Washington Nationals Community Relations

Nats in Your Neighborhood

The Washington Nationals organization continued its commitment to the Greater Washington, DC community by building on partnerships and offering a variety of programs and initiatives to aid area residents.

In 2010:

- Nationals players, coaches and front office staff participated in various appearances and activities within the local community and during special events held at Nationals Park
- Nearly 100,000 tickets valued at $2 million were distributed to area youth, military organizations and nonprofit groups throughout the season
- More than $280,000 in autographed memorabilia and experience packages were donated by the team to benefit hundreds of DC area charities and nonprofits

Over the past six seasons:

- More than 200 players and coaches have made appearances in the DC community
- Nearly 300,000 tickets have been donated by the team to children and community groups
- More than 1,000 charities have benefited from autographed memorabilia valued at $840,000

2011 Programs

Military Support

Me and a Friend

This inaugural program was created in 2010 by the USO and the Nationals in consultation with the Department of Defense. It is designed to recognize the unique challenges and sacrifices made by the children of military service members, especially those who have a parent who is deployed.

Each Sunday, military families receive complimentary tickets for themselves and friends to enjoy a Nationals game, thereby allowing the children to connect with their peers who may not be members of military families.

The Nationals were the first organization to formally activate this initiative through the USO of Metropolitan Washington on July 4, 2010. The success of the program has led to other professional sports teams adopting Me and a Friend as part of their community efforts.

Third Inning Salute

One of the great traditions at Nationals Park is the standing ovation and tribute for wounded warriors at every Nationals game. Whether they come from Walter Reed Army Medical Center, National Naval Medical Center, Ft. Belvoir or other military installations, a minimum of 19 warriors and hospital staff enjoy the best seats at the park in the Lexus Presidents Club, all compliments of the Nationals.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Youth Baseball & Softball

Youth Clinics

The Nationals will host a series of youth clinics at Nationals Park and throughout the DC region as part of the team's efforts to increase participation and interest in baseball and softball programs in and around the District. Nationals players and coaches will work with local youth baseball coaches in presenting clinics to children ages 8 through 17. Clinics are free of charge and will include on-field instruction as well as two tickets to a Nationals home game.

DC High School Initiative

For the third consecutive year, the Nationals will invite each District of Columbia Public High School baseball team to host one two-hour practice on the field at Nationals Park. Additionally, the team will host "DC High School Night" and give tickets to students and faculty at all District of Columbia Public High Schools so that they can enjoy a night at the ballpark.

Baseball Equipment Drive – In partnership with the Baseball Tomorrow Fund

The Nationals will collect new or gently used baseball and softball equipment as part of the annual Baseball Equipment Drive on Sunday, May 15 when they face the Florida Marlins. The team will collect new or gently used baseball and softball equipment to benefit the Banneker City Little League. Additionally, The Baseball Tomorrow Fund will provide the organization with a $5,000 grant to purchase new equipment.

MLB Pitch, Hit & Run

An MLB-sponsored free skills competition, Pitch, Hit & Run provides children ages 7 through 14 the opportunity to showcase their baseball skills. Team Championship events are hosted at all 30 Major League Ballparks and the National Finals will be held at the 2011 MLB All-Star Game.

Goodwill in the Community

Food Drive – In partnership with the Capital Area Food Bank

The Nationals will collect non-perishable food items for the annual Food Drive during their weekend series vs. the Colorado Rockies, July 9–10. All items collected will benefit the Capital Area Food Bank, which distributes 20 million pounds of food to more than 700 partner agencies each year.

Christmas in July Drive –

In partnership with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and the Toys For Tots Foundation

Fans may donate new, unwrapped toys when the Nationals host the annual Christmas in July Toy Drive during the weekend series against the New York Mets, July 29–31. The toys collected will be distributed to nonprofit organizations and hospital pediatric wards in the D.C. area.

Back-to-School Drive

The annual Back-to-School Drive will take place during the weekend series against the Philadelphia Phillies, August 20–21. Fans may donate new school supplies to benefit local schools.

Blood Drive – In partnership with Inova Health System

The Nationals will partner with Inova Health System to host two blood drives during the 2011 season on Saturday, June 25 and Saturday, August 27. Fans who help save a life by donating blood will receive two tickets to a Nationals home game and a special promotional item.

Health Awareness

The Nationals will continue to work with health organizations to increase awareness of serious diseases and illnesses. All season long, various organizations are given the opportunity to distribute materials about their mission, research, services, events and fundraising during Nationals home games at the Community Desk.

Ticket Programs

Each season, the Nationals Community Relations Department donates tickets to area nonprofits, schools, military organizations and youth groups. Season ticket holders are also encouraged to donate their unused tickets to Most Valuable Kids, Inc. - which offers local children's organizations access to professional sports events - online at nationals.com or via the CR Department 72 hours in advance of the game.

Commissioner's Community Initiative

The Commissioner's Community Initiative is designed to give children of all ages and backgrounds the opportunity to see a Major League Baseball game. Tickets will be distributed throughout the season to underserved youth, youth charities, public servants, military families, local charities and community volunteer groups.

Jackie Robinson Day

The Nationals and MLB will once again recognize April 15 as the most significant moment in league history - the day Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier. MLB sets this day aside in an effort to bring exposure to the life, values and accomplishments of Jackie Robinson. All players throughout the league will wear #42 on this day.

Mother's Day Breast Cancer Awareness

Each year, MLB teams up with Susan G. Komen's Race for the Cure to increase awareness and raise funds for women's cancer services including screening, treatment, research and education.

Father's Day Prostate Cancer Awareness

MLB will also team up with the Prostate Cancer Foundation (PCF) for the Home Run Challenge. The Nationals will work with PCF – the public charity dedicated to finding a cure for prostate cancer – to increase awareness for the disease, while players will wear blue wristbands and blue ribbons on their uniforms.

4-ALS Awareness

The Nationals will help bring attention to ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease) by working with the ALS Association to raise awareness and funds for this debilitating disease during a 2011 home game. This MLB initiative began on July 4, 2009 – the 70th Anniversary of Lou Gehrig's "Luckiest Man" speech.

Roberto Clemente Day

In celebration of Roberto Clemente's humanitarian spirit, MLB will set aside September 16 to promote the national award given annually to a player who demonstrates the values Clemente displayed in his commitment to the community. Past Nationals nominees include Josh Willingham (2010), John Lannan (2009), Joel Hanrahan (2008) and Ryan Zimmerman (2007).

2011 Nationals Player Programs

John Lannan – Lannan's Cannons

In 2009, John launched Lannan's Cannons, a program dedicated to helping sick children enjoy a day at the ballpark with their families, away from the rigors of treatment. John partnered with The Children's Inn at National Institutes of Health (NIH), a home-away-from-home for children receiving experimental treatment for life-threatening illnesses, to invite residents to a ballgame at Nationals Park once a month. John also serves as a Sports Ambassador for the Inn, visiting with residents and helping increase awareness for the organization.

Ryan Zimmerman – ziMS Foundation

Established in 2006, the ziMS Foundation is dedicated to raising funds to support Multiple Sclerosis (MS) awareness and programs that benefit those afflicted with the disease. MS is an illness close to Ryan's heart, as his mother Cheryl was diagnosed with the chronic disease in 1995.

In August of 2010, Ryan hosted "A Night At The Park" to launch the ziMS Foundation's outreach in the DC area. More than 700 people attended the event, which raised more than $200,000. In November, the Foundation also hosted its annual gala and golf tournament in Ryan's hometown of Virginia Beach. In addition to serving as president of his Foundation, Ryan is on the board of trustees for the National MS Society National Capital Chapter.

Employee Volunteer Program

Nationals players aren't the only ones who give back to the local community – the Nationals front office staff participates in a variety of volunteer opportunities throughout the year. Since 2009, club employees have participated in the Power Lunch reading and mentoring program created by Everybody Wins! DC. Through the program, employees spend one hour every week reading with a child at Amidon-Bowen Elementary in southwest DC. Staff members also take part in volunteer opportunities with various partner organizations, including Food & Friends, the Capital Area Food Bank, Earth Conservation Corps and Rebuilding Together, DC.

Washington Nationals Dream Foundation

Mission Statement

The Washington Nationals Dream Foundation and Washington Nationals Baseball Club are committed to community partnerships that improve the lives of children and families across the Washington Capital Region. A 501(c)3 charitable organization, the Foundation's three cornerstone programs focus on children's education, health and recreation:

- The Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy:
In Partnership with the DC Government
The Academy will offer inner city youth a safe environment that encourages and enhances academic development while providing the opportunity to learn and play the game of baseball. Located in Ward 7's Fort Dupont Park, the facility's three baseball fields and clubhouse are expected to open by Opening Day 2012.
- The Washington Nationals Pediatric Diabetes Care Complex at Children's National Medical Center:
In Partnership with Children's National Medical Center
This world-class facility will provide a multi-disciplinary approach to supporting families of children with diabetes. With state-of-the-art treatment rooms and a multi-functional education center, the facility will house classrooms, a media room, a demonstration kitchen, computer kiosks and various other tools to empower families battling diabetes.
- The Neighborhood Initiative:
Grants and in-kind donations are among the various resources presented to local non-profit organizations that are dedicated to improving the Southeast/Southwest DC neighborhoods surrounding Nationals Park and beyond. Beneficiaries include the Earth Conservation Corps, DC RBI, Brandywine Street Association, Arlington Little League Challenger Division and Rebuilding Together DC, among others.

The company has been the recipient of numerous NAIOP and other industry awards in its 59 year history including the 2009 Fairfax County Honor Award for Design Excellence for 1800 Tysons Boulevard in The Corporate Office Centre at Tysons II. Lerner Enterprises is based in Rockville, MD and was voted family business of the year by the Kogod School of Business at The American University in 1999 and in 2008 was named Visionaries of the Year and Most Influential Commercial Real Estate Company in the Washington area by Bisnow Real Estate.

The Nationals, under Lerner family ownership, have worked carefully to construct a team that can compete in the long-term. Through player development, smart trades and drafts, the team is coming together and expects to be a National League competitor in the 2011 season. Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager Mike Rizzo, Manager Jim Riggleman and the team's experienced scouting staff worked tirelessly during the off-season to bring on strong new players like rightfielder Jayson Werth and first baseman Adam LaRoche. These acquisitions, combined with the talented arms of Jordan Zimmermann and Drew Storen, should ensure that players like Ryan Zimmerman, Nyjer Morgan and Ian Desmond have a chance to make their at-bats count in every game. The return of a healthy Stephen Strasburg later in the season promises to give the team's pitching even more excitement than it did in 2010. The signing of number one draft pick pitcher Bryce Harper means that the fans have even more to look forward to from the Nationals over the next several years.

Through the team's community relations and the Washington Nationals Dream Foundation, and privately through The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation, the Lerner family has demonstrated its commitment to the people and neighborhoods of the Washington area. Players and staff are encouraged to be active participants in the team's community outreach and the organization is proud that Nationals players are visiting schools, hospitals and neighborhoods nearly every day of every homestand. In addition to supporting non-profits in the area of Nats Park as part of the Neighborhood Initiative, its work with Boys & Girls Clubs, the Earth Conservation Corps, the Pediatric Diabetes Care Facility at Children's National Medical Center, and other area organizations, the Dream Foundation has joined with the District to build the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy – a unique facility that will provide inner city youth with the opportunity to develop their baseball skills while fostering their academic and social development. The Academy expects to open its doors in DC's Ward 7 later this year, and will have three fields and its academic building open for year-round use by 2012.

As representatives of the national pastime in the nation's capital, the Lerner family is also proud to honor and support our extensive armed forces and military veterans community. Members of the active and retired military are welcomed and honored at every single Nationals home game, and players often visit vets at both Walter Reed and Bethesda hospitals. The team is continuously finding new ways to make Nationals Park a second home to our servicemen and servicewomen.

Additionally, Lerner family members are privately involved in a wide range of Washington, DC-area community programs and events. Through The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation they support many organizations, including The George Washington University; Food and Friends; the Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Hadley's Park; The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts; the Weizmann Institute of Science; the Scleroderma Foundation of Greater Washington; YouthAids; Junior Achievement of the Greater Washington Area; the Jewish Community Centers of Greater Washington and District of Columbia; and Imagination Stage of Bethesda, among many other worthy programs. Ted and his wife Annette, are founding members of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C.

We would like to welcome all our friends in the media to Nationals Park and to the 2011 Nationals season. We had a very active off-season, adding some veteran firepower and defense to what we believe will be one of the most interesting young rosters in all of baseball.

We think our print and broadcast media facilities are second to none, and we have added some internal social media innovations that we believe will help you keep up on all that happening with the Nationals, both on the field and off. We are certain that you will find our communications staff friendly and helpful, and we hope you will not hesitate to call on them for any assistance you need during the season.

Last season, we were excited by the promise of Ian Desmond, Stephen Strasburg, Danny Espinosa, Roger Bernandina, Nyjer Morgan, and the continued improvement of All-Star Ryan Zimmerman, who built on a breakout 2009 campaign earning a second straight Silver Slugger Award for his performance at the plate. General Manager Mike Rizzo's aggressive off-season signings of emerging superstar Jayson Werth, hard-hitting, defensive first baseman Adam LaRoche, some solid middle relievers, should make the Nationals one of the most improved teams in the National League.

We look forward to the late season return of Strasburg, breakout performances by pitchers Jordan Zimmermann and John Lannan, and the development of one of baseball's strongest farm systems - including last season's MLB number one draft choice, the exciting outfielder Bryce Harper. We believe the development of our young talent in the Minor League system will make the Nationals competitive for many years to come.

We hope you find the Nationals staff and Nationals Park among the very finest in Major League Baseball. The entire Lerner family and every member of our ownership group and management team invite you to please join us in making the 2011 season unforgettable.

Sincerely,

Theodore N. Lerner

MIKE RIZZO

EXECUTIVE V.P. OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS AND GENERAL MANAGER

Mike Rizzo was promoted to Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager on Oct. 19, 2010. Rizzo had previously been appointed Senior Vice President & General Manager on August 20, 2010. He originally joined the organization as Assistant General Manager and Vice President of Baseball Operations on July 24, 2006.

Rizzo's hiring was the first significant addition made by the organization after the Lerner Family officially took control of the Nationals the same day. Rizzo's arrival in D.C. punctuated the Nationals' scouting momentum gained in both international and domestic scouting circles.

Since assuming all General Manager functions for the Nationals in March of 2009, Rizzo has secured the long-term signing of franchise staple Ryan Zimmerman, promoted Jim Riggleman to Manager and successfully signed a pair of first-overall selections in the First-Year Player Draft, Bryce Harper and Stephen Strasburg, as well as fellow first-rounder Drew Storen.

On December 5, 2010, Rizzo ushered in "Phase Two" of the Nationals' franchise evolution by signing right fielder Jayson Werth to a monumental seven-year contract. As Rizzo explained, Phase Two would entail "adding key pieces that will help Washington compete for division titles and championships," and with that declaration in mind, one month later Rizzo inked first baseman Adam LaRoche to a two-year contract. The additions of Werth and LaRoche spoke to Rizzo's mantra that pitching, defense and athleticism are fundamental to winning baseball.

Rizzo's deft trade touch has been evident in a series of culture-changing trades that netted reliever Sean Burnett from the Pirates, catching prospect Wilson Ramos from the Twins and lefthander Tom Gorzelanny from the Cubs. Gorzelanny's addition allows for significant rotation depth unseen in Washington since baseball returned to The District in 2005.

His first major task as General Manager was to lay a steady hand on the Nationals' operation in the Dominican Republic, scout and establish a one-year alternative complex arrangement and execute a subsequent relocation to Boca Chica that subsequently included the construction of a new Nationals training facility.

In Rizzo's initial two-plus seasons in Washington, he participated in all facets of the baseball operation, including but not limited to player acquisitions, contract negotiations, arbitration preparation and player evaluations. He also oversees Washington's Major League, Professional and International scouting activities. Rizzo's expertise and relationship-building have breathed new life into the Nationals' international efforts.

The initial return upon Rizzo joining the Nationals was spectacular, as the Nationals' 2007 First-Year Player Draft—Rizzo's first with the organization—was rated as the best in baseball by Baseball America.

Rizzo joined the Nationals after spending the previous seven seasons with the Arizona Diamondbacks, primarily as Director of Scouting. Following the 2005 campaign, when eight Diamondback players were honored with individual awards and/or designations to their leagues' All-Star teams, Rizzo was promoted, earning the title of Vice President of Scouting Operations after the Diamondbacks were named Topps' Organization of the Year.

In 2001, upon being named Arizona's Director of Scouting, the Diamondbacks' minor-league system ranked 29th in baseball according to Baseball America. Five highly successful drafts and a few hundred thousand miles traveled later, Arizona's system was ranked No. 1 in baseball by the same publication entering the 2006 season.

Rizzo earned a World Series ring with Arizona in 2001, but the fruits of his labor did not end there for the Diamondbacks. Brandon Webb (2006 Cy Young Award winner), Carlos Gonzalez, Chad Tracy, Justin Upton, Stephen Drew, Dan Uggla, Micah Owings, Tony Pena, Mark Reynolds, Conor Jackson, Miguel Montero, Chris Snyder, Carlos Quentin, Max Sherzer and Brett Anderson were signed by Arizona under Rizzo's watch. While with the White Sox, Rizzo inked future two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas.

Rizzo, who is entering his 28th season of pro ball, joined the Diamondbacks for their inaugural 1998 campaign after enjoying stints with the Boston Red Sox (1992-98, area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout) and Chicago White Sox (1986-92, Midwest and Southeast territorial scout).

Raised in Chicago, IL, Rizzo spent four seasons as a minor league player in the Angels organization before retiring and beginning a coaching career at the University of Illinois, where he served as an assistant coach while earning a Bachelor of Arts in Communications.

ANDREW FEFFER

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Andrew Feffer serves as Chief Operating Officer for the Washington Nationals Baseball Club, overseeing all business operations for the club. He is directly responsible for the club's revenue generation, marketing, communications, brand development and business administration.

Prior to joining the Washington Nationals, Feffer oversaw and directed NFL PLAYERS, the for-profit subsidiary of the NFL Players Association. In this role, he managed the day-to-day operations of the company, focusing on marketing, licensing, sponsorship, special events, content development and television production. Feffer successfully re-built the brand and significantly increased new revenue streams, developing the NFL PLAYERS business into a $100 million-plus enterprise. Previously, Feffer oversaw and managed marketing and sales development for team owner Robert L. Johnson and the NBA expansion Charlotte Bobcats. He was instrumental in developing and building the initial start-up marketing operations, creating the branding, advertising, merchandising, database marketing and sales channels for the organization.

Feffer brings more than 20 years of sales and marketing experience in professional sports to the Washington Nationals. Before being named to the initial start-up executive group for Bobcats Basketball Holdings, LLC, he was the founder and President of Frontier Group, a marketing services company for media, entertainment and sports properties. Feffer's experience also includes sales and marketing at DIRECTV, where he managed various professional sports and college offerings. He began his sports career serving as the Director of Business Operations for Major League Baseball's Baltimore Orioles, with an emphasis on leading the club's minor league operations.

Feffer received his undergraduate degree from the University of Virginia and his MBA from Georgetown University. Feffer serves on the Board of Directors for the Greater Washington Sports Alliance. He and his wife, Susan, are the parents of a son, Jake and daughter, Rees.

BOB WOLFE

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Bob Wolfe is entering his 6th season in Washington after joining the Nationals as Executive Vice President on June 1, 2006.

Wolfe's responsibilities with the Nationals touch on all aspects of the club's various business and administrative areas, including ballpark operations and development, finance and budget management, information technology, sales and marketing, non-baseball events through Nationals Ballpark Enterprises, legal, ticket operations, Florida spring training operations, food service and human resources.

Wolfe's leadership and experience have helped shape the Nationals' modern-day front office, and its business practices and ballpark policies. From the time he was hired in 2006, as the Lerner family took ownership of the Nationals' franchise from Major League Baseball, Wolfe has managed the growth and development of the front-office staff, lent experience to the design and development of Nationals Park, and steadied the ballclub's transition from RFK Memorial Stadium into their new, state-of-the-art ballpark in the winter of 2008.

While quickly becoming a premier baseball facility, Nationals Park also has been established as a premier events, entertainment and concert venue, having hosted events as varied as Pope Benedict XVI's Papal Mass (April 2008), the Elton John/Billy Joel Face 2 Face Tour (July 2009) and Dave Matthews/Zac Brown bands (July 2010).

He previously served with both the Atlanta Braves and Atlanta Hawks, including over a decade as Braves Sr. Vice President of Administration (1992-2003). While with the Braves, Wolfe was directly involved with the design and development of Turner Field, and responsible for its related sales, marketing and operational plans following the ballpark's conversion from Olympic Stadium before the 1997 baseball season.

During Wolfe's tenure the Braves experienced record attendance levels, with annual attendance consistently greater than three million. Wolfe and the Braves hosted eleven consecutive post-seasons, including four World Series, and staged Major League Baseball's 2000 All-Star Game and multiple major concerts.

After working in various areas for the Braves' from 1980-84, Wolfe accepted a post as Hawks Business Manager in 1985. He was named Vice President/Business Manager of the NBA franchise in 1988. His seven seasons with the Hawks were during a period of significant growth for both the team and the league, as both record attendance and revenue levels were achieved by both.

While in Atlanta, Wolfe served on the board of directors for the Atlanta Hawks Foundation and the Atlanta Braves Foundation, as well as the Atlanta Sports Council and the Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau. In 1998 he was named the Georgia Minority Supplier Development Council's Executive of the Year for the Braves' successful efforts in developing ties with the small business community.

Raised to the play-by-play of Bob Prince in Pittsburgh, Harry Kalas in Philadelphia and Ernie Johnson, Sr. in Atlanta, Wolfe graduated from Oglethorpe University in Atlanta in 1980. Bob and his wife, Kelly Koelker, have one daughter, Ellery.

ROY CLARK

ASSISTANT G.M. & V.P., PLAYER PERSONNEL

Roy Clark was named Nationals Vice President of Player Personnel on October 16, 2009 and has already made an impact in the draft room, selecting OF Bryce Harper (first-overall) and LHP Sammy Solis (2nd round, 51st overall) in the 2010 First-Year Player Draft.

Clark joined the Nationals after an impressive 11-year run as Director of Scouting with the Atlanta Braves. Clark joined the Braves as an area scout in 1989, and he later enjoyed progressive stints as Atlanta's national supervisor (1996-99) and southeast supervisor (1995). His efforts helped the Braves earn Baseball America's prestigious Organization of the Year award three times (1991, 1996, 2005) and USA Today's Organization of the Year citation in 1996. Clark sports a World Series ring from the Braves' 1995 World Championship campaign.

Clark is best known for having procured talents such as catcher Brian McCann, right-handed pitcher Tommy Hanson, right-handed pitcher Adam Wainwright, infielder Adam LaRoche, right-handed pitcher Joey Devine, right-handed pitcher Jason Marquis, right-handed pitcher Kevin Millwood, catcher Jarrod Saltalamacchia and outfielder Jeff Francoeur for the Braves. Meanwhile, Braves minor-league outfielder Jason Heyward was recently cited as Baseball America's 2009 Minor League Player of the Year and is regarded by many as baseball's top prospect among position players.

Clark previously worked for Indians (area scout, 1988-89) and Mariners (minor-league coach, 1984; area scout, 1985-86).

An All-ACC infielder at North Carolina in 1979, Clark was selected by Seattle in the 24th round of the June Draft that same year. He played four professional seasons, advancing as high as Triple-A in 1982.

Clark and his wife, Debbie, have three children: Justin, Travis and Lauren.

BOB BOONE

ASSISTANT G.M. & V.P., PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Bob Boone joined the Nationals upon being appointed as Special Assistant to the General Manager on December 11, 2004. He shifted into his current role as Assistant General Manager & Vice President, Player Development during the 2006 season.

From his first day with the Nationals, Boone has played an extremely vital role in all big league evaluations, both internal and external, and helped "recruit" a new wave of player-development talent to join the Nationals' scouting and coaching ranks. His presence has also helped the Nationals in signing Player Development Contracts with Syracuse of the Triple-A International League and Hagerstown of the Single-A South Atlantic League, thus compacting Washington's player-development footprint.

Boone joined Washington after spending the 2004 campaign with Philadelphia as a Special Assignment Scout, a position he accepted on December 3, 2003 after a 22-year hiatus from the Phillies organization.

One of the premier catchers of his generation, Bob was named to four All-Star teams (1976, 78-79, 83) and won seven Rawlings Gold Gloves (1978-79, 82, 86-89), including two at ages 40 and 41, during his 19-year career. Only Ivan Rodriguez (13) and Johnny Bench (10) have won more Gold Gloves for catching.

Selected by the Phillies as a 3rd baseman out of Stanford University—where he graduated with a degree in psychology—Boone spent the first ten years of his major league career with Philadelphia (1972-81), which won four division titles and a World Series Championship in 1980.

Following his tenure with the Phillies, Boone played for Anaheim (1982-88) and Kansas City (1989-90). Upon retirement, Boone held the major league record for games caught in a career (2225), a record later broken by Carlton Fisk, and most seasons catching at least 100 games (15).

In October of 1994, Boone was named manager of the Kansas City Royals, a position he held until July of 1997. Following tenure with Kansas City, Boone joined Cincinnati as a special assistant before serving as manager of the Reds from 2001 until July of 2003.

Bob was born on November 19, 1947 in San Diego, CA and resides in Villa Park, CA with his wife, Sue. Two of their sons played major league baseball and achieved All-Star status: Bret (three-time All-Star, retired) and Aaron (2003 NL All-Star, retired). His father, the late Ray Boone, was an All-Star infielder during his 13-year career in the big leagues (1948-60). Bob's brother, Rodney, played in the Kansas City and Houston farm systems from 1972-75. The Boones are one of only three 3-generation baseball families, along with the Bells (Gus, Buddy and David) and the Hairstons (Sam, Jerry Sr. and Jerry Jr.).

DAVEY JOHNSON

SENIOR ADVISOR TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Davey Johnson was named Nationals Senior Advisor to the General Manager on November 18, 2009.

A former World Series winning player and manager, Johnson skippered four big league teams—the Mets, Reds, Orioles and Dodgers—for 14 seasons, compiling a 1148-888 (.564) record.

In those 14 big league seasons, Johnson's clubs finished first or 2nd 11 times, including five division titles, one pennant and one World Championship earned with the Mets in 1986.

In 1997, Johnson was named American League Manager of the Year after guiding the Orioles to a 98-64 (.605) record. He is one of only seven living men to have won a World Series ring as a player and manager, joining Alvin Dark, Joe Girardi, Ralph Houk, Lou Piniella, Mike Scioscia and Red Schoendienst. Johnson joins the Nationals after managing Team USA to a semi-finals berth in the 2009 World Baseball Classic. Johnson has managed or coached five Team USA professional squads since 2005, including the 2008 Olympic team that claimed the bronze in Beijing. Johnson spent the summer of 2009 managing amateur players with the DeLand Suns of the Florida Collegiate Summer League.

Johnson was recently one of 10 managers placed on the new Veterans Committee ballot for potential induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown.

As a player, Johnson hit .261 with 136 home runs and 609 RBI in 13 big league seasons during a career that included a stint in Japan. Johnson was a four-time All-Star, won three Gold Gloves, played in five post-seasons and earned a pair of World Series rings with the Orioles in 1966 and 1970. He is also the only player to have hit behind Hank Aaron and Japan's all-time home run king, Sadaharu Oh.

PHIL RIZZO

SENIOR ADVISOR TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Phil Rizzo was named Nationals Senior Advisor to the General Manager on December 3, 2009, bringing more than 40 years of scouting experience to the organization.

While with the Diamondbacks, Rizzo made the first call and filed the first report on University of Kentucky righthander Brandon Webb, who has since won the 2006 Cy Young Award and represented Arizona in three All-Star Games.

In May of 2008, Phil was one of eight scouts to comprise the inaugural class of the Professional Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame. Long-limbed righthander looks to stake claim to roster spot with the Nationals...is the longest-tenured home-grown pitcher in Washington's system...one of 3 remaining franchise players drafted by the Expos (SS Ian Desmond, C Brian Peacock)...made news in Nov. 2010 by regrowing popular mustache for charity...kicked off "Bally's 'Staches" campaign and asked MLB players to help contribute to the Prostate Cancer Foundation and LIVESTRONG.

2010

In 7th pro campaign, struggled at Triple-A, but turned in strongest effort to date at the big league level...thrived in Sept./Oct. (1.35 ERA in 11 appearances) and closed the season with a strong 2.57 ERA in 17 relief appearances with Washington...fanned 12.0 batters per 9.0 innings...registered a strong .203 batting average against...despite pitching 1.0 inning or less in 12 of 17 appearances, recorded at least one strikeout in 14 of 17 appearances...from Aug. 5-Sept. 29, spun 15.1 consecutive scoreless innings spanning 12 appearances...struck out 18 of 46 right-handed batters faced (39%)...started the season in Triple-A Syracuse's rotation and struggled (1-3, 11.57 ERA, 5 starts) before shifting to the bullpen for good on May 8 vs. Gwinnett...notched a 3.38 bullpen ERA in 30 games or 48.0 innings with Syracuse.

2009

Spent majority of season pitching for Triple-A Syracuse, but did get 7 starts with the Nationals, going 1-4 with a 6.82 ERA...combined to go 8-14 with a 4.97 ERA in 27 starts for Washington and Syracuse...joined the Nationals for the first time on July 23...16 of 24 runs allowed scored via the home run...of 34 hits allowed, 10 were home runs (29%)...took the loss in each of final 3 starts...was optioned to Syracuse, August 26...in 2nd start of the season, July 28 at MIL, allowed 2 runs in a season-high 6.0 innings to earn his lone win of '09...made 20 starts with Syracuse, going 7-10 with a 4.44 ERA in 20 starting assignments...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 15 of those starts...went 5-0 with a 1.56 ERA in 7 starts from May 17-June 21.

2008

In first taste of big leagues, pitched better than 3-7, 5.51 ERA numbers indicate...made 15 starts after having contract selected from Columbus, June 30...walked 2 or less 10 times...combining Triple-A and big league stats, went 12-10 with a 4.76 ERA (84 ER/158.2 IP) in 30 starts and finished the campaign just 4 months past 22nd birthday...held opponents without a hit through the game's first 3 innings on 5 occasions...thus, posted a .210 batting average against the first time through the lineup, .338 thereafter...ranked among NL rookies in starts (tied for 7th, 15) and innings (9th, 80.0)...by allowing just one run on one hit in 5.0 innings, July 1 at FLA, posted the "W" and became only the 2nd franchise pitcher to garner a win in an MLB debut on the road (immortal Expos RHP Hal Dues had previously turned the trick on Sept. 9, 1977 at PIT)...in 2nd inning of that initial start, fanned Cody Ross for first big league punch out...earned the win at Derek Lowe's expense, August 26 vs. LAD, allowing one run in 5.0 innings...was 9-3 with a 4.00 ERA in 15 starts with Columbus of the Triple-A International League at the time of first big league promotion...was 8-1 with a 3.90 ERA in final 10 IL starts...was 4-0 with a 2.82 ERA in 4 June assignments and was named Nationals Minor League Pitcher of the Month...at time of promotion, was tied for 3rd in the IL with 9 wins despite being one of the IL's younger pitchers...allowed 2 runs or less in 9 of 15 IL starts.

CAREER

Premium athlete that offers plus defense at all 3 outfield spots...is the longest-tenured player in the organization...was signed out of the Expos' academy in the Netherlands on Nov. 3, 2001...joins SS Ian Desmond, RHP Collin Balester and C Brad Peacock as only remaining players signed or drafted prior to the Expos' move to DC in '05...in 2008, before reaching Washington, became the first Nationals/Expos farmhand to hit at least .320 at each of the 2 highest levels of the minor leagues in the same season since Rondell White turned the trick in 1993 by hitting .328 with Double-A Harrisburg and .380 with Triple-A Ottawa.

2010

Was not a member of Washington's Opening Day roster, but enjoyed strong results in first season as an everyday player... started 111 games (34 in LF, 20 in CF, 57 in RF)...had a strong June (.329, 3 HR, 11 RBI, 5 SB, 26 games)...hit just .223 on the road, but 8 of 11 long balls came outside of DC...32 extra-base hits ranked 3rd among Nationals rookies since 2005...only Ryan Zimmerman (79, '06) and Ian Desmond (41, '10) posted more...was successful on 16 of 18 stolen-base attempts...among those to swipe 15 or more bases, stolen-base percentage of 88.9 tied for 4th in MLB... went 2-for-4 with an RBI, but more importantly, made spectacular inning-ending diving catch of Troy Glaus liner, May 4 vs. ATL...2-run shot in the 9th inning snapped a 4-4 tie and rendered first multi-homer game in a 6-4 win, May 12 at NYM...in the same game, made an inning-ending catch of a Jeff Francoeur liner with the bags loaded...posted 3 hits, including pair of doubles, and one RBI in a 7-5 win vs. PIT, June 9...doubled twice and posted 2 RBI in an 8-1 win that doubled as Roy Oswalt's Phillies debut, July 30 in DC

2009

Played in 3 games with Nationals, but season was cut short by a season-ending ankle injury...on April 18 vs. FLA, just 3 days after being recalled from Triple-A Syracuse, fractured right ankle while making a spectacular catch at the center-field wall on a line drive by Dan Uggla in the 8th inning...that same night, underwent Open Reduction Internal Fixation (ORIF) surgery to repair the ankle, performed by Dr. Wiemi Douguigh at Washington Hospital Center...was placed on the DL the following day and missed the season's remaining 152 contests...recorded lone hit of season in 3-2 10-inning loss, April 17 vs. FLA...doubled in 8th inning off Logan Kensing after entering game as defensive replacement in right field at the top of that frame...began season with Syracuse, where he batted .167 (3-for-18) with a stolen base... appeared in two games with GCL Nationals during rehab stint, Aug. 25-26.

Earned first All-Star citation (did not pitch in Mid-Summer Classic at STL) en route to finishing 15-13 with a 4.04 ERA in 33 starts in lone season with COL...matched Ubaldo Jimenez for the Rockies team lead in wins and starts...career-high 216.0 innings ranked 8th in the NL...15 wins ranked 4th in the NL and matched a career high set in 2004...ranked 2nd in MLB by inducing 395 ground balls, while 2.15/1 ground ball-to-fly ball ratio ranked 4th in the NL...also ranked among NL leaders in GDPs induced (tied for 2nd, 28), innings (7th, 216.0) and starts (tied for 7th)...strong season was aided by a 23 percent drop in home runs allowed per 9.0 innings and a 13 percent drop in walks per 9.0 innings as compared to 2008...was just COL's 4th All-Star pitcher after pacing the NL in first-half wins (11)...posted better ERA (3.92) in 16 starts at Coors Field than in 17 road starts (4.16)...notched 11 quality starts in 16 assignments in Denver...was touched for one earned run or less 11 times in 33 starts...needed just 86 pitches to throw 3rd-career shutout, a 2-hitter, in COL's 3-0 win at LAD, June 30.

2010

Reached the big leagues less than one year after being drafted and turned in solid results in 4-plus months with the Nationals...with MLB debut on May 18 at STL, became the 2nd player from the 2009 First-Year Draft class to reach the big leagues...was beat to the punch by only CIN's Mike Leake...posted Nationals' rookie-record 5 saves, and suffered just 2 blown saves...10 holds ranked 3rd among Nationals, 5th among MLB rookie pitchers...successfully stranded 85.2 percent of inherited baserunners (23 of 27)...ranked among NL rookies in strikeouts (4th, 52), strikeouts per 9.0 innings (5th, 8.5), strikeout-to-walk ratio (5th, 2.4/1), holds (5th, 10), batting average against (5th, .241) and appearances (tied 5th, 54)...in 2nd MLB appearance, May 19 vs. NYM, escaped inherited jam with 0.2 scoreless inning and was rewarded with the win in Washington's 5-3 victory...tossed 1.2 scoreless innings, May 23 vs. BAL, to garner first big league hold...scoreless 9th rendered first big league save in a 6-3 win, Aug. 6 at LAD...earned spot in Washington by registering 4 saves and a 1.08 ERA in 13 minor-league appearances with Syracuse and Harrisburg.

Professional: Combined to go 2-1 with 11 saves and a 1.95 ERA in 28 appearances with Double-A Harrisburg, Single-A Potomac and Single-A Hagerstown...in first 19.0 innings as a pro, struck out 33 and did not issue a walk...first free pass was not issued until pitching for Potomac on July 30 vs. Winston-Salem...led Harrisburg in saves...was named co-Pitcher of the Month for Harrisburg in August...participated in the Nationals Instructional League program and subsequently went 2-0 with 4 saves and a 0.66 ERA in 12 appearances with Phoenix in the prestigious Arizona Fall League.

Stanford: One of college baseball's premier closers in 2nd and final season at Stanford...First-Team All-Pac 10 selection after going 7-1 with 7 saves and a 3.80 ERA in 28 appearances...in 42.2 innings of relief work, tallied 66 strikeouts (13.9 K's per 9.0 innings) with only 8 walks en route to an 8.3/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...paced the Cardinal pitching staff in wins, saves, ERA and appearances...became the first pitcher to lead the Cardinal in both wins and saves since former big league LHP Jeff Ballard did so in '84...posted a .210 batting average against, including a meager .182 mark when facing right-handed batters...struck out at least 5 batters on 5 occasions, including a career-high 8-K effort in 2.2 innings of relief on May 23 vs. Oregon State.

CAREER

The baseball story of the Summer of '10...is on mend from Sept. 3, 2010 right elbow surgery...has spent considerable time and energy since the aforementioned surgery strengthening core and right shoulder...tall (6-foot-4) and powerful (225 lbs.) righthander is best known for unique blend of velocity, power and control...was considered by many experts to be the top draft-eligible amateur player the last 25 years...following MLB debut on June 8, 2010 vs. PIT, donated game hat and game ball (ball hit for first out recorded, an Andrew McCutchen lineout to SS) to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY.

2010

Took MLB by storm with stellar 12-start rookie campaign, but saw season end prematurely after leaving Aug. 21 start at PHI with what was later revealed as a torn ulnar-collateral ligament in the right elbow...had right elbow repaired by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles, CA on Sept. 3...began rehab program less than a week post surgery...allowed 2 or less runs in 9 of 12 starts with Washington...registered as many or more strikeouts than innings pitched in 11 of 12 starts, with the exception being a 4-K, 4.1-inning effort on Aug. 10 vs. FLA...fanned 12.2 batters per 9.0 innings (SFG's Tim Lincecum paced qualified MLB pitchers at 9.8)...struck out 33.6 percent of batters faced (92 of 274), tops among MLB starting pitchers (TOR's Brandon Morrow ranked 2nd at 28.3%)...despite accepting just 12 assignments, ranked 3rd among Nationals with 92 strikeouts...with the entire MLB community watching, made MLB debut in a 5-2 win on June 8 vs. PIT...the debut came one day shy of the one-year anniversary of being drafted first-overall by the Nationals...struck out 14 Pirates in 7.0 dazzling/dominant innings...in that start, became only the 2nd pitcher since '87 (the year STATS, Inc. began charting pitches) to fan 14-plus and throw less than 100 pitches in a game (on April 9, 2003 at Wrigley Field, MON's Javier Vazquez struck out 14 in 7.0 innings and required just 96 pitches)...only 2 pitchers ever struck out more in an MLB debut: both HOU's J.R. Richard (Sept. 5, 1971 at SFG) and BRK's Karl Spooner (Sept. 22, 1954 vs. NYG) fanned 15...by striking out the final 7 Pirates faced, became just the 2nd player to fan 7 straight batters in an MLB debut (BAL's Sammy Stewart did so on Sept. 1, 1978 vs. CWS)...with 14 K's in 7.0 walkless innings, became just the 4th rookie to fan 14 or more in a single game and not issue a walk...the other 3 were Roger Clemens (16 SO, Aug. 21, 1984 vs. KCR), Dwight Gooden (16 SO on both Sept. 12, 1984 vs. PIT and Sept. 17, 1984 at PHI) and Kerry Wood (20 SO on May 6, 1998 vs. HOU)...in 3rd big league start, struck out 10 ChiSox in 7.0 innings on June 18 in DC...when starting, Washington went 8-4...went 4-1 with a 1.08 ERA in 6 Triple-A International League starts with the Syracuse Chiefs...was promoted to Syracuse on May 4 after making 5 starts with the Harrisburg Senators...finished 3-1 with a 1.64 ERA in 5 Double-A Eastern League starts...combined to go 7-2 with a 1.43 ERA in 11 starts for the Nationals' top 2 affiliates...allowed just one home run (Rene Rivera, May 26 vs. Scranton/W-B) in those 11 starts or 55.1 innings...fanned 65 and walked just 13, good for a 5.0/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio and 10.6 strikeouts per 9.0 innings pitched...in 11 minor-league starts, batting average against was .158 (31-for-196).

STRASBURG, STEPHEN

2009

Professional: Did not pitch in the Nationals system after signing on August 16 at 11:58:43 p.m. (77 2nds before dead-line)...after signing, worked out in DC in/around the Nationals for the better part of a month...gained first pro exposure during the Nationals' 2009 Instructional League, which took place in Viera, FL...in 2 Instructional League outings, worked 5.0 innings before heading to Phoenix to participate in the prestigious Arizona Fall League...in 5 AFL starts, went 4-1 with a 4.26 ERA...ERA was skewed by one tough outing (7 ER allowed, October 22 at Peoria Javelinas)...otherwise, ERA would have been 1.10...walked 7 and struck out 23 in 19.0 AFL innings (3.3/1 K-to-BB ratio, 10.9 K's per 9.0 innings)...was to start AFL Championship game on Nov. 21, but suffered freakish knee injury during the Phoenix Desert Dogs batting practice on November 19...one day later, a precautionary exam performed today by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles revealed patellar subluxation in the left knee...the injury's treatment included rest and physical therapy, but did not require surgery...is expected to be 100 percent for 2010 Spring Training.

SDSU: 2009 recipient of both the Golden Spikes Award and the Dick Howser Trophy...posted 13 double-digit strikeout totals...worked scoreless ball 7 times in 15 starts...regular season and conference-tournament efforts—SDSU went 14-0 when pitching—were largely responsible for the Aztecs securing their first NCAA Regional berth since 1991...went 13-1 with a 1.32 ERA (16 ER/109.0 IP) in 15 starts as a junior for Tony Gwynn's Aztecs...fanned an NCAA-best 195 in 109.0 innings as a junior, or 16.1 K's per 9.0 innings (tops in NCAA), en route to a 10.3/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...did not issue more than 2 walks in any game, and walked one or fewer batters in 10 of 15 starting assignments...on May 8, in front of capacity crowd at Tony Gwynn Stadium, struck out 17 while no-hitting Air Force.

COLLEGE / AMATEUR CAREER

CAREER

Washington's biggest off-season addition since coming to DC in 2005...offers rare blend of middle-of-the-order presence with the bat, defensive prowess in the outfield, a strong throwing arm, baserunning instincts, speed and athleticism...is one of just 2 players in MLB that has increased slugging percentage each of the last 4 seasons (.469 in '07, .498 in '08, .506 in '09, .532 in '10), with the other being CIN's Scott Rolen (min. 90 games each season)...burst upon the scene in 2008, and in 3 seasons since, has batted .279 with 88 doubles, 87 home runs, 251 RBI and 53 stolen bases in 449 games...in the same 3-year span (2008-10), has paced MLB having seen 4.46 pitches per plate appearance...a proven October performer, has hit .268 with 9 doubles, 2 triples, 13 home runs and 26 RBI in 44 career post-season games...the 13 career post-season long balls are tied for 4th among active players and trail only Manny Ramirez (29), Derek Jeter (20) and Jim Thome (19)...is also the Phillies' all-time franchise leader in post-season homers with 11...has proven durable...is one of only 12 National Leaguers to have played in 155-plus games each of the last two seasons (159 in '09, 156 in '10)...was drafted by the Orioles as a catcher.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

BASEBALL RETURNS TO OUR NATION'S CAPITAL

On Wednesday, September 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also included financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise played through the 2007 campaign.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by (then) Mayor Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, VA, Las Vegas, Portland, OR, Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (eighth) without a Major League Baseball team.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team plays in the National League East Division, which in fact marks its return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new League was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903 when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts use the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20 year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager, Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington Club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40 year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 1919.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27 year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals, but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals in 1924 won more games than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the Series clinching hit by Earl McNeely in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the Series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the victory:

"I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

HISTORY AND RECORDS

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close but this time they came up short in a seven-game Series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the Series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a big league-record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1936.

The “Big Train” was not gone from the Washington scene long as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals’ manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team’s 26 year-old shortstop.

Cronin’s first season with the Nationals produced the franchise’s best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the Series for New York with a 10th-inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington won just 66 games in ‘34 and the team posted only two more winning seasons the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the ‘56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father’s death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in Sept. 1960, and an announcement was made in Oct. 1960 that the Senators were being moved to Minneapolis, MN.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.

EXPANSION SENATORS

An expansion draft was conducted in Boston on December 10, 1960 and the Senators selected the following players at $75,000 each:

PITCHERS

Pete Burnside
Dick Donovan
Rudy Hernandez
Ed Hobaugh
Johnny Klippstein
Hector Maestri
Carl Mathias
Bobby Shantz
Dave Sisler
Tom Sturdivant
Hal Woodeshick

CATCHERS

Pete Daley
Dutch Dotterer
Gene Green

INFELDERS

Chester Boak
Bob Johnson
Billy Klaus
Dale Long
Jim Mahoney
John Schaive
Coot Veal
Bud Zipfel

OUTFIELDERS

Joe Hicks
Chuck Hinton
Marty Keough
Jim King
Willie Tasby
Gene Woodling

The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

Howard and his teammates responded to the “Splendid Splinter” during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington’s win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard’s best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in ‘69. The Senators lost 92 games in ‘70 and 96 in ‘71. On Sept. 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Senators to Arlington, TX, where it became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation’s capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its “final” regular season on September 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Pro baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those 2 years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a 2nd Major League to rival the NL. In 1901, the American League began play with 8 franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed, American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time fire fighters arrived, the grand stand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, DC, since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on Sept. 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to Minnesota, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field. Those seats remain there today.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Texas. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0.

RFK Stadium hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams after the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

On March 14, 2006, Washington, DC Mayor Anthony Williams, the D.C. Sports & Entertainment Commission and the Washington Nationals unveiled plans for a 41,000-seat state-of-the-art baseball stadium located in Southeast DC. Seven weeks later, on May 4, ground was officially broken on the ballpark site. Washington opened Nationals Park on March 30, 2008 with a 3-2 win over ATL, televised nationally on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball. President George W. Bush threw the ceremonial first pitch, then Ryan Zimmerman led the club to victory with a game-ending solo shot in the 9th inning.

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft an standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the 2 managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 12 different Presidents have attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 48 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3) and Richard Nixon (0-2). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

WASHINGTON'S RECORD
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES	ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D).....	3-0 (1,000)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1914 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only President to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game was Jimmy Carter. President George W. Bush threw out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capitol, then again to open Nationals Park on March 30, 2008. President Barack Obama continued the tradition on April 5, 2010, throwing out the first pitch prior to the Nationals' season opener vs. PHI.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

WASHINGTON, DC AND THE WORLD SERIES

Washington, DC has hosted three World Series, with the original Washington (AL) Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship. Washington needed seven games to top the favored New York Giants, a club that was appearing in its 8th World Series in 14 seasons and was managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first 2 starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the 'pen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the 2nd of only 4 World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive 7th game.

The Washington (AL) Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another NL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in 7 games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the '24 Series by winning the 1933 World Series over the AL Nationals in 5 games.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on August 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On September 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on October 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious 9th inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the 4th inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager of the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. 26 year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the last weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos in 1977 moved into Olympic Stadium, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal begun to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first NL East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and was again in the pennant race until the final game of the season 1980.

In '81, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-5 Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to its first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Lincecum and Al Oliver.

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Lincecum.

Brofman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on August 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since '77 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the first Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. 22 year-old outfielder Vladimir Guerrero displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single season home run mark. Also, 24 year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on August 19.

Off the field, Brochu continued to struggle in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island country. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On September 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

NATIONALS PARK

Nationals Park set a new standard for ballpark design, reflecting a unique combination of influences which include:

- The innovative arrangement of building masses, materials, systems and technologies for a forward-looking architectural expression that is unique to its location in Washington, DC.
- Adherence to the best time-tested principles of urban design to ensure accessibility, approachability and fan-friendliness that rivals any ballpark in the nation.
- Use of state of the art ballpark design concepts to ensure the best game presentation and viewing experience for all fans.
- Application of sustainable or “Green” design principles to achieve an environmentally sensitive ballpark.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE, UNIQUE TO DC

The asymmetrical massing of the ballpark responds to each aspect of its surrounding urban context:

- To the envisioned grand boulevard of South Capitol Street, the ballpark presents a monumental facade of architectural precast concrete, metal, and glass with features and articulation consistent with the traditions of DC's best civic buildings. This monumental facade is enlivened by hints of the excitement within the ballpark through ground-level openings offering views into the interior of the seating bowl at street intersections, and through the glass curtain wall enclosing spectator functions that serve the upper levels.
- Anchored by this mass, the seating bowl sweeps to the south and east in a circular expression of steel and concrete that offers openness and promontory views out to the Anacostia waterfront.

The composition is unified by a simple yet dramatic gesture of a triangular point at the south end that is evocative of the geometry of L'Enfant's plan for the District and is subtly reminiscent of the majestic simplicity of our Nation's Monuments. This structure, allowing views both up the South Capitol facade and through an open plaza to the sweep of the seating bowl to the east, presents a dynamic gateway element to the approach into the city from the South.

An architectural language of modern steel structure and glass gives the building an openness and connectedness between interior and exterior that allows its activities to be visible from various outside elevations and allows the building to serve as a beacon when illuminated at night.

The structure is crowned with a unique blade-like sunscreen structure that serves as a recognizable icon from the ground and across the City's skyline. When illuminated from beneath at night, it signals the drama of the activity within.

A pair of vertical circulation ramps running the full height of the building affords fans alternating views into the ballpark and out to the surrounding city, including the Anacostia River, the Capitol Dome and other landmarks such as the Washington Monument.

TIME-TESTED URBAN DESIGN

The ballpark is sited and oriented to present a dramatic welcoming image and ease of access to fans. Because of the large number of patrons that arrive from the North (whether from the Navy Yard Metro Station, from parking distributed throughout the neighborhood to the north, or on foot from offices or residential neighborhoods to the north), a large entry plaza at the terminus of Half and N streets that funnels the pedestrian approaches to the ballpark entry gates. The fans enter the main concourse at grade which wraps around the entire ballpark affording views to the playing field at all times. The views into the ballpark down Half Street and from other approaches to the north present a breathtaking vista of the entire upper and lower decks and views to the playing field.

The ballpark is located to fit within the existing surrounding street geometry and make gestures of entry respectful of the L'Enfant plan. Gates and openings penetrate the structure where streets terminate at the facades.

The ballpark's perimeter consists of a variety of active elements, such as open views into the ballpark and retail spaces, which enliven and activate the surrounding city environment, both on game days and non-game days alike.

The ballpark is sited for maximum ease of access, whether by Metro, by car, or by foot. Major entrances are oriented toward the Navy Yard subway station, located just one block away, and parking is distributed both on-site and at a variety of off-site locations, allowing for a dispersal of vehicular traffic to a variety of points around the periphery of the ballpark district.

CUTTING-EDGE GAME PRESENTATION AND VIEWING EXPERIENCE

The ballpark is equipped with all of the most advanced audio-visual technology, food service venues and family-friendly entertainment and gaming alternatives to ensure a compelling and engaging game-day experience.

The seating decks are arranged to create a variety of distinct seating "neighborhoods", each with its own identity and viewing experience.

Entering through the main concourse, 55% of fans are able to enter the ballpark and access their seats without using vertical circulation such as ramps, stairs, escalators or elevators.

The main concourse offers an almost complete 360-degree open view of the playing field, so that fans circulating the concourse or purchasing their fares at a concession stand can still view the game.

Suites, the upscale Lexus Presidents Club, the PNC Diamond Club, and Stars and Club level amenities provide the opportunity for the most elegant corporate or personal entertainment opportunities of any ballpark in America.

NATIONALS PARK

GREEN DESIGN

Nationals Park is one of the most environmentally friendly sports venues in America, with particular attention to issues affecting the health of the Anacostia River such as storm water management and minimization of water pollution.

Nationals Park is also the first major sports venue in the United States accredited as a LEED® Silver Certified environmentally friendly building.

The DC Sports and Entertainment Commission authorized the Nationals Park design team to create an environmentally friendly park. Elements of the project that contribute to LEED® Certification efforts are as follows:

A sustainable site

Nationals Park, located near the Anacostia River, will be categorized as a brownfield redevelopment. It is anticipated that the ballpark will serve as an anchor for urban revitalization of the area.

- The ballpark site is a part of the Voluntary Clean Up Program which provides an opportunity to leave the 25-acre site a much better environment than when it was received
- Environmental remediation efforts are on-going
- The ballpark is easily accessible to public transportation including access to metro stations and local bus routes
- Parking for fuel efficient vehicles and car pools is provided in the on-site garages

Use of materials

Water conserving plumbing fixtures are used throughout the project offering substantial water consumption savings. Energy conserving light fixtures are installed including high efficiency field lighting. Building materials used on the project contain a minimum of 10% recycled content and other interior materials including adhesives, carpet glues and paints have low VOC contents. Many building materials were produced regionally, cutting down on transportation costs while promoting the local economy. Landscape plant materials are drought resistant, conserving water by eliminating the need for irrigation. Roof materials offer a high degree of reflectance, minimizing the amount of heat released to the environment.

- A 6,300 square foot green roof is located above a concession area beyond left field

An intricate ground and stormwater filtration system

Due to the ballpark's proximity to the Anacostia River, care was taken to treat storm and ground water runoff. The result is a unique intricate water filtration system that separates water used for cleaning the ballpark from rainwater falling on the ballpark and treats both sources of water before it is released to sanitary and stormwater systems. Special care was also given to screening organic debris, i.e. peanut shells, from the stormwater system

About LEED®

LEED® is a rating system that was designed to guide and distinguish high performance buildings that have less of an impact on the environment, are healthier for those who work and/or live in the building, and are more profitable than their conventional counterparts

It is a performance-oriented rating system where building projects earn points for satisfying criterion designed to address specific environmental impacts inherent in the design, construction, operations and management of a building

The rating system is organized into five environmental categories: Sustainable Sites, Water Efficiency, Energy and Atmosphere, Materials and Resources, and Indoor Environmental Quality. An additional category, Innovation and Design, awards points to LEED® projects that develop new solutions, employ new technologies, educate, or realize exemplary performance in another area.

LEED® for New Construction ratings are awarded according to the following scale:

- |                           |                          |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|
| • Certified: 26-32 points | • Gold: 39-51 points     |
| • Silver: 33-38 points    | • Platinum: 52-69 points |

CONSTRUCTION FACTS

History of the Site

- Layers of fill and brick were found 12-14 feet below grade, indicating the probability of road and habitation at this level in the 1800s

Excavation

- A total of 340,948 cubic yards or 34,095 truckloads of soil was excavated
- A typical truck can hold 10 cubic yards or 25,000 pounds of dirt
- Approximately 4,500 cubic yards or 450 truckloads of dirt were removed each day
- There were 185,087 cubic yards of contaminated soil that was cleaned and sent to a landfill
- Some portions of the excavation required digging below the water table
- A total of approximately 2,400 piles were driven to 55 foot depth, which equals a total of 25 miles of piling

Steel

- The completed ballpark has 3500 pieces of steel in the bowl, equaling 7800 tons

Concrete

- The heaviest pre-cast unit is 55,000 pounds
- Approximately 58,000 cubic yards of cast-in-place concrete were used

Fire Protection

Nationals Park contains the following components:

- 65,000 feet of pipe
- 1 fire pump
- 25 – 30 wet sprinkler systems
- 6 – 7 dry sprinkler systems
- 2 pre – action systems
- 7,000 sprinkler heads

Mechanical Facts

The ballpark encompasses approximately:

- 9 miles of pipe
- 600,000 pounds of mechanical ducts
- 110 plumbing fixtures

Electrical Facts

Nationals Park is home to:

- Over 3 million feet of power wire
- 714,000 watts of light used, the equivalent of 11,900 60-watt bulbs
- 180,000 hours of manpower to install electrical systems

Fun Facts

- If you stretched Nationals Park like a slinky into a boomerang curve, it would be a quarter mile long
- Inspiration for the look of the ballpark was taken from the East Wing of the National Gallery of Art, by architect I. M. Pei
- More than half of the crowd will walk straight off the street into their seats, without ever climbing elevators, ramps or stairs because the field is 24 feet below street level and the main concourse is the same height as the sidewalk
- HOK borrowed an odd right-angled jog into the right centerfield fence from the now demolished Griffith Stadium, former home of the Washington Senators

THE FIELD

- The playing field is made up of Kentucky Bluegrass Sod from Tuckahoe Turf Farm in New Jersey
- The first shipment of the 58" thick sod was delivered on November 1, 2007. After fifty-eight (58) rolls of sod and eight (8) days, installation was complete.
- 100,000 square feet of field is covered by grass
- The planting medium for the sod is 92% sand
- The field has ninety-eight (98) sprinklers for watering
- It takes two and a half hours (2 ½) to mow the field each game day
- The "Green Carpet" cost over a million dollars, including the field irrigation and drainage systems

2011 marks the 14th consecutive season and 18th overall calling Major League Baseball for Slowes, the original play-by-play voice of the Nationals. Slowes joined the Nationals on February 24, 2005, and it did not take long for his trademark "Bang Zoom go the Fireworks," followed by, "A Curly 'W' is in the Books" tag lines after Nationals victories to become part of Beltway lexicon. His post with the Nationals was a return to the Washington, DC area for Charlie, who became the Radio Voice of the Washington Bullets in 1986 at just 25 years of age. He went on to broadcast Bullets game for 11 seasons (1986-87 to 1996-97), the longest run in franchise history until eclipsed by his successor and current Wizards' voice Dave Johnson. Included in that time were 2 years of TV-radio simulcasts. Slowes made the switch to Major League Baseball full-time, becoming an original voice of the expansion Tampa Bay Devil Rays in 1998, calling Rays games for their first 7 seasons. Slowes is among the many, including Hall-of-Famer Vin Scully, to enter sports broadcasting after graduating from Fordham University in New York and having honed his craft on Fordham's 50,000-FM blowtorch, WFUV 90.7 FM. Shortly after graduation, Charlie's first career job was with KMOX Radio in St. Louis, where for 3 years (1984-86), he was exposed to the likes of broadcasting greats Bob Costas and the late Jack Buck. Slowes worked in a variety of on-air functions for broadcasts of St. Louis Cardinals Baseball, St. Louis Cardinals Football, St. Louis Blues Hockey and St. Louis University Basketball play-by-play as well as sportscasts and sports talk shows. Charlie broadcast Tidewater Tides Triple-A baseball for parts of 4 seasons from 1986-92. He has also broadcast at the national network level with NBC-TV and CBS Radio for their MLB Game of the Week. Slowes has also called baseball for the Baltimore Orioles (1989-1990) and the New York Mets (1988, 1991). He's also dabbled in bowling and boxing for ESPN and MISL soccer (play-by-play with New York Arrows in 1983) in 2-plus decades as a play-by-play broadcaster. During the 2007-2008 off-season, Slowes returned courtside for some college basketball play-by-play, filling in on the University of South Florida-ISP Sports Network. Charlie, his wife, Tina, and sons, Jim (4/6/94) and Alex (10/11/97), split time between homes in Alexandria, VA and Palm Harbor, FL.

DAVE JAGELER

Jageler enters his 6th season with the Nationals after spending the 2005 campaign as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Jageler joined Gary Cohen, Don Orsillo, Dave Flemming and Andy Freed as Pawtucket products who have graduated to the major leagues in recent years. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Jageler worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show as well as serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics radio network, including fill in play-by-play. Jageler spent 6 years in Charlotte as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and co-hosting a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte, he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the '95, '96 and '01 seasons doing play-by-play. Jageler's voice may sound familiar to some in DC, as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns football networks and has done fill-in play-by-play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, CT native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Chiefs on Time Warner Cable and Empire Sports Network. Dave and his wife, Jennifer, have 2 children, Jared (11) and Sarah (7).
