MATCH NOTES

MATCH PREVIEW:

Coming off the biggest win in club history Tuesday night downing Toronto FC 2-1 in the first leg of the Canadian Championship Semifinal, Fury FC return to USL action looking to continue their climb up the standings when they host the Richmond Kickers Saturday afternoon at TD Place. Saturday's game marks the third game of a grueling stretch of five matches in 16 days.

While the club still has work to do in solidifying itself among the top sides in USL, Ottawa has won all three of its fixtures in the Canadian Championship and have just one loss in their last nine contests in all competition (5W-3D-1L).

Perhaps it was their come-from-behind win last Saturday in New York that helped fuel their confidence for their comeback win over Toronto FC Tuesday night. Either way, the offense is clicking for Paul Dalglish's side that has scored six goals in their last two games and nine in their last four. Ryan Williams – with two penalty kicks – and Sito Seoane have scored in back-to-back games for Ottawa, while Michael Salazar was named to USL Team of the Week - thanks to his performance in the 4-3 win against the New York Red Bulls II where he scored his first goal in Fury colours and added an assist.

Saturday's opponent, the Richmond Kickers, was Ottawa's opposition in their first-ever USL victory on April 15th. The Kickers have proven a sound defensive side owning the second best defensive record in the Eastern Conference and with just one loss in their last five contests, Fury FC will need to continue to flex their offensive muscles if they hope to claim their first home win of the season in USL action. Fury FC will once again be facing a few familiar faces against Richmond, as former Fury FC members Marcel DeBellis (GK), Mallan Roberts (D) and Oliver Minatel (F) are now playing for the Kickers.

A third straight win would not only aid in Ottawa's USL ambitions, but continue to fuel the team's confidence heading into its second leg match in Toronto on May 31 where Ottawa will be looking to advance to the Canadian Championship Final for the first time in club history.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING:

Fury FC GM and Head Coach, Paul Dalglish:

"We are in great form going forward at the moment and we need to keep doing all the things that have made us successful lately. Richmond are one of the better teams in our conference defensively so we need to be at our best offensively. We are determined to score goals at home for our supporters and will certainly do everything we can to achieve that."

Fury FC Forward, Sito Seoane:

"I'm happy with our last two games because the team managed to fight back and end up with a win against two great oppositions. On the personal side I'm happy because I could help the team with goals, but most important with hard work. Richmond is a team that doesn't concede many goals, but we will have a plan to break that down. We have to follow the plan that the coaches will give us and work hard in front of our fans to get the 3 points."

Fury FC Forward, Michael Salazar:

"The coaches put me in a great position to be the type of player that I am, creating chances and also being dangerous, so overall I am satisfied. We have been working very hard in training to score goals. So now the goals are starting to come and all the pieces are fitting in the right place and the results as well. The key against Richmond will be to continue to build off of what we have been doing during the week and stick to the coach's game plan."

ABOUT THE KICKERS:

Established in 1993, the Richmond Kickers have consistently been one of the most successful professional soccer clubs in America. Over the past 18 seasons, Richmond has qualified for postseason play 16 times, and reached the title match in 2010 for the sixth time in the past nine campaigns, falling just short of the Championship title following a 2-1 loss to the Charleston Battery. Richmond's seven previous league Championship appearances (1995, 1996, 2002, 2005, 2006, 2007, and 2009) include winning the Premier League title in 1995, a shoot-out loss to Seattle in the USL First Division final in 2005 and taking the USL Second Division crown twice against Charlotte in 2006 and 2009. The Kickers have claimed Organization of the Year honors on five occasions (1995, 2000, 2006, 2007, and 2009) and have had 22 players progress from the Richmond Kickers into Major League Soccer.
