HISTORY OF THE FRANCHISE

The Calgary Flames will mark their 37th season and 38th year in Calgary with the 2017-18 NHL campaign.

For more than 30 years, the Calgary Flames have been electrifying hockey fans in southern Alberta. In that time, not only has the team established itself as a successful NHL franchise, but it has grown into a vital and integral part of our community. From their on-ice victories and awards to their off-ice charitable endeavours, the Flames have become one of the premier professional sports organizations in North America.

It all started in May of 1980 when Nelson Skalbania and a group of Calgary entrepreneurs consisting of Doc and B.J. Seaman, Harley Hotchkiss, Norm Green, Ralph Scurfield, and Norman Kwong announced the acquisition of the Atlanta Flames and declared their intention to relocate the franchise to Alberta. Calgarians lined up to support their new team. For the first time in NHL history, 755 standing-room season tickets were sold, generating a capacity crowd of 7,243 fans at the Stampede Corral for the Flames' inaugural game on October 9, 1980.

In their first decade, the Flames amassed an impressive record of milestones and achievements. The team made it to the postseason every year in the 1980s, capturing two Smythe Division championships, two Clarence Campbell Conference titles (1985-86, 1988-89), and two Presidents' Trophies (1987-88, 1988-89), and advancing twice to the Stanley Cup Final (1986, 1989), both times against the Montreal Canadiens. After falling to the Habs in five games in 1986, the Flames prevailed in a thrilling six-game series in 1989, becoming the only visiting team ever to win the Cup on Montreal Forum ice. Two of the players in that historic playoff run—Lanny McDonald (#9) and Mike Vernon (#30)—would ultimately have their jersey numbers retired by the organization, while two others—Al MacInnis (#2) and Joe Nieuwendyk (#25)—would be inducted into the "Forever a Flame" program.

The 1980s saw the Flames move out of the Corral and into the Saddledome. The state-of-the-art 16,683-seat facility built for the 1988 Winter Olympics officially opened its doors on October 15, 1983. That same year, the Calgary Flames Foundation was launched as the charitable arm of the club. Since its inception, the Foundation and its partners have raised millions of dollars for education, health and medical research, and amateur and grassroots sports.

The following decade was one of challenge and change for Flames as they sought to replicate their successes from the '80s. League-wide reorganization and realignment shifted the team into the Pacific Division in 1993, a move that obviously agreed with them—they finished the season in first place, capturing the first of two Pacific Division titles (1993-94 and 1994-95).

Another new project for the Flames in the '90s was the purchase of a local junior team, the Western Hockey League Calgary Hitmen. That affiliation continues today under the banner of the Calgary Sports and Entertainment Corporation (CSEC). Launched in 2012, CSEC is now the parent company for five sports franchises owned by the corporation: the Flames, Calgary Hitmen, Calgary Roughnecks, Calgary Stampeders and the Stockton Heat of the American Hockey League. CSEC is also a proud partner and supporter of the Calgary Inferno of the CWHL since 2013 and the Kansas City Mavericks of the ECHL since 2017.

Moving into the new millennium brought new opportunities for the Flames, including a third appearance in the Stanley Cup Final in 2004. In that year's playoffs, Calgary eliminated three of the top teams in the League before taking on the Tampa Bay Lightning, losing in the last game of a hard-fought, seven-game series. Fans rallied behind their team by sporting red Flames jerseys, marking the beginning of the phenomenon known as the C of Red that remains a hallmark of Flames home games to this day.

The 2000s were also a decade of acknowledging those off the ice who have contributed so much to the team. Two Calgary legends were recognized by the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2006, when Flames co-owner Harley Hotchkiss was inducted in the Builder Category and broadcaster Peter Maher received the Foster Hewitt Memorial Award. In 2009, the Flames lost one of their own with the passing of co-owner Daryl "Doc" Seaman, who was also inducted by the Hall as a Builder in 2010.

Having passed the midway point of the 2010's, the Flames have already celebrated more extraordinary milestones. On November 26, 2010, the team recorded its 10,000th goal in franchise history, and later that season, they played their 3,000th NHL game. Then in 2011, the Flames hosted the Montreal Canadiens in the Heritage Classic at McMahon Stadium in front of 41,000 fans, a 4-0 victory that marked the first ever shutout in an NHL outdoor game.

Amid all the history, the first half of this decade has also been a time of looking forward for the Flames. Familiar faces have moved on while others have taken the reins. As a new group of talented players takes to the ice this year, they likewise take up the challenge of once again bringing a championship back to the city of Calgary and their fans.

Before his time with Ottawa, he twice served as a coach in the AHL, first with the St. John's Maple Leafs as an assistant in the 1999-00 season and more recently when he was the head coach with Ottawa's affiliate, the Binghamton Senators, from 2004-05 to 2006-07.

Dave Cameron, a centre, was drafted by the New York Islanders in the eighth round (135th overall) of the 1978 NHL Amateur Draft and played 168 games with the Colorado Rockies and New Jersey Devils, recording 53 points (25G, 28A) and 238 penalty minutes. Marie, 2000-01 to 2003-04 with the Toronto St. Michael's Majors, and then from 2007-08 to 2010-11, again with the St. Michael's Majors.

MARTIN GELINAS - ASSISTANT COACH

Martin Gelinas is in his sixth season as an assistant coach with the Calgary Flames. Prior to joining the Flames, Gelinas served as the Director of Player Development for the Nashville Predators, joining the staff following his retirement as a player in 2009.

In his 19-year NHL career, Gelinas played in 1,273 games (62nd all-time at the start of this season) and scored 660 points. He played the 2002-03 and 2004-04 seasons with the Flames, and tied an NHL record by scoring three playoff series-clinching goals in the same year – including two in overtime – during the Flames' 2004 Stanley Cup run (and joining Ken Linseman in the record book in the process). "The Eliminator," as Gelinas was known, is one just a handful of players to have reached the Stanley Cup Finals with four different teams; the left-winger won a Stanley Cup in 1990 as a member of the Edmonton Oilers and also played in the NHL Finals in 1994 and 2002. He also played two professional seasons in Switzerland (2004-05 and 2008-09).

A native of Shawinigan, Quebec, Gelinas made a splash in 1987-88 with the Hull Olympiques of the QMJHL with a 63-goal, 131-point campaign. He was named CHL Rookie of the Year in the process and selected seventh overall by the Los Angeles Kings in the 1988 NHL Entry Draft. But Gelinas never suited up for the Kings. Two months after the draft, on August 9, 1988, he was included in the celebrated "Gretzky Trade" that sent Gelinas, Kings centre Jimmy Carson, the team's first round picks in the 1989, 1991 and 1993 entry drafts, and a reported $15 million cash to Edmonton in exchange for Wayne Gretzky, Mike Krushelnyski and Marty McSorley.

Gelinas played six games for the Oilers in 1988 before being re-joining the Olympiques. In his first full NHL season in 1989-90, Gelinas had 25 points in 46 games, and won the Stanley Cup as Edmonton defeated the Boston Bruins in five games. Along with Joe Murphy and Adam Graves, he helped make up the popular Oilers' forward line known as "The Kid Line." Gelinas was the last player from the 1980s Oilers' dynasty active in the NHL.

He was traded to the Quebec Nordiques during the 1993 NHL Entry Draft and played 31 games for Quebec before being claimed on waivers by the Vancouver Canucks. Gelinas was a major factor in Vancouver's 1994 postseason run losing in seven games in the Stanley Cup Finals to the New York Rangers. He and goaltender Kirk McLean were traded to the Carolina Hurricanes on January 3, 1998, where he spent five seasons before joining the Calgary Flames. He went on to play a year in Switzerland during the 2004-05 season before signing with the Florida Panthers for the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons. He concluded his NHL career in 2007-08 as a member of the Nashville Predators, where his season was cut short by a knee injury. He was Nashville's Masterton Trophy nominee that year.

Gelinas and his family have lived in Calgary since 2002. He and his wife, Jane, have three children – a son, Matthew, and daughters Cameron and Morgan. Matthew was selected by Swift Current in the 2010 Western Hockey League Bantam Draft.

SERGEI MAKAROV - INDUCTED 2016 - PLAYER 1989-93

Born on June 1, 1958 in Chelyabinsk, USSR, Makarov first gained prominence by starring for Russia and winning gold at the 1977 and 1978 World Junior Championships. The skilled winger also participated in 11 World Championships, capturing gold eight times; the 1984 and 1987 Canada Cups; three Olympic tournaments where he twice took home the gold medal; four NHL tours by the Red Army; and the 1987 Rendez-vous series against the NHL All-Stars.

During this time, he was often teamed with Vladimir Krutov and Igor Larionov on the feared 'KLM Line,' arguably the world's best unit at that time. Sergei won the Izvestia Trophy nine times as the top scorer in the Soviet league.

Originally drafted 241st overall by the Calgary Flames in 1983, Makarov was one of the first Soviet stars to join the NHL when he made his debut in 1989-90. Oddly enough, his first duty with his new club took place in the USSR during the Friendship Tour which saw the Flames play several Soviet clubs as part of their exhibition season. When the NHL season began, the veteran sniper had little difficulty adjusting. He recorded 86 points (24 goals and 62 assists) and was presented with the Calder Trophy as the league's best rookie.

Makarov continued to produce points with the Flames for three more years, accumulating 94 goals and 198 assists for 292 points in 297 games, before being traded to the Hartford Whalers in June 1993. A few days later, he was sent to the San Jose Sharks where he was reunited with Igor Larionov to start the 1993-94 season. He sat out the 1995-96 season then signed as a free agent with the Dallas Stars, but played just four games in 1996-97 before joining Fribourg Gotteron of the Swiss League to complete the season.

Sergei Makarov scored 134 goals and 250 assists for 384 points in 424 regular season NHL games, and added 12 goals and 11 assists in 34 playoff games. In 519 games in the Soviet Championship League, he recorded 322 goals, 388 assists for 710 points. In 2001, Sergei was inducted into the IIHF Hall of Fame and in 2008, he was named to the IIHF All Centennial Team.

PHIL HOUSLEY - INDUCTED 2015 - PLAYER 1994-96, 1998-2001

Drafted in the first round, 6th overall, in the 1982 NHL Draft by the Buffalo Sabres, Phil Housley moved directly to the NHL at age 18 and was runner-up for the Calder Memorial Trophy as the NHL's top rookie in 1983. After eight seasons with the Sabres, the native of Saint Paul, Minnesota played three years with the Winnipeg Jets and another with the St. Louis Blues before being acquired by the Calgary Flames on July 4, 1994. In his first of two stints with the Flames, Housley recorded 24 goals and 95 points in 102 games split over two seasons. He rejoined Calgary to start the 1998-99 season and recorded 26 goals and 143 points over his next 226 games with the Flames. Housley's last season as a member of the Flames ended in 2000-01, and he finished his career in 2002-03 as a member of the Toronto Maple Leafs. In all, Housley scored 50 of his 338 career goals and 238 of his 1,232 points with the Flames, and represented Calgary at the 2000 NHL All-Star Game, one of seven career appearances.

DOUG GILMOUR - INDUCTED 2011 - PLAYER, 1988-92

On June 28, 2011, it was announced that Douglas Robert Gilmour would be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame. He was born June 25, 1963 in Kingston, Ontario, and had a 20-year NHL career.

In 1980-81, his first year with the Cornwall Royals (OHL), Gilmour was 5'9" and 150 pounds. After an early injury curtailed his effectiveness in Cornwall's 1981 Memorial Cup championship, he returned to score 46 goals and 119 points in 1981-82.

Cornwall repeated as Memorial Cup champions and Gilmour, who had been passed over in his first year of draft eligibility, was selected by the St. Louis Blues in the seventh round, 134th overall. He was returned to junior hockey by the Blues for the 1982-83 season and set the OHL on fire with 70 goals and 177 points, capturing the Eddie Powers Trophy as the OHL's leading scorer. He set a record with a 55 consecutive game scoring streak and was named the league's most valuable player.

St. Louis signed him and he joined the team two weeks before the 1983-84 season. The Blues' captain at the time, Brian Sutter, nicknamed Gilmour 'Killer' for his intensity.

After three full seasons hovering around 50 points, Gilmour began to play a more open game and during the 1986 playoffs, he had 21 points in 19 games when the Blues came within a game of advancing to the Stanley Cup Final. The next season, 1986-87, he finished the regular schedule with a career-high 42 goals and 105 points and was selected to represent Team Canada at the 1987 Canada Cup. He scored two important goals in the series against the Soviet Union and was instrumental in Canada's victory at the tournament.

After another solid season in St. Louis, Gilmour was traded to the Calgary Flames at the beginning of the 1988-89 campaign. In Calgary, Gilmour continued his strong play in the playoffs, adding 22 points in 22 games as the Flames won the Stanley Cup in 1989. Gilmour scored the series-winning goal in Game Six of the Final against Montreal. Halfway through the 1991-92 season he was traded to the Toronto Maple Leafs in a blockbuster deal involving 10 players; the largest trade in league history.

Gilmour set a Leafs franchise record with 127 points in his first full season with Toronto in 1992-93. He became only the second Leaf after Darryl Sittler to register over 100 points in a season and also led the team to within a game of the Stanley Cup Final, placing second in playoff scoring and leading the league with 25 assists. Gilmour placed second to Mario Lemieux in the race for the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player but won the Selke Trophy as the top defensive forward, a remarkable achievement for a player with such offensive numbers.

Gilmour had 111 points the next season, earning his second consecutive spot in the All-Star Game. He once again led the Leafs to the semi-finals in the playoffs. Gilmour was named the team captain in 1994-95 before the lockout-shortened season and remained a popular player in Toronto even as the team began to struggle. When the Leafs went into rebuilding mode midway through the 1996-97 season, Gilmour was sent to the New Jersey Devils. He spent one full season with the defence-oriented Devils and was signed as a free agent by the Chicago Blackhawks in the summer of 1998.

In the spring of 2000, he was traded to the Buffalo Sabres, then signed on as a free agent with the Montreal Canadiens in October 2001 and went on to play parts of two seasons with the Habs before he was dealt back to Toronto at the trade deadline in 2003.

He officially announced his retirement on September 8, 2003. Gilmour registered 1,414 points on the strength of 450 goals and 964 assists in 1,474 regular season games. He added 188 points (60 goals and 128 assists) in 182 playoff games.

On January 31, 2009, Gilmour became the 17th player to be honoured by the Toronto Maple Leafs when his number 93 was raised to the rafters of the Air Canada Centre.

JOE NIEUWENDYK - INDUCTED 2011 - PLAYER, 1986-95

On June 28, 2011, it was announced that Joe Nieuwendyk would be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame. Born in Oshawa, Ontario on September 10, 1966, and then raised in neighbouring Whitby, Joe Nieuwendyk played college hockey at Cornell University in New York State. Nieuwendyk spent three years on the Ivy League school's team and was twice named to the ECAC's First All-Star Team (1986 and 1987). He was also selected as an All-American in both years.

In 1985, after Nieuwendyk's freshman year at Cornell, the Calgary Flames were sufficiently impressed to draft him in the second round, 27th overall. In his first full season as a Flame (1987-88), the young centre scored 51 goals and 92 points, becoming only the second NHL player after Mike Bossy to score 50 goals in his rookie season. Nieuwendyk's totals also included an eye-popping 31 power-play goals and 8 game-winners, and he was rewarded with the Calder Trophy as the league's top rookie.

In Nieuwendyk's second season with the Flames he won the Stanley Cup, again scoring 51 goals. In 1991, he was named captain of the Flames. When knee problems prevented Nieuwendyk from playing early in the 1995-96 season, the Flames found few takers on the trade market. Finally, in December 1995, the Flames traded Nieuwendyk to the Dallas Stars for Jarome Iginla and Corey Millen.

Nieuwendyk missed most of the 1998 playoff due to a knee injury. However, in 1999, his health and luck returned as Nieuwendyk scored 6 game-winning goals in the playoffs to lead the Stars to victory over the Buffalo Sabres in the Stanley Cup Finals. That spring, he was recipient of the Conn Smythe Trophy as the playoff MVP.

Nieuwendyk went on to play parts of two more seasons with the Stars before he was traded to the New Jersey Devils. Following his arrival in New Jersey, Nieuwendyk reached numerous milestones, including the 500-goal plateau, 500 assists and 1,000 points.

In 2003, Nieuwendyk earned his third career Stanley Cup ring despite missing the Devils' Final due to injury. Later that summer he signed as a free agent with the Toronto Maple Leafs where he suited up for one season before opting to move on to the Florida Panthers in the summer of 2005.

Nieuwendyk's first season with the Florida Panthers saw the centre tally 56 points in 65 games, however, the club failed to qualify for the playoffs that spring. Due to chronic back problems, Nieuwendyk retired three months into his second season with the Panthers.

Joe Nieuwendyk left the NHL as one of the most respected players of his time, collecting 564 goals and 562 assists for 1,126 points through 1,257 regular season games. In playoff action, he added 66 goals and 50 assists for 116 points in 158 games.

Besides three Stanley Cup championships, Nieuwendyk won the Calder Trophy in 1988, the King Clancy Trophy (for dedication to his community) in 1995 and the Conn Smythe Trophy in 1999.

On the international stage, Nieuwendyk represented Canada at the 1986 World Junior Championships, at the 1990 World Championships, and is a two-time member of Canada's Winter Olympic team (1998 and 2002).

DARYL K. "DOC" SEAMAN - INDUCTED 2010 - OWNER, 1980-2009

On June 22, 2010, it was announced that Daryl K. "Doc" Seaman, a founding owner of the Calgary Flames, would be inducted into the Builder Category in the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Doc Seaman was born in Rouleau, Saskatchewan. He became one of Alberta's most successful oilmen and industrialists through his company, Bow Valley Industries, along with many other ventures. He and his brothers, B.J. and Don Seaman, were among the first wave of adventurous oilmen who pioneered the industry after the Second World War. Doc Seaman's war record was itself remarkable; he flew 82 successful combat missions out of North Africa as a sub-hunting pilot, earning a Government of France citation for bravery.

An original Calgary Flames owner, Doc Seaman followed the team passionately. Besides bringing the Flames to Calgary, he was a key player in building the Saddledome and bringing the 1988 Olympic Winter Games to Calgary.

A true hockey fan, Doc Seaman joined a small group of visionaries to save Canadian hockey from mediocrity at a time when the European game was becoming dominant. Canada's five straight junior hockey gold medal wins have their roots in Project 75, now called the Seaman Hotchkiss Hockey Foundation. He was a strong supporter of Hockey Canada's grassroots development program.

Among his numerous awards and achievements, Doc Seaman was the founding governor of the Hockey Canada Foundation in 1979; named an Officer, Order of Canada in 1993; elected to the Alberta Sports Hall of Fame in 2007; and received the Alberta Order of Excellence in 2008.

Doc Seaman became the second member of the Flames ownership group to be elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Harley N. Hotchkiss received the honour as a member of the Class of 2006. Daryl K. "Doc" Seaman passed away on Sunday, January 11, 2009, at the age of 86.

AL MacINNIS - INDUCTED 2007 - PLAYER, 1981-94

On November 12, 2007, Al MacInnis became the 10th member in the history of the Calgary Flames organization to be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Born Allan MacInnis on July 11, 1963, in Port Hood, Nova Scotia, he played junior hockey for the Kitchener Rangers beginning in 1980-81. During the summer of 1981, MacInnis was drafted in the first round, 15th overall, by the Flames. Although he played a handful of games for the Flames in both 1981-82 and 1982-83, MacInnis continued his junior career, which included a Memorial Cup championship in 1982.

After spending the early part of the 1983-84 season with the CHL's Colorado Flames, MacInnis became a full-time member of the Calgary Flames blue line later that season, playing 51 games and scoring 11 goals and 34 assists for 45 points.

MacInnis spent 13 seasons with Calgary before moving to St. Louis, but left Alberta having evolved into one of the most effective defencemen in the NHL. While with the Flames, he played in eight All-Star Games, but more importantly, was a key component of a Stanley Cup championship for Calgary in 1989, the first in franchise history. For his contributions in the playoffs that spring, including 7 goals and 24 assists in 22 games, MacInnis was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy. In 803 games played, MacInnis recorded 822 points as a member of the Flames. He also holds the career franchise record for assists (609).

HARLEY N. HOTCHKISS - INDUCTED 2006 - OWNER, 1980-2011

On June 28, 2006, Flames co-owner Harley Hotchkiss received the prestigious honour of election to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Hotchkiss, the youngest of six children, was raised on a farm near Tillsonburg, Ontario. He spent his winters on the pond playing hockey, emulating his beloved Toronto Maple Leafs. His idol was Syl Apps. In addition to dreaming of playing in the NHL, the young Hotchkiss also planned a second career in the business world, just in case. The game of hockey was the beneficiary of Harley's practical side as he used his business success to ensure the growth and development of hockey in Canada.

An original member of the Flames ownership group, Harley Hotchkiss was among the group of local businessmen who introduced the National Hockey League to the City of Calgary in the spring of 1980. The pinnacle of their storied history occurred in 1989 when the Flames captured the Stanley Cup. Of his numerous contributions to the game, one of his most notable efforts and role on behalf of the NHL were to find a resolution to the NHL labour dispute that forced the cancellation of the 2004-05 season. Hotchkiss served six two-year terms as chairman of the NHL Board of Governors.

Harley Hotchkiss was an avid supporter of Hockey Canada and through his efforts the Flames continue to make annual financial contributions to Hockey Canada for the development and growth of the game. With the investment in bringing the NHL to Calgary, the purchase of the Flames funded the creation of the Centre of Excellence that offered coaching clinics, research in hockey development and sports injuries as well as athletic scholarships to Canadian universities. The introduction of Project 75, now known as the Seaman Hotchkiss Hockey Foundation, contributed over $8 million that is distributed by Hockey Canada to benefit the game throughout the country.

His involvement in hockey reached from the grassroots to the top branch. As a young college athlete at Michigan State University, Harley Hotchkiss was a member of the 1950 Spartans varsity hockey club. His generosity for other like-minded hockey people was continuously demonstrated through his contributions for the construction of hockey arenas throughout Canada including Fox Valley, Saskatchewan, and Aylmer, Ontario. Harley Hotchkiss passed away on Wednesday, June 22, 2011.

PETER MAHER - INDUCTED 2006 - PLAY-BY-PLAY

Calgary Flames play-by-play man Peter Maher was honoured by the Hockey Hall of Fame as the winner of the 2006 Foster Hewett Memorial Award. Maher was the voice of the Flames from 1981 until his retirement following the 2013-14 season. A native of Campbellton, New Brunswick, Maher's success as a hockey play-by-play voice led to his induction into the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame in 1996. Maher has also called World Championship games, six NHL All-Star games, and the Stanley Cup Finals in 1980, 1986, 1989 and 2004.

The award, named in honour of the late Foster Hewitt, is presented in recognition of members of the radio and television industry who have made outstanding contributions to their profession and to the game of hockey.

CLIFF FLETCHER - INDUCTED 2004 - GENERAL MANAGER, 1972-91

After an outstanding 48-year career that continues in the NHL, Cliff Fletcher was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame as a Builder in 2004. Fletcher began his hockey career in 1956 with the Montreal Canadiens organization, starting as a scout under Sam Pollock. He joined the St. Louis Blues, eventually earning the role of Assistant General Manager, and helped manoeuvre the Blues into the Stanley Cup Final during the first three years of the franchise's existence. Fletcher was hired as the inaugural General Manager of the Atlanta Flames. He helped orchestrate the franchise's subsequent move from Atlanta to Calgary in time for the 1980-81 season. During Fletcher's regime with the Flames, his teams made the playoffs 16 straight seasons and finished first in their division in 1987-88, 1988-89 and 1989-90. In 1988-89, the Calgary Flames won the Stanley Cup.

Lured to Toronto in 1991, Fletcher spent six seasons as chief operating officer, president and general manager of the Maple Leafs. He was named the 1993 Executive of the Year by The Hockey News. As a team, Toronto improved by an incredible 32 points from 67 points in 1991-92 to a franchise-high 99 points in 1992-93. Following two seasons with the Tampa Bay Lightning as senior advisor to the General Manager, Fletcher was hired by the Phoenix Coyotes as executive vice-president and general manager. He is currently a senior advisor for the Toronto Maple Leafs.

GRANT FUHR - INDUCTED 2003 - PLAYER, 1999-2000, GOALTENDING CONSULTANT, 2000-02

Following a career that saw him attain over 400 NHL wins and amass five Stanley Cup championships, fittingly, Grant Fuhr was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. Although all five Cups (1984, 1985, 1987, 1988, 1990) were collected while backstopping the Edmonton Oilers, Fuhr completed his career as a member of the Calgary Flames.

On October 22, 1999, the Flames defeated the Florida Panthers and Fuhr attained his 400th career win and became only the sixth goaltender in NHL history to reach that milestone. Fuhr's accomplishments include six All-Star Game appearances, Vezina Trophy (1987), Jennings Trophy (1994) and two Canada Cup titles (1984 and 1987).

JOE MULLEN - INDUCTED 2000 - PLAYER, 1985-90

He spent 11 seasons with the Nordiques before being traded to the Chicago Blackhawks during the 1989-90 season. Goulet was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1998, alongside former teammate Peter Stastny.

Goulet's number 16 was retired by the Nordiques before a large crowd at le Colisée de Québec where he enjoyed his most productive years. Goulet won two Stanley Cups with the Colorado Avalanche in 1996 and 2001 as director of player personnel.

He played 492 career games with the Flames recording 406 points (215 G, 191 A). McDonald won the Bill Masterton Trophy (1982-83), the King Clancy Memorial Trophy (1987-88) and was named NHL Man-of-the-Year in 1988-89. BOB JOHNSON - INDUCTED 1992 - HEAD COACH, 1982-87

Robert "Badger Bob" Johnson was one of hockey's greatest boosters both in Calgary and throughout North America. Johnson posted a career coaching record of 234-188-58 with Calgary (1982-83 to 1986-87) and Pittsburgh (1990-91). He led the Penguins to a Stanley Cup championship in 1991. "It's a great day for hockey" is a remark hockey fans will always remember.

During his 18 seasons in the NHL, Glenn "Mr. Goalie" Hall posted a 2.51 GAA and was consistently recognized as a top goaltender, being selected to the All-Star Team 11 times. Hall led the NHL in shutouts for six seasons, including his rookie campaign when he won the Calder Trophy and had 84 regular season career shutouts. Hall still holds the record for most consecutive games by a goaltender, with 502, and appeared in 906 league games. He captured three Vezina Trophies, the Conn Smythe Trophy, one Stanley Cup and 13 All-Star Game appearances. In 1988 the Chicago Blackhawks retired Hall's jersey.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Since its creation in 1983, the Calgary Flames Foundation has served as the charitable arm of the Calgary Flames Hockey Club, offering much-needed funding to varied and far-reaching charities. Continuously evolving over its years in operation, the Flames Foundation now provides millions of dollars in contributions to these key pillars: amateur and grassroots sports, health and wellness and education. In keeping with the original mandate of the ownership group, the Calgary Flames Foundation strives to bring positive change to the lives of thousands of southern Albertans.

READING...GIVE IT A SHOT!

Entering into its 21st season, the Reading…Give It a Shot! program promotes the importance of literacy for Grades 4, 5 and 6 students and rewards them with Flames-themed bookmarks for every 100 minutes of reading.

Alongside the Calgary Educational Partnership Foundation (CEPF), the schools that participate in the program are entered into a draw to receive a visit from Flames players. Players do two school visits a season where they answer questions from the students and speak about the positive effects of literacy.

Harvey the Hound also promotes literacy to younger students eager to participate in the program. Through his own set of bookmarks that students from kindergarten through Grade 3 can collect for achieving their own reading goals.

Over 22,000 students participated last season in both programs. Students who meet their goals or collect all 24 bookmarks are rewarded with tickets to a Flames game or Flames jersey.

WHEELCHAIR HOCKEY

For 37 years, the Calgary Flames have gone up against the mighty Townsend Tigers of the Alberta Children's Hospital in a game of wheelchair hockey. Despite the players' immense talent on the ice, the Flames have yet to defeat the Tigers in what has become a staple in the Calgary sports calendar. Following the game, the players sign autographs for the winning champions.

The Flames versus Tigers tradition began in 1981 and despite their defeats in the gym, the Flames are still winners at the Alberta Children's Hospital. The Calgary Flames Foundation and the Rotary Clubs of Calgary teamed up to donate $2.5 million to help build Alberta's first hospice facility for children. Right next door to the Alberta Children's Hospital, Rotary/Flames House helps families who are in need of respite and palliative care.

ANNUAL HOLIDAY VISIT TO THE ALBERTA CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Around the holiday season, the Calgary Flames make their annual visit to the Alberta Children's Hospital visiting young patients, along with distributing toys and signing autographs. The players also participate in an arts and crafts activity with a group of children from the hospital as well as make individual room visits.

PUMPKIN CARVING

Every Halloween, Calgary Flames players and their significant others team up with families at the Ronald McDonald House to take part in carving pumpkins.

Ronald McDonald House® Southern Alberta provides a home away from home for out-of-town families with sick children receiving medical attention in a Calgary hospital.

CALGARY FLAMES HEALTH TRAINING CAMP

Each season, the Calgary Flames and the Calgary Flames Foundation invite fans of all ages to take part in the Calgary Flames Health Training Camp. This fun and informative event is completely free for both children and adults and promotes the importance of living active and healthy lifestyles. The event features a variety of fitness testing stations, a sports-registration area and interactive information stations that provide education on nutrition, wellness and proper exercise.

PLAYER PROGRAMS

Through active community and player relations, the Calgary Flames endeavour to develop and implement impactful and high profile community relations programs while establishing relationships with schools, youth sports, minor hockey and other charitable foundations.

While the Flames team programs continue to give back to the community, many Flames players also have personal commitments to charities and initiatives with the Flames Foundation matching each player's donations up to $25,000.

The players listed below have taken on additional personal commitments.

T.J. BRODIE – SKATE IN STRIDES

T.J. Brodie continues to grow his Skate In Strides program alongside CARSTAR Collision and Glass Service in support of Cystic Fibrosis (CF) Canada. Known for his effortless skating, Brodie has created custom made skate guards and a Skate in Strides branded Calgary Flames hat with all proceeds being matched by Brodie and the Calgary Flames Foundation in support of Brodie's cousin who has CF. Now in its fourth season, T.J. has created a new version of the hat for the 2017-18 NHL season that along with the skate guards, will be sold at Calgary Flames FanAttic stores, CARSTAR Calgary locations and online at flamesport.com. Since its inception in 2014, Brodie's Skate In Strides initiative has raised over $200,000 in support of Cystic Fibrosis Canada.

Brodie continues to also donate his time to CF by appearing at the Wrapping for a Cure event where shoppers have the opportunity to have their Christmas presents wrapped in exchange for making a donation to Cystic Fibrosis Canada.

MATT STAJAN – ALBERTA CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL AND ROTARY FLAMES HOUSE

Matt Stajan is the Flames Ambassador for the Alberta Children's Hospital, that includes donating a set of season's tickets to the hospital to distribute to patients, families and volunteers. Stajan and his wife, Katie also attend various events and volunteer at the hospital.

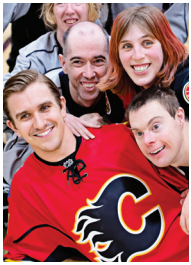

In partnership with KPMG, Stajan also donates $250 for every point earned this season to the Rotary Flames House, a facility that provides much needed respite care to families in the final days of an end-of-life journey.

MIKAEL BACKLUND – THE ALS SOCIETY OF ALBERTA

Mikael Backlund continues to align himself with the ALS Society of Alberta, an organization near to Backlund and his girlfriend Frida's hearts. In partnership with KPMG, Backlund donates $200 for every point earned this season to the ALS Society of Alberta and acts as a spokesperson for the organization, attend events and promote their cause. Each month, Mikael and Frida invite two families who are dealing with ALS, to a Flames home game where they receive lower bowl seats along with a post-game meet and greet with Mikael.

Backlund also has a close relationship with both the Kids Cancer Care Foundation of Alberta and Special Olympics Calgary and continues to support them by attending various events, donating tickets along with participating in Special Olympics floor hockey practices.

PLAYER PROGRAMS

MARK GIORDANO – TEAM GIORDANO

Mark Giordano and his wife Lauren continue to partner with the Calgary Board of Education on their Team Giordano community program. The initiative provides resources to four low-income Calgary schools to assist in meeting student needs and support personal student development. The funding supports the purchase of new computers, floor hockey equipment, school supplies and each child's own journal together with a program that provides students mentorship opportunities developed and supported by Mark and Lauren. As a way to help students create and achieve their own goals, every student in each Team Giordano school is encouraged and provided support to complete the Gio Journal describing the "5 G's" Mark believes are the keys to success in all walks of life.

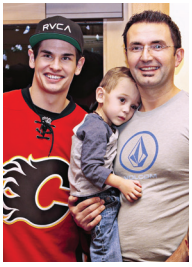

In recognition of his community efforts last season, Giordano was named the recipient of the 2017 Muhammad Ali Sports Humanitarian Award presented annually to an athlete whose continuous, demonstrated leadership has created a positive impact on their community through sports. Now in its fourth season, Team Giordano in partnership with Pizza 73 and the Calgary Italian Open, has donated $300,000 to its four schools, impacting the lives of 1,900 students.

SEAN MONAHAN – RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE CHARITIES SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Sean Monahan is the official ambassador to Ronald McDonald House Charities® Southern Alberta.

As the ambassador, Monahan donates tickets and makes regular visits to the house. Along with the tickets, the selected child and their family have the opportunity to meet the Flames centreman following the game. Monahan also commits to attending various events held at the house including Halloween pumpkin carving, games and cooking nights.

TRAVIS HAMONIC – HAMONIC'S D-PARTNER

Although this being his first season as a Flame, Travis Hamonic continues his efforts off the ice in supporting children who have lost a parent unexpectedly through "Hamonic's D-Partner" program presented by MEG Energy. The Flames defenceman first created the program six years ago while playing for the New York Islanders in honour of his father, who passed away when he was 10-years old. During each Flames home game, Hamonic invites a child or family, who have lost a parent unexpectedly, to attend a game. As his guest, they watch the action from Hamonic's personal seats. Following the game, the guest(s) meet Hamonic, take pictures, receive autographs and a Flames dressing room tour. What sets Hamonic's program apart from others is he sits down with each family as they share stories about their lost family member(s) and how they are and have coped with the situation. For his efforts, the St. Malo, Manitoba native was presented with the 2016-17 NHL Foundation Player Award at the NHL Awards in Las Vegas this past July which recognizes a player who applies the core values of hockey – commitment, perseverance and teamwork – to enrich the lives of people in his community.

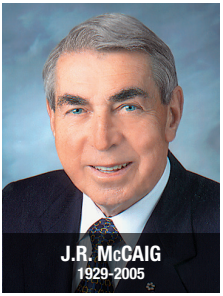

CURTIS LAZAR- HEROS HOCKEY

Since 2015, Curtis Lazar has been a proud ambassador for HEROS Hockey, a volunteer-driven charity that uses the game of ice hockey to teach life-skills and empower Canada's marginalized youth. Known for his approachable nature, the Flames forward attends practices and various charitable endeavours in support of the organization, which has been a beneficiary of the Flames Foundation that has resulted in a new HEROS program in the Calgary neighbourhood of Bowness.
