2016: A NEW BEGINNING

"Today, collectively, we begin a new journey towards the future."

December 28, 2015 will be remembered as a watershed moment in the history of professional baseball in Binghamton. John Hughes, a successful businessman hailing from Georgia, was introduced to the public as the new owner and president of the Binghamton Mets in a press conference held in the team's clubhouse.

After years of dogged rumors of the city losing professional baseball, Hughes used his introduction to Binghamton to unequivocally solidify his goals for the organization.

New owner, John Hughes

"The B-Mets are here to stay," said Hughes. "Not only for today and not only for the 2016 season, but we're here for the future. There is a long-term commitment in place."

Michael Urda, the team's former president and leader of the previous ownership group, helped hand control to Hughes following two decades of heading the organization.

"You remind me of myself in 1994," Urda said to the B-Mets' new owner. "Your heart's in the right place, and you want to own this team for the right reasons...I'm pleased to share the keys with someone that shares our same values."

Rich David, Mayor of the City of Binghamton, accurately summed up the collective thoughts of his constituents whose beloved baseball team was staying put.

"Today is a day of celebration. I want to welcome the Hughes family to our community...Now we have the beginning of a long and positive journey in this community," shared David.

Exuding a "hit-the-ground-running" mentality, Hughes shared his goals for boosting the baseball jewel of the Southern Tier.

"I'm committed to increasing the fan experience...I'm going to create a fun, family environment that everybody can be happy to come out to," shared Hughes.

A new era in team history had begun.

HUGHES' PLAN FOR THE FUTURE

Less than 80 days after introducing himself to the City of Binghamton, B-Mets president John Hughes was back in the Southern Tier to present his plans for the future. In a presentation in downtown Binghamton on March 10, 2016, Hughes spelled out his new vision for the team. A full team rebrand for the 2017 season highlighted his litany of exciting changes.

"We're thrilled to be keeping Double-A, New York Mets baseball here in the community, but with a new name that everyone in Binghamton can call its own" said Hughes to the assembly of local dignitaries, sponsors and season ticket holders. "The new name will bring in a new era that proudly represents a crown jewel of the community."

A "Name the Team" contest starting on Opening Night kicks off the season-long process of finding a new, locally-inspired team identity. Following a period of fan submissions and fan voting, the new official name of the Double-A Mets will be revealed in October 2016.

In addition to the new team name, Hughes announced several changes coming to NYSEG Stadium for 2016 and beyond. The team store at the ballpark has been completely remodeled allowing more fans to get access to a fresh range of B-Mets merchandise. Professional Sports Catering will handle concessions for the entire park with an eye towards pleasing every fan.

The players will also feel the difference in 2016 as the entire playing surface has been replaced from the infield clay to the outfield wall and batter's eye.

NYSEG STADIUM

BALLPARK HISTORY

After the Binghamton Triplets disbanded in 1968, their home park, Johnson Field in nearby Johnson City was demolished to make way for New York State Route 17. In 1991, when the New York Mets announced they would move the Williamsport Bills, their Double-A affiliate, from Pennsylvania to Binghamton, New York, the city put plans together to build the B-Mets a brand-new ballpark.

Aerial view of Binghamton Municipal Stadium in 1992

Opened in April 1992, Binghamton Municipal Stadium immediately became a hot spot in the city. In its inaugural season, the ballpark welcomed 278,492 fans, the highest single-season attendance for any team to ever call Binghamton home. The record stands to this day.

B-Mets fans have seen many memorable moments at the park. The team celebrated all three of their Eastern League Championships (1992, 1994 & 2014) on their home field. Joe Crawford tossed the second no-hitter in B-Mets history and first at home on May 5, 1996 in the second game of a doubleheader against the Trenton Thunder. Bob Keppel added a no-hitter to the franchise list when he baffled the Portland Sea Dogs over nine innings on August 2, 2003.

In 2001, the naming rights for the stadium were sold to the New York State Electric and Gas Company. The B-Mets would now call NYSEG Stadium home. More visible changes were made to the ballpark prior to the 2007 season when a videoboard was installed beyond the right field fence.

Municipal Stadium under construction in 1992

NYSEG Stadium has been the site of many rehab assignments for the New York Mets. From Dwight Gooden in 1994 to Jose Reyes in 2011, appearances from Big Leaguers have generated some of the largest crowds in stadium history. Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez's rehab start on July 17, 2008 drew 7,412, a single-game attendance record. Over the last 24 seasons, more than five million fans have entered NYSEG Stadium to watch their beloved Binghamton Mets.

BALLPARK LAYOUT

NYSEG Stadium, opened in 1992, has an official capacity of 6,012. There are 33 sections of seating, including 18 box seat sections and 15 reserved grandstand sections. The box seats contain nine rows of seating while the reserved grandstand contains 15 rows of seating. The stadium also offers six luxury boxes which hold approximately 20 individuals each. The picnic area down the left field line can accommodate 600. An additional picnic area is located down the right field line.

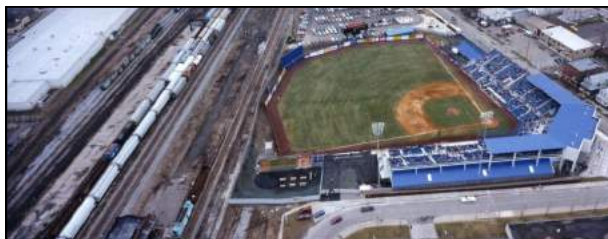

The B-Mets clubhouse is located beneath the stands on the first base line. The visitors' clubhouse is located beneath the stands on the third base line. Both clubhouses have their own coaches' room, training room and showers. A batting tunnel shared by both teams is located adjacent to the B-Mets clubhouse on the first base line. The B-Mets clubhouse also contains two players' lounges.

The B-Mets bullpen is located beyond the picnic area down the right field line. The visitors bullpen is located beyond the left field fence. The shed beyond the right field fence is used to store field maintenance equipment and contains the Sports Turf Manager's office.

EXPLAINING THE VIEW

The view from the press box at NYSEG Stadium blends the baseball tradition of the Southern Tier with the city's industrial past sprinkled with the beauty of the surrounding area.

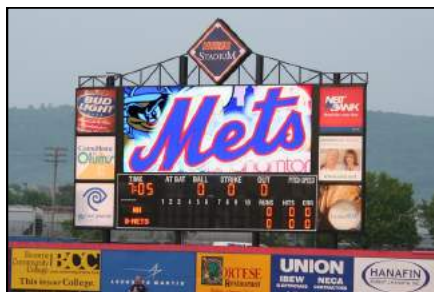

Aerial view of the rail yard beyond left field at NYSEG Stadium

the railroad era more evident than the rail yard beyond the left-field fence. The yard houses more than a dozen rails and lengthy freight trains roll through seven days a week. Several B-Mets and visitors have plunked rail cars with long home runs during the stadium's 24-year history.

The videoboard beyond the right-field fence was installed prior to the 2007 season to replace the original scoreboard. The board has allowed the B-Mets to develop a video production staff that creates pre-game programming, in-game contests, game highlights and much more.

Geographically, the city of Binghamton sits in a bowl-shaped valley at the confluence of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers. Located in the Glaciated Alleghany Plateau, the city is surrounded by elevated land. The rolling hills far beyond right field are located in the hamlet of Popes Ravine, which is part of the town of Kirkwood, a suburb of Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, NEW YORK

Officially settled in 1802, Binghamton is a community of 46,444 located in the Southern Tier, approximately seven miles north of the New York-Pennsylvania border. Serving as the seat of Broome County, the area now comprised of the city of Binghamton and its immediate suburbs was purchased by William Bingham, a wealthy native of Philadelphia, in 1792. Located in the valley at the confluence of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers, this newly acquired land offered an area easy to settle compared to the rolling hills that dominate the Upstate New York geography.

The community was originally known as Chenango Point before incorporating as the Town of Binghamton in 1834. Taking advantage of the flat, yet limited landscape, Binghamton originally developed as an agricultural town. That changed in the 1840's when the Erie Railroad was constructed to connect Binghamton to the Atlantic Coast. The area quickly became a major manufacturing and transportation hub.

The town progressed to city-status in 1867. At that point, nearly 9,000 people called the area home. Cigars were the first major product shipped out of Binghamton. However, that industry became trumped by the shoemaker Endicott Johnson in the early 1920's. Founded by Henry Bradford Endicott and George F. Johnson, the company's factories dominated the Triple Cities of Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott and employed nearly 20,000 people during the Roaring 20's. It saw its highest production during World War II when it pumped out 52 million pairs of shoes a year.

Endicott Johnson factories in the first half of the 20th century

As the shoe-producing industry began to fade following the war, the development of high-tech products took center stage. The Link Trainer, a flight simulator developed in Binghamton in the 1930's, was used to prepare pilots during World War II and enticed many technology companies to set up shop in the area.

The International Business Machines Corporation, commonly known as IBM, was founded in Endicott and continues to be a key employer in the area. Major defense contractors like Lockheed Martin, BAE Systems and Rockwell Collins also showcase plants in the Southern Tier.

Downtown Binghamton

Binghamton has been referred to as the "Parlor City" and "Carousel Capital of the World" over its 215-year history. It gained its Parlor City moniker in the latter portions of the 19th century for its attractive Victorian homes, stately mansions and neat streets. With six historic wooden carousels donated by George F. Johnson, the city earned its more self-explanatory "Carousel Capital of the World" nickname early in 1900's.

Boasting a heavy concentration of Italian immigrants in the 1920's, the Southern Tier became the birthplace of the spiedie (pronounced speed-dee). The sandwich consists of small, marinated pieces of chicken, pork, lamb, or beef traditionally served on soft Italian bread. Agostino Iacovelli and Peter Sharak are credited with introducing the tasty delicacy to the area. The name derives from the Italian word "spiedini," which refers to pieces of meat cooked on a skewer. The city celebrates this sandwich every summer at the Spiedie Fest and Balloon Rally, which is highlighted by a spiedie cook-off and hot-air balloon showcase.

During the winter, sports fans in Binghamton can catch a minor league hockey game with the Binghamton Senators, an affiliate of the Ottawa Senators playing in the American Hockey League. The Southern Tier is also home to the State University of New York at Binghamton, a highly-regarded public institution that fields 19 Division I teams.

Golf is another major sport in the area. There are over a dozen courses within a 20-mile radius of NYSEG Stadium. The En-Joie Golf Course in Endicott has hosted a Champions Tour event called the Dick's Sporting Goods Open since 2007. Dick's Sporting Goods was founded in Binghamton in 1948. The course also hosted the B.C. Open, a PGA Tour tournament, every year since 1971 until major flooding washed out the competition in 2006.

No miracles with these Mets. They're the real thing, and proved it start to finish.

Behind the brilliant pitching of Chris Roberts, a pair of home runs by Jeff Barry and a three-run shot by Alvaro Castillela, the Binghamton Mets beat Hagerberg, 7-2, Wednesday night to win their second Eastern League title in the three seasons since baseball returned to Binghamton.

The Mets led the North Division from New Haven in three games to the North Division playoff and then took the championship three games to one.

"I played pretty much everything I can and this is my first championship I've ever won," Roberts said, voice already hoarse after 17 minutes of the finale. "To come up here and patrick for the final one. We've worked hard all year and we deserve it."

Several observers Wednesday at Binghamton Municipal Stadium saw similarities in the Binghamton Mets' victory to the Yankees' win in Game 7 of the 1927 series with the Boston Red Sox.

Roberts won his second game of the playoffs, giving up only a two-run homer in Game 6.

"Binghamton, this one's for you." New York Mets executive Gary Hershiser triumphantly raised a record-setting 5-2 Saturday night.

The Binghamton Mets had just beaten the Eastern League Indians, 5-1, for the Eastern League championship.

CHAMPIONS!

B-Mets' title sets off a celebration

FINALLY!

After a 20-year wait, the B-Mets are champions again

TEAM HISTORY

BINGHAMTON METS HISTORY

While professional baseball in Binghamton, NY dates back to 1877, the Binghamton Mets' story begins in 1992. It was that year that the New York Mets organization moved their Double-A affiliate, the Bills, from Williamsport, Pennsylvania approximately 125 miles northeast to Binghamton, New York.

The city welcomed the B-Mets with open arms after going 23 years without having a professional baseball team to call their own. When tickets went on sale for the inaugural season, thousands of fans braved the rain and waited in a line that snaked for blocks through the city.

The Binghamton Triplets played in the Southern Tier for 46 years before disbanding in 1968. The club called Johnson Field in nearby Johnson City home. Following their departure, the ballpark was demolished to make way for New York State Route 17.

With Johnson Field long gone, the B-Mets needed a new home park. That requirement was fulfilled by Binghamton Municipal Stadium. Built in nine months for $4.6 million, the ballpark opened on April 19, 1992 after three-straight postponed games.

Binghamton's house-warming party was a strong one as they defeated the Harrisburg Senators 1-0 in front of 5,126 fans.

Led by Eastern League Manager of the Year, Steve Swisher, the B-Mets treated their fans to a stellar inaugural season. They went 79-59, finished 2nd in the Eastern League, and earned a trip to the postseason. The B-Mets dispatched the Harrisburg Senators in the semi-finals in four games, needing a 4-3 victory in a 14-inning marathon in the series-clincher.

In the Eastern League Championship, the B-Mets trailed the Canton-Akron Indians two games to one, but rallied with a 7-2 win in Game 4 and earned their first championship with a 5-2 win in the decisive fifth game. Bobby J. Jones, the ace of the Binghamton pitching staff and Eastern League Pitcher of the Year in 1992, earned the win in the championship game.

In their first season, the B-Mets welcomed 278,492 fans to Municipal Stadium, the highest single-season attendance for any team to ever call Binghamton home. The record stands to this day.

During the winter after the 1993 season, a group of local businessmen teamed up to make the Binghamton Mets a truly local product. Mike & Chris Urda, George Scherer and David & William Maines purchased the team from New York Mets in January 1994.

The 1994 season was another banner year for the B-Mets and the city. Binghamton became the center of the Double-A universe on July 11, 1994 when the team hosted the Double-A Association All-Star Game. 6,524 fans packed into Municipal Stadium and watched the American League defeat the National League 10-4.

The All-Star Game would not be the only excitement Binghamton would see that season. The B-Mets won the North Division under John Tamargo with a wire-to-wire performance, finishing the year at 82-59.

The B-Mets deftly swept the New Haven Ravens in three games in the North Division Championship, with each game decided by a single run.

Binghamton faced the Harrisburg Senators in the Eastern League Championship. After losing Game 1, B-Mets ace Bill Pulsipher got the team back on track in a big way. The hulking left-hander baffled the Senators for nine innings, hurling the first no-hitter in Binghamton Mets history. His win tied the series.

The B-Mets used more magic in Game 3. Trailing 4-2 in the bottom of the ninth, Edgardo Alfonzo launched a game-tying two-run homer before Frank Jacobs belted a walk-off solo shot. In Game 4, Chris Roberts secured Binghamton's second championship in three years. The righty allowed just two runs in a complete game in front of 5,259 fans at Municipal Stadium.

BINGHAMTON METS HISTORY

In 1996, with John Tamargo still at the helm, the team went 76-66 and finished second in the North Division. Unlike 1992 and 1994, this club was not able to supply the magic in the postseason. The B-Mets held a 2-1 series lead over the Portland Sea Dogs in the North Division Championship, but failed to lock it up. The Sea Dogs handed the B-Mets their first series loss by winning Games 4 & 5.

The story repeated itself in 1998. The B-Mets had a slow start playing for new manager John Gibbons, but caught fire in July. The club won 20 games in the month and finished second in the North Division with an 82-60 record.

Up against the New Britain Rock Cats in the North Division Championship, the B-Mets snatched Game 1, but watched their season end when New Britain won the final three games of the series.

The year 2000 was another fruitful season for the B-Mets. For the third time in franchise history, the team won exactly 82 games. The hometown fans were lucky enough to watch 46 of those wins at Municipal Stadium, a franchise record that still stands. Binghamton beat out the New Haven Ravens to win the North Division regular season crown by a game, but fell in the North Division Championship Series in four games.

In 2001, the naming rights for the stadium were sold to the New York State Electric and Gas Company. The B-Mets would now call NYSEG Stadium home.

Following their exit in 2000, Binghamton did not return to the postseason until 2004, when they finished second in the North Division with a 76-66 record for manager Ken Oberkfell. The New Hampshire Fisher Cats dispatched the B-Mets in four games en route to winning the Eastern League title.

2014 Championship Team

After a nine-year postseason drought, the B-Mets compiled one of their best seasons in franchise history in 2013. The club racked up a record 86 wins with Eastern League Most Valuable Player Allan Dykstra and Manager of the Year Pedro Lopez. The B-Mets won their first regular season division title since 2000, but were swept in the first round of the playoffs by the Trenton Thunder.

In 2014, the B-Mets made amends and finished second in the Eastern Division with 83 victories. TJ Rivera belted a walk-off three-run homer to beat the Portland Sea Dogs in the first game of the Division Series. After dropping their next two contests, the B-Mets sealed their first playoff series victory in 20 years by winning Games 4 and 5 on the road.

The B-Mets continued their roll by beating the Richmond Flying Squirrels in the first two games of the Eastern League Championship Series in Virginia. In Game 3, B-Met starter Steven Matz carried a no-hitter into the eighth in front of 5,904 at NYSEG Stadium. With the game tied in the bottom of the ninth, Jayce Boyd belted a walk-off double into the right-field alley, giving the B-Mets their first Eastern League Championship in two decades. Catcher Xorge Carrillo was named Postseason MVP.

In 2015, Lopez navigated the B-Mets to a 77-64 record and secured a postseason berth for the third straight year, a franchise record. The team's all-time winningest manager was inducted into Binghamton's Baseball Shrine in September 2015 for his efforts. The B-Mets failed to defend their title as they were swept by Reading Fightin Phils in the Division Series.

December 2015 saw another major change for the franchise. In a press conference held in the B-Mets clubhouse, Mike Urda handed full ownership of the franchise to John Hughes. The B-Mets new president made it clear that professional baseball would be played in Binghamton for years to come.

Over 24 seasons, five million fans have entered NYSEG Stadium to watch their beloved B-Mets. The team continues to be a fixture of the community as the city roots for the future stars of the New York Mets.

BINGHAMTON BASEBALL HISTORY

The city of Binghamton, New York has an incredibly rich history of organized baseball dating back to 1877, when the Binghamton Cricket played in the League Alliance. With players like Buttercup Dickerson and John McGuinness, the members of the original Cricket team became the forefathers of America's pastime at the confluence of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers.

Binghamton's hometown team experienced a great deal of volatility in its first 20 years. During that time period, the team played under four different names (Cricket, Binges, Crickets and Bingos) in six different leagues (League Alliance, International Association, New York State League, International League, Central League and Eastern League). Future Hall of Famer "Wee Willie" Keeler of "Hit 'em where they ain't" fame played for the Bingos during this time in 1892 and 1893.

1913 Binghamton Binges

Things finally settled down in 1901 when the Binghamton Binges began playing in the New York State League. Comprised of teams from Albany, Cortland/Waverly, Ilion, Rome, Schenectady, Troy and Utica, the league pitted the turn-of-the-century bustling cities of Upstate New York against each other. The Binges played 17 seasons in the league before switching to the International League in 1918.

1902 Binghamton Binges

W.B. "Bill" Kay played in Binghamton from 1914 to 1919 and became one of the team's biggest stars hitting over .300 every year. He was inducted into Binghamton's Baseball Shrine in 2006.

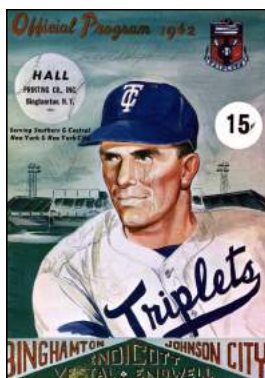

Professional baseball in Binghamton went on hiatus for four years after the Binges ended their run in the International League in 1919. That drought ended in a grand way in 1923. In a meeting held on March 23 at the Arlington Hotel in Binghamton, a six-team association known as the New York-Penn League was born. Fifteen years later, the New York-Penn League became today's Eastern League.

The Binghamton Triplets were an original member of the league and became a fixture in Binghamton for 45 years. Representing the "Triple Cities" (Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott), the Triplets spent most of their existence as a New York Yankees affiliate.

1933 League Champion Binghamton Triplets

1962 Triplets Program

The Triplets switched to the current New York-Penn League in 1964 and returned to the Eastern League in 1967. Sadly, their run came to an end in 1968. The team disbanded and professional baseball disappeared from the Southern Tier for 23 years.

The New York Mets ended that drought in 1992. Owners of their Double-A affiliate in the Williamsport Bills, the Mets decided to move the team to Binghamton following the 1991 season. With the Triplets' old home in Johnson Field long-gone, the city spearheaded the construction of Binghamton Municipal Stadium, now known as NYSEG Stadium. In a coincidental link to the past, the park is located just blocks from where the Arlington Hotel, the birthplace of the Eastern League, used to stand.

The Binghamton Mets have picked up where the Triplets left off and provided fans in the Southern Tier with professional baseball for the last 24 years. Including three championships by the B-Mets, Binghamton has been home to thirteen Eastern League titles, by far the most of any city in the league. The B-Mets and their loyal fans hope for more as the love affair with America's pastime continues in the "Carousel Capital of the World".

2014 EASTERN LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

The message for the 2014 Binghamton Mets was set by their manager Pedro Lopez on the first day they reported to the ballpark in early April. He wanted six more postseason wins. The team he led the previous season won a franchise-record and league-best 86 games, but was swept out of the first round of the postseason by the Trenton Thunder. Lopez wanted a stronger finish in 2014.

The B-Mets sat just two games over .500 through their first 62 games of the regular season, but hit their stride in mid-June. In a doubleheader sweep in Akron on June 10, the B-Mets outscored the RubberDucks 18-6 and blasted five home runs. The victories started a six-game winning streak and a 17-3 stretch.

With contributions from the reinvented Jayce Boyd, young-and-eager Dilson Herrera and tried-and-tested Brian Burgamy, the B-Mets clinched the second spot in the Eastern Division in mid-August.

Following a six-game losing streak to end the regular season and the departure of their offensive sparkplug Herrera to a Major League promotion, the B-Mets matched up against the Portland Sea Dogs in the Eastern Division Championship Series.

Trailing 5-1 in the sixth inning of Game 1, the B-Mets started their comeback with a run in the sixth and three in the eighth as the Sea Dogs bullpen and defense became to wilt. With two aboard and the game tied in the bottom of the ninth, TJ Rivera blasted the first pitch he saw from reliever Noe Ramirez over the left-field wall, giving the B-Mets their first postseason win in ten years. His walk-off capped a personal four-hit, five-RBI game.

The B-Mets dropped Games 2 & 3 and needed a win in Game 4 at Hadlock Field in Portland to keep their championship hopes alive. Down 2-1 after four innings, the B-Mets compiled a relentless assault on the Portland pitching staff in the fifth and sixth. In the two most pivotal innings of the series, the B-Mets sent 20 men to the plate, scored 10 runs, collected seven hits and worked out a half-dozen walks.

In Game 5, the B-Mets erupted for six runs in the fourth inning, highlighted by a three-run double by Darrell Ceciliani, a drive he bounced off the Maine Monster in left field. Star relievers Hansel Robles and Cody Satterwhite took the contest to the finish line, sealing Binghamton's first postseason series win since 1994.

The B-Mets traveled straight from Portland to Richmond for their Eastern League Championship Series matchup against the Richmond Flying Squirrels. The Western Division champs had knocked off the Akron RubberDucks in a pitcher-dominated series.

Binghamton owned a 3-2 in Game 1, but nearly threw it away in the bottom of the seventh inning. Richmond loaded the bases on three walks from relievers Paul Sewald and Chase Huchingson. With the tying run on third, Huchingson induced Mitch Delfino to bounce into a game-saving, inning-ending double play. The B-Mets tacked on two insurance runs to grab the series opener by a 5-2 final.

Jayce Boyd celebrates championship-clinching walk-off double

The B-Mets busted out the lumber in Game 2. After homering just two times in their previous 17 games, the B-Mets used blasts from Xorge Carrillo and Travis Tajeron to grab the second game 5-1.

Owning a 2-0 series lead, the B-Mets returned home for the most anticipated B-Mets home game in nearly two decades. 5,904 fans packed NYSEG Stadium on September 12 to watch Steven Matz pitch the game of this life. The left-hander carried a no-hitter into the eighth inning and struck out a career-high 11 along the way.

Steven Matz hoisted on teammates' shoulders

Despite Matz's gem, the B-Mets still only held a one-run lead entering the eighth. Elliott Blair broke up the no-hit bid with one out and Richmond tied the game three batters later against Robles.

With the game knotted at one in the ninth, Binghamton put two aboard against Steven Okert. Pinch-hitter Jayce Boyd blasted a 2-2 pitch from the southpaw into the right-field alley, plating pinch-runner Gavin Cecchini from second with the series-clinching run. The near-sell out crowd went into a frenzy as the B-Mets completed the series sweep, earning their third Eastern League championship.

WEARING THE JERSEY

Over the course of 24 seasons, 673 different players have worn a Binghamton Mets jersey. Of those players, 279 also played in the Major Leagues.

In the team's history, 135 B-Mets made their Big League debut with the New York Mets. Overall, 181 New York Mets have, at one time, played for the Binghamton Mets.

Just 56 players have donned a B-Mets uni and gone on to make their Major League debut for the New York Mets in the same season. See page 55 for a full list.

B-METS MASCOTS

BUDDY THE BEE

Introduced to coincide with the team's "B-Mets" rebranding in 1994, Buddy the Bee has become the face of the organization. He is a cousin of Bingo.

BALLWINKLE

The Binghamton Mets' original mascot dating back to 1992, Ballwinkle disappeared for several seasons before returning due to popular demand.

BINGO

Bingo made his debut in 2008 breaking into "boogies" when the B-Mets scored. However, he hasn't worn his dancing shoes since 2012.

HICKORY AND THE HOT DOG HORSE

This pair joined the B-Mets' family in 2008. During B-Mets games, the two appear on the field and throw Hatfield hot dogs to the fans.

BINGHAMTON METS MANAGERS

Pedro Lopez is the 14th manager in Binghamton Mets' franchise history. He is the first manager to work consecutive B-Mets seasons since Mako Oliveras led the club from 2007 to 2009. Lopez and Oliveras are also the only two Puerto Rico natives to manage the B-Mets. Lopez is the third B-Mets manager to hail from outside the 50 states, joining Oliveras and Dominican Republic native, Juan Samuel (2006). For a complete list of B-Mets managers and their records see page 21.

PULSIPHER'S POSTSEASON NO-NO

Heading into Game 2 of the 1994 Eastern League Championship Series, the B-Mets trailed the Harrisburg Senators 1-0. Binghamton looked to their ace Bill Pulsipher to even the series on Monday, September 12.

In the regular season, the lefty racked up a team-best 14 wins and notched a 3.22 ERA. His 28 starts and 201 innings pitched that season still stand as franchise records.

With his father in attendance at RiverSide Stadium in Harrisburg, Pulsipher struck out eight, walked four and allowed just three balls to leave the infield. The southpaw worked around a walk in the ninth to complete the first no-hitter in B-Mets history. Binghamton won the next two games of the series, earning their second Eastern League title in three years.

HITTING FOR THE CYCLE

Over 24 seasons, the B-Mets have played 3,436 games and seen 673 different players wear the uniform. However, only one player, Josh Satin, has hit for the cycle in a game. Satin performed the feat on the road against the Bowie Baysox on June 24, 2011. He launched a solo home run in the first inning, reached on an infield single to short in the third, doubled to center field in the fifth, and legged out a triple to left to complete the historic night in the seventh. His three-bagger was just the fifth of his career.
