HIGH POINT ROCKERS NEWS AND NOTES

Fast Start: The High Point Rockers won their first two games of the 2021 campaign in dominant fashion, using two separate five-plus run innings to sweep the York Revolution in a doubleheader on Saturday. In game one, the Rockers jumped out to an 11-0 lead after six innings, capped off by a six run sixth inning. Multiple players recorded multi-hit days, including Cesar Trejo, James McOwen and Logan Morrison combining to go 7-for-10 with six runs scored and five RBI. In game 2, High Point fell behind 4-1 in the early innings before scoring five runs in the fourth inning, punctuated by a Trejo two-run homer to take the lead for good.

Westphal's Magic: In his first Atlantic League start on Saturday, Luke Westphal burst onto the scene with 10 strikeouts in just four innings of work, just two shy of the Rockers franchise record of 12. The 10 strikeouts were the most for Westphal since September 2, 2020 against the Winnipeg Goldeyes in the American Association, where he set down 10 Winnipeg batters. The lefty was fueled by his fastball, which reached up to 94 MPH on the radar gun, and induced 12 swings and misses (50%).

The Guys Out in the 'Pen: The 2021 Rockers feature a bullpen loaded with talent, and it has shown up in bunches through the first three games. In 10 innings of relief, the bullpen has yet to allow an earned run. Hitters are batting just .162 against the bullpen, with an average of 9.00 K/9.

Shohei... Meet Joe: Joe Johnson ended his season with the High Point University Panthers baseball team just a few weeks ago, but has already established himself as a two-way player with the Rockers. The 23-year-old pitched and hit in the first game of the doubleheader on Sunday. His appearance was highlighted by a 92 MPH fastball mixed in with a 79 MPH changeup. This also brings up the question; is Joe Johnson a #PitcherWhoRakes or is he a #PositionPlayerPitching? Tweet at us @rockersbaseball with any ideas or suggestions.

This Weather's Weird: For some reason, even though it's almost June, Mother Nature has decided it's time to make things feel more like early March with the weather. Sunday's first game had a game-time temperature of 52° F, making it one of the coldest games in franchise history. The coldest-ever game was on Friday night, where first pitch temperature was 51° F. Could we please have some warmer weather?

Monday Baseball: Monday is normally reserved as a universal off-day in the Atlantic League, but the Rockers will play three times on a Monday, with all three matchups coming on the road. After today's Memorial Day game at York, they'll face the Gastonia Honey Hunters on July 5 at CaroMont Health Park and the West Virginia Power at Appalachian Power Park on September 6.

Bye, Bye York!: Today's game marks the final time the Rockers will play at PeoplesBank Park during the 2021 regular season. The Rockers will face the Revolution six more times in 2021, with all six matchups taking place at the Rockers' home park, Truist point.

I'm Coming Home: The Rockers will return home on Tuesday to face the Lancaster Barnstormers for a three game set, which will serve as the home opener. The Barnstormers and Rockers met to open the 2019 season in Lancaster, which saw High Point pick up its first win in franchise history on Opening Night.

Singin' A Song: Rockers' LHP Bryce Hensley is living the best of both worlds. The Asheville, N.C. native and former UNCG pitcher will pitch for the Rockers this summer while also looking to expand his budding music career. While baseball was sidelined in 2020 due to the pandemic, Hensley went to work writing songs and his single, "Growin' Up in You" was well received on multiple music platforms. You can also find Hensley's "Duct Tape Can't Fix" as well as his first single on YouTube, Spotify and Apple Music. Hensley will have the opportunity to play more music this summer as he is scheduled to serve as the opening act for country singer Jake Owens' concert tour this summer.
