On August 23, 2011, the home of the New York Jets became MetLife Stadium. The insurance company was the first of the four cornerstone partners in the new stadium, which opened in the spring of 2010. MetLife Stadium is one of the highest-profile stadiums in the country with more than 2 million fans attending events every year. On February 2, 2014, MetLife Stadium hosted Super Bowl XLVIII.

From the lighting and LED signage to the massive video boards to the plaza and tailgating options, the stadium bleeds green on Jets gamedays. Travelling to the home of the Jets is quick and easy with three times the number of roadways and a rail stop just outside the stadium.

Once at MetLife Stadium, fans have many options for entertainment and tailgating before the game. The ESPN New York - 98.7FM pregame radio show broadcasts live from the west plaza area. Fans can enjoy activities for kids and a vast array of food and beverage. Also, fans can find the latest gear at the team's 10,000 square foot flagship plaza store. MetLife and the cornerstone partners – Bud Light, Pepsi, EMC/SAP and Verizon – are integrated into the game experience with ample space to engage and entertain fans.

Inside there is more food variety and concessions stands all adding up to a “Home Food Advantage” for fans. The intimate seating bowl, uncompromised sight lines, cutting-edge video boards, LED signage and state-of-the-art sound system all enhance the game-watching experience.

One of the biggest upgrades in MetLife Stadium is the availability of club seats. There are four clubs – Toyota Coaches, MetLife 50, Chase and Lexus – that offer access to VIP reserved parking, a private club entrance as well as a host of other amenities and benefits.

The Atlantic Health Jets Training Center in Florham Park, N.J. is the headquarters of the New York Jets. The team moved into the facility with a formal ribbon-cutting ceremony on September 2, 2008. Located at One Jets Drive, this 224,000 square-foot complex is surrounded by nearly 100 acres of open space and provides players, coaches and staff of the Jets with a state-of-the-art learning, practice and working environment. The facility is a short drive to MetLife Stadium, Newark Liberty International Airport and Morristown Medical Center.

Woody Johnson hired world-renowned architecture firm, Skidmore Owings + Merrill and outlined three key objectives in the design of the training facility. First, as the first true corporate headquarters for the team, the new training center needed to represent the beginning of a new era for the Jets. Previously, the Jets business and football operations were located in separate multi-tenant buildings more than 30 miles apart. The Atlantic Health Jets Training Center is a modern, glass and steel building that seamlessly combines the operations of football and business departments. Serving as the home base for the entire Jets organization, it is equipped with open-concept workstations and state-of-the-art technology to create an efficient and friendly work environment. The training center was a major contributing factor in the team being named one of Inc. Magazine's Top Small Company Workplaces in 2010. An outdoor terrace, which overlooks the practice fields, provides a business entertainment area for both the team and its corporate partners.

ATLANTIC HEALTH JETS TRAINING CENTER HIGHLIGHTS

- 224,000 square-foot facility on a 27-acre campus
- Five full-length fields
- Permanent scoreboards for each field
- More than 75 miles of data cabling
- 5,500 square-foot locker room
- 11,00 square-foot weight room
- 10 state-of-the-art classrooms
- 60 large-screen TV monitors
- The Players Gallery, consisting of a life-size photo of cheering Jets fans, spans the building's main corridor

Second, the training and medical facilities had to be state-of-the-art, combining the latest advances in rehabilitation pools, high-performance equipment and nutrition. The complex has five full-size football fields; three natural grass, one Sportexe synthetic turf field outdoors, and another in the Field House, each with a permanent scoreboard. The goalposts on two of the natural grass fields can be repositioned 90 degrees in order to minimize wear on the grass. Inside the complex, the first floor is dedicated to one-hundred yards of football along the “Players Gallery”, consisting of a life-size super-panoramic photo of cheering Jets fans that serves as a daily reminder of the tremendous support the Jets receive from our faithful fans. In addition, the first level features a 5,500-square-foot locker room, an 11,000-square-foot weight room, and a 10,000 square foot cafeteria.

Third, the training center needed to be a “graduate school for football.” Players and coaches actually spend more time in the classrooms than on the football fields themselves. To that end, there is more than 25,000 square feet of space dedicated to classrooms and instruction space – including 10 classrooms and two individual study rooms for video study. The classroom atrium is located at just steps from the practice fields, with direct access to either the indoor or outdoor fields.

In 2011, the team hosted training camp at Atlantic Health Jets Training Center for the first time. The site, since 2009, has hosted mini-camps and organized team activities that were open to fans. The Atlantic Health Jets Training Center is evidence of the team’s commitment to excellence, providing the organization with a new competitive advantage and a new community to call home.

MISSION - NEW YORK JETS FOUNDATION

The New York Jets take great pride in a long-standing, year-round commitment to our community. Programs funded by the New York Jets Foundation touch the lives of countless young men and women in the tri-state area by promoting fitness, health, and education, particularly in disadvantaged communities. Over the past fourteen years, the Jets and their charitable foundation have contributed more than $14 million to a wide range of community-based causes.

From fighting childhood obesity, to launching football teams at urban high schools, to urging students to be active for at least 60 minutes every day the New York Jets invest in programs that make a difference in the lives of others. In addition to our focus on youth development, the Jets support the efforts of the Alliance for Lupus Research, numerous established charitable organizations and causes sponsored by the NFL.

ALLIANCE FOR LUPUS RESEARCH

The New York Jets organization is deeply committed to supporting the Alliance for Lupus Research (ALR)—a national voluntary health organization based in New York City, founded in 1999 and chaired by Robert Wood Johnson IV, a member of the founding family of Johnson & Johnson and owner of the New York Jets. The ALR's mission is to find better treatments and ultimately prevent and cure systemic lupus erythematosus (SLE, or lupus), a debilitating autoimmune disease, by supporting the most promising and innovative lupus research. To date, the ALR has committed almost $100 million to lupus research projects at the most prestigious universities, medical schools and hospitals throughout the world.

Since 2001, the New York Jets have increased awareness of lupus and raised close to $10 million for research through the ALR Walk with Us to Cure Lupus program, proceeds from the annual New York Jets Kickoff Luncheon and other events in the tri-state area. To find a walk near you, visit alr.org or call toll free, (866) WALK-ALR. Together, we will find a cure!

JETS PLAY 60 FUELED BY LUVO

The New York Jets are committed to fighting childhood obesity through fitness and nutrition programs under the Jets PLAY 60 platform fueled by Luvo, which encourages children to get 60 minutes of activity every day. The partnership between the Jets and Luvo, Inc., brings together the Jets passion for helping children live healthy lives and Luvo's expertise in providing food that is delicious, accessible and good for you. Luvo's philosophy is simple, if you can change the way you eat, you can change your life. Their mission is to make it easy to make good choices by creating wholesome, nutritious meals that taste amazing. The Jets are proud to partner with Luvo to enhance our PLAY 60 initiative by bringing their product to our valued community partners in a variety of ways to help the children we work with reach their full potential.

PLAY 60 Challenge with the American Heart Association

The American Heart Association and the National Football League have teamed up to create the PLAY 60 Challenge, a program that inspires kids to get the recommended 60 minutes of physical activity a day in school and at home. The PLAY 60 Challenge is an in-school curriculum created by the National Football League and the American Heart Association that Jets implement locally with several schools in Morris County, New Jersey, the home of our training facility. Childhood obesity rates are at an all-time high: today, nearly one in three kids and teens in the United States are obese or overweight. Physical activity produces overall physical, psychological and social benefits, and that inactive children are likely to become inactive adults. It also helps schools become places that encourage physically active lifestyles year-round. Defensive back Kyle Wilson serves as the Jets PLAY 60 spokesperson. For more information on how to become involved with the PLAY 60 Challenge go to <http://www.nflrush.com/play60/school> or to <http://www.nfl.com/play60> for all things PLAY 60.

Jets PLAY 60 Eat Right, Move More Program

Launched in 2006, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture's Jets PLAY 60 Eat Right, Move More Program along with the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation encourages New Jersey school children to take advantage of healthy foods in their school cafeterias and become more active through grant incentives and Jets player visits. The campaign also challenges schools to get 60 minutes of activity every day for their students and submit their cafeteria meal menus to determine the five schools with the most creative meal selections each year that go above and beyond state and federal guidelines. We are proud to partner with the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation who provides matching grants to the winning schools for cafeteria infrastructure improvements and physical education equipment. Jets Kicker Nick Folk is the programs spokesperson. Annually, one grand prize winning school is awarded a $15,000 grant, a visit from Folk along with being recognized on the field at a Jets home game. First prize grants of $5,000 and a Jets player visit are awarded to four schools. $2,000 grants are awarded to five finalists. To apply, check for the grant application at www.state.nj.us/agriculture in September.

Jets PLAY 60 Sports Equipment Drive benefiting Up2Us

During the season, fans will have the opportunity to support our Jets Play 60 Sports Equipment Drive benefiting Up2Us by donating new and gently used athletic equipment every game at the Pepsi Gate. Share your passion for sports and provide a great opportunity for a child to get exercise and Play 60! Up2Us is a nonprofit organization using sports to solve the critical challenges facing America's Children today. For accepted items visit newyorkjets.com/community.

Hometown Huddle

The NFL/United Way "Hometown Huddle" is an NFL-wide day of service that provides NFL players, coaches, wives and staff from each team the opportunity to participate in a variety of community-service activities. Each year the Jets "Hometown Huddle" includes building a Jets PLAY 60 fitness zone in an underserved community. Started in 1999 by the NFL and United Way, Hometown Huddle continues to help make a difference in local NFL communities.

PLAY 60 Challenge at Generation Jets Academy

Generation Jets Academy has served as the linchpin of the New York Jets community relations program since its inception in 2002. An education initiative, the primary goal of Generation Jets Academy is to provide elementary school students with enjoyable learning experiences that enhance their literacy, math skills, creativity, community awareness and self-esteem. The program provides students with personalized attention from caring and creative teachers, and a 50 percent increase in learning time each day. Generation Jets Academy is operated by the Gary Klinsky Children's Centers of the Brooklyn Community Services.

JETS IN THE COMMUNITY

Throughout the year, the Jets implement the PLAY 60 Challenge at Generation Jets Academy. Students attend field trips to enrich their lives as incentives for participation in the program. Generation Jets Academy is located at the Ethan Allen School (P.S. 306) in East New York, Brooklyn.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Jets Heads Up! Northern New Jersey Youth Football presented by Chase

In 2014, Chase aligned with the New York Jets' continued support for youth football in the Northern New Jersey through a $100,000 contribution. Through the Chase donation, teams in the Twin Valley Football Conference will receive brand new helmets and shoulder pads, and each player will also receive a long sleeve compression shirt for practice and games. Furthering their efforts with the Newark Pop Warner League, Chase and the New York Jets are providing brand new jerseys to the entire league this season. Players and coaches from both the Twin Valley Football Conference and the Newark Pop Warner league will have opportunities to attend a Jets home game and select teams will play at halftime. In 2013, the Jets presented a $40,000 check to Newark Pop Warner. The funds provided brand new helmets for every player in the league as well as new shoulder pads for their entire inaugural pee-wee division.

SNY Play Ball: Football Week

The New York Jets have teamed up with our television partner, SNY, to offer support for youth football leagues in our community through SNY Play Ball: Football Week! SNY Play Ball offers leagues the opportunity to receive with new footballs, an exclusive youth football clinic, tickets a Jets preseason game, and volunteer assistance with league projects in our local community. In addition, one eligible organization will receive a $5,000 grant to be put towards needed equipment for the upcoming season. The program will culminate in "Play Ball Week", where SNY will honor and highlight individuals and selected organizations daily on the television network and website. To see the winners and for more information how to apply next year go to web.sny.tv/events/play\_ball.

Jets Heads Up! – Public Schools Athletic League

In 2001, the New York Jets formed a community partnership with the Public Schools Athletic League (PSAL) to provide support to New York City public school football programs. The Jets and the PSAL expanded this partnership in 2005 and titled it Heads Up!.

Through an annual matching grant from the NFL's Youth Football Fund, the New York Jets now donate $150,000 to the PSAL's football programs. This grant has helped to create 13 new and developmental football teams. It also assisted in the funding of a female Varsity Flag Football League, the reconditioning of every student-athletes' helmet, two "Play Like a Jet" $5,000 college scholarships and the expansion of C.H.A.M.P.S. Middle School Flag Football League to more than 200 programs throughout the New York City public school system. In preparation for the 2014-15 season the Jets will also fund the cost for PSAL coaches to be Heads Up! certified. Beyond these grants, the Jets continue to support the PSAL in a variety of other ways including honoring the PSAL football champions at a home game during the NFL season.

C.H.A.M.P.S. Middle School Flag Football League

The New York Jets have teamed up with the New York City Department of Education (NYC DOE) to support their C.H.A.M.P.S. (Cooperative, Healthy, Active, Motivated, Positive Students) Middle School Flag Football League. The partnership helps provide more than 6,500 students at close to 200 middle schools with after school opportunities to learn the skills and techniques of football from qualified coaches. Each participant receives a T-shirt uniform provided by the Jets. The Jets commitment to the C.H.A.M.P.S. Middle School Flag Football League falls under the Heads Up! umbrella.

Through the NYC DOE's C.H.A.M.P.S. Middle School Sport and Fitness League, students are empowered to become Cooperative, Healthy, Active, Motivated, Positive Students—for life. Regardless of athletic ability, student participants in C.H.A.M.P.S. are provided with opportunities to engage in a wide variety of physical activities before and after school, including traditional sports, non-traditional sports and fitness activities. The C.H.A.M.P.S. program promotes health-related fitness and sports skills that can be maintained long after school days are over.

High School Coach of the Week presented by Chase

The Jets have been a proud participant in the NFL High School Coach of the Week program since 1996. The award is given weekly to a coach in the tri-state area who serves the best interests of the game through the teaching of sound football fundamentals, the motivation of young players to achieve, and the promotion of youth football by way of dedication to his community, his school and his student-athletes. Chase has joined the program for the 2014 season to increase the impact of the award and will recognize each winner at a Jets home game with a signed certificate from General Manager John Idzik and Head Coach Rex Ryan along with a personalized game ball. Chase and the NFL Foundation will also award each winner with a $2,000 check for their high school's football program. In addition to the Coach of the Week awards, a Coach of the Year will be selected at the end of the high school season and awarded $4,000 from the NFL Foundation and Chase.

CHARITABLE PARTNERSHIPS

Atlantic Health Jets Women's Organization

In 2008, the Jets Women's Organization and Atlantic Health partnered to form the Atlantic Health Jets Women's Organization (AHJWO). Through this partnership the AHJWO can accomplish its mission of working together to build goodwill in the tri-state community through active volunteer participation. The AHJWO is an organization comprising the wives, fiancées and significant others of New York Jets players, coaches and football support employees along with Jets female staff. The Jets Community Relations Department oversees this organization with the assistance of Dana Glat wife of the Jets team president, Carol Idzik, wife of the Jets general manager and Michelle Ryan, wife of the Jets head coach.

The AHJWO seeks to team-up with select charities to assist in maximizing the impact of their events. The AHJWO serves as a unique and positive outlet in the community on behalf of the New York Jets. All members of the organization are encouraged to get involved and maximize their roles to benefit others. The work of the AHJWO would not be possible without the partnership with Atlantic Health.

United Way

Since 1973, United Way, the NFL and the New York Jets have had the most visible and longest-running charitable collaboration of its kind. Every year, thanks to community service projects and public service announcements, millions of Americans learn about United Way's vital work and the volunteer spirit of the NFL.

Combining their rich histories of active community involvement, United Way of New York City, United Way of Morris County and the New York Jets have teamed up to drive home the importance of community involvement. Their community outreach efforts include the Hometown Huddle, an annual hands-on volunteer project with players, the Gridiron Gala, New York City's premier charity event, and Tix for Kids, a charitable ticket turn-back program.

Walter Payton Man of the Year Award

Since 1970, the NFL has awarded the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year award to recognize a player's off-the-field community service as well as his playing excellence. The Jets award winner, will receive $1,000 to donate to the 501(c)(3) organization of his choice. The team's recipient is eligible to win the national Walter Payton Man of the Year Award and be recognized at a press conference during Super Bowl Week. The national winner will receive $25,000 to donate to the 501(c)(3) organization of his choice. The Jets have had two national winners, Marty Lyons in 1984 and Boomer Esiason in 1995.

Marty Lyons Award

2013 Ring of Honor inductee, Marty Lyons, a former All-American defensive tackle from the University of Alabama, played his entire 12-year NFL career with the New York Jets as a member of the feared "Sack Exchange." Early in his career, Lyons befriended and became a surrogate father to a 3-year-old boy suffering from an advanced illness. Three years later in the spring of 1982, the youngster's death coincided with the sudden death of Lyons' father and the birth of his first child, a healthy son. These experiences profoundly affected Lyons' outlook on life, fame and his fellow human-being. With the encouragement and the assistance of his family and friends, he established a foundation dedicated to granting wishes of seriously ill children.

The Marty Lyons Foundation helps lift children's spirits and lets the magic of hope lead their thoughts and dreams for the future. More than 3,000 wishes have been granted to children suffering from life threatening or terminal illnesses since the foundation was incorporated in 1982. Lyons was named the National Football League's Man of the Year in 1984 for his work with the foundation. His efforts also led the New York Jets to name the Outstanding Community Service Award the Marty Lyons Award, which is presented to the player who gives from the heart through charity and community involvement (as voted by Jets staff).

WOODY JOHNSON

WOODY JOHNSON

CHAIRMAN & CEO

Joined Jets in 2000

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 15th • JETS: 15th

Robert Wood Johnson IV, a fourth-generation member of the founding family of Johnson & Johnson, the worldwide health care company, has built upon his family's proud legacy of achievement as a successful businessman, civic leader and compassionate philanthropist. He currently serves as Chairman and CEO of The Johnson Company Inc., a private investment management company.

As an owner of the New York Jets, Johnson continues his commitment to a culture of success built on three key elements: passionate players, supportive fans, and a new home field. His improvements to the franchise include: building a competitive team each season, a world-class training complex, and a 21st-century sports stadium. Under his leadership, the Jets posted eight winning seasons, appeared in 12 postseason games, played in two AFC championship games, and captured an AFC East title.

Johnson's philosophy of a successful team celebrates the crucial role of fans, as well as the significant role the team plays in enriching the greater community. In this spirit, the New York Jets Foundation funds programs such as PLAY 60 Eat Right, Move More to help teach children the importance of good health habits, enhance educational experiences, and support the region's disabled and disadvantaged residents.

Johnson serves as a Trustee Emeritus of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the nation's largest philanthropic organization devoted exclusively to promoting health and advancing health-care. The Foundation aims to prompt new public policy, inspire action from the private sector, and improve the delivery of the best health care to the most people.

Johnson's healthcare initiatives also include support for lupus research. In 1999, Johnson founded the Alliance for Lupus Research (ALR), an organization devoted exclusively to finding new methods to prevent, treat, and ultimately cure lupus. The ALR-funded International SLE Genetics Initiative recently uncovered several of the genes associated with lupus. ALR-funded research laid the foundation for development of 30% of all lupus drugs currently in the clinical-trial pipeline.

In Washington, D.C., Johnson has been a strong advocate for increased government spending for medical research. He helped initiate the campaign "The Only Remedy Is a Cure," transforming the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) from a small, non-profit group into the largest private medical entity focused on finding a cure for diabetes. Today he serves as Chairman of JDRF International.

Johnson is active in local philanthropy and civic affairs, serving as a board member of the National September 11 Memorial & Museum at the World Trade Center. He also lends his time and talents to the Council on Foreign Relations, and is an Honorary Trustee of the Wildlife Conservation Society.

JOHN IDZIK

General Manager

Joined Jets in 2013

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 22nd • JETS: 2nd

Idzik is in his second season as General Manager after Jets Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson named him to the position on January 18, 2013. He previously spent six seasons with the Seattle Seahawks as the Vice President of Football Administration. Raised in a football family, Idzik's father, also John, served as a longtime NFL assistant coach with the New York Jets, Baltimore Colts, Miami Dolphins and Philadelphia Eagles. They became one of the NFL's few father-son Super Bowl champions in 2003 when the younger Idzik's Buccaneers won Super Bowl XXXVII, after his father was the offensive backfield coach of the Super Bowl V champion Baltimore Colts.

In 2013, his first year running an NFL draft, Idzik and his staff selected five rookies who started nine-or-more games in their first season. Among the Jets draft selections were: CB Dee Milliner, who was recognized as both NFL Rookie of the Month (December) and AFC Defensive Player of the Week (Week 17), DL Sheldon Richardson, who was recognized as the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, as well as being named Defensive Rookie of the Month (November), and QB Geno Smith, a rookie passer who led the Jets to eight victories in 16 starts, as well as earning both AFC Player of the Week and AFC Rookie of the Week (Week 5) honors.

With Seattle, Idzik remained active in both pro and college player evaluations while he oversaw player negotiations, the team's compliance with the NFL salary cap, player personnel transactions, all football operations budgets, staff and team contracts, team travel and most aspects of the day-to-day football operations. In addition, he served as the club's primary liaison to the NFL Office and represented the club at League meetings. The Seahawks won two NFC West Division crowns while qualifying for the playoffs three times during Idzik's tenure. Seattle went on to win Super Bowl XLVIII the season following his departure.

Prior to joining the Seahawks, Idzik spent three seasons in a similar capacity as Senior Director of Football Operations for the Arizona Cardinals, helping to build an NFC Championship team.

Idzik entered the NFL in 1993 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He spent 11 years with the Buccaneers, first as a Pro Personnel Assistant and then was elevated to Director of Football Administration in 1996 and Assistant General Manager in 2001. During that span, the Buccaneers won Super Bowl XXXVII, played in two Conference Championships, won two division titles and qualified for the playoffs five times.

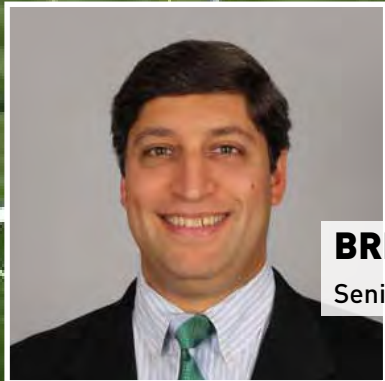

Prior to his tenure with the Buccaneers, Idzik spent the 1991-92 seasons as a graduate assistant coach at Duke University, where he assisted with the offensive line and running backs. In 1990 he served as the offensive backfield coach under his father who was the head coach for the Aberdeen Oilers (Scotland) in the British American Football League. Idzik's first coaching assignment came in 1982 as receivers coach at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

A native of Detroit, Idzik graduated with magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa honors from Dartmouth College in 1982, earning a bachelor's degree in mathematics, while also lettering at wide receiver for the Ivy League champion Big Green. He later earned a master's degree in liberal studies from Duke University in 1992.

Idzik and his wife, Carol (a University of Georgia graduate), have two sons, Bryant (an engineer at Space Exploration Technologies) and Bradley (a graduate assistant with Stanford University's football team), and a daughter, Holly (a sophomore at the University of Central Florida).

Head Coach

COACHING CAREER

Entering his sixth season, Rex Ryan trails only Weeb Ewbank (11) and Joe Walton (7) for most seasons as a Jets head coach. "I'll say this: I love being the head coach of the New York Jets. Plain and simple," Ryan remarked after the season. His 42 regular season wins rank as the third most in team history, behind Ewbank (71) and Walton (53). His .525 winning percentage stands as the second-best for a Jets head coach, trailing only the .595 winning percentage of Bill Parcells in his three seasons at the Jets helm.

For the second time since Ryan became head coach in 2009, the Jets started a rookie at quarterback, making Ryan the only head coach in the Super Bowl era to start a rookie quarterback in at least 10 games in two of his first five seasons in the league. Ryan's success with Mark Sanchez (2009) and GENO SMITH (2013) made him the only head coach in the Super Bowl era to win eight-or-more games with a rookie quarterback in two different seasons.

Consistently a stout pass defense, Ryan entered last season looking to sure up the team's 26th-ranked run defense. The Jets finished the season third in the NFL in rushing defense (1,412 yards allowed) while finishing first in opponents' per carry average (3.4), a season after allowing 2,138 yards and 4.3 yards per carry. The defense also produced 41 sacks, the most by a Ryan-led defense since his 2006 Ravens had 60 and the most by a Jets defense since it also produced 41 in 2008. Pacing the team were career-best performances from third-year rising star defensive lineman MUHAMMAD WILKERSON (10.5) and resurgent linebacker CALVIN PACE (10.0), who became the first pair of Jets defenders to both produce double-digit sacks since Joe Klecko (20.5) and Mark Gastineau (20) accomplished the feat in 1981.

Despite his accomplishments on the field, perhaps what truly defines Ryan is his passion, passion that was noticed and appreciated by Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson. "Rex has more passion than anyone I have ever met," Johnson said after announcing Ryan's return for the 2014 season. "Passion for the Jets. Passion for teaching and motivating his players and coaches. Passion for winning. Like any NFL head coach, he's had ups and downs, but Rex has been a tremendous leader of this football team."

Despite only one losing year in his five as head coach, Ryan has missed the postseason the last three. Finishing the 2013 campaign 3-1 gives the team confidence moving forward, but Ryan realizes this is a results league. "I don't like the fact we haven't been to the playoffs for three straight years. That's a huge thorn in my side and everybody else's."

The Idzik-Ryan pairing came together last year when Idzik was brought in as the new general manager and Ryan was retained as head coach. Despite the perceived differences, the two sons of former New York Jets coaches focused on their passion for the Jets, talking football strategies and beliefs, realizing that their pairing could bring success to the organization.

"He just makes it fun," Idzik said about Ryan. "He's very thorough. He's a phenomenal teacher (and) motivator. He's a great listener and he's a heck of a football coach. I've learned that every day I spend with him. We're very fortunate to have Rex as our coach and I'm fortunate to be working alongside of him."

2013 featured three new coordinators, Dennis Thurman leading the defense, Marty Mornhinweg directing the offense and Ben Kotwica commanding the special teams. On the offensive side, Mornhinweg oversaw the development of second-round pick SMITH, who finished the year with 3,046 passing yards, making him the first quarterback in Jets history and 13th in NFL history to throw for more than 3,000 yards in his rookie season. The total also placed him fourth among rookies drafted in the second round or later in passing yards during their rookie season.

Defensively, Thurman, Ryan's long-time defensive backs coach, helped to integrate seven new starters on defense, including first-round picks cornerback DEE MILLINER and defensive tackle SHELDON RICHARDSON, both of whom earned Defensive Rookie of the Month honors, with RICHARDSON earning the AP Defensive Rookie of the Year Award.

Taking over on special teams for Kotwica this season is Thomas McGaughey, a former Super Bowl winning assistant coach who has also coached in the BCS National Championship Game. During his time in Death Valley, he helped LSU's special teams register seven touchdowns, while coaching future NFL Draft choices Odell Beckham, Jr., Morris Claiborne, Tyrann Mathieu and Patrick Peterson. Both Beckham, Jr. and Mathieu earned All-America honors as returners, while Brad Wing received the recognition as a punter.

Before becoming the head coach of the Jets, Ryan spent 10 seasons (1999-2008) with the Ravens. During that time, the Ravens ranked first in the NFL in fewest points allowed (17.1 points per game), fewest rushing yards allowed (87.3 yards per game), most shutouts (9), most takeaways (337), most interceptions (212), most interceptions returned for touchdowns (29) and third-down conversion defense (33.9%). They also ranked second in total defense (280.7 yards per game) and fourth in sacks (416) in that span.

Ryan began his Ravens career as the defensive line coach for Brian Billick in 1999, when the Ravens defense finished second in the NFL in total defense and second against the run. In 2000, the defense allowed the fewest points in a 16-game season in NFL history (165) en route to winning Super Bowl XXXV.

Ryan was promoted to defensive coordinator in 2005. During his four seasons in that role, the Ravens finished fifth (2005), first (2006), sixth (2007) and second (2008) in total defense. In 2006, the "D" allowed only 201 points and 264 yards per game, and Ryan was named NFL Assistant Coach of the Year by Pro Football Weekly and the Pro Football Writers Association.

In 2008, new Ravens head coach John Harbaugh named Ryan assistant head coach/defensive coordinator. That season, the Ravens defense led the league with 34 takeaways, 26 interceptions, a 60.6 opponents' passer rating, and four rushing TDs allowed.

COACHING CAREER

Prior to joining the Ravens, Ryan was a defensive coordinator in college at Oklahoma (1998) and Cincinnati (1996-97). His first NFL coaching stint was with the Cardinals under father Buddy Ryan, when he oversaw the Cardinals' defensive line in 1994 and linebackers in 1995 (on the same staff with his twin brother, Rob, now the New Orleans Saints defensive coordinator). Rex also coached at Morehead State (1990-93), New Mexico Highlands (1989) and Eastern Kentucky (1987-88).

Before Ryan became a coach, he had a chance to see some great defense up close and personal. Buddy brought him along to practices when he became the Jets defensive line coach for the 1968 season — the Jets' Super Bowl III season, of course. Rex then watched his dad coach the 1985 Chicago Bears. He was a ballboy for those Bears teams early in his father's tenure as the defensive coordinator. He left for college during the 1985 season, but was on the sidelines during Super Bowl XX, when the Bears finished their 18-1 run with a 46-10 victory over New England and Buddy was carried off on his defenders' shoulders.

Ryan, 52, graduated from Stevenson (IL) High School in Prairie View, IL, and played football at SW Oklahoma State, where he earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1986. He earned his master's degree in physical education at Eastern Kentucky in 1988.

Ryan was born in Ardmore, OK. He and his wife, Michelle, have two sons, Payton, named for Walter Payton, and Seth.

ANTHONY LYNN

Assistant Head Coach / Running Backs

HOMETOWN: Celina, TX

COLLEGE: Texas Tech

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 15th • JETS: 6th

Joined Jets in 2009

COACHING CAREER

Now in his sixth season with the Jets, Anthony Lynn continues to oversee the team's running backs after adding the title of assistant head coach last season.

Since his hiring in 2009, Lynn's runners have gained 136.0 yards per game, the third best average in the NFL, trailing the Chiefs and Vikings by less than half-a-yard. In four of his five years, Lynn has guided a back to a career high in yards: CHRIS IVORY (833 in 2013), Shonn Greene (1,054 in 2011 and 1,062 in 2012) and Thomas Jones (1,402 in 2009).

Last season, Lynn split time between two primary running backs, BILAL POWELL and IVORY, who were separated by only six carries, the fewest carries separating the Jets top two runners since 1991 when Blair Thomas (189) and Brad Baxter (184) were separated by five.

After IVORY was acquired in a draft-day trade last offseason, Lynn helped the fourth-year pro establish a team-leading 833 yards on 182 carries (4.6 average). IVORY's 2.69 yards after contact per attempt ranked third among all runners with at least 100 carries last season. POWELL, who gained 697 yards on 176 carries, also finishing tied for second on the team with 36 receptions.

The 1,530 combined rushing yards by IVORY and POWELL were the most by the Jets top two runners since LaDainian Tomlinson (914) and Shonn Greene (766) combined for 1,680 yards in 2010.

Lynn also successfully integrated rookie fullback TOMMY BOHANON who gained 62 yards on 17 carries and 69 yards on 11 receptions.

Lynn came to the Jets after spending the previous six years as a running backs coach with the Browns (2007-08), Cowboys (2005-06) and Jaguars (2003-04).

With the Browns, he worked with Jamal Lewis and helped him produce back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. In 2007, Lewis rushed for 1,304 yards despite only playing in 14 games.

He oversaw the emergence of Julius Jones and Marion Barber III as the two combined for more than 1,500 yards on the ground both seasons during his time with the Cowboys.

With the Jaguars, Fred Taylor recorded two of the top four rushing seasons in team history, including his career-best 1,572 yards in 2003.

He began his coaching career with the Broncos as an offensive assistant and assistant special teams coach.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the Giants in 1992, but was released after training camp.
- Made the 1993 Broncos roster and saw action in 13 games but spent 1994 on IR after breaking his leg.

COACHING CAREER

Thomas McGaughey was named the special teams coordinator on February 5, 2014, after serving the previous three seasons in the same position at LSU.

Entering his eighth season in the NFL, he has served as a special teams coordinator or assistant special teams coach in both the NFL or with an FBS school since 2002, winning a Super Bowl in 2007 (NYG) and an SEC Championship in 2011 (LSU).

In three seasons with LSU, McGaughey guided the Tigers' special teams to seven touchdowns, coaching future NFL Draft choices Odell Beckham, Jr., Morris Claiborne and Tyrann Mathieu. Under his direction, Beckham, Jr. and Mathieu both earned All-America honors as returners, while Brad Wing received the recognition as a punter.

In 2012, kicker Drew Alleman was named second-team All-SEC, while Wing earned second-team All-America honors with a 44.8 gross punting average. LSU ranked eighth in kickoff coverage allowing 18.1 yards per return, 11th in punt coverage at 3.5 yards allowed per return and eighth nationally in net punting with a 40.7 average.

In his first year at LSU, Wing, then a redshirt freshman, earned several first-team All-America honors after averaging 44.4 yards on 59 punts and ranked fifth in the nation by allowing just 3.65 yards per punt return. The Tigers also led the SEC and ranked third in the country in net punting with a 41.2 average. Alleman, a first-time starter in 2011, converted on 16-of-18 field goals, including the game-winner in overtime against Alabama.

Prior to heading up the Tigers special teams, McGaughey served as the assistant special teams coordinator with the New York Giants from 2007-10, helping the team rank fourth in the NFL in field goal percentage and producing the Pro Bowl battery of kicker John Carney, punter Jeff Feagles and long snapper Zak DeOssie in 2008, while cover specialist Chase Blackburn was named a Pro Bowl alternate.

Carney, who was signed just prior to the 2008 season, set a franchise record by connecting on 35-of-38 field goals for 92.1 percent. The 35 field goals tied the team mark, while the 92.1 percent stands as the franchise record.

McGaughey joined the Giants after two seasons as the assistant special teams coach with the Broncos. In 2006, the Broncos held opposing punt returners to an average of 6.9 yards a return, the fifth-best figure in the NFL. The previous year, McGaughey worked with the Broncos special teams that helped the club go 13-3 en route to capturing the AFC West title and advancing to the AFC Championship Game.

McGaughey spent two years (2003-04) working at his alma mater, the University of Houston, before joining the Broncos staff. He served as Houston's special teams coordinator in 2003 and as special teams coordinator/cornerbacks coach in 2004.

After entering the NFL coaching ranks as a minority intern with the Chiefs during training camp in 2001, McGaughey joined the staff full-time in 2002 as an assistant special teams coach.

Before beginning as a coach, he worked as a pro scouting assistant during an internship with the Texans in 2001, the year before the club's inaugural season.

Offensive Coordinator

HOMETOWN: San Jose, CA

COLLEGE: Montana

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 20th • JETS: 2nd

COACHING CAREER

After installing his offense last season, Marty Mornhinweg enters his second season as offensive coordinator.

For the first time since 2002, Mornhinweg broke camp with a rookie starting quarterback. Drafted in the second round in 2013, rookie quarterback GENO SMITH started all 16 games for the Jets, the only rookie quarterback in team history to do so. He passed for 3,046 yards, making him the first quarterback in Jets history and 13th in NFL history to throw for more than 3,000 yards in his rookie season.

"I don't know how many offensive coordinators have done a better job than Marty Mornhinweg," Coach Ryan said about what his offensive coordinator did last season. "Faced with different challenges each week and here he comes. He's done a great job."

The Jets fielded the NFL's sixth-ranked rushing offense, gaining 2,158 yards on the ground. Led by running backs CHRIS IVORY (team-leading 833 yards rushing) and BILAL POWELL (697 yards), the pair combined for 1,530 yards, the most a pair of Jet runners has combined for since LaDainian Tomlinson (914) and Shonn Greene (766) combined for 1,680 yards in 2010.

Over the last four games, the Jets offense produced 25.3 points per game and 361.3 yards per game, while converting on 54.1% of their third down attempts (third best in the league). During that span, the ground game produced 165.5 yards per game (second most in the league), while all the numbers in the passing game increased from their season totals, including sacks allowed (five) and interceptions thrown (two), both of which were in the top five league-wide.

Primary wide receivers Antonio Holmes (five games), STEPHEN HILL (four games) and JEREMY KERLEY (four games) all missed time due to injury this past season. However, the offense was able to successfully integrate in-season acquisition DAVID NELSON, who finished tied for second on the club in receptions (36) and third in yards (423) despite joining the team before the Week Five contest at the Falcons.

Mornhinweg has established a reputation of being one of the top football minds in the NFL, putting together record-setting statistical performances for two different franchises (49ers and Eagles) in the role of offensive coordinator.

During his time as coordinator with the Eagles, the offense set single-season franchise records in completions (367 in 2012), total net yards (6,386 in 2011), completion percentage (62.0 in 2010), total points (439 in 2010) average per rush (5.4 in 2010), third down percentage (42.4 in 2007), net passing yards (4,119 in 2006), passer rating (96.7 in 2006), least interceptions (9 in 2006), and tied for the least turnovers (22 in 2004).

In each of his first six seasons as an offensive coordinator with the Eagles, Mornhinweg's offense produced either a 1,000-yard rusher (Brian Westbrook 2, LeSean McCoy 2), 1,000-yard receiver (DeSean Jackson 2, Kevin Curtis) or 3,000-yard passer (Donovan McNabb 3, MICHAEL VICK 2). Overall, 10 different Eagles offensive players made a total of 17 Pro Bowl appearances, including two different quarterbacks (McNabb and VICK), three different running backs (Westbrook, McCoy and Leonard Weaver), two different wide receivers (Terrell Owens and Jackson) and three different offensive linemen (Tra Thomas, Shawn Andrews and Jason Peters).

In 2010, the Eagles set a franchise record in points for the third consecutive season and earned Mornhinweg NFL Assistant Coach of the Year honors from Pro Football Weekly.

Five quarterbacks have earned Pro Bowl status working under him: VICK, McNabb, Steve Young, Jeff Garcia and Brett Favre.

In 1998, his second season as coordinator, the 49ers offense established franchise records in total yards (6,800), first downs (381) and rushing yards (2,544). His unit became the third in NFL history to lead the league in both gross passing yards and rushing yards in the same season, joining the 1939 and 1941 Chicago Bears.

In 1996, Mornhinweg tutored Green Bay quarterbacks as Favre captured NFL MVP honors in leading his team to the Super Bowl XXXI championship.

DENNIS THURMAN

DENNIS THURMAN

Defensive Coordinator

Joined Jets in 2009

HOMETOWN: Los Angeles, CA

COLLEGE: Southern California

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 14th • JETS: 6th

COACHING CAREER

Dennis Thurman returns as defensive coordinator after being elevated to the position last season. He originally joined the staff in 2009, spending his first four seasons as the club's defensive backs coach.

Last season, his first as a coordinator, Thurman commanded the same respect he did as a player and a position coach. "(Thurman) has respect from every player that he ever competed with," Coach Rex Ryan said. "For the player he was, but also for the intangibles he brought. One of the smartest guys in the league and he has that wealth of experience with the defense. The fact we've been side by side for 10, how many years, at least 10 I think. So we know each other well, we're one in the same, we think the exact same way."

He oversaw a transition on defense in 2013 as the club started seven new players. Despite that changeover, the group finished third in the league in rushing defense, allowing 88.3 yards per game and the fewest yards per carry, holding opponents to just 3.4 yards per rush.

The defensive line, saw DAMON HARRISON, a former undrafted free agent in his second season, and SHELDON RICHARDSON, a 2013 first-round pick who earned Defensive Rookie of the Year honors, join MUHAMMAD WILKERSON (career-best 10.5 sacks and second-team All-Pro recognition) in the starting lineup.

The linebackers had returning starters DAVID HARRIS (career-best 149 tackles) and CALVIN PACE (career-best 10.0 sacks) joined by new starters DEMARIO DAVIS, who posted his first 100-tackle season, and QUINTON COPLES, who made the transition from defensive lineman and registered a team-leading 50 quarterback hurries.

The secondary saw only one returning starter, since-departed cornerback Antonio Cromartie, who tied for the team lead with three interceptions en route to earning his second-consecutive Pro Bowl trip. New arrivals among the defensive backs last year were veteran safety DAWAN LANDRY, who reunited with Thurman after spending 2006-07 with him at the Ravens, former 2012 seventh-round selection, ANTONIO ALLEN, who won the starting job in training camp and responded with a career season, and 2013 first-round selection, cornerback DEE MILLINER. MILLINER finished his rookie season strong, capping it with Defensive Rookie of the Month honors after registering 27 tackles, three interceptions and 13 passes defended in the final five contests.

Thurman also helped incorporate future Hall-of-Fame safety Ed Reed into the defense following his mid-season signing. With Reed, the Jets defense recorded eight of their 13 interceptions and allowed just nine touchdown passes over their final seven games.

With Thurman as the defensive backs coach, the Jets secondary held opponents to an NFL-low 71.0 passer rating, 52.6 completion percentage, and 11,921 passing yards from 2009-12.

In 2010, with players in his unit missing a total of 17 regular season games, Thurman coached a group that helped the Jets defense finish sixth overall in passing yards allowed a game (200.6). Thurman welcomed two new full-time starters in 2010, Cromartie and safety Brodney Pool. Cromartie finished tied for the team lead with three interceptions, tied his career-high with 18 passes defended and recorded the second most tackles (42) in a season during his career.

In 2009, Thurman led a secondary that allowed an NFL-best 153.7 yards passing a game and helped the Jets defense finish first in both yards and points allowed. Thurman coached cornerback Darrelle Revis to a season referred to by Ryan as "...the best year a corner has ever had (and) the most impact a corner has ever had in the National Football League." In 2009, Revis recorded six interceptions, 72 tackles and 34 passes defended. Also excelling under the instruction of Thurman was safety Jim Leonhard. In his first season as a full-time starter, Leonhard recorded career-highs in tackles (95), sacks (2.5), passes defended (7) and forced fumbles (1).

Thurman spent six years coaching the Ravens defense (2002-07), four as secondary coach and two as defensive assistant alongside Head Coach Rex Ryan. The Ravens led the NFL with 126 interceptions and 18 interception returns for touchdowns while he was coaching Reed (34 INT, 2002-07), Chris McAlister, Samari Rolle and Deion Sanders, among others.

Before coming back to the NFL, he coached the defensive backs at his alma mater, USC, for eight years (1993-2000).

Thurman coached defensive backs for the Cardinals (1988-89) after playing for the franchise just two years earlier.

COACHING CAREER

Having completed his first season as an NFL coach, 10-year veteran punter and former Jet, Louie Aguiar continues as the assistant special teams coach.

Working with former Special Teams Coordinator Ben Kotwica, Aguiar primarily worked with the specialists, assisting both kicker NICK FOLK and punter RYAN QUIGLEY in their career years.

FOLK set career bests in both field goals made (33), finishing one short of Jim Turner's team record, and field goal percentage (91.7%), breaking Mike Nugent's 2006 team record. He also garnered a pair of AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors and connected on three game-winning field goals, giving him eight as a Jet, tying Pat Leahy for most game-tying/winning field goals (last minute of the fourth quarter or overtime) in team history.

After spending training camp with the team, QUIGLEY was released on final cut downs before returning to the squad in Week Three following the release of Robert Malone. In 14 games, he established a new team mark for net punting average (38.9) after punting 72 times for 3,278 yards and placing 21 kicks inside the 20-yard line.

Prior to signing with the Jets, Aguiar worked with long snapper TANNER PURDUM and helped him begin his NFL career. Purdum is considered one of the best short snappers in the NFL and is consistent as a long snapper on punts.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- As a player, spent time with the Jets (1991-93), Chiefs (1994-98), Packers (1999) and Bears (2000). He saw action in 152 games and recorded a gross average of 41.2 yards on 758 punts, allowing only one blocked punt during his NFL career.
- During his time with the Chiefs, was named an All-Pro by the Associated Press in 1995 and battled testicular cancer during the offseason of 1998.
- In his best season with the Jets, averaged 41.0 yards, while his 37.6 net average and 22 punts inside the 20 were third-best in the AFC during the 1992 season.
- Became the first punter taken in the 1991 World League of American Football (WLAF) league and went on to compete in the World Bowl under Coach Jack Bicknell. That same year, he won honors as second team punter for the Barcelona Dragons where he set the record for longest punt (80 yards) in the NFL Europe.
- Attended college at Utah State where he earned a third-team honorable mention in 1988 for his punting. He holds the record at Utah State for longest punt (85 yards).

HARRIS again led the team in tackles, posting a career-best 149. DAVIS stepped in as a starter at inside linebacker and registered the first 100-tackle effort of his young career. PACE, who returned to the team last offseason after his release, posted double-digit sacks, recording a career-best 10.0 on the season.

Prior to joining the Jets, he spent two seasons with the Eagles (2011-12) as a defensive quality control coach.

Before entering the NFL's coaching ranks full-time, he spent one season at Nicholls State as the special teams coordinator/safeties coach in 2010 after three seasons as the special teams coordinator/inside linebackers coach at Portland State (2007-09).

Served three summer internships with NFL teams during his college career, working for the Bills (2004), Jaguars (2003) and Rams (2002).

Worked as the special teams coordinator/inside linebackers coach for Portland State in 2007. At 25, he was believed to be the youngest coordinator in Division I football.

Under April's guidance, Portland State produced All-American linebackers Andy Schantz and Jordan Senn, who is currently with the Panthers.

April, a Mandeville, LA native, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tulane in 2005.

Offensive Line

HOMETOWN: Blacksburg, VA

COLLEGE: Iowa

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 13th • JETS: 9th

Joined Jets in 2006

COACHING CAREER

The longest tenured Jets assistant, Mike Devlin begins his ninth year on the Jets staff, and second consecutive season as the offensive line coach.

The offensive line integrated two new starters last season for the first time since the 2008 campaign. Both guards were new as former Super Bowl winner WILLIE COLON took over for the retired Brandon Moore at right guard and 2013 third-round selection BRIAN WINTERS took over at left guard. Despite the changes at guard, the Jets finished 2013 sixth in the league in rushing, gaining 134.9 yards per game on the ground as the offensive line paved the way for four 100-yard rushing efforts by two different backs (CHRIS IVORY and BILAL POWELL). They also put forth an impressive finish, helping lead the Jets to a 3-1 record over the final four games while allowing just five total sacks, tied for the third-fewest in the league over that span.

Last season, left tackle D'BRICKASHAW FERGUSON became the first Jets player to begin his career with 125 consecutive starts. Devlin has served as either the offensive line coach or assistant line coach every season since FERGUSON was selected fourth overall in 2006. Additionally, center NICK MANGOLD, also a 2006 first-round selection, was selected to his fifth Pro Bowl.

In his final season as tight ends coach, Devlin helped JEFF CUMBERLAND bounce back from a 2011 season-ending Achilles injury to achieve career highs in receptions (29), yards (359) and touchdowns (3).

He also coached tight end Dustin Keller into one of the most productive tight ends in team history. As a Jet, Keller has the fourth-most receptions (241) and yards (2,876) in Jets history for a tight end, while his 11.9 yards per catch rank third-most of any tight end with 200 or more receptions. He became the Jets most productive tight end in the postseason, recording 26 receptions for 302 yards and three touchdowns.

Under Devlin's direction, Keller led the team in receptions for two consecutive seasons (2011-12), catching 65 in 2011 and 55 in 2010. It marked the first time a tight end has led the Jets in receptions during a season since Mickey Shuler did it in 1985.

He joined the Jets after two seasons as the offensive line coach at the University of Toledo (2004-05). In 2005, his line plowed the way for the 11th-ranked offense in the country (459.2 yards/game) as tackle Nick Kaczur developed into a third-round draft pick (2005) of the Patriots.

Devlin began his coaching career as the offensive quality control coach with the Cardinals in 2000 before being promoted to assistant offensive line coach in 2001.

Defensive Line

Joined Jets in 2012

HOMETOWN: Opelousas, LA

COLLEGE: Louisiana State

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 10th • JETS: 3rd

COACHING CAREER

Overseeing some of the most successful and accomplished defensive lines in recent NFL history, Karl Dunbar returns for a third season as the club's defensive line coach.

After ranking 26th in rushing defense during the 2012 season, the Jets placed an emphasis on stopping the run, and saw Dunbar's unit lead the way. The team finished 2013 ranked third in the league in rushing defense, holding opponents to 88.3 yards per game, over 40 yards less per contest than the 2012 season. The team allowed a league-low 3.4 yards per rush, the lowest average since the 2010 Steelers allowed 3.0 yards per rush. According to StatsPass, the team registered the fewest runs of 10+ yards (29), while tying for third with 50 tackles for loss.

No starter on the Jets defensive line came into last season with more than two years of experience. "He gets those guys to work extremely hard," Coach Ryan commented about Dunbar. "Karl Dunbar, (he is a) phenomenal defensive line coach, so I think that's where you're really going to see these guys really progress under his tutelage."

Third-year defensive lineman MUHAMMAD WILKERSON posted a team-leading and career-best 10.5 sacks, the most by a Jets defensive player since 2005. WILKERSON was named a second-team All-Pro by the Associated Press and a first alternate for the Pro Bowl in addition to being selected the Curtis Martin Team MVP by his teammates.

Selected with the Jets second first-round selection in 2013, defensive tackle SHELDON RICHARDSON earned Defensive Rookie of the Year honors by the Associated Press. RICHARDSON registered 101 tackles, finishing fourth among all defensive linemen according to StatsPass. He recorded 3.5 sacks and 8.5 tackles for loss (also according to StatsPass), the most backfield stops of any rookie this season.

Also taking a big step forward last season was former 2012 undrafted free agent DAMON HARRISON. HARRISON, in just his second season, graded out as the best nose tackle against the run in the league according to Pro Football Focus.

Dunbar also aided in the transition of QUINTON COPLES from a defensive lineman to an outside linebacker. In two seasons under Dunbar, COPLES leads the team with 78 quarterback hurries, finishing with a team-leading 50 in 2013.

During his time in with the Vikings (2006-11), the defense allowed the fewest rushing yards in the NFL (84.8 yards per game) and recorded the sixth most sacks in the NFL (242). The Vikings rush defense was the best in the NFL each season from 2006-2008, marking the first time since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger that a team had ranked number one in rushing defense in three consecutive seasons.

Under his direction, defensive tackle Kevin Williams was selected to the Pro Bowl five times, defensive end Jared Allen was selected four times and defensive tackle Pat Williams was selected three times.

In 2011, the Vikings defense finished tied for the most sacks in the NFL with 50. The effort was led by Allen's NFL-leading 22 sacks, just 0.5 sacks short of the NFL single-season record.

Under his tutelage, both Williamses and Allen made the Pro Bowl in 2008, becoming the first trio of Vikings defensive linemen to earn the honor since 1969. The unit also led the league in rushing defense for the third-consecutive season.

In Dunbar's second season with the Vikings, the defense allowed just 985 rushing yards. That total set a team record and ranked second in the NFL since the 1970 merger behind the Ravens 970 yards allowed in 2000.

Dunbar's first coaching stint in the NFL was in 2004 with the Bears. He tutored a young defensive line that included rookie first-round pick Tommie Harris and second-round choice Tank Johnson.

From 2002-03, Dunbar was the defensive line coach at Oklahoma State where he mentored future Viking Kevin Williams and helped him become the first Oklahoma State defensive lineman to be a first-round selection (ninth in 2003) since Leslie O'Neal (eighth in 1986).

He began his coaching career at Opelousas High School in Louisiana in 1996 before advancing to Beau Chene High School in 1997.

HOMETOWN: Thousand Oaks, CA

COLLEGE: Cal-Lutheran

EXPERIENCE: NFL: 10th • JETS: 2nd

COACHING CAREER

Steve Hagen returns for his second season as the Jets tight ends coach, continuing his 30-year coaching career.

In his first season with the Jets, he oversaw a career season from tight end JEFF CUMBERLAND who set personal bests in yards (398) and touchdown receptions (four) while finishing second on the team with 15.3 yards per catch. Hagen's group combined for 63 receptions, 851 yards and six touchdowns.

In 2011, Hagen oversaw a Browns tight end group that combined for 91 receptions and seven touchdowns. The team's 91 receptions by the tight ends tied for the seventh-highest total in the NFL in 2011. The reception total was the highest by the Browns at that position since they combined for 95 in 2007, while the touchdown total was the team's highest since they combined for nine scores in 2004. Also in 2011, Hagen was instrumental in drafting and developing tight end Jordan Cameron, who was voted to the Pro Bowl in 2013.

Under Hagen's guidance, tight end Ben Watson led the Browns with 68 catches for 763 yards and three touchdowns in 2010. His reception total was 10th in the AFC and first among all AFC tight ends. Additionally, it was the sixth-highest total ever by a Browns tight end. Watson's yardage figure was second-most among AFC tight ends, fifth among NFL tight ends and was the eighth-highest figure by a tight end in Browns annals. He was the first tight end to lead the Browns in receiving yards since 1985, when Hall of Famer Ozzie Newsome accomplished the feat with 711 yards.

Hagen has 20 years of experience on the college level. Before he returned to the Browns in 2009, Hagen tutored tight ends at North Carolina for two seasons. In 2008, the Tar Heels secured a record of 8-5 as they went on to play in the Meineke Car Care Bowl, the school's first bowl appearance in four years. Prior to that, he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Fresno State University for one season (2006).

In his first stint with Cleveland, Hagen spent time as both the tight ends coach (2001-03) and quarterbacks coach (2004).

Before he began working in the NFL, Hagen was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at California from 1999-2000. He spent two seasons at San Jose State as offensive coordinator, quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator (1997-98). Hagen previously served as the head coach at Wartburg (Iowa) College in 1996, guiding the team to a 7-3 record, as the school ranked eighth in Division III in total offense.

From 1994-95, Hagen served as the offensive coordinator at UNLV. In his two-year tenure, the team broke 20 school offensive records.

Hagen got his start in the coaching profession as a graduate assistant at Illinois in 1984. He served in the same role at Kansas (1985-86) before getting his first full-time position as receivers and tight ends coach at Northern Arizona University (1987-88). He has also had stops at Notre Dame (1989-90), Kent State University (1991) and Nevada-Reno (1992-93).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Was a wide receiver at Cal-Lutheran University from 1979-83, where he earned NAIA All-America honors as a senior.

In 2010, his group helped pave the way for the league's third-ranked rushing offense, averaging 149.7 yards per game, and fifth in yards per carry (4.7), despite having just two offensive linemen start all 16 games. Jones-Drew finished the season with the fifth-most rushing yards in the NFL (1,324).

Prior to his two-year stint with the Jaguars, Heller spent four years coaching in the Canadian Football League and NFL Europe, including stops with the Amsterdam Admirals (2004, 2006-07) and Toronto Argonauts (2009).

Following his playing career, Heller was named assistant offensive line coach of the Amsterdam Admirals of NFL Europe in 2004. ## COACHING CAREER

Sanjay Lal returns to the Jets for his third season as wide receivers coach after spending the previous five seasons with the Raiders, the last three as wide receivers coach.

Last season, Lal's group was hit hard by injuries as starting wide receivers STEPHEN HILL (four), Santonio Holmes (five) and JERMEY KERLEY (four) each missed at least four games. Despite the injuries, KERLEY again led the team in both receptions (43) and receiving yards (523). Lal helped in-season signing DAVID NELSON, who joined the team in Week Five, finish second on the team in receptions (36) and third in receiving yards (423).

In his first season with the Jets, Lal guided KERLEY to his most productive season in which he led the team in receptions (56), receiving yards (827) and yards per catch (14.8). Lal also helped Holmes record 20 receptions in 3.5 games, putting him on pace for a 91-catch season before suffering a season-ending injury vs. San Francisco in Week Four.

In 2011, Oakland wide receivers finished sixth in the NFL with an average of 15.0 yards per catch. 2011 fourth-round draft selection Denarius Moore ended the season with 18.7 yards per reception, fourth-highest among wide receivers in the NFL.

Former first-round pick Darrius Heyward-Bey enjoyed his most successful season under Lal's tutelage, totaling 64 receptions for 975 yards and four touchdowns, all career highs.

He mentored one of the youngest receiving units in the NFL in 2010, as no Oakland receiver entered the year with more than three seasons of pro experience.

Among the young receivers was rookie JACOBY FORD, who averaged 18.8 yards per reception in 2010.

Lal oversaw the development of rookies Heyward-Bey and Louis Murphy in 2009. The pair became the first rookie tandem to start at wide receiver in the NFL since 2000.

He spent 2007-08 as an assistant wide receivers coach with the Raiders.

Prior to coaching in the NFL, he spent three seasons as an offensive assistant and quarterbacks coach at the University of California. The Golden Bears played in a bowl game each of Lal's three seasons at Cal and captured a share of the school's first Pac-10 title in 2006.

Before his time at Cal, he was a quarterbacks and strength, speed and conditioning coach at Saint Mary's college in 2004, and a wide receivers coach at Los Medanos College in 2003.

Lal also spent six years as the passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach at Miramonte (CA) High School where the program won five North Coast Section Championships and one state title, posting a 13-0 record in 2001.

COACHING CAREER

David Lee enters his 10th season in the NFL and his second as the Jets quarterbacks coach.

Last season, Lee directed rookie quarterback GENO SMITH, who started all 16 games for the Jets, the only rookie quarterback in team history to do so. SMITH passed for 3,046 yards, making him the first quarterback in Jets history and 13th in NFL history to throw for more than 3,000 yards in his rookie season.

Among SMITH's other superlatives were becoming the first rookie quarterback in NFL history drafted in the second round or later to pass for at least 250 yards and win on Kickoff Weekend since the 1970 merger and the only quarterback since the 1970 merger to record four game-winning drives in the fourth quarter or overtime in his first seven career games.

Lee also aided SMITH's rushing game, as the rookie ran for 366 yards, the second most in a single season by a Jets passer. His six rushing scores are tied for second most in a year by a Jets quarterback.

Additionally, Lee was instrumental in the development of backup quarterback MATT SIMMS, who earned the second-string quarterback job a year after entering the league as an undrafted free agent. During the 2013 preseason, SIMMS finished with a 103.6 passer rating (second-best in the league) while passing for the third-most yards (478).

Before joining the Jets, he spent the 2012 season as the quarterbacks coach with the Bills. Prior to joining them, Lee was the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Mississippi in 2011, where he coached alongside then head coach Houston Nutt before Nutt's subsequent retirement.

Lee was the quarterbacks coach for the Dolphins from 2008-10 and played a vital role in reintroducing and transforming the Wildcat offense at the pro level. Lee also guided the emergence of quarterbacks Chad Henne and Chad Pennington. In 2008, Pennington was voted the NFL Comeback Player of the Year and a runner-up for NFL Player of the Year.

As the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach for Arkansas in 2007, Lee presided over an offense that ranked 12th in points per game (38.8) and 18th in yards per game (457.4) – setting school records in both categories. Arkansas threw 24 touchdown passes and only 10 interceptions.

In 2003, Lee entered the NFL as the Dallas Cowboys offensive quality control/quarterbacks coach where he helped develop quarterback Tony Romo from an undrafted college free agent in 2003 to a Pro Bowl selection in 2006. In Lee's four years in Dallas, three different Cowboys QBs threw for 3,000 yards in a season.

As assistant coach and quarterbacks coach at Arkansas (2001-02), he contributed to a Razorback team that appeared in the Cotton Bowl, won the 2002 SEC Western Division title and advanced to the SEC Championship Game.

Lee served seven seasons at Rice University (1994-2000) as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. During his tenure, Rice produced six of the school's top rushing totals, including a school-record 332.7 yards-per-game average in 1997. Rice ranked in the top 10 nationally in rushing three times during his tenure.

He served as the head coach at Texas-El Paso from 1989-1993.

Lee coached quarterbacks and fullbacks at Arkansas from 1984-1988 and helped direct the Razorbacks to a 45-15-1 record with five consecutive bowl appearances. He was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1988, Lee helped engineer Arkansas' first Southwest Conference championship in nine years and first outright league title since 1965. The 1988 offensive unit committed just 11 turnovers in 11 games and led the nation in turnover ratio while coaching a pair of First-Team All-SWC sophomores, including former Steelers running back Barry Foster and quarterback Quinn Grovey.

In 1983, Lee served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at New Mexico following his first tenure at Ole Miss (1978-82). As the Rebels quarterbacks coach for five seasons, Lee tutored record-setting quarterbacks Kent Austin and John Fourcade, who rank third and fourth, respectively, on the all-time Ole Miss passing list.

Lee spent the 1977 season as quarterbacks coach at his alma mater Vanderbilt after spending two years at Tennessee-Martin tutoring quarterbacks and receivers.

Throughout his college coaching career, nine of his quarterbacks were drafted or signed free agent deals in the NFL.

SEASON-BY-SEASON REVIEW

JETS (2013) Started every game and led the team in sacks (10.5) and tackles for loss (15) and was second in quarterback hurries (43)... Also totaled 91 tackles, a new career high, two passes defended, one forced fumble and one interception...His 10.5 sacks were the most by a Jets defender since 2005, when DE John Abraham recorded 10.5 sacks... Wilkerson and LB Calvin Pace are the first Jets duo to record double-digit sacks in the same season since Joe Klecko (20.5) and Mark Gastineau (20) accomplished the feat in 1981...It also marks only the third time since 1971 that two Jets logged double-digit sacks in the same season... With the sack becoming a statistic in 1982, Pace and Wilkerson officially stand as the only duo in team history to register double-digit sacks in the same season. SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: (12/22 vs. CLV)...Finished with five tackles, a half-sack for a loss of 2.5 yards, two quarterback hits and one quarterback hurry. (12/15 at CAR)...Totaled 10 tackles, including one for a loss, and had four quarterback hurries. (12/1 vs. MIA)...Recorded eight tackles, three quarterback hits and one pass defended... His batted ball in the second quarter led to a CB Antonio Cromartie interception. (11/24 at BLT)...Registered nine tackles and had two sacks for a loss of 12 yards, tying his career-high for most sacks in a game. (11/17 at BUF)...Notched six tackles, including three tackles for loss. (11/3 vs. NO)...Finished with three tackles, including two tackles for loss...Also registered one sack for a loss of nine yards, six QB hits and one QB hurry. (10/27 at CIN)...Intercepted the first pass of his career, picking off CIN QB Andy Dalton on a screen pass and returning it six yards...Also recorded one sack for a loss of three yards and had a tackle for a loss. (10/20 vs. NE)...Tallied eight tackles, one sack, one tackle for loss and three quarterback hits...Recorded at least one sack for his third consecutive game. (10/13 vs. PIT)...Finished with eight tackles, one sack and three QB hits. (10/7 at ATL)...Registered 10 tackles, including two for a loss and forced a turnover on a strip-sack of QB Matt Ryan in the third quarter. (9/29 at TEN)...Notched seven tackles, including one tackle for a loss. (9/22 vs. BUF)...Totaled six tackles, including two sacks for a loss of 16 yards, his first multi-sack game of his career. (9/8 vs. TB)...Finished with three tackles and collected one sack for a loss of five yards.

MARTY LYONS

MARTY LYONS

New York Jets Radio Network

Marty Lyons is in his 13th season as the Jets radio analyst. Lyons was originally a first-round draft selection of the Jets in 1979 out of the University of Alabama after playing for Paul “Bear” Bryant. On October 13, 2013, Lyons took his place as one of the all-time great members of the New York Jets organization as he was inducted into the team’s Ring of Honor.

A founding member of the “New York Sack Exchange,” Lyons, together with teammates Mark Gastineau, Joe Klecko and Abdul Salaam, helped lead the 1981 Jets to a franchise-record 66 sacks, and the team’s first playoff appearance since 1969. He finished his NFL career with 43 sacks over 11 seasons for the Jets (1979-89), playing in 147 games – a team-record for a defensive lineman at the time of his retirement.

Also a dominant college player, Lyons was enshrined into the College Football Hall of Fame following his first appearance on the ballot.

While a formidable force on the field, Lyons has made significant contributions off the field as well with his extensive charitable work. For his commitment to the community, he was named NFL Man of the Year in 1984. Lyons is the founder and chairman of the Marty Lyons Foundation, which grants wishes to children diagnosed with terminal or chronic life-threatening illnesses. It has made more than 7,000 wishes come true.
