Kings 2006-07 Media Guide Dedication Garnet "Ace" Bailey and Mark Bavis

Five years ago, the Los Angeles Kings family was deeply shaken and saddened over the loss of Garnet "Ace" Bailey and Mark Bavis, two scouts who were aboard United Airlines Flight 175 from Boston's Logan Airport on September 11, 2001. Both men remain truly missed here as their fantastic personalities and love for the sport of hockey were evident in their work, and their passion for the Kings helped foster a fun and winning attitude. Both Mark and Ace are incredibly missed indeed.

To help support each of these men's lasting legacy, please visit the Mark Bavis Leadership Foundation at www.markbavisleadershipfoundation.org, and for information on the Ace Bailey Children's Foundation please visit www.acebailey.com.

THE HISTORY OF THE KINGS

In a sports culture that has been centered on outdoor sports like baseball, basketball and football, the Los Angeles Kings hockey club embarks on its 39th season and 40th year of on-ice hockey in sunny Southern California. Ever since February 9, 1966, when Jack Kent Cooke was awarded a new National Hockey League franchise, ice hockey has been played at the highest level in a city that rests among the beautiful beaches of the Pacific Ocean.

Cooke, a Canadian-born entrepreneur who made most of his fortune in various media investments, was driven to bring Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

Wanted his new hockey club to take on an air of royalty, Cooke named his team the "Kings" and was part of six new teams that would double the size of the NHL from the "Original Six" franchises to 12 teams, starting with the 1967-68 season. Part of Cooke's plan was to build a new state-of-the-art sports and entertainment facility, which coincided with the Kings opening in Los Angeles that same season. The building was soon dubbed the "The Fabulous Forum" and became the home for the Kings for the next 32 seasons. With the new building scheduled to open in mid-season, the Kings played their first regular season NHL game on October 14, 1967, against the Philadelphia Flyers at the Long Beach Arena where they were led by Brian Kilrea's two goals and defeated the Flyers 4-2. For more than two months they split their home games between Long Beach and the Los Angeles Sports Arena until December 30, 1967, when they hosted the Flyers at the new Fabulous Forum. Led by Head Coach Red Kelly, the Kings finished their first season in second place in the Western Division, a mere one point behind Philadelphia. Their 31-33-10 record remains one of the best ever by an expansion team in any professional sport.

Without a "big name" player to carry the torch for the new franchise, Cooke set out to make celebrities of his players with clever nicknames, which he personally crafted. On to the Forum ice came Eddie "The Jet" Joyal, Eddie "The Entertainer" Shack, Bill "Cowboy" Flett, Juha "Whitey" Widing and Real "Frenchy" Lemieux to name a few.

The acquisition of future Hall of Famer Bob Pulford in 1970 brought some new respectability to the Kings lineup, and by the 1972-73 season, Pulford took over behind the Kings bench as Head Coach and guided the Kings to five of the franchise's most successful seasons.

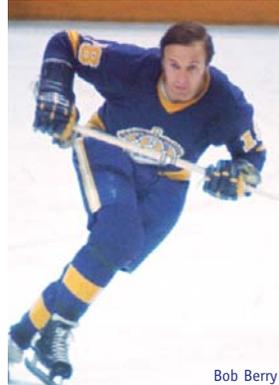

The next two seasons would bring about two of the most significant strides in the Kings early history and helped put the Kings on the map in Los Angeles and throughout the NHL. Led by All-Star goaltender Rogie Vachon and a band of hard-working, hard-checking players, including Butch Goring, Mike Murphy and Bob Nevin, who played Pulford's intense style of hockey, the Kings posted a 42-17-21 record in 1974-75, the fourth best mark in the NHL that year, and set team records that still stand for most points (105) and fewest losses (17). Vachon remains one of the most popular Kings-ever and his No. 30 sweater was the first to be retired by the club in 1985.

The following season saw the Kings make their first significant trade that brought a bona-fide NHL superstar to Los Angeles in Marcel Dionne. Already an established scoring talent, the 24-year old Dionne went right to work on the Kings record book, setting new standards for goals (40), assists (54, tying Widing's mark) and points (94) in his first season in Los Angeles. A year later, Dionne became the first King to score more than 50 goals and 100 points in a single season with 53 goals and 122 points.

Dionne's star-status went to new heights when he was placed on a line with two young relatively unknown players named Dave Taylor and Charlie Simmer. Taylor was a college graduate from Clarkson University who the Kings drafted in the 15th round in 1975, and Simmer, who played mostly in the minor leagues, was having a difficult time cracking the Kings everyday lineup. They joined forces for the first time on January 13, 1979, in Detroit where Dionne netted four goals playing with his new linemates. During that following off-season in 1979, Dr. Jerry Buss purchased the Kings, Lakers and the Forum from Cooke for $67.5 million, in what was-then the largest business transaction in sports history.

But the combination of Dionne, Taylor and Simmer didn't change and their line eventually became known as the "Triple Crown Line" and went on to enjoy a run that lasted more than two full seasons at its height, scoring like few forward lines in NHL history ever have. They hit full-stride in 1979-80 as Dionne won the NHL scoring title with 137 points (53 goals, 84 assists), Simmer set a franchise record with 56 goals (to go with 45 assists) including a modern-day league record 13-game goal-scoring streak that still stands, and Taylor added 90 points of his own (37 goals and 53 assists). Under Head Coach Bob Berry, the 1980-81 club enjoyed one of the best seasons in Kings history going 43-24-13, still the second-most wins in a season by the Kings. That same year, the Kings hosted the 1981 NHL All-Star Game with Dionne, Taylor, Simmer and goaltender Mario Lessard all taking part in the festivities. By the conclusion of the regular season, Dionne, Taylor and Simmer became the first line in NHL history where all three members surpassed 100 points (Dionne -135, Taylor -112, Simmer -105), but a badly broken leg sustained by Simmer on March 2, 1981, marked the end of the trio's most successful time together. Together, Dionne (58-77=135 points), Taylor (47-65=112 points) and Simmer (56-49=105 points) combined for 161 goals and 352 points.

The 1981-82 season was disappointing in that the Kings had a less-than-memorable regular season going 24-41-15, but what happened in that season's playoffs remains one of the great moments in franchise and NHL history. Facing the heavily-favored Edmonton Oilers in the best-of-five first round of the playoffs, the Kings pulled off two huge upsets -one, in winning the series, three games to two, and two, in winning Game 3 of the series, forever remembered as the "Miracle on Manchester." Down 5-0 in the third period of that game on April 10, 1982, the Kings steadily chipped away at Edmonton's commanding lead until Steve Bozek sent the game into overtime, knotting the game at 5-5 with five seconds remaining. At 2:35 of the extra period, unheralded rookie Daryl Evans ripped a shot over Grant Fuhr's shoulder to seal an improbable end to an incredible game. After losing Game 4 at home, the Kings took the series with a 7-4 victory in Game 5 in Edmonton. During the next few seasons, Dionne carried on as the Kings leader on and off the ice, but a wave of young, talented players also joined the ranks of the regal Forum Blue and Gold. Bernie Nicholls, Larry Murphy, Jim Fox, Mark Hardy, Jay Wells, Steve Bozek, Doug Smith, Brian MacLellan, Grant Ledyard and Garry Galley were among the favorites of Kings fans in the mid-1980s. Three talented youngsters represented the Kings on the NHL's All-Rookie Team in 1986-87 - Luc Robitaille, Jimmy Carson and Steve Duchesne. The Dionne era in Los Angeles ended when the Kings traded the center to the New York Rangers on March 10, 1987, and he went on to earn the ultimate honor in 1992 with his induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame. His retired Kings jersey No. 16 rests on the south wall of STAPLES Center.

A little over a year after the Kings dealt their first bona-fide superstar in Dionne, another superstar came to Los Angeles, before in Southern California. August 9, 1988 - the date that changed the future of hockey in Los Angeles. The Kings acquired Wayne Gretzky, regarded by most as the greatest hockey player of all time. The effects of Gretzky in a major media market like Los Angeles were felt immediately, giving the Kings front-page status on a regular basis for the first time in club history. A ticket to a Kings game went from being one of the easiest to acquire to one of the toughest. Kings merchandise, due in part to the new silver and black team colors, soared to high levels in popularity across North America. Southern California ice rinks, on the verge of extinction, found new life as more were built to accommodate the skyrocketing number of youth hockey participants.

Butch Goring

In his first season as a King (1988-89), Gretzky set a team record with 168 points (54 goals and a then-club record 114 assists), leading the club to a 42-31-7 record and an exciting first-round elimination of Edmonton in the playoffs. Gretzky's efforts earned him his ninth Hart Trophy as the NHL's Most Valuable Player. Nicholls shattered the Kings record for goals in a season with 70. Two years later under Head Coach Tom Webster, the Kings won their first division title in franchise history as Los Angeles took the Smythe Division with 102 points, including a club-record 46 victories.

The 1992-93 season was the highest plateau for the Kings in their 35-year history as the fantasy thrill ride led all the way to the Stanley Cup Finals against the tradition-rich Montreal Canadiens. Under first-year coach Barry Melrose, the Kings were an underdog in each round of the playoffs as they battled past Calgary, Vancouver and a historic seven-game series with the Toronto Maple Leafs that landed the Kings in the Stanley Cup Finals for the first time in franchise history. Unfortunately the Kings succumbed to the Canadiens in five games (that included three straight overtime losses), giving Montreal their 23rd Stanley Cup Championship, but not before the Kings had spread hockey fever throughout Southern California.

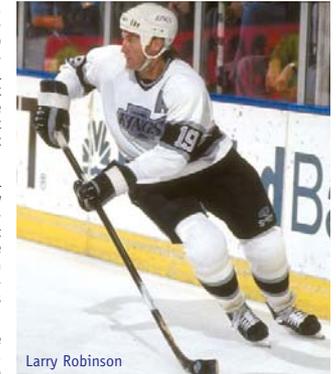

The following three seasons proved to be a disappointment for Kings fans as the club failed to recapture the fire and intensity that led to their historic run in 1992-93 and then-Kings owner Bruce McNall sold the franchise to Joseph Cohen and Jeffrey Suidkoff.

A large turnover of the player personnel led to a depletion of talent and Melrose was relieved of his duties at the end of the 1994-95 season. That summer, Kings ownership filed Chapter 11 bankruptcy, but the club continued to operate and Hall-of-Fame defenseman Larry Robinson was hired to replace Melrose. It was at this time that Philip F. Anschutz and Edward P. Roski, Jr. purchased the Kings out of bankruptcy and began a rebuilding phase to bring the Kings back to respectability. Nearing the end of his contract, and seeking to win a championship to cap off his storied NHL career, Gretzky asked to be traded to a contending club and was dealt to the St. Louis Blues on February 27, 1996, in exchange for three players and two draft choices (he later signed a free agent contract that off-season and finished his remarkable career with the New York Rangers in 1999).

The Kings were now faced with a "rebuilding phase" and then-General Manager Sam McMaster was relieved of his duties and replaced by three-year understudy and legendary King Dave Taylor. Another shot-in-the-arm for the franchise came when former Kings left wing Luc Robitaille was re-acquired by Taylor from the New York Rangers at the start of the 1997-98 season. Unfortunately for first-time Head Coach Larry Robinson, this period only brought one winning season (1997-98, the club's first trip to the post-season in five years) and his contract was not renewed after the 1998-99 season.

With Taylor pulling the strings, a new era for the Kings was on the horizon. After a detailed search that involved a number of candidates, Taylor placed his chips on former Canadian National Team Head Coach Andy Murray, who had spent the previous season coaching his young son at Shattuck-St. Mary's prep school in Faribault, Minnesota. Murray, with more than 25 years of coaching experience, became the 19th head coach in Los Angeles Kings history. Taylor quickly followed Murray's hiring with his first blockbuster trade as Kings General Manager by acquiring three-time 40-goal scorer Ziggy Palffy and center Bryan Smolinski from the New York Islanders on June 20, 1999.

With Taylor and Murray at the helm of the hockey club, and an infusion of new talent on the roster, the new Kings ownership was committed to rebuilding the franchise with patience and an investment in youth and environment. Led by the vision of Anschutz, Roski and new team President Tim Leiweke, a state-of-the-art downtown arena was constructed in a record 18 months and STAPLES Center opened on October 20, 1999, as the Kings and Boston Bruins skated to a 2-2 tie. That same year, the finishing touches were made on a new $24 million training facility in El Segundo, and the Toyota Sports Center became the new permanent training grounds for the Kings in January of 2000.

THE HISTORY OF THE KINGS

The Kings finished the 1999-2000 season with 94 points, the highest point total in nine years. The following season was a watershed year for the franchise. Longtime Kings captain Rob Blake, a free agent-to-be, was dealt to the Colorado Avalanche. A controversial move at the time, the Kings received right wing Adam Deadmarsh, defenseman Aaron Miller, a prospect and two first round draft choices in return. That same week, the Kings acquired struggling goaltender Felix Potvin from the Vancouver Canucks for future considerations, and the Kings, despite the many late season changes, finished the campaign with an impressive 92 points, the first back-to-back 90-point seasons in club history.

This was only the tip of the iceberg, however, as the Kings faced the high-flying Detroit Red Wings in the first round of the post-season. Down two games to one and trailing 3-0 with eight minutes remaining in Game Four of the series, the Kings scored three unanswered goals, including Smolinski's game-tying marker with 53 seconds remaining that sent the STAPLES Center crowd into a frenzy. The Kings carried the momentum into overtime and rookie Eric Belanger's goal at 2:36 of the first overtime evened the series at two games apiece and added another chapter to the Kings history books. The "Frenzy on Figueroa" became the catalyst for the underdog Kings as they went on to win Game 5 in Detroit and closed out their first playoff series victory since 1993 in Game 6 at STAPLES Center when Deadmarsh scored back-to-back goals including the game-winning goal in overtime sending the Kings into the second round against the Avalanche. Again the underdog, the Kings took the powerhouse Avalanche the distance and eventually lost in seven games to the eventual Stanley Cup-Champion.

The 2001-02 season saw the Kings host the NHL All-Star Game for the second time – and the first time at STAPLES Center – and a mid-season acquisition of Boston center Jason Allison proved invaluable as the 6-4-pivotman led the Kings in scoring with 74 points while playing in all 73 remaining games for the Kings. He also helped the Kings to their third straight 90-point season as well as their third consecutive trip to the playoffs.

The 2002-03 season saw the Kings open the year with great promise. Beginning with the official retirement of Wayne Gretzky's No. 99 jersey at STAPLES Center on October 9, 2002 (the fourth jersey retired by the Kings franchise), the Kings opened the season with a 5-2-2 mark and seemed to be headed for a season of great success. However, a series of never-ending injuries, including major setbacks to Allison (knee and concussion) and Deadmarsh (post-concussion syndrome) severely hampered the squad as they set a franchise record for man-games lost to injury with 536. Following the season, Taylor acquired several veteran players, including Robitaille again, to help bolster the Kings lineup, but a record amount of injuries – 629 man-games, the most in NHL history – could not be overcome by the Kings, who remained in contention for a playoff spot up until the final few weeks of the season. Allison (whiplash) and Deadmarsh (concussion symptoms) never played and Paffy missed the final 42 games due to a dislocated shoulder.

However, Robitaille in 2003-04 returned to his familiar form and led the team in points with 51, and on March 22, 2004, he became the NHL's all-time leader in points by a left wing when he assisted on Jozef Stumpel's goal in a game at STAPLES Center versus Edmonton. In addition, Kings captain/defenseman Mattias Norstrom was named to his second All-Star team and second-year forward Alexander Frolov not only led the team in goals with 24, but also was voted as the club's Most Popular Player.

Lubomir Visnovsky

At STAPLES Center, the Kings continued to receive tremendous fan support. They played to an average of 17,878 fans per game, and they sold out 30 contests. On December 27, 2003, the Kings had a standing-room only crowd of 18,743, which is the largest crowd to view a hockey game in the state of California.

The NHL lockout put hockey on ice in 2004-05, and though the team ultimately struggled on the ice this past season, loyal Kings fans continued to fill STAPLES Center as the team had 27 sellouts and an average attendance of 17,821, the second highest in franchise history. Despite adding veteran talent such as Craig Conroy, Pavol Demitra and Jeremy Roenick, the Kings, after a strong start, faded in the second half of the season, and major changes were made this past summer, including a revamping of the front office and the dismissal of the entire coaching staff.

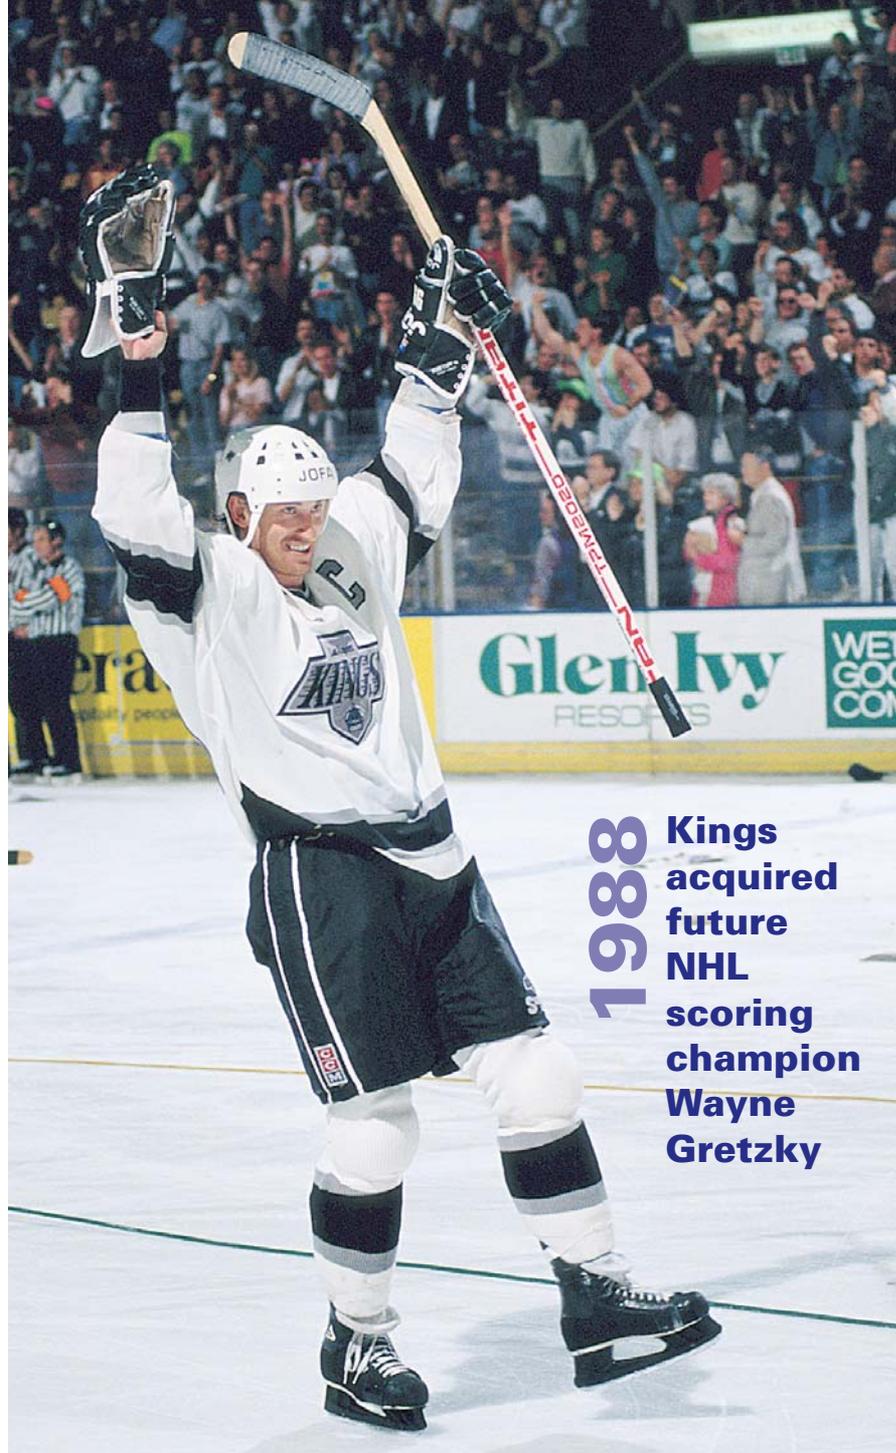

Long-time San Jose Sharks General Manager Dean Lombardi was named as the club's new President/General Manager, replacing Taylor who had held the post for nine years. Lombardi quickly named Marc Crawford, a former Stanley Cup winner, as the club's Head Coach and former NHL goalie Ron Hextall took over as Assistant General Manager.

Lombardi and his staff went to work quickly, with the first order of business being the 2006 NHL Entry Draft. The Kings made nine overall selections, and they picked up an additional choice in the first-round and highly touted prospect Patrick O'Sullivan after sending Demitra to Minnesota in a trade.

Then, in free agency, the Kings made headlines by signing Blake. An All-Star on the blue line, Blake is certainly familiar to Kings fans after having started his career with the franchise and earning All-Star status for his outstanding play. He won the Norris Trophy in 1998 as the NHL's top defenseman, the Kings' first ever rearguard to win the award, and he served as the team's captain for several seasons. He also was a key member of the Kings' Stanley Cup finalist squad in 1993.

Along with Blake, Lombardi and Hextall continued to revamp the club's roster for this upcoming season and beyond. With a roster complete with talented veterans – including newcomers like Dan Cloutier, Scott Thornton, Alyn McCauley and Brian Willsie -- and up-and-coming youngsters such as Michael Cammalleri, Frolov, Dustin Brown, Tim Gleason and Anze Kopitar, the future of the Kings looks bright indeed.

So many individuals have been a part of the Kings past, but each one has played an important role in carving out a memorable story that has yet to be completed, with so many exciting times, of course, still to come.

OWNERSHIP/EXECUTIVES

PHILIP F. ANSCHUTZ OWNER

Philip F. Anschutz, along with Edward P. Roski, Jr., assumed ownership of the Los Angeles Kings in October of 1995. Mr. Anschutz, 66, is owner of the The Anschutz Corporation, Denver, Colorado. The company's major business interests are in the fields of natural resources, transportation, real estate, entertainment and communications.

EDWARD P. ROSKI, JR. OWNER

As Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of one of the oldest and largest privately held real estate companies in the United States, Edward P. Roski, Jr., took over ownership of the Los Angeles Kings with Philip F. Anschutz in October, 1995. Mr. Roski's expertise in real estate development played a key role as he helped lead the L.A. Arena Company's efforts to create STAPLES Center in Los Angeles.

His company, Southern California-based Majestic Realty Co., was built upon the entrepreneurial vision of his father, Edward P. Roski, Sr., who founded the company in 1948. Majestic has long been a top developer in the area, owning more than 70 million square feet of commercial real estate across the United States.

A graduate of the University of Southern California in 1962 with a Bachelor of Science degree in finance and real estate, Mr. Roski served as an officer in the United States Marines from 1962 to 1966. Born and raised in Southern California, he is also a graduate of Loyola High School.

Mr. Roski's other involvements include serving on the Board of Governors of the Bowers Museum of Cultural Art; Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County; Board of Trustee of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art; Board of Trustee of the California Science Center; Council of Advisors of National Geographic Society; Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Sports & Entertainment Commission; Board of Regents, Loyola High School and Board of Trustee at the University of Southern California.

An avid cyclist and mountain climber, Mr. Roski and his wife, Gayle, live in Los Angeles.

TIMOTHY J. LEIWEKE GOVERNOR

One of today's true leaders in the professional sports and entertainment industry, Timothy J. Leiweke serves as Governor of the Kings and President & CEO of AEG, a collection of companies owned or operated by the organization considered to be one of the world's leading presenters of sports and entertainment programming.

Now in his 12th year with the organization, and recently selected by the Los Angeles Times as one of the 100 most influential people in southern California, Leiweke has acquired or merged more than 40 divisions and companies whose alliances create a global live entertainment organization capable of developing, producing, promoting, marketing and managing sports and entertainment programming in both facilities owned and operated by AEG as well as other venues. AEG divisions such as AEG LIVE, AEG Facilities, AEG Sports, AEG Merchandising, AEG Marketing, AEG Real Estate and AEG Creative all operate under his direction.

As President of STAPLES Center, twice recipient of Pollstar's prestigious "Arena of the Year" award, Leiweke was responsible for the overall development of the downtown Los Angeles showplace for major events and performances. Built under his direction in a record 18 months, STAPLES Center is the home of five professional sports franchises including the Kings, Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Clippers, Los Angeles Avengers and Los Angeles Sparks; and some of the most prestigious concerts and shows to come through Los Angeles. Leiweke also played a major role in bringing such one-of-a-kind events to Los Angeles and STAPLES Center as the 2000 Democratic National Convention, the 2002 United States Figure Skating Championships, the 2002 NHL All-Star Game, the 2004 NBA All-Star Game, the 42nd, 43rd, 44th and 46th Annual Grammy Awards shows, the first ever Latin Grammy Awards and recurring events such as the Pac 10 Basketball Championships and the X Games.

Leiweke guided the creation of The Home Depot Center, built on the campus of California State University Dominguez Hills in Carson, California. The $150 million development features a 13,000-seat stadium for tennis, a 27,000-seat stadium for soccer and outdoor concerts, a 20,000-seat facility for track & field and the ADT Event Center, a 2,400-seat indoor velodrome and the recently announced David Beckham Academy and Agassi's Safe Passage All Stars programs.

Leiweke next turns his attention to overseeing and managing the creation of L.A. Live, a four million square foot / $2.5 billion sports and entertainment district adjacent to STAPLES Center. The development, encompassing six city blocks, features NOKIA Theatre Los Angeles, a 7,100-seat state-of-the-art theatre, a 1000 room, 54-story convention "headquarters" hotel (combining the Ritz Carlton & JW Marriott brands with 216 luxury condominiums in a single tower), Club Nokia, a 2,200 capacity live music venue, broadcast facilities for ESPN, a 15-screen Regal Cineplex along with residential housing, entertainment, parking, retail and office space which recently broke ground.

Under Leiweke, AEG has also begun development of several projects in Europe and Asia. The company was recently selected to fully develop the 28-acre Millennium Dome and adjacent property located in the eastern part of London along the Thames River and will create The O2, a 23,000-seat arena and over 650,000 square feet of leisure and entertainment use within the "Dome" and O2 World, an arena and multi-faceted sports and entertainment district on 45-acres in central Berlin.

Leiweke is credited with assembling an unprecedented partnership to create, produce and develop A New Day..., a theatrical production starring Celine Dion being performed exclusively at The Colosseum at Caesars Palace, Las Vegas. The division is also overseeing the international museum tour "Tutankhamun and the Golden Age of the Pharaohs," a one-of-a-kind collection of artifacts from ancient Egypt.

In addition to the Los Angeles Kings and Major League Soccer's Los Angeles Galaxy, AEG Sport oversees professional sports franchises such as the Chicago Fire, D.C. United and Houston Dynamo franchises of MLS, Los Angeles Riptide (MLL) the Manchester (New Hampshire) Monarchs (AHL), the Reading Royals (ECHL), and two professional ice hockey teams in Europe – the Berlin Eisbarons and Hamburg Freisers in addition to directing the operations of events such as the Amgen Tour of California cycling road race, ING Bay to Breakers foot race (San Francisco) and international soccer exhibitions held in the United States. Leiweke also serves on the Los Angeles Lakers Board of Directors representing Philip Anschutz's 30% ownership stake in the Lakers and Sparks organizations.

Leiweke has also initiated the formation and direction of the Kings Care Foundation, which in the last seven years, the Kings Care Foundation, STAPLES Center Foundation, The Home Depot Foundation and AEG have pledged a combined $10 million to community organizations.

Leiweke (pronounced LYE-wick-ee) has enjoyed an impressive history of success and experience in sports. Before moving to Los Angeles to join the Kings, he served as President and CEO for U.S. Skiing, a post he assumed in September 1995, after four seasons with the Denver Nuggets (1991-95). While in Denver, Leiweke not only played a role in the relocation of the Quebec Nordiques to Colorado but also guided the initial development and design of the Pepsi Center.

The first employee hired by the Minnesota Timberwolves in 1988, Leiweke served as Vice President for the NBA franchise for four seasons and helped the club to an NBA attendance record by averaging 26,160 per game in their first season.

A native of St. Louis, Leiweke's career in sports administration began in 1979 as the Assistant General Manager for the Major Indoor Soccer League's St. Louis Steamers. A year later, he became the youngest (24) General Manager in pro sports by assuming that post with the MISL's Baltimore Blast. In 1981-82, he became Vice President and General Manager of the Kansas City Comets, and later became President in 1986.

Along with his wife, Bernadette, Leiweke has spent an enormous amount of time and effort dedicated to numerous charitable causes within each of the local communities they have resided. As a tribute to his commitment to Los Angeles, he has been honored by such organizations as Para Los Niños, Inner City Arts, the American Diabetes Association, the Greater Los Angeles African American Chamber of Commerce, the Latin Business Association, the Korean American Federation, the Muscular Dystrophy Association as their Man of the Year, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce as their Distinguished Man of the Year and as the recipient of the Los Angeles Convention and Visitor's Bureau's Los Amigos de Los Angeles Award. Leiweke is currently serving as the Vice Chair of the Los Angeles Convention & Visitors Bureau, as a member of the Board of Trustees for Para Los Niños and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, The Los Angeles Police Foundation, the United Way and has recently been appointed to Chair the Rainbow/PUSH Entertainment Project.

Tim and his wife Bernadette reside in Brentwood with their daughter Francesca.

SHAWN HUNTER PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

With more than 15 years of experience directing the activities of several professional sports organizations, Shawn Hunter is in his second season as President, Business Operations for the Kings, in addition to serving as President of AEG Sports.

Hunter, one of the most experienced and innovative marketing minds in professional sports, joined AEG in 2003 in the newly created position of Chief Marketing Officer. Since promoted to oversee the business operations for AEG's sports holdings including the Kings, Hunter is responsible for the strategic business and marketing initiatives for all of AEG's franchises, sports properties & events including the Kings, Manchester Monarchs (AHL), Reading Royals (ECHL), the Los Angeles Galaxy, Chicago Fire, the Los Angeles Riptide of the Major League Lacrosse, four franchises operating in Europe, David Beckham Soccer Academies operating in London and Los Angeles and annual special events and tournaments including the Amgen Tour of California cycling road race, the JPMorgan Chase Open tennis tournament, the WTA Sony Ericsson Tour Championships, the adidas Track & Field Classic, international soccer exhibition matches, world championship boxing and track cycling events all owned or promoted by AEG.

Additionally, Hunter directs AEG business units in the areas of ticket sales, sponsorship, advertising, public relations, merchandising, creative services and client services for all AEG venues and entities, including STAPLES Center, The Home Depot Center, AEG Live and AEG Events as well as several new venues in development by AEG such as The O2, Berlin National Arena, Sprint Center in Kansas City and stadiums in Bridgeview, Illinois, and Harrison, New Jersey.

Prior to his arrival in Los Angeles, Hunter served as the President of the Phoenix Coyotes for six years. Under Hunter's leadership, in the Coyotes' first four seasons, the club played to a 94-percent capacity (including 69 sellouts) and transformed Phoenix into a hockey hotbed. Hunter developed and launched the popular Coyotes logo and uniform, secured strategic television and radio broadcast partnerships for the team and created cutting edge marketing and ticketing campaigns. Hunter laid the groundwork to position the Coyotes as a premier sports franchise in Arizona.

Hunter was also involved in the planning and marketing of the ALLTEL Ice Den, one of the NHL's premier training centers. Under his direction, the organization secured a 10-year partnership with ALLTEL (formerly Cellular One) to include naming rights of the facility as well as a store on site.

Hunter joined the Coyotes from the Colorado Avalanche in 1996. As the team's Executive Vice President, Hunter's first achievement was reaching a cap of 12,000 season ticket sales in just under six weeks – before the team even had a name. He was instrumental in creating and implementing the Avalanche team colors and logo as well as the logo for the Denver Nuggets. His creative initiatives and team merchandising efforts resulted in a Top 10 placement among NBA teams on an international level for licensed apparel sales.

The Lawrence, Kansas, native joined the COMSAT sports group in December 1991, from the University of Minnesota, where Hunter served as the Assistant Athletic Director. He marketed the annual University of Minnesota versus University of Wisconsin hockey game, and by moving the game to the Met Center in Minneapolis, set a new NCAA attendance record for hockey events. In addition, he introduced corporate marketing to the University athletic department, creating in-house production for Golden Gophers' television and radio broadcasts.

Hunter began his career in professional sports as a Corporate Account Executive with the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves during the team's inaugural season in 1988-89. During his tenure with the Timberwolves, the franchise set a new single-season attendance record for the NBA, as more than 1.1 million fans passed through the turnstiles.

Hunter received both his undergraduate degree in Business Administration (1986) and his master's degree in Finance (1988) from the University of Kansas.

Shawn and his wife, Deidre have two sons, Dillon and Daulton.

HOCKEY OPERATIONS

GREAT MOMENTS IN KINGS HISTORY

DEAN LOMBARDI PRESIDENT/GENERAL MANAGER

The Kings entered into a new executive era when the club announced the hiring of Dean Lombardi as Kings President/General Manager on April 21, 2006. A veteran of nearly 20 NHL seasons in the front office as an executive and a pro scout, Lombardi has brought to the Kings a well-earned reputation for being one of hockey's true visionaries while possessing a solid track record of success.

Lombardi – formerly a member of the San Jose Sharks front office for 13 years, including seven seasons as General Manager, and most recently a Pro Scout for the Philadelphia Flyers the last two seasons – became the eighth General Manager in the Kings' 39-year history and is solely responsible for all hockey operations decisions, including all player-personnel moves at the NHL level, directing the professional and amateur scouting staffs, negotiating all contract matters, and overseeing the Manchester Monarchs of the American Hockey League, the Kings' primary affiliate.

With the Kings, Lombardi's first bold move came a few weeks into the job when he hired Marc Crawford as Head Coach. The Kings' first ever Head Coach with a Stanley Cup on his resume and the third youngest coach to reach 400 victories, Lombardi then hired former goalie standout Ron Hextall as the club's Assistant General Manager.

Then, at the NHL Entry Draft, Lombardi engineered a trade with Minnesota that helped make the Kings not only deeper but younger, by acquiring last year's AHL Rookie of the Year Patrick O'Sullivan and a 2006 first-round draft choice, which they used to select Trevor Lewis 17th overall after the Kings chose goalie Jonathan Bernier 11th overall.

On July 1, Lombardi and the Kings were aggressive in the free agent market, first signing All-Star defenseman Rob Blake, the former Kings captain and Norris Trophy winner, and then landing veteran forwards Scott Thornton and Alyn McCauley, both of whom Lombardi had in San Jose. Forward Brian Willsie, who scored a career-high 19 goals last year, signed as a free agent before Lombardi acquired goaltender Dan Cloutier from Vancouver. A proven number one goalie, Cloutier posted three consecutive 30-win seasons with the Canucks from 2001-04.

During his tenure as General Manager in San Jose from 1996-2003, Lombardi helped build the Sharks into one of the premier teams in the NHL. Under Lombardi, San Jose reached the playoffs five times – highlighted by two trips to the Western Conference Semifinals – and one Pacific Division title in 2002 after his club earned a franchise-record 99 points. The Lombardi-led Sharks in 2002 also tied an NHL-record with consecutive seasons of improved point totals (Bill Torrey/New York Islanders) while building a roster that became progressively younger in age each season.

During his time as General Manager in San Jose, Lombardi made many key personnel and player moves – stocking the Sharks organization with a good mix of veteran stars and up-and-coming youngsters -- that helped make the Sharks legitimate Stanley Cup contenders, and the year after Lombardi left the franchise -- when the Sharks advanced to the Western Conference Finals -- 18 of the players on that highly-successful playoff club were acquired by Lombardi originally.

From the NHL Entry Draft, Lombardi was one of the first General Managers in the NHL to consistently and aggressively maneuver up and down the draft boards, making multiple trades to enhance and improve his club's draft position. His work helped bring San Jose players like Patrick Marleau, Vesa Toskala, Jonathan Cheechoo, Brad Stuart, Scott Hannan, Marco Sturm, Marcel Goc and Christian Ehrhoff. The Hockey News ranked the Sharks' prospects (age 22 and under) as the best in the NHL in 1999-00 and second best in 2000-01. Lombardi also, upon leaving the Sharks, left the hockey operations division in fine shape for the immediate and long-term future as the team in 2003 had six draft choices, including two first-round draft choices, in the first three rounds of that year's Entry Draft (all originally acquired by Lombardi) which significantly helped set the team up to enjoy the success that it has had the past several seasons.

Lombardi's history in San Jose as it relates to trades and free agency is impressive as well, having brought in such players as Owen Nolan, Teemu Selanne, Adam Graves, Vincent Damphousse, Mike Ricci, Kyle McClaren, Mike Vernon, Todd Harvey, Bryan Marchand and Thornton. In addition, Lombardi was able to keep goalie Evgeni Nabokov during the 2000 Expansion Draft (from two new teams) and he hired Darryl Sutter to be the club's Head Coach in 1997 and Ron Wilson in 2002.

An executive in the San Jose front office since 1990, Lombardi first served as Assistant General Manager – a post he held the previous two seasons with the Minnesota North Stars – for the expansion Sharks before being elevated to Vice President, Director of Hockey Operations in 1992. Four years later, he was promoted to Executive Vice President and General Manager and given the responsibility of turning around the young franchise.

In his first season at the helm, the 1996-97 campaign, the Sharks finished with the fourth most improved victory total in the NHL to begin Lombardi's impressive streak of year-by-year improvement with San Jose, which included the five straight post-season appearances from 1997-02 when the Sharks were just one of seven NHL clubs to qualify for the playoffs during that five-year stretch, while designing a roster that became younger while ensuring the Sharks long-term success.

Prior to taking over as the club's General Manager, Lombardi helped the Sharks construct a team that posted the greatest single-season turnaround in NHL history when the 1993-94 Sharks earned 82 points and the franchise's first berth in the playoffs after the team improved by 58 points from the prior season (the 1992-93 Sharks had 24 points). As General Manager, another one of Lombardi's many highlights was the Sharks' 2000 first-round playoff upset of the St. Louis Blues when San Jose, as the eighth seed, won a thrilling seven-game series over the President's Trophy-winning Blues.

Off the ice, Lombardi was also successful in San Jose for creating and implementing an off-ice model development program that was designed to improve overall player performance particularly in the area of fundamentals. The principals and philosophies of the model were based loosely off an advanced program used by Major League Baseball.

Born in Holyoke, Massachusetts, and raised in nearby Ludlow, Lombardi received his undergraduate degree from the University of New Haven where he finished third in his class. On the ice he was the hockey team's captain his final two seasons, and he received a full athletic scholarship and the school's Student-Athlete of the Year Award. In 1985, Lombardi earned his Law Degree (with honors) from Tulane Law School where he specialized in Labor Law.

Dean and his wife Wandamae reside in Manhattan Beach.

RON HEXTALL ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Ron Hextall is in his first season with the Kings as Assistant General Manager. He also serves as General Manager of the Manchester Monarchs of the American Hockey League, the Kings' primary affiliate.

Hextall, 42 (5/3/64), assists President/General Manager Dean Lombardi in all facets of the Kings Hockey Operations department, including contract negotiations and player personnel, and overseeing the organization's top prospects. With Manchester, he oversees that organization's hockey operations department.

A native of Brandon, Manitoba, Hextall spent the last four years as Director of Pro Hockey Personnel for the Philadelphia Flyers, a club for which he played 11 standout seasons. He joined the Flyers front office in 1999 as a Pro Scout and he was elevated to his most recent position in 2002. In his front office positions with the Flyers, Hextall was instrumental in the club's great success, which included three Atlantic Division titles and two trips to the Eastern Conference Finals (losing to eventual Stanley Cup Champions both times) while the club averaged nearly 102 points per season.

Prior to his role in the front office, Hextall enjoyed a stellar 13-year NHL career as a goaltender for the Flyers, New York Islanders and Quebec Nordiques that was highlighted by his rookie 1986-87 season with the Flyers. During that season, he was awarded the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender and the Conn Smythe Trophy as Most Valuable Player in the 1987 Stanley Cup Finals, despite losing to the Edmonton Oilers in seven games. At the conclusion of Game 7, Hextall became just the fourth player in the then 23-year history of the trophy to win the award while being a member of the losing team in the Finals. He was also named to both the NHL All-Rookie and NHL First All-Star Teams that season.

Originally selected by the Flyers in the sixth-round (119th overall) in the 1982 NHL Entry Draft, Ron is the fourth Hextall to play in the NHL following his father, Bryan Jr., his grandfather, Hall of Famer Bryan, Sr., and his cousin Dennis, who played for the Kings during the 1969-70 season. He played in 608 regular season games and recorded a 296-214-69 record including 23 shutouts, a 2.97 goals-against-average and a .895 save-percentage, and in 93 playoff games he was 47-43 with two shutouts. He holds numerous Flyers franchise goaltending records, including an NHL-record 113 penalty minutes in 1988-89. He also owns the franchise records for most career games played (489), career wins (240), career points (26), career penalty minutes (476) and most career playoff wins (45).

Hextall, known for being one of the first goalies to regularly leave the goalmouth and play the puck with his stick and for creative and unique designs on his goalie mask, also participated in the Stanley Cup Finals with the Flyers in 1997 against the Detroit Red Wings. On December 8, 1987, he became the first goaltender in the history of the NHL to score a goal by shooting the puck into the net as the Flyers defeated the Boston Bruins by a score of 5-2 at the Spectrum. On April 11, 1989, during a Flyers 8-5 playoff victory against the Washington Capitals at the Capital Centre, he collected his second career goal and became the first goalie to score a goal in an NHL playoff game.

Ron and his wife Diane live in Manhattan Beach with their two daughters Kristin and Rebecca, and two sons Jeffrey and Brett.

JACK FERREIRA SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Jack Ferreira, who has spent 33 years in professional hockey — including nine years as a NHL General Manager — is in his first season with the Kings. With Los Angeles, Ferreira serves as Special Assistant to the General Manager, where he works closely with the entire Kings Hockey Operations department, including President/General Manager Dean Lombardi and Assistant General Manager Ron Hextall.

Ferreira, 62 (6/9/44), came to the Kings from the Atlanta Thrashers, where he was responsible for scouting throughout North America and Europe as the Director of Player Personnel for the club. He also assisted General Manager Don Waddell in all player-related decisions.

A native of Providence, R.I., Ferreira was an original member of the Anaheim Ducks management team prior to his stint with the Thrashers. With the then-Mighty Ducks, he served for two seasons as Vice President of Hockey Operations (1998-2000) and five seasons as Vice President and General Manager (1993-1998). During his tenure, the Ducks team that he helped build from the ground-up equaled an NHL record for victories as a first-year club (33) in 1993-94. Ferreira was also primarily responsible for several prominent moves in Anaheim's early history, including the drafting of Paul Kariya in 1993 and the acquisition of Teemu Selanne in 1996.

Before joining the Ducks, Ferreira helped the Montreal Canadiens capture the 1993 Stanley Cup Championship as their Director of Pro Scouting. He also helped launch the San Jose Sharks franchise as Vice President and General Manager of the club from 1990-1992. Ferreira's first opportunity to head up an NHL franchise was when he served as Vice President and General Manager of the Minnesota North Stars from 1988-1990. With both San Jose and Minnesota, Ferreira worked with Lombardi.

Ferreira has also served as Director of Player Development for the New York Rangers (1986-88), as a U.S. and College Scout for the Calgary Flames (1980-86), and he worked for the NHL's Central Scouting Service as a New England Area Scout (1977-80).

His professional career began in 1972 with the New England Whalers of the World Hockey Association, where he held various roles including Head Scout, Assistant Coach and Assistant General Manager through 1977.

A former All-America goaltender at Boston University, Ferreira was an Assistant Coach on the collegiate level with Brown University from 1970-1972 and with Princeton University in 1969.

In addition, Ferreira was the Assistant General Manager for Team USA when they captured the Gold Medal at the 1996 World Cup of Hockey and also at the 1998 Olympics in Japan.

Jack and his wife Kathy reside in Riverside. They have two daughters, Jennifer and Julie, and two sons, Eric and Kent.

JEFF SOLOMON DIRECTOR OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS AND LEGAL AFFAIRS

Jeff Solomon is in his first season with the Kings as the club's Director of Hockey Operations and Legal Affairs. Solomon is responsible for the negotiation of player contracts, development of strategic salary cap plans and management of all matters related to the NHL Collective Bargaining Agreement.

Prior to joining the Kings, Solomon, 48 (4/4/58), served as a NHLPA Certified Agent for 20 years. During that time, Solomon represented hundreds of NHL hockey players, including former Kings Tony Granato and Nelson Emerson and current NHL stars like Bryan McCabe and Steve Sullivan.

Solomon has extensive experience working with the NHL Entry Level System, restricted and unrestricted free agency and all aspects of the NHL Collective Bargaining Agreement and its arbitration system.

Prior to representing professional hockey players, Solomon practiced law in California where he specialized in tax and estate planning. His post-graduate experience includes work as an international tax specialist and financial consultant.

Solomon earned a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration from Rutgers University in 1980 and a Juris Doctorate from the University of San Diego School of Law in 1983. He is licensed to practice law in California.

Jeff and his wife Kathy reside in Carlsbad, California, with their daughter Alexandra and son Andrew.

MIKE O'CONNELL DIRECTOR OF PRO DEVELOPMENT

Mike O'Connell, who spent the past six seasons as Vice President and General Manager of the Boston Bruins, is in his first season with the Kings. He was named the Kings' Director of Pro Development on June 19, 2006. Joining the Kings with more than 20 years of NHL experience as both a player, Assistant Coach, Head Coach (he served as the Interim Head Coach of the Bruins for nine games in the 2002-03 season) and front office executive, O'Connell in Boston was instrumental in assembling a club that won two Northeast Division titles and compiled a 179-130-78 (39 ties) regular season record before he left the organization in March of 2006.

Before establishing himself in the front office, O'Connell enjoyed a standout 13-year NHL career as a defenseman with the Bruins and his hometown Chicago Blackhawks. He recorded three 50-plus point seasons (from 1982-85) when he played for Boston and he was an NHL All-Star in 1984. He still holds the Bruins record for longest goal streak by a defenseman with seven games, and he re-joined the Bruins organization as an Assistant Coach in 1991 before the club advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals that season.

A native of Chicago, O'Connell, 50 (11/25/55), who also served as the Head Coach of Boston's AHL affiliate in Providence for two seasons from 1992-94, re-joined the parent club in 1994 as Assistant General Manager, a post he held for six seasons before being named to his most recent position on November 1, 2000. As General Manager, O'Connell was responsible for acquiring a number of talented and successful players, including Bill Guerin, Sergei Gonchar, Glen Murray (from Los Angeles), Jozef Stumpel (from Los Angeles), Marco Sturm, Wayne Primeau and Brad Stuart via trade, and Patrice Bergeron and Hannu Toivonen via the NHL Draft. Mike and his wife Rosemary reside in Cohasset, Massachusetts. They have a daughter, Kristen, and two sons, Matthew and Gregory.

DAVE TAYLOR DIRECTOR OF AMATEUR DEVELOPMENT

No player in Kings history ever wore the uniform with more distinction, pride and class than Dave Taylor. For 17 seasons, Taylor gave his all, both on and off the ice, receiving numerous awards and All-Star status for his outstanding play.

Since retiring as a player, Taylor has worked for the Kings in the front office. This is his first season as the club's Director of Amateur Development — after spending the previous nine seasons as General Manager — and his 31st year with the organization overall.

Taylor began with the Kings when the club originally selected him in the 15th round (210th overall) of the 1975 NHL Entry Draft. He made his NHL debut in 1977 and a few years later he became a member of the renowned "Triple Crown Line" with Marcel Dionne and Charlie Simmer.

Taylor, a five-time NHL All-Star who served as the Kings captain for four seasons (1985-89), played in a Kings-record 1,111 games and recorded 1,069 points (431-638-1,069) and 1,589 penalty minutes. His 431 goals rank third on the franchise's all-time list and first among right wingers. He also ranks third on the team's all-time list with his 638 assists and his 1,069 points, and his 123 power play goals also rank third while his 1,589 penalty minutes rank second.

A native of Leavack, Ontario, and a product of Clarkson University, Taylor also played in 92 career playoff games, and recorded 59 points (26-33-59) and 149 penalty minutes, while his career highlight was reaching the Stanley Cup Finals in 1993. Individually, he was honored with the Masterton and King Clancy Trophy in 1991, and he was an All-NHL Second Team selection in 1980-81. In addition, he was honored with the following team awards: Most Valuable Player, Most Popular Player, Most Inspirational Player (six times), Unsung Hero (two times) and Community Service (four times).

On April 3, 1995, Taylor's No. 18 jersey was retired, joining Rogie Vachon (No. 30) and Dionne (No. 16) as the only Kings to have their sweater retired (Wayne Gretzky has since had his No. 99 retired), and Taylor was later inducted as one of the six original members of the Kings Hall of Fame.

At the conclusion of his last season as a player, the 1993-94 campaign, Taylor joined the Kings as a front office executive. He first worked as the club's Assistant General Manager and Director of Player Development for three seasons before being promoted to Vice President/General Manager on April 22, 1997.

In his role as the club's General Manager, Taylor helped shape a Kings roster — a roster that collected more than 90 points each season from 1999-02, the first time that feat had been accomplished in the history of the franchise — and by securing playoff berths in four of Taylor's first five seasons. In 2000-01, Taylor was named by The Hockey News as the NHL Executive of the Year. Taylor in 2005-06 served as President, Hockey Operations/General Manager.

Dave, 50 (12/4/55), and his wife Beth live in Tarzana and they have two daughters, Jamie and Katie. Beth has played a prominent role in Kings charity efforts throughout the years, particularly with "Tip-A-King," and in numerous events related to the Kings Care Foundation.

ROGIE VACHON ROYAL AMBASSADOR

One of the NHL's top goaltenders during his illustrious 16-year career, Vachon has also served in a number of front office roles throughout his long tenure with the Kings. He currently works for the club as a Royal Ambassador.

With 355 career wins, Vachon ranks 14th on the NHL's all-time victory list among goalies. He played for Montreal, Detroit and Boston in addition to being a fan favorite as a Kings goalie. With the Canadiens, Vachon played for three Stanley Cup winners and shared the Vezina Trophy with the legendary Gump Worsley in 1967-68 as the league's top goaltending tandem.

It was in Los Angeles where Vachon ultimately proved he belonged among the premier goalies in the game, serving in net for seven seasons (1971-78) with the Kings. His finest season came in 1974-75 when he posted a 27-14-13 record and a 2.24 goals against average while being named Player of the Year by The Hockey News as the Kings set a franchise-record with 105 points. Overall, he is the Kings' all-time goaltending leader in games played (389), wins (171) and shutouts (32). He also was named an All-NHL Second-Team selection twice, represented the Kings at three All-Star Games, won numerous team awards including being named the club's Most Valuable Player three times, and was one of six original members of the Kings Hall of Fame.

Internationally, Vachon excelled as well. In the 1976 Canada Cup, Vachon allowed only 10 goals in the seven-game series (1.44 GAA) for Team Canada, including one shutout and an overtime victory in the finals versus Czechoslovakia. The native of Palmorolle, Quebec, earned MVP honors for his efforts.

After retiring as a player, Vachon joined the Kings in 1982 as an Assistant Coach (in charge of goaltenders). He would ultimately serve as the club's Interim Head Coach three different times, but his longest tenured front office position came when he was named General Manager on January 30, 1984, a post Vachon held until June 25, 1992. Among the highlights during his tenure were the Kings' high-profile acquisition of Wayne Gretzky in 1988 and the team's first division title as they won the Smythe Division with 102 points, including a club-record 46 victories, in 1990-91.

Vachon, 61 (9/8/45), who has also held the titles of Team President, Chief Hockey Operations Officer, Assistant to the Owner and Vice President of Special Projects with the Kings, received one of the great honors in team sports when the Kings retired his No. 30 jersey on February 14, 1985. He was the first Kings player to be so honored, with Marcel Dionne, Dave Taylor and Gretzky having since joined Vachon on the wall at STAPLES Center.

Rogie (whose given name is Rogatien) and his wife, Nicole, reside in Venice. They have three children: son Nicholas and daughters Jade and Mary Joy.

KINGS AMATEUR SCOUTING

AL MURRAY DIRECTOR OF AMATEUR SCOUTING

A member of the Kings organization for the past 18 years, Al Murray is in his 13th season as Director of Amateur Scouting and is directly responsible for the club's amateur scouting operation, including scheduling, assignments, evaluation of talent and development of the final list of players leading up to the annual NHL Entry Draft.

Murray, 49 (3/7/57), began his career with the Kings in 1988 and served as the club's Western Scouting Coordinator until 1994. Prior to joining the Kings, Murray spent three seasons as Head Coach at the University of Regina from 1985-88. From 1982-85, Murray served as the Developmental Coordinator for the Ottawa District Hockey Association.

Murray's coaching career began with the Kemptville Junior B's and it included a two-year stint as Head Coach of the Junior A Ottawa Senators and one season as an Assistant Coach at the University of Ottawa in 1981, when Ottawa placed third in the National Championships.

A native of Transcona, Manitoba, Al lives in Regina, Saskatchewan, with his wife Lori and sons Matt, Jake and Troy.

MARC CRAWFORD HEAD COACH

The Kings hired Marc Crawford as the club's Head Coach on May 22, 2006. The 21st head coach in Kings history, Crawford formerly was the Head Coach of the Vancouver Canucks and Colorado Avalanche/Quebec Nordiques, where he won a Stanley Cup in 1996 with the Avalanche. He is the youngest coach in NHL history to win the Jack Adams Trophy for Coach Of The Year.

In his first season with the Kings, Crawford, 45 (2/13/61), is the 16th winningest coach in NHL history with 411 career regular season wins and he is the all-time leader in regular season wins for Vancouver with 246. Hired by the Canucks in January of 1999, Crawford compiled a 246-197-94 (70 ties) record in 529 regular season games over seven seasons in Vancouver and the Canucks made the playoffs four of the last five seasons. In 2003-04, the Canucks won the Northwest Division title (the franchise's first division title since 1992-93) and in 2003 the Canucks advanced to the Western Conference Semifinals. Vancouver this past season finished with a 42-32-8 record.

Crawford began his NHL coaching career with Quebec in 1994 and in his first season he became the youngest coach to win the Jack Adams Trophy. After the Nordiques relocated to Denver he won the Stanley Cup in 1996 and with the win became the third-youngest coach in NHL history to raise Lord Stanley. Colorado went 16-5 that post-season and swept Florida in the Finals.

Crawford's four seasons with Colorado/Quebec were marked by incredible success. In addition to the Stanley Cup, the franchise's first, Crawford helped lead the Avalanche to the Western Conference Finals the following year as his Colorado playoff teams combined to go 26-12 in 1996 and 1997.

The franchise also enjoyed a tremendous amount of success in the regular season. Crawford's 1994-95 Nordiques won the first of nine consecutive divisional titles (the streak was snapped by the Crawford-led Canucks in 2003-04) for the club, and from 1994-98 his win totals were as follows: 30 (in just 48 games), 47, a then-franchise record 49 and 39.

Crawford coached the Avalanche for two seasons after winning the Cup before leaving following the 1997-98 season. He then spent time providing analysis for CBC's Hockey Night in Canada before being hired as the 15th head coach of the Canucks, the club he played every game of his nine-year professional career with.

As a left wing, Crawford recorded 50 points (19-31=50) and 229 penalty minutes in 176 regular season NHL games from 1981-87. He was a rookie on the Canucks team that reached the Stanley Cup Finals in 1982 and he was a member of two Memorial Cup championship teams with Cornwall in 1980 and 1981. He was also named to the Memorial Cup All-Star Team in 1981.

Crawford's coaching accomplishments also include stints behind the bench for Team Canada. A native of Belleville, Ontario, Crawford served as the Head Coach in the 1998 Winter Olympic Games in Nagano where his squad finished first in its pool and advanced to the semifinals before losing to the eventual champions, the Czech Republic, 2-1 in a shootout. Crawford also served as an Assistant Coach for Team Canada for the silver medal-winning squad at the 1996 World Cup of Hockey.

Prior to taking over the Nordiques, Crawford spent three seasons as the Head Coach of St. John's in the American Hockey League and two seasons with Cornwall of the Ontario Hockey League. He has worked as a professional coach every season since 1989-90 (with the exception of the 2004-05 NHL season which was cancelled).

Overall, in 12 seasons as an NHL coach, Crawford, has compiled a regular season mark of 411-285-127 (103 ties) and a playoff mark of 43-40.

Marc and his wife Helene have two children: daughter Kaitlin, and son Dylan. They reside in Manhattan Beach.

MIKE JOHNSTON ASSOCIATE COACH

Mike Johnston is in his first season as the Associate Coach with the Kings. He was named to his position on July 10, 2006.

Johnston, 49 (2/19/57), most recently served as Associate Coach in Vancouver for six seasons (1999-2006), playing a major role in the team's development while working with Marc Crawford, who is now the Head Coach of the Kings. In 2004, after a second consecutive 100-point season and a third straight campaign with more than 40 wins, the Canucks captured the Northwest Division championship - the first division title for the franchise since the 1992-93 season.

Johnston worked for Team Canada for five seasons from 1994-99. He was with Crawford as an Assistant Coach at the 1998 Winter Olympic Games in Nagano, Japan, and at the 1996 World Cup of Hockey, where his squad earned a silver medal.

Prior to joining the Canucks, Johnston was Head Coach and General Manager of Team Canada in 1998-99 and he compiled a 21-17-8 record, won a gold medal at the Spengler Cup and finished fourth at the 1999 World Championship. Johnston also won gold medals as an Assistant Coach with Team Canada at the 1994 and 1995 World Junior Championships.

Johnston originally began his coaching career at Camrose Lutheran College in 1982 and then moved on to the University of New Brunswick (UNB), where he had a regular season record of 77-44-6 over five seasons (1989-94). While at UNB, he recorded three first place finishes and he captured two McAdam Division titles.

Born in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, Johnston holds a Master's degree in Coaching Science and he recently co-authored the book "Simply The Best, Insights and Strategies From Great Coaches."

Mike and his wife, Myrna, have two children: a daughter Gabrielle and a son Adam. They reside in Manhattan Beach.

JAMIE KOMPON ASSISTANT COACH

Jamie Kompon is in his first season as Assistant Coach with the Kings. He was named to his position on July 10, 2006.

Kompon, recently completed his ninth season with the St. Louis Blues organization where he served as the club's Video Coach since arriving in 1997. He added Strength and Conditioning Coach to his title during the 2002-03 season, and this past spring he was on the coaching staff of Team Canada at the World Championship in Latvia where he served as Video Coach.

Prior to joining the Blues, Kompon was an Assistant Coach with the Baltimore Bandits of the American Hockey League for the 1996-97 season and he also served as Co-Head Coach at McGill University in Montreal in 1994-95 after being employed there as an Assistant Coach for three seasons.

Born in Thunder Bay, Ontario, Kompon, 40 (9/18/66), also played four seasons as a defenseman at McGill (1985-89) and then he played two seasons of professional hockey, including stints in the East Coast Hockey League and in the German Elite League.

Jamie's wife's name is Tina. They reside in Holy Glen.

NELSON EMERSON ASSISTANT COACH/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Nelson Emerson is in his first season as Assistant Coach/Player Development with the Kings. He was named to his position on July 10, 2006.

Emerson has most recently served as the Head Coach for the Los Angeles Junior Kings Midget AAA Under-18 Team where he also held the title of Director of Hockey Operations (in his role with the Kings, Emerson remains active in the Junior Kings program, serving as Director of Hockey Operations and GM of the Midget Major team). Born in Hamilton, Ontario, Emerson also worked as a Coaches Aide with the Kings during the 2003-04 season.

Prior to embarking on his coaching career, Emerson, a right wing, played with the Kings from 2000-02 and recorded 29 points (16-13=29) and 79 penalty minutes in 119 regular season NHL games. He also played in 19 playoff games with the Kings and had five points (2-3=5) and six penalty minutes. The Kings acquired Emerson and Kelly Buchberger from the Atlanta Thrashers for Donald Audette and Frantisek Kaberle on March 13, 2000.

Originally selected by the St. Louis Blues in the third-round (44th overall) of the 1985 NHL Entry Draft, Emerson recorded 488 points (195-293=488) and 575 penalty minutes in 771 career regular season NHL games with the Kings, Thrashers, Ottawa Senators, Chicago Blackhawks, Carolina Hurricanes/ Hartford Whalers, Winnipeg Jets and Blues. In 40 career NHL playoff games, he had 22 points (7-15=22) and 33 penalty minutes.

Prior to turning pro, Emerson, 39 (8/17/67), enjoyed four standout years at Bowling Green State University of the Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA), where he was a two-time All-America, a three-time CCHA All-Star and he was the school's all-time leading scorer with 294 points while becoming the first player to be a finalist for the Hobey Baker Award three different seasons. At Bowling Green, Emerson was a teammate of current Kings defenseman Rob Blake.

Nelson and his wife June have four children: daughters Mackenzie and Madelyn, and sons Quinn and Blake. They reside in Manhattan Beach.

BILL RANFORD GOALTENDING COACH

Bill Ranford is in his first season as the Goaltending Coach with the Kings. He was named to his position on July 10, 2006.

Ranford, 39 (12/14/66), had worked as the Goaltending Consultant with the Vancouver Giants of the Western Hockey League for the last two seasons. In addition, Ranford -- a two-time Stanley Cup Champion goalie with the Edmonton Oilers in 1988 and 1990 and the Conn Smythe Trophy winner as the playoff MVP in 1990 -- has also worked as a Goaltending Consultant with the Burnaby Express of the British Columbia Hockey League (Tier II Junior), of which he is a part-owner.

Ranford, who shares the NHL's single season playoff record for most wins by a goaltender with 16 victories in 1990, completed a stellar 15-year NHL playing career following the 1999-00 season. Originally selected by the Boston Bruins in the third-round (52nd overall) of the 1985 NHL Entry Draft, Ranford had a regular season record of 240-279-76, 15 shutouts, a 3.41 goals-against-average and a .888 save-percentage in 647 regular season NHL contests with the Oilers, Bruins, Detroit Red Wings, Tampa Bay Lightning and Washington Capitals. He also played in a total of a 51 NHL playoff games, and he played for the Oilers' alumni team at the recent outdoor Heritage Classic in Alberta.

Ranford, an All-Star in 1991-92, made his acting debut in the movie Miracle, where he performed scenes as a "stunt double" of Jim Craig, Team USA's goalie during the 1980 Winter Olympics. He is a native of Brandon, Manitoba.

Bill and his wife Kelly have two children: daughters Cassidy and Tristan.

CHRIS KINGSLEY ATHLETIC TRAINER

Chris Kingsley is in his first season as Head Athletic Trainer with the Kings. He was named to his position on August 1, 2006.

Kingsley most recently held the same role with the Kings primary American Hockey League affiliate, the Manchester Monarchs, where he worked since the franchise began play in 2001. Prior to the Monarchs, he spent his first three AHL seasons with the Lowell Lock Monsters.

Before arriving in the AHL, Kingsley worked seven years at Cushing Academy in Ashburnham, Massachusetts, as the school's Director of Sports Medicine.

Kingsley graduated from North Adams State College in 1990, earning a Bachelor's of Arts degree in Biology with a concentration in Sports Medicine. He also attended Indiana State University, where he earned a Master's of Science degree in Athletic Training in 1995.

Chris and his wife Sue have two children: Jonathan and Jaelyn.

DARREN GRANGER EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Darren Granger is in his first season as Equipment Manager with the Kings. He was named to his position on June 1, 2006.

Granger comes to the Kings with a great deal of experience. He spent 13 seasons as the Assistant Equipment Manager with the Vancouver Canucks and he served as the Equipment Manager at the 1998 NHL All-Star Game. Granger also worked for Team Canada at the 1999 World Championship, the 1996 World Cup and the 1992 World Junior Championship, and he received the Larry Ashley Award from the British Columbia Hockey Hall of Fame in 2004 for dedication and spirit toward the game of hockey.

This past season, after a year away from the game, Granger assisted the Manitoba Moose (American Hockey League) and their equipment staff on game nights. He also worked the 2005 AHL All-Star Game and for Team Canada at the 2006 World Championship. During his time away from hockey, Granger spent a year working for his father's private investment/insurance business.

Prior to joining the Canucks, the Brandon, Manitoba-born Granger worked for five years as a Trainer for the Brandon Wheat Kings of the Western Hockey League.

Darren lives in Redondo Beach with his wife, Cathy, their daughter, Sadie, and their son, Chase.

BOB MILLER TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY

Hockey Hall of Famer Bob Miller is in his 34th season as the "Voice of the Kings" – the first 17 years simulcast on TV and radio and the last 16 years as the exclusive television voice of the team – and is again joined for the 17th season by former Kings right winger Jim Fox for all Kings games on FSN West.

On November 13, 2000, Miller was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, where a plaque hangs, as the recipient of the annual Foster Hewitt Memorial Award as selected by the NHL Professional Broadcasters' Association. The Award recognizes those members of the radio and television industry who have made outstanding contributions to their profession and the game during their hockey broadcasting careers.

On October 2, 2006, Miller received a star on the famous Hollywood Boulevard Walk of Fame. In addition, on February 4, 2002, Miller was inducted into the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Hall of Fame. He has been named the top television play-by-play announcer in Southern California three times, including 2005.

In 1998, to commemorate his 25 years of loyal service to the organization, Miller was honored by having the STAPLES Center press box named after him and was presented with a "lifetime contract" by the club, and in 1997, Miller was named as one of the six inaugural members of the Kings Hall of Fame during the organization's 30th Anniversary celebration. The National Association of Sportscasters and Sportswriters also named him the California Sportscaster of the Year in 1997 and 2002.

A native of Chicago, Miller, 68 (10/12/38), received his degree at the University of Iowa where he started his broadcasting career doing Hawkeye football and basketball games. Before joining the Kings, he worked professionally in radio and TV in Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin, and was the voice of University of Wisconsin hockey, football and basketball. In 1992, Miller received the honor of being inducted into Wisconsin's Hockey Hall of Fame.

Along with his duties for the Kings, Miller's voice has accented numerous TV and film projects, including "Cheers," "Rollerball," "Miracle on Ice," "The Mighty Ducks" and "The Mighty Ducks 2."

A resident of West Hills, Bob and his wife Judy have a married daughter, Kristin, and a son Kevin.

JIM FOX TELEVISION COMMENTATOR

Jim Fox is in his 17th season as the Kings' television color commentator, joining Bob Miller in the booth for club broadcasts on FSN West.

Seventh on the Kings all-time scoring list with 479 points (186-293=479) in 578 games, Fox spent his entire 10-year career as a member of the Kings after being selected in the first round (10th overall) in the 1980 NHL Entry Draft. A three time 30-goal scorer, Fox enjoyed his most productive season in 1984-85 when he recorded 83 points (30-53=83), and in 22 career playoff games with the Kings, Fox had 12 points (4-8=12).

Prior to becoming a King, Fox enjoyed a standout junior career with the Ottawa 67's of the Ontario Hockey League (OHL). As the club's captain during the 1979-80 campaign, Fox scored at least one point in every game, including preseason, regular season and the playoffs, and he was a finalist for the Canadian Jr. Player of the Year after earning OHL Most Valuable Player and Leading Scorer awards.

Internationally, Fox represented Canada at the World Junior Championship in Helsinki (1979-80) and he also earned a bronze medal at the World Championship in Moscow in 1986.

Upon retirement as a player in 1990, Fox became Director of Community Relations for the Kings, a position he held until 1994. He remains one of the strongest forces in the Kings community development and charitable efforts, especially with the Kings Youth Hockey Camp and the Kings Care Foundation where, as a special ambassador, he spends an enormous amount of time supporting and developing programs that benefit the children of our community.

Fox, 46 (5/18/60), a wine lover, has participated as a judge in the Long Beach Grand Cru and the 2002 and 2003 Los Angeles County Fair "Wines of the World," both international wine-tasting competitions. Also, he played himself in the popular 1999 movie "Mystery, Alaska," sits on the Board of Directors of the Kings Care Foundation and was the first Kings recipient of the club's Community Service Award (1988-89). Since 2003, Fox has also served as honorary co-chairman of the Newport Sports Museum Golf Classic.

During the summer of 2005, Fox worked as a co-teacher of "Know the Score: Sports Public Relations," an extension course at UCLA. In addition to his duties in the broadcasting booth, Fox also served as the co-host of the Los Angeles-area Emmy Award-winning "Break the Ice" pre-game show on FSN West for several seasons.

Also, on February 11, 2006, the Kings held "Jim Fox Day" at STAPLES Center, and Fox was honored on the ice before a game for his 25 years of service to the organization as a player and broadcaster.

A native of Coniston, Ontario, and a resident of Redondo Beach with his wife Susie, Jim enjoys golf and participating in charity events.

NICK NICKSON RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY

In his 26th season with the Kings, Nick Nickson, the radio “Voice-of-the-Kings,” calls the action of every pre-season, regular season and post-season game on KTLK AM 1150 and along the Kings Radio Network.

A veteran with more than 30 years of hockey broadcasting experience totaling more than 2,600 games (including more than 2,200 with the Kings), Nickson’s smooth, fast-paced and accurate delivery of every play allows the listener to “see the game” as the action unfolds. As a tribute to his broadcasting excellence, on three occasions he has been nominated by his broadcasting peers as one of the top radio play-by-play announcers in Southern California.

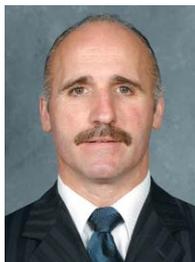

Nickson began his hockey broadcasting career in the 1975-76 season as the voice of the Rochester Americans (AHL) before joining the New Haven Nighthawks (AHL) in 1977. He spent four seasons (1977-81) calling the action for the Nighthawks before his association with the Kings began.

In addition to his broadcasting duties, he has been instrumental in developing and maintaining the Kings Radio Network while assisting the Kings Communications department in writing and editing the annual media guide, the Kings Care Foundation and is involved in the Kings Alumni Association. He has written more than 150 stories and articles on the NHL and the Kings and his work can be read in the club’s Royal Reign magazine. He is a member of the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Association and the National Hockey League Broadcasters Association, and for seven summers (1983-89) baseball fans may remember Nick’s voice as the public address announcer at Dodger Stadium.

Also, on January 21, 2006, the Kings held “Nick Nickson Day” at STAPLES Center, and Nickson was honored on the ice before a game for his 25 years of service to the organization as a radio and television broadcaster. As part of the ceremony, the club officially announced that the broadcast booth area at STAPLES Center had been named the Nick Nickson Broadcast Center in his honor.

A native of Rochester, New York, Nickson attended Ithaca (N.Y.) College and served as the Sports Director for the school’s radio station while doing play-by-play for Ithaca’s hockey, football, baseball and basketball teams. After graduating in 1975, he worked as a disc jockey for two stations in Rochester before beginning his career in hockey shortly thereafter.

Nick and his wife, Carolyn, reside in Santa Clarita and have two sons, Nicholas and Timothy.

DARYL EVANS RADIO COMMENTATOR

In his eighth season as the Kings radio commentator, Daryl Evans and veteran play-by-play announcer Nick Nickson are heard on all club radio broadcasts on flagship station KTLK AM 1150 and along the Kings Radio Network. During the 1998-99 season, Evans worked alongside Nickson as a back-up commentator, and along with his role on the radio, Evans is also an executive with the Toyota Sports Center in El Segundo, formerly serving as the facility’s General Manager.

A member of the Kings as a player from 1981-85, Evans scored the franchise’s most memorable goal in a game forever remembered as the “Miracle on Manchester.” Facing the heavily-favored Edmonton Oilers in the best-of-five first round of the 1982 playoffs, the Kings pulled off two huge upsets – one, in winning the series three games to two; and two, winning Game 3 of the series.

Down 5-0 in the third period of that game on April 10, 1982, the Kings steadily chipped away at Edmonton’s lead and tied the game with five seconds left in regulation. At 2:35 of the extra period, Evans, then a rookie, sent a shot over Grant Fuhr’s shoulder to seal an improbable end to an incredible game.

Prior to his full-time radio role, Evans served as the Director of Premium Seating Sales for STAPLES Center, where he was responsible for sales of luxury suites, premier seats and the premier club. Prior to taking the position at STAPLES Center, Evans managed at Martin Cadillac in West Los Angeles from 1992-99.

Originally selected by the Kings in the ninth-round (178th overall) of the 1980 NHL Entry Draft, the left wing recorded 52 points (22-30=52) in 113 career NHL games with the Kings, Washington Capitals and Toronto Maple Leafs. Also, in 11 career playoff games, Evans, 45 (1/12/61), registered 13 points (all of those 13 points came with the Kings during the 1982 playoffs).

A native of Toronto, Daryl resides in Redondo Beach, and he has two children: DJ and Danielle.

THE PLAYERS

KINGS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Los Angeles Kings are committed to making a positive difference in the Los Angeles community and actively seek opportunities to serve as ambassadors of good will. Through the creation of diverse educational, recreational and social development programs, in addition to hosting special events, donating in-kind items and granting requests for monetary funding, the Los Angeles Kings are delighted to touch the lives of nearly one million children each year.

The following are just a few examples of the many ways the Los Angeles Kings are giving back to its community.

GIVING THE ROYAL TREATMENT

Kings Street Knights is a grassroots hockey program that can be organized at youth-based educational or recreational centers in Greater Los Angeles. By donating full sets of street hockey equipment and expert instruction, this program gives community centers an opportunity to operate their own youth hockey program. New sites can be developed at any time and the program can be adapted to include youth who are audibly, visually, developmentally or physically challenged. For more information please call the Kings Fan Development Department at (213) 742-7206.

Lubomir Visnovsky greets kids before a game

Hockey is for Everyone is a series of hockey clinics that are designed to connect youth to hockey by offering clinics in underserved communities in Los Angeles County. The Kings expert hockey instructors bring an inflatable slap-shot booth and a portable hockey rink to teach hockey basics. Youth participants perform hockey drills that cover the fundamentals of street hockey including shooting, passing and scoring. This program also includes youth who are audibly, visually, developmentally or physically challenged.

Hockey Fights Cancer demonstrates this team's commitment to finding a cure for cancer and assisting those affected by the disease. Through various activities, such as building a teen lounge for pediatric cancer patients and their families at Childrens Hospital Los Angeles, donating proceeds raised from the Kings 5K Fun Run to a cancer organization, partnering with the Wellness Community-West Los Angeles for the Revlon Run Walk or working with the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, the Los Angeles Kings will continue to support this cause through multiple efforts throughout the year.

Fit to be King is an online and interactive fitness and nutrition curriculum developed in response to the alarming increase in childhood obesity and its associated health problems. Fit to be King encourages youth to make healthy lifestyle choices, utilizing hockey to emphasize good nutrition and exercise habits.

Adoption is An Option is an outreach initiative designed to increase permanent adoption and raise awareness about adoption and foster care. Efforts to champion this cause include hosting multiple children from FOX-11's "Wednesday's Child," which highlights foster children available for adoption on the news.

The Kings Chariot continues to bring hockey to schools, youth centers and community festivals throughout Los Angeles. Free of charge, the Chariot is run by skilled hockey instructors and is equipped with an inflatable slap-shot booth and Kings jerseys, a portable hockey rink and full sets of hockey gear to transform any site into a hockey extravaganza. For more information or to book the Chariot, please call the Kings Fan Development Department at (213) 742-7206.

Holiday Initiatives are an important part of the charitable work the Kings Care Foundation does each year. The Kings recognize the need of additional support during the holidays and are committed to several annual events during the winter months that benefit both children and families in the downtown area. Each year, the Kings host a Food and Toy Drive that benefits Childrens Hospital Los Angeles as well as a myriad of local organizations such as The Los Angeles Regional Food Bank, The Midnight Mission, Pico Union Housing Corporation, Plaza de la Raza and Central City Action Committee. Every holiday season, the Kings coaches, players, personnel and their families also participate in the annual Adopt-a-Family Gift Giving Program, a wonderful yearly event, which provides gifts and groceries to families who live near STAPLES Center.

Rob Blake at Kings Youth Hockey Camp

Kings Camp is a one week ice hockey camp for children (ages 5-15) of all skill levels. The camp, which has just completed its 16th year, is held at the Los Angeles Kings practice facility, the Toyota Sports Center in El Segundo, California. The camp runs for one week in August, with daily sessions going from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sessions include two and a half hours of on ice instruction and one hour of video instruction. The camp is managed by an All-Star staff of Kings alumni, personnel, and other professional hockey instructors who are assembled by Head Instructor Daryl Evans, a former Kings player and the current Kings Radio Color Commentator. This year, the Kings offered multiple scholarships to inner-city youth and exposed them to the sport of Kings. Proceeds from Kings Camp benefit the Kings Care Foundation.

Donation Requests for autographed memorabilia and tickets are reviewed on a rolling basis throughout the year, as the Kings are delighted to provide support for non-profit organizations throughout southern California. Donation requests should be submitted on your organizations' letterhead and mailed to:

Kings Care Foundation was founded in 1996, and since then has contributed nearly $3 million to improve the lives of those in the Greater Los Angeles area. The Kings Care Foundation granted $250,000 to develop a state-of-the-art Los Angeles Childrens Museum at Hansen Dam and pledged $250,000 to the Neil Bogart Memorial Fund, a non-profit organization that funds research at Childrens Hospital Los Angeles to find a cure for pediatric cancer, leukemia and AIDS. The Kings Care Foundation also proudly supports National Hockey League initiatives such as Hockey Fights Cancer and our own Luc Robitaille's Shelter for Serenity, a non-profit he and his wife Stacia founded to assist victims of hurricane Katrina. The Kings Care Foundation strives for excellence in the community and takes great pride in sponsoring local initiatives and providing thousands of Kings tickets to youth organizations during the hockey season. For a complete list of Kings Care Foundation programs and initiatives, contact (213) 742-7553.

1974-75
Rogie Vachon led Kings earned 105 points

ALL-TIME RECORDS

ROGIE VACHON

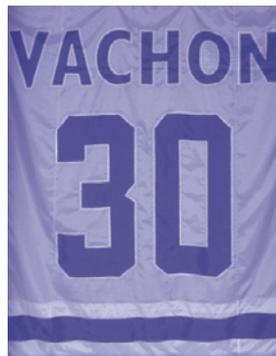

One of hockey's great goaltenders during his illustrious 16-year NHL career, Rogie Vachon became the first player to have his number retired by the Kings on February 14, 1985.

Vachon spent seven seasons (1971-72 to 1977-78) with the Kings, putting an indelible mark on the club's record book. He is the Kings' all-time leader in games played (389), wins (171), and shutouts (32). Perhaps his greatest season wearing the Forum purple and gold was 1974-75, the year Vachon posted a 27-14-13 record (including six shutouts) and a 2.24 GAA. The Hockey News rewarded Vachon by naming him the NHL player of the year.

After Vachon ended his playing career during the 1981-82 season, he returned to the Kings as an Assistant Coach. On January 30, 1984, Vachon was named General Manager of the Kings, a post he held for eight-plus seasons. Active in the community, he serves as a co-chair of the Paralysis Project of America.

Vachon remains active with the Kings, serving as a Royal Ambassador.

MARCEL DIONNE

The fifth-greatest scorer in NHL history, Marcel Dionne was the King of the Kings during his 12 seasons in Los Angeles. He had his No. 16 retired on November 8, 1990.

The 1975 acquisition of Dionne brought Kings fans a player who performed offensive magic like no King before. In his second Kings season (1976-77), Dionne became the first player in club history to score 50-plus goals (53) and 100-plus points (122).

Dionne's greatest glory as a King came as a member of the famed "Triple Crown Line." Centering a line with right winger Dave Taylor and left winger Charlie Simmer during the late 1970s and early 1980s, Dionne posted the biggest numbers of his career.

Before a 1987 trade sent Dionne to the New York Rangers, he set Kings career scoring records that still stand: 757 assists and 1,307 points. Dionne retired from the NHL before the 1989-90 season and at the time his scoring accomplishments (731 goals, 1,040 assists and 1,771 points) were surpassed by only two men – Wayne Gretzky and Gordie Howe. He was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1992.

Dionne currently operates Marcel Dionne Enterprises, Ltd., in Upstate New York.

DAVE TAYLOR

No player in the history of the Kings ever wore the uniform with more distinction and class than Dave Taylor. For 17 seasons, Taylor gave his all, both on and off the ice, receiving All-Star status for his outstanding play. He was rewarded with the retirement of his jersey on April 3, 1995.

Always a King, Taylor has served in a variety of front office positions with the Kings since his retirement as a player. He is now the club's Director of Amateur Development after serving as General Manager for nine seasons (1997-06).

A virtually unknown prospect while playing at Clarkson University, Taylor was the Kings' 15th round pick in the 1975 NHL Entry Draft. His grit and work ethic kept him around long enough to hook up with a center named Marcel Dionne, who virtually ignited Taylor's career. As a member of the renowned "Triple Crown Line" with Dionne and left winger Charlie Simmer, Taylor became a prolific scorer who also packed a fearsome check. Before retiring at the end of the 1993-94 season, Taylor played in 1,111 games and recorded 431 goals, 638 assists and 1,069 points.

Throughout Taylor's distinguished career, he endured the highs and lows with equal temperament. His crowning glory was reaching the Stanley Cup Finals with the 1992-93 Kings.

Away from the ice, Taylor has worked tirelessly for numerous charities throughout the years. Each year he hosts the Dave Taylor Golf Classic benefiting the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, which has raised more than a half-million dollars. In 1991, the NHL honored Taylor's contributions to hockey and the community by awarding him both the Masterton and King Clancy trophies.

WAYNE GRETZKY

When the Kings acquired Wayne Gretzky in 1988 from Edmonton, the game of hockey -- especially in Los Angeles -- was forever changed. His career as a King came full-circle on October 9, 2002, when the Kings officially retired his famous No. 99 sweater.

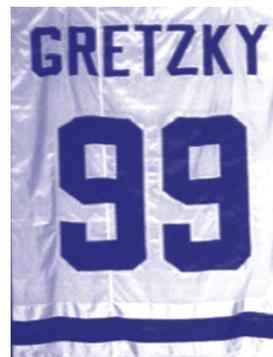

To many, Gretzky was the sport of hockey. The arrival of "The Great One" in 1988 brought credibility and notoriety to the franchise. Sellout crowds became the norm at the famed Great Western Forum, and all of the glitz and glamour of Hollywood quickly followed. A ticket to a Kings game to see Gretzky was a must.

Gretzky -- the greatest scorer in the history of the National Hockey League with 2,857 points -- played eight seasons in Los Angeles during which he won the NHL's scoring title (Art Ross Trophy) on three occasions (1989-90, 90-91, 93-94); was named the league's Most Valuable Player (Hart Memorial Trophy) once (1988-89); and he led the Kings on their storied trip to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1993.

Fourth on the Kings all-time scoring list, Gretzky recorded 918 points (246-672=918) in only 539 games as a King. He is also the Kings all-time leading scorer in the playoffs with 94 points (29-65=94) in 60 post-season contests. Some of his more memorable highlights as a King include October 15, 1989, when he became the NHL's all-time leading scorer, passing Gordie Howe's total of 1,850 points; and March 23, 1994, when he became the NHL's all-time leading goal-scorer, also surpassing Howe with goal No. 802.

To only call Gretzky "The Great One" may be an understatement. His many records and accomplishments are legendary. But the fact his name is basically synonymous with the sport of hockey might not be superseded by any other athlete in any other major sport.

Gretzky currently serves as the Head Coach of the Pacific Division-rival Phoenix Coyotes.

LUC ROBITAILLE

Luc Robitaille — the highest scoring left wing in NHL history, the all-time Kings leader in goals scored and a future member of the Hockey Hall of Fame — concluded his brilliant playing career last season, his 19th in the NHL. This season, the Kings will retire his popular No. 20 in a special ceremony on January 20, 2007, prior to the Kings-Phoenix Coyotes game at STAPLES Center.

Robitaille played 14 of those 19 seasons with the Kings after the club selected him in the ninth-round (171st overall) in the 1984 NHL Entry Draft. In 1,431 career regular season games with the Kings, Detroit Red Wings (where he won a Stanley Cup in 2002), New York Rangers and Pittsburgh Penguins, Robitaille has 1,394 points (668-726=1,394) and 1,177 penalty minutes. In 159 playoff games, he has 127 points (58-69=127) and 174 penalty minutes.

Robitaille has been honored with several awards and he set numerous records throughout his long and distinguished career. In addition to being the highest scoring left wing in NHL history, a mark he set in a Kings uniform with an assist on March 22, 2004, with his 1,370th point to pass Hall of Famer John Bucyk, Robitaille holds the NHL record for left wingers for goals (668). He is also 10th in overall NHL goal scoring with 668 goals, 19th in overall NHL scoring with 1,394 points and he is the only left wing in NHL history to record eight consecutive 40-goal seasons (all with the Kings).

With the Kings, Robitaille ranks second all-time in games played (1,077), second in points (1,154) and fourth in assists (597). During the 2005-06 season, he set the Kings all-time record for goals when his 551st goal as a King surpassed former teammate, long-time friend and Hall of Famer Marcel Dionne, on January 19, 2006, at STAPLES Center. In 1,077 total regular season games as a King, Robitaille has 1,154 points (557-597=1,154) and 924 penalty minutes.

Robitaille, a 6-1, 215-pound native of Montreal, played his first eight NHL seasons with the Kings from 1986-94, and in that rookie 1986-87 campaign he scored his first career NHL goal on his first shot (assisted by Dionne — Dionne's 1,600th NHL point) on October 9, 1986. He won the Calder Trophy as the NHL's Rookie of the Year (the only King to win the award in franchise history) and he was named to the NHL All-Rookie Team with Kings teammates Jimmy Carson and Steve Duchesne after leading all NHL rookies in points (84) and goals (45).

Joined by the legendary Wayne Gretzky prior to the 1988-89 season, Robitaille and Gretzky helped lead a potent Kings offense which reached its pinnacle in 1993 with the franchise's first trip to the Stanley Cup Finals. That season, Robitaille was named the team's captain while Gretzky began the season injured, and Robitaille responded by setting NHL records for the most goals (63) and points (125) in one season by a left winger (both marks still stand). That season also saw Robitaille become the first player in NHL history to score against 22 different teams in one season.

Robitaille would go on to reach several other milestones while with the Kings. He became the 27th player in NHL history to score 500 goals (he scored his 500th goal on January 7, 1999) and he was the 12th fastest to reach that mark, accomplishing the feat in just 928 games. While in a Kings uniform he also scored his 650th career goal on March 9, 2004, and he played in his 1,000th game as a King on March 13, 2004.

Robitaille also ranks first in the franchise for power play goals (210), power play goals in one season (26 in 1991-92), most career goals in overtime (five), and he has led the Kings in scoring six times and in goal scoring eight times. He is also the leader in numerous offensive Kings franchise playoff categories, including games played (94), goals (41), game-winning goals (nine) and power play goals (13).

Traded by the Kings to Pittsburgh prior to the start of the 1994-95 season, Robitaille played one season with the Penguins before being dealt to the Rangers, where he played two seasons (1995-97). He returned to the Kings via trade in 1997, and upon his return to the Kings, Robitaille helped lead the team to the post-season for the first time in five years — since Robitaille and the Kings reached the Stanley Cup Finals in 1993 — and he scored at least 36 goals for the Kings in three seasons from 1998-01.

After a two-year stint with Detroit from 2001-03, which was highlighted by a Stanley Cup championship with the Red Wings in 2002, Robitaille again returned to the Kings in 2003 when he was signed as an unrestricted free agent. He played with the Kings since, and during his time in the NHL he was a teammate of six of the top seven scorers in NHL history (Gretzky, Mark Messier, Ron Francis, Dionne, Steve Yzerman and Mario Lemieux).

An eight-time NHL All Star, Robitaille has been named an NHL First Team All-Star five times and an NHL Second Team All-Star three times, including being named to one of those teams in each of his first seven seasons (all with the Kings). Robitaille has also garnered numerous Kings team awards, including: Most Valuable Player (four times); Most Popular Player (four times); Most Inspirational Player; Leading Scorer (six times — he has also led the Kings in goals eight times); and Community Service (three times).

Off the ice, Robitaille has immersed himself in the Southern California community. Most recently, he and his wife Stacia created Shelter for Serenity, a disaster relief project that benefits victims of the Gulf Coast hurricanes (more information at www.shelterforserenity.org).

KINGS HALL OF FAME

Rogie Vachon, Marcel Dionne, Dave Taylor, Wayne Gretzky, Butch Goring, Bob Miller and Peter Demers are the members of the Los Angeles Kings Hall of Fame. Luc Robitaille, who is having his No. 20 jersey retired during a ceremony at STAPLES Center on January 20, 2007, will also be inducted into the Kings Hall of Fame then as well.

ROGIE VACHON — The premier goaltender in Kings history, Rogie first became associated with the Kings in 1971 when he took the Forum ice. The franchise leader in just about every statistical category for a goalie, Rogie, who has also held a variety of front office positions with the team, was the first King to have his sweater retired by the club.

MARCEL DIONNE — With more than 1,300 points during his 12-year tenure as a King, Marcel, an NHL Hall-of-Famer, brought a tremendous amount of excitement and enthusiasm to Kings fans when he arrived in 1975. His scoring touch was record setting and his scoring records might never be touched.

DAVE TAYLOR — One of the most popular players in team history during his 17 seasons on the ice, Dave truly is the ultimate King. Since retiring as a player, he has worked in the front office, currently focusing on amateur development.

WAYNE GRETZKY — The most recent King to have his sweater retired, Wayne's 19-year NHL tenure is unmatched. A King from 1988-96, he is fourth on the club's all-time scoring list and he earned a multitude of honors while playing in Los Angeles, including three NHL scoring titles and one Most Valuable Player award.

BUTCH GORING — With 275 goals and 659 points, Butch trails only Marcel, Dave, Wayne, Luc and Bernie Nicholls on the team's all-time scoring list. Turning to coaching when his playing days came to an end, the four-time Stanley Cup winner led the Utah Grizzlies (IHL) to two Turner Cup championships.

BOB MILLER — The "Voice of the Kings" is now in his 34th season behind the Kings microphone. He has called more Kings games on television and radio than anyone, and in 2000 he was part of the Hockey Hall of Fame induction ceremonies in Toronto as the recipient of the Foster Hewitt Memorial Award, which is given annually by the radio and television industry for outstanding contributions to the hockey broadcasting profession.

PETER DEMERS — A long-time member of the Kings organization, Peter first joined the Kings as an Athletic Trainer in Los Angeles in 1971. He ended the 2005-06 season having been behind the bench for 2,632 consecutive regular season Kings games.

KINGS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

There are approximately 3,500 former NHL players, of which 512 played at least one regular season or playoff game for the Kings. In an effort to provide a support group for the Los Angeles community, local members of the Kings Alumni have banded together to form a 501(c)(3) non-profit corporation with the goal that all funds raised through the efforts of the corporation will flow through to help fund educational hockey programs, scholarship programs and worthy charitable causes.

Members of the Los Angeles Kings alumni group will work independently and in cooperation with the Kings Community Development department, providing personnel for the Kings summer youth hockey camp, various community events, fundraisers and educational programs.

It is the intent of our association to be good corporate citizens and to reach out into the community to lend a helping hand whenever the need arises.

The president of the Association is Daryl Evans while Ian Turnbull serves as secretary. For further information or requests for services contact them via email at the following address: alumni@lakings.com.

STAPLES CENTER

STAPLES Center, back-to-back recipients of the prestigious Pollstar-CIC Arena of the Year award, has clearly established itself as the Sports and Entertainment Center of the World.

Beginning with Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band's opening night concert on October 17, 1999, over 24 million guests have come to the AEG owned and operated STAPLES Center to attend a schedule of prestigious concerts, sports events, family shows and other major attractions unmatched by any arena.

As the home of five professional sports franchises -- the NBA's Los Angeles Lakers and Los Angeles Clippers, the NHL's Los Angeles Kings, the AFL's Los Angeles Avengers and the WNBA's Los Angeles Sparks -- STAPLES Center has proven to be a home court advantage for the local teams. The Lakers capped-off each of their first three seasons at STAPLES Center by winning NBA Championships (the 12th, 13th and 14th in franchise history) while the Sparks captured back-to-back WNBA Championships in their first two STAPLES Center campaigns. The Kings, Clippers and Avengers have all set franchise records for attendance and sellouts since moving into their 'new home.'

STAPLES Center continues to distinguish itself as the host of major, high-profile events of national and international distinction including the 2004 NBA All-Star Game, the 2002 NHL All-Star Game, 2002 U.S. Figure Skating Championships, the 2000 Democratic National Convention, five Grammy Award shows, four X Games competitions, three WTA Tour Championships and four Pac 10 Basketball Championship tournaments.

STAPLES Center's first seven years have also been marked with performances and special events that brought international stature to Los Angeles' sports & entertainment icon including concerts by Prince, U2, Usher, Paul McCartney, Don Henley, Madonna, Christina Aguilera & Justin Timberlake, Phil Collins, the Rolling Stones, Dave Matthews, Britney Spears, Rod Stewart, Eric Clapton, Janet Jackson, *N Sync, Simon & Garfunkel, Van Halen, Dixie Chicks, Counting Crows, John Mayer, Shania Twain, Peter Dinklage, Ricky Martin, Tina Turner, Reba McEntire, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Faith Hill & Tim McGraw, Depeche Mode, Cher, Bette Midler, The Backstreet Boys, Mariah Carey, Eurythmics, Googosh, Joan Sebastian, Marco Antonio Solis and a New Year's Eve spectacular starring The Eagles, Jackson Browne and Linda Ronstadt; world championship boxing including Lennox Lewis vs. Vitali Klitschko for the World Heavyweight Championship, "Sugar" Shane Mosley vs. Oscar De La Hoya and Roy Jones, Jr. vs. Julio Gonzalez; the first-ever Latin Grammy Awards and Barbra Streisand's final Los Angeles concerts. In addition, the arena hosted ten sold-out WWE dates, Michael Flatley's Feet of Flames, Target Stars on Ice and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Through the activities of the STAPLES Center Foundation, the people of Los Angeles have also been touched in a different way. Dedicated to improving the quality of life for the youth in the greater Los Angeles area through grants and educational and recreational programming, the Foundation has placed a special emphasis on contributing to the neighborhoods surrounding the arena.

Over $6 million has already been pledged to community organizations by the STAPLES Center Foundation including $1 million grants to Inner-City Arts (a public private partnership non-profit organization that provides much needed arts education for downtown elementary and middle school students) and the Walt Disney Concert Hall, home to the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Recently, STAPLES Center "adopted" Tenth Street Elementary School located in the heart of the Pico-Union section of downtown Los Angeles. Together, the staffs of the arena and the school have developed a groundbreaking public-private educational partnership benefiting the school in the form of grants, fundraising and an in-school volunteer program in which STAPLES Center's staff regularly participates.

STAPLES Center has been designed with the fans of Los Angeles in mind. Guests who attend events are treated to the finest entertainment experience imaginable. The arena has 1,200 television monitors and (as part of a specially designed $1.5 million facility sound system) 675 separate speakers outside of the seating area, so fans never miss any of the sights or sounds of STAPLES Center. Also featured is a $2 million specialty lighting package.

Along STAPLES Center's five concourses are 23 refreshment stands offering a variety of dining choices including the City View Grill, a one-of-a-kind outdoor dining experience with a spectacular view of the downtown Los Angeles skyline and the signature Royal Room located along the main concourse. The FOX Sports Sky Box, a 300-seat sports bar/restaurant, is open daily and can be found along the main concourse adjacent to TEAM LA, a retail store featuring official merchandise from the teams and events that call STAPLES Center home. Finally, the arena provides 55 public restrooms including three "family" restrooms.

Perhaps the greatest emphasis throughout STAPLES Center's development has been the recruitment and training of its guest services staff. The STAPLES Center experience is second-to-none from the entertainment environment to the staff's commitment to making every guest's visit a memorable one. Never before has an arena had the amenities, features and commitment to quality service that STAPLES Center offers to the fans and the City of Los Angeles. STAPLES Center has set the new standard for the arena industry.

The STAPLES Center story is not yet complete. Recently, AEG announced plans for the creation of LA Live, a dynamic and vibrant 4 million square foot sports and entertainment district covering more than 27 acres along six city blocks adjacent to the arena and the Los Angeles Convention Center. The development will feature NOKIA Theatre Los Angeles, a 7,100-seat state-of-the-art live theatre, a 54 story, 1000-room convention "headquarters" hotel, broadcast facilities for ESPN, 15-screen Regal Cineplex, Club NOKIA, a 2,200 capacity live music venue along with entertainment, restaurant, residential, office and exhibition space.

STAPLES CENTER FOUNDATION

The mission of the STAPLES Center Foundation is to improve the quality of youth in the Greater Los Angeles area through educational and recreational programming and grants with a special emphasis on the neighborhoods surrounding the arena. The Foundation was founded in 1999 as a 501(c)(3) public charity and since that time, more than five million dollars in support has been donated to the local community. STAPLES Center is the STAPLES Center Foundation's largest funder, donating office space, staff support and other important resources.

STAPLES Center Foundation has established a number of partnerships in the downtown community to assist charities in raising funds and awareness for their organizations. To that end, the Foundation has created major partnerships with the following programs:

- Walt Disney Concert Hall – A gift of $1 million dollars was donated to the Walt Disney Concert Hall, the fourth venue of the Performing Center of Los Angeles County and home of the Los Angeles Philharmonic.
- Inner-City Arts – A commitment of $1 million dollars has been pledged to Inner-City Arts, a non-profit in the heart of the “skid row” area of downtown Los Angeles founded in 1989 in response to severe budget cutbacks that completely removed arts from the California public education system. Each day, 450 children are offered courses in animation, ceramics, creative writing, dance, drama, music and visual arts in their beautiful 20,000 square foot facility that is home to Inner-City Arts.
- Para Los Niño's – The STAPLES Center Foundation has pledged $250,000 to support Para Los Niño's, a non-profit social service agency that works with children, youth and families living in poverty throughout Los Angeles. The funds directly support the agency's new preschool facility in Pico Union, which allows Para Los Niño's to increase the number of children served.
- 10th Street Elementary School – Located in Pico Union and officially adopted by the STAPLES Center Foundation, this elementary school serves 1700 students from kindergarten to fifth grade. Just walking distance from the arena, the STAPLES Center proudly hosts the students' 5th grade culmination ceremony. Every Thursday, staff members from the STAPLES Center read with a group of second graders, as part of the Everybody Wins! Power Lunch program.
- Hurricane Katrina – The STAPLES Center Foundation adopted a family of survivors who moved to Los Angeles after being displaced by Hurricane Katrina, committing to pay that 8-person family's rent for one year, while also making a direct donation to the family for personal expenses.

COMMUNITY GRANTS PROGRAM

The Macro Grant Program assists established programs that enhance recreational and educational opportunities for youth in the Los Angeles area. Special emphasis is given to those organizations located within a three-mile radius of the arena and can represent a “match” for additional funding. Current recipients include: A Place Called Home; Everybody Wins; Los Angeles Youth Network; Midnight Mission; Salvation Army Red Shield Center; The Red Cross.

The Micro Grant Program assists and promotes civic and cultural events such as street festivals, parades and other community improvement projects and also assumes the costs of those charity events held within the arena. Current recipients include: Animal Alliance; City Scholars Foundation; Hemophilia Foundation of Southern California; Los Angeles Commission on Assaults Against Women; Urban Education Partnership.

STAR PLAZA AT STAPLES CENTER

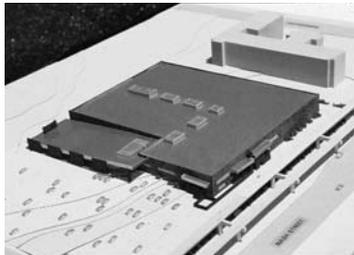

STAPLES Center holds a unique position of prominence in Los Angeles. STAPLES Center is the home to many of the greatest sports and entertainment events in the country. Star Plaza at STAPLES Center is the gathering place at the building's main entrance. Fans and supporters have the opportunity to honor, memorialize and thank family members and friends on a personalized “Star” that is prominently and permanently displayed at the Star Plaza entrance of the arena at Figueroa and 11th Street. A personalized star in Star Plaza at STAPLES Center provides an everlasting link to the home of the Kings, Lakers, Clippers, Avengers, Sparks and spectacular concerts and events. All funds from the sale of the stars directly benefit STAPLES Center Foundation and to date more than $600,000 has been raised by this exciting program. You can support STAPLES Center Foundation by providing a donation of $160 or more to receive an 8”x 8” porcelain star with three lines for your personal inscription or by providing a donation of $3,045 or more to receive a 12”x 12” granite star with four lines for your personal inscription (less than 100 still available). For more information, please call 213.742.7166.

TOYOTA SPORTS CENTER

555 NORTH NASH STREET
EL SEGUNDO, CA
(310) 535-4510

Model of Facility

On April 28, 1999, the Kings, Lakers and Sparks officially "broke ground" on the new $24 million Toyota Sports Center in El Segundo. On March 5, 2000, the facility was officially opened. The Drezner Group of Los Angeles designed the world-class facility, which is located at 555 North Nash Street, just off the 105 Freeway in El Segundo.

The facility is the official training center for the Kings, Los Angeles Lakers and Los Angeles Sparks. The six-acre site, which is part of the Grand Avenue Corporate Center, includes: two public ice rinks (NHL regulation and Olympic-size), an outdoor covered in-line skating rink, a basketball court, a pro shop and a restaurant, as well as complete training facilities, including locker rooms and office space, for the Kings, Lakers and Sparks.

"This facility is a tremendous asset to the hockey club and the entire organization," said Daryl Evans who, in addition to his duties on Kings radio broadcasts, serves as an executive with the Toyota Sports Center. "To have a facility of this magnitude and everything that it provides the organization is huge. In the long run, the players will be light years ahead of where they would be otherwise."

The complex, which is owned and operated by a subsidiary of AEG and the FOX Entertainment Group, is open to the public for ice and roller hockey leagues.

Originally known as the HealthSouth Training Center, Toyota Motor Sales, USA, Inc. in July of 2005 entered into a multi-year agreement with AEG to name the organization's owned and operated El Segundo-based athletic training center.

"We are pleased to further expand AEG's relationship with Toyota Motor Sales, USA, Inc. to include the naming rights of one of the nation's premier training centers for NHL and NBA teams," said Tracy Hartman, Vice President, Corporate Sales, AEG.

KINGS MINOR LEAGUE AFFILIATES

JEFF EISENBERG – PRESIDENT/ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

Jeff Eisenberg joined the Manchester Monarchs as President in September of 2000. He was the first employee of the team, launching the organization from the ground up and quickly establishing the franchise as an integral part of Manchester and the state of New Hampshire. Eisenberg, 50, oversees all aspects of business operations for the Monarchs, including marketing, public relations, ticket sales, sponsorships, promotions, advertising, arena relations, broadcast and merchandise. His commitment to offering exciting ice hockey action and exceptional family entertainment has helped make the Monarchs a success both on and off the ice. In his first five seasons, the Monarchs posted extremely impressive attendance figures, averaging 8,199 in their inaugural season of 2001-02 (3rd in the AHL), 8,987 in 2002-03 (1st), 9,141 in 2003-04 (1st), 9,053 in 2004-05 (2nd) and 8,612 (1st) in 2005-06. In 2003-04, the Monarchs not only led the AHL in attendance, but also topped all 97 other North American minor pro hockey teams in existence.

Under Eisenberg's direction and leadership, the Monarchs have emerged as one of the premier franchises in all of minor league sports. The Monarchs won the 2005 PRISM Award, awarded to the minor league franchise deemed to be the most outstanding in the country, and the 2005 Business NH Magazine Business of Year Award in the tourism category. In July of 2004, Eisenberg won the James C. Hendy Award, presented annually to the AHL's Executive of the Year. Eisenberg and the Monarchs also staged the highly successful 2005 Dodge AHL All-Star Classic in Manchester on February 13-14, 2005. The two-day event featured the best young talent in the AHL and showed the world that Manchester is truly a great hockey town.

A native of Memphis, Tennessee, Eisenberg holds a Bachelor's degree in Economics from Vanderbilt University, and a Master's degree in Sport Management from the University of Massachusetts.

Jeff and his wife Carole have three children, Matt, Kara and Alex. They reside in Bedford, New Hampshire.

HUBIE McDONOUGH – DIRECTOR OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS

Hubie McDonough, a native of Manchester, New Hampshire, is in his sixth year as the Director of Hockey Operations for the Manchester Monarchs. His responsibilities include overseeing all player movement between Manchester and their respective affiliates in Los Angeles and Reading, Pennsylvania, player immigration and team services. McDonough, 43, served as the Director of Hockey Operations for the International Hockey League's Orlando Solar Bears before his appointment with the Monarchs in 2001. He helped guide the Solar Bears to the 2001 Turner Cup. Prior to that post, he served as an Assistant Coach for the Solar Bears during the 1999-00 season.

One of the most prolific goal scorers in small college ice hockey history while attending nearby St. Anselm College, McDonough captured the small college Hobey Baker Memorial Award in 1985. At Manchester Memorial High School, McDonough, who remains St. A's all-time leading scorer, played for his father, Hubie Jr., before moving on to play at New Hampton Prep.

Signed by the Los Angeles Kings as a free agent in 1988, McDonough enjoyed a 13-year pro career that spanned 955 games, including 195 NHL contests with the Kings, New York Islanders and San Jose Sharks. He was named to the All-IHL Second Team twice (1992-93 and 1994-95) and played in two IHL All-Star Games (1994 and 1995). McDonough was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the 1995 IHL All-Star Game.

McDonough enjoyed nearly four seasons as a player in Orlando and was one of the team's most consistent performers. Him at center, the Solar Bears twice advanced to the Turner Cup Finals (1996 and 1999), and they appeared in the IHL post-season in each of his four seasons there.

Hubie and his wife Amy reside in Bedford, New Hampshire, with their four children, Hayley, Ryan, Luke and Jack.

MARK MORRIS – HEAD COACH

Morris, 48, is in his first season as the head coach of the Manchester Monarchs. For the past two seasons, Morris has been the Director of Boy's Hockey, the Boy's Junior Hockey Coach and an Administrator (Admissions and Advancement) for Northwood School. In 2004-05, Northwood finished the season with a record of 32-11-4. The team set a new school record for most wins in a season with a record of 40-8-0 under Morris' supervision during the 2005-06 season. Northwood was named the St. Andrew's College Tournament Champions and the Culver Academy Midwest Prep School Tournament Champions in 2006.

Prior to joining Northwood School, Morris served as the Special Assistant Coach/Interim Strength and Conditioning Coach for the Vancouver Canucks from February 2003 to April 2003 under current Kings Head Coach Marc Crawford. Morris moved on to be the Interim Assistant Coach for the Saginaw Spirit Hockey Club of the Ontario Hockey League from November 2003 to March 2004.

Morris coached the Clarkson University Golden Knights to 10 consecutive 20-plus win seasons during his 14 year reign. Hired by Clarkson in 1988, Morris compiled an overall record of 306-156-42 in 504 regular season games and a playoff record of 39-19-1. His teams appeared in 14 Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference tournaments, five ECAC League championships, three ECAC tournament championships, nine NCAA tournament appearances, one Frozen Four appearance, three Quarterfinal appearances and five First Round appearances. He is the winningest coach in the history of Clarkson University and the team won eight ECAC titles in his 14 seasons as head coach. Morris received the ECAC Coach of the Year Award in 1991 and 2001, and his team won the first ever Humanitarian Award in 1999.

Morris is a 1977 graduate of Northwood School and a 1981 graduate of Colgate University. After graduation, Morris played three years of professional hockey with the Central Hockey League's Dallas Black Hawks (1981-82) and the AHL's New Haven Nighthawks (1982-84). He began his coaching career with Union College as the Men's Varsity Hockey Assistant Coach and Junior Varsity Coach for the 1984-85 season. Preceding his 14-year reign at Clarkson University, Morris served as the Men's Varsity Hockey Assistant Coach for St. Lawrence University for three seasons, 1985-88.

Morris and his wife Cecily reside in Massena, New York, and are the proud parents of four children, Michael, Emily, Leah and Kevin.
