IN MEMORIAM

GORDON "SCOTTY" STIRLING

July 6, 1929 – November 11, 2015

NEW YORK, Nov. 11, 2015 – The NBA is saddened to announce the passing of Gordon "Scotty" Stirling, a former NBA vice president of operations and a longtime NBA team executive and scout. Stirling died today in Sacramento, Calif., at age 86.

"Scotty was a highly regarded league executive who dedicated more than 35 years of his life to our game," said NBA Commissioner Adam Silver. "He exuded passion for basketball and worked tirelessly in front-office roles with the Golden State Warriors, New York Knicks, Sacramento Kings, and the ABA's Oakland Oaks. Scotty also set a high standard as the NBA's vice president of operations. With his vast knowledge and keen eye for talent, he earned the respect of his peers and colleagues. We extend our deepest sympathies to Scotty's wife, Pam, and the Stirling family."

Stirling spent 27 years with the Kings from 1987-2013, including 24 seasons as scouting director. During his tenure, Sacramento drafted three-time NBA All-Star Peja Stojakovic, Hedo Turkoglu, the NBA's first Turkish-born player, and 2009-10 NBA Rookie of the Year Tyreke Evans.

Before joining the Kings, Stirling was the Knicks' general manager from 1986-87. He accepted the position with New York after serving as the NBA's vice president of basketball operations for three seasons and as the assistant to the Warriors' president from 1976-82. Stirling was also general manager of the 1968-69 ABA champion Oaks.

Stirling transitioned to the NBA after a stint as general manager of professional football's Oakland Raiders, a team he had covered for the Oakland Tribune, and with whom he won the 1967 AFL title. His career in media also included a pioneering tenure as a sports-talk radio host in the Bay Area, and he is widely credited with helping to develop the concept of fantasy football.

A U.S. Army veteran, Stirling earned a B.S. from the University of San Francisco and an M.A. in Sports Management from Adelphi University. In 2012, he was inducted into the El Cerrito High School Hall of Fame for his contributions to Bay Area sports.

Stirling is survived by his wife, Pam; three sons, Gordon, Donald, a member of the Utah Jazz organization, and Kevin; a sister, Helen Boak, and a brother, Archie Stirling; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a brother, John T. Stirling.

MEDIA INFORMATION

TO THE MEDIA: Welcome to the 32nd season of Kings basketball in Sacramento and to the brand new Golden 1 Center. The Kings media relations department will do everything possible to assist in your coverage of the club during the 2016-17 NBA season. If we can ever be of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, we have established the following media guidelines.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game press credentials can be reserved by accredited media members via e-mail (credentials@kings.com) until 48 hours prior to the requested game (no exceptions). Media members covering the Kings on a regular basis will be issued season credentials, but are still required to reserve seating for all games via email at credentials@kings.com to the media relations office by the above mentioned deadline. Credentials will allow working media members entry into Golden 1 Center, while also providing reserved press seating, and access to both team locker rooms and the media press room. In all cases, credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from Golden 1 Center and forfeiture of the credential. All single-game credentials may be picked-up two hours in advance of tip-off at the media check-in table, located near 7th and David J. Stern Walk at the Media entrance of Golden 1 Center.

PRESS ROOM: The Kings press room is located on the Northeast side of Golden 1 Center on the event level and will be opened two hours prior to game time. Admittance/space is limited to working media members with credentials only. The press room will remain open throughout the game and until the last working media member has finished his/her game night duties. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters, and game personnel. Family members and guests will not be admitted in the press room. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in forfeiture of your pass. Television monitors, internet service, and work space will be provided in the press room.

LOCKER ROOMS: The Kings locker room is located on the South side of the Arena on the event level. The visitor's locker room is located on the North side of the Arena on the event level. In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms will be open for 30 minutes, ending 45 minutes before the game (i.e. 6:15 - 6:45 p.m. for a 7:30 game). Additionally, the locker room will be open 15 minutes after the game for access to players. Only those individuals with prominently displayed credentials will gain admittance into the locker rooms. Your cooperation and courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

INTERVIEWS: As stated above, pregame interviews are allowed until 45 minutes prior to game time. Postgame interviews are conducted as follows: The Kings Head Coach (in the press conference room) and visiting team coach (near opposing locker room) will address media members approximately 10 minutes after the game, while the players will be made available in their respective locker rooms. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

TELEVISION/RADIO: Television broadcast positions are located directly behind the scorers' table on the East sideline. Radio broadcast positions are located at the top of the lower level in section 106. The Kings' media relations department will arrange statisticians for all radio and television broadcasters. If statisticians are needed, please contact the media relations department at least 72 hours prior to game time. Once arrangements are made for statisticians, the individual must be paid whether or not they are used. The media relations department will also arrange pregame, halftime, and postgame interviews according to NBA guidelines. Please make arrangements for those interviews as early as possible.

MEDIA SEATING: Reserved media seating has been designated on the scorers' table and in sections 104, 105 and 106. All seats are reserved and marked with place cards for each individual media member. Seating charts are posted at the media check-in desk and in the press room. Individuals are asked to sit in their pre-assigned seats. Electrical outlets are placed on press row for your convenience. Statistics and out of town scores will be distributed throughout the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Limited designated spaces are available on each baseline for both still photographers and television camera persons. All other credentialed photographers can shoot from our secondary position in section 107. All photographers are required to pick up photo passes upon arrival at the media check-in desk before entering Golden 1 Center. Photographers without photo passes will not be allowed on the arena floor.

MEDIA PARKING: Media members are asked to park in the West Garage on L Street between 3rd and 4th.

SERVICES: A pregame media meal with beverages will be served in the press room. Game notes will be available in the press room before the start of the game. In addition, play-by-play sheets, halftime-quarter boxscores, and postgame quotes and notes will be available in the press room following the game. Box scores and play-by-play sheets will be delivered in a prompt manner to press row at the end of each quarter. If there is anything else that we can do to assist your coverage of the Kings this NBA season, please do not hesitate to ask.

KINGS OWNERSHIP

VIVEK RANADIVÉ

Kings Owner

Vivek Ranadivé is the owner and chairman of the Sacramento Kings. He is an entrepreneur, technology visionary, New York Times best-selling author and philanthropist recognized for his innovative thinking.

As a technology entrepreneur, he pioneered the use of real-time event processing software and created TIBCO, a multibillion dollar software company. In addition to digitizing Wall Street, his software became the central nervous system for most of the world's largest companies and government agencies. He is known as "Mr. Real Time" which defines his belief that by getting the right information to the right place at the right time, you can make the world a better place.

Ranadivé is a longtime basketball fan, which started when he coached his daughter's middle school team. His coaching success was highlighted in a New Yorker magazine article by Malcolm Gladwell, as an example of innovators who win big by doing the unexpected and breaking the rules.

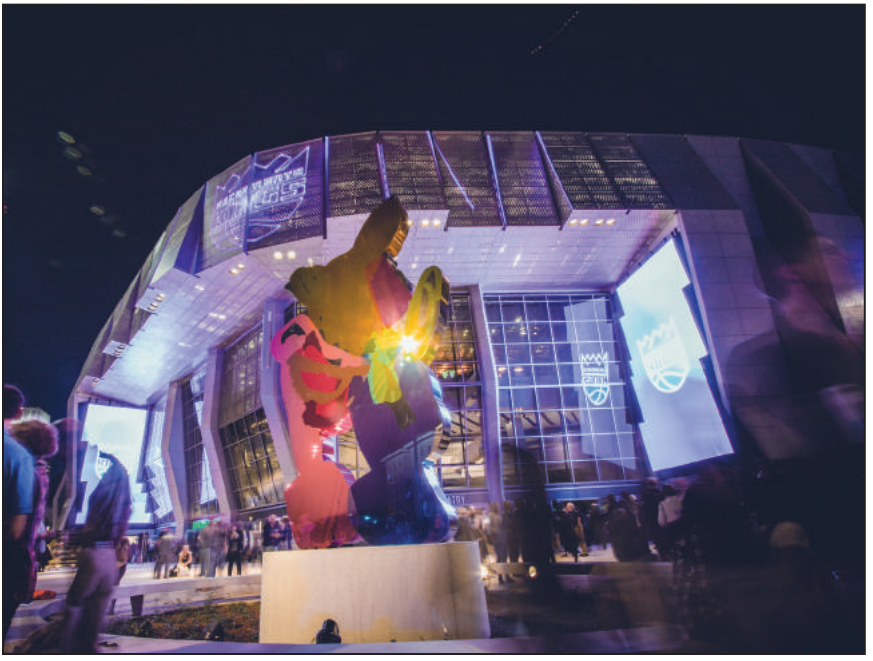

He started his foray into professional basketball when he became the co-owner and vice chairman of the Golden State Warriors NBA franchise in 2010.

In 2013, he became the first Indian majority owner of an NBA team when he purchased the Sacramento Kings, securing the team's future in California's capital city. Under Ranadivé's leadership, the Kings are investing $1 billion in the downtown area, creating thousands of jobs, revitalizing the region and building the next great American city.

At the heart of the investment is Golden 1 Center, the new home of the Sacramento Kings. This 21st-century coliseum is the greenest and most technologically advanced arena in the world. Golden 1 Center is 100 percent solar powered and is the first sports venue in the world to earn LEED Platinum certification making it a model for innovative solutions to environmental challenges.

In 2016, Ranadivé founded venture capital fund Bow Capital in partnership with the University of California to invest in value-driven startups, many emerging from the UC system. The fund will help entrepreneurs who are using technology to create companies that advance society and make the world a better place.

As a young boy in his native Bombay, Ranadivé listened to the moon landing on the radio and was inspired at the age of 16 to leave India for Cambridge, Massachusetts. After earning both Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Electrical Engineering from MIT, he earned an MBA at Harvard where he was a Baker Scholar.

KINGS OWNERSHIP

KINGS EXECUTIVES

VLADE DIVAC

Vice President of Basketball Operations and General Manager

Vlade Divac begins his second season as the Kings Vice President of Basketball Operations and General Manager after being hired on March 3, 2015 as the team's vice president of basketball and franchise operations.

One of the most respected and revered individuals in franchise history, Divac returns to Sacramento having spent more than a decade serving the NBA and international sporting communities with the same distinction that solidified his reputation as a consummate teammate, player, humanitarian and overall difference-maker on and off the basketball court.

Divac, 48, has served in a variety of administrative and leadership roles since retiring from professional basketball in 2007. In addition to his philanthropic efforts focused on helping children in his native country and other reaches of the globe, he was named President of the Serbian Olympic Committee in 2009. Under his guidance, Serbian athletes have enjoyed greater success and the country is experiencing a resurgence on the international stage.

In 16 NBA campaigns with Los Angeles, Charlotte and Sacramento, Divac averaged 11.8 points, 8.2 rebounds, 3.1 assists, 1.1 steals, and 1.4 blocks per game over 1,134 contests. He is only one of four players in league annals to accrue at least 13,000 points, 9,000 rebounds, 3,000 assists, 1,200 steals and 1,600 blocked shots, joining Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Hakeem Olajuwon and Kevin Garnett with that distinction. His six seasons in a Kings uniform marked the most successful period in team history, including a league-high 61 wins in 2001-02 and a trip to the Western Conference Finals. His name adorns the franchise record book in several key categories, ranking third all-time during the Sacramento-era in rebounds (3,538) and blocked shots (523), ninth in points scored (5,176), seventh with 454 games played, eighth in free throws made (1,209) and eighth in steals (453). Divac's jersey was retired by the Kings in 2009.

KEN CATANELLA

Assistant General Manager

Ken Catanella begins his first season as the Kings new assistant general manager. He collaborates with General Manager Vlade Divac and assists in the management of all day-to-day basketball operations, including all player-related matters such as the draft, free agency, trades, and the team's strategic plan. He has more than 17 years of experience in NBA, NCAA, and international basketball leagues where he has played, coached and managed basketball teams at nearly every level.

Catanella joins the Kings after enjoying a successful run over the last five years with the Detroit Pistons, including the last two seasons as the team's assistant general manager. During his tenure, he played a prominent role in the front office of a club that underwent a significant turnaround to one of the NBA's rising young teams.

He joined the Pistons after several years at the NBA League Office, where he directed the NBA's salary cap and basketball analytics efforts. He also was part of the NBA league office working group that served the NBA Labor Relations Committee in negotiating the league's 2011 CBA with the National Basketball Players Association.

Prior to his time with the League Office, Catanella led the analytics efforts of the New Jersey Nets and managed the creation and implementation of the Nets' statistical scouting systems. He also advised the team's front office and ownership by evaluating domestic and international player personnel as well as formulating the team's strategic financial plan alongside the team's general manager.

DAVE JOERGER
Head Coach

Dave Joerger begins his first season as the Sacramento Kings head coach after being named on May 9, 2016, becoming the franchise's 28th head coach and the 17th since the team moved to Sacramento.

Joerger joins the Kings after spending the previous nine years with the Memphis Grizzlies, the last three as their head coach. After being named the Grizzlies' 12th head coach on June 27, 2013, Joerger accrued a 147-99 regular season mark (.598) and guided the franchise to postseason berths in each of his seasons at the helm. Following three straight 50-win campaigns for the first time in club history (2012-13 thru 2014-15), two under Joerger, Memphis again qualified for the playoffs despite injuries which forced the team to dress a league-record 28 players in 2015-16. Until then, no NBA team had reached the playoffs utilizing 24 or more athletes on its roster in a single season.

Joerger posted the best record among the NBA's 10 first-year head coaches in 2013-14 while tying Hubie Brown (2003-04) for the most wins in Grizzlies franchise history by a head coach in his first full campaign. Joerger achieved his 100th career head coaching win on March 23, 2014 and was the fastest among active NBA coaches (153 games coached) to reach 100 career victories as of the start of the 2015- 16 season (and is now only behind Golden State's Steve Kerr).

Since his initial hire prior to the 2007-08 season, Joerger has shaped the Grizzlies' identity into an NBA-best defensive unit that led the league in points allowed (89.3 ppg) in the 2012-13 season and paced the Western Conference for three consecutive seasons from 2011-14. With Joerger as the lead assistant from 2011-13, Memphis set franchise records for regular season winning percentage (2012-13, .683) and recorded second-place finishes in the Southwest Division, both club bests. In the postseason, Memphis upset the top-seeded San Antonio Spurs in the opening round of the 2011 NBA Playoffs, the team's first playoff series victory, and advanced to the 2013 Western Conference Finals two years later.

Joerger earned Western Conference Coach of the Month honors for January 2013 as the Grizzlies went a league-best 12-3 during the month while leading the league in fewest points allowed (91.3 ppg). Memphis again won 12 games in March, marking the first time in franchise history that the team had two 12-win calendar months during the same season. Joerger was again named Western Conference Coach of the Month in April 2013 after Memphis went 6-2 during the month and finished the season on a five-game winning streak while clinching a playoff berth. He earned his third monthly honor in October/November 2014 after leading the Grizzlies to an NBA-best 15-2 record to open the 2014-15 season.

Prior to entering the NBA ranks, Joerger won accolades as one of the most successful minor league coaches in history, piloting five teams to championships in three different basketball leagues in seven seasons from 2000-07. Demonstrating strong player development skills, Joerger sent 18 of his players to the NBA during his time in the minor leagues. By the time he was hired by the Grizzlies as an assistant coach in 2007, Joerger had collected titles in the NBA Development League, CBA (Continental Basketball Association) and IBL (International Basketball League).

Before earning his first NBA assistant coaching job with the Grizzlies, Joerger gained fame as head coach of the 2007 NBA Development League Champion Dakota Wizards. Dakota's 2007 championship marked Joerger's fifth as a head coach after winning one International Basketball Association (IBA) title and three more in the Continental Basketball Association (CBA). Joerger owns two CBA Coach of the Year Awards (2002, 2004) and a head coaching record of 232-117 (.665) in the minor leagues.

After finishing his playing career at Moorhead State, Joerger got his start as Dakota's general manager when the franchise was a member of the IBA. He received his first opportunity on the sidelines as an assistant coach during the 1997-98 season. After three years as an assistant, Joerger succeeded Duane Ticknor (now a Kings assistant coach) as head coach and led the Wizards to the 2001 IBA Championship. The Wizards moved to the CBA the following season, where Joerger led them to CBA titles in 2002 and 2004.

During the summer of 2004, Joerger became head coach of the Sioux Falls Skyforce and proceeded to win the 2005 CBA Championship, his fourth title in five years, giving him more minor league championships than other notable minor-league-turned-NBA head coaches Phil Jackson, George Karl, Flip Saunders and Eric Musselman combined. Joerger returned to Dakota, now in the D-League, in 2006 and guided the Wizards to a league-best 33- 17 record (.660) before winning his second championship with the organization.

Joerger and his wife, Kara, are the parents of two daughters, Alli and Kiana.

FRANCHISE HISTORY

SACRAMENTO KINGS MEDIA GUIDE

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The Sacramento Kings begin their third season under a group led by Owner Vivek Ranadivé. The group succeeds the Maloof family, who sold the franchise in Spring 2013.

The latest chapter in the franchise's ownership history began to take shape in April 2013 when the NBA's Relocation Committee unanimously recommended that the league's Board of Governors deny the application of the team to relocate to Seattle, Washington. The passion, will and vision Ranadive's group expressed for the future of the Kings in Sacramento lead the league's Board of Governors to unanimously approve the sale of the team on May 28, 2013.

The Maloof family had owned the team for 14 seasons after taking control of the Kings and ARCO Arena on July 1, 1999. The Maloofs succeeded Jim Thomas, who had owned the franchise since April 6, 1992.

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA) and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. On January 15, 1999, the Maloofs subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board.

LES HARRISON

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The team was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

A group of 10 Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructured so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg, and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the Kansas City ownership group.

On June 8, 1983, the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick, and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings' Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd at the temporary ARCO Arena site.

LES HARRISON — BASKETBALL PIONEER

The Sacramento Kings organization would like to pay tribute to the late Les Harrison who passed away in December of 1997 at the age of 93. As owner, general manager, and coach, Harrison was the driving force behind the Rochester Royals in the early days of the National Basketball League (NBL). In three seasons in the NBL, Harrison led the Royals to a 99-43 record, three NBL finals, and league titles in 1946 and 1947. With the signing of Dolly King in 1946, Harrison played a role in breaking the minority barrier in professional basketball. Following the 1948-49 season, in which the Royals played in the Basketball Association of America (BAA), Harrison led the effort to merge the NBL and BAA into the current National Basketball Association (NBA). Under Harrison's direction, the Royals won the franchise's lone NBA title in 1951, defeating the New York Knickerbockers 4-3 in the Finals. Harrison posted a .620 winning percentage (295-181) in seven NBA seasons, which ranks ninth all-time in the league entering this season. In a crowning achievement to his career, Harrison was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

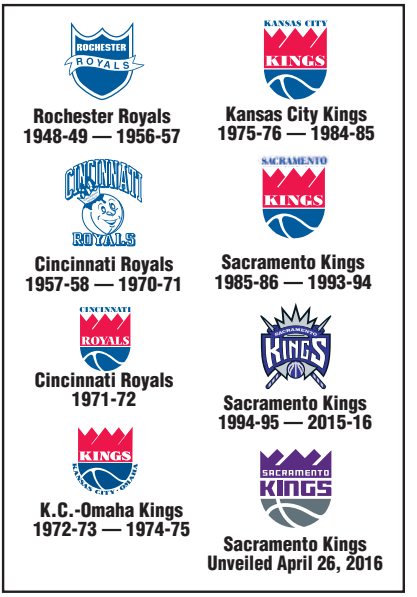

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled a new primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati.

On April 26, 2016, the Kings shared a new brand identity with fans during a special preview of Golden 1 Center, the team's future downtown home currently under construction.

"When the Kings moved to Sacramento in 1985, the city was transformed. Today, we aim to do it again," said Owner and Chairman Vivek Ranadivé. "This brand kicks off a new era for our franchise as we move into the most technologically-advanced, most environmentally-friendly arena in the world. As Sacramento becomes the next great American city, this identity honors our heritage while moving us forward."

A chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 68-season history.

The new primary emblem is inspired by the Kings classic logo. It is reimagined to reflect the civic and franchise pride that has lasted and grown for a generation. Now, with a clean, modern look – a reshaped crown, refined basketball and new typeface that puts Sacramento front and center – the new identity draws from the team's ambitious beginnings and reminds our region and the world that Sacramento is undergoing a transformation.

Each of the team's new insignia are designed to connect to the elements that define the Sacramento Kings: Our City. Our Pride. Our Foundation.

The secondary logo featuring the lion, pays tribute to the unmatched pride and loyalty of the NBA's best fans. The "Sac" badge is dedicated to the bold and unwavering devotion the Kings organization has for its city. A new crown logo reflects the rich tradition of the team dating back to its origins, reminding the fanbase and the community of Sacramento that, "we are all Kings." The heralding lion crest represents leadership and strength and will be used as the Kings work to make basketball the premier global sport of the 21st century.

Head Coach Bill Russell, with a 17-41 record, was named vice president of basketball operations, Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named head coach, and General Manager Joe Axelson was named vice president of business operations. Reynolds immediately chose former Kings coach Phil Johnson as his assistant. That evening, the Kings defeated the Denver Nuggets, 116-114, in overtime at ARCO Arena.

Team Notes

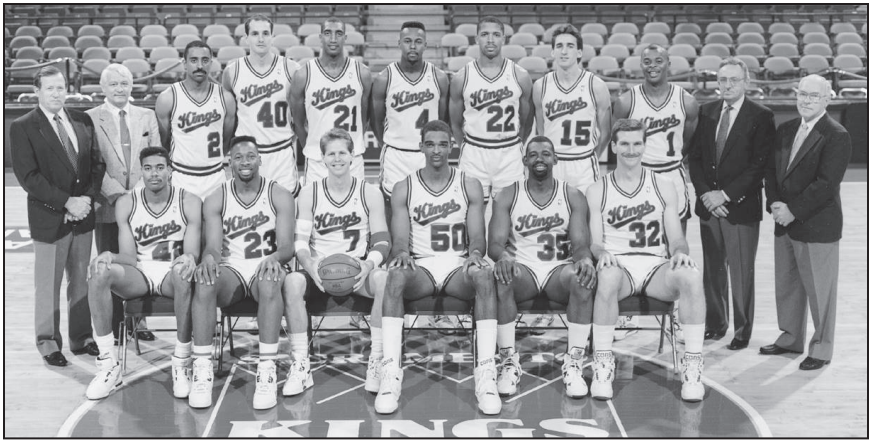

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall) and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also avearging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start in an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

Team Notes

- Kings registered a 39-43 regular-season record, marking the franchise's most victories in a season since 1982-83 (45-37). Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed advancing to the NBA Playoffs by just one game after falling 102-89 at Denver (4/23/95) on the final day of the regular season in a winner-take-all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference Playoff berth.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 22.8 ppg, 4.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, and 1.11 spg. Richmond's 22.8 ppg led all guards in scoring and ranked eighth in the NBA.

- Richmond was named MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference to a 139-112 victory over the East. The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance is the third best in All-Star history.

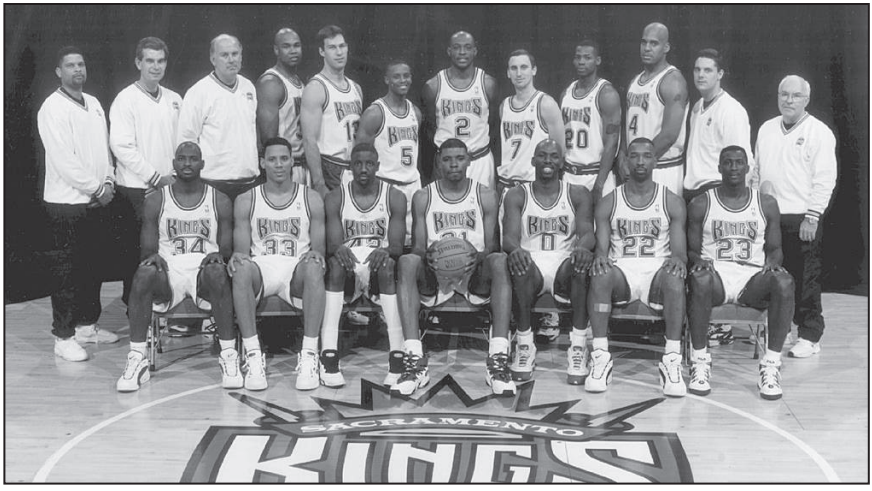

- Forward Brian Grant was named to the NBA's First-Team All-Rookie squad, averaging 13.2 ppg (.511 FG%), 7.5 rpg, and 1.45 bpg. Grant earned Schick Rookie of the Month honors for January after averaging 15.8 ppg (.511 FG%), 9.7 rpg, and 2.13 bpg in helping lead the Kings to a 9-6 mark.

Team Notes

- Paul Westphal, in his first season as head coach of the Kings, guided Sacramento to a fifth-place finish in the Pacific Division, compiling a 25-57 regular season record.
- Rookie Tyreke Evans, selected fourth overall in the 2009 NBA Draft, averaged a team-high 20.1 ppg, 5.3 rpg, a team-leading 5.8 apg, and 1.51 spg and became the first Kings player in the Sacramento era to win the NBA Rookie of the Year award.
- Sacramento ranked 10th in the NBA in rebounding (42.6 rpg), and third in offensive rebounding (11.9 orpg).
- The Kings rallied from a third-quarter 35-point deficit to defeat the Bulls, 102-98, at Chicago on December 21, 2009. It was the largest deficit to come back from and win since the Jazz overcame a 36-point deficit to beat the Nuggets on Nov. 27, 1996.

- Sacramento was ranked second in offensive rebounds per game (13.1 rpg) and fourth in rebounding overall (43.9 rpg).
- Rookie forward-center DeMarcus Cousins set a new Sacramento-era rookie record for most rebounds in a season (699), surpassing Lionel Simmons' mark of 697, set in 1990-91.
- Marcus Thornton, acquired along with cash considerations from New Orleans in exchange for forward Carl Landry on February 23, averaged 21.3 points (.450 FG%, .361 3pt%, .805 FT%), 4.7 rebounds, 3.4 assists, and 1.67 steals per game in 27 games with the Kings. Team Notes

- Kings finished fourth in the Pacific Division, compiling a 22-44 regular season record. Keith Smart was named head coach on January 5, 2012, replacing Paul Westphal after the first seven games of the lockout-shortened season. Sacramento posted a 16-17 home record, surpassing the 11-win home total in 2010-11.

- The Kings ranked second in the NBA in offensive rebounding (13.4 orpg), fifth in steals (8.50 spg), sixth in scoring (98.8 ppg), and 10th in rebounding (42.9 rpg). It marked the third straight season in which the Kings finished in the top 3 in offensive rebounding and top 10 in rebounding.

- Rookie Isaiah Thomas was named to the 2011-12 NBA All-Rookie Second Team. Thomas was named back-to-back Western Conference Rookie of the Month in February and March, becoming only the fourth Kings rookie in the Sacramento era to win the award.

- Marcus Thornton led the Kings in scoring (18.7 ppg), three-pointers made (107) and attempted (310), and free throw percentage (.865).

- DeMarcus Cousins ranked first in the NBA in offensive rebounding (4.1 orpg and 265 total offensive rebounds) and charges taken (47). His 11.0 rpg was tied with Kris Humphries for fourth in the NBA. Cousins recorded a team-high 36 double-doubles, sixth highest in the league.

Team Notes

- Kings Head Coach George Karl guided the Kings to a 33-49 record (18-23 home, 15-26 road) in their 31st season in Sacramento. The 33 wins were the most since the 2007-08 team won 38.
- The Kings were ranked third in scoring (106.6 ppg), fourth in assists (24.5 apg) and fifth in steals (8.94 spg).
- With the Golden 1 Center set to open prior to the 2016-17 season, the Kings played their final game in Sleep Train Arena, defeating the Oklahoma City Thunder, 114-112, on April 9, 2016.
- The 2015-16 Kings set new Sacramento-era records in three-point field goals made (660) and attempted (1,839) and two-point field goal percentage (.500).
- The Kings ended a 14-game losing streak to the Thunder in Oklahoma City with a 116-104 win on Jan. 4, 2016, and a 22-game losing streak to the Mavericks in Dallas thanks to a 104-101 decision on March 3, 2016.
- An All-Star Game appearance and an All-NBA Second Team nod for the second straight season, DeMarcus Cousins posted career-high averages in scoring (26.9 ppg), steals (1.55 spg) and minutes (34.6 mpg) while also averaging 11.5 rpg, 3.3 apg, 1.4 bpg. Among NBA leaders, Cousins ranked fourth in scoring, fifth in rebounding, sixth in double-doubles (47) and led all players in personal fouls drawn (8.9). Cousins recorded a career-high 56 points to set a new Sleep Train Arena record and a Sacramento-era record for most points in a game in a double-overtime loss to the Hornets on Jan. 25, 2016.

KINGS RETIRED JERSEYS

NATE ARCHIBALD

Nate "Tiny" Archibald played six of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. Selected by the Cincinnati Royals in the second round of the 1970 NBA Draft, Archibald starred in six NBA All-Star Games. The 6-1, 180 guard posted his best season in 1972-73, averaging a career-best 34.0 ppg and 11.4 apg, becoming the only player in NBA history to lead the league in both scoring and assists. Archibald was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1991.

MITCH RICHMOND

Mitch Richmond became the first player in Sacramento-era history to have his jersey retired (December 5, 2003). Richmond ranks among the top five in franchise history in points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, free throw percentage, steals, three-pointers made and attempted, and three-point field goal percentage. He became the first Sacramento King to be named to the All-Star Game, and earned the All-Star MVP award in 1995 after tallying 23 points in 22 minutes off the bench. Also while with Sacramento, Richmond represented the United States in the 1996 Olympics, winning a gold medal. On August 8, 2014, Richmond was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

CHRIS WEBBER

One of the most talented forwards to ever don a Kings jersey, Chris Webber helped the Kings reach the NBA Playoffs in six straight seasons (1998-99 - 2003-04), earn two back-to-back Pacific Division titles (2001-02, 2002-03) and record a franchise record 61 regular season wins in 2001-02. Acquired from Washington in exchange for Mitch Richmond and Otis Thorpe on May 14, 1998, Webber recorded 51 points and 26 rebounds on January 5, 2001 versus Indiana, both Sacramento-era single-game records. As a King, Webber was a four-time NBA All-Star and a five-time All-NBA Team selection. He averaged 23.5 ppg, 10.6 rpg, 4.8 apg, 1.51 spg and 1.47 bpg in 377 games with Sacramento. His jersey was lifted to the rafters on February 6, 2009 (Kings vs. Utah).

6TH MAN (THE FANS)

The No. 6 jersey was retired to acknowledge the support of the Kings fans. The Kings have two of the highest consecutive sellout streaks in NBA history. A sellout streak of 497 games still stands as the fourth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The milestone streak began on opening night in 1985, the first season the Kings played in Sacramento, and ended after the second game of the 1997-98 season. From November 26, 1999, to April 18, 2007, the Kings sold out 354 straight home contests, ranking eighth on the NBA's all-time sellout list.

BOBBY DAVIES

Bobby Davies, known as the Harrisburg Houdini, played all 10 of his NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals (1945-46 - 1954-55). His two free throws in the final 40 seconds of regulation broke a 75-75 tie in the seventh and deciding game of the 1951 NBA Finals against New York, helping to give the franchise its first and only NBA Championship. The four-time All-Star averaged 16.2 ppg, 2.9 rpg, and 6.0 apg in his best statisical season in 1951-52. A 6-1, 175 guard, Davies was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1969.

MAURICE STOKES

The 6-7, 240 forward played all three of his seasons for the franchise, playing his first two seasons with Rochester (1955-56 - 1956-57) and his last with Cincinnati (1957-58). In his first season, Stokes was named NBA Rookie of the Year and was named to the All-NBA Second Team after posting team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). An All-Star in all three seasons, Stokes averaged 16.4 ppg, 17.3 rpg, and 5.3 apg in 202 career games. His brillant career was cut short when he was diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center) after a fall suffered three days earlier in a game against the Minneapolis Lakers (3/12/58).

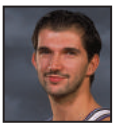

OSCAR ROBERTSON

Known as the Big O, Oscar Robertson displayed an uncanny all-around game, finishing his 12-year NBA career with 25.7 ppg, 7.5 rpg, and 9.5 apg in 1,040 career games. He played 10 of his 14 NBA seasons with the Cincinnati Royals. His best season came in 1961-62 when the 6-5, 210 guard averaged a triple double - 30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg. He averaged 30 or more points in six of his first seven seasons in the league and 10 or more assists in five of his first seven seasons. Robertson, who led the league in assists in six seasons, ranks among the NBA's all-time leaders in scoring (8th), assists (4th), and points (8th). The 12-time All-Star was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

PEJA STOJAKOVIC

Drafted by the Kings in the first round (14th overall) of the 1996 NBA Draft, Peja Stojakovic went on to play 13 NBA seasons, eight with Sacramento and finished his career as a three-time NBA All-Star, NBA Champion (2011 Dallas Mavericks) and the Kings' franchise leader in three-pointers made (1,070) and attempted (2,687) and free throw percentage (.893). He ranks in the top 10 in NBA history in several categories, including fourth in career free throw percentage (.895), ninth in three-pointers made (1,760), and seventh in playoff free throw percentage (.900). His #16 jersey was retired on December 16, 2014, during halftime of the Kings-Oklahoma City game.

VLADE DIVAC

Known for his craftiness on the court and his generosity off of it, Vlade Divac signed with the Kings as a free agent on January 22, 1999. Divac helped the Kings reach the NBA Playoffs in six straight seasons (1998-99 - 2003-04) while capturing two back-to-back Pacific Division titles (2001-02, 2002-03) and a franchise record 61 regular season wins in 2001-02. An All-Star in 2001, Divac played six of his 16 NBA seasons with the Kings, averaging 13.2 ppg, 7.8 rpg, 3.7 apg and 1.15 bpg in 454 games with Sacramento. He joined Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Hakeem Olajuwon as the only three players in NBA history to amass 13,000 points, 9,000 rebounds and 1,500 blocks in a career. His jersey was retired on March 31, 2009 (Kings vs. New Orleans).

JACK TWYMAN

A 6-6 guard from Cincinnati, Jack Twyman played all 11 of his NBA seasons with the Kings franchise, two coming in Rochester (1955-56 and 1956-57) and the other nine seasons (1957-58 - 1965-66) with his hometown team. Twyman averaged 14 or more points in his first 10 seasons and averaged 31.2 ppg, 8.9 rpg, and 3.5 apg during the 1959-60 regular season. In 1958-59, Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring, posting a 25.8 scoring average. Twyman twice scored 50 or more points in his career, including a 59-point performance versus Minneapolis (1/15/60), which still remains the Kings' franchise single-game scoring record. Among franchise career leaders, Twyman ranks second in points, field goals made and attempted, and free throws made and attempted. The Hall of Fame inducted the six-time All-Star guard in 1982.

SAM LACEY

Sam Lacey, a 6-10, 235 forward out of New Mexico State, played almost all of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. The first selection of the Royals in the 1970 NBA Draft, Lacey averaged a double-double in points and rebounds in his first six seasons in the league. Lacey stands as the franchise leader in games played (888) and rebounds (9,353). He also ranks in the top five in minutes played, points, field goals made, and field goals attempted.

A GAME 7 THRILLER FOR THE NBA TITLE

The Sacramento Kings' lone franchise NBA World Championship came in 1951 when the then-Rochester Royals defeated the New York Knickerbockers in seven games. Following is the game story and box score of the Royals' thrilling 79-75 Game 7 victory over the Knickerbockers as it appeared in the New York Times.

By Leonard Koppett

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21 — Proving once again that free throws are more important than field goals, the Rochester Royals won the National Basketball Association championship before 4,200 spectators at the arena tonight by beating the New York Knickerbockers, 79 to 75, in the seventh game of the final play-off series. The Royals had won the first three games, the Knicks the next three.

Just how completely dependent Rochester's victory was on its foul line steadiness is clear in the chronology and statistics of the game. Bob Davies broke a 75-all tie with forty-four seconds to play when he sank two free throws after being fouled by Dick McGuire while driving to the basket; and in all, the Royals made twenty-nine out of thirty-seven free-throw attempts while New York sank only seventeen out of twenty-five. The Knicks had four more baskets, twenty-nine to twenty-five.

The fouls brought about New York's defeat in another way, too. Both its centers, Nat Clifton and Connie Simmons, fouled out in the last quarter, when the Knicks took the lead for the first time after trailing by as much as fourteen points in the first half. Meanwhile Arnie Risen, Rochester's center who took top-scoring honors with 24 points and scored the deciding basket before Davies made his free throws, committed his fourth foul twenty-two minutes before the game ended and played unpenalized the rest of the way.

Clifton, Simmons Foul Out

With Clifton and Simmons out, the Knicks were unable to control the jump balls that followed each foul in the last three minutes, so that their doom was really sealed when Risen made his last basket. New York was ahead, 74 to 72, when Simmons fouled out with two minutes left. Risen made the toss, then jumped against Ernie Vandeweghe and, when Rochester got possession, Arnie's hook shot put the Royals ahead, 75 to 74. Boryla tied it up a moment later but Rochester then froze the ball until Davies drove in.

Before the final minutes, the Knickerbockers' made another of their typical comebacks that marked their play all season long. The most "overtime" club in the league, they qualified for the final by coming from behind in their final game against Syracuse, and, after losing the first three to Rochester, trailed in each of the three games they won.

Tonight, trying to perform the ultimate in comebacks, they started by falling behind, 13 to 3. By the end of the first quarter they were up to 22 to 16, but a few minutes later Rochester led, 32 to 18. The Knicks battled back to within four points but trailed, 40 to 36, at halftime.

Knicks Finally Take Lead

In the third quarter they climbed to within three, then two, and were behind, 62 to 60, entering the last quarter. They finally achieved a 69-all tie midway through the period and took the lead for the first time, 71 to 70, with four minutes to go. Both times Gallatin converted under-the-basket feeds from McGuire.

McGuire added a foul half a minute later and the teams alternated free throws until Simmons fouled out against Risen. Rochester's final basket, with two seconds left, was a lay-up by Coleman after a successful freeze had settled matters.

Lou Eisenstein and Stan Stutz, the officials, charged the Knicks with thirty-two personals and the Royals with twenty-two. Splitting each team's total evenly between the two halves. Very few fouls were called against Rochester, however, in the play under the boards, where the Royals emerged with a 48-to-41 edge in rebounds. Clifton's fifth personal was particularly unfortunate for the Knicks, since it came while Rochester was holding the ball at mid-court. He was called for bumping Risen while moving into position. A minute and a half later he fouled out.

Coaches Voice No Complaints

No complaints were voiced about the officials, however, either by Knick coach, Joe Lapchick, or Rochester coach, Les Harrison, who, after Rochester's loss in New York Wednesday, found Eisenstein unsatisfactory and asked that he be replaced for tonight's game.

By their victory, the Royals earned $7,500 to add to their previous winnings and wound up with $13,250 in play-off money to divide up. The Knicks finished with $2,500 less and the satisfaction-disappointment of one of basketball's greatest near-misses.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

The Sacramento Kings Community Impact Department and the Sacramento Kings Foundation

The Sacramento Kings are about much more than just basketball. By investing and aligning our time, resources, talent and passion, the Sacramento Kings Foundation gives our region the support they need to succeed, economically and emotionally. Because being a positive agent of change in our community is at the core of our ongoing efforts to #DoGood, impact the world and make Sacramento proud.

This season, the Sacramento Kings community efforts will continue to be disproportionately focused on three #DoGood priority areas: Health, Education and Sustainability.

2016 YEAR IN REVIEW

#DoGood Summit: The second annual Do Good Summit was hosted by the Kings Foundation for over 400 regional nonprofits to learn about the Kings Foundation, their #DoGood priorities, and opportunities to engage for the 16-17 NBA season around Health, Education and Sustainability.

Lead Inspire Flourish Thrive: The Sacramento Kings launched an organization-wide commitment to Lead, Inspire, Flourish and Thrive, LIFT, through volunteerism. The first companywide volunteer day with the American River Parkway Foundation netted over 300 lbs of garbage picked up from the William B. Pond Recreation Area. Kings staff cleaned up the river, bike and running trails, picnic areas and parking lots while refurbishing every picnic table in the park. Through this initiative each employee will be supported to volunteer at least 50 hours of their time over the next year, with the goal of reaching 10,000 hours of volunteer service to the region.

Kid Power: The Sacramento Kings partnered with the U.S. Fund for UNICEF to educate and inspire kids in Sacramento to get active and healthy while helping provide therapeutic food to malnourished children around the world. The four-week program resulted in 2,070 students in the greater Sacramento area accumulating 378,945,600 steps, ultimately providing 12,274 Ready-to-Use Therapeutic Food (RUTF) packets to starving children.

Math Hoops: The Sacramento Kings partnered with the Sacramento Bee to pilot a program to increase the math and computation skills of children 8 years old and up with a board game called Math Hoops. 10 school and community sites played Math Hoops for one month with a culminating March Madness tournament at the Sleep Train Arena. The Math Hoops champion team and teacher were honored at a Kings home game in celebration of their efforts and success.

Basketball Court Refreshes: Roosevelt Park, Nancy Lieberman's Mama Marks Park and Southside Park Courts: Using a proven community building solution, the Kings Foundation refreshed the basketball courts at three local parks in Sacramento. Providing updated equipment at open access community parks for more people to play basketball.

Season of Doing Good: During the holidays, the Sacramento Kings Foundation teamed up with corporate partners, players, coaches and staff to treat over 10,000 kids and families from more than 45 nonprofits organizations to a memorable holiday season. "Season of Doing Good" highlights include distributing 4,000 bicycles and 6,000 toys to youth; DeMarcus Cousins giving away a car to a family in need and hosting a shopping spree allowing kids to shop for themselves and their families; hosting a lunch and rally for relief workers, victims and dignitaries of the Butte Fire.

ROOT Community Gardens: This past season the Kings launched "ROOT", a community garden program that will change the way kids, families and adults interact with food that comes from the ground. The first-ever Kings garden was installed at the Sleep Train Arena Practice Facility for our Sports Performance Chef to prepare healthy meals for players using the freshest ingredients grown outside their door. Prior to this season, another ROOT garden was unveiled at The Salvation Army's E. Claire Raley Transitional Living Center in partnership with Raley's. This community garden will offer hundreds of residents the opportunity to grow and access fresh vegetables, fruits, herbs and participate in food literacy programs.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

OUR IMPACTS
During the 2015-16 season, the Sacramento Kings Foundation donated to, supported and connected with over 1,500 community based organizations through various programs. Over 800 unique items were donated to community based organizations resulting in a value of $356,300 in donated items.

Board Placement:
In the 2015-2016 year, 15 Sacramento Kings Executives were placed on various nonprofit board to support the mission and vision of those organizations.

Player Ticket Program: DeMarcus Cousins, Ben McLemore, Willie Cauley-Stein and Marco Belinelli purchased season tickets that were donated to nearly 4,000 youth and families from the Sacramento region. Those who received player tickets also received player specific cheer cards, T-shirts, concession vouchers and an occasional player meet and greet!

Community Ticket Program: Along with our Player Ticket Program, the Sacramento Kings supported 189 community based organizations by donating tickets to those who would never otherwise have the chance to attend a Kings game. During the 2015-2016 NBA Season, the Sacramento Kings donated more than 40,000 tickets to nearly 200 nonprofit organizations.

Player Appearances: Sacramento Kings players play a crucial role in connecting the organization to the community. Their ability to uplift communities, motivate and inspire kids, and positively impact families is tremendous. There were dozens of memorable player events and talent appearances that occurred over the course of the season, highlighted by:

•Omri Casspi and Darren Collison attended Kaiser's prom for cancer patients
•Ben McLemore provided families a grocery shopping spree during the holidays
•Quincy Acy helped revitalize a community garden in Oak Park
•Rajon Rondo granted a wish for a young boy with bone cancer – drove him to practice, included him in team picture day and hosted him courtside a game
•Caron Butler hosted lunch with dozens of Sacramento Police Department officers

KINGS NEXT to JUNIOR KINGS
Last year 3,981 kids learned, developed and played basketball through our Kings NEXT programs. Through camps, clinics and leagues children ages 6 -14 developed their basketball skills, improved their physical fitness, developed self-confidence and had some fun. Using the best local and national trainers, current and former Kings fan favorites, Sacramento's youth had the opportunity to participate in year-round camps, clinics, and other special events. This summer, the Kings NEXT program aligned its programming with the Jr. NBA's mission to teach the fundamentals of basketball and use the sport to instill core character values. As a result, the Kings renamed the program to "Jr. Kings" and will continue to promote the positive development of young people through basketball, helping to instill a lifelong passion for the game.

NBA CARES
NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's mission of addressing important social issues. NBA Cares programs and participants have provided more than 3.7 million hours of hands-on service and created more than 1,040 places where kids and families can live, learn or play in communities around the world. The NBA also engages more than 12 million youth annually, inspiring play and teaching the values of the game. NBA Cares works with internationally recognized youth-serving programs that support education, youth and family development, and health-related causes, including: Thurgood Marshall College Fund, Special Olympics, YMCA of the USA, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, Share Our Strength and GLSEN.

OSCAR ROBERTSON TRIPLE-DOUBLE AWARD

Inaugurated in 2003, the Oscar Robertson Triple-Double Award is presented each season to a deserving Kings player who best exemplifies winning characteristics, both as an athlete and a conscientious citizen active in the community. Deconstructed, the "triple" signifies on-court accomplishments: team leader, embodies the spirit of sportsmanship and plays an outstanding all-around game. The "double" signifies his impact off the court by demonstrating a commitment to community service and family.

2012	Isaiah Thomas
2013	Jason Thompson
2014	Rudy Gay
2015	Ben McLemore
2016	Quincy Acy

Heralded as one of the finest players in NBA history, Oscar Robertson left an indelible impression on the league when he averaged a triple-double in 1961-62, posting an astounding 30.8 ppg, 12.8 rpg and 11.4 apg. The feat has not been duplicated since and remains one of the sport's most elusive statistical achievements. Robertson finished his career with 181 career triple-doubles, 41 of which he logged during the historic '61-62 campaign, each NBA records.

Following his playing days, the "Big O" has channeled his energies into a number of small business ventures while maintaining a robust involvement in the community. He is active in numerous philanthropic activities, including the International Prostate Cancer Foundation, the Boys Club of New York and the National Kidney Foundation, for whom he acts as an advocate for organ donation. Robertson and his wife Yvonne are co-chairs of the University of Cincinnati's $1 billion capital campaign and have also funded the Oscar and Yvonne Robertson Scholarship Fund at the University.

Quincy Acy Presented with the 2016 Oscar Robertson Triple-Double Award
Acy Exemplifies Excellence on the Court and in the Community

The Sacramento Kings announced Quincy Acy as the recipient of the 2016 Oscar Robertson Triple-Double Award, presented by Wells Fargo. The award, named after the NBA legend, is given each year to a player who exemplifies excellence on the court and in the community. Kings Owner and Chairman Vivek Ranadivé will be joined by Kings Vice President and General Manager Vlade Divac along with Wells Fargo Assistant Vice President and Branch Manager Jerome Mends-Cole to present Acy with the award on Thursday, April 7 before the team takes on the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Throughout the 2015-16 NBA season, Quincy has been a leader in making positive contributions on and off the court and in the community. In his second season with the Kings, he's made a priority of giving back to the community not only in and around the Sacramento region, but wherever he is.

Acy has contributed time and resources to making memorable experiences for youth. This season, Acy joined his teammates as they participated in Kings led community impact initiatives such as visiting with hospitalized children at St. Jude Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee, participating in a literacy hike where he produced poems with foster children that were published in Mini Magazine, attending Global Winter Wonderland with Big Brothers Big Sisters, along with helping to hand out over 4,000 bikes to children during an annual bike and toy giveaway during the Kings Season of Doing Good. Acy also participated in a Kings NEXT scrimmage hosted by the Mack Road Partnership and the Sacramento Police Department.

Aside from spending time with youth, Acy made other contributions in the community by raising awareness to help end domestic violence and sexual assault as part of the NO MORE Campaign, helping to clean Oak Park Sol Community Garden as part of The California Endowment's Cesar Chavez Day of Service and visiting active duty service members at Coronado Naval Base.

- Creating a new downtown core with hotel, retail and dining experience – Downtown Commons.

What is Golden 1 Center?

The project encompasses four city blocks right in the heart of downtown that is a major catalyst for development in the surrounding area and in the entire region. The arena itself is an indoor multi-use facility that will accommodate sporting and top entertainment events such as professional and collegiate sports, concerts, ice shows, indoor rodeo, trade shows, large graduations, family shows, and other indoor entertainment. It also contains a state of the art practice facility with administrative offices.

The entitlements for the project includes up to 1.5 million square feet of development including 475,000 square feet of office space, 350,000 square feet of retail, a 250-room hotel, and up to 500,000 square feet for residential units. The first phase of the project includes over 715,000 square feet of development, over 300,000 square feet of retail, 128,000 square feet of office, a 250-room hotel, and up to 50 residential units.

Who Is Designing/Building Golden 1 Center?

AECOM, who is renowned for designing some of the most state-of-the-art sports and entertainment venues in the world, served as lead architect. Responsible for the acclaimed London 2012 Olympic Park and design of the Rio 2016 Olympic Park, AECOM has also served as lead architect of 11 NBA arenas, including Barclays Center (home of the Brooklyn Nets and the 2012 Sports Business Journal Facility of the Year). Locally, AECOM designed Aggies Stadium at the University of California, Davis. All architectural design work occured in Sacramento to ensure ongoing local input in the design process.

Impact on Sacramento's Tourism?

A third-party study estimates that Golden 1 Center alone will attract 1.6 million new visitors to downtown Sacramento each year.

These new visitors are a major contributor to the $11.5B in estimated positive economic impact that will result from the new Golden 1 Center over 35 years.

GOLDEN 1 CENTER

Design Process?

The first set of renderings (released January 2014) came after six months of workshops, open houses, town halls, and focus groups, in addition to multiple surveys yielding responses from over 20,000 Sacramentans. The result is an arena design that is iconic, celebrates the best of Sacramento, and showcases the latest in environmental and technological innovation. Design elements of the 17,500 capacity venue include:

- Five airport hangar-sized windows that can be opened for pregame/postgame festivities or during a concert or other events.
- Indoor balcony that will provide dramatic views of the public plaza in one direction and the court/event in the other.
- Use of recycled and perforated aluminum and glass in the skin of the arena that enables indoor and outdoor views throughout the building.

How will the Golden 1 Center Celebrate Sacramento?

Golden 1 Center's indoor-outdoor concept celebrates and allows visitors to enjoy Sacramento's climate and culture in a number of ways. In addition to farm-to-fork concessions, the arena's facade patterns depicts leaves and trees cut into perforated metal, fitting for the "City of Trees." The adjacent public plaza is a microcosm of the region's agriculture and outdoor lifestyle with tomatoes growing in hydroponic gardens, an outdoor grandstand or grassy amphitheater adjacent to the arena's open face, and a delineated seating area, called a "bosque," that is lined with a variety of tree species and provides an intimate seating environment in the grand plaza.

As part of a broader strategy to promote arts and culture at Golden 1 Center, the Kings have invested approximately $5.5 million – the largest commitment in the City's history – towards public art. The plaza features an 18-foot tall sculpture, Coloring Book, by world renowned artist Jeff Koons. This is the first version of Coloring Book to be permanently displayed in a public space.

Green/Sustainable Elements?

Golden 1 Center is 100 percent solar powered and is the first and only professional sporting venue to ever be recognized as LEED Platinum by the US Green Building Council. Golden 1 Center and surrounding development represents a true model of transit-oriented and dense urban infill development that will feature smart, sustainable practices and innovative green technologies. Centrally located in downtown Sacramento, the Golden 1 Center is mere blocks away from the Capitol building, which is home to some of the world's most forward-thinking sustainable policies, as well as a state-of-the-art intermodal transit that facilitates more than seven transportation alternatives (to cars). To further enhance the region's and team's commitment to the environment, the Kings will locally source 90 percent of the arena's food and beverages within 150 miles to cut down on greenhouse gas emissions and pollution from transportation. Other innovative technologies include electric vehicle chargers, low-flow plumbing fixtures, and advanced lighting controls

Technological Innovations?

The new arena utilizes cutting-edge technology to deliver a fan-centric, transformative experience for event goers. Through partnerships with world-class companies, Golden 1 Center is loaded with first-of-its-kind technology that will offer an unparalleled connectivity platform, an advanced and secure network infrastructure, and a next-generation command center. Together we have created the fastest and most connected indoor sports and entertainment venue in the world.

Golden 1 Center's Capacity?

The arena's capacity for NBA games is 17,500. Golden 1 Center features the largest lower bowl in the NBA, with 10,000 seats, and will ensure that Kings fans have one of the most intimate experiences in the NBA.

How many Suites will be available?

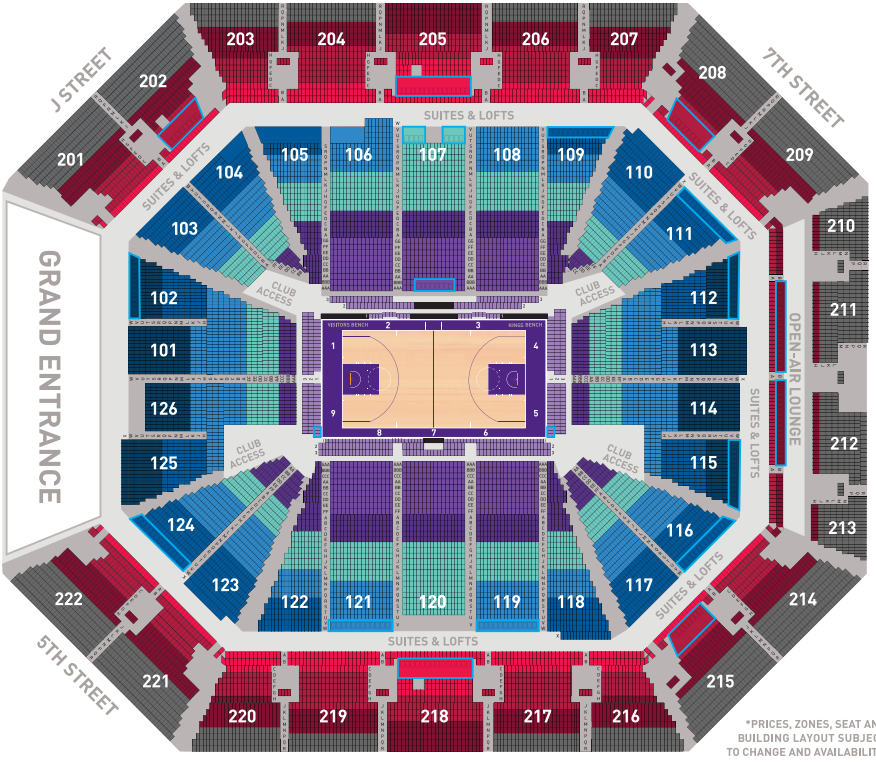

Golden 1 Center has 34 suites that were sold to include all events year-round. The suites are up to 2x larger than the suites at the previous arena. Additionally, suite partners have access to three exclusive clubs on the premium level including two Skyboxes that overlook the concourse and have a direct view to the outside.

Concessions Available at the Golden 1 Center?

Sacramento is known as the "Farm-to-Fork" capital. To celebrate the region, the Kings will feature a variety of farm-to-fork options from local chefs and farmers. Ninety percent of the food and beverage at Golden 1 Center will be sourced from within 150 miles. We also feature island concession stands, open on all sides, to showcase the preparation of fresh food. We're excited about the positive economic impacts created by local firms providing concessions in Golden 1 Center.

The 2016-17 season marks his 32nd with the franchise, a tenure distinguished by a multitude of roles. In addition to serving as the Kings head coach for nearly four seasons (1987-90) and Kings director of player personnel from 1994-2013, Reynolds also acted as Sacramento Monarchs General Manager for six campaigns (1998-2003), leading the club to the league playoffs four times.

Reynolds was also a member of the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team Committee for the 2001-04 quadrennium, where he helped select the coaching staff and players of the Olympic gold medal-winning USA Senior National Teams.

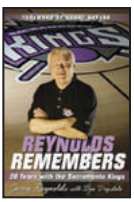

A native of French Lick, Indiana (where he is often referred to as the second most popular local, first being NBA Hall of Famer Larry Bird), Reynolds has a unique understanding of the interaction among players, coaches and the front office due in part to his experience gained through his varied roles with the Kings organization. He originally joined the club in 1985 as an assistant coach responsible for advance pro and college scouting.

On two occasions Reynolds served as the Kings' head coach following midseason changes. In 1987, he was named, on an interim basis, to replace former Head Coach Phil Johnson. The following year he took over for Bill Russell with 24 games remaining and stayed on as the club's head coach for the next two seasons. All told, Reynolds served as head coach of the Kings for a portion of four seasons (1987-1990). He also served as the director of player personnel for two seasons (1990-92) before accepting the role as the club's general manager (5/92-12/93). As the club's director of player personnel, he was responsible for keeping abreast of both the professional and collegiate talent pools available to the Kings, while also helping to oversee the club's scouting efforts.

An extremely popular figure with both the Sacramento community and the national media, Reynolds is an often-requested favorite on the public speaking circuit. A graduate of Oakland City University (Indiana) in 1966, he received his master's degree in physical education from Indiana State University in 1970.

Reynolds and his wife, Dodie, reside in Roseville and have a daughter, Danielle, a graduate of Santa Monica College and son, Jay, a 1992 graduate of Sacramento State University.

DID YOU KNOW ... Jerry Reynolds and Don Drysdale, who covered the Kings from 1985 to 1994 for the Sacramento Union, collaborated to write Reynolds Remembers, a 192-page book that covers the Kings through the eyes of Reynolds.
