NYSEG STADIUM

After the Binghamton Triplets disbanded in 1968, their home park, Johnson Field in nearby Johnson City was demolished to make way for New York State Route 17. In 1991, when the New York Mets announced they would move the Williamsport Bills, their Double-A affiliate, from Pennsylvania to Binghamton, New York, the city put plans together to build the B-Mets a brand-new ballpark.

Opened in April 1992, Binghamton Municipal Stadium immediately became a hot spot in the city. In its inaugural season, the ballpark welcomed in 278,492 fans, the highest single-season attendance for any team to ever call Binghamton home. The record stands to this day.

NYSEG STADIUM QUICK FACTS

Broke Ground:	July 1991
Opened:	April 1992
Cost:	$4.6 million
Capacity:	6,012
Designer:	Highland Associates
Former Name:	Binghamton Municipal Stadium (92-00)
Dimensions:	330' (LF), 400' (CF), 330' (RF)
Fence Height:	8'
Record Att:	7,412 - July 17, 2008

B-Mets fans have seen many memorable moments at the park. The team celebrated both of their Eastern League Championships (1992 & 1994) on their home field. Joe Crawford tossed the second no-hitter in B-Mets history and first at home on May 5, 1996 in the second game of a doubleheader against the Trenton Thunder. Bob Keppel added a no-hitter to the franchise list when he baffled the Portland Sea Dogs over nine innings on August 2, 2003.

In 2001, the naming rights for the stadium were sold to the New York State Electric and Gas Company. The B-Mets would now call NYSEG Stadium home. More concrete changes were made to the ballpark prior to the 2007 season when a videoboard was installed beyond the right field fence.

Municipal Stadium under construction in 1992

NYSEG Stadium has been the site of many rehab assignments for the New York Mets. From Dwight Gooden in 1994 to Jose Reyes in 2011, appearances from Big Leaguers have generated some of the largest crowds in stadium history. Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez's rehab start on July 17, 2008 drew 7,412, a single-game attendance record. Over the last 20 seasons, 4,307,750 fans have entered NYSEG Stadium to watch their beloved Binghamton Mets.

"Binghamton, this one's for you!" New York Mets executive Gerry Hundacker triumphantly shouted a record-standstill crowd of 8,235 with those words at about 9:30 Saturday night.

The Binghamton Mets had just bested the Canton-Alexe Indians, 5-2, for the Eastern League championship.

Bobby Jones outted the last 16 Indians in order and 21 of the last 23 after first baseman Jamie Hoffner's misplayed first base hit.

The game was the finale of a best-of-five series in which Canton took a 2-1 lead in Wednesday. That game also featured Binghamton general manager R.C. Reuter, somewhat presumptuously, named each team member for a championship ring that Saturday's victory finally earned.

"He just had confidence, as we all did all season," said reserve catcher Andy Davis, whose 25th birthday was capped by the locker-room driver of champagne.

BINGHAMTON METS HISTORY

While professional baseball in Binghamton, NY dates back to 1877, the Binghamton Mets' story begins in 1992. It was that year that the New York Mets organization moved their Double-A affiliate, the Bills, from Williamsport, Pennsylvania approximately 125 miles northeast to Binghamton, New York.

The city welcomed the B-Mets with open arms after going 23 years without having a professional baseball team to call their own. When tickets went on sale for the inaugural season, thousands of fans braved the rain and waited in a line that snaked for blocks through the city.

1968 Binghamton Triplets

The Binghamton Triplets called the Southern Tier home for 46 years before disbanding in 1968. The club played their home games at Johnson Field located in nearby Johnson City. Following their departure, the ballpark was demolished to make way for New York State Route 17.

With Johnson Field long gone, the B-Mets needed a new home park. That requirement was fulfilled by Binghamton Municipal Stadium. Built in nine months for $4.6 million, the ballpark opened on April 19, 1992 after three-straight postponed games.

Binghamton's house-warming party was a strong one as they defeated the Harrisburg Senators 1-0 in front of 5,126 fans.

Led by manager Steve Swisher, the B-Mets treated their fans to a stellar opening season. They went 79-59, finished 2nd in the Eastern League, and earned a trip to the postseason. The B-Mets dispatched the Harrisburg Senators in the semi-finals in four games, needing a 4-3 victory in a 14-inning marathon in the series-clincher.

In the Eastern League Championship, the B-Mets trailed the Canton-Akron Indians two games to one, but rallied with a 7-2 win in game five and earned their first championship with a 5-2 win in the decisive fifth game. Bobby J. Jones, the ace of the Binghamton pitching staff and Eastern League Pitcher of the Year in 1992, earned the win in the championship game.

In their first season, the B-Mets welcomed 278,492 fans to Municipal Stadium, the highest single-season attendance for any team to ever call Binghamton home. The record stands to this day.

Fans brave the rain for Binghamton Mets tickets in 1992

During the winter after the 1993 season, a group of local businessmen teamed up to make the Binghamton Mets a truly local product. Mike & Chris Urda, George Scherer and David & William Maires purchased the team from New York Mets in January 1994. The club has been under their care ever since.

Under new ownership, the 1994 season turned into another banner year for the B-Mets and the city. Binghamton became the center of the Double-A universe on July 11, 1994 when the team hosted the Double-A Association All-Star Game. 6,524 fans packed into Municipal Stadium and watched the American League defeat the National League 10-4.

The All-Star Game would not be the only excitement Binghamton would see that season. The B-Mets won the North Division under manager John Tamargo with a wire-to-wire performance, finishing the year at 82-59.

The B-Mets deftly managed to sweep away the New Haven Ravens in three games in the North Division Championship, with each game decided by a single run.

Binghamton faced the Harrisburg Senators in the Eastern League Championship. After falling in game one, the B-Mets ace Bill Pulsipher got the team back on the right track in a big way. The hulking left-hander baffled the Senators for nine innings, hurling the first no-hitter in Binghamton Mets history. His win tied the series.

BINGHAMTON METS HISTORY

The B-Mets used more magic in game three. Trailing 4-2 in the bottom of the ninth, Edgardo Alfonzo launched a two-run home run to tie the game and Frank Jacobs followed suit with a solo home run to win. In game five, Chris Roberts secured Binghamton's second championship in three years. The righty allowed just two runs in a complete game in front of 5,259 fans at Municipal Stadium.

Something about even-numbered years in the 90's brought out the best in the B-Mets. In 1996, with John Tamargo still at the helm, the team went 76-66 and finished second in the North Division.

Unlike 1992 and 1994, this club was not able to supply the magic in the postseason. The B-Mets held a 2-1 series lead over the Portland Sea Dogs in the North Division Championship, but failed to lock it up. Binghamton made a first-round exit that year after the Sea Dogs won games four and five.

The story repeated itself in 1998. The B-Mets had a slow start playing for new manager John Gibbons, but caught fire in July. The club won 20 games in the month and finished second in the North Division with an 82-60 record.

Up against the New Britain Rock Cats in the North Division Championship, the B-Mets snatched game one, but watched their season end when New Britain won the final three games of the series.

The year 2000 was another fruitful season for the B-Mets. For the third time in franchise history, the team won exactly 82 games. The hometown fans were lucky enough to watch 46 of those wins at Municipal Stadium, a franchise record that still stands.

Binghamton beat out the New Haven Ravens to win the North Division by one game, but it was the Ravens who had the last laugh in the postseason. Yet again the B-Mets won the North Division Championship opener, but dropped three straight and bowed out in the first round.

In 2001, the naming rights for the stadium were sold to the New York State Electric and Gas Company. The B-Mets would now call NYSEG Stadium home.

Newly-named NYSEG Stadium

Following their exit in 2000, Binghamton did not return to the postseason until 2004, when they finished second in the North Division with a 76-66 record for manager Ken Oberkfell. It was the same story for Binghamton. In their first year of existence, the New Hampshire Fisher Cats dispatched the B-Mets in four games en route to winning the Eastern League title.

Binghamton has not made the postseason since then, nor have they managed to finish better than third in their division. While the B-Mets have suffered through a postseason drought, they continue to produce top-talent for the New York Mets. From Bobby J. Jones to Josh Thole, most of those who have put on the New York Mets' jersey have worn a B-Mets' jersey first.

The B-Mets list of notable alumni includes Jose Reyes, David Wright, Mike Pelfrey, Daniel Murphy, Benny Agbayani, Edgardo Alfonzo, Bobby Parnell, Jason Bay, Heath Bell, Lucas Duda, Rey Ordóñez, Octavio Dotel, Ike Davis, Dillon Gee, Jason Iiringhausen, Butch Huskey, Bill Pulsipher, Jay Payton, Ty Wiggington, Paul Wilson, Brian Daubach, Jonathon Niese, Cory Lidle and Jason Tyner.

Over the last 20 seasons, 4,307,750 fans have entered NYSEG Stadium to watch their beloved Binghamton Mets. The team continues to be a fixture of the community as the city roots for the future stars of the New York Mets.

HITTING FOR THE CYCLE

Over the last 20 years, the B-Mets have played 2,856 games and seen 554 different players wear the uniform. However, only one player, Josh Satin, has hit for the cycle in a game. Satin performed the feat on the road against the Bowie Baysox on June 24, 2011. He launched a solo home run in the first inning, reached on an infield single to short in the third, doubled to center field in the fifth, and legged out a triple to left to complete the historic night in the seventh. His three-bagger was just the fifth of his career.

BALLPARK LAYOUT

NYSEG Stadium, opened in 1992, has an official capacity of 6,012. There are 33 sections of seating, including 18 Box Seat sections and 15 Reserved Grandstand sections. The Box Seats contain nine rows of seating while the Reserved Grandstand contains 15 rows of seating. The stadium also offers six luxury boxes which hold approximately 20 individuals each. The picnic area down the left field line can accommodate 600. The Lupo's Dugout is located down the right field line.

The B-Mets clubhouse is located beneath the stands on the first base line. The visitors clubhouse is located beneath the stands on the third base line. Both clubhouses have their own coaches' room, training room, and showers. A batting tunnel shared by both teams is located adjacent to the B-Mets clubhouse on the first base line. The B-Mets clubhouse also contains two players' lounges.

The B-Mets bullpen is located beyond the Lupo's Dugout down the right field line. The visitors bullpen is located beyond the left field fence. The shed beyond the right field fence is used to store field maintenance equipment and contains the Sports Turf Manager's office.

EXPLAINING THE VIEW

The view from the press box at NYSEG Stadium blends the baseball tradition of the Southern Tier with the city's industrial past sprinkled with the beauty of the surrounding area.

Aerial view of the rail yard beyond left field at NYSEG Stadium

more evident than the railyard beyond the left field fence. The yard houses more than a dozen rails and lengthy freight trains roll through seven days a week. Several B-Mets and visitors have plunked rail cars with long home runs during the stadium's 20-year history.

The videoboard currently installed beyond the right field fence was added prior to the 2007 season to replace the original scoreboard. The board has allowed the B-Mets to develop a video production staff that creates pre-game programming, in-game contests, game highlights and much more.

Geographically, the city of Binghamton sits in a bowl-shaped valley at the meeting point of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers. Located in the Glaciated Allegheny Plateau, the city is surrounded by elevated land. The rolling hills far beyond right field are located in the hamlet of Popes Ravine, which is part of the town of Kirkwood, a suburb of Binghamton.

The city of Binghamton became a major manufacturing center in the 19th century thanks in large part to the development of the railroads. Because there was no navigable path via waterway from Binghamton to the Atlantic Coast, the railroads shipped most the goods produced in the Southern Tier. The city became a key producer of cigars, shoes and high-tech products. Nowhere is the link to the past to the railroad era

MASCOTS

BUDDY THE BEE

Introduced to coincide with the team's "B-Mets" rebranding in 1994, Buddy the Bee has become the face of the organization. He is a cousin of Bingo.

BALLWINKLE

The Binghamton Mets' original mascot dating back to 1992, Ballwinkle disappeared for several seasons before returning due to popular demand.

BINGO

The B-Mets' newest mascot, Bingo came into existence in 2008. He has been known to break into "boogies" when the B-Mets score.

BINGHAMTON BASEBALL HISTORY

The city of Binghamton, New York has an incredibly rich history of organized baseball dating back to 1877, when the Binghamton Cricket played in the League Alliance. With players like Buttercup Dickerson and John McGuinness, the members of the original Cricket team became the forefathers of America's pastime at the confluence of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers.

Binghamton's hometown team experienced a great deal of volatility in its first 20 years. During that time period, the team played under four different names (Cricket, Bingoes, Crickets and Bingos) in six different leagues (League Alliance, International Association, New York State League, International League, Central League and Eastern League). Future Hall of Famer "Wee Willie" Keeler of "Hit 'em where they ain't" fame played for the Bingos during this time in 1892 and 1893.

Things finally settled down in 1901 when the Binghamton Bingoes began playing in the New York State League. Comprised of teams from Albany, Cortland/Waverly, Iliion, Rome, Schenectady, Troy and Utica, the league pitted the turn-of-the-century bustling cities of Upstate New York against each other. The Bingoes played 17 seasons in the league before switching to the International League in 1918.

1913 Binghamton Bingoes

Professional baseball in Binghamton went on hiatus for four years after the Bingoes ended their run in the International League in 1919. That drought ended in a grand way in 1923. In a meeting held on March 23 at the Arlington Hotel in Binghamton, a six-team association known as the New York-Penn League was born. Fifteen years later, the New York-Penn League became today's Eastern League.

The Binghamton Triplets were an original member of the league and became a fixture in Binghamton for 45 years. Representing the "Triple Cities" (Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott), the Triplets spent most of their existence as a New York Yankees affiliate.

1962 Triplets Program

The Triplets switched to the current New York-Penn League in 1964 and returned to the Eastern League in 1967. Sadly, their run came to an end in 1968. The team disbanded and professional baseball disappeared from the Southern Tier for 23 years.

The New York Mets ended that drought in 1992. Owners of their Double-A affiliate in the Williamsport Bills, the Mets decided to move the team to Binghamton following the 1991 season. With the Triplets' old home in Johnson Field long-gone, the city spearheaded the construction of Binghamton Municipal Stadium, now known as NYSEG Stadium. In a coincidental link to the past, the park is located just blocks from where the Arlington Hotel, the birthplace of the Eastern League, used to stand.

The Binghamton Mets have picked up where the Triplets left off and provided fans in the Southern Tier with professional baseball for the last 20 years. With two B-Mets championships in 1992 and 1994, the city of Binghamton is home to twelve Eastern League titles, the most for any city in the league. The B-Mets and their loyal fans hope for more as the love affair with America's pastime continues in the "Carousel Capital of the World".

BINGHAMTON, NEW YORK

Officially settled in 1802, Binghamton is a community of 47,376 located in the Southern Tier, approximately seven miles north of the New York-Pennsylvania border. Serving as the county seat of Broome County, the area now comprised of the city of Binghamton and its immediate suburbs was purchased by William Bingham, a wealthy native of Philadelphia, in 1792. Located in the valley at the confluence of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers, this newly acquired land offered an area easy to settle compared to the rolling hills that dominate the Upstate New York geography.

The community was originally known as Chenango Point before incorporating as the Town of Binghamton in 1834. Taking advantage of the flat, yet limited landscape, Binghamton originally developed as an agricultural town. That changed in the 1840's when the Erie Railroad was constructed to connect Binghamton to the Atlantic Coast. The area quickly became a major manufacturing and transportation hub.

The town progressed to city-status in 1867. At that point, nearly 9,000 people called the area home. Cigars were the first major product shipped out of Binghamton. However, that industry became trumped by the shoemaker Endicott Johnson in the early 1920's. Founded by Henry Bradford Endicott and George F. Johnson, the company's factories dominated the Triple Cities of Binghamton, Johnson City and Endicott and employed nearly 20,000 people during the Roaring 20's. It saw its highest production during World War II when it pumped out 52 million pairs of shoes a year.

Endicott Johnson factories in the first half of the 20th century

As the shoe-producing industry began to fade following the war, the development of high-tech products took center stage. The Link Trainer, a flight simulator developed in Binghamton in the 1930's, was used to prepare pilots during World War II and enticed many technology companies to set up shop in the area.

Downtown Binghamton

The International Business Machines Corporation, commonly known as IBM, was founded in Endicott and continues to be a key employer in the area. Major defense contractors like Lockheed Martin, BAE Systems and Rockwell Collins also showcase plants in the Southern Tier.

Binghamton has been referred to as the "Parlor City" and "Carousel Capital of the World" over its 210-year history. It gained its Parlor City moniker in the latter portions of the 19th century for its attractive Victorian homes, stately mansions, and neat streets. With six historic wooden carousels donated by George F. Johnson, the city earned its more self-explanatory "Carousel Capital of the World" nickname early in the 20th century.

Boasting a heavy concentration of Italian immigrants in the 1920's, the Southern Tier became the birthplace of the spiedie (pronounced spee-dee). The sandwich consists of small, marinated pieces of chicken, pork, lamb, or beef traditionally served on soft Italian bread. Agostino Iacovelli and Peter Sharak are credited with introducing the tasty delicacy to the area. The name derives from the Italian word "spiedini," which refers to pieces of meat cooked on a skewer. The city celebrates this sandwich every summer at the Spiedie Fest and Balloon Rally, which is highlighted by a spiedie cook-off and hot-air balloon showcase.

During the winter, sports fans in Binghamton can catch a minor league hockey game with the Binghamton Senators, an affiliate of the Ottawa Senators playing in the American Hockey League. The Southern Tier is also home to the State University of New York at Binghamton, a highly-regarded public institution that fields 19 Division I teams.

Hot air balloons dot the sky during Spiedie Fest '08

Golf is another major sport in the area. There are over a dozen courses within a 20-mile radius of NYSEG Stadium. The En-Joie Golf Course in Endicott has hosted a Champions Tour event called the Dick's Sporting Goods Open since 2007. Dick's Sporting Goods was founded in Binghamton in 1948. The course also hosted the B.C. Open, a PGA Tour tournament, every year since 1971 until major flooding washed out the competition in 2006.
