KEN BEHRING

Owner

California real estate developer Ken Behring purchased the Seahawks from the Nordstrom family on August 30, 1988.

Regarded as one of the top developers of unique residential communities in the world, Behring has also assembled one of the world's largest and most valuable collections of classic automobiles.

Behring's collection totals more than 200 of the world's finest classic and rare automobiles, the majority of which is housed in the 70,000 square foot Behring

Museum, located in the 2,300 home community of Blackhawk at the foot of Mount Diablo, outside Oakland, California.

The museum was opened to the general public on September 6, 1988, and is the first completed facility of the Behring Educational Institute, a public benefit organization established to enhance the educational and charitable programs of the University of California, Berkeley. The museum is located in the 480,000 square foot Blackhawk Plaza.

Behring's classic automobile collection includes the 36th Tucker Torpedo; Clark Gable's Dusenburg Convertible; Rudolph Valentino's 1926 Isotta Fraschini; The Aga Khan's 1952 Rolls-Royce Phantom IV; and The Shah of Iran's 1939 Bugatti Cabriolet among others.

His interest in the automobile began at age 17 with a successful used car business. By age 24, he established a Lincoln-Mercury dealership, which he sold after five years to launch a real estate career in Florida.

Beginning in 1956, he developed residential and commercial projects in Florida before moving to his first major development, the city of Tamarac in South Florida, which today houses 70,000 residents. In all, he developed 10 Florida country club communities, established and built the state's largest and most sophisticated home factory, which is capable of producing 20 complete homes per day, developed the Miami Merchandise Mart, a 40,000 square foot wholesale trade center catering to the Southern United States and Central America, was the principle founder of the Summit Bank Group in Fort Lauderdale, and served on the Council of 100 - a group of businessmen representing the state of Florida.

In 1972, he purchased the 5,000 acres that now comprises Blackhawk, which will have a population of 8,000 when completed. Just three miles southwest of Blackhawk is Behring's second major California development, Canyon Lakes, a 3,100 unit community. An 18-hole championship golf course winds its way through the community, which includes an 18-acre freshwater lake and marina.

Since his purchase of the Seahawks, Behring has been active with Children's Hospital, the Seattle Art Museum, and the American Cancer Society, in Seattle, and the Regional Center for the Arts in Walnut Creek, California, the Mount Diablo Hospital Foundation, The Make-A-Wish Foundation, and the University of California Foundation. He has planned his first development in the Northwest on a 1,000-acre site at Blakely Ridge, near Redmond.

Ken, and his wife, Pat, have five sons, Tom, Scott, Mike, Jeff, and Dave, and four grandchildren.

Instant Replay Approved for 1989

For the fourth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system stays the same as in 1988. The Replay Official will be assigned a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by Instant Replay in each of the previous three seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks — an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the games, and a "no-frills" approach using existing TV coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of the nine nationally-televised pre-season games to experiment with the basic system which later was adopted for 1986, 1987, and 1988. A total of 28 plays (17 confirmed call, 4 inconclusive, 1 reversed, and 6 no replay shown) were closely examined in the 1985 experiment.

Q—What is the objective of this system?

A—The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Q—Who will be involved?

A—The Replay Official (a former NFL or collegiate official) will be positioned in a sideline Replay Booth, which will house two TV monitors and two high-speed VCRs plus radio communications to the on-field officials. The Replay Official makes the decision although a Communicator (normally a member of the League Office staff) and a Technician also will be there to lend logistical help.

Q—Why is the system referred to as "limited" Instant Replay?

A—This system will concentrate on plays of possession or touching (e.g. fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g. receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line). It also will be used to determine whether there are more than 11 men on the field.

Q—Why aren't most fouls included in this system?

A—It is recognized that in most circumstances the on-field officials have the best vantage points involving fouls. It is for this reason that Instant Replay will not review a list of the following 26 fouls:

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. Clipping | 14. Illegally kicking ball |
| 2. Encroachment or offsides | 15. Illegally snapping ball |
| 3. Grasp of facemask | 16. Intentional grounding |
| 4. False start | 17. Member of punting team downfield early |
| 5. Defensive pass interference | 18. Illegal formation |
| 6. Offensive pass interference | 19. Palpably unfair act |
| 7. Offensive holding and illegal use of hands | 20. Piling on |
| 8. Illegal batting or punching ball | 21. Roughing the passer |
| 9. Illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick | 22. Running into/roughing kicker |
| 10. Illegal crackback | 23. Striking, kicking, or kneeling |
| 11. Illegal motion | 24. Unnecessary roughness |
| 12. Illegal use of forearm or elbow | 25. Unsportsmanlike conduct |
| 13. Illegal use of hands by defense | 26. Use of helmet as a weapon |

Q—Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

A—No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to which plays to show or not to show.

Q—What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

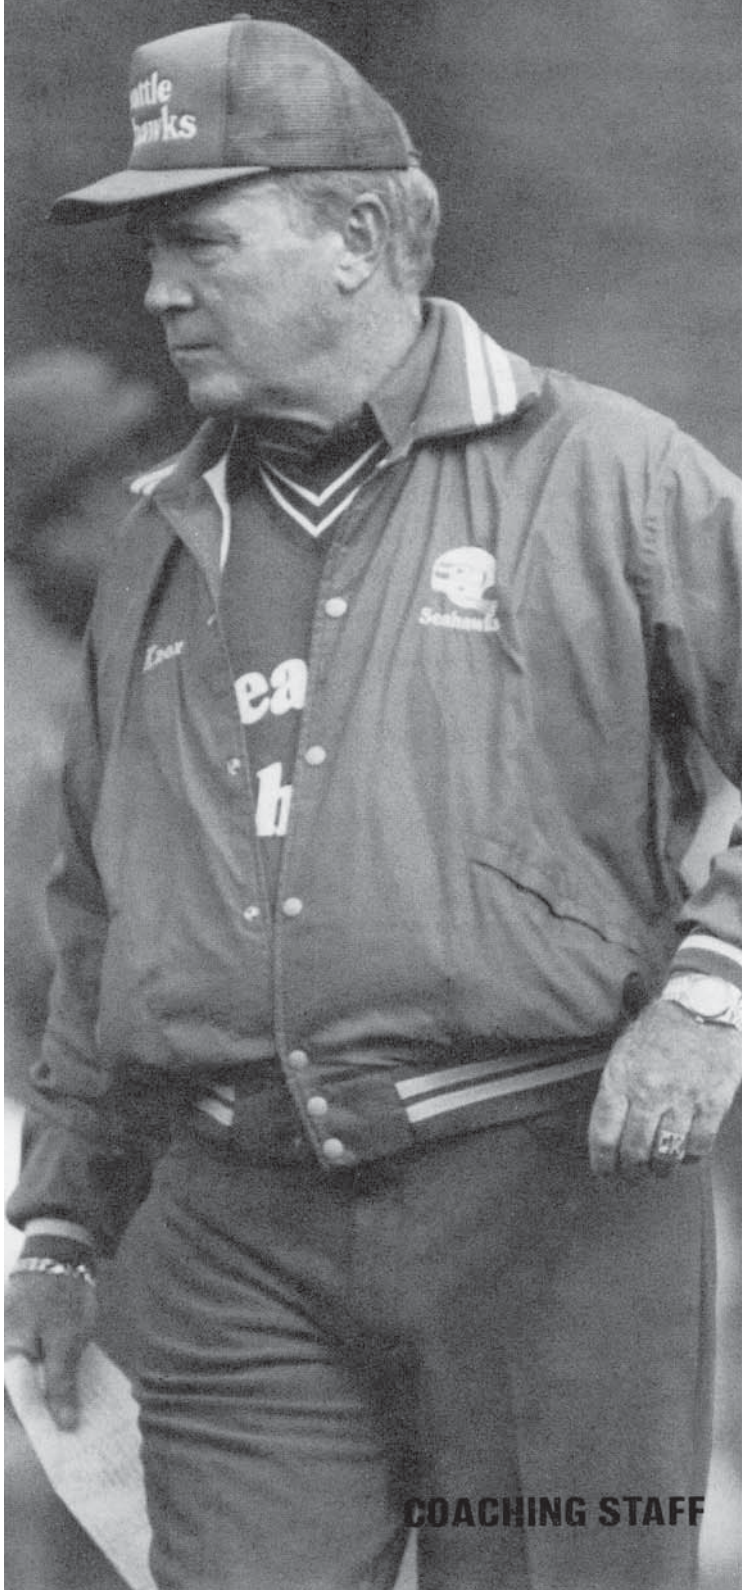

A—The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other one continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

COACHING STAFF

CHUCK KNOX

Head Coach

SEAHAWKS: Since Chuck Knox was named head coach of the Seattle Seahawks on January 26, 1983, he has led the Seahawks to the only four playoff appearances in team history, including capturing the franchise's first-ever American Football Conference Western Division title in 1988. Knox came to Seattle after five seasons as the vice president of football operations and head coach of the Buffalo Bills and immediately turned around a franchise that had recorded the NFL's third-worst record over the previous three seasons into one that has posted the NFL's sixth-best regular season record (57-38, 60%) over the past six seasons. In addition, the Seahawks are one of only five NFL franchises to have not suffered a losing record over that period. Seattle's four playoff appearances in six seasons ranks behind only the six of the San Francisco 49ers and the five of the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams, and Washington Redskins. In 1983, Knox and his staff turned a 14-27 team over the 1980-82 seasons into a 9-7 squad, one that earned the first playoff appearance in franchise history and advanced into the AFC Championship Game. The trip to AFC title game included a 31-7 win over Denver in the wild card game and a 27-20 upset over the defending AFC Champion Miami Dolphins in the Orange Bowl in the divisional playoffs. The eventual Super Bowl XVIII Champion Los Angeles Raiders eliminated Seattle, 30-14, in the AFC title game. The next season, Knox overcame injuries to several players, including Pro Bowl running back Curt Warner in the first game, to post the franchise's best-ever record, 12-4, and again advance as a wild card entrant to the postseason. The Seahawks eliminated the defending NFL champion Raiders in the wild card game before losing at Miami to the eventual AFC Champion Dolphins. After both those seasons Knox was named NFL Coach of the Year. After an 8-8 record in 1985, the Seahawks registered the team's second-best record, 10-6, in 1986 and were denied a playoff berth on a tie-breaker. His 1987 squad went 9-6 and lost at Houston in the AFC First-Round Playoff Game. In 1988, Seattle held down first place in the AFC West for all 16 weeks and clinched their first division title with a 43-37 win in Los Angeles versus the Raiders on the season's final weekend. The Seahawks were eliminated in the AFC Divisional Playoffs by the eventual AFC Champion Cincinnati Bengals, 21-13. Knox ranks as the winningest coach in Seahawks' history with a 57-38 record (60.0%). He earned NFL Coach of the Year honors after the 1983 season by the Seattle Gold Helmet Committee and the Vince Lombardi Committee and AFC Coach of the Year honors by UPI, Football News, and the Kansas City 101 Club. After the 1984 campaign, he received NFL Coach of the Year honors by the Gold Helmet Committee and AFC Coach of the Year honors from UPI and the Pro Football Writers' Association.

HEAD COACHING EXPERIENCE: Knox had guided 11 of his 16 teams into the postseason, including seven divisional championships. He is the only coach in NFL history to win divisional titles with three different franchises (Los Angeles Rams 1973-77, Buffalo Bills 1980, and Seahawks 1988). Knox is one of only two coaches in NFL history to win divisional titles in each of his first five seasons, along with Cleveland's Paul Brown, and is one of only nine coaches in league history to inherit a losing team and take it into the playoffs in his first season, something he has done twice, with the Rams in 1973 and the Seahawks in 1983. He ranks ninth all-time and fourth among active coaches with a 148-89-1 regular season record. His regular season winning percentage of 62.4% is ninth all-time among coaches with 10 or more seasons. Only Miami's Don Shula (261-111-6, 69.8%) ranks ahead of Knox among active coaches. In 1983, he was the 15th coach in NFL history to win 100 regular season games and in 1988, Knox became only the tenth coach in NFL history to coach in 250 games, including postseason contests. He has been named NFL Coach of the Year four times; in 1973 with the Los Angeles Rams, in 1980 with the Buffalo Bills, along with the Seahawks in 1983 and 1984. With Los Angeles from 1973 through 1977, his teams won five straight division championships and compiled a 54-15-1 record. He moved to Buffalo in 1978 and inherited a team that had won just two games in 1976 and three games in 1977. He equalled that total in his first year with a 5-11 mark and improved that to 7-9 the following season. In 1980, the Bills captured their first division title since 1966 with an 11-5 record. Buffalo finished 10-6 in 1981 and advanced to the playoffs, while in 1982 they were 4-5.

ASSISTANT COACHING EXPERIENCE: Prior to being named head coach of the Rams in 1973, Knox worked as an NFL assistant coach for 10 seasons. He joined the New York Jets in 1963 as offensive line coach and then moved to Detroit as offensive line coach in 1967. He broke into coaching as an assistant at Juniata College, his alma mater, in 1954, and then coached one year at Tyrone High in Tyrone, Pa., before being named head coach at Ellwood City High in Ellwood City, Pa., in 1956. He remained there until joining the Wake Forest University staff for the 1959 and 1960 seasons and then moved to Kentucky for the 1961 and 1962 seasons.

COLLEGE: Graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in history from Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa., where he lettered four years as a tackle and served as a team co-captain as a senior. He received the school's National Alumni Achievement Award in 1974, is currently on the college's Board of Directors, and was given an honorary doctorate degree in 1983.

HIGH SCHOOL: Attended Sewickley High in Sewickley, Pa.

PERSONAL: He is married to the former Shirley Rhine and they have four children, Chris, who operates a travel agency; Kathy, a former teacher; Colleen, a health management director; and Chuck, who is a graduate of the University of Arizona; and one grandchild, Lee Ann. Established a $20,000 scholarship at Quaker Valley High School in Sewickley, Pa. in the name of longtime friend Dominic Roppa, who passed away last year. Both high school and college fields have been renamed in his honor, Knox Field at Quaker Valley High (formerly Sewickley HS) and Knox Stadium at Juniata College. Co-authored the Northwest's best-selling book of 1988, 'Hard Knox,' with Bill Plaschke. He was born April 27, 1932, in Sewickley, Pa.

Birthdate: 11/23/64

Birthplace: Palatka, FL

Residence: Palatka, FL

1988: Started all 16 games at fullback and had the best season of anyone other than Curt Warner in team history. Selected by his teammates as Seattle's Most Valuable Player. Finished second in the AFC in total yards from scrimmage with 1,528, trailing only the 2,036 of Indianapolis' Eric Dickerson. Included was a career-high 877 yards rushing, the sixth-highest total in team history, and a team and career-high 58 pass receptions. Ranked tenth in the AFC in rushing and was fourth with a 4.6 yard per carry average. Became the first player other than Steve Largent to lead Seattle in receptions. Finished second on the team with 651 yards receiving. Set club records for most receptions and yards receiving by a running back. Only one other NFL back (Philadelphia's Keith Byars with 705) had more receiving yards and only four backs (one in the AFC, Cleveland's Earnest Byner with 59) had more receptions. Accounted for 31.56% of Seattle's offense (1,528 of 4,842 yards) to rank fifth in the NFL. Three times rushed for over 100 yards in a game and once had more than 100 yards receiving. He and Atlanta's John Settle were the only two backs to have both a 100-yard rushing and 100-yard receiving performance in 1988. Had 109 yards on 20 carries in the second Denver game; 105 on 17 in the first Raiders game; and 102 on 13 against the Houston Oilers, including a game-tying 44-yard touchdown run. Combined with Warner twice within three weeks (second Denver, first Raiders) to each rush for over 100 yards, the only times it has occurred in team history. Caught seven passes for 180 yards, including a 75-yard touchdown reception at Los Angeles against the Raiders in a 43-37 win which clinched the AFC West title. Accounted for 239 yards that afternoon, second only to Steve Largent's 261 at Detroit in 1987 and his 180 yards receiving was the most by a back in the NFL in 1988 and fourth among all players. It ranks third to Largent's 261 and 191 in team history. Also had 181 total yards in the second Denver game (109 rushing, 74 receiving) and 161 in the first Denver game (72 rushing and 79 receiving) which rank seventh and twelfth all-time. Equalled the team record (since broken) with three rushing touchdowns at Atlanta despite a rib injury that allowed him to play only a half the week before against San Francisco. Averaged 11.2 yards on each of his 58 receptions, second only to Kansas City's Paul Palmer (11.5) among running backs with 50 or more receptions. Handled the ball 247 times, 189 rushing and 58 receiving and did not fumble. Started at fullback in the AFC Divisional Playoff Game at Cincinnati and caught 11 passes for 137 yards, and one touchdown, setting team postseason records for receptions and yards. The 11 receptions equals the third-best postseason game performance in NFL history.

CAREER: Is the only player in the NFL to record both a 100-yard rushing game and a 100-yard receiving game in each of the last two seasons. Rushed for a career-high 112 yards in the first Kansas City game and had 117 yards receiving at Chicago, both in 1987. Had a career-best 48-yard run against the Chiefs and a career-best eight receptions with a 75-yard touchdown against the Bears. Had three 100-yard rushing games in 1988; 109 against Denver, 105 against the Raiders, and 102 versus Houston, and one 100-yard receiving game, 180 yards at Los Angeles against the Raiders. Had a 44-yard scoring run against the Oilers. Is the only player in team history to have both a 100-yard rushing game and a 100-yard receiving game in the same season and one of two (David Sims) to have one in their career. Totals four career 100-yard rushing games, with three of those in 1988. Has two 100-yard receiving games, 117 at Chicago and 180 at Los Angeles versus the Raiders. The 180 yards is the most by a Seahawks running back in one game. Led all AFC backs in 1987 with an 11.1 average on 38 receptions and finished second in 1988. Caught 27 of his total in the last six games of 1987. Was the only rookie running back to start all 16 games in 1986 and was the youngest offensive starter in the NFL. Ranked as the leading rookie rusher in the AFC with 538 yards. Had the second-most receptions (33) of any rookie back. Ranks third all-time in rushing with 1,915 yards on 431 carries, and is sixth in receiving with 129 receptions for 1,290 yards in only 44 games. Has handled the ball 560 times in his career and fumbled only three times.

HONORS: 1986, First-team All-Rookie (Pro Football Writers). 1988, Marcus Nalley Trophy (Seahawks' MVP as voted by teammates); Seattle P-I Sports Star of the Year.

COLLEGE: Finished his career as Florida's third all-time leading rusher with 2,409 yards. Third on the all-purpose yardage list with 3,444 and in rushing attempts with 468. First player in school history to total 2,000 yards rushing and over 800 yards receiving. Was the all-time leading receiver among running backs with 92 receptions for 863 yards and seven touchdowns. Rushed for 659 yards and caught 44 passes as a senior. Had a career-high 793 yards rushing as a junior. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray Classic and Senior Bowl. KINGDOME

The Kingdome, at a cost of $67 million and with a seating capacity of 64,981 for football, is the least expensive domed, air-conditioned stadium of its size in the world.

Built on a 35.9-acre site just south of Seattle's central business district, the walls of the Dome anchor the world's largest self-supporting concrete roof.

The first professional football game in the Kingdome, August 1, 1976, between the Seahawks and San Francisco 49ers drew 60,825 fans. Since that time, the Seahawks have soldout 105 of their last 108 games, including preseason and postseason games, dating from 1978 to 1988. The Seahawks have finished in the top nine among all NFL clubs in attendance each of their thirteen seasons. The Kingdome is also the home of the American League Seattle Mariners. Among other events held in the Kingdome have been the Auto Show, Big Seattle Boat Show, rock concerts, the 1977 AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, 1979 Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the 1984 and 1989 NCAA Final Four basketball tournament, the 1987 and 1988 NCAA West Regional Finals, the 1987 NBA All-Star Game, and the Billy Graham Crusade. The Billy Graham Crusade on May 14, 1976, which attracted 74,000 people, still ranks as the single event attendance leader in the Kingdome.

SEAHAWKS HEADQUARTERS

In June, 1986, the Seattle Seahawks moved into their new office and training headquarters on a 12-acre site adjacent to Northwest College in Kirkland.

The 36,000 square foot, two-story building is the Seahawks year-round home, containing facilities for training camp as well as offseason and regular season practices.

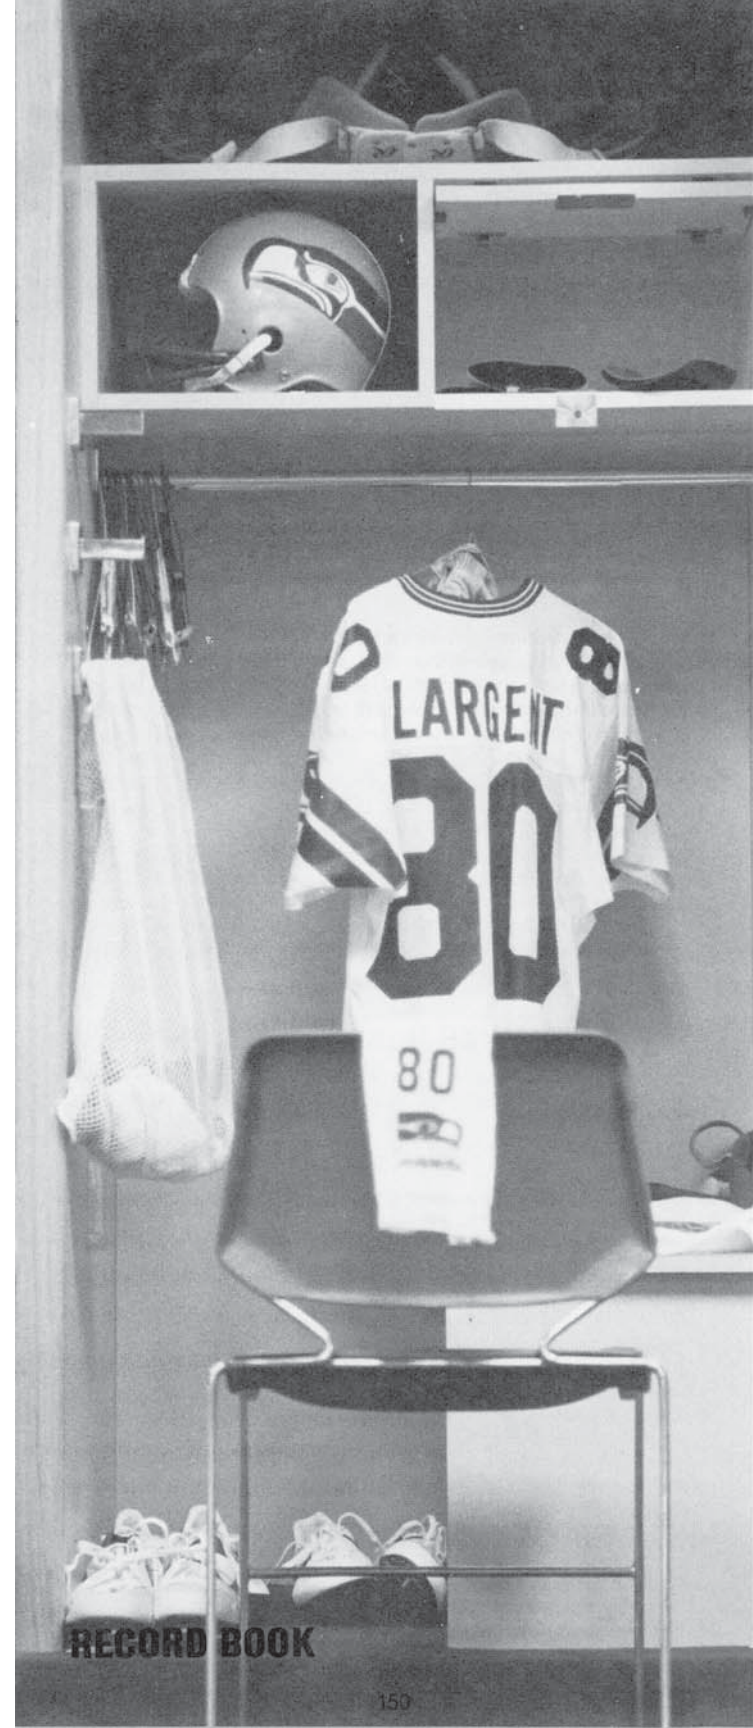

Downstairs contains a 105-man meeting room, six 10-man meeting rooms, a weight room, two racquetball courts, an enlarged locker room, training room with rehabilitative facilities, and equipment room.

Upstairs houses the administrative offices, coaches offices, ticket office, and conference rooms.

Outside, the Seahawks are able to practice on three fields, two of natural grass and one artificial turf field. The turf field is covered by a 55-foot high inflatable bubble top eliminating travel to the Kingdome in inclement weather.

To reach the headquarters, take the N.E. 70th Street exit off I-405 travelling either north or southbound. If arriving southbound, take a left at N.E. 72nd Place and another left at 108th Avenue N.E. Go left at N.E. 53rd Street. The headquarters' visitor's entrance is the second driveway approximately one-quarter mile up N.E. 53rd Street.

The Seahawks established a new regular season average attendance record of 61,753 per game for the 1988 season, breaking the old mark of 61,707 set in 1984. The 494,104 fans attending the ten home games in 1988 broke the old mark of 493,657 set in 1984. Seattle's total average home attendance of 60,588, which includes two preseason games, ranks third all-time behind the 60,788 average for 11 home games in 1979 and the 60,609 for 10 games in 1986.

In 13 seasons, the Seahawks have attracted 7,877,469 fans to 134 home games, including 5,846,050 to 99 regular season games. That's an average of 58,787 fans for all games and 59,051 for regular season contests.

Over the past six seasons, 1983-88, the Seahawks have the fourth-best home record in the National Football League. Seattle has won 35-of-48 games in the Kingdome over this period (72.92%) to rank behind the Chicago Bears and Denver Broncos, both 39-9 (81.25%), and the Washington Redskins, 36-11 (76.59%). In addition, the Seahawks have lost just three times in 26 home games against AFC Western Division foes.

100/100

John L. Williams is the only player in the NFL that has recorded both a 100-yard rushing and 100-yard receiving game in each of the last two seasons. Williams rushed for 112 yards against Kansas City and caught seven passes for 117 yards at Chicago in 1987. In 1988, Williams topped 100 yards rushing three times and established a team record for a running back with 180 yards receiving at Los Angeles against the Raiders.
