CLASS A ADVANCED AFFILIATE

On behalf of the Stockton Ports organization – from ownership, on field personnel, front office staff, and game day staff, I want to personally thank all our fans, patrons, community partners, and sponsors for your loyalty, your passion, and commitment to the Stockton Ports. We are proud to represent the City of Stockton and each of you every time we take the field, make a public appearance, participate in charitable endeavours, and the myriad of other activities we are involved in year-round.

2020 was a year unlike any other, but it taught us to adapt and overcome in ways that may not have been thought of under different circumstances. This past year, the Ports' front office focused on impacting our community in a helpful and memorable manner. We were able to do so through donations, mascot appearances, and supporting local businesses - but most importantly by staying optimistic and working to continue to provide a first-class atmosphere for the Stockton community.

As we continue to work through these challenging times as a community, we continue to focus on being optimistic and hopeful for a great 2021 and beyond. While we missed each of you at Banner Island Ballpark with the cancellation of the 2020 season, we are excited to welcome you back and provide an enjoyable and safe experience here at Banner Island Ballpark! Go Ports!

FIELD STAFF

RICO BROGNA | MANAGER

Brogna joins the Ports for his first season in the Oakland Athletics system. Brogna played nine seasons in the major leagues with the Detroit Tigers, New York Mets, Philadelphia Phillies, Boston Red Sox, and Atlanta Braves. Brogna was drafted in the first round (26th) by the Detroit Tigers in the 1988 MLB Draft. After his playing career, he spent one season as a minor league manager with the Arizona Diamondbacks, one season managing in the Philadelphia Phillies organization, and spent time in the front office with the Los Angeles Angels.

CHRIS SMITH | PITCHING COACH

Pitching Coach Chris Smith will enter his second season as a coach, but is no stranger to the Athletics organization. Originally drafted by the Boston Red Sox in 2002, Smith spent time in the Brewers, Mariners, and Padres organizations before signing a Minor League contract that landed him with the A's in 2015. Smith was added to the A's 40-man roster in 2016 and pitched in Oakland during the 2016 and 2017 seasons.

FRANCISCO SANTANA | HITTING COACH

Francisco Santana will enter his first season as the hitting coach of the Ports. Santana spent the 2019 season with the Arizona A's and spent the previous two seasons in the Dominican Republic complex with the A's as the outfield and base running coach. He played five years in the New York Yankees organization, recording 12 homers and 100 RBI in 237 career MiLB games.

CRAIG CONKLIN | ASSISTANT HITTING COACH

Craig Conklin joins the Ports as the assistant hitting coach. Conklin spent the 2019 season as a coach with the Las Vegas Aviators and the four seasons prior as the Southern California Area scout for the A's.

KEVIN GUILD | SPORT PERFORMANCE COACH

Guild will join the Ports for his first season in 2021, having spent the past two seasons as the strength and conditioning coach for the Vermont Lake Monsters. Prior to joining the A's, Guild was the strength and conditioning coach at Keene High School. A graduate of Keene State College, Guild has also served as the Next College Student Athlete New Hampshire State Director.

JAKE ROUTHIER | ATHLETIC TRAINER

Jake Routhier will serve as the athletic trainer for the Stockton Ports after serving in the same capacity in the Dominican Summer League in 2019. Routhier previously worked as an intern for the New York Yankees and the Arizona Diamondbacks. He is a graduate of the University of Connecticut.

VIC ZAPIEN | CLUBHOUSE MANAGER

Vic Zapien is returning for his 16th season as the Ports Clubhouse Manager. Zapien began his career with the Ports in 2003 as their bat boy and was promoted to Clubhouse Manager in 2004. Zapien has acted as the California League All-Star Team Clubhouse Manager three times in 2007, 2011 and 2013 and was honored with the California League Clubhouse Manager of the Year award three times in 2010, 2015 and 2017. Zapien currently resides in Stockton with his daughter Amya Zapien, who you frequently see around the ballpark acting as his Clubhouse Assistant.

Q & A

with RICO BROGNA

by Grace Mikuriya

Q Advanced stats are big part of the game today and how it's played. You've had the chance to dive into the analytic world being one of the first quality control coaches in the MLB and going back to school recently getting your Master's Degree in Cybersecurity. How do you think you'll be able to implement that into your coaching style here?

A I think that the analytics aspect will help me in trying to put players in the best position to succeed in games and for the season. It is not 100% reliable, but reliable nonetheless. In player development, we try to have it where players can be placed in a position to execute their job on the field more accurately, and better suited for situations in-game. It also will help the team in this same way, at least that is my hope. The key is to not get players too bogged down in stats, but at the same time the numbers reveal hidden secrets that may help them in these types of situations.

Q You've been coached by some of the greatest coaches to do it, Terry Francona, Bobby Valentine, Bobby Cox and even Sparky Anderson. What are the takeaways / lessons you took from those managers of such a prestigious background and how has it made you into the successful coach you are today?

A I have definitely benefited from being around some great baseball people, managers. Tito Francona was and is a mastermind. His key has always been terrific communication skills, with players and all people generally. I know I have learned a great deal about that from him. His honesty and practicality regarding baseball is so important, and so interesting at the same time. Sparky was an old school guru, a giant in this great game of ours! His success revolved around placing the players, the right players, first. He was a sneaky tactician and used a unique competitive spirit to drive his winning teams. And again, like Tito, Bobby Cox was a terrific communicator, and he was always well prepared for the game and series at hand. Dallas Green gave me a shot to play in MLB, and I am forever grateful to Dallas for that. I learned a lot from Dallas, especially the importance of being on the field every day, no matter the circumstances. You have to be able to play, to play and perform. Bobby Valentine is so smart. His plus for me was teaching me how to hit, and hit with power. Bobby V. is such a great teacher, especially when it comes to the all-important smaller details.

Q You were hired as the coach of the A's Class-A Short Season Vermont Lake Monsters last year, but the pandemic shelved the opportunity. You get the chance this season to finally be back, what's it like to be back in the baseball environment again after stepping away?

A Baseball always finds a way to rebound, even under difficult circumstances. The joy of the game is a forever thing and the fact that we are still able to play is such a blessing, one not to be taken for granted, ever.

Q What is your favorite thing about being a coach?

A I love to coach! The joy is in watching players and teams develop, improve and of course, win. Sports competition is among my favorite things in life, and being a coach is being a part of that process. Nothing better!

Q What is one thing you want the Stockton Porters community to know about you coming in?

A I am all about team and teamwork. I consider myself a Belichick disciple in that regard. Nothing is more important in team sports than trying to always do what is in the best interest of the team. Team comes first. Our fans in Stockton will be watching a team that truly believes in teamwork, togetherness and all.

In addition to fundraising, the Stockton Ports are very proud to have continued their involvement with the San Joaquin County community throughout the year.

With safety protocols and guidelines followed, the team shifted gears towards virtual events such as The Virtual Back to School Drive and the Dock Dash virtual 5k. The Stockton Ports would like to extend our gratitude to the Stockton community and our loyal fanbase for their constant support and dedication, even during these unprecedented times.
