of sport to inspire and educate future generations in the communities where our fans live, work and play.

OVERVIEW

Our social responsibility efforts consist of three pillars: the Sixers Youth Foundation, the Wilt Chamberlain Memorial Fund and the Community Relations initiatives of the Philadelphia 76ers.

COMMUNITY

OUR PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES

SIXERS YOUTH FOUNDATION

The Sixers Youth Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization committed to using the power and influence of sports to help underserved and vulnerable youth in Philadelphia and Camden develop the life-success skills they need to succeed. We invest our resources in neighborhood-based programs that capture the attention and enthusiasm of young people in measurable ways, which foster academic achievement and support behaviors regarding their personal health and wellness.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN MEMORIAL FUND

The Wilt Chamberlain Memorial Fund encourages and supports the college and career pursuits of high school students with financial needs in the Greater Philadelphia Area.

Since 2005, the Fund has awarded more than 70 scholarships in Wilt Chamberlain's honor to area high school seniors, who not only embody the Hall of Famer's values of hard work and ambition, but also demonstrate a commitment to helping and serving others. The WCMF also proudly supports college preparatory initiatives that provide students with pathways toward their higher education goals.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Through a strategic Community Relations effort, the 76ers connect to fans and communities by investing resources in ways that are inspiring, engaging and informative. Events and activities are designed to support the academic achievements as well the healthy mindsets and behaviors we want our young fans to develop and cultivate. Complementing this work are the 10,000+ volunteer hours provided by our employees, players and coaching staff throughout the season.

PROGRAMS & INITIATIVES

AUTISM INCLUSION

This year, the 76ers and The Center received a designation as a "sensory-inclusive venue" from NBA partner KultureCity. More than 80% of the 76ers and Center employees are now trained on how to best respond to fans' special sensory needs during our home games. Guests also have access to sensory kits that provide tools and resources for those who may be overwhelmed by the game experience. In addition, the 76ers host an annual Bounce Out the Stigma youth basketball clinic led by 76ers Head Coach Brett Brown and local youth coach "Mighty Mike" Simmel.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH, PRESENTED BY PECO

Every February, the Philadelphia 76ers celebrated Black History Month and continue to further the organization's commitment to diversity and inclusion for all. By focusing on our communities' young leaders, the 76ers strive to positively impact those who will be making history in the future. The team also dedicates a home game in February to recognize African American leaders in the Greater Philadelphia Area.

FIT6

NBA FIT is the league's comprehensive health and wellness platform that encourages everyone to "Be Active, Eat Healthy and Play Together." In support of this, the 76ers are launching the 76ers Combine at one local school, in which youth will participate in four skills and drills. Two months later, the youth will be re-tested on the same activities and one champion will be crowned per age and gender bracket. In addition, the 76ers will also host five Fit6 clinics at local schools to engage the students and share messages of healthy habits.

MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. DAY

Volunteer service and giving back are both at the heart of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day and the 76ers organization. The 76ers will honor the work and legacy of Dr. King with special in-arena video presentations recognizing his local impact and encouraging volunteer service. Prior to the home game on MLK Day, the 76ers will deploy volunteers toward a local service project in an effort to give back. Volunteers who have made a difference in our communities will be invited to attend the game and be honored on-court for their tremendous impact.

PLAYER AND COACH INITIATIVES

Throughout the course of the season, the 76ers help support and amplify the causes and organizations that are of interest to players and coaches. Every fall, 76ers head coach Brett Brown presents a coaching clinic for area youth basketball coaches. This outreach initiative aims to cultivate the local basketball coaching community by providing resources and sharing ideas to becoming better coaches. The fourth edition of this annual event welcomed close to 1,000 attendees.

In addition, the 76ers have worked with players such as guard-forward Ben Simmons, guard Markelle Fultz, forward-center Joel Embiid and forward Robert Covington to assist in helping them give back to our local communities through holiday shopping sprees, winter coat drives, group visits to a game, as well as monetary donations to local organizations.

WALK IN MY SHOES

Furthering the 76ers dedication to mentorship, the team operate a unique mentoring program that pairs local youth with 76ers players. CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, New Jersey, won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on Aug. 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

2017-PRESENT: 2017 brought on an updated look for the Philadelphia 76ers, with the unveiling of the teams new Icon Edition (Blue), Association Edition (White), Statement Edition (Red) uniforms. The new Icon and Association uniforms introduced a hard-red drop-shadow behind the iconic "PHILA" lettering and player numbers. The new designs also include the words "Brotherly Love" embroidered in gold on the bottom of each jersey, drawing inspiration from the Greek translation for "Philadelphia." The Statement uniform displays "Sixers" in cursive across the uniform's chest plate. The cursive writing serves as a salute to the signing of the Declaration of Independence. 2017 also ushered in the 2 ½ -by-2 ½ -inch StubHub jersey patch as part of the team's first jersey sponsorship, the first of its kind in major American sports history. The StubHub patch appears on every 76ers jersey.

2015-2017: On June 18, 2015, the Sixers revealed new home (white), road (blue) and alternate (red) uniforms which were designed using elements from different eras in franchise history. "PHILA" is emblazoned across the chest of the home and road jerseys as a homage to the 1966-67 Championship team. The alternate red jersey has "SIXERS" sprawled across the front, to honor the 1982-83 Championship team. All three uniforms are decorated with a column of stars down each side in the fashion of the 1976-77 uniforms. Each jersey also has the phrase "PHILA TOUGH" sewn into the waist-level hem, visible only to the players prior to being tucked in 2009-2015: Prior to the 2009-10 season, the Sixers re-designed their uniform to feature the team's new primary "76ers basketball" logo with the red, white and blue color scheme. Trimmed in blue and red, the team will wear white uniforms with blue lettering and red numbers at home. On the road, the team will wear red uniforms, trimmed with blue and white, that feature white lettering and numbers. In the summer of 2010, the uniforms underwent some minor revisions, including blue piping added around the neck and shoulders among other aesthetic details. The Sixers also debuted an alternate blue uniform in the 2012-13 season opener.

2007-2009: Both the Sixers home and road jerseys underwent a bit of a facelift in the summer of 2007. Influenced by the secondary red road uniform, which was introduced the previous season, the home and road designs featured a refined rapping stretching from the jersey to the shorts. The material itself was also completely overhauled, as the new fabric was adidas clima-cool flatback mesh on the front with open-holed metallic stretchair fabrication on the back and in key venting zones through the front of the shoulders.

2007-2009: During the 2006-07 season, the 76ers unveiled a new second road uniform with red as the predominant color accented by the team's other official colors of white, blue, black, silver and gold. Produced by adidas, the jerseys featured a new "PHILA" wordmark across the front in a design similar to the team's primary logo, as well as blue and white striping around the V-neck. The red shorts are adorned with the Sixers secondary logo above a blue accent on the side of the left leg.

1999-2006: Philadelphia added a new second road uniform during the 1999-00 season. The blue jersey sports a stylish new cut that's full of tradition from the great Sixers teams of the 1960's and 1970's. Trimmed in red and black, the jersey featured the "SIXERS" wordmark on the front with white numbers trimmed in red.

1997-2007: Prior to the 1997-98 season, the Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.

1997-2007: Prior to the 1997-98 season, the Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.

1994-1997: This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured "SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991-94: The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978-91: The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

1977-1978: The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

1976-1977: Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76: SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

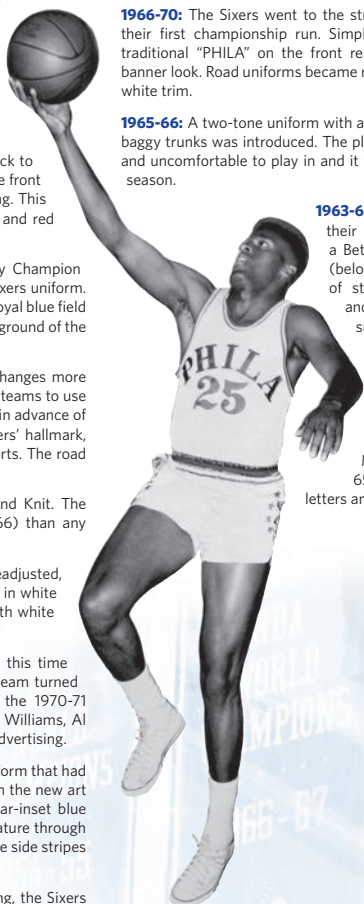

1970-71: With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turnaround times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70: The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66: A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65: The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform (below). Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

* Early draft records are incomplete, so until 1956 players are listed alphabetically.

Beginning in 1957, the draft is recorded round-by-round. To enable teams to take advantage of the regional popularity of college stars, they were given the option of forfeiting their first-round pick and instead selecting, before the start of the draft, a player from the franchise's immediate geographical area. These "territorial picks," as they were known, are not factored in to the overall selection count of the draft. The territorial option was in effect through 1965.

ALL-TIME ROSTER

ALL-TIME ROSTER

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

* Denotes that a player played for more than one team during that particular season and the team-by-team breakdown was not available. Each respective stat line is reflective of the entire season's statistics, which also affects the player's total stat lines.

(n) Denotes years played in the NBL with Syracuse, before the Nationals joined the NBA in 1949-50. NBL statistics are factored in to individual NBA totals, but do not affect team statistics/records.
