In addition, he caught a nine-yard pass against Oakland in the Kingdome on a fake field goal, and was used as the lead blocker on another successful fake against Philadelphia. Carried a club record streak of 12 straight field goals into the 1980 season and made his first attempt in the season opener before missing a 54-yarder. He then made his next seven, including four in five attempts in the Seahawks' 26-7 win at Houston. Herrera also had three field goals against Kansas City, with his only miss a club and personal record 60-yarder on the final play of the game, and two field goals in four other games. In all, he connected on 20-of-31 attempts (also club and personal highs) with only one miss inside the 40-yard line. He added 33-of-33 extra points to total a current record streak of 52 in a row entering the 1981 season. He has converted 52 of 75 field goal attempts in his Seattle career (.693) and 96 of 140 (.686) in six NFL campaigns. In Seattle's final 1980 pre-season game, Herrera kicked field goals of 53, 47, and 42 yards as the Seahawks beat New England 30-23 on national television, and was successful with an onside kick. In three years with the Seahawks, he has been successful on seven of 15 onside kick attempts, recovering one himself, including three of four in 1979. He led the team in scoring with a club and personal record 100 points that season, while excelling on national television. In three regular season appearances, Herrera was 11 for 11 on extra points, four of four on field goals (including three beyond 40 yards against the Jets), caught a 20-yard pass against Atlanta, and was successful with an onside kick against the Falcons. After joining the Seahawks in a 1978 pre-season trade with the Dallas Cowboys for a fifth-round draft choice, Herrera kicked the game-winning field goal (19 yards) on the last play of the game to beat Minnesota; sent the second Denver game into overtime with a 37-yarder with 54 seconds to play; and beat Oakland with a 46-yarder with three seconds left. That season he underwent an appendectomy operation following the 15th game of the season and came back the next week to make a 31-yard field goal and two of three extra points against Kansas City in the season finale. Herrera earned consensus all-pro honors in 1977 with Dallas as his 93 points that season were the most by an NFC kicker. He kicked two field goals and three extra points in the Cowboys' 27-10 win over Denver in Super Bowl XII. He has missed only two field goals inside the 30 in his career. Had a string of 82 straight conversions snapped in 1977 when he missed against Philadelphia. Originally was drafted by the Detroit Lions in 1974 on the seventh round. KINGDOME

The Kingdome, at a cost of $67 million and with a seating capacity of 64,757 for football, is the least expensive domed, air-conditioned stadium of its size in the world.

Built on a 35.9-acre site just south of Seattle's central business district, the walls of the Dome anchor the world's largest self-supporting concrete roof.

The project was completed by Peter Kiewit Sons' Construction Co. and was originally a bond issue passed by a 62 percent majority of the voters of King County and spearheaded by County Executive John Spellman, now state Governor. Construction began on November 2, 1972.

The first professional football game in the Kingdome, August 1, 1976, between the Seahawks and San Francisco 49ers drew 60,825 fans. Since that time, the Seahawks have played before 27 regular-season sellout crowds, and have a string of 28 consecutive sellouts, including pre-season games, dating back to 1978. The Seahawks have finished in the top nine among all NFL clubs in attendance each of their first five seasons. The Kingdome is also the home of the American League Seattle Mariners, National Basketball Association Seattle SuperSonics and North American Soccer League Seattle Sounders. Among other events held in the Kingdome have been the Auto Show, Seattle Boat Show, rock concerts, and the Billy Graham Crusade. The Billy Graham Crusade on May 14, 1976, which attracted 74,000 people, still ranks as the single event attendance leader in the Kingdome.

ON THE SIDELINES

SEA GALS

Five-year Sea Gals member Paris Brown of Seattle is the 1981 director of the Seahawks sideline dance group. She will be assisted by another former Sea Gal, Sheri Jones, who will serve as the group's choreographer.

A squad of 24 women was selected from nearly 200 who tried out during competition in April.

Thirteen returnees from the 1980 squad are: Lorri Anderson, Michele Honts, Keri Kangas and Penny Schneringer of Bellevue; Debye Benavides, Karen Godwin, Margaret Morris-Martinez, Mary Osborn, Lorrie Slaughter, Kathy Thompson, Keri Truscan and Tracey Wofford of Seattle; and Kim Schutz of Pullman.

The eleven newcomers to the squad are: Patty Schorsch, Dawn Gray and Susan Locke of Seattle; Robin Houlbjerg of Mercer Island; Tori Bosler of Woodinville; Candy Stone of Issaquah; Kristen Ramberg of Camano Island; Sherri Thompson of Sumner; Conrada Villa of Hoquiam; Tracy Wheelhouse of Bothell; and Laura Blocher of Kent.

SEAHAWKS BAND

Roy Cummings, trumpet instructor and director of the jazz ensemble at the University of Washington, is in his sixth year as director of the 25-member Seahawks Band. The Uptown, Lowdown Jazz Band will perform outside the Kingdome before and after all home games.

HALFTIME SHOWS

Three popular halftime shows from 1980 will return to the Kingdome for encore performances during the 1981 season: the University of Washington Marching Band, the Muscular Dystrophy Bed Race finals and Salute to Seafair, while the Up With People singers, based in Tucson, Arizona, will make their third Kingdome appearance.

Making their Kingdome debuts will be the Oregon State University Marching Band and the Centennial High School (Portland) Band.

Other halftimes will feature Mead High School (Spokane), Auburn High School, the University of Idaho Marching Band, the Washington State High School Band competition winner and a colorful pre-season performance by the square dancers of the Seattle Dance Council.

We give you a line-up.

Not a line.

If you think the Seahawks ought to see our line-up. After twenty years of satisfying Puget Sound car buyers, we've learned a thing or two. First, you need selection, and at the right price. Second, and just as important, you've got to give every customer a fair shake on financing and service after the sale. That's why we've done so well. And that's not just another line.
