PETER ANGELOS

MANAGING PARTNER

Peter Angelos, the Principal Owner and Managing Partner of the Baltimore Orioles, has brought dynamic leadership to the ballclub and to the community since he and his fellow investors restored the team to local ownership in August, 1993.

Under his 23-year stewardship, the Orioles have reached the American League Championship Series three times and the playoffs four times, led the league in attendance five times – the first times in franchise history – and hosted such historic occasions as the first games between a Major League Baseball team and Cuba in nearly 40 years and Cal Ripken's 2,131st consecutive game. In a testament to the enduring popularity of the team, in 2008 the Orioles welcomed their 100 millionth fan in franchise history and Oriole Park at Camden Yards welcomed its 50 millionth fan in just 17 seasons. Opened in 1992, Oriole Park is the ballpark which reached the 50 million fan milestone in the shortest period of time in the history of baseball.

The Orioles' ownership has committed to building a winner by rebuilding the farm system with young talent and utilizing analytics to identify complementary players. Under Mr. Angelos, the Orioles have dramatically increased their stake in scouting and player development, both in the United States and internationally. Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations Dan Duquette and his staff are paving the way to a new era of Orioles baseball designed to further fortify the player development and scouting areas while building on the talent already at the Major League level. This commitment paid off in 2012, when several players scouted internationally combined with homegrown talent to help the Orioles to the American League Wild Card and a trip to the Division Series. A second straight winning season followed in 2013, and the team captured the American League East Division title in 2014, winning 96 games and advancing to the American League Championship Series. In the past four seasons, the Orioles have led the American League with 355 regular season wins and posted four straight .500 or better performances.

In addition, Mr. Angelos' vision in creating the Mid-Atlantic Sports Network (MASN) maintained the integrity of the Orioles television territory. In conjunction with Major League Baseball's relocation of the Nationals in Washington, D.C., Mr. Angelos, refusing to allow the division or diminution of the Orioles' exclusive television territory, offered instead to share the Orioles' exclusive television territory with the Nationals and to form a jointly-owned regional sports network that would professionally produce and present the games, shows, and programming of both teams throughout the Baltimore-Washington metropolitan area and the seven-state region served by MASN.

Orioles games are now distributed to a larger audience than ever, as the network is available to more than 7.4 million households from Harrisburg, Pa. to Charlotte, N.C. The network introduced pregame and postgame shows for every game and recruited Emmy award-winning, network-caliber broadcast teams, which include Hall of Famers and World Series MVPs. While the Orioles maintain a majority ownership interest in the network, MASN treats both teams equally in all matters. In 2016, the network began its 12th year televising Washington Nationals games and its ninth season as the Orioles' television outlet as part of its 24-hour programming schedule.

In addition to televising every available Nationals and Orioles game, Mr. Angelos wanted the network to highlight local collegiate programs whose games had not previously been televised. Many local Maryland schools are among the 200 NCAA football and basketball games televised by MASN every year.

Mr. Angelos has been an industry leader in professional baseball and has helped strengthen the national pastime. He was the only owner to serve on the committee that negotiated the historic 2002 labor agreement between Major League Baseball and the MLB Players Association – the first such agreement without a strike in the 30-plus years of labor negotiations between the groups. His involvement in those labor negotiations was hailed by both sides. Major League Baseball and the MLB Players Association were able to reach a five-year agreement without a strike, the first settlement without a work stoppage since the rise of the players' labor movement in 1969, setting the stage for a second such agreement in the fall of 2006.

The Orioles owner also has taken the lead in helping utilize baseball as a bridge among people. He spearheaded the effort to have the Orioles and a team of Cuba's best players engage in an historic two-game series in the two countries, a match-up viewed as a way to transcend politics and bring about closer cultural and social ties between the people of the United States and Cuba. He also helped to develop the first baseball team to represent Greece in Olympic baseball competition at the 2004 Olympics in Athens and thereafter to establish baseball on a permanent basis for Greek youth. This effort was done in compliance with former Commissioner Bud Selig's program to extend the internationalization of baseball.

At Oriole Park at Camden Yards, Mr. Angelos has taken constructive steps off the field to enhance the fan experience. In order to keep baseball games an affordable family experience, Angelos has insisted the club offer a range of ticket pricing. Furthermore, at his direction, Oriole Park maintains one of the most fan-friendly food policies in all of professional sports, allowing outside food and beverages to be brought into the ballpark. Despite an industry-wide trend toward selling stadium naming rights, Angelos has been steadfast in maintaining the integrity of Oriole Park at Camden Yards. In 2012, the fan experience was further enhanced by the addition of the Orioles Legends sculpture garden in the bullpen picnic area; the installation of the Roof Deck overlooking centerfield, a popular place for fans to gather and enjoy a unique ballpark view; and the lowering of the wall on the Flag Court, making it easier for fans to watch the game from this location.

In addition to building a club fans can be proud of, Mr. Angelos has overseen the efforts of the Orioles to make significant contributions to the community, particularly for children. Under Mr. Angelos' direction, the club launched OriolesREACH in 2007 to centralize its community relations initiatives in an effort to better reach those who needed the most assistance. Over 12,000 children experience a game at Oriole Park each season thanks to the OriolesREACH Gameday Experience Program, which provides complimentary tickets, transportation, concessions, and souvenirs to those who might otherwise not be able to attend a game. Other annual OriolesREACH initiatives include the Food & Funds Drive, Blood Drive, Equipment Drive, and Kids Holiday Party, among other diverse and meaningful programs.

Through cash contributions, ticket and memorabilia donations, club resources, and promotion, over 800 nonprofit groups are aided by the Orioles each year. The Orioles Charitable Foundation has contributed to organizations such as the Salvation Army, the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation, the National Kidney Foundation, House with a Heart, Junior Advancement, and the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society Brain Gala. Also among recipients of Orioles support is the John Steadman Cancer Initiative, which raises funds for cancer research and awareness in memory of the longtime Baltimore sportswriter who succumbed to the disease in 2001. Through its foundation and client contributions, the Orioles have donated millions of dollars to various charitable causes, including for the 17th straight year being sponsors of the Baltimore Symphony Gala. In 2015, the Orioles partnered with the American Heart Association (AHA) to serve as mission engagement chair for the 31st Annual Baltimore Heart Ball, after serving as event chair for the 30th Baltimore Heart Ball in 2014. The Orioles became the first professional sports team to lead such an effort since the AHA's founding in 1924. The 2014 event raised a record-setting $810,000 to benefit breakthroughs in cardiovascular disease research, education programs and advocacy efforts. A considerable portion of the funds are directed to local institutions such as Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland.

The son of Greek immigrants, Mr. Angelos was born on July 4, 1929 in Pittsburgh, Pa. The family moved to Baltimore and he was raised in the industrial neighborhood of Highlandtown in East Baltimore. He graduated from Patterson Park High School and from the University of Baltimore, where he was valedictorian of his class at the School of Law. An attorney since 1961, he has built the Law Offices of Peter G. Angelos, P.C., into one of the nation's leading personal injury law firms representing the victims of harmful products. Throughout his legal career, Mr. Angelos has been a champion for ordinary citizens and has taken on some of the most powerful corporations in the country, including asbestos manufacturers, the tobacco companies, and the pharmaceutical industry.

Mr. Angelos, who was elected to and served on the Baltimore City Council from 1959-63, has long been active in civic and community endeavors. He currently is Chairman of WestSide Renaissance, Inc., the nonprofit organization of civic leaders that is spearheading the $1 billion revitalization of Downtown Baltimore's west side. He also is a board member and major benefactor of Charles Street Development Corp., which is working to enhance Baltimore's historic avenue. In this regard, he has entered into a unique partnership with the Johns Hopkins University School of Continuing Studies to ensure they maintain its presence in the downtown area with a building at Charles and Fayette Streets devoted to business education.

Mr. Angelos serves as a member of the board for a number of colleges, hospitals, and civic organizations and has been widely honored for his commitment to higher education and civic causes. He has received honorary doctorate degrees from Mount Saint Mary's College, Loyola College of Maryland, and the University of Baltimore. He is a member of the Business-Higher Education Forum, the Supreme Court Historical Society, the American Academy of Achievement, and the Ellis Island Medal of Honor Society. He is a recipient of the AFL-CIO Social Justice Award.

Mr. Angelos is also a strong supporter of the Reginald F. Lewis Museum of Maryland African American History and Culture. He serves on the Baltimore museum's Board of Directors and, in addition to giving personal financial support, was instrumental in helping the museum secure funding from the state of Maryland.

In 2008, he made a $5 million, dollar-for-dollar matching pledge to support the construction of a new 190,000 square foot law school building that opened in April of 2013 as part of the John and Frances Angelos Law Center at the University of Baltimore Law School. In both 2010 and 2013, Mr. Angelos donated an additional $5 million to his alma mater, bringing his total contribution to the project to $15 million. Mr. Angelos also donated $1 million to the University of Baltimore School of Law in 2013 to support the academic partnership between the law school and historically black colleges and universities, an initiative renamed for his sister, the Fannie Angelos Program for Academic Excellence.

In 2013, Mr. Angelos and his wife, Georgia, donated $2.5 million to St. Agnes Hospital in Baltimore for the Angelos Medical Pavilion, a new medical building featuring an expanded cancer institute that opened in the spring. Also in 2013, Mr. Angelos contributed $2.5 million to Franklin Square Hospital for the construction of the Angelos Center for Lung Diseases, a new lung disease treatment center that marked the largest gift in the hospital's history. The new facility opened in the spring of 2014.

Mr. Angelos also serves as a Member of the Board of the following institutions and foundations: Johns Hopkins University; University of Maryland Medical Systems Corporation; St. Joseph Medical Center Foundation; George Meany Center-National Labor College; Loyola College in Maryland; and the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. He is a member of The Johns Hopkins Medicine Board of Visitors, the Advisory Board of the University of Baltimore School of Law, and the Board of Visitors of the University of Baltimore. Mr. Angelos is also an active supporter of the Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) Association and was the first ever $1 million donor to the United Way's Central Maryland chapter.

The Baltimore Urban League presented him with its Whitney Young, Jr. Memorial Award for his commitment to furthering the quality of life for the citizens of Greater Baltimore. He also has been honored by the NAACP, the Associated Black Charities of Maryland, and the Johns Hopkins Allen L. Berman University Real Estate Institute. In 1998, The Baltimore Sun named Peter G. Angelos as its Man of the Year, and in 2013, he was selected as an Influential Marylander for Philanthropy by the Maryland Daily Record.

Mr. Angelos and his wife, Georgia, have two sons, John and Louis. John is an Executive Vice President with the Orioles and MASN, while Louis is an attorney with the Law Offices of Peter G. Angelos.

OWNERSHIP OF THE ORIOLES

On October 4, 1993, American League owners unanimously approved the sale of ownership of the Orioles from then-principal shareholder Eli S. Jacobs to a group of investors led by Baltimorean Peter Angelos. The sale placed the Orioles in local hands for the first time since 1979, when Jerold C. Hoffberger, representing his family, which owned a controlling interest in both the Orioles and the National Brewing Company, sold the franchise to prominent Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams.

From October 29, 1953, when the transfer of the St. Louis Browns franchise became official until Williams purchased the club late in 1979, the Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. was publicly held and was operated by a group of Baltimore investors which owned a majority share of the BBCI. Among those who played key roles in the operation of the franchise during that 26-year period were: Former chief executives Clarence Miles, who organized the group that secured the St. Louis Browns for Baltimore and who served as the club's first president; James Keilty, Jr.; Joseph A. W. Iglehart; and Jerry Hoffberger, as well as longtime club treasurer Zanvyl Krieger ('58-'79).

JOHN P. ANGELOS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

For more than two decades, John Angelos has led business operations and strategic management for the Orioles organization. He also serves as President and Chief Operating Officer of the Mid-Atlantic Sports Television Network (MASN), one of the leading sports properties in the U.S. Angelos is widely recognized by professional associations, media outlets, and trade publications as a sports industry expert and has appeared as a guest on, among many other major networks and outlets,

CBS, Bloomberg Television and Radio, PBS, MSNBC, Fox Sports, Rogers Media, and The Nation. He also serves on the Global Sports Summit Advisory Board and has appeared as an expert panelist at the Bloomberg Sports Media Summit, Leaders in Sport Summit, and Duke University's Coach K Leadership and Ethics Institute. He frequently serves as a guest lecturer at law and business schools on media, sports and business topics, and in 2015, he received honorable mention as Marylander of the Year. Angelos has been recognized by industry bible, Sports Business Journal, as a "top-ten decision maker on in-market MLB streaming" and for his "reinvention of the spring training partnership model."

Angelos created and developed the unprecedented, public-private partnership between the Orioles, the state of Florida, and Sarasota County that resulted in the Orioles making their Spring Training home in Sarasota, Fla. Angelos re-envisioned the model through which a Major League Baseball club would engage with and deliver economic value to their Spring Training and year-round home through a one-of-a-kind partnership in which the Orioles would contribute their facilities, industry marketing and entertainment expertise, and multimedia platforms toward driving incremental tourism through a sister-regional, cross-marketing partnership approach. Angelos created an industry-first sports, real estate, and tourism development concept and led the negotiation effort to complete a 30 year agreement, appearing before numerous state, county, and local government, business, and civic bodies in order to successfully bring the project to fruition. The creative development project culminated with the Orioles securing $31.2 million in public funding to be used by the club to design and build a state of the art ballpark and year-round training facility. Sarasota County's tourism and convention agency, Visit Sarasota County, recently announced that after six seasons of this unique marketing partnership initiative, the Mid-Atlantic region had surpassed the New York area in becoming the number one source of visitors to Sarasota County. Additionally, a recent government study concluded that the Orioles partnership had far exceeded initial projections and now annually generates more than $81 million in economic impact for the greater Sarasota area.

As part of the Orioles' one-of-a-kind partnership with its southern home, Angelos also pioneered development of the Orioles' year-round presence in Sarasota through Spring Training, baseball and fitness clinics, tournaments, and countless events that give back to the community and host approximately 150,000 annual visitors. This year, Angelos created and launched the Orioles Health & Fitness Challenge, a pilot program and collaboration between the Orioles and Sarasota County Schools and other community partners designed to use the Orioles' public platform to encourage healthy life choices by young people in nutrition, diet, exercise and tobacco-avoidance among middle school-aged children throughout Sarasota County. Angelos and former Orioles All-Star second baseman Brian Roberts traveled to McIntosh Middle School in Sarasota to launch the program and discuss the importance of sports teams investing in the long-term health and habits of future generations. The six-week program was offered in nine county schools for approximately 4,000 students who participated in a variety of health and fitness activities that used Orioles baseball as an incentive to complete the challenge, offering every participant who completed the program weekly prizes, complimentary admission, and healthy meals for the child and a parent at an Orioles Spring Training game of his or her choice.

Angelos also played an important role in the development and design of the Orioles' Sarasota venue, designed by noted architect David Schwarz, which, like its acclaimed sister ballpark, Oriole Park at Camden Yards in Baltimore, designed by Joe Spear and Ben Barnert of renowned HOK, has been heralded for its combination of turn-of-the-century ballpark design and modern fan amenities situated in a vibrant downtown setting. Oriole Park at Camden Yards has set the modern attendance record for all sports facilities in North America by welcoming its fifty millionth attendee in just its first seventeen seasons and with total attendance now surpassing 65 million fans, the success of the concept and design of the Orioles' new Sarasota ballpark has been as spectacular during its first six seasons in breaking not only all Orioles attendance records, but all attendance records in the long history of Sarasota as a host of Spring Training Baseball.

In addition to launching a host of new community programs and events in both Baltimore and Sarasota in 2015, Angelos introduced a new method of engaging with fans on a more personal level by hosting Twitter Q&A sessions using the hashtag #AskJPA at regular intervals throughout the course of the season. Angelos discussed Orioles fan initiatives for better customer service, diplomatic changes in Cuba and the resulting impact on teams, ballpark entertainment, ballpark upgrades and renovations, digital streaming of games, and economic competitive balance objectives in MLB, among other topics.

As President of MASN, Angelos directed the network's pre-launch preparation, built the network's organizational plan and executive management team and staff, launched the network, and has overseen operation of the year-round, 24-hour, daily sports network, which is now available on basic cable, satellite, and telecom systems in more than six million households reaching more than 18 million viewers throughout a seven-state area from Pennsylvania through North Carolina. MASN's on-air teams, production staff, and crew excellence, as well as its marketing and creative departments have consistently produced a compendium of award-winning, on-air and off-air creative advertising and media marketing campaigns, as recognized by more than 51 awards for creative and promotional excellence and viewer response, including 27 Addy Awards, 22 Emmys, and two American Marketing Association Awards of Excellence. Today, MASN is one of the leading regional sports networks in the United States, and the network televises one of the largest slates of live professional and college sporting events of any regional sports network, featuring over 300 live professional and college games, while reaching the fourth largest combined Nielsen media market in the country.

Angelos also expanded the Orioles radio platform in 2006 by launching the Orioles Radio Network, the franchise's in-house radio arm, to bring the club comprehensive control of all aspects of its network affiliate distribution, programming development, sales and sponsorship revenues, and marketing and development of the Orioles brand on the radio platform. The move brought dramatic new pre-game and post-game shows, enhanced in-game features and interview content for listeners and fans, a strong talent team focused upon former Orioles players, incremental access to Orioles games on radio for millions of new fans, and enhanced new sponsorship sales and co-marketing opportunities for Orioles partners. In the Baltimore market, the groundbreaking radio rightsholder partnership resulted in the expansion of the Orioles radio presence from that of a single broadcast station to a strategic partnership featuring a co-marketing and promotional reach across the region. Due to the launch, the club was able to triple the distribution of the Orioles Radio Network, which is now broadcast on over 30 affiliated stations reaching millions of listeners in seven Mid-Atlantic states.

Angelos joined the Orioles organization in January 1994 as Special Assistant to the Chairman, and oversaw the reorganization of the Sales, Ticketing, Ballpark Operations, and Customer Service departments of the franchise to provide more personal service to fans. In the role of Executive Vice President of the club since 1999, Angelos' responsibilities expanded in that role to include all Marketing and Promotion, Sales, Broadcasting, Operations, and General and Administrative areas, and all Business Operations of the franchise. In 2001, as part of his broadcasting development role, Angelos participated in instituting and further developing Orioles Television, the in-house television production, sales, and distribution arm of the Orioles franchise that would later evolve into the full-time regional sports television network MASN in 2005.

After graduating from the Gilman School in Baltimore, Angelos received a bachelor's degree in political science from Duke University and earned a law degree (J.D.) from the University of Baltimore School of Law.

LOUIS ANGELOS*OWNERSHIP REPRESENTATIVE

Louis Angelos serves in the capacity of ownership representative and partner in the Baltimore Orioles Limited Partnership and has had an active role in all aspects of operations as well as in a variety of strategic, business, and goodwill projects on behalf of the team since the club was acquired by the present ownership group in 1993.

In 1998, Angelos was a member of the Orioles delegation that traveled to Havana, Cuba to discuss a historic people-to-people exchange between the United States and Cuba where the Orioles would play the Cuban National team in international competition. After extensive dialogue over more than a year, including multiple interactions with the highest level government representatives of both countries, the effort culminated in March of 1999 with the playing of a two-game series, in Havana, Cuba, and at Oriole Park at Camden Yards in Baltimore. It was the first and only game played by a professional American sports team during the 55 year disruption of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The historic exchange featured traveling parties of Americans and Cubans, respectively, that went beyond the baseball teams to include artists, children's groups, physicians, and academics, creating a cultural and sports exchange unprecedented in modern Cuban-American relations. The series also brought about substantial strides in the international movement to normalize relations between the two countries looking toward a future end to the travel ban and embargo that unfortunately divided the people of both nations.

Building upon his international experience in developing sport and baseball as a catalyst for creating positive societal change in Cuban-American relations, Angelos led the project to build bridges between Greece and the United States and to expand baseball internationally through the development of a team that could represent Greece in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece. Angelos assembled a five year development plan and organized a developmental team of coaches and scouts that assisted the Greek Olympic Committee in developing baseball teams competing in the European and World Championships and ultimately to compete in the Athens Olympics. Beginning with no homegrown baseball players in the country, within a five year span, Angelos developed an intramural national league in Greece that developed players for international competition and crafted teams of the Greek ethnic origin that won a gold medal in the European Pool B Championship, a Silver medal in the European Pool A Championships, and finished competitively in the 2004 Olympics.

Since 2012, Angelos has been more involved in the business operations of the club and had the privilege of representing the club in the unveiling of the series of bronze sculptures commissioned and dedicated to the six Orioles who are members of the National Baseball Hall of Fame as part of the Orioles Legends Celebration Series. Delivering the six ceremonial addresses on behalf of the club, Angelos joined each of the Orioles living legends in unveiling and dedicating their permanent sculpture at Camden Yards.

Angelos is an attorney at the Law Offices of Peter Angelos, PC, and has practiced law for fifteen years after graduating from the Johns Hopkins University in 1992 and the Saint Thomas University Law School in 1995. He is a member of the Maryland State Bar Association and the Maryland Association for Justice and is admitted to practice in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland and the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

In addition to the law firm and the Orioles, Louis is supportive of Baltimore civic life and a number of charities. Recently, he co-led a series fundraising events in support of the Living Classrooms Foundation, served as the co-chair of the 2013 Labor of Love Golf Tournament benefitting the Diabetes Research Institute, and served as executive chairman of the 2014 and 2015 American Heart Association's Annual Baltimore Heart Ball. DAN DUQUETTE

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

A veteran of nearly three decades in baseball operations at the Major League level, including 15 seasons as General Manager or Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations with the Montreal Expos, Boston Red Sox, and Orioles, Dan Duquette has a proven track record of utilizing strong scouting and player development to construct contending franchises.

Since he joined the Orioles four seasons ago in November of 2011, the club has won more games than any team in the American League and posted four straight .500 or better seasons. Throughout that time, Duquette has improved the club's player development operations and directed additional resources into analytics and video assets in an effort to maintain a consistently competitive team at the Major League level.

Under Duquette's leadership, the 2014 Orioles posted the club's third consecutive winning season, including the second-best record in the Major Leagues at 96-66, and won the American League East division title for the first time since 1997. After sweeping the Detroit Tigers in the American League Division Series, 3-0, the Orioles advanced to the American League Championship Series for the first time since 1997 where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games. Following the 2014 season, Duquette became the first Oriole to be recognized with Baseball America's Executive of the Year honor, as the Orioles became the third organization to be awarded both Baseball America's Executive of the Year and Manager of the Year accolades after Buck Showalter was named the latter just days later. Following the 2014 season, he was also named MLB Executive of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He had previously won the award in 1995. He also joined Harry Dalton, Roland Hemond, and Hank Peters as the fourth Orioles executive to be recognized as MLB Executive of the Year by The Sporting News.

In 2013, the Orioles went 85-77 and remained in postseason contention until the season's final week. The year included Duquette's 1,000th career victory in a general manager role with a Major League team. In 2012, the Orioles made their first playoff appearance since 1997, winning 93 games and the American League Wild Card, and pushing the AL Division Series to five games.

Duquette's eight seasons as Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Red Sox from 1994 through 2001 included three playoff teams (1995, 1998, and 1999), and his acquisitions helped lay the groundwork for the club's 93 wins in 2002 and their first World Series championship in 86 years in 2004. The club made the playoffs in back-to-back years in 1998 and 1999, the first time in 80 seasons the franchise had accomplished the feat. Numerous key contributors on the 2004 team were acquired during Duquette's tenure. Under his leadership, Boston compiled a .544 winning percentage (695-582).

Duquette also showed a commitment to expanding Boston's reach in the international market, finishing the 2001 season with 12 of the players on the club's 40-man roster born outside the United States. At Boston's 2002 Spring Training camp, players from 10 different countries were represented.

The Red Sox minor league system was shaped into a feeder system for the Major League club under Duquette's watch, with homegrown players including Nomar Garciaparra, Shea Hillenbrand, Casey Fossum, and Trot Nixon making contributions to the team. Future Major League players Kevin Youkilis, David Eckstein, Hanley Ramirez, and Freddy Sanchez were also drafted or signed during Duquette's tenure. The talent in the Red Sox minor league system also enabled Duquette to trade for Pedro Martinez, and for Boston to later acquire Curt Schilling and Josh Beckett. Red Sox minor league affiliates finished with an overall record over .500 in five of Duquette's last six seasons with the organization.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Duquette spent six seasons with the Montreal Expos, joining the club as Director of Player Development in October of 1987 and being promoted to Assistant General Manager in 1990, followed by a two-year stint as Vice President and General Manager from 1992-93. At the time of his promotion, he was the youngest general manager in the Major Leagues. During his six years with Montreal, Duquette was instrumental in assembling Expos teams that contended from 1992-94, and acquiring Ken Hill, Mel Rojas, Larry Walker, John Wetteland, Marquis Grissom, Jeff Shaw, and Pedro Martinez. He also signed stars Vladimir Guerrero, Jose Vidro, and Javier Vazquez, and named Felipe Alou the first manager from the Dominican Republic in Major League history in 1992.

Despite one of the lowest payrolls in baseball, Montreal compiled a 255-183 record (.582 winning percentage) from 1992-94, the best record in baseball over the span. The Expos had baseball's best record in the strike-shortened 1994 season (74-40), a team Duquette constructed. In 1992, Duquette was named The Sporting News Major League Executive of the Year and the UPI National League Executive of the Year, and the Expos were honored as the Topps Major League Organization of the Year in 1993.

Duquette began his career in baseball with the Milwaukee Brewers in 1981, working in the scouting department under former Orioles general manager Harry Dalton. He spent a total of seven years in scouting and player development with the Brewers from 1981-87, the last two as Scouting Coordinator.

In 2003, Duquette founded and built the Dan Duquette Sports Academy, a Massachusetts-based baseball, softball, and soccer camp and tournament facility for youth. In 2004, he purchased the Pittsfield Dukes of the New England Collegiate Baseball League and in 2007, Duquette became a founding member and Director of Player Development of the Israel Baseball League.

A native of Dalton, Mass., Duquette, 57, earned a bachelor's degree in English from Amherst College and played on the school's baseball and football teams. He was named All-New England in football as a linebacker at Amherst. Duquette lives in Pasadena, Md. with his wife Amy, daughters, Kylie and Katie, and sons, Brodie and Colt. His son, Daniel, lives in Connecticut and works as producer for ESPN. His daughter, Denise resides in Massachusetts. Additionally, his son, Dana, is entering his second year as an area scout for the Orioles.

A veteran of 15 Major League seasons, 14 with Baltimore, Anderson holds the Orioles' all-time stolen bases record (307) and ranks among the top 10 in Orioles career batting leaders in 12 categories. He is one of two players in Major League history with both a 50 home run season (50, 1996) and a 50 stolen base season (53, 1992). Anderson's six career postseason home runs are tied for second in club history (with Eddie Murray and Boog Powell), trailing only Frank Robinson's nine postseason homers. He was inducted into the Orioles Hall of Fame in 2004.

Acquired by the Orioles along with Curt Schilling during the 1988 season from Boston in exchange for Mike Boddicker, Anderson was named to the American League All-Star team three times, in 1992, 1996, and 1997, starting the last two seasons.

ORIOLESREACH

ORIOLES REACH IN THE COMMUNITY

For more than 60 years, the Baltimore Orioles have given back to the local community, becoming involved in a variety of area programs and initiatives. Through OriolesREACH, the club seeks opportunities to reach out to our neighbors and help our fans improve their daily lives. In addition to partnering with existing charities and community organizations, the Orioles have also established a collection of programs and initiatives to extend our reach through the Mid-Atlantic region and in Sarasota, Fla.

Since the ownership group led by Peter Angelos purchased the team, the Orioles have donated more than $10 million to support various organizations in the Orioles community.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

THE ORIOLES CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

The Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Baltimore Orioles, Inc. support many civic and charitable organizations with the goal of enriching the lives of fans in the community. The Foundation raises money through various means and donates funds to worthy local causes and charities.

LICENSE PLATE PROGRAM

Since its launch in 2012, the Orioles License Plate Program has raised more than $111,000 for the Orioles Charitable Foundation. In 2015, the Orioles held an online charity auction for the 2130 and the 2131 numbered license plates in honor of the 20th anniversary of Cal Ripken, Jr.'s record-breaking 2,131st consecutive game played. The auction raised $5,598 with all proceeds benefiting the Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation.

GAME-USED MEMORABILIA AND ONLINE AUCTIONS

Through various online auctions of special anniversary jerseys and other game-used items, the Orioles raised more than $318,000 last season. In 2015, the Orioles wore and auctioned special jerseys on Jackie Robinson Day, the Fourth of July, and Memorial Day.

ORIOLES SUPPORT PARTNER NONPROFITS

The Orioles worked closely to raise money and awareness for these programs, organizations, and initiatives in 2015:

LUNGevity FOUNDATION

Through various initiatives to raise funds and awareness, the Orioles continued their partnership with the LUNGevity Foundation, a nonprofit firmly committed to increasing quality-of-life and survivorship of people with lung cancer, as well as providing community, support, and education for all those affected by the disease. The Orioles once again hosted the LUNGevity Foundation's Breathe Deep Baltimore in October, a 5K walk to raise funds and awareness for lung cancer in memory of late Orioles Public Relations Director Monica Pence Barlow. More than $139,000 was raised at the walk, including a $10,000 donation from United Concordia, and all proceeds benefited the LUNGevity Foundation.

SHANNON'S FUND

In May, the Orioles and OriolesREACH raised more than $11,000 through a fundraising event at Oriole Park to benefit Shannon's Fund, an endowment at the University of Maryland Medical Center to provide financial support to hospital patients and their families. More than $27,000 was donated to Shannon's Fund in 2015. Shannon's Fund was established by the Orioles and OriolesREACH in 2008 in memory of Shannon Obaker, the club's former Director of Community Outreach, who bravely fought cancer for a year before she passed away in 2007 at the age of 29.

MARYLAND GOVERNOR LARRY HOGAN & ORIOLES TEAM UP TO FIGHT CHILDHOOD CANCER

In September, as part of Childhood Cancer Awareness Month, the Orioles announced a new partnership with the office of Maryland Governor Larry Hogan to raise funds for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society and Ronald McDonald House Charities in the fight against pediatric cancer. In support of this important initiative, the Orioles hosted a fundraiser and presented a check for $50,000 to benefit the causes. An exclusive ticket offer allowed fans to contribute while receiving a discount on game tickets for remaining 2015 season games.

BARCS ANIMAL SHELTER PET CALENDAR FUNDRAISER

The Orioles launched the annual Orioles Pet Calendar, sponsored by Pet+E.R., with proceeds benefiting BARCS, a nonprofit shelter that accepts and cares for all animals in need. The 16-month calendar features photos of Orioles players and manager Buck Showalter with their pets as well as various BARCS animals at locations around Oriole Park. More than $53,000 was raised for BARCS through sales of the 2016 pet calendar and the Orioles have helped raise nearly $190,000 for the shelter over the past seven years via calendar sales and player signings. The largest companion animal shelter in Maryland, BARCS takes in more than 12,000 dogs and cats and 1,000 wildlife and other small mammals annually. On any given day, BARCS cares for 110 dogs and 110 cats in the shelter, plus more than 800 animals in foster care.

COMMUNITY BOOTH

During each home game, the Orioles provide a community booth for charitable, nonprofit organizations to distribute information, sell raffle tickets, register participants, and raise awareness for Orioles fans. Nearly 60 different organizations participated in the Community Booth Program in 2015.

MLB INITIATIVES

The Orioles partner with Major League Baseball and support worthy causes chosen by the league each year. The following programs and organizations were part of this partnership in 2015:

JACKIE ROBINSON DAY

In recognition of the 68th anniversary of Jackie Robinson breaking the color barrier in Major League Baseball, the Orioles honored Robinson's legacy on April 15, 2015, by hosting a "self-expression" contest with the Boys & Girls Club at the Westport Homes branch. On Jackie Robinson Day, all Orioles uniformed personnel wore No. 42, Robinson's retired number, joining all other Major League teams in honoring Robinson's historic achievement. Each player's authenticated, game-worn, and autographed No. 42 jersey was auctioned, raising more than $10,000 to benefit the Baltimore Orioles Charitable Foundation and the Jackie Robinson Foundation. Since 2009, the Orioles have raised more than $70,000 for the Jackie Robinson Foundation through the auction.

4 ALS DAY

Continuing baseball's long-standing commitment to raising awareness of ALS (Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis), also known as Lou Gehrig's disease, Major League Baseball and all 30 Clubs once again teamed up "4 ALS." In August of 2015, the Orioles participated in the return of the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge as each Major League club hosted its own ALS Ice Bucket Challenge and then challenged another franchise, along with two other local personalities or organizations, to partake in the charitable effort. Bullpen catcher Jett Ruiz served as an Orioles spokesperson for the initiative. Ruiz was teammates for three seasons with Pete Frates on Boston College's baseball team. Frates, who was diagnosed with ALS in 2012, has served as one of the driving forces behind the Ice Bucket Challenge. In support of the campaign, MLB donated $100,000 to The ALS Association to further collaborative efforts between several ALS organizations.

Orioles games, receive behind the scenes ballpark tours to learn about the history of the team and the city, and meet Orioles players. The Orioles and the "Bird on a STEM" initiative provide these experiences to help the students relate to what they are learning in the classroom.

ORIOLES SUMMER READING PROGRAM

In June of 2015, the Maryland State Department of Education's Division of Library Development and Services launched its 2015 Summer Reading Program at public libraries throughout the state. Students in the program registered at their local public library, read books, and participated in classes and workshops. The Orioles supported the 2015 Maryland Public Library Summer Reading Program by donating 5,000 tickets to Maryland Public Library Branches. The Orioles also acknowledged the 2015 Summer Reading Program representatives from each county library on the field prior to a game in September.

EDUCATION

"BIRD ON A STEM" LESSON PLANS

In May of 2015, the Orioles partnered with Maryland Public Schools to launch a new educational initiative known as "Bird on a STEM" lesson plans. The program, which was created by Albert Einstein Distinguished Educator Fellows, focuses on developing Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math skills in the classroom. The "Bird on a STEM" program strives to educate and excite statewide youth about Orioles Baseball and to cover the Maryland State Board of Education's STEM curriculum. The program not only consists of classroom instruction, but it offers the opportunity for students to attend

IMMERSIVE LEARNING EXPERIENCE AT ORIOLE PARK

Last season, the Orioles hosted students from the Leadership in Media Production program from Baltimore City Public Schools through a partnership with "Youth Works." The summer program focused on enhancing the in-school curriculum and allowed students to learn about digital storytelling and broadcasting. The Orioles and MASN provided these students with the opportunity to showcase their talents and to learn about the behind-the-scenes productions at the ballpark. Students from the class visited Oriole Park in July of 2015 and produced a story about their experience working at a Major League Baseball game. Students covered the manager's pregame press conference and OriolesREACH pregame events, observed MASN's television production from various places around the ballpark, and practiced play-by-play announcing in a broadcast booth during the game. The students talked about how their experience shaped their pursuit of landing a career in media production in their final project.

YOUTH BASEBALL

RBI

The Baltimore RBI (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) Program, which is part of Major League Baseball's RBI initiative, has been a mainstay since its inception in 1989, creating a partnership with Baltimore City Recreation and Parks to allow at-risk youth an opportunity to play competitive baseball and softball.

In 2015, United Concordia partnered with the Baltimore RBI and donated $10,000 toward the program, which benefited both baseball and softball teams. Six softball teams, six 12U baseball teams, 11 baseball teams ages 13-15, and 12 baseball teams ages 16-18 drove record participation last season.

The Orioles supported Baltimore RBI participants in a variety of ways including a recognition ceremony and complimentary tickets to RBI coaches and players. RBI coaches participated in a clinic hosted by the Positive Coaching Alliance, a Stanford University-based nonprofit organization that works with coaches, organizational leaders, and parents to teach young athletes about teamwork, discipline, respect, and setting proper goals through their athletic experiences.

The Orioles sent All-Star teams to Prince George's County to represent Baltimore in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Tournament. The club provided transportation, uniforms, and hotel accommodations. The softball team and baseball team ages 16-18 also had the opportunity to work together as a team at the Dan Duquette Sports Academy in Hinsdale, Mass., courtesy of the Orioles.

The 2015 Champions of the Baltimore RBI were the Woodlawn Drive BC (16-18 Division), Bear Creek Green (13-15 Division), and Edreco (Softball Division).

CHALLENGER LEAGUE

Founded in 2010, the Oriole Advocates Challenger Baseball League offers boys and girls with physical and mental challenges the opportunity to participate in an organized game of baseball. The Orioles and the Oriole Advocates partner to support local Challenger Leagues by hosting tournaments, providing equipment, umpires, facility usage, events, as well as by donating Orioles game tickets to more than 900 participants in the program.

In 2015, the Orioles helped to host Challenger League clinics and a multi-team tournament, featuring teams from around the Mid-Atlantic region. The Orioles and Oriole Advocates also hosted a Fantasy Camp for the Challenger Baseball program. Orioles infielder Ryan Flaherty and catcher Caleb Joseph, as well as former Orioles Ken Dixon and Bill Swaggerty, participated in the camp for children with special needs at Freedom Field in Lake Waterford Park in Pasadena, Md. Each child received a personalized Orioles jersey and game tickets.

YOUTH CLINICS

Throughout 2015, the Orioles and OriolesREACH hosted and participated in numerous youth baseball and softball clinics throughout the Maryland region.

On May 2, 2015, the Orioles conducted a clinic for 100 Fort Meade youth baseball players, highlighting pitching, fielding, baserunning, and hitting with the help of Orioles pitcher Brad Brach and former Orioles pitcher Ken Dixon. The Orioles also provided an Orioles cap, bag, rope necklace, and game tickets to all clinic participants.

Additionally, the Orioles hosted three "Chevy Youth Baseball Clinics" in 2015. More than 300 children from the surrounding Baltimore metro area took the field to learn the fundamentals of pitching, throwing, and catching from former Orioles Larry Bigbie, Joe Orsulak, Rick Krivda, Al Bumbry, Ken Dixon, and Bill Swaggerty.

On May 18, 2015, Orioles third baseman Manny Machado hosted his second annual Celebrity BaseBOWL Tournament to raise funds for the Baltimore City Foundation, which supports Baltimore City's Recreation & Parks "Play Baseball" youth program. This initiative provides a free, eight-week summer baseball camp for local youth ages 9-12, including equipment, uniforms, transportation, and field refurbishment. The sold out, star-studded event raised approximately $80,000 – including a $10,000 donation from the Orioles. Machado also hosted a clinic for more than 200 participants of the "Play Baseball" program at Patterson Park, instructing participants on a variety of baseball skills and participating in a question-and-answer session.

The Orioles also partnered with Coca-Cola to hold two "Coca-Cola Get the Ball Rolling" Clinics in an effort to educate area youth about health and nutrition. Approximately 250 middle-school students from Baltimore City Schools participated in batting, pitching, and fielding drills with Orioles pitcher Brian Matusz. Additionally, a nutritionist taught students how to live a balanced lifestyle and Orioles Strength and Conditioning Coach Ryo Naito led students in stretching and conditioning drills.

SERVICE

ORIOLES WIVES PARTNERED WITH HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

In September of 2015, several Orioles Wives including Jill Davis and Tiffani Givens along with Orioles on Deck volunteers participated in the rebuild of a Baltimore home as part of the Habitat for Humanity of the Chesapeake's Baltimore Women Build project. Habitat for Humanity of the Chesapeake's Women Build program has funded and constructed homes throughout Baltimore for over nine years and continues to focus on building projects in impoverished areas.

ORIOLES ON DECK

Each year, members of the Orioles front office through the Orioles on Deck Employee Volunteer Program volunteer with various organizations in the region to help improve the local community. In 2015, Orioles On Deck volunteers logged more than 100 hours of service at the Franciscan Center, Maryland Food Bank, Habitat for Humanity, St. Francis Neighborhood Center, USO of Metropolitan Washington-Baltimore, and at other local organizations.

MILITARY PROGRAMS

MILITARY & VETERAN APPRECIATION

The Orioles extended several special offers to members of the military and U.S. veterans throughout the season including discounted tickets, complimentary gift items for military members and their families, and complimentary "Welcome Home" scoreboard messages. At select Sunday home games, AT&T and the Orioles also invited the family of a deployed military service man or woman to be their guest of the game and feature the family on the center field video board.

Additionally, through the Sunday Suite Program in partnership with GEICO, the Orioles hosted wounded service members and other active duty, veteran, and military organizations in a private, catered suite. The Orioles provided a special player meet and greet before the game, recognition after the playing of "God Bless America" during the seventh-inning stretch, and complimentary Orioles player T-shirts. Participating players included Zach Britton, Brad Brach, Chris Davis, J.J. Hardy, Darren O'Day, Chris Tillman and Matt Wieters. The United Services Organizations, Wounded Warrior Project, Yellow Ribbon Fund, Operation Homefront, Marine Corps League, The Mission Continues, Team RWB, The 6th Branch, Got Your 6, Red Circle Foundation, Warrior Events, and Fort Meade were among the organizations that participated in the program.

PLAYER HONORS

ADAM JONES PRESENTED WITH MULTIPLE AWARDS FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

In 2015, Adam Jones received the Heart and Hustle Award, the Brooks Robinson Community Service Award, and the Marvin Miller Man of the Year Award.

Jones received the Orioles 2015 Heart and Hustle Award from the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association (MLBPAA). This esteemed award, voted on by alumni players, honors active players who demonstrate a passion for the game of baseball and best embody the values, spirit, and tradition of the game. Jones previously won this award during the 2012 and 2014 seasons.

The MLBPAA also named Jones as the 2015 Brooks Robinson Community Service recipient. Each year, the MLBPAA gives the Brooks Robinson Community Service Award to a current or former Major Leaguer whose community service exemplifies the unselfish and humble attitude of Brooks Robinson, bettering the lives of the youth in his community. The award was created to honor the dedication Robinson has shown to young people across the country through his support of the Legends for Youth Clinic series and the MLBPAA since its inception in 1982.

As part of the Major League Baseball Players Association Players' Choice awards, Adam Jones was named the 2015 Marvin Miller Man of the Year for his commitment to giving back to underprivileged children in Baltimore. The award recognizes one player for his combination of on-field performance and community dedication.

O'DAY RECOGNIZED WITH THE WHEATLEY AWARD & THE BOB FELLER ACT OF VALOR AWARD

The Baltimore Sun Media Group presented Darren O'Day with the 2015 Tim Wheatley Award for Community Service. The Baltimore Sun Media Group created the Tim Wheatley Award in 2010 to honor a local athlete whose contributions off the field were just as important as his or her contributions on the field. O'Day has supported the USO and the Orioles' Military Sunday Suite Program and donated $50 to Luke's Wings for each strikeout he recorded. Since 2013, O'Day raised nearly $12,600 for Luke's Wings, a nonprofit military organization dedicated to the support of current and former service members wounded in battle.

Additionally, O'Day was the Orioles finalist for the 2015 Bob Feller Act of Valor Award. The award is presented each year to one U.S. Navy Chief Petty Officer, one Baseball Hall of Fame member, and one active Major League Baseball player who reflect the values, integrity, and dedication to serving the United States that Bob Feller himself possessed.

THE ORIOLE WAY AWARD

The Oriole Advocates presented Zach Britton with the 2015 Oriole Way Award. The Oriole Advocates, with the support of the Baltimore Orioles, created the Oriole Way Award to recognize an Orioles player who made significant contributions both on and off the field and who has demonstrated a sincere willingness and desire to serve the community. ORIOLESREACH GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE PROGRAM

Each season, the Orioles host more than 10,000 underprivileged youth as a part of the OriolesREACH Gameday Experience Program, in which participants receive a game ticket, concessions, an Orioles T-shirt and cap, as well as transportation to and from the game. CARDBOARD TO LEATHER COLLECTION

On September 13, 2015, the Orioles and the Oriole Advocates conducted their 2015 Cardboard to Leather™ collection at Oriole Park, presented by Legg Mason. The Oriole Advocates created the program in 1992 to provide baseball and softball equipment to underprivileged youth in developing countries. Fans were encouraged to bring new or gently-used baseball equipment to Oriole Park prior to that day's game to be used in the distribution, which went to youth players in Aruba, the Dominican Republic, and Mexico. Financial donations were also accepted to help with shipping costs. This 2015 event collected 1,125 items and raised more than $4,500.

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: Entering his 23rd season as a manager in professional baseball, his 18th season as a manager in the Major Leagues, and his seventh as manager of the Orioles.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

A three-time Manager of the Year (1994, 2004, and 2014), Buck Showalter enters his seventh season with the Orioles. Showalter currently ranks fourth among active Major League managers and 31st all-time with 1,340 career victories. In his managerial career, Showalter is 1,340-1,242 in 17 seasons as manager of the New York Yankees (313-268; 1992-1995), Arizona Diamondbacks (250-236; 1998-2000), Texas Rangers (319-329; 2003-06), and Orioles (458-409; 2010-present). He recorded his 1,000th career win on May 1, 2012 at New York-AL. On January 16, 2013, the Orioles announced a contract extension for Showalter through 2018.

Showalter was hired as the 19th manager in Orioles history on July 29, 2010, and took the helm on August 2, directing the club to a 34-23 finish, the second-best record in the American League over the last 57 games behind Minnesota's 35-22 finish. Showalter became the first manager since 1900 to take over a team on August 1 or later and win more games the rest of the way (34) than the club won before he took over (32). He is also the first manager in Major League history to win seven of his first eight games after taking over a team in mid-season that was 20 or more games under .500.

Over the last four seasons, the Orioles have won more games (355) than any other American League club, finishing .500 or better each year. The Orioles have also committed the fewest amount of errors and slugged the most home runs (854) in Major League Baseball since the beginning of the 2012 season.

Under Showalter's guidance, the 2014 Orioles went 96-66 and won the American League East division title for the first time since 1997, 12.0 games ahead of the New York Yankees. After sweeping the Detroit Tigers in the American League Division Series, 3-0, the Orioles made their first trip to the American League Championship Series since 1997 where, they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games. Following the season, Showalter earned his third Baseball Writers Association of America (BBWAA) American League Manager of the Year award as well as his second Manager of the Year honor from Baseball America (also 2012).

In 2012, Showalter led the Orioles to a 24-game improvement (69 wins in 2011 to 93 in 2012) and the American League Division Series, where they fell to the New York Yankees, 3-2. The Orioles and Rangers reached the postseason in 2012 as the two Wild Card teams and met in a one-game playoff in Arlington to determine the Wild Card team for the Division Series round. The Orioles advanced with a 5-1 win. Following the season, Showalter was named The Sporting News' 2012 AL Manager of the Year and was awarded the C.I. Taylor Legacy Award by the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum as the top AL manager.

Showalter spent the first 19 years of his professional baseball career in the New York Yankees organization, culminating in a four-year stint as the manager from 1992-95. In 1994, Showalter earned AL Manager of the Year honors, guiding New York to a 70-43 record before the strike ended the season prematurely. The next season, he led the Yankees to their first playoff berth in 14 years and managed the American League All-Star team. He was the youngest manager in the Major Leagues in each of his four seasons in New York.

In November 1995, Showalter joined the Arizona Diamondbacks, 28 months before the expansion franchise began play, and helped shape the new team's Major League operations. In 1999, he guided the Diamondbacks to a 100-win season and the NL West division title, an improvement of 35 victories over the previous season, the most in Major League history.

Showalter joined the Texas Rangers prior to the 2003 season and, in 2004, led the club to an 18-win improvement over the previous year, earning his second AL Manager of the Year honor from the BBWAA.

Showalter's managerial career began in 1985 with the Oneonta Yankees. He managed for five seasons in the Yankees minor league system, earning Eastern League Manager of the Year honors in 1989, prior to joining the Major League coaching staff in 1990.

RICHARD BANCELLS MS, LAT, ATC

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Born: November 11, 1955

Bancells is in his 29th season as the Orioles Head Athletic Trainer, his 33rd year with the big league club, and his 40th in the Orioles organization. Only the third Head Athletic Trainer in the 62 seasons since the Orioles moved from St. Louis in 1954, he has the longest tenure of anyone to work as an Athletic Trainer in the Orioles organization. In 2011, Bancells received the Herb Armstrong Award, which honors non-uniformed club personnel for their significant contribution to the ballclub, the community, and the sport of baseball. Bancells was inducted into the Maryland Athletic Trainers Hall of Fame in 2008.

Bancells joined the Orioles organization in 1977 as an assistant athletic trainer for the Miami Orioles (Class-A, Florida State League). He served as the head athletic trainer for the Bluefield Orioles (Appalachian Rookie League) in 1978-79 before moving up to Triple-A Rochester in 1980. He served four years as the Red Wings Athletic Trainer/Road Secretary (1980-83). During that time, he also assisted Ralph Salvon during the Orioles Spring Training camp in Miami. He became Salvon's assistant trainer in 1984, serving four years before becoming head trainer in 1988, as Salvon took over the assistant title before his untimely passing in July of that year.

Bancells served as President of the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society (PBATS) from 2007-13 and previously served as a board member and treasurer for the organization, as well as secretary of PBATS' Executive Committee. He also currently sits on Major League Baseball's Medical Advisory Committee and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine.

Following the 2011 season, Bancells and his assistant, Brian Ebel, were named the 2011 Major League Baseball Athletic Training Staff of the Year by PBATS. Bancells has been selected as the athletic trainer for the American League team in two All-Star games, in 1993 at Oriole Park and in 2004 at Houston's Minute Maid Park. In November 2002, he served as the athletic trainer for the Major League Baseball All-Stars postseason exhibition tour in Japan. In the winter of 1996, Bancells was invited to Japan to speak to a group of Japanese athletic trainers and physicians.

In 2005, the Orioles created the Ralph Salvon-Richie Bancells Award for Excellence in the Field of Emergency Medical Service, to be given to local area medical professionals who think and act quickly, and demonstrate excellence in the wake of an emergency medical situation. Bancells was honored as the first recipient for his actions in diagnosing and promptly treating a stroke suffered by Orioles coach Elrod Hendricks, minutes before the team was to board a flight home from Tampa Bay earlier in the 2005 season.

A native of Key West, Fla., Bancells graduated from Miami's Biscayne College (now St. Thomas University) in 1978. He earned a Master of Science degree in physical education from Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond, Ky., in 1981 and was honored by EKU as a distinguished alumnus (along with assistant athletic trainer Brian Ebel) in 1999. He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and is a licensed athletic trainer in Maryland and Florida.

Bancells and his wife, the former Carol Corcoran, were married on June 10, 1978. They have three children: Christopher, Andrea, and Timothy, and a grandson, Ryan (son of Christopher). The Bancells live in Parkton, Md.

MAKING THE LAST ONE COUNT

Ted Williams wasn't the only major leaguer to hit a home run in his last major league at-bat when he went deep off the Orioles' Jack Fisher on September 28, 1960 at Fenway Park. Two former O's are among 37 players who have homered in their farewell plate appearance. On September 30, 1956, Joe Frazier (who later managed the New York Mets) homered at Washington off Senators pitcher Ted Abernathy in his final big league plate appearance. On August 2, 1994, Jeff Tackett went deep at Minnesota off Twins hurler Mike Trombley in his last at-bat.

THE BABE RUTH BIRTHPLACE & MUSEUM

On February 6, 1895, George Herman "Babe" Ruth was born at 216 Emory Street in a Baltimore rowhouse located "just a long fly ball" from Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The Birthplace is one of the top baseball museums in the country, featuring an extensive collection of Ruthian artifacts and mementos, as well as serving as the official museum of the Baltimore Orioles and the archives of the Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas.

The Museum showcases different aspects of baseball in exhibits throughout the year. The Museum also hosts appearances by past, present and future Orioles and other Major League stars, as well as nationally known authors of sports publications for lectures and book signings.

Striving to exhibit its growing collection, the Museum opened Sports Legends at Camden Yards in May, 2005 in Camden Station, adjacent to Oriole Park. Orioles owner Peter Angelos donated $1,000,000 to make the Camden Station project a reality. The historic train station features many displays on the Orioles and Ruth, a full-size theatre, virtual reality exhibits and hands-on learning areas for children, including a discovery room, classrooms and much more. The Museum continues to maintain the current Babe Ruth Birthplace on Emory Street, with shuttle bus service between the sites.

For Museum information, call 410-727-1539 or visit www.baberruthmuseum.com.

ORIOLE ADVOCATES

The Oriole Advocates, Inc. is a unique nonprofit organization, dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. Founded in July of 1960, the Advocates are in their 54th year of "Promoting and Stimulating Interest in Baseball." Membership comprises some 75 men and women, drawn from a broad cross-section of the Baltimore area.

Through the years, the Advocates have made substantial financial donations to worthy causes, primarily to baseball-oriented youth organizations; have played a key role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace at 216 Emory Street and its conversion into the Babe Ruth/Orioles Museum; and established the Orioles Hall of Fame in 1977.

The organization has also served as an essential right arm to the Orioles Public Relations, Community Relations, and Marketing Departments. In that connection, the Advocates initiated the popular Junior Orioles program (now the Dugout Club) back in 1963 and administered it for 25 years. Membership rose from 75 youngsters the first year to a record 20,000 in 1977. The Oriole Advocates don't get paid for anything they do, instead serving as volunteers that constantly demonstrate the importance of competence and dedication whenever there is a job to be done.

2016 Oriole Advocates officers: President - Rick Young...First Vice President - Tom Cummings...Second Vice President - Bob Brandenberger...Treasurer - Rich Barnhart...Secretary - Arlene Grimes...Board Members at Large - Mike Licea, Skip Gormley, and Larry Miles...Immediate Past President - Carol Avery

ORIOLES DESIGNATED HITTERS

The Baltimore Orioles Designated Hitters were established in the fall of 1979 as a volunteer sales force and designed primarily to keep baseball in Baltimore by increasing season ticket sales. The Designated Hitters (DHs) became an instrumental part of the Orioles' organizational drive to put fans in the stands. Today, DHs work within the regional corporate community as well as small businesses, nonprofit organizations, schools, local government, and individual customers to sell them on the Orioles. The DH staff members participate out of passion for their hometown team and represent the Orioles as a strong volunteer sales support staff dedicated to the continuing success of the Orioles organization. For more information about the DHs, call 410-547-6071 or e-mail dh@orioles.com.

Those curfews, which prohibited starting an inning after 11:50 p.m. six days a week and required the immediate suspension of play at 11:50 p.m. on Saturdays, are no longer in effect... Tie games were played against: Chicago White Sox-4, New York Yankees-3, Kansas City A's-2, Milwaukee-1, Oakland-1, Texas-1.

EUTAW STREET HOME RUNS

Of the 82 home runs hit onto the Eutaw St. promenade since Oriole Park opened in 1992, Orioles batters have hit 34, including eight by Chris Davis, the most by an individual. Jason Giambi's three are the most by an opposing player. A single season-high 11 homers landed on Eutaw St. in 2012. Luke Scott's blast on July 19, 2008 is the only walk-off Eutaw St. home run in park history.

LIFETIME GRAND SLAMS BY ORIOLES

The Orioles have hit 142 regular season grand slams at home and two more in the postseason in Baltimore (Dave McNally in 1970 and Bobby Bonilla in 1996).

The O's have out-slammed their opponents 69-51 at Camden Yards (including Bonilla's postseason grand slam).

INSIDE THE PARK HOME RUNS

On August 22, 1993, Texas Rangers (and former Orioles) outfielder Butch Davis circled the bases for an inside-the-park home run off Arthur Rhodes at Oriole Park. It was the first ever hit in the new park and first by a visiting player in Baltimore since August 17, 1960 when Washington's Lenny Green hit one off Jack Fisher.

On July 21, 2004, David Newhan hit one off Boston's Pedro Martinez at Fenway Park. It was the first by an Oriole since Phil Bradley accomplished the feat on June 8, 1990 at Memorial Stadium against the New York Yankees.

When Bradley circled the bases, it was the Orioles' first inside-the-park home run since Al Bumbry did it against the Chicago White Sox on August 21, 1976 at Comiskey Park.

The Orioles allowed two inside-the-park home runs in 2003. Detroit's Shane Halter performed the feat on May 6 at Camden Yards off Pat Hentgen, who was victimized again September 13 at Toronto by Greg Myers.

On May 22, 2010, at Washington, Adam Jones hit an inside-the-park home run off Craig Stammen as Nyjer Morgan got a glove on the ball keeping it in the park, but thought it went over. Jones circled bases as Morgan reacted in disbelief that he hadn't caught it.

On September 26, 2011, Robert Andino hit the first inside-the-park home run by an Oriole at Oriole Park. Andino's fly ball off Josh Beckett caromed off the glove of Jacoby Ellsbury as he slammed into the centerfield wall. Ellsbury was unable to retrieve it as Andino circled the bases.

Orioles pitcher Jeremy Accardo allowed two inside-the-park home runs in 2011 as Boston's Jacoby Ellsbury accomplished the feat September 19 in Boston and Tampa Bay's Evan Longoria tagged Accardo on June 12 in Baltimore for just the second inside-the-parker by an opponent at Oriole Park.

On September 7, 2014, David DeJesus hit an inside-the-park home run off Bud Norris as Alejandro De Aza and David Lough nearly collided in left-center field. The ball caromed off Lough into the left field corner and DeJesus circled the bases for his fourth career inside-the-park homer.

1963	Steve Barber	20-13

NOTES ON 20-GAME WINNERS: Although the Orioles have not had one in the past 31 seasons, Baltimore pitchers have produced 24 20-win seasons including 23 in the past 48 years (starting in '68), more than any other Major League club...The A's (17), Yankees (16), Cardinals (13), Red Sox (12), White Sox (12), Braves (12), Dodgers (12), Tigers (11), and Astros (10), Cubs (10), and Twins (10) are the only other teams with 10 or more since 1968.

In 1971, four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win plateau...The only other foursome in the history of major league baseball to have achieved the feat was a quartet from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21, and Ed Cicotte-21...Despite that achievement, the White Sox finished second that year, two games behind Cleveland.

Steve Stone was the earliest 20-game winner in club history, winning his 20th game on August 19 en route to a team record 25 victories in 1980...Three other Orioles hurlers have recorded their 20th wins in August: McNally (August 25) and Cuellar (August 27) in 1971, and Palmer (August 20) in 1975.

The first Oriole to win 20, and the only one in the club's first 14 seasons in Baltimore (1954 through 1967), was left-hander Steve Barber in 1963.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

BALTIMORE ORIOLES RECORDS 1954 THRU 2015 TRIPLE PLAYS

The Orioles have executed 12 triple plays and have hit into 17 in 62 seasons.

The most recent triple play, and arguably most bizarre, took place on September 1, 2000 at Cleveland. In the second inning, with Sandy Alomar, Jr. at the plate, Travis Fryman at second base and Wil Cordero at first base, SS Melvin Mora allowed Alomar's short fly to left to bounce in front of him. The Cleveland runners, thinking the infield fly rule had been called, did not run and Alomar headed to the dugout. Mora picked up the ball and threw to 2B Jerry Hairston, who tagged Fryman and stepped on second to force Cordero. After realizing Alomar had not reached first base, Sidney Ponson flipped the ball to Jeff Conine at first to retire Alomar. After some discussion by the umpires and the ejection of Cleveland manager Charlie Manuel, the play stood and the inning ended.

The Orioles' previous triple play, and their most recent one at home, came on August 25, 1992 against California. With Tim Salmon at third and Chad Curtis at first, Gary Gaetti lined to 3B Leo Gomez who stepped on third to retire Salmon and threw to 1B Randy Milligann to complete the triple play. It is the only triple play turned by the Orioles at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

The Orioles have hit into two triple plays at Oriole Park. The most recent was April 3, 1996 against Kansas City, when DH Bobby Bonilla grounded into a 5-4-3-2 triple play. With Roberto Alomar at third base and Rafael Palmeiro at first, 3B Joe Randa gloved Bonilla's grounder and threw to 2B Bip Roberts to force Palmeiro. As Roberts threw to first to double up Bonilla, Alomar streaked toward the plate and was thrown out by 1B Bob Hamelin, who threw to C Sal Fasano.

On April 12, 2013 at New York, Manny Machado hit into a 4-6-5-6-5-3-4 triple play, the most recent triple play turned against the Orioles.

GOLD GLOVE AWARDS

The Gold Glove Award was initiated in 1957 by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Company in cooperation with The Sporting News to acknowledge individual defensive excellence by a vote of managers and coaches in each league. Third baseman Manny Machado earned his second career Gold Glove award in 2015 (also, 2013).

Gold Glove totals by each team: Cardinals 86, ORIOLES 71, Yankees 64, Reds 53, Braves 50, Pirates 48, Phillies 46, Dodgers 44, Twins and Red Sox 43, Tigers 42, Mariners 39, Giants 38, White Sox, Cubs and Senators/Rangers 36, Angels 35, Indians 30, Royals 29, Astros 24, Expos/Nationals and Blue Jays 23, Padres 22, Athletics 21, Mets 20, Rockies 18, Marlins 11, Brewers 10, Diamondbacks 9, and Rays 6.

A total of 17 Orioles have Gold Gloves, with all 17 winning multiple times, led by Brooks Robinson, who is tied with pitcher Jim Kaat for second place all-time with 16 Gold Gloves. Greg Maddux is first all-time with 18 Gold Gloves. Orioles multiple winners include: Paul Blair and Mark Belanger (eight each), Adam Jones, Jim Palmer, Bobby Grich and Mike Mussina (four each), J.J. Hardy, Davey Johnson, and Eddie Murray (three each). Roberto Alomar, Luis Aparicio, Manny Machado, Nick Markakis, Rafael Palmeiro, Cal Ripken, Jr., and Matt Wieters (two each). BALTIMORE ORIOLES

ALL-STAR NOTES

BIRDS OF A FEATHER: The Orioles have had 15 All-Stars over the past four seasons (since 2012), tied for the third-most in the Major Leagues in that span with San Francisco, behind only St. Louis (22) and Detroit (17), according to STATS, LLC...In that same time, 10 different Orioles have been named All-Stars, tied for fifth-most in the majors.

FOUR STRAIGHT: OF Adam Jones was named to his fourth straight All-Star team in 2015, becoming the sixth player in club history to make the team in at least four straight seasons...He joined Cal Ripken, Jr. (1983-2001), Brooks Robinson (1960-74), Eddie Murray (1981-86), Boog Powell (1968-71), and Frank Robinson (1969-72).

FIVE STARS: In 2013, the Orioles sent five players (Chris Davis, J.J. Hardy, Adam Jones, Manny Machado, and Chris Tillman) to the All-Star Game in New York (Citi Field)...It was the first time since 1997 the Orioles had five or more All-Stars.

GAME WINNER: In 2009, in his first All-Star Game, CF Adam Jones went 0-1 with a sacrifice fly and the game-winning RBI...At 23 years old, he was the third-youngest player with a game-winning RBI in the eighth inning or later of an All-Star Game, behind Ted Williams (1941) and Hank Blalock (2003), each of whom did it at age 22...Jones was the youngest Oriole to make the AL squad since Mike Mussina (also 23) in 1992 and the youngest O's position player to make the squad since Cal Ripken, Jr. (22) in 1983.

MULTIFACETED: LHP George Sherrill, who had spent all or parts of five years in independent baseball, was named to the 2008 All-Star team and pitched 2.1 scoreless innings in the game which was held in the old Yankee Stadium...After having 28 saves at the break, Sherrill became the first pitcher since 1987 to work more than two innings in an All-Star Game.

DOUBLE-PLAY DUOS: In 2005, 2B Brian Roberts and SS Miguel Tejada became the first Orioles teammates to start in the All-Star Game since 2B Roberto Alomar and 3B Cal Ripken, Jr. each started in 1998...They were the third 2B-SS tandem from the same team to start for the AL since fan balloting returned in 1970, joining New York's Willie Randolph and Bucky Dent in 1981 along with Alomar and Ripken in 1996.

CAL'S FINALE: 3B Cal Ripken, Jr., playing in his final All-Star Game, homered on the first pitch he saw in the third inning and went on to win his second All-Star MVP Award in the 2001 All-Star Game at Seattle's Safeco Field...Ripken, the lone Oriole selected to play in the game, led off the inning and turned on the first pitch from Los Angeles' Chan Ho Park to give the American League a 1-0 lead it would not relinquish...It was the 19th time Ripken was either elected or selected to the AL All-Star squad, breaking Brooks Robinson's AL mark; he technically started at shortstop after Texas' Alex Rodriguez 'pushed' him to the position and played third base himself in the first inning...Ripken also won MVP honors in the 1991 game, homering at Toronto...With the 2001 home run, he became the oldest player to homer in an All-Star Game and the only Oriole to homer twice in All-Star play.

ALL-STAR STARTS/APPEARANCES: Cal Ripken, Jr. was elected to start 18 years, 17 of those by fan vote...He was unable to play because of injury in 2000...Other Orioles elected to starting berths are Brooks Robinson (four times); Roberto Alomar and Adam Jones (three times); Boog Powell and Frank Robinson (two each); and Nelson Cruz, J.J. Hardy, Chris Davis, Bobby Grich, Ken Singleton, Eddie Murray, Terry Kennedy, Brady Anderson, Brian Roberts, and Miguel Tejada (one each).

HOME RUN DERBY: A No. 5 seed in the 2015 Home Run Derby, Manny Machado was defeated by the Dodgers' Joc Pederson (No. 4 seed) in the first round of the bracket format, 13-12...In 2014, Adam Jones was selected by captain Jose Bautista to represent the AL at Target Field (Minneapolis)...After blasting four in the first round, Jones was ousted by Yoenis Cespedes in the second round, finishing with seven home runs total...After leading the majors in homers at the break, Chris Davis took part in the 2013 Home Run Derby at Citi Field in New York...He finished fourth...A last-minute replacement to the 2004 Home Run Derby at Minute Maid Park in Houston, Miguel Tejada set records at the time for home runs in one round (15) and overall (27) to win the contest...He was the second Oriole to win the derby, joining Cal Ripken, Jr., who hit 12 homers at Toronto's SkyDome in 1991...Tejada also took part in the 2006 Home Run Derby in Detroit after declining to participate in the 2005 contest, instead bowing to David Ortiz to represent the Dominican Republic in the revised United States vs. the World format.

ORIOLES ALL-STAR HOMERS: Miguel Tejada's home run in the 2005 game at Detroit was the seventh overall by an Oriole in an All-Star Game...Cal Ripken also hit two home runs in All-Star games, in 1991 (July 9 at Toronto off Dennis Martinez, two on) and 2001 (July 10 at Seattle off Chan Ho Park, solo)...The others were by Brooks Robinson (July 11, 1967 at Anaheim off Fergie Jenkins, solo); Frank Robinson (July 13, 1971 at Detroit off Dock Ellis, one on); Ken Singleton (August 9, 1981 at Cleveland off Tom Seaver, solo); and Roberto Alomar (July 7, 1998 at Colorado off Trevor Hoffman, solo).

BALTIMORE AS ALL-STAR HOST: The Orioles have played host to two All-Star Games...The 25th Midsummer Classic was held at Memorial Stadium in 1958, and the 64th All-Star Game was held at Oriole Park in 1993...On July 8, 1958, Orioles pitcher Billy O'Dell retired the final nine batters as the AL posted a 4-3 win before 48,829 fans at Memorial Stadium...Baltimore's Gus Triandos was the starting catcher, and 11 future Hall of Famers saw action in the game...In its second year of existence, Oriole Park at Camden Yards played host to baseball's first-ever All-Star Week, including the AL's 9-3 win on July 13, 1993...The game drew 48,147 fans...Cal Ripken was the only Oriole to appear in the game, going 0-for-3...Pitcher Mike Mussina was selected to the team but did not get into the game...FanFest, the baseball theme park that is now a part of All-Star Week, drew 111,883 visitors during the five-day celebration...Perhaps the most lasting memories from All-Star Week '93 came on Monday, July 12, at the annual Gatorade All-Star Workout...Juan Gonzalez crushed a ball off the facing of the upper deck in left field, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse during the Home Run Derby.

POSTSEASON NOTES

For the first time since 1997, the Orioles won the American League East in 2014, securing a spot in the postseason for the second time in three seasons (also 2012)...The Birds swept the Detroit Tigers in the American League Division Series, 3-0, facing the previous three AL Cy Young-award winners at the time (Scherzer '13, Price '12, Verlander '11) before falling to the Wild Card champion Kansas City Royals in the ALCS, 4-0...The Orioles advanced to postseason play in 2012 for the first time since 1997...The Orioles won the Wild Card game over Texas in Arlington before losing to the New York Yankees in the 2012 Division Series, 3-2...The Orioles reached the playoffs in consecutive seasons in 1996-97, the only time they've made back-to-back postseason appearances since 1973-74...For the second straight year, the Orioles won their Division Series before losing in the American League Championship Series...In 1997 they beat the Seattle Mariners, 3-1, in the Division Series before losing to the Cleveland Indians, 4-2 in the ALCS...In 1996, they topped the Cleveland Indians, 3-1, in the Division Series and fell to the New York Yankees, 4-1, in the ALCS.

The Orioles went 97-63 and claimed their first American League pennant, but faced the defending World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers and a couple of pitchers named Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale in the World Series.

The underdog Orioles swept the four game series, beating Drysdale in Games 1 and 4. At the age of 20, Jim Palmer beat Koufax in Game 2 to become the youngest pitcher to ever throw a shutout in the World Series.

Frank Robinson, who also won the Triple Crown in 1966, was named the World Series Most Valuable Player after homering twice, but it was the pitching that led the way as the Orioles allowed just two runs on 17 hits in the entire series, blanking the Dodgers over the final three games.

Following the season, Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, and Boog Powell finished 1-2-3 in American League MVP voting.

The 1969 Orioles went a franchise record 109-53 and won the division by a whopping 19 games. They continued their demolition of the American League in the League Championship Series, sweeping the Minnesota Twins in three games.

After the first two games were decided by a run in extra innings in Baltimore, including a two-out RBI bunt single by Paul Blair in the 12th inning in Game 1, the Orioles broke out for 11 runs on 18 hits in Minnesota to make a winner out of Jim Palmer and advance to their second World Series.

Squaring off in the World Series against the New York Mets, the Orioles claimed Game 1 by a score of 4-1. The Orioles' bats went silent the rest of the series as they managed just five runs on 17 hits over the next four games as the "Miracle" Mets won four straight for their first World Championship.

A year after winning 109 games, the 1970 Orioles went 108-54 and steamrolled into the postseason, again facing the Twins in the ALCS. The Birds brought their bats, scoring 27 runs on 36 hits in the three-game sweep. Earl Weaver's crew battered the Twins for six home runs in the three games, including a Game 1 grand slam by starting pitcher Mike Cuellar.

In the World Series, the Orioles faced the mighty Cincinnati Reds, led by Johnny Bench, Tony Perez, and Pete Rose. The Reds had recorded a 102-win season of their own and swept the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League Championship Series.

The Orioles clubbed 10 home runs in the series and outscored the Reds 33-20 in the five-game set to claim their second World Series crown. Series MVP Brooks Robinson made himself a household name with several sterling defensive plays in the series which led Lee May to nickname him "Hoover" — like the vacuum cleaner.

The Orioles recorded their franchise record third consecutive 100-win season, going 101-57. On the strength of starting pitchers Dave McNally, Cuellar, and Palmer, the Oakland Athletics proved no match for the mighty Orioles in the ALCS as the Birds swept the Athletics in three games, limiting them to seven runs over three games.

Waiting for the Orioles in the World Series were the Pirates, with superstars Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell. The Orioles took a commanding 2-0 lead in the series, as McNally and Palmer recorded wins at home. The Pirates rebounded to take all three games in Pittsburgh, pushing the Orioles to the brink of elimination in Game 6. With the game tied through nine innings, Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the 10th frame scored Frank Robinson, setting up Game 7. Clemente homered and Steve Blass went the distance to knock off the Orioles for the Pirates' fourth World Series title.

The 1973 Orioles went 97-65 to claim their fourth AL East crown in a five-year span, and again squared off with the Athletics in the ALCS.

Despite a Game 1 shutout by Palmer, the Athletics won Games 2 and 3 to take a 2-1 lead in the series. After the Orioles claimed Game 4, they faced Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter in Game 5 at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. Hunter went the distance for his second win of the series, eliminating the Orioles.

1974

The 1974 Orioles won the AL East with a 91-71 record and were rewarded with yet another ALCS matchup with the Oakland Athletics.

Cuellar started the series opener for the Birds and won, 6-3, on the strength of homers by Paul Blair, Bobby Grich, and Brooks Robinson. That game would be their only win of the 1974 postseason as Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue, and Hunter held the Orioles to one run on 12 hits over the next three games.

Many Orioles fans will tell you the 1979 playoff run began on June 22, when Doug DeCinces' two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning capped a monumental comeback against Detroit, giving birth to "Orioles Magic." The Orioles finished 102-57, winning the division by eight games.

The Orioles played the California Angels in the ALCS and won the series opener in dramatic fashion on a pinch-hit, three-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning by John Lowenstein. The Birds continued their offensive attack in Game 2, jumping out to a 9-1 lead after three innings. The Angels stormed back, but the Birds held on for a 9-8 win and 2-0 series advantage. The Angels claimed Game 3 in Anaheim, but Scott McGregor went the distance in a six-hit shutout in Game 4 to seal the American League crown.

Facing the "We Are Family" Pirates in the World Series, the Orioles jumped out to a 3-1 series lead, but the Pirates battled back on the strength of their pitching staff as they allowed one run in Games 5 and 6 combined to force a Game 7 in Baltimore. The Birds took an early lead on a home run to start the third inning by Rich Dauer. But Stargell, the Series MVP, answered with a two-run shot in the sixth inning off McGregor to lift the Pirates to a 4-1 win and World Championship.

The Orioles were in fourth place in the East on August 12, but went 36-15 to finish the season and win the division by six games. The Birds squared off with the Chicago White Sox in the ALCS and dropped a heartbreaker at home in the series opener. Rookie Mike Boddicker, making his first postseason start in Game 2, tossed a five-hit shutout, striking out 14, to even the series for the Orioles. Eddie Murray's three-run homer in the first inning set the tone in Game 3 as the Orioles rolled to an 11-1 win. Storm Davis and Tippy Martinez combined to blank the White Sox for 10 innings in Game 4, and Tito Landrum's homer in the 10th helped the Birds to a 3-1 series win and their sixth World Series appearance.

After losing the series opener at home in a game where solo homers accounted for all three runs, the Birds bounced back behind Boddicker's second win of the postseason as he allowed just one unearned run in a 4-1 win. With a relief win in Game 3, Palmer put the Orioles up two games to one, and became the only pitcher to win World Series games in three different decades. McGregor took the hill in Game 5 on the brink of a World Championship, delivering a shutout and the Orioles' third World Championship.

The 1996 Orioles claimed the Wild Card spot in the postseason after setting a Major League-record with 10 different players hitting at least 10 home runs. They continued their power prowess by homering nine times in the four-game ALDS against Cleveland, winning the series, 3-1.

Home runs would be a factor again in the ALCS against the New York Yankees as the Birds had a 4-3 lead entering the bottom of the eighth inning in Game 1. Derek Jeter's fly ball to right was caught by a 12-year-old fan named Jeffrey Maier, who reached over the wall into the field of play just before O's right fielder Tony Tarasco could make a play on the ball. The umpires ruled it a home run, tying the game before series MVP Bernie Williams won it with a walk-off homer in the 11th inning.

The Orioles left New York with a split of the first two games of the series, but the Yankees swept all three games in Baltimore to advance to the World Series. The clubs combined for 19 home runs in the series (the Orioles hit nine), accounting for 29 of the 46 runs scored.

The Orioles led the AL East from start to finish and entered the postseason with an ALDS matchup against Seattle. These "Wire to Wire" Birds roughed up Mariners starter Randy Johnson in Game 1 en route to a 9-3 win, and captured Game 2 at the Kingdome by an identical score. After the Mariners won Game 3 in Baltimore, the Orioles were set to face off with Johnson once again. The Birds beat the Big Unit once more, 3-1, on the strength of homers by Jeff Reboulet and Geronimo Berroa.

The Orioles opened the ALCS at home against the Cleveland Indians, with Scott Erickson dazzling for 8.0 scoreless innings in Game 1 as the Orioles won, 3-0. The next three games would be decided by one run, all going in favor of the Tribe. The Orioles bounced back in Game 5, winning 4-2. Game 6 was a pitcher's duel for the ages, as Mike Mussina worked 8.0 scoreless innings for the Orioles, but Cleveland's Charles Nagy and a cast of relievers were equally as tough, leading to a scoreless game through 10 innings. Tony Fernandez hit a two-out home run off Armando Benitez in the 11th inning to win the game to eliminate the Orioles.

After a 14-year hiatus, the Orioles returned to the postseason in 2012, meeting the Texas Rangers in the first-ever Wild Card Game. The Orioles won, 5-1, behind starter Joe Saunders, some strong relief pitching, and a pair of RBI from leadoff hitter Nate McLouth.

The Orioles and Yankees squared off in the ALDS with the first two games before raucous crowds at Oriole Park. Game 1 was tied through eight innings before the Yankees tagged closer Jim Johnson for five runs in the ninth inning. Wei-Yin Chen worked into the seventh inning allowing just two runs in Game 2 to help even the series with a 3-2 win. In Game 3 in the Bronx, Ryan Flaherty and Manny Machado became the first Orioles rookies to homer in the postseason, but the Birds fell 3-2 in extra innings. Game 4 was another nail biter as the teams were tied through 12 innings. J.J. Hardy doubled home Manny Machado in the 13th to even the series at two wins apiece. C.C. Sabathia proved to be too much for the Orioles in the fifth and deciding game as he allowed just one run in a complete game effort.

After pulling into a tie for the division lead on July 3, the Orioles would not relinquish their first-place standing, eventually finishing with the second-best record in Major League Baseball at 96-66 and their first American League East division title since 1997. The Birds would draw the American League Central division champion Detroit Tigers in the ALDS, and faced the AL's last three Cy Young Award winners at the time in Max Scherzer, Justin Verlander, and David Price. After the Tigers pulled within one run in the top of the eighth inning in Game 1, the Orioles erupted for eight runs in the bottom half of the frame en route to a 12-3 rout. In Game 2, Detroit would climb out of an early hole with a five-run fourth inning, but the Birds would battle back, taking the lead in the bottom of the eighth after a bases-clearing, three-run double off the bat of pinch hitter Delmon Young. The Orioles would complete the sweep at Comerica Park in Game 3 behind 6.1 scoreless frames from starter Bud Norris and Nelson Cruz's two-run home run in the sixth inning, winning 2-1 to set up an ALCS showdown with the Wild Card champion Kansas City Royals.

In the first American League Championship Series game at Oriole Park since 1997, the Orioles would rally to send Game 1 against Kansas City into extra innings. After going a Major League-best 14-6 in extra-inning games during the regular season, a pair of home runs in the top of the 10th by Alex Gordon and Mike Moustakas would sink the Orioles, 8-6. In Game 2, the Birds and Royals would remain locked in a 4-4 draw before Kansas City pushed two runs across in the top of the ninth for a 6-4 victory and a 2-0 lead in the series. The Orioles jumped out to a 1-0 lead early in Game 3, but the Royals tied the game in the fourth and took a one-run lead in the sixth. The Kansas City bullpen posted four straight hitless innings to win 2-1. With Games 1-3 decided by a total of five runs, Game 4 proved to be yet another thriller as the Royals scored twice in the first inning to take a 2-0 lead. After a solo home run from Ryan Flaherty cut Kansas City's lead in half, the Royals' bullpen once again stifled the Orioles lineup, tossing 3.2 scoreless innings in relief of starter Jason Vargas to complete the sweep.

BASEBALL IN BALTIMORE

1872 – The Lord Baltimores, the city's first professional team, begin play in the National Association. In their inaugural game on April 18 in Washington, they beat the Olympics, 16-0. In their home opener on April 22, before 3,500 fans at Newington Park (on Pennsylvania Avenue below Baker Street), they beat the New York Mutuals, 14-9. The team folded in its third season as a rival franchise, the Maryland Base Ball Club, turned from amateur to pro and took its place in the league through 1874. By 1875 the National Association itself had folded.

1882 – A newly formed Lord Baltimores team makes its debut in the American Association, a new rival to the National League. A year later, the franchise moves to newly built Oriole Park (on the southwest corner of what is now Greenmount Avenue and 25th Street) and adopts the name "Orioles," the first time that Maryland's state bird would be used as a nickname in association with Baltimore's professional baseball team.

1884 – Two more Baltimore teams are formed. One, also named the Orioles, plays in the new Union Association; by mid-season they transferred to Lancaster, Pa., and the league folded after one season. The other, the Monumentals, becomes a charter member of the Eastern Association, which would become today's International League, but the team breaks up after a mere 13 games.

1892 – Baltimore joins the National League. Games are played at Union Park, a 12,000-seat stadium at the northeast corner of Barclay and 25th Streets.

1894-1896 – With innovative Ned Hanlon as manager, the scrappy Orioles win three straight National League pennants, led by future Hall of Famers John McGraw, Dan Brouthers, Joe Kelley, Willie Keeler, and Hughie Jennings.

1899 – With most of their star players having been sold to Brooklyn, the Orioles finish their eighth season before folding. There would be no professional team in Baltimore as the new century dawned.

1901 – A new Baltimore Orioles team joins the upstart American League, with John McGraw as manager and an overflow crowd of 10,371 at Opening Day. The Orioles play two seasons in Baltimore before relocating to New York as the Highlanders – eventually to become the New York Yankees.

1903 – A minor league team using the name Baltimore Orioles joins the Eastern League. They are in existence for nine seasons, playing at American League Park, at York Road and 29th Street. The team wins the league pennant in 1908 under second-year manager Jack Dunn.

1912 – The minor league Orioles join the International League. They would be part of the league for the next 42 seasons until Major League Baseball returned.

1914 – A second Baltimore team, the Terrapins (named for an edible type of turtle common to the state of Maryland), enters the newly formed Federal League. The league would fold after just two seasons. The team plays at Terrapin Park, built on the west side of Greenmount Avenue between 29th and 30th streets; two years later, Jack Dunn buys the ballpark and renames it Oriole Park.

1914 – Jack Dunn, owner, general manager, and manager of the International League Orioles, signs 19-year-old George Herman Ruth out of a Baltimore orphanage. Oriole players kid Dunn about his "babe," and a nickname is born. By July, Babe Ruth was sold to the Boston Red Sox.

1919-1925 – The Orioles, led by Dunn, win a record seven straight International League titles. For five of those years, 1920-24, future Hall of Famer Lefty Grove leads the pitching staff, going 108-36.

1920s-40s – The city fields two teams in the Negro Leagues – the Elite Giants and the Black Sox. Second baseman James "Junior" Gilliam and Hall of Fame catcher Roy Campanella played two different stints for the Elite Giants on their way to Major League careers with the Brooklyn Dodgers' "Boys of Summer."

1944 – After winning the International League title, the Orioles beat Louisville of the American Association to win the Junior World Series. It wasn't easy, however; a fire in the early morning hours of July 4 destroyed Oriole Park, leading the team to use Municipal Stadium, a football facility on 33rd Street. One game of the Junior World Series drew 52,833 paid fans, outdrawing each of World Series games in St. Louis between the Browns and Cardinals and attracting interest from teams in the Major Leagues and professional football.

1953 – The Orioles, owned by Jack Dunn III, play their final season in the International League. After two votes fail, on September 29, American League owners approve the sale of the financially struggling St. Louis Browns franchise to a Baltimore-based consortium led by attorney Clarence W. Miles and brewery owner Jerold C. Hoffberger.

BACK IN THE MAJORS

1954 – Playing in renovated Municipal Stadium (later called Memorial Stadium), Baltimore returns to the Major Leagues and the Orioles return to the American League after 52 years. After splitting two games in Detroit to begin the season, the Orioles return to Baltimore by train – arriving, ironically, at Camden Station, just a few yards from the current ballpark – and a lengthy parade through the streets prior to their home opener on April 15. They beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, but go on to a 54-100 season.

November 18, 1954 – In a trade that took two weeks to complete, the Orioles and Yankees swap 18 players as new manager/general manager Paul Richards lays the groundwork for the coming years. The Orioles get 11 players, including catcher Gus Triandos, outfielder Gene Woodling, and Willie Miranda, first in a long line of outstanding defensive shortstops.

1955 – Brooks Robinson is signed; he makes his Major League debut on September 17 but does not establish himself as the regular third baseman and future Hall of Famer until 1958.

July 8, 1958 – Memorial Stadium hosts its first and only All-Star Game. The Orioles' Billy O'Dell retires the last nine batters to preserve a 4-3 win for the American League.

September 20, 1958 – Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm hurls the first no-hitter in Orioles history, beating the Yankees 1-0 at Memorial Stadium. Two years later, manager Paul Richards will introduce the "big mitt" designed to help catchers cut down on passed balls and wild pitches from Wilhelm's knuckleball.

May 9, 1961 – Jim Gentile becomes the first player in Major League history to hit grand slams in consecutive at bats in a 13-5 win at Minnesota.

September 18, 1963 – Steve Barber becomes the first 20-game winner in club history, beating the Angels, 3-1, in California. He is the first of the Orioles' 20-game winners; they have had 23 more over the last 48 years, more than any other team.

June 1965 – Jerry Hoffberger, whose family was among the original group of owners of the Orioles when it moved to Baltimore, takes control of the ballclub as majority owner. He will lead the club for 14 years, during which the Orioles go to the postseason six times.

December 9, 1965 – The Orioles make arguably the greatest trade in franchise history, acquiring former All-Star outfielder Frank Robinson from the Cincinnati Reds for Milt Pappas and two players acquired earlier in the week, Jack Baldschun and Dick Simpson. New GM Harry Dalton completes the trade, which was begun a month earlier by his predecessor, Lee MacPhail Jr.

May 8, 1966 – Frank Robinson hits the only fair ball ever to leave Memorial Stadium, a shot over the left field bleachers measured at 465 ft. The Orioles later commemorate the event with a flag at the top of the bleachers where the ball left the park, simply saying "HERE."

September 22, 1966 – Twenty-year-old Jim Palmer pitches a complete game as the Orioles clinch their first American League pennant with a 6-1 win at Kansas City. Palmer will win 268 games and three Cy Young Awards in a 19-year career with the Orioles on his way to the Hall of Fame.

1966 – "Would You Believe 4 Straight?" The Orioles stun the baseball world by sweeping the favored Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series. Frank Robinson wins the American League triple crown (.316-49-122). Frank, Brooks Robinson, and Boog Powell finish 1-2-3 in the American League MVP voting.

1968 – Longtime minor league manager Earl Weaver is added to the coaching staff at the beginning of the season and, on July 11, is named manager of the Orioles. He goes on to post a 1,480-1,060 record in 17 seasons before being elected to the Hall of Fame.

1969-71 – Pitching, three-run homers, and defense stamp Weaver's Orioles, as they capture three straight American League East titles, a trio of AL pennants, and the 1970 World Series. Brooks Robinson earns the nickname "Hoover" from future teammate Lee May after showing off his defensive skills in the 1970 series triumph over the Reds.

1973-74 – The Orioles win back-to-back AL East titles, giving them five division titles in six years. However, they are beaten by Oakland in the American League Championship Series both years.

June 15, 1976 – Hank Peters, in his first year as Orioles general manager, begins to remake the club with a 10-player trade with New York. Future Orioles Hall of Fame members Scott McGregor, Tippy Martinez, and Rick Dempsey come from the Yankees; catcher Elrod Hendricks, who later will be traded and return twice more, is among those sent to New York.

September 18, 1977 – Memorial Stadium is filled with 51,798 fans on “Thanks, Brooks Day,” celebrating the end of the third baseman’s 23-year career, all with the Orioles.

June 22, 1979 – Doug DeCinces’ two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning caps a monumental comeback against Detroit and gives birth to “Orioles Magic.”

1979 – The Orioles win the American League pennant for the fifth time and take a 3-1 lead over Pittsburgh in the World Series. But the Pirates’ “fam-i-lee” comes back to win the last three games and the World Championship.

November 1, 1979 – American League owners approve the August sale of the Orioles to Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams. The purchase ends both local and public ownership of the club.

August 10, 1981 – Cal Ripken, Jr. makes his Major League debut, scoring the winning run as a 12th-inning pinch-runner vs. Kansas City at Memorial Stadium.

1981 – The Orioles’ 59-46 record is the best in the American League, but not good enough for the playoffs. Following a mid-year strike, baseball decides to play the season in two halves and the Orioles finish second to New York and Milwaukee in the two halves.

October 1-3, 1982 – The Orioles, three games behind Milwaukee with four games to play heading into a final weekend series with the Brewers, take the first three games at Memorial Stadium to forge a tie for first. The Brewers spoil the comeback with a 10-2 win in the season finale. Earl Weaver, who two months earlier had announced his retirement at the end of the season, is saluted by 51,462 fans in an emotional celebration and farewell following the game.

1983 – The Orioles lose the first game of the American League Championship Series before coming back to beat the Chicago White Sox three straight games. They lose the World Series opener to the Philadelphia Phillies before coming back to win four straight for their third World Championship. Cal Ripken, Jr. is named AL MVP (.318-27-102) in a close race over teammate Eddie Murray (.306-33-111).

1988 – The Orioles lose a Major League-record 21 games to start the season.

May 2, 1988 – Returning home to Memorial Stadium with a 1-23 record, the Orioles play before 50,402 fans on a Monday night. In a dramatic pre-game announcement, Governor William Donald Schaefer announces that Orioles owner Edward Bennett Williams and the Maryland Stadium Authority have agreed on a 15-year lease for a new ballpark to be constructed at Camden Yards for the 1992 season.

December 1988 – Investor Eli S. Jacobs buys the Orioles from the estate of Edward Bennett Williams, who had passed away in August.

1989 – “Why Not?” is the rallying cry of the young Orioles, who improbably lead the AL East into September. They eventually lose at Toronto on the next-to-last day of the season, giving the Blue Jays the division crown.

October 6, 1991 – After 38 years, the Memorial Stadium era ends as the Orioles play their last game on 33rd Street. Cal Ripken, Jr. – who would add his second MVP Award to the All-Star Game MVP trophy he won mid-season – hits into a game-ending double play, but the 7-1 loss to Detroit does not diminish an emotional “Field of Dreams” celebration afterward as more than 100 former Orioles return in uniform to take their old positions one last time before 50,700 fans.

April 6, 1992 – Oriole Park at Camden Yards ushers in a new era of “retro ballparks” and the Orioles beat the Indians, 2-0, on Rick Sutcliffe’s complete game. The ballpark, on the western edge of downtown, helps revitalize the neighborhood and earns wide acclaim for its architectural design and fan-friendly features.

RECORDS & HISTORY

July 13, 1993 – Oriole Park hosts the city's second All-Star Game, following a week-long "All-Star Fan Fest," the first of its kind.

August 2, 1993 – Baltimore attorney Peter Angelos leads a group of investors – most of whom are Baltimoreans – in buying the Orioles at an auction from Eli S. Jacobs. American League owners approve the sale on October 4.

September 6, 1995 – The Iron Man tops the Iron Horse: Cal Ripken, Jr. surpasses a record once thought unbeatable, playing in his 2,131st consecutive game to pass Lou Gehrig's all-time record. Ripken's homer in the game helps beat the Angels, 4-2.

1995 – The Orioles draw 3,098,475 fans in the strike-shortened season to lead the American League in attendance for the first time in their history. They will go on to lead the league in attendance for four straight years.

September 6, 1996 – Future Hall of Famer Eddie Murray, who returned to the club in a mid-season trade with Cleveland, hits his 500th career home run into the right field seats at Camden Yards.

1996 – A Major League-record 10 different Orioles hit at least 10 home runs during the season as the Orioles break New York's 35-year-old mark for home runs by a team. The Orioles advance to the playoffs as the "Wild Card" team, finishing second in the AL East. They beat Cleveland in the American League Division Series before the Yankees end the Orioles postseason hopes in the ALCS.

1997 – The Orioles go wire-to-wire to win the AL East. They beat Seattle in the Division Series before falling in six games to Cleveland in the ALCS.

September 20, 1998 – Cal Ripken, Jr. ends his consecutive game streak at 2,632, sitting out the Orioles' final home game of the season at Camden Yards vs. the New York Yankees. Ryan Minor starts in his place at third base.

April 15, 2000 – Cal Ripken, Jr. singles at Minnesota's Metrodome off Hector Carrasco for his 3,000th career hit, the first Oriole and 24th player to reach that milestone. He is one of nine players with 3,000 hits and 400 home runs.

October 6, 2001 – Having announced in May his plans to retire at season's end, Cal Ripken, Jr. plays his last game as an Oriole before 48,807 fans at Camden Yards. His 21-year career will result in a first-ballot election to the Hall of Fame with the fourth-highest vote percentage in history.

July 31, 2006 – The Mid-Atlantic Sports Network, a regional television channel owned primarily by the Orioles, begins 24-hour programming. The network is the rightsholder for both Orioles and Washington Nationals games.

November 12, 2008 – The Orioles unveil their new road uniform with a script "Baltimore" across the chest. The Orioles' road uniform had featured a script "Orioles" across the chest since 1973.

October 5, 2012 – The Orioles and Rangers meet in the first American League Wild Card "play-in" game in Arlington. The Orioles win 5-1 to advance to the ALDS, where they fell in five games to the Yankees.

2013 – Chris Davis homers for the 51st time on September 17 at Boston, breaking Brady Anderson's club record set in 1996. Davis would add two more before season's end, finishing with 53. The Orioles finish with a .991 fielding percentage, the best in Major League history.

August 8, 2014 – A post-game ceremony honoring the 60th anniversary of Orioles baseball features 23 members of the Orioles Hall of Fame, the largest gathering of Orioles Hall of Famers ever assembled.

September 16, 2014 – With an 8-2 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays, the Orioles secure the ninth AL East Division title in team history, marking the third time the club has clinched in Baltimore, the first time since 1979, and the first division clinch via a win in Baltimore since 1969.

October 5, 2014 – The Orioles sweep the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory in Game 3 of the American League Division Series to advance to the ALCS for the first time since 1997, where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games.

April 29, 2015 – Citing the need for local resources to be better utilized during a period of unrest in Baltimore, the Orioles play an unprecedented game without fans against the Chicago White Sox after closing the contest to the public. The Orioles go on to win, 8-2.

June 16, 2015 – Seven different Orioles combined to slug a club-record eight home runs against the Philadelphia Phillies, surpassing the previous club mark of seven which was set three times, most recently September 26, 2012 vs. Toronto. Chris Davis' fourth inning blast is his seventh career home run to land on Eutaw Street, the most such home runs in Oriole Park history by an individual player. He would hit his eighth career Eutaw Street home run on August 14, 2015 vs. Oakland.

June 28, 2015 – In the second game of a doubleheader against Cleveland, the Orioles record their 5000th regular season victory in club history.

August 1, 2015 – Outfielder Gerardo Parra became the 1000th player to appear in a game for the Orioles since the team moved to Baltimore in 1954.

THE ORIOLES HALL OF FAME

The Orioles Hall of Fame was conceived in 1977 by the Oriole Advocates at the suggestion of two former presidents, Allen Barrett and Jack Buckley, both of whom have since passed away. The Advocates continue to administer the annual elections under the direction of their Hall of Fame Committee.

Candidates may be elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame through two channels: the regular vote by a panel of some 80 people, comprising sportswriters, broadcasters, Oriole Advocates, and Orioles personnel; or by a vote of the veterans committee, a group of 25 senior representatives from the sports media, Oriole Advocates, and the Orioles front office.

Procedures for election to the Orioles Hall of Fame are based on those used by the National Baseball Hall of Fame, requiring mention on 75 percent of ballots cast. All candidates must have served a minimum of three full seasons with the Orioles. To be eligible for regular election, a player, manager or coach must have been active in that capacity within the last 15 years, but ceased serving in the position for which he was nominated for at least one year. For consideration by the veterans committee, formed in 1989, a candidate must have ceased serving in the capacity of consideration for at least 15 years.

In 2015, former Orioles third baseman MELVIN MORA was elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame. Mora played nine and a half seasons with the Orioles from 2000-2009, compiling a .280 batting average and 158 home runs. His 808 games played at third base are second only to Brooks Robinson on the club's all-time list. Mora is also among the club's career leaders in doubles (8th, 252), RBI (8th, 662), runs (10th, 709), home runs (11th, 158), total bases (11th, 2,073), hits (11th, 1,323), walks (11th, 465), games played (12th, 1,256), and at-bats (12th, 4,733). Acquired from the Mets in July of 2000, Mora started at six different defensive positions in his first four seasons with the Orioles before moving to third base in 2004. In 2004, Mora set the Orioles' single-season record with a .340 batting average, while also posting career-highs in home runs (27) and RBI (104). A two-time All-Star, Mora also won a Silver Slugger Award and was twice named AL Player of the Month.

Additionally, the former left field platoon duo of JOHN LOWENSTEIN and GARY ROENICKE were enshrined as selections of the Veteran's Committee in 2015. The left-handed hitting Lowenstein and right-handed hitting Roenicke split playing time in left field for the Orioles from 1979-1985 under the direction of manager Earl Weaver. The duo combined to hit 171 home runs and registered 574 RBI in the seven seasons they played together for the Orioles. In their first season platooning in left, they combined for 36 home runs and 98 RBI, helping the Orioles win the 1979 American League pennant.

Their most productive season came in 1982, when they combined for 45 home runs and drove in 140 runs as the club fell one game short of winning the AL East title. The following year, the duo hit 34 home runs with 124 RBI, playing a pivotal role in the Orioles' third World Series title.

The Orioles Hall of Fame now has 55 former players, coaches, and managers.

HERB ARMSTRONG AWARD WINNER

In 1995, the Oriole Advocates established the Herb Armstrong Award to honor non-uniformed personnel who have represented the Orioles for at least five years and made a significant contribution to the ballclub, the community, or the sport of baseball. The award is named after the beloved former educator, professional baseball player, manager, and longtime official for both the Orioles' International League and American League clubs who dedicated nearly 70 years of his life to the people of Baltimore, his adopted hometown. Winners are selected by the Orioles Hall of Fame Veterans Committee and honored during the Orioles Hall of Fame Weekend ceremonies.

In 2015, the Herb Armstrong Award was presented to former scout and front office executive Fred Uhlman, Sr. Before retiring earlier in the year, Uhlman spent 46 years in professional scouting, including three decades with the Orioles. He joined the Orioles as Scouting Director in January of 1985 and later served as Special Assistant and Professional Scout. Uhlman established the Orioles' first baseball academies in the Dominican Republic and Venezuela, and also was responsible for signing Jeff Ballard, Steve Finley, Gregg Olson, Arthur Rhodes, and David Segui, among many other players for the club.

WILD BILL HAGY AWARD

On August 20, 2007, the Orioles lost one of their most passionate fans with the passing of William G. "Wild Bill" Hagy. Leading cheers from "The Roar from 34" at Memorial Stadium, "Wild Bill" became a Baltimore institution, contorting his body to spell out "O-R-I-O-L-E-S" from the upper deck – and sometimes coming down to lead the crowd in cheers from atop the dugout.

Upon his passing, the Orioles and the Oriole Advocates announced the creation of an award to honor the team's top fans, to be named The Wild Bill Hagy Award. The award will expand the Orioles Hall of Fame categories to include fans who have demonstrated an exceptional commitment in support of the team in the tradition of Wild Bill, who rooted for the club year in and year out.

Appropriately, Hagy was named the first recipient of the award.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLES

First baseman Chris Davis won the award in 2015, becoming the first Oriole in club history to log two separate 40-homer seasons, slugging 47 home runs, the fourth-highest single-season total in club history. He led Major League Baseball in home runs, finished third in RBI (117), seventh in slugging percentage (.562), 13th in runs scored (100), and 10th in batting WAR (3.7) and 23rd in WAR (4.5). Davis also led the Major Leagues with eight multi-homer games. Along with his ranks among MLB, he also paced Orioles hitters in multiple offensive categories including home runs, RBI, slugging percentage, on-base plus slugging percentage (.923), walks (84), and finished second in hits (150) and runs scored. He accounted for three of the Orioles' nine walk-off hits last season, including two walk-off home runs.

The MVO Award was initiated when the Orioles returned to the Majors in 1954. A decade ago it was renamed in memory of Hatter, the distinguished and lovable "dean" of Baltimore baseball writers who covered the Orioles for The Baltimore Sun for 27 years. The award winner is selected through a vote of writers and broadcasters who cover the Orioles on a regular basis. There have been four ties, and no award was given in 1994. Thirteen players - Eddie Murray (seven), Cal Ripken, Jr. (four), Brooks Robinson (four), Rafael Palmeiro (three), Frank Robinson (three), Ken Singleton (three), and Chris Davis, Adam Jones, Stu Miller, Jim Palmer, Boog Powell, Brian Roberts, and Miguel Tejada (two) - have won the award more than once.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS EARL WEAVER—4

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown in August 1996, Earl Weaver currently ranks 23rd in victories and his .583 winning percentage (1,480-1,060) over 17 seasons—all in Baltimore—ranks eighth on the all-time list of those who managed 10 or more seasons in the Majors.

Weaver was a minor league second baseman for 13 years, mostly in his hometown St. Louis Cardinals organization. He began his managing career in the minors in 1956 and joined the Orioles organization a year later. He came up to the Orioles as First Base Coach in 1968 and was named Manager on July 11 of that year. From 1969 through 1982, he won six AL East titles, four AL pennants, and one World Series, beating the Cincinnati Reds in 1970. Earl's Orioles won 100 games or more five times, and he earned Manager of the Year honors three times.

He retired following the 1982 season, which ended one game shy of another AL East title when the Orioles lost to the Milwaukee Brewers on the final day of the season. He came back to manage in mid-1985 for 1.5 years before retiring for good. The only time in his 17 seasons as a manager that he posted a losing record was his last, in 1986.

Weaver passed away on January 19, 2013, at age 82. His wife, Marianna, lives in Pembroke Pines, Fla. He has a son and two daughters from a previous marriage.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS BROOKS ROBINSON—5

"Mr. Oriole" spent 23 seasons with the Orioles and started 20 consecutive Opening Day games. He won the American League Most Valuable Player Award in 1964 and holds the record for most Gold Gloves by a position player with 16. His election to baseball's Hall of Fame (in his first year of eligibility in 1983) was cemented with his performance against the Cincinnati Reds in the 1970 World Series, when he was named MVP and earned the nickname "Hoover" (as in vacuum cleaners) for his play in the field.

Robinson played in 18 All-Star games. He trails only Cal Ripken, Jr. among the Orioles' all-time leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, RBI, runs, total bases, and extra-base hits. In addition to his American League MVP Award in 1964 and his World Series MVP Award in 1970, he was the All-Star Game MVP in 1966 and was voted the Most Valuable Oriole in 1960, 1962, 1964, and co-winner in 1971 with Frank Robinson. He also earned the Commissioner's Trophy (now the Roberto Clemente Award) for exemplifying the game of baseball in 1972 and the Joe Cronin Award for significant achievement by an American League player in 1977.

Robinson holds six Major League fielding records and seven American League records for third basemen, including 2,697 putouts. He is 14th on the all-time list of games played, fourth in the AL and fourth in games played with one team.

A native of Little Rock, Ark., Robinson and his wife, Connie, have four children. They split their time living in the northern Baltimore suburbs and in Southern California.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS CAL RIPKEN JR. — 8

Baseball's all-time Iron Man, Cal Ripken, Jr. spent his entire 21-year career with the Orioles and was inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 2007 in his first year of eligibility. He is one of only nine players in history with both 400 HR and 3,000 hits, along with Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Eddie Murray, Stan Musial, Rafael Palmeiro, Alex Rodriguez, Dave Winfield, and Carl Yastrzemski. In 2001, his final season, he was elected to his 19th All-Star Game, breaking the AL record for most times as an All-Star — a record previously held by Brooks Robinson. He earned two All-Star Game MVP Awards (1991 and 2001), two American League MVP Awards (1983 and 1991), and American League Rookie of the Year (1982) honors, two Gold Gloves, and eight Silver Slugger awards, all at shortstop. Ripken was named Most Valuable Oriole four times, twice sharing the award with Eddie Murray.

Ripken will be most remembered for topping the said-to-be-unbreakable record for consecutive games played set by Lou Gehrig, passing Gehrig's mark of 2,130 games on September 6, 1995. Ripken went on to play in 2,632 consecutive games before sitting on September 20, 1998.

Following the 1999 season, he was named as one of two shortstops (with Ernie Banks) on Major League Baseball's All-Century Team, selected by fans and an expert panel. Extremely active in community endeavors, he won the Roberto Clemente Award and the initial Bart Giamatti Caring Award among many other honors.

Since his playing career ended in 2001, Ripken has focused his attention on growing the game at the grassroots level. Through his business, Ripken Baseball, and his family's nonprofit organization, the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation, he is bringing the game to kids across the country. Ripken Baseball operates three Ripken Experience complexes in his hometown of Aberdeen, Md., Myrtle Beach, S.C., and Pigeon Forge, Tenn. The Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation has built over 50 Youth Development Parks, multi-purpose turf fields, in areas of need across the country. In 2015, Ripken was named Major League Baseball Special Advisor on Youth Programs and Outreach by Commissioner Robert D. Manfred.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS FRANK ROBINSON—20

Frank Robinson's achievements during his 21 seasons as a player rank him among the top players of all-time in 10 categories. He hit 586 home runs, ninth on the all-time list. He spent 19 seasons with the Orioles as a player (1966-71), coach (1979-80 and 85-87), manager (1988-91), and assistant general manager (1991-95).

The trade that brought Robinson from Cincinnati to Baltimore turned the Orioles from contenders to World Champions in 1966. He won the Triple Crown (.316 average, 49 homers, 122 RBI) and was both the American League and World Series MVP in his first season with the Orioles. In all, the Orioles went to the World Series four times in his six seasons as a player with them. When he was traded to the Dodgers after the 1971 season, he became the first to have his number retired by the Orioles.

Robinson was the National League Rookie of the Year with the Reds in 1956 and is the only player to win MVP honors in both leagues (1961 NL, 1966 AL). He played in 11 All-Star games and was MVP of the 1971 Mid-Summer Classic. While still an active player, he became the first black manager in Major League history with the Cleveland Indians in 1975. In addition to the Indians (1975-77), he managed the San Francisco Giants (1981-84), the Orioles (1988-89), and the Montreal Expos—Washington Nationals (2002-06).

Robinson was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 1982. He lives with his wife, Barbara, in Bel Air, Calif. They have two children.

On February 2, 2015, Robinson was named by Baseball Commissioner Robert D. Manfred, Jr. as Senior Advisor and the new Honorary President of the American League. Robinson is currently Major League Baseball's Executive Vice President for Baseball Development.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS JIM PALMER—22

The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Jim Palmer won 268 games in a 19-year career, all of it with Baltimore. He won three Cy Young Awards in a four-year span (1973, '75, '76) and his 2.86 ERA is fourth on the all-time list among pitchers with 3,000 or more innings pitched.

Palmer won 20 games in a season eight times, one of only six who pitched exclusively in the 20th century to accomplish the feat. He put that string together in a nine-year stretch, 1970-78, during which he went 176-97 with a 2.54 ERA.

In 1966, at age 20, he became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a World Series shutout, and in 1983 he became the only hurler to have won a World Series game in each of three decades. He was the winning pitcher in the Orioles' first four pennant-clinching games and was 8-3 in 17 postseason appearances. He was a six-time All-Star and was the American League's starting pitcher four times.

Palmer was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot in January 1990. He is in his 23rd season as an analyst on Orioles televised games, and has also worked for ABC-TV and ESPN. On January 12, 2012, Palmer was awarded the Player Lifetime Achievement Award by the Professional Baseball Scouts Foundation.

Palmer and his wife, Susan, live in Palm Beach, Fla. and Corona del Mar, Calif. with their son, Spencer. His oldest daughter, Jamie, lives in Cotuit, Mass., with her husband, Paul. Palmer's younger daughter, Kelly, lives in Trophy Club, Texas, with her husband, David, and eight-year-old twins, Maxine and Henri.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS EDDIE MURRAY — 33

Eddie played 12.5 of his 21 seasons with the Orioles and was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 2003. He spent his first 12 years with the Orioles and rejoined the team in 1996, becoming the 15th player to reach the 500-home run plateau. Murray, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Rafael Palmeiro, and Alex Rodriguez are the only players with 500 homers and 3,000 hits.

A model of consistency, he drove in at least 75 runs in each of his first 20 Major League seasons, a feat unmatched. He has more RBI than any switch-hitter in history and ranks ninth all-time in RBI. Murray was named to eight All-Star teams, seven as an Oriole, and batted .300 or better seven times, including five times as an Oriole. He won the Orioles' "triple crown" five times, leading the club in average, homers, and RBI. He played at least 150 games in 16 seasons, the second most in history behind Pete Rose. He also appeared in 2,413 games as a first basemen, the most by a first basemen in Major League history.

Murray broke in as the American League Rookie of the Year in 1977. He was named Most Valuable Oriole seven times (twice sharing the award with Ripken).

Like Frank Robinson before him, Murray's Oriole number was retired when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also played for the New York Mets, Cleveland Indians, and Los Angeles Angels, and was an Orioles coach for four seasons, 1998-2001. He also served as the hitting coach for the Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Dodgers. A three-time Gold Glove winner, he holds the Major League record for games played and career assists by a first baseman. Murray has two daughters, Jordan and Jessica, and lives in his hometown of Los Angeles.

THE BALLPARK THAT FOREVER CHANGED BASEBALL™

ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS

When Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened on April 6, 1992, a new era of Major League Baseball began. The park was brand new, but still old-fashioned. State-of-the-art, yet quaint. At less than a day old, it was already a classic.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards inspired a generation of ballpark construction. No longer would communities across America build multipurpose stadiums devoid of character, surrounded by vast parking lots. Ballparks would now be created to nestle neatly into existing and historic neighborhoods and play key roles in the revitalization of urban America.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards captured the nation's attention from day one and in the seasons that followed has served as the standard by which all new ballparks are measured. Citizens of Baltimore and all of Maryland, as well as Orioles fans throughout Birdland, should take great pride in the fact that their team makes its home in The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™.

THE HISTORY

Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the beautiful baseball-only facility in downtown Baltimore, became the official home of the Orioles on April 6, 1992. The construction of the park was completed in essentially 33 months from the time razing previous structures on the 85-acre parcel began June 28, 1989, in the area known as Camden Yards.

The one-time railroad center is 12 minutes west by foot from the city's Inner Harbor and only two blocks from the birthplace of baseball's most legendary hero, George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Ruth's father operated Ruth's Cafe on the ground floor of the family residence located at Conway Street and Little Poca, now center field at Oriole Park. The ballpark originally seated 48,041 (and now seats 45,971), and the project cost was approximately $110 million. It was designed by the Kansas City architectural firm of Helmuth, Obata + Kassabaum (HOK) with direction and input from the Orioles and the State of Maryland, which owns and operates the facility through its agency, the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA).

Working under contract to HOK were the urban design firm of RTKL, the landscape architecture firm of Wallace, Roberts and Todd, and the engineering firms of Bliss and Nyitray; Rummel, Klepper and Kahl; and Kilde Consultants, Inc. Working under contract to the Orioles were the interior design firm of Forte Design and the graphic design firm of David Ashton and Associates. Oriole Park is state-of-the-art, yet unique, traditional, and intimate in design. It blends with the urban context of downtown Baltimore while taking its image from baseball parks built in the early 20th century. Steel, rather than concrete trusses, an arched brick facade, a sun roof over the gentle slope of the Upper Deck, an asymmetrical playing field, and natural grass turf are just some of the features that tie it to those magnificent big league ballparks built in the early 1900s. Ebbets Field (Brooklyn), Shibe Park (Philadelphia), Fenway Park (Boston), Crosley Field (Cincinnati), Forbes Field (Pittsburgh), Wrigley Field (Chicago), and The Polo Grounds (New York) were among the ballparks that served as powerful influences in the design of Oriole Park.

BALTIMORE'S ORIOLE

America's early colonists noticed a bird whose male bore the black and orange colors of Lord Baltimore, Maryland's founder. It was called a Baltimore oriole until the 1960s, when it was observed to interbreed with a bird called Bullock's oriole. The American Ornithologists' Union declared both would be considered a single species: Northern oriole. But later studies showed that, while the two birds sometimes interbreed, the offspring rarely pass along their genes. In 1994, the Baltimore oriole recovered its status as a species.

DIMENSIONS

For Oriole Park's first nine seasons, outfield dimensions were 333 feet to left field, 364 feet to left center, 400 feet to center, 373 feet to right center and 318 feet to right field. Prior to the 2001 season, in conjunction with extensive renovations to the ballpark's playing surface and drainage system, the Orioles reconfigured the ballpark with outfield dimensions that were up to seven feet larger than those used since Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened in 1992. However, it was found that the new dimensions did not significantly improve sight lines for fans, as had been anticipated, and adversely affected the viewing angle of the batter's eye wall.

As a result, the ballpark was returned to its original dimensions before the 2002 season. The changes included moving home plate approximately seven feet closer to the outfield, to its original spot 59 feet from the backstop. In addition, the entire field was shifted several degrees to the first base side and both the left field and right field foul poles were repositioned to their original locations. The foul line measurements decreased from 320 feet to 318 feet in right field and from 337 to 333 feet in left field. The center field distance decreased from 406 to 400 feet and the deepest part of the ballpark, in left center field, decreased from 417 to 410 feet.

The shorter dimension in the right field corner is off-set by a 21-foot high wall, which extends 100 feet from the right field line toward center. The fence in the rest of the park is only seven feet high.

THE PLAYING FIELD

The field is 16 feet below street level and is comprised of a sophisticated irrigation and drainage system below natural grass turf. It is designed to reduce the frequency of rainouts by shortening the length of baseball's most exasperating feature, the rain delay. The field's system makes it possible to get the field ready for play within a half hour after the end of a heavy rainstorm. The drainage system automatically removes as much as 75,000 gallons of rainwater from the field in an hour. Following the 2000 season, the ballpark's infield and outfield were completely rebuilt, replacing the dirt, sand rootzone mix, sod, and drainage. The drainage system was modernized by utilizing an inlaid piping system topped by a fabric mesh and gravel to better protect both the pipes and the playing surface. Following the 2005 season, all new irrigation heads were installed. In 2008, the sod was replaced with a sand-based blend of Kentucky bluegrass that is genetically darker in color and more durable than the version previously used at Oriole Park, giving the field a more vibrant green color.

Prior to the 2013 season, the Orioles replaced the rubberized warning track that had been in place since Oriole Park opened in 1992, with a natural surface composed of crushed stone. The color of the stone was designed to match the brick that appears throughout the ballpark and on the Warehouse. Actual samples of those same Williamsport, Md. bricks were used in the final material to achieve the proper blend. The new surface covers approximately 20,000 square feet and required 300 tons of material.

FOUL POLES

When the Orioles moved to Oriole Park at Camden Yards for the 1992 season, the right field foul pole that had been used for 37 seasons at Memorial Stadium was brought with. The foul pole was affixed atop the tall wall in right field in the Flag Court. Prior to the 2001 season, the Orioles replaced the original Oriole Park left field foul pole with the left field pole that had been used throughout their stay at Memorial Stadium. At 70 feet high, the new/old foul pole is 20 feet shorter than the previously used pole and requires a more modest support structure, which allows more fans in seats in the Lower, Club, and Upper Deck levels to have an unobstructed view of the field. The foul poles were returned to their original positions when the ballpark was reconfigured to its original dimensions after the 2001 season.

THE WAREHOUSE

Located beyond right field, the B&O Warehouse is 439 feet from home plate. Built between 1898-1905, the Warehouse is the longest building on the East Coast at 1,016 feet (but only 51 feet wide). It has been preserved and now provides unique office space for the Orioles as well as home for the banquet facilities, the ballpark's central kitchen, and space for ballpark operations. The Orioles' main ticket office operates out of the north end of the Warehouse. Dempsey's Brew Pub and Restaurant is located on the first floor of the Warehouse and is open year-round for lunch and dinner. Eutaw Street Market, a convenience store on the first floor of the Warehouse featuring grab-and-go sandwiches, drinks, and snacks is also open year-round.

The ballpark and Warehouse are separated by a 60-foot wide promenade, an extension of Eutaw Street. Open daily, Eutaw Street is home to plaques dedicated to members of the Orioles Hall of Fame, the Mid-Atlantic Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame, and the Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame.

Small circular plaques are found in the concrete along Eutaw Street, marking the locations where home runs have landed since the ballpark opened. Through the 2015 season, 54 different players have hit 82 home runs that have landed on Eutaw Street (34 by the Orioles and 48 by visiting players). Three home runs landed on the Eutaw Street corridor in 2015. A record 11 homers landed on the corridor in 2013, breaking the previous mark of nine set in 2012. Chris Davis' eight Eutaw Street home runs are the most by any player in Oriole Park history.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

In addition, numbers representing the players whose uniforms have been retired by the Orioles are located in Babe Ruth Plaza, outside the north Eutaw Street gates.

Ballpark tours depart regularly from the Orioles Official Team Store on Eutaw Street. The Team Store, open daily, is located on the ground floor of the Warehouse.

MEMORIAL WALL

On Veterans Day 2002, ground was broken at the south end of the Eutaw Street Warehouse for a memorial wall to honor Maryland residents who were killed in all of our nation's wars. Designed by Baltimore-based CS&D Architects, the memorial was created earlier that year to replace the one razed at Memorial Stadium. The 11-foot-tall, curving black granite wall features the well-known phrase from the Memorial Stadium facade, spelled out in the original stainless steel lettering: "Time Will Not Dim the Glory of Their Deeds." In other links to the old stadium, an urn from East 33rd Street containing soil from all foreign American military cemeteries is displayed under glass, and a plaque explains the significance of Memorial Stadium in Baltimore history. A bench allows visitors the opportunity to rest and reflect at any time, and the memorial is illuminated at night. A dedication ceremony was held on Memorial Day, May 26, 2003.

ACCESSIBILITY/PARKING

Oriole Park is easily reached via rail, bus, and subway lines, as well as four major highways (I-95, I-83, I-70, and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway). The MARC train and light rail trains both have stops directly on site. About 4,000 parking spaces are located south of the park and numerous spaces are located in areas within walking distance of the ballpark.

SEATING

After the 2010 season, the Maryland Stadium Authority completed the final phase of the replacement of the seats in the Oriole Park seating bowl as part of their deferred maintenance program. After the 2009 season, all seats in the lower level from foul pole to foul pole were replaced, along with necessary repairs to the concrete in this area. The work concluded in the winter of 2010-2011, as MSA repaired concrete and replaced seats in the lower level outfield, the Club Level, and the Upper Deck.

At the request of the Orioles, the Club Level and Upper Deck at Camden Yards were furnished with wider seats that are more comfortable for fans. Sightlines for fans on both of those levels were improved with the installation of new, less intrusive railings to enhance the view of those sitting in the first few rows, as well as fans sitting in and around Upper Deck equal access and companion seats.

Other ballpark improvements made prior to the 2011 season included the installation of drink rails in portions of the Club Level seating bowl down the left field line, as well as the addition of bistro tables facing the field on the left field Club Level and the creation of the Miller Lite Flite Deck in the corner of the right field Club Level. All of the new locations provide a unique, more social experience for fans and are ideal for individuals as well as small and large groups.

Every aisle seat in the park has an extra feature: a reproduction of the 100-year-old logo used by the Baltimore Orioles of the 1890s, a National League team that won consecutive pennants in 1894-96.

The Lower Deck comprises of 18,000 box seats between the foul poles. Behind the box seats are 6,400 terrace box and lower reserved seats. Prior to the 2004 season, 72 field level seats were installed behind home plate. From the front row of seats to first and third base, for example, the distance is 45 feet. Home plate to the backstop measures 59 feet.

The Mezzanine, or Club Level, stretches from the right field foul pole to left-center field and is accessible by escalators, elevators, stairs, and ramps. There is waiter service available at the seats, and behind the seating area on the Club Level concourse is a climate-controlled lounge with private dining and bar areas.

Also on the Club Level are 65 luxury suites, with the ability to accommodate a variety of groups, from smaller gatherings with 14-18 guests to larger parties with 30-40 guests. While some of the suites are leased on a full or partial season basis, a number of them are available for individual game rentals. Three large party suites, named to honor Orioles legends, Brooks Robinson, Frank Robinson, and Jim Palmer, can accommodate groups of up to 75 people.

The Upper Deck contains 25 rows of seats (the first 12 are boxes, the last 13 are reserved seats) and has a gentle slope of 31 degrees (Memorial Stadium, like many parks, was 33 degrees). A roof was constructed to cover half of the Upper Deck seating area.

The 1,887 Eutaw Street Bleacher seats, among the most popular in the park, are located in right-center field. There are also Standing Room Only (SRO) tickets that go on sale in advance of sold out games. The SRO areas are found on the right field Flag Court and just above the visitor's bullpen in left field.

With the installation of wider seats in the Club Level and Upper Deck in 2011, total seating capacity in the ballpark was decreased from 48,290 to 45,971. More than 400 seats are available to fans with disabilities in the equal access areas (EA) located throughout the ballpark.

ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM

Prior to the 2008 season, the Orioles and the Maryland Stadium Authority contracted with Mitsubishi to purchase a new video system for Oriole Park at Camden Yards, replacing the Sony JumboTRON video board and Daktronics matrix and out-of-town boards used since the park opened in 1992. This state-of-the-art equipment includes a Mitsubishi DiamondVision LED video board and LED scoreboard in center field, an LED out-of-town scoreboard display in right field, and LED "ribbon" boards along the Club Level and Upper Deck fascia.

The DiamondVision LED video board sits atop the LED scoreboard, reversing the placement of the previous system. The LED out-of-town scoreboard in right field features statistical information in addition to game scores. The narrow auxiliary matrix boards along the Club Level and Upper Deck were replaced with LED ribbon boards, providing better definition, brighter images, and wider viewing angles. ScorePAD Sports, Inc.'s state-of-the-art STADIUMnet scoring system provides extensive statistical information on each player to help keep fans informed.

In order to preserve the traditional feel of Oriole Park while providing fans with the most modern technology, the Orioles hired an expert design team to work with the Maryland Stadium Authority to deliver major technological upgrades while preserving the ballpark's historic aesthetic.

Phase two of the ballpark improvements were completed prior to the 2009 season and included major control room upgrades, new HD televisions throughout the ballpark, and improvements in the coverage and quality of the ballpark sound system. The ballpark entertainment control room replacement allows the entertainment system to transmit a high-definition (HD) signal to the main and auxiliary video boards and further enhance the fan experience at Oriole Park.

The 2009 sound system renovations included 530 new speakers in all, replacing those that had been in place since Oriole Park opened. To improve coverage and consistency of sound throughout the seating area, a number of additional loudspeaker positions were created. New speakers are located in the Upper and Lower Deck seating bowl, Club Level, Main Concourse, center field bleacher area, and scoreboard. The new system employs digital signal processing (DSP) that is significantly more advanced than what was previously used and allows a much greater level of control. The result is a substantially more uniform listening experience throughout the seating area.

20TH ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENTS AND UPGRADES

As part of a continued commitment to honor the proud history of the franchise, and in conjunction with efforts to improve the design aesthetic and functionality of the ballpark, in 2012 the Orioles enhanced the fan experience at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The improvements and additions, highlighted by a newly renovated area to honor the greatest Orioles of all time inside the gates of the ballpark, were done to celebrate the 20th anniversary of Oriole Park.

Larger than life sculptures of the six Orioles who have their numbers retired and are National Baseball Hall of Fame members – Frank Robinson, Earl Weaver, Jim Palmer, Eddie Murray, Cal Ripken, Jr., and Brooks Robinson – were unveiled during the 2012 season. The bronze sculptures created by renowned Maryland sculptor Antonio Tobias "Toby" Mendez, are located in an improved bullpen picnic grove, which received significant upgrades and additional landscaping. As with the Orioles Hall of Fame plaques on Eutaw Street, this area was renovated to allow fans access during non-gameday hours.

Along with the installation of the sculptures, the Orioles also completed additional upgrades to the Upper Deck, Main Concourse, Eutaw Street, and Flag Court at Oriole Park for the 2012 season.

Also in 2012, the outfield areas of Eutaw Street and the bullpen picnic grove in center field underwent a major overhaul featuring the following changes in addition to the six new sculptures:

- The Roof Deck, a new outfield overlook on top of the batter's eye wall in center field, featuring casual seating, a bar, and deck seating - this area was previously inaccessible to fans
- New entry concessions at the north end of Eutaw Street
- As a part of MSA's restoration of the B&O Warehouse brick work, a replica of the original canopy was added to the Warehouse to shelter portable concessions and additional seating, as well as fans on Eutaw Street searching for shade or to escape inclement weather

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

The out-of-town scoreboard on the right field wall was also modified to reduce the height of the wall and thus improve views of the game from the Flag Court and Eutaw Street.

In 2011, the Orioles and their concessionaire, Delaware North Sportservice, invested in an overhaul of the Main Concourse concessions. For 2012, the Orioles and the Maryland Stadium Authority further improved the Main Concourse with new flooring and wall coverings.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO ORIOLE PARK

Since Oriole Park at Camden Yards opened in 1992, many exciting improvements have been made to help enhance the "Oriole Park Experience"...

- Prior to the 2015 season, Major League Baseball implemented mandatory metal detection screening of all fans prior to entry at each MLB ballpark which included walk-through magnetometers or hand-held metal detectors at each entrance to Oriole Park.

- Smoking was banned entirely at Oriole Park prior to the 2013 season.

- The escalator near Gate B was completely replaced prior to the 2012 season.

- Drink rails were installed in portions of the Club Level seating bowl down the left field line, as well as bistro tables facing the field on the left field Club Level and the Miller Lite Flite Deck in the corner of the right field Club Level.

- Concrete and seats throughout the ballpark were replaced following the 2009 and 2010 seasons as part of the Maryland Stadium Authority's deferred maintenance program. Cushions were added to the lower level seats between the bases.

- Prior to 2010, all rows in the ballpark were switched from letters to numbers, to more clearly designate the number of rows from the field or the front of the Club and Upper Deck Levels.

- The Home Plate Plaza Lobby, Home Plate Lounge, and Upper and Lower Press Levels were renovated during the 2009 offseason.

- Within the past eight years, the entire ballpark entertainment system, including the audio, video, and scoreboards, were upgraded or replaced.

- Seats in sections 16-58 were replaced prior to 2004 with chairs with higher backs and padding. Cupholders were also installed to the 6,200 new seats.

- Two rows of seats were added at field level behind home plate prior to the 2004 season, a total of 72 seats. Also, 10 seats were added to section 16 and 14 seats were added to section 58 at that time.

- Prior to the 2004 season, the concrete wall behind home plate was replaced with brick, in keeping with the Oriole Park at Camden Yards aesthetic. Two 7.5-foot rotational signs were also added to the wall.

- Prior to and during the early part of the 2000 season, the entrance area to the Home Plate Plaza Lobby was redesigned to provide a new floor covering, new wall finishes, and redesigned elevators.

- In 2000, the first floor lobby of the Warehouse at 333 W. Camden Street was redesigned to provide improved traffic flow and accentuate the original structural and architectural elements of the Warehouse.

- Prior to the 2000 season, the fourth floor lobby of the Warehouse was refinished and improved to create a fresher, more enjoyable experience for those using party facilities and Club Level ticket holders who use this entrance to the ballpark.

- Included in the improvements made during the 1999 season, the ticket reader system used at the turnstiles was upgraded. The ticket entrances were enlarged and the reader system itself was expanded to allow more types of tickets to be fed through the turnstile readers, providing fans a smoother, quicker entry to the ballpark.

- In a project that began in early 1999, the Orioles offices located in the B&O Warehouse underwent major renovations in order to give the offices a warmer look. In addition to redesigned office space, new artwork and artifacts are displayed in the lobby and in the glass entry doors.

- Prior to the 1999 season, an Upper Deck Fan Assistance Center was constructed in the Home Plate Elevator Lobby.

-Prior to the 1999 season, the warning track surrounding the playing field was painted a shade of brown to more closely match the color of the infield dirt and to complement the colors of the B&O Warehouse.

-Work was completed on repainting the entire steel "superstructure" of the ballpark. The work was begun prior to the 2000 season and completed during the year.

-The Club Level and Suites underwent a complete refurbishing, including new furniture, wallpaper, and carpeting. The Orioles' World Series trophies, Gold Glove, MVP, and Cy Young Awards are on view at the entrance to the Club Level. Photos and records of each Orioles team beginning in 1954, as well as other artifacts of the club's history, adorn the corridors. The alcove lounges on the Club Level have been named and decorated in themes, providing greater ambience for fans and making it easier to meet friends at a designated area, such as the "All-Star Lounge," "Hall of Fame Lounge," and "MVPs Lounge." Photos of members of the Orioles Hall of Fame have been hung outside the party suites in the left field area of the Club Level.

-Smoking was banned in the seating bowl in 1993.

-Plaques and other displays around the ballpark honor various athletic accomplishments.

Orioles Hall of Fame: Located at the north end of the Warehouse on the wall at the base of the scoreboard, plaques honor the members inducted annually and are similar in appearance to those enshrined in Cooperstown, N.Y. at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. They feature the Oriole Hall of Famer's likeness and a brief description of their accomplishments.

Orioles Retired Numbers: Four-foot monuments, located at the north end of the Warehouse in front of the Orioles ticket windows honor the uniform numbers worn by Earl Weaver (4), Brooks Robinson (5), Cal Ripken, Jr. (8), Frank Robinson (20), Jim Palmer (22), and Eddie Murray (33).

Mid-Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame: As a tribute to baseball scouts over the years, the plaques are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame: The names of Marylanders who left their mark in athletic endeavors and have been inducted into the state's Athletic Hall of Fame are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

Cal Ripken, Jr. Seat: To honor Ripken's 278th career homer, surpassing Ernie Banks' Major League record for home runs by a shortstop, the Orioles marked the spot where the ball landed (Section 86, Row 4, Seat 10) with an orange seat. The homer came on July 15, 1993, off Scott Erickson, then with Minnesota.

Eddie Murray Seat: To honor Murray's 500th career home run, hit on September 6, 1996, off Detroit's Felipe Lira, the Orioles installed an orange seat in the right field bleachers where the ball landed (Section 96, Row 7, Seat 23).

Eutaw Street Home Runs: Brass baseball plates are embedded into the Eutaw Street sidewalk marking the spots where home runs cleared the right field gate. These plates contain the home run hitter's name, his team's logo, the distance the ball traveled, and the date the home run was hit.

Plaques in the Oriole Park press box have been erected honoring two individuals: the late Rex Barney, Orioles public address announcer for more than 25 years and the late Monica Pence Barlow, the Orioles' public relations director and a member of the organization for 14 years. A plaque in the first base camera well honors longtime team photographer Jerry Wachter.

In ceremonies prior to Cal Ripken, Jr.'s final game on October 6, 2001, the Orioles unveiled a plaque in the first base dugout dedicated to Cal Ripken, Sr. It is inscribed: "Cal Ripken, Sr. Dedicated to a lifelong Oriole of thirty-six years, and one of the game's greatest teachers. Coach, manager, and devoted mentor to countless young Orioles, "Senior" dedicated his life to baseball and passed on his respect of the game to everyone he coached. He preached "perfect practice, makes perfect" and stressed the importance of being prepared, learning the "right way" and playing to the best of one's ability every inning of every game. We will always remember his devotion to the Orioles, his love of the game, and his many lessons..."

Relief pitcher Jesse Orosco made his 1,072nd career appearance on August 17, 1999, to pass Dennis Eckersley for the Major League record for most games pitched. In honor of his accomplishment, the Orioles installed a plaque with Orosco's uniform number, 47, above the bench in the bullpen.

In honor of Earl Weaver's induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame, a silver "4" and plaque identifying Weaver's years as manager was added to the Orioles' dugout wall in July 1996, near where the manager traditionally stands.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

ATTENDANCE

ATTENDANCE MILESTONES: The Orioles celebrated two attendance milestones in 2008. The first came on August 19, 2008, as the O's welcomed their 50 millionth fan at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Opened in 1992, Oriole Park was the quickest ballpark to achieve the 50 million fan milestone in the history of baseball. In its first 17 seasons, Oriole Park at Camden Yards hosted the third-most fans in baseball, trailing only Dodger Stadium and Yankee Stadium.

Less than a week later, on August 23, 2008, the 100 millionth fan in franchise history entered the gates at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. In 62 seasons and 4,609 regular season dates between Memorial Stadium and Camden Yards, 114,976,887 fans have watched the Orioles play in Baltimore.

The Orioles have drawn a total of 65,131,299 fans in 1,893 dates in 24 seasons at Oriole Park, surpassing the total attendance they drew from 1954 through 1991 at Memorial Stadium. In 38 seasons at the old ballpark on 33rd Street, the club drew 49,845,588 in 2,716 dates, an average of 18,353 fans per game. The Birds have averaged 34,406 fans per game in 1,893 dates at Oriole Park.

2015: The Orioles drew 2,320,588 fans to Camden Yards in 78 home dates, an average of 29,751 fans per game. The Orioles cracked the two million mark for the 26th time in franchise history and the 20th time since moving into Oriole Park. Baltimore had nine sellouts in 2015 and has now drawn 40,000 or more fans on 832 of 1,893 dates at Oriole Park.

LARGEST 3-DATE CROWD: The August 10-12, 2007 series against the Boston Red Sox shattered the attendance record for a three-date series at Oriole Park at Camden Yards by more than 2,000 fans. A total of 146,786 fans attended the three games, topping the previous mark of 144,784 set August 21-23, 1998 vs. Cleveland.

3 million—66 home dates ('93, '97 & '98)

2 million—43 home dates ('94)

1 million—22 home dates ('94)

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS: The Orioles had never led the AL in total or average attendance until 1995, then did it for four consecutive years. The team has drawn three million or more fans in nine of the 22 non-strike shortened seasons at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

SMALLEST CROWDS: The smallest crowd for a game at Oriole Park at Camden Yards was 9,129 on April 12, 2010, against the Tampa Bay Rays. The smallest crowd ever for an Orioles home game was on August 17, 1972, when only 655 fans attended an afternoon make-up game against the Chicago White Sox at Memorial Stadium.

ZERO FANS: On April 29, 2015, the Orioles played a game against the Chicago White Sox at Oriole Park which was closed to the public. The game was not considered in tallying the total season attendance and the date was not included in the average per game attendance.

50 MILLIONTH/100 MILLIONTH

The Orioles reached two major attendance milestones during the 2008 season. On August 19, the team welcomed Kevin Gracie, a law school student from Ellicott City, Md., as the designated 50 millionth person to attend a game at Oriole Park. Oriole Park became the quickest ballpark to achieve the 50 million fan milestone in the history of baseball.

Four days later, on August 23, the 100 millionth person to attend an Orioles game in franchise history was welcomed at Oriole Park. Velma Greene, a middle school teacher from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., was designated as the milestone fan.

Since it ushered in a new era of ballpark design in 1992, Oriole Park at Camden Yards has been the standard-bearer for sports facilities in the United States, welcoming individuals from all 50 states and over 100 countries. The city of Baltimore and the entire state of Maryland have derived significant economic impact totaling in the billions of dollars from the more than 65 million fans who have attended Orioles games over the last 24 seasons, as well as from the millions more who have participated in festivals, meetings, tours, and community events that have been held at the ballpark.

Media members who do not have an account on the MLB system should email Chris Martrich in the Public Relations Department at cmartrich@orioles.com in regards to an account. Credential requests for individual games must be submitted at least 24 hours in advance of the requested game to receive consideration. Those approved for credentials may pick them up at Home Plate Plaza, located between Gates D and E, beginning four hours before game time.

BALLPARK & PRESS LEVEL ACCESS

Media must access the ballpark via Home Plate Plaza, which is located on the southwestern side of Oriole Park between Gates D and E. Home Plate Plaza opens four hours before game time. Media will be required to show identification to obtain their credentials. The press box is located on Level Two (Lower Press) and is to be used by print and non-rightsholder electronic outlets. Home and visiting radio and television stations broadcast from Level Three (Upper Press). Wireless Internet access is available on both levels. Login information to access the Internet from the press level is available on the Lower Press Level.

PARKING

Limited parking for media is available in Lots A and B/C off of Lee Street. TV trucks may park in the ENG Lot next to Lot A, but must contact the Public Relations Department in advance. Light refreshments and beverages are available in the Dining Room through the seventh inning. Due to space limitations, only credentialed media and club employees with game-time duties may eat in the Dining Room. The Orioles are unable to accommodate guests.

FIELD ACCESS

Credentialed media may access the field at Oriole Park by taking the Home Plate Plaza elevators to the Basement Level (Service Level) and walking through the Umpires' Tunnel between the home and visiting clubhouses. The field area is open to media from the time Home Plate Plaza opens until 45 minutes before game time. Media are asked to remain on the warning track and between the two dugouts at all times.

MIKE BORDICK

Orioles Hall of Fame member Mike Bordick enters his fifth year as a member of the MASN broadcast team, serving as an analyst for half of the Orioles games this season. Bordick also provides analysis for select games on the Orioles Radio Network.

A 2011 inductee into the Orioles Hall of Fame, Bordick played for the Orioles for six seasons from 1997 to 2002. One of the best defensive players in club history, Bordick has the fifth-highest fielding percentage (.982) among shortstops with at least 1,000 games played in Major League history, trailing only Troy Tulowitzki (.986), Omar Vizquel (.985), Jimmy Rollins (.983), and J.J. Hardy (.983).

In his 2002 season with the Orioles, Bordick had the best defensive season for a shortstop in Major League history, setting a record for highest fielding percentage (.998), fewest errors (one), consecutive errorless games (110), and consecutive errorless chances (543). Bordick led AL shortstops with a .989 fielding percentage and 797 total chances in 1999 with the Orioles, a year in which he also led the AL in batting average against left-handed pitching (.406). Bordick's 14-year major league career also included time with the Oakland Athletics (1990-96), New York Mets (2000) and Toronto Blue Jays (2003). He batted .260 with 1,500 hits in his career, including a .260 average (674-2592) in 739 games with the Orioles.

Originally signed by the A's as a non-drafted free agent after playing in the Cape Cod League in 1986, Bordick was on Oakland's active roster for the 1990 World Series and appeared in three games for the A's. He also played in the 2000 World Series with the New York Mets after being traded from the Orioles that July and was named to the American League All-Star team that year, as well.

Bordick played three years at the University of Maine, where he led the Bears to College World Series berths in 1984 and 1986. At the end of his playing career, he completed his bachelor's degree in kinesiology and physical education from the University of Maine.

He spent the 2010-11 seasons as Coordinator of Offensive Fundamentals for the Orioles' minor league system. As he has done since 2012, Bordick will continue to work as a Special Assignment Instructor in the Orioles' minor league system when he is not in the broadcast booth.

Bordick and his wife, Monica, reside in Ruxton, Md. with their six children.

TOM DAVIS

Baltimore native Tom Davis enters his 46th year as a local sportscaster and begins his sixth year as the host of MASN's Mid-Atlantic Sports Report. He also serves as co-host of "O's Xtra," MASN's pre- and postgame show. Davis previously spent 17 seasons as a host on Orioles telecasts on Home Team Sports (HTS) from 1984 to 2000. A five-time winner of the Maryland Sportscaster of the Year Award, Davis began his career as a weekend sportscaster for WBAL-TV in the early '70s. He also worked at WBAL Radio, had two stints at WCBM-AM, and spent 17 years as a sportscaster for the "Rouse & Company Show" on WQSR-FM.

His national sports broadcasting experience includes work with NBC-TV and NBC Radio, where he covered the NFL, 1987 Gator Bowl, and the 1988 Summer Olympics. He also did play-by-play for a number of college football bowl games for the Mutual Radio Network and was a sideline reporter for ABC-TV's coverage of the USFL in 1983-84.

Davis served as play-by-play announcer for the first game played at M&T Bank Stadium on August 8, 1998, an exhibition game between the Baltimore Ravens and Chicago Bears. He lists one of his greatest thrills as calling Cal Ripken's 400th career home run in 1999, as well as hosting the 2014 celebration of the Orioles American League East Championship during the "O's Xtra" postgame show on MASN with Jim Palmer and Rick Dempsey.

In addition to his work on Orioles broadcasts, Davis hosts a sports talk show, "Wall to Wall Baseball," each Saturday afternoon on MASN. He also produces and hosts "Touchdown Baltimore" and "Take Me Out To The Ballgame," – shows that profile the Ravens and Orioles and air on MASN weekly during each team's respective season.

A graduate of Calvert Hall College High School, Davis received a bachelor's degree in marketing from the University of Baltimore in 1971. He lives in Baltimore County with his wife Bonnie and is the father of three adult children – Malinda, Tad, and Mandi. He has two grandchildren, Hunter and Georgia.

This season marks Dempsey's 50th year working in professional baseball. He played for 24 Major League seasons with six teams, including 11 and a half with the Orioles. Dempsey is tied for fifth all-time in seasons played and is one of only three catchers in modern baseball history to play in four decades. He played on three World Series teams and won two championships, including 1983 when he was named the World Series MVP in the Orioles' 4-games-to-1 triumph over Philadelphia.

he was named the World Series MVP in the Orioles' 4-games-to-1 triumph over Philadelphia.

Dempsey batted .233 with 96 home runs and 471 RBI in his career, which began with the Minnesota Twins in 1969. He was traded to the New York Yankees in 1973 and, in 1976, to the Orioles as part of a 10-player swap that also brought the O's Tippy Martinez and Scott McGregor. He became Baltimore's regular catcher in 1977 and for 10 years was the Orioles' primary backstop, catching a club-record 1,222 games. After leaving the Orioles, Dempsey played for Cleveland (1987), Los Angeles (1988-90), and Milwaukee (1991) before returning to the Orioles for his final season in '92. He had a .988 career fielding percentage.

Dempsey began his post-playing career as a manager in the Los Angeles Dodgers' and New York Mets' farm systems, compiling a winning record in three of five seasons. He was a member of the Dodgers' Major League coaching staff from 1999-2000 before returning to the Orioles as an analyst for Comcast SportsNet in 2001. From 2002-06, he served as a first base coach, third base coach, and bullpen coach on the Orioles coaching staff.

Dempsey and his wife, Joani, live in Westlake Village, a suburb of Los Angeles. They have two sons, John, who was a catcher in the St. Louis Cardinals and Kansas City Royals organizations, and Christian. His younger brother Pat was a minor league catcher for several teams, including the Orioles. His nephew, Gregg Zaun, was a catcher with the Orioles from 1995-96 and 2009. CBS RADIO's 105.7 The Fan serves as the flagship station of the Orioles Radio Network. Fans can hear all 162 Orioles regular season games, select Spring Training contests, and extensive Orioles programming on 105.7 The Fan and across the seven-state, 35-station Orioles Radio Network.

In addition to expansive game coverage and pre- and postgame shows, the Orioles partnership with CBS RADIO brings exclusive Orioles programming to 105.7 The Fan backed by the power of CBS RADIO's cluster of stations, including Today's 101.9 (WLIF-FM) and Mix 106.5 (WWWX-FM).

Longtime Orioles Radio Network broadcaster Joe Angel will return for his 17th season and will be joined by veteran broadcaster Jim Hunter for most games. Fred Manfra also returns to the Orioles Radio Network for his 24th season and will call select games. Former Orioles pitcher Ben McDonald and MASN broadcaster and Orioles Hall of Famer Mike Bordick will also join the radio broadcast team to provide analysis for several games this season.

In 2015, the Orioles' radio rights returned to 105.7 The Fan, where the station had previously broadcast Orioles games between 2007 and 2010. Currently, 105.7 The Fan is one of the highest-rated sports talk radio stations in the United States.

In 2010, the Orioles entered a multi-year partnership with WSBA Radio to serve as their affiliate in York, PA. In all, there are more than 30 stations on the Orioles Radio Network, covering six states. In addition, members of the military stationed overseas have the opportunity to listen to Orioles games on the American Forces Radio Network.

JOE ANGEL

Veteran baseball broadcaster Joe Angel returns as the "Voice of the Orioles" on radio for his 17th season.

A native of Colombia, South America, who did not speak English until the age of nine, Angel has broadcast Major League Baseball for 40 years, including 17 seasons with the Orioles, 1988-90, 1992 and 2004-16. He also has worked for the San Francisco Giants, Oakland Athletics, Minnesota Twins, and New York Yankees and was the original voice of the Miami Marlins. Angel also broadcast games on ESPN national telecasts during the 2001 season.

Angel, 67, was born in Bogotá, Colombia. His family immigrated to Chicago seven years later before moving to San Francisco when he was 15. He attended Galileo High School in San Francisco, where he played baseball and football and was the quarterback of a team that featured O.J. Simpson as running back.

He worked in television and radio for many years in the Bay Area, including five years of Stanford University football and four years of University of San Francisco basketball.

Angel got his start in Major League Baseball in 1976, when he spent three years doing Giants games on KSFO radio with Hall of Fame broadcasters Al Michaels and Lon Simmons. He also spent two years as the television play-by-play voice for the Oakland A's. He spent three seasons with the Minnesota Twins on WCOO radio, 1984-86, and joined the Orioles radio team for three years in 1988. Angel spent one year doing New York Yankees broadcasts in 1991 before returning to the Orioles, then left again to become the first voice of the Miami Marlins. He did play-by-play on Marlins broadcasts for eight years, 1993-2000, including their 1997 championship season. He then did play-by-play for ESPN regional telecasts before returning to the Bay Area to call Giants games on radio and television for two seasons, where he often teamed with his former Orioles broadcast partner, Jon Miller.

In his 40 years of radio work with Major League Baseball, Angel has broadcast two World Series, 43 postseason games, and seven no-hitters. His signature calls of "In the WIN Column," "Wave it bye, bye" and "Hasta la vista pelota" are well-known to Orioles fans.

He and his wife, Antoinette, make their home in El Dorado Hills, Calif. They have three grown children: Tony, Natalie and Jonathan, and one granddaughter, Carsyn Algelina.

FRED MANFRA

It appeared inevitable that Fred Manfra's career plans would lead him to broadcasting Orioles games on the radio. One of his athletic highlights is hitting a double off the left field wall at Memorial Stadium in an American Legion game, and under his photo in the Patterson High School (class of '64) yearbook it says, "Fred's...future plans are in...Radio-T.V. work."

The Baltimore native returns for his 24th season as part of the Orioles Radio team. The award-winning sportscaster came back to Charm City in 1993 after doing 22 sports shows every weekend since 1981 on more than 500 stations for the ABC Radio Information Network. Manfra worked for ABC Radio for 15 years, hosting weekend sports programs, along with a number of other assignments for the network.

When he moved into the Orioles broadcast booth in 1993, it wasn't the first time he'd been heard doing O's games. In 1991, he did a series at Memorial Stadium and before that, in the late 1970s, he periodically filled in on games for WBAL Radio. His baseball experience also included a stint with the Detroit Tigers on cable television in 1980.

Baseball is only one of many sports Manfra has announced. His résumé includes some of the most prestigious events in the business, including NBA Finals and NBA All-Star Games (1985-91), 1984 Olympic men's and women's basketball and 1988 Olympic ice hockey, NHL Stanley Cup Finals and All-Star Game (1991), the Breeder's Cup (2000-2002), and Eclipse Award-winning broadcasts of horse racing's Triple Crown races (Kentucky Derby, Preakness at Pimlico and the Belmont Stakes) from 1982 through 2006.

His Olympic assignments have been varied and have taken him around the globe, including Sarajevo, Yugoslavia and Los Angeles (in 1984); Calgary and Seoul, South Korea (in 1988); Albertville, France and Barcelona, Spain (1992); and Lillehammer, Norway in February, 1994. His assignments have included men's and women's basketball in 1984 and ice hockey in 1988, as well as anchoring the Opening and Closing Ceremonies and other play-by-play and hourly updates.

Fred began his radio career in the early 1970s at KREL in Corona, CA. He moved eastward with stops in Ventura, CA (KBBQ-FM/KBBY-FM); Davenport, IA (KSTT-AM); Milwaukee (WRIT-AM) and Detroit (WWJ-AM) in addition to AP Radio Network Sports in Washington, D.C., before settling in the New York area with ABC Network Radio.

He has done college football and basketball for the University of Iowa (1975) and the University of Michigan (1979-80), as well as USFL and Arena football, New York Knicks basketball, boxing, and wrestling. He also had done voice work for Madison Square Garden and for professional football team highlights films and the Sports Year in Review for ABC Radio Network (1983-1998). Along the way, he has received numerous awards for his live action and studio reports. In 1996, Fred was inducted into the Patterson High School Hall of Fame, the same year Orioles owner Peter Angelos was also honored by the school.

He and his wife, Marlene, live in Fallston, Md. and are active in local charity work. He is on the advisory board of the Salvation Army of Baltimore and the board of the Albert Close Foundation in Harford County, and Marlene is on the board of the National Kidney Foundation of Maryland and is also involved with Stella Maris hospice center. They have two adult daughters – Michelle, who lives in Pembroke, Mass. with her husband, Gary; and Stephanie, who resides in Tampa, Fla. with her husband, Beck. They also have one granddaughter, Marlowe.

BEN McDONALD

Former Orioles pitcher Ben McDonald joins the Orioles Radio Network this season. McDonald had previously provided analysis for select Orioles Radio and MASN telecasts.

The first overall selection in the 1989 First-Year Player Draft, McDonald pitched for the Orioles for seven seasons between 1989 and 1995. He spent the final two seasons of his nine-year career with Milwaukee. McDonald threw a complete-game shutout against the Chicago White Sox in his first Major League start and is one of only two first overall selections to win his first three Major League career starts.

McDonald was a standout at Louisiana State University, where he twice led the Tigers to the College World Series. He set an LSU career mark for strikeouts with 373 and set several Southeastern Conference records, including single-season strikeouts (202) and consecutive scoreless innings (44.2). He was a two-time All-American, a 1988 Olympic gold medalist, and he won the Golden Spikes Award in 1989. McDonald was elected to the College Baseball Hall of Fame in 2008.

McDonald also provides analysis for ESPN and SEC Network coverage of college baseball.

McDonald and his wife, Nicole, have two children – their daughter, Jorie, is a junior at New York University, where she studies broadcast journalism. Their son, Jase, is a freshman at Denham Springs High School in Baton Rouge, La.

"SARASOTA'S CROWN JEWEL"

Since 2010, the Orioles have held Major League Spring Training operations in Sarasota, Fla. Ed Smith Stadium – Sarasota's Crown Jewel – was fully renovated in 2011, complete with four practice fields, one practice half-field, a clubhouse, indoor batting cages, pitching mounds, stadium field lights, an electronic scoreboard, concession facilities, locker rooms for umpires, tournament office hub, press box, expansive concourse areas, and ample parking. Its modern amenities, mixed with historical Florida architecture, have helped Ed Smith Stadium truly become "Birdland South."

The Orioles' longtime minor league facility, the Buck O'Neil Baseball Complex at Twin Lakes Park, is as much a hub of Spring Training activity as Ed Smith Stadium. The facility hosted Orioles' Dream Week in January and remains astir with baseball activity throughout the year. Youth baseball tournaments are held at the complex year-round as part of the Orioles' effort to drive economic impact within the Sarasota community.

Along with Major League Spring Training and Gulf Coast League Orioles games, the Ed Smith Stadium complex and Buck O'Neil Baseball Complex at Twin Lakes Park host amateur tournaments and other baseball-related events, along with special events and OriolesREACH initiatives through the Sarasota 365 program, demonstrating that the club's commitment to its southern home goes far beyond baseball.

ORIOLES IN SARASOTA FAST FACTS

- Since moving year-round operations to Sarasota in 2010, the Orioles have donated more than $2.25 million in cash and in-kind contributions to the community.
- The Orioles drew a record-breaking average of 7,484 attendees per game during the 2015 Spring Training season, a 99 percent stadium capacity.
- According to a 2015 analysis by Sarasota County, the Orioles' economic impact in the Sarasota area is more than $81 million annually.

The Sports Turf Managers Association (STMA) named Ed Smith Stadium the recipient of the "Field of the Year Award" for professional baseball in January of 2016. STMA's "Field of the Year Award" is considered the highest honor in the industry, awarded annually to various sporting grounds members at the professional, collegiate, schools, and parks and recreation levels.
