PILLARS OF ART

By Conner Penfold

You're making your way through the concourse, hungry for a hot dog. Or you've just entered the main gate on a hot August night and are on the lookout for the Merlino's Freeze stand. Chances are, you've seen the colorful concrete pillars evenly staggered around the top of the lower bowl.

Nearly twenty years ago, Sacramento-area school children put their stamp on Raley Field's grand opening with displays of creativity as part of the Pillars of Art program. Sacramento River Cats majority owner Susan Savage, who serves on the board of the Crocker Art Museum, KVIE Public Television, and the River Cats Foundation, found a unique way to integrate art and community into the ballpark's charm.

As those structures remain, just as colorful as ever during the River Cats' 20th season in the state's capital, the tradition lives on with the annual Art of Baseball day at Raley Field. Hundreds of local students submit works of art to be featured in the Art of Baseball Calendar, with the finalists being honored down on the field during the game.

The River Cats celebrate the tradition of art and memories at Raley Field with their annual Art day. It is an opportunity to recognize the enormous impact that the arts have had on the Sacramento region, its people, and the ballpark that the River Cats have called home for the last 20 years. So as you are walking around the ballpark, be sure to look carefully at the small tiles that have become a big part of what makes Raley Field so special.

RC PROSPECT REPORT

Melvin ADON

Not often do you see Dominican ballplayers sign after they've turned 20. For flamethrower Melvin Adon, it took until he was of legal U.S. drinking age to be inked to a contract – one of just $50,000, mind you.

His advanced age meant he needed just one season in the Dominican Summer League before Giants' brass determined he was ready to play state-side. And though he's started nearly 90% of the 69 games he's played in entering the 2019 season, Adon appears destined for the bullpen.

After falling just two outs shy of 100 innings in 2017 with the Class-A Augusta GreenJackets, Adon took his 102-mph fastball to San Jose, Calif. where he was the highlight of the Baby Giants' starting rotation. He missed some time due to injury, totaling just 77.2 innings but made up for the lost time after being assigned to the Arizona Fall League (AFL). It was there that Adon made what could be a permanent transition to the bullpen, and he did so with dominating results.

Facing some of the league's top offensive talent, as it goes with an AFL assignment, Adon struck out 42.9% of the 49 batters he faced over 12.1 innings while allowing just seven hits and three walks.

Adon's upper-90s four-seam fastball has some run and works well with a mid-to-upper 80s slider. In Scottsdale, he worked on adding a two-seamer to his arsenal, creating a mid-90s sinker. He does occasionally mix in a changeup, but it's still a work in progress.

Like teammate Logan Webb, Adon was added to the 40-man roster in the offseason and spent his first spring in big-league camp. Two key questions remain for Adon: can he continue simplifying his complicated delivery, and when exactly will the Giants commit to a bullpen role?

PITCHER

Bat: L | Throw: L | Height: 6'1" | Weight: 220 | DOB: 12/17/85

Abad is an eight-year major-league veteran signed to a minor-league deal in the offseason. After breaking camp in Richmond, and proceeding to allow just four baserunners and zero runs in six innings, Abad was promoted to Sacramento to bolster the bullpen. Abad, who has pitched more than 300 innings combined for five different MLB teams, began the 2018 season in the New York Mets system but was suspended for 80 games after testing positive for the banned substance Stanazolol.

35

SHAUN ANDERSON

PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'4" | Weight: 225 | DOB: 2/14/95

Was a third-round pick by the Boston Red Sox in 2016 and pitched in their minor-league system until he was traded to the Giants on July 26, 2017 as part of the Eduardo Nunez deal. He broke camp in 2018 with the Double-A Richmond Flying Squirrels, posting a 3.45 ERA with 93 strikeouts in 94 innings before being called up to make his Triple-A debut in Sacramento. After a non-roster invite to major-league spring training this season, he'll begin the year as the Giants' fifth-ranked prospect according to MLB Pipeline.

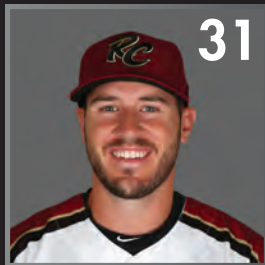

14

TYLER BEEDE

PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 5/23/93

Beede, drafted in 2014's first round out of Vanderbilt University, made more starts than any other River Cats pitcher during his Triple-A debut season in 2017 and is the No. 24-ranked prospect in the system according to MLB Pipeline. He pitched six or more innings in 11 of his 19 starts, posting a 3.47 ERA in those outings. He struggled during the 2018 season with the River Cats and was sent to the bullpen for the remainder of the year, but made some mechanical adjustments in the offseason and will be back in the rotation for 2019.

31

TY BLACH

PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: L | Height: 6'1" | Weight: 205 | DOB: 10/20/90

Blach is back in a River Cats uniform after spending all of 2017 and 2018 with the San Francisco Giants. There, he pitched the third most innings on the club in 2017 and followed that up with 118.2 a year later. He owns a 4.36 ERA in nearly 300 major-league innings pitched while making almost half of his 85 appearances as a starter. Blach was a three-year starter at Creighton University in Omaha, Neb. and was selected by the Giants in the fifth round of the 2012 draft.

RAY BLACK*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'3" | Weight: 230 | DOB: 6/26/90

After playing collegiately at the University of Pittsburgh, he was drafted by the Giants in the 7th round of 2011, though he missed the 2012 and 2013 seasons after undergoing shoulder surgery to repair a torn labrum. In 2014 while pitching for the San Jose Giants, he struck out nearly 45% of the batters he faced in 25 innings. In May of 2017 he had arthroscopic surgery on his throwing elbow, but returned healthy and made his major-league debut on July 8, 2018.

SAM COONROD*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 215 | DOB: 9/22/92

Drafted in the fifth round in 2014, Coonrod hails from Carrollton, Ill. and played collegiately for Southern Illinois University. Following Tommy John surgery at the conclusion of 2017, Coonrod finished up his rehab in July of 2018 and returned to action pitching for the AZL Giants and the San Jose Giants, where during his brief time in San Jose he struck out 46.4% of the batters he faced in 6.1 innings. Prior to moving into the pen, Coonrod racked up more than 100 innings in three straight seasons from 2015 to 2017.

ENDERSON FRANCO*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 225 | DOB: 12/29/92

Originally a Houston Astros product out of Venezuela, Anderson found himself in the Giants system this offseason when he was signed to a minor-league deal on November 20, 2018. He was designated for assignment by Houston at the end of the 2015 season and was claimed by Atlanta, which is where Franco spent the last three seasons, pitching the majority of the time for the Double-A Mississippi Braves. He began the 2019 season as the No. 5 starter in the River Cats rotation.

WILLIAMS JEREZ*PITCHER

Bat: L | Throw: L | Height: 6'4" | Weight: 205 | DOB: 5/16/92

Jerez was acquired by the Giants late in March in a deal that sent starting pitcher and long-time River Cats pitcher Chris Stratton to the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim. The left-handed reliever is a native of the Dominican Republic but went to high school in Brooklyn, N.Y. and was drafted by the Boston Red Sox in the second round of the 2011 draft. He found himself in the Angels organization when he was traded in the deal that helped the Red Sox acquire Ian Kinsler. Jerez made his major-league debut with the Angels on August 7, 2018.

CARLOS NAVAS*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'1" | Weight: 170 | DOB: 8/13/92

Navas signed a minor-league deal with San Francisco on December 17, 2018 and joined the Double-A Richmond Flying Squirrels out of spring training. Though before even playing a game in the Eastern League, Navas was called up to Triple-A. He was originally a product of the Oakland Athletics, signed in 2010 out of his home country of Venezuela. He pitched in the A's organization until the 2018 when he signed with the Cincinnati Reds in the offseason.

16*STEVEN OKERT*PITCHER

Bat: L | Throw: L | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 7/9/91

A product of the University of Oklahoma, Okert was a fourth round pick by the Giants in 2012. He was designated for assignment on March 23 but cleared waivers and returned to Sacramento to begin the 2019 season. Okert has 48.1 career innings pitched in the major leagues spread from 2016 to 2018, and is third all-time in River Cats history for pitcher appearances.

17*TYLER ROGERS*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'4" | Weight: 180 | DOB: 12/17/90

With 55 appearances, Rogers finished tied with San Jose Giants right-hander Dylan Rheault for most games by a pitcher in the Giants' system in 2017, then followed that up by leading the system with 51 in 2018. The right-handed submariner totalled 143.2 innings over that span, entirely with the Sacramento River Cats, while holding opposing hitters to a .236 average, just two home runs, and a 2.37 ERA in 2017. His 61.0% ground ball rate was one of the highest on the Giants' farm over these last two seasons.

43*SAM SELMAN*PITCHER

Bat: R | Throw: L | Height: 6'3" | Weight: 190 | DOB: 11/14/90

A former second-round pick of the Kansas City Royals, Selman joins the River Cats after dominating in his seven innings pitching for the Double-A Richmond Flying Squirrels. He pitched collegiately for Vanderbilt University, where he was teammates with current River Cats Tyler Beede and Mike Yastrzemski. Pitching between Double and Triple-A during the 2017 season, Selman struck out 97 batters in just 67.2 innings while sporting a 2.66 ERA.

33*ANDREW SUAREZ*PITCHER

Bat: L | Throw: L | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 195 | DOB: 9/11/92

Suarez entered 2018 ranked the 10th best prospect on the Giants after posting a career-high 155.2 innings in 2017, 10.1 more innings than any other Giants' minor leaguer. After being the opening-day starter for the River Cats, Suarez was called up to San Francisco where he made his major-league debut on April 11. The University of Miami product was sent back down for a brief stint but was eventually called up for good, making 29 starts totaling 160.1 innings with a 4.49 ERA.

54*PAT VENDITTE*PITCHER

Bat: L | Throw: S | Height: 6'1" | Weight: 185 | DOB: 6/30/85

One of the most unique baseball players in the game, Venditte is a switch-pitcher. He throws with either arm and carries a special glove that allows him to switch hands while on the mound. He's a 33-year veteran who made his major-league debut for the Oakland A's in 2015, though it was the New York Yankees who signed him in the 20th round of the 2008 draft. Venditte spent 2018 in the Los Angeles Dodgers' system where he tossed 14 big-league innings while pitching most of his games with the Triple-A Oklahoma City Dodgers.

ARAMIS GARCIA*CATCHER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'1" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 1/12/93

Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2014 draft out of Florida International University, Garcia was the top catching prospect in the Giants' farm system until they selected Georgia Tech's Joey Bart in 2018. Garcia, though, is certainly the closest to consistent major-league time as he's currently one of three backstops on San Francisco's 40-man roster. Garcia has been known mostly for his offensive prowess, but his skills behind the dish have improved from year to year, especially during the 2018 season in Double-A Richmond.

STEPHEN VOGT*CATCHER

Bat: L | Throw: R | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 11/1/83

Vogt is back with the River Cats for the third time, but first as a member of the Giants' organization. The catcher drafted out of Azusa Pacific University slashed .324/.398/.547 in 75 games for the River Cats back in 2013 and went on to become an American League All-Star with the A's from 2015 to 2016. He was designated for assignment by the A's in 2017 but was quickly picked up by Milwaukee, though he hit the injured list in August after a hard collision at the plate. He then spent most of 2018 rehabbing from a shoulder surgery that stemmed from the incident.

ABIATAL AVELINO*INFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 2/14/95

After signing out of the Dominican Republic at age 16 with the New York Yankees, Avelino was a ranked prospect in the Pinstripes' farm system for seven seasons. In 2015, he stole the fifth most bases in all of the minor leagues (54) while splitting time between Advanced-A and Double-A ball. On August 31, 2018, he was included in the trade that sent then Giants outfielder Andrew McCutchen to the Yankees. He enters the 2019 season on the Giants' 40-man roster and is ranked the No. 19 prospect in the organization by MLB Pipeline.

ZACH GREEN*INFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 225 | DOB: 3/7/94

Drafted out of Sacramento's Jesuit High School in 2012, Green played in the Philadelphia Phillies' farm system before electing free agency at the conclusion of the 2018 season. He had Tommy John surgery in August of 2016 and missed the rest of that season plus half of 2017. In 2018, he OPS'd nearly 1,000 with 17 home runs and 23 doubles in Double-A before being promoted to Triple-A Lehigh Valley where he completed the season. He signed with the Giants over the offseason and will get to play roughly ten miles from where he grew up in Carmichael.

DONOVAN SOLANO*INFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 5'7" | Weight: 210 | DOB: 12/17/87

Originally a St. Louis Cardinals prospect who signed at age 17 out of Venezuela in 2005, Solano is now with his fifth different franchise. Solano, who signed a minor-league contract with the Giants in the offseason, spent 2018 in the Dodgers organization where he played in 81 games for the Triple-A Oklahoma City Dodgers. Though he hasn't played in a major-league game since 2016, Solano has 360 big-league games under his belt since making his debut back in 2012 with the Miami Marlins.

AUSTIN SLATER*INFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'2" | Weight: 205 | DOB: 12/13/92

Slater began 2017 playing his first 46 games in Sacramento slashing .322/.381/.460 with 12 doubles and four home runs. He received a call-up to San Francisco to make his major-league debut on June 2, going 1-for-5 with a single at Philadelphia. Before injuring his hip, the former Stanford Cardinal played in 29 games with the Giants batting .290. Similarly in 2018, Slater got off to a hot start in Triple-A and was eventually recalled to San Francisco where he played in 74 games batting .250.

BREYVIC VALERA*INFIELDER

Bat: S | Throw: R | Height: 5'8" | Weight: 185 | DOB: 1/8/92

Acquired by the Giants from the Orioles during the offseason after spending time with three teams in 2018. He began the spring in St. Louis Cardinals camp but was designated for assignment at the end of March. The Venezuelan was sent to the Dodgers a few days later and began the season in Triple-A with the Oklahoma City Dodgers. He was called up to Los Angeles a handful of times, appearing in 20 games. Valera was sent to Baltimore as part of the Manny Machado deal on July 18. Valera can play a variety of positions, including second base, shortstop, third base, and corner outfield.

ANTHONY GARCIA*OUTFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 180 | DOB: 1/4/92

Led the Nashville Sounds, at the time a Triple-A affiliate of the Oakland A's, in plate appearances (566), doubles (31), and home runs (25) during the 2018 season, but did not receive a September call-up from the A's. He elected free agency at the end of the year and signed a minor-league deal with the Giants on January 24, 2019. A product of Puerto Rico, Garcia was originally drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals in 2009 and remained in their system until signing with Oakland after the 2017 season.

MIKE GERBER*OUTFIELDER

Bat: L | Throw: R | Height: 5'10" | Weight: 195 | DOB: 7/8/92

A 15th-round pick by the Detroit Tigers in 2014, Gerber was a teammate of Ty Blach's for two years at Creighton University. He made his major-league debut as the extra man during a doubleheader on April 20, 2018, pinch-running for future hall-of-famer Miguel Cabrera. He was placed on waivers in December and claimed on the 10th by San Francisco. He was the Tigers' Minor League Player of the Year in 2015 after hitting .292 with 31 doubles, 10 triples, and 13 home runs playing for Class-A West Michigan.

HENRY RAMOS*OUTFIELDER

Bat: S | Throw: R | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 215 | DOB: 4/15/92

Brother of highly-ranked Giants prospect Heliot Ramos, Henry joins the River Cats after playing in the Dodgers' farm system for the last two seasons. Originally a draft pick of the Boston Red Sox in 2010, Ramos is a switch-hitting outfielder who can play all three positions. He clubbed 10 home runs and 22 doubles while slugging .465 in 102 games for the Oklahoma City Dodgers last year. He received a non-roster invite to spring training this season where he was able to roam the outfield during a game with his younger brother Heliot.

MICHAEL REED*OUTFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'0" | Weight: 215 | DOB: 11/18/92

Reed was acquired in the offseason in an exchange of outfielders with the Minnesota Twins, who received John Andreoli in the deal. He's originally a fifth-round pick in 2011 by the Milwaukee Brewers out of Leander H.S. just outside Austin, TX. Reed began the 2019 season on the San Francisco Giants 25-man roster but was designated for assignment after just eight plate appearances. After clearing waivers, Reed signed a minor-league deal back with the Giants and joined the River Cats a few games into the season.

MAC WILLIAMSON*OUTFIELDER

Bat: R | Throw: R | Height: 6'4" | Weight: 235 | DOB: 7/15/90

Williamson wore a River Cats uniform for 94 games in 2017, then another 52 in 2018. The former Wake Forest outfielder, who pitched in high school, underwent a swing/stance change during the 2017-2018 offseason and after crushing six home runs in 11 games to start the year was called up to the Giants. Unfortunately, a collision with the wall in foul territory on April 27 sidelined him with concussion symptoms and those issues lingered throughout the rest of the year. Mac is back with Sacramento after clearing waivers and being outrighted to the River Cats.

MIKE YASTRZEMSKI*OUTFIELDER

Bat: L | Throw: L | Height: 5'11" | Weight: 180 | DOB: 8/23/90

Grandson of Boston Red Sox legend and Hall-of-Famer Carl Yastrzemski, Mike was a 14th-round pick in 2013 out of Vanderbilt University where he was teammates with River Cats' starting pitcher Tyler Beede. He played in the Baltimore Orioles farm system for six seasons, including his first three pro years in which was named a Mid-Season All-Star during each season. On March 23, 2019, the Orioles traded him to San Francisco for right-handed starting pitcher Tyler Herb. Yastrzemski has played in 269 Triple-A games, including 94 in 2018 with the Bowie Baysox where he slashed .265/.359/.441.

RIVER CATS FIELD STAFF

DAVE BRUNDAGE Manager

Brundage will take the field as the River Cats' manager for the third consecutive season. Having nearly two decades of managerial experience, the veteran manager spent four previous seasons with the International League's Lehigh Valley IronPigs (Philadelphia Phillies Triple-A), compiling a 286-289 record (.497), before heading west to Sacramento. In 2016, he led the IronPigs to an 85-58 record, the second best mark in all of Triple-A baseball.

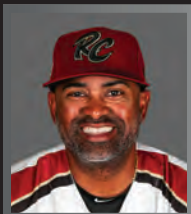

STEVE KLINE Pitching Coach

Kline rejoins the River Cats for his second season as pitching coach in Sacramento after three seasons with the Giants' Double-A affiliate Richmond Flying Squirrels. He spent the six seasons before that with the Class-A Augusta GreenJackets. He was a durable left-handed reliever during his time in the majors, appearing in 89 games in 2001 for the St. Louis Cardinals, which broke a major-league single-season record for lefties.

DAMON MINOR Hitting Coach

Minor is now in his fourth season with the River Cats after spending five seasons with the New Orleans Zephyrs. In his first year with the team in 2016, Minor helped the River Cats improve their batting average four points to the tune of a .272 average, good for sixth best in the Pacific Coast League.

JOLBERT CABRERA Fundamentals Coach

Cabrera enters his fourth season in the Giants' organization and his first as a Fundamentals Coach for the River Cats. In 2018, Cabrera served as the manager of the Class-A Augusta GreenJackets. Before that, Cabrera was the hitting coach for the AZL Giants in 2016 and was the manager with Salem-Keizer in 2017.

DAVID GETSOFF Athletic Trainer

Getsoff begins his 10th season with the Giants' organization, and his second as Athletic Trainer here in Sacramento. In 2017, he served as the organization's Latin American Coordinator and Assistant Minor League Medical Coordinator. He spent 2014-2016 with Double-A Richmond, 2012-2013 with the Class-A San Jose Giants, 2010-2011 with Class-A Augusta, and 2009 with the Class-A short season Salem-Keizer.

ANDY KING Strength & Conditioning

King is in his sixth year with the Giants' organization and his second with the River Cats after spending the 2017 season with Double-A Richmond. He was in Class-A San Jose for the 2016 season and with the Salem-Keizer Volcanoes in Short-Season A-Ball the year before that. King is a 2012 graduate of Hamline University where he earned his B.A. in Exercise and Sports Science with a concentration in Physical Therapy.

EL PASO CHIHUAHUAS (24-11) 1st Pacific Southern -vs-

SACRAMENTO RIVER CATS (17-18) 2nd Pacific Northern

Chihuahuas: LHP Logan Allen (3-1, 5.16) • River Cats: RHP Anderson Franco (1-0, 6.20)

Last Night's Game: In one of the strangest walk-offs in team history, the River Cats closed out their four-game series with the Fresno Grizzlies (to avoid being swept) on a pickle between third base and home plate that results in the winning run. A ground ball off the bat of INF Abiatal Avelino sent newcomer INF Ryan Howard scrambling for the plate, but the throw went home and caught Howard in a bind. After a brief back-and-forth, a throw hit Howard in the back and allowed him to score for the River Cats' third walk-off win of the 2019 season. Sacramento hit three home runs on the night in their 7-6 victory over the in-state rivals, including the first of the season for C Ronnie Freeman and sixth for OF Henry Ramos. Another infielder, Levi Michael, hit his second of the year, both of which have come in the first five games since joining the club.

Tonight's Starter: RHP Anderson Franco gets the call for Saturday's primetime television matchup with the red-hot El Paso Chihuahuas, who are already 13 games over .500 for the 2019 season. Franco is coming of his longest outing of the year in terms of pitches thrown at 94, with his previous high being 78. However, he lasted just 4.2 innings facing the Reno Aces and gave up a season-high seven hits.

Yastrzemski: In the month of May, OF Mike Yastrzemski has raised his batting average from .228 to .283 thanks to a .371/.488/.886 slash line that includes seven singles and six home runs in 10 games. During this stretch, he's drawn seven walks and struck out just five times.

Two Debuts: A couple familiar faces made their 2019 debuts with the River Cats on Friday night as INF Brock Stassi and RHP Dillon McNamara both joined the club and got into the game. Stassi batted clean-up and played first base, going 1-for-5 with a double while McNamara pitched the ninth inning and walked one with one strikeout. Stassi was rocking an OPS of .864 during his time in Double-A, mostly thanks to a .315 batting average to go along with a 14.1% walk rate. McNamara joined Sacramento from extended spring training.

Why Wait Around: The River Cats entered Friday night's game with a 1.401 OPS when swinging at the first pitch, and continued to do damage with two of their three home runs coming on a first pitch, giving them a whopping total of 17 this season.

This Day in River Cats History: May 11, 2011: The River Cats defeated the Memphis Redbirds 7-0 for their fourth shutout win in nine games. LHP Josh Outman was superb from the mound throwing six scoreless innings while giving up just three hits with five walks and six strikeouts. He lowered his ERA from 6.75 to 5.28 in the process. OF Shane Peterson went 3-for-3 at the plate with two runs and two RBI and was a home run shy of the cycle.

MAY 11 IN MLB HISTORY

May 11, 1904: After 23 innings of pitching no-hit baseball, Cy Young's streak ends. The stretch includes six innings today, two innings April 25, six on April 30, and the perfect game against the A's on May 5.

May 11, 1977: Trying to snap the Braves' 16 game losing streak, Ted Turner, the team's owner, takes over as field manager. The skid continues as Atlanta is defeated by the Pirates, 2-1, and National League president Chub Feeney informs the new skipper he cannot manage again because of the rule which prohibits a manager from owning a financial stake in the club.

May 11, 2016: Max Scherzer ties a major league mark when he strikes out 20 batters in a nine-inning game, joining Roger Clemens (1986, 1996 Red Sox), Kerry Wood (1998 Cubs), and Randy Johnson (2001 Diamondbacks). The 31 year-old right-hander, who goes the distance in Washington's 3-2 victory over the Tigers at Nationals Park, has an opportunity to establish a new record with two out in the ninth, but James McCann grounds into a force out at second base to end the contest.

READY. SET. GOLD

Joey Logano
NASCAR Driver, Daytona 500 Champion

You deserve Instant Gold Status with the Fuel Rewards® program. That means 5¢ off per gallon every fill, every day. It's our way of saying thanks for choosing Shell.

SAVE 5¢ /GAL* ON EVERY FILL

JOIN NOW at fuelrewards.com/gold

or download the app

*Restrictions apply. To qualify for the Gold/Silver Status offers, you must be a Fuel Rewards® member and swipe your Fuel Rewards® card or enter your Ali ID when you fuel at a participating Shell station. With Gold Status, you will receive 5¢/gal in Fuel Rewards® savings on every fill-up. The 5¢/gal reward for Gold Status will be combined with other rewards in your Fuel Rewards® account. If you are an existing Fuel Rewards® account. If you are an existing Fuel Rewards® member, you will receive Gold Status from 6/5/2017 through 12/31/17, the "Existing Member Introductory Period". If you are a new Fuel Rewards® member, you will receive Gold Status for the initial month you join through the last day of the month, a full calendar month later, the "New Member Introductory Period". The last 3 months of the Existing Member Introductory Period or the New Member Introductory Period (collectively the "Introductory Period") is the "Qualification Period". You will need to fill up with at least 5 gallons of fuel at least 5 times during the Qualification Period (i.e., 10/1/2017 and 12/31/2017) to maintain Gold Status during the Benefit Period. During the Benefit Period, you must continue to make a qualifying fuel purchase to maintain your Gold Status for the next 3-month Benefit Period. A qualifying fuel purchase is any fuel purchase at a participating Shell station in which you swipe your Fuel Rewards® card or enter your Ali ID and fill up with at least 5 gallons of any grade of fuel. For example, if you are a new Fuel Rewards® member and register on 6/15/2017, you will receive Gold Status through the New Member Introductory Period (i.e., 12/31/2017). You will need to fill up with at least 5 gallons of fuel at least 5 times during the Qualification Period (i.e., 10/1/2017 and 12/31/2017) to maintain Gold Status during the Benefit Period (i.e., from 1/1/2018 to 3/31/2018). Thereafter, if you continue to fill up with at least 5 gallons of fuel at least 5 times during the successive 3 consecutive month Benefit Periods, you will retain your Gold Status. If you do not maintain your Gold Status, you will receive Silver Status. With Silver Status, you will receive 3¢/gal in Fuel Rewards® savings. The 3¢/gal reward for Silver Status will be combined with other rewards in your Fuel Rewards® account. Redeem Fuel Rewards® savings with your Fuel Rewards® card or Ali ID at participating Shell stations. Fuel Rewards® savings are limited to 20 gallons of fuel per purchase, per vehicle, or fraud limits placed by Shell and/or limits placed on your financial card by your financial institution, each of which may be lower. Fuel Rewards® savings must be redeemed in a single transaction. Once you begin to dispense fuel using your Fuel Rewards® savings, you must dispense to the 20-gallon limit or you forfeit any remaining discounted gallons of fuel. For example, if you only pump fifteen (15) gallons of fuel, you would abandon the remaining five (5) gallons of discounted fuel. If you have a rewards balance greater than the current per-gallon price of fuel, the price will roll down to the maximum capability of the fuel equipment, and your remaining rewards will be saved for a future fuel purchase. Dispenser may require a price of up to 10.94/gal. It may not be possible to combine multiple discounts and/or rewards in a single transaction. For purchases of $75 or more, please go inside to pay. Unbranded diesel and alternative fuels may not be eligible. The Fuel Rewards® program is owned and operated by ExxonMobil Corporation. Offer may be modified or discontinued at any time without notice. Not valid where prohibited by law. Please see fuelrewards.com for complete Fuel Rewards® program details and Terms and Conditions. TRIPLE-A
AFFILIATE

ONE-ON-ONE with MIKE

Q&A with Mike Yastrzemski, outfielder for the River Cats, and Johnny Doskow, the radio broadcaster of the Sacramento River Cats.

Johnny: We have Mike Yastrzemski with us and I was always wondering, do guys call you Yaz? Do you go by Yaz when your teammates do?

Mike: Yeah, most of the time I do. I'll definitely respond to it. I got a new one lately, Brundy called me "Ski" for the first time in Spring Training. He [Brundage] goes Ski you got center field, and I kind of looked around and was like who's this "Ski" guy? He [Brundage] goes you got it and I was like oh okay it's me so I've never heard that before but it's good.

Johnny: You talk about growing up in the Northeast, and it is such a beautiful part of the country. You were drafted out of high school by the [Boston] Red Sox, it must have been awfully tempting to sign, but you end up going to Vanderbilt. How hard was that decision?

Mike: Well the way the Corbs [Tim Corbin] runs his program down there, not hard at all. You know definitely tough to turn down a home town team having some lineage there, just being able to stay home essentially, but I really wanted to go to college and see what that had to offer. I really got to grow as a person when I went there and it prepared me for pro ball for sure.

Johnny: Your dad was a heck of a ballplayer, your dad got to Triple-A, great lineage. I know your dad passed away at a tough time in your life when you were 13, you were my daughter's age, 13-14 years old, you're still not a boy but not quite a man, take us through that a little bit.

Mike: Yeah, you know you always run through the hardships, everybody gets them at some point in their life, and I think it was honestly a blessing to happen at that point in my life because I had so much family around me and then being able to go out and make my own decision to decisions to grow into the baseball world that I wanted to. I'm not saying I wouldn't have been able to, but you got to make some tough decisions for yourself at that time in your life and to do that really matured me earlier than most people do. That made that fulfilling, especially being able to go back and graduate and get my degree, that felt so good to check that off the list and not have that weighing on my shoulders or anything like that, that's where it came into play mostly.

Johnny: That's phenomenal. I know people don't realize it is hard having a last name like yours. You know the way you handle it now is so much different than when you handled it when you were younger. When you were 18-19 you feel the pressure, the weight on your shoulders, but I think now with you growing up, you're more mature, now your 28 years old it's different now right?

Mike: Yeah it is for sure. I actually have a grasp of what he did looking back on it now; when you're 18 you're like yeah I want to do that too, I want to play in the big leagues for 23 years. If I were to say that now I would laugh at myself, you know those things just don't happen anymore. It just shows how remarkable that was, so when people think "that must be tough to live up to that," it never is because that was SO great, almost unattainable, that you don't have to try and do something like that. That was just special.

Johnny: You know your journey is special. I mean you were with the Orioles and now you're one step from the big leagues, you're a solid hitter, you play a solid defensive game; you're knocking on the door. What's it like for you? It's kind of a crowded outfield right now but you're still getting some good swings out there.

Mike: Yeah, you know you just have to take every advantage you get and taking the opportunity to get your at-bats, you actually start to take them way more seriously and actually have a ton more intent and focus. You know when you're a young guy coming up they are just feeding you your at-bats, giving you your development, you tend to take some for granted because you know you are going to get four the next day. Here right now, you have no idea whether you are going to get one off the bench the next day, whether you're not going to get any or whether you're going to get four in the game, it brings your focus to tunnel vision.

Johnny: Also nice to get a new start with an organization, right?

Mike: Yeah, forgot about that too. That's huge, after being with the Orioles for so long it is nice to have some new faces and new eyes on you, it's refreshing for sure.
