There are 11 different paths a player can take to get on an NBA G League team. There are Two-Way players, returning players, NBA affiliate players, local tryout players, NBA G League draft picks, NBA Draft rights players, NBA assignees, NBA Draft-eligible players, trades, the Expansion Draft and free agents.

Two-Way Players

Beginning in 2017-18, NBA rosters expanded from 15 to 17 players with the addition of two spots for players under “Two-Way” contracts. NBA teams may have up to two players under Two-Way contracts who will spend the bulk of the season in the NBA G League and not more than 45 days with their NBA team during the NBA G League season. Two-Way players are paid a corresponding daily amount based on the number of days they play in each league. Only players with four or fewer years of NBA service are able to sign Two-Way contracts, which can be for either one or two seasons.

Two-Way NAZ Suns in 2019-20: Jared Harper

Returning Players

Teams hold the rights to any player who has played for them within the last two seasons, as long as they have not released or traded that player.

Returning NAZ Suns in 2019-20: Aaron Epps, ShawnDre Jones, Daxter Miles Jr., Trayvon Palmer

Affiliate Players

When NBA teams trim their rosters during training camp and the preseason, their exclusive affiliates have first rights among NBA G League teams at acquiring those waived players. Organizations can designate up to four “affiliate players,” though those players will remain NBA free agents. This allows NBA front offices to identify prospects that they like and keep them in their system.

Local Tryout Players

NBA G League teams hold tryouts each offseason, inviting some athletes to participate for free while attracting locals who pay a fee to participate. Teams can invite up to five players to their training camps.

Local Tryout NAZ Suns in 2019-20: Stephen Ugochukwu

NBA G League Draft Picks

Each fall, more than 200 players are signed by the league and placed in the NBA G League Draft. About half are drafted among a field of NBA and NBA G League vets, international pros, undrafted rookies and NBA G League National Tryout players.

Drafted NAZ Suns in 2019-20: Keljin Blevins, Anthony Lawrence II

NBA Draft Rights Players

NBA teams can draft and sign players to NBA G League contracts. Only that team can call up those players and retain their rights with the “Draft Rights Player” rule.

There are no NBA Draft rights players for the NAZ Suns in 2019-20

NBA Assignees

NBA teams can assign players with three years of service or less an unlimited number of times. The NBA teams have contracts with those players, so they retain the rights to exclusively call such players up.

NBA assignee NAZ Suns in 2019-20: Jalen Lecque

NBA Draft-Eligible Players

A player who has not yet entered the NBA Draft can instead enter the NBA G League and maintain his NBA Draft eligibility. If the player signs with the NBA G League before the season, he is eligible for the NBA G League Draft. If he signs midseason, he is available for NBA G League teams to claim in the league waiver pool. NBA Draft-eligible players are not eligible to be called up by NBA teams.

There are no NBA Draft-eligible NAZ Suns in 2019-20

Trades

NBA G League teams can trade players on their team who have signed an NBA G League contract, the rights to players the team still owns, and draft picks. Players who have signed with an NBA team cannot be traded.

There are no trade acquisitions by the NAZ Suns in 2019-20

Expansion Draft

When new franchises join the league, an expansion draft is held prior to the start of training camps. Each team can protect the rights of up to 12 players while the expansion teams can select up to 14 unprotected players, with no more than two picks coming from any one team. Teams hold the rights to those players for two seasons.

Free Agents

Players who didn't find a team from any other way mentioned are free agents, and teams can place claims on those players. Teams are granted the players based on a rotation-waiver system. If a player goes unclaimed by all teams, they can be added by any team from the Available Player Pool.

G League Expansion

The NBA G League will feature an all-time high 28 teams during the 2019-20 season, each singly affiliated with an NBA parent club. The league launched with eight teams in 2001-02 and had grown to 27 teams by the 2018-19 season. One additional team will begin play in 2019-20, the College Park Skyhawks. The 2018-19 Erie BayHawks affiliated with the Atlanta Hawks are the new College Park Skyhawks, while the 2019-20 BayHawks will begin its first year of affiliation with the New Orleans Pelicans. The 2019-20 BayHawks took part in the 2019 Expansion Draft. The Pelicans will move their affiliate from Erie to Birmingham, Alabama, debuting in 2022-23.

Playoff Format

The NBA G League playoff format will remain the same as the format debuted in 2017-18. Of the 28 teams, 12 will make the four-round postseason. The team with the best regular season record in each division automatically qualifies for the post-season as one of six division winners. The additional six playoff berths will be filled by the three wild card teams in each conference with the best regular season records, other than the division winners. The conferences will be seeded one through six, with the division winners owning the first, second and third seeds and the wild card teams occupying the fourth, fifth and sixth seeds based on regular season records. The top two seeds in each conference will earn a bye into the second round. The playoffs will begin with three single-elimination rounds before culminating with a best-of-three NBA G League Finals, which will be played in a one-one-one format.

Rule Changes

The NBA G League will debut an experimental rule change for the 2019-20 season regarding the number of free throws a player will attempt when he goes to the free throw line.

Under the new experimental rule, one free throw worth one, two or three points will be awarded in the event of any foul that would typically result in one, two or three free throws being shot under standard NBA rules. The experimental free throw rule will not apply during the last two minutes of the fourth quarter or the entirety of any overtime period.

The NBA G League will continue to play with experimental rules that were previously implemented, including the transition take foul, the 14-second shot clock reset on an advance, a two-minute overtime period, the away-from-the-play foul rule and the reset timeout. The reset allows teams to call a timeout to advance the ball and make substitutions but not huddle in the final two minutes of the fourth quarter and during entire overtime periods. Apart from experimental rules, NBA G League games are played under all other NBA rules.

Robert Sarver

Managing Partner

Robert Sarver is the managing partner of Arizona's original sports franchise. In addition, the Arizona native and Valley resident is a successful businessman and a committed philanthropist, husband and father with a lifelong passion for basketball, the Suns, the state of Arizona, and—above all—winning.

THE OWNER

As an 8-year-old boy, Robert Sarver attended his first Phoenix Suns basketball game after receiving tickets as a birthday gift from Donald Diamond, one of the franchise's original owners. Thirty-five years later in 2004, Sarver became the majority owner of one of the NBA's model franchises, assembling a group of investors that purchased the Suns, the WNBA's Phoenix Mercury, and the operating rights to US Airways Center, since renamed Talking Stick Resort Arena. In 2016, the Suns purchased their NBA G League affiliate and relocated the team to Prescott Valley to operate as the Northern Arizona Suns.

In 14 years under Sarver's leadership, the Suns have enjoyed great success on the court. His tenure includes three appearances in the Western Conference Finals and two of the three 60-win seasons in the franchise's 50-year history. Phoenix owns the 12th-best record in the NBA since the start of the 2004-05 season (585-547, .517).

Sarver's passion for winning extends beyond the men's game. His commitment to the WNBA in Phoenix has resulted in the Mercury winning three league championships, in 2007, 2009 and 2014, with the team winning a WNBA-record 29 games in the 2014 regular season. Regular contenders for the title, the Mercury have made 10 appearances in the league semifinals in the past 12 seasons. Over the last 14 seasons through 2018, the Mercury's record of 259-217 ranks it fourth in the WNBA in wins.

Guided by his stated mission, the Suns and Mercury organizations are industry leaders in business innovation and community outreach and involvement. Sarver is a member of the NBA's Board of Governors, Advisory Finance Committee, and Audit and Compensation Committee.

In addition to his commitments in basketball, Sarver owns a controlling share of RCD Mallorca, a Spanish soccer club.

THE BUSINESSMAN

Sarver is the Executive Chairman of Western Alliance Bancorporation (NYSE: WAL), one of the country's top-performing banking companies and ranked No. 2 on the Forbes 2018 "Best Banks in America" list. He has been the Executive Chairman of Western Alliance Bank since April 1, 2018, prior to which Sarver served as Chairman and CEO beginning in December 2002. He also served as the President from December 2002 to April 2010.

Alliance Bank of Arizona, a division of Western Alliance Bank, is the largest locally-headquartered bank in Arizona and is ranked No. 4 in deposits in the state. The bank continues to be one of the most active business lenders in Arizona and, in 2017, Sarver was voted Banking CEO of the Year by International Banker magazine, a noted resource for analysis on global banking. Sarver is also the co-founder of Southwest Value Partners, a 27-year-old real estate investment fund.

On January 1, 2018, Sarver began his second one-year term representing the 12th District on the Federal Advisory Council, meeting multiple times a year with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in Washington, D.C., to discuss economic and banking matters. Members of the FAC customarily serve three one-year terms.

THE PHILANTHROPIST

Sarver's philanthropic efforts focus not simply on worthy causes but also giving back to Arizona and its local communities, both through Phoenix Suns Charities and his and his wife's own personal contributions. In 2016, Sarver was presented with the Greater Phoenix Economic Council Distinguished Service Award for his economic and philanthropic leadership and contributions to the Phoenix area.

Under Sarver's leadership, Phoenix Suns Charities has granted more than $20 million to Arizona non-profits. Phoenix Suns Charities focuses on enhancing the lives of Arizona children and families in need, specifically in areas of education, healthcare and sports. Most notably, Sarver has spearheaded a successful program called "SunsCentral," through which the team's 'adoption' of a Phoenix high school has dramatically increased the graduation rate from 68 to 83 percent. To celebrate the Suns' 50th season in 2017-18, Sarver and the Phoenix Suns Charities Board of Directors completed a $1 million project to renovate 50 basketball courts throughout Arizona.

Among his proudest accomplishments, Sarver helped to build the Sarver Heart Center at the University of Arizona in memory of his late father, who was among the first to undergo heart bypass surgery. The center is composed of more than 150 physicians and scientists and aims to prevent and cure cardiovascular diseases through the three pillars of research, education and patient care. Pioneering doctors at the center have spearheaded the development of the SynCardia temporary Total Artificial Heart, an award-winning project that became the world's first and only total artificial heart to win FDA approval as a bridge to human heart transplant in patients near death from heart failure.

Doctors and researchers at the center also developed a hands-only CPR method called Continuous Chest Compression CPR that more than doubles a person's chance of surviving cardiac arrest. This method was adopted by the American Heart Association and is now internationally recognized. In addition to a focus on resuscitation science, the center focuses on stroke research, heart disease in women, sudden cardiac death, minority-specific cardiovascular problems, and electrophysiology.

The Sarvers were also instrumental in helping to build the Children's Museum of Phoenix, located in downtown Phoenix. A $1 million donation from the Penny and Robert Sarver Charitable Foundation aided in the completion of the 70,000-square-foot facility.

Sarver is on the board of directors for the Weil Foundation, established by Dr. Andrew Weil, an internationally recognized leader in integrative medicine.

THE PERSON

Sarver attended Sabino High School in Tucson and is a 1982 graduate of the University of Arizona. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and became a certified public accountant in 1983.

Sarver and wife, Penny, have three sons, Max, Jake and Zach. On their first date, Robert invited Penny to watch the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament at his house. Sarver enjoys watching basketball and soccer at all levels alongside his family.

NAZ Suns Notes

NBA BOUND

- Jawun Evans was called up by the Phoenix Suns on Dec. 7. He signed a Two-Way contract, as he became the ninth call-up in team history (eighth player). He's now a Two-Way player with the Oklahoma City Thunder and Oklahoma City Blue.
  - Through their first three seasons, the NAZ Suns have had eight unique player call-ups. That's tied for the second most unique player call-ups any team has had in NBA G League history through its first three seasons of existence (behind Delaware's nine from 2013-16, tied with Santa Cruz's eight from 2012-15).

DEVELOP, DEVELOP, DEVELOP

- Development was king for the Northern Arizona Suns in 2018-19. Above all else, they wanted to develop players, coaches and staff.
  - NAZ started 3-24 --> NAZ finished 9-14
  - December (96.0 PPG, .399 FG%, .329 3PT%, .692 FT%, 40.9 RPG, 44.9 APG) --> March (109.4 PPG, .458 FG%, .345 3PT%, .773 FT%, 44.9 RPG, 26.8 APG)
  - Retin Obasohan moved from 6.9 PPG in the first half of season --> 16.0 PPG in second half. He averaged 17.6 PPG (.491 FG%, .400 3PT%, .733 FT%), 4.7 RPG, 6.9 APG and 1.5 SPG when starting (his last 14 games). He averaged 8.1 PPG (.388 FG%, .080 3PT%, .614 FT%), 2.8 RPG, 4.2 APG and 1.5 SPG when coming off the bench (his first 19 games).
  - Aaron Epps went from 6.5 PPG and 4.6 RPG in November --> 13.3 PPG and 7.7 RPG in March

The NAZ Suns broke several league and team offensive records in just their second season in the NBA G League. Just before the start of the year, head coach Ty Ellis and assistant coaches Bret Burchard and Brandon Rosenthal, were called up by the Phoenix Suns. Northern Arizona hired an offensive minded assistant coach from the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, Cody Toppert, to lead the team in 2017-18. Under Toppert, the Suns had five players called up by an NBA team, the most by any team in the league. Xavier Silas was called up by the Boston Celtics on March 28, Shaquille Harrison was called up by the Phoenix Suns on Feb. 21, Josh Gray was called up by the Suns on Feb. 2, Derrick Jones Jr. was called up by the Miami Heat on Dec. 31, and Isaiah Canaan was called up by the Suns on Dec. 13. The Suns were one of the best offensive teams in the league, averaging the second most points (119.3 PPG), the most three-point makes (14.9 per), the fourth best three-point percentage (.372) and the third best offensive rating (110.7). NAZ set a franchise record for points scored with 144 vs. SBL in an OT game on Dec. 5, as they scored 140+ four times, the most such games by any team in the league. The Suns set a new team record for largest margin of victory with their 44-point win (138-94) over the Santa Cruz Warriors on Dec. 12. It tied the sixth largest margin of victory in NBA G League history.

Besides call-ups, several Suns had great individual achievements as well. Silas was one of 12 players to make USA Basketball's roster for the first round, second-window set of World Cup Qualifying. Silas helped Team USA improve to 4-0 in the first round with wins over Cuba and Puerto Rico. Silas accepted an invitation to USA Basketball's World Cup Qualifying Team training camp, and as part of it, he played for NBA G League USA against the Mexico National Team in the NBA G League International Challenge. Mike Young was named to the All-NBA G League Showcase Second Team after tallying two double-doubles in the Suns' 2-0 set in Mississauga, Ontario, Canada. Josh Gray was named the NBA G League Player of the Week on Jan. 8 after averaging 24.5 points, 8.5 rebounds, 6.5 assists and 6.0 steals per game in two contests, leading the Suns to a 2-0 week. He shot 56.3 percent from the field and 56.3 percent from beyond the arc. Three Suns were also in the top 15 for three-point makes on the season; Silas (154, 4th), Alec Peters (130, 9th), Gray (120, 11th).

The Northern Arizona Suns began their inaugural season in style, winning their first three games and 10 of their first 11, including their first eight home games. The Suns tied the D-League record for the best start through the first 11 games of a season. The Rio Grande Valley Vipers (2013-14), the Iowa Energy (2009-10) and the Columbus Riverdragons (2004-05) were the only other teams in NBA D-League history to begin a season 10-1. No one has ever started the season 11-0.

Johnny O'Bryant earned the first GATORADE Call-Up in team history on Jan. 26, signing with the Denver Nuggets. He was averaging 18.4 points (46.0 FG%) and 8.6 rebounds at the time, recording 10 double-doubles in 24 games. He was named the NBA D-League Performer of the Week for games played Jan. 9-15, averaging 24.0 points and 17.0 rebounds. Just before being called up, O'Bryant earned an NBA D-League Showcase Honorable Mention. He returned to the Suns when his second 10-day contract expired, and it turned out well, because while in Denver he was named an NBA D-League All-Star, the first such honor for a player in team history. He was one of 12 original players named to the NBA D-League Western Conference All-Star team. He was later called up by the Charlotte Hornets. Elijah Millsap also earned a call-up during the year, signing with the Phoenix Suns shortly after the D-League season concluded.

At the All-Star break, O'Bryant wasn't alone. Derek Cooke Jr. competed in the D-League Dunk Contest. Although Cooke did not make it to the final round of the contest, his second dunk in the preliminaries got the crowd at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans to its feet. Derrick Jones Jr. competed in the NBA Slam Dunk Contest, going against Indiana's Glenn Robinson III, Orlando's Aaron Gordon and the LA Clippers' DeAndre Jordan. With a composite score of 95 points, Jones advanced to the finals and took home second place.

The Suns finished the season at 22-28, but were competitive in every game. The best highlight from the latter part of the year came on March 9 at Texas, when Askia Booker made the first game-winning buzzer beating shot in team history.
