WE'RE THE CABALLOS DE STOCKTON

Horses have a deep history in San Joaquin County.

The word "Caballos" translates to "Horse," and as found in the San Joaquin Historian, early Hispanics in the area had a fondness and appreciation for hard-working horses. Hispanic ranch managers built strong reputations breaking wild horses, making the Caballos a relatable and deeply-rooted symbol in San Joaquin County.

"Caballos" also lends itself to the first wave of Hispanic immigrants that arrived in Stockton from the Southern Pacific Railroad. The term "iron horse" is a word often used to describe large trains, and the Caballos de Stockton logo embodies this with a steel locomotive-stylized horse as an homage to the trains that transported the first Hispanic citizens of Stockton generations ago.

For four days during the 2019 baseball season the Ports will become the Caballos de Stockton, translating to the Stockton Horses. The rebrand is part of Minor League Baseball's inaugural "Copa de la Diversion" celebration, embracing the culture and values of Hispanic/Latino communities.

The initiative will take place at Banner Island Ballpark beginning on Thursday, June 20 and conclude on Sunday, June 23rd where the Ports will wear special themed jerseys and caps. The Ports last participated in 2018, when they went undefeated for four games against the Modesto Nuts.

Here's a look ahead at what to expect during Copa weekend, presented by Humana, La Tapatia Tortilleria, and El Nino Aguas Frescas:

KAPRIELIA RESURGEN WITH PORTS

AFTER INJURY STRUGGLES, 2015 FIRST-ROUNDER
GETTING BACK INTO ACTION

When Stockton Ports pitcher James Kaprielian finally got a chance to step onto the mound again, he wasn't going to let anything stop him -- not even a little bad weather.

"It was like, 'This is not ideal for my first start,' but it didn't matter if there were thunderstorms, I was going to grab the ball and pitch that day," said Oakland's No. 6 prospect.

May 19 was the first time Kaprielian pitched in a Minor League regular season game since 2016. He allowed two runs on four hits and one walk with four strikeouts over five innings in the Ports' 3-2 victory. He also pitched May 29, allowing three runs on three hits and one walk with four strikeouts in three innings of a 5-2 loss.

"I think it's progressively getting better," the 25-year-old said. "I'm starting to get back to myself, find that timing and that rhythm and along with that the competitive edge. I'd like to say the killer instinct's coming back a little bit, which is good. It's tough. It's been taken away from me for a long time and it's good to start to get that back."

It's been a long road back to the mound for Kaprielian, who was sidelined with a right elbow flexor strain in 2016 but had a good run in the Arizona Fall League that same year.

Kaprielian, a 2015 first-round pick of the Yankees, went on to pitch well in Spring Training with New York in 2017, but elbow pain sidelined him again. The decision was made to undergo Tommy John surgery in April 2017.

IN T TS

At the trade deadline in 2017, he was sent to the Athletics. He developed a shoulder injury in 2018, which returned this spring.

Despite everything, Kaprielian has maintained a positive outlook on his career, along with a determination to overcome his setbacks.

He said a big part of maintaining that mind-set is because of his mother, Barbara Kaprielian, who lost a 14-year battle against breast cancer when Kaprielian was a sophomore at UCLA.

"This is me and this is my story," he said. "A big inspiration for me was my mom. My mom died of breast cancer and she fought for 14 years. I saw every piece of the up and down with that, so for me there's not really any excuse. ... There's not really a time for me to start to feel bad for myself.

"This is what it is and you kind of got to turn the page and talk and figure out what we've got to do and then go do it and work hard. Try to be as good of a teammate as I can and a good clubhouse guy, and when I'm able to contribute on the field, like I am now, do my job. I try not to feel bad for myself."

No one would blame Kaprielian if he did feel bad for himself.

Being traded while he was hurt was tough for him, since he couldn't help his new organization while being sidelined.

"When I got traded, it kind of caught me off-guard," Kaprielian said. "I didn't think I would be the one to get traded. I thought it just wouldn't happen, just because there was so much talk about the future and the expectation for me there and what they wanted out of me.

"But it happened and on the other side of that, coming over and being hurt and not being able to contribute. ... Now I get to meet a lot of the guys. I hadn't been able to meet a lot of the guys, because I hadn't been playing with them. You don't get that same banter in the clubhouse and in the dugout in Arizona when you're rehabbing."

Kaprielian worked extra hard to be able to have that moment on May 19. He did everything he could think of to make sure he could get back on the field.

"It's been a long time, a lot of rehab, a lot of work behind the scenes," he said. "I'd say 99 percent of people don't know how much effort I've put into this, even people with the A's organization. The stuff I've been doing back home, whether it's the food I'm eating just to keep the inflammation out of my body or whatever it is. I'm doing every single thing I can to get back and to help this organization, try to be a big piece of the puzzle and hopefully win a World Series with these guys one day."

Though he can't wait to get back to how he was pitching before his series of injuries, Kaprielian is also following the guidelines for him to get back into the swing of things. He is currently limited to three innings a start, and he said he is focused more on trying to feel good on the mound and less on results.

"I think it's important that I pitch every fifth day and get back on that starter routine and get used to that," Kaprielian said. "Just body-wise you can't really replicate pitching in games and then being on a five-day routine, so being able to do that. Whether it's three innings, seven innings or nine innings, it's important that I consistently stay on a five-day routine and continue to make my starts."

Kaprielian is having fun with his teammates and is enjoying being back in the game and contributing to his team.

"I'm excited to be back and it's going to be a good story in the end, I feel like," he said. "I'm excited to play with these guys and glad to be here."

June 21, 2018: Caballos de Stockton 5, Modesto Nuts 4

The Caballos de Stockton rode one big inning to a win on Thursday night at Banner Island Ballpark. The Caballos scored four runs in the fourth inning and Stockton's bullpen made a one-run advantage hold up down the stretch as they opened the second half of the season with a 5-4 win over the Modesto Nuts. Matt Milburn would go on to pick up the win as he went 5.1 innings and allowed four runs on 10 hits while striking out three. With the win, the Caballos improved to 14-7 in one-run ballgames on the season.

June 22, 2018: Caballos de Stockton 9, Modesto Nuts 2

The Caballos de Stockton used their fourth grand slam of the season as a catalyst for a lopsided win Friday night at Banner Island Ballpark. Will Toffey's grand slam in the bottom of the first inning put Stockton ahead for good as the Boys of Banner Island rolled to a 9-2 win over the Modesto Nuts, their third consecutive win over Modesto. Caballos starter Zack Erwin (6-5) would allow just the two solo homers and go on to pitch six innings in earning the victory. Erwin allowed eight hits and struck out five without issuing a walk. Stockton's bullpen had not allowed an earned run in 20.1 consecutive innings dating back to June 14 versus San Jose.

June 23, 2018: Caballos de Stockton 4, Modesto Nuts 3

The Caballos escaped a bases-loaded jam with nobody out in the top of the 10th inning and went on to get a game-winning RBI single off the bat of Dairon Blanco in the bottom of the 10th to upend the Modesto Nuts by a final of 4-3 for their fourth straight win. With the victory, Stockton improves to 5-2 on the season in extra innings. Stockton starter Dustin Hurlbutt would also be rendered a no-decision on the night after tossing five innings and allowing two runs on five hits while striking out five. Blanco would deliver the game-winning single to open the bottom of the 10th, a sharp ground ball passed the shortstop to score Perez from second and give the Caballos a 4-3 victory.

The Caballos de Stockton wasted no time in setting the tone for a series sweep of the Modesto Nuts on Sunday afternoon. Stockton scored eight runs in the opening stanza, highlighted by a grand slam off the bat of Collin Theroux, on its way to a lopsided 13-3 win over Modesto, their fifth consecutive victory and their fourth series sweep of the year. In the victory, the Caballos set new season-high totals for runs and hits (19) in a game while matching their largest margin of victory on the year. Stockton loaded the bases on three straight singles in the first, and Jonah Heim opened the scoring with a two-run single to right field. After Will Toffey walked to load the bases again, Luke Persico drew a bases-loaded walk to make it 3-0. Luis Barrera came up next and singled to make it a 4-0 lead. Two batters later, with the bases loaded and one out, Theroux delivered the most decisive blow of the frame, a grand slam to right field that ballooned the Stockton lead to 8-0. The grand slam was Stockton's second of the series and fifth of the season. Meanwhile, Stockton starter Xavier Altamirano (1-0), who was also making his California League debut, set down the first nine batters he faced on his way to a spectacular performance. Altamirano set the side down in order in five of his seven innings, including striking out the side in the sixth. Altamirano earned the victory in his debut, matching a career-high with seven scoreless innings worked, allowing just two hits while matching a career-best with eight strikeouts.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS RECAP

by PAIGE KIESEWETTER

The Ports have continued their community efforts this month at and around the ballpark by making visits to the Central Chavez Library, the Van Buskirk Community Center, the Tracy Public Library, and Dunkin' Donuts and Krispy Kreme in honor of National Donut Day.

In addition, the Ports ran a disaster relief food drive in an effort to help the Dayton Dragons, Class-A Affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds, and the Dayton, Ohio area recover from a severe tornado outbreak on Memorial Day. The Stockton Ports Anchor Fund also hosted its second silent auction and raffle of the 2019 season during the Ports' A's Weekend. Prizes included items donated from various Bay Area teams, Pepsi, and A's memorabilia.

Stay on the lookout for more Ports' in the community this summer and join us for our upcoming community events!

The Stockton Ports' Annual YOUTH BASEBALL CAMP for children ages 6-15, presented by Amy L. Scriven, DDS, is open for registration! Make sure to get signed up and reserve a spot for your future all-star! Children will learn skills from Ports players, be provided lunch, be able to attend the corresponding Sunday game for free, and more!

First Session: June 22nd & June 23rd | Second Session: July 20th and 21st
