BANKERS LIFE FIELDHOUSE

With 750,000 square feet and 18,165 seats, this is a fairly new house that is, remarkably, in just its 15th year, an old home.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse, opened Nov. 6, 1999, when the Indiana Pacers hosted the Boston Celtics, is a step into the future while taking a walk back into history. It's big, yet comfortable. It has all the modern appliances, yet there's that favorite old picture on the wall. It is a building that is unique in today's sports society because the extra effort was made to make it that way. In other words, if you have a religion, you must build the appropriate cathedral.

In Indiana, basketball is religion. Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a cathedral. That's why the home of the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever is unique.

"We wanted this building to have a kind of special feeling to it, that when people came into it they felt part of the tradition that the building is for," said Donnie Walsh, then the Pacers Sports & Entertainment CEO & President who was instrumental in the Fieldhouse becoming a reality. "I think this is a pure basketball arena that reflects the game itself and the roots of the game."

Ground was broken on July 22, 1997 on the $183 million multi-purpose facility and while there were blueprints, a scale model and dreams, it was hard for anyone at the time to fathom what would evolve. But what has risen 14 stories into the Indianapolis skyline is a fit perfect for the city, the state, the game of basketball at any level and the various events a facility of this type would host.

"There are so many features that make it one-of-a-kind," said Tom Proebstle, Project Designer for Ellerbe Beckett, the Fieldhouse design firm. "The most obvious feature is the two huge glass curtain walls facing east and west that mark the beginning of an incredible architectural promenade as you are approaching downtown on the highway and see the lit-up glass set against the Indianapolis skyline. No other arena in the world can claim this. I'm sure it will be copied many times over."

That's the view from the outside. Inside, the unique look and feel of Bankers Life Fieldhouse takes over. The Entry Pavilion is a vast gathering place that funnels fans to the Grand Staircase. As patrons make their way up the staircase, their view takes them to their first look at the seating bowl (another unique feature) or to large memorabilia cases on each side of the entrance to the Fieldhouse seating bowl.

From there, no matter which direction one takes, it's a nostalgic look. From the signage, to the concession stands, to the sponsor pavilions, to the bathrooms, to the one-of-a-kind TCU Practice Court, to the light fixtures, to the scoreboard, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is unique, distinct and, as Pacers' great Reggie Miller described, "Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. Far beyond my expectations."

Bankers Life Fieldhouse has suites (62), club seats (2,400) and state-of-the-art amenities. But it has a look and feel unlike any other indoor facility.

This unique feel has brought many comparisons and compliments to Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The USA Today calls the Fieldhouse "A Cathedral to Basketball" and Amusement Business Magazine refers to Bankers Life Fieldhouse as "The Camden Yards of Basketball." NBC's Bob Costas said Bankers Life Fieldhouse "is winning raves all around the league, many think it's the best building in the NBA."

A 2006 survey by the Sports Business Journal ranked Bankers Life Fieldhouse as the No. 1 venue in the NBA. An informal ranking in the Orange County Register, in 2008, echoed the same rating.

In addition to hosting the Indiana Pacers and Fever, the Fieldhouse has hosted major boxing events and visits from Pavarotti, Bill Cosby, Bon Jovi, Bruce Springsteen, Elton John and Billy Joel, Bob Seger, George Strait & Reba McIntire, The Boston Pops, John Mellencamp, Paul McCartney, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, The Dixie Chicks, NSync, AC/DC, Britney Spears, Carrie Underwood, Crosby Stills, Nash & Young, Kid Rock, U2, Hannah Montana, Disney On Ice and Dancing With The Stars. It has also played host to the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championships, the 2004 FINA World Short Course Swimming Championships and the United States Gymnastics Championships. In April 2011 and 2016, it played host to the NCAA Women's Final Four, and welcomed the NCAA men's regional basketball tournament in 2017. In 2012 the Fieldhouse provided a border to the east side of the Super Bowl Village for Super Bowl XLVI. It has been a nearly annual host of the Big Ten Conference men's and women's basketball tournaments, and a gathering point for the National FFA Convention – the nation's largest annual youth gathering.

Additionally, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has been cited for its compliance and exceeding of ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse was the host site of the 2011 and 2016 NCAA Women's Final Fours, crowning Texas A&M and Connecticut as national champions.

WELCOME TO INDIANAPOLIS

What's to love about Indianapolis?

Plenty.

Indianapolis is a natural destination for people who love sports. There are big-time professional and college sports, led by the NBA Indiana Pacers, the 2012 WNBA champion Indiana Fever and past NFL Super Bowl champion Indianapolis Colts. Don't forget about the world-famous Indianapolis Motor Speedway, home to the world's two largest single-day sporting events (the Indianapolis 500 and the Brickyard 400).

As a premier sports destination, Indy has played host to more than 400 national and international sporting events over the past 30 years, from the Super Bowl and NCAA Final Fours to U.S. Olympic Team Trials and of course the Indy 500.

Besides the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, the city boasts three of the finest sports venues in the world: Bankers Life Fieldhouse (home to the Pacers and Fever), Lucas Oil Stadium (home to the Colts) and Victory Field (home to the Triple-A Indianapolis Indians), not to mention historic Hinkle Fieldhouse on the campus of Butler University. Just a short walk from the NCAA offices and NCAA Hall of Champions are another pair of world-class venues downtown, on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). The IUPUI Natatorium has been a frequent host to U.S. Olympic Trials, and the Michael Carroll Track & Field Stadium hosts Indy Eleven Soccer games and frequent Olympic Trial events and the USA Outdoor Track & Field Championships.

Indy is home to six unique "cultural districts," each bustling with its own distinct flavor, flair and mix of pubs, restaurants, shops, arts and attractions. From Mass Ave to Fountain Square, these districts are connected by the recently completed "Cultural Trail." Flanked with $26 million in public art, the 8-mile trail is an incredible way to explore the city.

Then there is the world-class urban park, White River State Park, with seven major attractions creating a border around it. Stroll from the Indianapolis Zoo to the Indiana State Museum to the NCAA Hall of Champions to the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art to the Medal of Honor Winners Memorial. In the summertime, you can also catch a concert performed by renowned recording artists at The Lawn or a baseball game at one of the best minor league ballparks in the country, Victory Field.

White River State Park also serves as the portal to the enchanting Central Canal, an ideal place to walk, jog or ride by bike or boat.

The park is just one of more than 50 major attractions located within Indy's deliberately designed downtown, loaded with dozens of hotels, more than 300 restaurants, shopping, cultural attractions and sports venues within walking distance. Even better, most are connected by the city's system of enclosed skywalks.

Just a short distance from downtown, the Children's Museum of Indianapolis, the world's largest, beckons to the young and young of heart. Nearby you'll find the Indianapolis Museum of Art, which houses one of the largest general collections in the United States.

Other major attractions include the delightful Conner Prairie, a living history museum that instantly transports visitors to 19th century Indiana and Traders Point Creamery, an organic farm producing all of the yogurt for Whole Foods nationwide.

But as much as there is to love about Indiana's capital city, it's only getting better.

The 63,000-seat Lucas Oil Stadium opened in August 2008. Featuring a retractable roof, this multi-function stadium is not just home to the Colts, but the 2010 and 2015 NCAA Men's Final Fours, Big Ten Football Championship Games since 2011, the 2012 Super Bowl, music competitions, conventions, trade shows and concerts.

The new $1 billion Weir Cook Terminal also has opened at Indianapolis International Airport. It is the first terminal to be constructed post-9/11 and features state-of-the-art security and convenience.

Recently completed is a complex of four hotel properties known as Marriott Place. The complex, adjacent to White River State Park and the Indiana Convention Center, includes 1,600 rooms and brings to 4,700 rooms (most in the country) connected to a convention center complex.

Whatever your pleasure – nightlife, museums, sports, music, arts, dining, shopping – you'll find it in Indy, all contained in a remarkable package of ease and convenience. That's why we #LoveIndy.

FINISH LINE

Just hours before Indiana hosted Game 3 of the WNBA Finals on Oct. 19, 2012, Pacers Sports & Entertainment and the Indiana Fever announced a marquee partnership with athletic retailer Finish Line that will feature the Finish Line logo on Fever team jerseys beginning in the 2013 season. The Finish Line brand will be integrated into Fever television broadcasts and team merchandise, team advertising and signage at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Where the Fever players are shown in uniform, Finish Line will be there too.

The multi-year agreement combines brand awareness with the Fever as well as activation of the Finish Line Ball Kids Program to be executed at all home games for the Fever and Indiana Pacers. Finish Line also will receive in-game advertising as part of the Pacers and Fever radio networks, and web links on FeverBasketball.com and BankersLifeFieldhouse.com.

A multi-year extension was agreed upon in 2015. By the end of its second term, beginning in 2016, the Fever-Finish Line relationship will become the longest-tenured jersey partnership in WNBA history.

"I am proud to partner with the Indiana Fever, one of the premiere women's professional sports teams in America," said Glenn Lyon, chairman and chief executive officer of Finish Line. "We are both teams that show dedication, commitment to our community and passion to be the best."

"Reaching agreement with Finish Line is one of the landmark moments in our franchise history," said Kelly Krauskopf, whose team won the 2012 WNBA championship just two days later. "Finish Line is a widely respected national brand in the athletic retail market. Partnering with such a reputable and prestigious company as Finish Line will enhance our own branding and visibility in the Indiana sports community and abroad."

Consumers in Central Indiana and all 12 WNBA markets will see the Finish Line logo during Fever radio and TV broadcasts as well as the Fever's Live Stream Webcast presented by Finish Line. Visitors to Bankers Life Fieldhouse will see the Finish Line logo aligned with the Fever on banners inside the building as well as on LED, courtside and scoreboard advertising during all Fever home games. A "Race to the Finish Line" scoreboard promotion also will take place during every Fever home game.

One of the most consistently competitive franchises in the WNBA, Indiana's jersey sponsorship became the sixth of its kind in the then-16-year league.

PHOTOGRAPHY GUIDELINES

Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor and their photo credentials must be worn prominently at all times. Space permitting, other photographers may be allowed on the floor.

Credentials are good for admittance to Bankers Life Fieldhouse, Bill York Media Room and the designated photographer areas on The Fieldhouse floor. Only television photographers doing postgame interviews will have access to locker room areas.

Photographers are allowed only within the designated photographers' area at each end of the court. All spaces will be assigned by the Fever's Media Relations Department.

All photographers and camera operators must stay at least six feet behind the baseline at all times. Photographers must remain stationary and seated at all times, except during quarter breaks and halftime.

Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game.

No food or drink is allowed on the playing floor.

Photographers cannot photograph from public walkways or vomitories.

PHOTOGRAPHER'S EQUIPMENT

Photographers located on the baseline or sideline will be permitted only one standard size "Domke" bag, which must be placed behind the photographer during the game. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off the court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer.

Each photographer will be permitted one monopod - NO TRIPODS - at courtside. No stand-alone remotes or seats other than "lawn-type" photographer seats will be permitted.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot WNBA game action.

Any additional light sources or sun guns must either be removed or covered with bubble wrap.

As a courtesy, rubber lens covers are available by contacting the Fever Media Relations Department.

The only exception to this policy will be for those photographers utilizing telephoto lenses (i.e. 300 and 400 mm lenses) when such lenses are used to shoot game action at the opposite end of the court. These lenses must be stored behind the photographer when the action is in the near side of the court.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN LOCKER ROOMS

No still photography is permitted in either team's locker room.

CLOTHING

All photographers must leave any outerwear (i.e. coats, hats, etc.) in the Bill York Media Room during game action.

Credential requests must be received by noon the day of the game.

News crews are restricted to crowd interviews in the Entry Pavilion, Balcony and Main Concourse. Interviews are not allowed in the vomitories on any level of Bankers Life Fieldhouse. News crews are not allowed on the First Financial Bank Level or Krieg DeVault Club Level, unless accompanied by a member of the Fever's Media Relations Department. In order to enter a Suite, each news crew must have permission from the individual Suite Holder to enter their respective Suite. During game action, news crews must shoot crowd reaction from designated areas. No interviews will be allowed within the seating bowl once game action begins.

INTERNATIONAL MEDIA

All international media (affiliations distributed outside of the U.S.) requests are handled by the NBA International PR Department. Any international media member interested in covering an Indiana Fever regular season game must first submit a request in writing to the WNBA/NBA. Please do not contact the Fever individually.

All credential requests must be received at least three business days prior to the first games requested.

Photo identification will be required when picking up confirmed credentials at the Media Entrance.

Requests may be FAXED to the attention of:

PACERS SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT - EXECUTIVE STAFF

KELLY KRAUSKOPF
PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER, INDIANA FEVER

Kelly Krauskopf is in her 18th season as the Indiana Fever's top executive, engineering the franchise from its birth in 1999 and directing the club's business and basketball interests all the way to three WNBA Finals appearances since 2009 and its first league championship in 2012. The club's chief operating officer through 16 seasons and the past 12 as general manager, she was promoted to President and General Manager in October 2012.

She is the longest-tenured senior team executive in the WNBA, dating beyond the Fever to her time as the league's first Director of Basketball Operations in 1996.

The only chief executive in Fever history, Krauskopf has been the guiding force of the Fever from building the team roster to building a fan base for Indiana's WNBA franchise. In her role with the Fever, Krauskopf oversees all aspects of the team's operation.

Since moving to Indianapolis and beginning the task of building a WNBA franchise, Krauskopf has engineered numerous player moves enabling the Fever to sustain arguably the highest level of consistency the 20-year WNBA has ever seen.

Krauskopf has guided the franchise to 13 playoff berths in its first 17 seasons – including a run of 12 consecutive from 2005 to 2016. Indiana has become one of the WNBA's most successful franchises, joining the Los Angeles Sparks as the only clubs in league history to post eight 20-win seasons. In fact, the Fever is the league's only franchise ever to post seven 20-win seasons in an eight-year span (2005-12).

Under Krauskopf's guidance, the Fever secured identical 21-13 records in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2010 and 2011; and set its club standard with 22-12 records in each of its first two seasons reaching the WNBA Finals - 2009 and 2012.

Though Indiana reached the WNBA Finals in 2009 and though the franchise had achieved such consistent, annual success, the Fever had never won the title -- until the 2012 season culminated in a magical playoff run resulting in the city's first professional basketball crown since the 1973 ABA Indiana Pacers.

The Krauskopf-built Fever is the most stable the franchise has ever been, transitioning from the 16-year presence of perennial All-Star and four-time Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings, to a new mix of youth and experience that includes Candice Dupree, Briann January, Marissa Coleman, Erlana Larkins, Shenise Johnson and Tiffany Mitchell.

The hiring of Lin Dunn as head coach in 2008 helped the club establish stability in both the WNBA and its local market. Inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2014, Dunn joined the franchise as a scout in 2003, an assistant coach in 2004, and led the franchise to unprecedented playoff success in seven seasons as head coach.

Following Dunn's retirement, Krauskopf tabbed Stephanie White as the club's fifth head coach. White, an Indiana prep and collegiate icon before her own career in the WNBA and later broadcasting and coaching, was Krauskopf's very first trade acquisition in 1999, joining the Fever for the club's inaugural season.

TWITTER

After Dunn's successful tenure, White's hiring proved no less fruitful, guiding Indiana to the WNBA Finals in her first season and another playoff berth in her second.

White's return to the college level coincided with the club's transition without Catchings, and Krauskopf tabbed former Chicago coach Pokey Chatman as the Fever's sixth head coach in November 2016.

Annually one of the league's most active GMs, Krauskopf's key trades and free agent signings have re-tooled the Fever roster over the years - including the 2017 offseason trade that brought Dupree, a five-time All-Star, to the Circle City.

Besides Dupree and a February 2008 deal to land hometown star Katie Douglas, other moves have resulted in the acquisitions of past stars Erin Phillips, Tangela Smith, Natalie Williams, Yolanda Griffith, and Kelly Miller. A midseason move during the 2002 campaign brought veteran guard Coquese Washington to the Fever to ignite a late run to the franchise's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs.

The cornerstone of the franchise was solidified by the draft selection of Catchings in the 2001 WNBA Draft. The third overall selection in the 2001 Draft, Catchings was named Rookie of the Year in 2002 and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012. The 10-time WNBA All-Star and 12-time All-WNBA selection finally earned a long-deserved MVP honor in 2011, finishing in the top five in MVP balloting 10 times. She won her first WNBA crown while earning Finals MVP honors in 2012.

Through 2012, Krauskopf served consistently on USA Basketball's Women's Senior National Team Committee, helping select WNBA players to develop U.S. National Team rosters. Krauskopf joined the committee in 2000, helping select the gold-medal winning roster for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, and again for Beijing in 2008 and London in 2012.

Krauskopf has been in the forefront of the development of the WNBA. In September 1996, she was named the WNBA's first Director of Basketball Operations. In that role, she was involved in all phases of the league's start-up operation and initiatives. She also developed the league's first set of playing rules, officiating policies, scheduling and other league standards, while working daily with WNBA team general managers and operations personnel.

Before joining the WNBA, Krauskopf was the Managing Director of League Development for Media Sports Partnership, Limited in Dallas, Tex. From 1990 to 1994, she was Assistant Commissioner for the Southwest Conference. In addition to overseeing league marketing, she was the chief administrator for all eight women's sports programs in the conference. She served from 1986 to 1990 as Texas A&M's Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports/Marketing.

Krauskopf has served on committees for the Women's Sports Foundation, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, Citizenship for Sports Alliance, and Texas A&M's Lettermen's Association Board of Directors. She currently serves on the Indiana Sports Corporation Presidents Council.

Recently, she was part of the Local Organizing Committee that hosted the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four at Bankers Life Fieldhouse where she proudly watched her alma mater win its first national championship in women's basketball. She was a part of the LOC that brought the Women's Final Four back to The Fieldhouse in 2016.

A 1983 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, she was a three-year letterwinner in basketball for the Lady Aggies after transferring from Stephen F. Austin University where she played her freshman year under legendary coach Sue Gunter.

A four-time Olympic gold medalist and 16-year WNBA superstar with the Indiana Fever, Tamika Catchings was named Director of Player Programs and Franchise Development with Pacers Sports & Entertainment in April 2017. Catchings' position includes work with all three PS&E basketball franchises – the Indiana Pacers, the Indiana Fever and the Fort Wayne Mad Ants.

Catchings' presence adds enhanced value to career and community programming which already exists with the Pacers. Her addition helps install new programs with the Fever and Mad Ants.

She will serve as a bridge while helping maintain program continuity for all three franchises. Catchings will aid with structure and implementation of player development programs, player relations and community outreach. Programs for the Fever and Mad Ants will be designed to build chemistry and continuity among players, assist each franchise in recruiting free agents, and help with leadership development and professional skills for all players. As an additional resource for all teams, the newly created position expands Pacers Sports & Entertainment's ability to educate and prepare players for their post-playing careers.

Catchings will work one-on-one with individual players on speaking and presentation skills, and the development of athlete foundations or other business interests. A longtime president of the WNBA player's association, Catchings also will assist in the planning and execution of league, NBAPA and WNBAPA meetings, and other team and player programming.

Widely regarded for her own community work and professional leadership as a player, Catchings is uniquely qualified for her new position. She joined the Indiana franchise in 2001 when she was the club's first-round draft selection – just one year after the Fever was established. As a face of the Fever franchise through 16 seasons, she has been a constant ambassador and respected representative of the NBA, WNBA and Pacers Sports & Entertainment throughout her career.

More than a basketball player, Catchings has routinely earned distinction as one of the nation's finest citizen-athletes with committed community engagement throughout the country and even internationally. In 2015, she was inaugural winner of the ESPN Sports Humanitarian of the Year. Last summer, she became the first two-time recipient of the WNBA's Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award and the first three-time winner of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award. Last November, she was honored in consecutive weeks with the Pathfinder Award by the Indiana Sports Corporation, honoring those who improve the lives of America's youth; and the Musial Award by the St. Louis Sports Commission, for extraordinary sportsmanship.

The 37-year old Catchings matched an Olympic basketball record for men or women while earning her fourth Olympic gold medal last summer. The 12-time All-WNBA recipient and 10-time WNBA All-Star helped lead the Fever to a league-record 12 consecutive playoff appearances, 13 overall. The 2011 league MVP and 2012 Finals MVP, she is the leading rebounder in WNBA history, and its No. 2 all-time scorer. She was named the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year an unprecedented five times.

Catchings continues to serve as a national and international ambassador for the NBA and WNBA, and was recently named to USA Basketball's Women's Developmental National Team Committee.

She also began a broadcasting career as a college basketball analyst last season with ESPN. She will cover Fever games broadcast on MylndyTV-23 this summer, alongside Pat Boylan.

Married in February 2016 to former Pike High School and University of Buffalo basketball player Parnell Smith, she added local business owner to her resume when she purchased a tea shop, TeasMeIndy, last March. She is the daughter of former NBA star Harvey Catchings, and her sister, Tauja, was drafted by the Phoenix Mercury in 2000. Tamika and Tauja established the Catch The Stars Foundation in 2004.

For Catchings' WNBA career details, please see page 110.

PACERS FOUNDATION, INC.

Behind every statistic is a story about a kid, at-risk of going under, who needs help.

From abuse to obesity to drugs, Indiana's kids face tremendous obstacles. That is why the Pacers Foundation gets involved early and often. We fund programs that teach kids how to make winning life choices.

Since its inception in 1993, Pacers Foundation has contributed more than $6.5 million in contributions, community partnerships, scholarships and tickets to Pacers and Fever games.

We are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of at-risk youth in Indianapolis and throughout Indiana. In doing so, we can help make our Hoosier communities better places to live, work and play.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

We give communities the power to change by partnering with community-based organizations and corporations. For example, two years ago, Pacers Foundation partnered with the Indianapolis Parks Foundation and Indianapolis Power & Light (IPL) in a $1.1 million effort over five years to refurbish outdoor basketball courts at City Parks throughout Marion County. As the courts are refurbished, they are co-branded with Fever, Pacers and IPL logos. More recently, the Pacers Foundation provided a grant to the Indianapolis Police Foundation to aid public safety personnel in fostering positive relationships with youth in some of Indianapolis' most high-risk neighborhoods.

BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION

We are not a traditional corporate foundation, supported solely by our corporate parent. We strongly believe that helping Indiana's youth make winning life choices requires all of us in the community to do our part. Therefore, we invite you to join us in this effort by making a financial contribution to Pacers Foundation and/or volunteering your time to help the non-profits we fund. In our view, the community's greatest challenges necessitate the community's best solutions. Join us and be part of the solution.

INDIANA FEVER BOWLING TOURNAMENT/FEVER CARES FUND

Members of the Fever team and coaching staff serve up strikes at an annual bowling tournament which benefits the Fever Cards Fund of the Pacers Foundation. Fever sponsors, season ticket holders and fans are treated to a night of bowling fun, pizza, a silent auction and autographs from the Fever team and other celebrities.

The 2016 event raised over $17,500. The 2017 tournament will take place at Pinheads in Fishers on July 10.

The vision of the Fever Cares Fund is to be recognized as a leading funding resource for programs that encourage the development of valuable life skills among young women throughout the state of Indiana. These programs build self-esteem, promote a positive body image and educate about dating violence while providing services to those who have experienced such violence.

Specific to the Fever Cares Fund, organizations benefiting since 2001, among others, are the Children's Bureau, Girls Inc. of Indianapolis, Girl Scouts, The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation, The Julian Center, and the Social Health Association.

Prior to her time in the WNBA, she enjoyed a 20-year career at Louisiana State that included four seasons as a starting point guard, followed by assignments as assistant coach, associate coach and, for three seasons from 2004-07, head coach. During her lengthy tenure at LSU, she attended three Final Fours and was a part of 15 NCAA Tournament teams. As acting head coach and head coach, she led the Tigers to three consecutive Final Fours including a 2005 loss in the national semifinals at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis. She earned national coach of the year accolades in her first full season in 2005.

Her diverse resume also includes a pair of EuroLeague titles with Spartak Moscow, first as an assistant in 2008, and another while serving as head coach of the Russian powerhouse for four seasons from 2009-13.

Internationally, Chatman was a part of two gold-medal teams with USA Basketball. As a player, she won gold with the USA's U18 squad that won the FIBA Americas championship in Brazil in 1988. She was an assistant coach with the U.S. team at the World University Games in 2005 in Turkey. She also coached the national team of Slovakia for two seasons.

LSU

A 1987 graduate of Hahnville High School and a native of Ama, La., Chatman dazzled LSU fans for four years as LSU's starting point guard in the late 1980s and early 1990s. Her fiery demeanor and floor leadership helped her transition to coaching and a 16-year tenure on the LSU coaching staff. She served as a student assistant coach for one season (1991-92) before accepting a full-time post as assistant coach in 1992-93. Chatman was elevated to associate coach in 1999. She was the Lady Tigers' acting head coach in 2003-04 after hall of fame coach Sue Gunter took a midseason medical leave. Chatman became the school's fourth head coach in April 2004.

There are few coaches in basketball history that can match the success that Chatman enjoyed in her three-plus years as head coach of the LSU women's basketball program. Counting her time as acting head coach, LSU won 105 games (105-19), advanced to three NCAA Final Fours, won two Southeastern Conference regular season titles and earned a No. 1 seed in two NCAA Tournaments.

In fact, in Chatman's first 50 games as a head coach, she won an astonishing 47 times. That 47-3 record was noted as the second-best record after 50 games in women's basketball history. Soon after she assumed head coaching reigns late in 2003-04, she introduced LSU to its first NCAA Final Four, with subsequent appearances each year thereafter.

Once regarded as one of the nation's best recruiters, she quickly became known as one of the top up-and-coming coaches in the collegiate ranks.

Since her promotion to associate coach in 1999, the Lady Tigers participated in nine consecutive NCAA Tournaments.

Chatman assumed LSU's recruiting efforts in the mid-1990s and the program climbed instantly. The Lady Tigers had eight straight classes rank among the top 20 in the nation, including a 2004 freshman class with three Parade All-Americans and future WNBA draft picks: Sylvia Fowles, Quianna Chaney and Erica White. Chatman later helped land Seimone Augustus, now a perennial WNBA All-Star who finished her LSU career as a two-time national player of the year and the WNBA's No. 1 draft pick (2006).

Chatman helped sign Aiysha Smith, a 2003 first-round pick of the Washington Mystics; DeTrina White, the 1998-99 national freshman of the year and a second-round pick of the Fever in 2003; current WNBA player Doneeka Hodges and Temeka Johnson, a first-round pick of the Washington Mystics and the 2005 WNBA Rookie of the Year who broke Chatman's career assists record.

Besides Johnson and White whom she recruited, Chatman helped tutor some of the finest guards in the country. Marie Ferdinand was a 2001 Kodak All-America selection who became a first-round WNBA draft pick and a WNBA All-Star. Elaine Powell enjoyed a lengthy career with three WNBA titles as part of the Detroit Shock. Pietra Gay was a member of the 1997 WNBA champion Houston Comets.

Inducted into the LSU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1999 prior to her head coaching role with the Lady Tigers, Chatman quickly rose to the top of her profession. Capping her first season as head coach in 2005, she won multiple national coach of the year accolades. She was named the Black Coaches Association Coach of the Year in 2004 and 2005, and the Louisiana Coach of the Year in 2005 and 2006.

EUROPE, CHICAGO SKY & WORLD'S GREATEST PLAYERS

Chatman made her entrance into the WNBA, with the Sky in 2011, in the midst of a six-year coaching run in Europe. Success on both continents helped cement her status as one of the world's most versatile, top young coaches.

Hired to coach the Slovakian national team in 2008, she served simultaneously as an assistant coach with Spartak Moscow, a star-studded Russian club that annually employed one of Europe's top teams. Chatman was elevated to head coaching status with Spartak prior to the 2009-10 campaign which netted a 16-0 EuroLeague record and the club's fourth consecutive EuroLeague championship.

The following summer, her Slovakian team narrowly missed an upset bid to the 2010 FIBA World Championships. Months later, Chatman accepted her position as the Sky's general manager and head coach, Oct. 29, 2010, just as she embarked on her second of four seasons as head coach with Spartak.

During four seasons with Spartak, Chatman's rosters were filled with a myriad of Olympians and All-Stars, comprising many of the world's greatest women's players: U.S. Olympians Augustus and Fowles from her LSU teams, U.S. Olympic co-captains Sue Bird and Diana Taurasi; foreign Olympic stars Lauren Jackson and Sonja Petrovic; and American veteran stars Candice Dupree, Becky Hammon, Epiphanny Prince and Taj McWilliams-Franklin.

Chatman and Spartak returned to the EuroLeague Finals again in 2011, and posted Final Eight finishes in 2012 and 2013, just as she began reversing WNBA fortunes in Chicago.

The Sky recorded a pair of 14-20 campaigns in 2011 and 2012 before Chatman nabbed Elena Delle Donne with the second selection of the 2013 WNBA Draft. Chatman surrounded Delle Donne, the 2013 WNBA Rookie of the Year and a future MVP, with additional young talent through the draft. She executed trades for star veterans Cappie Pondexter and Erika de Souza.

Chatman and the Sky reached the playoffs for the first time in club history in 2013 to begin a four-year playoff run. In 2014 she led the WNBA's youngest team to the team's second postseason appearance and, following series wins over Atlanta and Indiana, guided the Sky into the 2014 WNBA Finals.

POINT GUARD

Long before turning the Sky into a playoff contender in Chicago, Chatman began breaking barriers as a college point guard. She helped LSU to its first Southeastern Conference Tournament title as a senior point guard, and later helped the program climb the national rankings as both an assistant and head coach.

Playing for the legendary Gunter from 1987-91, Chatman led the Lady Tigers to the 1991 conference tourney championship while earning honors as the tournament MVP. It capped a career that featured three All-SEC awards and her naming as a Kodak All-American as a senior. She played in four NCAA Tournaments at LSU and left the playing floor with an 82-38 record.

Still the school's record-holder in career steals (346), she owned the LSU assists standard for 14 seasons before she watched it fall while patrolling the sidelines. The Louisiana native ushered in the 3-point era at LSU by pacing the Lady Tigers in 3-point percentage in each of four seasons. She led the SEC in 3-point field goals made as a junior and senior.

Born June 18, 1969, Chatman earned a bachelor's degree in general studies from LSU in December of 1991.

STEVEN KEY ASSISTANT COACH

Steven Key begins his second season as an assistant coach with the Indiana Fever, and his ninth season in the WNBA.

Key was retained by new Fever head coach Pokey Chatman, following the departure of Stephanie White. Ironically, it was Chatman who succeeded Key as the Chicago Sky's head coach and general manager in 2011.

Key spent five seasons with the Sky, serving as head coach and GM for three years (2008-10) after two as an assistant. He compiled a 42-60 mark with the Sky from 2008-10, leading Chicago to what was then a franchise-record 16 wins in 2009.

As an assistant, Key helped launch the Chicago franchise in 2006, joining the staff of head coach Dave Cowens after three years as the head coach of the Dusseldorf Magics, a Bundesliga men's basketball team in Germany. In his final season, he led the Magics to a 19-11 record in the Second Division.

After his departure from Chicago, he returned to the German Bundesliga (BBL) as head coach of the Giessen 46ers in 2011, and spent two years as an assistant and head coach with MHP Riesen in Ludwigsburg (2012 and 2013).

He returned to the WNBA again in 2014, serving two seasons as an assistant with the Connecticut Sun under Anne Donovan, prior to landing in Indiana in 2016.

The 6-foot-4 Key was a point guard at Boston University from 1986-90. Playing for Mike Jarvis, Key was the 1990 America East Conference Player of the Year, averaging 14.5 points and 7.5 assists as a senior.

Key was the last player cut by the Los Angeles Clippers in 1990, and then played professionally for the San Jose Jammers of the Continental Basketball Association before embarking on a 12-year career playing in Austria, Germany and France. Key was a three-time All-Star in Germany, where he played against German native and future Dallas Mavericks' star Dirk Nowitzki.

A native of Columbia, Maryland, Key was the Howard County Player of the Year as a senior at Atholton High School in 1986. One of five children in a tight-knit and athletic family, Key learned basketball from his sister Kimberlee, who went on to play at Saginaw Valley State with college and WNBA coaching veteran Gail Goestenkors. Key's sister Darlynda received a scholarship to run for the University of Michigan's track team while his brother Josh played basketball at Northwood University. His father Sam played professionally overseas.

Key and his wife Janka have one daughter, Sidney Kiana, and one son, Noah Gabriel.

JESSIE MILLER ASSISTANT COACH

A former college player who played five seasons professionally in Germany, Jessica (Jessie) Miller begins her first year as assistant coach with the Indiana Fever.

In fact, it is Miller's first WNBA coaching position, after serving the past ten seasons in an operations and video capacity with the Sky.

First-year Fever coach Pokey Chatman brings Miller from her staff in Chicago where she spent the past two years as the club's video coordinator and aided in player development.

Miller managed opponent scouting operations and video coaching with the Sky, participating in daily practices at home, and on the road.

Miller coached with DJK Brose Bamberg in Bamberg, Germany, during the 2016-17 season, her first year as an assistant coach, following five years playing with the team.

A captain and four-year starter at Illinois-Chicago, Miller helped the Flames to the WNIT before playing overseas with DJK Brose Bamberg, from 2010-15.

"I'm excited about adding Jessie to our coaching staff," said Chatman who spent the past six seasons leading the Sky. "Having watched her grow over the past six years, I am confident she will impact our opponent scouting/preparation, player development, and in-game strategy. She understands the league and will be key as we continue to build on the success of our franchise."

A native of Burnsville, Minn., Miller received a B.S. in kinesiology from UIC in 2010. She has continued post-graduate coursework in Bamberg.

He was a strength and conditioning intern at Vanderbilt University during the summer of 2015, following a two-year stint as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Ball State. During the same time, he was a strength and conditioning intern with the Indiana Pacers during the summer of 2014.

Originally from Fort Wayne, Ind., Campbell is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist through the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He received a bachelor of science degree in exercise science from Ball State in 2013. He earned a masters degree in sports performance from Ball State in 2015.

After six record-setting seasons as an Indiana Fever point guard and recent coverage of the club as a local TV analyst, Tully Bevilaqua begins her first season as player development coach for the Fever.

A native of Merredin, Australia, and recently named to the Western Australia Hall of Champions, Bevilaqua earned a silver medal in the 2008 Olympics with the Australian National Team, and a gold medal at the 2006 World Championships. She completed 14 WNBA seasons between Cleveland (1998), Portland (2000-02), Seattle (2003-04), Indiana (2005-10) and San Antonio (2011-12). She also won a pair of WNBL championships in Australia as part of a 20-year pro career that began in 1991 with the Perth Breakers in her home country.

After winning the 2004 WNBA title as a reserve guard with Seattle, Bevilaqua signed a free agent deal with Indiana and made an instant impact. Spurred by an engaging personality and Australian accent, she became a fan favorite at Bankers Life Fieldhouse and, since her first season with the Fever, Indiana has never failed to reach the playoffs.

Named as a member of the Fever's All-Decade Team in 2009, Bevilaqua joined Tamika Catchings to spark a resurgence reflected by Indiana's current WNBA-record 12 straight postseason appearances, three trips to the WNBA Finals and a 2012 championship. Bevilaqua was the club's starting point guard for six straight years, leading Indiana to its first Finals appearance in 2009 and aiding in the development of future star Briann January who has been the Fever's point guard ever since.

The 2007 recipient of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award, Bevilaqua was a six-time member of the WNBA All-Defense Team – all with Indiana and all beside Catchings. Her 573 steals still rank 10th among WNBA career leaders. Her 356 steals with the Fever are second in club history. She started an Indiana-record 116 consecutive games spanning the 2006-08 seasons, and started 188 of 197 Fever games overall, the fourth-highest figure in franchise history. Elsewhere in the Indiana record book, she ranks fourth in 3-point field goals and fourth in assists.

"Signing Tully back in 2005 was a turning point in our franchise," said Krauskopf, "so I am thrilled to have her back on the floor as a player development coach as we start a new era of Fever basketball. She brings tremendous knowledge, experience and work ethic. I am proud to add a former player to our staff who has been such an integral part of our success."

Since her retirement as a player, Bevilaqua has maintained residence in Indianapolis and become certified as a personal trainer. She is co-owner of Gym41, a local gym she established in 2011 that specializes in boot camp training, small group training, cardio boxing and yoga classes. She has spent the past two years as a volunteer assistant coach with the Zionsville High School girls basketball team, helping the Eagles to back-to-back sectional championships.

Bevilaqua and wife Lindsay have two children: Parker (6) and Mackenzie (4).

The hard-working, blue-collar muscle in Indiana's post rotation the past five seasons, Erlana Larkins has evolved from a player waived and without a team into one of the league's elite rebounders...she finished 7th in the WNBA in rebounds per game in 2016, 4th in 2014 and 8th in 2013...Larkins provided the Fever and WNBA with one of the most remarkable storylines in 2012, signing a training camp contract after two years out of the league, and responding with record-breaking rebounding numbers in the WNBA Playoffs and WNBA Finals while Indiana won its first championship...with the 2012 story as a backdrop, Larkins returned for her second season in Indiana in 2013 and wound up among league leaders with 7.8 boards per game...she set a single-season franchise record with 9.2 rebounds per game in 2014, making a bid for a first All-Star appearance that eluded her...following the 2015 season, she had offseason surgery on her right knee to treat a torn meniscus, and reported to training camp leaner than in years past...she returned to rebounding prominence again in 2016 with 7.4 rebounds per game...the former North Carolina star and first-round pick by New York was waived by the Liberty in 2010 and again by the Phoenix Mercury in 2011.

A career 50 percent shooter, she is fifth in WNBA history with a career clip of 55.4 percent...she eclipsed milestones for 1,000 career points and rebounds during the 2016 season.

Tamika Whitmore's 41 points for Indiana in a 98-83 playoff loss at Detroit, 8/19/06, was a WNBA Playoff record until 2010. Whitmore made 15-of-22 shots and added 10 rebounds in what was one of the greatest playoff performances in league history. Pacing the Fever while Tamika Catchings was lost for the second half due to a concussion, Whitmore scored 25 points in the second half, including 15 in the third quarter.

Shavonte Zellous' 30 points in Game 3 of the 2012 WNBA Finals matched the third-highest scoring output in Indiana playoff history. Zellous hit 10-of-17 shots in the game while staking the Fever to a stunning 37-point third-quarter advantage (70-33), which is the largest lead in Finals history. Zellous shot 18-of-18 from the FT line during the series and closed the 2012 campaign with 19 straight free throws made.

Erlana Larkins established a new Fever record with 109 rebounds during the 2012 playoffs. She matched a league standard with nine offensive rebounds and grabbed 20 boards overall in Game 3 of the East Semis to match Tamika Catchings' mark which is second in league playoffs history. She twice registered 15 rebounds in the Finals, which fell one shy of the single-game mark in a championship series.

- The winners from the second round will be re-seeded to guarantee the first seed will host the lowest seed, and the second seed will host the higher seed, each in a best-of-five game series (2-2-1) with the top seeds hosting games 1, 2 and 5; and the lower seeds hosting games 3 and 4.
- The winners from the semifinals will meet in a best-of-five game finals series with the top seed hosting games 1, 2 and 5; and the lower seed hosting games 3 and 4.

Tiebreaker Procedure

The following tiebreak procedure shall be used to break ties for playoff eligibility, home court advantage and draft order. In determining draft order, non-playoff teams will always select before playoff teams.

a. Two-Way Tie Between Teams. In order to break a tie, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:

- (1) Better record in head-to-head games.
- (2) Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season.
- (3) Better point differential in games - net result of total points scored less total points allowed, head-to-head.
- (4) Better point differential - net result of total points scored less total points allowed, against all opponents.
- (5) Coin toss.

b. More Than Two Teams Tied. As many teams as possible will be eliminated at each step. As soon as one or more teams are eliminated at any step, the process must begin again from step (1).
