CYCLONES OWNERSHIP

STEVEN A. COHEN

OWNER, CHAIRMAN AND CEO

- Steve Cohen is the chairman and majority owner of the New York Mets, Brooklyn Cyclones, Syracuse Mets and St. Lucie Mets. He bought the team in 2020 and is working on revamping the team's operations to help turn it into a perennial World Series contender with a first-class experience for Mets fans.
- Grew up in Great Neck, New York, where he would take the Long Island Railroad to Mets games and sit in the upper deck.
- Mr. Cohen is the founder, chairman and chief executive officer of Point72 Asset Management, an alternative investment firm with more than 1,600 employees around the globe. He founded S.A.C. Capital Advisors, the predecessor investment firm to Point72, in 1992. The Firm has built a reputation as an industry-leader in talent development, innovation and the use of alternative data analytics.
- In 2016, Mr. Cohen leveraged his lengthy career in the public markets to found Point72 Ventures, which focuses on early-stage investments in private companies in fintech, artificial intelligence and machine learning, enterprise technologies and digital healthcare.
- Mr. Cohen is also an avid philanthropist and has founded and holds active leadership roles in several non-profit organizations.
- Mr. Cohen and his wife, Alexandra, founded the Steven & Alexandra Cohen Foundation in 2001. The Foundation is committed to achieving lasting and meaningful change through commitments to children's health, education, veterans, and the arts. He created Cohen Veterans Network and Cohen Veterans Bioscience in 2015 to improve the mental healthcare, treatment, and quality of life for veterans and their families.
- He serves on the Board of Trustees at the Museum of Contemporary Art (MOCA) in Los Angeles, the Emeritus Board of the Robin Hood Foundation, and the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) Board of Trustees.
- Mr. Cohen received a BS in economics from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School. He began his investing career at Gruntal & Co. in New York, where he managed proprietary capital for 14 years before starting his own investment business.
- He currently lives with his wife in Greenwich, Connecticut. He has seven children and is an avid art collector.

What's In a Name?

When it was announced that there would be a minor league team coming to play in Brooklyn for the 2001 season, The Daily News and WFAN sponsored a "Name the Team" contest in hopes of creating a team name that reflected Brooklyn's rich baseball history while paying homage to its loyal fans. The top 10 submissions were:

1. Brooklyn Cyclones
2. Brooklyn Knights
3. Brooklyn Eagles
4. Brooklyn Bums
5. Brooklyn Mets
6. Brooklyn Bombers
7. Brooklyn Bridges
8. Brooklyn Brawlers
9. Coney Island Coasters
10. Coney Island Hot Dogs

In the end it was the Brooklyn Cyclones. The team's on-field cap became so popular with fans that they sold more than all major and minor league teams excluding the Seattle Mariners during the 2001 season. It was Ichiro Suzuki's rookie year in MLB.

ALEXANDRA M. COHENOWNER & PRESIDENT OF AMAZIN' METS FOUNDATION

- Alexandra M. Cohen is the President of the Steven & Alexandra Cohen Foundation, the non-profit organization that she and her husband Steven cofounded in 2001.
- She directs strategic initiatives and leads the day-to-day operations of the Foundation, which is committed to inspiring philanthropy and community service by creating awareness, offering guidance and leading by example to show the world what giving can do.
- Over the past two decades, they have given more than $958 million in gifts to organizations that improve children's healthcare and education, serve the underserved, support the arts, protect the environment, and further research in the areas of Lyme and tickborne disease and Psychedelics therapy. Their giving often reflects a personal connection with the causes and communities they support.
- Mrs. Cohen was born in Harlem, New York and grew up in Washington Heights. After studying Communications at New York's Manhattan College, she worked in the financial industry until she married Steven Cohen in 1992. Since then, Mrs. Cohen focused on raising her family and driving their philanthropic endeavors.
- Mrs. Cohen is a member of the Honorary Council of the Bob Woodruff Foundation and the New York Restoration Project Chairman's Council

ANDREW B. COHEN*VICE CHAIRMAN

- Andrew B. Cohen is the Vice Chairman, member of the board of directors since 2012, and a minority owner of the New York Mets Baseball Club.
- He is the Chief Investment Officer and Co-Founder of Cohen Private Ventures which invests long-term capital, primarily in direct private investments and other opportunistic transactions, and manages family office activities, on behalf of Steven A. Cohen and his family.
- Prior to his position with Cohen Private Ventures, he was an Analyst and Portfolio Manager at the Firm from 2002 to 2005, investing in public equities and debt securities.
- Began his career at Morgan Stanley where he was an Analyst in the real estate department and principal investing group (MSREF) and then an Associate in the mergers and acquisitions group post business school.
- He is a member of the board of directors of several public and private companies.
- Received his B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania and his M.B.A. from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
- Andrew resides in Manhattan with his wife and two children.

FRED WILPON*CHAIRMAN EMERITUS

- Served as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Mets from 1980-2002 and as Chairman of the Board from 2002 until 2020.
- A Brooklyn, NY native who has been closely identified with baseball since his days as a youngster.
- Instrumental in bringing baseball back to Brooklyn, serving as the Chairman of the Brooklyn Baseball Company, which owned the Brooklyn Cyclones.
- Co-founder and Chairman of the Board of Sterling Equities, Inc., a real estate firm that is involved in the acquisition, development, ownership, operations and management of commercial, residential, industrial and retail properties throughout the United States.

MEDIA POLICIES

Contact: Billy Harner - Director of Communications
Maimonides Park - 1904 Surf Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11224
Phone: 718-449-8497 x 2610
E-Mail: BHarner@BrooklynCyclones.com

Credentialed media members must observe the rules set forth by Major League Baseball, the Cyclones and the City of New York.

- In order to enter the ballpark, members of the media will be responsible for obtaining and displaying proof of one of the following:
- Full vaccination, meaning 14 days removed from the second shot of either Pfizer or Moderna vaccine or 14 days removed from the one dose Johnson & Johnson vaccine.
- A negative result from a PCR COVID-19 test taken within one week of that day's game.
- A negative result from a COVID-19 Antigen test taken within six (6) hours of the game's start time.
- It is strongly recommended that members of the media obtain a test result prior to their arrival.
- If you fail to provide a negative test or proof of vaccination, the Cyclones will offer a COVID-19 Antigen test for purchase at an on-site facility. The cost is $30 and will be available in a tent located near The Boardwalk Entrance in right field. Please budget time accordingly as the test may take upwards of 30 minutes to deliver results.
- Members of the media must wear an approved face covering at all times while on ballpark property except when actively eating or drinking.
- Members of the media must adhere to social distancing guidelines.
- Anyone who refuses to adhere to the safety rules set forth will be denied access to the ballpark.

Please visit brooklyncyclones.com/safeathome for the most up-to-date health and safety regulations in effect at our ballpark.

CREDENTIALS

Due to health and safety guidelines, space in the Cyclones press box is extremely limited. All members of the media must request a credential at least 48 hours in advance of the date of which they would like to attend. All credentials must be requested in writing by emailing Bharner@brooklyncyclones.com.

Only approved credentials for that specific date will be honored to ensure compliance with capacity limitations in the Cyclones press box. Media members may apply for an entire series at once. If approved, their credential will be valid for all games in that series. Season credentials will be distributed but you still must apply 48 hours in advance to prevent over-crowding.

Access will be limited at the ballpark. Media members will access the ballpark through the glass doors located on Surf Avenue next to the team store. After receiving credentials, media members are strongly encouraged to take the stairs to the Press Box located on the 4th Floor. An elevator is available but capacity will be limited to 3 people at a time when fans are present in the ballpark.

CLUBHOUSE & FIELD ACCESS

Per Major League Baseball rules, all members of the media are prohibited from entering the clubhouse or accessing the playing field or dugouts. Failure to adhere to this guideline will result in media credentials being revoked. These restrictions were put in place by MLB to ensure the health and safety of players, staff and media. Photographers will not be allowed to shoot from the normal positions in the dugouts. Instead they will be allowed to shoot from the first two rows of the seating bowl – which are not available to fan use - or on the concourse.

Press Box

There will be markings on the outdoor tables of the press box to indicate locations that are available for seating. These are the only locations visitors will be allowed to use to ensure social distancing. Members of the media are asked to refrain from congregating in the indoor section of the press box. There will be no shared food service in the press box. Printed game materials will still be available in the press box.

Interviews and Player Access

- All player and manager interview will be conducted via Zoom video conferencing.
- Manager Ed Blankmeyer will be available to speak after every home game.
- The Cyclones will send a link to members of the media prior to his availability.
- Select players will also be available to members of the media at times to be determined.
- All interview requests must go through the Brooklyn Cyclones communications department.
- To ensure that you are on our Zoom list, please e-mail Bharner@brooklyncyclones.com
- Recordings of interviews will be available upon request.

2001

52-24, 1st Place / NYPL Co-Champs

MANAGER - Edgar Alfonzo

HITTING COACH - Howard Johnson

PITCHING COACH - Bobby Djeda

Baseball returned to Brooklyn for the first time in over four decades when the Cyclones took the field on June 25, 2001. Edgar Alfonzo, older brother of former Met Edgardo Alfonzo, guided the team to a still-franchise record 52 wins. The team won the McNamara Division and then defeated the Staten Island Yankees in the first round of the playoffs. After winning Game One of the NYPL Championship Series, the remainder of the series was cancelled following the tragic events of September 11, 2001, with both Williamsport and Brooklyn being honored as Co-Champions.

2002

38-38, 4th Place

MANAGER - Howard Johnson

HITTING COACH - Donovan Mitchell

PITCHING COACH - Bobby Djeda

After a year as the team's hitting coach in 2001, "HoJo" took the helm for a 2002 Brooklyn team that was beset by injuries. One of the most popular players in Mets history, Johnson led the Cyclones to a 38-38 mark, as the team missed the playoffs.

2003

47-28, 1st Place - Lost in NYPL Finals

MANAGER - Tim Teufel

HITTING COACH - Roger LaFrancois

PITCHING COACH - Hector Berrios

In his managerial debut, "Tuff" brought the Cyclones back to the top of the division and to the post-season for the second time in franchise history. Brooklyn won six of seven to end the regular season and claim their second division title. The Cyclones defeated Oneonta, two games to one, to move on to the NYPL Championship Series. The Cyclones fell to Williamsport, two games to none, in the finals.

2004

43-31, 1st Place - Lost in NYPL Semifinals

MANAGER - Tony Tijerina

HITTING COACH - Donovan Mitchell

PITCHING COACH - Hector Berrios

In his 14th year in the Mets organization, "T.J." returned to the NYPL, where he got his start as both a player and a manager. He quickly became a fan favorite in Brooklyn. Under his direction, the Cyclones won their second consecutive division title, while producing three All-Stars and a Stedler Award winner. They were bested, however, two games to one in the NYPL Semifinals.

2005

40-36, 3rd Place

MANAGER - Mookie Wilson

HITTING COACH - Donovan Mitchell

PITCHING COACH - Steve Merriman

BENCH COACH - Juan Lopez

One of the organization's most recognizable and beloved members, Mookie made a return to New York baseball as the Cyclones' 2005 manager. Juan Lopez, who also was a member of the 2005 staff, went on to serve as a coach for the Mets on the major league level.

2006

41-33, 2nd Place, Wild Card

MANAGER - George Greer

HITTING COACH - Scott Hunter

PITCHING COACH - Hector Berrios

BENCH COACH - Juan Lopez

Bringing over 35 years of experience as a college head coach and over 1,000 career wins, Greer made his professional managerial debut with Brooklyn in 2006. His team overcame a winless first week of the season to reel off a team-record 13 straight victories, and fight its way back into the playoffs. In 2014, Greer was the hitting coach for Las Vegas (AAA) of the PCL for the second season, after serving in the same role with Buffalo (AAA) in 2012. Greer has also worked with St. Lucie (A), Savannah (A), and Kingsport (R).

200749-25, 1st Place, Lost in NYPL Finals*MANAGER - Edgar Alfonzo HITTING COACH - Guadalupe Jabalera PITCHING COACH - Hector Berrios

"Fonzie" returned as manager of the Cyclones after a five-year hiatus and once again lifted the team to the top of the McNamara Division standings, as Brooklyn finished with a NYPL-best 49 wins. After defeating Staten Island in the league Semifinals, the Cyclones were defeated by the Auburn Doubledays in the NYPL Championship Series. The Cyclones finished the season with a 2.93 team ERA, the lowest in the league by nearly half a run.

200845-30, 2nd Place*MANAGER - Edgar Alfonzo HITTING COACH - Guadalupe Jabalera PITCHING COACH - Hector Berrios

Edgar Alfonzo finished his third and final season at the helm of the Cyclones with a career record of 151-82, including his two playoff runs. In 2009 and 2010, Edgar was the manager of the St. Lucie Mets (A) of the Florida State League before leaving the organization prior to the start of the 2011 campaign.

200945-30, 2nd Place, Wild Card*MANAGER - Pedro Lopez HITTING COACH - Jack Voigt PITCHING COACH - Rick Tomlin
BENCH COACH - Joel Fuentes

Under Lopez, the 2009 Cyclones jumped out to the best start in franchise history, going 16-2 in the team's first 18 games. Lopez's Cyclones produced six All-Stars, and his staff coached the 2009 NYPL NL All-Star team. Brooklyn finished the year in second place in the division and captured the NYPL Wild Card spot in the playoffs, but was eliminated in two games by Mahoning Valley.

201051-24, 1st Place, Lost in NYPL Finals*MANAGER - Wally Backman HITTING COACH - Benny Distefano- PITCHING COACH - Rick Tomlin
BENCH COACH - Joel Fuentes

Wally Backman, a pivotal cog in the Mets World Series Championship team in 1986, returned to the organization as the manager of the Cyclones in 2010. Brooklyn finished with a NYPL-best 51 wins, the second-highest total in franchise history, and led the league in team ERA and team batting average. After defeating the Jamestown Jammers in the NYPL Semifinals, the Cyclones fell to Tri-City in the NYPL Championship Series.

201145-29, 2nd Place, Wild Card*MANAGER - Rich Donnelly HITTING COACH - Bobby Malek PITCHING COACH - Frank Viola

Rich Donnelly returned to the minor leagues as the manager of the Cyclones after spending three decades in the major leagues. Donnelly led the Cyclones to the playoffs for the third straight season following a 45-win season. Frank "Sweet Music" Viola, a Cy Young Award winner and World Series MVP with the Twins, made his professional debut as a pitching coach for the squad. Bobby Malek, who played for the Cyclones in '02, became the first former Cyclones player to return to the team as a coach.

201245-31, 2nd Place, Wild Card*MANAGER - Rich Donnelly HITTING COACH - Bobby Malek PITCHING COACH - Marc Valdes

Rich Donnelly became the first manager in franchise history to lead the Cyclones to consecutive playoff appearances. The Cyclones pitching staff led the NYPL with a 2.62 ERA and 10 shutouts in Marc Valdes' first season on Coney Island. The Brooklyn offense struggled, ranking 13th in the NYPL with a .230 team average.

201338-37, 2nd Place*MANAGER - Rich Donnelly HITTING COACH - Bobby Malek PITCHING COACH - Marc Valdes

The Cyclones needed a win on the last day of the season to avoid becoming the first team in franchise history to finish below .500. The team finished with an ERA of 2.81 (second in the league) but hit only .235 as a team, 10th in the league. Although they missed out on the playoffs, the Cyclones were in first place with only five games left in the season.

2014

42-34, 2nd Place

MANAGER - Tom Gamboa HITTING COACH - Benny Distefano PITCHING COACH - Dave LaRoche
PITCHING COACH - Tom Signore

The Cyclones finished the season tied with the Connecticut Tigers, but lost a tie-breaker for the Wild Card spot in the playoffs. Dave LaRoche joined the team in July after Tom Signore was forced to take a leave of absence due to the effects of a concussion. Brooklyn finished the season first in the New York-Penn League with a 2.74 ERA.

2015

33-43, 4th Place

MANAGER - Tom Gamboa HITTING COACH - Yunir Garcia PITCHING COACH - Dave LaRoche
BENCH COACH - Edgardo Alfonzo

The Cyclones finished below .500 for the first time in franchise history after going 11-26 during the months of August and September. The team finished with a .220 batting average, the lowest in the New York-Penn League in a decade.

2016

37-39, 3rd Place

BENCH COACH - Edgardo Alfonzo

The Cyclones finished below .500 for the second consecutive year, and for only the second time in franchise history after going 7-13 following the All-Star break. The team finished with a .216 batting average, the lowest in all of Minor League Baseball.

2017

24-52, 4th Place

MANAGER - Edgardo Alfonzo HITTING COACH - Sean Ratliff PITCHING COACH - Royce Ring

It was a year to forget in Edgardo Alfonzo's first season at the helm. The Cyclones finished with a league worst 24 wins, the lowest total in franchise history. The team also ranked last with a 4.18 ERA, and hit .232, 10th worst.

2018

40-35, 2nd Place

MANAGER - Edgardo Alfonzo HITTING COACH - Marlon Anderson PITCHING COACH - Royce Ring
BENCH COACH - Rich Donnelly

The Cyclones returned to their winning ways with their first winning season since 2014. The team just missed out on the playoffs, with the Wild Card spot getting decided on the final day of the season. The Cyclones led the New York-Penn League with a .259 team batting average and 360 runs scored while also ranking second in team ERA (3.21).

2019

43-32, 1st Place, NYPL Champions

MANAGER - Edgardo Alfonzo HITTING COACH - Delwyn Young PITCHING COACH - Josue Matos
BENCH COACH - Endy Chavez

For the first time in franchise history, the Brooklyn Cyclones won an outright New York-Penn League title. In what turned out to be the final season of New York-Penn League Baseball, the Cyclones went into the final weekend of the season with a chance to win the McNamara Division, win the Wild Card, or miss the playoffs entirely. Brooklyn swept their cross-bridge rival Staten Island Yankees to win the McNamara Division and claim the top seed in the playoffs. The Cyclones defeated the Hudson Valley Renegades two games to one in the semi-finals, including a Game Two victory by the score of 1-0 with the lone run coming off the bat of Jed Lowrie with Brooklyn on an MLB Rehab Assignment. That set up another thrilling series in the NYPL Finals between the Cyclones and the Lowell Spinners (Boston Red Sox). With the series tied at one game apiece and Brooklyn trailing 3-2 headed to the bottom of the seventh, Antoine Duplantis had an RBI triple that tied the game before Yoel Romero's RBI single gave Brooklyn a 4-3 edge. LHP Andrew Edwards tossed 2.0 shutout frames to close out the win and give Brooklyn the NYPL Title in what proved to be the final game in league history.

Baseball in Asheville

McCormick Field is one of the oldest Minor League Baseball stadiums in use, having opened for the 1924 season. The ballpark was also the home ballpark for the Asheville Blues of the Negro Southern League in the 1940s.

The scoreboard in right field features a unique placard displaying "Visitors" for the away team and "Tourists" for the home side. Asheville teams have played under different names, but the first team goes back to 1897.

Something Old, Something New

Infielder Wilmer Flores made his debut with the Brooklyn Cyclones on August 28, 2008 at just 17 years and 22 days old to become the youngest player in franchise history. Conversely, outfielder Moises Alou suited up for the Cyclones as part of a rehabilitation assignment on July 22, 2007 at 41 years and 19 days old to become the oldest player in franchise history.

FRANCHISE HISTORY

HIGH-A AFFILIATE OF THE NEW YORK METS

FRANCHISE TIMELINE

September 22, 1999 - The Brooklyn Baseball Co. announces its agreement to purchase the St. Catharines Blue Jays, an affiliate of the Toronto Blue Jays, playing in the New York-Penn League. The group also announces its plans to relocate the team to Brooklyn for the 2001 season.

June 26, 2000 - The Queens Kings begin playing on the campus of St. John's University in Jamaica, Queens. The Kings play in the NYPL for one season as a Blue Jays affiliate while the Mets affiliate remains in Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

August 22, 2000 - Ground is officially broken at the new minor league ballpark on Coney Island. Mayor Rudy Giuliani, Fred Wilpon, Jeff Wilpon, Hank Amon, City Council Speaker Peter Vallone, and Joan Hodges kick off the groundbreaking with ceremonial bat shaped shovels.

November 29, 2000 - Jeff Wilpon, C.E.O. of the Brooklyn Baseball Company, unveils the Cyclones name and logo. The name was the dominant entry in a "Name the Team" contest sponsored by WFAN radio and The Daily News.

December 13, 2000 - The Cyclones announce that former All-Star and World Series champion Howard Johnson will serve as the team's hitting coach during the 2001 season.

January 24, 2001 - The Cyclones announce that Bobby Jajoda, a member of the '86 Mets and former 18-game winner, will be the pitching coach during the Inaugural Season.

January 31, 2001 - Mayor Rudy Giuliani, the Mets, the Brooklyn Baseball Company, and KeySpan Chairman Bob Catell announce that the new ballpark in Coney Island will be named "KeySpan Park."

February 5, 2001 - The Cyclones complete the coaching staff for their inaugural season by naming Edgar Alfonzo the team's first manager.

February 22, 2001 - The Cyclones sell their 100,000th ticket.

April 18, 2001 - In the midst of construction, the sod is laid at KeySpan Park.

April 28, 2001 - Individual game tickets for the inaugural season of Brooklyn Cyclones baseball go on sale to the general public at Kings Plaza.

May 1, 2001 - Nathan's Hot Dogs, a staple of Coney Island for decades, becomes the official hot dog of KeySpan Park.

June 16, 2001 - The Cyclones hold their first practice in Brooklyn.

June 19, 2001 - The Brooklyn Cyclones play the first game in franchise history, a 2-1 win in Jamestown, NY. Chad Bowen collects the win after tossing 2.0 scoreless innings of relief. Edgar Rodriguez hits the team's first home run.

June 23, 2001 - After the early success of ticket sales, bleachers are added to KeySpan Park. The area holds 1,000 fans, raising the capacity to 7,500.

June 25, 2001 - The Cyclones play the first professional baseball game in the borough of Brooklyn since 1957 when they take on the Mahoning Valley Scrappers. Over 300 members of the media from around the world cover the event. The Cyclones rally with a two-out, two-run home run from Edgar Rodriguez in the bottom of the ninth to tie the game, and win it in the 10th on a sacrifice fly from catcher Mike Jacobs, who was previously 0-for-4 with four K's.

July 1, 2001 - Mike Jacobs hits the first grand slam in franchise history vs. New Jersey. The same game, OF Noel Devarez hits three home runs and connects on a total of five in a three-day span from June 29th-July 1st.

July 6, 2001 - The Cyclones and Pittsfield Astros endure a 25-minute sun delay. Wahconah Park in Pittsfield was built in 1892, well before night baseball games were in fashion, and home plate faced West.

July 14, 2001 - The Cyclones meet the Staten Island Yankees for the first time in what will become one of the best rivalries in the league. Brooklyn wins by the score of 3-1. Tsuyoshi Shinjo suited up for the Cyclones, and became the first player to appear in a Brooklyn uniform as part of a major league rehabilitation assignment. A special ferry is used to shuttle passengers from Coney Island to Staten Island.

July 17, 2001 - Brooklyn defeats Hudson Valley 3-0 for its 12th consecutive victory. The winning streak is the longest in the New York-Penn League that season.

July 24, 2001 - Outfielder Angel Pagan steals a base for the fifth straight game. The speedster had six stolen bases over the span and was also thrown out three times as well.

July 28, 2001 - Outfielder Frank Corr goes 5-for-5 and scores three runs at Vermont. Corr becomes the first player in franchise history to collect five hits in a game.

August 28, 2017 - Walter Rasquin goes 1-for-4 to extend his hitting streak to 10 games. It marks the third time during the '17 season that he has had a 10+ game hitting streak. He becomes the first player in franchise history to accomplish the feat.

December 10, 2017 - The Brooklyn Cyclones win the Larry MacPhail Award at the Winter Meetings at the Swan & Dolphin Resort in Disney World...The award is given to one team across MiLB that is deemed to have the best promotional effort in Minor League Baseball.

June 16, 2018 - Designated hitter Kendall Coleman bats third for the Cyclones against the Staten Island, becoming the first to suit up for both the Yankees and Cyclones.

June 20, 2018 - The Cyclones play their first game under MiLB's new extra-innings rule, losing to Hudson Valley 8-7 in 10 innings at MCU Park.

July 14, 2018 - IF Walter Rasquin swipes his 34th-career base, setting the all-time record for career steals in Cyclones history.

August 10, 2018 - The Cyclones transform into the Brooklyn Jefes as part of MiLB's "Copa de la Diversion."

August 14, 2018 - OF Ross Adolph earns the first Cyclones NYPL All-Star Game MVP award, going 2-3 with a triple, home run, and three RBIs in State College, PA.

August 31, 2018 - Giovanni D'Onza becomes the first Cyclones athletic trainer to be ejected in team history while arguing with home plate umpire Dylan Bradley during a mid-inning break against Hudson Valley at MCU Park.

September 3, 2018 - OF Ross Adolph collects his 12th triple, tying the single-season record set by Darrell Ceciliani in 2010.

June 28, 2019 - 2B Luke Ritter went 5-6, tying a Cyclones single-game record for hits in a game, including the game-tying solo home run in the 9th inning against Lowell as the Coney Island Fireworks Show was going off in the backdrop of center-field. Ritter provided the walk-off RBI single in the 11th inning in Brooklyn's 5-4 victory.

July 5, 2019 - Weather finished off the Cyclones in a 5-2 fog-shortened loss to Aberdeen in five innings. Trying to continue playing, Cyclones bench coach Endy Chavez hit fly balls to OF Jake Mangum in center field through the fog despite the cries of Aberdeen manager Kevin Bradshaw to end the game due to safety concerns.

September 10, 2019 - The Cyclones defeated the Lowell Spinners 4-3 on at MCU Park to win the 2019 New York-Penn League Championship. For the Cyclones it marked their first solo title in franchise history after splitting a championship with Williamsport in 2001, bringing the first outright baseball title back to the borough since the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Yankees in the 1955 World Series.

June 30, 2020 - Minor League Baseball officially cancels the 2020 season due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The announcement marks the first cancelled season in the history of the minor leagues, which began in 1901.

January 6, 2021 - The Brooklyn Cyclones Baseball Club is officially purchased by Steve Cohen and the New York Mets. Cohen purchased the Mets on Nov. 2, 2020 for $2.42 billion, taking majority ownership from the Wilpon family.

February 12, 2021 - Major League Baseball announces new leagues and affiliation changes for the 2021 season, shifting the Brooklyn Cyclones from Short Season A to Advanced-A full-season baseball. The new Professional Development License signed by all Minor League teams is scheduled to last for 10 years.

STERLING AWARD

The Sterling award, emblematic of the team MVP, was first awarded in 1982, and was given to some of the organization's most recognizable names and biggest stars, including Darryl Strawberry (Jackson, 1982), Dwight Gooden (Lynchburg, 1983), David Wright (Capital City, 2002 & St. Lucie, 2003), Matt Harvey (St. Lucie, 2011 & Buffalo, 2012), and Noah Syndergaard (Binghamton, 2013)

2018

Ross Adolph

Outfielder

Season Totals: .276 (64-232) 47 R, 9 2B, 12 3B, 7 HR, 35 RBI, 21 BB, .348 OBP

The 12th-round draft selection led the Cyclones in triples, home runs, and slugging percentage en route to an all-star selection. He earned the first Cyclones NYPL All-Star MVP when he tripled and homered for the South All-Stars at State College, PA. The Ohio native finished his first professional season with a bang, going 3-4 with a triple and two stolen bases in the season finale against Staten Island.

2017

Nicolas Debora

Right-handed Pitcher

Season Totals: 1-4, 2.33 ERA, 14 G, 7 GS, 54.0 IP, 58 H, 24 R, 14 ER, 15 BB, 56 K

Led the Cyclones in strikeouts (56) and ERA (2.33), allowing just 14 earned runs over 54.0 innings. Went 1-1 with a 1.57 ERA during the month of August, never allowing more than two runs in any of his six outings. Made 14 appearances, seven starts, for the Cyclones and went 1-0 with a 2.22 ERA (six earned runs/24.1 innings) after the All-Star Break.

2016

Desmond Lindsay

Outfielder

Season Totals: .297 (33-111) 18 R, 5 2B, 4 HR, 17 RBI, 20 BB, .418 OBP

The 2015 second round selection missed the early part of the season with a hamstring injury but made up for lost time hitting in 24 of 32 games. The 19-year-old batted .339 (19-56) at home with all four of his home runs coming at MCU Park. He also tied a franchise record with a 7 RBI game on August 12th vs. West Virginia.

2015

Alex Palsha

Relief Pitcher

Season Totals: 0-0, 0.36 ERA, 22 G, 13 Sv, 24.2 IP, 10 H, 1 R, 1 ER, 9 BB, 34 K

The righthander was nearly flawless during the 2015 campaign, allowing just a single run over his 24.2 innings on the mound. The 27th round selection in 2014 began the season with a 19.0 inning scoreless streak and limited the opposition to a .125 (10-80) batting average. Against righthanders, Palsha was even more impressive, allowing just three hits in 47 at-bats for a .064 batting average against.

2014

Marcos Molina

Right-handed Pitcher

Season Totals: 7-3, 1.77 ERA, 12 G, 12 GS, 76.1 IP, 46 H, 18 R, 15 ER, 18 BB, 91 K

The 19-year-old Molina became the first Cyclones hurler to lead the New York-Penn League in wins, strikeouts and ERA. Molina allowed two runs or less in nine of his 12 starts during the season including four starts in which he did not allow a run. In five starts at MCU Park, the righthander went 1-0 with a 1.10 ERA and 39 strikeouts in 32.2 innings. In three of his last four starts he struck out 10 or more batters, including a 12 strikeout performance at Vermont where he allowed just one hit.

Robert Gsellman

Right-handed Pitcher

Season Totals: 3-3, 2.06 ERA, 12 G, 12 GS, 70.0 IP, 59 H, 23 R, 16 ER, 12 BB, 64 K

The righthander allowed one earned run or less in seven of his 12 starts and finished the season ranked fifth in the NYPL with a 2.06 ERA. The 20-year-old righthander tossed 8.0 innings on two occasions, and had one of the most impressive outings in franchise history on August 24th at Vermont when he struck out 13 batters, and allowed just one hit over 8.0 shutout frames.

2012

Hansel Robles

Right-handed Pitcher

Season Totals: 6-1, 1.11 ERA, 12 G, 12 GS, 72.2 IP, 47 H, 14 R, 9 ER, 10 BB, 66 K

Robles set a franchise record with a 1.11 ERA and a 6-1 record during the 2012 regular season. He ranked fifth in the league with 66 strikeouts, was second in the league with a .184 opponents batting average, and led the league in WHIP (0.78). He capped his season with a complete-game shutout in Game One of the NYPL Semifinals against Hudson Valley, and did not allow an earned run over his final 45.0 innings on the mound.

2011

Danny Muno

Shortstop

Season Totals: .355 (78-220), 59 G, 45 R, 23 2B, 3 3B, 2 HR, 24 RBI, 9 SB

Muno, an eighth round selection in the 2011 MLB Draft out of Fresno State, led the New York-Penn League in hitting with a .355 average. The mark broke the franchise record, set a year prior by Darrell Ceciliani. Muno also tied a franchise record with 23 doubles. The shortstop also led the league with an astounding .466 on-base percentage, the highest OBP by any player in the NYPL since the Cyclones joined the league in 2001.

2010Darrell Ceciliani*Outfielder*Season Totals: .351 (95-271), 68 G, 19 2B, 12 3B, 2 HR, 35 RBI, 21 SB

Ceciliani's .351 average was the highest single-season mark in franchise history at the time, and he became the first Cyclones player to win the New York-Penn League Batting Title. Ceciliani set a variety of offensive records in addition to the batting average mark, with 95 hits, 56 runs scored and 12 triples.

2009Mark Cohoon*Relief Pitcher*Season Totals: 9-2, 2.15 ERA, 14 G, 14 GS, 92.0 IP, 69 H, 26 R, 22 ER, 20 BB, 70 K

This southpaw tied a franchise record with nine wins and set a new-franchise record with 92.0 innings pitched. He tossed 6.0 or more innings in 12 of his team-high 14 starts, and allowed two earned runs or less in 10 of those outings. Cohoon struck out a season-high nine batters on August 15th and was named to the league's All-Star Team in mid-August.

2008Brad Holt*Righthanded Pitcher*Season Totals: 5-3, 1.87 ERA, 14 G, 14 GS, 72.1 IP, 43 H, 18 R, 15 ER, 33 BB, 96 K

Holt enjoyed a breakout year, leading the NYPL in both ERA and strikeouts in his first professional season. His 96 K's set a new Cyclones franchise record. Opponents hit just .171 against the righthander, who finished the season with 10.7 strikeouts-per-nine innings. Holt struck out 10 or more batters four separate times, and tied a single-game strikeout mark with 14 punchouts on July 24, 2008 vs. Vermont in just 6.0 innings of work.

2007Dylan Owen*Righthanded Pitcher*Season Totals: 9-1, 1.49 ERA, 14 G, 13 GS, 72.1 IP, 51 H, 13 R, 12 ER, 12 BB, 69 K

Turned in one of the most dominant seasons in franchise history, leading the league with nine wins and a 1.49 ERA. Owen allowed one run or less in 10 of his 14 appearances, and pitched 5.0 or more innings in 12 of his 13 starts. Opponents hit just .197 against Owen, and he struck out 69 batters while walking just 12. Owen also tossed 5.0 shutout innings in the postseason, winning Game Two of the NYPL Semifinals.

2006Dustin Martin*Outfielder*Season Totals: .315 (79-251), 72 G, 22 R, 15 2B, 7 3B, 2 HR, 35 RBI, 7 SB

The California native was known as "Sunshine" during his time on Coney Island, and he certainly shone like the sun all season long. He led the team in nearly every offensive category, batting .315 (79-251), with 22 runs scored, 15 doubles, seven triples, two home runs, 35 RBI and seven stolen bases. He was extraordinary in clutch situations, batting .363 with runners on base.

2005Joe Holden*Outfielder*Season Totals: .291 (65-223), 64 G, 33 R, 7 2B, 5 3B, 0 HR, 15 RBI, 22 SB

The Wantagh, Long Island native showcased his hitting, defense, and speed from the leadoff spot in the order throughout the summer, hitting .291 with a then-team-record five triples. He notched 15 multi-hit games - including two four-hit performances - and swiped a team leading 22 bases. Holden also went 1-for-4 in the NYPL's first-ever All-Star Game at KeySpan Park.

2004Ambiorix Concepcion*Outfielder*Season Totals: .305 (79-259), 66 G, 38 R, 14 2B, 3 3B, 8 HR, 46 RBI, 28 SB

One of the most exciting players to ever put on a Cyclones uniform, Concepcion was a rare blend of power, average, speed and defensive prowess. His .305 average was tied for seventh-best in the league, 28 stolen bases ranked third, 79 hits ranked fifth, eight home runs was 10th best, and his .475 slugging percentage was ninth-best. Concepcion also led the team with six outfield assists, including one play that was ranked #3 on ESPN's Daily Top Ten Plays.

2003Ian Bladergroen*First Baseman*Season Totals: .285 (78-274), 74 G, 33 R, 12 2B, 3 3B, 6 HR, 36 RBI

Led the team in nearly every offensive category, while also setting a team record with 74 consecutive games played. "Blade" also set a then-club-record with 78 hits, and had a 12-game hitting streak. He also anchored the infield defense with outstanding glove work at first base.

2002Kevin Deaton*Lefthanded Pitcher*Season Totals: 7-1, 3.07 ERA, 16 G, 15 GS, 82.0 IP, 68 H, 34 R, 28 ER, 18 BB, 93 K

The converted offensive lineman blitzed the NYPL to set a then-Cyclones record with 93 strikeouts. After receiving seven straight no-decisions, which included two 10-strikeout performances, Deaton rattled off seven straight wins, allowing just five earned runs in 41.0 innings during the winning streak.

2001Jay Caligiuri
Ross Peeples*First Baseman
Lefthanded Pitcher*Season Totals: .328 (78-328), 66 G, 38 R, 14 2B, 3 3B, 5 HR, 34 RBI*Season Totals: 9-3, 1.34 ERA, 16 G, 15 GS, 80.1 IP, 63 H, 19 R, 12 ER, 29 BB, 67 K

Caligiuri finished the season with the third highest batting average in the NYPL, thanks in part to 25 multi-hit games. He also led the team in hits, triples, and walks. Peeples was the most dominant pitcher in the NYPL, ranking first in wins, and ERA. The southpaw allowed more than two earned runs in a game just once in 16 outings.

Tsuyoshi Shinjo, OF: Shinjo was the first Major Leaguer to rehab in Brooklyn, playing two games against Staten Island on 7/14/01 and 7/15/01. Shinjo hit .286 (2-7) with one RBI.

Tom Martin, LHP: Martin made one relief appearance for Brooklyn, pitching 1.0 shutout inning against Hudson Valley on 7/27/01. The southpaw allowed two hits.

Joe McEwing, DH: "Super Joe" played one game for Brooklyn against the Batavia Muckdogs on 7/29/02. McEwing went 1-for-4 with an RBI single.

Mike Stanton, LHP: The southpaw pitched in one game for Brooklyn against the New Jersey Cardinals on 7/10/03. Over 2.0 shutout innings, Stanton allowed one hit and struck out one batter.

Kazuo Matsui, 2B: Matsui played one game, going 0-for-3 with two walks and an RBI while playing second base against Vermont on 8/04/05.

Cliff Floyd, OF: Floyd played in one game, going 0-for-2 with a walk while playing left field against the Aberdeen Iron-Birds on 6/29/06.

Alay Soler, RHP: Soler pitched in one game, allowing three earned runs on two hits with nine strikeouts in 4.1 innings pitched. The Cyclones fell to the Hudson Valley Renegades on 8/22/06.

Moises Alou, OF: Alou played in one game for the Cyclones, going 1-for-4 with an RBI while playing left field against Tri-City on 7/22/07.

Paul Lo Duca, C: Lo Duca played in a doubleheader on 8/24/07 vs. Oneonta. He caught the first game, and went 0-for-2. In the second game, he served as DH and went 2-for-3 with a home run.

Ramon Castro, C: Castro played for the Cyclones in the 2007 playoffs, appearing first in the Semi-Finals against Staten Island on 9/09/07 and then Auburn in the NYPL Finals. He hit .250 (2-8) with one run scored.

Ryan Church, OF: Church played with Brooklyn for two games against Aberdeen on 6/26/08 and 6/27/08. Church hit .500 (3-6) with one RBI.

Angel Pagan, OF: Pagan returned to his old stomping grounds, appearing in four games with the Cyclones from 7/12/08 - 7/16/08. He batted .308 (4-13) with one BB, one RBI and three steals.

Oliver Perez, LHP: Pitched in one game for the Cyclones, earning the win with 5.0 shutout innings on 6/28/09 vs. Hudson Valley. He allowed two hits and one walk, while striking out six.

Carlos Beltran, OF: The big league All-Star appeared in five games for the Cyclones from 9/2/09 - 9/6/09. He batted .167 (3-18) but connected on a game-winner on September 5 vs. Lowell.

Jose Reyes, SS: Appeared in one game for the Cyclones on 7/18/11. He went 1-for-3 with a run scored and a double. Reyes returned to the Mets the next day and went on to win the NL Batting Title.

Johan Santana, LHP: The two-time Cy Young Award Winner took the mound for the Cyclones on 8/5/12 vs. Auburn. The lefthander tossed 3.0 IP, allowing just one hit, with a walk and three K's.

Justin Turner, INF: Appeared in three rehab games, making a start at second base and two at shortstop from 7/19/13 -

7/21/13. He went 3-for-10 with two runs scored and a double.

Jeury's Familia, RHP: The righthander made one relief appearance on 9/04/13 at Tri-City tossing 1.0 inning, allowing one hit and an unearned run in the season finale.

Dillon Gee, RHP: The righthander made two starts with the Cyclones on 6/29/14 vs. Staten Island and 7/04/14 vs. Aberdeen. In his start on July 4th, the righthander struck out 10 over 6.0 innings in his final tuneup before joining the Mets.

Daisuke Matsuzaka, RHP: Became the third Japanese-born player to rehab with the Cyclones when he tossed 5.0 shutout innings on 8/21/14 vs. Staten Island. Struck out seven and got the win as Brooklyn defeated the Yankees 2-0.

Jose Reyes, INF: After rejoining the Mets organization on a minor league contract, Jose appeared in two games in June and rejoined the team in August as part of a rehabilitation assignment for an intercostal strain. Reyes went 2-6 with three runs scored in two games on 8/11/16 and 8/12/16.

Matt Harvey, RHP: Made two rehab appearances with Brooklyn 8/12/17 at Hudson Valley and 8/16/17 vs. Aberdeen. Combined to allow two hits, and one run over his 4.0 innings with three strikeouts.

Jeury's Familia, RHP: Had two relief outings with Brooklyn on 8/22/17 and 8/23/17 and another on 6/28/19.

Noah Syndergaard, RHP: "Thor" made the start for the Cyclones 2017 season finale. Allowed three runs on three hits with a pair of walks and two strikeouts over 2.0 innings vs. Staten Island on September 7, 2017. The flamethrowing righty also appeared on July 7, 2018 against the Yankees, striking out seven over five innings of one-run ball. He made a third start for Brooklyn in 2019, striking out nine over five innings on the road in Aberdeen.

Jason Vargas, LHP: Made two starts in 2018, striking out a combined 19 batters over 12 innings while posting a 1.50 ERA against Williamsport and Staten Island. Vargas pitched in the NYPL in 2004 with the Jamestown Jammers during his first professional season.

Todd Frazier, 3B: "Flava Fraz" spent the 2018 as a Brooklyn Cyclone for two games, crushing a line drive home run over the left field wall in a day game against Tri-City on July 31. It was an historic return for Frazier who played at MCU Park in 2007 when he won Big East Tournament's Most Valuable Player, sending his Rutgers Scarlet Knights to the NCAA Tournament.

Anthony Swarzak, RHP: The Mets reliever tossed 1.0 scoreless inning on September 3, 2018 against the Staten Island Yankees striking out a pair in the Brooklyn season finale.

Justin Wilson, LHP: Pitched in Brooklyn's 2019 road opener against the Staten Island Yankees, throwing a scoreless frame with two Ks. Pitched again two weeks later, striking out two more over an inning.

Jeff McNeil, UTL: Played third base and right field for Brooklyn on 8/23/19 at Connecticut, going 1-4.

Robinson Cano, 2B: Hit a double in seven at-bats over two games with Brooklyn in late 2019. Played second base and acted as DH during his time.

Jed Lowrie, 2B: Played in two rehab games and homered for Brooklyn in Game 2 of the New York-Penn League Division Series in 2019 against Hudson Valley, giving Brooklyn it's only run in a 1-0 win.

4,000,000 and Counting

On August 19, 2014, Pete Mulvey walked through the gates of MCU Park and made history as the 4,000,000th fan in Cyclones history. The Cyclones became the third short-season team to reach the milestone in MiLB history and reached the mark faster than any other team.

- Spokane (28 Seasons) - 1972, 1983 - 2009
- Eugene (39 Seasons) - 1966-68, 1974-2009

World Series Slam

In 2015, former Cyclone OF Michael Conforto became just the third player in history to participate in the Little League World Series, College World Series and MLB World Series. He joined C Jason Varitek and LHP Ed Vosberg. Conforto played for Redmond (WA) North Little League (2004), Oregon State (2013), and the New York Mets (2015).

The New York-Penn League All-Star Game returned to what was known as MCU Park for the 10th Annual Mid-Season Classic. For the sixth time in 10 games, a Brooklyn Cyclones pitcher - Marcos Molina - made the start. The game ended in a 1-1 tie after nine innings in front of the second largest crowd in All-Star Game history. Prior to the game, celebrities including Boomer Esiason, The Impractical Jokers and John Franco participated in a softball game to raise money for Tourette's Syndrome research.

JACKIE & PEE WEE

"This monument honors Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee Reese: teammates, friends and men of courage and conviction. Robinson broke the color barrier in Major League Baseball, Reese supported him and together they made history."

These words are etched into the marble foundation of the stunning monument outside of the Surf Avenue entrance of Maimonides Park. The monument depicts the two Brooklyn baseball icons - Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee Reese - in a moment that has become both symbolic and mythical.

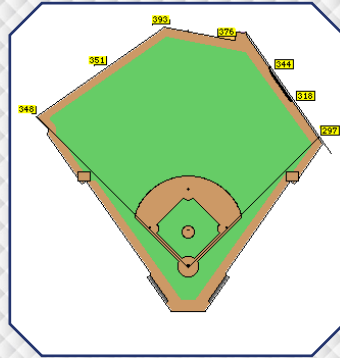

The monument's text describes the moment: "In May 1947, on Cincinnati's Crosley Field, Robinson endured racist taunts, jeers, and death threats that would have broken the spirit of a lesser man. Reese, captain of the Brooklyn Dodgers, walked over to his teammate Robinson and stood by his side, silencing the taunts of the crowd. This simple gesture challenged prejudice and created a powerful and enduring friendship."

In an unveiling ceremony on November 1, 2005, New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg recognized the tremendous impact that Robinson and Reese made on American culture and society. The widows of both Hall of Famers - Rachel Robinson and Dorothy Reese - as well as the sculptor, William Behrends, were in attendance. Also present were Mark Reese (Pee Wee's son), Jeff Wilpon, former Mets General Manager Omar Minaya, Borough President Marty Markowitz, Dodgers teammates Johnny Podres and Joe Pignatano, New York Mets John Franco and Mo Vaughn as well as sportswriter Stan Isaacs, Joan Hodges and other celebrities and dignitaries.

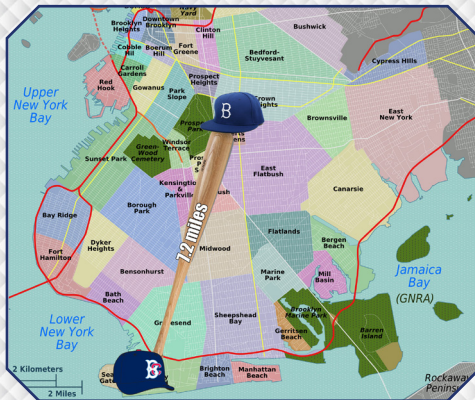

Rachel Robinson spoke passionately about the man she calls "Jack" and about her family's friendship with Pee Wee saying "I believe that this statue illustrates to us all that no one who dares to stand up and challenge the status quo stands alone."

The statue was vandalized on August 7, 2013, immediately restored, and rededicated on August 19, 2013 as part of Diversity Day on Coney Island.

BALLPARK FACTS

- Introduced as Maimonides Park on May 18, 2021...Maimonides Medical Center was founded in 1911 and is the largest hospital in Brooklyn...Was renamed MCU Park on February 4, 2009...Originally opened as KeySpan Park prior to the 2001 season...KeySpan was purchased by National Grid and no longer functions as its own company.
- Is the first professional baseball stadium in the borough of Brooklyn since Ebbets Field was torn down in 1960.
- Boasts the longest distance between home plate and center field in the High-A East at 412 feet...The 412 feet is further than 26 Major League ballparks including Citi Field (408) and Yankee Stadium (408).
- Has ranked in the Top 10 in Minor League Baseball in attendance (2001, 2002, 2003) - the only Short-Season team to ever do so.
- Is built on the site of the former Steeplechase Park, which was the center of the Coney Island Amusement Industry until it closed in 1964.
- Sits under the last remaining relic of Steeplechase Park, the landmarked Parachute Jump, located just beyond the right field wall. The 262-foot Parachute Jump was moved to Coney Island from the 1939 World's Fair in Flushing Meadows, Queens.
- Hosted the first-ever New York-Penn League All-Star Game in 2005, also hosted the game in 2014.
- Welcomed their 4,000,000th fan in 2015, with the Cyclones reaching that milestone faster than any club in Short-Season history.
- Prior to the 2016 season the club removed one of the bleacher sections in right field, replacing it with "The Backyard" for picnic and hospitality functions.

Recognition

- Was named the "Most Fun Ballpark" in Minor League Baseball by Fox News in 2012.
- Recognized by Stadium Journey Magazine as the Best Sports Facility in New York City and the 48th best in the nation out of over 1,225 facilities.
- Received the prestigious Beam-Clay Award for the best professional league field in the country for 2001-2002.
- Named the best Short-Season Ballpark in the country by Baseball America in 2003.
- Former groundskeepers Mike Procops (2001) and Kevin Ponte (2005) were named the New York-Penn League's Groundskeeper of the Year.
- Received MiLB's "Golden Bobblehead Award" for "Best Overall Promotion" and "Best Theme Night" for Seinfeld Night in 2014 and "Ambush Baseball" in 2015.
- The team was honored with the Larry MacPhail Award in 2017.

The Original Nathan's Famous (A)

Nathan's Famous was founded by Polish immigrant Nathan Handwerker in 1916. Nathan sold hot dogs, based on a recipe developed by his wife Ida, out of a small hot dog stand. Al Capone, Jimmy Durante and Cary Grant were regulars at Nathan's right here on Coney Island. In 1939, Franklin Delano Roosevelt served Nathan's Hot Dogs to the King and Queen of England.

The Cyclone Rollercoaster (B)

Opened on June 26, 1927, this all-wooden coaster starts with an 85-foot tall, 60-degree drop as you shake, rattle and roll through six turns and eight more drops. It was built on the site of America's first roller coaster, known as Switchback Railway, which opened in 1864. When it first opened, a ride cost 25 cents. It was declared a landmark on July 12, 1988 and was placed on the National Register of Historic Places on June 26, 1991.

Deno's Wonder Wheel (C)

The world famous Wonder Wheel is not your ordinary Ferris Wheel. Built in 1920, it is one of only a handful of eccentric wheels in the world. Eccentric wheels differ from conventional Ferris Wheels in that some of the passenger cars are not fixed directly to the rim of the wheel, but instead slide on rails as the wheel rotates. The Wonder Wheel has 24 fully enclosed passenger cars and reaches a height of 150 feet.

Luna Park: Sling Shot (D)

Built in 2012, the Sling Shot is one of the newest extreme thrill rides at the revamped Luna Park. The Sling Shot launches passengers over 150 feet into the sky at over 90 MPH before an inverted free fall brings you back to earth. NOT for the faint of heart.

The Soarin' Eagle (E)

This four-across coaster has 1,293 feet of track and hits speeds of up to 41 MPH through a series of heart-line inversions, hairpin turns, barrel rolls, sudden drops and exciting twists that leave you soaring like an eagle.

The Thunderbolt (F)

Named after the historic rollercoaster that once stood on the same location, the all-new Thunderbolt opened in the summer of 2014. Thrilling riders with speeds of 65 MPH, the 125 foot tall rollercoaster features over 2,000 feet of track. The Thunderbolt is the latest attraction added to the Coney Island skyline that will thrill visitors with heart pounding excitement.

B&B Carousel (G)

Originally built in 1906, the B&B Carousel features 50 hand-carved horses that have been restored to match their original detail. It features the Gebruder Bruder "Elite Orchestra Apollo" band organ, one of only three existing in the United States. The carousel operated down the block on Surf Avenue for 70 years until it was sold to the city of New York in 2005. It opened in its current location on May 24, 2013.

Coney Island Parachute Jump (H)

Originally built for the 1939 World's Fair in Flushing Meadows, Queens, the Parachute Jump was moved to its current site in 1941. It rises 262 feet tall and weighs over 170 tons. The ride ceased operation in 1964 when Steeplechase Park was closed for good. It is often referred to as "The Eiffel Tower of Brooklyn" and was given a $2 million makeover prior to the summer of 2013 with the addition of 8,000 colored LED lights.

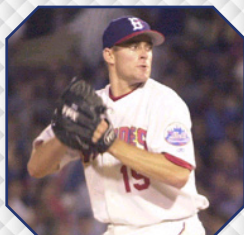

HONORED NUMBERS

Danny Garcia
July 25, 2004

Became the first former Cyclone to make an appearance in the big leagues on September 2, 2003. He hit his first big league home run a few days later on September 10th vs. Florida and returned to Coney Island that night to throw out a first pitch prior to the NYPL Finals at MCU Park.

Brian Bannister
September 6, 2006

Was named a New York-Penn League Post-Season All-Star following his first professional season in 2003. He made his major league debut with the Mets on April 5, 2006. The righthander went 2-1 with a 4.86 ERA in six games for the big league squad that season after being limited by injuries through the year.

Angel Pagan
July 8, 2010

A star for the 2001 Cyclones, Pagan's charisma, energy and speed made him one of the most popular players in franchise history. After a brief tenure with the Cubs, Angel returned to the Mets organization prior to the 2008 season. As part of the celebration, Borough President Marty Markowitz named July 8, 2010 as Angel Pagan Day in Brooklyn.

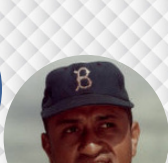

Dillon Gee
August 4, 2011

This member of the 2007 Cyclones became the first Mets rookie to win his first seven decisions in a season when he did so to start the 2011 campaign. His 7-0 streak to start a season also ranks as the fourth longest unblemished mark in Mets franchise history. In 2014, Gee became the first Cyclone to be named the Opening Day starter for the Mets.

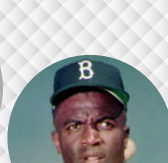

Duke Snider #4

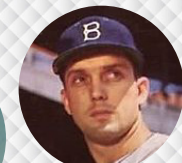

Don Newcombe #36

Gil Hodges #14

Jackie Robinson #42

Carl Erskine #17

Retired Numbers

The only numbers retired by the Brooklyn Cyclones are ones which are retired by the entire New York Mets organization. These numbers are 14 (Gil Hodges), 31 (Mike Piazza), 37 (Casey Stengel), 41 (Tom Seaver) and 42 (Jackie Robinson).

GAME ATTENDANCE

Through the first 19 seasons in Cyclones franchise history, the organization set numerous all-time attendance records for both the New York-Penn League as well as the entire classification of Short-Season Class A Baseball. In 2002 and 2003, Brooklyn became the only Short-Season team in history to draw more than 300,000 fans. The Cyclones are also the only Short-Season team to ever rank in Minor League Baseball's Top 15 in average attendance and percentage of ballpark filled.

In 2019, the Cyclones led the New York-Penn League in attendance for the 19th consecutive season. On August 19, 2015, the Cyclones welcomed their 4,000,000th fan through the gates, reaching the mark faster than any other team in classification history. In 2007, the team set an all-time single-game high with 10,073 fans on September 7th.

Entering the 2021 season, 4,832,173 fans have attended regular season games at Maimonides Park in 19 seasons, with an additional 74,076 in attendance for playoff games, 9,054 at the 2005 NYPL All-Star Game and 7,212 at the 2014 NYPL All-Star Game.

 2019 SEASON
 FRANCHISE HISTORY

Standing Room Only

The Cyclones have recorded sellout crowds in 324 out of 689 regular season openings (47%), including a string of 113 consecutive sellouts from 2001-2004. The 2016 season marked the first in which a sellout was considered anything above 7,000. For 2021 - full capacity will be 6,594

The Cyclones were the only Short-Season team in Minor League Baseball history to finish a season with an average attendance above the ballpark's seating capacity. Brooklyn filled the ballpark to 109% of capacity in 2007, 104% in 2006, 106% in 2005 and 2004, 111% in 2003 and 2002, and 104% in 2001. In each of those years, that percentage of capacity filled ranked second in all of Minor League Baseball, behind only the Dayton Dragons, a full-season Single-A Club.

THE CATBIRD SEAT

“The Catbird Seat” was a phrase frequently used by Brooklyn Dodgers radio announcer Red Barber during his tenure as broadcaster for “Dem Bums.” When the Cyclones brought professional baseball back to the borough for the first time since the Dodgers headed west, it was another southern gentleman, Warner Fusselle, who resurrected the phrase to describe his perch atop the ballpark, where he called all of the Brooklyn Cyclones action.

Warner was the “Voice of the Cyclones” from 2001-2011, missing only a handful of games during his 11 seasons in the Catbird Seat. On June 10, 2012, the only announcer the Brooklyn Cyclones had ever known passed away from a heart attack. For the entire 2012 season, “The Catbird Seat” was left vacant, with radio broadcasters using alternate locations to call the action on the field. In addition, the Cyclones wore commemorative patches on their home uniforms with Warner’s initials separated by his trademark multi-colored umbrella. On Opening Day 2012, the Cyclones radio broadcast went silent in the top of the 6th inning to mark the first official game without our beloved Warner behind the mic.

Born on April 7, 1944 in Louisville, Kentucky and raised in Gainesville, Georgia, Fusselle served in Korea during the Vietnam War. He was also the voice of the television show “This Week in Baseball” and Seton Hall Pirates basketball during his illustrious career in the New York Metropolitan Area. A minor league baseball advocate, he also called games for the Richmond Braves and Spartanburg Phillies. In addition, Warner broadcast games for the ABA’s Virginia Squires, calling the action for Hall of Famers Julius “Dr. J” Erving and George Gervin.

In 2015, the New York-Penn League introduced the Warner Fusselle Award for Radio Excellence, given to the best radio broadcaster in the NYPL. The “Voice of the Cyclones” was inducted into the New York-Penn League Hall of Fame at the 2017 All-Star Game played at Joseph L. Bruno Stadium in Troy, NY.

The Fusselle Award for Radio Excellence

Starting in 2015 the New York-Penn League annually awarded the Warner Fusselle Award for Radio Excellence at the Winter Meetings. The award is given to someone who exemplifies Warner’s dedication and love of the game of baseball. Winners are selected by a panel of New York-Penn League executives. Below is a list of winners of the award:

- 2015: George Commo (Vermont Lake Monsters)
- 2016: John Leahy (Lowell Spinners)
- 2017: Steve Jones & Joe Putnam (State College Spikes)
- 2018: John Leahy (Lowell Spinners)
- 2019: Keith Raad (Brooklyn Cyclones)

LARRY MACPHAIL AWARD

Following the 2017 season, the Brooklyn Cyclones were recognized with Minor League Baseball's 52nd annual Larry MacPhail Award. The award recognizes the top promotional effort in Minor League Baseball.

The award has been presented since 1966 and is named after Hall of Famer Leland Stanford "Larry" MacPhail, Sr., who introduced innovations such as night baseball, airplane travel, pension plans and batting helmets. The Cyclones received their award at the Baseball Winter Meetings Banquet on Sunday, December 10, 2017 at the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin Resort in Orlando, Florida. The Cyclones are just the second New York-Penn League team to win the award, joining the Lowell Spinners (2000).

"On behalf of the entire Brooklyn Cyclones organization, we would like to thank Minor League Baseball for this prestigious honor," said Cyclones Vice President Steve Cohen. "Our industry is filled with some of the most innovative and creative minds in the world, so to be singled out from the field of so many worthy nominees is truly humbling."

The Cyclones' combination of unique giveaways, theme nights, community programs and television/social media commercials led them to become the first Short Season franchise in history to draw over 200,000 fans for 17 consecutive years, and they led the New York-Penn League in attendance for the last 18 seasons. The Cyclones claimed Minor League Baseball Promotion of the Year honors in 2014 and 2015, and were nominated for a Golden Bobblehead Award (MiLB's top promotional honor) in three separate categories in 2017. Since 2014, their 14 Golden Bobblehead Award nominations are more than any other team in Minor League Baseball.

"Year after year, the Brooklyn Cyclones host some of the most creative, entertaining and memorable promotional events in all of Minor League Baseball, events that are appealing to fans of all ages, both locally and across the country," said Minor League Baseball President & CEO Pat O'Connor. "That the Cyclones have been nominated for more promotional awards than any other club over the last four seasons is a testament to their incredibly creative and talented staff, and their use of MCU Park for community and charitable events has been exemplary. On behalf of Minor League Baseball, I commend them on a job well done, not only for themselves, but also for the New York-Penn League and Minor League Baseball as a whole."

MORE THAN BASEBALL

Maimonides Park is a place for more than just baseball. It has housed boxing and wrestling matches, concerts, weddings and cultural events. It has also been the backdrop for several television shows and movies that have filmed right here on Coney Island. Here's a look at some of the non-baseball events that have taken place at Maimonides Park:

CONCERTS

In June 2015, Maimonides Park hosted the largest concert in ballpark history when Mumford & Sons performed two shows in front of over 30,000 fans. The ballpark has also hosted acts like Snoop Dogg, The White Stripes, Phish, Diplo, Jay-Z, Wilco, Daft Punk, Furthur, and more.

WRESTLING & BOXING

On July 7, 2001, professional boxing returned to Brooklyn for the first time in nearly 50 years when Hector Camacho Jr. took on Jesse James Leija in a fight that was telecast on HBO. In 2010, the park hosted a live TNA Wrestling event - their first outdoor show - and drew over 5,500, their largest attendance for a U.S. show. Maimonides Park has hosted Ring of Honor wrestling in each of the last two summers as well.

MOVIES

Will Ferrell and Mark Wahlberg filmed scenes from "The Other Guys" at MCU Park. The scene in which Derek Jeter was "shot" by Wahlberg took place in the tunnel that leads to the Cyclones locker room from the home dugout. Most recently, the stadium was featured in the film "Kingsman: The Secret Service" starring Colin Firth, Michael Caine and Samuel L. Jackson.

TELEVISION

A number of TV shows including "The Apprentice," "CSI:NY" and HBO's "Bored to Death" have filmed at the ballpark. In the series finale of "Bored to Death," Ted Danson, Jason Schwartzman and Zach Galifianakis (seen here as Super Ray) stop a kidnapping attempt at Brooklyn Wonders ballpark. Most recently, CBS's "Limitless" and "Project Runway: All Stars" have filmed at the ballpark.

CEREMONIES

On July 8, 2006, the Cyclones hosted the nuptials of Dave and Carrie Kerpen. Since then, the ballpark has hosted several weddings, bar mitzvahs, graduations and numerous other festive occasions.

COMMERCIALS

In 2009, CC Sabathia and Johan Santana filmed a commercial spot for Subway Restaurants in the Cyclones Locker Room. The pair of Cy Young Award winners discuss their favorite sandwiches. NY Lottery and several other companies have used Maimonides Park as the backdrop to sell their products.

BALLPARK GROUND RULES

1. All thrown balls behind home plate are live. Any ball lodged in pads or netting is a dead ball.
2. All balls thrown off of dugout padding or netting remain in play. The ball will be considered dead if the ball or player go inside of the dugout or handicapped elevator.
3. OUTFIELD FENCE / HOME RUN:
 - A batted ball must clear both levels of the 16 foot leftfield wall in order for it to be considered a home run.
 - A batted ball that hits the scoreboard above the leftfield wall, batter's eye behind the centerfield wall, or any of the lightpoles (and attached lightpole signage) behind the left, center and rightfield walls and returns to the field of play is a home run.
 - If a batted ball hits the high, angled left-centerfield wall and caroms over the smaller centerfield wall without touching the ground first, it is a home run.
4. A batted ball that bounces over the fence or rolls under the access door in centerfield is considered a ground-rule double.
5. FRIDAY NIGHT FIREWORKS:
 - Coney Island may host fireworks shows on Friday nights. Coney Island fireworks shows are scheduled independently of the Brooklyn Cyclones. The Cyclones have limited control over the fireworks show. Shows are scheduled to begin at 9:30 PM, but can be held until 10:00 PM, if necessary. Shows MUST begin by 10:00 PM due to local ordinances. Umpires and managers will be informed of this schedule prior to each Friday game, and a decision will be made by the umpires and managers whether to continue play or break during the show while the resulting smoke clears.
6. All on-field personnel are asked to not use sunflower seeds, chewing gum or any tobacco products on the field at any time.

On April 7, 2016, the New York City Council voted 44-3 in favor of a ban of all smokeless tobacco within recreational venues that issue tickets (i.e. Maimonides Park). The ban applies to Citi Field, Yankee Stadium, and Maimonides Park among others. Those caught using smokeless tobacco at stadiums are subject to fines.

What is Field Turf

Prior to the 2013 season, MCU Park installed a state-of-the-art playing surface engineered by FieldTurf and installed by LandTek. FieldTurf is a brand of synthetic grass. It is NOT AstroTurf. FieldTurf Tarkett is headquartered and manufactured in Calhoun, Georgia. It was first installed on a professional playing surface in 1997 when Middlesbrough F.C., a member of the Premier League, installed the surface at Riverside Stadium. Since then, FieldTurf has been installed on over 7,000 playing fields world wide.

As of 2017, 21 NFL Franchises use FieldTurf as their playing surface for home games including the New York Giants, New York Jets, Indianapolis Colts, Baltimore Ravens and New England Patriots. In addition, Super Bowl XLVI - which was played at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis - was the first Super bowl played on FieldTurf. Super Bowl XLVIII at MetLife Stadium was also played on FieldTurf.

The Brooklyn Cyclones are now one of six teams in Minor League Baseball to use FieldTurf, joining the Daytona Tortugas, Eugene Emeralds, Everett Aqua Sox, Hudson Valley Renegades and Hillsboro Hops.

PUZZLE PIECE PLAYHOUSE

The Brooklyn Cyclones, in conjunction with Curemark LLC, have announced a first-of-its-kind partnership for the 2019 season. Starting with Opening Day, Friday, June 14th, the team will introduce The Puzzle Piece Playhouse – a sensory safe space, designed specifically to accommodate children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, as well as their families.

The space, which will be offered free of charge, is located in a newly renovated and redesigned Luxury Suite at MCU Park. The Puzzle Piece Playhouse is fully equipped with sensory toys, games, and tools, provided by Fun & Function, to make their experience feel like home.

"We are honored to form this partnership with the Brooklyn Cyclones in what we hope will be the first of many spaces dedicated to children and adults with autism around professional baseball," said Dr. Joan Fallon, CEO of Curemark LLC. "Every person in the US should have access to baseball and sport whether as a participant or as a spectator. I applaud the Cyclones organization and their parent organization, the NY Mets, for this bold step."

"Our organization is focused on making all fans feel welcome and safe when they come to MCU Park," said Cyclones Vice President Steve Cohen. "The Puzzle Piece Playhouse is the newest way we have achieved this goal. We're excited to be able to provide a way for a new group of fans to come and experience Cyclones baseball."

The suite is available for up to 12 people, or two families, for each of the Cyclones 38 home games. Interested families can sign up, or get more information, by visiting BrooklynCyclones.com/puzzle.

"When the Brooklyn Cyclones asked Fun and Function to create a sensory room, we were thrilled to level the playing field for all fans. We believe that our different abilities are our greatest strength, and we've equipped the Puzzle Piece Playhouse to help each person thrive," said Aviva

Weiss, CEO of Fun and Function, which designs products and environments for children and adults with autism, sensory processing and attention disorders, and other challenges. "An inclusive stadium improves the experience for everyone in the game," she added.

In addition to corporate champions Curemark and Fun & Function, the space was made available through a private donation from Michael DeCellis and Karen Santana.

"We are thrilled that we are able to help make Puzzle Piece Playhouse a reality for those who are on the autism spectrum, as well as their families and caregivers. As parents of a child with autism, and myself a former special education teacher of students with autism in District 75, we understand how important accessibility and inclusivity is in all spaces. We believe the Puzzle Piece Playhouse demonstrates that the Brooklyn Cyclones are committed to welcoming all people to enjoy our nation's pastime."
