DAVID A. SCOTT

PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF COMCAST SPECTACOR AND GOVERNOR, PHILADELPHIA FLYERS

David Scott is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Comcast Spectacor, and serves as Governor of the Philadelphia Flyers for the National Hockey League. As CEO, Scott is responsible for the growth and optimization of Comcast Spectacor's core businesses: the Wells Fargo Center arena and complex, as well as a portfolio of professional sports teams that includes the National Hockey League's Philadelphia Flyers, the Overwatch League's Philadelphia Fusion, the National Lacrosse League's Philadelphia Wings and the Maine Mariners of the ECHL. Additionally, Scott is the CEO of Spectra, a hospitality firm specializing in Venue Management, Food Services & Hospitality, and Partnerships.

Under Scott's direction, the Wells Fargo Center continues to serve as the company's flagship arena and is consistently ranked among the top-five venues in the United States. The Wells Fargo Center continues to capture the national spotlight by hosting prestigious events such as the 2016 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional matchups as well as the 2016 Democratic National Convention. The Philadelphia Flyers stand as one of the NHL's marquee franchises, regularly drawing sell-out crowds and thrilling their passionate fan base.

Scott joined Comcast Spectacor as President and COO in December 2013 following a 20-year tenure at Comcast Cable. Scott served as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Comcast Cable from 2005-2013. During his time as CFO, Comcast acquired approximately five million new customers and launched Digital Voice and Home Security under the Xfinity brand, as well as Comcast Business Class Services.

Scott joined Comcast in 1993 as Vice President of Comcast's Southeast Region after extensive roles in finance and operations with two other communication companies. Scott served as President of Comcast's former Southern and Midwest Divisions from 1996 to 2005, which are now comprised within the Central Division and based in Atlanta.

Scott earned a BBA from Cleveland State University, as well as a CPA Certification from Ohio. Scott currently serves on the executive committee and the Board of Directors of the Ed Snider Youth Hockey Foundation. Scott is also a board member of the Comcast Spectacor Foundation, and is on the advisory board at the Snider Center for Enterprise and Markets at the University of Maryland. He has previously served on the boards of Big Brothers Big Sisters Southeastern Pennsylvania and Focus Hope and Cranbrook Science Institute in the Detroit area.

Scott is married with five children.

CHUCK FLETCHER

PRESIDENT, HOCKEY OPERATIONS & GENERAL MANAGER/ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

Chuck Fletcher was named the ninth general manager in Flyers history on December 3, 2018, and added the title of President of Hockey Operations on July 11, 2019. Over the course of a 26-year career as an NHL executive, Fletcher has advanced to the Stanley Cup Final four times with three different franchises, and won the Stanley Cup with Pittsburgh in 2009.

Fletcher joined the Flyers after serving as a senior advisor with the New Jersey Devils for the first part of the 2018-19 season. Prior to that appointment, Fletcher was the Executive Vice President & General Manager of the Minnesota Wild for nine seasons (2009-2018), compiling a record of 399-298-89. The Wild made the Stanley Cup Playoffs in each of Fletcher's final six seasons and reached the Second Round in 2014 and 2015. During his tenure in Minnesota, Fletcher added several players that have become leaders in the franchise's history, including Zach Parise, Ryan Suter, Eric Staal, Matt Dumba, Mikael Granlund, Jared Spurgeon, Charlie Coyle, Nino Niederreiter, Jason Zucker, Jason Pominville, and Devan Dubnyk.

Fletcher's NHL career began in 1993 when he joined the expansion Florida Panthers as an assistant general manager to Bob Clarke, who served as the franchise's first GM. Fletcher assisted in the assembly of the Panthers' first roster and was part of the organization's run to the Stanley Cup Final in just its third season of operation in 1996. He spent nine seasons with the franchise, serving as Interim General Manager in 2001-02.

In 2002, Fletcher joined the Mighty Ducks of Anaheim as Director of Hockey Operations and spent four seasons with the club, later holding the titles of Assistant General Manager, Hockey Operations and Vice President of Amateur Scouting and Player Development. The Ducks made the Stanley Cup Final in the 2002-03 season, losing just two games in the first three rounds before taking New Jersey to a seventh game in the Final. While with Anaheim, Fletcher was involved in drafts that brought Ryan Getzlaf, Corey Perry, Ladislav Smid, Joffrey Lupul and Bobby Ryan to the franchise.

Fletcher moved to the Pittsburgh Penguins in 2006 as an assistant general manager to Ray Shero, where his duties also included overseeing the team's American Hockey League affiliate in Wilkes-Barre/Scranton. In addition to Pittsburgh's 2009 Stanley Cup championship, the Penguins also reached the Stanley Cup Final in 2008. On the AHL side, Wilkes-Barre/Scranton reached the Division Finals in 2006-07 and 2008-09 and the Calder Cup Final in 2007-08. He departed the Penguins for Minnesota following the 2009 championship season.

Fletcher began following the NHL game at a young age alongside his father Cliff Fletcher, a Hockey Hall of Fame inductee who was the general manager of the Atlanta/Calgary Flames from 1972-91 and the Toronto Maple Leafs from 1991-97. While pursuing his degree at Harvard University, Fletcher worked with the Canadian Olympic Team at the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary. After graduating from Harvard in 1990, Fletcher spent two years as a player representative for Newport Sports Management before joining Florida.

Fletcher was born on April 29, 1967 in Montreal. He and his wife, Rhonda, have two children, daughter Kaitlin, and son Keith.

VALERIE CAMILLO

PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS/ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

Valerie Camillo is President of Business Operations for the Philadelphia Flyers and Wells Fargo Center. In this role, Camillo oversees all business functions for the NHL franchise and one of the country's busiest arenas.

Camillo joined Comcast Spectacor from the Washington Nationals, where she was Chief Revenue and Marketing Officer. Throughout her tenure, she led the development and implementation of the Nationals' strategies to maximize commercial opportunities and drive long-term growth. She was responsible for all revenue generation functions including corporate partnerships, licensing, ticket and suite sales, broadcasting, marketing, brand management, retail, food and beverage, and non-baseball events at Nationals Park.

Prior to joining the Nationals, Camillo was a Senior Vice President in the NBA's Team Marketing and Business Operations (TMBO) group. In this role, she provided strategic advisory services to multiple NBA teams with regards to revenue generation, marketing, analytics, technology and property development.

Before joining the NBA, Camillo worked for 15 years as a consultant at PriceWaterhouseCoopers (PWC) and Booz Allen Hamilton.

Camillo received a B.S. in Commerce from the University of Virginia, and her M.B.A. from the Darden School of Business at the University of Virginia.

She is currently on the Board of Directors for Herschend Family Entertainment, one of the largest privately-held amusement park, event, and attraction companies in the United States. She is also a member of the Young Presidents Organization.

Camillo resides in Philadelphia with her husband, Lawrence.

ALAIN VIGNEAULT

HEAD COACH

Alain Vigneault was named the 21st head coach in Flyers history on April 15, 2019.

Vigneault brings 1,216 games of experience as an NHL head coach to Philadelphia over parts of 16 seasons. He served as the head coach of the New York Rangers for five seasons (2013-18), the Vancouver Canucks for seven seasons (2006-13) and the Montreal Canadiens for parts of four seasons (1997-2000). He also served as the head coach for Team Canada at the 2019 IIHF World Championships in Slovakia, guiding the squad to a silver medal.

In Vigneault's 15 full seasons as a head coach, eight of his teams have finished with 100 points or better. A ninth team, Vancouver in 2012-13, achieved 59 points during the lockout-shortened campaign for a points percentage of .610, equivalent to a 100-point season. His teams have won seven division championships and have made the playoffs 11 times, advancing past the first round on eight of those occasions, and reaching the Stanley Cup Final with Vancouver in 2010-11 and the Rangers in 2013-14. Three of Vigneault's teams have earned the Presidents' Trophy – Vancouver on two occasions, 2010-11 and 2011-12, and the Rangers in 2014-15. Individually, Vigneault won the Jack Adams Award as the NHL Coach of the Year in 2006-07 and was a finalist for the award on three other occasions: 1997-98, 2010-11 and 2014-15.

Vigneault earned 539 wins over his 12 seasons in Vancouver and New York from 2006-18, which was the most of any NHL coach in that timeframe – five more than Joel Quenneville and nine ahead of Barry Trotz. He is also one of only two head coaches, along with Scotty Bowman, who have captured the Presidents' Trophy at least three times since the award was first presented in 1985-86.

Vigneault was one of the most successful head coaches in the 91 seasons the New York Rangers franchise had played through the end of the 2017-18 campaign, joining Lester Patrick and Emile Francis in a group that sits atop the 35 men that have coached the team. He was just the fourth head coach to start five consecutive seasons with the Rangers, and he finished ranked third in the franchise's history in regular season wins with 226, third in playoff wins with 31, and fourth in regular season games coached with 410. The 226 wins in his five years with the club is the highest number of wins over any five-year span in Rangers history.

Vigneault guided the Blueshirts to the playoffs in each of his first four seasons with the team, joining Patrick and Francis as the only three head coaches in Rangers history to reach the playoffs in at least four consecutive seasons. Those four teams all turned in seasons of 96 points or better, starting with the 2013-14 squad that bested the Flyers in a seven-game first-round series en route to the 2014 Stanley Cup Final. The Rangers followed that season up by winning the Presidents' Trophy in 2014-15 with 53 wins and 113 points, both franchise records, and took the Tampa Bay Lightning to a seventh game in the Eastern Conference Final. Playoff appearances also followed seasons of 101 points in 2015-16 and 102 points in 2016-17.

Vigneault's tenure in Vancouver was the most successful period in the franchise's history. He is the team's all-time leader in nearly all major coaching categories, including regular season games coached (540), wins (313), points (683) and points percentage (.632), as well as playoff games coached (68) and wins (33).

In Vigneault's debut season with Vancouver in 2006-07, the team went 49-26-7 for 105 points to win the Pacific Division after finishing fourth with 92 points a year prior, a turnaround that earned Vigneault the Jack Adams Award on his second career nomination. After missing out on a playoff spot by three points in 2008-09, Vigneault and the Canucks reeled off five consecutive division championships, all of which came with seasons of 100 points or equivalent.

The peak of that run came in 2010-11, when Vancouver went 54-19-9 for 117 points to win its first of two consecutive Presidents' Trophies. The Canucks defeated the defending champion Blackhawks in a seven-game first round series, and after defeating Nashville in the second round and San Jose in the Conference Final, came within one win of the Stanley Cup before falling to Boston in a seven-game Final series. A 51-win season followed in 2011-12, but the Canucks saw their run cut short by the eventual Stanley Cup champion Los Angeles Kings in the first round.

Vigneault's first NHL head coaching position came in Montreal, where he became the second-youngest head coach in the franchise's long history at the age of 36. Vigneault guided the Canadiens to the Eastern Conference Semifinals in 1997-98 and earned his first Jack Adams nomination in 1999-2000 after Montreal came within two points of a playoff spot despite an injury-riddled season in which 36 different skaters appeared in at least one game; only seven of those 36 players played 70 or more games that year.

Over the course of a three-year playing career as a defenseman, Vigneault appeared in 42 NHL games with St. Louis from 1981-1983 after being selected by the Blues in the eighth round (167th overall) of the 1981 NHL Entry Draft. He began his coaching career in 1986 in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League, spending one season with the Trois-Rivières Draveurs and five with the Hull Olympiques. In 1992-93, Vigneault joined the expansion Ottawa Senators as an assistant coach, where he spent 3 ½ seasons before returning to the QMJHL, where he coached the Beauport Harfangs through the end of the 1996-97 season. He was named the head coach of the Canadiens the following season. After departing Montreal 20 games into the 2000-01 season, Vigneault spent two seasons back in the QMJHL as the head coach of the Prince Edward Island Rocket from 2003-05 and then one season as the head coach of the Manitoba Moose, the AHL affiliate of the Canucks, before his return to the NHL with Vancouver.

A native of Quebec City, Quebec, Vigneault has two daughters, Andreane and Janie. He was born on May 14, 1961.

MICHEL THERRIEN

ASSISTANT COACH

Michel Therrien joined the Flyers as an assistant coach on May 5, 2019.

Therrien comes to the Flyers after most recently serving what was his second term as the head coach of the Montreal Canadiens, a position he held from June 5, 2012 until February 14, 2017. The Canadiens made the playoffs in each of Therrien's first three seasons, including division titles in 2012-13 and 2014-15 and a trip to the Conference Finals in 2013-14. Therrien had previously coached Montreal for parts of three seasons (2000-01 to 2002-03). His 542 games at the helm of the Canadiens ranks fourth in the franchise's history, as does his 271 wins with the team.

In between stops in Montreal, Therrien spent seven seasons in the Pittsburgh Penguins organization. He was hired as the head coach of the team's American Hockey League affiliate, the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins, in 2003 and led the team to Calder Cup Playoff berths in 2004 and 2005.

Wilkes-Barre/Scranton was 21-1-2-1 through the first 25 games of the 2005-06 season when Therrien was promoted to the head coaching position in Pittsburgh on December 15, 2005. After missing the playoffs that season, Therrien guided the Penguins back to the postseason in 2006-07 with a 47-24-11 record and was named a finalist for the Jack Adams Award. Therrien remained with the Penguins until February 15, 2009, a run that included a trip to the 2008 Stanley Cup Final. In 814 games as an NHL head coach, Therrien has a record of 406-303-23-82.

Therrien was born on November 4, 1963 in Montreal. He has two children, Elizabeth and Charles.

MIKE YEO

ASSISTANT COACH

Mike Yeo joined the Flyers as an assistant coach on May 6, 2019.

Yeo was most recently with the St. Louis Blues, where he served as associate coach from June 13, 2016 to February 1, 2017 and as head coach from that date until November 19, 2018. He led the Blues to a 22-8-2 record over the final 32 games of the 2016-17 regular season, finishing third in the Central Division. The Blues defeated the Minnesota Wild in five games in the first round of the 2017 Stanley Cup Playoffs before exiting in a six-game second-round series at the hands of the eventual conference champion Nashville Predators.

Yeo earned his first head coaching job when he was hired to guide the Houston Aeros, the AHL affiliate of the Minnesota Wild, on June 16, 2010. The Aeros reached the AHL's Calder Cup Finals in Yeo's one season behind the bench, after which he was named the head coach of the Wild on June 17, 2011. Yeo became the youngest head coach in the NHL at the time, at the age of 38. Yeo held the position until February 13, 2016; his teams made the playoffs in three of his four full seasons behind the Wild bench, including 98- and 100-point seasons, respectively, in 2013-14 and 2014-15. In 482 games as an NHL head coach, Yeo has a record of 246-181-55.

Yeo began his coaching career as an assistant coach with Wilkes-Barre/Scranton, the AHL affiliate of the Pittsburgh Penguins, in 1999 and continued in that position after Michel Therrien was hired as the head coach in 2003. Yeo was promoted to Pittsburgh along with Therrien on December 15, 2005 and the pair worked together until Therrien's departure in February 2009. Yeo remained in his role through the end of the 2009-10 season, winning the Stanley Cup in 2009.

An Ontario native, Yeo was born in Scarborough on July 31, 1973 and grew up in North Bay. He and his wife Tanya have two children, daughter Braeden and son Kyler.

IAN LAPERRIERE

ASSISTANT COACH

Ian Laperriere enters his seventh season as a Flyers assistant coach. He was named to the post on October 7, 2013 after spending just over a year as the Flyers' director of player development, a position he officially took on June 29, 2012 following his retirement as a player.

Laperriere spent two seasons assisting the Flyers in a player development role while trying to return from the aftereffects of an injury suffered in the first round of the 2010 Stanley Cup Playoffs. He also remained active within the organization as a television analyst on Comcast SportsNet. Following the 2010-11 season, Laperriere won the Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy for his perseverance, sportsmanship, and dedication to hockey. He signed with the Flyers as a free agent prior to the 2009-10 season and appeared in all 82 games that year, as well as 13 playoff games as the club went to the Stanley Cup Final.

Over his 16 year NHL career, Laperriere played 1,083 games with the Flyers, St. Louis, NY Rangers, Los Angeles, and Colorado, finishing his career with 1,956 PIM – the career leader among active NHL players at the time of his retirement. He was originally selected by St. Louis in the seventh round (156th overall) of the 1992 NHL Entry Draft.

In August 2013, Laperriere competed in the Ironman North American Championship at Mont-Tremblant, Quebec. He completed the 2.4-mile swim, 112-mile bike ride and 26.2-mile run in 12:11:55.

Laperriere and his wife Magali reside in Haddonfield, NJ with their sons Tristan and Zachary. Laperriere was born on January 19, 1974.

KIM DILLABAUGH

GOALTENDING COACH

Kim Dillabaugh was named the Flyers goaltending coach on July 3, 2015.

Dillabaugh came to the Flyers from the Los Angeles Kings, where he spent eight seasons working in a goaltender development role for the club. In his time with the Kings, Dillabaugh contributed to the development of Jonathan Quick, Jonathan Bernier, and Martin Jones, while also working with goaltenders at the club's American Hockey League affiliate, the Manchester Monarchs, and prospects playing elsewhere in professional and amateur hockey. During Dillabaugh's time with the Kings organization, Los Angeles won two Stanley Cups and made the Conference Finals one other time, while Manchester won one Calder Cup and reached the Eastern Conference Finals two other times.

Dillabaugh played three seasons in the Western Hockey League (WHL) with the Kelowna Rockets and the Calgary Hitmen from 1994-97. He went into coaching upon concluding his junior career, first with the Goaltender Development Institute (GDI) as an assistant to GDI president Ian Clark. In 2004, Dillabaugh became a goaltending & assistant coach with Kelowna and helped the team win a Memorial Cup that season. Over the next ten seasons, Dillabaugh helped the Rockets win two WHL championships (2005 and 2009) before stepping down in 2014 to join the Kings on a full-time basis.

Internationally, Dillabaugh has served as the goalie coach for Hockey Canada's Men's Under 18 Team (2004 and 2006 Junior World Cup) and was a part of Hockey Canada's Program of Excellence (POE) Goaltending Camp for four years.

Kim and his wife Bonnie have a daughter, Ellie and a son, Westin.

ADAM PATTERSON

VIDEO COACH

Adam Patterson enters his 11th season as video coach and his 18th overall year with the Flyers organization. He handles all aspects of video used by the coaches and players, and is involved in pre-scouting upcoming opponents.

Patterson was promoted to his current position in 2009 after serving six years as the Flyers video coordinator. He spent the 2002-03 and 2004-05 seasons in the same capacity for the Philadelphia Phantoms, winning a Calder Cup with the team in 2005.

A native of Peterborough, Ontario, Patterson graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a degree in Communications and Video Production, while captaining the school's ice hockey team for his final three years. He was a four-time CSHL All-Star and three-time Division 1 All-American. Prior to that Patterson played junior hockey in Stratford, Ontario and in Detroit for the Compuware Ambassadors. He is the son of former Flyer and current team scout Dennis Patterson.

Patterson and his wife Amy reside in Barrington, NJ with their three children – son Colin and daughters Mackenzie and Mya.
