The 2020 MLB Draft was shortened due to the COVID-19 Pandemic

What Director of Amateur Scouting Paul Toboni has to say about each draft selection:

Nick Yorke

“When the perception of the industry undervalued Nick, we’d be naïve to not run through those thought exercises of what we could be missing, whether this could actually be true and if our process is robust enough that we should be fully buying into what we’re seeing. Everything kept leading us back to this thought that, hey, we think we’re a team that we’re able to create a really good process on this kid while other teams might not have. Given a chance to scout him for a full spring, we thought things would have changed on him and he could have been a consensus first-rounder or comp pick. With Nick, what we saw him was that he has a really good understanding of what he’s doing in the box. Just an advanced feel with a clean and refined swing, a repeatable swing. On top of that, while it’s not a premium position, his chance to stick in the middle of the infield was important for us.”

Blaze Jordan

“We understood there was significant risk because of how young Blaze is and while he carries some really unique attributes, mostly his bat speed and his power, it comes with risk. At the end of the day, there were really interesting qualities outside of the swing, like his maturity for how old he is. We think he’s got good pitch recognition and feel for the zone. He just needs more exposure to that high level of pitching for an extended period, and we’ll bet on the kid to continue to make adjustments as he gets that exposure.”

Jeremy Wu-Yellend

“I think the thing to consider is that we’re entering this time in baseball where roles are becoming less defined. For us, we’d rather take a chance on a kid that we think can throw a good amount of strikes and has three pitches we think could be better than average and play to both sides of the plate. From there, we can carve out a meaningful role for him.”

Shane Drohan

“One of the big things that stood out to us with Shane was the fact that we all felt like there’s a lot left in the tank. With all this runway left and the fact that it’s coupled with performance trending positively, we thought his best days are ahead of him. He’s the unique college junior that we think is just scratching the surface and has the chance to be pretty darn good.”

COREY WIMBERLY

Manager

Wimberly is the 15th manager in team history and in his third season as a manager in the Red Sox organization. Wimberly went 37-38 in 2018 managing the Lowell Spinners, then led the Salem Red Sox to a 67-70 record and a Carolina League playoff berth in 2019. He first joined the Red Sox organization as a coach with the Greenville Drive in 2017. Wimberly was slated to return to manage Salem in 2020 before the season was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Selected in the fifth round of the 2005 MLB Draft by the Colorado Rockies, Wimberly played ten seasons in the minor leagues. He spent time with the Rockies, Oakland Athletics, Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Mets, Atlanta Braves, Cincinnati Reds and Minnesota Twins affiliates reaching the Triple-A level. During his career, he batted .297 with 16 home runs and 300 RBI in 959 games. He stole 50 or more bases in a season three times, including 59 with the Tulsa Drillers in 2008.

NORTHEAST LEAGUE RULES OF INTEREST

DEFENSIVE POSITIONING: The defensive team must have a minimum of four players on the infield, each of whom must have both feet completely in front of the outer boundary of the infield dirt. Depending on the preliminary results of this experimental rule change, MLB may require two infielders to be positioned entirely on each side of second base in the second half of the Double-A season. These restrictions on defensive positioning are intended to increase the batting average on balls in play.

DOUBLEHEADERS: Doubleheaders are usually the result of a rainout or postponement of a nine-inning game. Doubleheaders are rescheduled by the general manager, and will consist of two 7-inning games. There is a break of 30 minutes between games. Generally, a doubleheader slated for a day when the nine-inning game was scheduled for 7:00 will be scheduled to begin one hour earlier. If the doubleheader is scheduled on a day when the regularly scheduled game was to begin at 1:00 or earlier, there may not be a change in the start of the doubleheader scheduled for that day.

EXTRA INNINGS: At all levels of Minor League Baseball, extra innings will begin with a runner on second base. The runner at second base will be the player in the batting order position previous to the leadoff batter of the inning (or a substitute for that player). By way of example, if the number five hitter in the batting order is due to lead off the 10th inning, the number four player in the batting order (or a pinch-runner for such player) shall begin the inning on second base. Any runner or batter removed from the game for a substitute shall be ineligible to return to the game, as is the case in all circumstances under the Official Baseball Rules.

For purposes of calculating earned runs under Rule 9.16, the runner who begins an inning on second base pursuant to this rule shall be deemed to be a runner who has reached second base because of a fielding error, but no error shall be charged to the opposing team or to any player.

PITCHER'S MOUND VISITS: Visits by coaches and position players will be limited based on the classification level. Triple-A clubs will be allowed six (6) visits per team, Double-A clubs will be allowed eight (8) visits per team, Single-A clubs will be allowed 10 visits per team and there will not be a limit on mound visits for Short Season and Rookie-level clubs.

These mound visit limits will apply whether the game is scheduled for seven or nine innings.

For any extra-innings played, each club shall be entitled to one additional non-pitching change mound visit per inning.

Official Baseball Rule 5.10(l), which governs mound visits by a manager or coach, remains in effect (i.e., a pitcher must be removed on the second visit by a manager/coach in an inning).

RESCHEDULING GAMES: Postponed or suspended games do not have to be made up the next day, and make up dates do not have to be determined that day. However, if it is the last time the team is visiting a city every effort shall be made to play the game. If it is the last scheduled meeting in that city, the game is made up at the home site of the visiting city (if they still have games left at the visiting team's home park). When games are suspended in one park and finished in the other team's park, the game is completed with the original home team remaining the home team (even in the other team's park).

SUSPENDED GAMES: If a game is suspended before it is an official game, and rescheduled as part of a doubleheader, it will be completed as scheduled (usually as a nine-inning game) and be followed by a seven-inning game. If a game is suspended after it becomes an official game (usually the score is tied) and then rescheduled as part of a doubleheader, it will also be completed as scheduled but the second game will be played as a full nine-inning game.

TIEBREAKERS: In the event the same team finishes in first place in their division in both halves of the season, the second playoff spot for that division would be awarded to the team from that division that had the best full season record. The standings for postseason berths will be determined using the won-loss record (games behind column), with winning percentage having no impact on the standings.

Yard Goats Notes

- Formerly the New Britain Rock Cats, the Yard Goats moved to Hartford prior to the 2016 season. A Yard Goat is an old railroad slang term for an engine that switches a train to get it ready for another locomotive. Hartford selected the name after holding a "Name the Team" contest that drew close to 6,000 submissions. Team officials picked Yard Goats over Hedgehogs, Praying Mantis, River Hogs, and Whirlybirds.
- The Colorado Rockies previously fielded a team in the Eastern League with the New Haven Ravens from 1994-98.

BASEBALL IN PORTLAND & MAINE

Professional baseball in Maine dates back to the last century. Since 1901 and the advent of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (Minor League Baseball's governing body), professional baseball has called nine different Maine cities home, stretching from Calais to Old Orchard Beach. The Sea Dogs are Portland's first entry since 1949, the last season of the Portland Pilots. Below is the summary of Portland's professional baseball life since 1901 and a listing of other Maine professional baseball sites.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIAL APPLICATIONS – All news media will be asked to submit a written request for Sea Dogs' press credentials on their official letterhead. Credentials may be picked up at the Hadlock Field "Will Call" window.

SEASON CREDENTIALS – Season credentials will be issued only to those legitimate news gathering organizations who plan to cover the Sea Dogs on a daily basis. No spouses, guests or children of members of the press will be issued credentials. Press passes are not transferable. Credentialed members of the media are prohibited from requesting or accumulating autographs or equipment on the playing field or in the dugout or clubhouse. Any violation of these guidelines could result in immediate revocation of the credential and future access. Only credentials issued by the Sea Dogs, the Eastern League, the BBWAA or the Boston Red Sox will be honored. All credentials must be visible at all times.

DAILY CREDENTIALS – Daily credentials will be issued to those legitimate news gathering organizations that do not qualify for season credentials. Any organization that anticipates the need for daily credentials must have a letter on file with the Sea Dogs. Requests may be sent via fax, but those requests must be made at least 48 hours in advance. Daily credentials are subject to the same restrictions as season credentials and any violation could result in immediate revocation of the credential and any future access.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS – Credentials will be issued to those photographers on assignment for legitimate news gathering organizations and those representatives of companies licensed by Major League Baseball. Priority in all areas will be granted to news organizations on nightly deadlines. All photographs taken are to be used for news gathering purposes or officially licensed products. Any other use of photographs taken will be considered a violation of existing trademark and copyright restrictions.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS – Access to the Sea Dogs clubhouse both before and after games will be limited to those organizations that are filing stories on a nightly deadline. All media outlets will be asked to do any interviews on the field prior to each game. Clubhouse access will be granted to all media when special situations arise, as determined by the Sea Dogs. Pre-game access to the clubhouse will be determined by the Sea Dogs field staff. The clubhouse will be open to the media no later than 15 minutes after the conclusion of games. Policies regarding access between games of doubleheaders and during rain delays will be determined by the Sea Dogs field manager. Access to the visiting clubhouse is subject to the visiting club's guidelines.

FIELD ACCESS – All credentialed members of the media will be given access to the playing field prior to each game. No media will be allowed in fair territory or beyond first and third base. All non-uniformed personnel must clear the field at the conclusion of visitor's batting practice unless that individual has credentials expressly for in-game privileges (photo passes, pre-game ceremonies, etc.).

LIVE TRANSMISSIONS – Television and radio stations not holding broadcast rights for Sea Dogs' games will be allowed to transmit live reports prior to and after Sea Dogs games. All live television shots will be arranged by the Sea Dogs and the requesting media member. No live shots will be permitted from the clubhouses. No live transmissions inside the stadium by non-rights holders will be permitted while the rights holders are on the air or while the game is in progress. Radio stations will be permitted to provide "scene setters" and score updates between innings but these reports may not continue once an inning is underway. Any violation of these policies could result in revocation of credentials.

HOW DID YOU GET THAT?

Qualifying Marks: To qualify for a minor league batting title, a player must have a minimum of 383 plate appearances. To qualify for earned run average championship, a pitcher must have at least 114 innings pitched.

Determining Batting Average: Divide the number of hits by the number of at-bats (at-bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitches, or times awarded first base on interference or obstruction).
Determining Earned Run Average: Divide the number of earned runs by the number of innings pitched and multiply by nine.

Determining ERA (Earned Run Average): Earned run average represents the number of earned runs a pitcher allows per nine innings -- with earned runs being any runs that scored without the aid of an error or a passed ball. ERA is the most commonly accepted statistical tool for evaluating pitchers. The formula for finding ERA is: $9 \times \text{earned runs} / \text{innings pitched}$. If a pitcher exits a game with runners on base, any earned runs scored by those runners will count against him.

Determining WHIP: WHIP is one of the most commonly used statistics for evaluating a pitcher's performance. The statistic shows how well a pitcher has kept runners off the basepaths, one of his main goals. The formula is simple enough -- it's the sum of a pitcher's walks and hits, divided by his total innings pitched.

Determining a Save: A pitcher is credited with a save when he meets the following conditions:

1. He is the last pitcher in a game won by his club.
2. He is not the winning pitcher.
3. He meets one of the following:
 - A. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or
 - B. He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at-bat, on-deck, or
 - C. He pitches effectively for at least three innings in relief.

Determining Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all hits by the total times at-bat.

Determining Fielding Percentage: Divide the total number of putouts and assists by the total number of putouts, assists, and errors.

Determining On-Base Percentage: Divide the number of times reached base by the number of plate appearances (which include at-bats, walks, hit by pitch, and times interfered by catcher).

Determining Magic Number: Take the total number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standing from the closest opponent.

Major League Rookie Status: Not more than 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the Major Leagues during a previous season or seasons, nor more than 45 days on a Major League roster during the 25-player limit.

Consecutive Game Playing Streak: A player streak shall be extended if the player plays during a half inning on defense, or if he completes a time at-bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend a streak. If a player is ejected from a game before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

HADLOCK FIELD GROUND RULES

HOME RUNS

From the left-field foul line to the vertical yellow line left of the video board, the ball must clear the fence to be a home run. A ball hit to the right of the vertical yellow line that is located to the left of the video board and above the billboards is a home run.

The Billboards and any netting or supports above the left-field fence are over the wall, and thus it's a home run if it hits any of those structures.

Any ball hitting the left-field wall in fair territory and bouncing out of play is a ground-rule double.

From the yellow line to the left of the video board to the right-field foul line is - it is a home run if it clears the yellow line.

SCOREBOARD

If a ball becomes lodged between the net and the scoreboard - it is a ground rule double.

DUGOUTS

There is a white line around the area where the batboys and photographers sit. If it crosses those lines, it is a dead ball.

If the ball bounces off the lip of the dugout back onto the field, the ball is live. If it goes into the dugout, it's a dead ball.

If the ball hits the straight vertical portion of the padding on the dugout, it is in play. If it remains on the field and doesn't cross the white lines mentioned about in C-1, It is a dead ball if it goes into the dugout.

If the ball hits the inclined portion of the padding, it is a dead ball.

PROTECTIVE NETTING

A batted ball that hits the net located between the first base dugout, behind homeplate, and down the third base line in the air is a dead ball. A batted ball that hits that net after hitting the ground is in play, either fair or foul, as determined by the umpire.

A thrown ball that hits the net located between the first base dugout, behind homeplate, and down the third base line remains in play.

TARP

Draw an imaginary line from the far end of the tarp to the fencing that juts out (Section P1).

A player may not elevate himself on the tarp to catch the ball, but he may lean over it.

BACKSTOP

Once the ball touches the netting on a foul pop, it is a dead ball.
