MEDIA GUIDELINES

PHOTOGRAPHY GUIDELINES

Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor and their photo credentials must be worn prominently at all times.

Space permitting, other photographers will be allowed on the floor.

Credentials are good for admittance to Bankers Life Fieldhouse, Bill York Media Room and the designated photographer areas on The Fieldhouse floor. Only television photographers doing postgame interviews will have access to locker room areas.

Photographers are allowed only within the designated photographers' area at each end of the court. As necessary, spaces will be assigned by the Fever's Media Relations Department.

All photographers and camera operators must stay at least four feet behind the baseline at all times. In the event it is not physically possible to achieve this in certain arenas, an appropriate standard will be determined by the Fever's Media Relations Department and the WNBA.

Photographers must remain stationary and seated at all times, except during quarter breaks and halftime.

Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game.

No food or drink is allowed on the playing floor.

Photographers cannot photograph from public walkways or vomitories.

If space is available, photographers may request to photograph from the media seating in the stands.

When placing tape on the playing floor, authorization must be received by a member of the Pacers Sports & Entertainment Media Relations Department or Facilities Division.

PHOTOGRAPHER'S EQUIPMENT

Photographers located on the baseline or sideline will be permitted only one standard size "Domke" bag, which must be placed behind the photographer during the game. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off the court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer.

Each photographer will be permitted one monopod - NO TRIPODS - at courtside. No stand-alone remotes or seats other than "lawn-type" photographer seats will be permitted.

All film should be unpacked before the game and all trash should be properly disposed of by the photographer.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot WNBA game action.

Any additional light sources or sun guns must either be removed or covered with bubble wrap.

Rubber lens covers are available by contacting:

Robert's Distributors, Inc.
255 S. Meridian Street
Indianapolis, IN 46225
(317) 636-5524 / (800) 726-5544
FAX: (317) 636-5793

The only exception to this policy will be for those photographers utilizing telephoto lenses (i.e. 300 and 400 mm lenses) when such lenses are used to shoot game action at the opposite end of the court. These lenses must be stored behind the photographer when the action is in the near side of the court.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN LOCKER ROOMS

No still photography is permitted in either team's locker room.

CLOTHING

All photographers must leave any outerwear (i.e. coats, hats, etc.) in the Bill York Media Room during game action.

TV NEWS CREWS

Credential requests must be received by noon the day of the game.

News crews are restricted to crowd interviews in the Indiana University Health Entry Pavilion, Balcony and Main Concourse. Interviews are not allowed in the vomitories on any level of Bankers Life Fieldhouse. News crews are not allowed on the Founders Level or Krieg DeVault Club Level, unless accompanied by a member of the Fever's Media Relations Department. In order to enter a Suite, each news crew must have permission from the individual Suite Holder to enter their respective Suite. Once permission is granted, the news crew must inform a member of the Fever's Media Relations Department, and then will be accompanied into the suite by a member of the Fever's Media Relations Department.

During game action, news crews must shoot crowd reaction from designated areas. Check with the Fever's Media Relations Department for locations. No interviews will be allowed within the seating bowl once game action begins.

INTERNATIONAL MEDIA

All international media (affiliations distributed outside of the U.S.) requests are handled by the NBA International PR Department. Any international media member interested in covering an Indiana Fever regular season game must first submit a request in writing to the WNBA/NBA. Please do not contact the Fever individually.

All credential requests must be received at least three business days prior to the first games requested.

Requests may be FAXED to the attention of:

NBA International
FAX: (212) 407-8044

Additional information on international media policies may be obtained by contacting the NBA International PR Department at (212) 407-8000.

BANKERS LIFE FIELDHOUSE

With 750,000 square feet and 18,165 seats, this is a fairly new house that is, remarkably, in just its 15th year, an old home.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse, opened Nov. 6, 1999, when the Indiana Pacers hosted the Boston Celtics, is a step into the future while taking a walk back into history. It's big, yet comfortable. It has all the modern appliances, yet there's that favorite old picture on the wall. It is a building that is unique in today's sports society because the extra effort was made to make it that way. In other words, if you have a religion, you must build the appropriate cathedral.

In Indiana, basketball is religion. Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a cathedral. That's why the home of the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever is unique.

"We wanted this building to have a kind of special feeling to it, that when people came into it they felt part of the tradition that the building is for," said Donnie Walsh, then the Pacers Sports & Entertainment CEO & President who was instrumental in the Fieldhouse becoming a reality. "I think this is a pure basketball arena that reflects the game itself and the roots of the game."

Ground was broken on July 22, 1997 on the $183 million multi-purpose facility and while there were blueprints, a scale model and dreams, it was hard for anyone at the time to fathom what would evolve. But what has risen 14 stories into the Indianapolis skyline is a fit perfect for the city, the state, the game of basketball at any level and the various events a facility of this type would host.

"There are so many features that make it one-of-a-kind," said Tom Proebstle, Project Designer for Ellerbe Beckett, the Fieldhouse design firm. "The most obvious feature is the two huge glass curtain walls facing east and west that mark the beginning of an incredible architectural promenade as you are approaching downtown on the highway and see the lit-up glass set against the Indianapolis skyline. No other arena in the world can claim this. I'm sure it will be copied many times over."

That's the view from the outside. Inside, the unique look and feel of Bankers Life Fieldhouse takes over. The Indiana University Health Entry Pavilion is a vast gathering place that funnels fans to the Grand Staircase. As patrons make their way up the staircase, their view takes them to their first look at the seating bowl (another unique feature) or to large memorabilia cases on each side of the entrance to the Fieldhouse seating bowl.

From there, no matter which direction one takes, it's a nostalgic look. From the signage, to the concession stands, to the sponsor pavilions, to the bathrooms, to the one-of-a-kind Practice Court, to the light fixtures, to the scoreboard, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is unique, distinct and, as Pacers' great Reggie Miller described, "Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. Far beyond my expectations."

Bankers Life Fieldhouse has suites (69), club seats (2,400) and state-of-the-art amenities. But it has a look and feel unlike any other indoor facility.

This unique feel has brought many comparisons and compliments to Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The USA Today calls the Fieldhouse "A Cathedral to Basketball" and Amusement Business Magazine refers to Bankers Life Fieldhouse as "The Camden Yards of Basketball." NBC's Bob Costas said Bankers Life Fieldhouse "is winning raves all around the league, many think it's the best building in the NBA."

A 2006 survey by the Sports Business Journal ranked Bankers Life Fieldhouse as the No. 1 venue in the NBA. An informal ranking in the Orange County Register, in 2008, echoed the same rating.

In addition to hosting the Indiana Pacers and Fever, the Fieldhouse has hosted major boxing events and visits from Pavarotti, Bill Cosby, Bruce Springsteen, Elton John and Billy Joel, Bob Seger, George Strait & Reba McEntire, The Boston Pops, John Mellencamp, Paul McCartney, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, The Dixie Chicks, NSync, AC/DC, Britney Spears, Carrie Underwood, Crosby Stills, Nash & Young, Kid Rock, U2, Hannah Montana, Disney On Ice and Dancing With The Stars. It has also played host to the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championships, the 2004 FINA World Short Course Swimming Championships and the United States Gymnastics Championships. In April 2011, it played host to the NCAA Women's Final Four. In 2012 the Fieldhouse provided a border to the east side of the Super Bowl Village for Super Bowl XLVI. It has been a nearly annual host of the Big Ten Conference men's and women's basketball tournaments, and a gathering point for the National FFA Convention – the nation's largest annual youth gathering.

Additionally, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has been cited for its compliance and exceeding of ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse was the host site of the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four, welcoming Connecticut, Stanford, Notre Dame and Texas A&M to Indianapolis. Texas A&M defeated Notre Dame to earn its first national championship.

A basketball and entertainment showplace, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has regularly been rated as the top arena in the NBA.

WELCOME TO INDIANAPOLIS

What's to love about Indianapolis?
Plenty.

There are big-time professional and college sports, led by the NBA Indiana Pacers, the 2012 WNBA champion Indiana Fever and past NFL Super Bowl champion Indianapolis Colts.

There is the world-famous Indianapolis Motor Speedway, home to the world's two largest single-day sporting events (the Indianapolis 500 and the Allstate 400 at the Brickyard). The Speedway's Hall of Fame Museum is a year-round attraction.

There is the city's renowned reputation as an amateur sports capital, serving as home to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, four national sports governing bodies, Super Bowl XLVI, NCAA Men's and Women's Final Fours, the Big Ten Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments and numerous regional, national and international championships.

Besides the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, it boasts three of the finest sports venues in the world: Bankers Life Fieldhouse (home to the Pacers and Fever), Lucas Oil Stadium (home to the Colts) and Victory Field (home to the Triple-A Indianapolis Indians), not to mention historic Hinkle Fieldhouse on the campus of Butler University. Just a short walk from the NCAA offices and NCAA Hall of Champions are another pair of world-class venues downtown, on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). The IUPUI Natatorium has been a frequent host to U.S. Olympic Trials, and the Michael Carroll Track & Field Stadium is a frequent host of Olympic Trials events and the USA Outdoor Track & Field Championships.

Indy is home to six unique "cultural districts," each bustling with its own distinct flavor, flair and mix of pubs, restaurants, shops, arts and attractions.

Then there is a world-class urban park, White River State Park, with five major attractions within steps of each other. Stroll from the Indianapolis Zoo to the Indiana State Museum to the NCAA Hall of Champions to the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art to the Medal of Honor Winners Memorial. In the summertime, you can also catch a concert performed by renowned recording artists at The Lawn or a baseball game at Victory Field.

White River State Park also serves as the portal to the enchanting Central Canal, an ideal place to walk, jog or ride its one-and-a-half-mile length on a pedal boat or gondola.

The park is just one of 50 major attractions located within Indy's deliberately designed downtown that places dozens of hotels, more than 200 restaurants, shopping (including the 100 stores and shops of Circle Centre mall), cultural attractions and sports venues such as Bankers Life Fieldhouse and Lucas Oil Stadium within a few blocks. Even better, most are connected by the city's system of enclosed skywalks.

Just a short distance from downtown, the Children's Museum of Indianapolis, the world's largest, beckons to the young and young of heart. Nearby is the Indianapolis Museum of Art, which houses one of the largest general collections in the United States.

Other major attractions ring the city, including the delightful Conner Prairie, a living history museum that instantly transports visitors to 19th century Indiana; Traders Point Creamery, an organic farm featuring award-winning dairy products, or the enchanting village of Zionsville.

But as much as there is to love about Indiana's capital city, it's only getting better.

The 63,000-seat Lucas Oil Stadium opened in August 2008. Featuring a retractable roof, this multi-function stadium is not just home to the Colts, but the 2010 NCAA Men's Final Four, the 2011, 2012 and 2013 Big Ten Football Championship Games, the 2012 Super Bowl, music competitions, conventions, trade shows and concerts. The 2015 NCAA Men's Final Four returns in 2015.

The new $1 billion Weir Cook Terminal also has opened at Indianapolis International Airport. It is the first terminal to be constructed post-9/11 and features state-of-the-art security and convenience.

Recently completed is a complex of four hotel properties known as Marriott Place. The complex, adjacent to White River State Park and the Indiana Convention Center, includes 1,600 rooms and brings to 4,700 rooms (most in the country) connected to a convention center complex.

Also recently completed is Indy's "Cultural Trail." The landscaped trail will link the city's six cultural districts with biking and pedestrian pathways that will feature public art.

Whatever your pleasure – nightlife, museums, sports, music, arts, dining, shopping – it can be found in Indianapolis, all contained in a remarkable package of ease and convenience.

PACERS SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT

KELLY KRAUSKOPF PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Kelly Krauskopf is in her 15th season as the Indiana Fever's top executive, engineering the franchise from its birth in 1999 and directing the club's business and basketball interests all the way to its first WNBA championship in 2012. The club's chief operating officer through 14 seasons and the past 10 as general manager, she was promoted to President and General Manager in October 2012.

Since the team was established, Krauskopf has been the guiding force of the Fever from building the team roster to building a fan base for Indiana's WNBA franchise. In her role with the Fever, Krauskopf oversees all aspects of the team's operation.

Since moving to Indianapolis and beginning the task of building a WNBA franchise, Krauskopf has engineered numerous player moves enabling the Fever to sustain arguably the highest level of consistency the 18-year WNBA has ever seen.

Krauskopf has guided the franchise to 10 playoff berths in its first 14 seasons – including a run of nine consecutive from 2005 to 2013. Indiana has become one of the WNBA's most successful franchises, joining the Los Angeles Sparks as the only clubs in league history to post seven 20-win seasons. In fact, the Fever is the league's only franchise ever to post seven 20-win seasons in an eight-year span (2005-12).

Under Krauskopf's guidance, the Fever secured identical 21-13 records in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2010 and 2011; and set its club standard with 22-12 records in each of its two seasons reaching the WNBA Finals - 2009 and 2012.

Though Indiana reached the WNBA Finals in 2009 and though the franchise had achieved such consistent, annual success, the Fever had never won the title -- until the 2012 season culminated in a magical playoff run resulting in the city's first professional basketball crown since the 1973 ABA Indiana Pacers.

The Krauskopf-built Fever is the most stable the franchise has ever been, led by perennial All-Star and three-time Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings and a mix of young fresh faces such as Briann January and Shavonte Zellous.

Annually one of the league's most active GMs, Krauskopf's key trades and free agent acquisitions have re-tooled the Fever roster over the years. Besides a February 2008 deal to land hometown star Katie Douglas, other moves have resulted in the acquisitions of past stars Erin Phillips, Tangelia Smith, Natalie Williams, Yolanda Griffith, and Kelly Miller. A midseason move during the 2002 campaign brought veteran guard Coquese Washington to the Fever to ignite a late run to the franchise's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs.

The cornerstone of the franchise was solidified by the draft selection of Catchings in the 2001 WNBA Draft. The third overall selection in the 2001 Draft and a three-time U.S. Olympian, Catchings was named Rookie of the Year in 2002 and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012. The eight-time WNBA All-Star and 10-time All-WNBA selection finally earned a long-deserved MVP honor in 2011, finishing in the top five in MVP balloting 10 times. She won her first WNBA crown while earning Finals MVP honors in 2012.

Krauskopf also serves on USA Basketball's Women's Senior National Team Committee, helping select WNBA players to develop U.S. National Team rosters. Krauskopf has been a committee member since 2000, helping select the gold-medal winning roster for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, and again for Beijing in 2008 and London in 2012.

Krauskopf has been in the forefront of the development of the WNBA. In September 1996, she was named the WNBA's first Director of Basketball Operations. In that role, she was involved in all phases of the league's start-up operation and initiatives. She also developed the league's first set of playing rules, officiating policies, scheduling and other league standards, while working daily with WNBA team general managers and operations personnel.

Before joining the WNBA, Krauskopf was the Managing Director of League Development for Media Sports Partnership, Limited in Dallas, Tex. From 1990 to 1994, she was Assistant Commissioner for the Southwest Conference. In addition to overseeing league marketing, she was the chief administrator for all eight women's sports programs in the conference. She served from 1986 to 1990 as Texas A&M's Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports/Marketing.

Krauskopf has served on committees for the Women's Sports Foundation, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, Citizenship for Sports Alliance, and Texas A&M's Lettermen's Association Board of Directors. She currently serves on the Indiana Sports Corporation Presidents Council.

Recently, she was part of the Local Organizing Committee that hosted the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four at Bankers Life Fieldhouse where she proudly watched her alma mater win its first national championship in women's basketball.

A 1983 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, she was a three-year letterwinner in basketball for the Lady Aggies after transferring from Stephen F. Austin University where she played her freshman year under legendary coach Sue Gunter.

FREDDY FEVER

The friendliest Fever fan of them all!

During Fever games, it's easy to pick out Fever fans of all shapes and sizes, but no one has the shape and size of the Fever's team mascot, Freddy Fever.

One of the top mascots in the WNBA, Freddy can be seen throughout Bankers Life Fieldhouse before, during and after Fever games. The lovable and huggable character is a fan favorite among children and adults. Freddy does it all – from dancing, riding goofy scooters, aggravating officials, performing hysterical skits and much more. He keeps fans laughing from tipoff to the final buzzer.

Freddy certainly has the ability to tickle anyone's funny bone, but there's also a softer and lovable side to him. Freddy loves the Fever's fans and enjoys interacting with fans on a one-on-one basis and in groups. Freddy is often involved in numerous charitable efforts throughout the Indianapolis community. His schedule is hectic year round, but he wouldn't have it any other way.

In addition to being at every Fever game, Freddy is also available for birthday parties, corporate events and other similar-type events. For more information about Freddy, or to book the biggest Fever fan for your next event, call (317) 917-2500.

INFERNO DANCE TEAM

Since the Indiana Fever hit the hardwood in the summer of 2000, the Fever Inferno has been right by the team's side. This exciting, energetic and enthusiastic group of young males and females has evolved into one of the WNBA's best hip-hop dance squads!

COMMUNITY TICKET BLOCKS

Kids love going to a professional sports event. For many of our kids, at risk or not, they might never get a chance to see the Pacers or Fever in action. A night out with a chaperone and a group of friends lets them see on-court athletic achievement. And it might just turn out to be instructive about the benefits of determination and perseverance.

All we know is that the kids have fun and laugh and let us into their lives for a night. And for us, that's a good start.

Our Community Ticket Block Program is open to all non-profit organizations. To request complimentary tickets through this program, you must provide your Tax ID #. Each season you must resubmit an online application form. Ticket donation requests can be made at www.fevermvp.com/tickets.

HEAD COACH LIN DUNN

The fourth head coach in Indiana Fever history, Lin Dunn is also the winningest coach in franchise history, boasting a six-year record of 119-85 (.583) with the 2012 WNBA championship as the finest accomplishment in a distinguished 42-year career.

The 2014 campaign is her seventh as Indiana's head coach.

Already regarded as one of the most successful women's basketball coaches in history, Dunn has led the Fever to four trips to the conference finals and a pair of appearances in the WNBA Finals. Including three years as head coach of the Seattle Storm, Dunn ranks seventh in regular season coaching wins (152-148, .507) in WNBA history is tied for third in postseason victories (20-18, .526).

Her current streak of six straight WNBA Playoffs appearances matches Seattle's Brian Agler with the longest active streak in the league.

Dunn is well-chronicled as one of the nation's foremost pioneers of women's basketball and one of its most prominent coaches and leaders, she has been a proven winner at both the college and pro levels, evidenced by three hall of fame inductions in 2010 and another in 2012. She is scheduled for induction into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in June 2014.

Dunn's coaching career preceded the passing of Title IX legislation in the 1970s. Her storied career includes trips to the NCAA Final Four and the WNBA Finals. A native of Dresden, Tenn., she was named to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame on Feb. 19, 2010. She was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame on April 24, 2010. She was inducted into her alma mater's athletics hall of fame at UT-Martin on Oct. 16, 2010. She was named to the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame on April 14, 2012.

A longtime college coach and former general manager and head coach of the Seattle Storm, Dunn returned to her position as head coach when she was named to guide the Fever on Dec. 12, 2007, shedding the assistant's title she had worn the previous four seasons.

She enters the 2014 season with 664 college and pro wins, including the WNBA postseason. During 37 seasons as head coach, she has coached 1,117 games.

In addition to the WNBA crown she won in 2012, she has guided the Fever to a No. 1 seed in the Eastern Conference Playoffs in 2009 and 2011, and her first WNBA Finals appearances in 2009 and 2012.

Dunn was the runner-up in coach of the year balloting in 2009, after a summer with the WNBA's best record from June through August, and a franchise-record 22 regular season wins. The 2009 club was within minutes of the championship and her 2011 Fever finished one win from another return to the Finals.

Dunn's coaching resume includes four decades of coaching at the highest levels – the past 16 years in the professional ranks, between stints in Portland, Seattle and Indiana.

Dunn served in a scouting capacity for the Fever and former coach Neil Fortner during the 2003 season, and was added to the Fever staff in 2004 – allowing her to remain close to her Tennessee roots.

Before joining the Fever, Dunn served as Seattle's first head coach and general manager, operating the city's expansion franchise from 1999 to 2002. She built the Storm by drafting eventual league MVP Lauren Jackson and 2002 NCAA Player of the Year Sue Bird. In her final year with the Storm, 2002, she guided Seattle to a 17-15 record and the club's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs. Dunn was runner-up as the WNBA's Coach of the Year.

Dunn's first assignment in professional basketball came with a midseason phone call to take over the coaching reigns of the American Basketball League's Portland Power during its inaugural campaign in 1996-97. She won her first game on the same night she was introduced as the head coach. A year later, Dunn led the Power on a worst-to-first run that culminated with a 27-17 finish and Western Conference championship.

The remarkable turnaround earned Dunn the ABL Coach of the Year honor. Portland was in first place at 9-4 when the ABL ceased operations two days before Christmas in 1998.

In Indiana, she is still perhaps best known as the architect of the Purdue University women's basketball program, guiding the Boilermakers for nine seasons (1988-96) and collecting three Big Ten conference titles. She led the Old Gold-and-Black to seven NCAA Tournaments, four Sweet Sixteen appearances and a trip to the Final Four in 1994. In nine years at Purdue, she earned a 206-68 (.752) record and catapulted the school among the elite women's basketball programs in the country. She still is the program's winningest coach.

Since her collegiate coaching career began at Austin Peay in 1970, she put together a remarkable 25-year record that includes a .635 career winning percentage at four schools (447-257). She left three of those schools – Purdue, Miami and Austin Peay – as the winningest coach in program history.

On the national level, she served on USA Basketball staffs for the 1992 Olympics and 1990 gold medal-winning World Championship and Goodwill Games teams. She was head coach of the 1995 bronze medal-winning USA Jones Cup team, and also served for eight years on the USA Basketball Team selection committee.

Prior to arriving in West Lafayette, she coached at Miami, Fla., from 1979-87. She posted a 149-119 (.556) record through eight seasons and was the first coach to award a scholarship to a women's basketball player.

After building a program at Austin Peay for five years, Dunn spent one season at Mississippi before taking the Miami job. She led the Rebels to a 25-15 record and a 12th-place finish at the AIAW National Tournament. Her club ended three-time national champion Delta State's 56-game winning streak and was named the Mississippi Coach of the Year.

Dunn also has earned induction into the athletic halls of fame at both Miami and Austin Peay. She served as chair of the Kodak All-America Selection Committee from 1982-88 and was president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association in 1984-85.

Dunn earned a B.S. degree in health, physical education and English from Tennessee-Martin. A year later, she received an M.S. degree in physical education from Tennessee-Knoxville.

STEPHANIE WHITE
ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

A local star who joined the Fever as a player during the 2000 WNBA Expansion Draft, Stephanie White now is in her fourth season in a coaching capacity with the Indiana Fever. She was elevated to the role of associate head coach prior to the 2014 season.

One of the club's original players and a member of the Fever's All-Decade Team announced in 2009, the Fever's 2012 WNBA title head special meaning for White who enjoyed prep, college and pro success in the state of Indiana.

White has coached in the college and pro ranks since 2003. She retired from playing in the WNBA following the 2004 season.

White's hiring in 2011 marked the first time the Fever had hired an assistant coach with pro playing experience. She was re-united with Fever Head Coach Lin Dunn, the former Purdue coach who recruited White to its West Lafayette campus.

Prior to re-joining the Fever, White spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Chicago Sky after previous stints as a college assistant at Ball State, Kansas State and Toledo.

White also has parlayed her playing and coaching into a prominent broadcasting career with the Big Ten Network and ESPN. She appears regularly on BTN's women's basketball studio show and provides game analysis for both networks. During the 2013-14 NBA season, she began work as a sideline reporter with FOX Sports Indiana, covering the Indiana Pacers.

After leading Purdue to a national championship in 1999 and being drafted by the Charlotte Sting, White was eventually acquired by the Fever in a draft-day trade in December 1999 to lead her hometown team into its first season of existence. A former Indiana Miss Basketball and a Purdue All-American, White played four pro seasons with the Fever where she was a teammate of current Fever star Tamika Catchings.

She played five pro seasons between 1999-04, capping her career with the Fever for whom she was one of the club's top playmakers, 3-point artists and free throw shooters. She still ranks prominently among franchise leaders in games played, minutes, 3-pointers, assists, steals, 3-point percentage and free throw percentage. Her 93 percent free throw shooting in 2003 remains a Fever record.

White's legacy as a prep and college star made her one of the state's most popular figures even before she donned a Fever uniform. Beginning at nearby Seeger Memorial High School, White set early standards for basketball excellence while becoming an Indiana icon. She averaged 36.9 points and 13.1 rebounds per game while being named the 1995 national high school player of the year. She led Seeger to a 92-7 record over four seasons and finished her prep career with an Indiana record 2,869 points.

At Purdue she averaged double-figure scoring in four straight seasons. As a senior she averaged 20.2 points and 4.5 assists per game while earning the 1999 Wade Trophy as the national college player of the year. She led Purdue to its first NCAA title and finished second in school history in points and assists. She has since been inducted into the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame.

She gave birth to her first child, Landon Fletcher White, on Sept. 27, 2011, the morning of Game 3 of the 2011 Eastern Conference Finals. White and partner Michelle welcomed twin boys, Aiden and Avery, on Aug. 3, 2013.

SYLVIA CRAWLEY
ASSISTANT COACH

Former WNBA and USA Basketball star Sylvia Crawley begins her first season as assistant coach with the Indiana Fever.

A former college head coach at Ohio University and Boston College, Crawley is re-united in Indiana with Fever head coach Lin Dunn who coached her with the Portland Power in the former American Basketball League.

Crawley also has college experience as an assistant at North Carolina and Fordham.

The 1995 USA Basketball Female Athlete of the Year and a finalist for the 1996 USA Olympic women's basketball team, Crawley assumes her first coaching position in the WNBA. A member of the 1994 NCAA championship team at North Carolina, her jersey was honored at UNC in 2000 and she was named an ACC legend in 2012.

Most recently, Crawley spent the past two years as a college analyst with American Digital and ESPN3. She also stayed active in the WNBA, serving as a chaplain for league functions such as the WNBA All-Star Game.

Crawley served as the head coach at Boston College from 2008-12 as the Eagles made their entrance into the Atlantic Coast Conference, and served in the same capacity at Ohio University during the 2006-07 and 2007-08 seasons. She owns a 146-113 (.564) career head coaching record.

She began her coaching career as an assistant coach at her alma mater for two seasons (2000-02), and after completion of her playing career in 2004, she assumed a top assistant's position at Fordham University. At the end of the 2006 season, she was named the interim head coach at Fordham, prior to accepting the head position with the Bobcats in April 2006.

At Ohio, she twice led the Bobcats to the Mid-American Conference championship game, posting 18-12 and 20-13 records in two seasons. At BC, she guided the Eagles to a 23-12 mark and an appearance in the WNIT Final Four in her first season. She was 108-88 overall in four seasons.

While at UNC, Crawley was the Tar Heels' defensive player of the year as a senior while pacing the club to a national championship and a 33-2 record. She set the school record for blocked shots in 1994 and a year later earned a gold medal with USA Basketball in the World University Games.

Crawley played four WNBA seasons, posting career averages of 8.2 points and 4.9 rebounds as a forward with the Portland Fire and San Antonio Stars. She also played professionally in the former ABL with the Colorado Xplosion and Portland Power from 1996 to 1999, and was the winner of the ABL's slam dunk contest in 1997, winning the contest with a blindfolded dunk.

She landed with the Portland Fire when the ABL closed its doors and when the Fire ceased operations, Crawley was selected by Indiana in the WNBA's 2003 dispersal draft. A day later, she was involved in a four-player trade that sent her to San Antonio in exchange for U.S. Olympian and WNBA All-Star Natalie Williams.

A native of Steubenville, Ohio and a 1994 UNC graduate with dual degrees in communications and radio, television & motion pictures, Crawley is married to Reginald Milbry who serves as a Master Sergeant in the United States Army. She is co-owner of Monarch Magazine and is a licensed minister from Aennon Bible College in Indianapolis.

Both Fever assistants have spent the traditional winter seasons as a TV analyst covering college basketball.

Indiana's "do-everything" forward returns for her 14th season in the WNBA...she earned WNBA Finals MVP honors while leading the Fever to the 2012 WNBA championship...a year earlier, in 2011, she captured her first regular-season MVP honor...she enters the 2014 season as the WNBA's active leader in points, rebounds, steals and free throws.

A telling note of durability is that Catchings has played at least 30 games in 10 of her 12 active seasons...in 2012, at age 33, Catchings was the only WNBA player to start every regular season (34) and playoff game (10), as well as every game in the Olympics (8).

Twice since 2010 she has been named the winner of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award...she won it outright in 2010 and last year shared the honor with Chicago's Swin Cash.

She was named the WNBA's Defensive Player of the Year in 2012, receiving the award an unprecedented five times – in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012...Catchings was second in WNBA MVP balloting in 2002, 2009 and 2010, and has finished among the top three in balloting for the WNBA MVP Award in seven of her 12 active pro seasons...she has finished among the top five in MVP balloting in 10 of 12 active seasons, asserting herself as one of the world's premier players...she has scored in 376 of 377 games played in her pro career...she is an eight-time WNBA All-Star and an 11-time All-WNBA recipient...she has earned WNBA Player of the Week honors 20 times, more than any player in league history.

She has averaged 16.7 points, 7.5 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 2.5 steals per game during her career... Catchings led the Fever in points per game, rebounds, assists and steals in each of her first six active pro seasons and again in 2010 and 2011 – no other WNBA player has led her team in as many categories in even one of those seasons.

Catchings became the WNBA's all-time leader in steals during the 2011 season and she emerged from the 2012 season as the league's all-time leader in free throws made...she is the WNBA's all-time leader in steals and FTs made during the regular season as well as the postseason... she is the only player in WNBA history to rank among Top 25 all-time leaders in points, rebounds, assists, steals and blocks – and Catchings actually ranks in the Top 10 in all of them: points (6,296, 3rd), rebounds (2,838, 4th), assists (1,325, 8th), steals (930, 1st) and blocks (338, 10th)...she also ranks among WNBA career leaders in free throws made (1,709, 1st) and 3-point field goals made (539, 8th)...she is the only player 6-foot or taller ranked among Top 10 WNBA assist leaders...she averages more steals per game (2.47) than any player in WNBA history with more than two seasons...Catchings owns four of the top five single-season steals figures in league history and in 2009 finished just one shy of Teresa Weatherspoon's league record of 100 in a season (94 in 2006; 94 in 2002; 90 in 2005; 99 in 2009)...a member of the WNBA's 10th Anniversary All-Decade Team, awarded in 2006, she is the only player in WNBA history to ever rank in the league's top 10 in scoring, rebounding, assists, steals and blocked shots in the same season...Catchings, though, has done it twice – in 2002 and 2006...she has posted double-doubles in nearly one-fourth of her professional games (89-of-377), now second in WNBA history.

Catchings is a three-time Olympic gold medalist for the United States, medaling at the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece; the 2008

Olympics in Beijing, China and the 2012 Games in London where she served as a U.S. tri-captain alongside Sue Bird and Diana Taurasi.

Off the court, Catchings is one of the country's most highly-regarded citizen-athletes...on April 26, 2014, Indy Parks and Recreation dedicated Tamika Catchings Court, in Thatcher Park on Indy's west side, in honor of her good works...in 2013, she served on a mentoring panel at the White House to honor Women's History Month, speaking with other female luminaries to a group of high school students...she was named by Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton to serve on the U.S. Department of State's Council to Empower Women and Girls Through Sports...serving in that capacity with the State Department, she traveled to Bangkok, Thailand last March to engage girls and women in sports...in 2012-13 and 2013-14, she has been a National Ambassador for the Allstate WBCA Good Works Team, honoring college women's basketball stars who do good work in their communities...Catchings was the 2012 Honoree for the Pacers Foundation and Simon Youth Foundation Masquerade Gala and prior to the 2013 season, the Catch The Stars Foundation was honored by the Indianapolis City-County Council.

With an MVP performance in the WNBA Finals, Tamika Catchings finally captured the elusive WNBA title she had sought during 12 pro seasons. The league's MVP in 2011 and a five-time WNBA Defensive Player of the Year, Catchings has risen among the most elite players in women's basketball history. What's more, her star shines just as bright off the court as founder of the Catch The Stars Foundation. She already is the league's all-time leader in steals and free throws, with her sights set on more statistical milestones in 2014.

Catchings' sister, Tauja, was drafted by the Phoenix Mercury in 2000, a year before Tamika was selected by the Fever.

Just hours before Indiana hosted Game 3 of the WNBA Finals on Oct. 19, 2012, Pacers Sports & Entertainment and the Indiana Fever announced a marquee partnership with athletic retailer Finish Line that will feature the Finish Line logo on Fever team jerseys beginning in the 2013 season. The Finish Line brand will be integrated into Fever television broadcasts and team merchandise, team advertising and signage at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Where the Fever players are shown in uniform, Finish Line will be there too.

The multi-year agreement combines brand awareness with the Fever as well as activation of the Finish Line Ball Kids Program to be executed at all home games for the Fever and Indiana Pacers. Finish Line also will receive in-game advertising as part of the Pacers and Fever radio networks, and web links on FeverBasketball.com and BankersLifeFieldhouse.com.

"I am proud to partner with the Indiana Fever, one of the premiere women's professional sports teams in America," said Glenn Lyon, chairman and chief executive officer of Finish Line. "We are both teams that show dedication, commitment to our community and passion to be the best."

"Reaching agreement with Finish Line is one of the landmark moments in our franchise history," said Kelly Krauskopf, whose team won the 2012 WNBA championship just two days later. "Finish Line is a widely respected national brand in the athletic retail market. Partnering with such a reputable and prestigious company as Finish Line will enhance our own branding and visibility in the Indiana sports community and abroad."

Consumers in Central Indiana and all 12 WNBA markets will see the Finish Line logo during Fever radio and TV broadcasts as well as the Fever's Live Stream Webcast presented by Finish Line. Visitors to Bankers Life Fieldhouse will see the Finish Line logo aligned with the Fever on banners inside the building as well as on LED, courtside and scoreboard advertising during all Fever home games. A "Race to the Finish Line" scoreboard promotion also will take place during every Fever home game.

One of the most consistently competitive franchises in the WNBA, Indiana's jersey sponsorship became the sixth of its kind in the then-16-year league, joining the Phoenix Mercury, Los Angeles Sparks, Seattle Storm, New York Liberty and Washington Mystics. Tulsa added a jersey partner during the 2012-13 WNBA offseason.

The Finish Line logo has appeared across the front of Indiana Fever jerseys since 2013.

Whitmore made 15-of-22 shots and added 10 rebounds in what was one of the greatest playoff performances in league history. Pacing the Fever while Tamika Catchings was lost for the second half due to a concussion, Whitmore scored 25 points in the second half, including 15 in the third quarter.

Shavonte Zellous' 30 points in Game 3 of the 2012 WNBA Finals matched the third-highest scoring output in Indiana playoff history. Zellous hit 10-of-17 shots in the game while staking the Fever to a stunning 37-point third-quarter advantage (70-33), which is the largest lead in Finals history. Zellous shot 18-of-18 from the FT line during the series and closed the 2012 campaign with 19 straight free throws made.

Erlana Larkins established a new Fever record with 109 rebounds during the 2012 playoffs season. She matched a league standard with nine offensive rebounds and grabbed 20 boards overall in Game 3 of the East Semis to match Tamika Catchings' mark which is second in league playoffs history. She twice registered 15 rebounds in the Finals which fell one shy of the single-game mark in a championship series.

When Indiana took a 70-33 lead over Minnesota in Game 3 of the 2012 WNBA Finals, it was the largest lead in Finals history.

GREAT DATES IN FRANCHISE HISTORY

OCTOBER 11, 2012

The story of the game in the decisive game of the East Finals appeared to be the loss of Fever star Katie Douglas, who sustained a left ankle injury in the early moments of the first quarter. It was the first WNBA crown for every member of the Fever team and coaching staff. Catchings was named the Finals MVP.

OCTOBER 23, 2012

The Indiana Fever chose a pair of ACC post players with the fifth and ninth overall selections in the 2014 WNBA Draft presented by State Farm, grabbing Natasha Howard (left) from Florida State and Natalie Achonwa (right) from Notre Dame with first-round selections. Indiana picked Gonzaga guard Haideen Palmer with the 29th overall selection to complete its draft. An honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press and WBCA, Howard was a first-team All-ACC selection while leading Florida State to an NCAA second-round appearance. She possesses a nearly 7-foot wingspan and was regarded as perhaps the most athletic post player in the draft. Achonwa, meanwhile, was a second-team AP All-American and another first-team All-ACC selection. A versatile scorer and rebounder, she tore her left ACL in an NCAA regional final game with Baylor on March 31 and will not play in the 2014 WNBA season. Indiana's first-round duo represents the first time the Fever has selected twice in the first round of the draft since picking Tamika Catchings and Kelly Schumacher in 2001. Catchings, too, entered the draft following a torn ACL in her senior season and was forced to sit out the ensuing summer. The Fever's No. 5 selection of Howard was Indiana's highest draft pick since 2005, with Indiana's nine straight years of playoff appearances resulting in lower annual draft position.

Indiana's 2014 draft represented the first time since 2001 that the Fever owned two first-round selections.

• The 2010 All-Star showcase was billed as "Stars at the Sun," in a USA vs. WNBA format designed to serve as a training competition for USA Basketball, prior to the 2010 World Championships. Fan balloting determined guaranteed participants in the game. Tamika Catchings represented USA Basketball. Katie Douglas played for the WNBA.

• No All-Star Game was conducted in 2004. Natalie Williams represented the WNBA as part of a WNBA Select Team vs. Team USA exhibition at Radio City Music Hall in New York (Aug. 5, 2004). Tamika Catchings played for Team USA as part of training prior to the 2004 Olympics.

Katie Douglas won the 2010 WNBA 3-point shooting competition to become the first Fever player to win a WNBA skills competition.

WNBA PLAYOFFS FORMAT

The top four teams from each conference will qualify for the 2014 WNBA Playoffs. The first and fourth-place teams, and the second and third-place teams, will each play a best-of-three conference semifinal series. The winners of the semifinal series in each conference will then play in a best-of-three conference final.

Tiebreaker Procedure

The following tiebreak procedure shall be used to break ties for playoff eligibility, home court advantage and draft order. In determining draft order, non-playoff teams will always select before playoff teams.

Two-Way Tie Between Teams In The Same Conference

1. Better record in head-to-head games
2. Better winning percentage in own conference
3. Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season
4. Better point differential in games head-to-head
5. Coin toss

Two-Way Tie Between Teams In The Different Conference

In order to break a tie, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:

1. Better record in head-to-head games
2. Better winning percentage against teams in the opposite conference
3. Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season
4. Better point differential in games head-to-head
5. Coin toss

More Than Two Teams Tied

As many teams as possible will be eliminated at each step. As soon as one or more teams are eliminated at any step, the process must begin again from step (1).

1. Better winning percentage among all head-to-head games involving tied teams
2. Better winning percentage against teams in own conference (if all teams are from the same conference) or better record against teams in the opposite conference (if one or more teams are in different conferences)
3. Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season
4. Better point differential in games involving tied teams
5. Coin toss
