2017 SEATTLE MARINERS
FRONT OFFICE

Mariners Chairman and Chief Executive Officer John Stanton

1977 2017
40TH ANNIVERSARY

OFFICERS

JOHN STANTON

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

John Stanton was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on Aug. 19, 2016. Stanton joined the Mariners ownership group in December of 2000, and became a member of the Board of Directors in 2016.

Born in Seattle and raised in Bellevue, WA, Stanton is considered a wireless industry pioneer, co-founding three national wireless operators in the United States over the past four decades.

He is currently Chairman of the Trilogy Partnerships, a private investment firm, and also serves on the boards of Columbia Sportswear, Microsoft Corporation and Costco Wholesale Corporation. He is Chairman of Year Up (a non-profit program for youth in Seattle), and a member of the board of the Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation, after previously serving as chair (or co-chair) of the boards of Whitman College, the Business Partnership for Early Learning, the United Way of King County campaign, the Washington Roundtable and the Regional Transportation Commission.

John and his wife Terry Gillespie currently own indirect interests in the Tacoma Rainiers (AAA Pacific Coast League) and in the Walla Walla Sweets and Yakima Pippins of the West Coast Collegiate Baseball League. He has been active in youth baseball in the area for over 15 years.

John earned a B.A. from Whitman College (Walla Walla, WA) and an MBA from Harvard Business School. John and Terry have two grown sons.

KEVIN MATHER

President & Chief Operating Officer

Kevin Mather was named Seattle Mariners President and Chief Operating Officer on Feb. 1, 2014.

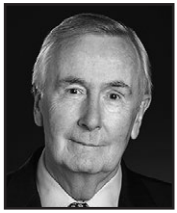

Mather joined the Mariners in 1996 as the Vice President of Finance and Administration. He was promoted to Executive Vice President of Finance and Ballpark Operations in 1999.

In 2016, Mather was named to Commissioner Rob Manfred's Long-Term Strategic Planning Committee, Revenue Sharing Definitions Committee and the chairman of the Internal Audit Committee. During his career with the Mariners, Mather worked closely with executives and members of the ownership group who served on key Major League Baseball committees to address issues of league-wide concern including finance & compensation, MLB's long-term investment fund and insurance coverages.

Prior to the Mariners, Mather worked for the Minnesota Twins from 1989-1996 where he served as Director and then Vice President of Finance. Before his career in baseball, Mather was with the Certified Public Accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells for four years, and The Pohlad Companies of Minneapolis for one year.

Mather grew up listening to Bob Uecker as a Milwaukee Brewers fan in Madison, Wisconsin. He is a 1984 graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he received his B.A. degree in accounting and risk/insurance. He is on the Executive Board of Junior Achievement of Washington. His hobbies include his family, golf and his two dogs.

He and his wife Shannon live in Issaquah and have three grown sons: J.P., David and Steven.

HOWARD LINCOLN

Chairman Emeritus

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer from Sept. 27, 1999 to Aug. 19, 2016, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016. Lincoln continues as a member of the board of directors.

On Feb. 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he is a former chairman of the Children's Hospital Foundation. He was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is a board member of The Washington Roundtable.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, reside on Mercer Island. Their son, Brad, and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ethan and Benjamin.

JOHN ELLIS

Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis led the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until September 27, 1999, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors.

During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously – attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, Safeco Field.

His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016.

Ellis has served variously on the MLB Executive Council, the International, Ownership and Compensation & Finance Committee and he chaired the Baseball Endowment Limited Partnership (BELP) Committee.

John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 (where he is now of counsel). He then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, C.E.O. and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. During his utility career he served nationally as Chair of the Edison Electric Institute, and the Electric Power Research Institute.

Although a loyal Husky, he was also Chair of the Board of Regents of Washington State University and Seattle University, uniquely at the same time. He and his wife, Doris, have 4 children and 8 grandchildren – all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

JERRY DIPOTO

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

Jerry Dipoto (dih-POH-toe) was named as the ninth General Manager in Seattle Mariners history after being hired on Sept. 28, 2015.

In his first months on the job, Dipoto completely remade the Mariners Major League roster, as well as revamping the Mariners Major League staff, scouting and player development departments. From his hiring to Feb. 9, 2017, Jerry and his staff completed a MLB-high 39 separate trades (involving 99 players), including 13 trades (involving 35 players) from the end of the 2016 season to Feb. 9.

The reshaping of the roster and minor league system resulted in the 2016 Mariners organization playing 927 total games (at all levels) and only one -- the final regular season game for the big league club -- not having playoff implications.

The Mariners were in the race through 161 games, and each of the seven minor league affiliates advanced to the postseason.

Dipoto was the Angels GM from Oct. 29, 2011-July 1, 2015, helping guide the club to the American League West title in 2014, finishing with the most wins (98) in the Majors. Notable acquisitions during his Angels tenure included trades for All-Stars Huston Street, Zack Greinke, David Freese and Hector Santiago, and the free agent signings of Albert Pujols (2011) and C.J. Wilson (2011).

A veteran of 15 seasons as a baseball executive, he got his start immediately after retiring as a player in 2001. He was a special assistant for the Colorado Rockies (2001-02), followed by two seasons working in the scouting department for the Boston Red Sox (2003-04). He returned to the Rockies as the Director of Player Personnel (2005) and then moved to the Arizona organization as Vice President of Player Personnel (2006-10) and was appointed the Diamondbacks interim General Manager on July 1, 2010. he spent the 2011 season as the D-Backs Sr. VP of Scouting and Player Development.

Dipoto appeared in 390 Major League games, all in relief, with the Indians (1993-94), New York Mets (1995-96) and Colorado Rockies (1997-2000). The right-handed pitcher compiled a career 27-24 record with 49 saves and a 4.05 ERA prior to retiring during spring training in 2001 with a bulging disc in his neck.

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:

A. Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;

B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.

B. Made significant contributions to Mariners baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

II. Method of Selection – The Mariners governing board, the Board of Directors of Baseball of Seattle, Inc., makes the selections for the Mariners Hall of Fame. Such selections may be made at the initiative of the Board, or at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the Mariners front office, Mariners players, members of the media or the fans.

III. Criteria for Selection – The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame for players shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;

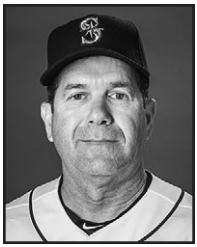

2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and

3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

IV. Time of Selection – The Board will consider recommendations of eligible candidates at least once each year, typically at its annual business meeting each fall. There may be more than one selection in a given year, and there may be no selection at all.

V. Retirement of Uniform Number – The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, in addition to the criteria outlined above, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariners uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and spent his entire career or a substantial portion of his career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers. This determination will also be made by the Board.

VI. Amendments – The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

BATTING FIRST AT HOME?

On Sept. 26, 2007, the Mariners played the Cleveland Indians at Safeco Field and batted first…due to a previous snow out in Cleveland, it marked the first time since 1913 a team batted first in its own ballpark, but the game still counted as a Mariners home game…Toronto and Philadelphia played a three-game series under similar circumstances June 25-27, 2010 with the Blue Jays playing as the home team at Citizen Bank Park…until 1950, when it was formally abolished, the home team had the right to choose whether it batted in the top or bottom of the inning…near the turn of the century, when only one ball was used in a game, it was considered advantageous to hit first, before the ball got dirty and soft…the practice had died out by the 19-teens.

NL RULES IN AL PARK

The Mariners and Marlins played a three-game series in Seattle June 24-26, 2011 in Interleague play…due to a schedule conflict in Florida, the series was played at Safeco Field, using National League rules (No DH, FLA will be bat second)…the Mariners took 2 of 3 in the series in what was the first time NL rules were used in an AL ballpark during Interleague play…the Marlins and Expos played a pair of games at Chicago's U.S. Cellular Field Sept. 13-14, 2004 due to a hurricane threat…information courtesy of David Smith/retrosheet.org.

1995 AL DIVISION SERIES

Mariners defeat Yankees, 3-2

One of the greatest comebacks in MLB history sent the Mariners to the playoffs for the first time in club history. Seattle was 13 games behind the Angels on Aug. 13, and 7.5 back at the beginning of September, and prevailed in a one-game playoff to earn a trip to the ALDS. After losing the first two games of the ALDS vs. the Yankees, the Mariners "Refused to Lose," winning the final three games to advance to the ALCS. Edgar Martinez hit .571 (12x21) with 2 homers and 10 RBI in the 5-game series, including the game-winning double in the bottom of the 9th inning to score Ken Griffey Jr. in Game #5.

GOLD GLOVE LEGACY

Kyle Seager won the American League Gold Glove at 3B in 2014, the Mariners first Gold Glove since Franklin Gutierrez and Ichiro in 2010. The two outfield awards in 2010 marked the 11th time in club history the Mariners had multiple Gold Glove winners, and the fourth time to win two of the three OF awards, joining Jay Buhner and Ken Griffey Jr. in 1996 and Ichiro and Mike Cameron in 2001 and 2003.

The Mariners had at least one player win a Gold Glove winner in 24 consecutive seasons from 1987-2010. The streak started in 1987 when pitcher Mark Langston became the first Mariner ever to win a Gold Glove. Since 1998, the Mariners have captured 24 Gold Gloves (Ichiro - 10, Boone - 3, Olerud - 3, Griffey Jr. - 2, Cameron - 2, Beltre - 2, Gutierrez - 1, Seager - 1).

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, walks and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Percentage — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

Since the Inaugural Game of July 15, 1999, over 44 million fans have passed through the gates of Safeco Field.

The Mariners are truly a regional team drawing from one of the largest geographic home territories in Major League Baseball – Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska and parts of Western Canada. We have learned from surveys that over half our fans come from outside King County, and nearly half, 48%, tell us they travel more than one hour to get to the ballpark on game days.

Once they arrive at Safeco Field, fans are treated to one of the best ballparks in baseball, with a combination of the charm of a classic ballpark and the modern touches that make a fan's game experience that much better, including free WiFi and one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB.

Sightlines from all seating areas are designed for optimal viewing. There are plenty of places to gather and casually watch the game while enjoying the beauty of the natural surroundings of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline. The Children's Hospital Playfield on the Main Concourse and Kids Corner on the View Level provide a place for kids to blow off some steam. "The 'Pen" continues to be a festive "event-within-an-event" atmosphere that attracts thousands of people before and during each game.

Designed as an extension of The 'Pen's casual atmosphere, Edgar's Cantina and Home Run Porch feature south of the border flavors with a Northwest twist courtesy of Safeco Field consulting chef Ethan Stowell.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame provide a connection to the region's rich baseball history. They are co-located on the Main Concourse along the third base line and are open to all fans during games.

In addition to baseball, Safeco Field has hosted such events as varied as U.S. Men's soccer matches, Women's Gold Cup Soccer, the 2001 Seattle Bowl NCAA football game, WWE's Wrestlemania XIX, the WIAA State High School Baseball Championships, Mariners Cup invitational high school baseball tournaments, major concerts, numerous graduations, weddings, proms, trade shows, birthday parties and holiday celebrations.

Over the years, Safeco Field has received numerous honors and appeared on many Top 10 and "best" lists. The ballpark was one of only two Seattle buildings to be named in the American Institute of Architects poll of American's favorite buildings. Opposing players have named it their second favorite ballpark to play in, behind Wrigley Field (MLB.com players' survey). ESPN.com staff and readers named the ballpark among their Top 10 in separate surveys, and noted travel guidebook Zagat ranked Safeco Field one of the top family-friendly attractions in the nation.

Safeco Field has achieved something fans, public officials and the Mariners ownership craved for most of the franchise history – stability for Major League Baseball in the Northwest. The public-private partnership that built the ballpark resulted in a beautiful facility for all to enjoy and a solid foundation for the Seattle Mariners. On October 1, 2011, the bonds that were used to finance construction of Safeco Field were paid off, five years ahead of schedule. The Mariners and the Washington State Major League Baseball Public Facilities District have maintained the ballpark in first-class condition and are looking forward to many more years at "the best ballpark in baseball."

FISHEL AWARD RECIPIENTS

The Robert O. Fishel Award goes to the "active, non-uniformed representative of Major League Baseball whose ethics, character, dedication, service, professionalism and humanitarianism best represent the standards propounded by Robert O. Fishel…the Mariners have had two recipents, Randy Adamack (2005) and Tim Hevly (2013).

RETRACTABLE ROOF

During the 2016 season, the Safeco Field retractable roof was closed (or moved during play) in 18 of 81 games (22%). Since Safeco Field opened in July 1999, the roof has been in use during 306 of 1,424 games (21%). The roof is necessary to guard against the risk of a rain out. With almost half of all fans reporting that they drive an hour or more to get to Safeco Field, fans are assured that if they make the trip, they'll see a ballgame.

Safeco Field's retractable roof covers but does not enclose the field and seating areas, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure has a footprint of nearly nine acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a 55-story skyscraper. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 10-horsepower electric motors. The roof can extend or retract in 10-20 minutes, depending on weather conditions.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

Debuted in 2013, Safeco Field is home to one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB. The LED technology, from Sanyo, measures 56.7' high by 201.5' wide. The total viewing area, 11,425 square feet, is equal to about 2,182 42-inch flat screen TVs. The 1080p x 3840 screen resolution provides image quality that is superior to broadcast HD signals. The video screen can be programmed for live action or video replays, split into sectors for graphics and animation and statistical data. The videoscreen integrates seamlessly with the Out-of-Town LED board and the LED ribbon boards on the Terrace Club fascia.

PLAYING FIELD

Safeco Field's playing surface is designed for the Northwest climate and the retractable roof. A blend of Kentucky bluegrass and perennial ryegrass provides a durable playing surface that grows well despite low levels of direct sunlight. The retractable roof can remain closed, if needed, for six consecutive days without harming the grass.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

Safeco Field's concessions and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. Fans will find a variety of fresh, high-quality choices from the Northwest and around the world available at the ballpark including local favorites such as Ivar's and Kidd Valley. Safeco Field consulting chef Ethan Stowell has created a variety of menu items including grass-fed beef burgers, BBQ beef and pork sandwiches, hot links, and oyster Po 'Boys, all using fresh, local ingredients. Fans will also find sushi and other Asian delicacies, organic, gluten-free and vegetarian options, and classic ballpark fare. The Hit it Here Café and Edgar's Cantina provide seating before and during games, and the members-only Terrace Club, KeyBank Diamond Club, Emerald Queen All-Star Club, private and group suites, offer a selection of creative and delicious food in a relaxed setting.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Safeco Field has a number of unique and interesting areas for fans to enjoy before and during games. "The 'Pen" is an event-within-an-event. Located behind left and center field, the updated area features premium concessions from noted chef and Seattleite Ethan Stowell, New Haven-style pizza from a custom brick oven, and tortas. There's a cozy fire pit, The Rail bar and Caught Looking Lounge (which features cocktails), a Seattle Mariners Team Store, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks. The terraces behind the center field fence offer a lively atmosphere to meet and mingle with other fans and one of the best views of the game.

Lookout Landing, located at the end of the left field line of the 300 (view level), provides incredible views both inside and outside the park.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance on the 300 level, is a gathering spot that offers breathtaking views of Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains as well as tables and benches for pre- and in-game family picnics.

The Seattle Children's Playfield is located on the Main Concourse in center field. It lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-themed playground equipment. Inside the Playfield is Moose's Munchies, a concession stand just for kids featuring menu items like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, small hot dogs, Cracker Jack and soft drinks, all served in a souvenir plastic bucket.

Immediately outside the Playfield is the Seattle Children's Wishing Well, which spouts a column of water when the Mariners hit a home run. Coins tossed into the Wishing Well are donated to Seattle Children's to support patient care.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round with one of the world's largest selections of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works by 11 Northwest artists are incorporated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage. The ambitious $1.3 million public art program includes a variety of installations that celebrate the game of baseball including a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate and a chandelier of 1,000 translucent, regulation-sized baseball bats above the Home Plate Gate grand staircase.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Seattle Mariners are committed to operating the franchise and Safeco Field in an environmentally responsible manner. Since 2005, the recycling rate has increased from 12% to 87% in 2015, earning the Mariners Major League Baseball's American League Recycling Champions Award for the sixth consecutive year. Nearly everything used at Safeco Field is recyclable or compostable including all the food service items (plates, knives, forks, spoons, cups, straws, bottles, etc.). Zero Waste Stations have replaced garbage cans on concourses and cleaning crews hand-separate plastics and food waste after each game.

In 2015, Safeco Field became the first MLB ballpark to illuminate the playing field with LED lights. The lights reduce glare and shadows on the field for a better experience for players and fans (both at the ballpark and watching at home on HD TV). The lights use 60% less power and will last an estimated 30-years (vs. three years for the old metal halide lights).

An array of solar panels on the roof of the skybridge to the parking garage generates 40,000-kilowatt hours of power annually and four electric vehicle charging stations are available to the public year round.

Through conservation and capital investments, the Mariners have significantly reduced consumption of electricity, water, natural gas and sewer charges. These efforts have reduced CO2 emissions by 21.2 million pounds.

BASEBALL MUSEUM OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame is located on the Main Concourse (100 level) of Safeco Field, opposite Sections 132-136, the Museum is open to all fans during every Mariners home game.

With the assistance of noted baseball historian Dave Eskenazi, the museum explores the rich history of baseball in the Pacific Northwest from the 1880s to today. Artifacts, photos and interactive exhibits invite fans into the region's baseball history documenting amateur, minor league and Major League Baseball.

The Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame celebrates the best of Mariners Baseball. There are nine current inductees – Alvin Davis, Dave Niehaus, Jay Buhner, Edgar Martinez, Randy Johnson, Dan Wilson, Ken Griffey Jr., Lou Piniella and Jamie Moyer.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest is funded through the proceeds of the sales of personalized bricks in the Bullpen Market Fan Walk of Safeco Field. In total, 12,500 bricks were sold by the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District (PFD). The PFD and Mariners worked closely with Bronskill & Company, the international design company that created Major League Baseball's All-Star FanFest, to create an exciting mix of exhibits, displays, dynamic attractions and activities that make up this guest experience.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If a batted ball if caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a dead ball, regardless of where it lands or is caught by a fielder.

Outfield Area

Netting in the right field corner in foul territory is above and beyond the wall. A batted ball that bounds into the netting is a dead ball whether or not it rebounds onto the playing field: Two Bases.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

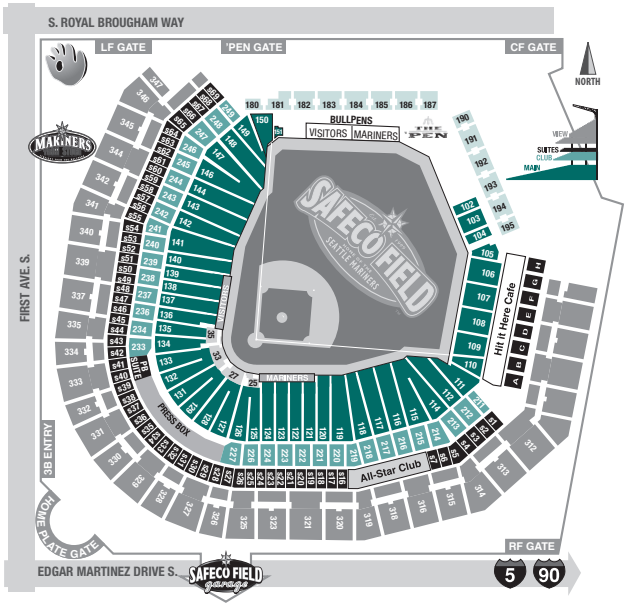

KINGDOME FAREWELL

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, Seattle Mariners and San Diego Padres opened the Peoria Sports Complex in 1994, the first shared spring training facility in Arizona. Peoria Stadium is the centerpiece of the complex, which includes five and a half practice fields as well as headquarters for both teams on 145 acres.

- Peoria Stadium has undergone extensive renovations over last three years, adding seats, two fan pavilion areas and an expanded Team Store. The park seats 12,518 fans. The dimensions of the outfield are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.
- Complex is located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, just off Loop 101.
- The Mariners used the Padres facilities in the spring training of 1993, when the Seattle club played all its Cactus League games on the road.
- From the Mariners inception in 1977 through 1992, Tempe Diablo Stadium was the spring home of the Mariners.
- The Mariners facilities are used in the summer by their Peoria team (Arizona League), and in the fall for Instructional League and Arizona Fall League baseball.
- The Peoria Sports Complex is “green” and environmentally friendly, and promotes renewable, clean energy. The rooftop solar panels supply nearly half of the facility’s annual energy use.

The team Spring Training facilities are LEED Gold certified. LEED certified buildings save money and resources and have a positive impact on the health of occupants, while promoting renewable, clean energy. LEED, or Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design, is a green building certification program that recognizes best-in-class building strategies and practices.

MIKE BLOWERS, who enters his 11th season as the Mariners television analyst, is a long-time fan favorite who did three tours with the Mariners (1992-1995, 1997, 1999). Prior to joining the Mariners broadcast team in 2007, Blowers spent four years as the pre- and post-game analyst on KOMO 1000 News broadcasts of Mariners games. Blowers was a stand-out at Bethel High School in Spanaway, WA, and was a Pac-10 Triple Crown winner while with the University of Washington. During his 11-year MLB career, Blowers also played for the Yankees (1989-91), Dodgers (1996) and Athletics (1998). He played in the postseason with the Mariners in 1995 and 1997. During Seattle's memorable 1995 season, he set career highs in almost every statistical category, including 113 hits, 24 doubles, 23 homers and 96 RBI. He tied a Major League record with three grand slams in a single month in August of '95, when he hit .283 with nine homers and a club-record tying 33 RBI. Blowers received the first-ever "Unsung Hero" award from the Seattle chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993. He was originally selected by the Montreal Expos in the 10th round of the 1986 June draft. After being traded to the Yankees on Aug. 29, 1989, Blowers made his Major League debut with the Yankees on Sept. 1 vs. California. He actually made his first ML start against the Mariners on Sept. 5, 1989.

Blowers lives in Graham, with his wife Nicole and their four children.

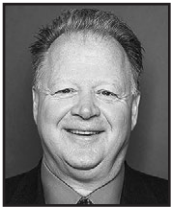

AARON GOLDSMITH enters his fifth season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2017 after being hired on January 17, 2013. Aaron was the co-host of the weekly PawSox Insider radio show, and was the author of the highly-regarded MLB.com blog, 45 Miles from Fenway. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Goldsmith spent the 2010 and 2011 seasons as the radio broadcaster for the Frisco RoughRiders, the Double-A affiliate of the Texas Rangers. He also served as the team's Manager of Broadcasting/Media Development. In 2009, Aaron was the broadcaster/studio host for the Portland Sea Dogs, the Red Sox AA affiliate in the Eastern League. Goldsmith began his broadcast career in 2007 with the Gateway Grizzlies in the independent Frontier League, and called the Bourne Braves games in the Cape Cod Baseball League in 2008. Aaron lives in Kirkland with his wife and two children.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.

1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.

1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).

1903: The AAA Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves played in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).

1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.

1919: Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).

1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Mr. Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).

1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson went 25-7 in his rookie season.

1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.

1946: The Seattle Steelheads of the West Coast Negro Baseball League played their inaugural game on June 1 vs. the San Diego Tigers at Sick's Stadium.

1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposal for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).

1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox AAA affiliate.

1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship in 1966.

1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).

1969: An expansion team, the Seattle Pilots came into existence and began play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.

1970: On March 31, financial difficulties resulted in the Pilots moving to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.

1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the Class-A Northwest League.

1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.

1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.

1999: On June 27, Mariners played the final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.

1999: On July 15, Seattle played their first game in Safeco Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.

2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.

2008: On July 23 vs. Boston, the Mariners played the 5,000th game in club history.

2009: On June 23 vs. San Diego, Ken Griffey Jr. hit the 5,000th home run in club history.

2012: On August 15 vs. Tampa Bay, Felix Hernandez threw the first perfect game in club history.

2016: On July 24 in Cooperstown, NY, Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame as a Mariner.
