Through Tickets for Kids, children have the opportunity to experience the WNBA firsthand and to be exposed to positive female role models.

JR. STORM PROGRAM

The Storm is a positive organization that demonstrates its commitment to the community by investing in local youth. Storm players are strong role models and the organization actively leads community initiatives that encourage youth to lead a healthy and active lifestyle. Through the Storm, Bing too will connect with the Seattle community from the ground level and support positive initiatives to ensure our community can continue to have access to these activities. As the presenting sponsor of the Jr. Storm youth basketball initiative Bing will provide tickets to all program participants during the 2011 season. In April of 2010, the Storm and Bing launched the first Jr. Storm Tour and will continue to host free basketball clinics for youth between Kindergarten and 6th grade at King County Boys and Girls Club location during the 2011 season.

The Seattle Storm's ownership group, Force 10 Hoops LLC, is comprised of three Seattle businesswomen and civic leaders, all season ticket holders, who stepped forward to purchase the Storm in January 2008 so that the team would remain in Seattle. Their actions were driven by their shared commitment to the importance of giving back to the community and to the philosophy that women and girls should have the chance to compete at every level.

The group's announcement of intent to purchase the Storm was made on Jan. 8, 2008, and the purchase was approved by the WNBA Board of Governors on Feb. 28, making the Storm one of six independently owned franchises in the WNBA. Force 10 derives its name from the point on the Beaufort wind scale at which bad weather officially becomes a storm.

- The Storm went undefeated at home, joining the 2001 Los Angeles Sparks as the only teams in WNBA history to do so and becoming the first team in league history to win 17 home games during the regular season.
- The Storm won 28 games, tying the record for the most wins in WNBA history (with the 2000 and 2001 L.A. Sparks, both 28-4).
- The Storm won 13 games in a row from June 18-July 30, 2010, the longest streak in team history and the third longest in WNBA history ever seen (Los Angeles, 18, June 26-Aug. 11, 2001; Houston, 15, June 27-July 30, 1998).
- The Storm started the season (20-2), equaling the WNBA record for the best start after 22 games (the 1998 Houston Comets started 25-2 and finished 27-3).
- The Storm (28-6, .824) surpassed the 2005 Seahawks (13-3, .813) for the best single-season win percentage in Seattle pro sports history.
- The Storm beat Tulsa by 46 points, 111-65, on Aug. 7 to break the WNBA record for the largest margin of victory (previously 45 by Houston at Washington, 110-65, Aug. 17, 1998) and tie the team record for most points scored in a game.
- Three Storm players (Sue Bird, Lauren Jackson & Swin Cash) were voted to the All Star team (more players than from any other team).
- Seattle became the first all-female ownership group to win a professional sports title.

Sue Bird and Lauren Jackson were both named to the WNBA's All-Decade Team.

Both Bird and Jackson were also named as starters for the Western Conference at the WNBA All-Star Game.

Jackson tallied her 3,000th career point on June 7 at Chicago, becoming the youngest (25 years, 33 days) and fastest (162 career games) player in WNBA history to reach the milestone.

The victory over Charlotte on Aug. 5 was the 120th of Anne Donovan's career, moving her past Michael Cooper and into third place on the league's all-time wins list.

ADIA BARNES

Radio Color Analyst

Former Storm player Adia Barnes is in her fifth season as the color analyst for the two-time WNBA champion Seattle Storm. She has also provided color commentary for women's college basketball broadcasts on ROOT Sports (previously Fox Sports Northwest), NBA-TV, KONG, and the 2004 World Championship Games in Brazil. Barnes teamed with play-by-play voice Dick Fain in 2010 to call Seattle's second WNBA title. She has earned two pieces of hardware in her career, one as a member of the WNBA champion Seattle Storm in 2004 and the other as a broadcaster in 2010. For the past 13 years Barnes has held 29 school records and was the first women's basketball player inducted into the University of Arizona's Hall of Fame. She finished her collegiate career as Arizona's all-time leading scorer, male or female, with 2,237 points and was drafted in 1998 by the Sacramento Monarchs. Barnes went on to play seven seasons in the WNBA, including three with Seattle. Her professional career spanned 12 seasons, including multiple stints in Europe in the Ukraine, Portugal, Israel, Russia, Turkey, and Italy.

She started the Adia Barnes Foundation in 2003, which serves to mentor and provide positive direction to Seattle-area youth. The San Diego native is active in the community and earned the 2004 WNBA Community Assist Award. She was the Director of Player and Coaching Development at Seattle Academy, a local private school, and a mentor and color analyst for Seattle University Redhawks women's basketball team. Barnes was the youngest member of the Smilow Rainier Vista Boys & Girls Club Advisory Board and a volunteer coach/mentor before being hired as an assistant women's basketball coach with the University of Washington in May 2011.

History: On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997.

Since that day in 1996, there have been many firsts for the WNBA:

- Val Ackerman -- the first president of the WNBA
- Sheryl Swoopes -- the first player signed to the WNBA
- Cynthia Cooper -- the league's first Most Valuable Player
- Houston Comets -- the first WNBA Champions
- Lisa Leslie -- the first WNBA player to dunk (7/30/02 vs. Miami)
- Lauren Jackson -- the first international player to win MVP (2007)
- Candace Parker -- the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008)
- Sylvia Fowles -- the first goaltending call (6/3/2008 vs. LA)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

A Growing Game: The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 14 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and the league reflects this trend, featuring 20 international players from 13 countries and territories at the end of the 2010 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased 277 percent since 1991 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 17 percent since 1991 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1991 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).
