Game Notes:

This is the second meeting between the Flash and Breakers, with the Breakers taking a 2-1, come-from-behind victory in Rochester back on April 27th at Sahlen's Stadium in Rochester courtesy of a pair of goals from midfielder Heather O'Reilly.

This is the first time the Flash travel to Dilboy Stadium this season and first of two trips the team will make to Somerville this summer. The next time the two will square off at Dilboy is Aug. 3. The game Wednesday night marks the arrival of U.S. Women's National Team star and 2012 FIFA Player of the Year Abby Wambach, who makes her first trip to Boston since 2011. The Breakers and Flash have a rivalry that dates back to the 2011 Women's Professional Soccer season. The only remaining Breaker from that season is forward Katie Schoepfer.
