Dan Gilbert

Chairman, Rock Ventures LLC

Founder and Chairman, Quicken Loans Inc.

Majority Owner, Cleveland Cavaliers

Dan Gilbert is the Chairman of Rock Ventures LLC, the umbrella entity for his investments and real estate, and Founder and Chairman of Quicken Loans Inc., the nation's largest online home lender and third largest retail lender in the United States. In 2012, Quicken Loans closed more than $70 billion in home loan volume, a 133 percent increase over the $30 billion previous record set in 2011.

Dan is also majority owner of the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers, the NBA Development League's Canton (Ohio) Charge, the Arena Football League's (AFL) Cleveland Gladiators, and the American Hockey League's (AHL) Lake Erie Monsters, as well as the operator of the Quicken Loans Arena ("The Q") in Cleveland, Ohio.

Detroit-based Quicken Loans employs nearly 10,000 people nationally and earned the highest ratings for customer satisfaction among all U.S. home loan lenders in a study by J.D. Power and Associates in 2010, 2011 and 2012. Quicken Loans ranked in the Top-10 of FORTUNE magazine's '100 Best Companies to Work For' in 2012, and has placed among the Top-30 companies on FORTUNE's list for the past 10 years. The company has been recognized as one of Computerworld magazine's '100 Best Places to Work in IT' the past nine years, ranking No. 1 in 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2013. Quicken Loans was awarded the nation's best employer in Workplace Dynamics' 2013 National Top Workplace list. The benchmark study of more than 870 companies based its rankings solely on feedback gathered through an employee survey.

In less than three years, Quicken Loans moved its headquarters and more than 8,000 of its team members to downtown Detroit, where Dan and the company are helping lead a revitalization of the city's urban core.

Dan founded Rock Financial in 1985. The company grew into one of the largest independent mortgage lenders in the country and, in the late 1990s, launched its Internet strategy and quickly positioned itself as the fastest growing direct mortgage lender on the Internet.

In 2000, software maker Intuit purchased Rock Financial and the company was renamed "Quicken Loans." Dan stayed on as CEO, leading the company as it became the nation's largest online home lender. QuickenLoans.com has gone on to earn "Best of the Web" accolades from Forbes, Money and PC Magazine.

In 2002, Dan led a group and purchased Quicken Loans and its affiliated national title company, Title Source, Inc., back from Intuit.

Dan became majority owner of the Cleveland Cavaliers in 2005 and undertook a complete overhaul of the entire organization. Shortly after, the Cavaliers won the 2007 Eastern Conference Championship, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in the team's 37-year history. The team finished the 2008-2009 regular season with a franchise record and NBA-best 66 wins, and followed that in 2009-2010 with another NBA-best 61-win regular season.

Dan is a founding partner of Detroit-based private equity group Rockbridge Growth Equity LLC. The partnership invests in growing businesses in the financial services, Internet technology, consumer-direct marketing, and the sports and entertainment industries. Some of Rockbridge's investments include:

- Northcentral University, a premier online educational institution;
- Protect America, a leading home security company;
- One on One Marketing, a premier educational institution sales lead provider;
- Connect America, a direct-to-consumer provider of personal emergency response systems;
- Purchasing Power, a niche e-commerce business that allows clients' employees a way to purchase products through payroll deduction;
- Triad Retail Media, an online retail advertising company.

In addition, Dan is a Principal of Detroit Venture Partners (DVP), a venture capital firm that funds start-up and early-stage technology companies in Detroit.

Dan is also a significant shareholder and is involved in the operation of several consumer-based, technology-centered businesses, including:

- Fathead, the leader in sports and entertainment graphics;
- Veritix, a provider of paperless ticketing;
- Xenith, a developer of helmet technology that reduces brain injuries;
- StyleCaster, a community for all things fashion, beauty and music.

Dan and a group of partners successfully backed a state-wide referendum to bring casino gaming to Ohio's four largest cities in November 2009. Rock Gaming LLC, with joint venture partner Caesars Entertainment, has developed unique urban casinos under the Horseshoe brand in Cleveland, which opened in May 2012, and Cincinnati, which opened in March 2013. The companies are also developing an urban casino in downtown Baltimore, expected to open in 2014. The developments have been designed to engage, promote and encourage gaming patrons to visit and support existing cultural, nightlife and sports attractions in the downtown areas where they are located.

Dan is also the Director of Rock Gaming's affiliate, Athens Acquisition LLC, which acquired a majority interest in Detroit's Greektown Casino-Hotel in April 2013.

Dan launched Bizdom in 2007. The non-profit entrepreneurial academy trains, mentors and finances business builders in their start-up enterprises in the city of Detroit. Bizdom's mission is to create successful businesses, jobs, growth and wealth in large urban centers. Bizdom launched a second location, in downtown Cleveland, in 2011.

Dan serves on the boards of the Cleveland Clinic, the Washington D.C.-based Children's National Medical Center (CNMC), and the Children's Tumor Foundation (CTF). Dan also serves as Vice Chairman of the non-profit M-1 RAIL initiative, improving downtown and midtown Detroit's transportation infrastructure with a 6.6 mile light rail system designed to help spur economic development.

Dan earned his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University and his law degree from Wayne State University.

Jeff Cohen

CEO Rock Companies

Vice Chairman, Cleveland Cavaliers

Principal Rock Gaming LLC

Jeff Cohen is a principal of Rock Gaming LLC, a Midwest-based gaming partnership formed to develop and operate unique, urban-based casinos that engage, promote and encourage tourism while supporting existing cultural, nightlife and sports attractions in the downtown areas where they are located. Rock Gaming led the successful passage of a 2009 state constitutional referendum which brought state-of-the-art full-service casino gaming to Ohio's four largest cities. Through a partnership with Caesars Entertainment, the group is developing and operating casinos in Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as Baltimore, Md., which are designed to create thousands of jobs while sparking additional urban investment.

Horseshoe Casino Cleveland opened in May 2012, and Horseshoe Casino Cincinnati opened in March 2013; Horseshoe Casino Baltimore is slated to open in 2014. Rock Gaming and Caesars Entertainment also co-own Cleveland-area thoroughbred racetrack Thistledown, which opened as a racino in April 2013, as well as Turfway Park, a thoroughbred horseracing track located in northern Kentucky. Rock Gaming is also an investor in Caesars Interactive Entertainment Inc., a Montreal-based online, mobile and social gaming subsidiary of Caesars Entertainment.

Jeff is CEO and Founder of the Rock Companies, which includes the following family of companies: Rock Construction Company, Inc., Rock Equities LLC and Rock Management LLC. Rock Construction is a builder and developer that was founded in 1991 and has principal offices in Detroit, Michigan. With its affiliates, the company has developed, built and managed numerous commercial and residential projects including offices, custom homes, condominiums, apartment communities and arenas. Rock Construction is a licensed Michigan residential builder, a member of the Michigan Association of Home Builders, and licensed Michigan real estate broker.

Rock Equities was formed in 2001 as a vehicle for pursuing real estate investment opportunities. Its holdings have included properties in Florida, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina, and Ohio. Rock Equities has over $1 billion in transactions since its inception.

Rock Management is a property management company that manages many of the Rock Companies' holdings, particularly its properties in Southeastern Michigan, Metropolitan Orlando, North Carolina, and Southeast Ohio. Rock Management currently manages over 2,000 residential units, Quicken Loans Arena (The "Q"), the Cleveland Clinic Courts, and serves as owner's representative for Horseshoe Cleveland and Horseshoe Cincinnati.

In June 2002, Jeff was part of a small group of investors that purchased Quicken Loans Inc. (which today consists of Quicken Loans, Rock Financial and Title Source) from Intuit Inc. Quicken Loans closed a record $70 billion in home loans in 2012. Detroit based Quicken Loans employs more than 9,000 people nationally and earned the highest ratings for customer satisfaction among all U.S. home loan lenders in a study by J.D. Power and Associates in 2010, 2011 and 2012.

In 2005, Jeff was part of an investor group that acquired the Cleveland Cavaliers basketball club of the National Basketball Association, becoming its vice chairman in 2009. The ownership group is responsible for a complete overhaul of the franchise, including the front office executive team, coaching staff, player personnel and game presentation. The group also renovated the newly named "Quicken Loans Arena," (known as "The Q") including new seats, state-of-the-art scoreboards, video systems, sound systems, arena graphics, signage, security, locker rooms, and suite upgrades. Rock Companies was responsible for overseeing that construction activity, and served as the construction manager and owners representative for the new state-of-the-art Cleveland Clinic Courts team practice facility. Jeff is a Minority Owner in the NBA Development League's Canton Charge, the American Hockey League's Lake Erie Monsters, and Fathead, the leader in sports and entertainment graphics.

Jeff earned a bachelor's degree in science from Wayne State University in Detroit. He is the former President of JARC Properties—a non-profit organization providing housing and services to the developmentally disabled—and has served on the Board of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Detroit. Jeff has also been active in the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation as well as various other charitable organizations.

Chris Grant

General Manager

Chris Grant was named general manager of the Cleveland Cavaliers on June 4, 2010. He originally joined the franchise as the club's vice president of basketball operations/assistant general manager in July 2005.

Grant manages all aspects of scouting, personnel and player acquisitions. He also oversees the operations of the Cavs exclusive NBA Development League affiliate, the Canton Charge. In addition to those responsibilities, he supervises the Cavaliers performance team, who care for the medical needs and physical development of each player. With community involvement being integral to Grant's focus with the team, he also guides the player appearance committee (PAC) for the business side of the Cavs organization.

Since being named general manager, Grant has repositioned the organization for continued and sustainable success via the draft and trades, while managing the salary cap to keep the franchise in a position to sign free agents. He has acquired numerous draft picks, including the Los Angeles Clippers' 2011 first round pick, which secured the No. 1 overall pick in the 2011 NBA Draft Lottery for Cleveland. Grant selected Kyrie Irving, who went on to win the 2011-12 NBA Rookie of the Year award. In the same draft, he selected Tristan Thompson, who earned all-rookie second team honors. In the 2012 NBA Draft, Grant selected Dion Waiters who went on to earn all-rookie first team honors and Tyler Zeller who earned all-rookie second team honors. As a result of transactions Grant has made since becoming GM, the Cavs have acquired six first round draft picks, three of which have not yet been taken.

In the summer of 2013, Irving, Waiters and Zeller were a part of the USA Basketball Select Team Camp in Las Vegas, NV, while Thompson started for Team Canada in the FIBA Americas Championship in Caracas, Venezuela.

Grant spearheaded the design and construction of the Cavaliers' state-of-the-art player development center, Cleveland Clinic Courts, which opened at the start of the 2007 season. The 55,000 square foot facility is one of the most technologically advanced team development centers in pro sports.

Prior to joining the Cavaliers, he spent the previous nine seasons with the Atlanta Hawks where he was promoted in 2004 to the position of vice president of basketball operations and assistant general manager. In his nine years with the Hawks, Grant held six different positions including video intern, video coordinator, advance scout, assistant director of scouting, director of scouting and vice president/assistant general manager.

Grant, a graduate of the University of San Diego, earned a degree in psychology. He also received a master's degree in educational leadership from USD. Grant spent three seasons on the school's basketball team after transferring from Canada Junior College. During the summer of 2011, he joined the national advisory board of the Positive Coaching Alliance (PCA), a nonprofit organization that aims to transform the culture of youth sports to give all young athletes the opportunity for a positive, character-building experience. He also joined the Cleveland Clinic Children's Hospital Leadership Council in the fall of 2011. The nationally recognized Cleveland Clinic Children's Hospital features world-class pediatric facilities and the country's top physicians and specialists.

He and his wife, Kelly, have three sons, Cameron, Boden and Hudson.

Mike Brown

Head Coach

Mike Brown returned to the Cavaliers as the team's 19th head coach in franchise history on April 24, 2013. Brown most recently coached the Los Angeles Lakers and was head coach of the Cavaliers from 2005-2010. He has a career head coaching record of 314-167 (.652) which is the sixth-highest winning percentage in NBA history among coaches with at least 400 games coached.

Brown has won at least one playoff series every full season he has been a head coach in the NBA. Among head coaches who have coached in the NBA at least five years, Brown, Phil Jackson and Erik Spoelstra are the only coaches who have never missed the playoffs in their entire coaching career. Brown is also the only head coach in NBA history to win the first round of the playoffs every full year of his head coaching career (coached five years or longer).

In his first season at the helm with the Lakers in 2011-12, Brown led the team to a 41-25 (.621) lockout shortened record that saw Los Angeles finish atop the Pacific Division as they advanced to the second round of the 2012 Playoffs. He joined the Lakers after previously serving as an NBA analyst for ESPN in 2010-11.

The seven-year NBA veteran head coach has the best winning percentage of any coach in the Cavs' 43-year history. In five seasons with the Cavs, he has compiled a regular season record of 272-138 (.663). The Cavs have posted at least 45 wins in each season he has coached, the first and only time that Cleveland reached that mark in five straight seasons (2005-2010).

Brown was named the 2008-09 NBA Coach of the Year by members of the media and has compiled a postseason record with the Cavs of 42-29 (.592). He led the team to at least the second round of the postseason in each of his five seasons, including Cleveland's first ever trip to the NBA Finals in 2007.

Brown also earned Coach of the Month honors three times during the 2008-09 season (December, February and March) and, along with his coaching staff, earned the opportunity to coach the Eastern Conference All-Stars at the 2009 All-Star Game in Phoenix, Arizona. One of the NBA's top young coaches, Brown also led the Cavaliers to becoming only the 12th team in NBA history to have 66 wins, a franchise high. Brown was the fourth youngest coach in NBA history to win 60 games.

In 2009-10, Brown again led the Cavs over the 60-win plateau, spearheading Cleveland to the best overall record (61-21) and top home record (35-6) in back-to-back seasons. With at least 60 wins in consecutive seasons, the Cavs became only the ninth different franchise (18th time) to accomplish that feat.

After posting a 50-32 record in 2005-06, which was the most wins as a first-year head coach in team history, Brown became the first rookie head coach since the 2001-02 season to post 50 wins in a season. Brown followed that up with another 50-win season (50-32) in his second year, 45 wins (45-37) in his third year, 66 wins (66-16) in his fourth year and 61 wins during season number five.

Between 2005 and 2010, Cleveland under Brown was the only team to have reached at least the second round of the playoffs in each of those seasons and one of just five teams in the NBA that qualified for the playoffs during that stretch. In those five playoff appearances, Brown's 42-29 (.592) postseason record with the Cavs was the third-best playoff winning percentage in the NBA over that span behind only the Los Angeles Lakers and Boston Celtics, and his 8-5 (.615) mark in playoff series makes him the winningest playoff head coach in team history. It was also the first and only time in franchise history that the team had a winning record in five consecutive postseasons.

During his first playoff run as head coach, Brown led Cleveland to the Eastern Conference Semifinals in the 2006 Playoffs and became the first coach in franchise history to lead his team to a playoff series win in his first season by defeating Washington, 4-2, in the first round of the Eastern Conference playoffs. In the 2007 Playoffs, Brown led the Cavaliers to their first Eastern Conference Championship and a trip to the NBA Finals after Cleveland knocked off the Pistons, 4-2, in the Eastern Conference Finals. He guided the Cavaliers to their first series sweep in the first round versus Washington and then led Cleveland to a 4-2 win in the conference semifinals against New Jersey. In the 2008 Playoffs, the Cavaliers defeated the Washington Wizards, 4-2, before taking the eventual NBA Champion Boston Celtics to a seven-game series.

In the 2009 playoffs, the team swept the first two rounds, over the Detroit Pistons and Atlanta Hawks, for the first time in franchise history. The team finished the postseason at 10-4 (.714), which is the best record based on winning percentage in franchise history and the second-highest number of wins in a postseason, trailing only the 2007 playoffs when the team went 12-8 (.600).

Brown joined the Cavaliers after spending two seasons as the associate head coach of the Indiana Pacers and three seasons as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Spurs. His career record as an assistant coach was 341-201 (.629) and he won a division title with Indiana in 2003-04 after three straight division titles with San Antonio. He helped lead Indiana to consecutive playoff appearances including a trip to the Eastern Conference Finals in 2004. He was also on the bench for the Spurs during their 2003 World Championship season. While with the Spurs, Brown's teams won at least 58 games each season. He also was the head coach for the Spurs' summer league teams in Boston and Salt Lake City.

Brown spent three years with the Washington Wizards' staff beginning in 1997, spending the first two years as an assistant under Bernie Bickerstaff and his final year as the team's professional scout.

The 43-year-old (born March 5, 1970 in Columbus, Ohio) began his NBA career with the Denver Nuggets in 1992, where he spent five seasons, first as the team's video coordinator and then as a scout.

He participated in the NBA's Basketball without Borders program in Johannesburg, South Africa in the summer of 2006. Mike and his wife, Carolyn, are actively involved in the Cavaliers' community relations initiatives including "Domestic Violence Center," "Cleveland Municipal School District," "Cleveland Christian Home" and "Shoes & Clothes for Kids".

Brown is a 1992 graduate of the University of San Diego with a degree in business. He played basketball for two seasons at USD after spending two years at Mesa Community College. He attended high school in Germany at Wurzburg American High School. He and Carolyn have two sons, Elijah and Cameron.

Len Komoroski

Chief Executive Officer, Cavaliers/Quicken Loans Arena

Len Komoroski is Chief Executive Officer of the Cleveland Cavaliers and Quicken Loans Arena organization. The organization includes the Lake Erie Monsters (AHL), Cleveland Gladiators (AFL), and Canton Charge (NBADL). In addition, he oversees all business operations and business-related endeavors for Cavs majority owner Dan Gilbert's family of sports and entertainment interests in Ohio. He is also a principal in Rock Gaming, which operates Horseshoe Casino Cleveland.

With more than 30 years of experience in pro sports and entertainment, Komoroski's leadership has helped set a solid business foundation from which the Cleveland Cavaliers, Lake Erie Monsters, Cleveland Gladiators, Canton Charge and Quicken Loans Arena have flourished into one of the most successfully operated sports and entertainment organizations in the country.

Komoroski joined the Cavaliers organization in 2003 as president. In his first year he restructured and transformed how the Cavaliers approached the business community; assembled a team of top sports marketing pros; transformed the organization's communications efforts; and oversaw the development of one of the most dynamic game experiences in the NBA. Other accomplishments at the helm of the Cavaliers business operations include playing pivotal roles in developing one of the top cable television relationships in the NBA with Fox Sports Ohio, as well as securing the entitlement of the Cavaliers new state-of-the-art player development center - Cleveland Clinic Courts.

The Cavaliers franchise has been repeatedly recognized within the pro sports team industry (NBA, NFL, NHL, MLB and MLS) as one of five finalists for Sports Business Journal's prestigious "Sports Team of the Year" award in recent years. The award recognizes excellence, creativity and innovation in franchise business operations.

As one of the seven Principles of Rock Gaming, Komoroski played an instrumental role in bringing first-class, full-service casino gaming to downtown Cleveland and Cincinnati along with thousands of jobs and millions of dollars of positive economic impact for local and statewide communities.

Very active as a community and civic leader, he serves on the board of directors of the Greater Cleveland Partnership, the Downtown Cleveland Alliance, the Cleveland International Fund, the Cleveland State University Foundation, and the Cleveland chapters of the American Red Cross and United Way. He is also Chairman of the Board for Positively Cleveland, Cleveland's convention and visitor's bureau. Komoroski was also named Sales and Marketing Executives of Cleveland's (SME) 2013 Business Executive of the Year.

Prior to joining the Cavaliers organization, Komoroski was the Senior Vice President and Chief of Business Operations with the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles (1996-2003). There, he played a pivotal role in the Eagles' growth and business success, which included bringing the Eagles Television Network in-house and helping to broker the record-setting, multi-million dollar naming rights deal for the Eagles training facility, the NovaCare Complex; development of Lincoln Financial Field, the Eagles state-of-the-art stadium and secured a 20-year, $140 million naming rights agreement with Lincoln Financial Group which, at the time, was one of the largest such agreements in pro sports history.

Prior to the Eagles, Komoroski was the Senior Vice President and COO of the International Hockey League's (IHL) Cleveland Lumberjacks (1994-96). The team was one of three profitable IHL teams in 1996. His first stint in the NBA was with Minnesota Timberwolves as Vice President of Sales (1988-1994), there he played a major role in the start-up of the team and its arena, the Target Center.

Komoroski is a 1982 cum laude graduate of Duquesne University. He and his wife Denise have three daughters – Kristin, Kelly, Jamie and a son, Zachary.
